1. DEbt was againſt J. S. by the Executors of J. D. upon an Eſcape ſuppoſed to be had by the ſaid J. S. then Sheriff of the County of Cornwall. The Caſe was; Trewynyard a Burgeſs of Parliament, was taken by the ſaid Sheriff in Execution upon an Exigent after a Capias, at the Suit of J. D. and upon a Writ of Priviledg of Parliament, the Sheriff ſet him at Liberty: upon which the Executor of D. brought Debt againſt the Sheriff; upon which the Defendant did Demur in Law. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Priviledg of Parliament was to be granted to him, notwithſtanding the Execution, becauſe the King and the whole Realm had an Intereſt in the body of every Burgeſs of Parliament, and the Common-wealth was to be preferred before the Intereſt of any private perſon. 2. That after the Parliament ended, the ſame perſon might be taken in Execution again for the ſame debt, upon the former Judgment; for that the party ſhall not be prejudiced in the Execution by the act of the Law, which doth not wrong to any one. 3. Admitting, That the Writ of Priviledge did not lye in the Caſe; yet the Sheriff ſhould not be charged, becauſe he was ſworn to execute the proceſſes which are delivered to him; and he is not bound to bounden to take Notice whether the Writ lawfully iſſued out, or not. 30 H. 8. Dyer 60. Trewynyards Caſe. See Cook 5. Part, Blumfields Caſe. Cook 6. Part, 54. The Counteſs of Rutland's Caſe: and Cook 10. Part, 76. acc.

2. In an Action of Debt brought againſt J. N. and J. P. Sheriffs of London, upon an Eſcape; and the Plaintiff doth declare upon an Execution by force of a Recovery in the priſon of Ludgate, ſub Cuſtodia J. S. and J. D. then Sheriffs in 1 E. 6. and that he ſo continued ſub Cuſtodia J. B. and J. G. in 2 E. 6. and ſo continued ſub Cuſtodia J. N. and J. P. in 3 E. 6. and then was ſuffered to Eſcape. J. N. and J. P. plead, That before the Eſcape ſuppoſed at ſuch a day, Anno ſuperius in Narratione ſpecificat. the ſaid J. S. and J. D. then Sheriffs, ſuffered him to Eſcape. This was holden by the Court to be no plea, becauſe there be 3 years ſpecified in the Declaration; and it ſhall be ſtrongeſt taken, That it was 1 or 3 E. 6. when they were out of their Office; and yet it is meerly induced, by the words, ad tunc Vicecomites, which ſhould leave the intendment to be of that year in which the Declaration ſuppoſeth that they were Sheriffs, but that ſuffiseth not; but the year muſt be alledged in fact, for it may be miſlayed by the Plaintiff; and therefore the Defendants, meaning to diſcharge themſelves by a former Eſcape, which was not in their time, they muſt alledge it preciſely. See 3 E. 6. Dyer 66. Serjeant Minors Caſe. See Bacon: Maximes, 18. acc.

3. Debt brought by the Executors of A. againſt B. and C. Executors of T. late Guardian of the Fleet, and declared upon a Recovery in Debt by their Teſtator, againſt J. D. in the Common-Pleas, for which he was in Execution in the Fleet, where their Teſtator ſuffered him to eſcape, the Debt not ſatisfied, per quæ Actio accrevit, &c. againſt his Executors: The Defendants demurred upon the Declaration: It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Action did not lye againſt the Executors of the Guardian for the Eſcape; becauſe the Guardian himſelf in his life-time was not convicted, and Judgment againſt him of the Eſcape; for the Offence is but a Treſpaſs of negligence, which moritur cum perſona. 15 Eliz. Dyer 322. See 10 Eliz. Dyer 271. That Debt upon an Eſcape doth not lye againſt the heir of the Guardian; for the heir ſhall not be charged for a debt due by the Common-Law, nor by Statute-Law, if he be not named; although the Recovery be in the life of his Father. See 11 E. 3. 15. 27 H. 6. Execution. 155. acc.

4. A. Condemned by default in a Scire facias in the Chancery, upon a Recognizance there, the Court commanded the Warden of the Fleet, Whereas A. was in his Cuſtody for other Cauſes to detain him in Execution upon the ſaid Condemnation. The Warden took a Recognizance of A. to ſave him harmleſs againſt every one; and afterwards ſuffered him to eſcape. The Conuſee ſued the Warden upon the Eſcape, who imparled, and then ſued A. upon his Recognizance; and they were at Iſſue, upon Non-damnificatus: It was the Opinion of the Court, That he was not damnified, 1. Becauſe Capias doth not lye for Execution upon a Recognizance, becauſe not in the Original, but the party ſhall have Fieri facias or Elegit. 2. Becauſe A. came not in upon Habeas Corpus, nor was viewed by the Court, or examined if he were the ſame perſon. And, 3. Becauſe it was not at the requeſt of the Plaintiff, who peradventure would chooſe another manner of Execution. But it was holden, That if the Plaintiff had brought an Original of Debt, that he might have taken Execution by Capias; but there he ſhall not have Elegit, but of the Lands which the Conuſor had the day of the Judgment; where, in a Scire facias, he ſhall have thoſe which he had die Recognitionis. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer 306. Patenhams Caſe.

5. The Duke of Norfolk being Marſhall of England, having liberty to make a Deputy for life, by Deed inrolled in the Kings-Bench, granted the Deputation per nomen Mariſchalli, et Officium Mariſchalſie to Gawdy for life, who was admitted, and ſworn to exerciſe the Office. Afterwards, one Condemned in Debt in the ſame Court, by Judgment of the Court was committed to the Marſhall, and was there in Execution: The Marſhall ſuffered him to go into the Country upon his own buſineſs with a Keeper for a time, who at the day returned to the priſon. The Plaintiff brought Debt in the ſame Court againſt Gawdy, calling him Under-Marſhall, and Keeper of the priſon of the Marſhalſie; ſuppoſing that he ſuffered the priſoner to go at Liberty. The Defendant pleaded, That he did not ſuffer the priſoner to go at liberty: upon which they being at Iſſue, the matter above appeared upon the Evidence: the Queſtion was, If Gawdy ſhould be charged with the Debt, becauſe he is not Marſhall, but Under-Marſhall onely, as appeareth by the enrollment in the ſame Court? And upon a long and great adviſe, Judgment was given againſt Gawdy, That he ſhould be chargeable with the debt: and that, although the Action was brought in Middleſex where the Eſcape was ſuppoſed to be; and not in Surry, where the priſon of the Marſhalſie is. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer 278. Gawdy's Caſe.

6. Debt was brought againſt the late Sheriff of B. upon a Judgment of 60 l. recovered againſt one G. whereupon he was taken in Execution by Capias utlagatum within the year, and eſcaped: The Defendant pleaded, Nul tiel Record of the Recovery;

Recovery; upon which the Plaintiff demurred, conceiving that he ſhould plead, Nihil debet. But, the Opinion of the Court was, That Judgment ſhould be for the Defendant: For that the Defendant may upon Debt brought upon an Eſcape, plead Nul tiel Record. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Madox and Youngs Caſe. Hob. 209.

3. Barr in Debt, Annuity, Accompt, Treſpaſs, Detinue, Covenant, and other Actions perſonal; and, What ſhall be a good barr pleaded in thoſe and the like perſonal Actions; What not.

1. A Brought an Action of Debt againſt E. Capell, as brother and heir of Henry Capell, and declared upon an Obligation made by the Teſtator, in which he bound him and his heirs. The Defendant demanded Judgment of the Writ, becauſe the Teſtator made his Will, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; and that afterwards the wife dyed, and Adminiſtration of the goods of the firſt Teſtator not adminiſtred, were committed to J. S. who had Aſſetts in his hands to the value of the debt. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That in Debt brought againſt the heir upon an Obligation, that it is no plea to ſay, That the Executors have Aſſetts in their hands. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 204. Capell's Caſe.

2. Debt was brought againſt the daughters and heirs of H. upon an Obligation of their Father; The Plaintiff recovered againſt them upon Nihil dicit, and had Judgment generall: And upon a Scire facias ſued forth to have Execution, the Defendants pleaded, That they had nothing by diſcent in Fee at the time of the firſt Writ brought, nor after. The Opinion of the Court was, That after a Recovery upon Nihil dicit, Non ſum informatus, &c. or confeſſion, the Heir comes too late to plead, That he had nothing by diſcent. And in that caſe it was ſaid by the Lord Dyer, That if the profits received after the death of the Anceſtor till the Writ brought, are ſufficient to ſatisfie the debt; that the Plaintiff ſhall have a general Judgment againſt the Heir. Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer 344. Heningham's Caſe.

3. A man recovered in an Aſſiſe, and had Judgment, and Damages were aſſeſſed to 10 l. Afterwards the Plaintiff brought an Action of Debt for the 10 l. and declared upon that Record. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That after the Verdict given, and before Judgment, the Plaintiff entred into the Land. Quære, if it be a Barr, or not. 2 Ma. Dyer 24. I conceive, the Damages are loſt, becauſe they are collateral to the Land.

4. Debt was brought for damages recovered; The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff had an Elegit, which was ſerved, but did not ſpeak of the Return of it. It was holden to be a good plea; for that it appears upon the Record, That he hath made Election of his Execution. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 299.

5. A Scire facias was brought upon a Judgment, in a Writ of Annuity granted to the Plaintiff for term of his life, for the exerciſing of the Office of Steward of a Mannor; and the Scire facias was brought for the arrearages incurred one year after the firſt Judgment. The Defendant pleaded, That pendant the Writ, he being requeſted, refuſed to hold Court. It was holden by the Court, That it was a good plea. See 15 H. 7. acc. Trin. 23 Eliz. Dyer 377. But ſee 22 Eliz. Dyer 369. Where an Annuity was granted pro conſilio impendendo, and the Grantee was of Counſel with the Adverſary of the Grantor, not being requeſted to give Counſel to the Grantor; that in that caſe, the Annuity was not gone. Plowers Caſe. See 6 H. 8. Dyer 2. Empſons Caſe.

6. In 6 R. 1. debate was betwixt the Abbot of S. and Theobald C. upon the Advowſon of the Church of Preſton; they agreed; and a Fine was levied betwixt them before the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and the Biſhop of Rocheſter, then Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, by which the Abbot did grant the Advowſon to Theobald and his Heirs for ever; ſo as at every preſentation of Theobald or his Heirs, the Clerks ſo preſented, &c. ſhould pay to the Abbot and his Succeſſours for ever 10 l. per annum, which was aſſented unto by the Ordinary, at which time the Church was void. The Succeſſour of the Abbot of S. brought a Writ of Annuity againſt Thurſtan de Holland Parſon of Preſton. Exception was taken to the Count, That foraſmuch as the grant of the Annuity is in ſpecial manner to be paid by the Clerks, which ſhould be preſented by Theobald or his Heirs; that the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed in his Count, That the Defendant was preſented by Theobald or his heirs; Herle who gave the Rule, ſaid, That had Theobald alienated the Advowſon, the Annuity ſhould not thereby be extinct. By which Caſe it appeareth, That although that Theobald had alienated the Advowſon, and although that the Annuity in the body of the Grant is limited to be paid by the Preſentees of Theobald or his Heirs; yet the Preſentee of his Alienee ſhall pay the ſame: for otherwiſe by his own grant he ſhould defeat the Annuity which himſelf had granted. And it is a Rule in

Law,

Law, That the grant of every one ſhall be taken ſtronger againſt himſelf, and more beneficiall for the Grantee; and ſo as every Grant ſhall be taken ſtronger againſt the Grantor; ſo in caſe of pleading, every plea in barr, in every Action brought againſt the Defendant, which the Defendant pleadeth, ſhall be taken ſtrong againſt the Defendant that pleadeth it, and moſt beneficiall for the Plaintiff, not to abate his Writ, or to make his Action to be void. See Cook 8. Part, 144,145. in Davenport's Caſe.

7. An Adminiſtrator brought an Accompt againſt J. S. The Defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate made an Executor, who proved the Will, and adminiſtred at D; which Executor is yet living, and demanded Judgment if Action; and becauſe he did not traverſe the dying Inteſtate, the Plaintiff did demur. It is a Quære not reſolved. Trin. 3 Eliz. Dyer 202. in Clerks Caſe. I conceive he ought to traverſe the dying Inteſtate.

8. If a man bayl a ſum of money ex dono, vel accommodato to J.S. to deliver over to the borrower or Donee, and he deliver it accordingly; and yet J. S. is impleaded as Receivor by the bailor, to render accompt of it; and he plead, That he was never Receivor, he ſhall not give the matter above in Evidence, nor the Jurours take regard of it; becauſe he ought to have pleaded the ſpeciall matter, for he was once Receivor conditionally, if he did not deliver over the ſum; and he cannot plead the ſame in diſcharge before Auditors, as it was agreed by the Juſtices in the Caſe between Speak and Hungerford. Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 196. b.

9. An Information was exhibited into the Kings-Bench by the King's Attorney-Generall, againſt a Receivor of Ireland for a debt of 2000 l. being the Arrearages of an Accompt found before Auditors aſſigned by Commiſſion; the Defendant pleaded Nihil debet per patriam: upon which the Attorney-General did demur in Law. It was holden in that Caſe, That the plea was good: But in ſuch caſe it was holden, That the Defendant might not wage his Law. Paſch. 4 Ma. Dyer. 145.

10. A man was condemned in arrearages before Auditors; and in an Action of Debt brought for the Arrearages, he pleaded, That he made a Bond to the Plaintiff for the ſame debt. In that caſe it was holden to be no plea, becauſe that the firſt debt was not changed by the Obligation. See 11 H. 4. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer 51. acc. But ſee, Paſch. 2 Ma. Dyer 151. If debt be brought upon arrearages of Accompt before Auditors, It is a good plea for the Defendant to ſay, Non Compuzavit.

11. A recovery in Treſpaſs with Damages, is a good barr in an Appeal of Maiheim, becauſe that in that Action alſo he is onely to recover damages. Cook 4. Part, 43.

12. Accord, an Execution in ſatisfaction of it, is a good barr in an Action of Covenant; the ſame being pleaded by the Aſſignee. Cook 6. Part, 43. in Blakes Caſe.

13. If a man hath an Annuity by preſcription, and he brings his Writ of Annuity, and hath Judgment; as long as the Judgment doth remain in force, he ſhall not have a Writ of Annuity; but a Scire facias upon that Judgment, becauſe that the matter of preſcription is altered by the Judgment, into a thing of a more high nature. Cook. 6. Part, 7. acc.

14. In Ejectione firmæ, et bona et catalla ibid. invent. vi et armis, &c. The Plaintiff declared of a Leaſe for 40 years, to begin at Michaelmas next after the death of J. S. and Averred that J. S. dyed, and he entred, &c. The Defendant pleaded, Non ejecit, It was found quod ejecit, and Judgment given that he ſhould recover the Term, and becauſe he did not ſhew the time of his Entry, for if he entred before Michaelmas, after the death of J. S. he was a diſſeiſor, and not Termor; and alſo becauſe he pleaded Non ejecit, which was found; for the Plea ſhould have been, Not guilty; for theſe and other Cauſes, upon a Writ of Error brought, the Judgment was reverſed. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 89. Cliffords Caſe. Note, It was one Alexanders Caſe. In debt for rent behind, the Plaintiff declared that he leaſed to the Defendant for years, rendring rent, and upon his own ſhewing, it appeared that the Defendant entred before the day that his Leaſe began; It was adjudged, That he was a diſſeiſor. But ſee P. 3 Car. in B. R. A man made a Leaſe for years to begin at Michaelmas: In debt brought for rent, the Plaintiff declared, that the Defendant virtute cujus dimiſſionis entred, and no day was ſhewed of his Entry; It was the Opinion of the Court, That it ſhall be intended that he entred at Michaelmas, and he ſhall not be a diſſeiſor. See 14 H. 8. 12. per Cantl. acc.

15. In an Ejectione firmæ brought, the Defendant pleaded a Recovery had in the Kings Bench, againſt the Leſſor of the Plaintiff, It was objected that it was no bar, no more then in Treſpaſſe, becauſe the Plaintiff is but Leſſee to him who was barred; and that which is between the parties, cannot be an Eſtoppel againſt the Plaintiff here, who is a ſtranger. But the Opinion of the Court was, It was a good Bar, for this Action is ſtrong to bind the poſſeſſion, as a Writ of Right is to bind the Right: And although the party ſhall not plead this by way of Eſtoppel, yet he ſhall conclude, Judgment if Action; As if in an Aſſize, a recovery in another Aſſize be pleaded in bar, he ſhall not not conclude by way of Eſtoppell, but Judgment if Action, and there he is driven to a higher Action; and the Law ſhall never have an end, if after a man is barred of his Action, he may bring the ſame Action again: And in this Caſe, It was holden, That if one who hath a Leaſe for years and no more, entret'a upon him which hath a good Title, he is a diſſeiſor of all the Fee-ſimple. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Clayton and Lawſons Caſe. Gouldsbr. 43.

16. An Action of Battery was brought in London, and a Juſtification was made in Somerſetſhire, abſque hoc, that he was guilty at London: The Plaintiff replied De injuria ſua propria abſque tali Cauſa: It was ſaid in that Caſe by Anderſon Chief Juſtice; That a man ſhall never plead de injuria ſua propria, where the matter ariſeth in a Forrein County. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Gouldesbr. 43. acc.

17. The Plaintiff declared in an Ejectione firmæ, upon a Leaſe made of a Meſſuage, and 40 Acres of Land in the Pariſh of S. in the County of S. The Defendant imparled untill another Term, and then pleaded, That within the Pariſh of S. there are three Villages, A. B. and C. and becauſe the Plaintiff did not ſhew in which of the Villages the Lands did lye, demanded Judgment of the Bill, the Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea: And in this Caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for that, after Imparlance, the Defendant could not plead in Abatement of the Bill, becauſe he hath admitted it to be good by entring into defence, and by his Imparlance: and 2. The Plea is not good, becauſe the Defendant hath not ſhewed in which of the Villages, the Meſſuage and the 40. Acres of Lands did lye; and that he ought to have done: for where a man pleads in abatement, he alwayes ought to give the Plaintiff a better Writ. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Plea in bar was not good; And note, this difference was taken in this Caſe: when a man demurs upon a Plea in Abatement, and when he goes to iſſue upon it; For if they proceed to iſſue upon ſuch a Plea, and it be found againſt the Defendant, it is peremptory, and he ſhall loſe the Land, but upon demurrer, it is not peremptory, but onely to anſwer over. Mich. 5. Jac. in C. B. Tempſon and Colliers Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part 139.

18. In Debt upon an Obligation, The Caſe was; A. was bound to B. in an Obligation, upon Condition that the ſaid A. ſhould pay to B. his Executors, &c, at the choice and election of the ſaid B. within a Moneth after the death of D. 30 l. or 20 Kine. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff within a Moneth after the death of D. did not make any Election; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law; and the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was a good Plea in bar, for the Obligor is not bounden to make a tender of both, viz. of the Mony and the Kine, but the Obligee himſelf is bounden at his perill to make election within the time limitted; And the difference was taken where the Condition is in the diſjunctive, before the day of payment, the election is to the Defendant, but if at the day he make default, the Election is to the Obligee. See 18 E. 4. 15. the Lord Liſles Caſe. But in the principal Caſe, It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That upon this matter the Plaintiff ſhould be barred. Mich. 27 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 12. Baſſet and Kornes Caſe. Leon. 69. acc. But ſee Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. where the like Condition; for payment of mony at ſuch a day and place, or 10 Kine at the Election of the Obligee, That the Court was then clear of Opinion, that the Defendant, in pleading the performance thereof, ought to tender to the Plaintiff as well the mony as the 10. Kine; and becauſe he did not ſo do, Judgment was given againſt the Defendant. Trin. 29 Eliz. rott. 324. in C. B. Fordleyes Caſe. Leon. 68.

19. In an Action of Covenant the Plaintiff declared, that the Defendant by his Deed Dat. 1. Oct. 28 Eliz. did Covenant that he would do every Act and Acts, at his beſt indeavour, to prove the Will of J. S. Or otherwiſe that he would procure Letters of Adminiſtration, by which he might convey ſuch a Term lawfully to the Plaintiff, which he had not done licet ſæpius requiſitus, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That he came to Doctor Drury in the Court of Arches, and there offered to prove the Will of J. S. but becauſe the Wife of J. S. would not ſwear, that it was the Will of her Husband, he could not be received to prove it, upon which there was a demurrer: It was moved that the Action did not lye, for that by the Covenant no time is limited, when the thing ſhould be done by the Defendant, for which he hath time during his life; but admit the Covenant had bin to perform upon requeſt, then in the Declaration there ought to be ſhewed an expreſſe requeſt, with the place and time of it, which is not done; In this Caſe, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the requeſt ought to be ſhewed ſpecially, and certainly; for that it is for the benefit of the Covenantee, for without requeſt, the Action of Covenant doth not lye. And it was holden in this Caſe, That the bar ſhall not help the inſufficient Declaration. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cater and Boothes Caſe. Leon. 124.

20. Detinue was brought for 40. quarters of Wheat, and the Plaintiff declared upon an abſolute contract: the Defendant ſaid, That it was upon condition to pay for it when it was delivered: and that he delivered 20 Quarters, for which the Plaintiff did not pay preſently, ſo the contract was void, Judgment if Action; and it was holden good without traverſe, that the contract was ſimple: but in that Caſe it was agreed, that the Defendant might wage his Law, or plead, Non detinet per patriam. It was agreed furth.r in that Caſe, That a contract is not good without preſent payment, except a day be limitted, and then the one ſhall have debt for the mony, and the other Detinue for the War. 29 H. 8. Dyer. 30.

21. In an Action upon the Caſe for calling the Plaintiff Murderer and Thief; the Defendant juſtified, becauſe the Plaintiff was Indicted of murder at C. but the Juſtification was not good; the Plaintiff paſſed that, and ſaid that he was acquitted by the Jury, and ſhewed the Exemplificate under the Great Seal of the County Palatine of Cheſter; to which the Defendant pleaded Nul tiel Record; It is a Quære; If it be a good Plea againſt the Certificate exemplified; For the word Thief, the Defendant juſtified, becauſe a Robbery was done; and the common fame was, that the Plaintiff did it: that was not in this caſe holden to be a ſufficient Juſtification; but, in a falſe Impriſonment, it is. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 236.

22. In an Action of falſe Impriſonment againſt A. and B. the Defendant juſtified, that York was a City by preſcription Incorporate by the name of Mayor, Aldermen, & Comminalty; and that they had, time out of mind, a Court called a Chancery-Court, for all Caſes of Equity ariſing within the City, between Citizens, to hear and determine by Bill and Anſwer; and that the Mayor had alwayes uſed to direct precepts for appearance, and contempts of Orders, and to Impriſon for contempts of Orders: and then ſhewed; That one M. preferred a Bill before the now Defendant, whereupon the Defendant being ſummoned, appeared, but would not anſwer; and thereupon an Order was made againſt him that he ſhould anſwer, or be committed; and becauſe he did refuſe to anſwer, commandment was given by the Mayor A. to B. the other Defendant, Serjeant at Mace to Arreſt him; who did ſo, and brought him into the Court, where he was in open Court committed; upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law; and in this Caſe, it was adjudged againſt the Defendants; upon one groſſe point in their Juſtification; That where the preſcription was for precepts to be directed (which muſt be underſtood by writing) the precept to the Defendant whereby the Plaintiff was taken, was by word onely; and if that was void, the whole plea of Juſtification was vitious, although the committing in open Court were good; and in this Caſe, it was ſaid, That the Plea was naught in ſubſtance, for that a Court of Equity did not lye in grant, much leſſe in preſcription being a Juriſdiction to be derived from the Crown; And ſo it was ſaid, That it had bin reſolved by all the Juſtices; That the King could not grant to the now Queen to hold a Court of Equity; and the Chancery of Cheſter and Durham, &c. are Incidents to a County Palatine, which had jura regalia. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Martin, and Marſhall, and Ky's Caſe. Hob. 63.

23. A. brought Replevin againſt B. who Avowed for damage feaſant in his Free-hold; The Plaintiff ſaid, that, long before B. had any thing, he himſelf was ſeiſed, untill by C. and D. diſſeiſed, againſt whom he brought an Aſſiſe and recovered; and that the eſtate of the Defendant was mean between the Aſſiſe and the recovery; The Defendant ſaid, That before the Plaintiff had any thing, one G. was ſeiſed, and enfeoffed him, abſque hoc, that C. and D. vel eorum aliquis, had any thing in the Lands at the time of the recovery. Walmſley Juſtice was of Opinion that the bar to the Avowry was not good, becauſe the Plaintiff hath not alledged that C. and D. were Tenants tempore recuperationis; and then when the Tenant traverſeth that which is not alledged, it is not good: But Windham Juſtice held the contrary: For the Aſſiſe might be brought afwell againſt others, as the Terr-Tenants, as againſt diſſeiſors; but other Actions, realls, ought to be brought againſt the Terr-Tenants, and therefore in his Plea, he needs not to ſhew, that C. and D. were Terr-Tenants at the time of the recovery. Quære, Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Rigden and Palmer's Caſe. Leon. 193.

24. In Treſpaſſe for breaking of his Cloſe, The Defendant pleaded, That before this, he had brought an Ejectione firmæ againſt the now Plaintiff, and recovered, and had execution, &c. Judgment if Action, &c. It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That it was a good bar; and that the Concluſion of the Plea was alſo good; Judgment if Action, without relying upon the Eſtoppell. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Kempton and Coopers Caſe. Leon. 313.

25. In a Formedon, the Defendant pleaded in bar a warranty with Aſſetts: And, upon Iſſue joyned of nothing by diſcent, It was found that the Anceſtor of the Defendant, whoſe warranty was pleaded in bar, was ſeiſed of the Land in nature of Gavelkind, and by his Will deviſed the ſame to his two ſons (whereof the Defendant was the eldeſt) and their heirs, equally between them to be devided: In this Caſe, it was adjudged, that it was no Aſſetts, wherefore the Defendant had Judgment to have ſeiſin of the Land. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Beares Caſe. Leon. 315.

26. In Trover and Converſion of 100. ſheep, the Plaintiff declared that 25. March 19 Jac. he was poſſeſſed of them, and loſt them, and ult. Aprilis lit, they came to the Defendant's hands, who the ſame day ſold them, and converted them; The Defendant as to 11. of them, Pleaded, Not guilty; and, as to the reſt, he ſhewed that the Plaintiff, 18. Sept. 19. Jac. brought an Action againſt the Defendant, and one J. S. Quare ceperunt et abduxerant 100. oves, and the Plaintiff declared againſt them of their taking 100. ſheep upon the 14th of April, 19 Jac. whereto for 11. ſheep they pleaded Not guilty, and for the reſidue they pleaded a Recovery in debt, by the Defendant againſt one J. D. of a Debt of 50 l. and that the ſaid J. D. was then poſſeſſed of the ſaid 89 ſheep, and that by vertue of a Fieri facias, the ſame ſheep were ſold to him; whereupon he took them into his Cuſtody. The Plaintiff thereto Replyed, and took Iſſue which was found for him, and damages Aſſeſſed to two pence, and thereupon the Plaintiff had Judgment of the two pence, and 6 l. Coſts: and Averred that the taking and driving, for which the Recovery was had, and the Converſion in this Action, was all one, and that the ſaid Judgment was yet in force: The Plaintiff replyed, it is true, he brought ſuch Action, and recovered two pence, for the taking and driving of the 89 ſheep, and 6 l. Coſts. But ſaid, That the two pence was not aſſeſſed for the value of the ſheep, and the Converſion of them: and that the Defendant at the day and time in the Bill ſold the ſaid 89 ſheep, and converted them to his own uſe. Upon this Replication the Defendant demurred generally. And this Caſe being argued in Court, it was ſaid by Yelverton, Juſtice, That becauſe the Action of Treſpaſs is Cepit et abduxit, therefore it included the Defendant had them, and ouſted the Plaintiff of the poſſeſſion; and although the damages be ſmall, it ſhall be intended to be given for the ſheep: and if ſo, then he cannot have an Action for Converting of them afterwards. But the Opinion of all the reſt of the Juſtices was, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover; For the damages of two pence for the 89. ſheep, being ſo ſmall, the Court ſhall intend it to be, and that it was given onely for the taking and driving, and that the Plaintiff had them again, and not in lieu of the value of them: for if it ſhould be taken for the value of them, then the Plaintiff ſhould loſe his property in them, and ſhould have nothing for his ſheep but two pence; and the Law will rather intend, that thoſe damages were given onely for the taking and driving, and that the Plaintiff had them again, and afterwards loſt them; and that the Defendant found and converted them: And ſo it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Intratur, Hill. 2 Jac. in B. R. rott. 850. Paſch. 2 Car. in B. R. Lacon and Barnards Caſe, adjudged. Cro. 1. Part, 24.

27. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed for Damage-Feaſant as in his Freehold; The Plaintiff ſhewed, That he was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and 14. acres of Land; and that he and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had Common in the place where, &c. at all times of the year, tanquam eidem Meſſuagio et terris ſpectant: And Iſſue thereupon joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the barr to the Avowry was not good, becauſe he doth not ſhew, in what Town the Meſſuage and Land lye whereto he claims the Common: And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and it was holden, That though it be after Verdict, yet it is a Jeofaile: Wherefore it was Ordered, That the party ſhould re-plead. Paſch. 8 Jac. in B. R. Broxholm and Sir John Thorolds Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 238.

28. In a Quare Impedit, if the Plaintiff be Nonſuit after appearance, the Defendant ſhall make a title, and have a Writ to the Biſhop, and this is peremptory to the Plaintiff, and a good barr in another Quare Impedit; and the reaſon is, for that the Defendant had by Judgment of the Court a Writ to the Biſhop, which is a Judiciall Writ in the nature of an Execution; and therefore the Incumbent that cometh in by that Writ, ſhall never be removed; which is a flat Barr as to that Preſentation. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 139.

4. What ſhall be a good Barr in Actions real brought; and where the Barr ſhall be pro tempore onely; where, for ever.

1. THe Committee of the King of a Ward committed Waſte, and afterwards tendred a marriage to the heir, and he refuſed, and married himſelf elſewhere; afterwards the Waſte was found by Enqueſt of Office: and afterwards the Committee brought a Writ de Valore Maritagii. It was holden by the Juſtices, That by the Statute of Marlebridge, the Committee loſt onely the Cuſtody of the Land, but not of the body of the Ward: and therefore that Action did well lye for the forfeiture of the marriage: For it was ſaid, That if Lord, Meſne, and Tenant be, and the Meſne grant his Menaltie in Mortmain, the Lord Paramount may claim the Menalty by reaſon of the Mortmain, within the year and day; If the Tenant dyeth, his heir within age, and the Meſne ſeizeth the Ward before the claim of the Lord, the Meſne ſhall have the Marriage of the heir of the Tenant within age as a Chattel veſted in him. Hill. 38 H. 8. Dyer 25. See 15 E. 4. 14. acc. See Cook 2. Part, in Bingham's Caſe. acc.

2. In a Writ of Intruſion, Maritagio non ſatisfacto, the Plaintiff Counted and ſuppoſed a tender of Marriage to the heir within age, without diſparagement; and that he entred, Maritagio non ſatisfacto; the Defendant traverſed the Tender, and the Traverſe was holden good: and yet the [illegible] value of the marriage is due to the Guardian without tender. Cook. 5. Part, 26. Palmers Caſe: It was the Opinion of two of the Juſtices, That the Writ de Valore Maritagii, did lye without a Tender; two other of them doubted of it, Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer 255.

3. If Waſte be brought by the Grantee of a Reverſion, the Defendant may plead in Barr, That he in the Reverſion, did not grant in Reverſion by his Deed, or that nothing paſſed by the Deed; and he may give in Evidence, That he never attorned: and the plea ſhall be good. 28 H. 8. Dyer 81. acc.

4. In an Action of Waſte brought, the Plaintiff aſſigned the Waſte in domibus. The Defendant pleaded, That he had done no Waſte; and afterwards he gave in Evidence, That the Houſes were repaired before the Writ brought. It was holden, That in this caſe, that this Evidence did not maintain the Iſſue, becauſe the Waſte is once acknowledged. 12 Eliz. Dyer 276. But ſee Cook 5. Part, 119. in ſuch caſe, he ought to have pleaded the ſpecial matter. See 2 Ma. Dyer. 112. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 53. acc.

5. The Leſſee of a Farm Covenanted in the Indenture of Leaſe, to repair the Houſes at his proper coſts and charges: Afterwards, he took great Trees which were growing upon the Farm, to repair the houſes which were decayed by age, and Tempeſt, and beſtowed them in the Repairation: The Leſſor brought an Action of Waſte againſt him, for cutting the ſaid Trees; and the Defendant pleaded the matter aforeſaid in barr: and it was adjudged a good plea, to barr the Plaintiff of his Action. Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer 314. See 40 E. 3. 6. 21 H. 6. 50. 12 H. 8. 11. acc. 3 Eliz. Dyer 198. acc. the Leſſor in ſuch caſes is put to his Action of Covenant.

6. In Waſte brought, the Waſte was aſſigned, in cutting down 10 Trees; the Defendant as to 3. of them, juſtified, That he cut them down, and imployed them in 6. poſts, to repair ſeveral Cloſes there; but did not expreſs nor alledge how many Cloſes; nor that by Preſcription there was any ſuch kind of Incloſure there; nor did he alledge, That the 3. Trees, being Oaks, were ſo imployed: And for theſe Cauſes, the Defendant's plea as to thoſe 3. Trees, was adjudged to be inſufficient. To the other 7. the Defendant juſtified, becauſe they were dry, hollow, and putrified in the top; not being ſufficient Timber for building. It was holden by Mounſon and Harper, Juſtices, That the plea was alſo inſufficient; for though they were inſufficient for Timber, yet they might be imployed otherwiſe. Dyer held, That if they were aridæ, ficcæ, non portantes fructus nec folia in æstate, then the cutting down of them was no Waſte. Hill. 16 Eliz. Dyer 332. See Cook 11 Part, 49. in Liffords Caſe.

7. An Action of Waſte in the tenuit was brought againſt the Aſſignee of the Term, by the Aſſignee of the Reverſion for Waſte committed in digging of Sea-Coal: The Defendant pleaded in barr, That the firſt Leſſee opened the ground, and granted to him all his Intereſt in the Land, with all the profits, excepting to him, his heirs and aſſignees, the title of the Coal-Mines in parcell of the ſaid Lands, and all Timber-Trees; and averred, That the Mine in the Land at the time of the grant, and yet, is open. It was holden in this caſe to be no barr, for that he had not power to entermeddle with the digging of Coals: and therefore the Exception was a void Exception: And ſo the Court held the Defendant puniſhable for the Waſte. Hill. 41 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 747. Saunders and Marwoods Caſe, Goldeſbr. 241. See Cook 5. Part, 12. the ſame Caſe adjudged acc.

8. Waſte was brought againſt A. and B. upon a Leaſe made to J. S. by J. D. 34 H. 8. of the Mannor of S. and had general words, Boſcis, Boſcorum venditionibus, magno maremio, minuris Carbonum, &c. in as ample manner, &c. as the Leſſor habuit vel habere potuit, for the Term of 80. years; and conveyed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff, and the Leaſe to the Defendant; and then the Plaintiff aſſigned the Waſte in felling of Oaks. The Defendants pleaded, That they felled thoſe Trees for the making of Punchions, Corſes, Rolls, Roll-Scopes, and other Utenſils in and about Coal-Mines, parcel of the Demiſe; and without which they could not digg, nor get the Coals out of the pitts, and did beſtow the ſame Trees accordingly; upon which plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. The Queſtion was, Whether by implication of the Law, by Leaſing the Coal-Mines, the Leſſor gave power to fell Trees for the uſe of the Coal-Mines. It was agreed, That the grant of a thing, did carry all things which are included, without which the thing granted cannot be had: But in this caſe it was adjudged by the whole Court againſt the Defendants: for in this caſe it was agreed, That this ſhall be taken for a Mine opened ſince the Leaſe, becauſe it ſhall be ſtrongeſt againſt the Defendant that pleads it. Now if the Mines had not been granted by ſpeciall words, it had been

Waſte

Waſte to open a Mine anew, for the Leſſee hath not power to change the nature of the Land or thing demiſed: A Leſſee may build a new houſe where none was before; but that muſt be every way at his own charge, for he muſt neither take Timber nor other things Waſtable; though it be never ſo needfull: and yet if he keep it not in repair, Waſte lyeth, though the Writ be in domibus dimiſsis: but if the Leſſor build a houſe after the Leaſe, the Leſſee is not bound to repair it. Now in this caſe it were no Waſte to open a Mine, as it would have been, if the demiſe had not been of Mines by ſpecial name; yet it is like a houſe new built, for the maintenance of which, the Leſſee can fell no Timber: and ſo much the worſe, as a new houſe betters the Inheritance; whereas the digging of Mines decayes the Inheritance: and therefore it is againſt reaſon to do one Waſte to maintain another. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. The Lord Darcy and Aſtwicks Caſe. Hob. 234.

9. A Woman hath title of Dower of Land, whereof one is Tenant for life, the Reverſion to another in Fee, and the Woman releaſeth to him in the Reverſion; It is a good Barr in a Writ of Dower, brought againſt Tenant for life, and yet at the time ſhe had not any cauſe of Action againſt him, but in futuro, after the death of Tenant for life, Cook 1. Part. 112. in Chudleigh's Caſe.

10. A man in conſideration of Marriage to be had with A. makes an Eſtate of certain Lands to her for her life, and in full ſatisfaction of her Dower which ſhe may have in any other of his Lands; afterwards they Intermarry, and the husband dyeth: and ſhe brings her Writ of Dower againſt the heir, who pleads the acceptance of the Eſtate aforeſaid in barr. It is holden, That ſuch acceptance of Eſtate, did not barr the woman of her Dower at the Common-Law; becauſe ſhe had not any title of Dower to any Land at the time of the acceptance of that Eſtate. And, 2. Becauſe that no Collateral acceptance can barr any right of Inheritance or Free-hold. Cook 4. Part, 1. Vernons Caſe.

11. The husband made a Joynture in certain Lands to his Wife after the Coverture: Afterwards the husband and wife levied a Fine ſur Conuſance de droit come ceo of that: It was holden by the Juſtices, That that is no barr to the wife in Dower; for that Election was not given to the wife, untill after the death of her husband; and then her title of Dower doth firſt accrue unto her. Trin. 19 Eliz. Dyer 358.

12. Note: Concerning the detaining of Charters to be a barr in a Writ of Dower, theſe Points were Reſolved, 1. That if the heir plead Detinue of Charters in Dower brought againſt him, the Charters ought to concern the Lands whereof the Dower is demanded, and not concerning other Lands which are deſcended to the heir: and note, The reaſon, why in Dower brought againſt the heir, he may plead detainer of Charters, is, becauſe, If he had the Charters, he might plead any plea in barr of her Dower: And if the heir plead, That he was alwayes ready, and yet is to render her Dower if he had the Charters; the ſame is a Confeſſion of the Action, if the Demandant doth deliver the Charters to the heir, and after the Charters are delivered to him, the heir ſhall not plead over; but the Demandant in the Writ of Dower ſhall have her Judgment preſently. 2. It was Reſolved, That the ſtranger, although that he be Tenant of the Land, and hath the Charters conveyed to him, cannot plead Deteiner of Charters; for that plea lyeth onely in privity for the heir of the husband. And in this caſe it was ſaid, If a man be ſeiſed of 3. acres of Lands in one County, and enfeoffeth a ſtranger of one acre with Warranty, and dyeth, the heir may aſſign one acre to the wife in ſatisfaction of her Dower, as well of the acre of which the ſtranger is enfeoffed, as in the other; and if afterwards Dower be brought againſt the Feoffee, and he vouch the heir, he may plead this matter in barr; and in ſuch caſe, the heir may plead deteiner of Charters, becauſe he may plead, That he had been alwayes ready, and yet is, to render Dower to the demandant, in diſcharge of all that Tenancy in the ſame County. Cook 9. Part, 17, 18. Anne Bedingfields Caſe.

13. Dower was brought againſt the Feoffee of the husband, who pleaded Detinue of Charters: whereupon Iſſue was joyned, and the Verdict was for the Defendant, and Judgment thereupon was given for the Defendant. And after, a Writ of Errour was brought of that Judgment, becauſe that that plea is onely for the heir. Armeſeys Caſe, vouched, Mich. 42 Eliz. in Kent and Hall's Caſe, Hob. 113.

14. In a Writ of Dower againſt the heir, If he plead, That the demandant detains the Evidences, he ſhall have Judgment preſently, with a Ceſſat executio: If a man have Common of Eſtovers to his houſe, and he ſuffer his houſe to fall down, he can claim no Eſtovers; for if he ſue for it, and the other plead, That his houſe is down, he ſhall not have Judgment with a Ceſſat executio, till he have re-edified his houſe; but the Plaintiff ſhall be barred; for at the time of the Action brought, he had no Right of Eſtovers, but it is in ſuſpence, and therefore it is not a perpetuall, but a temporal barr; and if he re-edifie his houſe in the ſame place, he ſhall have his Eſtovers again; and ſo if he had pulled down his houſe, and built it again: But if he bring an Aſſiſe, or Quod permittat, for his his Eſtovers where his houſe is down, Quære if he ſhall not be barred finally. See Cook 4. Part, in Lutterells Caſe. And ſee the Opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, in the Argument of Cooper and Andrews Caſe. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1223. Hob. 39. & 40. for this caſe.

15. In a Formedon in the Diſcender; if the demandant be barred by Verdict or Demurrer, yet the Iſſue ſhall have a new Formedon in the Diſcender by the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 1. The ſame Law, If he be barred in Errour upon a Releaſe of his Aunceſtor, his Iſſue ſhall have a new Writ of Errour, becauſe he claims it not onely as heir, but per formam Doni; and the Statute ſhall not make a barr by Feint-pleader, or Falſe-pleader of his Aunceſtor, as long as the right of the entail doth remain. Cook 6. Part, 45 Eliz. Dyer 188. Sir Ralph Rowlets Caſe.

16. In a Writ of Partition brought, It is a good plea to plead, That the Defendant had ſuch a Writ againſt the Plaintiff, and had Judgment to have Partition; but the doubt was, Whether the Defendant ſhould plead the plea by way of barr, or in abatement of the Writ; or that he ſhall plead it by way of Eſtoppell. 5. Where a Bar ſhall be good to a common intent, where not; And where it is inſufficient, and the Plaintiff makes an Inſufficient Replication; Where Judgment ſhall be, where not.

1. UPon an Evidence given upon an Indictment of Murder, divers exceptions were taken to the Indictment, one of which was, becauſe that in the Judgment it was alledged, that the Indictment was taken before W. S. Coronatore Dominæ Reginæ infra Libertat. dict. dominæ Reginæ villæ ſuæ de C. ſuper viſum corpus, and it is not alledged to what places the Liberty doth extend, nor what part, or whether any part of C. were within the Liberty, ſo as it appeareth that the Coroner hath Juriſdiction; And it was ſaid that Indictments which do concern the lives of men, ought to be full and have a preciſe certainty, to which the party ſhall anſwer, and ſhall not be taken by Argument. But it was Reſolved, That the Indictment was good, for if an Indictment be certain to a general Intent, it is good enough; and in this Caſe to a Common intent, it is certain enough, that C. is within the Liberty of C. and the Town ſhall not be preſumed to be out of the Liberty of the Town in a ſtreyned conſtruction, which the Law will not allow; and in that Caſe, it was ſaid that there are three manner of certainties. 1. To a common intent, 2. To a certain intent in generall, 3. To a certain intent to every particular, the firſt doth ſuffice in Bars which are to defend the party, and excuſe himſelf; the ſecond is required in Indictments, Counts, Replications, &c. becauſe they are to excuſe or charge the party; the third is rejected in Law, for minia ſubtilitas in jure reprobatur, et talis certitudo cervitudinem confundit. Cook 5. Part 121. in Longs Caſe.

2. In an Indictment, exception was taken unto it, becauſe it was ſaid, in it, In Curia dict. Domini Regis in computori ſuo ſcituat. in parochia St. Michaelis Woodſtreet, London; and it did not ſhew in what Ward the Pariſh was: but the Exception was not allowed by the Court, For every Ward in London is as an Hundred in the County, and every Pariſh in London is as a Town in the Hundred: and it is not neceſſary to declare in what Hundred a Town is, nor yet in what Ward a Pariſh is. Cook. 9. Part. 66. in Mackalie's Caſe.

3. Debt upon an Obligation, That if the Obligee, his Executors and Aſſigns, from the time of the Obligation, may injoy ſuch Lands by vertue of a Leaſe made to him by the Obligor, that then &c. The Defendant pleaded, That, poſt Obligationem, untill the day of the Bill, the Plaintiff enjoyed the Land: upon which, the Plaintiff did demur. Exception was, becauſe the Defendant doth not ſay à die Confectionis ſcripti Obligatorii, et ſemper poſt Confectionem ſcripti Obligatorii; for, it may be the Plaintiff enjoyed it, but not ſemper: But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, for that a bar is good to a common intent: and it ſhall be taken, that he alwayes enjoyed it, unleſſe the contrary be ſhewed, which muſt come on the other ſide. Trin. 6. Car. in B. R. Harlow and Wright's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 141.

4. Debt upon an Obligation reciting, whereas Copy-hold Lands were to be ſurrendred to the uſe of H. and G. and their Heirs, by A. at her full age; and that G. ſhould pay to H. 30 l. at ſuch a day; and if he failed, it ſhould be to the uſe of H. and his heirs: The Condition was, That if the ſaid Obligor procured A. at her full age to ſurrender to the uſe of H. and his heirs, and if H. and his heirs might have, and deviſe the Lands to him and his heirs, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded that G. did not pay the 30 l. and that A. of full age, at ſuch a Court did ſurrender Releaſe, and quit claim to the Plaintiff, being in poſſeſſion, all her right, eſtate, and Intereſt in the Land, &c. and that the Plaintiff afterwards, alwayes ways might have enjoyed the Lands; the Plaintiff Replyed: That it is true, the ſaid A. did ſurrender part, but afterwards, G. ſuch a day, Entred and expelled him. The Defendant did demur upon the Replication; It was Reſolved: that in this Caſe, the Replication was not good without ſhewing that the expulſion was by Title, for otherwiſe the bond doth not extend unto it; And in this Caſe, it was alſo Reſolved, That the Bar, viz. that A. ſurrendred and Releaſed in Court was good and certain enough, to common Intendment, although it be not ſaid that ſhe ſurrendred to the uſe of the Plaintiff; yet becauſe it is alledged to be ſurrendred and Releaſed in Court, and accepted by the Plaintiff; it was good enough. Paſc. 1. Car. in C. B. Hamond and Dodds Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 3.

5. This Queſtion was moved to the Court: When the Defendant Pleads in Bar to the Action and the Plaintiff Replies, and the Defendant doth demur ſpecially upon the Replication, and the bar is inſufficient, whether the Juſtices ſhall give Judgment upon the Replication, or ſhall reſort to the inſufficient bar, the Replication being alſo inſufficient; And the Opinion of the Court was, That when the Action is of ſuch a Nature, that the Writ and the Count doth comprehend the Title, as in a Formedon, and the like; then, becauſe there is a ſufficient Title for the demandant by the Writ, and the Count, ſo as the Judges may ſafely proceed to Judgment for the Plaintiff, there they ſhall not reſort to the bar, contrary where the Title doth commence onely by the Replication, as in Aſſiſe, Treſpaſſe, and the like. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Zouch and Bamperts Caſe. Godbolt. 138.

6. In Debt upon an Obligation for not performance of Covenants, by an Under-Sheriff; One Covenant was, that he ſhould not execute any extent of any ſum above the ſum of 20 l. before he had firſt given notice to the Sheriff of the Writ, and if any ſuch Writ of Execution were above 20 l. that he ſhould not execute it without ſpeciall warrant of the High-Sheriff. The Defendant pleaded, That he had performed all the Covenants; It was the Opinion of Hobart Chief Juſtice in that Caſe, That if the Covenant had not bin againſt Law, for the Executions above 20 l. And that the bar had bin inſufficient, becauſe he did not plead negatively to that Covenant; That yet if the Replication were naught, and Aſſigned no ſufficient breach; the Plaintiff could not have had Judgment: For although the Action were well brought upon the Action alone; yet when it appeareth that the Condition was for performance of Covenants, there can be no cauſe of Action without ſome Covenant broken; and therefore in that caſe the Plaintiff could not have had Judgment; and if it doth appear to the Court, that the Plaintiff hath no cauſe of Action, he ſhall never have Judgment, although the bar be inſufficient, and though he hath thereupon a Verdict againſt the Defendant. Paſc. 11. Jac. in C. B. by Hobart in Sir Daniel Norton's and Syms's Caſe. Hob. 13. & 14.

7. Debt upon an Obligation for the payment of 30 l. to A. B. and C. tam cito as they ſhould come of the age of 21 years, The Defendant pleaded that he paid theſe ſums tam cito, as they came of age; It was demurred upon, becauſe it was not ſhewed when they came of age, and the certain time of the payment; The Court held the plea not to be good; For although it be a good Plea regularly to the Condition of an Obligation to purſue the words of the Condition, and to ſhew the performance; yet there is another rule in Law, that the party ought to plead in certainty, the time, place, and manner of the performance, ſo as Iſſue may be taken thereupon, otherwiſe it is not good; and therefore in the principal caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1006. Halſey and Carpenters Caſe. Cro. 2. Part 359.

8. In an Ejectione firme of a Meſſuage and Lands in L. the Defendant pleaded, that long before the Leaſe, and Ejectment; A. was ſeiſed in Fee, and let the Land to the Defendant for five years, and that he entred and was poſſeſſed untill the Leſſor of the Plaintiff entred upon him, and diſſeiſed him; and ſo ſeiſed by diſſeiſin, made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, and that the Defendant reentred, and ejected him, as was lawfull for him to do; The Plaintiff replyed, That the Leſſor was ſeiſed in Fee, and let to the Plaintiff; and that the Defendant ouſted him, and traverſed that he did not diſſeiſe the Defendant; and upon Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff: In Arreſt of Judgment, It was moved that the Iſſue was a vain Iſſue; For when the Defendant ſhews that he was but Leſſee for years, and poſſeſſed as Leſſee, he cannot then be diſſeiſed, and then the Allegation of the diſſeiſin is vain and impoſſible, and therefore it was a Miſpriſal, and no Judgment can be for the Plaintiff; And it was holden by the whole Court, That although the Defendant's Plea was no good Plea in Bar, and the Plaintiff might have demurred upon it, yet the Defendant himſelf ſhall not take advantage thereof; but that being an Iſſue joyned upon this falſe allegation, and being found by Jury, that the Leſſor of the Plaintiff had not diſſeiſed him, the Judgment ſhall be well given upon this verdict. But if it had bin found for the Plaintiff, that the Leſſor of the Plaintiff diſſeiſed him, peradventure he ſhould not have had Judgment: But, as it is found, The verdict well ſtands with the Law; That the Leſſor did not diſſeiſe ſeiſe him, and the Defendant ſhall not take advantage of his own vitious plea. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part Johns and Ridlers Caſe. 678.

9. In Debt brought by the High-Sheriff againſt an Under-Sheriff, upon a Bond given to ſave him harmleſſe, the Defendant pleaded in bar, generally, That he had ſaved him harmleſſe; upon which plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law, and the demurrer was holden by the Court to be good; for that he ought to have pleaded ſpecially; or Non damnificatus. for he may ſave himſelf harmleſſe in many things; and yet the Plaintiff may be damnified in ſome other things, wherein the Defendant was alſo bound to ſave the Plaintiff harmleſſe Paſc. 23 Car. in B. R. Wroath and Elſey's Caſe. Style 16.

10. In an Action of Treſpaſs, for aſſaulting and beating of his Servant per quod ſervitium amiſit, to his damage of 40 s. The Defendant as to the Battery vi et armis pleaded Not guilty; As to the Aſſault he Juſtified, and ſhewed, That he was poſſeſſed of a houſe, and had a Light time out of mind, and that the Servants of the Plaintiff did intend and indeavour to erect another houſe upon a certain piece of ground adjoyning to his houſe, and had erected certain timber for the houſe; the which houſe, if the ſame had bin erected, would have ſtopped up his ſaid ancient Light; and for this cauſe, that this would have bin to his Nuſance, he ſtood in his own houſe; and with a ſtaff did thruſt away the Defendants ſervants, by him implyed in the building, and did then throw down the timber ſo erected; upon which plea in bar the Plaintiff did demur in Law: It was holden by the Court that this plea in Bar was not good for many cauſſes. 1. Becauſe in this Caſe, the principall point of the Action, is the loſſe of his ſervice, and the Defendant doth juſtify as to the battery, but doth ſay nothing to the loſſe of his ſervice, and where the party doth not anſwer to all, it is no anſwer at all; and the loſſe of his ſervice, which is the ground of the Action, ought to be confeſſed, avoided, or elſe denyed. 2. For that the Plea amounts but to the general iſſue. 3. The plea of Juſtification is not good, for the Defendant ought to have damnum et injuriam, and if he have none of theſe, his Juſtification is not good, and it doth not appear there, that he hath any damage: and a man cannot juſtify the beating of one for an endeavour onely; and in this Caſe, It was holden by the whole Court, That the Plaintiff needed not to ſhew how he was reteined his ſervant; and ſo the Opinion of the whole Court was clear, That the declaration, and that the Juſtification and plea in bar was not good, and Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Morris and Baker's Caſe, Mich, 10. Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 196, 197, 198, acc.

11. The Caſe was this, J. was agreed between the Plaintiff, a woman Executrix of her former Husband and the Defendant, that upon the payment of 89 l. upon a day to come, to the Defendant, and upon requeſt made; he did promiſe to reconvey certain Lands to the Woman, which were her former husbands: ſhe payes the mony at the day, & requeſts the Defendant to make the re-conveyance now to her, which he refuſed; afterwards, ſhe takes a Husband, ſo as the Action accrued to him, now, in the Right of his Wife: Afterwards, the Husband and Wife exhibite a Bill unto the Chancery againſt the Defendant, to have a re-conveyance made to the Wife according to his promiſe; upon the hearing of the Cauſe, The Court of Chancery did Decree, that the Plaintiff ſhould pay to the Defendant 100 l. more, at a day then to come; and after this payment made, upon requeſt, the Defendant was decreed to make the re-conveyance according to the former agreement. The Husband payes the 100 l: to the Defendant, who makes a reconveyance of the Land by a Feoffment to the Wife, Executrix of her former Husband; which the Wife accepts; And afterwards ſhe and her Husband bring an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant upon the firſt promiſe; The Defendant pleads in bar the decree, and the performance of it, and the re-conveyance by him made, according to the decree; and upon the Plea, the Plaintiffs did demur in Law; It was ſaid, that the plea was not good, becauſe there is no expreſſe averment of any acceptance or agreement to this by the Husband, for the conveyance was made to the Wife, and by her acceptance, her Husband ſhall not be barred; but he ought to have averred, unto which he did agree, becauſe this is a thing collaterall. Alſo it was ſaid, That the payment of the 100 l. by the Plaintiff was compulſory, he being decreed to pay it, & he paid it ſecundum ordinem et decretum prædict. and not in diſcharge of the former promiſe. Bnt it was anſwered and reſolved by the Court, that this being a Plea, and good to a common intent, is ſufficient; and that the re-conveyance upon the payment of the 100 l. was to be in ſatisfaction, and full diſcharge of the firſt promiſe; and in the re-conveyance, it ſhall be a taking alſo of the Husband aſwell as the Wife, and the Lands ſhall be as well in him as in the Wife, untill the Husband do diſagree, and the payment of the 100 l. by the Husband, was a full agreement by him, that the Action which accrued unto him for the firſt breach of promiſe, ſhould thereby be gone and diſcharged, and by this payment he takes notice of the decree, and it cannot be otherwiſe taken, but to be in full diſcharge of the firſt promiſe; promiſe; and ſo the whole Court was clear againſt the Plaintiff, that the plea was not good, and the Plaintiff ought to be barred of his Action; and Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff accordingly. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1596. Wolterton and Dayes Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part 8990.

12. In Debt upon an Obligation of 1000 l. againſt the Executors of W. N. made to the Plaintiff and to one T. G; The Defendant pleaded, That W. the Teſtator was bound to the ſaid T. G. in a Statute of 2000 l. the defeaſance of which was, That whereas he had Covenanted to aſſure the Barton of B. to the uſe of himſelf for his life, and after to the uſe of the Plaintiff and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to the right heirs of W. the Teſtator, and that he would not charge the ſaid Barton of B. with eſtates which ſhould endure longer then his own life, that if he performed the ſaid Covenant, then the ſaid Statute to be void; and ſhewed the breach of the ſaid Covenant by an aſſurance made of the ſaid Land to G. N. his ſon in tail, ſo as the Statute is broken, and the Defendants averred, Quod non habent, nec die impetrationis billæ habuerunt, bona, quæ fuerunt bona Teſtatoris tempore mortis ſuæ, in manibus ſuis adminiſtrand. præterquam to ſatisfy the ſaid Statute. The Plaintiff replyed, and ſhewed the Statute of 27 Eliz. of fraudulent Conveyances, and that the firſt Indenture and defeaſance was in conſideration of mony; and that after the conveyance to G. N. he made an aſſurance to himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of the Plaintiff and his Wife, according to the firſt Indenture; and that the conveyance to G. N. was void, whereupon the Defendant demurred in Law. It was moved in this Caſe. 1. That the bar was ill; becauſe he pleads, that at the day of the bill, they were not the Teſtator's tempore mortis ſuæ, which is not good, becauſe they might have goods lyable to debts, though they were not the Teſtators goods, tempore mortis ſuæ: But as to that poynt, the Court held, That the Plea in bar was good to a common intent, and it ſhall not be conceived that they had ſuch Aſſets, being ſpecial Aſſets, unleſſe it were ſpecially ſhewed; An other exception to the bar was, becauſe they pretend that they had not Aſſets, nec die Impetrationis billæ habuerunt bona teſtatoris, &c. and do not ſay, nec unquam poſtea; which ought to have bin alledged; and that was holden by the whole Court to be an incurable fault, for the pleading ought to be ſo; and it was holden in this Caſe, That although the demurrer be upon a Replication, which is vitious, yet foraſmuch as the bar is ill, the Declaration being good; and the Replication is onely to avoid the bar, which as this Caſe is, needs not to be avoided, becauſe it is no bar, they held that although the Replication was ill therein, yet Judgment ſhould be given againſt the Plaintiff; But where the Replication is to entitle himſelf to the Action, and by the Plaintiffs own ſhewing in his Replication, he hath no cauſe of Action; there, although the bar be ill, Judgment ſhall be given againſt the Plaintiff: In the principall Caſe, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 3. Jac. in B. R. Gewen and Rolls's Caſe. rott. 897. Cro. 2. Part 131, 132.

13. In Trover and Converſion of two Loads of Fitches of certain Lands; the Defendant juſtified by the command of A. to whom part of the Land belonged, and to one B. to whom another part of the Land did belong in the Right of the Lady his Wife; and ſhewed that part of the Fitches did grow upon the Land of the one, and part upon the Land of the other; upon which plea and Juſtification, the Plaintiff did demur for two cauſes. 1. Becauſe he juſtifies by the command of two generally. 2. Becauſe he doth not ſhew particularly upon whoſe Lands the Fitches grew, but that they grew upon the Land of the one, and of the other, which is altogether incertain. For the firſt, the Court was of Opinion, That the Plea was good enough; for although it were a joynt-command, yet the parties commanding, have ſeveral intereſts, and titles, and it ſhall be taken reddenda ſingula ſingulis to be ſeverall Commands; But for the ſecond Exception, the Court held the bar is not good for the incertainty: ſo that although upon the other Exceptions moved by the Defendant, the Plaintiffs replication was not good, yet the Defendants bar being ill, the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment upon the Declaration, and the Plaintiff had Judgment accordingly. Hill. 2. Car. in B. R. Sparrow and Sherwoods Caſe. Poph. 208, 209.

Barrator, and Barratry.

1. IT was holden by the Court, That a Common-Barretor, is a Common-Mover, and exciter, and maintainer of Suits or Quarrells in Courts, or in the Country, in diſturbance of the Peace, and in taking and detaining of the poſſeſſions of Houſes, Lands, or Goods, by falſe invention, ſowing of Calumniations, Rumors, and Diſcords, whereby diſquiet ariſeth amongſt Neighbours. And therefore it was Reſolved, That the words of an Indictment of a Common-Barretor ought to be, That he is Communis Malefactor, Calumniator, et Seminator Litium et diſcordiarum inter vicinos ſuos, Malefactor et pacis Regis perturbator: And a Common-Barretor is the moſt dangerous oppreſſor in the Law, for he oppreſſeth the Innocent by colour and countenance of the Law, which was made for the protection of the Innocent againſt all oppreſſion; and therefore, theſe words, Oppreſſor vicinorum ſuorum, are materiall to be inſerted in every Indictment of a Common-Barretor, if the truth of the Caſe be ſuch. Cook 8. Part, 37. in the Caſe of Barretry.

2. Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given upon an Indictment of one being a Common-Barretor, Where the Indictment being found, and Judgment given, That he ſhould pay 100 l. for a Fine, and be impriſoned for two moneths; Et ideo in miſericordia; It was aſſigned for Errour, becauſe the Indictment is, That he was a Common-Barretor, Contra formam diverſorum Statutorum; which was ſaid, was not good, becauſe it is an Offence at the Common-Law, and there is no Statute to puniſh it. But the Exception was not allowed by the Court; becauſe that ſo is the courſe of common Indictments; and Barratry is an Offence againſt divers Statutes, viz. Maintenance, and the like. 2. Exception, becauſe he upon the Indictment appeared gratis at the following Aſſizes, and then pleaded, and then the Venire facias was miſ-awarded to make it returnable the ſame Aſſiſes; where it ought to be the next Aſſiſes. But that was diſallowed, becauſe ſuch is the common Courſe. And the Court ſaid, It might be as well when he was in the Goal, as when he is at large, and comes in gratis. 3d. Exception, Becauſe it was Ideo in miſericordia; where it ought to have been Ideo Capiatur. To that it was anſwered, That Record was Ideo Committatur Gaolæ (being) there preſent: ſo there needs not Capiatur. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Chapman's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 248. See Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Rice and the King's Caſe, acc. as to the Awarding of the Venire facias. Cro. 2. Part, 404.

3. A. was Indicted, That he fuit, et ad hunc eſt a Common-Barretor, and no place is expreſſed where he was a Barretor, ſo as no tryall can be; And the Indictment was, Per quod he did ſtirr up Contentions, Jurgia, and no place alledged where he did ſtirr up Jurgia, Contentions. It was ſaid by the Court, That in that caſe, the place was very material, and ſo the Indictment was Quaſhed for want of ſetting forth, Where he did ſtirr up Jurgia, Contentions. Paſch. 3 Car. in B. R. Man's Caſe. Godbolt 383.

Baſtard and Baſtardy. Mulier and Mulierity.

1. Filius Baſtardus, or a Baſtard, dicitur filius, procreatus ex Meretrica, ſive Concubina; and is derived from the Greek word Baſtaris, i.e. Meretrix ſive Concubina. Filius Muleriatus in legibus Angliæ, dicitur qui procreatus eſt ex legitima uxore. Glan. Lib. 7. Cap. 1. Britton. 70. Cook 8. Part, 102. in Sir Richard Lechford's Caſe.

2. Baſtard, by the Common-Law, is Quaſi nullius filius. Litt. 41. b. and therefore if a Baſtard dyeth without Iſſue, the Lands ſhall Eſcheat: but yet ſee 11 H. 4. 75. in reſpect of his Mother, Baſtard is ſaid to be a Son.

3. In a Writ of Partition brought by Ralph Haward and the Lady Anne Powes his Wife; the Defendant pleaded, That the ſaid Anne, as daughter and one of the Heirs of Charls Duke of Suffolk, ought not to have Partition, becauſe he ſaid, That illa fuit genita et nata inter prædictum Dominum Nuper Ducem, ad huc Nominatum Carolum Bradon armigerum, et quandam Annam Browne aute aliqua deſpondalia inter eoſdem Carolum, et A. B. celebrat. Upon which they were at Iſſue. It was holden in that Caſe, That if the Mother diſpoſe of all her Lands holden in Knights-Service, to her baſtard-daughter by Conveyance in her life-time; that the ſame is out of the Statute of 32 H. 8. becauſe ſhe is but as a meer ſtranger to the Father, becauſe nullius filius; and the Statute of 32 H. 8. ſpeaks of lawfull generation. See 13 Eliz. Dyer 296. and 14 Eliz. Dyer 313. Where the Lord Powes conveyed Land holden in Capite to Gray his Baſtard ſon in remainder after his death, and then the Lord Powes dyed: Where it is holden by the Lord Dyer, and Saunders, Juſtice, That the Baſtard ſhould not ſue Livery for the third part, becauſe it was no lawfull generation. And ſee 39 E. 3. 42. In a Pracipe, a Baſtard, was named filius J. S. and for that cauſe the Writ did abate. See Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer 345. Thorneton's Caſe. acc.

4. Worſley Covenanted with his eldeſt ſon and 2 others, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, the remainder to his eldeſt ſon in tail, the remainder to himſelf in tail, the remainder to Richard Worſley his baſtard ſon in tail, and if any of them in the remainder remainder ſhould make any diſcontinuance or other prejudice to any other in the Remainder, that his Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and then they ſhould ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of the next in the Remainder, according to the Limitation. The Father granted all his Eſtate to his eldeſt ſon, who levied a Fine with Proclamations; and 5. years paſſed, the Baſtard ſuppoſing he had title, entred and made a Leaſe to try the Title. In this Caſe, two Points were moved amongſt other, Whether this entring and making a Leaſe, was within the Statute of 32 H. 8. for buying of Titles. See Plow. Com. in Partridges Caſe, 8. That buying of a Leaſe for years is within the Statute, and the Offender ſhall forfeit the value of the Land. But ſee Mich. 31 Eliz. rott. 2811. in C. B. Finch and Cockhams Caſe. Cook 11. Part, Inſtitutes, 369. That if a man make a Leaſe for years, to try a Title in an Ejectione Firme, the ſame is out of the Statute, becauſe it is in courſe of Law; but if it be made to a great man, or to another to ſway and countenance the Cauſe, then it is within the Statute: But in the principal Caſe for the uſe raiſed to the Baſtard, there ought to be a valuable Conſideration; for natural affection is not a ſufficient conſideration: for that he is a ſtranger in Law, although he be a Son in Nature. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer 374. Worſleys Caſe.

5. If a Grant be made to a Baſtard by the ſurname of him who is ſuppoſed to beget him, it is good, if he be known by ſuch name: So if a Remainder be limited Richardo filio Rich. Marwood, it is good, although he be a Baſtard in vulgar reputation, if he be known by ſuch name; and yet in truth he is, in Law, nullus filius. 41 E. 3. 19. Richard Thompſon had Iſſue by one Joan before marriage, and afterwards he married the ſaid Joan, and made a Feoffment in Fee, and took back an Eſtate to him for life, the remainder to Agnete filiæ prædict. Rich. et Johannæ. In that caſe, it was agreed, That it was a good remainder, without averment, That ſhe was known to be their daughter. It was Objected there, That a Baſtard is not their daughter in Law: But Finchien ſaid, It is found, That the daughter was born before the marriage, ſo as by their marriage after, ſhe was their daughter. Out of which Caſe it was obſerved, That although by the Common-Law ſhe was not their daughter, yet becauſe ſhe had colour by the Eccleſiaſtical Law, which ſaith, That ſubſequens Matrimonium tollit peccatum precedens, the ſame was ſufficient in the caſe of a Conveyance, to make the Remainder good: So if the husband and wife be divorced, cauſa præcontractus, the Iſſue hath loſt his Surname, for Cognomen majorum eſt ex ſanguine tractum; and the Iſſue now is Baſtard, and nullius filius: yet becauſe once he had a lawfull Surname, it is a good ground of Reputation; to make him a Reputed Son, which is a good name of purchaſe. Cook 6. Part. 65. in Sir Moils Finches Caſe.

6. In Treſpaſs, upon a Speciall Verdict, the Caſe was; A. and B. did contract marriage per verba de præſenti tempore; Afterwards B. took to husband C. Afterwards A. Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt B. upon which proceedings there it was Decreed, That the ſaid B. ſubiret Matrimonium with the ſaid A. et Decretum et declaratum fuit dict. Matrimonium with C. fore nullum. And further Decreed, That A. and B. ſhould entermarry; which they did, and had Iſſue G. the Plaintiff, C. then living. Afterwards A. dyed: It was further found, That R. Father of A. was a Copyholder in Fee; and, out of Court, according to the Cuſtome of the Manner, did ſurrender by the hands of the Cuſtomary Tenants to the Lord, to the uſe of M. his wife, and R. his younger ſon, and dyed; the Surrender was preſented after his death, and thereupon the Lord gave admittance and Seiſin to M. and R. and to the heirs of R: M. dyed, R. ſurvived, and ſurrendred to the uſe of E. his wife, and dyed. E. was Admitted. G. as Cozen and heir of R. who was the Father of A. ſon and heir of R. entred upon E. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, Although that C. being de facto the husband of B, was not party to the Suit, nor to the Sentence in the Spirituall Court, which diſſolved the Marriage betwixt him and B. but B. onely; yet the Sentence being declaratory againſt the woman, was good, and ſhould bind C. her husband de facto; and the Judges of our Law ought (although it be againſt the reaſon of our Law) to give Faith and Credit to their proceedings: So as it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Plaintiff was Legitimate, and no Baſtard. Mich. 28 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, 29. Banting and Lepingwells Caſe.

7. A. was ſeiſed of a Manor holden by Knights-Service in Capite, and took B. to wife, who had Iſſue C. between them: Afterwards the marriage betwixt A. and B. by Sentence in the Spirituall Court was declared to be void, becauſe they were married infra annos nubiles, and they are divorced. A. takes to wife D. and afterwards before Commiſſioners Eccleſiaſticall, the marriage betwixt A. and D. is declared lawfull, and that the ſaid A. was never lawfully married to B: D. dyed, A. took E. to wife, by whom he had Iſſue F. and dyed: Office found after his death, That F. was his daughter and heir within age; The King granted the Cuſtody and Wardſhip of F. to J. S. and E then his wife; C. exhibited a Bill into the Court of Wards, pretending, that ſhe was daughter and heir to A; and alledged, That A. and B. at the time of their marriage, were both above the age of Conſent, and that they did cohabit 10 years together before the ſuppoſed divorce; during which time, they had Iſſue the ſaid C. and prayed, That ſhe might traverſe the ſaid Office. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That againſt the ſaid firſt Sentence of Divorce, the parties ſhould not be received, ſo long as the ſame remained in force, to aver, That they agreed and conſented to the Marriage, 1. Becauſe the Eccleſiaſticall Judge hath declared it to be void; and although they were of the age of Conſent, yet if the Original Contract was void, then there was a juſt cauſe of Divorce. 2. It was holden in that caſe, The Eccleſiaſtical Judge is Judge as well of the Aſſent, as of the Contract; and the Common-Law Courts ſhall not examine whether the cauſe be true, or not: and therefore it was holden by Conſequence in that Caſe, That C. was a Baſtard. Cook 7. Part, 42, 43. Kenns Caſe.

8. A. had Iſſue by B. his wife, two ſons, C. the eldeſt, and D. the younger, and dyed. C. within the age of 14 years took to wife E, and at full age they Cohabited, et habuerunt carnalem copulam, et cogniti et reputati pro viro et uxore palàm; C. afterwards put away E. his wife, and married F, living E; and had Iſſue by her G: C. dyed, F. publiſhed, That ſhe was lawfull wife to C. and that her ſon G. was Mulier. D. ſued in the Eccleſiaſticall Court, to reverſe the marriage betwixt G. and F. And in that caſe it was Reſolved, 1. If C. and E. had had Iſſue, and had been unjuſtly divorced, yet ſo long as the Divorce remained in force, the Iſſue had no remedy by the Common-Law. 2. It was in that Caſe Reſolved, That when the Spirituall Court ſhall have Juriſdiction, it behoves that the Cauſe be ſpiritual. 3. That although all the Cauſe be originally ſpiritual; yet, if after in the Spiritual Court they go about to try a thing which is Temporal, that in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition will lye. 22 E. 4. to Conſultation. 5. Cook 7. Part, 44. acc. Kenns Caſe.

9. In an Evidence in an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was. A man married to a woman, and dyed; the wife after 40 weeks and 10 dayes, was delivered with child of a daughter; and whether the daughter ſhould be heir to her Father, or a Baſtard, was the Queſtion? And Sir William Pady Kt. and Dr. Mountford, Phyſitians, were commanded by the Court, to attend, and deliver their Opinions in the Caſe, who upon their Oaths delivered, That ſuch a Child might be a lawful daughter and heir to her Father: For as well as Autenatus might be heir, viz. a Child born at the end of 7. moneths; ſo they ſaid might a Poſt-natus, viz. a Child born after the 40 weeks: And they held, That by many Authorities, and by their own experiences, a Child might be Legitimate, although it be born the laſt day of the 10th month after the Conception of it, accounting the moneths per menſes Solares, et non Lunares. Mich. 17 Jac. in B. R. Aſſop and Bowtrell's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 521. Godbolt, 281. the ſame Caſe. See Thecker and Duncombe Caſe. Style 277. acc.

10. A Speciall Verdict was given in an Ejectione Firmæ; A man was divorced from his wife, Cauſa frigiditatis; and that his Wife for 3. years after remanſit virgo intacta propter impertentiam Impotentiam generationis in viro: et quod vir ſuit ineptus ad generandum; and divers witneſſes being examined of the perpetual diſability of the man ad generandum; It was pretended, That the Iſſue which he had by a ſecond wife, was a Baſtard. But in this Caſe it was adjudged, That the Iſſue of the ſecond wife was lawfull: For it is clear by the Divorce, Cauſa frigiditatis, the marriage is diſſolved à vinculo Matrimonii, and then either of them might marry again. But in that caſe it was ſaid, Admitting that the ſecond marriage was voidable, yet it remained a marriage untill it was reverſed and diſſolved, and then the Iſſues which is born during the Coverture (if no Iſſue be in the life of the parties) is lawfull. And in that caſe it was ſaid, That Homo poteſt eſſe habilis et inhabilis diverſis Temporibus. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Cook. Part, 98. Buries Caſe.

2. Baſtardy, where, and by whom it ſhall be tryed; Where by the Certificate of the Ordinary; and where it ſhall be tryed by the Common-Law by a Jury; where not.

1. BAſtardy is an Eccleſiaſticall Cauſe; and if Baſtardy be pleaded in diſability of the Plaintiff, the ſame ſhall be tryed by the Certificate of the Biſhop, whether it be in a reall, or perſonal Action: But if it be pleaded, That the Plaintiff was born at ſuch a place before the marriage ſolemnized; and ſo he is a Baſtard: this is a ſpecial baſtardy, and ſhall be tryed by Jury at the Common-Law, where the Birth is alledged. See Cook 8. Part, in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Mercella, acc. See 7 E. 6. Dyer 79. in the Duke of Suffolks Caſe of Partition; where ſpeciall Baſtardy was pleaded, and Iſſue thereupon taken: the Tryall was awarded to be by a Jury of London, in a Writ of Partition brought.

2. An Action upon the Caſe was brought for calling one Baſtard; The Defendant juſtified, that thrt he was a Baſtard. It was awarded, That it ſhould be tryed by the Country, and not by the Ordinary. Trin. 14 Jac. Hob. 179.

3. Of Baſtard Eigne, and Mulier Puiſne; and where the Dying ſeiſed of the Baſtard Eigne, or other act, ſhall barr the Entry of the Mulier puiſne; and where not. And of divers other differences in Caſes betwixt Baſtard Eigne, and Mulier Puiſne.

1. IF a man be ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and hath Iſſue two ſons, and the eldeſt is a Baſtard, and the youngeſt ſon is Mulier, and the Father dyeth, and the Baſtard entreth, claiming as heir to his Father; and occupieth the Land all his life-time, without any entry made upon him by the Mulier, and hath iſſue, and dyeth ſeiſed of ſuch an Eſtate in Fee, and the Land diſcendeth to his iſſue, and his iſſue entreth; in this caſe the Mulier is without remedy, for he cannot enter, nor have any Action to recover the Land. Litt. 94. a. But Quære in that caſe, If the diſcent be, the mulier being within age; for in Plo. Com. 372. It is holden by Dyer and Caras, that the Diſcent ſhall bind the Mulier; but Saunders and Southcote held the contrary: and ſee there, 33 E. 3. Verdict. 48. and 36 Aſs. Br. Diſcent. 29. acc. That if the Baſtard maketh a Feoffment, and the Feoffee be in by it, yet the Mulier may enter, becauſe the Rule of Littleton ſhall be taken ſtrictly.

2. If a man be ſeiſed of Lands, and hath iſſue two ſons Baſtard Eigne, and Mulier Puiſne, and the Father dyeth ſeiſed, the mulier being beyond Sea, or within age, or impriſoned, or of Non ſanæ memoriæ, and the baſtard Eigne entreth, and continueth in peaceable poſſeſſion of the Lands, and hath Iſſne and dyeth, and the Lands diſcend to the Iſſue; the better Opinion of the Books in ſuch caſes is, That the mulier ſhall be barred for ever: and the reaſon is, becauſe that the Continuance of poſſeſſion, and the dying ſeiſed in peace, and the diſcent to his iſſue, makes him heir, and his iſſue inheritable as heir, becauſe he was Legitimate by the Law of the Church: For as Bracton ſaith, Matrimonium ſubſequens Legitimas facit quoad Sacerdotium, non quoad ſucceſſionem propter Conſuetudinem regni quæ ſe habet in contrarium: and by the Law of England, The poſſeſſion, and dying ſeiſed in peace, he is adjudged heir to his Father, becauſe Juſtum non eſt, aliquem attentatum mortuum facere baſtardum, qui toto tempore ſuo, pro Legitimo habebatur. Cook 8. Part, in Lechford's Caſe. 100.

3. If a man hath iſſue two daughters, baſtard Eigne, and mulier puiſne, and they enter, and occupy the Lands as heir; now the Law, in favour of Legitimation, ſhall not adjudge the whole poſſeſſion in the Mulier, who then hath the onely right; but in them both; ſo as if the baſtard dyeth, her iſſue ſhall inherit: & if they both enter & make Partition, the Partition ſhall bind the younger for ever: But if Partition be made betwixt daughters, where one hath no colour to have partition, there the partition is void. 17 E. 3. 59. Baſtardy 32. 30 Aſſ. 9. 11 Aſſ. 23. Cook 8. Part, 101. acc.

4. If a Baſtard Eigne entreth, and is ſeiſed as heir of the Lands, he ſhall be vouched as heir; and if he be within age, the plea ſhall demur till his full age. 20 E. 3. Voucher. 129. and after entry, the Baſtard within age ſhall have his age. Cook. ibid. 101.

5. If a man hath Iſſue Baſtard Eigne, and Mulier puiſne, and the baſtard hath Iſſue, and dyeth in the life of his father, and after the father dyeth, and the Iſſue of the Baſtard entreth, and dyeth, without interruption, the ſame ſhall barr the Mulier: ſo if the Baſtard born before the marriage, entreth, and hath iſſue and dyeth ſeiſed, the ſame ſhall barr the Collateral heir, and the Lord by Eſcheat as well as it, ſhall bind the Mulier: So if Baſtard Eigne entreth, and dyeth ſeiſed, his wife with child with a ſon; and after the ſon is born, he ſhall Inherit; for in as much as his Father dyed in poſſeſſion without interruption, the Mulier ſhall not alledge againſt the iſſue, Baſtardy in his Father who is dead: and if the Baſtard Eigne dyeth ſeiſed, and his iſſue endoweth the wife of the Baſtard; yet the Mulier ſhall not enter upon the Tenant in Dower, for that the right of the Mulier was bound by the Dying-ſeiſed, and the Diſcent; but otherwiſe it is in diſcents, which onely take away entry: as in the Caſe of Litt. 94.

6. Baſtard Eigne makes a Leaſe for life rendring Rent; the Mulier brings an Aſſiſe of Mortdauncteſter, and recovers by default, and the Tenant for life dyeth; ſome were of Opinion, That the bringing of the Action, is an Interruption of the poſſeſſion. But Quære, If the Mulier be Non-ſuited. Alſo Note, That the Land is not expreſſly demanded by the Mortdauncteſter. 6 E. 3. de recoverie 2.

7. If the Mulier grants a Rent, and the Baſtard continues poſſeſſion and dyeth; the heir ſhall hold the Land diſcharged of the Rent. But Quære, If that be not a Claim, eſpecially if it be granted granted out of the Land expreſly, which ought to have come to the Mulier. 6 E. 3. ibid.

8. Tenant in tail, the remainder in tail, the remainder in Fee; Tenant in tail hath Iſſue Baſtard Eigne, and Mulier puiſne, and dyeth, the Baſtard entreth, and continueth his poſſeſſion, and hath Iſſue and dyeth; the Iſſue entreth, the Mulier dyeth, he in the Remainder ſhall have a Formedon againſt the Iſſue of the Baſtard; and the Continuance of the poſſeſſion of the Baſtard ſhall not prejudice him, as it is holden, 39 E. 3. 38. b. Caſe 9.

9. If the King ſeiſeth the Lands of the Baſtard, becauſe it is found, that the baſtard was adherent to the King's Enemies, and the baſtard dyeth, and after it is found, That the baſtard was not adherent to the King's Enemies; and the Iſſue of the baſtard entreth; yet that ſhall bind the Mulier. 9 E. 3. acc.

10. Note: It was holden by Shute in his Reading in 19 Eliz. That if the baſtard maketh a Leaſe for years, and dyeth, yet the Mulier is ſuch a Lord which might improve by the Statute of Weſt. 2.

4. Calling one Baſtard, where it is Actionable; where not.

1. ERrour was brought to reverſe a Judgment, for calling one Baſtard, in an Action upon the Caſe; The Errour aſſigned was, That it was not ſhewed, that he was damnified by ſpeaking the words, as to alledge, That he was Inheritable to the Lands, and that by reaſon of the words, he had a ſpecial loſſe: For it was ſet forth by the Plaintiff, That ſuch Land was given in tail to his Grandfather, and that his Father had divers ſons, and that the Plaintiff is youngeſt ſon, and that ſuch a one was to buy the Land, and offered him a ſum of money for his Title: and by reaſon of theſe words ſpoken, refuſed to give him any thing: and ſo it was ſaid, it appears, that he hath no title upon his own ſhewing, and then no cauſe of Action. But the Court ſaid, That although he hath no preſent Title, it appears by poſſibility he is to enherit thoſe Lands, and being offered a ſum of money for that poſſibility to joyn in the aſſurance, although he hath no preſent Title, yet he had a preſent Damage, and might receive prejudice in caſe he came to claim any Land by diſcent. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Vaughan and Ellis Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 213.

2. Cook ſued Webb in the Spiritual Court, for ſaying, That he had a Baſtard. Webb the Defendant in the Spiritual Court alledged, That the Plaintiff was adjudged the Reputed Father of a Baſtard by two Juſtices of the Peace according to the Statute, whereupon he ſpoke the words; They of the Spiritual Court accepted his Confeſſion, but would not allow of his Juſtification: wherefore he prayed a Prohibition; which was granted him. 5. Who ſhall be accounted the Baſtard's Father; Who not.

1. A Was brought to the Barr upon a Habeas Corpus; and it appeared upon the Return thereof, That he at Lincoln upon Complaint of two Juſtices of the Peace of the place next adjoyning, was Ordered to keep a Baſtard-Child, he being according to the ſaid Order, the Reputed Father: From this Order he appealed to the Quarter-Seſſions of the Peace; at which Seſſions the matter being examined, he was diſcharged, and the former Order repealed: Afterwards, at another Quarter-Seſſions of the Peace, the matter being re-examined, It was Ordered according to the firſt Order, That he ſhould be accounted the Reputed Father of the Baſtard, and ſhould keep it; and that if he did not perform it, he ſhould be committed; and thereupon being committed, and all this matter returned, The Court held, That he being diſcharged at the next Seſſions, to the which he appealed, according to the Statute of 18 Eliz. the ſecond Seſſions had no power to alter it: Wherefore it was Ordered, That he ſhould be diſcharged. Trin. 9 Car. in B. R. 248. Cro. 1. Part, Pidgeon's Caſe. ibid. 255. acc.

2. A. was charged by B. with the getting of a Baſtard-Child upon her body; The two next Juſtices did not make any Order in it, according to the Statute of 18 Eliz. but the Cauſe came firſt to be heard at the General Seſſions of the Peace in the County of L. where the Juſtices Ordered, That whereas it was approved by Witneſſes, That one J. S. had often uſed private company with the ſaid B. and had confeſſed, That he had done as much to her, as a man could do to a woman; and that ſhe had ſaid, That J. S. had the uſe of her body: That thereupon A ſhould be diſcharged of the Child, and ſhe be committed to the houſe of Correction; and J. S. the reputed Father

Father ſhould pay for the keeping of the Child weekly, 14 d. Afterwards, at the Aſſizes at L. The Judges Ordered, That the two next Juſtices of the Parith where the Child was born, ſhould take Conſideration thereof, and ſettle ſuch a Courſe as in Juſtice appertained: whereupon two Juſtices declared A. to be the Reputed Father, and that he ſhould pay 18 l. to the Overſeers of the Pariſh, and 14 d. weekly; And that he refuſing to pay, the Juſtices thereupon committed him: Upon a Certiorari, A. appeared in the Kings-Bench upon the Return of it. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That before the Statute of 3 Car. Cap. 4. the Juſtices at the Seſſions had no authority to entermeddle in the Caſe of Baſtardy, till the two next Juſtices according to the Statute of 18 Eliz. had made an Order therein. 2. That by the Statute of 3 Car. the Juſtices of their ſeveral limits are to make an Order in caſe of Baſtardy; and therefore the firſt Order made in the principal caſe, was good and legal; and the ſecond Order made by the two next Juſtices, was void, and could not revoke that Order which was made before by good authority. 3. That the Commitment of B. for her life for her firſt offence, was more then the Juſtices had authority to do. But yet it was Reſolved, That an Errour in part, and in that part which onely concerned her, ſhould not vitiate the whole Order. Paſch. 19 Car. in B.R. Slaters Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 337.

Battaile.

1. Tryall by Battail, and the form of it, and in what Actions the Miſe, or Iſſue joyned, ſhall be tryed by Battaile.

2. THe form of Tryall by Battaile, is after this manner, viz. After the Tenant hath made defence, he ſhall ſay, Quod majus Jus habet tenend. &c. Et hoc paratus eſt probare per corpus Liberi hominis J. C. nomine qui præſens hic in Curia qualitercunque, Curia Domini Regis hic conſideraverit, &c. Et ſi male contigerit de ipſa J. C. (quod abſit) paratus eſt probare prælium qui. Book Entries. 233.

2. In a Writ of Right of Advowſon, the Defendant appeared, et defendit jus, &c. et maxime, &c. Et hoc paratus eſt defendere, per corpus Liberi hominis ſui Nomine, J. G. qui præſens eſt hic in Curia, qui defendit illud per corpus ſuum, et qualitercunque, Curia Domini Regis hic conſideraverit, et ſi male contigerit eidem J. G. (quod abſit) paratus eſt illud prælium qui, &c. Et Petens defendit Jus ſuum. And then he recites the Count, &c. Et quod tale ſit Jus ſuum, paratus eſt diſrationari per corpus ſuum; in the ſame manner as the Tenant doth; and then the Champions are demanded, and if they be ready to wage the Battail, the Champions ought to put in Pledges to wage the Battail, And then the Tenant and Demandant are called, and asked if they can ſay any thing wherefore the Battail ſhould not be, and if they cannot deny it, The Champion of the Tenant ſhall find pledges firſt, and then the Champion of the Demandant; and then the day ſhall be given over by the aſſent of the parties; And it is ſaid unto them, quod uterque eorum tunc habeat pugilem ſuum armat. competent. ſufficient. pro ut decet, ad faciendum Duellum prædictum: Et quod corpora eorum interim cuſtodiantur periculo quo incumbit: And note, The Attorney of the demandant appeared the fourth day with pugilem ornat. &c. againſt the Defendant, And becauſe the Defendant was not here at the day cum pugile ſuo ad defenſionem ſuum faciendum; Et ipſe ſollempniter exactus non venit, but made default, Judgment was entred for the demandant, Book Entries. 103. P. 2.

3. The Order for joyning of Battail by Freemen in a Writ of Right is thus, viz. There is put into the finger of the Guantlet of the Defendant a penny; and he is to caſt his Guantlet into the Court, to the other; And the next day, the Champion of the Defendant came within the bar, and he was commanded by the Court to ſtand towards the Eaſt; and the Champion of the Demandant to the Weſt: And they both being upon their knees; It was asked of the parties, if they knew any cauſe wherefore the two Champions ſhould not be allowed, and wherefore the Battail ſhould not be; And then a Guantlet ſhould be delivered to each of them with a penny in each finger-ſtall; and then it ſhall be demanded of the Champion of the Defendant, If he will joyn the Battail: which if he anſwer, that he will; then it ſhall be asked of the Champion of the Demandant the like. And then, the Champion of the Defendant ſhall be commanded to ſtand to the Eaſt, and of the Demandant to the Weſt: and then it ſhall be asked the Serjeants, If they have miſ-pleaded, or not ſufficiently pleaded, and if they will amend their Pleas, or if there be any default in the Court, or they know any thing why they ſhould delay the Battail, and they anſwer No; Then the Juſtices ſhall ſay, We Award the Battail, and that the parties bring their Champions ſuch a day; And that they give one Guantlet with a penny in it, to the one, and to the other: And both of the Champions were commanded by the Court, the one to go to Paul's and the other to Weſtminſter. And then it was commanded to them both to go off from the place, and that they do not approach the one to the other, or ſpeak the one to the other. And after the Battail was Awarded, The Defendant found two Sureties, that his Champion ſhould perform the Battail, and ſo did the Demandant for his Champion: And at the day of the Battail: The Count, the Defence, Continuance, and the names of the Champions were read; and the Defendant was called, who appeared by his Attorney; and then the Demandant was called; and the Demandant had his Champion ready clad in red Leather; And it was commanded that one ſhould hold his red Target, and his red Baſton behind the Champions back, which was done accordingly, but his head was not bare, as ſhall be the head of an Approver, nor his Baſton had not a knop of the end of it, as the Baſton of an Approver ſhall have: And in the Principal Caſe; The Tenant being demanded three times to appear with his Champion, made default. And thereupon the Count, Defence, Continuance, and the names of the Champions were read again; And upon that, final judgment was given for the Demandant. Mich. 1 H. 6, 7. 4. In a Writ of Right brought by the Vendees of Cheny of certain Lands within the County of Kent, (they being before duly barred, both in a Writ of Entry ſur diſſeiſin, and in an Attaint) againſt Paramour: The Defendant choſe Tryall by Battail, and his Champion was one George Thorn, and the Champion of the Demandant was one Henry Naylor a Maſter of Fence; and the Court agreed the Battail: and the Champions were by Bail, and ſworn to perform the Battail at Tut-hill in Weſtminſter, upon Munday next after Craſtin. Trinitatis, and the ſame day was given to the parties, Demandants and Tenant. At which day, a Liſt was made ſquare in a plain ſoil, every ſquare being 60 feet, Eaſt, Weſt, North, and South. And the place and ſeat of the Juſtices of the Bench was without the Liſts, apparelled with the Apparel of the ſame Court, which was in the Hall at Weſtminſter; and there was a Bar made for the Serjeants at Law, and about ten of the Clock the ſame day, the Juſtices came to the place in their Robes of Scarlet, with the Appurtenances and coifes, and the Serjeants alſo: And there publique Proclamation three times made, O Yes. The Demandants were ſolemnly called, and did not come: Afterwards the Sureties of the Champions were called, to produce firſt the Champion of the Demandants, who came into the place apparelled in rugged Sandalls, bare legged from the Knee downward, and bare headed, and bare Arms to the Elbow, being brought in by the hand of a Knight, namely Sir Jerome Bowes, who carried a red Baſton of an Ell long, tipped with Horn, and a Yeoman carrying the Target made of Leather, and they were brought in at the North ſide of the Liſts, and then came towards the Bar before the Juſtices with three ſolemn Congies, and there was he made to ſtand at the South ſide of the place, it being the right ſide of the Court: And after that the other Champion was brought in, in like manner at the South ſide of the Liſts, with the like Congies, &c. by the hand of Sir Henry Cheney Knight, and was ſet on the North ſide of the Bar, and two Serjeants being of Counſell of each party in the middeſt, between them: This being done, the Demandants were ſolemnly called again, and appeared not, but made default; upon which default, Barham, Serjeant of Counſell with the Tenant, prayed the Court to Record the Nonſuit, which was done. And then Dyer Chief Juſtice reciting the Count, Writ, and Iſſue joyned upon Battail, and the Oath of the Champions to perform it, and the ſetting of that day and place, gave Judgment final againſt the Demandants, and that he ſhould hold the Land to him and his heirs for ever, acquited from the Demandants and their heirs for ever: And the demandants and their ſureties of proſequend. to be in the Mercy of the Queen; and then ſollemn Proclamation was made, That the Champions, and all other there preſent (which were above 4000. perſons) ſhould depart home in peace, and ſo they did, with a great Cry, Vivat Regina. 5. A Writ of Right in Durham, The Tenant waged Battail, which was accepted of, and at the day to be performed: Barkley Juſtice, there examined the Champions of both parties, whether they were not hired for money? and they confeſſed they were, which confeſſion he cauſed to be recorded, and gave further day to be aviſed: And by direction from the King, all the Juſtices were required to deliver their Opinions, whether this were cauſe to de-arraign the Battail by theſe Champions; and it was ſubſcribed by all the Juſtices, That this Exception comming after the Battail gaged, and the Champions allowed, and Sureties given to perform it, ought not to be received. Bracton. 161. tinum, are all Writs of Right, and Battail lyeth thereon: but the Writ of Right of Ward, Ceſſant, Eſchat, Droit ſur. Diſclaimer, and the Writ of Meine, were but for, and upon Seignories, and Battail lyeth not in them. See Fitz. Nat. Br. acc. 124, 151 128. Cook. 8. Part 31. acc.

8. An Enfant may joyn the Miſe in a Writ of Right, and try the ſame by Battail, becauſe he may do it by his Champion, and not in his proper perſon: Otherwiſe it is in an Appeal, for there the Battail muſt be in perſon, 9 E. 4. 15. Mirror 304. acc.

9. Where the Kings Anceſtor is diſſeiſed of his Lands, and the Right diſcends to the King, and he bringeth a Writ of Right, the ſame muſt be tryed by the Grand Aſſiſe, for that the King ſhall not be compelled to joyn Battail. 24 E. 3. Droit. 13.

10. In a Writ of Right when the Tryal is by Battail; neither the Tenant nor the Demandant ſhall fight for themſelves, but ſhall each find a Champion, to fight for them, becauſe if either the Tenant or the Demandant ſhould be ſlain, no Judgment could be given for the Lands or Tenements in Queſtion; but it is otherwiſe in an Appeal, for that the Demandant ſhall fight for himſelf, and ſo ſhall the Defendant alſo; becauſe there if the Defendant be ſlain, the Plaintiff hath the end of his Suit, viz. the death of the Defendant. Cook 5. 12. A Citizen of London brought an Appeal of Robbery, and the Defendant would have joyned battail. Hilby Chief Juſtice ſaid, That he was not to have allowance of Battail in an Appeal brought by a Citizen by the Cuſtome of London, for that they were exempted from it. 3 E. 3. Corone. 157. and ſee 20 E. 3. Corone. 121. the like Appeal was ſued, and the Defendant made offer of the ſame Tryal by Battail, and although the Plaintiff who ſued the Appeal would have joyned Battail without regard had to the Franchiſe. Yet the Mayor and Corporation of London ſued a Writ out of the Chancery, reciting their Cuſtome and Franchiſe, and prayed allowance of it, in diſturbance of the Battail: And ſo note, where a Battail was allowable by Law, yet by Cuſtome the ſame was reſtreyned.

Bilawes.

1. What Bilawes, and by whom made, ſhall be good, what not: And whom, and how far they ſhall bind; Where not.

1. THE Lord of the Manner of A. Avowed the taking of a Diſtreſſe for breaking of a Bilaw, made by the Homage of the ſaid Manner, where the Cuſtome of the Manner was alledged to be, That the Tenants of the Mannor might make Bilawes for the better ordering of the Tenants, and for the better ordering of their Cattel, cum opus fuerit; and ſhewed that the Plaintiff being one of the Homage and Tenants, with the other, made a Bilaw, That he which did put his Cattel into a certain Common before the ringing of a Bell, ſhould forfeit 10 s. And that it ſhould be lawful to diſtrein for the ſaid forfeiture in aliquo loco infra Man. prædict. without alledging any preſentment of the Homage of the breach of the ſaid Order. And upon the ſaid Avowry, the Plaintiff did demur in Law, becauſe the preſcription, to make the Bilaw, was alledged to be cum opus fuerit, et pro melioratione auſtiorum; and it is not alledged, that opus fuit, nec quod fuit pro meliore ordine. And alſo it was ſaid, that this Bilaw did tend to the diſ-inheriting of the Commoner of his Comnion: But it was adjudged, That the preſcription and Cuſtome was good; and that the Avowry was good. Hill. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 323. The Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

2. In an Avowry, for an Amercement in a Leet, A preſcription was alledged for making of Bilawes; It was ſaid by Periam Juſtice, That every Bilaw ought to be made for the common benefit of the Inhabitants, and not for the private commodity of any man onely, or the Lord of the Manner onely: As if a Bilaw ſhall be made that none ſhall put his beaſts into the common field before ſuch a day, this is good; but if it be that they ſhall not carry hay upon the Lords Lands, or break the hedges of J. S. this is not good becauſe it doth not reſpect the common benefit of all. Windham Juſtice ſaid, They ſhould bind no more then ſuch as agreed to them. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 79.

3. An Act of Common Councel was made in London. That if any Citizen, Freeman, or ſtranger, did put any Broad Cloath to ſale within the City, were before the ſame brought to Blackwell-Hall to be viewed, and ſearched, and Hallage to be paid for it, for every Cloath a peny, That he ſhould forfeit for every Cloath 6 s. 8 d. And that the Chamberlain of London ſhould have an Action of debt for it. And becauſe the Defendant brake the ſaid Ordinance, debt was brought by the Chamberlain; and the matter being removed into the Kings Bench, a Procedendo was Awarded. For, 1. It wat Reſolved that divers Statutes being made for the making of Woollen Cloath, to avoid the deceit in them, That ſuch an Ordnance made for the better obſervation and execution of thoſe Laws, and to prevent the frauds, was good. 2. That the Aſſeſſing of the peny for halling was good, becauſe it was pro bono publico, and not for private gain; and the ſame was not any burthen to the Subject, when he reaps the benefit of it, and the appointment of the Chamberlain, being a publick Officer, was good; and the ſame being according to Law, might be put in Execution without any other allowance. 3. Reſolved, That Inhabitants of a Town might make Ordinances and Bilawes for the Reparation of the Church, or the Highwayes, which was for a Publick good. And in ſuch Caſe, The greater part of them ſhould bind all others without a Cuſtome: But if it be for their own private gain, as for the better ordering of their Common of Paſture, or the like, there, without a Cuſtome, they cannot make Bilawes: But Corporations cannot make Ordinances or Conditions without Cuſtome, or the Kings Charter, unleſſe it be for things which concern the publick good. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part 62, 63. The Chamberlain of London's Caſe.

4. In falſe Impriſonment, the Defendant juſtified, That the Queen appointed the Term at St. Albants, and the Mayor and Burgeſſes, with the aſſent of the Plaintiff, did Aſſeſſe upon every Inhabitant a ſum of mony for the charges of erecting of the Courts there; And if any one refuſed to pay it, that he ſhould be impriſoned, and becauſe the Plaintiff being a Burgeſs refuſed to pay, he as Mayor Juſtified. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That it was no good Juſtification, becauſe the Ordinance is againſt the Statute of Magna Charta, which is Quod Nullus liber homo impriſonetur: But it was Reſolved, That they might have inflicted a reaſonable penalty, which they might limit to be levyed by diſtreſſe, or by Action of Debt. Trin. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part 64. Clarks Caſe.

5. Note, It was ſaid by Suit Juſtice. That if a Cuſtome of a Mannor be, That the Homage do make Bilawes, that it ſhould bind the Tenants, aſwell the Free-holders as the Copy-holders: others ſaid it is no good and reaſonable Cuſtome: But all agreed, That if ſuch Bilawes were made by the greater number of the Tenants, they ſhould bind them, otherwiſe not. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 50. See Sect. 2. acc.

6. Debt was brought by the Port Reeve, and Inhabitants of Graveſ-end, againſt a Waterman which plyed the Ferry there, And declared, That Graveſend, and Milton were Ancient Towns adjoyning to the River of Thames, and that the Inhabitants of theſe Towns, have had time out of mind, an ancient paſſage from thence to London, and have uſed to make Bilawes for the government of that paſſage, and have provided Watermen, Steermen, and Rowers for the ſaid paſſage, and to take of every paſſenger and his fardell 2 d. That the Queen by her Letters Pattents Incorporated the ſaid Inhabitants by the name of Port Reeve, Jurats, and Inhabitants of Milton and Graveſend, and that they had enjoyed the ſaid Ferry without interruption. And that the Port Reeve and 12. of the Inhabitants have power to make Bilawes for the Government of the ſaid Ferry, and that 37 Eliz. a Conſtitution was made by the Port Reeve, Jurats, and 12 of the Inhabitants, That no Waterman ſhould ply any Fair or Paſſenger till the Barge had received ſo many of their Paſſengers, by which they might receive 4 s. at the rate aforeſaid and be removed from the Bridge at Graveſend, to the Land-mark; and that if the Tilt-boat or any other Waterman received any Paſſenger before the Barge be ſo furniſhed, that he ſhould pay to the Port Reeve, Jurats, and Inhabitants for the maintenance of the ſaid Barge, for every Paſſenger ſo Received 2 d. And Aſſigned the breach by the Defendant that he had received ſo many Paſſengers before the Barge was furniſhed, which amounted to ſo much as is demanded: for which the Action was brought. Upon Nihil debet modo et forma as it was demurred, It was found for the Plaintiff; And Judgment was Arreſted for theſe cauſes. 1. By the Cuſtome, the Barge hath not any precedence, nor preheminence, but equall liberty as to all Watermen to carry what Paſſengers they could: and then if the Cuſtome were not ſo, then it cannot be made ſo by the Grant of the Queen, or by the Bilaw, for this is the Liberty of the Subject, which cannot be abridged or reſtreyned by them; and the River of Thames is ſo publick that he cannot reſtrein it by his Grant; and the River of Thames is a common River, and as a common High-way which cannot be reſtreyned. 2. Becauſe the Inhabitants of Milton and Graveſend, are incorporated by the name of Port Reeve, Jurats, and Inhabitants of Graveſend, poſſeſſors of Ships, the which words are left out in the name by which the Action is brought, ſo as the Bilaw is not made by the ſame name by which they are incorporated. 3. Becauſe the Conſtitution is not purſued. For that is, That if any Waterman carries any Paſſenger willing willing to go by the Barge, that ſuch Waterman ſhall pay for every ſuch Paſſenger 2 d. and it is not averred that the Paſſengers which the Defendant carryed, were willing to go and be carryed by the Barge. 4. The Conſtitution is not good, For it is that no Wherry-man ſhall carry any Paſſenger before the Barge be fully diſmiſt, and that is not good, For it may be that the Barge will not paſſe to London at all this Tyde, and alſo it ought to be averred, that the Barge departs in convenient time after it is furniſhed, which here is not done; and for theſe and other cauſes, the Judgment was Arreſted. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Gravesend's Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part 177, 178. 179, 180.

7. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendants pleaded, That Exeter is an Ancient City, and within the ſaid City, there is, and time, &c. was, a Society of Cordwayners, Incorporate by the name of Maſter, Wardens, Aſſiſtants and Commonalty of Cordwainers of the City of Exeter, and that they have uſed to make Bilawes for the Government and profit of the ſaid Society; And 44 Eliz. did ordain that no perſon, Burgeſſe, or Forreigner, not being a brother of the Society, ſhould make, ſell, or offer to ſell, or procure to be ſold, within the City of Exeter, the County, or Liberty thereof, any Boots Shoes, Pantofles, Pumps, &c. under the pain of forfeiting to the Maſter and Wardens, for every ſuch offence, ſuch ſum as ſhould be aſſeſſed by the Maſter and Wardens &c. or the greater number of them. And if any perſon of the ſaid Society, or other exerciſing the ſaid Art, inhabiting within the City, or the County, or Liberty of the ſame, who ſhall break ſuch order, and ſhall refuſe to pay the ſame, upon proof had of the breach thereof; It ſhould be lawfull for the Maſter, &c or three of them, with a Conſtable, &c. to enter the houſe, Shop, &c. of ſuch perſon, and to diſtrein any of their goods for the ſum forfeited. That the Plaintiff of the ſaid City, being an Inhabitant within the City, and no brother of the Society, did make divers Shoes, and there expoſed them to ſale. That the Maſter and Major part of the Aſſiſtants did impoſe upon the Plaintiff 33 s. 4 d. for the ſaid Offence; that he had notice of the ſums Impoſed and paid parcell of it, and refuſed to pay the reſidue which was proved before the Maſter and Wardens, &c. whereupon taking with them a Serjeant at Mace, they did diſtrein and take 10 hides within the City, in the name of a diſtreſſe, and kept them for 30 dayes after, and becauſe the Plaintiff, would not pay, &c. they did ſell them, &c. And upon this Plea, the Plaintiff did demur: And it was adjudged that the Defendants Plea was not good for divers cauſes. 1. Becauſe they have exceeded their Cuſtome in the extent of the Bilaw as to the place; for the Society of the Act is alledged to be within the City of Exeter, and all the Cuſtome goes to the City: But the Bilaw exceeds this, for it is, That none make, ſell, &c. any Shoes, &c. within the City or the County of Exeter, which is not warranted by the Cuſtome. 2. It exceeds their power in the things prohibited; For if it had bin. That none ſhould uſe the Art of a Shomaker within the City, it had bin good; But to reſtreyn him to make Shoes generally, which extends to make Shoes for himſelf is void. 3. They have not alledged any Cuſtome that none making any Shoes, &c. within the City, except thoſe of the Society; onely that they make Bilawes for the good Government and profit of the Society; And the making of Shoes for his private uſe, is nothing concerning the Society. 4. This Bilaw reſtreyns other perſons to uſe their Arts. For it is that none ſhall do any thing pertaining to the Art of Shoemakers; and many ſuch things are done by other Artificers. 5. The penalty impoſed by the Bilaw is not warranted by Law, nor by their Cuſtome; for that it ought to be reaſonable and expreſſ, that the Court may judge whether it be reaſonable or not; and alſo it ought not to be by Impriſonment: but here no certain pain is ſet down, but left to the diſcretion of any of the Shoemakers of Exeter. 6. The Defendants have not purſued the Order, for they have diſtreined before their time, The Order is, That if any refuſe, &c. then upon proof thereof, &c. they may diſtrein, And the proof is alledged to be before the Maſter and Wardens, &c. whereas due proof ought to be by Verdict. For theſe and many other cauſes, the Defendants plea was holden not to be good. Trin. 16 Jac. Wood and Searle's Caſe. Bridgman 139, 140, 141.

8. An Ordinance of a Corporation, That none ſhall exerciſe any Trade there, unleſſe he hath ſerved ſeven years as an Apprentice in the ſame, and ſhall alſo be approved by them to be skillfull therein, is not good; becauſe againſt the Common Law, which reſtreyneth men from exerciſing any Trade, and alſo is prejudiciall to the Common-Wealth, for that it puts a greater reſtraint upon Tradeſmen, then the Statute of 5 Eliz. doth ordain, in aſmuch as he ought to be approved by them, which the Statute doth not enjoyn. Cook 11. Part. 54. The Taylor of Ipſwich's Caſe.

9. Debt by the Wardens and the Society of Weavers, in the Borough of Newbery, They ſet forth, They have power to make Ordinances, and Laws agreeable to reaſon, and not repugnant to the Statutes of the Realm for the Government of the Society, Apprentices, and Servants, and all uſing the Trade of Weaving within the ſaid Borough. And 1. May 45 Eliz. they made Ordinances, which were confirmed, 1 Jac. One of which was, that none ſhould uſe the Art of Weaving within the ſaid Borough, or ſhould have any Loom in his houſe, or poſſeſſion, unleſſe he had bin an Apprentice to the Art within the ſaid Borough for ſeven years, upon pain of forfeiture for every Moneth 20 s. And that the Defendant before his Inhabiting in the ſaid Borough, had notice of the ſaid Ordinance, and alſo after his Inhabiting there. And that he afterwards for five Moneths uſed the Trade there, and that he had two Looms in his poſſeſſion, where he had not bin an Apprentice, nor uſed the Art for five years before, by which he forfeited to them 5 l. &c. Upon Nihil debet, after Verdict for the Plaintiffs, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that the ſaid Ordinance was not reaſonable. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That Judgment ſhould be againſt the Plaintiffs; becauſe the Ordinance was, That none ſhould uſe the Trade of a Weaver, nor have any Loom in the Town, unleſſe he had ſerved, &c. before the making of the Ordinance; ſo as all Apprentices which ſerve after, ſhall be excluded, unleſſe they may be admitted by them: which is unreaſonable. Paſc. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 917. Norris and Stapes Caſe. Hutton. 5.

10. In Treſpaſſe againſt the Corporation of Butchers in London. They pleaded, That they had power to make Bilawes; and they did Ordain, That no Butcher, or perſon being a ſtranger, ſhould ſell any Veal within the City of London, unleſſe they did dreſſe the Kidneyes of the Veal, in ſuch manner as the Kidneyes of the Sheep were dreſſed, and if they did otherwiſe, to forfeit for every time 6 d. and if he refuſed to pay the ſame, then to forfeit the Veal. The Plaintiffs ſervant comming to ſell a Veal, and not performing the Ordinance, the Defendants took the Veal for his refuſall to pay the forfeiture, for which the Action was brought. The Defendants in their bar, did not ſhew the Ordinance in certain. It was holden by the Court, That a ſtranger is not bound to take notice of a private Ordinance made in a Corporation. 2. They Reſolved, That the Bilaw was not good to reſtreyn ſtrangers; but the ſame had bin good, if made to ſuppreſſe fraud, or any other general inconvenience, uſed by a Forreigner, as corruption, or the like in the ſale of their meat, and then they ought to take notice of the ſame. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Franklin and Green's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part 11, 12.

11. An Act of Common Councell according to the Cuſtome of London was, by which, It was decreed. That none ſhould bring any Sand, nor ſell, or uſe any in the City or Suburbs of London, but that onely which was taken out of the River of Thames, and if any did the contrary, he to forfeit for the firſt fault 5 l. and for the ſecond fault, 10 l. to be recovered in Action of Debt, in which no Eſſoin, Protection, or Wager of Law, ſhould be allowed. And it was ſhewed that the Sand of the Thames was much worſe then the Land Sand, and yet the price of it was greater, and the meaſure leſſe, for of that of the Thames, but eleven buſhells went to a Load, and of the other, thirteen buſhels. The Court held, the Act, and alſo the Decree void, and againſt Law; for it was unreaſonable, that any Freeman ſhould be reſtreyned to ſell, &c. And it may concern the Inheritance of ſome who have Sand in their Lands. And the Court ſaid, That they were very preſumptuous in making Acts ſo Parliament-like, that no Eſſoin, Protection, &c. ſhould be allowed. And Sir Edward Knightleys Caſe was vouched by them, who, Executor of Sir William Spenſer, made Proclamation in certain Towns of the Kingdome, That the Creditors ſhould come in, and they ſhould be paid their debts: And for this preſumptuous Act, he was committed to the Fleet, and was fined five hundred Marks. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged.

Bill.

In what Courts the Suit ſhall be by Original, and not by Bill; et è contra.

1. A Writ of Errour was brought upon a Recovery in an Action Popular by Bill in the Court of Ludlow, upon the Statute of 4 & 5 Philip and Mary, which forbiddeth, That none ſhall Weave any Woollen Cloath or Kerſies, if he hath not been an Apprentice, or exerciſed the Trade, &c. by 7. years, upon pain of forfeiture of ſuch Cloath, or the value of it to be recovered by Action, Bill, Plaint, or Information, in any Court of Record, in which No Eſſoine, Protection, &c. It was aſſigned for Errour, That the Plaintiff by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 5. ought to have been ſued by Original, or Information, and not by Bill. And of that Opinion was the Court; and ſo it was ſaid, it had been adjudged, 30 Eliz. in this Court in Woodeſden and Clerks Caſe, where the Defendant was ſued by Bill upon the Statute of 23 H. 6. of Sheriffs; and adjudged, That the Action did not lye. 2d. Errour was, That the Recovery was not in in ſuch a Court as was intended by the Statute; for when the Statute ſpeaks of Courts of Record, It ſhall be intended, the 4. Courts at Weſtminſter, propter Excellentiam. And the Court ſaid, The Information ought to be in ſuch a Court where the Kings Attorney-Generall may reply, or where he may attend, and that ſhall be at Weſtminſter. And for theſe Errours, the Judgment in the Court at Ludlow was reverſed. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 6 Part, 20. Gregories Caſe.

Bill of Review.

1. VPon a Reference out of the Chancery to the Juſtices, Where the ſole Queſtion was, Whether a Decree made by the Commiſſioners upon the Statute of 43 Eliz. of Charitable Uſes, Cap. 4. and Exceptions put in againſt it in the Chancery, and there examined, heard, and confirmed in part, and altered in part, might be re-examined upon a Bill of Review, as other Bills of Review upon Decrees in Chancery. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That this Bill of Review is not allowable; but the Decree in Chancery is concluſive, and not further to be examined, becauſe it takes its authority by Act of Parliament, and the Act doth mention but one Examination: And it is not to be reſembled to the Caſe, where a Decree is made by the Chancellor by his Ordinary Authority. Mich. 2 Car. in B.R. Windſor and the Inhabitants of Farnham's Caſe in Chancery.

2. Upon a Bill of Review in the Chancery to reverſe a Decree there, the Lord Keeper required the Aſſiſtance of 4. of the Judges, where the Caſe was, That Thomas Foſter and Townley being Aſſignees in truſt of a Leaſe, to the benefit of Chaloner an Enfant; Tho. Foſter took all the profits, and was in arrear upon accompt 1500 l. and being unable to ſatisfie, the Queſtion was, Whether Townley agreeing to this Aſſignment, by ſealing the Counter-part thereof, and joyning with Foſter in Acquittances of the Rents for a year and a half, (but never more meddled), ſhall be charged onely for that wherein he had joyned in the Acquittances; or for all the Reſidue: And it was Reſolved, That Townley being but a party truſted, ſhall not be anſwerable for more then came to his hands; for it was the fault of him who put them in truſt, to repoſe Truſt in one who was not able to pay; and he being the party truſted as well as Townley, Townley ſhall not be compelled to ſatisfie his defect. Wherefore it was Reſolved, That that part of the Decree where he was charged to pay what Thomas Foſter could not, ought to be reverſed. Trin. 9 Car. in the Chancery. Townley and Challoner's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 227.

3. Note: It was ſaid by the Juſtices, Where upon the Statute of 37 H. 8. for Tythes in London, If a Judgment be given by the Lord Mayor; and upon an Appeal to the Lord Keeper, that Judgment be affirmed, &c. the party is concluded, and ſhall not have Aid by Bill of Review. See Mic. 9 Car. in B. R. in Pridgeon's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 275.

4. The Caſe was, C. K. had Iſſue by E. S. M. K. and they are divorced, and the marriage ſentenced to be void: C. K. marrieth F. and they have Iſſue E. K. C. dyeth, E. K. is found by Office to be heir. M. and W. her husband prefer a Bill in the Court of Wards to traverſe the Office; to which the Committees of the Wardſhip Anſwer. M. and W. ſue a Bill of Reviver, and M. having Iſſue E. dyeth; her Iſſue and R. her huſband brings a new Bill of Reviver. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That a Bill of Reviver upon a Bill of Reviver ſhall not be ſuffered, no more then a Writ of Fourneys Accompts. And in this Caſe it was holden by the Court, That the laſt Bill was abſurd, which prayeth, That the firſt Bill be Revived, becauſe M. was dead; but it ought to be, That her heir might traverſe. 4 Jac. Cook 7. Part, Kenns Caſe. 42.

5. Debt was brought upon an Obligation, 27 Eliz. and a Recovery by Nihil dicit; After the Defendants death, a Scire facias was brought againſt the heir, and a Recovery againſt him upon two Nihils returned, who dyed, and a new Writ of Scire facias was brought againſt the heir of the Land, and a Recovery had againſt him by default, and now he brings a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer-Chamber; and aſſigns the Errour, That there was not any Bill upon the File; as in truth there was not. But upon a ſuggeſtion to the Court, That it being an ancient Judgment, the Bill might very well be imbezelled off the File: And it is mentioned by a Note in the Attorneys Book, That ſuch a Bill was paid for, to be put upon the File. It was Ordered, That a new Bill ſhould be put upon the File. Mich. 5 Jac. in B.R. Mayny and Collins Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 186.

Bill of Exception.

ERrour was brought of a Judgment at the Grand-Seſſions in the County of Pembrook in an Aſſize of Darrein Preſentment by Henry Cort, againſt the Biſhop of St. Davids, and others, for the Church of Stackpoole: One Errour (amongſt other) was aſſigned, Becauſe the Iſſue being, Whether Henry Cort did laſt preſent one R. D. the laſt Incumbent, who was Inſtituted and Inducted upon his preſentation; The Plaintiff offered in Evidence Letters of Juſtification, which appeared to be, and ſo mentions, that they were ſealed with the Seal of the Biſhop of London, becauſe the Biſhop of St. Davids had not his Seal of Office there. And thoſe Letters were made out of the Dioceſs, and the Defendant had demurred thereupon; that thoſe Letters were inſufficient, and the Demurrer was denyed, which was (as was ſaid) an Error, becauſe they ought to have permitted the Demurrer, and ſhould not have Judged upon it. But it was holden by the Court, That the not admitting of the Demurrer, ought not to be aſſigned for Errour: For when upon the Evidence, the matter was over-ruled by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, That was a proper cauſe of a Bill of Exception, and the Remedy which the Statute appoints in ſuch Caſe. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Cort and the Biſhop of St. Davids Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 249. Now for the Bill of Exception, and the form of it, It runs thus; Eber. Memorandum, That the firſt day of Aug. before A. and B. Juſtices, &c. for taking of Aſſiſes in the County aſſigned in a Plea of Treſpaſs and Ejectment, which J. S. in the Court of, &c. before themſelves by Bill doth proſecute againſt T. B. ſuppoſing by the ſaid Bill, That the aforeſaid T. B &c. (and recite the ſubſtance of the Declaration, or what it is, &c. and the Iſſue; and then what the Evidence to prove the Defendant guilty, was, &c.) and that he deſired to give their Verdict for the ſaid T. B. of and upon the premiſſes; and that he likewiſe deſired the Judges aforeſaid, that they would inform the Jury aforeſaid, &c. And the ſaid Juſtices did affirm to the ſaid Jurours, &c. For that the aforeſaid matter to the ſaid Juſtices in Evidence ſhewed, doth not appear, &c. did requeſt the ſaid Juſtices according to the form of the Statute in ſuch caſe provided, this preſent Bill, which doth contain in it the matter aforeſaid above by him to the Jurours ſhewed; By which the ſaid Juſtices at the requeſt of the ſaid T. B. this Bill have ſealed. Note; This Bill is to prevent the precipitancy of the Judge, and ought to be allowed in all Courts, and in all places of pleadings, and may be put in at any time before the Jury have given their Verdict.

Bills in Star-Chamber.

1. THe Attorney-General againſt A. in the Star-Chamber on the behalf of the Lord Digby, ſuppoſing that he had forged a Leaſe of divers Lands, parcell of the poſſeſſions of Shirborn, being now his, in the name of Sir Walter Rawleigh when he had it: The Caſe coming to hearing, being heard, it fell out, That the Leaſe was of divers things by name, whereof one piece of ground called Long Meare was one: Now the Leaſe pretended and ſuppoſed to be forged, being produced, the ground called Long Meare, was not contained in it neither by name, nor by general words, but all the reſt of the things were in it: The Defendant pleaded to the Forgery, Not-guilty: And the Court adjudged; That as the Bill was layed, he was not guilty; for it is not the ſame Leaſe: and it was unneceſſary, and ſpecially that marred the Caſe, for being of a ſtrangers act, if it had been at the Common-Law, he might have made his Information general, that the Forgery had been of ſome one parcel whereof he had been moſt certain inter alia. Trin. 16 Jac. in the Star-Chamber. Meyrs Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 272.

2. In the Star-Chamber in a Suit between Sir Stephen Proctor, and Darnbrooke, and others, for a horrible Ryot committed by them all in Bromley Moors about Lead-works, becauſe it appeared upon the hearing of the Cauſe in part, that it was depoſed by divers, That one W. who was grievouſly hurt in that Riott, did dye within 3. months after; and being before an able man, ſaid, He would charge one of the Rioters with his death. By Order of the Court, the Judges were to conſider, Whether it were fit to proceed there? And it was Reſolved by them, That the Caſe appearing thus, It exceeded the Capacity of that Court, and was of dangerous Conſequence, though it was layed but a Riott in the Bill, ſince it fell out to be likely a Murder in them all by the proofs; and the rather, becauſe the proofs were read by the Plaintiff himſelf; and therefore the Juſtices held it fit, That the Plaintiff ſhould be Ordered to prefer his Bill of Murder at the next Aſſizes, and bring his Witneſſes, and there his Bill and Evidence to be given in open Court at the Aſſizes to the grand Inqueſt; and then if the Bill were found, to proceed

for Felony: If not, to return to the Star-Chamber upon the Riot, and ſo to be heard. Paſch. 15 Jac. in the Star-Chamber. Sir Stephen Proctor and Dunbrooks Caſe. Hob. 138.

3. A Bill in the Star-Chamber was exhibited againſt William Courteen, and 160 Dutchmen, for buying and tranſporting ſeveral ſums of money ſince the beginning of the King's Reign; And the Bill was layed, That they had joyntly and ſeverally bought and tranſported great ſums in general, naming no certain ſum, that is to ſay, William Courteen, ſo much certain, and ſo one after another his portion certain: Upon this Bill one of the Defendant's demurred in Law: And this Caſe, the Attorney-Generall brought to a hearing againſt divers, and ſerved ſome with proceſſe ad audiendum Judicium, and ſome not. Now although the Rule of Star-Chamber be, That if one Defendant be ſerved to hear Judgment, it ſerves for all: yet as this Caſe was, It was Reſolved, That it could not be: For although there is but one writing or Bill againſt all the Defendants; yet it is as many Bills, as Defendants, becauſe they are ſo many ſeveral parties and offences: For although he did lay the Offence firſt joyntly and ſeverally, yet that is corrected, and explained by the ſeverall application of a diſtinct portion to every perſon, and ſo the word Joynt is fruſtrate: and ſo there is no reaſon that the ſerving of one Defendant, ſhould make the other anſwer, that hath nothing to do with him or his Cauſe. Paſch. 16 Jac. in the Star-Chamber. Courteens Caſe, Hob. 270.

Breach.

What ſhall be layed or aſſigned to be a good* Breach *of Covenant, Promiſe, Condition, or other thing; What not.

1. ACtion of Covenant brought, and the Breach was alledged, That the Plaintiff ſhould quietly enjoy the Land demiſed to him; And he ſhewes, That the Defendant Exhibited a Bill in Chancery againſt him, pretending, The Leaſe was made in truſt: And it was Decreed to be otherwiſe; and whether the exhibiting of the Bill, was a breach of Covenant, there being no diſturbance at Common-Law, was the Queſtion? And the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was no breach of Covenant; for it was no diſturbance at Common-Law, nor entry, and the Law could not take Notice of it. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sally and Chutes Caſe. Brownlow 23.

2. In Debt for not performance of Articles of Agreement, the Articles were, That the Plaintiff ſhould deliver to the Defendant 20 l. for the benefit of C. his daughter within a year: And that the Defendant ſhould pay yearly to the Plaintiff after the receipt of the ſaid 20 l. upon the 2d. of Febr. till the age of 18 years of C. ſuch Intereſt money as the ſaid 20 l. ſhould amount unto according to the rate of 10 l. per 100 l. And if C. dyed before 18 years, then the Defendant ſhould pay the 20 l. to the Plaintiff within 6. weeks after her deceaſe. The Defendant pleaded performance. The Plaintiff aſſigned the breach, That he had paid the 20 l. to the uſe of C. upon 2d. of Febr. 1609. and that 27. December, 10. Jac. C. attained the age of 18. years, and not before; and that the Defendant had not paid to the Plaintiff 40 s. for the Intereſt of the ſaid 20 l. according to the Articles. The Plaintiff demurred upon it. It was alledged, This was not any breach, becauſe Uſury is forbidden and unlawful; and a breach cannot be aſſigned, in omitting that which is unlawfull: But it was Reſolved, It was a ſufficient breach; for the payment of the Intereſt after the rate of 8 l. per Cent, is not meerly againſt Law, but tolerated; and when it is ſecundum ratum, of 10 l. per Cent, the Court knowes it is 40 s. for the year. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 13 Jac. in B. R. Williamſon and Hunts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 378.

3. Indentures of Covenant were made between A. B. C. & D; B. and C. never ſealed the Indentures: The Caſe was; Sir Tho. Treſham conveyed a Leaſe to the Lord Sturton; and he to Meriel; and by the Indenture brought into Court, That the ſaid Treſham, Meriel, Lord Sturton, or one of them, at the time of the enſealing and delivery of the ſaid Indenture, was lawfully poſſeſſed of, and in, the Mannor of, &c. And Covenanted, That the Defendant ſhould quietly enjoy the ſaid Mannor clearly and abſolutely freed and diſcharged from all Incumbrances and former bargains by the ſaid Treſham, L. Sturton, and Meriel, or any of them; and the breach was, That the Plaintiff was damnified; for that Meriel that had the Eſtate, did not ſeal the Deed. And after Debate, It was a good breach aſſigned. Hill. 7 Jac. in C. B. Lamb and Treſham's Caſe. Brownlow, 21.

4. In Debt, to perform Covenants of an Indenture; The Covenant was, for quiet enjoying without Lett, Trouble, Interruption, &c. The Plaintiff aſſigned the breach, That the Defendant forbade his Tenant to pay his Rent: This was holden by the Court to be no breach, unleſs there were ſome other act. And the Defendant pleaded, That oftentimes he forbade the Tenant to pay the Rent, the Tenant did pay the Rent to the Plaintiff. Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. rott. 726. Whitcott and Lindſey's Caſe. Brownlow 81.

5. Covenant was brought upon the words, Covenant, Promiſe, and Agree, that the Leſſee ſhould quietly occupy and enjoy the Lands Demiſed for and during the Term of 7. years: And the Plaintiff ſhews, That a ſtranger entred upon the Land; and ſhews not, That he entred by Title. The Court was of Opinion, It was not good, becauſe it did not appear he had a good title to enter. Adjudged for the Defendant. Trin. 12 Jac. C. B. Tiſdale and Eſſex Caſe. Brownlow 23.

6. Aſſumpſit was, That the Plaintiff ſhould enjoy ſuch Leaſe of Lands, without the Let, Interruption, or Incumbrance of any perſon; and the Plaintiff ſhewed, That the Land was extended for Debt due to the King by Proces out of the Exchequer, and ſo Incumbred, &c. It was moved, It was not a good breach aſſigned; for he doth not ſhew for whoſe debt, nor when, nor by whom it was due; and it may be for the Plaintiff's own debt; and if ſo, and that thereby he did not perform his promiſe, it would not help him. It was adjudged for the Defendant; for the Plaintiff ought to ſhew a lawful incumbrance. Paſch. 15 Jac. in B.R. Brocking and Chams Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 425.

7. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had paid him a ſum of money, did promiſe to joyn in a ſurrender of certain Copy-hold Lands: The Defendant Demurred upon the Declaration, That the Plaintiff did not ſhew, that he made any requeſt to the Defendant, to joyn in the ſurrender, which he ought to do; for it was not a ſingle act to be done by the Defendant alone. The Court was of Opinion, That the breach was not well aſſigned: And beſides, you have aſſigned a particular way, how he ſhould ſurrender, namely, in the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor; whereas he did aſſume onely to joyn in a Surrender which may be in Court; or into the hands of two Tenants: and alſo the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed, That there is ſuch a particular Cuſtome in the Mannor, That a Copyholder may ſurrender into the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor; or elſe ſuch a Cuſtome cannot be taken notice of. Trin. 24 Car. in B.R. Freeborn and Purchaſers Caſe. Styles 107.

8. Covenant was brought in London, ſuppoſing the place to be of a Demiſe apud Parochiam Sanctæ Mariæ le Bowe in London, of a Meſſuage in D. in the County of S. and therein a Covenant to repair houſes. And alledged, That apud London in Parochia, &c. he permitted the houſes to decay. And upon a Demurrer upon a vitious Barr pleaded, It was ſhewed for Exception to the Declaration, That this breach is of a matter local, and not tranſitory, and is not in this caſe well aſſigned: And of that Opinion was the whole Court. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Shiers and Brettons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 446.

9. Errour in the Exchequer Chamber, upon a Judgment in Debt upon an Obligation; The Errour was, That there was not a breach alledged: for the Condition being, That he ſhould enjoy ſuch Lands without eviction, the breach was aſſigned by recovery by Verdict in Ejectione Firmæ, upon a Leaſe made to one E. and doth not ſhew what Title E. had to make the Leaſe; but avers, That E. had good Title: and it might be he had title derived from the Plaintiff himſelf after the Obligation made: therefore he ought to ſhew, That he had good and Eigne title before the Leaſe made. And for this cauſe, all the Judges held the Replication to be ill. Mich. 10 Jac. in B.R. Kirby and Hanſokers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 315.

10. Covenant: Whereas he had ſold to the Defendant all his Copyhold Lands in F. that if it did exceed the quantity of 8. Acres, to be admeaſured according to 16 foot and a half to the pole, that he ſhould pay for every acre over and above the 8. acres ſo to be meaſured according to the rate of 4 l. for every Acre, and alledged in facto, that the Copyhold Land was 12 acres meaſured by the ſaid meaſure: And for that he had not paid 16 l. for the ſaid 4. acres over and above the 8. Acres, the Action was brought. The Defendant pleaded, There was not 12 Acres meaſured. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, The breach was not well aſſigned, becauſe it is not alledged, That the Lands were admeaſured; and till then the ſurpluſage cannot be known; but the Exception was not allowed; for the Plaintiff might admeaſure it privately; and he need not tell the Defendant when he admeaſures it: and the Iſſue being found, That they contained ſo much. It was holden by all the Court, The Declaration was good, Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Barwell and Wynn's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 472.

11. In Debt upon a Bond for not performance of Covenants; the Defendant pleads performance generally; The Plaintiff ſhewes, That the Leſſor by Deed inrolled, bargained and ſold the Reverſion to J. S. and J. D; and there being a Covenant in the Leaſe, That the Leſſee at Michaelmas, or after upon requeſt ſhould deliver the poſſeſſion to the Leſſor, his heirs or Aſſigns; he alledgeth for breach, That J. S. and J. D. the next day after Mich. came to the houſe, and required of the Defendant the delivery of the poſſeſſion; and that he had not delivered the poſſeſſion: and the Jury found, found, that J. S. came, and he did not deliver the poſſeſſion. It was holden, That they two having but one title; the delivery of the poſſeſſion to one, had been good for both. It was Objected, That the breach aſſigned was not ſufficient, becauſe he doth not ſhew, that the two Bargainees gave notice to the Tenant, That they had the Reverſion by Bargain and Sale; and without Notice, the Tenant is not to take conuſance of it: But the Exception was not allowed; for being the Condition of a Bond, it is at his perill to take notice of it; and the requeſt by one is ſufficient. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Hingen and Payns Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 475.

12. In Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declares, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff would marry E. his ſiſter, he would give with his ſiſter 300 l. for her marriage-portion, upon his marriage with her; and for breach of this promiſe, obtains a Verdict. The Defendant in ſtay of Judgment, moved, That the breach in the Declaration aſſigned, was not well aſſigned; for it recites another promiſe than upon which the Plaintiff declared: for he declares of a promiſe to give 300 l. in marriage to the Plaintiff with his ſiſter E, and he aſſigns the breach, in not paying the 300 l. to the Plaintiff, ſo the breach doth not anſwer the promiſe; for if money be paid to the wife, which for any thing appears, it may be; the promiſe is not broken, though ſhe be married. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the breach was well aſſigned; for the huſband is to give the acquittance for the money, and the moneys are to be paid to the husband, and the Verdict finds they are not paid; and it is all one in this caſe, as if the Plaintiff had ſaid, That the Defendant had not paid the moneys to the huſband with his wife in marriage. Mich. 1653. Rodwell and Fenwick's Caſe. Styles 393, 394.

13. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Defendant ſhould ſtand to the Award and Arbitrament of J. S. that then, the Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrator awarded, That whereas there was a Suit in the Chancery depending againſt the Plaintiff for divers matters, that the Plaintiff ſhould be acquitted of that Suit, and of all matters contained in the ſame Bill; and the Defendant alledged, That he did not make any proſecution of that Bill; but the Plaintiff ſtands acquitted thereof. The Plaintiff replyed, That after the Award, the Defendant did exhibit a new Bill, which did contain the ſame matter which the firſt Bill did; upon which plea, the Defendant did demur: and the Cauſe of the Demurrer only was, Becauſe the Plaintiff had pleaded. That the Defendant had exhibited a new Bill, but had not alledged any Proces taken forth upon the Bill: and, If that were a Breach, was the Queſtion? It was alledged, That it was a breach; for the words are, Quod ſtaret acquietatus; but if he be put to fright, or liable to proceſs, it is a breach. But the Court held it to be no breach; for the taking of this Proces, is not ſuch a Proces as can prejudice; for neither goods nor body ſhall be taken: and it is not ſuch a Proces as our Law reſpects or regards; for a Bill is but a Petition. Judgment was for the Defendant. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Freeman and Shields Caſe. Brownlow 122, 123.

14. In Debt upon an Obligation for performance of an Award; which was, That the Plaintiff ſhould not proſecute or proceed in the ſame Term in ſuch an Action. It was agreed, 1. That it was a good Award. 2. That the Awarding, That he ſhould not proſecute in ſuch an Action in the ſame Term, that the Entry of Continuance from Term to Term, is not any breach. But Doddridge and Haughton, Juſtices, ſaid, If one be obliged, That he ſhall not continue ſuch a Suit, If he continue it by Attorney, it is a breach of the Obligation: But if the Attorney enter the Continuance without his privity, it is no breach. Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Gray and Gray's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 525.

Capacity.

Capacity of Persons, And who may Purchase, or take Estates in Lands, &c. Or take Goods and Chattells; And how, when, and by what Names; and from whom; And to whose use they may take the same; And where not.

1. AN Allien, born in France, brought Debt in the Common Pleas; the Defendant demanded Judgment, if he should be Answered, because he was born out of the Realm, out of the Allegiance of the King: It was holden by the Justices that the Plea was not good, for notwithstanding that he were an Allien born, yet the same is no disability in an Action personal, except he be Allegiance of the Kings Enemy, but contrary in real Actions, for that an Allien may not have Land in the Realm, unlesse he be made a Denizen. 6 H. 8. Dyer. 8.

2. If an Allien purchase Land: upon Office found, the King shall have it. Cook Institutes 2. But if an Allien be made a Denizen, and purchaseth Lands, the Lord by Escheat shall have the Land, and not the King.

3. If an Allien Merchant purchase a Lease for years, upon Office found, the King shall have it, but not if he purchase a house for his habitation, for the cause of Commerce, but if he leave the Realm, and dyeth during the Term, the King shall have the Lease, and not his Executors. ibid. See Mich. 29 Eliz. Sir John Cuts Case, adjudged accordingly.

4. One King enfeoffed two, viz. An Allien and a Denizen to his own use; Office was found: It was holden by the Court that the use as to King for one moyety was gon; and that the Queen should have the other moyety to her own use by her prerogative. Pasc. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 283.

5. A person Attaint, can purchase onely to the use of the King. Cook 1. Part. Institutes 2.

6. A man made a Feoffment, to the use of his Wife for life, and after her death, to the use of the Right heirs of the body of the Husband and Wife, the Woman had Issue, and dyed, the Husband survived: In this Case, It was holden that the Issue might not enter, for that the Husband might not have Right heir during his life. Pasc. 1, Ma. Dyer. 99.

7. A Bastard may purchase by his reputed name; and a Remainder, limited to him, by the name of the son of his reputed father, is good; but a Bastard cannot take a Remainder by the name of Issue. See Cook 1. Part Institutes 3.

8. A man may purchase by his name of confirmation, as if a man be Baptized by the name of Thomas, and he is confirmed by the name of John. Cook 1. Part, Institutes 3. Sir Francis Gawsts Case.

9. A Feme-Covert cannot take any thing of the gift of her Husband; but she may purchase Lands of others without the assent of her Husband: but if the Husband doth disagree, the same is devested; and if the Husband doth agree, yet after the death of the Husband, the Wife may wave it, if she do not agree to the purchase after the death of her Husband. Cook 1. Part Institutes 3.

10. Parishioners, Inhabitants, Church-wardens, are not persons capable to purchase Lands but they may take goods to the use of the Church, or the Poor, &c. 12 H. 7. 28. 37 H. 6. 30.

11. A. in consideration of Marriage of his Son, made a Feoffment, and took back an estate to himself for life, the Remainder to his son, and his Wife, which should be in tail; the Marriage took effect: the Father levyed a Fine, and bound him and his heirs to warranty, and dyed; the Son was Attainted of Treason, and Executed, the Queen granted the Land to a stranger in tail, and after the Queen restored the Wife; In that case, it was held That the conveyance to the Son and his Wife, which should be, was good to make her a purchaser; and therefore after the restitution of the Wife, The question was, whether the Wife had right to the moyety of the Land, or to the whole, and, if she might enter upon the Queen's Patent. It was conceived she had right but to a moyety of the Land. See 3. Ma. Dyer. 122. Sir Thomas Watts Case. See Cook 1. Part Institutes 187. acc.

12. A. Levyed a Fine of Lands to the use of himself, and of such Wife or Wives as he should marry, and after he married with E. It was holden by the Justices that he should take joyntly with the Husband, being upon an use, contrary upon upon an eſtate Executed, by which it ſeems that the word (Wife) is a good name of purchaſe; but Quære, If it be a joynture, before or after Coverture, and in whom the uſe was before the marriage. Paſc. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 274.

13. Note, It is a rule in Law, That if an eſtate be limited to two, whereof the one is capable, and the other is not; he who is capable, ſhall take the whole, as if Lands be given to one Et primo-genito ſuo, if he hath no ſon, the Father taketh the whole; and ſo it is if a man give Lands to a man and to ſuch a Woman as ſhall be his Wife, the man taketh the whole, Cook 1. Part 100. in Shelleys Caſe. But if a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf, and his Wife that ſhall be, his Wife ſhall take jointly with him.

14. A man made a Feoffment before the Statute of 27 H. 8. to the uſe of a man and a Woman unmarried, and to the heirs of their two bodies, and after, they enter-marry; and after marriage, the Husband bargains and ſells the whole Lands in Fee, to one of the Feoffees, and dyes without Iſſue, and after the Statute of 27 H. 8. made of Uſes, the Woman claimed the whole by Survivour as Tenant in tail, after poſſibility, &c. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That ſhe ſhould have but a moyety, becauſe they had at the firſt but moyeties by joynt-tenancy, and the words (Wife which ſhould be) was a good name of purchaſe. Paſc. 4. Mr. Dyer. 146. Bedell's Caſe.

15. The Lord Bray for 800 l. bargained and ſold the cuſtody and marriage of his eldeſt Son, to four of the Privy Councel by name, in the behalf of the King, to the intent to be married by them or their Aſſigns, appointment and nomination without diſparagement; and ſeiſed of divers Lands in the Counties of Berks, and Buckingham: thoſe in Berks holden in Knight-ſervice, in Capite, he covenanted to aſſure the Lands in Berk. to them four, to the intent to find him, and ſuch Wife as he ſhould marry by their appointment, till 21. years of age, and then the Land to remain to his ſon, and ſuch his Wife, and to the heirs Males of the body of his ſon, and a Fine was levyed to them to the ſame intent. One of the four dyed, the Lord Bray dyed. The King upon Office ſeiſed the Ward, and granted the marriage to the Earl of Salisbury, who married his daughter to the ſon by the Kings Aſſent, and by the appointment of the Survivors, After the age of 21 years, the ſon ſold the Lands in Berks to J. S. the Wife entred; J. S. brought Entry in the Quibus. In this Caſe, divers points were Reſolved. 1. That in this Caſe, the Wife is not married by the appointment of four: for where divers joyn in an Act, the Law adjudgeth them onely Actors, who have Authority to do the ſame; and for that cauſe, the Land was onely in the ſon, and that his Grantee ſhould enjoy it againſt the Wife. 2. It was moved, That the Wife was not known at the time of the Eſtate conveyed, and that therefore ſhe ſhould never have any part of the Land; But it being by way of uſe the Court held it clear, that ſhe ſhould take aſwell after ſhe was known, as before. 3 Eliz. Dyer 190. 191. The Lord Bray's Caſe.

16. If Lands be given to a man, and his Wife that ſhall be; if the Husband maketh a Feoffment in Fee before the taking of the Wife, the Wife ſhall never take, for that the poſſeſſion and ſtate in the Land is altered, and changed, and transferred to the poſſeſſion of another, before the Title of the Wife doth accrue: but if no deviſing or alteration be, then the uſe ſhall reſt in the Wife. 17 Eliz. Dyer. 340. acc.

17. A. after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, did enfeoff divers perſons, unto the uſe of the Feoffees and their heirs; for the life of B. his eldeſt ſon; and after to the firſt Iſſue Male of B. with divers Remainders over to 10 of his ſons, with the Remainder over to his right heirs, and dyed. The Feoffees by Deed indented, enfeoffed, B; having notice of the firſt uſes to him and his heirs, without any Conſideration. B. had Iſſue C. D. and according to the Statute 27 H. 8. of Inrollments, bargained, and ſold the Land to J. S. and his Heirs. The queſtion in this Caſe (amongſt many others) was, If the Contingent uſes before their Eſſence, by the Feoffment of the Feoffees, was deſtroyed; ſo as they ſhould never riſe out of the Eſtate of the Feoffees, after the births of the other Iſſues of the Father. It was Reſolved in this Caſe by all the Juſtices. 1. That the Feoffment made by the Feoffees, did deveſt all the Eſtates, and the future uſes alſo, and although that the Feoffees had notice of the firſt uſes, yet the ſame was not materiall, becauſe that all the Ancient uſes were deveſted by the Feoffment, and the new Eſtate cannot be ſubject to the Ancient uſes which riſe out of the old Eſtate. which was by the Feoffment deveſted. And it was ſaid, That the Law will not preſerve any thing, which is againſt the rule of Law, and the rule of Law, is, That a Remainder ſhall take effect when the particular Eſtate determines, or elſe ſhall be void; And in this Caſe, by the Feoffment of the Tenant for life, it was a forfeiture, and then thoſe in the future Remainders, were not in eſſe, to take advantage of it, and therefore the future Remainders by the Rules of the common Law, were deſtroyed, and there was no difference when the Eſtate of the Tenant for life did determine by death, or by forfeiture as to them in the Remainder: And although the Remainders were in Abeyance, yet a thing in Abeyance might be deſtroyed. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſe, doth not transfer any poſſeſſion to any uſe, in contingency, untill they come in Eſſe, for as there ought to be a uſe in Eſſe, ſo there ought to be a perſon in Eſſe, who ſhall take the uſe, before that any poſſeſſion can be executed to the ſame uſe. For if the perſon who ſhall take the uſe, be not in Eſſe, nor no uſe in Eſſe, but onely a poſſibility of a uſe; there, there cannot be any Execution of the poſſeſſion, to the uſe, by the expreſſe words of the Statute. And it was ſaid, That if that Eſtate ſhould be utterly out of the Feoffees, and veſted in them who had the preſent uſes then the future uſes could never riſe, for it was not poſſible that they ſhould be raiſed out of the poſſeſſion of Ceſtuy que uſe; And a uſe cannot be raiſed out of a uſe. 3. It was Reſolved, That becauſe the Statute of 27 H. 8. did not extend, but to uſes in poſſeſſion, and to perſons in eſſe, and not to any uſes which did depend upon poſſibility, that for theſe cauſes the Contingent uſes did remain as long as they depended in poſſibility onely at the Common Law, and by conſequence they might be deſtroyed, or diſcontinued before they came in Eſſe, by ſuch means as uſes might have bin deſtroyed, or diſcontinued at the Common Law: And it was holden, that the alteration of the Eſtate before they came in Eſſe, had deſtroyed them. And it was alſo holden, That the Statute of 27 H. 8. ſhould not be extended by Equity to the preſervation of Contingent uſes againſt the expreſſe Letter in the Act. Cook 1. Part. Chadleigh's Caſe.

18. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail: he in the Remainder, bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in tail, and after his death, the Remainder to the King in Fee upon Condition. Tenant in tail ſuffered a common recovery; the King granted his Remainder to the Tenant in tail, and his Heirs. Afterwards, he in the Remainder bargained and ſold his Remainder to B. the Remainder to the King upon Condition. Another Recovery was had. Tenant in tail dyed without Iſſue. It was adjudged, That he in the Remainder, and all others, claiming by or under him were barred by the Recovery; And in that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Grant to A. was not good, becauſe he took no particular eſtate, and then the Remainder upon that to the King, was void, by name of a Remainder, becauſe it could never come in poſſeſſion, and the Grantee ſhould never have any benefit of it. But a grant of a Recovery during the life of Tenant in tail, is good, becauſe he hath the Services which the Tenant in tail ought to do; And it was ſaid that a poſſibility which is to make a Remainder good, ought to be potentia proxima, and not remota; As a Leaſe is made for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. is good becauſe by poſſibility, J. S. may dye during the life of the Tenant for life; but if J. S. be not in Eſſe at the time of the Remainder limited, but be born after, during the life of the Tenant for life, there the Remainder is void, quia potentia remota. And a Remainder limited by a general name may be good, although that the party who ſhall take be not in Eſſe, at the time of the Remainder limited; As a Leaſe for life, the Remainder to the right heirs of J. S. or a Remainder Primo-genito Filio; But a Remainder limitted by a particular name of Baptiſm, or Surname, is not good, if the party be not in Eſſe. Cook 2. Part 51. Sir Hugh Cholmeley's Caſe.

19. Land was deviſed to the Husband and Wife, and after their deceaſe, to their Children, they then having Iſſue, a ſon and a daughter: It was Reſolved, That the Husband and Wife had but an Eſtate for their lives, with a Remainder to their Children for life, and no eſtate tail, and the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſtrued according to the Rules of the Cómon Law, and by that Law, the Husband and Wife have but an Eſtate for life, the Remainder to their Children for their lives: If A. deviſeth his Land to B. and to his Iſſues, or Children, and he hath not any Iſſue at the time of the Deviſe, it is an Eſtate tail, for the intent of the Deviſor is manifeſt and certain; for they cannot take as immediate Deviſors, becauſe they are not in rerum natura; and by way of Remainder they cannot, becauſe it was not the intent of the Deviſor; and therefore thoſe words ſhall be taken by way of Limitation, and ſhall make an Eſtate tail. But if a man deviſeth Lands to A. and his Iſſues, and he hath Iſſue of his body then alive, they have but a joynt eſtate for their lives. Cook 6. Part. 17. Wilds Caſe.

20. Lands were aſſured to A. B. to the uſe of C. D. and his Wife, for the Term of their lives, and the longer liver of them, the Remainder after their deceaſe, for ſix Moneths, to the uſe of the Executors of the ſaid C. and after the ſix Moneths, to the uſe of E. and F. his Wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies lawfully begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue to the ſaid C. and his Heirs for ever, provided that if it ſhall happen the ſaid C. at any time after, to have Iſſue of his body, or any Wife of the ſaid C. at the time of his deceaſe to be with Child, begotten of the ſaid C; Then after ſuch Iſſue had, and after 500 l. paid to G. or tendred, or refuſed within the ſpace of ſix Moneths, then next after the birth of the ſame Iſſue of the ſaid C. then the uſe of the ſaid Lands immediately after the deceaſe of the ſaid C. and D. and after the ſix Moneths ended, to be to the uſe of C. and the heirs of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the right heirs of C. D. The Wife of the ſaid C. dyed, and C. took another Wife; It was a Queſtion, What Intereſt C. had had in the Lands before: Iſſue had in the ſecond wife? And it was the Opinion, That before the Contingent performed, he had not any larger eſtate then he had before. Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer 314.

21. A man was bound to a Dean in 20 l. ſolvend. eidem Decano, et ſucceſſoribus; the Dean dyed. It was holden, That the Succeſſours ſhall have it: for an Obligation may be made to him and his Succeſſours, as well as to him and his Executors. But Baldwin held the [paiment to his ſucceſſour] was void, becauſe the Obligation was made to the Dean onely. 32 H. 8. Dyer 48.

23. A Leaſe was made to a Chauntry Prieſt, To have and to hold to him and his Executors; and a Releaſe was made to him and his Succeſſours. It was holden in this caſe, That he ſhould have an Eſtate but for his own life; for the ſame ſhall enure according to his firſt Leaſe, which was not to him and his Succeſſours; but to him and his Executors. Mich. 21 Jac. in C. B. Wakes Caſe.

23. If the King grants Lands Decano et Capitulo: Habendum ſibi et hæredibus et Succeſſoribus; they ſhall take in their politique Capacity: So it is, if the King grants Lands to J. S. Habendum ſibi et Succeſſoribus, ſive hæredibus, the ſame ſhall enure to him and his heirs. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 8.

24. King Henry the 8th did tranſlate the Abbot and Prior of Norwich by his Letters Patents, and did create them by the Name of Dean and Chapter, who ſurrendred to King Ed. 6. all their poſſeſſions: And afterwards King Ed. 6. did incorporate them by the name Decani et Capituli ex fundatione Regis E. 6. And afterwards he re-granted their poſſeſſions to them by the name Decani et Capituli Sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis Norwiche; omitting the words, Ex fundatione E. 6. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Tranſlation was good, and the re-grant to them was good. 2. It was Reſolved, That their ancient Corporation was ſurrendred, and the new Corporation made by King Edw. the 6th, good; and that the ſaid words, Ex fundatione Edwardi 6. were omitted, and were material, yet the Grant to them was good, notwithſtanding this Miſnomer by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Cap. 6. of Confirmations. Cook 3. Part, 73, 74. The Dean and Chapter of Norwich's Caſe.

25. King Ed. 2d. by his Letters Patents granted the Caſtle and Mannor of Skipton in Craven to Robert de Clifford in tail: Afterwards King Henry 6. granted to Tho. Lord Clifford, who was heir of the body of the ſaid Robert de Clifford, Reverſionem Caſtri, et Manerii prædict. nec non Caſtrum et Manerium prædict. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That admit that the Grant to Robert de Clifford was void, that yet the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor did paſſe by the ſaid latter Grant made to Tho. Clifford in Fee-ſimple in poſſeſſion: For the Intent of King Henry the 6th was, That were it in poſſeſſion, or reverſion, that the ſame ſhould paſſe, and with his intention the words agree: For, 1. He grants the Reverſion, if the firſt Eſtate tail was good; and if the ſame was not good, he grants the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor in poſſeſſion; and ſo his words, and his Letters Patents agree with his intent, and both agree with the Law. Cook 8. Part, 166. The Earl of Cumberlands Caſe.

26. A man ſeiſed of Gavel-kind Land in Fee, by his laſt Will in Writing, deviſed the ſame to husband and wife for the Term of their lives, the remainder thereof to the next heir male of their bodies lawfully begotten in perpetuum: And after, the husband and wife had Iſſue three ſons; The Queſtion was, Whether the eldeſt ſon ſhould have the whole remainder, or in Common with his elder brothers? It is there a Quære not Reſolved. 4 Ma. Dyer 134. See 32 H. 8. Dyer 42. and 6 E. 6. Dyer 72. 2 Eliz. Dyer 179. Where a Feoffment is made of Borough-Engliſh Land, after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, to the uſe of the Feoffor, and his heirs males ſecundum Curſum Communis Legis, that yet the Younger brother ſhall inherit the Land.

27. The Mannor of H. was conveyed by W. H. to make his Joynture by a Deed in Latine made by the Recoverors to himſelf and his wife for Term of their lives, the reverſion Seinori puero de corpore ipſius W. H. et hæred. de corpore ſuo Legitimo procreat. the remainder thereof in general tail to the husband, the remainder to J. S. in Fee, &c. And afterwards by an Indenture between him and J. S. in Engliſh, he Covenanted, That he and his wife would levy a Fine to B. and C. to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for their lives, the remainder to the uſe of the eldeſt Child of the ſaid William, and the heirs of the body of ſuch eldeſt Child, the remainder over a Fine was levied accordingly; and after, the wife dyed without Iſſue; The husband married another woman, and by her had Iſſue a daughter his eldeſt Child, and a ſon his younger. It was a Queſtion, Which of them ſhould have the remainder? And the Opinion of the Court was, That the daughter ſhould have the Remainder, and not the ſon; for that was the intent of the Auncеſtor, as they conceived, although puero in Latine is intendable rather an Iſſue male, then a Female: and yet they ſaid, That many Authors have taken the word indifferently, to extend to both Sexes. Trin. 16 Eliz. Dyer 337. Hamfreſtons Caſe.

28. A guift made Omnibus filiis of J. S. without other name, is good; and ſo it is of a guift Parochianis de Dale, although they are not incorporate; but that muſt be underſtood of a guift of Chattels perſonals, for that other things Pariſhioners cannot take. 37 H. 6. 30.

29. Note, this difference; That he who is next jure repreſentationis, and not he who is next jure propinquitatis, ſhall take and inherit the Land. And therefore if a man hath Iſſue two ſons, A. and B. and dyeth: A. hath Iſſue two ſons, C. and D. and dyeth; C. hath Iſſue a ſon, and dyeth: A. purchaſeth Lands in Fee, and dyeth without Iſſue, the ſon of C. ſhall inherit him, and not D; although that D. be his next Coſen jure propinquitatis, becauſe the ſon of C. is next Coſen jure repreſentationis: But if a Leaſe had been made to A, the remainder to the next of his blood; in that caſe D. ſhould take the remainder, becauſe he is more near of blood to take by purchaſe. 30 Aſſ. 47. Cook. 1. Part, Inſtiutes.

30. Three brothers were; The middlemoſt brother purchaſed Lands, and deviſed the ſame to his ſon in tail, and if he dyed without Iſſue, that then it ſhould remain to the next of kin, of the Lineage of his Father; the eldeſt brother being dead, then having Iſſue a Son: The queſtion was, who ſhould have the Remainder; And after long deliberation had of the Caſe; It was adjudged that the eldeſt brother ſhould have it, for that he is the next of Lineage, for Lineage ſhall be taken in a Lineall diſcent. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber adjudged. See 19 Eliz. Dyer. 333.

31. If Land be given to a man and Margaret his Wife by Deed, and to the heirs of their two bodies begotten; although the Wife, her name be Margery, yet the gift is good, and the heirs ſhall be inheritable by force to the tail, and the Land ſhall paſſe by the Deed, and not by the Livery onely, for the Deed was good without a Sirname. And if Land be given to a man Et uxori ſuæ, the gift is good without naming any name of the Wife. See 1 H. 5. 8 H. 7. Hankford, in Hanlye's Caſe.

32. A man hath Iſſue two ſons and a daughter, and deviſeth his Land to his Wife for 10 years, the Remainder to his younger ſon and his heirs, and if any of his two ſons dye without iſſue, the remainder to the daughter and her heirs; the younger ſon dyeth in the life of his Father; after, the Father dyeth: It was holden by the whole Court, That it was a good Remainder to the daughter, being upon a deviſe, although the particular eſtate fails. 3 Ma. Dyer. 122. Rickman's Caſe.

33. Greſwald ſeiſed of Land in Fee, gave the ſame by Indenture to one for life, the Remainder reſtis hæredibus maſculis of his body, the Remainder to his right heirs, and dyed, having Iſſue two ſons; Tenant for life dyed, the eldeſt ſon entred, and dyed, having iſſue a daughter. It was adjudged, that ſhe ſhould have the Land as heir, and not the younger ſon, for the tail is not good, for he cannot make his own right heir purchaſer, without departing with the Fee-Simple out of his poſſeſſion; as it was Ruled in Champernon's Caſe. 4 H. 6. But another poynt, admitting it to be good, was, whether the Eſtate ended by the death of the eldeſt ſon without heir male, or that it ſhould go to the younger ſon; Dyer held, That the younger ſon ſhould have the Land, for if the Donor bring a Formedon in the Revertor, it ſhall ſuppoſe that the Father is dead without Iſſue, and that is not true during the life of the younger ſon, but others held the contrary, becauſe the eldeſt ſon took by purchaſe, and not by diſcent, and therefore whoſoever will inherit as Iſſue in tail, he ought to be iſſuing of the body of the firſt purchaſor, and that is not the youngeſt ſon, in reſpect of the eldeſt. 5 Ma. Dyer. 156. Greſwald's Caſe. See Cook 1. Part Inſtiutes 22. acc.

Capias and Exigent.

1. Where, and in what Actions; and againſt whom Capias and Exigent did lye at the Common Law; where, and againſt whom not: And in what Actions, and againſt what perſons it now lyeth, by Statute Law.

1. IT was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That at the Common Law, a common perſon could not have Execution againſt the body of the Defendant, nor againſt his Land, upon a Recognizance or Judgment for Debt and damages, but he ſhould have Execution onely of his goods, and Chattells, or of the profits which grew upon the Lands, and that by Levari facias, or Fieri facias, onely within the year after the Judgment. But in Debt brought againſt the heir upon an Obligation, made by his Father by the Common-Law; Execution might be againſt the Land of the heir, which he had by diſcent, otherwiſe the party ſhould have no fruit of his Action, and therefore of neceſſity the Land was lyable, becauſe the goods did go to the Executors. But at the Common Law, the body, goods, and Lands of the Accomptant, or Debtor of the King were lyable to Execution:

ecution: For it is ſaid, Theſaurus Regis eſt Vinculum pacis, et Bellorum nervi. Cook 5. Part in Sir William Herbert's Caſe. 12. See Cook 11. Part 72. In the Caſe of the Marſhalſey, &c.

2. It was Reſolved, That in all Actions, Quare vi et armis, a Capias lyeth; and where a Capias lyes in proceſſe, there after Judgment a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum lyeth; and there alſo the King ſhall have a Capias pro fine, and all that was by the Common Law; and ſo for a force the Law did ſubject the body of the party to Impriſonment. Cook, ibid.

3. A man was Outlawed upon a Judgment in Debt, he brought a Writ of Error, and the Judgment was affirmed, and thereupon, within the year a Capias Utlagatum was Awarded, and the Sheriff ſuffered him to eſcape before the Return of the Writ: And in that Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That if at the Common Law, a man hath Judgment in Debt, and after the Judgment, had Outlawed the Defendant, the Plaintiff was at an end of his ſuit, as to to the ſuing out of any proceſſe by himſelf, for he could not have a Scire facias; nor other Execution upon the Judgment, but he was put to his new Original; And although a Capias did not lye, nor the body of the Debtor was ſubject to Execution before the Statute of 25 E. 3. yet in ſuch Caſe, if the party were taken by Capias Utlagatum at the Kings ſuit, he ſhould be in Execution for the party, if the party pleaſed; and upon ſuch Capias Utlagatum, the Defendant being taken, he was preſently in Execution for the party Plaintiff, although he was not put in Execution by the Court. 2. Reſolved, If Judgment be given in C. B. & the ſame be removed by Error, & the Judgment is affirmed within the year, they may Award a Capias, or a Fieri facias, and the Plaintiff ſhall not be put to his Scire facias, although it be in another Court: and in that Caſe, theſe differences were taken, and holden for Law. 1. In all Caſes when the party may have Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and the Defendant is taken by Capias pro fine, there the Defendant is in Execution preſently for the party if he will: and in ſuch Caſe, the party may pray that the Defendant be in Execution for his damages. 2. When the Plaintiffe ſurpaſſeth his time, that he cannot be in Execution preſently, but is put to his Scire facias, there if the party be taken by Capias pro fine, the Plaintiff may pray that he do remain in Execution, but it ſhall not be without prayer. Hill. 4. Eliz. rot. 114. in B. R. Cook 5. Part 88. Garnons Caſe.

4. A man was Out-lawed after Judgment, before the generall Pardon in 43 Eliz. and after the Pardon, he dyed, and his Executors made ſatisfaction upon Record; and, without any proceſſe, pleaded the generall pardon, with an Averment, that they were not any perſons excepted in the pardon; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That becauſe no Scire facias, nor Capias Utlagatum, nor other proceſſe, lay againſt Executors, that they might gratis come in (for neceſſity) without proceſſe, and plead the general pardon with Averment, that they were not any perſons excepted, and ſo might every ſubject by himſelf, or by his Attorney, plead the ſame for his diſcharge. Cook 6. Part. Sir Ed. Phitton's Caſe 80.

5. In Debt againſt a Sheriff for an Eſcape, the Caſe was; A. did acknowledg a Recognizance in the Chancery, and the Plaintiff had a Scire facias, and 2. Nihils retorned; afterwards he had a Judgment Quod recuperet debitum, and a Levari facias came to the Sheriff to levy the ſame; who returned, Nulla Bona: afterwards he took forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum to the Sheriff, who took the party in Execution, and afterwards did ſuffer him to eſcape; upon which, the Action was brought. The Point inſiſted upon was, Whether a Capias doth lye upon a Recognizance acknowledged in Chancery, or not? It was Objected, That a Capias doth not lye upon a Recognizance taken out of the Chancery; and 13 & 14 Eliz. 306. Puttenham's Caſe was vouched to be accordingly; and Cook 3. Part, 12. Sir William Herbert's Caſe. But on the other ſide it was Anſwered, That as this Caſe was, the Action for the Eſcape did well lye againſt the Sheriff: For preſently after the Recognizance is acknowledged, it is a Judgment preſently, and ſo a Judgment upon Record; and where a Debt is of Record, there by the Statute of 25 E. 3. Cap. 17. the party may have a Capias; and the Courſe of the Chancery hath alwayes been in ſuch caſe, to award a Capias: But admitting, That the Proces was Erronious, and they award an Erronious Proces, or do miſ-award a Capias, by which the party is taken in Execution, yet it is a lawfull Execution, and the Sheriff is chargeable with the Eſcape; and he is not to examine the Errour of the Court, where the Court hath Juriſdiction of the Cauſe: and the Sheriff is not to argue or diſpute the authority of the Court. And ſo it was adjudged, Trin. 31 Eliz. in the Exchequer, in Ognell and Paſtons Caſe: which ſee, Cook 8. Part, 142. in Dr. Druries Caſe; where in an Action of Debt upon an Eſcape, the firſt Proces was erronious, yet the party being in Execution by force of it, it was adjudged, That the Sheriff ſhall be chargeable, if he ſuffer the party to eſcape, notwithſtanding the Erronious Record, of which the Sheriff ſhall not take any advantage. And in this caſe it was agreed, That if a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum be iſſued out againſt a Noble-man, (where (where it ought not ſo to be) and he is taken by force of it, and afterwards ſuffered to eſcape, though de Jure, he ought not to be taken; yet the Sheriff ought not to ſuffer him to eſcape: And ſo in the principal Caſe, the Court was clear of Opinion, That Judgment in this caſe ought to be given for the Plaintiff: and afterwards Judgment was given accordingly. Intrator. Paſch. 44 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 453. and Mich. 11 Jac. in the Kings-Bench adjudged. Weever and Clifford's Caſe. Bolſtrod. 2. Part, 62, to 65.

6. An Action of Falſe Impriſonment was brought by the husband againſt the Defendant, for making an Aſſault in and upon his wife, and Impriſoning of her. The Defendant juſtified, That a Warrant was directed to him, to take Julian Doiley, Widow, who by force thereof did take her, being the Plaintiff's wife. The Judgment was, Quod Capiat Julianam prædict. per nomen of Julian Goddard, ad ſatisfaciendum to Leonard Loves, pro damnis: and the truth was, That at the time of the Warrant iſſuing out againſt her, ſhe was then Julian Goddard, Widow, but at the time when ſhe was arreſted and Impriſoned, the wife of the Plaintiff Julian Doyley; and the firſt Action was brought againſt her Julian Goddard, Widow. The Court was clear of Opinion in this caſe, That here was a good deſignation of the party in nomination that was to be taken, and that the Capias here was well awarded: and if upon this Capias the Sheriff had retorned, either that ſhe was married, or a Non eſt Inventus, it would have been an ill retorn, and falſified all the proceedings; and ſo the Action of Falſe Impriſonment brought by the husband, was not maintainable. And by the whole Court, If an Action be brought againſt one being a Widow, and ſhe is found guilty, and before Judgment ſhe takes a husband, yet the Capias ſhall be againſt her, and not againſt her husband: and ſo Judgment was to be given, That the Plaintiff Nil Capiat per billam. Hill. 6 Jac. in B. R. rott. 853. Doiley and Waters Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 80, 81. See Cro. 2. Part, 323. the ſame Caſe.

7. A man taken by a Latitat out of the Kings-Bench, put in bail, Wellſhmen; and afterwards a Judgment paſſed againſt him. And it was moved to the Court, Whether Proces upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum might go into Wales againſt the bail, or not? It was ſhewed to the Court, That in the Court of Common-Pleas, they do not uſe there to ſend ſuch Proces into Wales, but onely of Outlawry. But Man, Secondary, informed the Court, That it had been otherwiſe here in this Court: and therefore the Court directed, That Proces ſhould be ſent into Wales againſt the Bail; and if the parties found themſelves grieved, they might have thereof a Writ of Errour. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Hall and Rotherams Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 54, 55.

8. Errour was brought of a Judgment in an Inferiour Court; and the Errour aſſigned was, Becauſe the firſt Proces was a Capias, where it ought to have been a Summons; and for this cauſe, the Judgment was reverſed. Paſch. 8 Jac. in B. R. Ward and Allayns Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 260.

9. Debt was brought for 8 l. Coſts adjudged to the Defendant, now Plaintiff upon a Nonſuit. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum iſſued againſt him upon the Judgment, and he was taken in Execution for the ſaid 8 l. Coſts. Upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was moved, 1. That a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum lyes not for Coſts, and ſo there was no Legal Execution. 2. If it lyes, yet the Defendant hath not pleaded, That he is yet detained; and then it ſhall be intended, he eſcaped out of Execution, and ſo the Action well lyes. But the Court Reſolved, 1. That the Plea was good, and that a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum lyes for Coſts awarded upon a Nonſuit. And, 2. When he was taken in Execution, it ſhall not be intended, That he eſcaped; and, if he did, he might be retaken, and ſo put to his Audita Querela. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 18 Jac. in B. R. rott. 371. Dyer and Finchams Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 595.

10. Errour was brought of a Judgment given in an Action upon the Caſe in Briſtow for words; where upon Not-guilty pleaded, it was found againſt the Defendant: and the Errour aſſigned was, That a Capias was awarded in that Action for the ſecond Proces; whereas a Capias lay not in this Action, untill the Statute of 19 H. 7. which extends onely to thoſe Actions in Weſtminſter, and not to Corporate-Towns: but the Errour was not allowed; For that the Court ſaid, It well might be by Cuſtome in that Town. 2. Whether a Capias lyeth after an Elegit is executed.

IN Audita Querela, the Caſe was, Cowley and Bates bound themſelves in an Obligation joyntly and ſeverally to Lydcot: Lydcot brought Debt upon the Bond againſt Bates, and had Judgment in the Common-Pleas: and afterwards he brought Debt againſt Cowley in the Kings-Bench, and obtained a Judgment there againſt him; and afterwards wards he ſued forth Execution upon the firſt Judgment by Elegit, and had the Land of Bates in Execution; and then he took forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt Cowley in the Kings-Bench, and took him in Execution: Whereupon he brought his Audita Querela, and prayed to be diſcharged. The onely doubt in the Caſe was, Whether Lydcott might have a new Execution by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, after he had Execution executed againſt one of the Obligors, becauſe the Judgments upon which he gounded his Executions, were given at ſeveral times, and in ſeveral Courts. It was agreed by the whole Court in this Caſe, That a Capias doth not lye after Execution ſued by Elegit, againſt the ſame perſon; but after a Capias, an Elegit is grantable: and the reaſon of the difference is, becauſe upon the prayer to have an Elegit, it is entred in the Roll, Elegit ſibi Executionem, per medietatem terræ; ſo he is ſtopped by the Record to have another Execution; but upon a Capias, nothing is entred upon Record. But it was agreed, That if the Sheriff return upon the Elegit, That the party hath not Lands, then the party may take forth a Capias. Alſo it was holden, That an Elegit in it ſelf is a ſatisfactory Execution; and by the Law, a man ſhall never have but one Execution with ſatisfaction: and if the Land be evicted, the party afterwards ſhall have no remedy. And the Opinion of the Court was, That there is no difference, although the Judgments were in ſeverall Courts againſt ſeverall perſons, and at ſeveral times: And afterwards it was adjudged, That Cowley the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela ſhould be diſcharged. 3. Where a Capias may be awarded by a Juſtice of Peace; and where one taken by Capias, de Excommunicato Capiendo is bayable; Where not.

1. NOte; It was the Opinion of the whole Court of Common-Pleas, That if one be Outlawed before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Juſtices of Peace upon an Indictment of Felony, that they may award a Capias utlagatum; and ſo was the Opinion of Periam, Chief Baron, and all the Court of the Exchequer, as to the Juſtices of Peace; for they who that have power to award Proces of Outlawry have power alſo to award a Capias utlagatum as incident to their Authority and Juriſdiction. Trin. 10 Jac. See Cook's Reports, 12. Part, Bolſtred. 103.

2. One was taken by force of a Capias de Excommunicato Capiendo: and the Queſtion was, upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. Cap. 23. if the party were baylable, or not? And the Rule of the Court was, That he ſhould be bailed: and ſo it was ſaid, It was Reſolved in one Keyſers Caſe, where he was taken by a Writ of de Excommunicato Capiendo; and brought to the Kings-Bench Barr by a Habeas Corpus; and upon Cauſe ſhewed, he was bailed by the Court de die in diem. But it was holden, That neither the Sheriff, nor any Juſtice of the Peace in the Country, could bail ſuch a one; but this Court might well bail one, as in the Caſe before de die in diem. 4. Where, upon a Capias pro fine, or utlagatum, or the Kings Suit, the Priſoner ſhall be in Execution for the party; Where not.

1. A Being under Protection, was brought by Habeas Corpus to the Court of Common-Pleas by one who deſired to have charged him in Execution, by reaſon of a Capias utlagatum for his debt. But it was agreed by the Court, That becauſe the Capias utlagatum was the Kings Suit, and for the Subject but in the ſecond degree, the King might diſcharge his own Suit: But that was ſaid, was, If any Act had been done by the King, to fruſtrate the Outlawry; but a Protection will not do it, eſpecially not being delivered or made known to the Coroners: and therefore in ſuch caſe, the party is not in Execution for the party, though he make his Election after, as the Caſe at Barr was, being after the year: But it was ſaid, That though the Kings debtor were in Execution by his body, or his Lands for the King; yet the Subject might lay, or take him in Execution by his body: For the Statute of 25 E. 3. is underſtood of ſuch Executions, whereby the King may be prejudiced, ſcil. Lands or goods. But the body is all, to all. Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. Sir Thomas Shirley's Caſe. Hob. 115.

2. If a man be condemned in Treſpaſs, or in Debt upon an Obligation, (where he denyes his Deed) at the Suit of the party, and after he is taken by Capias pro fine within the year at the Kings Suit, and committed to the Goal, if the Goaler ſuffer him to eſcape, the party ſhall have an Action of Debt againſt the Goaler, and yet he was not committed to him at his Suit, but at the Suit of the King: Howbeit, the Kings Suit ſhall ſerve the Party in this case, because the King was intituled to the Fine by the party; but it is otherwise after the year, for then it will be intended, That the party hath agreed with him that was condemned; and therefore, after the year he shall be put to a Scire facias upon that Judgment. Fitzh. Na. Br. 121. See Cook. 3. Part, in Sir William Herbert's Case before, Sect. 1.

3. The King by his Prerogative is to be preferred in payment of his duty, or debt, by the debtor, although the King's debt be the latter: and therefore the Law gave the King remedy by Writ of Protection cum clausa Nolumus, to protect his debtor, that he should not be sued or attached, untill he had paid the Kings debt: But inconveniencies growing by such delay of other mens Suit, It was enacted by the Statute of 25 E.3. Cap.19. that other Creditors might have their Actions against the Kings Debtor, and proceed to Judgment, but not to Execution, unless the Creditor would take upon him to pay the Kings debt, and then to have Execution for both the debts, (for regularity) whensoever the King is entituled to a Fine or duty by the Suit of the party, the party shall first be satisfied: as in a Decies tantum against a Jurour, or an Embraceor, there the Ten-fold Damages shall be first satisfied, and then the Kings Fine, because it is but as accessary to that. See Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 131. And see Sir Edward Cook's Case, Pasch. 21 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Godbolt 289, 290, 291. acc.

5. Where, and in what Case, a Capias lyeth against an Earl, Baron, Countess, Bishop, Noble-man, or Peer of the Realm; and Where, and in What Case, not.

1. IN an Information in the Star-Chamber, against divers Sergeants at Mace, for arresting the body of Isabell Countess of Rutland, by force of a Capias ad satisfaciendum, upon a Judgment given in the Court of Common-Pleas. It was Resolved by the Court, 1. That the person of a Baron, who is a Lord of Parliament, shall not be arrested in Debt or Trespass, for he shall be tryed by his Peers; and by the reason of their dignities, it shall be intended that they have Assetts: And Barons who are Peers of the Realm, shall not be sworn upon Enquests unless they will; and if they be, they shall be discharged. 2. It was Resolved, That because in the principal Case, a Capias was awarded against the Countess, by the Court of Common-Pleas, That the Sheriff or Officer by his Warrant might without any Offence execute the same, for they ought not to dispute the authority of the Court, but ought to execute the Writs directed to them, and to that they are sworn: and although it appeared in the Capias, that she was a Countess, (against whom a Capias in such case did not lye) yet because that in some Cases (as in cases of Contempt, a Capias lyeth against a Baron, or Countess) It was Resolved, That the Sheriff nor his Officers ought not to examine the Judiciall act of Court. But because that the Sergeants did arrest the Countess upon a feigned Action upon their own head without Warrant, (although they after charged her upon the Capias ad satisfaciendum) It was holden to be a False Imprisonment, and therefore they were fined in the Star-Chamber. Mich. 3. Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Cook 6. Part, 52, 53. the Countess of Rutlands Case.

2. Comites dicuntur à Comitando quia Comitantur Regem, Bracton, L. 1. Cap. 8. Comites, à Comitatu, sive à Societate nomen sumpserunt qui etiam dici possunt Consules. Reges enim tales sibi associant ad Consulendum. And [Earl] was the most eminent and supream Dignity before the Conquest, untill 11 E. 3. when the Black Prince was created Duke of Cornwall; and those of ancient who were created Earls, were of the Blood-Royall; and the King at this day doth style them, per nomen charissimi Consanguinei nostri: and for these Causes, the Law gives them many priviledges; and therefore their bodies shall not be arrested for Debt, Trespass, &c. because the Law doth intend they do assist the King with their Counsel for the Common-wealth, and do keep the Realm in safety by their Prowess and Valour: And if Issue be taken, if the Defendant be an Earl, or not, it shall not be tryed by Jury, but by the King's Writ. Cook. 9. Part, 43. in the Earl of Shrewsbury's Case. See Cook 7. Part, in Nevill's Case, for the Title, Honour, and Dignity of an Earl.

3. More arrested the Earl Rivers by a Bill of Middlesex in a plea of Debt; the Earl not being able to put in sufficient bail, was committed to the Custody of the Marshal of the Marshalsie: He being there in Custody, brought a Habeas Corpus, and pleaded his priviledge of Peerage, and saies, He ought not to be arrested; and demanded Judgment of the Writ, and prayes to be delivered: upon which the Plaintiff demurred. The main Question insisted upon in the Case, was, Whether by taking away the House of Lords in Parliament, whereby their voice in Parliament was gone, the priviledg [of Peerage not to be arrested, for Debt] was also taken away. It was said, That it was not; and the Honour, Dignity, and Priviledges of Peers of the Realm, to have their bodies freed from Arrests, was much ſtood upon, according to the Reſolutions in Cook 7. Part, Nevill's Caſe: and Cook 9. Part, the Earl of Shrewsburies Caſe. It was ſaid by the Court, That the Earl now came too late to pray his Peerage; for he ought to have prayed it at the firſt, and have abated the Writ before he was turned over to the Marſhal of the Court; for now he is in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli, and any body that hath cauſe of Action, may declare againſt him: Alſo it was ſaid, That the preſumption, That he hath ſufficient Freehold, may fail; and it doth not appear by averment, That he hath Freehold, and therefore it ſhall be intended a failer of Juſtice for want of Freehold, if the party ſhould not have been arreſted. The Court all agreed, That he being now in Cuſtodia, the Declaration againſt him was good, and that it was now too late to claim his Priviledg of Peerage. Trin. 1650, in B. R. More and the Earl Rivers Caſe. Styles 222, 223.

Certiorari and Certificate.

1. Where, and in what Caſes it lyes; where not. To whom, and out of what Court, awarded, and directed,; and what to Certifie: And whether it be an Original or Judicial Writ; and where it is well granted; Where not.

1. A Certiorari was directed to two Clerks of the Parliament, to certifie the tenour of an Act of Parliament, which concerned the Attainder of the Duke of Norfolk, made in ſuch a year, and one of the Clarks onely made the Certificate of the Bill naked, without the Circumſtances: and if the ſaid Certificate was good, or not, was the Queſtion? And it was holden, That the Certificate made by one of them, was not good: and becauſe that the purchaſers had procured a Certiorari, and the Tenour of the Act, without ſpeaking of a Commiſſion, The Original Record of the Act was brought by the Clark of the Parliament before the Juſtices at Serjeants-Inne; and becauſe the King when he ſigned the Commiſſion to give his Aſſent to the ſaid Act of Parliament of Attainder of the Duke, was ſo ſick, that he could not well write; and becauſe his name was written after the Teſte, where it ought to have been ſupra Caput; It was declared by the Parliament to be void. 1 Ma. Dyer 93. The Duke of Norfolk's Caſe.

2. A man Outlawed after Judgment in Debt, came gratis into the Court of Common-Pleas, where he was condemned, and was committed to the Fleet; and afterwards a Certiorari was directed Capitali Juſtic. de Banco, to remove the Tenor of the Record of the Outlawry into the Chancery; and alſo to Certifie the truth of the rendring of himſelf, and of his being in priſon; which was certified accordingly, without ſaying any thing, Whether the Plaintiff was ſatisfied, or not? and upon that Certificate, the Defendant had his Pardon allowed, Ita quod ſtet rectus in Curia; where it ſhould be, Ita quod ſatisfaceret Querenti: and upon two Scire facias, and two Nihills retorned, his Charter of pardon of the Outlawry was allowed. Quære there, what remedy for the Plaintiff, becauſe the Statute of 5 E. 3. cap. 12. is, That where one is Outlawed for Fine to the King in Treſpaſs, he ſhall not have Charter of pardon for the Outlawry, till the Chancellour be aſſured that the Plaintiff be ſatisfied. Quære. Mich. 1 & 2 Eliz. Dyer 172.

3. Note; At an Aſſembly of the Juſtices at Serjeants-Inne, It was Reſolved by them, That where divers Records of Verdicts were taken by the Juſtices of Niſi Prius, to be Retorned and Certified into the Courts at Weſtminſter; and the Juſtices of Niſi Prius dyed before the retorn of them, That the Clerk of the Aſſizes, in whoſe Cuſtody the Records were, might bring in the ſaid Records, becauſe the Juſtices before whom the Verdicts were found, were dead; for it is in their diſcretion to give more Credit to the Clerk of the Aſſizes, then to the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Juſtices of Niſi Prius deceaſed; and yet Certiorari have heretofore been directed to the Executors of the Juſtices of Aſſize, to bring in ſuch Records. Mich. 6 Ma. Dyer 163.

4. If a man be Outlawed in London, the Judgment is not to be given by the Coroner who is the Mayor, but by the Sheriffs, by the Cuſtom; and if the Exigent be not retorned, the Outlawry is not pleadable in diſability of the perſon; and in ſuch caſe the Certiorari ſhall be awarded to the Sheriffs; and the Retorn was general; and ſuch Retorn and Certificate was holden to be ſufficient. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer 317.

5. Note: It was ſaid, That the Chancellor, or any Judge of any of the Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, may bring a Record one to another without a Writ of Certiorari, becauſe one Judge is ſufficiently known one to the other; as 3 H. 7. 21. where a Certificate was by the Chancellour alone: But other Judges of Baſe Courts cannot do ſo, nor Juſtices of the Peace; as 3 H.6. where the Certificates made by Suitors was void. Paſch. 24 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 14.

6. A. prayes his Priviledge, becauſe he is a Commoner in Exeter Colledg in Oxford, and brought Letters under the Seal of the Chancellor of Oxford; And he Certified, That A. is a Commoner, as appears by the Certificate of Dr. Prideux Rector of the ſaid Colledge; whereas it ought to have been, That he was a Commoner upon his own knowledge; but afterwards it was Certified, That he was a Commoner there of his own knowledg, and then the Certificate was alone: But becauſe the Certificate came in too late after Imparlance; and it is not that at the time of the Action brought he was a Commoner, but now he is a Commoner, the priviledge was diſallowed. Paſch. 3 Car. in B. R. Fryer and Dewes Caſe, Godbolt. 404.

7. Debt was brought in the Common-Pleas upon a Judgment in the Kings-Bench; the Defendant pleaded Nul tiel Record: The Plaintiff thereupon obtained a Certiorari out of the Chancery, to ſend the Record thither, which by Mittimus might be ſent into the Common-Pleas: It was doubted, Whether ſuch Certiorari ſhould be allowed, becauſe the Record of the Kings-Bench ſhall not be removed out of that Court; for that they are Coram Rege. Divers Preſidents were ſhewed, That ſuch Records were but by Mittimus out of the Chancery into the Common-Pleas. Hill. 20 Eliz. rott. 1374. Mich. 23 & 24 Eliz. in C. 8. It was moved for a Certiorari to remove an Indictment into this Court, of a Battery before the Juſtices of Wales; It was ſaid at the Bar, that it had not bin ſeen from the time of E. 1. that ſuch a Writ had bin granted. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Certiorari ſhould be granted in regard it is in the Kings Caſe. For notwithſtanding the Statute Quod Communia placita non ſequuntur Curiam noſtram; yet the King may ſue in what Court he will. And although the Writ ought not to be granted in the Caſe of a common perſon; yet it may be granted in the Caſe of the King. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Popham 144.

9. A Certiorari was prayed to be Awarded to the Mayor and Juſtices of Dover, being within the Cinque-Ports, to remove an Indictment of Felony againſt one J. S. of Dover; It was moved that it ſhould be directed to the Lord Warden of the Cinque-Ports: But the Court agreed it ſhould be immediately directed to the Juſtices before whom the Indictment was, for they held plea of it as Juſtices of the Peace, by vertue of their Commiſſions, and not by their Ancient Charters, or Preſcription. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part 184.

10. A Certiorari was Awarded to the Mayor of Hithe, and the Juratts there, being one of the Cinque-Ports, to remove an Indictment of Felony, ſci. Buggery againſt T. committed there: They would not return the Writ, becauſe the Liberty is pretended within the Cinque-Ports, and becauſe no Warrant was brought from the Warden. Whereupon an Alias Certiorari being Awarded, and delivered to the Mayor and Jurats, they ſaid they would not return it, and Impriſoned the Meſſenger which brought it, in the common Goal, and the Writ being under Green Wax, a Juratt ſpake contemptuouſly of the Writ, ſaying, This is no time for Green Plums. And for theſe Contempts, an Attachment was Awarded: And a Preſident was ſhewed. 33 E. 1. rott. 101. Where the Biſhop of Durham pretending that he had priviledges, That the Kings Writ ſhould not run there; becauſe one brought the Kings Writ thither, Impriſoned him, and it was adjudged that he ſhould pay a fine to the King Et quod Capiatur and ſhould loſe his Liberties. And Trinit. 21 E. 3. A Prohibition was Awarded to the Biſhop of Norwich, and he Excommunicated the party who brought the Writ; And an Action upon the Caſe being brought againſt him for the ſame, he being found guilty, his Temporalties were ſeiſed into the Kings hands, and 10000 l. damages given againſt him. Paſe. 8. Car. in B. R. Tindal's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 183. & 192. and a Pluries Certiorari was directed to the Mayor and Jurats.

11. One Indicted in the Grand Seſſions at Angleſey in Wales, of Petit Treaſon, a Certiorari was prayed to remove the Indictment, and to have it tryed in another adjoyning County. The Court doubted of it. And Preſidents were ſhewed, That a Certiorari hath bin Awarded in ſuch Caſes, by reaſon of the Statute of 26 H. 8. which allowes, That Indictments in caſes of Felonies, may be enquired in the adjoyning Counties, and it was ſaid That 32 Eliz. ſuch a Certiorari was Granted; But afterwards the Certiorari was ſtayed, and it was appointed by the Court to be argued, whether a Certiorari were grantable. Mich. 9 Car. in B.R. Cro. 1. Part. 245. Chedlyes Caſe.

12. A Judgment given in the Court at Dyn Church, a limb of one of the Cinque-Ports, was removed by Certiorari into the Kings Bench, and a

Scire

Scire facias iſſued for the Defendant, to ſhew cauſe why the Plaintiff ſhould not have Execution upon the Judgment. The Defendant took Exception to the Alias Certiorari, that it is ſaid ſicut prius, and not ſicut Alias, but the Exception was diſallowed; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 22 Car. in B. R. Rooke and Knight's Caſe. Styles 9.

13. It was moved for a Certiorari to remove an Order of Seſſions made for electing of one to be a Conſtable, that the order might be confirmed in the Kings Bench, and the Conſtable compelled to be ſworn; But the Court would not Grant the Certiorari, for that by the granting of it, the Execution of Juſtice, by the Juſtices of Peace might be hindred, but a Mandamus was Awarded to compell the Conſtable to be ſworn. Paſc. 25 Car. in B. R. Styles 127.

14. The Court was moved for a Certiorari to remove an Information exhibited in the Mayors Court of the City of London againſt a Woodmonger of London, grounded upon an Act of Common-Councell; The Court ſaid, We cannot remove it hither if it be grounded upon an Act of Common-Councel: But if the Act of Common-Councel be againſt Law, there we may grant a Certiorari. Paſc. 1649. Styles 211.

15. A Prohibition was prayed to the Admiralty, for preferring an Indictment there, which is not within the Statute touching the Admiralty: But the Court ſaid, That a Prohibition did not lye in Caſes of Felony: But the Court ſaid, The party might have a Certiorari, to remove the Cauſe into the Kings Bench, if there be cauſe. Mich. 1650. Dethick's Caſe. Styles 233.

16. A Certiorari was directed to Juſtices of Peace to remove an Endictment of Forcible Entry, being taken at a Private Seſſions before them. And becauſe they did it not, an Attachment was prayed againſt them: It was urged for them, that they had not contemned the Proces of the Court; for that the Certiorari ought to have bin delivered in open Seſſions of the Peace, and this was at a private Seſſions, and ſo not allowable; and 2. The party who procured the Certiorari, ought to put in ſecurity to proſecute, or elſe it was not to be allowed; but that was not done, therefore they were not bound to allow it; and 3. The Certiorari is to remove a Forcible Entry, but the Return was, That it was a peaceable Entry, and a Forcible deteyner; ſo there was no ſuch Indictment before them, as the Certiorari mentions: But the Court anſwered, the courſe of the Court was, to make ſuch Certioraries in this form. The Court ordered the party to have reſtitution; and the Contempt was ſpared by conſent of the parties. Hill. 23 Car. in B. R. Chamber's and Floyd's Caſe. Styles 89.

17. Note, It was ſaid by Rolls Chief Juſtice, That a Certiorari to remove a Record, ought not to be made, but to a known Officer, who is known to have the Cuſtody of the Records, and therefore the Court would not grant a Certiorari upon an Affidavit, but upon a ſurmiſe made upon the Roll. Paſc. 1653. in B. R. Styles 371.

18. Upon Error brought, of a Judgment upon Non ſum informatus in the Common Pleas; the Error Aſſigned was, That it appeared by the Record, that the Declaration was before the Plaintiff had any cauſe of Action. It was ſaid, If it be ſo, then there is a wrong Original certified: Wherefore a new Certiorari was Awarded to have the true Originall certified. Mich. 1652. Jennings and Downes's Caſe. Styles 352.

19. A man that was fined, and ordered to lye in Priſon, for ſpeaking words againſt the Parliament, till he found ſureties for his good behaviour; was brought to the Bar by Habeas Corpus. It was moved for him that he might be diſcharged, becauſe he was pardoned by the Act of Oblivion: It was ſaid for the Protector, that he may be excepted out of the Act, wherefore he ought not to be delivered upon ſuch ſurmiſe: whereupon a Certiorari was Awarded to remove the Record in B. R. where he ſtands convicted, that he might enter his ſuggeſtion, that he was pardoned. Trin. 1653. The Protector and Norrices Caſe. Styles 454.

20. The Conuſee of a Statute-Merchant ſued a Certiorari out of the Chancery to the Mayor, &c. and thereupon a Capias Iſſued out againſt the Conuſor, returned in C. B; And upon Non eſt inventus, an Alias Capias Iſſued, before the return of which, the Conuſee dyed; And if his Executors ſhould have a Scire facias againſt the Conuſor, or they ſhould ſue a new ſpeciall Writ to the Mayor, to make a new Certificate, was the queſtion; It was the Opinion of the Court, that they ſhould have a new Certiorari, and begin again, notwithſtanding the firſt Certificate; and that was ſaid to be the cleareſt courſe without Error. See 29 H. 8. 29. 9 E. 4. 15. Paſc. 2 Eliz. Dyer 180.

21. A. informed againſt B. upon the Statute of Recuſancy, who pleaded that he was Indicted in Middleſex of the ſame Offence, the Plaintiff ſaid Nul tiel Record; whereupon the Defendant took a Certiorari Juſticiariis pacis; And at the day brought tenorem Recordi, certified by J. S. Cuſtos rotulorum. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Defendant need not take his Certiorari out of the Chancery, and ſo bring it by Mittimus. But this Court might ſend the Certiorari immediately to an Inferiour Court; But if it were to certify the Record it ſelf, or a Certiorari out of the Kings Bench, which removes the very Record it ſelf to hold plea upon, there it was otherwiſe; But in the principal

Caſe,

Caſe, the Certificate was diſallowed, becauſe it ought to have been made in the name of the Juſtice before it was taken; for although the Cuſtos Brevium keep the Records, yet the Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas alone, certifies all Records: And becauſe it appeared after, that the Plea was of a Conviction before Juſtices of Goal-delivery, and ſo the Certiorari and all was void, a Certiorari de Novo was Awarded to the Juſtices of Goal-delivery. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Pie and Thrill's Caſe. Hob. 135.

22. Error was brought by J. S. againſt J. D. upon a Judgment had againſt the Plaintiff's Father, and Error Aſſigned was, for want of Warrant of Attorney; and the Plaintiff prayed one Certiorari to the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, and another to the Cuſtos Brevium, both which returned Non inveni aliquod Warrant. And now the Father of J. D. being dead; the Plaintiff brought a new Writ of Error by Journeyes Accompts, againſt the ſon and heir of J. D. who appeared, and alledged Diminution in hoc, that the Warrant of Attorney is not certified, and prayed another Certiorari to the Chief Juſtice, and another to the Cuſtos Brevium; It was ſaid in this Caſe, That a Certiorari ought not to be granted, for the Certificate is in the nature of a Tryal, which ſhall not be creſſed in the ſame Action, eſpecially when it is certified by one who is Judge of the Record, and a Certiorari ſued at the prayer of the Plaintiff, ſhall be as peremptory as it it had been ſued at the prayer of the Defendant; for the Plaintiff may alledg Dimunition as well as the Defendant: And Dimunition cannot be alledged in this Warrant of Attorney, becauſe it is certified that no Warrant of Attorney is to be found. And ſee 9 E. 4. that after in nullo eſt Erratum is pleaded, which is certified againſt that matter; the party ſhall not alledge Diminution. On the other ſide it was ſaid, That a Certificate upon a Certiorari which was Awarded after a Scire facias ad audiendum Errores, is peremptory and final, but contrary where it is Awarded before the Scire facias; And this Certiorari now prayed, is onely to inform the Court; and here is no contrariety, for the return of the Certiorari is, Non inveni aliquod Warrant. and now preciſely, Non habetur aliquod Warrantum. And therefore if the Court now at the prayer of the Defendant grant another Certiorari, upon which is a return, quod habetur Warrantum Attornat. the ſame is not contrary to the firſt Certificate, but they may both ſtand. The Court was of Opinion, That it would be hard to grant a new Certiorari in this Caſe; but if any variance could be alledged, it ſhould be otherwiſe, as it was adjudged in Laſſells Caſe: who certified no Warrant of Attorney, and afterwards it was moved for another Certiorari, as it is here, and becauſe the Originall was inter Johann. Laſſell Armiger. Executor. Teſtament. &c. where he was not named Executor in the firſt Certiorari; upon that matter a Certiorari de Novo, was granted. Trin. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Darrell and Thinns Caſe. Leon. 22.

23. Error brought to reverſe a Judgment in the Common-Pleas in Debt, the Error Aſſigned was that no Warrant of Attorney was entred in the ſuit in ſuch a Term, certain; and for this cauſe the Rule of the Court was quod Judicium reverſetur, but inaſmuch as this was not entred of Record, and for that the Entry of a Warrant of Attorney in another Term is good, a Certiorari was prayed to inform the Court of all the proceedings, in regard the Judgment for reverſal, was not entred of Record, and the Certiorari was prayed onely to inform the Court, whether any Warrant of Attorney were entred or not, and when: The Court ſaid, It was the default and neglect of the Plaintiff himſelf in the Writ of Error, that the Judgment for reverſall was not entred upon Record; and therefore a Certiorari was granted by the Rule of the Court, Paſc. 7. Jac. in B. R. rott. 653. Smith and Skipwith's Caſe. Bolſtr, 1. Part. 21.

24. Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, upon a Judgment given in an Action of Trover in the Kings Bench, againſt Husband and Wife; and divers Errors were Aſſigned which were over-ruled by the Court: But afterwards it was affirmed to the Court, That there was not any Bail entred for the Wife, Defendant in the Action; and a Certiorari was prayed to certify it; But it was moved, That in regard he had Aſſigned his Errors, and had not Aſſigned that for Error, and the Defendant had pleaded in Nullo eſt Erratum and the Record is Examined, he may not now alledge it, but peradventure to help a Record in affirmance of a Judgment, they may Award a Certiorari ex Officio upon a ſuggeſtion, that there is Diminution. But the Juſtices held, That although the party after In nullo eſt Erratum pleaded, is not receiveable to alledge ſuch a thing for Error, which did not appear in the Record certified; yet to inform the Court he may move them, and they Ex Officio, may Award ſuch Certiorari: Whereupon they Awarded a Certiorari; and the Bail was certified to be well entred, and the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 44 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber, Cox and Cropwell's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 5. See Trinit. 3 Jac. In Error brought to reverſe a Judgment given in the Common Pleas, After Errors Aſſigned, and over-ruled: It was moved to the Court, That the Venire facias was returned in the time of Queen Elizabeth, and the Habeas Corpus Juratorum was ſummoned in Curia noſtra, whereas it ought to have been in Curia nuper Reginæ, for there there was not any ſummons in the Kings Court. It was a manifeſt Error, as it was Reſolved in Sir Francis Knollis and Beckinſhawes Caſe. Whereſore it was prayed that a Certiorari might be Awarded to certify, which was granted (abſent. Popham) But afterwards being moved for ſtay thereof, Popham being in Court, becauſe it was in the diſcretion of the Court to Award it or not, it being after a Nullo eſt Erratum pleaded, and in diſaffirmance of a Judgment, they all agreed, That no Certiorari ſhould be Awarded. 25. Errour in Debt upon an Obligation; The Action was brought, Mich. 13 Jac. and Continued by Imparlance till Mich. 10 Jac. and then, Judgment given by Nihil dicit, The Errour aſſigned was, becauſe the Continuance was ab Oct. Mich. 7 Jac. uſq; Octab. Hill. 7 Jac. whereas Octab. Mic. 7 Jac. was adjourned uſq; menſem. Mich. 7 Jac. the Defendant pleaded in Nullo eſt Erratum. A Certiorari was prayed to Certifie the Writ of Adjournment: It was doubted, Whether it ſhould be awarded after in Nullo eſt Erratum pleaded, becauſe it extends to reverſe a Judgment, and not in affirmance thereof: But it was Reſolved, It ſhould be awarded as wel for the reverſall, as the affirmance of a Judgment. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 251. Cro. 2. Part, 445.

26. A Certiorari was granted to remove Endictments taken in Wales of Ryots; and Doddridg, Juſtice, ſaid, That the Regiſter makes mention of a Certiorari to remove a Record taken at Calice. Trin. Jac. in B. R. Sir John Carews Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 484.

27. Errour of a Judgment in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit in the Common-Pleas after the Record Certified; the Plaintiff in the Errour alledges Diminution for want of an Original, which was Certified and entred: and then aſſigns for Errour, Variance betwixt the Original and the Declaration; which being aſſigned, and a Scire facias ad audiendum Errores brought, the Defendant in the Errour ſurmiſes to the Court, That there was another Original, and the Plaintiff had procured an ill Original to be Certified; prayed a Certiorari to Certifie it. Whereupon, becauſe the Plaintiff might procure the vitious Originall to be Certified without the Defendant's privity in the Writ of Errour: and in truth, that is not the Original upon which the Declaration is founded. Therefore the Court granted to the Defendant another Certiorari: For one perſon ſhall have but one Certiorari; but ſeveral perſons may have ſeveral Certioraries to Certifie. Trin. 18 Jac. in B.R. rott. 1613. Johns and Bowers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 597.

28. Two men and their Wives were Indicted upon the Statute of Forcible Entry, who brought a Certiorari to remove the Indictment; ſome of them did refuſe to be bound to proſecute according to the Statute of 21 Jac. Cap. 8. and therefore, notwithſtanding the Certiorari, the Juſtices of the Peace did proceed to tryal of the Indictment. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That whereas the Statute is, The parties Indicted, &c. ſhall become bound; That if one of the parties find Sureties, and the one will not, yet the Indictment ſhall be removed. 2. Where the Statute is, The parties ſhall be bound in 10 l. with ſufficient Sureties, as the Juſtices of Peace ſhall think fit; That if the Sureties be worth 10 l. the Juſtices cannot refuſe them, becauſe the Statute preſcribes in what ſum they ſhall be bound: and after a Certiorari brought, and tender of ſufficient Sureties, all the proceedings of the Juſtices of Peace are Coram non Judice. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Maſſ. 27.

29. A. and B. are Indicted of Murder; B. flies; A. brings a Certiorari to remove the Indictment into the Kings-Bench. It was moved, Whether by it the whole Record be removed, or but part of it? It was ſaid, That the whole was, and that there could not be a Tranſcript of it, becauſe the Writ ſaith, Recordum et proceſſus cum omnibus attingentibus: But the Court doubted of it, and ſaid, It might be miſchievous if it ſhould be ſo; for ſo the other might be attainted here by Outlawry, who knew not of it. Quære. It was not Reſolved: But it was holden by the Court, That the Clerk of the Aſſizes might bring in the Indictment propriis manibus, without a Certiorari. Trin. 17 Car. in P. R. Maſſ. 112, 113.

29. There are 6. manner of Certificates allowed at the Common-Law for Tryal, 1. In time of War, the Certificate of the Marſhall of the King out of the Realm. 2. In the time of peace out of the Realm, as Outlawry; if it be alledged by the Defendant, That he was impriſoned at Bourdeaux, It ſhall be tryed by the Certificate of the Mayor of Bourdeaux there. 3. The Cuſtome of London, ſhall be Certified by the Mouth of the Recorder. 4. By the Certificate of the Sheriff, upon a Writ to him directed in caſe of Priviledg, If he be a Citizen or Forreiner. 5. Tryall of Records by the Certificates of the Judges, in whoſe Cuſtody they are by the Law. 6. Loyalty of Matrimony, Baſtardy, &c. ſhall be tryed by the Certificate of the Ordinary. Cook 1. Challenge.

Challenge.

1. What ſhall be a good Challenge to the Array; what not. What to the Polles; what not. And what ſhall be a Principall Challenge; what not.

1. IN an Attaint, the Grand-Jury were retorned ſummoned by the Sheriff, who was Coſen to one of the Petit Jury: But the Reſummons, Diſtreſs, and Tales, all were retorned by the New Sheriff; and for this cauſe, the Grand-Jury was quaſhed, and the Tales alſo: but yet Preſidents were ſhewed, that the Tales ſhould ſtand. 6 E. 6. Dyer 78. See Cook 102. acc.

2. In an Attaint the Array was Challenged, becauſe Mary the Wife of J. S. who hath Iſſue a ſon who is an heir, is Coſen to one of the Petit-Jury. It was demurred unto to be no Challenge, becauſe it was not ſhewed, that he was Sheriff at the time of the making of the Pannell; or that Mary was then his wife. 1 Ma. Dyer 91. See 29 H. 8. Dyer 38. acc.

3. It is not a Principal Challenge to ſay, That one of the Jury was choſen Commiſſioner for the other party for Examination of Witneſſes in the Court of Chancery; for that every Commiſſioner is made by the appointment of the King by his Commiſſion under the Great Seal; and therefore he being a Commiſſioner upon Record, is preſumed in Law to be indifferent. But otherwiſe it is of an Arbitrator; for he is created onely by the ſubmiſſion of the parties themſelves: and therefore it is a Principal Challenge to ſay, That ſuch a one Retorned of the Jury, was an Arbitrator for the other, Cook 9. Part, 71. in Richard Peacock's Caſe. Godbolt. 193. Trin. 10 Jac. C. B. Sir P. Forteſcue and Coakes Caſe. acc.

4. In an Aſſiſe in the Common-Pleas, between Newdigate and the Earl of Derby, the Array was Challenged by the Earl, becauſe he was a Peer of the Realm, habeat locum et vocem in Parliamento. And that the Array was made by the late Sheriffs of Middleſex, and no Knight was retorned in the Pannell as there ought to be by the Law of the Land; and the Challenge was awarded good. Paſch. 1 & 2 Ma. Dyer 107. See Plo. Com. 117. acc. And ſee 4 Eliz. Dyer 208. where in the like caſe the Array was Challenged by the Lord Haſtings; and a Writ Iſſued to the Coroners to make a new Pannel. And ſee, That every Baron of the Parliament ought to have a Knight retorned of his Jury. Cook 6. Part, 45. in the Counteſs of Rutland's Caſe.

5. The Earl of Kent being reputed but an Eſquire, brought a Writ of Entry by the Name of Eſquire, and the Pannel was retorned, and then by the Heralds he was declared to be an Earl; and he Challenged the Array, becauſe no Knight was retorned, &c. but the Challenge was not allowed, becauſe there was no default in the Sheriff. 15 Eliz. Dyer 318. See 10 Eliz. Dyer 256. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 156. acc.

6. Judgment in an Action upon the Caſe was reverſed in the Exchequer Chamber; For that the Venire facias was to the Coroners, upon a ſurmiſe made by the Plaintiff, That the Under-Sheriff was the Plaintiff's Coſen, and ſhews how; and becauſe the Defendant non dedicit, therefore it was awarded to the Coroners: Whereas it was ſaid, By Law it was no principal Challenge; and it is no cauſe to award the Venire to the Coroners, though the Defendant do admit the Coſenage: and ſo it was adjudged in Sir Edward Kinaſton and the Tenant of the Earl of Bridgwaters Caſe, where Challenge was taken to the Array, becauſe the Sheriff was Coſen of the Leſſor: And it was adjudged to be no Principal Challenge. Mich. 17 Jac. in the Exchequer. Simonds and Waſhes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 547. See Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. Eire and Bannefters Caſe. Hutton 24. acc.

7. In the Great Caſe, which was between the Earl of Shrewsbury, and the Earl of Rutland, in an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, of the Office and keeping of Clypſon Park; When the Aſſiſe was to be taken in the Country, The Array was Challenged by the Tenants, for that one of the Tenants in the Aſſiſe, had an Action of Treſpaſs hanging againſt the Sheriff: and the Queſtion was, Whether this was a good Cauſe of Challenge to the Array, or not? And the better Opinion of the Book is, That it was no principal Challenge. And the difference was put, Where a man brings an Aſſiſe of certain Land, and hath an Action of Treſpaſs againſt the Sheriff for entring in the ſame Land; there it ſhall be a principal Challenge to the Array: but if it be for Entry into other Land not in demand, there it is otherwiſe. And ſee 38 H. 6. A Juror was challenged, becauſe one of the parties had an Action of Treſpaſs hanging againſt him. And it was holden, It was not a principal Challenge, unleſs it be Treſpaſs of Battery: for it was agreed, That if ſuch an Action be hanging, which tends to the utter undoing of him, againſt whom it is brought, then, if the Defendant in ſuch Action make the Array, this ſhall be a principal Challenge: but if it be ſuch an Action, wherein a man

ſhall recover but his debt or damages, there to ſay, That ſuch Action is hanging between them at the time of the Array made, ſhall be no principall Challenge. Paſch. 8 Jac. in the Kings-Bench. The Earl of Shrewsbury, and the Earl of Rutlands Caſe. Brownlow 2. Part, 229. to 243.

8. An Attaint was brought upon a Falſe Oath made in a Replevin, where the Demandant made Conuſans as Baily to J. S. And in the Attaint ſurmiſe was made, That the Sheriff was Coſen to J.S. and Proces prayed to the Coroners, It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this is not a principal Challenge, but matter of Favour. See 3 H. 7. acc. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 42.

9. A Jury being ready for Tryal at the Barr, the Array was Challenged for want of Hundreders, It was ſaid againſt it, That the Jury was retorned by the Secondary by Rule of Court, and the Hundreders were put out by the Aſſent of the parties. The Court ſaid, The Conſent of the party was to no purpoſe to avoid the Challenge: wherefore the Pannell was quaſhed. And in this caſe it was Ru'ed, That after the firſt man of a Jury is ſworn, the Array cannot be Challenged. Mich. 1649. Syes 233.

10. In an Attaint brought, one of the Grand-Jury was challenged, becauſe he was a Captain, and one of the Petty-Jury was his Lievtenant. It was holden by the whole Court, It was no principal Challenge; and ſo it was where one of the Jurours was Maſter of the Game, and one of the Petit Jury, was Keeper of his Park. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Hodie and Wiſcombs Caſe, Godbolt. 110.

11. In a Writ of Right, the parties joyn the Miſe upon the meer right, Proces went to the Sheriff to retorn 4. Knights to chooſe the Grand Aſſiſe; who retorned two Knights, and two Serjeants; and that there were no more Knights within the County, who were not of affinity to the one or the other. Thorp ſaid, The Retorn was not ſufficient, for that the party might challenge them if they were ſo. Afterwards, ex aſſenſu partium the Retorn was admitted: And it was conceived, If the Sheriff had retorned Gent. and called them Knights, it was ſufficient, and not Traverſable: For the Writ of Attaint is, 24 Militeſ; and yet if the Retorn be Generoſos, it is good. 39 E. 3. 2. 6. See now; 1 Ma. Dyer 98. there need not to be 16 of the Grand Enqueſt in a Writ of Right, for that the form of the Writ is, ad eligendum ex ſcipſis et aliis duodecim.

2. Where a Challenge ſhall be good to the Array; or to a Juror, for Favour, Conſanguinity affinity, or becauſe within the diſtreſſe of the party, Where not; And for other Cauſes: Where not.

1. UPon an Attachment made, That one of the Jurors that gave the Verdict againſt the Plaintiff, had at that time a Suit in Law depending with the Plaintiff; and that therefore the Tryall was not indifferent, prayed a new Tryall. But the Court ſaid, That could not be, for the party might have challenged the Jurour for that cauſe at the Tryall, for want of which he hath now loſt the advantage of it. Mich. 24. Car. in B. R. Lovedayes Caſe. Styles 129.

2. If a Juror be laboured with by the Plaintiff, to appear, and to give his Ve dict according to his Conſcience; If no Cauſe of Challenge, per Curiam, Mich. 38 H. 8. Dyer. 48.

3. The Array was Challenged, becauſe the Sheriff was Conſanguineus Defendentis; It was holden to be a principal Challenge, for that is matter of partiality; and it is as principall a Challenge if he be of the blood of the Sheriffs Wife, as of his own blood; but becauſe he did not ſay that he was Conſanguineus, at the time of the Array made, it was diſallowed. Mich. 29 H. 8. Dyer. 37. See 1. Ma. Dyer. 191. and 14 Eliz. Dyer. 319. acc.

4. A Juror was Challenged in the Common-Pleas, becauſe he was within the diſtreſſe of the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff was Lord of the Hundred in which the Juror was reſident, and did ſuit to his Leet, and this being tryed, and found; It was adjudged a principall Challenge, and the Juror was withdrawn. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 176.

5. A Juror was Challenged becauſe he had not any Lands at the day of the Venire facias within the Hundred, at the retorn of the Writ, and it appeared, that at the day of the Diſtringas, that he had Lands within the Hundred; the Opinion of Harper, Juſtice, and of the Clerks, was that he ſhould be ſworn, becauſe the Challenge is in the preſent Tenſe, quod nihil habet, &c. which Dyer denyed: But he agreed, that if he had at the time of the making of the Pannell, and had not Lands at the time of the diſtreſſe, that he ſhould be ſworn. Quære. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 319.

6. Upon Iſſue joyned in an Ejectione firmæ Challenge made by the Plaintiff, That he & the Sheriff, and one of the two Coroners, were of the Livery of the Earl of Worceſter, he prayed a venire facias to the other Coroner; the Defendant did confeſſe the ſuggeſtion, whereupon the Venire facias iſſued, and it was found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, but becauſe it was ex aſſenſu partium, and alſo it was helped by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Jeofailes, which helps miſconveyance in proces; Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 22 Eliz. Dyer. 367. See Cook 5. Part, 36. in Baynhams Caſe.

7. It is a good Challenge to a Juror becauſe he was Attainted in a Conſpiracy or Attaint: or if any Juror was put into the Pannell at the deſire of the party, it is a good Challenge to the Array: And if a Jury be of two Counties, and both Arrayes are Challenged, two of one County ſhall try the Array of that County, and two of the other ſhall try the Array of the Other County, and they ſhall not be ſworn of the Principall: And two of one Hundred, and two of the other Hundred do ſuffice. If in Treſpaſſe the Defendant doth juſtify as Servant to the Lord, and by his Commandment; It is a good Challenge to the Juror, that he is Tenant to the Lord, although the Lord be not party to the Record: And where a man Challenges the Polles of the principall Pannell, he cannot afterwards Challenge the Array of the Tales; And if the Array be quaſhed, it is upon Record, but if it be affirmed it is not entred. Mich. 2. Jac. in C. B. Friſhwater and Rea's Caſe. Brown. 1. Part, 195.

8. In an Ejectione Firme made upon a Leaſe made by Sir John Digby, after Not-guilty pleaded, A Surmiſe was made of Conſanguinity between the Leſſor of the Plaintiff, and the Sheriff; and thereupon a Venire facias was to the Coroners: and afterwards the Challenge was adjudged inſufficient; and a Venire was awarded to the Sheriff. Mich. 44 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1208. Bedford and Dandyes Caſe. Hutton 25. See Trin. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2284. Craddock and Wenlocks Caſe. Hutton 26. acc.

3. How Challenge may be to the Array, or the Polles: How the Array is to be Challenged, and how to be tryed; and the manner of the Tryall: And where Cauſe ſhall be ſhewed; where not.

1. IN Treſpaſs they were at Iſſue, and the Jury ready at the Barr; For ſtay of Tryall it was moved, That the Sheriff who returned the Pannell held certain Lands of the Manner then in Queſtion, whereof the Defendant had the poſſeſſion; and alſo certain Lands for Term of years of him. The Plaintiff ſaid, That he ought to take himſelf to one Cauſe: But the Court ſaid, That he might take both; for the Challenge is, That he is within the Diſtreſs. The Plaintiff ſaid, Not within the Diſtreſs. The Court appointed Tryers. The Defendant ſaid, That all the Jury are favourable, and prayed Tryers de Circumſtantibus. The Court ſaid, In this Caſe we cannot appoint Tryers, but onely of the Jurours: wherefore let the 4. and 7th be Tryers; but you may refuſe them, and take others if you pleaſe: wherefore the Defendant refuſed the 4th, and the 3. was appointed; and they found the Jury favourable. Wherefore it was Quaſhed. Trin. 30 Eliz. Liſter and Dilabarr Caſe. Goldeſbr. 91.

2. Errour was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, upon a Judgment in the Exchequer; The Errour aſſigned was, That the Sheriffs of London having returned a Jury, they not appearing, the Plaintiff prayed a Tales; and after the Jury made full by Tales, the Plaintiff Challenged the whole Pannel by Exception to the Sheriffs; and the Jury quaſhed, a new Jury was Impanelled by the Coroners; by which Jury the Cauſe was tryed. Exception was, That the Plaintiff having prayed a Tales to the Sheriffs, and obtained it, was eſtopped to Challenge the Pannel, for Exception to the Sheriffs. But it was Reſolved, There could be no Challenge, neither to the Pannels, nor to the Polles, till there were firſt a full Jury; ſo as the Jury not appearing full, there was a neceſſity to have a Tales, or elſe the Challenge could not have been taken, and ſo the cauſe would have remained pro defectu Juratorum, if the Plaintiff had not prayed it, for the Defendant would not; and ſo the Judgment was affirmed. In this caſe it was holden, If the principal Pannel do once appear full, the Challenge muſt be to the Pannel, before any be ſworn, elſe it comes too late. And it was alſo holden, Where the Plaintiff ſues his Venire facias to the Sheriff, he is not thereby eſtopped to Challenge the Pannel for kindred or other cauſe that was before the Venire. Hill. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. Viccars and Langhams Caſe. Hob. 235.

3. Note: It was ſaid by the Court, That a Challenge to the Array is no part of the Record, but ought to be determined, whether it be good, or not, by the Judge, before the tryall of the Cauſe ſhould have been, if the Challenge had not been taken. And it was likewiſe then ſaid, If there be a Demurrer to a Challenge at the Aſſizes, the Judg of Aſſize may determine it there, or over-rule it; or adjourn it to be heard at another time. Mich. 1655.

1655. in B. R. Sergeant Bradshaw and Proctors Case. Styles 464.

4. Note: It was holden by the Court, That where two of the Petty-Jury Challenge the Array, which was tryed against them: If the other Challenge the Polles, they ought to shew cause presently; for as if they had been quashed, all should have had advantage; so they shall have disadvantage now. Trin. 3 Eliz. Dyer 201. Austine and Bakers Case, acc. Pasch. 9 Jac. Bolstrod. 1. Part, 113.

5. Note: Where the King is party in a tryall; Or if the other side Challenge a Jurour, he ought to shew his cause of Challenge presently, and two Tryers shall be chosen, scil. the two former which are sworn, and they are to inform the Court, Whether for this Cause shewed, or for any other cause, the Jurour Challenged be indifferent, or not. Pasc. 10 Jac. in B. R. Bolstr. 1. Part, 191.

6. Where one doth Challenge the Array; after that two Tryers are elected by the Court, and sworn, the Cause of favour then ought to be shewed to the Tryers, which is called their Issue; and after proof of this, they are to deliver their answer to the Court, whether they do find them to be indifferently Impanelled, or not; if they answer, They are not indifferently Impanelled, this is then Entred of Record: but if they answer, They are indifferently impannelled, and so not quashed, they are to proceed to tryall, and no speciall Entry is to be made of this. See 21 E. 4. 59. Pasch. 9 Jac. in B. R. Bolstr. 1. Part, 114.

7. Note: It was said by Man, Secondary; and consented to by the Court; Where one doth challenge the Array, and concludes to Favour, then he may give kindred in Evidence; but if the same be a principal Challenge, then he ought to make mention of the Kindred specially: And where one doth Challenge the Array, this Challenge ought to be read by the Councel in French; and if he do pronounce it himself, he ought to pronounce it in French; but if he do put it into the Court in Writing, it ought to be done in Latine, and the same ought to be recorded in Latine, but to be repeated by the Councel at bar in French. Pasch. 9 Jac. Bolstr. 1. Part, 114.

4. General Rules concerning Challenges: and the Tryal and Ordering of them.

1. A Principall Challenge to the Array is in respect of the Cause of Unindifferency, or default of the Sheriff, or other Officer, who makes the Return, and not in respect of the persons returned where there is no unindifferency, or default in the Sheriff or the Officer. Cook. 1. Part, Institutes, 156.

2. A Common person in case of Petit Treason, Murder, or Felony, may Challenge but 20. persons peremptorily; but in case of Treason, he may Challenge 35 Jurours. But a Peer of the Realm in case of Treason, shall be tryed by his Peers, and cannot make any challenge at all to them, because they are not sworn, but each of them giveth his Judgment upon his Allegiance. Cook. 1. Part, Institutes, 156. b.

3. Challenges to the Polles may be for 4. causes; 1. Propter honoris respectum, as a Peer returned on a Jury in the Case of a Subject, may be Challenged by him: Or he may challenge himself. 2. Propter defectum, Patriæ Libertatis, annui Census, Liberi tenementi, as Aliens, Villains, and those who have not 40 s. by the year. 3. Propter affectum. 4. Propter delictum, as a person Attaint, Outlawed, Stigmaticus. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 157.

4. Concerning Challenges for Hundred. Note these Rules: 1. If in a Reall plea or Action, if two Hundreders appear, it is sufficient. 2. He ought to have Freehold in the Hundred where he dwells. 3. If the Cause of Action ariseth within divers Hundreds, yet the number is sufficient as if they had come out of one. 4. If there be 2. severall Hundreds in one Leet, if he cometh out of any Hundred, it is sufficient. 5. If the party be Lord of the Hundred, if the Jury cometh de Corpore Comitatus, it is sufficient. 6. If a Hundredor sells his Land, it is not material, because his Knowledg continues. 7. He who challengeth for Hundred, must shew in what Hundred, &c. Cook. 1. Part, Institutes, 157.

5. A Principall Challenge for favour is, where there is expres Favour, or expres Malice, Consanguinity, or of the blood of any of the parties, Affinity or Alliance by marriage, these are principal Challenges for Favour. Ibid.

6. In all Challenges; The time to make the Challenge ought to be observed; and therefore,

1. He who hath divers Challenges, ought to take them at one time. 2. If one be challenged by the party, and be found indifferent, he may be afterwards challenged by the other party. 3. After Challenge of the Array, which is found to be duly made. If the ſame party Challengeth the Polles, he muſt ſhew cauſe preſently. 4. When the King is Party, or in an Appeal of Felony, the Defendant who Challengeth for Cauſe, ought to ſhew his Cauſe preſently. 5. In Caſe of Felony or Treaſon, If the party Challenge for Cauſe, and he who is Challenged is found indifferent, yet the perſon may be Challenged peremptorily. 6. In a Challenge for the Hundred, It ought to be before all are ſworn, which ſhould ſerve for Hundreds. 7. The Array of the Tales ſhall not be Challenged by any of the parties untill the Array of the principall Challengers be tryed: But if the Plaintiff Challengeth the Array of the Principall Pannell, the Defendant may Challenge the Array of the Tales. 8. After one hath taken Challenge to the Polles, he cannot Challenge the Array. 9. A Challenge cannot be made to the Array, when the Array is appointed by the Court, becauſe the Court is indifferent, but there a Challenge may be to the Polls. 10. If the cauſe of Challenge touch not the Honour, or diſcredit of the Juror, he ſhall not be examined upon Oath; But upon all other matters he ſhall be examined upon his Oath to inform the Tryers. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 157, 158. And See all theſe Rules of Challenges made good; by the Judgments and books above mentioned, in this Tytle of Challenge.

Chancery and Chancellor.

The Antiquity of the Court; and in what things and Pleas it hath Juriſdiction, what not; and in what Caſes it may Relieve the Plaintiff Complayning there, in what not; And of the Decrees, and Proceedings there.

1. THe Court of Chancery is a fundamental Court, as Antient as the Kingdome it ſelf, and known to the Law: It is the Repoſitory of all the Rights of the People; It is Officina Juſtitiæ, a Court of a high nature; out of which Courts, Iſſue all Originall Writs remediall; A Court wherein Equity is adminiſtred by the King himſelf, or by his Chancellor, in his name, as a ſpeciall truſt committed to him, bounden to no Rules certain, but abſolute and unlimited; though unto diſcretion, ſome Rules and forms are obſerved there, which that Court may juſtly leave in ſpecial Caſes. In that Court, a man ſhall have remedy for that which he hath no remedy at the Common Law, See Cook 4. Part, Inſtitutes, in Title Chancery, Book, Diverſity of Courts: and ſee Mirrour of Juſtices, chap. 1. where it is ordeined, That every one have a Writ remediall from the Kings Chancery, according to his Plaint, without difficulty, and that every one have proces from day to day; without the Seal of the Judge, or of the party: and ſee Cook 9. Part, 99. in Margaret Podges Caſe, where it is ſaid, That all Pleas in Chancery according to the Ordinary power, are Coram Domino Regad, in Cancellaria; And the Keeper of the Great Seal, or Chancellor of England, is but the Queens Deputy during her pleaſure.

2. Where it is found by Office, That the Kings Tenant was ſeiſed of Lands in Fee-ſimple, or in Fee-tail, and that he dyed ſeized, and held of the King in Capite, The Wife may come into the Chancery, and there make Oath, that ſhe will not marry without the Kings Licence; and thereupon the King may Aſſign her Dower in Chancery, of the Mannors and Lands, and Award a Writ to the Eſcheator, to deliver the Lands Aſſigned to her, and although the King doth commit the Cuſtody of the Land to another, yet the King may Aſſign Dower to the Wife in Chancery. Fitz. Nat. Br. 262, 264. And if the King make Livery to the heir of full age, ſaving to the Wife, her Dower to be Aſſigned by the King; then if the Wife will demand Dower, ſhe may ſue for the ſame in the Chancery, and a Writ ſhall be to Eſcheator, to warn the heir to be in Chancery at a certain day, and the ſame day ſhall be given to the Woman to receive her Dower; And if the Land Aſſigned to her in Dower in the Chancery be Evicted from her, ſhe ſhall have a Scire facias to re-ſeize the Land, and be anew-endowed. See 43 Aſſ. Br. Dower. 65. Fitz. Nat. Br. 264. acc.

3. Upon a Bill in Chancery, to be relieved againſt Dower; the Caſe was referred to the Juſtices for their Opinions. The Caſe was this, I. S. ſeiſed of Lands by Indenture, bargains and ſells to the Husband for 120 l. In conſideration, that he ſhall re-demiſe it to him and his Wife for their lives, rendring a Pepper-corn; and with Condition, that if he paid the 120 l. at the end of twenty years, the bargain and ſale ſhould be void. He re-demiſed, and dyed; his Wife brought Dower.

And

And, whether the Plaintiff ſhould be releived againſt this Title of Dower, was the queſtion. And although the Juſtices conceived, that it was but in the nature of a Mortgage, and upon a Mortgage, if the Land be redeemed, the Wife of the Mortgagee ſhall not be endowed; and although the Husband take a Fine, Sur Conuſans de Droit, and renders arrear, although it be once in the Husband, yet the Wife ſhall not be endowed: Yet in this Caſe, they conceived the Wife was to have her Dower, for that by the bargain and ſale the Land was veſted in the Husband, and thereby the Wife entituled to have her Dower; And when a Woman is Dowable by Act, or Rule of Law, a Court of Equity ſhall not bar her to claim her Dower: For where there is no fraud or Covin, a Court of Equity will not relieve. And ſo the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the party by his Bill, was not to be relieved, againſt the Dower in the Court of Chancery. Paſc. 6. Jac. in B. R. Noſh and Preſton's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 138.

4. Note, although the Chancery be alwayes open to purchaſe Original Writs, or to try matters of Equity, to have Writs retornable immediately; Yet if a Writ be Awarded to call one to be a Serjeant at Law, this Writ is of ſo high a nature, viz. ad comparandum, et recipiendum ſtatum et gradum Servientis ad legem, that it cannnot be returned in the time of Vacation, but it ought to be made retornable at a day certain in Term. See 1 Car. Cro. 1. Part, 1. acc.

5. Note, where Lands are holden of the King in Capite: It was Reſolved in ſuch Caſe, That although, that the Statute of Prerogativa Regis, made 17 H. 2. gives power to the King, to endow the Wife of his Tenant in Chancery, although the Heir be of full age; Yet the Statute leaves the ſame to the Election of the Wife, either to be endowed in Chancery by the King, or by the Heir. And therefore, If in ſuch Caſe; the Wife brings a Writ of Dower againſt the heir; and not a Writ to be endowed by the King in Chancery, the Heir being of full age; he ſhall not have in ſuch Caſe, aid of the King. See Cook 4. Part, 16, 17. Anna Bedingfeild's Caſe.

6. In Falſe Impriſonment, the Defendants juſtified, That York was a City by Preſcription, Incorporate by the name of Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty: and that they had had time out of mind, a Court called a Chancery-Court, for all Cauſes of Equity ariſing within the City; and that they had uſed to direct precepts for appearance there, and contempt of Orders there: And ſet forth, That an Order was made by the Court, the Defendant ſhould anſwer, which he abſolutely refuſed to do, and ſo Juſtifies the committing of the Defendant to Priſon; for his contempt in breach of the Order of the Court: It was ſaid in this Caſe, That a Court of Equity could not lye in Grant, much leſſe in Preſcription, being a Juriſdiction to be derived from the Crown: For the King cannot grant any thing in derogation of the Common Law; but tenere placita, according to the Courſe of Law, may be granted and preſcribed in; And it was ſaid, That Cheſter and Durham had Chancery Courts, but that was in regard they were County Palatines, which had Jura Regalia; and Courts of Chancery are incident to a County Palatine, And it was ſaid, That London, and the Cinque-Ports have Courts of Chancery, but they have them by Acts of Parliament; But it was ſaid, that the High Court of Chancery was a fundamentall Court, and had its being with the firſt Government of the Nation: And therefore when a man pleads a thing to be done in the ſaid Court of Chancery, the Party doth not begin his Plea with a Preſcription, but pleads a thing done in Chancery; as men do all things done in the other Courts of Juſtice, as in the Courts of Kings Bench or Common Pleas, without alledging of any Preſcription; or that the ſaid Court hath Title to hold Plea thereof by Preſcription: It was the better Opinion of the Court, That a Court of Chancery could not commence by Preſcription. Paſc. 13 Jac. in B. R. Martin and Maſſhet Caſe. Hob. 63. See Godbolt. 262. acc.

7. A. Bill was exhibited by Sir William Candiſh, and another againſt the Heir of Worſley: And the Caſe upon the hearing appeared to be this, viz. That the Grandfather of Worſley being Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail to the Father. The Grandfather levyed a Fine of Lands 60. years paſt, to J. S. and the Father alſo conveyed the Land by bargain and Sale. And the Land by mean Conveyance came to the Plaintiffs. It was a Queſtion in this Caſe, whether the Plaintiffs in this Caſe could be Relieved in Chancery; and the Lord Keeper calling the Cheif Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, and other of the Juſtices to his Aſſiſtance in the hearing of this Cauſe, It was Reſolved, That Candiſh the Plaintiff could not have any Relief in that Court, becauſe by the Statute, Tenant in tail is diſabled to bar his Iſſues, but by ſuch means as the Laws and Statutes have allowed. Candiſhes and Worſleyes Caſe. Hob. 203.

8. Sir Arthur Mannering and his Wife, one of the co-heirs of Sir Tho. Dennis, exhibited their Bill in Chancery againſt Gabriel Dennis; The effect of the Bill was, That Sir Robert Dennis, Father of Sir Thomas, 18 Eliz. had conveyed the ſubſtance of his whole Inheritance to Sir Thomas for life, with divers Remainders; and for default of Iſſue Male, the Remainder was limited to the Father of the Defendant Gabriel, and the Heirs Males

Males of of his body, and a Proviſo was, giving him power to revoke by writing under his hand and Seal in the preſence of Credible Witneſſes; and it ſet forth, that he had made ſuch a Revocation; The Defendant denyed the Revocation; Examination was preſſed, (for want of Witneſſe) to be had in the Chancery, and to that end, an Injunction was granted. The Lord Keeper afterwards called the Juſtices to his Aſſiſtance, for the hearing of this Cauſe; And, whether this Caſe was examinable in Chancery or not, was the queſtion. It was Reſolved, That this Caſe was not fit for that Court, but for the Common Law, except all Cauſes which were tryable naturally by the Common Law by Jury, ſhould be examinable and tryable in the Chancery per teſtes: which were to confound Juriſdictions, and to make the Common Law, and all the courſe of it needleſſe: wherefore the Suit in Chancery was abſolutely diſmiſt. 13 Jac. in Cancell. Sir Arthur Mannering and Dennis's Caſe. Hob. 203.

9. A. deviſed that J. S. and three others, ſhould ſell certain Lands, and ſhould diſpoſe of the mony to the Defendant, and three others; the Land was ſold accordingly: the Defendant ſued the Executor of J. S. in the Spiritual Court for a fourth part of the mony; whereupon a Prohibition was prayed: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That neither the Land nor the mony was Teſtamentary: for it was not Aſſetts to debts, but a ſum of mony ariſing of Lands appointed to ſpeciall uſe in a way of Equity, and not as a Legacy; and that Court cannot hold plea of a Legacy in Equity: But it was Reſolved, That in ſuch Caſe, the Sute might have bin in the Chancery, or other Court of Equity, to have compelled the Defendant to perform the Legacy. Trin. 1. Jac. in C. B, Edwards and Grovers Caſe. Hob. 265.

10. In an Audita Querela, the Caſe was; A. was bound in a Statute to B. and being taken in Execution, brought Audita Querela, ſuppoſing the Statute to be void, and found four Sureties in Chancery, that the ſaid A. ſhould appear in Chancery octab. Mic. following, Et Staret Juri in ea parte proſequere cum effectum, and to that end were bound, each in 200 l. And if A. appeared not in forma pradict. et proſequeretur cum effectu; And being at Iſſue, upon this ſurmiſe, it was ſent to be tryed in B. R. and there adjudged, That the ſurmiſe was inſufficient; and becauſe he did not render himſelf to Priſon, and pay the Condemnation, a Scire facias was brought upon the Recognizance, And the breach Aſſigned, was, becauſe he paid not the Condemnation, nor rendred himſelf to Priſon. Et ſic non ſtetit Juri, &c. upon which it was demurred. It was moved, The breach was not well Aſſigned; for here the Recognizance is not but for appearance, Et ad proſequendum cum effectu; and there is no word that he ſhould render himſelf or pay the condemnation. But it was Reſolved, That the Recognizance being ad Comparandum et ad ſtandum Juri, &c. It ſhall be taken according to the Courſe of the Court there, which is not only to appear, but to ſatisfy the Condemnation, or to render himſelf to Priſon: And of the Courſe of Chancery, in ſuch Caſe, other Courts ought to take notice, and the words ad ſtandum Juri in ſuch parts, ſhall have ſuch Conſtruction: otherwiſe the party who hath Execution, ſhould be at Miſchief if the Recognizance ſhould be onely ad Comparandum et proſequend. which is onely to proſecute without being Nonſuit, and yet the other ſhould not have other remedy for his debt; Wherefore it was adjudged, the breach was well Aſſigned; and Judgment was given accordingly. Paſc. 3 Jac. in B. R. Woodlich and Maſſy's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 67.

11. A man committed to the Fleet for not performing of a Decree in Chancery, being brought by Habeas Corpus, the Caſe was, A. ſold to B. a young Gentleman, a Jewel which he pretended to be worth 360 l. whereas it was worth but 20 l. and took a Bond of him, of 600 l. in the name of J. S: and A. procured the Bond to be put in ſuit, and procured a Judgment againſt B; and A. paid all the charges of the Action: B. exhibited his Bill in Chancery for Relief: Afterwards B. brought a Writ of Error to reverſe the Judgment, upon which the Judgment was affirmed. Afterwards upon the hearing in Chancery, it was Decreed; That A. ſhould take again his Jewell, and J. S. releaſe, and acknowledge ſatisfaction of the Judgment, It was holden by the Court, That this Decree and Impriſonment after Judgment at the Common Law, was unlawfull: And 5 E. 4. rott. 35. Cobb and Mores Caſe was vouche, where Cobb procured Debt to be brought againſt More, and the Action to be confeſſed by Attorney; and a Writ of Error was brought thereupon, and the Judgment was affirmed; And all this being done, More being beyond Sea, he exhibited his Bill in Chancery, to be releived againſt the Judgment, And in that Caſe it was Reſolved, That after a Judgment at Common Law, he could not be Relieved in Chancery: whereupon he was enforced to exhibite his Bill in Parliament; and there a Speciall Act was made for his Relief. Paſc. 11 Jac. in B. R. Courtney and Glanvill's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 344. See Bolſtr. 2. Part, 301, 302. The ſame Caſe.

12. In an Action brought for non-payment of Rent, upon a Leaſe made by the Queen; The Caſe was; Sir Moyle Finch purchaſed the Reverſion of the Queen. 3 Eliz. and 9 Eliz. entred for for non-payment of the Rent: And the Judgment being Affirmed in a Writ of Error, The Defendant, which was Throgmorton, exhibited his Bill in Chancery; setting forth, That at the time of non-payment, which was 9 Eliz. he sent the Rent by his Servant, who was robbed of it, which, when he knew, he immediately paid it the day after, which the Queen accepted; and that he continued the payment of it, till 30 Eliz. when the Queen sold the Land as a Reversion charged with this Lease, and therefore that it was against Conscience, that the Patentee should now avoid the Lease. To the Bill, Sir Moyle Finch pleaded the proceedings at Common Law, and the Judgment. It was holden by all the Judges of England in this Case, and so Resolved, That although the said Bill did comprehend much matter of Equity, if he had complained before the Judgment; yet having suffered Judgment at the Common Law, he comes too late to be relieved in a Court of Equity. Mich. 40 Eliz. in Sir Moyle Finch and Throgmorton's Case. acc. And so in the principall Case; the party being by Habeas Corpus brought to the Kings Bench, was discharged.

13. The Case was this, The Earl of Derby was Chancellor of Chester; A Suit was there between Sir John Egerton Plaintiff, against the Earl of Derby, and one Kelley, for a Lease, he having the said Lease; The Earl Decreed the Lease for Kelly, and so he was there Judge of his own proper Cause, and made the Decree in effect for himself, Sir John Egerton finding himself grieved by the Decree, being thereby put out of possession, exhibited his Bill here in Chancery against them, to have redresse: It was the Opinion of Cook and Dodd Justices, to which the Lord Chancellor here agreed, That the proceedings might be here in the Chancery Court holden here at Westminster in the same Cause; and so the proceedings went on in the Chancery here after the Decree, passed in the Chancery at Chester. Hill. 11 Jac. Sir John Egerton and Kelly's Case. Bollstr. 3. Part, 118. And in that Case; It was Resolved, That a man Inhabiting out of the County Palatine of Chester, who hath right to Land lying in Chester, that for this he might Sue in the Court of Chancery here, for he ought to have means to come to his right.

14. Where a man is wronged by a Decree in Chancery, his best and onely way to have remedy, is to have his Petition to the King, and so pray his Redress: For so was it done in the great Cause between Sir Moyle Finch, and the Earl of Worcester: Where the Earl of Worcester and others were upon a Feoffment seised to the use of the Lady of Southampton. The Earl was Plaintiff on the behalf of the said Lady in the Chancery against Sr Moile Finch; which Suit was concerning the Manners of Ramestone and Stoke-Coddington: which Decree in Chancery was for the Earl, and against Sir Moyle Finch: with which he finding himself agrieved, the upon he preferred his Petition to Queen Elizabeth, to have some redress; the which matter was referred by her to her Judges; and by them the said Decree was reversed. Mich. 43 Eliz. Sir Moyle Finch and the Earl of Worcester's Case. See before. And see Vandry and Pannells Case. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Case for a Prohibition to Chester. Bolstr. 3. Part, 116. acc.

15. Judgment was given against the Defendant, in Debt brought upon the Statute of 13 Eliz. of Usury: and day being given him to move in Arrest of Judgment, He preferred his Bill in Chancery, and there procured an Injunction, to stay Execution: Notwithstanding which, the Court awarded Execution: and there it was said by the Court, That they much wondred, that none would Inform upon the Statutes of 27 E. 3. Cap. 1. and 4 H. 4. Cap. 23. against the parties that procured such Injunctions for to stay Judgments and Executions after Tryall had at the Common-Law; for that by the same Statutes, be it in a plea reall or personal, after Judgment given, the party ought to be quiet, and submit to it: For Judgments given once in Curia Domini Regis, ought not to be avoided, but by Errour or Attaint. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Heath and Ridleys Case. Bolstr. 2. Part, 194.

16. Note, by Cook, Chief Justice; for a general Rule and Maxime of Law, That if any Court of Equity doth intermeddle with matters, that are properly at the Common-Law, and which do concern matter of Freehold, they are to be prohibited; and the reason is, because they draw the matter there ad aliud examen; and the matter is put in arbitrio, boni viri; and there Judgments are binding, upon which no Writ of Errour or Attaint lyeth, and so the party is without legall remedy: If in the Exchequer or other Courts of Law, the Judges do erre in their Judgments, a Writ of Errour doth lye; but after a Judgment, or a Decree given in a Court of Equity, the party hath no remedy, for that no Errour or Attaint lyeth in the Case, although the Judgment or Decree be Erronious. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Bolstr. 197. acc.

17. A Copy-hold was surrendred to J. S. in trust, that Holland an Alien should take the profits thereof to his own use and benefit. Upon this, an Inquisition was taken for the King; and upon a tryall concerning these Lands, a Special Verdict was found, containing the matter aforesaid. It was said in this Case, That a Trustee, or Cestuy que Trust, cannot take the profits of the Land, but hath hath onely his remedy in Equity; for the Eſtate in the Land is onely in the party truſted: and the King ſhall not have the profits of the Lands upon an Outlawry againſt Ceſtuy que uſe, or Ceſtuy que Truſt. Therefore if the King hath Equity for a thing, he ought not to ſue firſt at the Common-Law. And ſo in this Caſe, Judgment was given againſt the King. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. The King and Hollands Caſe, Styles 21, 41, 75, 84, 90, 94, 95.

18. The Spaniſh Embaſſadour Exhibited his Bill in Chancery againſt Sir Richard Bingley, as Procurator General of all the King of Spain's Subjects, and layed the Goods to belong to the Subjects of his Maſter generally, without naming any perſons certain. The Defendant demurred upon the Bill. Upon a Reference of the Demurrer by the Lord Chancellour, to ſome of the Juſtices, It was by them Reſolved, and they were clear of Opinion, That the Embaſſadour was not to be Anſwered to that Bill: For no man can be a Procurator for me, but my ſelf. Therefore the King cannot make a Procurator for all, or any of his Subjects, without their Allowance. 2. That the Office of an Embaſſadour doth not include a Procuration private, but publique for the King; nor for any ſeverall Subject, otherwiſe then as it concerns the King and his publique Miniſter to protect them, and therefore they may and ought to mediate, proſecute, and defend for them, or any one of them at the Councel-Table, which is as it were a Court of State. But when they come to ſettled Courts, which do and muſt obſerve eſſential forms of proceedings; then they muſt be ruled by them. In this Caſe, The Court appointed a Suit by Conſent in the Chancery, onely to examine Witneſſes, and then to determine the Caſe as Judges of the ſaid Court Arbitrable, and not by Warrant of any Order of Chancery: And ſo a Bill being filled by Conſent, the Juſtices made a final Order in the Cauſe. Don Diego Servienti de Acuna, the Spaniſh Embaſſadour, and Sir Richard Bingley's Caſe. Hob. 72. & 113, 114.

Charge and Diſcharge.

Where Land ſhall be charged; where not.

1. DEbt upon a Bond for performance of Covenants, the Caſe was; Tenant for 31. years, deviſeth to his wife as long as ſhe ſhall be ſole, and a widow, the occupation and profits of his Term; and after her Widowhood expired, all the Leaſe and Intereſt to A. his ſon, and dyeth: He in the Reverſion by Indenture did give, and grant, bargain and ſell, all that his Tenement to the wife, and to her heirs for ever; and did covenant to make further aſſurance; and that it ſhould be diſcharged of all former Bargains, Sales, Titles, Rights, Joyntures, Arrearages of Rents, and all other charges, Except Rents and Services which ſhall be due after to the Chief Lord, &c. And afterwards he levied a Fine; and after the wife married, and the ſon entred, and the Adminiſtrator of the wife brought Debt upon the Bond, againſt the Adminiſtrators of him in the Reverſion; and averred, That the Land at the time of the Feoffment was charged with the ſaid Leaſe of 31 years. It was ſaid, That in this caſe Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff, becauſe it was not diſcharged at the time of the Feoffment: and here, although it be not preſently charged, yet when there is a Charge which doth ariſe, the Covenant is broken. On the other ſide, It was ſaid, That the Term was extinct by the bargain and ſale, and then the Feoffment void, and therefore no charge; and 40 E. 3. was vouched, That a man ſhall not have the Rent and the Decree of the Land alſo. Trin. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Hannington and Orams Caſe. Gold. Obſ. 59, 60.

2. The Caſe was; Tenant for life the Remainder in tail, Tenant in tail in Remainder acknowledged a Statute, and afterwards granted his Remainder; and afterwards Tenant for life dyed, and he in the Remainder entred. It was a Queſtion in this caſe, if now Execution might be ſued upon this Statute, becauſe the Lands was never in the hands of the Conuſor in demeſne: But it was Reſolved, That the Land ſhould be charged, although ſome doubt of it was in 33 H. 8. br. 227. For it was ſaid, That if he in the Remainder make Leaſe to begin at a day to come, yet if he grant over his remainder, the Grantee ſhall hold it charged ged with the Leaſe. And it was ſaid, That every Statute as a Charge is Executory: wherefore a Liberate was awarded to the Conuſee. Hill. 43 Eliz. Bull and James Caſe. Goldeſbr. 120.

3. If Tenant in tail enfeoffeth the heir in tail being under age, and when the heir is of full age, he chargeth the Land with a Rent-charge; And afterwards the Tenant in tail dyeth, whereupon the heir is remitted. In this caſe, by the Remitter, the Grant of the Rent is determined, becauſe the Grantor had not any right of the eſtate in tail in him at the time of the Grant, but onely the eſtate in Fee-ſimple, which he gained by the Feoffment, which is wholly defeated, and the Eſtate of the Land out of which the Rent iſſued, being defeated, the Rent alſo is defeated. But if Tenant in tail makes a Leaſe for life, whereby he gaineth a new Reverſion in Fee, and he granteth a Rent out of the Reverſion; and after Tenant for life dyeth, whereby the Grantor becometh Tenant in tail again, and the Reverſion in Fee is defeated; yet becauſe the Grantor had a Right of the tail in him, cloathed with a defeſible Fee-ſimple, the Rent remaineth good againſt him, but not againſt his Iſſue. Cook. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 349.

4. A man ſeiſed of an Acre of Land, hath Iſſue two ſons, and dyeth; the younger ſon diſſeiſeth the elder; the eldeſt ſon brings an Aſſiſe; the other pleads in barr, and they are at Iſſue; and it is found againſt the Plaintiff by falſe Oath; and afterwards the younger ſon granteth a Rent-charge; and before any Attaint brought, the younger ſon dyeth, and the Land diſcends to the other; in this Caſe he ſhall not avoid the Rent-charge, for that he ſhall not be remitted againſt the Record; and now there is not any one againſt whom he may bring an Attaint. Mich. 25 H. 8. Dyer 5.

5. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That the Lord, or Surveyor, or his Deputy, might demiſe Lands by Copy; The Lord gave authority to two, to make Cuſtomary eſtates for the payment of his debts, and dyed: They held a Court in their own names, and granted Copies in Reverſion, according to the Cuſtome: The wife of the Lord had one of the Copy-holds aſſigned unto her upon a Recovery of the third part of the Mannor for her Dower, and holden, She ſhall avoid the grant by the two Aſſignees. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 251. But Quære of that Caſe, For that, Paſch. 26 Eliz. it was adjudged, That if the Lord taketh a wife, and afterwards granteth the Land by Copy according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, and dyeth; his wife being endowed of the Land amongſt other, ſhall not avoid the Eſtate by Copy; for although that her title of Dower was before the Grant, yet the Title of the Copy-holder which is the Cuſtome, is ancienter than the Title of Dower. Cook 8. Part, 83. in Swaynes Caſe.

6. A man grants a Rent to another upon Condition out of his Land, and afterwards he makes a Feoffment of the Land; the Condition to determine the Rent, doth remain, and is not extinguiſhed by the Feoffment. Ibid.

7. The husband and wife ſuffered a Recovery of a Tenement in London in a Writ of Right brought there, (which by the Cuſtome binds as ſtrong as a Fine at Common-Law) and the ſame was unto the uſe of the Recoverors, untill they had made a Leaſe for 40 years, and afterwards to the uſe of the husband and wife, and the heirs of the wife, the Leaſe is made, and then the husband dyes. It was holden in that caſe, That the wife ſhall not avoid the Leaſe by the Limitation to the Recoverors, untill, &c. but ſhall hold under the Recovery, ſo as the Term ſhall precede her eſtate. Trin. 12 Eliz. Dyer 290. See Cook 2. Part, Beckwiths Caſe. But then it was a Quære, what remedy the wife ſhould have for the Rent, becauſe the wife came en le poſt; and the Rent was reſerved before her Eſtate was made. See 2 Eliz. Dyer 187.

8. If Tenant for life granteth a Rent-charge, and he in the Reverſion granteth another Rent-charge; and afterwards the Tenant for life ſurrendreth, he in the Reverſion ſhall hold the Lands charged with two Rents; and as to one, he ſhall be Tenant in Fee-ſimple; and to the other, but Tenant for life. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer 10. by Knightley.

9. Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder in tail of Land, joyn in a Fine of the Land ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo to A. who renders and grants a Rent-charge of 40 l. per annum to the Tenant for life; he in the Remainder in tail dyeth without Iſſue, he in the ſecond Remainder entreth; the Rent is behind, and the Tenant for life diſtreins for the Rent. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the diſtreſs was well taken, for that the Rent remained as a Charge upon the Land during the life of the Tenant for life; and that the Fine was no diſcontinuance, for that every one granted that which he might lawfully; and that it was no forfeiture by the Tenant for life, for that the Law ſhall Conſtrue this firſt to be a grant of him in the Remainder, and after the grant of the Tenant for life, ut res magis valeat, quàm pereat. Cook 1. Part, 76. Ereſons Caſe.

10. The Father ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made a Feoffment thereof to the uſe of his ſon and heir apparant, and his heirs upon Condition: Afterwards the Father and Son joyned in a Grant of a Rent-Charge, the Condition was broken, and the Father entred; and the Queſtion was, Whether the Father ſhould hold the Land charged with the Rent? And it was Reſolved, That the Charge was good. It was Objected, That the Grant of the Father was but a Confirmation; and a Confirmation cannot alter an Eſtate: But a difference was taken, when the Eſtate of him to whom the Confirmation is made, is made upon an expreſs Condition, there the Confirmation made to him cannot alter it. But when ſuch a Feoffee upon Condition maketh a Feoffment in Fee over, ſo as his Eſtate is ſubject onely to a Condition contained in another Conveyance, but no Condition is expreſſed or annexed by the Feoffor to the Eſtate; there a Confirmation of his eſtate which he hath by abſolute words doth extinct the Condition, which was annexed to the Eſtate of the laſt Feoffee: As if a man grant a Rent-Charge in Fee, the ſame is abſolute; but in reſpect of the Eſtate of the Grantor, it is determinable: and if he in the Reverſion confirm ſuch a Grant, the Confirmation is good; but if the determination of the Rent had been expreſſed by the Deed, the Confirmation had not made it abſolute: As if Leſſee for life grant a Rent to one and his heirs during the life of Leſſee for life, and afterwards the Leſſor confirm the Rent to the Grantee and his heirs, and the Tenant for life dyeth, there the Rent ſhall ceaſe. 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That becauſe all thoſe who had Intereſt in the Land, joyned in the Grant of the Rent-charge, That the Grant was good; for that all Lands in Fee-ſimple may be charged, Concurrentibus, &c. Cook 1. Part, 146. Maywots Caſe.

11. King Ed. the 6th granted to the Lady Mary his ſiſter, the Mannor of D. ſo long as ſhe ſhould continue ſole; The Lady granted a Rent-charge; King Ed. 6. dyed, and then ſhe became Queen, and the Reverſion diſcended unto her, and then ſhe married King Philip of Spain. It was a Quære in 4 Ma. Dyer. 141. If the Queen might avoid the Rent, or not? But ſee that Quære reſolved, in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 300, 301. That the Queen cannot avoid the Rent; but the ſame remains as a Charge upon the Land.

12. After the Statute of 27 H. 8. Cap. 10. of Uſes, A Fine was levied of Lands; the uſe of which was declared by Indenture, that the Conuſor ſhould have and receive a yearly Rent of 10 l. out of the ſaid Land for his life: and becauſe there was no words of diſtreſs in the Indenture, by reaſon of which he might diſtrain for the Rent; It was a Queſtion, Whether the Conuſor might diſtrain for the ſaid Rent? And the Opinion of the Court was, That by a Clauſe in the ſaid Statute of Uſes; the Conuſor might diſtrain for the ſaid Rent: and that it was a good Rent iſſuing and chargeable out of the Land, although there were no words or power of diſtreſs mentioned in the Deed. Paſch. 21 Eliz. Dyer 361. And ſee Cook 2. Part, in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. acc.

13. Putnam by Deed Indented, did enfeoffe Duncomb and his heirs of the Mannor of D. rendring to Putnam and his heirs, a Rent with clauſe of Diſtreſs; and for non-payment a Re-entry: and by another Indenture of the ſame date, Putnam Covenanted with Duncomb to levy a Fine of the ſaid Mannor; which Fine ſhould be to the Uſes and intents and Conditions expreſſed in the former Indentures, and to no other. After, a Fine was levied accordingly by Putnam to Duncomb, with the uſual words of Releaſe of all his Right, &c. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That by this Fine, neither the Rent nor the Condition were extinguiſhed, or touched; but the Rent remained a good Rent chargeable upon the Land, and that by force of the Covenants in the former Indentures. See 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer 157. Putnam and Duncomb Caſe. And ſo was it Reſolved by the Opinion of all the Juſtices, Mich. 23 Eliz. in Tuſſer and Bradborns Caſe; in the caſe of a Common Recovery, where a Rent reſerved to Bradborn and his wife in Fee before by a Fine, was not extinguiſhed by a Recovery afterwards with Warranty ſuffered of the Land; but the Rent continued by the former againſt one of the parties, notwithſtanding the general entry of the parties into the Warranty. See theſe Caſes vouched in Cook 2. Part, in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe, 73. according to which Caſes, it was ſo likewiſe Reſolved in the ſaid Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

14. A man ſeiſed of Black-Acre in Fee, and of White-Acre for years, by Deed granted a Rent out of both Acres to J. S. for life, with Clauſe of diſtreſs in both acres, the Rent was behind; J. S. diſtrained, and avowed the diſtreſs in White-acre. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. When a man grants a Rent out of Land in Fee, and out of a Term for years to have for life, the Freehold of the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the Land in Fee, and not out of the Term, which is but a Chattel; and the agreement of the parties cannot charge ſuch a thing with a Rent, which is not chargeable by the Law. But, 2. In this caſe, it was Reſolved, That White-Acre during the Term, ſhould be charged with the Diſtreſs, although that the Rent was not iſſuing out of it: and when Lands are charged with a Rent in Fee, Goods, and Chattels may be charged to the Diſtreſs; and if the Grantee takes a Leaſe of part of the Land, the ſame doth not ſuſpend the diſtreſs: and a man may diſtrain in his own poſſeſſion; but a man cannot have a rent out of his own Land. And if a man grants to another, That he and his heirs may diſtrain for the Rent of 40 s. within the Mannor of Sale, the ſame amounts to a grant of a Rent out of the ſaid Mannor; But if a man grants a Rent out of the Man-nor of D. and if the Rent be behind, that the Grantee ſhall diſtrain in the Mannor of S. it is but a penalty out of the Mannor of S. becauſe the Rent is granted expreſly out of the Mannor of D. and the Law will not make an Expoſition againſt the expreſs words of the parties. Cook 7. Part, 23, 24. Butts Caſe.

15. If a man grant a Rent in Manerio de B. percipiendum in 100 acres of Land parcel of the ſame Mannor, with clauſe of diſtreſs in the 100. acres; the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the 100 acres only, and the general words ſhall be conſtrued according to the ſpecial words. So if a man grant eth a Rent, and goeth no further, the ſaid general words ſhall create an Eſtate for life: but if the Habendum be for years, the ſame doth qualifie the general words. See Cook 8. Part, 154. in Altham's Caſe, &c.

16. A. Biſhop, after the Statute of 1 Eliz. made a Leaſe of a Fair, parcel of his ſaid Biſhoprick for 3. Lives, rendring the ancient and accuſtomed rent which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the Succeſſour ſhould avoid the Leaſe, becauſe a Fair is but a Franchiſe, or a Liberty, not Mayorable, out of which a Rent could not be reſerved; and though the reſervation of the Rent was good by way of Contract; yet it was not incident to the Reverſion, and ſo not binding to his Succeſſours. Cook 5. Part, 3. Jewells Caſe.

17. In Debt brought upon an Obligation againſt the daughters and heir of Henningham, upon an Obligation of their Father; the Plaintiff recovered upon Nihil dicit; and Judgment general was given: And upon a Scire facies brought to have Execution, the Defendants pleaded Nothing by diſcent in Fee at the day of the Writ brought, nor after. The Opinion of the Court then was, That after a Recovery by Nihil dicit, Non ſum Informatus, or Confeſſion, that the heir comes too late to plead, That he had nothing by diſcent; but he ought to have pleaded that firſt. And in that caſe it was ſaid by Dyer, That if the profits received after the death of the Anceſtor, are ſufficient to ſatisfie the Debt, that the Plaintiff ſhould have a general Judgment againſt the heir: But Manwood held the contrary, that the Judgment ſhould be ſpecial. Quære. See 7 E. 6. Dyer. 81. Pepps Caſe. See 23 Eliz. Dyer 373. the Judgment ſhall be ſpeciall. And ſee Lib. Entries, 171. &c.

18. The Caſe was; A. recovered againſt B. in an Action of Debt; A. made his wife his Executrix, and dyed: The wife made C. her Executor, and dyed: B. dyed, C. brought a Scire facias to have Execution upon the Judgment againſt the heir of B. who pleaded, That he had nothing by diſcent from B. his Father. And it was found, that he had two acres of Land by diſcent. It was moved, That for this falſe plea, he ſhall bind his own Lands: and Pepps Caſe in Plo. Com. 440. was vouched, where in Debt againſt the heir upon his falſe plea, his own Lands ſhould be lyable to the debt. But in this caſe it was Reſolved, That a ſpeciall Judgment ſhould be againſt the heir, and not a general Judgment to charge his own Land, becauſe the heir is not charged here as heir, but as Terr-Tenant; and where the heir is charged as Terr-Tenant, the Judgment ſhall be but ſpeciall. See 33 E. 3. Execution, 162. and ſo Judgment was given in this caſe, That the Plaintiff ſhould have Execution but of the moyety of the Lands which diſcended to the Defendant from his Father; and ſo ſee, there is a difference of Debt againſt the heir, and a Scire facias brought againſt the heir. See Cook 3. Part, in Sir William Herbert's Caſe. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. Bowyer and Rivets Caſe. Popb. 153, 154, 155.

19. A. and his wife, levied a Fine to J. S. of a Rectory, who granted and rendred a Rent-charge of 30 l. per annum iſſuing out of it to A. for his life, to begin after the death of his wife, with a Proviſo, That it ſhould not extend to charge the perſons of the Conuſees, but to charge the Rectory only during the life of the ſaid A; and rendred the Rectory to A. and his wife during the life of the wife, the remainder to J. D. and his wife in tail; the remainder to the right heirs of J. D: A. acknowledged a Statute to B; the wife of A. dyed; thoſe in the remainder entred: A. releaſed the rent to him in the Remainder; The rent upon the Statute is extended; and for the arrearages of it, Debt was brought: And in this caſe, theſe points amongſt others were Reſolved, 1. That a Rent might be extinct as to one perſon; and in eſſe as to another perſon. 2. That the Rent was liable to Execution preſently by the Recognizance, by the Statute of 13 E. 1. to which Eſtate the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 6. did refer. So if a man hath Judgment to recover debt or damages, by that the Rent which he hath of any Eſtate of Freehold is liable to it; and although that after the Judgment he releaſeth it, yet the party ſhall have Execution of the moyety of it by Elegit. 3. It was Reſolved, That the Act of the Conuſor ſhould not barr the Conuſee, who is a ſtranger to the Releaſe of the Execution of the Rent, no default being in him. 4. That the Action of debt did not ly: ſo long as the Extent did endure, for ſo long had the Rent continuance, although the Free-hold of it was determined. 5. Reſolved, That if a man hath a Rent-charge out of Lands, the Rent is behind, the Grantor enfeoffeth J. S. the Rent is behind in his time; J. S. enfeoffeth J. D. the rent is behind again in his time, the Grantee dyeth, That the Executors ſhall have debt againſt each of them for the Rent behind in his time, for qui ſentit Commodum, ſentire debet et Onus. Cook 7. Part, 38, 39. Lillingſton's Caſe.

20. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, did enfeoffe divers perſons to the uſe of himſelf and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to divers other in tail, the Reverſion to the Feoffor and his heirs; the Feoffor had iſſue, and dyed, the Iſſue entred; he in the remainder granted a Rent-charge out of the Land, and the Iſſue in tail levied a Fine, and ſuffered a Recovery, and dyed without Iſſue. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Recoverors, nor any which came in under their Eſtates, ſhould be ſubject to the Charge of him in the remainder, becauſe that the Recoverors are in, of an Eſtate which he hath gained under the Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion; which Eſtate was not ſubject to the Charge of him in the Remainder: and ſo it was Reſolved, That no Leaſe, Rent, nor Eſtate made by him in the remainder, ſhould charge the poſſeſſion of the Recoveror. 2. That a Common Recovery againſt Tenant in tail, did not barr onely the remainder, and all charges made by him in the remainder, but alſo the reverſion, and all Leaſes and Charges by him in the reverſion alſo. 21. In a Writ of Annuity brought, the Caſe was: Queen Elizabeth, ſeiſed of a Barn and Tythes in S. for the life of the Lord Pagett, by Letters Patents, 29 Eliz. demiſed it to Ward for 21 years; Ward afterwards granted to J. F. the Plaintiff an Annual Rent of 10 l. iſſuing out of the ſaid Barn and Tythes for 15 years, with clauſe of diſtreſs. The Lord Pagett dyed; and for the Arrearages of the Rent, J. F. the Plaintiff brought an Annuity. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff, to recover the Annuity; for that the Law at the beginning gave him Election to have it as a Rent, or an Annuity; which Election ſhall not be taken from him, but by his own Act, as in caſe if he purchaſeth part of the Land out of which it is iſſuing: But neither the preſumption of Law, nor the expreſs grant thereof, as a Rent ſhall not take away from the Grantee the benefit of his Election, where no default is in him. And in this caſe it was agreed, That where a Rent was granted out of a Rectory by the Parſon, who afterwards reſigned the Parſonage; that yet the Annuity did lye againſt the Grantor upon the ſame Grant; as it was reported to have been adjudged by Mr. Bendloes in his Reports. Hill. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Fulwood and Wards Caſe, Popham 86, 87.

22. Grantee of a Rent-Charge acknowledged a Statute, and afterwards purchaſed the Land out of which the Rent was iſſuing. It was in this caſe Reſolved by the whole Court, That the rent was ſtill extendable, for that the party by his own act ſhould not avoid the Charge. Eliz. in the Common-Pleas. Dellington and Duncombs Caſe adjudged.

23. If a man grant to another a Rent-charge for his life; Provided, he ſhall not charge his perſon, if the Rent be behind, and the Grantee dyeth, his Executors ſhall charge the perſon of the Grantor in an Action of debt, becauſe otherwiſe they ſhould be without remedy. Cook 6. Part, 41. Sir Anthony Mildmayes Caſe. Cook 7. Part, 34. b. acc.

24. A. grants a Rent-Charge to B. the Rent is behind; B. dyeth, A. enfeoffeth C. of the Lands in Fee, who divers years after enfeoffeth D.; who divers years after enfeoffeth E. It was holden by all the Juſtices upon the Conſtruction of the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Rents, Cap. 37. That E. ſhould be chargeable with the ſaid Arrearages to the Executors of A. But they all agreed, That the Lord by Eſcheat, Tenant in Dower, or by the Curteſie ſhould not be charged, for they do not claim it by the party onely, but alſo by the Law. Mich. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Leon. 302.

Common, and Commoners.

1. Of Common Appendant, Appurtenant, In Groſſe, Common for Cauſe, of Vicaridge; Common ratione Commorantiæ, and of other ſorts of Common.

1. COmmon Appendant is of Common Right, and commenceth by operation of Law, and in favour of Tillage, and it is Appendant onely to Ancient Arrable Land, Hide, and Gain onely for Cattell: Horſes and Oxen to Plough the Land; and Cowes and ſheep to manure the Land, and all for the advancement and bettering of Tillage: And although Common Appendant may be ſaid, to be by preſcription; yet a man needeth not to preſcribe therein: And therefore where a man did preſcribe to have Common appertaining to his houſe and Land.

Land, in the Land of A. and in the Land of B. purchaſed the houſe and Land to which the Common was belonging, and made a Leaſe thereof: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the ſame was not Common Appendant, but Common Appurtenant. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, Tyrringham's Caſe. 37. See acc. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 114.

2. In a Replevin, the Defendant Avowes for damage Feaſant, the Plaintiff claims Common by Preſcription; When the Fields, called F. and G. lye fallow at the time of the year; And, when the Fields are ſowed, after the Corn is Reaped: And it was found, that he had Common, viz. when the Fields lye Fallow every year, at the time of the year; and when the Fields are ſowen, they uſed to have Common from ſuch a time, &c. It was holden in this Caſe, That for Common Appendant, it is not neceſſary to preſcribe in it, but to ſay that he is ſeiſed of a Meſſuage, &c. in Fee, and that he hath Common of Paſture in the ſaid place, as belonging and appertaining to the ſaid Meſſuage and Land, &c. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Johnſon and Thorowgoods Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 177.

3. In Treſpaſſe for depaſturing his Cloſe with Sheep, the Defendant juſtified, becauſe the Prior of Dale was ſeiſed in Fee, of ſuch a great Cloſe in D. and was ſeiſed of the Paſturage aforeſaid, for all his ſheep, Levant, and Couchant, in the ſaid great Cloſe at all times of the year; and it was upon Iſſue joyned, found for the Defendant, and Error thereupon brought: And the Error Aſſigned, was, becauſe the Defendant in the Action did not entitle the Prior to the Common, either by preſcription or Grant, and this being a profit appender, in alieno ſolo, none can entitle himſelf by the Courſe of the Common Law thereunto, without Grant or preſcription: But it was adjudged in this Caſe, That this Paſturage claimed for Sheep Levant, and Couchant upon the Defendants Lands, is Common Appendant, and cannot be ſevered from the ſoil by grant; and then to make a preſcription therein, is not good. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Daniel and the Earl of Hertford's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 390.

4. The Caſe was, A man was ſeiſed of two Yard Lands, with the Appurtenances, and had Common of Paſture for four other Beaſts, three Horſes, and ſixty ſheep; and he Demiſed part of the ſaid two Yard Lands; the Iſſue being in a Replevin; whether he and all thoſe, &c. had Common in the ſaid two Yard Lands: the Commoner having purchaſed part of the Lands. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That this was Common Appendant, and not Appurtenant; and that the purchaſing of the Common Appending, did not extinct the Common; but if a man hath Common in many Acres of Land, a releaſe of Common in one Acre, extinguiſheth the Common, if it be Common Appurtenant: and ſo if a man have Common Appurtenant in Land, if he purchaſe part of the Lands, the Common is extinct. Hill. 6 Jac. in C. B. Morſe and Wills's Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 180.

5. In a Replevin, The Caſe was; A man claimed Common for his Cattell Levant, and Couchant upon his Land; in a Field called D. when the ſaid Field was unſowed with Corn: and ſet forth, that he put ſix Kine, uſing his Common in the ſaid Field; becauſe the Field was not ſowed then with Corn; The Defendant in his Avowry ſaid, That part of the Field was then ſowed with Corn: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That ſowing parcell of the Field, ſhould not hinder the Plaintiff from uſing his Common in the Reſidue, for that might be done by Covin, to deceive the Commoner of his Common. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Trulock and Riggesbyts Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 189.

6. Common Appurtenant is, where a man preſcribes to have Common to his Land for all manner of Cattell, and ſuch Common may be made in groſſe, but it is otherwiſe of Common Appendant. 9 E. 4. 3. 37 H. 6. 34. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 180. acc.

7. A man hath Common Appurtenant by preſcription to a houſe, and 40 Acres of Lands, and he made a Feoffment in Fee of parcell of the Land, It was Reſolved that the Common ſhould be apportioned, and the Feoffee ſhould have Common for that parcell, which was aliened to him; for the preſcription is to have Common in ſuch Land, which is to be taken by the mouths of his Cattell, which are Levant and Couchant upon the Land to which, and that extends to the whole Land, and to every parcell of it, and it cannot be more damage or prejudice to the Tenant of the Land in which the Common is claimed after the ſeverance, then it was before: But it was Reſolved, That if he who hath Common Appurtenant, doth purchaſe parcell of the Land, that the whole Common is extinct, and ſo if he take a Leaſe of part of the Land, the whole Common is ſuſpended, becauſe it is the fault of the Commoner to meddle with the Land which doth not belong unto him. See Trin. 7 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, 78. Wyat Weild's Caſe. See Cook 4. in Tyrringham's Caſe. acc.

8. Note, It was adjudged, That where one had Common Appurtenant to ten Acres of Land for all his Beaſts, Levant and Couchant upon the ſame, and ſold part of it; That the Common ſhould be apportioned; and every one ſhould have Common for his beaſts Levant and Couchant upon his his part, for there are things intire in ſeverall degrees, ſome that cannot be divided by any Acts of the parties, as Warranty, Conditions, and ſuch other, which yet by Act in Law are divided. But the Caſe of a Common, is not ſo ſtrict an entirety; and therefore it may be apportioned and divided. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Hob. 235.

9. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was: A. and others were ſeized in Fee of the place, where being a Waſte, and 2 H. 4. granted by Deed, Indented to the Prior and Covent of S. Common for him, and all his Tenants in D. pro omnibus averiis ſuis communicalibus omni tempore in the ſaid Waſt, Habendum the ſaid Common to the Prior and Covent et ſucceſſoribus et tenentibus ſuis in perpetuum: The Priory being diſſolved, The King Grants the ſaid Tenements; (which anciently were the Priors in D.) with all Commons to them appertaining, to J. S. and his heirs, who conveyes 30 Acres parcell thereof to the Defendant; who thereupon juſtified the uſing of Common there: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved. 1. That the Common granted 2 H. 4. and ſo within memory to the Prior and Covent, may be ſaid Common Appurtenant, to the ſaid Tenements of the ſaid Prior in D. for being Granted to him and his Tenants in D. it is Common Appurtenant, and may paſſe by Feoffment, as Common Appurtenant, together with the Tenements. 2. Although that part of the Land be conveyed, and not the whole; yet it is Common Appurtenant, as Common for the beaſts Levant and Couchant upon the ſaid Lands, and ſhall paſſe with them, with the words cum pertinenciis: And 3. Although it be created within time of memory; yet it is Common Appurtenant, and may be well Apportioned. Mich. 11 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 346. Sacheverill and Porter's Caſe.

10. In Treſpaſſe for breaking his Cloſe, the Defendant pleaded, That J. S. and his Wife were ſeiſed of the Land where, &c. and of the Manor of C. of which the Land where, was parcell; and of a Meſſuage and two Yard Lands, in the right of his Wife for life, the Remainder to J. S. and that they all joyned in a Fine of the ſaid Meſſuage and two Yard Lands, and granted them to the Defendant and his heirs; and further, by the Fine, granted to him Common for four Horſes, and five Beaſts, and 200. ſheep in the ſaid Mannor and Lands in C. and averrs the life of the Husband, and that he put in his Cattell; and for the breaking of part of the Cloſe, he ſhewed a Leaſe for 99 years, upon which Pleas, the Plaintiff did demur. It was ſaid, That the firſt Plea was not good, becauſe he doth not plead that it was Waſte, or Common, otherwiſe he might not claim Common unleſſe in Land Commonable, but that exception was diſallowed, for there is no reſtraint to the Waſtes, or Commons, but it is granted generally in his Manor, and not like the Caſe, 9 H. 6. A Grant of Common ubicunque et quandocunque averia ſua ierint; And therefore in this Caſe, Judgment was given for the Defendant. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Stringer's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 345.

11. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, A man preſcribes to have Common Appurtenant to the Manor of B, for all his beaſts Levant and Couchant upon it; He Grants that Common to A. It was adjudged that he could not grant it over, for he hath it quaſi ſub modo, &c. for the beaſts Levant, &c. But Common Appurtenant for beaſts certain, may be granted over. Hill. 45 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 113. Drury and Kents Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 15.

12. In Treſpaſſe for chaſing 20 of the Plaintiffs beaſts in a Cloſe called A. the Defendant juſtified for damage feaſant in his Freehold, the Plaintiff Replyed, That the Lord de la Ware was ſeiſed thereof in Fee, and granted Common of Paſture to J. S. and his heirs, for 20. beaſts in A. who conveyed it to J. D. who Licenſed the Plaintiff to put in thoſe 20. beaſts: It was ſaid, That this Replication was not good; For the Land is the Defendant's Freehold: and it was ſaid that he who had that Common, could not Licence any other to put in his beaſts, but he ought to uſe it with his own beaſts, and if he might Licence him, yet he could not do it without Deed; But whether he might in this Caſe Licence another to Feed there with ſuch number of beaſts, becauſe it is for a certain number, and is as paſture, and not Common which ought to be taken with the mouths of the Beaſts of the Commoner, the Juſtices doubted of it, and therefore gave no Reſolution in the Caſe. Paſc. 17 Jac. in B.R. rott. 140. Monk and Butler's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 575.

13. A Copyholder for life, had Common in the Lords Waſte. The Lord Grants and confirms the ſaid Copy-hold and Land cum pertinenciis, to him and his heirs; It was Reſolved in this Caſe by all the Court, That the purchaſer ſhould not have Common there as the Copy-holder had, for he hath his Common by reaſon of the Cuſtome which annexeth the ſame to his Cuſtomary eſtate, which being deſtroyed and determined by his own Act, by making it a Freehold, the Common is deſtroyed and determined, without ſpeciall words; and it was Reſolved, That the generall words cum pertinentiis, are not ſufficient to paſſe the Common. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. rott. 120. Marſham and Hunter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 253. See Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Leet's and Edward's Caſe. Hob. 190. acc. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 18. acc.

14. Common for cauſe of Vicinage or Neighbourhour-hood is; where Dale and Sale, two Towns are adjoyning, and the Lord of Dale and his Tenants have Common in a Waſte with theſe of Sale; In ſuch Caſe, They cannot put in their beaſts, in the waſtes each of the other, but in their own waſtes; and then if the Cattell eſcape into the waſtes of the other, they cannot be diſtreyned by the own Towns, for damage Feaſant, but if they be put into the Waſtes, the one or the other, of the ſeverall Lords, by the owners of the Cattell, there they may be diſtreined for damage Feaſant. See 31 H. 8. Dyer. 48. acc. See 15 Eliz. Dyer. 317. acc.

15. In the County of Norfolk, there is a Speciall Manner of Common called Shack, which is to be taken in Arable Land after Harveſt, untill the Land be ſowed again; and that Common which at the beginning was but in nature of feeding by reaſon of Vicinage, for avoiding of Suit in any Place, is by Cuſtome altered in the nature of Common Appendant, or Appurtenant, and in ſome places, yet doth remain in it's proper nature, and to know the ſame, is the Cuſtome of every place. For if in one Town, one who hath gotten divers ſmall parcells of Land together, in which the Inhabitants have uſed to have Shack there, by paſſage into it by bars, or Gates, with their beaſts there, the ſame is taken as Common Appendant, or Appurtenant: But if in ſuch Town of D. the Cuſtome and uſage hath bin, That every owner of the ſame Town hath uſed to encloſe their proper Lands from time to time, and ſo have held it in ſeveralty; There that uſage proves, that the ſame was not but in the nature of Shack originally for the Cauſe of Vicinage: And therefore there he may encloſe, and hold the ſame in ſeveralty: And if a man hath an Ancient Cloſe, in Ancient time taken out of the Field, and he and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath, have holden the ſame alwayes in ſeveralty; he may well hold the ſame encloſed, and as to ſuch parcell ſo encloſed, the Shack retains his Ancient originall nature, and he who claims Shack there, cannot preſcribe to have Common in it. 27 Eliz. in Scaccario, Cook 7. Part, 6. Sir Myles Corbetts Caſe.

16. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant pleaded, That the Cuſtome of the Town of S. is, That every Inhabitant, Commorant, and Reſident within any Ancient Meſſuage, ratione commorantiæ et reſidentiæ ſuæ, have uſed to have Common in the place, where time out of mind for all Cattell Commonable, And pleaded that he was Commorans et inhabitans in prædict. villa de S. in an Ancient Meſſuage there; and ſo juſtified; And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved and adjudged, That this Cuſtome was void and againſt Law, for divers cauſes. 1. Becauſe there are but four manner of Commons, Appendant, Appurtenant in groſſe, or by reaſon of Vicinage and Neighbourhood, and this Common ratione commorantiæ et reſidentiæ, is not any of thoſe manner of Commons. 2. Becauſe no man can have an Intereſt in any Common, in reſpect of a houſe in which he hath not any Intereſt, but onely a Habitation. 3. Becauſe every Common may be extinguiſhed, or ſuſpended, but this Common is of ſuch a nature, and is ſo incident to the perſon, that it cannot be extinguiſhed or ſuſpended. 4. Becauſe that the Law gives no remedy, or Action for him who claims ſuch Common as Inhabitant: And 5. Becauſe if ſuch Common ſhould be allowed, no Improvement could be made in any Waſtes, which ſhould be a great Inconvenience. 4 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 60. Gatewood's Caſe. See Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 507. Coſtard and Wingfield's Caſe. Godbolt. 96. acc. And ſee Cro. 2. Part, 152. the ſame Caſe; where it was alſo Reſolved; That Inhabitants, unleſſe they be Incorporated, cannot preſcribe to have matters of profit in alieno ſolo; but matters of Eaſement, as in a Way, or Cawſey to the Church; or in matters of diſcharge, as to be diſcharged of Toll, or of Tythes, or in a modus Decimandi, there they may preſcribe.

17. Common in groſſe is, where a man preſcribes, that he or his Anceſtors have Common in ſuch Lands, for Cattell without number; and ſuch Common may be uſed with all manner of beaſts; and he who hath ſuch Common, may agiſt the Cattell of a ſtranger in the Common, as the book in 11 H. 62. is: but contrary of him who hath Common Appendant: there he cannot agiſt the Cattell of a ſtranger upon the Common. 15 E. 4. 33. and Fitz. Brevium. 180. acc.

2. By what, and whoſe Acts, Common may be loſt, or extinguiſhed; and where Common may be Improved; where not and by whom.

1. IN Treſpaſſe for taking Turf, and Stones, in the Waſte of the Lord of the Mannor, the Defendant juſtified by a uſitatum fuit, that it had bin there uſed time out of mind, That every Tenant for years of an Ancient Tenement and Cloſe within the ſaid Mannor, have uſed to have Common of Turbary and Limeſtones in the Waſte of the ſaid Mannor; And ſet forth that he was Tenant of an Antient Tenement and Cloſe, and that the ſame was granted to him with all Commons Appurtenant to the ſaid Meſſuage: and ſo juſtified juſtified. It was found by Verdict. That the Abbot of F. was ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor, and that there was ſuch a preſcription for Common: That the poſſeſſions of the Abbot came to the Crown, and that by mean conveyance the ſaid Mannor came to the Plaintiff, and the Tenement and Cloſe came by grant to the Defendant, the queſtion was, when the Lord of a Mannor is ſeiſed of a Waſte, and a Tenant of an Ancient Tenement preſcribes to have Common in the Waſte, and afterwards the Tenement is ſevered from the Mannor, and both are in the hands of the Lord, and afterwards the Lord grants the Tenement and Cloſe for a Term with all Commons to the ſame belonging, whether the Common which was before belonging to the Ancient Tenement ſhould paſſe: In this Caſe, It was ſaid. 1. If this Common was Appurtenant to the ſaid Ancient Meſſuage and Cloſe; that then when the Mannor, and alſo the ſaid Meſſuage and Cloſe come both into the Lords hands, that the Unity of Poſſeſſion in the Lords hand, did deſtroy the Common: And 2. Admitting, it was a Common Appurtenant to the Meſſuage and Cloſe, that the Leſſee here cannot have the Common, the preſcription being grounded upon a weak foundation. For where it is ſaid, That the Leſſee of the ſaid houſe and Cloſe, have uſed to have Common, this is no ſuch uſitatum to have a clear right to the Common, for that every new Leaſe and contract is an Interruption of it, and ſuch a uſage ought to be perpetuall, which it is not here. 2. The Termor cannot have the Common by preſcription, becauſe there is a certain commencement, and determination of his eſtate; and then by the Leaſe of the houſe and Cloſe, although it be with all Commons to the ſame belonging, it will not paſſe: and here the uſitatum eſt is annexed unto the Eſtate of a Termor, which cannot be good: and therefore it was adjudged, That for this cauſe, amongſt other, this preſcription layed by the Termor by uſitatum eſt, is not good, to make his Juſtification good: Judgment was given for the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant. 7 Jac. in B. R. Sir Thomas Grimes and Peacocks Caſe. Rolſtr. 1. Part, 17,18,19.

2. Note, by Popham, Juſtice, there is a difference between a Common appendant, which is of neceſſity, and a Common groſſe; for in caſe of a common appendant, If one Tenant of the Mannor doth purchaſe the Seignory, and then grants over the Tenancy, the Common which he had before, ſhall be ſtill Appendant, for it is not extinguiſhed by the unity, but ſhall paſſe with the Tenancy; but it is otherwiſe of a Common in groſſe. The principall Caſe was, A. was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage called D. which had a Way to it in the Land of J. S. in a Cloſe called Black-Acre. Afterwards A. purchaſed the ſaid Cloſe, and enfeoffed the Plaintiff thereof; and an Action was brought by the Feoffee againſt the Feoffer, for uſing the ſaid way; and the queſtion was, If the way were extinguiſhed or not; It was adjudged, That it was not. It was holden, If it were a way of eaſe or pleaſure, there it ſhould be extinguiſhed by unity; but if it be of neceſſity, there it is otherwiſe: for without it, a man ſhall loſe the benefit of his Land or houſe. 3. What Priviledges the Commoner hath in the ſoil where he claims Common; And what Acts, or things a Commoner may do there, what not: What Actions he may have, and what not; and where he may diſtrein for damage feaſant in the Common, Where not.

1. NOte, he that hath Common in another's Land, hath nothing to do with the Land no more then a meer ſtranger, but onely to put therein his Cattell, and ſo let them feed there with their mouths, and it is not his Common untill his Cattell have fed there, and the owner of a Common cannot Grant the Common to anothers uſe; A Præcipe doth not lye of a Common, for it is not my Common untill my Cattell have eaten it. If a man hath Common in another mans ſoil, and a ſtranger puts in his Cattell, there the Commoner ſhall not have an Action of Treſpaſſe; for although he hath Common, yet the Herbage doth not belong to him; nor can the Commoner do any thing upon the ſoil, though it tendeth to the bettering of the Land, or improving the Common, as to cut buſhes, Fern, or ſuch things which do impair the Common; neither can he make a Fence, or ditch to let out the water which ſpoils the Common; And as the Commoner cannot meddle with the ſoil it ſelf, ſo cannot he meddle with any thing ariſing out of the Land, or that doth grow, or is nouriſhed by the ſame: But a Commoner may diſtreyn Cattell damage feaſant, becauſe their being there, is not onely a damage to the Owner, but alſo to the Commoner, and a Commoner may abate a hedge or a Gate, which hinders him from comming to his Common. See 14 H. 8. 10. 12 H. 8. 2. 27 H. 8. 12. and divers other old books to that purpoſe.

2. Treſpaſſe for digging the Plaintiffs Cloſe, and and killing 18. Conyes; the Defendant to all but killing of two Conies, pleaded Not-guilty; and as to them, he ſaid that the place where, was a Heath, in which he hath Common of Paſture, and that he found them eating the Graſſe, and that he killed them, and carried them away, as it was lawfull for him to do. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved. 1. Although Conyes are fera naturæ, yet they are reduced to ſuch property when they are in my ground, by reaſon of my poſſeſſion which I then have in them, that I may have Treſpaſſe againſt him that takes them. And ſee 22 H. 6. 59. acc. And ſee Regiſter 102. where an Action was brought Quare ducentos cuniculos precii, &c. cepit, which ſhews the party hath property in them. 2. It was Reſolved, That although the Defendant hath Common there; yet he cannot meddle with the Wood, Sand, Graſſe, but by taking it with the mouths of his Cattell. 3. It was Reſolved that the Commoner could not kill the Conies, becauſe the Commoner may have other remedy: As if the Conies deſtroy the Common, ſo as he cannot have ſufficient Common for his Cattell; he may have an Aſſiſe againſt him for putting in of the Conies. Hill. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Conyes Caſe. Godbolt. 123. 124.

3. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. becauſe he digged Clay in the Land where the Plaintiff had Common, and carried away the ſame over the ſaid Common, per quod he loſt his Common, and could not uſe his Common in as ample manner as he did before: The Defendant entituled himſelf to be a Commoner, and alſo to have Common in the ſame Land; and juſtified his Entry, and ſet forth a preſcription, That every Commoner had uſed to dig Clay there; and there being two Iſſues, the firſt was found for the Defendant, that he was a Commoner there, but the ſecond Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff, that there was no ſuch preſcription that a Commoner might dig Clay; and the Jury did aſſeſſe damages for the Plaintiff generally: Whereupon Error was brought, and it was moved that the Plaintiff had not any damage by carrying away of the Clay, becauſe the ſame did not belong to him; and the Declaration is Cepit et aſportavit the Clay, which implies a property and intereſt in the Clay to be in the Plaintiff. But it was adjudged by the Court, That by the digging of a pit the Commoner is prejudiced, and by laying of the Clay upon the Common, the Commoner is prejudiced: and ſo the Damamages are given for the digging and carying the Clay over the Common, and not for the Clay; and if he had ſuffered the Clay to have lyen there, yet the Commoner is prejudiced. Alſo it is damage to him, for it is dangerous leſt his Cattell ſhould fall into the pit; alſo it will not ſuddenly be filled up again, and ſo no Graſſe there for a long time: Alſo the carrying away of the Clay, over the Common, is a detriment to the Common to carry it either by Carts or otherwiſe. And for theſe three wrongs, he layes the rationæ cujus, he could not have his Common in as ample manner as he uſed to have it, and doth not conclude any damage for the Clay; and theſe three Acts do Increaſe the damages, and Cepit et aſportavit doth not alter the Caſe: Wherefore the Judgment given in the Common Pleas, was affirmed, and the damages well aſſeſſed. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Bullen and Sheeves Caſe. Godbolt. 343, 344.

4. It was holden by the whole Court, That a Commoner cannot generally juſtifie the cutting and taking away Buſhes off from the Common; but by Preſcription he may juſtifie the ſame: ſo he may ſay, The Commoner hath, time out of mind, uſed to digg the Land to let out the Water, that he may the better take his Common, with his Cattel. And it was agreed, That if the Lord of the Waſte doth ſurcharge the Common, that the Commoner cannot drive off his Cattel, or diſtrain them Damage feaſant, as he may do the Cattel of a ſtranger; but the remedy againſt the Lord is either an Aſſiſe, or an Action upon the Caſe. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Godbolt 192.

5. Action of Treſpaſs, for that the Defendant entred his Warren, and digged his Land, and chaſed his Coneys, and took them. And as to the entring the Warren, chaſing the Conies, and digging, he pleaded a ſpecial Juſtification, That he had Common there; and becauſe that the Plaintiff ſtored the burrowes there with Conies, and made new holes, by reaſon whereof the Defendant's ſheep feeding there, fell into them, to his great damage, he did with a Ferret hunt the Conies, and ſtopped up the holes with the earth digged: upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was ſaid in this caſe, That a Commoner cannot make any thing de novo in the Land; if he do, he is a Treſpaſſor; But if a Commoner amend or reform a thing which is abuſed, it is no Treſpaſs; and therefore if the Land be full of Mole-hills, he may digg them. And it was ſaid, That in this caſe, it appeareth, that the Coney-berries were made by the Plaintiff himſelf, and he ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong: But it was anſwered and ſaid by the Court, That the Lord may uſe the ſoile as he pleaſeth, and he may make new Coney-berries lawfully, for that they are neceſſary for the preſervation of the Coneys; and the Commoner cannot kill the Conies: So, if the Tenant of the Land cannot kill the Conies with his Ferret: For a free Warren, in ſuch a Precinct, is a charge upon the Land, in whoſe hands ſoever it c meth: But if a man hath a Warren adjoyning to my Land, and the Conies come into my Land out of the Precinct of the Warren, I may kill the Co-ness. And so was it adjudged, Pasch. 43 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 234. in Belly and Laughorns Case. And so in Boster and Hardies Case, in C. B. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Carrill and Bakers Case. Brownlow 227. See Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Holdesden and Grisills Case adjudged accordingly. Brownlow 208. Bolstr. 2. Part, 116. the same Case.

6. In Trespass, the Defendant justified the taking of the Cattel Damage-Feasant, pretending a Custome, That the Plaintiff being Lord, hath the place in which, intirely to himself till Lammas-day, and afterwards it is Common for the Tenants, so as the Plaintiff can put in but 3. horses onely; and because the Plaintiff after Lammas, put in more then 3. horses, the Defendant took them damage-feasant: Being found for the Defendant, It was moved, That the Defendant could not take the Cattle Damage-feasant, because he was onely a Commoner, and the place where, is the Plaintiff's soil, and his Cattle cannot be Damage-feasant upon his own soil. Two of the Justices of the Court held the taking to be good, because the Lord is to be excluded by the Custome for all but his stint; and the Commoners have no other remedy to preserve their right, and feeding their Cattel, but by taking the Lords Cattle, if he offend. But the two other Justices doubted of it, because they did not shew the usage to distrain the Lord's Cattle for damage-feasant. Trin. 6 Jac. in B. R. Kenrich and Pargiters Case, Cro. 2. Part, 208.

7. Note; Upon a Demurrer, the Question was, Whether a Commoner may cast down and fill up Coney-burrowes which were made in the common Waste where he was to have Common: And it was Resolved and Adjudged without Argument, That the Commoner had not any other Interest, then to take the Common by the feeding there of his Cattel, and must not destroy the Conyes nor Coney-burrowes. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Sir Jerome Horsey and Hagbertons Case. Cro. 2. Part, 229. See Trin. 19 Jac. in B. R. Samborn and Harilocs Case. Bridgman 9. & 10. acc.

8. In Debt for Rent, the Defendants confessed the Lease and Reservation of Rent; but pleaded, That he and and all those whose Estate had Common in 10. Acres in E. alwayes for their beasts Levant and Couchant upon the Tenements every year after the Corn sowen, from Aug. 7. till the Corn reaped and carried away; and that before any Rent was due, the Plaintiff the Lessor incloseth the said 10. acres with hedges and ditches, so as he might not use his Common, and thereby the Rent was extinct. It was adjudged in this case against the Defendant, because it is not alledged, the Land is not sowed with Corn; otherwise by his prescription he is not to make Common, 2. Because not alledged, He kept it so inclosed; for otherwise the Commoner might break the hedges, and take his Common. And, 3. Because the rent is not issuing out of the Common, and so there cannot be a suspension of the Rent by enclosing the Land. And for these causes it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Sir Nicholas Sanderson and Harrisons Case. Cro. 2. Part, 679.

9. In Trespass for chasing his Gelding, the Defendant justified for damage-feasant in his Freehold: The Plaintiff replyed, That he was seised of a Messuage and such Lands in M. in Fee, and he and all those whose, &c. had had Common pro 25. magnis averiis, every year after May-day in the place where, &c. and therefore he put in his Gelding to use that Common. It was moved, That the plea pro 25. magnis averiis was not good, because of the Incertainty: but the Exception was disallowed; for it may be intended Horses, Oxen, Kine, or other such beasts, which by the Common phrase of the people are best known among them. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Standred and Shordiches Case, Cro. 2. Part, 580.

Commissions & Commissioners.

1. IF he who ought to levy a Fine, and make the Conusance, cannot come for sickness, or other Cause, into the Court, a Dedimus Potestatem, which is a Commission, may be directed to some Justice, that he go to him to take the Conusance, and to certifie the same to the Justices of the Common-Pleas; which Commission of Dedimus Potestatem ought to recite, That the Writ of Covenant is depending before the said Justices in the Common-Pleas. See for such Commission, or Dedimus Potestatem. Fitzh. Na. Br. 146.

2. Conusance of a Fine was taken by Dedimus Potestatem in the Vacation-time after Hillary Term by Carrell and his Wife, of the Land of the wife, who was then but of the age of 19 years. The Writ of Covenant bare date in January, returnable Crastin. Purificat. and the Dedimus Potestatem bare date 3. dayes after the Original; and the Queens silver was entred in Hillary Term, 4. dayes before the death of the wife, die veneris in Septimana, Pasch. but yet the Fine was not engrossed usq; diem Mercurii proximi; for which cause the heir of the wife prayed, that the Fine might not be be delivered to the party, nor Recorded. But the Opinion of the Court was, becauſe the Fine was well taken by the Commiſsion of Dedimus; and the Queens Silver was entred; the Fine was afterwards engroſſed: and it was holden, That although the wife dyed before the Fine was engroſſed; yet it was a good Fine, and ſhould barr the heir of the wife. Hill. 5 Eliz. Dyer 220. Carrells Caſe. See Cook 5. Part, 39. in Teyes Caſe, acc.

3. A Fine was taken by the Queens Attorney-Generall, and by him certified into the Common-Pleas without any Writ of Dedimus Poteſtatem; and the ſame was holden to be good, although he was not a Juſtice of any of the Benches, but was a Juſtice of Aſſiſe in a Circuit by Commiſsion, where they had a general Patent, ad recipiend. omnes Fines, Concordias, et Recognitiones in Circuitu ſuo; conjunctim et diviſim, with a Non obſtante aliquo Statuto, Ordinatione, &c. Trin. 4 Eliz. Dyer 224.

4. After the Teſte of a Writ of Covenant, and a Dedimus Poteſtatem awarded, and a Conuſance was taken of a Fine of a Feme Sole, and before the day in Bank, to engroſſe and Record the Fine, the woman took a husband; yet becauſe the Commiſsion was well awarded and executed, and the woman had done all that ſhe could or was to do, It was holden by the Court, That the Fine was a good Fine, and that it ſhould be recorded, and ſhould bind the wife and her heirs. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 246.

5. Conuſance of a Fine was taken by a Commiſsion of Dedimus Poteſtatem; but in the Dedimus Poteſtatem there was no mention made where the Land did lye; and all the ſame was certified the ſame Term, and the Kings Silver was Entred, but no Fine was engroſſed, but remained in the Chirographies Office. It was holden, It was a good Fine taken by virtue of the Commiſsion: and that it might be now engroſſed; but becauſe it is in the Election of the party, to have it either with, or without Proclamations, and the party is now dead, ſo as no Election can be made; It was holden, That it ſhould be but a Fine at Common-Law, and not a Fine within the Statute of 4 H. 7. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 254. Comptons Caſe.

6. A Commiſsion was directed to 8. perſons, Nominatim; and 7. of them onely did certifie: the Queſtion was, If it were good, or not? It was Objected, That it was good enough; and to prove it, the Caſe in the Earl of Leiceſter's Caſe in Plo. Com. 393. was vouched; where a Commiſsion was granted to 15, to take an Indictment, authority by the ſame was given to them 15, and to every 4. of them, or more, whereof two to be of the Quorum, to take the Endictment; and it was taken by 8. onely, having ſufficient of the Quorum: and the Endictment there taken was good. But it was Reſolved in the principal caſe, That the power here given to 8. perſons, is a joynt power, and not a ſeveral, and ſo ought to be purſued by them in their Return; and it is not to be otherwiſe, unleſs it be ſo ſet down and ſpecified. And it was ſaid, That if a Writ of Diem Clauſit extremum be directed to 3, and be executed but by two of them, (unleſs it be expreſſed ſpecially in the Writ, That the ſame be executed by them all three, or any two of them) it is not good; and ſo it ſhall be in all ſpeciall Commiſsions, they ought to be ſpecially executed, according as the Commiſsion is to them directed, and they ought not to ſwerve at all from it. Paſch. 3 Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 107.

7. In Hillary Term, 22 Jac. a Commiſsion was awarded, to examine Witneſſes, returnable in Eaſter Term following. The Commiſsioners began the Examination of the Witneſſes upon Monday, 28 March, 1625. which was the day after the demiſe of King James, and continued in Examination of divers Witneſſes untill Friday following; at which day, and not before, having notice of the Demiſe of the King, they ſurceaſed: And whether this Examination of Witneſſes, and their Depoſitions, ſhould be ſuppreſſed, was a Queſtion? which was referred by the King to the Juſtices, to certifie. And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Depoſitions ſhould ſtand; For although legally the Commiſsion was determined by the Demiſe of the King; yet the Commiſsioners having not notice thereof, and having examined concerning the ſame, they held, That ſuch Witneſſes were duly ſworn, and ſhould be allowed, eſpecially in a Court of Equity, where the proceedings be de jure naturali, and not according to the ſtrict courſe of Law; and no inconvenience could proceed upon ſuch proceedings, before notice of the Kings Demiſe. And the Juſtices approved of the Courſe which was uſed in the principal caſe, which was this, That the Witneſſes ſhould be called, and their former Examinations and Interrogatories tendred to ſuch of them as were alive, and whether they approved of them; and not to examine them de novo. It was then propounded to the Juſtices, That if any Witneſſes examined upon ſuch Commiſsion, ſhould be perjured, whether they might be puniſhed by the Statute of 5 Eliz. for that Perjury? And it was Reſolved by them, That they might; for being Examined before Notice of the Kings Demiſe, what they did, was legall. Mich. 3 Car. in C.B. Sir Randolph Crews, and Sir George Vernons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 69, 70.

8. A man was Indicted of the death of a man upon Scarborough Sands, between the High-water mark, and Low-water mark; the party being arraigned upon the ſame Indictment removed in B.R. he ſhewed, That the ſaid Indictment was by virtue of Commiſſion 1. Maii, directed to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe; and pleaded further, That 2. Maii aforeſaid, another Commiſſion iſſued to the Lord Admiral and others, upon the Statute of 28 H. 8. Cap. 15. by which he was Indicted of the ſame Murder, whereof he was now arraigned; and the laſt Commiſſion was, Ad inquirendum tam ſuper altum mare, quàm ſuper Litus maris: and that the ſaid Indictment taken before the Ordinary, was taken before this, upon which he was arraigned. And the Opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, was; That the firſt Commiſſion was repealed by the 2d; and ſo the Indictment upon which he was arraigned taken coram non-Judice: For theſe two Commiſſions are in reſpect of two ſeverall Authorities; the firſt authority meerly by the Common-Law; the other by the Statute: and therefore the party was diſcharged as againſt the Queen, as to that Indictment. Hill. 25 Eliz. in B.R. Lacyes Caſe. Leon. 270.

9. A man was endebted to A. and B. in 100l. and became Bankrupt: A Commiſſion was awarded according to the Statute of 13 Eliz. to C. and D. to make ſale of the goods to the Creditors: afterwards the Bankrupt gave all his goods to another Creditor for his debt; afterwards the Commiſſioners ſold the goods joyntly. It was adjudged, That the ſale of the Goods by the Commiſſioners was good, and according to the Statute; for the intent of the Statute was to relieve the Creditors equally, and that there ſhould be an equall and rateable proportion obſerved in the diſtribution of the Goods to the Creditors. 2. That the Commiſſioners ought to make ſeverall diſtributions to the ſeveral Creditors, and not a joynt-ſale; but that muſt be meant, when their debts are ſeverall. Cook 2. Part, the Caſe of Bankrupts, 23.

10. The Commiſſioners of Bankrupts, have their Warrant and Commiſſion under the Great Seal, and by Act of Parliament; yet, if the Commiſſioners do not purſue the Act, and their Commiſſion; becauſe in ſuch caſe the party hath no other Remedy; he may traverſe contrary to the finding of the Commiſſioners, that he is not a Bankrupt, although that the Commiſſioners do affirm him to be one: And ſo was it adjudged in Cutts and De la Barrs Caſe: which ſee vouched in Cook 8. Part, 121. in the end of Dr. Bonham's Caſe.

11. In the time of the vacancy of the place of the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, Queen Mary granted the Office of Exigenter of London to Coleſhill by Letters Patents: and afterwards by Letters Patents of the ſame date, made Anthony Brown Chief Juſtice of the ſame Court; who being ſworn the firſt day of the Term, refuſed Coleſhill, and ſwore Scroggs in the Office; and there being difference riſen concerning the ſaid Office, a Commiſſion was awarded to Bacon, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and to the Chief Juſtice of the Kings-Bench, and other the Juſtices there, and the Chief Baron, and others, to examine the Right and Title of Coleſhill, and to Certifie, &c. who Certifie, That Coleſhill had no Title; and that the ſaid Office was in the diſpoſition of the Lord Chief Juſtice of the ſaid Court of Common-Pleas; Notwithſtanding which Certificate and Reſolution of the ſaid Juſtices, upon importunate Suit to the Queen, another Commiſſion was directed to the Earl of Bedford, and 9. others, giving them full authority to determine the Intereſt and Title of the ſaid Office betwixt the ſaid parties; and to place Coleſhill in the Office, if, &c. and if Scroggs refuſed to Anſwer before them, to commit him to priſon, &c. Coleſhill exhibited his Bill to the ſaid Commiſſioners, ſetting forth his Title, and that he was diſſeiſed by Scroggs. Scroggs Demurred upon the Bill and the Juriſdiction by the Bill, and would not anſwer; and for this Contempt, he was committed by them to priſon in the Fleet. But in this Caſe, the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas granted a Habeas Corpus directed to the Warden of the Fleet; becauſe he was a neceſſary Member of the Court. Mich. 1 Eliz. Dyer 175. Scroggs Caſe.

12. Note: It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That if a Statute doth make an Offence, which was not an Offence at the Common-Law, and inflicts a pain upon it, to be recovered in any of the Courts of Record; that ſuch a penalty cannot be ſet, or determined before Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer, &c. nor out of the 4. uſuall Courts at Weſtminſter; but if no Court be limited, then the King by his Prerogative may ſue for ſuch penalty in any Court. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer 236. Cook 11. Part, 38. acc.

13. Dower was brought by the Lady of Arundell againſt the Earl of Pembroke, who made default after appearance; before Judgment, Leſſee for years of a houſe prayed to be received to ſave his Term, and ſhewed his Leaſe, which was made by Indenture by the husband after marriage; and ſhewed, That the husband was Attainted; and that the King granted a Commiſſion under the Seal of the Court of Augmentation, to certain Commiſſioners, to aſſign to the Wife the third part of the Land, which was her husband's; by virtue of which Commiſſion, the third part of the Rent of the ſaid houſe was aſſigned to her, which the King, reciting the Commiſſion and the Aſſignment, Confirmed; and the Wife afterwards accepted of it. It was holden in this Caſe, That the aſſignment of Dower by the Commiſſioners in the Court of Augmentation, was not good; but the ſame ſhould have been in the Court of Chancery. And,

2. That

2. That the Aſſignment made by the Commiſſioners in that Court was not good, becauſe they had not purſued their authority: For their Commiſſion was to aſſign Land; and they aſſigned Rent out of Land; and then it followed, That the Confirmation made by the King to Confirm the Aſſignment, was void: And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer 263.

14. Note; upon the Statute of 1 E. 6. Cap. 7. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Patents of Judges, Sheriffs, Eſcheators, Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer, and Goal-Delivery, and Juſtices of Peace were determined by the Demiſe of the King: but not the Offices of Coroners, which are choſen by Writ. 2. That an Original Writ not returned at the death of the King, was not helped by the ſaid Statute. But if a Priſoner Reprieved after Judgment; by the new Juſtices might be executed, was a Quære not Reſolved. Mich. 1 Eliz. Dyer 165. See Cook. 7. Part, 30. acc.

15. A. who by a Patent was made Remembrancer in the Exchequer, was made one of the Barons of the ſame Exchequer. And it was adjudged, That the other Office, was ipſo facto gone and determined; and that there needed no Inquiſition to be made of it, nor Scire facias to avoid it, becauſe that the taking of the Office of a Baron is of Record; and a man cannot be Judge and Miniſter in one and the ſame Court; and therefore the firſt Office is determined, by taking of the ſecond: and there need no Office to be found of it. 3 Eliz. Dyer 198. acc.

16. The Biſhop of London, one of the Commiſſioners, in Cauſes Eccleſiaſticall, was tranſlated, and made Biſhop of York; and the Queſtion was, Whether his authority to exerciſe the ſaid Commiſſion was determined, or not? And it was the Opinion of divers of the Juſtices, That it was not; but that his authority did remain by a Clauſe in the Statute of 1 E. 6. cap. 7. which is, viz. Be it Enacted, &c. That albeit any perſon being Juſtice of Aſſiſe, &c. Or being in any other of the Kings Commiſſions, &c. ſhall fortune to be made or created Duke, Archbiſhop, &c. which Statute ſhall be expounded Liberally, to extend to all Biſhops, &c. Trin. 12 Eliz. Dyer 289.

17. Note; It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Commiſſioners in the Commiſſion of Sewers, ought to tax all that are in danger to be endamaged equally, and not he who hath the Land next adjoyning to the River onely; for the Statute of 6 H. 6. cap. 6. is, in which the Commiſſion of Sewers is formed, That no perſon of any eſtate or condition ſhall be ſpared. And if the Law ſhould be otherwiſe, inconvenience might follow; for it may be, that the force and rage of the water ſhall be ſo great, that the value of the Land adjoyning will not ſerve to make the Banks: and therefore the Statute will have all to be contributary, for Qui ſentit Commodum, ſentire debet et Onus. Hill. 40 Eliz. Cook 5. Part, 100. Rooks Caſe.

18. Upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 5. of Sewers, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if one who is bound by Preſcription to repair a Wall contra fluxum maris, and he keeps the Wall in good repair, and by ſudden flouds the Wall is driven down, and the Sea overflowes; That the Commiſſioners of Sewers ought to tax all ſuch perſons who hold any Lands or Tenements, Common of Paſture, or profit of Feeding, or who may have loſſe or damage by any manner of means according to the quality of their Lands to repair it, becauſe there was no default in him who ought to repair it; but it was by the Act of God: But if one be bound by Preſcription or otherwiſe, to repair a Wall, if any default be in him, and the danger is not inevitable, but he may well repair it, The Commiſſioners may charge him onely to repair it; and if by his default, the danger become inevitable, or that he himſelf be not able to repair it, whereby others are charged, each of them may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him who ought to repair it; Cook 10. Part, 139. Knightleys Caſe.

19. The Caſe upon the Commiſſion of Sewers concerning Cheſter-Mills was this, That there was a Cawſey or Mill-bank of ſtone in the River of Dee, and City of Cheſter; which Cawſey before the Raign of King Edw. 1. was erected for the neceſſary maintenance of certain Mills, ſome of the Kings, and others of the Subjects, at the end of the ſaid Cawſey. And a Decree was made by the Commiſſioners of Sewers, for a Breach to be made of 10. Poles in length in the ſaid Cawſey; which Cawſey was Erected before the time of King Ed. 1. and ſo continued without any exaltation or inhanſing; And if by any Decree of the Commiſſioners by force of any Statute, any breach of the ſaid Cawſey was referred to divers of the Juſtices to conſider of: And by the ſaid Juſtices, It was Reſolved, That by the Statute of Magna Charta, Omnes Kidelli deponantur, extends upon Weares onely for taking of Fiſh; And that Commiſſioners of Sewers cannot ſubvert a Cawſey, &c. erected before the time of Ed. 1. But by the Statutes of 25 E. 3. cap. 4. & 1 H. 4. cap. 12. if they be Inhanſed, they ought to be amended by abatement of the Inhanſement. And it was Reſolved, That the Cawſey in Queſtion being before the time of Ed. 1. and never ſince inhaunſed; was out of the ſaid Statutes. See Cook. Select Caſe. 36. Cook 10. Part, 137. The Caſe of Cheſter-Mills.

20. Com-

20. Commiſſions under the great Seal of England in Engliſh, were directed to divers Commiſſioners in ſeveral Counties, to enquire of divers Articles annexed to it: And the Articles were alſo in Engliſh, to enquire of Depopulation of houſes, Converting of Arrable to Paſture, &c. But the Commiſſioners ſhould not have power to hear, and determine the ſaid Offences, but onely to enquire of them: By colour of the ſaid Commiſſions, the Commiſſioners took many preſentments in Engliſh, and retorned them into the Chancery. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of England, That the ſaid Commiſſions were againſt Law, for theſe cauſes. 1. Becauſe they were in Engliſh. 2. Becauſe the Offences enquireable were not certain within the Commiſſions themſelves, but in a Schedule annexed to them. 3. Becauſe they were onely to enquire, which is not Law, for ſo a man may unjuſtly be accuſed by Perjury, and he ſhall not have any remedy, for that it is not within the Statute of 5 Eliz. Alſo the party may be defamed, and ſhall have no Traverſe to it: And it was ſaid, That ſuch Commiſſions were never ſeen to enquire onely. Trin. 5 Jac. Cook 12. Part, 31. acc.

21. Upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. chap. 5. Of Sewers. The Caſe was this; The Commiſſioners do decree, That a new River ſhall be made out of the River of O. through the main Land for 7. miles; unto another part of the ſame River, and for the doing of it, Tax nine ſeverall Towns, and the Inhabitants, and the Tax was generall upon every Town, &c. In this Caſe, two points were Reſolved. 1. That the Commiſſioners cannot make any new River, nor can they make any new Inventions (as artificial Mills to caſt out the water, for that ſuch new Inventions are many times to the damage of the Subject). But ſuch new Rivers, or ſuch new Inventions, if they be pro bono publico, ought to be made by Parliament: But the new making of an old bank by them, or a Sewer more fit with ſome ſmall alteration and diſtance, upon an inevitable neceſſity, may be warranted by them. 2. That the Tax generally of a ſeverall ſum in groſſe upon every Town, was not warranted by the Commiſſion; but the Tax ought to be particular upon every Owner, or poſſeſſor. 1. According to the quality of their Lands, rents, and number of Acres, and 2. According to the rate of every perſons portion, tenure, profit, or Common of Paſture, or of Fiſhing, or other Commodity. Cook 10. Part, 141. the Caſe of the Iſle of Ely.

22. Note, That after the Argument of the great Caſe, De modo Decimandi; and Prohibitions, which was Argued both by the Eccleſiaſticall Councel, and by ſome of the Councell at the Common Law; That it was ſaid by King James in that Caſe, That the High Commiſſion ought not to meddle with any thing, but that which is enormious and exorbitant, and cannot permit the Ordinary proceſſe of the Eccleſiaſticall Law, and which the ſame Law cannot puniſh: And that was the Cauſe of the Juſtification of the ſaid Commiſſion. And therefore, although every offence ex vi termini, is enormious; yet in the Statute, it is to be intended of ſuch an offence as is contra omnem normam, as Hereſy, Schiſm, Inceſt, and the like great Offences. For the King ſaid, That it was not reaſon, That the High Commiſſion ſhould have Conuſance of Common Offences, but to leave them to the Ordinaries, becauſe that the party cannot have any Appeal, in caſe the High Commiſſion ſhall determine of it. Cook, Seleſt Caſes. in the Caſe De modo Decimandi. in fine. 47.

23. Note, It was Reſolved, that the Eccleſiaſticall Judges, the High Commiſſion Court, cannot examine a man upon Oath, upon the Intention and thought of his heart, for Cogitationis pœnam nemo emovet: And in Caſes where a man is to be examined upon his Oath, he ought to be examined upon Acts or words, and not of the Intention and thought of his heart. And if every man ſhould be examined upon his Oath, what Opinion he holdeth concerning any point of Religion, he is not bound to anſwer the ſame; for in time of danger, Quis modò tutus erit, if every one ſhould be examined of his thoughts? And ſo long as a man doth not offend, neither in Act, nor in word, any Law eſtabliſhed, there is no reaſon that he ſhould be examined upon his thought or cogitation. It was Reſolved, That the High Commiſſioners ſhall not have any Conuſans of any ſcandal to themſelves, for that they are parties, and ſuch ſcandall is puniſhed by the Common Law, as it was Reſolved in Hales Caſe. 3. It was ſaid and Reſolved, That the High Commiſſioners cannot proceed, or hold Juriſdiction in any Cauſe which is a Temporall caſe. And therefore it was ſaid, That where the Biſhop of Winchester being Viſiter of the School of Winchester, of the Foundation of William Wickham, 5 Caroli, cited the Uſher of the ſaid School by force of the ſaid Commiſſion to appear before them, and there proceeded againſt him, that they incurred the danger of Præmunire. And ſo alſo it was holden, in the Caſe of Frank and Sir Ralph Boſvile Knight, where the Biſhop of Canterbury and his Colleague, cited Frank a Maſter of Arts, and Uſher of the School of Sevenoak in Kent, to appear before the High Commiſſioners at Lambeth: and when Frank appeared; The Archbiſhop and his Aſſociates made an Order, That Frank ſhould continue in the ſaid School; and that he ſhould have 20 l. paid him by Sir Ralph Boſvile Knight.

Conditions.

1. What ſhall be a good Condition, What not: And what words ſhall be a Condition, Limitation, or Covenant; in Grants, both of the King, and of a Common perſon; and what not: And Where Conditions ſhall be void, becauſe Impoſſible, Repugnant, and againſt Law Where; not.

1. IN an Ejectione firme, the Caſe was, A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent upon Condition, with a Covenant that the Leſſee ſhould repair the houſes: Afterwards he deviſed the ſame Lands to the ſame Leſſee for more years, rendring the like rent, and under the like Covenants, as in the firſt Leaſe, the Remainder over to another in Fee; and dyed: The firſt Leaſe expired, and the Leſſee held in by force of the Deviſe, and did not repair the houſes. It was Objected, that this was a Condition; but the Court held it to be no Condition, becauſe the words are under the like Covenants, which do not make a Condition, although it be in the Caſe of a Will: And it was ſaid, that the words (under the like Covenants) were void. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 74.

2. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made his Will, and thereby deviſed his Land to his younger ſon H. when he ſhould accompliſh the age of 24. years, upon Condition that he ſhould pay 20 l. to the daughter of the Deviſor, and if it ſhould happen that he dye before the age of 24. years. Then that R. his eldeſt ſon ſhould have the Land, upon Condition that he ſhould pay the ſaid daughter 20 l. And if his ſaid ſons failed to pay the ſaid 20 l. that the Land ſhould remain to his ſaid daughter. The Deviſor dyed, H. his younger ſon entred after his age of 24. years, and did not pay the 20 l. R. the elder ſon entred upon him; the queſtion in this Caſe was, If it were a Condition or a Limitation: It was Objected, That it was a Condition, for ſo are the expreſſe words; But the Opinion of the whole Court was, and ſo it was Reſolved, That it was a Limitation, and not a Condition; and the reaſon was, becauſe R. the eldeſt ſon was to have nothing, if H. the younger ſon did not dye before the age of 24 years; and the intent of the Deviſor appears, that his daughter ſhould have the Land for non-payment of the mony; And a Caſe 9 Eliz. out of Dalisons Reports, was vouched to confirm this Caſe: Where a man deviſed Land to his younger ſon, upon condition of payment of a certain ſum of mony to his daughter, the Remainder over to another of his younger ſons; and the firſt Deviſee entred, and did not pay the mony; and he in the Remainder took advantage of it. Wherefore the Court agreed, That in the principall Caſe, It was a Limitation, and not a Condition, and therefore the Entry of the eldeſt ſon was not Lawfull. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Wiſeman and Baldwin's Caſe. Goldesbr. 153.

3. In an Ejectione firme the Caſe was, That a Leaſe was made to a Woman a Widow, for 40. years ſub hac tamen conditione, quòd ſi ipſa tam diu ſola fuerit, et inhibitaverit in the ſame houſe: The Woman continued Widow all her life, and dwelt all her time in the ſaid houſe, and dyed within the Term; The queſtion was, whether the Term determined or not; and whether the words make a Condition or Limitation. The Court was of Opinion in this Caſe, That the words were inſenſible, and that it was neither a Condition, nor a Limitation: But if the word (ſi) had bin omitted, it would have been a Condition. And it was ſaid, That if I make a Leaſe for 40. years, If the Leſſee dwell upon the thing lett, during the Term; there if the Leſſee dye, the Leaſe is determined, for that the point of Limitation goeth to all the Term: but if it be a Leaſe for 40. years, if the Leſſee dwell upon it during his life, there, if he dye, the Leaſe continueth. The Opinion of the Court in the principall Caſe was, That the Term did yet continue: And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 43 in C. B. Sayer and Hardy's Caſe. Goldesbr. 179.

4. The Prior and Covent of Bath made a Leaſe of a Farm to B. and E. his Wife for their lives, the Remainder to C. their ſon for life, ſi ipſa inhabitaret et reſidens eſſet omnino de et ſuper the ſaid Farm; and if it ſhould happen, the ſaid C. to dye before the ſaid B. and E. then the ſaid Prior and Covent would, that the ſaid Farm ſhould remain to D. another ſon of the ſaid B. and E. ſi ipſe etiam vellet inhabitare et reſidens eſſe infra prædict. grangiam et firmam durante termino ſuperius expreſſo. B. and E. entred: C. dyes, B. and E. dyed, D. entred; And, in pleading, ſaid, That ipſa continuo poſt ingreſſum ſuum inhabitavit et reſidens fuit infra prædict. firmam; The point in Law was, whether it were a good remainder which depended upon this, If the words implyed a Condition, or a Limitation; In which the Juſtices were devided in Opinion; ſome held it a Condition, others a Limitation; mitation; But they all agreed, That, be it a Condition, or a Limitation, yet the Remainder was good; And they all agreed, That if it ſhould be a Condition, that then by the intent of it, the Deſendant ought to be reſident upon it all the Term, from the time the Remainder fell, untill the death of the Tenant. Paſc. 4 E. 6. Coltheirſt and Bemſtons Caſe. Plo. Com. 21. to 35.

5. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was Appendant, by Deed Indented, bargained and ſold the Mannor with the Appurtenances, for good conſideration to B. and his heirs: Provided, That B. ſhall give the Advowſon to A. for his life; and, if it happen not void, then one time to his Executors. The queſtion was, whether this Proviſo, were a Condition or not; and it was, That it was a Condition although it was intermixed amongſt divers other Covenants in the Indenture; for it was ſaid, That the Law hath not appointed any proper place in the Deed for the Condition, but its place is, where it pleaſeth the parties, although it be intermixt amongſt Covenants: And in that Caſe, It was put for a ground in Law, That when the Proviſo doth not depend upon another ſentence, but ſtands Originally of it ſelf; And when the Proviſo is the word of the Bargaynor, Feoffor, or Donor; and when a Proviſo is compulſory, to enforce the Bargaynee or Donee, or Grantee to do an Act; there, and in ſuch Caſe, the word (Proviſo) makes a Condition, although it be intermixt amongſt Covenants, Precedents, or Subſequents. Cook. 2. Part, 40. Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Caſe was, That the Earl of Pembrook granted the Office of Lievtenantſhip of the Forreſt of C. to Sir Maurice Berkley, and the heirs males of his body; and in the ſaid Deed of Grant were ſuch Words, viz. Provided alwayes, and the ſaid Sir Maurice doth Covenant and Grant, That it ſhall be lawfull for the Earl, his heirs, and Aſſigns, to have the preheminence of the Game, Provided alſo, and the ſaid Sir Maurice doth Covenant and Grant with the Earl, that neither he the ſaid Sir Maurice, nor his Heirs, ſhall or will cut down any Timber-Trees, growing in the ſaid Walk. Sir Maurice dyed, his ſon cut down Timber-Trees; It was Reſolved in this Caſe by all the Juſtices, That although the Proviſo was coupled with an expreſſe Covenant of the Grantee, and every Condition ought to be created by the words of the Grantor, yet it was ſaid, that the word (Proviſo) in this Caſe; was a Condition, although it was intermixed with the words of Covenant: And Popham Chief Juſtice ſaid, in this Caſe; Sometimes the word (Proviſo) ſhall be taken for a Condition, ſometimes for a Covenant, ſometimes for an Exception, ſometimes for a Reſervation, ſometimes for an Explanation. If a man Leaſe Lands, Provided, that the Leſſee ſhall not alien without the aſſent of the Leſſor ſub pœna forisfacturæ, here it is a Condition. If I have two Mannors, both of them named Dale, and I Leaſe you my Mannor of Dale; Provided, that you ſhall have my Mannor of Dale, in the Occupation of J. S. this Proviſo is an Explanation. If a man Leaſe a houſe, and the Leſſee Covenanteth, that he will repair it, Provided alwayes the Leſſor is contented to find great Timber, here it is a Covenant. If I Leaſe you my Meſſuage in D. Provided, I will have a Chamber my ſelf, this is an Exception of the Chamber. If I make a Leaſe rendring Rent, at ſuch a Feaſt as J. S. ſhall name, Provided that the Feaſt of Saint Michaelmas ſhall be one, here the Proviſo is taken for a Reſervation: And in the Principall Caſe, it was Reſolved, That it ſhould be taken for a Condition. 36 Eliz. in B. R. The Earl of Pembroke, and the Lord Berkleyes Caſe. Goldesbr. 130. See Cook 2. Part, 72. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. acc. See this Caſe at large in Popham. 116, 117.

7. The Caſe was this, A. made a Leaſe to B. of a Farm, except the Wood. And Covenanted with the Leſſee, that he ſhall take all manner of Under-wood: Provided alwayes, And the Leſſee Covenants that he will not cut down any Timber Trees; In this Caſe, It was ſaid, That the Proviſo was but in the nature of a Declaration, with what Trees the Leſſee ſhall not meddle, becauſe it depended upon the Covenant of the Leſſor, and it is generall, to wit, That he may cut down any underwood, Provided, that he do not cut down any manner of Timber-Trees. It was ſaid, That at the beginning, the Court inſiſted much that it was a Condition: But they ſaid, It was well put, in that he ſhould not cut any Timber Trees: and therefore it was, that a Declaration with what Wood he ſhould not meddle, although in truth, it was of another thing, than was compriſed in the thing before; and then the adding of a Proviſo to ſuch a Covenant, ſhall not make the Proviſo of another nature than it was before the Covenant made, or if no Covenant had bin made to it; and upon that reaſon, the Court gave Judgment, That it was not a Condition. 17 Eliz. in B. R. Pepall and Hammingtons Caſe, Poph. 117. 118.

8. Doctor Batts was ſeiſed of divers Mannors and Lands in Fee; and having three ſons, A. B. and C. by his Will in Writing, deviſed part of them to his Wife for her life: ſub Conditione quod ipſa educabit pueros ſuos in eruditione, et bonis moribus, the remainder to C. his ſon in tail, and the Reverſion in Fee, deſcended to A. his eldeſt ſon. The Condition was broken; the queſtion was, If the Heir ſhould enter for the Condition broken, or that C. ſhould enter, as for breach of a Limitation, or ſt the Condition were deſtroyed by the Limitation of the Remainder over. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That it was not a Limitation, for that there are expreſſe words of Condition: and the meaning of the Teſtator was, That his heir, who alwayes is to take advantage of a Condition, ſhould enter, and defeat the eſtate of the Wife; but his meaning did not accord with the Law, for he could not defeat the Eſtate for life, if he did not defeat the Remainder: and therefore by the Limitation of the Remainder over, the Condition was deſtroyed. 3, & 4. Ma. See Dyer. Doctor Butt's Caſe.

9. Note, It is put for a Rule in Cook 10. Part, 42. in Portington's Caſe: That there are in Law, Apt, and Legall words, aſwell of Limitation, as Condition. Apt words of Limitation are, Quamdiu, Dummodo, Dum, Quouſque, Durante, as a Rent granted out of the Mannor of D, Quamdiu the Grantor ſhall remain there, A man maketh a Leaſe of Land Dummodo, the Leſſee ſhall pay 20 l. A man maketh a Feoffment in Fee Quouſque, the Feoffer hath paid to him a certain ſum of Mony. A man makes a Leaſe for years, if the Leſſee doth ſo long live. A Leaſe for years of Lands, untill he be promoted to a Benefice. A Leaſe of Lands during the Coverture. All which are words of Limitation, by which the eſtate is determined, before Entry, or Claim. Words of Condition, are ſub Conditione, Ita quod, ſi Contingat, Proviſo. But the words Ad effectum, ea intentione, ad ſolvendum, or the like, do not make a Condition in Feoffments and Grants, if it be not in the Caſe of the King, or in the Caſe of a Will. Cook 10. Part, 42. in Mary Portingtons Caſe.

10. Land is given ad ſolvendum 20 s. The ſame is a good Condition: So Land is given, ad erudiendum filium: So Annuity is Granted, pro Conſilio impenſo et impendendo; Theſe are uſuall words of Condition, and are ſo taken to be: But if Lands be given for to repair a Bridge, or to keep a Caſtle, and that before the Statute of Weſt. 3; theſe words do not make a Condition, but a Tenure. Plo. Com. 142. in Browning and Beeſton's Caſe.

11. If a man makes a Feoffment in Fee ad intentionem, to perform his Will; the ſame is not a Condition, but a Declaration of the purpoſe and Will of the Feoffor; and the heir cannot enter for not-performance of it. 32 H. 8. Broke Conditions. 191.

12. The Word (Iſſint), (So) is a Condition by Portman. Plo. Com. 107.

13. A Leaſe was made for life by Indenture, in which, are words Proviſo quòd, if the Leſſee dye within 60 years, that his Executors ſhall have his right untill the 60 years be ended. It was holden by the Court, That it was not a Condition, but a Covenant. 5. Ma. Dyer. 150. Parker's Caſe.

14. A Leaſe was made ſcil. quod non licebit to the Leſſee, dare, vendere, vel concedere ſtatum et terminum ſuum alicui perſonæ, ſine licentia of the Leſſor ſub pœnâ forisfacturæ Termini ſui prædict.: the Leſſor and the Leſſee dyed, and the Executors ſold the Term without Licence of the Heir. It was holden, That it was out of the Caſe of Forfeiture, becauſe that the reſtraint was but during the lives of the Leſſor and Leſſee: but it was holden, that the words aforeſaid did make a Condition. Mich. 3. E. 6. Dyer. 65, 66.

15. The Counteſſe of Surrey being Tenant for life of certain Lands ſurrendred them to the King ea intentione that he ſhould give to her other Lands in recompence: The King alienes thoſe Lands, and gave her other Lands in recompence, which being upon a defeaſible title, they are after evicted; and ſhe entred by force of the Condition upon the Pattentee; And it was holden, That her Entry was not lawfull; for the words ea intentione was not a Condition, but a Truſt and Confidence; and there ought to have bin theſe words, Et ſi deficerit, that then bene licebit, to re-enter: for otherwiſe it is not a Condition. Hill. 4. Ma. Dyer. 138. The Counteſſe of Surreys Caſe.

16. A man made a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of A. whom he intended to marry, untill the Iſſue which he got of her be of the age of 21. years; and after the ſon comes of that age, then to the uſe of his ſaid Wife during her Widow-hood: the Husband dyed without Iſſue, the Wife entred, and continued Sole. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Entry of the Wife was Lawfull; For if a Feoffment be made to one and his heirs Quouſque, or untill J. S. or his Feoffees ſhall pay 100 l. and J. S. dyeth before any payment made, the Feoffee and his heirs ſhall have the Lands for ever. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 300, 301.

17. The Biſhop of York made a Leaſe for years of divers Lands in Batterſey, rendring rent at Batterſey; Proviſo, in time of Vacation, the Rent ſhall be paid to the Chapter ut in jure ſuo; the rent was behind ſede vacante, the Bayliff of the Succeſſor re-entred and diſtreined. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Proviſo was not a Condition, but a forſpriſe not being annexed to the thing given; and if it ſhould be a Condition, yet it was impoſſible, becauſe that the Rent could not be paid to the Chapter, becauſe they had not the Reverſion. Paſc. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 222.

18. In Covenant brought, the Plaintiff declared, That he Demiſed to R. the Defendant, certain Rooms in Bear-Alley, from &c. 1624. untill Mid-Summer, 1626. rendring 6 l. 15 s. 4 d. rent, Provided, and upon Condition, that the ſaid R.

ſhould gather the Rents of other the Plaintiffs Tenements in Bear-Ally, reſerved intirely, and mentioned in a Schedule, and pay the ſame within 20 dayes after every Quarter-day. And it is agreed That the ſaid R. ſhall retain the reſt of the benefit of the ſaid Rooms over and above the ſaid 61 l. 15 s. 4 d. per annum, for his pains, in gathering up the ſaid Rents; and ſhewed, That the Rents mentioned in the Schedule, did amount to 190 l. per annum, and that the Defendant had not paid the ſaid Rents, but did not ſhew, that the Defendant had gathered them. It was inſiſted upon, that the words, Provided, &c. ſhould make a Covenant; But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That it is not a Covenant, but a meer Condition annexed to the Eſtate, which determines it, by not Collecting and paying the Rents: And it is not to be intended that it ſhould be a Covenant, to enforce him to gather and pay them, where peradventure he cannot collect them. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Gee y and Reaſon's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 91.

19. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, having Iſſue two daughters B. and C.: Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the Lands to the uſe of B. her eldeſt daughter in tail, upon Condition, That the ſaid B. ſhould pay to her other daughter within a year after the death of A. 300 l. or within a year after the ſaid other daughter ſhould come to the age of 18. years; And if B. ſhould fail of payment of the ſaid ſum, then to the uſe of C. her other daughter in tail: A. dyed, B. took a Husband, and had Iſſue, and afterwards dyed without Iſſue before the day of payment: And if the Husband ſhould be Tenant by the curteſy or not, was the queſtion. And it was the clear Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould: For as to the Condition of payment of the ſaid ſum, the ſame is not determined, for ſhe dyed without Iſſue before the day of payment, before C. came to the age of 18. years; and as to that there is no Condition broken; And as to the point of dying without Iſſue, the ſame is not a Condition, but rather a Limitation of the eſtate, and is no more then what the Law ſaith, and the eſtate tail, in B. is ſpent, and determined by the dying without Iſſue, and doth not ceaſe, or is cut off by any Limitation. And afterwards Judgment was given for the Tenant, by the Curteſy. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Sommes and Paynes Caſe. Leon. 167.

20. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and having Iſſue two daughters, deviſed the ſame to Ann his eldeſt daughter; that ſhe ſhould pay 40 l. to B. her ſiſter at ſuch a day; the mony is not paid; B. entreth into the moyety of the Land. It was holden by the whole Court, That the ſame is a good Condition, and that the Entry of B. was lawfull. For it hath bin adjudged, That where a man deviſed his Land to his Wife; Proviſo, My Will is, That ſhe ſhall keep my houſe in good Reparations, that the ſame is a good Condition; and the Lord Chief Juſtice Wray ſaid, That if a man deviſeth his Lands to B. paying 40 l. to C. it is a good Condition, for C. hath no other remedy, and a Will ought to be expounded according to the intent of the Deviſor. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Crechmere and Patterſons Caſe. Leon. 174.

21. The Caſe was, A man was poſſeſſed of a Term for years, and of goods & Chattels; and made his Will in theſe words, That if the Wife of the Deviſor would permit J. S. to enjoy ſuch a Term for the Term of three years next following, That then ſhe ſhould have all the reſidue of his goods and Chattells, as his Sole Executrix; It was Objected, That ſhe could not be Executrix, For ſhe is to be Executrix upon a Condition precedent to be performed before ſhe be Executrix, and the Condition is impoſſible to be performed, and then ſhe ſhall never be Executrix: for where an Eſtate is to be created upon a Condition impoſſible to be performed, there the Eſtate ſhall never come in eſſe, and here the Condition is impoſſible. For how can ſhe ſuffer J. S. to enjoy the Term for three years next following, and the three years are to be paſt before ſhe hath any power to permit, or reſiſt; for till the three years be encurred, ſhe cannot be Executrix, nor before years expired, can ſhe have any Action as Executrix; for her Authority doth not begin before the three years be expired. But it was holden by the Court, That although a Grant upon a Condition precedent, doth not take effect untill the Condition be performed, yet ſuch Conſtruction ought to be uſed in this Caſe, ſo as the intent of the Deviſor ſhall ſtand. If the Condition had bin, That if the Wife will find meat and drink to ſuch a perſon untill his death, That then ſhe ſhall be Executrix, Shall not the Wife be Executrix untill after the death of ſuch party? Truly yes, For otherwiſe ſhe could never be Executrix, which is againſt the meaning of the Teſtator; and it was not his intent, that the Ordinary ſhould commit Adminiſtration of his goods in the mean time; and the ſubſequent words prove directly, that the Teſtators meaning was, That his Wife ſhould be Executrix immediately, untill ſhe diſturbed J. S. for the words are, If ſhe refuſe to ſuffer J. S. to enjoy the Term, then his Son ſhall be his Executor; which implies, That by a diſturbance made by the Wife, her Executrix-ſhip ſhould ceaſe, and that the ſon ſhould have it, which cannot properly be, if ſhe were not Executrix from the beginning; and afterwards Judgment was given for the Wife, That ſhe was Executrix preſently, and ſhould be Executrix untill her actuall diſturbance of J. S. Poſſ.

31 Eliz. in C. B. Jennings and Gower's Caſe. Leon. 229.

22. In an Ejectione firmæ of a Leaſe made of the Manor of M. The Defendant pleaded, That before the Leſſor of the Plaintiff had any thing in the Manor, the Biſhop of R. was ſeiſed, and Leaſed the ſame to the Defendant, The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Leſſee by the ſaid Leaſe did Covenant, That he would not put out or diſturb any of the Tenants inhabiting within the ſaid Manor out of their Tenancies doing their duties according to the Cuſtome of the ſaid Manor; and ſhewed, that the Defendant had put out one A. a Tenant dwelling there upon a Tenement parcell of the ſaid Manor, and that the Biſhop had entred for the Condition broken, and made the Leaſe to the Leſſor of the Plaintiff; upon which, the Defendant demurred in Law. It was ſaid, That the Biſhop had no cauſe of Entry, for here was not any Condition in the Caſe, but onely a Covenant; for that it comes onely on the part of the Leſſee, and every Condition ought to be the words of the Leſſor. But it was anſwered, and Reſolved, That though the words found in Covenant, and be the words of the Leſſee, yet the Leaſe being by Indenture, the ſame is the Deed of both, and every word in it is ſpoken by both, and it was a Condition; And Hill and Lockham's Caſe. 24 Eliz. was vouched; where, by Indenture, the Leſſee Covenanted to grind all his Corn at the Mill of the Leſſor; And afterwards, in the end of the ſaid Indenture, the Leſſee Covenanted to perform all Covenants ſub pœna foriſfacturæ, and by the Opinion of the whole Court, the ſame was holden to be a Condition: and ſo in this Caſe, it was a Condition. But in the principall Caſe, becauſe the breach was not ſufficiently ſet forth; for the breach is aſſigned, that he had put out unum Tenentem et Inhabitantem out of the ſaid Lands, parcell of the ſaid Mannor; and it might be, that ſhe was but a Tenant at Will, and the Covenant doth referr onely to Copy-holders; And for want of Averment that ſhe was Tenant in fee of any part of the Mannor; and for ſome other Imperfections, Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Thomas and Ward's Caſe. Leon. 244.

23. The word (Pro) or, In conſideration, doth not always import a Condition, or make a grant defeaſible, though the thing taken in lieu, be either taken away by the giver wrongfully, or by any other perſon upon a juſt title, ſo as the thing given be wholly loſt. And therefore if J. S. give White-Acre to J. N. for Black-Acre, without the word, Exchange, it will not be defeaſible: Nay more, if they uſe the proper word [Exchange] and that be executed; a wrongful Entry of either party will do no hurt, but a Rightfull Entry will. But in ſome Caſes the word Pro, hath the force of a Condition, when the thing granted is executory: and the Conſideration of a Grant, is a Service, or ſome other like thing, for which there is no remedy, but the ſtopping of the thing granted: As in the caſe of Annuity granted pro Conſilio impenſo et impendendo, or for doing the Office of Steward of a Court, or the Service of a Captain or Keeper of a Fort; and in theſe Caſes the Condition is not precedent, and therefore needs not to be averred, performed, when the Annuity is demanded; and theſe caſes are within the reaſon of an Exchange, where the Land given is evicted; for here the failer of Counſel, or Service, is a kind of eviction of that that is to be done for the Annuity, in as much as he hath no means either to exact the Counſel, or recompence for it, but to ſtop the Annuity. See Hob. 41. 42. in the Argument of the Caſe of Cowper and Andrews. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. See Cook 7. Part, Nightred's Caſe, acc.

24. A. makes B. and a woman his Executors; Provided, that B. ſhall not adminiſter his eſtate; this Proviſo is void for Repugnancy: for when A. hath made them once Executors, the ſeveral powers limited to them afterwards is void, if it reſtrain the authority which was given by the premiſſes; becauſe when the intent of a man who makes a Teſtament, agrees not with the Law, his intent ſhall be taken as void: As if a man deviſe Lands to J. S. and his heirs in Fee, and if he dye without heir, that then the Land ſhall remain to J. S. and his heirs; that this deviſe is void in remainder for the Repugnancy, becauſe that by a Maxime and Rule in Law, One Fee-ſimple cannot depend upon another Fee-ſimple. 29 H. 8. Dyer 3.

25. A Leaſe was made for Term of life, Abſq; impetitione vaſti; et ſi contingat, that he do Waſte, that then it ſhall be lawfull for the Leſſor to enter; and the Leſſee committed Waſte: It was holden by Shelley, That it was a void Condition, becauſe it was repugnant to the words of the Grant. But others held, It was a good Condition, becauſe it ſhall be intended, That the Leſſee ſhall not be impleaded for the ſaid Waſte. Trin. 32 H. 8. Dyer 47. And ſee Cook 4. Part, 63. in Herlakendens Caſe, That if I grant to one that he ſhall not be impeached for the cutting down of all my Trees in ſuch a Wood, that the ſame ſhall excuſe him in an Action of Waſte for the Cutting, but notwithſtanding the property and Intereſt doth remain in me. But ſee it Reſolved in Cook 11. Part, 83. in Lewes Bowles Caſe, that by the Grant to Tenant for life without impeachment of Waſte, that the Grantee hath as great a power to do Waſte, as the Grantor himſelf hath, and ſhall have the Trees themſelves after ſeverance; and therefore ſuch a Condition of Reſtraint is repugnant to the Grant.

26. A man by Deed Indented, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of divers of his Sons, and the heirs males of their bodies. Provided, That if they, or any of their heirs, ſhall reſolve, adviſe, or attempt any act, by which the Limitation of the ſame Land, or any Eſtate tail ſhould be undone, barred, or determined; or by which the ſame ſhould not come, remain, and be in manner and form as is limited by the Indenture, that then after that, and before any ſuch act done by which, &c. before any ſuch bargain, diſcontinuance had or executed, the Eſtates or Uſes to him limited who ſhall ſo do, ſhall ceaſe, onely having reſpect to ſuch perſon ſo attempting, &c. ſhould ceaſe, as if ſuch perſon were naturally dead, and dyed; the eldeſt ſon ſuffered a Common Recovery; the younger ſon entred. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That that Proviſo to ceaſe an Eſtate limited to one and his heirs males of his body, as if Tenant in tail were dead, was repugnant, and impoſſible, and againſt Law: For the death of Tenant in tail, is not the ceaſing of the Eſtate tail, but the death without iſſue of his body, is the determination of it; and before Iſſue, Tenant in tail hath an Inheritance, which by poſſibility may continue for ever; and it is repugnant, that the Land ſhould remain during the life of Tenant in tail himſelf. Cook 1. Part, 84. Corbets Caſe. See 37 Eliz. Fermyn and Arſcotts Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 85. acc.

27. If a man make a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to his eldeſt ſon, and the heirs males of his body; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of his ſecond ſon in tail: Provided, That if his eldeſt ſon attempt to ſuffer a Common Recovery, or levy a Fine, &c. that then his Eſtate ſhall ceaſe as if he were naturally dead: the eldeſt ſon hath Iſſue, and attempts to alien. In this caſe, the Proviſo is repugnant and void; for if the ſame had been limited by Conveyance at the Common-Law in poſſeſſion, it had been void: and if a man by Deed with Livery and Seiſin giveth Land in tail, the remainder in tail the remainder in Fee: Provided (as above); ſuch proviſo is repugnant and void; and ſo it is proved by Richells Caſe. Litt. F. 161. Cook 1. Part, 130. in Chudleigh's Caſe. See Cook 10. Part, Portingtons Caſe, Cook 9. Part, Sondyes Caſe. acc.

28. If a man make a guift in tail, upon Condition, that he ſhall not make a Feoffment, this is a good Condition; but if it be, That he ſhall not make a Charter of Feoffment, this is not good; for this without Livery amounts but to a Tenancy at will, which Tenant in tail cannot be reſtrained to do: So if a man make a guift in tail, upon Condition, That he ſhall not make a Leaſe for his own life, this is void and repugnant, for when a man makes a guift in tail which is an Eſtate of Inheritance, and thereby makes the Donee owner of the Land, he cannot reſtrain him from doing any lawfull act, or making any lawfull Eſtate which is no wrong to any. But if a man make a Leaſe for life, or years, upon Condition, That he ſhall not alien or deniſe, this is good, becauſe the Leſſor hath the Reverſion, whereby he hath power to reſtrain the Leſſee. Cook 6. Part, Sir Anthony Mildmay's Caſe, 42, 43.

29. The Cuſtome of London is, That one may deviſe his Lands in Mortmain; and a purchaſor in London, by his Will deviſed, That the Prior and Covent of St. Bartholomew ſhould have his Lands Ita quod reddant annuatim Decano et Capitulo Sancti Pauli London 16. marks and if they failed, that their Eſtate ſhould ceaſe; and that the ſaid Dean and Chapter, and their Succeſſours, ſhould have the ſaid Lands. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that caſe, That it was a void Condition, and repugnant; for that the Land could not remain after he had given a Fee-ſimple before; for the Feoffor had determined his Intereſt and right; and then alſo the ſtranger could not enter for the Condition broken; but the heir might. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 33.

30. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, That he ſhould not keep a Merchants ſhop in F; and if he did, that he ſhould pay 40 l. to the Plaintiff. It was holden in this caſe by the Juſtices, That although that the Condition did not reſtrain the party totally of his Trade; yet it was adjudged a void Obligation. Paſch. 18 Car. in B. R. Barrow and Woods Caſe. March 191. and ſo was it adjudged in Mich. 44 Eliz. rott. 3715. in Clegat and Batchellors Caſe. But Quære, if there be not a difference betwixt a Promiſe, and an Obligation, upon a Condition: for that a man may promiſe and contract, that he will not uſe his Trade; but he cannot bind himſelf by a Bond with Condition not ſo to do.

31. If a Rent be granted in Fee, with a Proviſo, That the wife of the Grantee ſhall not be endowed, it is a void Condition, becauſe it is repugnant: But if the Proviſo be, That ſhe ſhall not be endowed during the Non-age of the heir; in ſuch caſe the Condition is good, and ſhe ſhall recover her Dower, but Execution ſhall ſtay. See Perkins, and 2 E. 3. to Condition 12.

32. Note: In all caſes where the Condition of a Bond is poſſible at the time of the making of it; and afterwards by the Act of God, of the Law, or of the party, the ſame becomes impoſſible before the ſame is performed; there the Bond is ſaved:

But

But if the Condition be impoſſible at the time of the making of it; there the Obligation is ſingle, and without any Condition; and ſo it is in the Caſe of a Feoffment, with a Condition ſubſequent that is impoſſible; As for example, If a man be bounden in an Obligation, with Condition, That if the Obligor go from the Church of St. Pauls in London to Rome within 3. hours, that then the Obligation ſhall be void. In that caſe, the Condition is void, and the Obligation is ſingle without any Condition, and ſtands good. And ſo if a man make a Leaſe for life, upon Condition, That if the Leſſee go to Rome in a day, that he ſhall have Fee, in ſuch caſe, the Condition is Impoſſible, and void: and therefore the Fee ſhall not accrue: For that no accruer ſhall be upon an Impoſſible Condition. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 206. Cook 10. Part, Lord Staffords Caſe, acc.

33. Debt was brought upon Obligation: the Condition was for performance of Covenants, the Caſe was; Sir Daniel Norton being High Sheriff of H. made Chamberlain his Under-Sheriff, who by Indenture (amongſt other Covenants) did Covenant, That he would not execute any Extent, Liberate, Elegit, or any other Execution for any ſum, above the ſum of 20 l. before he had made known the Nature and quality of the ſaid Writ to the High Sheriff. And the Plaintiff (upon the Defendant's plea, That he had performed all Covenants) Replyed, That A. had recovered againſt B. in the Common-Pleas 200 l. and dyed; and that J. S. the Executor of A. ſued forth a Scire facias againſt B. for the ſaid ſum; by force of which, Chamberlain the Under-Sheriff arreſted him in Execution; and that afterwards B. eſcaped, the debt not ſatisfied; upon which the Defendant did demur in Law. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That although the Covenant in this Caſe, That he ſhould not ſerve or execute any Proceſs or Execution, was a void Covenant in Law; yet the Obligation was good for the reſt of the Covenants which were agreeable to Law: And a difference was taken between a Bond made void by the Statute, and a Bond by the Common-Law: For upon the Statute of 23 H. 6, If a Sheriff will take a Bond for a point againſt that Law, and alſo for a due debt, the whole Bond is void by the Letter of the Statute; but the Common-Law doth divide according to Common reaſon; and having made that void which is againſt Law, doth make the Bond to ſtand good for the reſidue: And in this caſe it was lawfull for the Sheriff to take a Bond of his Under Sheriff, to ſave him harmleſs againſt Eſcapes. And therefore although that in this caſe, the Condition of the Bond was as to the one, ſerving of Execution, void, as being repugnant to the Office of a Sheriff; yet for the breach of the other Covenants, the Bond and Condition were both good: and ſo, there being an Eſcape, the Bond put in ſuit; for that breach of the Covenants was lawfull. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sir Daniel Norton and Syms Caſe. Godbolt 212. Hob. 14. acc.

34. A man deviſed Lands to his wife for life, the remainder of one parcell to T. his Son, the remainder of the other parcell to his younger Son in Fee: Proviſo, That his Wife ſhall pay his Legacies; and if his Wife dyed before payment of his Debts and Legacies, that then his two ſons ſhould pay them: and, if either of his ſons dye before his Debts and Legacies paid, or before either of them do enter into his part, then, the other ſhall have all the Lands in Fee; and dyed: The Eldeſt ſon in the life of his Mother, releaſed to the youngeſt all his right, title, claim, and demand to the Land, which was deviſed to him by his Father, and then the Wife dyed. It was a Queſtion in this caſe, If this Releaſe was good; and Whether theſe words would extinguiſh this future poſſibility? It was ſaid, It would not: becauſe it was a Remote poſſibility; for here the Mother ought to be dead, and Legacies ought to be paid; and T. ought to be dead, before the Plaintiff can have the Land: alſo the Mother may in a ſhort time pay the Legacies, and then neither of the ſons ſhall have the Land; and therefore this is ſuch a forren expectancy, that it cannot be gone by Releaſe. And it was ſaid, That it was the Opinion of the Court in Pell and Browns Caſe, which was the like with this caſe, That where a Deviſe was to the Son in Fee, and if he dyed without Iſſue, then his younger brother ſhould have it; if the ſecond ſuffer a Common-Recovery, it had not deſtroyed the poſſibility which the Elder ſon had to have the Land: and if a Common Recovery which is a matter of Record, will not take away ſuch a poſſibility; à fortiori, a Releaſe which is matter of fact, as in this Caſe, will not do it. But it was ſaid on the other ſide, to which the Court inclined, If the ſon had any right, by this Releaſe of right in the caſe, the ſame ſhall extinguiſh it. And it was ſaid, That this poſſibility is not remote, for the Condition, or Limitation, is annexed to the Eſtate; and it is not a ſubſequent Condition which creates an Eſtate; and here it is an Intent of a Remainder to the Plaintiff, and therefore may be releaſed: and in this caſe, the Releaſe is of all his right, title, and claim to the Reverſion and Remainder which his father deviſed to the Plaintiff, and ſo the Releaſe is not general, but it is a particular and ſpecial Releaſe: and the Condition being annexed to the Eſtate, may be releaſed. Mich. 22 Jac. in C. B. Hoes Caſe. Winch. 54, 55, 56.

35. In Debt for Rent, the Caſe was; The Grandfather of the Plaintiff was ſeiſed of Lands, and and made a Leaſe thereof to the Defendant for years rendring Rent: afterwards, he deviſed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff in Fee, and ſet forth in his Will, That his intent was, That his Executors ſhall have the Reverſion during the Term, upon Condition, That they enter into Bond to pay 34 l. per annum during the Term; this Bond to be made by the advice of Overſeers, and to be done within ſix moneths after his deceaſe; and the Obligation was to be made to the Plaintiff; and dyed. The Executors ſhewed the Will to the Overſeers, but no Bond was made within the 6. moneths, the Plaintiff required the Executors to enter Bond, and to pay the Rent, which was not done; and he claimed the Reverſion, and brought an Action for the Rent. In this caſe, It was holden by the Juſtices, That here was a Condition by which the Reverſion veſted in the Executors; but it was in the Plaintiff till performance of it: which not being performed within the time limited, the Plaintiff ought to have the Rent. And in this caſe it was agreed, That the Overſeers had not the Reverſion; for although it was deviſed to them, yet it was upon the refuſal of the Executors; and no refuſall is found, but onely a Non-performance: and ſo the Opinion was, That the Plaintiff had right. But becauſe the Action was not brought in the proper County; the Lands lying in Southwood, and the Action was brought in London; It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Hill. 21 Jac. in C. B. Trebern and Claybrook's Caſe. Winch 89.

36. In Debt for Rent, the Caſe was; A man ſeiſed of a Meſſuage in Fee, deviſed the ſame by his Will to A. his daughter, and her heirs at her full age of 18 years; and further deviſed, That his Wife his Executrix ſhall have the Education, with her portion of money, and profits of the Land to her own uſe without accompt, untill his daughters ſaid age: Provided, his Executrix ſhould pay the Quit-Rents, and bring up his daughter at School; and dyed. The Wife took upon her the charge of the Will, and then married J. S. and after dyed. It was the Opinion of the Court in this caſe, That it was a good Term given to the Wife to her own uſe, which accrued to the huſband by the death of the Wife: and the Education of a Child is not ſuch a particular privity, but that it may be performed by another. Trin. 17 Jac. in C. B. Balder and Blackborns Caſe. Hobart 285.

37. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Defendant ſhould not at any time or times after the making of the Obligation, by any way or means, be ayding or aſſiſting to J. S. or any other perſon or perſons for him the ſaid J. S. in any Actions, Suits, Troubles, &c. to be commenced or proſecuted againſt the Plaintiff, his Wife, Children, or Aſſignes, Then, &c. And the Plaintiff aſſigned a breach, That he brought an Action againſt J. S. and the Defendant, and had Judgment for 8 l. damages againſt J. S. and 2. d. damages againſt the Defendant, and 8 l. coſts againſt them both: and ſaid that thereupon after the making of the Bond, J. S. and the Defendant brought a Writ of Errour, and ſo hindred the Plaintiff of his Execution upon his Judgment: upon which the Defendant demurred. And it was adjudged no breach of the Condition; for although the Defendant might bind himſelf not to bring a Writ of Errour expreſſly; yet ſuch general words as theſe, ſhall not inforce it ſo: For the ſenſe of the Condition is, That he ſhall not maintain J. S. in any his proper Suits againſt the Plaintiff, which is juſt and reaſonable; but it is not reaſon that he ſhould be barred to defend himſelf by joyning with J. S. againſt unjuſt proceedings of the Plaintiff againſt him: And therefore in this caſe, If the Plaintiff after Verdict againſt J. S. had releaſed, and yet have taken forth Execution, the Defendant might have joyned with J. S. in an Audita Querela; for it is his own defence againſt an unjuſt Suit. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 2342. Lamb and Thompſons Caſe. Hob. 304. See Hutton, 40. the ſame Caſe.

38. Debt upon an Obligation; the Condition was, That if A. and B. his wife before the end of Eaſter Term next, ſhall levy a Fine before the Juſtices of C. B. to the uſe of the Plaintiff, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That before the end of Eaſter Term, the Plaintiff did not purchaſe any Writ of Covenant pro fine levando, according to the Courſe of Law. The Plaintiff Replyed, That 15. Aprilis, the ſaid A. for money, enfeoffed a ſtranger of parcel of the Land, that was to be conveyed by the Fine; and that A. and B. his wife have not any Eſtate or Intereſt in the ſaid parcel ſo conveyed whereof they may levy a Fine. The Defendant Demurred upon the Replication. In this caſe it was holden, That the Plaintiff ought to do the firſt act, to procure a Writ of Covenant to have made himſelf capable of a Fine. The ſecond Queſtion was, If the Obligation was forfeited? And it was agreed by the Court, That the Condition was impoſſible, and is all one, as if he had diſabled himſelf afterwards. And in this caſe it was ſaid, It was all one, as if one (who had granted the Reverſion for years or life) Covenant, That he upon ſurrender will make a new Leaſe; he had broken his Covenant, being diſabled at the time. And it was ſaid in the principal Caſe, the Fine ought to be an effectuall Fine, which might operate to convey the Land according to the Covenant. Hill. 19 Jac. in C. B. Waldron and Hills Caſe. Hob. 48.

39. The

39. The Caſe was this; W. R. 28 H. 8. made a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf and his heirs: 21 H. 8. he made his Will, by which he deviſed his Lands to C. his younger ſon, and to the heirs males of his body, the remainder to J. his eldeſt ſon in Fee, upon Condition, That if C. or any his Iſſue ſhould diſcontinue or alien, but onely to make a Joynture for their Wives for term of their lives, that then, &c. and dyed. The Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes came: C. made a Leaſe to the Defendants for their lives, according to the Statute of 32 H. 8. and levies a Fine, with proclamation, to the uſe of himſelf and his wife, and the heirs males of their two bodies begotten, the Remainder to the right heirs of the Deviſor; J. the Eldeſt ſon entred for the Condition broken. It was holden in this caſe, That this Condition to reſtrain an unlawfull diſcontinuance, was good: and this Condition was annexed to good purpoſe. For W. R. being a Serjeant at Law, well knew, That Ceſtuy que uſe might have levied a Fine, or ſuffered a Recovery by the Statutes of 1 R. 3. and 4 H. 7. and this Condition annexed or tied to the Uſe by the Will, is now knit to the poſſeſſion, and by Conſequence, the Condition annexed to it. And all the Juſtices were clear of Opinion in this caſe, That the Condition was broken, and alſo that the Intent of the Condition was broken; for it might be, that C. had Iſſue by a former wife, which by this Fine ſhould be diſ-inherited, and a new Tail ſet on foot againſt the meaning of the Deviſor. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Ruddall and Millers Caſe. Leon. 298, 299.

40. If a man makes a guift in tail, upon Condition, That he ſhall not make a Leaſe for his own life; Or if a man make a Leaſe for life or years, upon Condition, That they ſhall not grant over their Eſtate, or let the Lands to others; In ſuch and the like Caſes, albeit the Tenant in tail hath power by the Law to make a Leaſe for his own life, and the Leſſee for life or years to grant, or let; Yet by the Condition, and their own Agreement, they have reſtrained them of the Liberty which the Law gives them. So if a man make a guift in tail, upon Condition, That he ſhall not make a Leaſe for 3. Lives, or 21. years, according to the Statute of 32 H. 8. In this caſe, the Condition is good, to reſtrain the Tenant in tail for making ſuch Leaſes: for although the Statute doth give him power to make ſuch Leaſes; yet that power may be reſtrained by a Condition, and his own agreement; becauſe this power is not incident to his Eſtate, but is given him collaterally by the act; and by the Rule in Law, Quilibet poteſt renunciare juri pro ſe introducto. Cook. Inſtitutes, 223. acc.

41. In an Ejection Firme, the Caſe was; A man Covenanted to levy a Fine of Lands to the uſe of himſelf and his wife for life; and afterwards he leaſed the Lands for 21. years, for 3 l. rent per annum by equall portions: and after the death of J. S. to pay a groſſe ſum of 225 l. by way of Fine, payable by 5 l. a year quarterly, with a Proviſo in the Indenture, That for default of payment of the Rent or Fine, or for want of Repairations, it ſhould be lawfull for the Leſſor to re-enter: afterwards, the Leſſor levies a Fine, and aſſigns over his Intereſt in the Reverſion. The Queſtion was, Whether the Condition of Entry be tranſferred over to the Aſſignee, by the transferring over of the Reverſion. It was ſaid, That the Leaſe proceeds from the husband onely, and not from the husband and wife; and the Condition is tranſferred; for the Condition runs joyntly as well to the Fine reſerved as to the Rent; and it is as it were a ſeveral Condition in Law, and the Condition as to the Rent is transferred, though not as to the Fine. And alſo it was ſaid in this caſe, As it reſpects the Rent, it is not a Condition in groſſe; but as it reſpects the Fine, it is a Condition in groſſe: and a Condition which is intire in words, may by acts of Law receive diſtributions. But it was ſaid by the other ſide, That the Fine here is a ſum Collateral, and is not incident to the Reverſion, and ſo the Condition is collateral, and cannot be apportioned. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That a man cannot by his own act divide a Condition, which goes in deſtruction of an Eſtate: And ſo Judgment was given for the Defendant. Hill. 1651. in B. R. Dekins and Lathams Caſe. Styles 316, 317.

2. Where a Condition ſhall be performed, and yet the words are not performed; et è contra.

1. A Leaſe for years was made by Indenture, and the Leſſee did Covenant, That if his Executors or Aſſigns did alien, that it ſhould be lawfull for the Leſſor to enter; he made his Wife his Executor; ſhe took husband, who aliened the Term. And, If the Condition was broken, or not, was the Queſtion? It was the better Opinion, That the husband was an Aſſignee in Law; and then the Condition was broken, though the words of it were not broken. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer 7.

2. Coles made a Leaſe to Taunton for 99 years, upon Condition, That if he deviſed it in other manner, than in ſuch manner as he had the ſame to him, that then it ſhould be lawfull for him to re-enter; the Leſſee deviſed it by his Will to his younger ſon. It was Reſolved, That rigore Juris, this was a breach of the Condition; for a Deviſe is an alienation, and ſhall be intended within the word, Demiſe. And yet it was ſaid, That it was very hard, that in Equity the Eſtate ſhould be loſt; for he intended by his Will, to prefer one of his younger Children, and not to break the Condition. Yet Judgment was given, That it was a breach, Hill. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Tauntons Caſe. Owen 14. See Hob. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Roper and Roper's Caſe. acc.

to

3. The Earl of Arundell granted the Mannor of D. to the Earl of Northumberland in tail, the Remainder in tail, upon Condition, That neither of them the Mannor or any part thereof ſhould alien, diſcontinue, or do any act in any manner, nor permit directly or indirectly, but that the ſaid Mannor without impediment might revert, if they dyed without Iſſue: The Earl of Northumberland took a Wife, and alſo he granted the reverſion of a Copyhold according to the Cuſtome. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, The taking of the Wife, although her Dower may hinder the reverting of the Mannor; yet it was no breach of the Condition: for if there had been an expreſs Condition, That the Donee ſhould not take a Wife; or that his Wife ſhould not be endowed, it ſhould be repugnant to the Eſtate, and void. And, 2. The granting of the Copyhold was no hindring of the reverting of the Mannor, for that the Copyholder was but a Tenant at Will, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor: and ſo although the words were broken of the Condition; yet, according to the Intent, the Condition was not broken, Trin. 17 Eliz. Dyer 343, 344.

4. If I grant to you an Annuity untill you have purchaſed 5 s. rent; and you purchaſe 5 s. joyntly with another; the ſame is no performance of the Condition: for my meaning was, That you ſhould purchaſe it to your own profit onely, and for your advantage onely. So if I be bound to you in an Obligation, upon Condition, That if you purchaſe a Rent of 5 s. to have and to hold to you and your heirs; and a ſtranger hath 5 s. Rent out of your Land, and afterwards he releaſeth all his right in the Land to you, yet the Condition is performed. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer 15.

5. If a man Covenants, That his eldeſt Son marry with the daughter of J. S. and his eldeſt ſon dyeth; although that the younger ſon marry the daughter of J. S. the Condition is not performed, yet he is no eldeſt ſon. So a man was bound to deliver a Deed, if the other upon reaſonable warning levy a Fine, 15. Paſch. next, and the Sheriff return the Obligor ſummoned; the ſame is not a ſufficient warning, although in truth it be a warning, becauſe it ought to be by the party himſelf, 11 H. 4. 18. So a man was bound, that the Feoffees of J. S. ſhould grant a Rent-charge, and he had 3. Feoffees, and 4. of them granted the Rent-charge, the Condition was not performed, and yet the Words were performed. And ſo in Baiſhins Caſe, The Condition was, Quod ipſe vellet inhabitare et reſidens eſſe upon the Land during the Term. It was holden, He ought to be reſident for the whole Term; and yet if he once dwelt and were reſident upon the Land, the words of the Condition were performed. Plow. Com. acc.

6. Note, in ſome Caſes, the words of the Condition ought of neceſſity be performed: As two are bounden to ſtand to the Arbitration of J. S. ſo as it be made and delivered to the parties by the Arbitrator in Writing, by ſuch a day; now although the Arbitrator deliver one Deed to one of them who is preſent, the ſame is no performance; but he ought of neceſſity to deliver two writings, one to the one, and another to the other: and ſo where a Feoffment is made upon Condition to enfeoff one, he ought of neceſſity to enfeoff him alone. Br. Condition 107. If a man be bound to perform the Award of J. S. who Awards that the Defendant ſhall make a Retraxit, and he diſcontinueth the ſuit, yet the Bond is forfeit, for the Retraxit is a final bar; but it is otherwiſe of a diſcontinuance; and therefore he ought to perform the words, 21 E. 4. 38. So if a man Mortgageth his Land, and the Mortgagee Leaſeth the Lands again to the Mortgagor for ten years, upon Condition that if the Mortgagor pay 10 l. within the Term, that then the firſt Mortgage ſhall be void. Afterwards he ſurrenders, and within the ten years payes the mony. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Condition was not performed, for he ought to have paid it before the ſurrender, for the Term was gone by the ſurrender; but if the performance had referred to the ten years, although he did ſurrender, it was not materiall. 39 H. 8. Dyer 58. Br. Condition 203. acc.

7. A Leaſe for years was made, in which there was a Proviſo, That the Leſſee his Executors or Aſſigns ſhould not Alien to any perſon without Licence of the Leſſors but onely to the ſon of the Leſſee; the Leſſee dyed, and his Executors aſſigned the ſame to one of his ſons. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Condition was determined, and that now the ſon might Alien it unto any perſon without Licence. See 5. Mr. Dyer. 152. Cook 4. Part, in Dampore's Caſe.

8. The Condition of an Obligation was, That the Obligor upon requeſt ſhould do all ſuch Acts which ſeem reaſonable to the Counſell of the

Obligee

Obligee to releaſe, an Obligation in which the Obligee ſtood bound to the Obligor; and a requeſt was made to ſeal a releaſe of all demands to the Obligee, and unto one M. and averred that there was no other matter between them, but ſpake not of M. It was adjudged in that Caſe, that the requeſt was unreaſonable, although there be no matter between the Defendant and M. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 218. acc.

9. The Caſe (in an Attaint brought upon a Verdict given in Debt, upon a Recognizance taken before the Mayor) was this. There was Suit between one Oke and Parrey, concerning a Tenement in Ab-Church-Lane London: the poſſeſſion of which was Decreed to Parrey, in which Tenement one Whaly Inhabited: Parrey, miſ-truſting that Whaly was affected to Oke, to have him for his Landlord, procured a Recognizance from Whaley, wherein one Smith was bound: the Condition of which was, That if the within bounden Whaly do well and honeſtly behave himſelf towards Parrey, ſo long as he doth remain and dwell in the ſaid Tenement, may keep the poſſeſſion of the ſame for the uſe of the ſaid Parrey, as Tenant to the ſaid Parrey: and that if Whaly do depart out of the ſaid Tenement and dwell in any other place; then to deliver the Key, and quiet poſſeſſion to J. S. the Lord Mayor to the uſe of Parrey; And at all times to depart and go from the ſaid Tenement at 14. dayes; after warning given at the ſaid Tenement by the ſaid Parrey or his Aſſigns, That then, &c. In Debt brought upon this Recognizance, The Defendant pleaded, That ſuch a day and year he departed the ſaid Tenement, and came to the houſe of the ſaid Mayor in Lombard-ſtreet the ſame day, and there delivered to him the Key and quiet poſſeſſion of the ſaid houſe, to the uſe of the ſaid Parrey: And that upon Traverſe being found againſt Parrey, he brought Attaint upon the ſaid Verdict; and the general Iſſue being pleaded; It appeared upon the Evidence that the Key was delivered to the Mayor according to the Condition, and that the houſe was ſeen empty and void at the time of the departure of the ſaid Whaly: And yet within an hour after, Oke entred the houſe by a Shop-door with a Key which he had ſecretly kept long before. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, that this Evidence was good to have Attainted the Jury; for although the words of the Condition were performed, yet the intent of the Condition was not performed: and that the quiet poſſeſſion could not be delivered to the Mayor in the form aforeſaid, but that the Plaintiff or his Deputy perſonally ought to have come to the houſe in Ab-Church-Lane, and there have received the poſſeſſion. Mich. 5 Eliz. Dyer 219. Parrey and Smiths Caſe.

3. Where an Eſtate upon a Condition broken, ſhall be adjudged in the Grantor, Leſſor, Feoffor, &c. without Entry in fact, Seizure or Claim; where not: and where Conditionall words, imply an Entry; Where not, without words of Re-entry.

1. IF a man make a Feoffment in Fee, Ita quod, the Feoffee do ſuch an act: In ſuch Caſes, Littleton ſaith, That it is uſuall to have theſe words, [And if the ſaid act be not done, that it ſhall be lawfull for the Feoffor to re-enter] the which, he ſaid, were more then needed; for the firſt words are ſufficient in Law to include them: And yet he ſaid, They are well put in, to declare and expreſſe the Law to the Lay-people. See Litt. 75. 2. Cook 1. Part, 104. in Shelleys Caſe. And therefore if a Feoffment be made, That if the Feoffee pay to the Feoffor a certain ſum of money at ſuch a day, that he ſhall have Fee: If the Feoffee doth not pay the money at the day, although there be no words of Re-entry, yet it is a Condition in Law implyed, and the Feoffor may enter.

2. If a man make a Leaſe for life rendring Rent, upon Condition, That if the Rent be behind, that the Land ſhall revert to the Leſſor, the ſame ſhall be taken for a Re-entry. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer 22.

3. Regularly a Freehold, or an Inheritance, cannot ceaſe without an Entry, or Claim: But when a man cannot make an Entry, there he ſhall not be driven to make a Claim to the Reverſion, but the Reverſion ſhall be veſted in him without Entry or Claim. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 218. See Plow. Com. 133. acc.

4. The Caſe was; Tenant in tail, the remainder in tail; he in the Remainder bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in tail; and after his death, the remainder to the Queen in Fee: Tenant in tail ſuffered a Common-Recovery; the Queen granted her Remainder to the Tenant in tail and his heirs: Afterwards he in the Remainder bargained and ſold to B. the remainder to the Queen, upon Condition; and the Recovery was had: Tenant in tail dyed without Iſſue. In this caſe it was argued, If the Remainder ſhould be deveſted out of the Queen, without a Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit? which point was not Reſolved by the Juſtices. But it was agreed by them, That although the Remainder did passe by bargain and sale, so as in Judgment of Law an use passeth first; and although it was of a thing which lay in Grant, and not in Livery, and that the words are, That upon payment of money, that the Estate should cease and be void; yet the Estate should not be revested in the Grantor without Claim; for an Estate of an Inheritance cannot be determined by a Condition, without entry or claim: and a Condition cannot determine without entry or claim; but otherwise it is of a Limitation. And it was further holden in this case, That the claim of a Remainder by force of a Condition, must be upon the Land, and not out of the Land: and therefore in this case, the Bargain and Sale made to B. being at Westminster, did not enure to two Intents, scil. to make a claim, and to passe the Remainder. Cook. 2. Part, Sir Hugh Cholmley's Case. 50.

5. Tenant in Tail had Issue two sons, the eldest had Issue a daughter, and dyed, his Wife being with Child in the life of his Father. Tenant in Tail suffered a Recovery to the use of himself for the Term of his life, and afterwards to the use of J. S. for 21 years, and after to the heirs Males of his body begotten, and to the heirs Males of the bodies of such heirs Males; and presently after the Judgment, and before Execution the same day that the Recovery was suffered, Tenant in tail dyed: It was said in this Case, That the Recovery was executed by the Judgment presently: and a difference was taken when Lands were in possession, and when in Lease for years or life; As if a Fine be levyed sur Conusans de droit, onely of Lands in possession; in that Case the Conusee hath nothing before Entry: but if it was of a Reversion upon an estate for life, or years, there the Reversion or thing in grant did passe presently. And it was said, That when the Law prescribes a means to perfect or settle any right or estate, if this in any circumstance become impossible by the Act of God, (as it was in this Case by the Act of God, by the death of Tenant in Tail) no party (who was to have benefit, if the means had bin in all circumstances executed) should receive any prejudice for the not execution thereof, in such circumstance which became impossible by the Act of God: if all were done without Lachesse, which the party might; But on the other side it was said; and so it was Resolved by the Court; That in the principall Case, the Reversion was not Executed in the Recoverers presently by the Judgment, untill Execution was sued forth; for it was said, That where a man may enter or claim, the Law will not adjudge him in possession untill Entry or claim. Cook 1. Part, Shelleyes Case. 84. and 79. acc.

6. A man seised of Land in Fee, Covenanted to stand seised to the use of himself for life, and after to the use of his eldest son in tail; Provided, that at any time during his life, with the consent of divers by Deed Indented, enrolled in any of the Kings Courts, to revoke any of the said uses, and to limit new uses; Afterwards he by Indenture Inrolled in the Chancery, revoked the uses in any part of the Land, and limited the same to the use of him and his heirs: And afterwards by another Deed he declared, That from the time of the enrolment of that Deed in the Chancery, all the first uses in the first Indenture should be void; And afterwards he levyed a Fine of all the Land, and afterwards the Deed was Inrolled in the Chancery, and afterwards he entred, and made claim, and dyed: It was Resolved in this Case (amongst other poynts), That the Fine levyed before the Inrollment in the Chancery, had extinct the power of Revocation. And 2. If the Fine had not bin levyed, then by the Revocation, all the Antient uses had bin destroyed without Entry, or claim, because he himself was Tenant for life of the Land, and could not enter. And it was said and agreed in this Case, That if a man maketh a Feoffment upon a Collaterall Condition; If before the Condition performed, he makes a Lease for years to the Feoffor, and after the Condition is broken; the Land shall be presently in him without Entry, or claim. C. 1. Part, 174. Digg's Case. See Cook 4. Part, 53. in Rawlisons Case. acc.

7. A man seised of Lands in Fee, makes a Lease for years, rendring Rent upon Condition, That if he, his Executors, Administrators, or Assignes, did grant, Alien, or Assign any part of the Land, without the assent of the Lessor, his Heirs, or Assigns; that it should be lawfull for him, his Heirs or Assigns to re-enter; the Lessee Assigned part of it without assent; the Lessor before notice, and before re-entry, accepted the Rent, and afterwards re-entred. In that Case, it was adjudged, That his Re-entry was lawfull; and the difference was there taken between a Lease for life, and a Lease for years; For it was agreed, That in Case of a Lease for life, if the Conclusion be, That the Lease shall be void; there because the Freehold is created by Livery, it cannot be avoided before Entry, that the acceptance of the Rent at a day after, shall bar the Lessor of his entry, and shall affirm the Lease; for he cannot receive it as due upon any Contract, as in the Case of a Lease for years, but he ought to receive it as a Rent, and then he affirmeth the Lease to continue, and therefore acceptance of his Rent shall bar him of his Entry. Cook 3. Part, 65. Penants Case.

8. A Tenant for life, the remainder in tail to B. the Reversion to B. and his heirs expectant: B. levyed a Fine to C. and D. and to the heirs of C. to

C. to the uſe of them and their heirs, and had Iſſue, and dyed, before all the Proclamations were paſt; the Iſſue being beyond Sea, then the Proclamations paſſed: and afterwards the Iſſue returned, and made his claim to the Remainder in tail. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved (amongſt other points) 1. That when the Proclamations paſſed, without any claim made by the Iſſue in tail upon the Land, that the right which deſcended to him was barred by the Statute of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. of Fines. 2. That the Iſſue in tail being heir, and privy, could not by any claim which he could make, ſave the eſtate tail which deſcended to him, becauſe the ſavings in the ſaid Statutes extended to ſtrangers, and not to parties or privies: But it was there agreed, That if Tenant in tail maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Feoffee levyeth a Fine with Proclamations, the Iſſue ſhould have five years after the Tenant in tail; to make his claim. Cook 3. Part, 85. in the Caſe of Fines.

9. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for years, made his Will, and made his Wife his Executrix, and deviſed further, that if his Wife dyed within the Term, that J. S. ſhould have the reſidue of the Term. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That J. S. did not take by way of a Remainder, but by way of Executory Deviſe; and that the deviſe was good, becauſe it was but a Chattell, which might veſt, or deveſt at the pleaſure of the Deviſor, without prejudice to any: And in the Argument of this Caſe, This difference was agreed for Law, That if a Leaſe for years be made by a man upon Condition, That if he do ſuch an Act, that the Leaſe ſhall be void; and afterwards he grants over the Reverſion, and then the Condition is broken, the Grantee ſhall take advantage of the Condition by the Common Law, for that the Leaſe thereby is abſolutely void: But in ſuch Caſe, If the Leaſe had bin for life with ſuch Condition, the Grantee ſhall not take advantage of the Condition; For a Freehold, (of which a Precipe lyeth) cannot ſo eaſily ceaſe, but is avoidable by Entry after the Condition broken, which by the Common Law cannot be transferred to a ſtranger. Cook 8. Part, 95, Mathew Manning's Caſe. See before Pennant's Caſe, Sect.

4. Where, and by what Act, and by whom done, a Condition ſhall be extinct, or ſuſpended in part, or in all: And where it may be apportioned, where not.

1. J. M. Tenant in tail, made a Feoffment upon Condition to re-make an eſtate to him and his Wife, and the heirs of his body, the Remainder to T. M. filio meo, &c. the Remainder Sibilla, filia mea; The Feoffee reciting by the Deed, made the Feoffment by the words Dedimus et Conceſſimus to J. M. and his Wife, and the heirs of their two bodies, the Remainder T. M. filio meo, the Remainder Sibilla, filia mea; J. M. dyed, T. M. his heirs within age, entred for the Condition broken. It was the Opinion of the Court, That Sibilla filia mea cannot be meant the daughter of J. N. And it was holden, That the heir ſhould not take advantage of the Condition, becauſe he was a party to the breach, and alſo for that his acceptance had extinguiſhed the Condition: But Quære in this Caſe, If the Condition be not ſuſpended onely, 32 H. 8. Dyer. 45. See Cook 4. Part, in Dampott's Caſe, Where a Condition if it be intire, be ſuſpended in Part, it ſhall be ſuſpended in all.

2. A man made a Feoffment to two upon Condition to make back an eſtate for the life of the Feoffor, the Remainder in Fee to a ſtranger, and one of them made the eſtate accordingly. In that Caſe, It was holden good for a moyety, becauſe the party who was to have advantage of the Condition, had diſpenced with it by the acceptance of the eſtate. 4 E. 6. Dyer. 69. acc.

3. A man by Deed Indented, made a Leaſe of three Mannors, A. B. and C. rendring for A. 6 l. for B. 5 l. for C. 10 l. upon a Condition to reenter in all the three Mannors, for want of not payment of the ſaid Rents, or any of them; Afterwards, the Leſſor bargained and ſold the Reverſion of one houſe, and 40. Acres of Land, parcel of the Mannor of A. to J. S. and his heirs; and afterwards bargained and ſold all the reſidue to another and his heirs. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the ſecond Bargainee could not enter for the Condition broken being intire, which could not be apportioned by the Act of the parties; but, by ſeverance of part of the Reverſion, the Condition was deſtroyed in all. But it was agreed in that Caſe, That by an Act in Law, a Condition might be ap-Pertioned. Mich. 14 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1015. adjudged.

4. The Preſident and Schollers of Corpus Chriſti Colledge in Oxford made a Leaſe for years; Provided, that the Leſſee nor his Aſſigns ſhould not alien to any perſon, or perſons, without ſpeciall Licence of the Leſſors, and afterwards, they by their Deed gave Licence to the Leſſee to alien, or Leaſe the Land to any perſon or perſons whatſoever; The Leſſee aſſigned all his Term to J. S. It was Reſolved, That the Alienation by Licence to J. S. had deſtroyed the Condition, ſo as no Alienation afterwards could give cauſe to the Leſſors to enter, for the Leſſors could not diſpence with the Condition in part, but that thereby they deſtroy all Alienations afterwards to be made. Hill. 45. Eliz. in B. R, Cook 4. Part, Damports Caſe.

5. A Leaſe was made to three upon Condition That they, nor any of them ſhould Alien without the Aſſent of the Leſſor, and afterwards one Alienes without his aſſent, and afterwards the other two alienes without his aſſent. It was adjudged, That the Condition being intire as to one perſon; was determined in all. Mich. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Leeds and Crompton's Caſe adjudged.

6. Leſſee for years of divers parcells of Land, rendring rent, and for not payment a Re-entry, the Leſſee aſſigned part of the Land to A. and part to B. and kept a part to himſelf. Afterwards the Leſſor levyes a Fine of all the Lands to the uſe of the Conuſee and his heirs, the Leſſee payes the rent for the whole Land to the Conuſee, and afterwards the rent becomes behind, and the Conuſee enters for the Condition broken. It was moved in this Caſe, That by the aſſigning of the Leſſee of part of the Lands to one, and part of the Lands to another, that the Condition was gon and deſtroyed. But in this Caſe, It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the Condition did remain, and was not gone, nor deſtroyed; And it was not like to Winters Caſe, Dyer 308. where the Leſſor did aſſign part of the Reverſion to one, and part to another; for in that Caſe the Leſſor by his own Act had deſtroyed the Condition, but in this Caſe, it is the Act of the Leſſee; and therefore there is no Colour in it, that the Condition ſhould be gone or deſtroyed. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Hawkeſwith's and Davies's Caſe. Intrator, Paſc. 19 Jac. rott. 83. Godbolt. 336.

7. A Leſſee for 91. years did Covenant and Grant, that he would not Alien ſub pœnâ forisfacturæ to any one, but to his Wife for life, and afterwards for the reſidue, to one of his Children, or for ſuch default, to a yonnger brother. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, admitting it to be a Condition; That by his Alienation to the firſt, he hath now an abſolute eſtate, and to his eſtate, no Condition can be annexed, by the words of the firſt Covenant, and the word (Niſi) ſets him at Liberty to grant to thoſe which are comprehended within the niſi; and reſiduum termini to one of the younger brothers. And it was ſaid, that the word vel, or Niſi here, gave no Election at all to the Leſſee to Alien the whole Term unto his Wife, or to one of his younger brothers; but the firſt Alienation ought to be to the Wife for her life, and the vel or Niſi, ſhall be for the diſtribution of the reſidne of the Term, after the death of the Wife, and then to his Children, and for default of ſuch, to one of his younger brothers, and this to be of the reſidue of the Term. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Fitz and Whitchcock's Caſe. Boldſt. 2. Part, 290, 291, 292. acc.

10. A man having no Iſſue, by his Will Deviſed certain Tenements which he had in London to Friends in Fee, upon a Condition, that they and their heirs ſhould pay a yearly Rent of 7 l. Iſſuing out of the ſaid Tenements, at four Quarter-dayes, according to the Cuſtome of London, to the Wife of the Deviſor during her life, and 4 l. yearly, to 42. poor men of the Hoſpitall of B. for ever: and if the Rent ſhould be behind by the ſpace of ſix Weeks after any dayes of payment (and lawfully demanded) that it ſhould be lawfull for the Wife to diſtrein; and further added, that his intent was, that ſhe ſhould be paid the ſaid yearly Rent accordingly. The Rent was behind, and no demand made of the Tenements by the Wife, nor any for her; the heir of the Deviſor entred. It was a queſtion, if his Entry were lawfull or not, or that the penalty of the expreſſe Condition, annexed to the Eſtate of the Deviſees, were qualified or deſtroyed by the penalty of diſtreſs added to the Rent; and ſo a Limitation of the payment of the Rent to the Wife, and the heir of the Deviſor to take an advantage of the breach of the Condition. It was holden by the better Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That if the Rent be behind, that the Wife might not diſtrein till it be demanded, and yet the heir of the Husband might enter for the Condition broken, although the Wife never made demand; And it was holden in this Caſe, That the Subſequent words of diſtreſſe did not qualifie the penalty of the Condition. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer. 348.

9. A Prior ſeiſed of divers Lands with the Aſſent of his Covent, made a Leaſe of them for years rendring the Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. at four Feaſts, for one houſe 3 l. 11 d. for another 20 s. and for the other houſes, ſeverall Rents amounting to the reſidue, with Condition, that if the ſaid Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. be behind in part, or in all, &c. then when the Prior and his Succeſſors to re-enter. The Priory came to the King by ſurrender; who under the Great Seal granted one of the houſes to the Leſſee, and a ſtranger in Fee: Afterwards it was found by Inquiſition, that part of the ſaid Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. was behind, and then the King before the Office returned, granted the other houſes to J. S. in Fee. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, that becauſe the Condition was intire, giving a Re-entry into all for default of payment of any part, (If it were in the Caſe of a common perſon) the whole Condition ſhould be deſtroyed; But being in the Caſe of the King, the Condition by ſeverance of part of the Reverſion, ſhould not be utterly deſtroyed, but the Condition ſhould be devided, and apportioned. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 101, 102. Knighters Caſe.

5. Where, upon a Condition broken, the Eſtate ſhall be void ab initio, and the Feoffer, &c. adjudged in his former Eſtate, where not; And where a Condition is not to be performed, without notice, et è contra, Where to be performed within Convenient time.

1. IT is regularly true, That he who entreth for a Condition broken, ſhall be ſeiſed in his former eſtate; or of that eſtate which he had when he made the Eſtate upon Condition; But this Rule hath divers exceptions. 1. In reſpect of poſſibility: As if the Husband, ſeiſed in the right of his Wife, makes a Feoffment upon Condition: the Husband dyeth, the Condition is broken; the Heir ſhall enter, and yet he ſhall not have the eſtate of the Feoffer, but his eſtate ſhall vaniſh; and his eſtate ſhall veſt again in the Wife, as it is holden in Cook 8. Part, 44. in Whittingham's Caſe. 2. In reſpect of neceſſity: As if Ceſtuy que uſe after the Statute of Richard the third, and before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, makes a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, which is broken; he is now ſeiſed of the Land, whereas before he was ſeiſed of the Uſe; as Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 202. 3. In ſome Caſe the Feoffer ſhall be in of his former eſtate, but not in reſpect of ſome qualities, As if Tenant by Homage Auncеſtrell makes a Feoffment and enters for the Condition broken, he ſhall not be Tenant by Homage Auncеſtrell, becauſe the privity of the Tenure is deſtroyed. And ſo it is; If Tenant for life makes a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, and enters for the Condition broken; he ſhall be Tenant for life as he was before, but yet ſubject to a Forfeiture; for although that the eſtate be reduced, yet the forfeiture is not purged.

2. A. ſeiſed of divers Lands holden in Capite, deviſed parcell of theſe Lands to divers perſons to have and to hold, to them and the ſurvivor of them untill ſuch time, and Term, that 800 l. by them and their Executors were levyed of it, and that to imploy in the preferment of his daughters, and dyed; his ſon and heir took the Will into his hands and entred into the ſaid Lands, and received the profits of them during his life: Afterwards the Deviſees entred into the Lands, and received the profits, and levyed of them 640 l. according to the Will; And if the profits taken by the heir, and which the Deviſees might have taken, ſhould be accounted parcell of the ſaid ſum of 800 l. was the Queſtion. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That where the words are, untill the ſum of 800 l. ſhall be levyed, that the ſame is as much as to ſay in Law; as untill they ſhould and might be levied, for otherwiſe it ſhould be in the power of them who were to levy the mony, to exclude him in the Remainder, or in the Reverſion to take the profits. 2. That when the Deviſee is put out by the Entry of the heir, that it is in the Election of the Deviſees to have an Action to recover the mean profits, or to re-enter, and retein the Land over untill the entire ſum be levyed; for the other ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong: And in this Caſe It was Reſolved for one point, That although the Deviſees had not notice of the Deviſe; yet the Deviſees ought to have taken notice of it at their perill. Mich. 42 Eliz. in Curia Wardorum. Cook, 4. Part, 81. Sir Andrew Corbets Caſe.

3. Debt was brought upon an Obligation to perform an Arbitrament, between the Plaintiff of the one part, and A. and B. of the other part: Ita quod arbitrium prædict. fuit et deliberetur utrique partium prædict. The Defendant pleaded that that Arbitrament was delivered to one of the parties onely. In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That the Action did not lye: for it is reaſon that every one who is ſubject to the penalty, and danger, have notice of the Arbitrament, and that it be delivered to each of them; for without ſuch notice, advantage ſhall not be taken againſt him: and therefore becauſe the Arbitrament was not delivered to both; It was adjudged, that the Action did not lye. Cook Trin. 43 Eliz. rott. 1804. in C. B. Hugates Caſe, 203.

4. The Lord Cromwells Caſe, (which ſee before) was this: A. ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon was Appendant, bargained and ſold the Mannor for good Conſideration to B. and his heirs. There was a Covenant to ſuffer a Recovery, and Levy a Fine to uſes. Provided, That B. ſhould give the Advowſon to A. for his life; and if it happened not void, then one time to his Executors. The Fine was levyed, and the Recovery had accordingly: B. did not grant the Advowſon to A. in his life, but he dyed, and the Condition became void: The ſon of B. entred into the Mannor, and afterwards A. entred for the Condition broken, and ſold the Mannor to the Lord Cromwell. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That it was a Condition. 2. That the Fine Levyed by A. and B. had not extinct the Condition. And 3. That by the death of B. the Condition was broken: And in the Argument of this point, it was agreed for a Rule in Law, That when the Feoffee or Grantee upon a Condition, is to make an eſtate to the Feoffor or Grantor, the Condition is broken. But when the parties by mutuall agreement give a certain time within which the Condition ſhall be performed, and within the time he who ought to perform the Condition dyeth, ſo as it becomes impoſſible by the Act of God; there the Eſtate remains abſolute diſcharged of the Condition. And in that Caſe it was alſo holden. That when an Eſtate is to be made by the Feoffee upon Condition to a ſtranger, the Feoffee ought to make it within convenient time, and the eſtranger needs not to make any requeſt in that Caſe. Cook 2. Part, 70. in the Lord Cromwells Caſe.

5. A Parſon promiſed, that he would make a good and Lawfull eſtate and aſſurance in Law of a Rectory, and diſcharge of former bargains and ſales done by him during the Joynt-lives of him and the Plaintiff, as by the Learned Counſell of the Plaintiff upon requeſt ſhould be adviſed; In Aſſumpſit brought, it was moved, If the advice ſhould be given to him immediately, who ſhould make the Eſtate, or to the Plaintiff. It was Reſolved, that it was the moſt fit, that the Counſellor ſhould give his Counſell to him with whom he was of Counſel, and that he make known the ſame to him who is to make the Eſtate; for otherwiſe, perhaps he might miſtake it; and would have notified the ſame: But in this Caſe, It was Reſolved; That the Counſellor cannot give notice without requeſt. Paſc. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 20. Higginboorns Caſe.

6. A man made a Feoffment in Fee of Land, and for the better aſſurance, bound himſelf in an Obligation, that he and his ſon ſhould do all ſuch Acts as ſhould be deviſed by the Obligee: The Obligee deviſed a Deed of Releaſe, and the Father delivered it as his Deed, but the ſon would not deliver it; but being unlearned, deſired the Obligee to read it unto him, or to have the Deed read unto him, which he refuſed to do. And brought an Action of Debt againſt the Father upon the Obligation. But it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the ſon was bound to deliver it at his perill, becauſe that the Father had bound himſelf that his ſon ſhould do it, and he took upon him that his ſon, though a ſtranger, ſhould do it. Cook 2. Part, 19. Maner's Caſe.

7. Debt brought upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, That if the Defendant deliver to the Plaintiff one Obligation of the ſum of 10 l. wherein the Plaintiff ſtood bound with one T. to the Defendant, for the payment of 5 l. and alſo if the Defendant do acknowledge ſatisfaction of a Judgment upon the ſaid Obligation; And alſo deliver true notes of all Bills of charges as concern the ſame, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded Quod non fuerant aliquæ Billa miſa rum pro et con. fact. prædict. and did not anſwer to the reſidue of the Conditions. It was adjudged againſt the Defendant: for he ought to have performed the reſidue of the Condition within convenient time; and in this Caſe, It was further Reſolved. 1. When the Act by the Condition of the Obligation to be done to the Obligee, is in its nature a tranſitory Act, as payment of mony, and no time is limited, although a place be expreſſed, the Act ought to be performed within convenient time; And a difference was taken between the concurrence of the Obligor and a ſtranger, and the Obligor and the Obligee. As if I be bound to enfeoff a ſtranger, and no time is appointed, although that the concurrence of the Obligor and Obligee be requiſite, the Obligor ſhall not have convenient time during his life, but ought to do it preſently, for the Obligor hath taken upon him to do it to a ſtranger, and it may be done without the concurrence of the Obligee. But when the Obligee himſelf is party, and the Act cannot be done without his concurrence, there it is reaſon that the Obligor have time during his life, if the Obligee doth not haſten it upon requeſt. 2. It was Reſolved, That when the Act which the Obligor by the Condition ought to do, doth not in any manner concern the Obligee, nor his benefit, but is to be done by the Sole Act and Labour of the Obligor, and no time is limitted in the Condition when the ſame ſhall be performed, there the Obligor hath time during his life to perform it, if it be not haſtned by requeſt. Cook 6. 8. In Debt brought upon an Obligation for non performance of Covenants; the Caſe was: Whereas Sir Robert Brown was ſeiſed of the Mannor of G. with the Advowſon Appendant, and Sir Robert Strowd was ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. in the ſame County. It was agreed betwixt them, that there ſhould be an Exchange betwixt them of the

ſaid Mannors: and becauſe the Mannor of G. was the better, Strowd Covenanted with Sir Robert Brown and his ſon, to pay 1200 l. to the Father for the Demeſnes of the ſaid Mannor of G. and that at Michaelmas next there ſhould be a mutuall Entry into the ſaid Mannors, and that in the mean time they ſhould take the profits of their own Mannors; and the Plaintiffs declared that they had performed all the Covenants which were to be performed on their parts, and the Defendant had not payed the 1200 l. The Defendant by proteſtation that the Plaintiff had not performed the Covenants ſaid, That the Plaintiff after Michaelmas ſold the ſaid Mannor of G. to J. S. and his heirs; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law. It was ſaid for the Defendant, that the Action could not lye, for the contract is Executory, for there is no mony to be paid, untill he hath the Mannor: for the Covenant is pro manerio, and (pro) implies a Condition, and being Executory on the one party, it ſhall be alſo Executory on the other party; alſo there is no time Limited when the payment ſhall be made; And it being a tranſitory Act, ought to be done within convenient time. And in this Caſe, the Law will appoint no time, becauſe the other party hath diſabled himſelf to perform his part. On the other part it was ſaid, That the Act here is to be done upon an indefinite time; and the Defendant is to do the firſt Act; and the Defendant ought to procure Counſell to adviſe, for mutuall aſſurances were to be made, and the one ought not to be a Carver to the other: And for the time, It ought to be before Michaelmas, for otherwiſe the Plaintiff ſhall be enforced to keep his Mannor all his life, and ſhall be hindred of the Sale of it for the payment of his debts, and by the Articles every thing was to be done before Michaelmas. And Mich. 37 in B. R. Mills and Parſon's Caſe was: A man Covenanted in Conſideration of 4 l. Rent, to be granted to him, payable at Michaelmas, and our Lady-day, yearly to levy a Fine of a Mannor to the uſe of, &c. and the aſſurance of the firſt is not made before Michaelmas; and it was Reſolved, That the Covenant was not performed; for the grant of the Rent ought to be before Michaelmas, otherwiſe he could not have the benefit intended. The Caſe was not Reſolved, but adjourned. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Sir Robert Brown and Sir Robert Strowds Caſe. Popham, 198, 199.

9. A man ſeiſed of a Wharf and houſe holden in Burgage, Deviſed the ſame to his Wife and her heirs, upon Condition that his Wife, by the advice of Learned Counſell, and in convenient time, ſhould give and aſſure all the ſaid Lands, to maintain a Free-School, and Almeſmen, and Almeſwoemen for ever; And that his Wife ſhould have the Iſſues and profits of them during her life, bearing the charges of the ſame School; and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed. She entred, and was ſeiſed accordingly, and afterwards ſhe made a Leaſe for years of the Lands, the heir entred for the Condition broken. It was in this Caſe Reſolved. 1. That the Condition was not void, for the Teſtator had demiſed, That Councel Learned ſhould adviſe how the Lands and Tenements ſhould be aſſured or maintenance, and continuance, &c. which might well be. 1. By making them a Corporation by the Kings Letters Patents, and then by Licence to aſſure the Lands and Tenements to them. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Condition was broken, becauſe the Wife had not done it within convenient time, and becauſe ſhe had diſabled her ſelf by the making of the Leaſe for years, to perform the Condition. Cook 1. Part, 22. Porter's Caſe.

10. A man was bound to make an Aſſurance before the firſt day of January, and the laſt day of December; the Obligee an hour before Sun-ſetting came to the Obligor with a Deed ready to be ſealed, and prayed him to Seal the ſame; who ſaid unto him, that he was a man unlearned, and that he would ſhew it to his Councell, and then Seal, but he did not Seal it. It was moved that the Obligation was not forfeit, for when a thing is not to be done but upon requeſt, then he who is to make the requeſt, ought to leave ſufficient time to perform the Condition which is not here done, for by his late requeſt it is become impoſſible to be performed; for before his Counſell could peruſe it, the time would be paſt: But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Obligation was forfeited, becauſe he did not ſeal it preſently, for when he knew of the laſt Inſtant of time, he ought to have had his Councel ready with him. Hill. 26 Eliz. in C. B. See Cook 2. Part, Manſer's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, Slingsbyes Caſe. acc.

11. An Award was made, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 8 l. or 3 l. & Coſts of Suit as ſhould appear under a Note of the Attorneyes hand of the Plaintiff. In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That although the Attorney, as in ſome reſpect, he was a ſervant to his Maſter; yet to this purpoſe he is a meer ſtranger; and therefore the Plaintiff was not bound to make any tender of that note, but the Defendant ought to have required the Note and coſts of Suit of him, that he might have his election to pay the 8 l. or the 3 l. and coſts of Suit: And in this Caſe, It was agreed by the whole Court, That when it is a thing which lyeth in the knowledge of the Plaintiff, there he ought to make the Tender and give notice: but in the principall Caſe it did not lye in the knowledge of the Plaintiff, and he could not compell the Attorney to do it. Hill. 17 Car. in B. R. Dowell and Moſon's Caſe. Mar. Rep. 156.

6. Where

6. Where the performance of a Condition in pleading is to be averred; where not.

1. NOte: In all Caſes, when an Intereſt or Eſtate beginneth upon a Condition precedent, be the Condition or act to be performed by the Plaintiff, or Defendant, or any other, and be the Condition in the affirmative or negative, there the Plaintiff ought to ſhew that in his Count, and aver the performance thereof: For in ſuch caſe, the Intereſt or Eſtate commenceth in him by the performance of the Condition; and is not in him till the Condition be performed. But it is otherwiſe, when the Intereſt or Eſtate paſſeth preſently, and veſts in the Grantee; and is to be avoided by matter ex poſt facto, or Condition ſubſequent, be the Condition or act to be performed by the Plaintiff, Defendant, or other, and be the Condition in the affirmative or negative; for in ſuch caſe the Plaintiff was Count generally, without ſhewing the performance thereof; and this ſhall be pleaded by him who will take advantage of the Conditions or matter ex poſt facto, and not by the Plaintiff. Cook 7. Part, 10. Mghtreds Caſe.

2. The Grange and Ferme of Barton were by Indenture Leaſed to Henry Beinſhin and Elienor his Wife for their lives, the remainder to William Beinſhin their ſon for his life, ſi ipſe inhabitaret, et reſidens eſſet omino de et ſuper prædict. Grangiam. It was in that caſe ſaid, That the Defendant in his plea in barr ſhewed the time of his Entry, and his abode thereupon. But yet it was Reſolved, That the barr was not, notwithſtanding he did not do it, becauſe by Common Intendment it ſhall be taken, that his Entry was immediate after the remainder fell to him; and if it were not ſo, the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed it in his Count, and not the Defendant in his Barr. Paſch. 4 E. 6. Plow. Com. 26. Calthirſt and Beinſhins Caſe. And ſee there, 30. That if I grant to one, That when he ſhall do ſuch an act, that he ſhall have a Rent-charge out of my Land; In that caſe he ſhall not avow for the Rent, unleſs he ſhew that he hath performed the Condition; for that the performance of the Condition enables him to have the Rent. But if I grant to one a Rent-charge out of my Land, upon Condition, That he ſhall do ſuch a thing, here he ſhall not avow for the Rent, before he hath performed the Condition; for the Condition is ſubſequent, and goeth in defeaſance of the Eſtate, which he who would have the Eſtate to continue, ought not to ſhew, for that it makes againſt him. Plow. Com. 30. Ibid.

3. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant promiſed, that if the Plaintiff ad inſtantiam Defendentis would marry the Defendant's daughter, he would pay unto him 20 l. and give him 20 French Crowns towards their Wedding-Dinner, and alledges de facto, That he married the Defendant's daughter, and had required him to pay the ſaid 20 l. and the ſaid 20 Crowns; and he had not paid it. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, in ſtay of Judgment, That the promiſe was but conditional, if he ad inſtantiam of the Defendant married his daughter: And he ſaith, That he married her; but he doth not ſay, ad inſtantiam Defendentis: and ſo being a Condition precedent, he hath not averred the performance thereof. But it was holden by the whole Court, upon this agreement, To marry her ad inſtantiam Defendentis, and he marrying her, that it ſhall be intended ad inſtantiam Defendentis; without averring, That he afterwards at the Inſtance of the Defendant married her. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Poyns and Poyns Caſe, 5th. 1. Part, 141.

Confirmation.

1. What words in a Deed ſhall make or amount to a Confirmation; What not.

1. A Leaſe was made to a woman for years, who took husband, and dyed; the husband poſſeſſed of the Term, the Leſſor by Deed Indented, did grant and demiſe all that his Ferm in B. and alſo another Tenement there, with all Lands, &c. now in the Tenure of J. S. who was the firſt husband of the Leſſee to William W. To have and to hold, all the ſaid Ferm and Tenement, with all the recited premiſſes to the ſaid W. W. and his Aſſigns, from the end and expiration of the Term of years granted to the ſaid J. S. for 63 years. Afterwards, J. S. took another wife, and made her his Executrix, and by his Will deviſed to her his Term, and dyed; and the Wife entred and claimed by the deviſe; and afterwards ſhe took another husband, and ſhe and her husband being in poſſeſſion of the ſaid Term, took a Leaſe for term of their lives, of him who had the Fee-ſimple; whereby the Term was drowned. W. W. ſuppoſing the firſt Term was en-

tted, and that the ſecond Term did now begin, entred upon them. Divers Exceptions were taken; 1. Becauſe the ſecond Leaſe was made to begin after the end and expiration of the ſaid Term of years granted to J. S. and the firſt Leaſe was made to B. and A. his Wife, and came to J.S. by means of his entermarriage with A; and therefore it could not be ſaid, that the Term was demiſed to J. S. But to that Exception it was Anſwered and Reſolved, That although the firſt Term was conveyed to J. S. by Act of Law, ſcil. Intermarriage, yet the words were ſufficient to limit a certain commencement of the ſecond Term: for it is not to be taken by the word [dimiſſorum to J. S.] that it ought to be intended of neceſſity, that the firſt Term was granted to J. S. But the words [dimiſſorum to J. S.] may be fitly uſed when the Term was granted to another, and aſſigned over to J. S. And the Exception taken to the Declaration was, That it could not be ſaid, that he in the Reverſion could make a Leaſe, as the Plaintiff hath ſuppoſed; for during the time that the Leſſees were poſſeſſed by the firſt Leaſe; the ſecond Leaſe took not effect: but it ought to have been alledged, That they firſt made a ſurrender, and that thereupon he in the Reverſion made a new Leaſe. Alſo it is not alledged to be per Chartam. But in this caſe it was holden, That by the words in the Deed, ſcil. Demiſe and grant, the ſame did enure by way of Confirmation, without other words to make a Confirmation. 1 Eliz. Adams and Wrottesley's Caſe. Plo. Com. And ſee 2 Eliz. Dyer 178. acc.

2. Tenant for life the remainder in tail, joyned in a Fine Sur Conuſans de Droit to A. who rendred a Rent-charge of 40 l. per annum to Tenant for life: he in the Remainder dyed without Iſſue; he in the ſecond Remainder entred: Tenant for life diſtrained for the Rent. It was adjudged, That he might well diſtrain, for that the Fine was no diſcontinuance, for that every one gave that which they might lawfully give: for firſt it ſhall be ſaid to be the grant of Tenant in tail, and afterwards the Confirmation of Tenant for life, and ſo ſhall be no forfeiture. And in that Caſe it was agreed, That if there be Tenant for life the remainder in tail, and the Tenant for life and he in the firſt Remainder, make a Feoffment by Deed, that the ſame is no diſcontinuance, for every one gives that which he may lawfully give; and although that he in the firſt Remainder dyeth without Iſſue, yet the Feoffee ſhall hold the Land during the life of the firſt Tenant for life, becauſe his joyning in the Grant ſhall but enure by way of Confirmation, and it ſhall be the grant of him in the Remainder; but if the Feoffment were by word, then the ſame ſhall be the ſurrender of the Tenant for life, and the Feoffment of him in the Remainder. Cook. 1. Part, 76. Bredons Caſe.

3. Leſſee for life, and the Leſſor, joyned in a Leaſe for years by Indenture; the Leſſee dyed, the Termor committed Waſte; the Leſſor brought an Action of Waſte againſt him. It was holden in that Caſe, That it was but the Confirmation of him in the Reverſion. 7 Eliz. Dyer 234. Newdigates Caſe.

4. A. Tenant for term of life, the remainder to B. in Fee; both, by Deed Indented, joyned in a Leaſe to Treport. It was a Queſtion, Whether the ſame ſhould be adjudged in the Law, the Leaſe of them both? And it was Reſolved, That it was the Leaſe of A. during his life, and the Confirmation of B; and after the death of A, it was the Leaſe of B, and the Confirmation of A: and becauſe the Plaintiff declared of a Joynt-Demiſe of A. and B. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. And in that caſe, Bredons Caſe, Cook 1. Part, was agreed to be Law. And, 2. In that caſe it was Reſolved, That although that the Leaſe was by Deed Indented, that it ſhould be no concluſion; for when the Deed doth enure by way of paſſing of an Intereſt, (as in the caſe it doth) it ſhall not be taken by any Concluſion. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtiutes, 45. Hill. 44 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1459. Ellis and Chownes Caſe. acc. Mich. 37 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 6. Part, 15. Treports Caſe.

5. In a Replevin, the Iſſue being joyned upon a Surrender made by the Leſſee for years to the Leſſor. Upon the Evidence, it appeared by Indenture, That the Leſſor had but an Eſtate in tail in the Land, the Reverſion to the Queen in Fee; and the Leſſor Covenanted and granted to the Leſſee, That he ſhould have and hold the Land to him and his wife that then was, and to any other wife which he ſhould marry, during the life of the Leſſor, without paying any Rent, but no Livery was made upon that Deed. And if the ſame ſhould enure as a Surrender of the Term, or as a Confirmation to the Leſſee to enlarge his Eſtate, during the life of the Leſſor, was a Queſtion? It was Reſolved by 3. Juſtices, That it was neither a Surrender of the Term, nor a Confirmation, but a meer Covenant onely: But Weſton held it to be a Confirmation, by the word, Grant. Paſch. 10 Eliz. Dyer 272. Sackfords Caſe.

6. A Termor for 1000 years made a Deed of Feoffment by the words, Dedi, Conceſſi, et Confirmavi, and made a Letter of Attorney to make Livery; and afterwards the Attorney made Livery, and gave Seiſin, the Leſſor being upon the Land, not contradicting it. It was holden in that caſe, That the Term did not paſſe by the words, and enure as a Grant; but the Lands paſſed by the Livery and Feoffment, and ſo was a forfeiture.

Paſch. 21 Eliz. Dyer 362. But ſee Cook 2. Part, 31. Bettisfords Caſe. Where a Leaſe was made of a Meſſuage for years, and of divers Lands; and afterwards, the Leſſor entred into a cloſe parcell of the Lands Leaſed, (the Leſſee for years being in the houſe) and made a Feoffment of the Meſſuage and Lands herewith demiſed, and made Livery in the cloſe, that, in that caſe, the Livery, and alſo the Feoffment was void; for that the Leſſee being in the poſſeſſion of the houſe, the ſame is his Caſtle; and is the poſſeſſion alſo of the Lands deviſed with the houſe.

7. Note: It is holden in the Old Books, 7 E. 3. Fitz. Confirmation 23. If the Leſſor recites, That where his Leſſee holdeth for years, that his Will is, that he ſhall hold for life, the ſame is a good Confirmation, without other words, 19 H. 6. 44. If a man makes a Deed by Dedi Conceſsi et Confirmavi, to one who is ſeiſed of the Freehold, the ſame ſhall enure as a Confirmation, and not as a Feoffment, 22 H. 6. 42. One Joynt-Tenant enfeoffeth another, the ſame ſhall not enure as a Feoffment, but as a Confirmation. So 10 E. 43. If 2. Coparceners be, and one enfeoffeth the other by Deed, containing Dedi et Conceſsi, it ſhall enure as a Confirmation. And if a man be Tenant at Will, and a Deed is made to him by him in the Reverſion, containing the words, Demiſe, and grant, and to Farmlet, to him for his life; the ſame ſhall enure as a Confirmation. And ſo it was holden in Baſſet and Mauxells Caſe. Quære. And ſee Litt. 121. b. That the words, Dedi and Conceſsi, ſhall have the ſame Conſtruction, and enure as the word Confirmavi: As if I be diſſeiſed of a Carve of Land, and I make ſuch a Deed, Sciant præſentes, quod Dedi to the Diſſeiſor, vel Conceſsi to the diſſeiſor the ſaid Carve, and deliver the Deed to him without any Livery of the Land, the ſame is a good Confirmation, and as ſtrong in Law, as if it had had the word Confirmavi in it. Cook Inſtitutes 154. a. acc. But yet I conceive, That if the diſſeiſee had delivered the Deed upon the Land, It ſhould be taken as a Feoffment, and not as a Confirmation; for he ſhall be adjudged by his entry in his Remitter; and then the delivery of the Deed upon the Land, will amount to a Livery in Law. See Br. Confirmation, 17. acc.

2. What ſhall be ſaid a good Confirmation; and by whom made, and who not: And where Leaſes, or other Grants made by Biſhops, Deans and Chapters, Parſons, with Confirmation, ſhall be good; where not: and who muſt Confirm the ſame. And ſo of Prebends or other perſons.

1. THis Caſe was put to the Juſtices of the Court of Common-Pleas: An Alien purchaſed Lands, and, before Office found, the Queen made him a Denizen, and then confirmed his Eſtate. The Queſtion was, Who ſhould have the Lands? Some of the Juſtices held, That he ſhould take onely to the uſe of the Queen; and then the Confirmation is void. And to that purpoſe, Kings Caſe, Paſch. 11 Eliz. Dyer 283. If a man Enfeoff an Alien and a Denizen to his uſe, That the Queen ſhall have the moyety: And ſo it was ſaid, That if the Freehold ſhould be in the Alien before Office found, If a Treſpaſſe be committed, who ſhall puniſh it; for that the Alien ſhall have no Action. But it was the Opinion of the Lord Anderſon, and ſome other of the Juſtices, and of divers Serjeants, That it is a Rule in Law, That in every Feoffment there is a Feoffor and a Feoffee; and if there be a Feoffee, he muſt of neceſſity take: and therefore, till Office be found, it muſt of neceſſity be in the Feoffee: and therefore in the principal caſe, the Confirmation is good. Mich. 28 in C. B. Goldeſbr. 29.

2. Land was given to husband and wife, and the heirs of their two bodies, the remainder to the husband in Fee; The husband levied a Fine, with Proclamation to the King; who by his Letters Patents gave the Land to J. S. and his heirs; the husband dyed; the wife within the 5. years entred, claiming her Eſtate. J. S. dyed, his heir reciting the ſpecial tail granted to the husband and wife, and that the wife was ſeiſed of an Eſtate tail, confirmed to the wife her Eſtate, Habendum the Land to her and to the heirs of the body of her husband begotten, who was deceaſed; the Wife having iſſue then a ſon called A. begotten betwixt her and her husband, and dyeth. A. the ſon enters, and afterwards accepts a Fine Sur Conuſans de Droit tantum, from two ſtrangers, with a Render for 99. years after the death of A, if B. his wife ſo long live; the Proclamations paſſe; A. dyeth, having Iſſue two ſons; the Eldeſt in Ward to the the King at his full age, and before Livery, Covenants to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf, and the heirs males of his body; the eldeſt ſon dyeth without Iſſue male, having a daughter within age: The Queſtion was, Whether the Land did belong to the daughter, or to the younger ſon? It was Objected in this caſe, amongſt other things, That the Iſſues ſhould be inheritable by the ſaid Confirmation: For by the Confirmation, J. S. had excluded himſelf and his heirs by expreſs words, as long as the wife had any Iſſue of their body to claim the Land: and it ſhould be againſt reaſon, that J. S. who made the Confirmation after the death of the wife, ſhould enter into the Land againſt his own Confirmation. And again it was ſaid, That the Confirmation did alter the quality of the Eſtate of the wife; for, whereas J. S. after the death of the wife might have entred and barred the heirs in tail; now by the Confirmation he had added this enlarging quality, to make all the heirs of the Tail inheritable. But it was Reſolved, That the Confirmation wrought nothing; for when the wife entred and was ſeiſed in tail, no Eſtate was left in the Conuſee, but onely a poſſibility; and then ſuch poſſibility did not paſſe by ſuch Confirmation: and then when the husband had the Remainder in Fee, the Confirmation made by the heir of J. S. could paſſe nothing in reſpect of the poſſibility, which was gained by the Fine before the continuance of the Eſtate-tail, but that which was drawn out of the remainder in Fee; and that could not be, 1. Becauſe that no new Eſtate is created by the Confirmation, but the old Eſtate confirmed, and therefore it cannot diſcend. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Confirmation could not add a diſcendable quality to him who is diſabled to take by diſcent. And it was agreed, That Confirmatio aut eſt proficiens, Creſcens, or Diminuens; and this was none of them; for that the wife had as perfect, and as large Eſtate before the Confirmation as ſhe had afterwards. Cook 9. Part, 138, 139. Beaumonts Caſe.

3. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff being within age, made a Feoffment in Fee of the Lands to the Father of the Defendant, rendring Rent, and that the Plaintiff by Indenture confirmed Tenementum prædict. &c. Habend. ſibi et hæredibus. And that his Father dyed ſeiſed, and the Lands diſcended to him. It was holden in this caſe, That upon his own ſhewing, the Feoffment was void; for being made by an Enfant, and by a Letter of Attorney as it was pleaded to be, it was a Diſſeiſin: and alſo becauſe it was not averred, That the Defendant had any thing in the Land at the time of the Confirmation upon which it might enure; and the Land did not paſſe here: but where a Confirmation enures by way of enlargement: neither was it averred, That the Plaintiff was of full age at the time of the Confirmation. And for theſe cauſes, Judgment was given againſt the Defendant. Mich. 2 Ma. Dyer 109. Ragways Caſe.

4. The Prior of St. John of Jeruſalem and his Confreers, made a Leaſe for years to 3. by Indenture at Will; one of the Leſſees dyed: the Leſſor reciting the death of them by Deed, made an Eſtate to the Survivour, To have to them and their heirs; but made no Letter of Attorney to make Livery. It was adjudged, That by the ſurrender of the Deed, the Eſtate of Will was determined, ſo as the ſecond Grant could not enure now to a Confirmation. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer 269. It was a Quære in that caſe, If the death of one of them did not determine the Eſtate at Will. See Cook 5. Part, 10. in Henſteads Caſe, Reſolved, That the Eſtate at Will is not determined.

5. Father and Son; the Father ſeiſed in Fee, made a Feoffment to the uſe of the ſon and his heirs, upon Condition: Afterwards the Father and Son joyned in a Grant of a Rent-Charge; the Condition was broken: the Father entred. It was Reſolved, That he ſhould hold the Land charged. It was Objected, That the Deed was pleaded as a Confirmation; and a Confirmation cannot alter the Quality of the Eſtate, unleſs it inlarge the Eſtate. In that caſe this difference was taken; When the Eſtate of him to whom the Confirmation is made, is upon an expreſs Condition; there the Confirmation made to him cannot alter the Eſtate: but if ſuch Feoffee upon Condition make a Feoffment over, ſo as his Eſtate is ſubject to a Condition contained in another Conveyance, but no Condition is expreſſed or annexed by the Feoffor to his heir; there, a Confirmation of his Eſtate which he hath by abſolute words, doth extinct the Condition which was annexed to the Eſtate of the Feoffee: As, if Leſſee for life grants a Rent-charge in Fee, the ſame is abſolute; but in reſpect of the Eſtate of the firſt Grantor, it is determinable: and if he in the Reverſion Confirm ſuch a Grant, the Confirmation is good: but if the determination of the Rent had been expreſſed by the Deed, the Confirmation had not made it abſolute: As if Leſſee for life had granted a Rent to one and his heirs during the life of Leſſee for life, and afterwards the Leſſor confirm the Rent to the Grantor and his heirs, and the Tenant for life dyeth, the Rent ſhall ceaſe, for that a Confirmation cannot enlarge that which is determinable upon an expreſs Condition. Cook 1. Part, 111. Albaniet Caſe.

6. Lands are given to two men, and to the heirs of their two bodies; the Donour confirms their Eſtates in the Land, To have to them and heir heirs: The queſtion was, if they were Joynt-Tenants, or Tenants in Common: Some were of Opinion, That they were Joynt-Tenants of the Fee, becauſe their poſſeſſion was joynt. Others held that they were Tenants in Common, becauſe when the Eſtate which comprehends ſeverall Inheritances is confirmed, the confirmation ought to ennure according to their ſeverall Inheritances which is the moſt durable Eſtate; and ſo they ſhould be Tenants in Common. Quære. For the Caſe is not Reſolved. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 229.

7. A Prebend made a Leaſe for 70 years, The Biſhop, and Dean, and Chapter, reciting the Leaſe confirmed dimiſſionem prædict. fact. for 51 years, et non ultra. And after, the Prebend made another Leaſe to begin after the determination of the firſt Leaſe. It was adjudged, That the confirmation did extend to the whole Term, and the words (for the Term of 51 years) came too late; And the Leaſe being for 70 years, it ſhould be repugnant to confirm dimiſſionem prædict. for 51. years. But if he had confirmed the Lands for 51 years, the ſame had bin good, for that had not bin repugnant to the Confirmation: And there it is ſaid, That if a Prebend makes a Leaſe for years, a Confirmation may be made of the Lands for a leſſe number of years, becauſe the years are ſeverall, though the Term be one. But if a man makes a Leaſe for life, or a gift in tail, or in Fee; a Confirmation of the Land to the Leſſee, made for an hour, is good for ever; becauſe the eſtate of Free-hold or Inheritance is entire. See Litt. 220. b. Cook 5. Part, 81. Ford's Caſe.

8. A Woman is Tenant in Dower, and ſhe granteth over her eſtate, he in the Reverſion having before confirmed her eſtate, to have and to hold to her for her life; and afterwards the Aſſignee commits Waſte, and the heir brings an Action of Waſte againſt the Tenant in Dower; and ſhe pleads the Confirmation to have and to hold the Land for the Term of her life: In this Caſe, notwithſtanding the Confirmation, It was adjudged, That an Action of waſte ſhall be maintainable againſt her after her Aſſignment made of her Eſtate, for the confirmation doth not enlarge her Eſtate, and therefore it cannot take away the deſcendable quality to the heirs, to have an Action of Waſte againſt her, after her Aſſignment made of her Eſtate. See 38 E. 3. 29. vouched in Cook 9. Part, 142. in Beaumonts Caſe.

9. King Ed. the firſt, by his Letters Patents, Granted to the Biſhop of Saint Davies and his Succeſſors, 34 Churches in Wales within his Dioceſſe, ſo as the Biſhop and his Succeſſor might appropriate them or any of them to their Church of Saint Davies, and Aberguilly: the Biſhop afterwards erected and eſtabliſhed a Collegiate Church in Landwybrewy, being one of the 34 Churches, and Ordained Prieſts, Channons, and Deacons, and of them made Prebendaries, and annexed and appropriated 13 Churches unto them, and reſerved to him and his ſucceſſors locum in Choro, et vocem in Capitulo, Viſitationem, &c. In which the Biſhop did not purſue the power given him by the ſaid Letters Pattents. King Edward the third having ſome doubt of the validity of the Erection of the ſaid Colledge by his Letters Pattents granted and confirmed to the Biſhop of Saint Davies and his Succeſſors, All that which his predeceſſors had done in the premiſes, notwithſtanding the Statute of Mortmaine; It was holden in that Caſe, That the ſaid Grant and Confirmation could not make the ſaid Colledge which wanted a Legal Foundation, good. And yet by the ſaid Letters Pattents, the ſaid Colledge of Landwybrewy, continued a Colledge in Reputation, untill 1 E. 6. and the ſaid Colledge was given to the King by the Act of 1 E. 6. becauſe it had the Countenance of the Kings Letters Pattents, although for the Cauſe aforeſaid, the ſaid Letters Pattents were of no effect. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 267. Cook 4. Part, 107. in Adams and Lamberts Caſe. acc.

10. Note, If a Biſhop be Patron of a Church, that the Biſhop cannot make any grant good, made by the Parſon, or other, by Licence precedent, or Confirmation ſubſequent, to bind the Succeſſor, without the Dean and Chapter, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 300. And therefore ſee the Caſe, where a Prebend in a Cathedrall Church, made a Leaſe of parcell of his Prebendary for years, though it was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, yet becauſe it was without the aſſent of the Biſhop, who is Patron and Ordinary of every Prebend, the Leaſe was holden void. Paſc. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 60. See 2. Ma. Dyer. 107. acc. where a Prebend of the Cathedrall Church of Chicheſter, made a Leaſe by Indenture; where the words were, that he with the aſſent of the Biſhop and Dean, and Chapter of the ſame Church made the Leaſe; yet becauſe the Seal of the Biſhop and Dean was not put to it, it did not amount to ſo much as a Confirmation, but the Leaſe was void.

11. A Parſon Anno 9 Eliz. demiſed his Reſtory to the Patron for 50 years, who 14 Eliz. by Deed Aſſigned the ſame over; the Biſhop confirmed the Leaſe, 17 Eliz. in the life of the Leſſor. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. Becauſe the Leaſe was made before the Statute of 13 Eliz. and ſo not within the ſaid Act, The Confirmation after the ſaid Act to perfect the ſaid Leaſe, was not within the purview and intention of the ſaid Act. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Grant made over by the Patron, did imply in it ſelf as well a Grant of the the Term as a Confirmation of the ſame Term. And ſo, ſee in this Caſe. That a Deed made of one thing, to one and the ſame perſon, by one and the ſame perſon, and at one and the ſame time, ſhall enure to two ſeverall purpoſes, to a Grant of an Intereſt, as Leſſee, and to a Confirmation of the ſame Intereſt as Patron. 30 Eliz. in Scaccario, Hodges and Mearings Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical Parſons. acc.

12. The Deanery of Ferns, which is a Donative, being void; the King gave the ſame by his Letters Pattents to J. S. without Limitation of any eſtate; J. S. is deprived by Sentence of the Biſhop of F. becauſe he was a meer Layman; Afterwards the King Granted the Deanery to J. D. during his life; The Biſhop of F. made a Leaſe of a Mannor parcell of his Biſhoprick to A: J. D. Dean, made B. being a Layman, his Subſtitute, to give his aſſent to all Leaſes, and Grants; and he and three Prebends (the Chapter conſiſting onely of a 11. perſons) fixed the Chapter-Seal to a Confirmation of the ſaid Leaſe made to A. which Confirmation was made in the name of the Dean and Chapter Afterwards, three other Prebends, at three ſeverall dayes, by themſelves, ſubſcribed their names to the ſaid Confirmation: the Biſhop dyed. Amongſt many other points, In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Confirmation was not good, and that for divers Cauſes. 1. Becauſe it was made by a Subſtitute, who was a ſtranger to the Chapter; and therefore void, For it is a Rule in Juſtinians Inſtitutes Lib. 1. Cap. de Ejectionibus, Abſens non poteſt demandare votum ſuum niſi uni de Capitulo; et, Oportet, quòd Procurator ſemper ſit inſtitutus de Collegio. 2. Becauſe the major part did not give their aſſent for the Dean; and, the Major part of the Corporation make the Corporation. 3. Becauſe they ought to put their Seal, and give their aſſent in one place, and at one time: for the Leaſe ought to be confirmed ex aſſenſu, et conſenſu of them capitulariter congregat. in a place certain, and that is the Chapter-houſe; and becauſe the Confirmation was not ſo, the ſame was holden void. See Sir John Davies's Reports, The Caſe of the Dean and Chapter of Ferns. And ſee 4. Ma. Dyer. 145. acc.

13. If a Biſhop have two Chapters (as there may be two or more Chapters unto one Biſhoprick) both the Chapters muſt confirm the Leaſes made by the Biſhop: but if one of the Chapters after the making of the Leaſe be diſſolved, there a Confirmation made by the Chapter which is in being, is ſufficient to make the Leaſe good; and in ſuch Caſe, there needs not any Confirmation of the King, who is the Supream Ordinary of all Biſhopricks in England. 11 Eliz. Dyer. 282. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 301.

14. If a Dean of a Collegiate Church be elected Biſhop of another See, with a Diſpenſation retinere Decanatum in Commendam; It after the Biſhop of that See, whereof he was the head, and Dean, do make a Leaſe of parcell of the poſſeſſions of the Biſhoprick; The Confirmation of that Leaſe by the Commendatory Dean is good, as it was adjudged. Paſc. 3 Car. in B. R. in Evans and Aſcues Caſe. See Hobart Mich. 10. Jac. in C. B. Colt. and the Biſhop of Coventries Caſe. 140. to 163.

15. Confirmare, or a Confirmation is but firmum facere: And therefore, If a Biſhop before the reſtreining Statutes of 1 Eliz. and 1 Jac. had made a Feoffment in Fee, of Lands, parcell of his Biſhoprick; and the Dean and Chapter by their Deed had confirmed the Deed of the Biſhop, the ſame had bin good, and Livery and Seiſin made upon the firſt Deed had bin good, after the ſaid Deed had bin Confirmed. So if a Biſhop by Deed enrolled, had conveyed Lands to the King, and the Dean and Chapter had confirmed the Deed of the Biſhop, and afterwards the Deed had bin enrolled; It had bin ſufficient to have confirmed the Lands to the King, although the Deed of the Dean and Chapter had not bin enrolled: For the aſſent was to be made to the Act by the Biſhop; and to him, and not to the King: And at this day, If a Parſon Vicar, &c. make a Leaſe for 21 years, or three Lives; And the Patron and Ordinary do confirm the Deed of the Parſon, or Vicar; this ſhall make the Leaſe good to ſome purpoſes, and ſhall be a confirmation of the Deed it ſelf, although the Term be not confirmed, and ſo it was holden. Paſc. 3 Car. in the Common Pleas. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 301, 302. acc.

16. King Ed. the 6th granted to a Biſhop and his Succeſſors, an Advowſon, and that he ſhould hold the ſame to his proper uſe; After the death of the Incumbent, the Biſhop by Indenture, made a Leaſe to begin after the death of the Incumbent; which Leaſe was confirmed, and then the Biſhop dyed: Afterwards the Incumbent dyed. It was holden by all the Juſtices, That this Leaſe was void againſt the Succeſſor, for that the Biſhop had nothing during the life of the Incumbent; and therefore the Confirmation could not make the Leaſe good. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 244.

17. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was: A Prebend of the Prebendary of P. and F. was ſeiſed of the Rectory of P. in the right of his Prebendary: and 13 Eliz. did deviſe the ſame to J. S. and J. D. for 70 years: C. Biſhop of L. Patron of the Prebendary, and Ordinary of the Dioceſſe, Granted the next avoidance to D. which Grant was confirmed by J. W. Dean and Chapter. After D. did confirm the Leaſe made by A. to J. S. and J. D; the ſaid

J. S.

J. S. being then alive; then J. S. dyed, and the next avoidance being come to E. and G. they presented J. N. who was admitted, installed, and Inducted into the Prebendary: D. dyed, L. succeeded him; then dyed J. N; L. did Collate K. to the Prebendary, who was Instituted and inducted, and entred into the Parsonage, and Leased the same to W. for five years, which Lease came to the Plaintiff, upon whom one Burket entred, as Servant to one Henry Corvill, who claimed under the Lease made by A. to J. S. and J. D. and in this Case, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for although the Lease made by A. for 70. years, was not yet expired; and although B. the Prebend came in after, and under the Confirmation of the Lease; Yet J. N. the Prebend before him, came in by a Grant of the next avoidance, made, confirmed, and perfected before the confirmation of the Lease, and so consequently was not subject unto it, and then when he entred upon the Parsonage, he was seised in his Demesne as of Fee, and so did defeat the Lease totally, so as it could never take effect, or revive against any Successor whatsoever. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Spendlows and Burkets Case. Heb. 7.

18. In Debt brought for Tythes, the Case was: A Parson made a Lease of his Rectory for 60. years; which was confirmed by the succeeding Bishop, and the succeeding Patron, neither of them being Bishop or Patron at the time of the Lease; yet it was Resolved by the whole Court, That the Confirmation was good. Trin 2 Car. in B. R. Sir Robert Banisters Case. Cro. 1. Part, 27.

19. If a Parson of a Church charge the Glebe by his Deed; And afterwards the Patron and Ordinary do confirm the same Grant; In this Case, If the Patron be Tenant in Fee-simple, the Grant is good, but if he hath the Advowson onely for life, or in tail, then shall the Grant stand no longer good but during his life, and the life of the Parson that Granted it; and in such case, If the Bishop be Patron, he cannot confirm alone, but the Dean and Chapter must confirm also. Cook 1. Part, Institutes 300.

20. The Deanery of W. was dissolved by Parliament, and a new Deanery erected, to which the possessions of the Prebend of C. were annexed; The King made J. S. Dean, who took the Prebend of one of the Prebendaries of the same Church, upon which the Bishop by Commission of visitation, did deprive him for taking two dignities in the same Church, and a new Dean made, upon which he appealed, and by Commission-delegates, the said deprivation was disallowed; upon which, certain Leases made before by J. S. Dean, were confirmed by the Bishop and Chapter. Afterwards upon another Appeal, J. S. was removed, and the other Dean restored, who would have avoided the Leases: But upon this Case, (amongst other points) It was holden, That the Leases made by J. S. were good, and that the same needed not the Confirmation of the King (as was pretended there ought to have bin) nor of the Bishop, but onely of the Chapter, for that a Deanary is a Spiritual Promotion, and is not a Donative. Pasc. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 273.

21. The King presented (by reason the Temporalties of the Bishop was in the Kings hands) a Prebendary; and afterwards the King repealed his Presentment, and yet the Clerk was Instituted, and Installed by the Dean and Chapter, being Guardian of the Spiritualties Sede durante; afterwards, the King reciting that he was lawfully Instituted, confirmed the presentment; and afterwards a Bishop was created, and the Incumbent dyed: It was holden, That the King should now have the Presentation, for by reason of his repeal, the Church was not full before; and then if the Presentment was void, the Confirmation of him was void also. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer 292.

22. H. made a Lease for years of 20 Acres of Land, rendring Rent; the Lessee Granted all his Estate in one of the Acres to J. S. The Lessor confirmed the Estate of J. S. It was Resolved that by this Confirmation, the entire Rent was gone in all the other Acres: for being an entire contract, and by his own Act, there cannot be an Occupation of part, and an extinguishment of the other part; and this Case was put, out of Bendloes Reports. A Warren did extend into three Parishes, and a Lease was made for years rendring Rent; and after the Reversion was Granted to another of all the Warren in one of the Parishes; and the Lessee did Attorn: The Justices said, That in that Case, neither the Grantor, nor the Grantee should have any Rent, for that no contract should be apportioned. 2. It was Resolved, That in the principal Case, H. should not Avow; for the Arrerages of the Rent determined. Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. Goddards Case. Owen. 10.

23. Note, a Confirmation shall never enlarge an Estate, but where there is privity; neither shall it abridge Services, but where there is privity: Therefore if there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant holds of the Lord by fealty, and 20 s rent, The Lord by his Deed, may confirm the Estate of the Tenant to hold by 12 d. and the Tenant is discharged of the other Services, but those which are contained in the Confirmation; and that is in respect of the privity, that is between the Lord and the Tenant. But if there be Lord, Mesne, and Tenant, The Lord cannot confirm the Estate of the Tenant, to hold of him by lesser Services, but such Confirmation is void; because there is no privity betwixt betwixt them. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 296. and 305. acc.

24. If a man hold by Suit of Court, at the Manor of D. and the Lord and the Tenant agree that the Tenant ſhall do his ſuit at the Manor of S. or the Lord confirm to the Tenant by Deed, that he ſhall do his Suit at the Manor of S. In ſuch Caſe, notwithſtanding ſuch Agreement, or Confirmation, the Lord may diſtrein the Tenant to do his Suit at the Manor of D. becauſe the Suit remains to the Manor, notwithſtanding the Agreement, or Confirmation of the Lord. See Old. Nat. Br. 104. acc.

Conſiderations.

1. What ſhall be ſaid to be good and ſufficient Conſiderations to raiſe, or change Uſes; And where, upon ſuch Conſiderations, the Uſes, or Eſtates ſhall be raiſed, or changed; and Where not?

1. A Man enfeoffed J. S. of Lands holden in Knights Service, to the uſe of B. and his heirs. Afterwards J. S. enfeoffed J. N. to the uſe of the ſaid B. and his Wife, and to the Heirs of B: B. dyed, and his Wife ſurvived, and they had Iſſue a ſon within age; It was holden in this Caſe, That this Feoffment being without conſideration, no new uſe was altered by it; and the old uſe was not gone, and ſo the heir was to be in Ward. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 8. Bocktenham's Caſe.

2. If a man Recovers againſt me by a Common Recovery, and afterwards I enfeoff the Recoveror, he ſhall be ſeiſed to my uſe, for he ſhall be adjudged in by the Recovery, and not by the Feoffment; and ſo ſhall be ſeiſed to my uſe; there being no expreſſe Conſideration, to raiſe or change the former uſe. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 18.

3. A. Covenanted with B. in conſideration that the ſaid B. had conveyed divers Lands to the ſaid A. in Fee-ſimple, after the death of the ſaid B. that the ſaid A. ſhould levy a Fine of other Mannors, of which A. was ſeiſed, by which Fine the ſaid Mannors ſhould be aſſured to the ſaid A. for his life, the Remainder to B. in tail; no Fine was Levyed. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That that Fine could not change any Uſes preſently; for if it ſhould, then by no poſſibility the Covenant could be performed; But it was agreed by them, That if I in conſideration of Marriage, or of a Sum of mony to me paid, Covenant, That the party ſhall have the Mannor of D. expreſly, the ſame ſhall change the uſe preſently, for that the ſame are good Conſideration to raiſe or change an Uſe. Mich. 1. Ma. Dyer. 6.

4. A Man before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, Covenanted in Conſideration of the Marriage of his daughter, that he would ſtand ſeiſed of certain Lands to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his death, that his daughter and her Huſband ſhould have the ſaid Lands to them and the Heirs of their bodies in tail; And that he and all other perſons then ſeiſed, or after to be ſeiſed, ſhould be ſeiſed to the ſaid uſes: And Covenanted, that he would make further aſſurance to the ſaid Uſe. The Marriage took effect; And afterwards he bargained and Sold the Land for a valuable conſideration of a Sum of Money, (which was not paid) to one who had notice of the firſt uſe, and thereupon levyed a Fine, and ſuffered a Recovery, and afterwards dyed. It was holden in that Caſe, That in that Caſe the Bargain and Sale, the Mony not being paid to one who had notice of the firſt Uſe, did not change the firſt uſe, which was well raiſed by the Covenant; And therefore a Feoffment made by the Husband and Wife, afterwards was holden good. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 235.

5. A. by Indenture Covenanted with B. and his Wife, for Love and Affection, that ſhe would aſſure certain Lands before ſuch a day to the ſaid B. and his Aſſigns, to ſuch uſes as ſhould by the ſaid Indenture be declared: and B. Covenanted by the ſame Indenture, that within ſix Moneths after the aſſurance made, that he would cauſe an Eſtate to be made to the ſaid A. if the premiſes for the Term of her life, the Remainder to the ſaid B. and his Wife in ſpeciall tail, the Remainder to the Wife of B. in Fee; and further Covenanted to Grant a Rent-charge of 20 l. to a ſtranger in tail; And afterwards a Recovery was had accordingly, but no Eſtate was Executed again by the ſaid B. And the queſtion was, whether the uſe was changed after the ſix Moneths, or not. And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the uſe was not changed by the Indenture, and Recovery onely, without an Eſtate Executed; For then the Covenants aforeſaid, ſhould be impoſſible to be performed; and no uſe after is declared; and therefore it ſhall be to the firſt uſe. Trin. 4 Ma. Dyer. 162. Wingfields Caſe.

6. A. by Deed falſly recited, that in Conſideration of 7000 l. paid, he had enfeoffed B. and C. to have and to hold, to them and their Heirs, to the uſes of the ſaid B. and C. in perpetuum. And afterwards it was found by Office, That A. dyed dyed ſeiſed, and that the Land was holden in Capite, and that J. was his heir, and of full age It was holden in this Caſe, That the Heir ſhould not have bin received, to averr the falſe conſideration againſt the Conuſans of his Aunceſtor; for that the Conſideration of mony was in it ſelf, a good Conſideration to raiſe an uſe; and therefore it was holden, that the Court of Wards could not remove the Feoffees upon examination of the Conſideration, and retain the Land untill Livery were ſued; But that yet the Queen in Juſtice was to tender Livery to him, who was found to be Heir; And in this Caſe, It was further holden, That B. & C. had an Eſtate in the uſe, but for Term of their lives; but contrary if the words, (to the uſe of them, &c.) had bin left out. Trin. 11 Eliz. Dyer. 169. Wilk's Caſe.

7. A. upon a Communication of a Marriage to be had betwixt his younger ſon, and B. promiſed to the friends of the ſaid B. that after his death, and the death of his own Wife, that his ſaid Son ſhould have the ſaid Land to him and his Heirs; And this promiſe being by word onely; and no conſideration on the part of the Wife, upon a Verdict found of this Speciall matter; It was a queſtion, if the Uſe was changed by this Covenant or not. But the Opinion of all the Juſtices was; That the uſe was not changed by ſuch a naked promiſe; it not being ſufficient to raiſe an uſe. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 297.

8. A Woman ſeiſed of Lands by diſcent from her Father, ſuffered a Recovery to her own uſe; And afterwards by Indenture declared, That the Recoverors ſhould be ſeiſed to the uſe of her and B. whom ſhe intended to marry, and their Heirs: they married: the Feoffees Executed the Eſtate accordingly. Afterwards the Husband and Wife by another Indenture made betwixt them, and the next Heir, of the part of the Mother of the Wife, reciting that, The Land was Inheritable by her, on the part of the Father, and that ſhe had none Iſſue of her body, and that ſhe was deceived in the firſt Judgment, for that ſhe alwayes intended if ſhe dyed without Iſſue of her body, that the heirs of the part of her Father ſhould have the Land, agreed to be ſeiſed to the uſe of themſelves in tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Wife; and the Husband Covenanted, if the Wife dyed without Iſſue, he would execute an Eſtate to himſelf for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Wife; the Statute of 27 H. 8, is made, the Husband dyed without executing any Eſtate. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Heir of the Wife ſhould have the Land, and that the conſideration in the laſt Indenture of the Husband and Wife, was ſufficient to raiſe an uſe of the whole Land to the heirs of the Wife, becauſe the Land moved from the Wife, and it was for the Advancement of the Line from whence the Land deſcended. Trin. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 302. See Plow. Com. 301. Bayton's Caſe. And ſee 14 Eliz. Dyer. 308. acc.

9. Sir Francis Calthrope not having Iſſue, Covenanted with Windham alone, That A. the ſon of Ed. Calthrope his brother ſhould marry the daughter of Windham before Mich. And further Covenanted with him to make an Eſtate to a ſtranger, of ſo much of his Mannor of N, as ſhould amount to 40 l. per annum to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after his deceaſe and carnal Copulation betwixt A. and the daughter of W. to their uſe, and the uſe of the heirs of the ſaid A. on the body of the daughter, the remainder to A. in general tail, the remainder to his own right heirs. And for the reſt of the ſaid Mannor, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of Edward in tail, the remainder to his own right heirs: and he Covenanted with Ed. to make further aſſurance within a year, and that the ſaid Uſes ſhould not be altered without the aſſent of Windham. And Edward by the ſaid Indenture Covenanted to pay Sir Francis 100 l. which he paid, and a Fine and a Recovery was had to the ſaid Uſes. The marriage did not take effect; Sir Francis after, had Iſſue one ſon, and dyed: and the Queſtion was, Whether the Land ſhould diſcend to the ſon, or ſhould come to Edward in the remainder. In this caſe, It was ſaid, That although here money was paid, which was a ſufficient Conſideration to raiſe the Uſe; yet becauſe the principal cauſe of this Conveyance, was the marriage which did not take effect. It was a Queſtion, If all the Uſes were not deſtroyed. The Caſe was not Reſolved, Quære. Paſch. 16 Eliz. Dyer 335.

10. A. Covenanted with his eldeſt Son, and others, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, the remainder to his eldeſt ſon in tail, the remainder to himſelf in tail, the remainder to B. his baſtard ſon in tail; and if any in the remainders ſhould make any diſcontinuance or other prejudice to any in the Remainders, his Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and they ſhould ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of the next in the Remainder; the Father granted all his Eſtate to the eldeſt ſon, who levied a Fine with proclamations: the Baſtard B. pretending title, made a Leaſe to try the title. It was in this caſe Reſolved amongſt other points, That for the uſe to the Baſtard, there ought to be a valuable Conſideration; for that natural affection was not a ſufficient Conſideration to raiſe the uſe, for that a baſtard is a ſtranger in Law, though he be a ſon by nature. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer 374. Worſleys Caſe.

11. Francis Earl of Bedford made a Feoffment in Fee of divers Mannors to the uſe of himſelf for years; and afterwards to the uſe of John Lord Ruſſell, his ſon and heir apparant, and to the heirs males of his body begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the remainder to the right heirs of the Earl: John dyed without Iſſue male: In that caſe, the Conſideration for raiſing the uſe, was good; but the uſe and the Eſtate which was limited by way of remainder to the right heirs of the Earl, was void; becauſe ſuch an Eſtate could not be limited by way of Remainder at the Common-Law. 35 Eliz. in the Court of Wards. The Earl of Bedfords Caſe. Cook 1. Part, in Chudleighs Caſe.

12. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in Fee; he in the Remainder by Deed Indented, Enrolled, Covenanted, for Conſideration of blood, and other good Conſiderations, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the remainder to the Queen, her heirs and Succeſſors, Kings and Queens of England. Tenant in tail ſuffered a Common Recovery. It was adjudged, That the Eſtate tail was barred. And in that caſe it was Reſolved, That no uſe could be raiſed in the Queen upon ſuch general Conſideration, without a ſpeciall averment, That valuable, or other good Conſideration was given. And that Conſideration, that the Land ſhall continue in his blood, was no Conſideration to raiſe the uſe to the Queen: and no more is it, if it were in Conſideration, that the King is the head of the Common-wealth, and the preſerver of the peace of the Realm; ſuch general Conſiderations are not ſufficient to raiſe Uſes, for that Kings ex Officio ought to govern and preſerve their Subjects in peace and tranquillity. Cook 2. Part, 15. Wiſemans Caſe.

13. The Lord Paget ſeiſed of divers Mannors, by Deed Indented, Covenanted with J. S; That in Conſideration of diſcharge of his Funerals, payment of his Debts and Legacies, and advancement of his ſon, and others of his blood, to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannors, to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. for the life of the ſaid Lord Pagett, and after his death, to the uſe of C. P. and others, for 21 years; and after the expiration of the ſaid Term of 21. years, then to the uſe of W. Pagett his ſon, in tail: And afterwards the Lord Pagett was attainted of Treaſon. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the ſaid Term was void to C.P. becauſe the ſame wanted a good Conſideration; but, if he had made him Executor, and chargeable to the debts, then the Conſideration had been good. Mich. 32 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Leon. 194. The Lord Pagett's Caſe.

14. A man having Iſſue 3. daughters, ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, in Conſideration of his Iſſue male, if he ſhould have any; and for the advancement of his daughters and the heirs of their bodies, and for the continuance of the Land in his Blood, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his 3. daughters, and the heirs of their bodies; and if any of them ſhould dye without Iſſue male, that then, &c. part ſhould ſurvive: Proviſo, That he might limit any part of that Land by his Will for payment of his debts, or for the advancement of any perſons for lives or years. In this caſe, amongſt other points, It was Reſolved, That an uſe cannot be raiſed by any Covenant, Proviſo, or Bargain and Sale, upon a general Conſideration without a ſpecial averment. But in ſuch caſe, the Bargainee onely who ſhall take the uſe, may aver, That it was for valuable Conſideration of money, or for the advancement of his blood, if the perſon who ſhall take the uſe be certain; for an averment may be taken of a Conſideration which ſtands in the Deed, although it be not compriſed within the Deed. 2. Reſolved, That when Uſes are raiſed by Covenant in Conſideration of blood, or Paternal Love to his ſons or daughters; and by the ſame Indenture, a Proviſo is added, That the Covenantor, for divers good Conſiderations, may make Leaſes for years; the Covenantor in ſuch caſe cannot make a Leaſe to any perſon, for the Covenant upon ſuch general Conſideration, cannot raiſe an uſe; and no particular averment can be taken, that his intent was not at the time of the delivery of the Deed, to denuiſe the ſame to any perſon certain. And in that caſe, this Rule was taken, That when the Conſideration is general, and the Covenant, or Bargain made with a perſon certain, there an averment may be taken; but when the Conſideration is general, and the perſon incertain, there no averment can avail. Cook 1. Part, 174. Mildmay's Caſe.

15. A. Covenanted with B. for the advancement of ſuch heirs males, as well which he had begotten, as which he ſhould after beget, on the body of his wife, before ſuch a Feaſt, to levy a Fine of Lands to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of the eldeſt Iſſue male of the body of him and his wife lawfully begotten, with divers Remainders over; and afterwards he made Leaſe of the ſaid Lands for a 100 years: and afterwards levied a Fine accordingly. In this caſe, amongſt other points, it was holden, That Conſideration of blood and natural affection, was not a good Conſideration againſt a purchaſor which comes in bona fide; for it is not ſuch a Conſideration which the Statute of 27 Eliz. of Fraudulent Conveyances, intends a valuable Conſideration. 32 Eliz. in C.B. Needham and Beaumonts Caſe. Vouched in Cook 3. Part, in Tupre's Caſe.

16. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, by Indenture made between him and his wife of the firſt part, his eldeſt ſon of the ſecond part, and his younger ſon on the third part, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to his Wife for life; and afterwards of the one moyety to one ſon, and of the other moyety to the other ſon. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, That the uſe did riſe to the wife, although ſhe were not named in the Conſiderations in the Deed, becauſe the expreſs of the uſe to her (being his wife) doth import a ſufficient Conſideration. And ſo in that caſe, It was Reſolved, That if I in conſideration of fatherly love and affection to my eldeſt ſon, Covenant, that I will ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of my eldeſt ſon for life, or in tail, and after to the uſe of my ſecond ſon in tail, and after to the uſe of one of my Coſens in Fee: albeit the Conſiderations in words have reſpect onely to the eldeſt ſon; yet it is ſufficient in Law to raiſe an Uſe to my ſecond ſon, or Coſen. Cook 7. Part, 40. Bedells Caſe. See Cook 11. Part, 25. Harpers Caſe, &c.

17. Tenant in tail Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed in Conſideration of a marriage to be had by his ſon, with the daughter of J. S. to the uſe of himſelf and his heirs, untill the marriage be had; and afterwards to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to his ſon and his wife, the daughter to J. S. and the heirs of their bodies, and ſuffers a Recovery with voucher to that purpoſe; they dye without Iſſue. It was adjudged, That the Entry of him in the Remainder depending upon the Eſtate tail was lawful; for here is no Conſideration to raiſe an uſe, for the Conſideration is only the marriage of his ſon with a ſtranger, which as to the changing of the poſſeſſion, is not any benefit to the Father; for he is a ſtranger to that perſonall and particular Conſideration: but if the Conſideration had been for the eſtabliſhing of the Land in his blood, then it had been good, for that that concerned the father. Mich. 2 Jac. in C.B. Freſhwater and Rens Caſe. Brownlow 193. See Calthrops Caſe before.

18. Note: If I convey my Lands to which I have on the part of the Mother, or Lands which I have in Borough-Engliſh, to J. S. and his heirs, without Conſideration, the uſe ſhall be void, and ſo the Lands ſhall return again to me, and to my heirs of the part of the Mother, or in Borough-Engliſh as they were before; for the Law doth conſtrue the uſe in the ſame quality as the Land was: But if I do declare the uſe to me and my heirs, Or upon ſuch Feoffment reſerve a Rent to me and my heirs, it ſhall go to my heirs, at the Common-Law; for it is not within the Cuſtome, but it is a new thing divided from the Land it ſelf. See Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. in Cunden and Clarks Caſe. Hob. 30. &c.

19. In an Ejectione Firme, It was found by Special Verdict, That A. Father of the Leſſor, was ſeiſed in Fee, and Covenanted by Indenture, in Conſideration of love to his eldeſt ſon, and for the ſettling of his Lands in his name and blood, That he would before Eaſter convey the Lands to J. S. and others, to the uſe of himſelf for life, the remainder to his ſaid ſon in tail, with divers remainders over; with a Proviſo, That he might make Leaſes for 21 years; and with a Proviſo, that he might revoke all the Uſes and Eſtates by any his Writing or Will. And he Covenanted further, That he would ſtand ſeiſed after Eaſter of ſo much of the Lands as ſhould not be ſufficiently conveyed to the ſaid ſeverall Uſes: And they found, that no Aſſurance was made, and that 40 Eliz. he for 40 l. paid, demiſed the Land to the Defendant for 21 years; and they found the Clauſe of the Statute of 27 Eliz. Cap. 4. and one makes a Conveyance with clauſe of Revocation, &c. It was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. That the Uſes raiſed by this Covenant, being made in Conſideration of love to his ſon, That the Covenant extended to all; for the Conſideration being ſufficient, the Covenant will extend to all, there being nothing conveyed by the Eſtate executed. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Eſtate not being executed, the Proviſo to make Leaſes was void, and the Leſſees are ſtrangers to the Conſideration of blood, and therefore cannot take benefit of any ſuch Eſtate thereby. 3. It was holden, That the Leaſe ſhould be good and abſolute, and not impeached: But he who made it, having power to revoke it, the ſame ſhall conſtrue it as revoked and void as to the Leſſee, and that he was as Tenant in Fee, when he made that Leaſe. Hill. 2 Jac. in C. B. Croſſe and Buſtedditches Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 180.

Conſul-

Conſultation.

Where a Conſultation ſhall be grounded upon a Suit in the Spiritual Court; and where not.

1. THe Fermor of a Rectory ſued a Pariſhioner in the Spirituall Court, for the Tythes of Wheat in 60 Acres of Lands: The Defendant in the Spiritual Court ſuggeſted, That the 60 Acres was barren ground, and that for 30 years together Tythe only of Lamb and Wooll had been paid for the ſame Land; and that afterward by the manurance and labour of man, the ſame was become fertile, and did bear Corn and Grain. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the Owner of the Land ſhould for 7. years pay but ſuch Tythes as he had uſed to pay before; and that by force of the Statute of 2 E. 6. 2 Ma. Dyer 170. and therefore in ſuch caſe, a Conſultation was not granted.

2. If Land be barren ſuapte natura, Tythes ſhall not be paid of it, as it was adjudged, Mich. 11 Jac. in the Common-Pleas, in Sherrington's Caſe. But if under-woods be digged up by the Roots; or if a Marſh or Meadow by accident of Inundation be over-run with Buſhes, Thorns, or the like; yet the ſame is not barren Land; as it was adjudged, Hill. 38 Eliz. in Sherrington and Fleetwoods Caſe; but the Parſon ſhall have Tythe of it. And Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. Sugden and Cottells Caſe was, A man ſtocked up wooddy grounds, and ſowed them with Corn; and before the ſtocking, Tythes had been paid for the paſture of it with ſheep. It was adjudged in that caſe, That it was not barren Land within the Statute of 2 E. 6. and therefore where a Prohibition was granted in that Caſe; this appearing upon the Iſſue tryed, a Conſultation was awarded.

3. Note: It is ſaid and agreed, That the Cauſes Eccleſiaſticall, or Spirituall, are, Blaſphemy, Apoſtacy from Chriſtianity, Hereſies, Schiſms, Ordaining, Admiſſions, Inſtitutions of Clerks, Celebration of Divine Service, Rites of Matrimony, Divorces, Generall Baſtardy, Subſtraction of Right of Tythes, Oblations, Obventions, Dilapidations, Reparation of Churches, Probate of Wills and Teſtaments, Adminiſtrations, and Accompts upon the ſame, Symony, Inceſt, Fornications, Adulteries, Solicitation of Chaſtity, Penſions, Procurations, Appeals in Eccleſiaſtical Cauſes, Commutation of Pennance, and the like. And where a Suit is in the Spirituall Court for any of the ſaid cauſes meerly, and not intermixt with a temporal thing or juriſdiction; If a ſuggeſtion be made for a Prohibition; in ſuch caſe, a Conſultation ſhall be awarded, Cook 5. Part, 9. in Cawdries Caſe.

4. A. had Iſſue by his wife 2. ſons, C. his eldeſt, and D. his youngeſt, and dyed: C. within the age of 14 years, took E. to Wife, and at full age dwelt together, and had carnall knowledg one of the other, and were reputed for man and wife. Afterwards C. put away E. and married F. and by her had iſſue G: C. dyed, F. publiſhed, That ſhe was lawfull Wife to C, and that G. her ſon was Mulier born. D. ſued in the Spiritual Court, to reverſe the marriage betwixt G. and F: and F. brought a Prohibition. In that caſe, it was Reſolved, That if C. and E. had had Iſſue, and had been unjuſtly Divorced, ſo long as the Divorce ſtood in force, the Iſſue could not have remedy by the Common-Law. And, 2. That when the Spirituall Court ſhall have Juriſdiction, the whole Cauſe ought to be ſpiritual. But where the cauſe is originally ſpiritual, yet if afterwards they go about to try a temporal Conuſans; a Prohibition lyeth. Corbets Caſe vouch. in Cook 7. Part. Denne's Caſe, 44.

5. A man brought an Action againſt J. S. Clerk, and declared, That the ſaid Clerk and his Predeceſſors time out of mind had uſed to do Divine Service, and adminiſter the Sacraments to him and his Servants at his Chappell within his Mannor every Sonday in the year. It was adjudged, That the Action did not lye; but his remedy was, for the default of ſuch Service and Sacraments, to ſue in the ſpirituall Court. Cook 5. Part, 35 Eliz. in B. R. Williams Caſe. 72, 73.

6. If a Parſon or Vicar have a Penſion out of another Church, and the Penſion is kept from them, or another Parſon taketh or claimeth the ſame; the Parſon or Vicar who ought to have the Penſion, may ſue for the ſame in the Spirituall Court: and if the other party purchaſe a Prohibition, upon the matter ſhewed, he ſhall have a Conſultation; yet he may maintain a Writ of Annuity at the Common-Law for the ſame. But if he once ſue a Writ of Annuity at the Common-Law for the ſame, and declare upon a Preſcription, then he ſhall not afterwards ſue in the Spiritual Court for the ſame Penſion, in the name of a Penſion. Fitzh. Na Br. acc.

7. Spratt, Sub-Deacon of Exeter, did Libell in the Spi ituall Court againſt Nicholſon Parſon of A. in the Spiritual Court, pro annuali Penſione de 30 l. out of his Parſonage, and ſhewed in his Libell, That Idem per vetalem Compoſitionem, quam per antiquam et laudabilem Conſuetudinem, ipſe et prede-

Prædeceſſores ſui habuerunt et habere conſueverunt præd. annualem penſionem out of the Parſonage of A. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That although he claimed the ſame Penſion by Temporall grounds, ſcil. by Preſcription and reall Compoſition; yet becauſe both parties were ſpiritual perſons, he had his Election to ſue for the ſame either in the Spiritual Court, or in the Temporal Court; and the Statute of 34 H. 8. doth Licenſe ſpiritual perſons to ſue for Penſions in the Spiritual Court. So if a Pariſhioner ſhall refuſe to pay his Tythes, or ſubſtracteth them after they are ſet forth, the Parſon may libell againſt him in the Spirituall Court for the ſame, if he pleaſe; or ſue him upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. in the Kings Temporall Court, and ſhall recover the treble value: but if he ſue in the Spiritual Court, he ſhall there recover but the Double value; and all this was ſo adjudged, Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Spratt and Nicholſons Caſe. Godbolt 196.

8. Note: It was holden by the whole Court, upon a Motion to diſſolve a Prohibition granted to the Spiritual Court in caſe of Tythes, That when a Conſultation is Lawfully Granted, there a new Prohibition ſhall not be Granted upon the ſame Libell; but yet they qualified it with this difference, ſcil. when a Conſultation is granted upon any default of the Prohibition in the form, by the miſpriſion of the Clerk, or by miſ-pleading in it, there a Prohibition may be granted upon the ſame Libel: but if Conſultation be granted upon the right of the Thing in Queſtion, there a new Prohibition ſhall not be granted upon the ſame Libell. Paſch. 7 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 2. Part, 247.

9. A man ſued in the Spirituall Court for all the Tythes of the ground of one E, who prayed a Prohibition upon ſurmiſe, That the Queen was ſeiſed of two parts of the Tythes, and had granted them to one W. and ſo conveyes them to another, to whom he had payed thoſe two parts of the Tythes; A Conſultation was prayed for the third part; but it was denyed by the Court, for that his Conſultation cannot be granted but according to his Libell; and therefore it was ſaid, That he muſt libell for the third part de novo. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Hoskins and Toes Caſe. Hob. 115.

10. In ſtay of Suit for Tythes in the Spiritual Court, It was ſurmiſed, That A. was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and Lands in the Pariſh of D. and agreed with the Defendant being Parſon, in Conſideration of 10 l. to be annually paid by A. to the Defendant during their Joynt-lives, and his continuing Parſon, in ſatisfaction of all Tythes growing upon the ſame Lands, that he ſhould retain the Lands without payment of other Tythes; and ſhewed, That A. paid the 10 l. accordingly; and that notwithſtanding this, the Defendant ſued him for Tythes. And in this caſe, the whole Court was of Opinion, That it was not a ſufficient Surmiſe to maintain a Prohibition: for, an Agreement to be diſcharged from payment of Tythes for a year by word may be good; but to have an agreement during the Parſon's life, cannot be without Deed. And it was ſaid, That ſuch a Surmiſe was made in a Caſe betwixt Nelſon and Pretiman, and ruled, void: And ſo was it adjudged in Rolls and Rolls Caſe. Wherefore a Conſultation was awarded. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Hawkes and Brayfields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 137.

11. A. was leaſed in Fee of certain Lands in D. and poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for years of certain Lands in D; and deviſed all his Lands and Leaſes to his ſon and heir, excepting 20 l. per annum for 7. years, to be imployed in this manner, ſcil. 100 l. to his daughter E. to be paid within 5. years, and 30 l. to his daughter M. within 7. years, and dyed: T. the ſon took the profits of both for ſeven years, and dyed; and left Aſſetts. M. the younger daughter ſued for her Legacy of 30 l. and to have a Prohibition. It was ſurmiſed, that this Legacy being out of the profits of Lands, no Suit could be for it in the Spiritual Court. But the Court was of Opinion, in regard it was a meer perſonal Legacy, although it was to be raiſed out of the profits of Lands, and he having raiſed it, and being dead without payment of it, no Action could lye at the Common-Law by Accompt againſt his Executors for it; therefore the Court held it reaſonable, ſhe ſhould have her remedy in the Spirituall Court. And a Conſultation was awarded per Curiam. Paſch. 9 Jac. in B. R. Love and Mapſideus Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 279. See Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Dens Caſe, Bolſtr. 1. Part, 153. acc.

12. If a man ſueth in the Spirituall Court for taking and detaining wrongfully his wife lawfully married unto him, if the other ſueth for a Prohibition for the ſame, he ſhall have a Conſultation, for as much as concerneth the reſtitution of his wife onely; and yet he may have an Action at Common-Law, de uxore abducta, cum bonis viri; or an Action of Treſpaſs for taking his wife. Fitzh. Na. Br. 51. acc.

13. Prohibition; The Plaintiff ſurmiſed, That his Father dyed ſeiſed of ſuch Lands which deſcended to him as heir, and that the Defendant by Libell in the Spiritual Court had ſuggeſted, That he made a Will, and deviſed thoſe Lands to his Executor to ſell, and made the Defendant Executor, who ſued in the Spiritual Court to have probate thereof; whereas re verâ he made no Will: and being at Iſſue, Whether he made a Will, or no, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit, And yet it was moved ved for him, That the Defendant was not to have a Conſultation; for that it is not ſhewed, That the Teſtator had goods, &c. and then there was no cauſe of probate; for a Will of Lands need not be proved. The Court agreed thoſe Caſes; for it appears there, that there was not any cauſe of Eccleſiaſtical Suit. But here in this caſe it appears, that he hath cauſe of Suit to prove the Will for the goods; for otherwiſe he cannot have an Action: And therefore a Conſultation was granted Quoad the goods. Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Hill and Thornton's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 118. See Hill. 10 Car. in B. R. Natter and Beatts Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 284, acc. and 287.

14. The Parſon Libelled for Tythes upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. and the Caſe appeared to be this; The Pariſhioner who was to pay his Tythes, ſet them out; but he would not ſuffer the Parſon to come and take them away: and hereupon the Parſon libelled in the Spiritual Court for the Tythes: The Defendant there ſurmiſed, that he did not hinder him from the having of his Tythes; but he ſaith, he did hinder him from coming for the Tythes one way, but he might have come for them another way; and prayed a Prohibition, ſuppoſing that there was no queſtion at all touching the payment of the Tythes. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That ſuch a ſetting forth of Tythes as this was, was a fraudulent, and no good ſetting forth of the Tythes according to the Statute; for by the Statute he ought to ſet forth his Tythes, and to ſuffer the Parſon to come, have, and take away the Tythes; otherwiſe it is no ſetting out of Tythes according to the Statute: and a Conſultation was awarded. Hill. 8 Jac. in B.R. Bolſt. 1. Part, 108.

Coppy-hold, and Coppy-holders.

1. THe Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if a Coppy-holder in Fee dyed ſeiſed, and his Wife over-lived him, that ſhe ſhould hold all the Lands during her Widdowhood, as Free-bench, and ſhould be admitted Tenant to the Land, and that the Heir ſhould not be admitted to it during the life of his Mother: Alſo the Cuſtome was, That if any Coppy-holder committed Felony, and the ſame were preſented by the Homage, that the Lord might ſeize the Coppy-hold. And the Caſe was, That a man having a Wife, dyed ſeiſed, having Iſſue a ſon, who was convicted of Felony; and the ſame was preſented by the Homage, and the Wife was admitted to her Free-bench; and after the Wife dyed; And whether the Lord might enter for the forfeiture, was the queſtion: And it was ſaid in this Caſe, The Lord could not ſeiſe the Land as forfeited, becauſe he could not in this Caſe ſeiſe; becauſe the Woman is the Coppy-holder during her life, and the Son, who committed the Felony, was not within the danger of this Cuſtome, not being a Tenant; and a Cuſtome ſhall be taken ſtrictly, and not ſupplyed by Equity, with a claymor in the place of a ſeiſance: But yet afterwards, Judgment was given for the Lord, that he might ſeize the Coppy-hold. Hill. 25 Eliz. in B. R. Borneford and Packingtons Caſe. Leon. 1.

2. A Coppy-holder did ſurrender to the uſe of his Will, and then deviſed the Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his ſon in tail; the Wife dyed; a ſtranger did intrude upon the Land, and made three ſeverall Feoffments to three ſeverall perſons: he in the Remainder entred upon one of the Feoffees in the name of all the Lands deviſed, and made a Leaſe of the whole Land; It was the Opinion, That his Entry was good, and that the Leaſe was good for the whole Land, the Lands being in one County. Trin. 28. Eliz. in B. R. Troublefield and Troublefield's Caſe. Leon. 35.

3. A Coppy-holder in Fee, having Iſſue two ſons, B. and C. ſurrendred to the uſe of B. for life, and afterwards to the uſe of C. in Fee; they both being within age, ſurrendred to the uſe of J. S. in Fee, who is admitted; B. dyed, then C. dyed, having Iſſue, who was alſo admitted, and entred into the Land; and, If his Entry were lawfull or he put to his plaint, in the nature of a Dum fuit infra ætatem, was the Queſtion; And it was the clear Opinion of the Juſtices, That his Entry was lawfull: And it was ſaid, That if a man be ſeiſed of a Coppy-hold in the right of his Wife; or Tenant in tail of a Coppy-hold, doth ſurrender to the uſe of another in Fee; the ſame doth not make any diſcontinuance, but that the Iſſue in tail, and the Wife may reſpectively enter. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Right and Footman's Caſe. Leon. 95.

4. The Queen being Lady of a Mannor, by her Steward did Licence a Coppy-holder to make a Leaſe for three lives if he ſhould ſo long live, the Coppy-holder did make a Leaſe general to the Plaintiff for three years: It was objected, That the Coppy-holder had not purſued his Licence, for a Licence or Authority muſt be ſtrictly purſued:

But

But the Opinion of the Court was, That he had purſued his Licence. For when his Licence is to make a Leaſe for years, if he ſo long live; theſe words (If he ſo long live) are but ſurpluſage; For the Law ſayes, That if a Coppy-holder make a Leaſe for years, and dyes; the Leaſe is determined; and therefore the clauſe in the Licence is no more then what the Law ſayes, and ſo is void: And a difference was taken between a Coppy-holder in Fee, and a Coppy-holder for life. For if the Lord doth Licenſe his Coppy-holder in Fee to make a Leaſe for three years, if he ſo long Live, and he makes a Leaſe abſolutely, this is no forfeiture, for this Leaſe ſhall be a good Intereſt againſt the Heir of the Coppy-holder, but otherwiſe of a Coppy-holder for life. Hill. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Haddon and Armſmith's Caſe. Owen. 72, 73.

5. In an Ejectione firme, It was found by ſpeciall verdict, That J. S. a Coppy-holder of Lands in Fee, ſold his Coppy-hold Lands in ſuch a Town to the Leſſee for years of the Mannor by Indenture, the which was to this effect, He ſold all his Land and Tenements, as well Coppy-holds as other Lands, bought of J. D. in ſuch a Town, And it was found that the Leſſee of the Mannor entred into the Copy-hold; and after J. S. dyed, and W. S. was admitted as heir upon the preſentment of the Homage that J. S. dyed ſeiſed, and ſurrendred to the uſe of the Plaintiff. In this Caſe, It was agreed by the Court, That although a Coppy-holder may not convey his Coppy-hold to a ſtranger without ſurrender and admittance, yet he may Grant his Eſtate to the Lord of the Mannor out of Court by Bargain and Sale; for that the Cuſtome is not between the Lord and his Tenant, but between themſelves onely. 2. It was agreed in this Caſe, That the admittance of the Lord, viz. the Leſſee of the Mannor amounts to a Grant to him who hath a good Title; but it is otherwiſe if it is to him who is in by wrong, as by Diſſeiſin. Trin. 21 Jac. in C. B. Haſſet and Hanſon's Caſe. Winch. 66, 67. Hutton. 65. acc.

6. Coppy-holder in Fee, did ſurrender his Lands to the uſe of a ſtranger for life, and afterwards to the uſe of the right Heirs of the Coppy-holder, who afterwards ſurrendred his Reverſion to the uſe of a ſtranger in Fee, and dyed; and the Tenant for life dyed, and the right heir of the Copyholder entred. It was agreed, That in this Caſe, nothing remained in the Copyholder: upon the ſaid ſurrender, but the Fee is reſerved to his right heirs; for if he had not made any ſecond ſurrender, his Heir ſhould be in, not by diſſcent, but by purchaſe; and the difference was taken where a ſurrender was to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to another in Tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of him who ſurrendreth; there his Heirs ſhall have it by diſcent; contrary where the ſurrenderer hath not any Eſtate for life, or in tail, limited to him; for there his Heir ſhall enter as a purchaſor, as if ſuch Uſe had bin limited to the right Heirs of a ſtranger. And it was alſo agreed, That if a Copyholder doth ſurrender to the uſe of his right Heirs, the Land ſhall remain in the Lord, till the death of the Copyholder, for then his heir is known. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Allen and Palmers Caſe, Lett. 101.

7. In an Ejectione firme, It was found by Speciall Verdict, That A. a Copyholder ſurrendred a Meſſuage, and 20 Acres of Lands, into the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor, to the uſe of J. S. and his Heirs, upon Condition, If he paid the ſaid J. S. 100 l. upon the firſt of July next, the ſurrender to be void: And it was found, that the Cuſtome of the Mannor was, That a Copyholder might ſurrender into the hands of two Tenants; and it was found, that before the day of payment of the mony, he ſurrendred one Acre, parcell of the 20 Acres, to J. D. and his Heirs; And afterwards the ſurrenderer paid the 100 l. and then ſurrendred the ſaid Tenements into the hands of the Steward, to the uſe of J. N. and his Heirs: And at the firſt Court after the ſurrenders made, the ſaid two laſt ſurrenders were preſented, and J. N. was admitted to the Meſſuage and 20 Acres, and the ſaid J. D. was admitted to the ſaid one Acre, ſurrendred to the uſe of him: And it was found, that the ſurrender made to J. S. was never preſented: And it was further found, That if any ſurrender be made out of Court, to the uſe of another and be not preſented at the next Court, that it is meerly void; and that J. N. entred into the ſaid one Acre, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff. The onely queſtion was, Whether this ſurrender of the Acre before the Condition performed, were good or not; It was urged, That by the firſt ſurrender all the eſtate of the Copyhold, till the Condition performed, is out of the Copyholder, ſo as he hath not any Intereſt left to make a ſecond ſurrender, although afterwards he ſhould perform the Condition: But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the ſecond ſurrender is not hindred by the firſt, for that nothing paſſed thereby, untill it was preſented in Court, and admittance thereupon; but the Intereſt and right of the Copyhold, and the poſſeſſion remained in him who made the ſurrender, ſo as he might transfer it to any other, and it ſhall be good if the firſt ſurrender ſhall not take effect: For the ſurrender into the hands of the Tenants, was but an Inchoation of the Eſtate, to whoſe uſe the ſurrender was made, and ſuch an Inchoation as had no perfection, but became void, and the ſecond ſurrender good. 8. The Caſe was, A Copyholder in Fee ſurrendred to the Lord of the Mannor, his Copyhold-Eſtate, and the Lord made a Leaſe for years of the Mannor, and of the Copyhold, by the name of his Tenement, called H. and, If this were a determination of the Copyhold, was the queſtion. And it was holden by all the Juſtices, That it was not, becauſe when he lets the Mannor, it is included as parcell of the Mannor; But if he had made a Leaſe for years of the Copyhold it ſelf; that had deſtroyed the Copyhold: for it was then, during that time, ſevered from the Mannor, and ſo could never be demiſeable again by Copy. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R, Lee and Boothbyes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 375.

9. A Copyholder doth ſurrender his Copyhold into the hands of two Copy-Tenants: It was adjudged, That in ſuch Caſe, before preſentment, the Heir of the Surrenderer may take the profits of the Lands againſt the Surrenderee, for that no perſon can have a Copyhold, but by admittance of the Lord; As if a man make Livery within the view, although it cannot be countermanded, yet the Feoffee takes nothing before entry: But it was agreed, That if the Lord doth take knowledge of the ſurrender, and doth accept of the Cuſtomary Rent, as Rent due from the Tenant, as being admitted, the ſame ſhall amount to an Admittance; but otherwiſe, if he accept it as a duty generally. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Froſwell and Weiches Caſe, Godbolt. 268.

10. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was; That the Widows of Copyholders for lives, ſhould, during their Widowhood, enjoy their Cuſtomary Land, whereof their Husbands dyed ſeiſed: The Lord of the Mannor 5 Eliz. Granted a Cuſtomary Tenement to A. for life by Copy, and 19 Eliz. conveyed the Mannor to B. in Fee, who the ſame year conveyed the Inheritance of a Tenement to C. and others, their Heirs and Aſſigns, during the life of A. the Remainder to E. the Wife of A. the Remainder to A. in Fee: A. 28 Eliz. Granted his Remainder to W. his ſon in Fee, to whom C. and the reſt releaſed; W. having Iſſue, D. dyed, then E. dyed, and A. married again F. and dyed ſeiſed of the Cuſtomary Eſtate, 14 Jac. and then F. his laſt Wife entred. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the Cuſtomary eſtate of A. remained as it was during his life, not extinct, nor altered by the purchaſe of the Fee-ſimple, which, during his life, was in others, not in him; whereupon it followes, That all Cuſtomary Incidents, to ſuch Cuſtomary Eſtate ſtill remaining, whereof this is one, which is an excreſence, which by the Cuſtome and Law, grows of it ſelf out of that Eſtate, even as a Diſcent ſhould have done, if A. had bin a Copyholder in Fee, and the Freehold had bin granted to another in Fee; and therefore it was Reſolved, That the Widow of A. ſhould hold and enjoy her Widows Eſtate: And ſo was it adjudged in the like Caſe. Paſc. 16 Jac. in Kemmingtons Caſe. Mich. 13 Jac. in B.R. Howard and Bartlets Caſe Hob. 181.

11. A Copyholder by Licenſe of the Lord demiſed the ſame to J. S. for 21. years, rendring 20 l. Rent, afterwards he ſurrendred the Reverſion of the one moyety to the uſe of B. to which he was admitted, and then ſurrendred the other Moyety to M. who was admitted; M. diſtreined for the Moyety of the Rent, as belonging to the Reverſion, of the Reverſion of the Moyety. It was adjudged that the Surrender by name of a Reverſion was good, although the Leaſe was made by Indenture, for that it is ſtill the Leaſe of the Copyholder, and not of the Lord; and, in this Caſe, It was alſo Reſolved, That the Rent was to be devided by halves, according to the halves in the Reverſion; and that there needed no Attornment upon the ſurrender made of the Moyety, becauſe it paſſeth not by way of Grant of a Reverſion, but there muſt be an admittance of the Lord. And when that admittance is given, the State is ſetled; and the admittance is an Act in Law, and puts the party in, in the Poſt. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2049. Swinnerton and Miller's Caſe. Hob. 177.

12. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, That, by the Cuſtome, Cuſtomary Lands did deſcend to the younger ſon, who was an Enfant at the time of the death of his Anceſtor; and after 30. years incurred, after the death of his Father, he entred, and made a Leaſe of the Lands to another, who took the profits, and afterwards was ejected; whereupon he brought Ejectione firmæ without any admittance of his Leſſor, or preſentment, that he was Heir. It was Objected, That after ſo many years incurred, there was ſupina negligentia, which diſabled him to make the Leaſe. But in regard, That at the time of the death of his Anceſtor, he was but of the age of two years; and after his full age, no Court had bin holden for a long time; the ſame was a good excuſe of his negligence: And in this Caſe, it was holden, That if a Copyholder ſurrenders in extremis, to the uſe of himſelf for life, or if he be well again, the ſurrender ſhall ſtand, for he hath reſerved an Eſtate to himſelf: And it was alſo Reſolved, That if a Copyholder dyeth, his Heir within age, he is not bound to come at any Court during his Non-age to pray Admittance, or to tender his Fine. And ſo if the death of the Anceſtor be not preſented, nor Proclamations made, he is not at any miſchief, though he be of full age. Pasc. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Rumney and Eves Case. Leon. 100.

13. A Copyholder surrendred his Customary Lands to the use of his last Will, and thereby devised the same to his younger Son, and his Heirs; who being in Prison, made a Letter of Attorney to one to be admitted to the Lands in the Lords Court, in his room; And after admittance, to surrender the same to the use of B. and his Heirs, to whom he had sold it for the payment of his debts. It was Objected, That he ought to come in Court in person to make the surrender, or else the Lord ought to appoint a speciall Steward to go to the Prison to take his surrender; But it was the Opinion of Wray Chief Justice, That it was a good surrender made by the Attorney. Trin. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Leon. 17. And See Cook 9. Part, 75, 76. Combes Case. Where a Copyholder in Fee made a Letter of Attorney to two Tenants of the Mannor, to surrender his Copyhold to the use of J. S. and his Heirs, who at the next Court brought the surrender into Court, and did accordingly, no Custome being to Warrant such Surrender. And it was Resolved, That the surrender was good, because he might so do de Comuni jure, without the alledging of any Custome: But see there, Where the Custome of a Mannor is, That the Copyholder out of Court may surrender into the hands of the Lord, by the hands of two Customary Tenants; That in such Case, the Copyholder by his Attorney cannot make a surrender into the hands of the Lord by the hands of two Copyholders Tenants, for that the surrender ought to be warranted by the Custome; and a surrender without a speciall Custome to Warrant it, is not good by Attorney: And that was so holden. Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Chapman's Case.

14. If a Copyholder makes a Lease for years, which is a forfeiture at the Common Law; and after the Lord makes a Feoffment, or a Lease for years of the Freehold of this Copy-hold. It was a question, If the Feoffee or Lessee shall take advantage hereof. It was holden, That he shall not, for the Lease of the Freehold made by the Lord before Entry, is an assent, That the Lessee of the Copyholder shall continue his Estate, and so it is in nature of an Affirmance, and Confirmation of the Lease. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Penn and Mcivall's Case. Owen. 63.

15. A Woman Copyholder for life, took a Husband, the Reversion of the said Copyhold was Granted to three, A. B. C. cum acciderit after the death, surrender, or forfeiture, &c. for their lives successive, according to the Custome, the Husband surrendred to the use of A. for life, to whom the Lord Granted a Copy for life; A. and B. dye; The Opinion of the Court was, That C. should not be admitted, for that after the death of the Husband, the Wife might enter, or have her Plaint, in the nature of Cui in vita, and that during the life of the Husband, the Lord should have the Land in nature of an Occupant. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 264.

16. A man seised of a Mannor, made his Will and thereby gave Authority to divers persons, to make Leases according to the Custome of the Mannor, to raise Fines to pay his Debts, and dyed; they held a Court in their own names, and Granted the Reversion of two mens, who were Copyholders, to three others; where the Custome of the Mannor was, that the Land might be Leased by the Lord of the Mannor, or by his Surveyor, or Deputy Surveyor; Afterwards, the Wife of the Devisor recovered the third part of the Mannor in Dower, and had the said Copyhold assigned to her by the Sheriff in Dower, with other Lands; It was holden by the Justices in that Case, That the Wife should avoid the said Grant made by the said persons, assigned by the Husband. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 251. Quære this Case. For Cook 9. Part, 64. in Swaynes Case, and Cook 4. Part, 24. seem to be contrary to this Case.

17. Copyholder in Fee, surrendred his Copyhold to the Lord, to the intent that he should Grant the same again to him for life, the Remainder to his Wife, untill his son should come to the age of 21 years, and after that Term ended, the Remainder to his son in tail, the Remainder to his said Wife, for Term of her life, the Remainder over; and dyed; before the Execution of the Estates, dyed the son of the age of five years, the Lord in Court Granted the Land to the Wife, untill the son should come of full age, and further Granted, &c. Afterwards the Wife took a Husband, and dyed Intestate; the Husband held himself in the Land; And the Administrator of the Wife entred upon the Husband; And if his Entry were Lawfull, was a question: And it was the Opinion of the Court, That his Entry was not Lawfull, but that the Interest which was in the Wife, was a Term, which by the death of the Wife, was vested in the Husband by the Law, if there were no private Custome of the Mannor to the Contrary. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 251. Hitchetts Case.

18. The Queen was seised of a Mannor, whereof Black Acre was holden by Copy in Fee. The Queen Leased Black Acre to B. for 21. years, who Assigned the same to the Copyholder, who accepted of it. The Queen Granted Black Acre to C. in Fee; the Term expired, C. entred; and it was adjudged that his Entry was lawfull, for by acceptance of the said Term, the Customary Estate was determined, as if the Copyholder had accepted ted of it immediately from the Queen. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Smith and Lanes Caſe, Leon. 170.

19. Upon a Speciall Verdict in Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was; W. a Copyholder in Fee, ſurrendred the ſame to the uſe of E. for life, the Remainder to R. and A. in Fee: A. made a Leaſe to the Defendant E. R. and A. ſurrendred the Lands; ſcil. a third part to the uſe of R. for the life of A. the Remainder to the right Heirs of R. and of another third part to the uſe of R. for life, the Remainder to E. the Remainder to J. S. and of another third part to the uſe of E. and his Heirs. After partition was made betwixt them, and the Land where, &c. was allotted to J. S. who afterwards ſurrendred to the uſe of the Plaintiff: upon this Speciall Verdict; It was holden, That Judgment ought to be given for the Plaintiff, for the Leſſee of R. had the firſt poſſeſſion; and that Leaſe is to begin after the death of E. who was Tenant for life; and then when E. and he in the Reverſion, joyn in a ſurrender, the Eſtate for life in that third part, is extinct in R. who hath the Inheritance; and then his Leaſe took effect for a third part; ſo as the parties are Tenants in Common, betwixt whom no Treſpaſſe lyeth. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Dove and Williots Caſe. Leon. 174.

20. A Copyholder had Iſſue, three ſons G. H. and T. and ſurrendred his Copyhold to the uſe of his laſt Will, and thereby deviſed the Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to H. and the Heirs of his body; the Wife dyed after admittance; H. dyed without Iſſue; the Lord Granted the Copy-Land to T. and his Heirs, who afterwards ſurrendred to the uſe of the Defendant, then his Wife for life; and afterwards dyed without Iſſue; G. the eldeſt ſon entred, It was holden by the Court that the Entry of G. was lawfull, and admittance for him is not materiall: for if a Copyholder ſurrendreth to the uſe of one for life, who is admitted, and dyeth, he in the Reverſion may enter without a new admittance. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Bulleigh and Graunt's Caſe. Leon. 174, 175.

21. A Copyholder did alledge the Cuſtome of the Mannor to be, That the Lord of the Mannor might Grant Copyes in Remainder, with the Aſſent of the Tenants, and not otherwiſe; and that Copies in Remainder otherwiſe Granted, ſhould be void. It was a queſtion, If it was a good Cuſtome; It was ſaid, That it was a void Cuſtome, for that a Copyhold Eſtate is an Eſtate of which the Law doth not take notice, and Copyholders are meer Tenants at Will by the Common Law, and therefore to ſay, That he who hath not an Intereſt, ſhould have him who hath the Intereſt of the Copyhold in him, at his pleaſure, ſhould be unreaſonable: But it was ſaid on the other ſide, That this Cuſtome might have a lawfull beginning, and it ſeems to be grounded upon the reaſon of the Common Law, That a Remainder ſhould not be without the aſſent of the particular Tenant; ſo a Cuſtome that a Woman ſhall not have Dower if ſhe do not claim it within a year and a day, is a good Cuſtome: It was not Reſolved. Ideo Quære. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 140.

22. The Cuſtome of a Copyhold-Mannor was, That a Feme Covert might give Lands to her Huſband, and, If it was a good Cuſtome or not, was the queſtion. It was urged, that the Cuſtome was good, and 12 E. 3. was vouched, That in York there is ſuch a Cuſtome, That the Husband might give Lands of his own purchaſe to his Wife during the Coverture. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Cuſtome was unreaſonable, becauſe it cannot have a lawfull Commencement. And in this Caſe, It ſhall be intended, That the Wife being ſub poteſtate viri, did it by the Coercion of the Husband; and the ſame Law is of a Cuſtome, that the Wife may Leaſe to her Huſband. Trin. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Shipwith and Sheffields Caſe. Godbolt. 143.

23. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor, in which were Copyholds, and took to Wife B. and dyed ſeiſed, after whoſe deceaſe, B. demanded the third part of the Mannor for her Dower, by the name of a 100 Meſſuages, a 100. Gardens, &c. and was endowed accordingly of parcell of the Demeſnes, and parcell of the Services of the Copyholds; And afterwards ſhe granted a Copyhold; And, If it was a good Grant was the Queſtion: for if ſhe had a Mannor, the Grant was good; otherwiſe not. And the Opinion of the Court was clear againſt the Grant; for when ſhe demanded her Dower, ſhe was at liberty to demand the third part of the Mannor, or the third part of 100 Meſſuages, &c. And when ſhe demanded it by the name of 100 Meſſuages, &c. ſhe could have no Manner: and then when a Grant of a Copyhold is made by her which hath no Mannor, the Grant is utterly void. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Speke's Caſe.

24. Note: When a Copyholder ſurrenders to the uſe of another, and the Lord admits him, now he who is ſo admitted, was in by him that made the ſurrender: For in a Plaint, in the nature of a Writ of Entry in the Per, he ſhall be ſuppoſed in the Per, by him that made the ſurrender, becauſe that the Lord is but an Inſtrument to make the Admittance; and he that is admitted, ſhall not be ſubject to the Charges and Incumbrances of the Lord; for that the Lord hath but a Cuſtomary power to make admittance ſecundum formam & effectum ſurſum reddit. Cook 4. Part, Taver- ners Case. And Cook 4. Part, Westwicks Case, acc.

25. In Treſpaſſe of Trover and Converſion of Beans, The Caſe was: That the Lands upon which the Beans grew, were the Lands of a Lunatick, and Copyhold Lands; and the Lord granted to one the Cuſtody of the Land, by whoſe leave and aſſent, the Plaintiff did ſow the Beans upon the Land; The Action was brought in the name of the Lunatick: For it was holden, for there was no Intereſt gained in his Lands by the commitment. And it was agreed, That the Lord hath not any power over the Lunatiques Land, without a Cuſtome; for the imitation of the Kings power over Freeholds, is no conſequence, that the Lord ſhould have it. For although the Statute be but in affirmance of the Common Law, in the Caſe of the King; yet the Collaterall Incidents of Eſtates, as Dower, Tenancy by the curteſy, Wardſhips, and the like, are not without ſpeciall Cuſtome. H. 15 Jac. rott. 519. in C. B. Cocks and Darſon's Caſe. Hob. 215, 216.

26. The Caſe was, That a Copyholder in Fee, with the Lords Licence, made a Leaſe for 21 years by Indenture, rendring Rent; and the Leſſee Covenanted for him, his Executors, and Aſſigns, That he would erect a pale about ſuch a Cloſe, and lay upon the Lands yearly, 40 Loads of Dung, and repair the houſes: Afterwards the Leſſor ſurrendred to the uſe of the Plaintiff and his Heirs, who was admitted; and for not performance of the Covenants, brought an Action of Covenant. The doubt was, Whether a Copyholder who comes to his Tenement by ſurrender of the Leſſor, be ſuch an Aſſignee as ſhall have an Action of Debt, or Covenant, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. And admitting he be not within the Statute, by the Common-Law, Covenants being made by expreſſe words with the Leſſor his Heirs and Aſſigns; the Aſſignee for theſe Covenants may maintain an Action. The Caſe was not Reſolved, Ideo Quære. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1759. Plott and Plomer's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 17.

27. A Copyholder ſurrendred in conſideration of mony paid to B. the Lord accepted the ſurrender, and granted the Copyhold to B. for her life, who was admitted, and ſhe dyed: A. being alive, claiming it as her former Eſtate, let the Land to the Defendant; the Lord entred, and Leaſed it to the Plaintiff. It was ſaid in this Caſe, When a Copyholder for life ſurrenders to the uſe of another who is admitted, that the firſt Copyholder hath quaſi a poſſibility or Remainder of Eſtate; and if he ſurvive him, to whoſe uſe the ſurrender was made, that he ſhould have it again. But all the Court were clear of Opinion, that ſhe ſhould not have it again, and that there is no difference as to that purpoſe, to ſurrender to the uſe of one, and to Surrender generally: But they agreed, That if a Copyholder in Fee ſurrender to the uſe of another for life, who is admitted, he is in quaſi by the Copyholder, and by his death the Copyholder ſhall have it again. Hill. 2 Car. in B. R. King and Lord's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 148.

28. A Copyholder in Fee ſurrendred into the hands of the Lord by the hands of Tenants, according to the Cuſtome, without ſaying to whoſe uſe the ſurrender ſhould be; and at the next Court the ſaid Copyholder was admitted Habendum to him and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to his right Heirs: It was Objected, That the ſurrender was void, becauſe no uſe was limitted, and therefore by conſtruction of Law, it ought to be to the uſe of the Surrenderor. And 2. That the admittance was not good to paſſe an Eſtate to the Wife; ſhe being not named in the premiſes, but onely in the Habendum. But it was Reſolved. 1. That the ſubſequent Act ſhall explain the ſurrender; And when the Copy-holder accepts a new admittance, the Law intends that the ſurrender generally was made to ſuch a uſe as is ſpecified in the Admittance; for the Lord is onely as an Inſtrument to convey the Eſtate. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Wife ſhould take by this admittance, though ſhe were not named in the premiſes of the Deed. For this Caſe of a Copyhold is like to the Caſe of a Will, or Caſe of Frankmarriage, in which it is ſufficient to paſſe an Eſtate, although the party be not named in the Habendum. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Brooks Caſe. Poph. 125.

29. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That the Lord might grant Copyhold Eſtates for life in reverſion, where the Cuſtomary Lands were demiſed and demiſeable according to the Cuſtome for one, two, or three Lives: The Lord granted the Lands by Copy in poſſeſſion, and took a wife, and granted the ſame Copyhold Lands to a ſtranger in reverſion for life and dyed; the Copyholder in poſſeſſion dyed; the Land demiſed by Copy is (inter alia) aſſigned to the Wife in Dower; who entred and made a Leaſe to the Defendant, againſt whom the Leſſee of the Copyholder brought an Ejectione Firmæ. And it was found, That every Copyholder of the Mannor might Leaſe his Copyhold for a year ad paſturandum, ſed non ad colendum: and that the Leaſe was made to the Plaintiff for a year ad paſturandum. It was holden in this caſe, That the Copyholder ſhould hold his Land diſcharged of the Dower; for that the Copyholder is in by the Cuſtome, which is paramount the title of Dower, and the Seiſin: and ſo it was adjudged, That he and his Leſſee ſhould hold the Lands diſcharged of the Dower. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Cham and Davers Caſe, Leon. 16.

30. In

30. In Ejectione Firmæ the Caſe was; A. purchaſed Copyhold Lands to him, his wife, and their ſon and heirs; and 2. years after, he became an Inne-holder, and received all the profits of his Lands: and afterwards, 4 Car. he became endebted to B. and others, and committed divers acts which declared him to be a Bankrupt. Anno 5 Car. upon a Petition to the Lord Keeper, That A. was a Petit Chapman, and got his living by buying and ſelling, prayed a Commiſſion of Bankrupts againſt him, which was granted. The Commiſſioners found him a Bankrupt, and ſold the Copyhold Land to the Leſſor of the Plaintiff. Afterwards A. dyed, and his wife dyed; the ſon entred, the Leſſor of the Plaintiff entred: The Queſtion was, Whether an Inn-holder, who did get his Living by buying and ſelling, and not otherwiſe, whether he was a Bankrupt within the Statutes of 13 Eliz. & 21 Jac. And it was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That he was not within the ſaid Statutes; for although he buy proviſion to ſpend in his houſe, he doth not properly ſell it, but utters it at ſuch rates as he thinks reaſonable, and the Gueſts do not take it at a certain price; but they may have it, or refuſe it if they will: and he is no more a perſon who getteth his living by buying and ſelling, then a Farmer: and the Statutes mention onely thoſe who buy and ſell by retail, or in groſs. But all the Juſtices held, That Copyholds generally are within the Intents of the ſaid Statutes, which is generally, All Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments. And the Juſtices held, That the ſaid Copyhold Lands being purchaſed long before he was a Tradeſman, or became endebted; and no fraud being found, or of purpoſe of being a Bankrupt being found; It would be hard, to hold the ſaid purchaſed Lands to be within the Statutes. And it was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 10 Car. in B. R. Criſp and Pratt's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 395, 396. See March. 34. the ſame Caſe.

31. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if a Copyholder in Fee dyeth ſeiſed, having a wife at the time of his death ſurviving him, that ſhe ſhall have the Copyhold-Land during her life, and for 12 years after. It was found, that A. Copyholder became bankrupt; whereupon a Commiſſion of Bankrupts was ſued againſt him; and that the Commiſſioners, 5. Aprilis, 10 Car. by Indenture enrolled, ſold the ſaid Copyhold Lands to the Plaintiff and other Creditors: and a private Act of Parliament, 1 Car. was found, whereby the Cuſtomes of the ſaid Mannor are eſtabliſhed; and particularly, the ſaid Cuſtome, That all women now living, and all the now Wives of the Copyholders, ſhall enjoy their Cuſtomary Lands now, and take their husband for their lives, and 12 years after. And it is found, That at a Court 1. Aprilis, 12 Car. the Wife ſurvived her Husband, and ought to enjoy the Lands for the Term of her life, and 12. years after; and that ſhe was admitted Tenant. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Bargain and Sale binds the Copyholder, and barrs his Eſtate, and that he is no Copyholder after the bargain and ſale enrolled; and the Bargainee by the Statute is onely barred to take the profits untill the Compoſition with the Lord, which is for the Lord's benefit, and not for the Copyholders. 2. That when the Bargainee is admitted by the Lord, it ſhall veſt in the Bargainee, and ſhall have relation to the Bargain and Sale, and ſhall deveſt the Eſtate which the wife claimed by the Cuſtome: And it is like the Caſe, where the Mortgagee dyeth, his heir being in Ward, and then the Condition is performed, the Wardſhip ſhall be deveſted. Hill. 13 Car. in B. R. Parker and Blecks Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 410.

32. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was laid to be, That every Copyholder may nominate one to his Copy-Eſtate, who upon tender of his Fine to the Lord in Court, ought to be by him admitted; and he being admitted, he was to have the like priviledge of the like Nomination afterwards: and that the Plaintiff being nominated to the Copyholder, tendred his Fine to the Lord in Court, and prayed to be admitted, and the Lord refuſed to admit him, for which he brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt the Lord: And, If the Action would lye, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Action did not lye; for the Plaintiff hath not any Intereſt, and therefore by ſuch an Action he ſhall not draw an Intereſt to himſelf from the Lord againſt his will. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Forde and Haskins Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 336, 337.

33. A Copyholder of Inheritance in Fee-ſimple, (jacens in extremis) 43 Eliz. ſurrendred his Copyhold Lands into the hands of the Lord of the Mannor, Habendum after his death to the uſe and behoof of an Enfant, being in ventre ſa mere; and if ſuch Enfant dyes without heir within age, or before marriage, then to the uſe of B. and his heirs, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. The Child with whom the Mother went, was born, and dyed within age: The Queſtion was, Whether B. ſhould have the Eſtate according to the ſurrender, or J. S. who was the heir of A. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Surrender to the Enfant in ventre ſa mere, is not good, as an immediate ſurrender; for that it cannot begin at a day to come, like Hegge and Croſſes Caſe, where an Eſtate was made, To have and to hold to him after his death for life, and made Livery. It was void, becauſe a Freehold cannot begin at a day to come. And ſo it was adjudged, Paſch. 23 Eliz. in Clamps Caſe, of a ſurrender. 2. That the Remainder to B. was void, becauſe it was to commence upon a Condition precedent, which was never performed, and therefore the ſurrender into the hands of the Lord was void; and the Lord doth not take but as an Inſtrument to convey the Land to another. And it was agreed, That, if a Copyholder in Fee doth ſurrender to the uſe of him and his heirs, becauſe the limitation of the uſe is void to him who had it before, the ſurrender to the Lord is void. 34. The Lord of a Mannor ſeized a Copyhold without cauſe, and granted it to another in Fee; the Grantee dyed, and his heir was admitted; the firſt Copyholder dyed, his heir entred, and ſurrendred to the uſe of a ſtranger. It was Reſolved, That the diſcent of a Copyholder ſhall not take away the entry of another Copyholder, who hath right: and in this caſe, the heir entring without admiſſion, his entry was lawfull; and being in, his ſurrender to the ſtranger was good. Trin. 2 Jac. in B. R. Joyner and Lamberts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 36.

35. Note: It was holden by the Court, That if a Copyholder makes a Leaſe for years of Land, whereof a woman by the Cuſtome is to have her Widowes Eſtate, that the woman ſhall not avoid ſuch Leaſe, unleſs there be a ſpeciall Cuſtome ſo to do. Trin. 2 Car. in B. R. Farleys Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 36.

36. A Copyholder for life had Common in the Lords Waſte; The Lord grants and Confirms the Copyhold Meſſuage and Lands to him and his heirs. It was Reſolved by all the Court, That this purchaſe ſhould extinct his Common by reaſon of the Cuſtome, which annexeth the ſame to his Cuſtomary Eſtate, which being deſtroyed and determined by his own act, in making it Freehold, the Common is alſo determined: and although the Grant be Habendum cum pertinentiis; yet the ſame will not help it, but that the Common is deſtroyed. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Marſham and Hunts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 252. See 43 Eliz. in B. R. A Copyholder had uſed to take Eſtovers to repair his Copyhold, and the Lord granted to him the Freehold of the Copyhold, and all Lands, Tenements, and Hereditaments thereunto belonging, or therewith occupied; yet it was Reſolved, He ſhould not have Common in the Lands of the Lord, Forth and Wards Caſe. Cro. Ibid.

37. A. a Copyholder in Fee ſurrendred it into the hands of the Lord, who regranted it in this manner; Memorandum, Quod A. cepit de Domino (and mentions the Lands); cui Dominus conceſſit inde ſeiſinam; Habend. eidem: A. et uxori ejus, et heredibus eorum de Corporibus ſuis exeuntibus, the remainder to A. in Fee. It was adjudged, That the wife ſhould take; for there is no more granted to the husband, then to the wife: and the intent of the Lord was to give Seiſin to them both. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Brook and Brook's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 474.

38. A. and B. being Convicted of Recuſancy, for not paying of 20 l. for every moneth, a Commiſſion was awarded to Enquire of their goods and Lands; and amongſt certain Lands, certain Copy-hold Lands were ſeiſed for to pay the debt: whereupon they came in, and by way of plea ſet forth, That ſome of their Lands were Copyhold, and prayed amoveat manum of the Queen; upon which, the Attorney-General of the Queen did demur in Law; and, Whether they were within the Statute of 29 Eliz. of Recuſancy, was the Queſtion? It was Objected, That they were within the meaning of the Statute, though not within the words; and ſo were Auncient Demeſne Lands. But it was adjudged, That Copyhold Lands were not within the ſaid Statute, by reaſon of the prejudice that might thereby come to the Lord, who had not committed any Offence, and therefore was not to loſe his Cuſtomes and Services. See Everads Caſe. Owen 37.

39. The Caſe was; That a Copyholder by his Will deviſed his Copyhold Land to his Wife for life, and that after her death, ſhe or her Executors might ſell the Lands: and after he did ſurrender into the hands of Tenants to the uſe of his Will; which ſurrender was preſented and entred in hac forma unto his wife for life ſecundum formam ultimæ voluntatis. In this caſe, two points were Reſolved, 1. That the Wife had an Eſtate for life in the Lands. And, 2. That ſhe had an Eſtate in Fee-ſimple to her to ſell: for, though the words were, That ſhe or her Executors after her death might ſell the Lands; yet the Will ſhall be ſo conſtrued by the Intent of Deviſor, that ſhe might ſell the Eſtate which was to remain after the death of her the wife; and if ſhe had not an Eſtate in Fee to ſell, then the Words ſecundum formam Chartæ voluntatis, ſhould be void: And ſuch Conſtruction ſhall be made of it, that all the words of the Will may ſtand, if it be poſſible. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Leon.

40. In this caſe, It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That if the Cuſtome of a Mannor be, That a Copyholder ſhall not alien his Copyhold without the Licence of the Lord of the Mannor, and the the ſame be proved by the Court-Rolls, or ancient Preſidents, or by ſeiſures made by the Lord for ſuch alienation without Licence, although that the contrary uſage hath been put in practice by the ſpace of 80 years laſt paſt before, yet the ſame ſhall not deſtroy the Cuſtome. And it was further agreed by the Court, That if the Cuſtome of the Mannor be, That a Copyholder may make a Leaſe of his Copyhold for the Term of 3. years without Licenſe of the Lord; although on the part of the Lord it be ſhewed, That ſome Copyholders upon ſuch Leaſes, have paid a Fine by reaſon of ſuch Leaſes ſo made; yet ſuch Fine by encroachment ſhall extend to deſtroy or break the Cuſtome of the Mannor. Mich. 25 Eliz. in B. R. Howard's Caſe.

41. It was adjudged by the whole Court, That if a Copyholder doth ſurrender his Copyhold Lands to the uſe of a ſtranger for ever, and the Lord admit the ſurrenderee to have and to hold the Lands to him and his heirs, That if the ſurrender was made to the uſe of his Will, and in his Will it is deviſed, That the Deviſee ſhall have the Lands for ever; That in ſuch caſe, the Copyholder ſhall have Fee-ſimple in the Copyhold. But if a ſurrender be to a ſtranger onely for ever, without having Relation to a deviſe made by his Will, or that the ſurrender be not to the uſe of his Will. Quære, If the Lord do admit the ſurrenderee to have to him and his heirs for ever, whether the ſame ſhall be good, or not. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Paſhall's Caſe.

2. Of Admittance, Where a Copyholder ſhall be adjudged in poſſeſſion before admittance; and to what Intents: and what ſhall be ſaid a good Admittance; and by whom, and where in a Court and where out of Court: and divers other points concerning admittance of a Copyholder.

1. A Copyholder in Fee had Iſſue two Daughters by divers women, and dyed ſeiſed; the daughters entred, and took the profits divers years; and before any admittance, the eldeſt daughter dyed without Iſſue; and afterwards the youngeſt daughter is admitted to the whole, as ſole heir to the Father. It was holden in that caſe, That the poſſeſſion of the eldeſt, though before admittance, ſhould make the Siſter, though of the half blood, heir inheritable to the Land; and that there ſhould be poſſeſſio fratris, before admittance, 12 Eliz. Dyer 291. Cook 4. Part, 23. acc.

2. In an Ejectione Firmæ, It was found by a ſpeciall Verdict, That the Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That a Copyholder might ſurrender his Copyhold out of Court into the hands of two Cuſtomary Tenants to the uſe of another; and at the next Court, the party to whoſe uſe the ſurrender was uſed, to be admitted. And it was feund, That there was ſuch a ſurrender made, but the party to whoſe uſe the ſurrender was, dyed before the next Court, and ſo was not admitted. And the Queſtion was, he dying before admittance, If he ſhall be ſaid a Copyholder by the Cuſtome of the Mannor, or not? It was ſaid, He was not a Copyholder within the Cuſtome; for a Cuſtome ſhall be expounded according to the apprehenſion of the Lay-people; and by ſurrender of a Copyhold before admittance, the Surrenderee hath no poſſeſſion; and the heir is in by diſcent, and holds by the Copy of his Auncеſtor, and ſo he hath the title to the Copyhold. But it was ſaid, That in the Principal Caſe, the ſurrender was into the hands out of Court, which is good; and it differs from the ſurrendring into the hands of Tenants: and the Lord's acceptance of rent, is an Admiſſion. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Barker and Denham's Caſe. Styles 145.

3. A Copyholder in Fee by Licenſe made a Leaſe for years; the Leſſee entred; the Copyholder having Iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one woman, and a ſon by another woman, dyed; the eldeſt ſon dyed before admittance. It was adjudged, That the Land ſhould diſcend to the daughter of the whole blood. And in that caſe it was Reſolved, That the heir of a Copyholder may ſurrender to the uſe of another, before admittance: and before admittance, the heir may enter, and take the profits of the Land: and after his entry before his admittance, he may have an Action of Treſpaſſe; and that there ſhould be poſſeſſio fratris of a Copyhold before admittance. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 4. Part, 21, 22. Browns Caſe. 26 Eliz. Clark and Pennyfathers Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 22. acc.

4. A woman, Copyholder in Fee, ſurrendred her Copyhold Lands unto the uſe of W. her ſon in Fee; and at the next Court the entry was, That W. and Joan his wife coperunt, &c: W. dyed: Joan his wife ſurvived, and ſurrendred to the uſe of J. S. in Fee. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That when the Lord hath the Copyhold by ſurrender to the uſe of another, he hath but a Cuſtomary power to make admittance ſecundum effectum ſurſum reddi-tionis; & if he grant it to another, the Grant is void: and when the party is admitted, he ſhall be in by him who made the ſurrender, and not by the Lord:

and if the Lord admit one, To have to him and his heirs, where the ſurrender was for life onely, he ſhall have but for life. Trin. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 28. Weſtwicks Caſe. See Cook 9. Part, 107. in Podgers Caſe, acc. See Cook 8. Part. 136. in Sir John Needham's Caſe, acc.

5. A Copyholder in Fee of Land, out of Court according to the cuſtome of the Mannor, did ſurrender by the hands of Cuſtomary Tenants to the Lord, to the uſe of M. his wife, and Robert his younger ſon, and dyed, the ſurrender was preſented, and the Lord gave Admittance, and granted Seiſin of the Land to M. and Robert, and to the heirs of Robert. M. dyed, Robert ſurvived, and ſurrendred to the uſe of E. his wife, and dyed: E. was admitted; C. the heir of A. entred upon E. It was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. When A. doth ſurrender into the hands of the Lord to the uſe of M. and Robert, without limiting any Eſtate, that they had but an Eſtate for their lives. 2. That when the Lord doth make admittance to M. and Robert, and the heirs of Robert, it was an Admittance only for their lives, becauſe the Lord is but onely an Inſtrument, and nothing remains in the Lord, but the reverſion of the Eſtate remains in him who made the ſurrender, to diſpoſe as he pleaſeth according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. It was Reſolved, That a man may ſurrender to the uſe of his Wife, becauſe he doth it not immediately to his wife, but by a means, ſcil. by the ſurrender to the Lord to the uſe of his Wife; and by the Lord's admittance to the wife according to the ſurrender. Mich. 28 Eliz. Bantings Caſe. Cook 4 Part, 29.

6. Copyholder in Fee ſurrendred to the uſe of his Wife for life, the remainder to M. his younger ſon in Fee, and dyed; the wife was admitted, but M. refuſed to be admitted during the life of his Mother: afterwards without other admittance, he ſurrendred to the uſe of the Plaintiff in the life of his Mother. It was holden by all the Juſtices, That this admittance of the wife, was an admittance of him in the remainder, without any other admittance; for the wife being admitted to the particular Eſtate, the remainder depends thereupon, and veſts without other admittance, for they make but one Eſtate. Trin. 2 Jac. in B. R. Auncelme and Auncelme's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 31. See Cook. 4 Part. 23. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Fitch and Haskley's Caſe. acc.

7. A Copyholder with Licence of the Lord Leaſed for years, and afterwards ſurrendred the Reverſion with the Rent, to the uſe of a ſtranger, who is admitted accordingly. It was moved, If there needed any Attornment either to ſettle the Reverſion, or to create a Privity? And it was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Surrender and Admittance are in the nature of an Inrollment, and ſo amounted to an Attornment, or at leaſt to ſupply the want of it. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Love, 297.

8. The Caſe was, That the Lord did confirm the Eſtate of a Copyholder before admittance. It was holden, That that did not amount to an Admittance to the Copyhold. And in that caſe it was further agreed by all the Juſtices, That no payment of Rent, or of the Fine to the Lord, was no forfeiture of the Copyhold, without a verball denyal of it. Trin. 21 Jac. in C. B. adjudged acc.

9. If a Court be holden by a Steward of a Mannor out of the Mannor, and divers Grants and Admittances be there made; the Court, and all the Grants and Admittances are void: For the Court of the Mannor ought to be holden within the Mannor, and not out of the Juriſdiction of it: But by Cuſtome, a Court may be holden out of the Mannor; and Grants and Admittances there, ſhall be good. Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 27. Clifton and Mollineux Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, Melwiches Caſe, acc.

3. Where he who is Dominus pro tempore, may grant Copy-holds, and may make Admittances: and what other acts he may do; What not.

1. THe Queen let a Mannor to one Orme, except Courts, and perquiſites of Courts: Afterwards the Queen granted the Reverſion to a ſtranger with perquiſites and Courts. The Grantee made another Leaſe to begin after the firſt Leaſe, Excepting Courts and perquiſites. It was holden by the Juſtices, That the Exception was good in the Leaſe made by the Queen; but contrary in the Leaſe made by the Grantee of the Reverſion: and therefore the Grantee of the Reverſion during the firſt Term might grant Copies; but when the ſecond Leaſe begins, he cannot, but the firſt Leſſee. Paſch. 12 Eliz. Dyer 288. See 1 Ma. Dyer 97. acc.

2. In a Replevin. The Queſtion was, Guardian in Socage, held a Court in his own name, and granted Copies in Reverſion: And, If it were a good Grant, or not, was the Queſtion? It was Objected, That a Guardian is but a Servant, and not Dominus, becauſe he can neither grant, nor forfeit the Eſtate, and hath nothing to do with the Mannor, but to accompt for the profits of it: But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That a Guardian is Dominus pro tempore, and that he hath an Intereſt reſt in the Land, and may make a Leaſe thereof in his own name: and he hath the Ward by reaſon of looking to him, and therefore he hath Intereſt ſufficient to keep Court, and admit Copyholders who are not in by him, but by the Cuſtome. But a Bayliff of a Manner hath no Intereſt, and therefore he cannot make Grants and Copies: and therefore, Mich. 3 Jac. it was adjudged, That the Grant was good, and ſhould bind the heir. Intrator. Trin. 1 Jac. rott. 853. in C.B. Sheapland and Ridlers Caſe, Owen 115.

3. Every one who hath a lawfull Eſtate or Intereſt in a Manner, be it in Fee, in Tail, Dower, Tenant by the Curteſie, Tenant for life, Tenant for years, Guardian, Tenant by Statute or Elegit, or at Will; if a Copyhold eſcheats, or cometh into their hands during the time, they may regrant it, and it ſhall bind the Lord, becauſe every one of them is Dominus pro tempore, 26 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, Clark and Pennyfathers Caſe. See Cook 1. Part, in Chudleigh's Caſe, acc. See 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 58. acc.

4. Note: In ſome caſes, an Eſtate may be granted by Copy by one who is not Dominus pro tempore, nor that hath any thing in the Mannor; As, if the Lord of a Manner by his Will in writing deviſeth, That his Executors ſhall grant the Cuſtomary Tenements of the Mannor, according to the cuſtome for payment of his debts, and dyeth; the Executors having nothing in the Mannor, may make Grants according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 58 acc.

5. The Caſe was, Tenant for the Term of the life of another man, continued & held in his Eſtate after the death of Ceſtuy que vie, and granted Copies of Copyhold Lands; and, If they were good, or voidable, was the Queſtion. In which the further Queſtion was, If he were Tenant at ſufferance, or a Diſſeiſor, or Tenant at Will? It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That he was Tenant at ſufferance; and then when he holds over, he taketh upon him an Intereſt which ſhall not be thought wrongful; for he is neither Abator nor Diſſeiſor; For they, as it hath been judged, cannot grant Copies; and if they do grant them, they ſhall be void. But Tenant at ſufferance came in firſt by agreement of the party; and therefore is Dominus pro tempore: and ſo the grants of Copies by him are good. Mich. 30 Eliz. Roufe's Caſe. Owen. 28, 29.

6. The Earl of Arundell granted a Manor to the Earl of Northumberland in tail, with remainders over, upon Condition. The Earl of Northumberland took a wife, and granted the Reverſion of a Copyhold according to the Cuſtome of the Manor; and afterwards committed Treaſon, and was Attainted: the Copyholder in poſſeſſion dyed: whereupon the Grantee of the Reverſion entred into the Copyhold Land. In which Caſe, many Points were Reſolved: and amongſt the reſt, it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That although there was cauſe of Entry for many other matters; yet the Grantee of the Reverſion of the Copyhold ſhould keep the Land; for that it is a thing incident to Cuſtomes of Manor, That Dominus pro tempore may grant Copies. Trin. 17 Eliz. Dyer 342. The Earl of Arundells Caſe. See Popham, 71. acc.

4. What ſhall be a good Cauſe of forfeiture of a Copyhold; What not. And where the Lord may enter and ſeize the Copyhold for ſuch forfeitures, without preſentment; Where not.

1. IF the Jury in a Leet refuſe to make preſentment, the Steward may aſſeſſe a Fine upon each of them for their Contempt: And ſo it is, if the Homages who are Copyholders in a Court Baron, refuſe to make their preſentments; it is a forfeiture of their Copyholds. 4 Eliz. Dyer 211. See Cook 11. Part, 43. in Godfrey's Caſe. And for the caſe of Forfeiture of Copyholds, It was accordingly Reſolved in the Star-Chamber by the Lords Chief Juſtices in the Earl of Arundell's Caſe.

2. If a Copyholder doth not do his Services which he ought to do, by which he breaks the Cuſtome of the Mannor; the Lord may enter into the Land as forfeit: and if the Land be ſowed with Corn, the Lord ſhall have the corn. 42 E. 3. 25. And ſo if a Copyholder alieneth his Copyhold, it is a diſſeiſin to the Lord, and a forfeiture of his Eſtate. 33 E. 3. vouch. in Cook 4. Part, 21. in Browns Caſe.

3. If a Copyholder be ſeiſed by force of ſeveral Copies, ſcil. of black-acre, by the rent of 4 d. and of white-acre by the rent of 4 d. and of gr. acre by the Rent of 6 d. And afterwards he committeth Waſte in any part of black acre, or denyeth the Rent of that acre; by that all black-acre is forfeited. But it is no forfeiture of any of the other acres: for although they all be in one hand, yet every acre is holden ſeverally, ſo as the forfeiture of the one, cannot be the forfeiture of the other: and if the ſaid Copyholder ſurrendreth one of the ſaid Acres to A. and his heirs; and the Lord admitteth A. accordingly, Tenend. per ſervitia prius debita, et conſuet. And afterwards A. commit-teth a forfeiture in Black Acre, he ſhall forfeit only the ſame, and none of the other Acres. Hill. 35 Eliz. Tavernor and Cromwell's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 27.

4. Note, If the Eſtate of the Lord of a Mannor ceaſeth, by limitation of an uſe, and the uſe and Eſtate thereof be transferred to another, who demandeth the Rent of a Copyholder, who denyeth to pay the ſame unto him; It is no forfeiture, without notice given to the Copyholder of the alteration, of the uſe and Eſtate: So a Bargaynee of a Mannor by Deed Indented, and Enrolled, ſhall not take advantage of a forfeiture of a Copyhold for non-payment of Rent without notice given to him of the Bargain and Sale. Hill. 1 Jac. Beconſhaw and Southcotes Caſe. vouched in Cook 8. Part, 92. in Fraunces's Caſe.

5. The Cuſtome of a Mannor is, That if a Copyholder in Fee of the ſaid Mannor dyeth ſeiſed, and his Heir doth not come in at the next Court to claim his Lands, and to be admitted, and pay his Fine; That then Proclamations ſhall be made at three Courts holden for the ſaid Mannor; and if the Heir at ſome of the ſaid Courts, in which Proclamations are made, doth not come and claim the Lands, and pray to be admitted; that then the Lord ſhall ſeize the Copyhold as forfeit. A Copyholder in Fee dyed ſeiſed, his Heir being beyond Sea, all the Proclamations paſſed at the three Courts, and the Heir did not come and claim the ſaid Lands, and the Lord ſeiſed the Copyhold Lands, and Granted the ſame to a ſtranger by Copy. The Heir returned; and when he had notice of the death of his Father, came to the Lord and claimed his Lands, and prayed to be admitted, and the Lord refuſed to admit him. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That that Cuſtome and non-claim, ſhould not bar him who was beyond Sea at the time of the Proclamations, of his Inheritance; becauſe, by intendment of Law, he who is beyond Sea, cannot have knowledge of the death of his Father, nor of the Proclamation made to warn him to come in to make his claim, and pray to be admitted. Cook 8. Part, 99. Sir Richard Lechford's Caſe.

6. The King was Lord of a Mannor; and a Copyholder within the ſaid Mannor made a Leaſe for three lives, and made Livery; and afterwards the ſurvivor of the three continued in poſſeſſion for 40 years. In that caſe, It was holden, becauſe that no livery did appear to be made upon the Endorſement of the Deed (although in truth there was Livery made) the ſame was not forfeiture, of which the King ſhould take any advantage. And in that Caſe, It was cited to be adjudged in one London's Caſe; That if a Copyholder doth bargain and ſell his Copyhold Tenement by Deed Indented and Enrolled, that the ſame is no forfeiture of the Copyhold, of which the Lord can take advantage. Mich. 5 Jac. in Scaccario. Godbolt. 269.

8. The ſummons of a Copyholder to appear at the Lords Court, was at the Church; and there upon the Copyholder did not appear; And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the ſame was no cauſe of forfeiture of the Copyhold, becauſe it was not ſpecially ſhewed to be the Cuſtome, and it ſhall be hard to make it a forfeiture, for perhaps the Copyholder had not notice of it: And ſo was it holden, as they ſaid in the Lord Dacres and Hurleſtons Caſe. And they held, That notice ought to be given to the perſon, and the refuſall muſt be willfull: For if a Copyholder be demanded his Rent, and he ſaith, He hath it not, it is no forfeiture; but the denyall muſt be a willfull denyal; and ſo it was adjudged in one Winter's Caſe. Godbolt. 142, 143. Hill. 36 Eliz. in C. B. See 30 Eliz: in B. R. Sir John Braunchers Caſe. Litt, 140.

8. An Enfant Copyholder made a Leaſe for years by word, not warranted by the Cuſtome, rendring Rent; The Enfant at his full age was admitted to the Copyhold, and afterwards accepted the Rent: The queſtion was, Whether this Leaſe and acceptance of this Rent ſhould conclude and bind the Enfant? It was ſaid, If this Leaſe ſhould be good and effectuall, It would be a wrong to a ſtranger, or the Lord, and a prejudice to himſelf, to make a forfeiture of the Inheritance: On the other ſide, it was ſaid, That the Leaſe was good by the acceptance of the Rent at his full age, Cam. 54. A Leaſe is made for years, the Remainder for years rendring Rent, by an Enfant; And afterwards at full age, he accepts of the Rent of the particular Tenant, it is a good Confirmation of the Eſtate of him in the Remainder, and the Enfant being a Copyholder, makes no difference in the Caſe. Trin. 2 Car. in B. R. Aſhfield and Aſhfeild's Caſe. Godbolt. 364, 365. And in this Caſe, The Caſe was put. That if a Copyholder for life hath Licence to make a Leaſe for three years if he live ſo long; and he makes a Leaſe for three years, without ſuch limitation; yet this is no forfeiture of his Eſtate, becauſe the operation of the Law makes ſuch a limitation to the Eſtate which he makes, that it ſhall not continue, but for his life, as it was adjudged. Hill. 18 Jac. in Hall and Arrowſmiths Caſe, which ſee Popham 105. See Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Worledge and Benberyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 436, 437. acc.

9. The Caſe was, A Copyholder brought an Action

Action of Treſpaſſe againſt his Lord for a houſe, and an Acre of Land. The Defendant pleaded, That he had admitted the Copyholder, and had aſſeſſed a Fine of twenty Nobles upon it, and had appointed him to pay it to his Bayliff, at his houſe within the Mannor, three Moneths after; and alledged that he had not paid it: wherefore he entred upon the Land as forfeited; upon which, the Plaintiff did demur. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Lord was not bound to aver, or ſhew that the Fine aſſeſſed, was a reaſonable Fine; but that muſt come on the Copyholders ſide, to ſhew the Circumſtances, to make it appear to the Court, that it is an unreaſonable Fine, and put it to the Judgment of the Court: But yet, in the principall Caſe, the Opinion of the Court was againſt the Lord, becauſe he had not layed a demand of his Fine at the time it grew due, or ſometime after, of the perſon of the Tenant, as he muſt do in Caſe of forfeiture of Copyhold, both for Rent and Fine. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Denny and Lemmons Caſe. Hob. 135. See Mich. 1653. in B. R. Fanſhaw and Bond's Caſe. acc. Styles 387.

10. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if a Copyholder lets his Lands for a longer time then a year, they ſhall be forfeited. A Copyholder makes a Leaſe for a year, and ſo from year to year, excepting the laſt day of every year. It was the Opinion of all the Court, That it was a forfeiture, for it is but a ſhift to avoid a forfeiture, and in Law, it is no avoydance, for it is a certain Leaſe for two years excepting two dayes, and although there be intermiſſion of a day, yet that is not materiall. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff in Treſpaſſe brought. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Lutterell and Weſtons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 308. See Bolſtr. 1. Part, 215. the ſame Caſe. See 4 Car. in B. R. Mathews and Whettons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 169. acc.

11. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Queſtion was, Whether a Copyholder not comming to the Lords Court to do his Suit for three years ſpace, be a cauſe to forfeit his Copyhold. It was holden, it was no forfeiture, unleſſe that he denyed to do his Suit: And there is no Cuſtome layed to have a forfeiture for Non-feaſans of his Suit within three years; And if a Copyholder doth withdraw his Suit, it is onely Fineable, but if he deny his Suit, it is a forfeiture. And it was ſaid alſo by the Court, That it is no forfeiture, if a warning be not given by the Lord, of the time of his Court to be holden, and notice thereof was given to the Copyholder himſelf. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Belfield and Adams's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 80, 81. See Mich. 14 Jac. in B. R. Hamond and Wembank's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 268, 269. acc.

12. Note, there was a difference taken between a Reall and a Perſonal forfeiture of Copyhold-Lands: for a Reall forfeiture, needs not to be found by the Homage; but contrary, of a perſonall forfeiture. And that difference was ſaid to be agreed in one Brock's Caſe. And it was ſaid, and adjudged by the Court, That if a Copyholder doth erect a new houſe upon his Copy-Land, without Licenſe of the Lord, that the ſame was a forfeiture of his Eſtate, though it might ſeem to be for the advantage and benefit of the Lord; Quære, for I conceive the Law to be otherwiſe. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Ward's Caſe.

13. A Copyholder made a Leaſe, by which a forfeiture accrued to the Lord, who afterwards accepted of the Rent, and, If by that acceptance of the Rent, he was concluded to enter for the forfeiture, was the queſtion. It was ſaid, He was not: for it is not like the Caſe where a Leaſe is made upon Condition, That the Leſſee ſhall not do waſte, and the Leſſor afterwards accepts the Rent, the ſame acceptance diſpences with the forfeiture, becauſe it is a Condition in Fact; but it is otherwiſe of a Copyhold, for there it is a Condition in Law, and a Condition in fact may be ſaved by an Accepeance, but not a Condition in Law. And it was agreed, That when ſuch a forfeiture is preſented, the ſame is not to entitle the Lord, but to give him notice; for the Land is in him by the forfeiture preſently, without any preſentment. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt.

5. If Copyhold Lands be within the Statute of Donis Conditionalis, and may be entailed, or not, and if it be, How, and by what means the Tail may be deſtroyed, What not.

1. NOte, It was ſaid to be Law, That an Eſtate tail might be of Copyhold. And that a Formedon in the Diſcender, might lye thereof by Proteſtation in the nature of a Formedon in the Deſcender at the Common Law. And it ſhall be intended that there hath bin a Cuſtome, time out of mind, to entail ſuch Lands; And the Demandant did recover by the advice of all the Juſtices. 26 H. 8. Tenant at Will. 24.

2. It was moved to the Juſtices, to have their Opinions, Whether Copyhold-Land might be entailed or not: who anſwered, That no entail might be thereof, but where it had bin uſed to entail ſuch Lands, time out of mind, &c. by Cuſtome: for the ſame is not within the compaſſe of the Statute of Weſt. 2. of Entails, according to the Common-Law. And further, they ſaid, That if ſuch Lands are intailed, that the tail can never be defeat.d by Proteſtation in the nature of an Action. And ſuch was the Opinion of the Juſtices, upon a reference to them out of the Chancery, by the Lord Bacon, Lord Chancellor. Trin. 17 Eliz.

3. A Monſtraverunt was by a Copyholder againſt Husband and Wife: and upon default of the Husband, the Wife was received to defend her right before Judgment. And the Wife pleaded, That there is a Cuſtome within the Mannor, time out of mind, &c. That every Cuſtomary Tenant might ſurrender his Cuſtomary Lands of the Mannor out of Court, in the preſence of two or three Cuſtomary Tenants, into the hands of the Lord, holding of any perſon in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, for life, or years, and that the Lord might admit them out of Court; and pleaded, That ſuch a ſurrender was made, and the Plaintiff did imparle. Book Entries. 130. p. 2.

4. It was teſtified by the Steward in Court, That J. B. Son and Heir of C. B. deceaſed, came before the Steward, and ſurrendred into the hands of the Lord according to the Cuſtome, a Tenement in S. to the uſe of C. D. and J. his Wife, and the Heirs of the body of the Husband, after the death of the Wife, who held for life, with divers Remainders over in tail. And that the Lord by his Steward granted Seiſin out of his hands by the Rod, To have and to hold the ſaid Lands in Reverſion in tail, as before, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, at the Will of the Lord, by the Rents and Services of Antient time due, and accuſtomed. Book Entries 131. p. 1.

5. In Treſpaſſe for breaking of his houſe and Cloſe, the Defendant ſaid, That the Lands are, and, time out of mind, were Cuſtomary, and parcell of the Mannor of S. in the County of E. and are, and, time out of mind, were demiſeable by the Lord of the Mannor by his Steward for the time being, to any perſon who would take the ſame in Fee-ſimple, Fee-Tail, for life, or years, &c. Book Entries, 569.

6. Guardians, and Channons Regular of a Colledge, ſeiſed of divers Lands, Ancient Copyhold, of the Mannor of D. Granted parcell of thoſe Lands to A. and B. for their lives, by Copy, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor; And afterwards 30 H. 8. they by Deed Indented, made a Leaſe to C. of the ſaid parcells of Lands for 30 years, rendring the Ancient Rent, and afterwards ſurrendred their Colledge to the King; and after the Statute of 31 H. 8. was made, A. and B. dyed; C. the Leſſee entred; and the King brought Intruſion. And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the ſaid Leaſe made to C. of the ſaid Lands, whereof A. and B. were ſeiſed by Copy, was void; and Reſolved, That the ſaid Copyhold Eſtate, was an Eſtate for life, within the Statute of 31 H. 8. for the intent of the Act was, to avoid doubling of Eſtates, and to have but one ſingle Eſtate in Eſſe at one time. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Statute of Weſt. 2. de Donis, &c. did not extend to Copyholds; for, if the Statute ſhould alter the Land, the ſame ſhould alſo be an alteration of the Cuſtome, in prejudice of the Tenant and Land, and alſo ſhall be a great inconveniency for then a Common Recovery, or Fine ſhould not bar an Eſtate tail without aſſent of the Lord, unleſſe he commit a forfeiture. But by Cuſtome, a Copyhold might be entailed: But the Statute which gave Cui in vita, Reſceit. Quod in deforc which are not prejudiciall to the Lords, did extend to Copyholds. 26 Eliz. Cook 3. Part, 7. Hyde's Caſe.

7. Note, It was agreed by the Juſtices, That whereas by the Cuſtome of the Mannor, Plaints had bin made in the Court of the Mannor, in the nature of reall Actions, That if a Recovery be in a Plaint, in the nature of a Reall Action againſt Tenant in Tail (admitting that Copyhold-Lands may be entailed) that it ſhall be a Diſcontinuance, and take away the Entry of the Heir in Tail; for, inaſmuch as Plaints in the nature of reall Actions, are warranted by the Cuſtome, it is an Incident which the Law annexeth to the Cuſtome, that a Recovery ſhall be a Diſcontinuance. Trin. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 1. Part, 23. Deal and Rigden's Caſe.

Note: It was ſaid by Coke, Chief Juſtice, That it was adjudged, 29 Eliz. for the Mannor of North-Hall in the County of Eſſex, That admitting, that a Copyholder may be entailed by the Statute, That then a Cuſtome, that a Surrender ſhall be a barr, or a Diſcontinuance of ſuch an Eſtate, ſhall be good: For as well as the Eſtate may be created by Cuſtome, as well may it be barred, or diſcontinued by ſurrender or cuſtome. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Hill and Upchurches Caſe. Brownlow. 121.

9. In Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was; A. was ſeiſed of certain cuſtomary Tenements holden of the Mannor of F. and 3 H. 8. (before which time, the cuſtomary Tenements of the ſaid Mannors had alwayes been uſed to be granted by Copy of Court-Roll in Fee-ſimple for life or years, but never in tail but then) the ſaid A. ſurrendred his ſaid Copyhold Lands to the uſe of Joan his eldeſt daughter for life, the remainder to J. G. the eldeſt ſon of Joan, and to the heirs of his body, the remainder to H. G. and the heirs of his body, the remainder to the right heirs of A; and Seiſin was given to Joan. A. dyed, having Iſſue the ſaid Joan and Eliz. And at the Court holden for the Mannor, 4 H. 8. it was preſented, the Daughters were his heirs, and that the ſaid ſurrender made, was void, becauſe it was not uſed within the ſaid Mannor to make ſurrenders of Eſtate tails, and thereupon the Homage made a partition of the Lands, and limited part to Joan, and part to Eliz. and Seiſin was given them accordingly. Eliz. dyed, M. was found her heir, and admitted Tenant; afterwards Joan dyed, M. took to husband J. S. who with his wife ſurrendred his part to the uſe of J. D. and his heirs. M. dyed without Iſſue: J. D. held his part, and ſurrendred it to the uſe of J. N. and J. K. and their heirs, who were admitted: J. G. dyed. In this caſe, It was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices, That an eſtate tail could not be of Copyhold Lands, unleſſe in caſe where it had been uſed: for that the Statute of Donis ſhall not enure to ſuch cuſtomary Lands, but to Lands at the Common-Law. And they ſaid, That the remainder here limited to J. G. upon the death of the ſaid A. was a Fee conditional; which is well warranted by the cuſtome to demiſe in Fee; but they ſaid, That during the uſe of A. nothing was in Elizabeth, which could diſcend from her to her daughter M. or might be ſurrendred by the ſaid M. and her husband; and therefore M. dying without Iſſue in the life of J. G. who had the Fee-ſimple conditionall, nothing was done which might hinder the ſon of H. G. of his entry. But yet, after long debate, It was holden by the Court, That the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus, co-operating with the cuſtome, That a Copyhold might be entailed; and further in this caſe it was holden, and ſo Reſolved, That ſuch an eſtate tail could not be deſtroyed by a ſurrender, unleſs by a ſpeciall cuſtome. Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Gravenor and Brooks Caſe. Popham, 32, 33.

10. The Caſe was, Tenant in tail of Copyhold Lands ſurrendred the ſame into the hands of the Lord, to the uſe of J. S. There were 2. Points, 1. If Copyhold Lands be within the Statute of Donis? 2. If it may be cut off by Surrender? To the firſt, it was ſaid, That it had been a great doubt, Whether it may be entailed? But the common and better Opinion was, That by the Statute of Weſtm. co-operating with the cuſtome, it might be entailed. See Cook 3. Part, Heydons Caſe, acc. And, 2. That it could not be cut off by ſurrender, without a ſpeciall Cuſtome. And the Court ſaid, That to maintain the cuſtome, it ought to be ſhewed, That a Formedon had been brought upon ſuch a ſurrender, and Judgment given, That it did lye. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Lee and Browns Caſe. Popham 128, 129.

11. In Treſpaſs: It was found by ſpecial Verdict, That A. a Copyholder in Fee, 39 Eliz. ſurrendred his Copyhold Lands into the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor, to the uſe of his Will, and had Iſſue 2. ſons, J. and H. and deviſed his ſaid Lands to J. and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to H. and the heirs males of his body, with divers remainders over, and dyed: 41 Eliz. the ſurrender was preſented; and J. admitted, To have to him and his heirs. Afterwards J. had Iſſue 3. ſons; and ſurrendred the ſame to the uſe of his Will, and thereby deviſed it to K. his wife, and dyed: 42 Eliz. the Surrender was preſented, and ſhe was admitted: the 3. ſons of J. dyed without Iſſue, and the Jury found, That no Copyholder might ſurrender or deviſe his Copyhold Lands in tail. And that afterwards A. married J. D. who Leaſed to the Plaintiff: And here the Queſtion was, When a Copyholder in Fee ſurrenders to the uſe of one in tail, being no cuſtome to warrant ſuch entail, Whether it be an entail by the Statute of Weſtm. de Donis, &c. or a Fee-ſimple conditional, at the Common-Law? And it was holden by all the Juſtices, That a Copyhold could not be entailed within the Statute of Donis? and that for divers cauſes: 1. Becauſe that it is not within the Letter of the Statute, which ſpeaks onely de Tenementis per Chartam datis. 2. It is not within the meaning of the Statute, becauſe before 7 E. 4. 19. they were not of any account in Law, being but Eſtates at Will. 3. The Statute provides againſt thoſe who might make Diſheriſin by Fine or by Feoffment; which a Copyholder could not do, or make. 4. Becauſe, if they might have been entail'd, that the Reverſion ſhould be left in themſelves, which cannot be. And, 5. Becauſe it ſhould be miſchievous, becauſe there ſhould be no means to dock or cut off the Eſtate tail. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Intrator. Trin. 18 Jac. rott. 1051. Royden and Mouſters Caſe. Godbolt. 367. See Cro. 1. Part, 31, 32. the ſame Caſe.

12. A ſurrender was made to the uſe of one in tail, with divers remainders over in tail: In that caſe it was adjudged, 1. That it was no diſcontinuance. 2. If it were a diſcontinuance, yet a Formedon in the Remainder did not lye of it; for when a Copyholder makes a guift in tail, he hath no Reverſion, but onely a poſſibility; and the Lord ought to avow upon the Donee, and not upon the Donour. And, 3. a Recovery ſhall not be without a ſpeciall Cuſtome. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Lane and Hill's Caſe.

13. Note: It was Reſolved, That Copyholds were not within the Statute of Donis; for if they were within the ſaid Statute, the Lord ſhould not enter for Feleny, but the Donor; and the Services ſhould be done to the Donor, and not to the Lord of the Mannor. Paſch. 35 Eliz. in C.B. rott.334. Pitts and Hockley's Caſe.

14. A ſurrender was made of a Copyhold within the Mannor of Stevenſden, unto the uſe of one, and the heirs males of his body; and after Iſſue, he ſurrendred to another: And it was adjudged by all the Juſtices, That the Iſſue was barred; for it was adjudged, That the ſame was a Fee conditional at the Common-Law, and poſt prolem ſuſcitatam, he might alien. Hill. 34 Eliz. in B. R rott. 292. Stanton and Barneys Caſe.

15. It was adjudged in the Common-Pleas, upon an Evidence given for Lands within the Mannor of Iſleworth, That no eſtate tail might be of a Copyhold, without a ſpeciall cuſtome to warrant it, Trin 36 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 547. and Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. It was adjudged, That a Copyholder could not ſuffer a Recovery, becauſe that Recovery in value is by reaſon of the warranty annexed to an eſtate at the Common-Law, which cannot be annexed to a cuſtomary eſtate. 42 Eliz. in B. R. Eriſh and Ives Caſe.

16. Note: It was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, That Copyhold Lands in tail are not within the Statute of Weſtm. 2. but it is a Cuſtomary entail, like in its nature to another entail; and ſuch an eſtate muſt be docked by Fine, or ſome other cuſtomary way. And he ſaid, That if Copies of Court-Rolls be ſhewed to prove a cuſtomary eſtate, the enjoyment thereof muſt alſo be proved; otherwiſe the proof is not good. And in the Evidence given in the Caſe, It was ſaid, That the ſeizure of the Lord of Copyhold entailed Lands within the Mannor of Wakefield, is in the nature of a Recovery to dock the entail; and that the manner of doing it, is either for the Copyholder to let his Copyhold for more years then he ought, or to refuſe to do his ſervice, and then the Lord ſeizeth the Land for a forfeiture, and grants it to another by the conſent of the Copyholder that made the forfeiture. But the Chief Juſtice ſaid, That there could be no ſuch cuſtome, to cut off entails of Copyhold Lands by the forfeiture and ſeizure of the Lord; for that his ſeizure upon the forfeiture deſtroyes the Copyhold eſtate by the Common-Law; for it is in the Lords Election after ſeizure, if he will grant it again by Copy, or no. Paſch. 1655, in B. R. Pilkington and Bagſhawes Caſe, Styles 459.

6. Where, and by what, and whoſe Act, a Copyhold Eſtate ſhall be ſaid extinguiſhed, or ſuſpended; and where revived again; where not.

1. A Purchaſed a Copyhold of B. to himſelf and his wife and his child, for the Term vitæ eorum, &c. B. leaſed the Freehold of the Land by Indenture to C. for the term of his life, reſerving to him a Rent, and made Livery and Seiſin accordingly. Afterwards B. levied a Fine to A. of the ſame Land; and A. accepted the Rent of C: and, If the Copyhold were determined or not, was the Queſtion? And it was holden, It was gone and determined. And there the caſe was put; If a Diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for life rendring rent, and afterwards grants the Reverſion to the Diſſeiſee, and he accepts the Rent of the Leſſee; he ſhall never put him out. 28 H. 8. Dyer 30. Comptons Caſe. See Cook. 3. Part, Pennants Caſe, 64. acc.

2. If a Copyholder accepts a Leaſe for year, of the Lord of his Copyhold, the Copyhold is deſtroyed for ever, and can never be granted again. If the Copyholder takes a Leaſe for years of the Mannor, by that his Copyhold hath not continuance; as it was adjudged, Paſch. 17 Eliz. in Hides Caſe. But in the ſame Caſe it was Reſolved, That ſuch Leſſee may regrant the Copyhold to whom he will; for the Land was always demiſed or demiſable. Mich. 19 Eliz. in B. R. French his Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 31. See Mich. 29 Eliz. Godbolt 101. acc.

3. In Treſpaſs: The Iſſue was; If the Lands were Cuſtomary, and demiſed, and demiſeable per Copiam, &c. de tempore cujus Contrarium, &c. And it was found, That it had been demiſed for 60. years per Copiam in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, for life, years, or otherwiſe; And that afterwards the Lord demiſed the ſame by Indenture for the Term of 18 years, if the Leſſee ſhould ſo long live: and that afterwards the Lord leaſed the Tenements by Copy to the Deſendant for the Term of his life; and then concluded, That the Leſſee continuaverunt et habuerunt Statum et poſſeſſionem prædictor. Tenementorum, cum pertinentiis modo et forma prædict. per ſpatium dicti termini 60. annorum; and demanded the Opinion of the Court, If the Land be Cuſtomary, and demiſed and demiſeable by Copy, or not? And the Court held the Verdict to be naught; and a Venire facias denovo was awarded.

4. The

4. The Queen being ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. granted part of the ſame being ancient Copyhold, to F. in Fee; and afterwards the Queen granted the Inheritance of the ſaid Copyhold to a ſtranger in Fee: F. made his Will, and thereby deviſed the Copyhold Land to the Plaintiff in Fee, and at a Court holden at the ſaid Mannor, ſurrendred into the hands of the Queen to the uſe of his Will: In pleading, the Defendant did alledge the ſaid Grant made to F. by force whereof he was ſeiſed; and ſo ſeiſed, dyed ſeiſed; and that the ſame diſcended to the Defendant as his ſon and heir. And in this caſe it was Reſolved, That Cuſtome had ſo eſtabliſhed and fixed the Eſtate of the Copyholder, that by the ſeverance of the Inheritance of the Copyhold from the Mannor, the Copyhold was not deſtroyed, for as much as the Lord himſelf cannot ouſte the Copyholder, no more can any one claiming under him do: and that, in this caſe, the ſaid Copyhold diſcended to the Defendant, notwithſtanding the Deviſe and Surrender; for the ſurrender after the ſeverance of the Inheritance of the Copyhold from the Mannor, was void; and the Deviſee alone cannot transfer ſuch cuſtomary eſtate. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B.R. Murrell and Smith's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 24. See Cook 4. Part, 27. Trin. 30 Eliz. Milwick and Luters Caſe, adjudged acc.

5. The Cuſtome of a Mannor is, That every Copyholder Tenant for life might take Timber growing upon his Copyhold, to imploy in the Reparations of his Copyhold. The King made a Leaſe of a Mannor, of which a Copyhold is parcell, for years; Excepting all Woods, Underwoods, and Timber-Trees: The Leſſee for years Dominus pro tempore, deviſed and granted a Copyhold, upon which was Timber, to another for life, who cut Trees to repair and amend his Copyhold. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That notwithſtanding the ſeverance and Exception, yet the Grantee ſhould have the Trees: For the Eſtate of the Copyholder, who comes in by voluntary grant, is not derived out of the Eſtate or Intereſt of the Lord; but the Copyholder is in by the cuſtome which is paramount, and the Lord is but an Inſtrument to make the Grant. 2. It was Reſolved, That when a Copyholder Tenant for life according to the cuſtome, hath uſed to have Common, or Eſtovers in the Waſte of the Lord, and the Lord alieneth the Waſte or Wood in Fee, and afterwards grants a Copyhold Meſſuage for life; the Cuſtome ſo unites the Common or Eſtovers to the Meſſuage or Land, and they are ſo incident to it, that, notwithſtanding the Feoffment, or Fine of the Waſte, or Wood, made by the Lord, they remain, and are preſerved by the cuſtome. 6 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, 63. Swaines Caſe.

6. The father Tenant for life of a Copyhold (where the cuſtome was to have for 2. or 3. Lives ſucceſſive) the remainder to his eldeſt daughter for life, the remainder to the two daughters for life, after the death of the one or other: The Father Tenant for life by bargain and ſale enrolled, purchaſed the Inheritance of the Copyhold of the Lord, who levied a Fine of it to the father and his heirs with Proclamations: The father dyed, the ſon entred and levied a Fine to the uſe of himſelf and his wife, and to his heirs, and dyed; 10 years after, the wife entred: the Queſtion was, If the eldeſt daughter in remainder might enter, or ſhe were barred by the Fine? In this caſe divers Points were Reſolved, 1. That Copyhold Lands were within the Statute of 4. H. 7. of Fines, and ſo was a Leaſe for years. But if a Copyholder, or a Leſſee for years, by Covin to barr the Lord or the Leſſor, levy a Fine, the ſame ſhall not barr them. 2. Reſolved, That no Fine or Barr. ſhould barr any eſtate in poſſeſſion, reverſion, or remainder, which is deveſted and put to a right: and, in the principal caſe, the bargain and ſale did not deveſt the eſtate of them in the remainder; 1. Becauſe he did that which he might lawfully do by the Law; and the Copyholder accepted that which he might well accept. 2. Becauſe the Copyholder was in poſſeſſion, and was onely paſſive, and not active; and therefore it could not deveſt the Eſtate of them who had the Freehold and Inheritance. And, 3. the Bargainee was in, by the Statute of Enrollments; and an Act of Parliament cannot do wrong. 3. Reſolved, That after the bargain and ſale, the daughter in remainder could not enter, becauſe her eſtate was to begin after the death of the firſt Tenant for life, by the Cuſtome. And in this Caſe, It was ſaid, That if the Lord had charged the Inheritance of the Copyhold, that the particular Tenant for life ſhould have holden the Land diſcharged during his life; for the eſtates in Remainder do preſerve the particular eſtate by Copy from Incumbrances made and had by the Lord. Paſch. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cook. 9. Part, 104, 105. Margaret Podgers Caſe.

7. The King, ſeiſed of a Mannor in the right of his Crown, granted Copyhold Lands, parcel of the Mannor to one in Fee; and afterwards by his Letters Patents under the Exchequer Seal, made a Leaſe of thoſe Lands for 21 years: the Leſſee for years granted his eſtate to the Copyholder; The King reciting the Leaſe for years, granted the Reverſion in Fee: the years expired, the Grantee of the Reverſion entred upon the Copyholder. It was adjudged, That his entry was lawfull: For it was Reſolved, That by the acceptance of the Term for years by the Copyholder, the Copyhold eſtate was determined. But it was Reſolved, That the severance of the Freehold and Inheritance of the Land holden by Copy, did not determine the Copy estate; for although that a Copyholder hath but an estate at Will, yet he is not removeable at the Will of the Lord, so long as he performs his Customes and Services, Cook. 2. Part, 16. & 17. Lanes Case.

7. What are good Customes concerning Copy-holds; What not. What a Copyholder may do by virtue of such Custome; and what shall be a breach of it; what not.

1. IN an Ejectione Firme, the Defendant pleaded the Custome within the Mannor, That the Widow of every Copyholder in Fee-simple, Fee-tail, or for life, should have and enjoy the Copyhold pro tempore vitæ suæ. And in Evidence, It was shewed, That in pleading the custome, she claimed but a Widows estate onely. And it was holden, That that did not maintain the Issue and the custome alledged; because a Widowes Estate was a lesser estate, then an estate for life. Mich. 3 Ma. Dyer 192.

2. In Trespasse, the Defendant said, That the Lands are, and time out of mind were, customary Lands parcel of the Mannor of S; and are, and time out of mind were, demiseable and demised by the Lord of the Mannor, and by his Steward for the time being, to any person who would take the same in Fee-simple, Fee-tail for life, or years, at the Will of the Lord, by Copy of Court-Roll of the said Mannor; And that there is such a Custome, That when the Lord grants by his Steward to have and to hold to such a person sibi et suis, or to such person et suis, That the person shall have an Estate in Fee-simple: and shewed such a surrender; and it was admitted good. Book Entries, 269.

3. A grant was made in the West Country to Husband and Wife, and their son successive, according to the Custome of the Mannor: Afterwards the Husband dyed, and the wife took another Husband; The son put her out, supposing that the wife had but her Widowes Estate. Dyer said, It cannot be a good Custome; for it is expressed, That the wife should have it for life: But if nothing had been expressed, then the custome, That she should have it but during her Widowhood, should be a good custome. Manwood said, It was greater reason, that the wife should ouste the son named with the father, because she doth not defeat altogether the Estate of the son. But the custome, That the wife should have nothing, when an Estate is expressed, is not good: For in Kent the wife shall have the moyety during her Widowhood, or whileſt she liveth chaste; which is more then the Common-Law giveth her: and therefore the custome is good. And here when the wife is named, the custome shall not take effect: and by the word, Successive, every one of them shall have it after the other by the custome, by way of Remainder. Mich. 17 Eliz. in C. B. See Bendloes Reports.

4. The Custome of a Manner within the County of Southampton was, To grant Copies for one, two, or three Lives: and at a Court holden of the said Mannor, customary Tenements were granted to a woman durante viduitate sua; and, If this Grant were according to the custome, was the Question? And it was adjudged, That this Grant was within the custome; for every Grant durante viduitate, is for life; but every Grant for life is not durante viduitate; for a generall Grant for life is more larger and beneficiall then a grant durante viduitate. And it was adjudged, That the Custome was well pursued, because the Estate granted, was less then the custome did warrant. Pasch. 36 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 4. Part, 30. Dews and Hopkins Case.

5. See where Copy-hold Lands may be Intail-by customes; diversion, Sect. 1.

6. And see where the Custome of a Manner is, to grant Lands by Copy in feodo simplici, (as the usual pleading is) without question, by the same custome, Lands may be granted to one, and the heirs of his body, or upon other limitation or condition, for that they are not so large and ample, as the general estate of Fee-simple is; and therefore the generality of the custome doth include them. Cook 3. Part, 9. in Heydons Case. See Mich. 36 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, 25. Gravenor and Tedds Case, acc.

7. A Custome was alledged, That a Tenant in Fee, (and so of a Copyholder, with licence) that he could not make a Lease above 6. years. It was adjudged a void custome, because it is repugnant to the Fee, and unreasonable. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 357.

8. A custome was, That the Lord of a Manner hath used to have the best Beast of his Tenant there dying; and if such Beast be eſloined before seizure, that the Lord may take the Beast of any other Levant and Couchant upon the Land within his Tenure: and it was adjudged a void custome. 6 Eliz. Dyer 229.

9. The Custome of a Mannor was, That if a Copyhold Tenant suffer his house to be ruined for want want of Reparations, that he might be amerced, and that the Lord might diſtrein the Cattel as well of the Tenant, as of the under-Tenant, Levant and Couchant upon the Land for the Amercement: A Copyholder ſuffered his houſe to go to ruine for want of Reparations; and afterwards made a Leaſe of his Copyhold Meſſuage for a year; and the Lord diſtreined the under-Tenant: And it was adjudged a good cuſtome, and a good diſtreſs. And it was ſaid, That the amercement is not meerly perſonal, but it is a charge upon the Land, and the Diſtreſſe is but as a pledge, therefore a ſtranger may be diſtrained by ſuch a cuſtome. Hill. 17 Car. in B. R. Thorn and Tylers Caſe. Maſh 161.

10. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That a Copyholder for life might nominate his Succeſſor, and ſo in perpetuum; and that ſuch a Copyholder might cut down and ſell Timber Trees. In that caſe, both the Cuſtomes were adjudged good: and for the laſt, the difference was taken, Where ſuch a Copyholder hath the Inheritance, and where his Succeſſour comes in by his Nomination (whom by intendment he would not prejudice) there ſuch a cuſtome might be good. But in that caſe, ſuch a cuſtome, that a Copyholder for life might fell, cut down, and ſell Timber Trees, was not good. And ſo it was ſaid, it was adjudged, 45 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas, in Powell and Peacocks Caſe. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Rolls and Maſons Caſe. Brownlow 2. Part, 197. And that a cuſtome, that a Copyholder for life might cut down and ſell Timber-trees growing upon his Copyhold, is not good. See Trin. 4 Car. in B. R. Rockey and Haggens Caſe, rott. 764. Cro. 1. Part, 160. See alſo, Where the Cuſtome within the Mannor of Mardent was pleaded, That the Copyhold Tenants of the ſaid Mannor might fell Timber trees; and the Cuſtome was found, but adjudged no good cuſtome, unleſs they were Copyholds of Inheritance. Hill. 8 Jac. Brock and Spencers Caſe. Hob. 6. & 11. See Mich. 8 Jac. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 50, 51. acc.

11. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of Timber-trees, The Queſtion was touching the power of a Copyholder for life, for the cutting down of Timber-trees; and whether ſuch a Copyholder may preſcribe by Law to cut down Timber-trees growing upon his Copyhold: And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That this preſcription for a Copyholder for life, to cut down Timber-trees, is a preſcription againſt reaſon, and void in Law: and ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged in Lutterell and Woods Caſe in C. B. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1133. The Earl of Northumberland and Wheeler's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 158.

12. Note: It was ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, and agreed by the Court, That a Copyholder by Cuſtome may hedge and incloſe his Land; but never where it was not incloſed before: And ſo a Copyholder may digg Marle without a danger of forfeiture of his Copyhold; but then he ought to lay the Marle upon the ſame Copyhold Land, and not upon other Land. Paſch. 19 Jac. in C. B. Paſton's Caſe. Winch. 8.

13. In Treſpaſs; It was found, That the Land was Copyhold; and that the cuſtome is, That Quælibet famina viro cooperta poterit deviſe Lands whereof ſhe was ſeiſed in Fee according to the cuſtome of the Mannor, to her husband, and ſurrender the ſame in the preſence of the Reeve and 6. other perſons: and that J. S. was ſeiſed of the Land, and had Iſſue two daughters, and that they married husbands; and one of them deviſed her part to her husband by Will in the preſence of the Reeve and 6. perſons; and afterwards at another day ſhe ſurrendred to her husband, and that he was admitted. In this caſe, It was holden by the Court, That the cuſtome was not good; 1. For the Incertainty of it; For here the cuſtome is alledged, Quod poterit; and it ought to be alledged, Quod quælibet famina poteſt, for Cuſtome or Preſcription ought to be alledged in a thing certain: alſo it is againſt reaſon, that the wife ſhould ſurrender to the husband, for that the wife hath not any Will, but the Will of her husband: alſo the deviſe is not good as it is ſet forth according to the cuſtome; for the cuſtome is ſet forth, That ſhe may deviſe and ſurrender; and that ought to be all done at one time, ſcil. in the preſence of the Reeve and 6. other perſons; and the words of a Cuſtome are to be performed ſo far as they may be. It was adjudged, That both the Cuſtome and the Deviſe were not good. Paſch. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Shipwith's Caſe. Godbolt 14, 15, & 16.

14. Upon a Special Verdict, the Caſe was; A Cuſtome of the Mannor was found to be, That if a Copyholder in Fee dyed ſeiſed, That his wife ſhould hold it during her life as Free bench: The Lord enfeoffed the Copyholder, who dyed ſeiſed: Whether ſhe ſhould hold it, was the the Queſtion? And it was adjudged, She ſhould not. But if the Lord had enfeoffed a ſtranger of that Land; yet the Land remained Copyhold, and the cuſtome is not taken away. Hill. 3 Jac. rott. 451. in B. R. Laſhmer and Averies Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 126.

15. In Treſpaſs, It was found, That the Cuſtome of S. is, That Lands are demiſeable for 3. Lives; and the cuſtome is, That the firſt name in the Copy ſhall have it during his life onely, and ſo the others as they are named in the Copy; and alſo there is a Cuſtome, That if any Copyholder dyes seised, having a wife at the time of his death, that his wife shall have it during her Widowhood. It was found, That A. was a Copyholder for life of that Mannor, and Viscount Bindon Lord thereof, enfeoffed of that Land J. W. and J. N. and their heirs, who, 29 Eliz. enfeoffed J. W. and his heirs, to the use of him for the life of A; the remainder to H. wife of A. for her life, the remainder to A. in Fee: A. granted the remainder to W. B: H. dyed; A. took to wife the Defendant, and dyed: And, If the said wife should have her Widows estate, or not, was the Question? It was said, That this Copyhold estate was destroyed before her marriage, for by the severance of the Freehold from the Copyhold, it was not parcell of the Mannor; and the Custome is, That if a Copyholder dyes seised of Tenements, parcell of the Mannor; and here the Tenements are not parcell of it. But it was Resolved, That the wife should have it during her Widowhood; for the Custome is continued quoad her, although that the Freehold be severed from the Mannor: and it remains not onely as a priviledg, but as a meer Copyhold; and notwithstanding the Remainder was in the husband, and he granted it over, yet he continued and dyed a Copyholder, and so his wife should have her Widowers Estate. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Waldor and Bartlett's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 573.

8. Of Fines paid to the Lord by Copyholder; And what shall be said to be a reasonable Fine; and by whom to be so adjudged: and where the Lord may seize for not payment of such Fine; where not.

1. IF the Fine of Copyholders of a Mannor upon admittance be incertain; yet the Lord cannot demand, or exact unreasonable and excessive Fines; and if he do, the Copyholder may by the Law deny to pay them without any forfeiture: and it shall be determined by Justices, Whether the Fines be reasonable, or not. Mich. 42 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 27. Hubbard and Hamonds Case. See Cook 8. Part, 43. Godfryes Case, acc.

2. No Fine is due to the Lord, either upon surrender or discent, untill admittance; for the admittance is the cause of the Fine; and if after the Tenant deny to pay it, (if it be a reasonable Fine) it is a forfeiture. Cook 4. Part, 28. Sands Case.

3. In Trespass, the Question was, Whether the Lord of a Mannor may assesse two years and a half value of the Land, according to the racked Rent for a Fine upon the grant of a Copyhold, and, for non-payment of it, enter for a forfeiture. And the Court was of Opinion, That one year and a half of Rent improved, is high enough; and the Defendant assessing two years and a half, it is unreasonable; and therefore the Plaintiff might well refuse to pay it; and the Entry of the Defendant for a forfeiture, was not lawfull. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Dow and Goldings Case. Cro. 1. Part, 142.

4. The Lord assessed a Fine of 12 l. to be paid by a Copyholder, and appoints it to be paid at his Capital Messuage of the Mannor 3. moneths after; and the Copyholder pretending the Fine to be certain, (that is to say, two years quitt-Rent) offered at the day of assessing the Fine according to the Rent for two years; but at the appointed place for the payment thereof cometh not thither to excuse his non-payment, nor makes any other refusal: It was the Opinion of the Justices, That this is a forfeiture of his Copyhold: But if he had come at the day assigned him for the payment, and had then tendred the two years Quitt-Rent, being the Fine certain according to the Custome, though not assessed nor demanded by the Lord, it had not been a forfeiture. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Gardner and Normans Case. Cro. 2. Part, 617.

5. In Trespass, for breaking of his Close; the Trespass was assigned in an Acre of Pasture: The Defendant pleaded, The place was his Freehold, &c. The Plaintiff replyed, That the place where, was parcell of the Mannor of F. demiseable by Copy in Fee-simple, and that the Lords of the Mannor granted the Tenements to J. S. and his heirs, who surrendred them into the hands of the Lord, to the use of the Plaintiff and his heirs. The Defendant recoyned and said, That at the time of the admission of the Plaintiff, the Tenements were of the clear yearly value of 53 s. 4 d. and that within the Mannor there is a Custome, That upon every Admission of any person, a reasonable Fine should be assessed by the Lord of the Mannor, or his Steward; and set forth, That the Steward of the said Mannor, at a Court holden for the Mannor, admitted the Plaintiff, and set a reasonable sum of money, scil. 5 l. 6 s. 8 d. the value of the Tenements for 2. years, for a Fine to be paid; and that the Lord afterwards requested the Plaintiff to pay the said Fine, which he utterly denyed and refused: for which the Lord entred into the Tenements for a forfeiture. In this case it was Resolved by all the Justices, 1. If the Fine

aſſeſſed had been reaſonable, yet the Lords ought to ſet a certain time and place where the ſame ſhould be paid, becauſe it ſtands upon a point of forfeiture. 2. Reſolved, That the Fine in this caſe was unreaſonable, ſcil. To demand for a Cottage and an Acre of Paſture 5 l. 6 s. 8 d. for the Admittance of a Copyholder in Fee-ſimple upon a ſurrender made: and it is not like unto a voluntary grant; as when a Copyholder hath an Eſtate for life, and dyeth; or hath a Fee-ſimple, and committeth Felony; there Arbitrio Domini res æſtimari debet: but when the Lord is compellable to admit him to whoſe uſe the ſurrender is, there the value of two years is unreaſonable, eſpecially when the value of a Cottage, and one Acre of paſture is a Rack of 53 s. per annum. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Willowes Caſe. Cook, Select Caſes, 1.

6. In Treſpaſs; the matter upon the Iſſue was, Whether Copyholders upon their admittances have uſed to pay Fines uncertain at the Will of the Lord, or Fines certain; ſcil. the value of two years Rent, and no more. The Plaintiff did ſhew divers Court-Rolls of admittances upon ſurrenders, and that the Fines taken by the Lord were not certain, but ſometimes ſuch a ſum, ſometimes another ſum, but alwayes under the value of 2. years rent, and none above. It was holden by the Court in this caſe, To prove a Cuſtome for uncertainty of Fines, and not to be certain 2. years Rent, there ought to be ſhewed Court-Rolls, and that in caſes of diſcents; and that upon ſuch admittances they have uſed to pay for Fines above 2. years rent: But Rolls to prove uncertainty of Fines, if the Fines be under the value of 2. years rent, theſe are no proof at all, for the Fines ought to be above 2. years rent; For it is a good Cuſtome for to pay Fines upon admittances, the value of two years rent, or under; and the proofs ought to be in caſes of Diſcent; for in caſe of ſurrender, or of purchaſe of a Copyhold, the Lord may take what Fine he will; but ſuch Fines are no proof to prove the taking of uncertain Fines by the Cuſtome. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Allen and Abraham's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part, 32, 33.

Corporations.

1. Where a Corporation cannot be by Preſcription without the Kings Grant, and where the Kings Grant ſhall be ſufficient to give them capacity to take purchaſe, or Grant; Where not.

1. THe Colledge of Grayſtock was founded by Pope Urban, at the requeſt of Ralph Bacon of Grayſtock, Anceſtor of the Lord Dacres, and was alwayes called the Colledge of Grayſtock; and it conſiſted of a Maſter, and of ſix Prieſts, who had yearly ſtipends, who came in by Admiſſion and Inſtitution of the Biſhop, and were not Illegible, nor had they a Common Seal. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That this was not a Colledge well Incorporated; and therefore it was not given to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Of Diſſolutions Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 81.

2. If the King at this day by his Charter, give Lands probis hominibus de Iſlington, To have and to hold, to them and their Succeſſors, rendring rent; It is a good Corporation, as to that intent onely, but not to other intents; And they are but Tenants at Will, and if the King releaſeth to them the Rent, the Corporation is diſſolved. Trin. 1. Ma. Dyer. 100.

3. The King Granted hominibus de D. hered. et ſucceſſoribus ſuis manerium de D. rendring rent, They are Incorporate for all ſuch things as Concern the ſaid Mannor: But if the Grant be hominibus de D. that they ſhall be quit of Toll, the ſame is void, unleſſe they be Incorporated before. It was ſaid, It was a good Corporation to that purpoſe, but not to purchaſe. The principall Caſe was, That Norwich was Incorporated by the name of Citizens and Commonalty: And the King afterwards granted Civibus de Norwich, that they ſhould not be put on Juries. And afterwards, It was enacted, That all Grants made Civibus, ſhould be good ſecundum eorum Conſuet. And if this ſecond Grant ſhould be void or not, was the doubt; for if it ſhould be void, then Nihil operatur by the Act of Parliament. But it ſeemed to ſome of the Juſtices, That the Grant ſhould be good to the Citizens, and to that purpoſe ſhould make them a Corporation; and that every one at their pleaſure might take benefit of it. And it was ſaid, That if the King Grant to the Inhabitants of D. that they may chuſe a Mayor, and that they ſhall be impleaded by the name of Mayor and Commonalty of D.: Now the name Inhabitants is gone, and yet it was a good Corporation before by force of the Grant. And note, It is there ſaid, That in all the Ancient Cities and Boroughs in England, as London, &c. The Grant is made Civibus et Burgenſibus de L. which were not Corporations before; and yet the Grant is good. 21 E. 4. 55. 56.

4. If the King Grant to a Corporation to purchaſe or give by the name of Mayor and Wardens, Brothers and Siſters, and alſo by the ſame Letters Pattents, g v: the power to implead, and to be impleaded, by the name of Maſter and Wardens onely, the ſame is good; And ſo it is to a Corporation, as to a purchaſe, to be named Bayliffs, and as to implead, or be impleaded, to be named Mayor, &c. See 11 H. 7. 27. a good Caſe.

5. A. acknowledged a Recognizance of 150 l. for Orphanage mony to the Chamberlain of London and his ſucceſſors, and afterwards before the Mayor and Recorder, he acknowledged a Statute to B; B. ſued forth an Execution, but it was not returned: the ſucceſſour of the Chamberlain ſued forth Execution by Elegit. It was Objected in this Caſe, That the Succeſſour of the Chamberlain ſhould not have this Recognizance: For it was ſaid, That in Caſe of a Sole Corporation, be it either by Preſcription, or by Charter, no Chattell either in Action or in poſſeſſion, ſhould go in Succeſſion; But otherwiſe it was, of a Corporation aggregate. But it was Reſolved that in this Caſe, The Succeſſor ſhould have the Recognizance, for that the Corporation of the Chamberlain of London was by Cuſtome, which hath created and made him a Corporation in Succeſſion, as to this ſpecial purpoſe concerning Orphanage: And the ſame Cuſtome hath enabled him to take ſuch Recognizances, Obligations, &c. which are made to his Succeſſors; and ſuch Cuſtome is grounded upon great reaſon, for the Executors of the Chamberlain ought not to intermeddle with ſuch Recognizances, &c. which by the Cuſtome are taken in his Corporate Capacity, and not in his private capacity. But it was agreed, that a Biſhop, Patron, &c, or any Sole Corporation, which are bodies politique, cannot take Recognizances or Obligations, but onely in their private Capacity, and not in their politique Capacity, becauſe there wanteth ſuch a Cuſtome. Mich. 33 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, 65. Fulwoods Caſe.

6. In the Caſe of the foundation of Suttons Hoſpitall: It was objected, That the Foundation was not good. 1. Becauſe Sutton dyed before the foundation. 2. Becauſe the place was uncertain, and every Corporation ought to have a place certain, by metes and bounds, and a place known will not ſerve. 3. Becauſe the King by his Letters Pattents intended to make a Corporation preſently, but that could not be before there was a Maſter named, and the Maſter was not named in the life of Sutton, and an Hoſpitall muſt be founded before a Maſter be named: And the Foundation could not be without the Special words of Erigo, fundo, &c. But it was Reſolved, That the Foundation was well made; for the Licence to Sutton is to him, his Heirs, and Succeſſors, &c. at any time hereafter; and the words of the Incorporation are in the preſent, ſo as the Corporation exceeded the Licence. And where it was ſaid, A place incertain cannot be an Hoſpitall. It was Reſolved, That a Mannor might be an Hoſpitall, which was more incertain then the Charterhouſe. And it was agreed, That to the Eſſence of Corporation, five things were onely requiſite. 1. Lawfull Authority to incorporate, and that may be divers wayes, by the King himſelf, by Authority of Parliament, by the Kings Charter, by Preſcription. 2. That the perſons be either naturall or Political. 3. That it be Incorporated by a name. 4. That there be a place certain. And laſtly, That there be ſufficient words of Incorporation: And in this Caſe, It was ſaid, That if it were an Hoſpitall in poteſtate onely, it was ſufficient, though it was not a houſe built; For it was ſaid, That the Temple was a Corporation in the time of Henry the firſt, and yet it was not built untill E. ſeconds time. Cook 10. Part, 25. the Caſe of Suttons Hoſpital.

7. The King Granted to the Mayor, Citizens or Commonalty of London, Domum Muſionalem vocat. Bridewell, and that it ſhould be founded and erected an Hoſpital for the Poor, and Granted to them, to the end, that the Lands might be better governed for them; That the ſaid Hoſpitall, when it ſhould be founded, erected, and eſtabliſhed, ſhould be called the Hoſpitall of King Edward the ſixth, of Chriſt, and St. Thomas of Bridewell: and that the Mayor and Citizens of the ſaid Cities, ſhould be incorporated by the name of the Governours of the poſſeſſion of the Revenues of the Hoſpital of King Edward the ſixth, of Chriſt, and St. Thomas, of Bridewell. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That this Hoſpitall in intention onely, was ſufficient to ſupport the name of a Corporation: and that the words ſcil. that the Governours from henceforth, ſhould be unum corpus per nomen in Law doth incorporate them preſently: and they ſhall not ſtay till the houſe be fitted and furniſhed with the mechanical part of the Hoſpital. Mich. 34, & 35 Eliz. rott. 172. in B. R. The Caſe of the Hoſpital of Bridewel vouched in Cook 10. Part, 31. in Suttons Hoſpitall's Caſe.

9. The Biſhop of St. Davids by Licence of the King of appropriation, made a Collegiate Church; and conſtituted Prebends there, and appropriated unto every Prebend a Church, which afterwards was confirmed by the Kings Letters Patents: And it was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame was a good foundation of the ſaid Colledge, and Incorporating of them; And therefore ſuch Colledge was given to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Mich. 70 Eliz. Dyer. 267. See Cook 4. Part, 107. acc.

9. In an Action of Treſpaſſe brought for taking away 12 plate locks, the Defendant as to the taking of the locks, pleaded a ſpecial Juſtification. That by vertue of Letters Patents of Incorporation granted to the Lock-Smiths of Durham, by Cuthbert Biſhop of Durham; who had Jura regalia within the County Palatine of Durham, and that by this Charter, the locks not being good, he as Warden of the Company did take them. It was demurred upon the Plea, becauſe it did not appear by the plea, That the Lockſmiths are a Corporation created by the Biſhop, but onely that the Cuſtomes uſed amongſt them, for their regulating of their Trade, were confirmed by the Biſhop, which doth not make them to be a Corporation. It was holden by the Court, That becauſe it did not appear by their Charter, that they had any Authority to take away ill Locks, and therefore what was done, was without Warrant: And it was ſaid, That it would be hard to maintain the Lock-Smiths to be a Corporation, becauſe the Biſhop confirmed their Orders; Is was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1650. rott. 633. in B. R. Goodyer and Shawes Caſe. Styles 298.

10. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; The Queen granted to the Mayor and Burgeſſes of Chipnam, the moyety of a Yard land in a Waſte called Ruddesdowne, in the Pariſh of Chipnam; without ſaying in what part of the Waſte they ſhould have the ſame, in the ſpeciall name of the Land, or how the ſame was bounded: Afterwards the Queen granted the ſaid Waſte to Sir Walter Hungerford. The Mayor and Commonalty, by Warrant under their Common Seal, authorized A. to enter into the ſaid Waſte, and in the behalf of the Mayor and Burgeſſes, to make Election of the ſaid Moyety, who did accordingly: And upon this matter, there was a demurrer in Law. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Grant to the Mayor and Burgeſſes, was utterly void for the incertainty of the thing Granted. And 2. That it was not onely void againſt the Queen her ſelf, but againſt Sir Walter Hungerford alſo: and it was further Reſolved, That if a Common perſon had ſuch a grant, which ought to be reduced to certainty by Election; the Corporation to whom the Grant was made, ſhould not make their election by Attorney: but after they were Reſolved upon the Land, they might make a ſpeciall warrant of Attorney, reciting the grant to them, and in which part of the Waſte their Grant ſhould take effect by abuttalls, according to which, the Attorney might make entry according to his direction. Trin. 27 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Walter Hungerfords Caſe. Leon. 30.

11. If Lands holden of J. S. be given to an Abbot and his Succeſſors, or to any other Corporation. In ſuch Caſe, If the Abbot and all the Covent do dye, ſo as the body politick is diſſolved, the Donor ſhall have the Lands again, and not the Lord by Eſcheat, becauſe in the Caſe of a body politick, the Fee-ſimple is veſted in their Politick Capacity, and the Law doth annex a Condition to every ſuch gift and grant, That if ſuch body Politick be diſſolved, the Donor ſhall re-enter: And if a Rent be granted to one and his Succeſſors, and the Corporation be diſſolved, that the Rent ſhall revert to the Donor, and there is no difference as to this matter, betwixt things which lye in Prender, and things which lye in Render. And the principall Caſe was, A Preſcription was laid of diſcharge of Tythes, in an Abbot and Covent; And it appeared that the Corporation war afterwards diſſolved, becauſe all the Monks dyed, and the Land came to the hands of a Layman. And it was Reſolved, That, the Preſcription now determined, the party ſhould pay Tythes in kind. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. The Dean and Channons of Windſor and Webbs Caſe. Godbolt. 211.

12. In Debt, the Plaintiffs declared, That Queen Elizabeth Incorporated them by the name of Wardens and Fellowſhip of the Weavers of Newberry; and gave them power to make Lawes rationi conſonas, and not contrary to the Laws and Statutes of the Realm, and by the ſame Letters Patents the Queen did ordein for her and her Succeſſors, That none ſhould exerciſe the Trade of Weaving within the ſaid Town, except he were admitted thereunto by the Guardians and Society of Weavers: And then they ſet forth, That the two Guardians, and the greater part of the Society did make an Ordinance, That no perſon ſhould uſe the Art of Weaving within the ſaid Town, unleſſe he had bin an Apprentice in the ſaid Town, and had uſed it by the ſpace of five years before the Ordinance, and were admitted by the Guardians and Fellowſhip upon pain of 20 s. for every Month, and he ſhews, that the Defendant had uſed the ſaid Art, whereas he had not bin Apprentice there, nor uſed the ſaid Art five years before the Ordinance, nor was admitted. In this Caſe, the principall queſtion was, Whether a new Corporation, having no Preſcription to appropriate, and exclude others, can make a Law to exclude all perſons to uſe an Art or Trade in their Town, whereas they were Apprentices in the ſame Town. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the ſimple Incorporating of a Town, doth not by conſequence draw a peculiar Trading to that Town, with an excluſion of Forreyners, but it muſt be by ſome ſpecial Law and Ordinance. It was agreed, That Companies, or Colledges of men, might make By-lawes; and ſo may Pariſhoners, or Commoners, for that they are Incorporated for ſome neceſſities, both common and peculiar to their diſtinct bodies, and therefore they may make Bylawes for the repairing of their Church, and the like: But a Corporation cannot make a Bylaw, to reſtrein generally a trade, and ſo it was Reſolved in this Caſe. 2. What things a Corporation may do without Deed, and what not; And where things done by them ſhall ſtand, notwithſtanding their Corporation be altered.

1. IT is holden in the Old Books, That a Corporation cannot do any thing without Writing; For if they do preſent to Church, It ought to be by Deed; and yet in pleading, they ought not to ſhew it, that it was by Deed; but it ſhall be ſo intended. But the Election of a Dean Maſter of a Colledge and the like, are good without a Deed: and ſo is the making of an Attorney, but that appears by Record, and therefore is good. And ſo the uſe at this day, is to certifie the Mayor of London, and other Mayors of Corporations into the Exchequer without a Deed, and ſuch Certificates are good. See 13. and 14. H. 8. 12. and 29. acc.

2. A Corporation cannot retein a Bail nor Receivor, nor can they aſſign Creditors without a Deed, nor can they be diſſeiſors by agreement without Deed, nor veſt or deveſt any Freehold in them, or out of them, without Deed, nor can they Licence one to take Trees, or to make Livery, or give any Intereſt without Deed: So if a Corporation make a Deed, and delivereth it to one to deliver over, heought to have a Deed: But it hath bin ſaid. That the Commandment onely of Dean and Chapter hath bin good to do a thing without a Deed; as 16 H. 7. 2. it is holden, but it is otherwiſe of Mayor and Commonalty; For that is, as is the Capacity of the Corporation: And there it is holden, That if one be head of the Corporation, as Mayor, or Abbot; in ſuch Caſe, If they command by word, it is good without Deed; But where it is a Corporation without a Head, as Commonalty onely, or Brethren onely, there the Command ought to be by Deed. Quære, for 11 E. 4. 10. it is holden, That the Commandment of the Commonalty without writing, is good, ſo as they may juſtify; And the ſame Law is, If the Covent in time of vacation, command one to cut down Trees: And there Littleton ſaith, That ſuch was the Opinion of all the Juſtices his Companions, and alſo of the Juſtices of the Kings Beach. Mich. 12 E. 4. 10.

3. If the Mayor and Commonalty of London have an Eſtate for the life of J. S. If in Caſe the Mayor and Commonalty attorn to the Grantee of the Reverſion, the Law doth require that it ſhould be by Deed, for notwithſtanding that the Grantee doth not claim in by them who attorn, and that an Attornment is but a conſent, yet in the pleading, the Deed of Attornment ought to be ſhewed, for that the Deed is requiſite ex inſtitutione Legis in ſuch Caſe. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, in Bellomyes Caſe. 38.

4. In an information of Intruſion, It was found, That the King was ſeiſed of a Rectory: And by his Letters Patents demiſed the ſame to the Wardens of the Church of S. for 21. years. And afterwards the King by other Letters Patents, reciting the ſaid Leaſe, which Letters Patents, and all their Eſtate, Intereſt, and Term of years, Guardiani prædict. modo habentes, et ad præſens poſſidentes nobis ſurſum reddiderunt, et reſtituerunt cancelland. quam quidem ſurſum reddicionem acceptamus in Conſideratione ſurſum reddit. prædict. and for the Fine of 20 l. ad receptum Scaccarii Guardianis ſolut. demiſed the ſaid Rectory to the Guardians of the ſaid Church for 50. years, and it was found, that the Guardians of the ſaid Church at the making of the ſaid Leaſe of 40. years, ſurrendred and yielded up the ſaid Letters Patents to be cancelled, and paid the Fees, for the cancelling of them; but no vacat was made of the Inrollment of them; and that the Defendants entred into the ſaid Rectory, by force of the ſaid Leaſe. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. That there needed not any Actuall ſurrender, becauſe theſe words (modo habentes, et ad præſens poſſidentes) prove, that at the time of the making of the ſaid Letters Patents, the Guardians had the Leaſe for years in them. And by acceptance of the new Leaſe, their Eſtate for years was determined: And in Judgment of Law, the ſurrender did precede the new grant: And although a Corporation cannot make an expreſſe ſurrender, without Deed under their Seal, yet they may by an Act in Law, ſurrender their Term without writing. 2. It was Reſolved, That the delivery made by the Guardians, of the Letters Patents in Chancery to be cancelled by their own hand, without writing, was ſufficient, and as much as they could do, and it belonged to the Chancellor and his Officers to have cancelled them. Cook 10. Part, the Wardens of the Church of St. Saviours Caſe. 66.

cannot

5. If a Leaſe for years be made to a Corporation, who cannot take without Deed, and they grant it over, the Grantor may entitle himſelf thereunto, without ſhewing the Deed, becauſe the Leaſe of the thing in its nature, might have paſſed without Deed, although the perſons who took it, could not take it without Deed. Hill. 3 Jac. in B. R. Predyman and Wodyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 108.

6. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of a houſe in the Pariſh of St. Olaves in Southwark, by his Will deviſed the ſame to his Wife for life, the Remainder to B. who was an Allien born (if he ſhould then be a Denizen, and a perſon capable to take the ſame) if not, then to the heirs of his body lawfully begotten, and dyed, the Wife dyed; B. entred, and injoyed the Lands for ſome years, Afterwards he bargained, and ſold the ſame to C. the Deed was enrolled, and afterwards he levyed a Fine to the Bargainee, with proclamations, and five years paſt; The Will further was, That in default of ſuch Iſſue, The Remainder to the Maſter and Wardens of the Queens Free-School of St. Olaves in Southwark, who brought the Action, ſuppoſing that B. was an Allien, who made the Bargain and Sale, and that he died without Iſſue. For the Defendants, it was ſhewed in Evidence, that B. was a Denizen, becauſe he calls himſelf ſo in the deed of Bargain and Sale, and in the Fine; Beſides, he exerciſed a Trade, and the exerciſing of the ſame, proved him to be a Denizen, and then if he were a Denizen, the Fine levyed with Proclamations, and five years paſt, did bar the Plaintiffs Title: It was further urged, That the Corporation could not take by the Deviſe, for that the Statute of 34 H. 8. of Wills, hath an exception of bodies politick or Corporate. But in this Caſe, It was Reſolved. 1. That the Deviſe to them was good, according to Porter's Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 2. Reſolved, That a Denizen cannot be made, but by Letters Patents, or Act of Parliament, and then ſuch Iſſue cannot be proved, but by matter of Record. 3. It was Reſolved, That by his Bargain and Sale enrolled, and by the ſubſequent Fine, no alteration at all was made, as to the eſtate in the Remainder, as it was adjudged in the Lady Arbella's Caſe; but otherwiſe it had bin if the Fine had bin firſt levyed before the Inrollment. It was adjudged for the Plaintiffs, The Maſter and Governours of the Queens Free School of St. Olaves in Southwark's Caſe. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Rolſt. 2. Part, 33, 34.

3. What things the head of a Corporation may do of himſelf, without the conſent of the whole Corporation; What not?

1. NOte, It hath bin ſaid, That a Maſter, or a Dean, may aſſign Auditors, or make Baylies, and they may take Offerings, or he may make a Steward in his own name, by himſelf, and theſe are good during his life; And ſo they may make an acquittance in their own name. 14 H. 8. 30. by Bradnell, yet ſee 2 R. 3. 7. That a ſum of 100l. is due to the Mayor and Commonalty of Southampton, per annum, extra Cuſtumas Regis, It was holden by all the Juſtices, That if the Mayor alone makes the acquittance, the ſame is not good, but becauſe a hundred the like Acquittances were ſhewed, the Acquittance was allowed.

2. In 21 E. 4. 76. It is holden, That where there is Warden and Chaplain, Mayor and Commonalty, Dean and Chapter, The Warden, Mayor, or Dean alone, cannot make a Leaſe, nor can they diſcontinue, becauſe no Writ lyes upon it, but the ſame ought to be done by the whole Corporation, and by Deed, otherwiſe it is void. So if any of them make a Releaſe in their own name, it is void, but contrary it is of their poſſeſſions, which they have in ſeveralty. But an Abbot may make a Leaſe, or a Releaſe in his own name, and it is good.

3. In L. 5. E. 4. 70. Debt was brought againſt Provoſt and Schollers, and the Plaintiff Declared upon a Contract of the Predeceſſors, ſome of the Juſtices held, that the ſame could not be the contract of the Schollers and Provoſt, but the contract of the Provoſt alone; And ſo it is of Abbot and Covent, Dean and Chapter, Mayor and Commonalty, Husband and Wife, it is the contract of the Abbot alone, Dean alone, Husband alone. Others held, that the Contract made in that manner, was void in all. But I conceive, that the name of the Schollers was but ſurpluſage, and that it was the Contract of the Provoſt alone.

4. See the Caſe of the Warden of the Church of St. Saviours in Southwark. Trin. 11 Jac. Cook;

Cook 10. Part, 67. before. If a Prior with the conſent of his Covent, maketh a Leaſe for years rendring Rent; If the Prior by Deed expreſly Releaſeth the Rent, and dyeth, the Succeſſours ſhall recover the Arrerages, but if the Prior had ouſted the Leſſee, and dyed, this diſcharge in Law ſhould diſcharge the Rent, which encurred during the Ouſter againſt the Succeſſor. 34 H. 6. 21. acc.

4. Where one ſhall be ſaid to be one of the Corporation in one degree, and not in another degree.

1. IN Aſſiſe brought againſt the Mayor and Commonalty, They appeared by one of the Commonalty, as their Attorney, and it was the Opinion of the Court, That they might well do it, for as an Attorney, he was but in the degree of a private perſon. 3 H. 6. 43.

2. An Aſſiſe of Nuſans was brought againſt the Dean and Chapter of E. and J. W. who was one of the Chapter, and holden that it did well lye: for as he is J. W. he ſhall render damages of his own goods. 46 E. 3. 23.

3. Treſpaſſe was brought for taking of Toll againſt the Mayor of the Commonalty of P. and againſt J. S. who pleaded, that he the ſaid J. S. was one of the Commonalty, and yet the Writ was holden good; for he is there in reſpect of another degree and capacity. For if the Mayor and Commonalty do diſſeiſe me, and I do releaſe unto 20 of them, by their proper names, the ſame is not of any worth as to the Mayor and Commonalty. And it is there ſaid, If the Mayor and Commonalty do diſſeiſe one of the Commonalty, he ſhall have an Aſſiſe againſt them, for they are ſeverall bodies, viz. a body politick, and a body naturall. 8 H. 6. 1. and 14.

4. If a Citizen be diſſeiſed, And the Mayor and Commonalty do releaſe to the Diſſeiſor all their right, the ſame ſhall not bind the Diſſeiſee; So if the Mayor and Commonalty be diſſeiſed, and every one of them will releaſe by their proper names to the diſſeiſor, the ſame is not good becauſe it is in ſeveral reſpects. 19 H. 6. 64. by Martin in the Rector of Edlington's Caſe.

5. If an Abbot and all his Monks by their proper names, and not by the name of their Corporation, make an Obligation under the Covent Seal the ſame ſhall not bind the Succeſſor, becauſe the Covent is not named by the name of the Covent. The ſame Law is of Mayor and Commonalty. 25 E. 4. 1.

6. The Maſter and Confreres cannot preſent the Mayor to a Benefice, for that he is the head, and cannot do an Act to himſelf, as to preſent himſelf; So they cannot enfeoff the Maſter, and make a Letter of Attorney to make Livery unto him; But the Maſter and Confreres may give to one of the Confreres: Or the Dean and Chapter may give to one of the Chapters, for there is a perfect Corporation without him who takes, becauſe Major pars tota eſt. Alſo it is there holden, That one may give Lands to J. S. Dean, and his Succeſſours, &c to J. S. one of the Chapter and his heirs, and there he ſhall be Tenant in Common with himſelf. And ſo where he hath a Seignory as Dean, and if he purchaſe the Tenancy as J. S. he ſhall hold of himſelf. 14 H. 8. 2. and 29.

7. J. S. Maſter of the Fraternity of B, and his Confreres conceſſerunt quendam annualem reditum, to B. ſolvend. &c. In cujus rei Teſtimonium prædict. J. his Maſter and his Confreres, to this writing have put their Common Seal; And alſo prædict. J. S. ſigillum ſuum apposuit: And it was holden, becauſe that there are no words in the firſt part of the Deed to bind him, therefore he ſhould not be charged as a private man. 17 H. 7. 16. 14 H. 6. 17. acc.

8. The King Grants Lands Decano et Capitulo, Habendum ſibi et heredibus et ſucceſſoribus ſuis, they ſhall take in their politick Capacity: ſo if the King Grants Lands to J. S. Habendum ſibi, et ſucceſſoribus ſive hæredibus, it ſhall enure to his Heirs. 18 H. 6. 11. adjudged. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 9.

5. Where one ſhall be named by his right name of the Corporation in an Action brought againſt him; and where by his name of Baptiſm; Where not.

1. IF Treſpaſs be brought againſt an Abbot, it is ſufficient if it be brought againſt him by his known name. But if an Action be brought againſt him, wherein a Freehold is demanded, or to be recovered, there the Action ought to be brought by the right name of his Corporation. 20 H. 6. 27.

2. In Debt againſt a Corporation, the Action ought to be brought in their right name: So every Grant by a Corporation ought to be by the right name of the Corporation, elſe the Grant is void. 35 H. 6. 5.

3. A

3. A Scire facias was upon a Recovery had againſt the Prior of St. John's of Jeruſalem in England, where the Record was, Prior Hoſpitii St. Johns de Jeruſalem in Anglia, and becauſe he was known, as well by the one name, as the other, it was holden good. 44 E. 3. 16.

4. A P. accipe quod reddat was brought againſt Magiſtrum ſive Cuſtodem et Presbyteros Collegii de A. and being in the disjunctive, it was holden good, becauſe the Foundation was accordingly. 7 H. 6. 13.

5. Note, It was holden, That if in Treſpaſſe, the Defendant plead Miſnoſmer; That it is a good Plea, to ſay, that he was known by the one name, or the other: But contrary if the Plaintiff plead Miſnoſmer. 1 E. 6. 4. See 25 H. 8. Br. 16. there Brook ſeems to agree, the difference when it is in an Action reall, and when in an Action perſonal. acc. to 20 H. 6.

6. An Annuity was granted by a Corporation, by name of Provoſt of the Colledge of E. and an Action was brought by the ſame name, without naming him by his name of Baptiſm, and yet good: But in a Grant, the name of the Grantor ought to be ſet forth in his Declaration: So if an Abbot and Covent be bound in an Obligation, without naming the name of Baptiſm, of the Abbot, it is good; and in a Writ brought againſt the Succeſſor, in his Declaration, he ſhall declare, and ſet forth his name of Baptiſme in certain. 12 H. 4. 5.

7. If a Dean and Chapter make a Leaſe by theſe words, ſcil. Sciatis nos Decanum et Capitulum dimiſiſſe, and it doth not expreſſe the proper name of the Dean, the Leaſe is void by Littleton, which was granted by the whole Court. 18 E. 4. 8. Quære, For Brooke to Corporation, 73. makes a doubt of it.

8. See, That a Grant made to J. Abbot, D. where his name was W. Abbot, was good. 27 E. 3. 85. Feoffments, and Grants. 67.

9. So the Mayor and Commonalty, without naming the proper name of the Mayor, may make a Feoffment, and by the ſame reaſon they may make a Leaſe. 14 H. 8. in the Book at large.

6. Of Miſnoſmer of a Corporation; and where a Grant ſhall be void by reaſon of Miſnoſmer; where not. And what ſhall be ſaid a Miſnoſmer; what not.

1. THE Corporation of the Colledge of Eaton was erected by King Henry the 6th, by the name of Prepoſiti et Collegii Regalis Collegii Beatæ Mariæ de Eaton juxta Windſor: and J. S. being Provoſt, made a Leaſe by the name of Prepoſiti et Collegii Regalis de Eaton, &c. omitting Collegium et Beatæ Mariæ. And it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Leaſe was void. Trin. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer 150.

2. The Dean and Chapter of Carlile being incorporated by the name of Decanus et Capit. Eccleſiæ Cathedralis Sanctæ et individuæ Trinitatis Carliens. made a Leaſe of certain of their Lands by the name of Decanus Eccleſiæ Cathedralis Sanctæ Trinit. in Carlile, et totum Capit. de Eccleſia prædict. It was the Opinion of moſt of the Judges, That it was a good Leaſe, notwithſtanding the Variance, which is not in the ſubſtance of the Name, as in 35 H. 6. 5. & 6. where a Prior ſued by the name of Sancti Petri, where the foundation was, Peter and Paul, and yet it was good. Mich. Eliz. Dyer 278.

3. The Caſe was, That the Hoſpital of Donington in the County of Berk, was founded by the name of Miniſter, Dei pauperis Domus de Donington: and they made a Leaſe in Engliſh by theſe words, Miniſter of the Almeſ-hand of God of Donington beſides Newberry: and whether for this variance, the Leaſe was good, or not, was the Queſtion? It was the better Opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, That the Leaſe was good; for here if he be Miniſter Pauperis Dei de Donington, he is the Miniſter of God; and the addition of the word, Dei, after Domus, ſhall never hurt: for if they agree in common underſtanding, it ſhall be good. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B.R. Sherborn and Lewes Caſe. Goldſbr. 121, 123. See 12 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2187. Petts and James Caſe, upon a Leaſe made of the ſaid Hoſpital of Donington, adjudged accordingly.

4. A Corporation was incorporated by the name, Majori et Burgenſium Burgi Domini Regis de Lynn Regis; and it is granted to them, that they ſhall be called by the ſame name onely, et non per aliud nomen. And an Obligation was made to them by the

the name of Majoris et Burgenſium de Lynn Regis, leaving [Burgi Regis] and in this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Obligation notwithſtanding that Miſnomer was good, and it is not requiſite, that the name of the Corporation in Grants be idem ſyllabis, ſeu verbis; but it is ſufficient if it be Idem re, et ſenſu. And in this caſe the variance is onely in ſyllables and words, and not in ſenſe. And it was Reſolved, That the words (Non per aliud nomen) ſhall be intended aliud ſenſu, et re. And theſe words, Burgenſes de Lyn Regis, imply, that Lyn Regis is Burgus; for Burgus, and Burgenſes, are Conjugate: for from Boroughs, come Burgeſſes: and the words, Lyn Regis, imply, that the ſame is Burgus ſuus, id eſt, Regis; ſo as the name in the Obligation by matter apparant in it, did carry in it a certain demonſtration of the true name of the Corporation. And it was holden, That in pleading, or in a Speciall Verdict, If by expreſſe averment, or by finding of the Jury, it ſhall be made apparant to the Court, that the true name of the Corporation, and the name in the Leaſe or Grant, or Obligation, be all one in effect, the ſame doth much ſtrengthen the matter; although in the words there be a ſeeming difference. But if the eſſential part of the name of the Corporation be omitted; or the Corporation miſ-named in any eſſentiall part of it, the ſame makes their Leaſes, Grants, or Obligations void. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2413. The Caſe of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of Lynne. Cook 10. Part, 125.

5. The Dean and Channons of Windſor were Incorporated by Act of Parliament made 22 E. 4. by the name of Dean and Channons of the King's Free Chappell of St. George the Martyr within the Caſtle of Windſor; and they made a Leaſe in the time of King Philip and Queen Mary, by the name of Dean and Channous of the King and Queens Chappell of St. George, within the Caſtle of Windſor: And it was adjudged, that for one of theſe differences, viz. of the King and Queens Free Chappell, that the Leaſe was void; for the Corporation ought to be ſuch as was given by the Founder, and ſhall not be altered from the name given by the Founder: But notwithſtanding the other variances in the miſnaming of it, if the other had bin true, the Leaſe had bin good. For St. George, implyes St. George the Martyr. Mich. 30 El. z. in B. R. Hill and Wingats Caſe.

6. A Colledge in Oxford was incorporated by the name Guardiani et Scholarium Domus ſive Collegii Scholarium de Merton, in univerſitate Oxonia: and they made a Leaſe of the Lands, by the name Cuſtodis Domus ſive Collegii de Merton in Oxonia et ſcholarium ejuſdem Domus. In the Caſe, four variances were obſerved. 1. For the word Guardianus, ſcil. Cuſtos. 2. Whereas the name of the Colledge was per nomen Domus ſive Collegii ſcholarium de Merton, the Leaſe was, per nomen Domus ſive Collegii de Merton, omitting Scholarium. 3. For univerſitate de Oxonia; the Leaſe was de Oxonia. 4. The word Scholares was miſplaced, for they came in the end, whereas in the Incorporation, they were immediately named after the word Guardiani. In this Caſe, it was adjudged, That the ſecond variance was a variance in matter of ſubſtance, For the Act of Incorporation had Baptized the Colledge by the name of Colledge of Schollers of Merton, and they made the Leaſe by the name of Colledge of Merton it ſelf, and for that cauſe the Leaſe was void, But for the other variances, ſcil. ſic Guardianus Cuſtos: And for the Univerſity of Oxford; and Oxford, they are all one in effect, and therefore not materiall variances. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Fiſher and Boyes Caſe. vouched in the Caſe of the Mayor and Burgeſſes of Lynne's Caſe. Cook 10. Part, before.

7. In an Ejectione firme the Caſe was, King Henry the ſeventh erected and founded an Hoſpitall by the name of Maſter and Chaplains of the Hoſpitall of King Henry the ſeventh de le Savoy; And afterwards in the time of Queen Mary, made a Leaſe of the Lands, parcell of, &c. by the name of Maſter of the Hoſpitall Henrici nuper Regis Angliæ Septimi vocat. le Savoy: and if this were a good Leaſe or no, was the Queſtion. And in the Exchequer upon the Argument of two of the Barons there, viz. Clark and Gent it was adjudged, that the Leaſe was void, upon which Judgment, a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, and there the Caſe was argued again; but was not adjudged, but the Caſe was Compounded: But the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That the Leaſe was a good Leaſe, and the words de le Savoy, and vocat the Savoy, were idem ſenſu. See this Caſe, and the Arguments at large. Mich. 30 and 31 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber. Marſiot and Paſchall's Caſe. Leon. 159. 160. to 165.

8. The Cookes of London were Incorporated by the name of Maſters and Governours, and Commonalty of the Myſtery of Cooks, and they by the name of Maſter and Wardens of the ſaid Craft and Myſtery of Cooks made a Conveyance: And it was holden, That the variance in the abſaidnce of this word (Craft) in the Conveyance, which was not in the Incorporation; was not any materiall variance, but onely matter of ſurpluſage, for that Craft and Myſtery are all one, and of one ſenſe: and did not make the Conveyance to be void. 20 Eliz. Plowden Comment. 537. Craft and Hawell's Caſe.

9. The Guild of Boſton in Lincolneſhire, was Incorporated

Incorporated by the name of the Guild of Saint Nicholas, and our Lady the Virgin Mary, &c. And they made a Leaſe for years, by the name of the Guild of our Lady, the Virgin and Saint Nicholas, religione quadam motus ut nomen Virginis Mariæ in Charta dimiſſionis præponeretur nomini St. Nicholai; and yet it was adjudged a void Leaſe for this variance. Quære of it, This Caſe was vouched by the Lord Burleigh in the Argument of Paſchall's Caſe. See Leon. 162.

10. The true name of the Corporation of Queens Colledge in Oxford, is, Præpoſitus, et Scholares Aulæ Scholarium Reginæ de Oxonia; And they confirm a Leaſe by the names Præpoſit. Sociorum et Scholarium Aulæ vel Collegii Reginæ in Univerſitate de Oxonia. In that Caſe, It was adjudged, That the Confirmation was good: for that the Colledge there is named by ſuch name, that it might be well diſtinguiſhed from every other Colledge in the ſame Univerſity: And there it was Reſolved, That although that the name of a Corporation is like unto the name of Baptiſm; yet if the perſons be ſo deſcribed, that they may be certainly diſtinguiſhed from other perſons; there miſpriſe or omiſſion of the true name ſhall not avoid the Grant: And there it was Reſolved, that the Word (King) is a name of Corporation; yet if a Grant be made unto the King, by the name of Soveraign Lord James, omitting the word (King) the Grant is good; For Nihil facit Error Nominis cum de corpore conſtat. Cook 11. Part, 19, 20, 21. Dr. Arays Caſe.

Corpus Cum Cauſa, or Habeas Corpus.

1. By whom, and for whom it lyeth: And where one in Execution by a Judgment in one Court, may be removed into another Court, and awarded in Execution there.

1. IF a man be an Officer in one of the four Courts of Law in Weſtminſter-Hall, and he be ſued in London, or in another Inferiour Court, he may have a Writ of Priviledge; or if he be impriſoned, a Habeas Corpus to remove him; and the Writ of Priviledg is a ſtatt Superſedeas to the Inferiour Court; and a Procedendo cannot be granted in ſuch caſe, becauſe his attendance in the higher Court is neceſſary. Hill. 12 Eliz. Dyer 287.

2. A Commiſſion being granted to examine the right of the Office of Exigenter of London; which belonged to the Chief Juſtice, and by him was granted to Scroggs: And a Bill thereupon exhibited againſt him before the Commiſſioners, Scroggs demurred upon their Juriſdiction, and would not Anſwer; for which they committed him to the Fleet: But in that caſe, the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas granted him a Habeas Corpus, becauſe he was a neceſſary Miniſter to the Court. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer 175.

3 An Action was brought in London, becauſe the Defendant called the Plaintiffs wife, Whore; It was moved, to have a Procedendo to remand it, becauſe the Action was moveable in London, it having been removed out of London by Habeas Corpus into the Kings Bench: But the Procedendo was denyed by the Court. And it was ſaid, That a Cuſtome to maintain Actions for brabling words, is againſt Law. Trin. 41 Eliz. Oxford and Croſe's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 18.

4. One who had Priviledge in the Common-Pleas, was arreſted in London; and before Judgment, the Defendant delivered a Writ of Superſedeas in the Inferiour Court, and notwithſtanding the Recorder proceeded to Judgment, and thereupon his body was taken in Execution; and afterwards he was brought into the Court of Common-Pleas by a Habeas Corpus cum Cauſa; and becauſe that after the Superſedeas, there was a Nullity in the proceeding, as well to the Judgment, as to the Execution, the Court awarded, That the party ſhould be diſcharged of the Execution: And ſo he was diſmiſſed without ſuing forth a Writ of Error. Cook 8. Part, 143. Druries Caſe.

5. Errour was brought of a Judgment in an Inferiour Court; The Errour aſſigned was, becauſe after a Habeas Corpus cum Cauſa was ſued out of the Kings Bench, and delivered to the Mayor and principal Officer of that Court, and acceptance, and allowance thereof, they notwithſtanding proceeded to Triall and Judgment. The Defendant pleaded in nullo eſt erratum. It was moved, It was not Errour, becauſe he doth not allege the Habeas Corpus to be upon Record: But it was holden by the Court, That the proceeding after the Habeas Corpus delivered, is an Errour, and Coram non Judice, which is confeſſed by the pleading in nullo eſt erratum: And if it were not true, that it was delivered to the Mayor, and allowed, it ought to have been denyed, and is tryable by the Country. The Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. rott. 1039. Ellis and Johnſon's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 190.

6. Errour was brought, for that a Writ of Ha- beas Corpora, with Niſi Prius being awarded, a Writ of Superſedeas was granted and delivered to the Sheriff, for ſtaying the Return of the Writ, and he notwithſtanding returned the Writ of Habeas Corpora, at the Aſſizes; whereupon the Tryall was had, and Judgment accordingly. It was holden by the Court to be a manifeſt Errour: as the proceedings in an Inferiour Court, after Habeas Corpus delivered, without a Procedendo. The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 1 Jac. in B. R. rott. 479. Kings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 43.

7. A man being in Execution in the Fleet, for a debt recovered in the Common-Pleas, being before that time condemned for another debt in the Kings-Bench, was removed by Habeas Corpus cum Cauſa condemnationis. It was holden, The Habeas Corpus was well awarded; and that now the Plaintiff might acknowledge ſatisfaction in the Kings-Bench for both the ſaid debts: for now he is in the Cuſtody of the Marſhall for both; and if the Marſhall do afterwards ſuffer him to eſcape, he ſhall be chargeable with both the debts. Mich. 4 Ma. Dyer 132.

8. A. was taken in Execution upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum out of the Kings-Bench, and there iſſued a Writ of Prerogative out of the Exchequer, to have his body. The Teſte bare date before the Arreſt; and the Return before the Capias: Upon which the Sheriff brought his body into the Exchequer, and there ſhewed the Cauſe of the detainer: and thence the Priſoner was committed to the Fleet in Execution for the ſaid debts; and alſo for the debt due to the Queen, which he had confeſſed in the Exchequer: Afterwards a Habeas Corpus came from the Kings-Beneh; and the Warden of the Fleet brought the body, and ſhewed all the ſpeciall matter in the Return: whereupon he was remanded, Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer 197. Laſſels Caſe. Mich. 5 Car. in Scaccario. The Lady Sands Caſe, adjudged accordingly. See 3 E. 6. Dyer 167. acc.

9. Execution by default was awarded in a Scire facias upon a Judgment, and the Defendant after the year and the day, ſcil. 4. years after, was in the Fleet for another cauſe; [redacted] being brought to the barr by Habeas Corpus, he was examined, If he were the ſame perſon who was condemned ut ſupra? Who confeſſed he was: and thereupon he was committed to the ſame priſon of the Fleet, there to remain till he paid the Condemnation. And note, That this was after the year and day, without any new Scire facias awarded. Trin. 4 Eliz. Dyer 214.

2. Where the Writ of Habeas Corpus cum Cauſa lyeth; where not: And when allowable; when not. And what ſhall be a good Return of it: And where the party ſhall be diſcharged upon it; where not.

1. THE Court was moved for a Habeas Corpus for a Priſoner in the Kings-Bench, that he might be a Witneſſe in a Cauſe at a Tryall at the Aſſizes in Derbyſhire. The Court would not grant it; for they ſaid, This was but a trick, to gain his Liberty in the long Vacation. Yet the Court agreed, That a Habeas Corpus had been granted for one to be a Witneſſe at a Tryall at the Guild-Hall in London; but that at the charge and perill of the party for whom he was to be a Witneſſe, if he eſcape. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Styles 119. And ſo was it holden, Trin. 1630. in B. R. in Treton and Squires Caſe, where a Habeas Corpus was awarded, That a Priſoner in the Marſhalſie might obtain Liberty to be at a Tryall, to give his Teſtimony as a Witneſſe, but at the charge of the party, and at his perill, if he Eſcape. Styles 230.

2. A man was arreſted by a Latitat out of the Kings-Bench, in the County of Wilts, and carried from thence to the Town of Marlebrough, and there arreſted by a Sergeant of the Town, by a Writ out of that Corporation: and the party proceeded againſt him there upon that Writ, and not upon the Latitat. It was Ruled by the Court, That the party ſhould have an Attachment againſt the party that arreſted him; and a Habeas Corpus was alſo awarded, to remove his body into the Kings-Bench. Mich. 1650. in B. R. Brian and Stout's Caſe. Styles 239.

3. Captain Streater was committed by the Councel, and Parliament, for publiſhing ſeditious Pamphlets, to the Gate-houſe; he brought a Habeas Corpus, and prayed the Return might be read, and filed, and that he might be bailed; but it was denyed, and he was returned over to the Marſhall: but not remanded, becauſe upon filing of the Return, the Court was ſeiſed of the Record, and of the Priſoner. Mich. 1653. in B. R. Captain Streater's Caſe. Styles 397.

4. A man was ſued in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, for beating of his Wife, and for calling her Whore, and there ſentenced to pay her 3. ſhillings a Week for Alimony; and a Fine impoſed upon him for not

not paying; and he ordered to enter into a Recognizance there to perform it: And for these causes a Prohibition was awarded, and a Habeas Corpus to deliver the party out of prison. Trin. 8 Jac. in C.B. Agar's Case. Brownlow 2. Part, 36.

5. An Attorney of the Common-Pleas was cited before the High Commissioners, and committed to the Fleet, for that he would not swear upon the Articles by the Commissioners administred to him; and a Habeas Corpus was awarded to deliver him, and a Prohibition to the Court of High Commission was awarded. See Trin. 7 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 2. Part, 271. And in that case it was Resolved, That it belongs to the Judges of the Common-Law to expound the Statute of 1 Eliz. upon which the Court of High Commission is grounded. See Leyes Case, 9 & 10 Eliz. Dyer. Rott, 1596. acc.

6. Sir Henry Lea was committed, for disobeying a Decree made in the Court of Requests; whereupon he prayed a Habeas Corpus: And upon the Retorn the case appeared to be, That Henry Lea the Defendant pretending title to Lands which Sir Henry Lea held by discent from his Uncle, shewed his Title to the Kings Majestie, who upon the Petition of Henry Lea, sent for Sir Henry Lea, and had speech with him, that he would give to Henry Lea some recompence for his title; and thereupon Sir Henry promised, That if Henry Lea would not molest him for any of the said Lands, that then he would give to the said Henry Lea 200 l. per annum; and for not performance of this promise, he exhibited his Bill into the Court of Requests, upon which the said Decree was grounded. And the said Court made the said Decree upon a Certificate made by the King of such promise. And it was moved, That because it appeared, that the Plaintiff had remedy by way of Action upon the Case at the Common-Law upon the said promise, That the Court would grant a Prohibition to the Court of Request; and also deliver him from his said Imprisonment. But because upon the Retorn it appeared, that his commitment was for a Contempt, for not performing the Decree; and no other cause appeared in the Retorn: therefore they could not discharge him upon his Habeas Corpus; but the party might have False Imprisonment, if his Imprisonment was not lawful. Trin. 10 Jac. in C.B. Sir Henry Lea and Henry Lea's Case. Godbolt. 199.

7. H. was committed and detained in prison, upon a Commitment made by the Justices of Peace at the Quarter-Sessions: And upon a Habeas Corpus retorned, It appeared, That H. having got a Bastard Child, That by the Statute of 18 Eliz. is to be referred to the examination of the two next Justices of the Peace, for to Examine and Order the same; They did examine the matter, and made their Order therein, the which if the party refuse to perform, or to enter bond to appear at the next Quarter-Sessions, then they are to commit him to prison without bail or mainprise: H. entred Bond, and after at the next Quarter-Sessions, the Justices did make another Order; and because they refused to perform it, they committed him to prison. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Justices ought not to have committed him for not performing of this their Order at the Quarter-Sessions, where they do alter their former Order; for by this, The first Order made by the two next Justices of Peace, is made void. And therefore this appearing, The Court granted a Habeas Corpus to remove the body from his Imprisonment: And upon the Retorn, it appearing that his Imprisonment was illegall, he was bailed by the Rule of the Court. Mich. 3 Car. in B. R. The King, and Hamond's Case.

8. A. being in prison in the Marshalsey, had a Habeas Corpus: upon which it was retorned, That he was committed to prison the 18. day of Sept. last, by the command of the Lords of the Councel; The Warrant was, viz. That he was committed for insolent behaviour, and words spoken at the Councel Table, which was subscribed by the Lord Keeper, and 12. other of the Councel: and because it was not mentioned, what the words were, so as the Court might adjudge of them, the Retorn was holden to be insufficient; and afterwards he was bailed. Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Chambers Case. 94.

9. Upon a Habeas Corpus to the Porters of the prison of the Councel of the Marches of Wales, It was retorned, That they were committed to him by virtue of a Decree upon an Information, That one of them enveigled the son and heir of J. S. being of the age of 17 years, in the night, and when he was drunken, to marry the sister of one of the Defendants: whereupon they were fined in several sums, and to pay 100 marks to the prosecutor, and were committed to prison for a year, and untill the said Fines paid, and untill they entred Recognizance for their good behaviour, and untill the Court took further Order. It was retorned also, That they were committed by an Order from the Lords of the Councel. The Court held the Retorns to be insufficient; whereupon the parties were bailed. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Seelces and others Case. Cro. 1. Part, 401.

10. A Habeas Corpus was directed to the Steward and Marshal of the Marshalsey, for one Howell; who retorned, That the said Howell was committed to his Custody per Mandatum Francisci Walsingham Militis Principalis Secretarii et unus de privato Consilio Domina Reginæ. It was holden by by the Court, That the Return was inſufficient, becauſe the cauſe upon which he was committed, was not ſet down in the Return; and day was given to mend his Return; and now he returned, viz. Infra Nominatus Johannes Howell Commiſſus, &c. ex ſententia et mandato Totius Concilii privati Dominæ Reginæ, et quod Corpus ejus habere non poſſumus, &c. and that Return was alſo holden inſufficient, for (by whatſoever perſon, or by whatſoever means he was committed) the return ought to be, Corpus tamen ejus paratum habeo: and then if it ſhall ſeem to the Court, ſhall have his priviledge, and ſhall be diſmiſt, he ſhall be diſcharged; but if not, then he ſhall be remanded. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Howell's Caſe. Leon. 70, 71.

11. A. a Priſoner in the Fleet was, by Habeas Corpus awarded to the Warden, brought to the barr: The Warden made return, That he was, 11. Nov. 1607. committed by Warrant from the Lords of the Councel to the Fleet, to remain there untill other Order. And it was the Opinion of the Court, becauſe there was not any Cauſe of Commitment, mentioned either in the Commitment, or in the Return, the Court conceived it not fitting to detain him in priſon: whereupon he was diſcharged by bail. Paſch. 14 Car. in B. R. Barkhams Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 365. See ibid. Lawſon's Caſe adjudged accordingly.

12. Wolnough and 7. others were committed by the Mayor of London to Newgate, for refuſing to enter into a Recognizance to appear before the Lords of the Councel. Upon the Habeas Corpus returned, It appeared, That by an Order from the Councel Table, they were to come before the Mayor, and to treat of forrein matters; and when they appeared, being required by the Mayor being in Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer for the City, to perform the Order of the Lords of the Councel, and to enter into a Recognizance, they refuſed; whereupon he committed them. It was ſaid, That the return was not good, becauſe it doth not mention the Order, nor ſhew what the Order was, ſo as the Court might judge thereof: and alſo becauſe the Recognizance is demanded for them to appear before the Lords of the Councel, no time nor place being appointed, nor cauſe ſhewed why it was demanded: and for theſe cauſes the parties were bailed. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Wolnoughs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 397.

13. One J. S. was brought to the barr by Habeas Corpus; And it was returned, That he was committed by Order of the Exchequer, for not paying of a Fine of 50 l. impoſed upon him by the Eccleſiaſticall Commiſſioners. And although it was not ſhewed, wherefore the ſaid Fine was impoſed; yet becauſe the Commitment was by a Judiciall Court, the Court would neither bail, nor diſcharge him. Paſch. 16 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 418.

14. A. having a Suit in the Kings-Bench, coming to London, was committed to Newgate: And upon a Habeas Corpus, It was returned by the Goaler in this manner, viz. That the ſaid A. was committed to his Cuſtody by Warrant from the Lord Chancellor of England, for certain matters concerning the King, there to remain untill the Lord Chancellor delivered him; and for that cauſe he could not have his body here. It was ſaid, That the return was too general; for it ſhews not for what cauſes he was committed; and it might be for a Cauſe which would not hinder him of his priviledge. Alſo the return is, That he ought to remain there, till he were delivered by the Lord Chancellor. The Court ſaid, It was the firſt time that ſuch Exceptions had been taken, therefore they would conſider of the Caſe. Hill. 6 Jac. in B. R. Addis Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 219.

15. A. was impriſoned at Dover by the Lord Warden of the 5. Ports, becauſe he took an Anchor and a Cable as Wreck, which the Lord Warden pretended to be in the 5. Ports, and did belong to him: and being impriſoned 20 weeks, he brought Habeas Corpus cum cauſa; and the Lord Warden would not obey it: Whereupon an alias Habeas Corpus was granted with a penalty: and the Lord Warden pretended, that the Kings Writ did not run there: And a Preſident was cited, Where one Bowley was committed in Barwick, and a Habeas Corpus awarded, and the Mayor of Barwick would not obey it, becauſe he pretended the King's Writ did not run there. But it was ſaid, That ſuch pretences were diſallowed, and an Attachment was awarded againſt the Mayor, and he impriſoned for his Contempt. And it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Kings Writ did run there, and eſpecially this Writ which is a Prerogative-Writ, which concerns the King's Juſtice to be adminiſtred to his Subjects, for the King ought to have an Accompt, why any of his Subjects is impriſoned; and no Anſwer can ſatisfie it, but to return the Cauſe, with a Paratum habeo. And it was ſaid, That a Writ had been awarded out of this Court to Calice; And Brierley's Caſe was remembred by Doddridge, Juſtice, Where a Writ of Reſtitution had been awarded out of this Court to the 5. Ports. Wherefore it was adjudged, That another Habeas Corpus in the principal caſe ſhould be awarded under a great penalty at another day. Mich. 17 Jac. in B. R. Richard Bourns Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 543.

16. Doctor Alphonſo was committed to priſon by the Colledge of Phyſitians in London, for practiſing of Phyſick; He was brought to the barr by Habeas Corpus; the return was read; and upon the the reading, it did appear to the Court, to be insufficient, no cauſe being therein ſhewed for his Commitment. It was then moved by the Councel of the Colledg, for time to amend the return; but they would not grant it, but bailed the Doctor; the Court conceiving this to be the beſt for the Doctor; for if the Court ſhould diſcharge him for the inſufficiency of the Return, Then they would preſently take him again and commit him, and then would mend their return, and make it better. And for this cauſe, the Doctor was bailed, but not abſolutely diſcharged of his Impriſonment. Mich. 12 Jac. in B.R. Dr. Alphonſo and the Colledge of Phyſicians in London's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 259.

17. A. had a Judgment againſt B, and had him in Execution in the Kings-Bench. B. procured himſelf by Habeas Corpus to be removed into the Chancery, and there was committed to the Fleet: Afterwards, he procured a Releaſe to be forged, whereby A. had releaſed him the ſaid Execution: and upon this he obtained an Audita Querela, and a Scire facias againſt A. returnable at ſuch a day in the Chancery, to ſhew cauſe why he ſhould not be diſcharged of the Execution; and he was bailed by Knights of the Poſt, and ſet at Liberty. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That there was not any book in Law to warrant ſuch proceedings; That upon a Judgment given in any of the Kings Courts, an Audita Querela ſhould lye, and a Scire facias upon it returnable in the Chancery, but onely in the ſame Court where the Judgment was given: But if the Judgment had been upon a Recognizance, upon a Statute ſtaple, or Merchant, in ſuch caſe the ſame might have been returnable in the Chancery, becauſe the Recognizance is there before them, and they are the Judges of it: Wherefore this practice being made known to the Lord Chancellor, and to the Court of Kings-Bench, the Bill was caſt out of Court: and the Rule in the Kings-Bench was, That B. removeat in executione ut prius, but according to the firſt Judgment. Mich. 10 Jac. in B.R. Scrivin and Wright's Caſe, Bolſtr. 2. Part, 10.

18. A man being committed to the Fleet by the High Commiſſion Court, for not giving Alimony to his Wife, was brought to the Barr by Habeas Corpus; The Return was, That for cauſes Eccleſiaſtical, and by force of the Statute of 2 H.4. cap. 15. he was detained in priſon, and for Adultery. It was urged, That the cauſe of his refuſal was, becauſe he feared to be entrapped by them in his Oath, having entred into a Bond, not to uſe his wife otherwiſe then well. It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That the High Commiſſion Court, for Alimony, are neither to Fine, nor yet impriſon: and being bound to them in a bond, they cannot examine him upon Oath, or Articles, thereby to make him forfeit his Bond, and therefore he ought not to Anſwer them. And ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged in Gower's Caſe, in the time of Wray, Chief Juſtice. The party was bailed, Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Bradſhaw and the High Commiſſion Courts Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 300, 301.

19. A man was impriſoned by the Court of Admiralty: and upon a Habeas Corpus, this was the Return, viz. That the Cuſtome of the Court of Admiralty is, to attach goods in cauſa civili et maritim, in the hands of a third perſon, and that, upon 4. defaults made, the goods ſo attached, ſhould be delivered to the Plaintiff, upon Caution to reſtore them, if the debt, or cauſe of Action be diſproved within a year: and after 4. defaults, if the party in whoſe hands they were attached, refuſed to deliver them, to impriſon him untill he did; and ſhewed, That K. was endebted to J. S. upon an Agreement made ſuper altum mare, and dyed; and that afterwards J. S. attached certain goods of K. in the hands of Heaman; and after ſummons, and 4. defaults made, that J. S. did tender Caution to redeliver the goods, if, &c. and Heaman refuſed to deliver them; for which they impriſoned him. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That an Attachment could not be againſt the goods of the party being dead: Wherefore the Cuſtome to Attach goods after the death of the party, was no good Cuſtome: and ſo the Impriſonment was not lawfull, nor the Return good; and therefore the Priſoner was diſcharged. Paſch. 18 Car. in B. R. Heaman's Caſe. Marſh 204.

20. Sir Anthony Roper was drawn before the High-Commiſſioners at the Suit of B. for a Penſion out of a Rectory Impropriate, of which Sir Anthony Roper was ſeiſed in Fee: The High-Commiſſioners ſentenced him to pay it; which he refuſed: and upon this, they committed him to priſon; who brought a Habeas Corpus: and upon the Return of the Writ, this matter did appear. And it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the High-Commiſſioners had not authority or Commiſſion in this caſe; and that the Act of 1 Eliz. doth not extend to this Caſe, to determine Meum et tuum; but onely to Crimes, as to impriſonment; and not to him, who detains a Penſion, Legacy, or Tythes. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Sir Anthony Roper's Caſe. Cook. 12. Part, 46, 47.

21. Sir William Chauncy being committed to the Fleet by a Warrant from the High-Commiſſioners in Cauſes Eccleſiaſticall, was brought to the Barr by Habeas Corpus; the Return of which was in hac verba, We require you to take into your your Custody the body of Sir William Chauncey; letting you know, That the Cause of his Commitment is, That he, being convented before them for Adultery, and for expelling his Wife from his company, without allowing her any maintenance, and upon his own Confession convicted thereof; He was by the Order of the Court enjoyned to allow his wife a competent maintenance, according to his ability, and to perform such submission and other Order for his Adultery, as by Law should be enjoyned him; which he refused to do. In this case, It was Resolved by all the Justices, 1. That the High-Commissioners have not power to determine of Adultery, or of Alimony: but the same ought to be punished by the Ordinary; and they have power onely to determine of enormious Offences; as Heresie, Schisme, &c. 2. Resolved, That the Retorn was insufficient; 1. Because it is not shewed when the Adultery was committed. And, 2. He was enjoyned to allow his wife a competent maintenance without any certainty; and to perform such submission and other Order for his Adultery, as by the Law he shall be enjoyned. It is all in futuro and uncertain, what Order they will take. 3. It was Resolved, That when upon the Retorn it doth appear, That the Imprisonment is not lawfull; the Court may discharge him of his Imprisonment. Pasch. 9 Jac. in C. B. Sir William Chauncey's Case. Cook 12. Part, 82, 83.

22. Judgment was entred against A. in the Court of Common-Pleas; and afterwards the bail of A. brought a Habeas Corpus to the Marshalsey, A. being there a Prisoner, to have his body before the Justices of the Common-Pleas to be committed in Execution, in discharge of the Bail; but before the retorn of the Habeas Corpus, A. brought a Writ of Errour, returnable the day following: and when he came to be committed, the Court doubted, That their hands were tyed up by the Writ of Errour, by reason he could not be committed upon the Judgment. Yet they would have discharged the Bail, if they knew which way. Quære. Pasch. 14 Jac. in the Common-Pleas, Wickstead and Bradshaw's Case, Brownlow 1. Part, 61.

Costs.

1. In what Actions the Defendant shall recover Costs against the Plaintiff; in what not. And in what Actions the Plaintiff shall recover Costs against the Defendant.

1. IN an Action upon the Case, the Plaintiff was Nonsuit, and the Defendant had Judgment of Costs upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. Afterwards a Writ of Errour upon the Judgment was brought in the Kings-Bench: And afterwards the Defendant brought Debt in the Common-Pleas for the Costs. It was adjudged, That the Action did well lye. It was also holden, That although the Record were afterwards reversed, yet the Defendant should have the Costs assessed him by the Court, for his wrongfull Vexation. Pasch. 32 H. 8. Dyer. 32.

2. Judgment was given in an Action grounded upon the Statute of 1 & 2 Philip and Mary, for driving of a Distresse out of the Hundred and County where it was taken; and in the Action the Plaintiff recovered treble damages: And therefore it was holden by the Court, That he should recover no Costs.

3. Note: In all Cases where the Plaintiff might have Costs against the Defendant, there if the Plaintiff be Nonsuit, the Defendant shall have his Costs. Brownlow 46. acc.

4. In debt, the Plaintiff declared of a Recovery of Damages and Costs in a Writ of Entry; the Defendant pleaded in barr, That the Plaintiff after his Judgment, immediately brought an Elegit, and delivered the same to the Sheriff, who executed the Writ, and delivered the moyety of the Land extended, to the Plaintiff, &c. without shewing, that it was returned. It was holden to be a good barr; for the Plaintiff cannot vary from his Execution, for that he hath made his Election upon record. Pasch. 12 Eliz. Dyer 299. See Cook 5. Part, Hoes Case, acc.

5. A. brought debt against B. upon a Lease for years. The Grandfather of the Plaintiff seised of Land in Southwark, made a Lease of the same to the Defendant at London, rendring Rent; afterwards he devised the Reversion to A. the Plaintiff in Fee; and in his Will declared his intent to be, That his Executors should have the Reversion ſion during the Term, upon condition, that they enter Bond to pay 34 l. per annum at the uſual Feaſts; and deviſed, that this Bond ſhould be made by the advice of his Overſeers, all this to be done within 6. moneths after his deceaſe; and if his Executors refuſe, his Will was, That the Overſeers ſhould take the profits upon the ſame Condition; the Deviſor dyed; No Obligation was made within the 3. moneths; the Plaintiff required the Executors to enter the Bond, and pay the Rent; which was not done: whereupon he brought his Action in London, and not in Southwark where the Land did lye. It was agreed in this caſe, That the Plaintiff had good title to have the Rent: but becauſe the Plaintiff had miſtaken the laying of his Action, it was for that cauſe onely adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Then it was moved, That in this Action the Plaintiff might pay Coſts. But it was Reſolved, That this Caſe was not within the Statute of 32 H. 8. and 4 Jac. where the words of the Statute are, That if the Plaintiff be Nonſuit, or Verdict given againſt him upon a lawfull triall, that he ſhould pay Coſts: For that he ſhall not pay Coſts; for no Verdict is found againſt the Plaintiff, but rather for him: and Judgment is given againſt him, becauſe he onely miſtook his Action. Hill. 21 Jac. in C.B. Trobern and Claybrook's Caſe. Winch. 69. See Cook 5. Part, Biſhop's Caſe, acc. See Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 345. contr.

6. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe for words; After Not-guilty pleaded, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit. It was moved, That no Coſts ſhould be given to the Defendant, becauſe the words will not bear Action; and one Grewſton's Caſe in B.R. was vouched, That now by the laſt Statute of 4 Jac. Coſts ſhall be given to the Defendant in all caſes where the Plaintiff ſhould have Coſts, if he recover; but in ſuch caſe, where the Plaintiff, if he recover, ſhall not have Coſts, the Defendant upon the Nonſuit of the Plaintiff, ſhall not have Coſts. But it was the Opinion of the Court, the Coſts in this caſe are for the vexation; and it is the more vexation, if he have no cauſe of Action. And if the Action doth not lye, yet the Defendant ſhall have Coſts; for it was in ſuch an Action in which the Plaintiff ought to have Coſts, if he recover. Paſch. 16 Jac. in C. B. Drury and Fitch's Caſe. Hutton 16.

7. An Information was exhibited upon the Statute of 35 Eliz. for converting a houſe in London into many dwellings. Upon Not-guilty, the Defendant was found guilty: but becauſe the ſaid Statute is diſcontinued by the Statute of 43 Eliz. The Court awarded, That the Defendant eat ſine die; and whether the Defendant ſhould have Coſts upon the Statute of 18 Eliz. cap. 5. was the Queſtion? It was Objected, 1. That the Statute doth not extend but to Statutes penal then in eſſe. 2. If there be no Statute, then there is no Informer; and there is no Judgment, but onely that the Defendant eat ſine die: and Kyldridges Caſe, 25 Eliz. in B.R. was, An Information upon the Statute of 35 H.8. for not incloſing of Woods, but ſuffering them to lye open the ſpace of a moneth. It was found for the Plaintiff; And upon a Motion in Arreſt of Judgment, It was awarded, The Defendant eat ſine die, and no Coſts. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That this Statute was made for the eaſe of the Subjects, and for avoiding and preventing of vexations; and if the matter paſs againſt the Informer, be it by Verdict, or Judgment, it is all one; for the Statute intended to curb all vexatious Informers: And if Informers might be ſuffered to Inform upon Statutes not in force, it would be a great vexation to the Subject. Trin. 17 Jac. in C. B. Pies Caſe. Hutton 35, 36.

8. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowes for 36 l. Rent for a year and a half, being 24 l. per annum. The Plaintiff pleaded payment of 12 l. and another Iſſue was brought for the 14 l; and for the firſt Iſſue it was found for the Plaintiff, and Damages and Coſts taxed by the Jury. But it was found againſt the Plaintiff for the ſecond Iſſue. It was moved, That the Juries finding of Coſts and Charges for the Plaintiff, was void; for when part is found for the Avowant, he ſhall have Return, and Damages and Coſts; and the Return ſhall be for the Defendant, where any part is found for him. Wherefore it was adjudged accordingly. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B.R. Dunt and Parſon's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 473.

9. Replevin againſt two; One pleads Not-guilty; the other Juſtifies, by reaſon of an Amercement in a Leet. Whereupon it was demurred, and adjudged for the Avowant, and the Iſſue was afterwards tryed, and found for the Defendant, and Damages and Coſts aſſeſſed for both. It was moved, That no Judgment ſhould be for the Damages and Coſts; for it is out of the Statutes of 7 & 21 H.8. But the Court upon Conſideration of the Statute which gives Coſts to the Defendant in each Action where the Plaintiff ſhould have Coſts, were of Opinion, That the Avowant ſhould have Coſts; but they adviſed him to releaſe his damages. Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Samuel and Hoders Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 520. See Paſch. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Chapley and Harſley's Caſe. And Mich. 44 Eliz. Mackworth and Shepherd's Caſe, acc. See Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. James and Putney's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 357, 383. And ſee March 28. the ſame Caſe, That in Avowry, for an Amercement by reaſon of a Cuſtome, the Avowant ſhall recover Damages and Coſts.

11. The

11. The Plaintiff brought an Action for breaking of his house, and carrying away of his goods; and at the Tryall was Nonsuit; and he said, That there was Errour in the Declaration, and therefore there could be no Judgment, and prayed that he might be spared Costs. It was said by the Court, It had been a Question if the Plaintiff be Nonsuit, Whether he should pay Costs? but now since the Statute of 4 Jac. it is clear, he shall pay costs. And so it was adjudged, the Plaintiff in this case should pay cost. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Frank and Burt's Case. Style's 149. See Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Frank and Davies Case, acc. Styles, 153.

12. Debt was brought, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and a space was left in the Roll for the Costs of the Judgment. And after a year and a day, a Scire facias was brought to revive the Judgment, and in the Scire facias the Costs are put in. Afterwards Judgment being by default, A Writ of Error was brought, and the Error Assigned was, because there was no Costs in the principall Roll; And after the Record was removed, It was moved that the Costs might be put into the Roll; But it was denyed by the whole Court; For it was holden, that it was a manifest Error. Pasc. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Elliot and Golding's Case. Brownlo. 75.

13. Debt was brought upon the Statute of Perjury, in which the Plaintiff was Nonsuited: The Defendant prayed Costs upon these words of the Statute of 23 H. 8. Or upon any Statute for any Offence or wrong personal, immediately supposed to be done to the Plaintiff, or Plaintiffs; and the Plaintiffs after appearance be Nonsuit, &c. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That he should not recover Costs upon that Statute, because the Statute of 5 Eliz. was made, long after the Statute of H. 8. and upon the Statute of King James, the Defendant shall not recover Costs, for if the Plaintiff had recovered, he should have recovered no Costs, And so no Costs was given to the Defendant in that Action. Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. King and Lawes Case. Brownlow. 1. Part, 66. Hutton 22. 16 Jac. acc.

14. A. sued a Prohibition against B. Parson of D. and suggested a modus Decimandi, for part of the Tythes, and a Contract between him and the Parson for the residue, and because he proved not his suggestion in six Moneths, the Parson had a Consultation, and Costs assessed to 10 s. but in truth no Judgment was given to recover them: The Parson notwithstanding, brought Debt for the Costs, and set forth the matter aforesaid, upon which, it was adjudged, That he should recover his Costs; and the Costs were not paid Upon this Error was brought, And the Error Assigned was, that there was no judgment in the Prohibition for Recovery of the Costs, but onely an Assessment of Costs, without any more, which is not sufficient; which is no Judgment to bind, and of that Opinion was the whole Court. Another Error was, That no Copy ought to be assessed in the Case above, because the Prohibition is grounded onely upon the modus Decimandi, which needs no proof, and the suggestion being entire, and part of it needing proof, and part of it no proof, they could not give any Costs, for that is onely, where the whole matter of the suggestion needs proof, and therefore the mixing of the Contract, with the manner of Tything, priviledges the whole as to the matter of Costs, all which was agreed to by the Court, And so both the Judgments were reversed, Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Cob and Hunt's Case. Brownlow, 100.

15. In an Ejectione firme, the Jury found for the Defendant; It was moved for the Plaintiff, That the Defendant might not have Costs, because the venire facias is mistaken; But the Defendant's Counsel cited a President, Mich. 11 Jac. betwixt Done and Knot, where the Defendant had Judgment for his Costs, notwithstanding that the Plaintiff mistook his Venire facias, in an Ejectione firme, where the Jury found for the Defendant. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Pritchard and Williams Case. Godbolt. 329.

16. Trespasse by Husband and Wife, for battery done to them both ad damnum ipsorum; upon Not-Guilty, It was found for the Defendant, and that he did as a Constable in Execution of his Office. It was moved, that the Declaration was not good, for that Husband and Wife joyn in Battery done to them both, and therefore Judgment ought to have been given against the Plaintiff, upon the Declaration, and not upon the Verdict, and so no Costs ought to be given. But the Court was of Opinion, because the Defendant is found Not-guilty, and that he did it as an Officer in Execution of his Office, the Plaintiff should not take advantage of the insufficiency of the Declaration, and excuse themselves of the Costs. Adjudged for the Defendant. Cro. 1. Part, 125. Heyes's Case, 5 Car. in B. R.

17. Judgment was given for the Defendant in the Common-Pleas, and that Judgment was affirmed, and 10 l. Costs given in the Kings Bench to the Defendant, upon the Statute of 3 H. 7. It was moved, that the Costs were not grantable; For the Statute is, where Judgment is given against the Defendant, and he to delay the Execution, brings a Writ of Error, and the Judgment is affirmed, &c. but here the Judgment is given for the Defendant in the Common-Pleas, so no Execution was to be awarded there against him; and

although

although the Plaintiff brought the Writ of Error, and the Judgment be affirmed, yet it is out of the Statute: And of that Opinion was the whole Court; therefore it was awarded, that Execution for the Costs should be stayed. Hill. 10 Car. in B. R. Bowler and Nicholls's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 291.

18. Error upon a Judgment given in an Assumpsit: The Error Assigned was, That the Plaintiff declared to his damage of 10 l. and the Jury assessed damages 10 l. 13 s. 4 d. for Costs, which was Error: But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was not Error; for although the Entry is always of damages and Costs, by the name of Damages: yet the damages and Costs are distinct, and although if the Jury find more damages then the Plaintiff declared of, it is erronious: yet it is not Error, if they find more Costs then the damages amounted unto; for it may be the Costs of Suit through long dependance of it, exceeded the Debt it self, so adjudged no Error, but the Costs to stand. Pasc. 1 Jac. in B. R. Eglet and Vales Case. Cro. 2. Part, 69.

19. In Assumpsit the Verdict found damages and Costs, and the Judgment was Quod recuperet damna, and Costs found by the Jury to 53 s. 4 d. de incremento per Curiam adjudicat; and doth not say it was ex assensu partium, or ad requisitionem of the Plaintiff; and for that cause the Judgment was reversed in a Writ of Error brought, for that Costs ought not to be inserted for the Plaintiff, but upon his request; and so was it adjudged in Crowslaw and Eyres Case, this Term. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Sachy and Yeoman's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 587. See Hill. 2 Car. in B. R. Good's Case. Popham. 211. acc.

20. In a Writ of Error, the Judgment being affirmed, Costs were taxed by the Clark, without motion in Court, which he conceived ought to have bin given by the Court: But because upon suggestion in Court, That this Writ of Error was brought after Execution served, and so not in delay of Execution; It was held by all the Court, That no Costs were to be given: for the Statute of 3 H. 7. doth not give any, but where Execution is delayed by the Writ of Error, A supersedeas was Awarded to stay Execution for the Costs. Pasc. 20 Jac. in B. R. Eardly and Turnock's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 636. See Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smith's Case. acc.

21. Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, of a Judgment in the Kings Bench, the Judgment was affirmed, and 5 l. Costs assessed pro dilatione Executionis; And the Record being removed, a Scire facias was shewed against the Bail, to have Execution against the Bail, as well for the principall Debt, as for the 5 l. Costs; And Execution was against the Bail accordingly: A supersedeas was prayed, because the Bail is not Chargeable, but with the damages and Costs in this suit: And not with the Costs in the Exchequer: And of that Opinion was the Court; wherefore a Supersedeas was awarded to avoid the entire Execution. Pasc. 20 Jac. in B. R. Smith and Faldots Case. Cro. 2. Part, 636.

22. Note, It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That a Capias ad satisfaciendum lyes for Costs awarded to the Defendant upon a Nonsuit of the Plaintiff. Pasc. 18 Jac. in B. R. Dyer and Fitzcham's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 595.

2. Where an Executor or an Administrator shall pay Costs; and where not. And where the omitting of Costs is Errour; where not.

1. AN Action of Debt brought by Executors; The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiffs were not Executors; and tryed, and found for the Defendant. The Defendant upon the Statute for Costs, desired Costs, because the Jury found against the Plaintiffs, that they were not Executors: and if a Verdict passe against one that is not Executor, he shall pay costs. But the costs were denyed by the whole Court, for that the Jury might find an untruth. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 79.

2. An Action of Trover and Conversion of Goods of the Intestates. The time of the Conversion being supposed after the Administration committed. Verdict being found against the Plaintiff, the Question was, Whether the Plaintiff should pay costs? It was Resolved, That this Action being grounded upon the Conversion in his own time, and not in the time of the Intestate, was as his own proper Action. Wherefore he should pay Costs, Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Airey and Heards Case. Cro. 1. Part, 159.

3. In a Ravishment of Ward, the Plaintiff declared, That one J. S. held such Lands of the Testator by Knight's service, and dyed, his heir within age; and that the Testator seised the Ward, and dyed thereof possessed; and afterwards the Defendant ravished him. The Issue being upon the Defendant, it was found for the Defendant. The Question was upon the Statute of 4 Jac. if the Plaintiff shall pay Costs, because she cannot bring her Action upon her own possession. It was holden by the Court, That the Defendant should not have costs. Hill. 1 Car. in C. B. Peacock and Steers Case. See Mich. 12 Jac. Goldsmith and the Lady Platts Case. See Mich. 3 Jac. Havers and Dacres Case. See Mich. 29 Eliz. Fetherstone and Atylards Case. acc.

4. In the Star-Chamber, It was a Question, If Damages and Costs be recovered there of one for a Ryot, whether his Executors and Administrators shall be chargeable therewith? It was the Opinion of the Clarks, and some Presidents were shewed, That they should be charged. But the Lord Cook held, They were not chargeable for a Ryot. But if damages or costs be given by any Statute there upon recovery in that Court, it shall be otherwise. Hill. 6 Jac. in Star-Chamber. Cro. 2. Part, 219.

5. The Executors of J. S. brought Debt upon an Obligation; The Defendant pleaded, Non est factum, and found for him. It was a Question, Whether the Plaintiff should pay costs upon the Statute of 4 Jac. It was Resolved, That this Case was not within the Statute, he suing in anothers right, and of matter which lay not in his Conusance, therefore the Law never intended to give costs against him. And so it was adjudged in one Ford's Case. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Hayworth and Davids Case. Cro. 2. Part, 229.

6. A. Administratrix of J.S. brought an Action upon the Case, tam pro Domino rege quàm pro se ipsa, against B. Sheriff of the County of Oxford, for that she sued an Action of Debt against J. D. and thereupon had a Capias and Exigent, and he was Outlawed, and she sued a Capias utlagatum directed to the said Sheriff, who arrested the same J. D. whereupon she brought this Action. It was holden in this case, That the Action brought for the King and party, did well lye, because he was to have benefit by the Outlawry. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. And in another Action brought by the same party, for the same matter before, the Plaintiff was Nonsuit: And there the Question was, Whether the Defendant should have Costs against the Plaintiff. And it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Defendant should not have costs, because she brought the Action as Administratrix: and although it was not shewed, That the Debt was due to the Testator; yet because the Action was brought in the Detinet, it shall be intended she brought it in his right, and then she shall not pay costs upon Nonsuit, for it is out of the Statute. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Barret and Winchcomb's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 361.

7. An Action was brought by the Plaintiff as Executor of J.S. against the Defendant; and upon the Tryall, the Plaintiff was Nonsuit. The Defendant moved the Court for costs: But the Court answered, According to our former Rules, the Defendant in this case is not to have any costs within the Statute of 4 Jac. because by a former Statute made in the time of Queen Elizabeth, in such case the Defendant was not to have costs; and so not by this Statute, which hath reference to a former Statute. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Lake and Emmes Case. Bulstr. 2. Part, 261.

8. Note, by Hobart, Chief Justice, That if a man dyed Intestate, and he to whom the Administration appertains is sued by others, who pretend to be Administrators, and Sentence is given against the right Administrator, and Costs given against him, the costs shall not be of the proper goods of the Administrator, but of the goods of the Intestate; as the costs which are spent in the Spiritual Court, for the Probate of a Testament, shall be onely of the goods of the Testator. Pasch, 19 Jac. in B.R. Winch. 11.

9. Executors brought a Ravishment of Ward against J. S. and his Wife, for ravishing the body of B, son and heir of D. and Counted of the Tenure by Knights service in B, of J. S. and that B. dyed, D. his son within age; and that the Testator seised of the body, dyed possessed thereof, and made them his Executors, and they being possessed of the said Ward, the marriage of whom belonged to them the Defendants, rapuêre illam et abduxir. And upon Not-guilty pleaded, the Plaintiff after Evidence was Nonsuit: and whether the Defendants should have Costs upon the Statute of 23 H.8. cap. 15. or 4 Jac. cap. 3. was the Question? The Court was divided in Opinion; for two of the Justices held, That they should have no Costs: But two other Justices held the contrary; which seemed to be the better Opinion: and they agreed, That in all Actions brought by Executors upon Contracts, Obligations, or other things made to the Testator, there shall be no Costs. Or if an Action de bonis asportatis in vita Testatoris, or upon any wrong supposed to be done not immediately to the Plaintiff, there shall be no costs, because the Statute gives not costs in these cases. But in this case, though the Plaintiffs are named Executors, and their title is derived from the Testator, yet the Action is brought upon an immediate wrong done to themselves, and it is within the very words of the Statute. And this Ravishment of Ward is an Action within the Statute of 23 H. 8. and the Statute of West. 2. gives no damages: and therefore costs by the Statute of Gloucest. cap. 1. and the Statute of 4 Jac. cap. 3. enlarge the Action, and not the persons. Hill. 1 Car. in C. B. Townly and Steel's Case. Hutton, 79.

10. In Trespasse, the Defendant pleaded a plea which was insufficient; and afterwards the Plaintiff was Nonsuit; yet it was Resolved by the Court, That the Defendant should have his Costs against the the Plaintiff. But if a default be in the Original Writ, and afterwards the Plaintiff is Nonsuit, the Defendant shall not have Costs, because that when the Original is abated, it is as if no Suit had been. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Laiston's Case. Godbolt. 220.

3. Where there shall be treble Costs given; and where but double Costs; et è contra.

1. NOte, It was said by the Justices, That if a man recover in a Writ of Forcible Entry, upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. by Confession, or by default, he shall recover his treble Costs. Pasc. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 12.

2. In an Action of Trespasse for breaking of his Close, &c. the Plaintiff declared to his damages of 40 l. And the Jury gave him 49 l. for damages, and 20 s. for Costs; and the Plaintiff waved the 9 l. for the damages; And prayed but onely 40 l. for damages, as he had declared: And demanded Judgment for the same, with increase of Costs, and the Court increased the Costs to 10 l. and so he had Judgment for 50 l. together. And in Error brought, the same was assigned for Error, that the damages and Costs put together, did amount to more then the damages alledged in the Declaration; for it was said, that damages do include Costs. In that Case, it was Resolved, That when an Act of Parliament creates, or gives recompence for a thing, where no recompence was before, or gives damages in Case, where damages were at the Common Law; there the Defendant shall have Costs and damages also: But where a Statute adds but a greater Recompence and satisfaction, and damages was given before at the Common Law for the same, there the Defendant shall have his damages and Costs, for there the encreasing of the damages doth not take away the Costs. And Note, in that Case it was said, That Costs are not alwayes included within the word Damages; For in Trespasse brought against two, the one is found guilty by himself, and the other by himself, and damages are severally assessed; yet the Costs shall be joyntly taxed: And it was agreed, That a man shall not recover more damages then he hath declared of, but that is intended damages for the wrong done: But expense Litis may be added to it; although he doth not declare of them, See Cook 10. Part, 115, 116. Robert Pitford's Case.

3. In an Assize against two, one was found guilty, as to part with force, and the other guilty to other part, but not with force; and as to him who was found Guilty with force, the damages and Costs were trebled, quod nota. 12 E. 4. 1.

4. Note, That by the Statute of Gloucester cap. 1. In all Cases, where damages shall be recovered, the Plaintiff also shall recover Costs of Suit, and damages are to be recovered where a man brings an Action against one for his own Act, and recovers; But the same is to be intended in such Actions, where damages are not given by the Statute, and especially in such Actions, where high damages are given, As in a Quare Impedit, there shall be no recovery of Costs, because the damages are so high, and such was the Opinion of all the Justices. 27 H. 6. 10. 9 H. 6. 32. and 22 H. 8. 3. by Spilman. But yet at the Common Law, Costs were in a Quare Impedit, but that was before the Statute of west. 2. cap. 5.

5. A man shall not recover Costs in an Action of Waste; as is 19 H. 6. 66. and the reason is, because that great damages are given by the Statute: And yet in 5 H. 5. 13. the contrary is holden, That there shall be Costs, but the Costs shall not be trebled as the damages were. See 5 E. 4. 7. the Justices of the Kings Bench were of Opinion, That Costs in Waste should be treble, according to the rate of the damages, and not according to the rate of the Waste taxed.

6. See 19 H. 6. 32. That in Waste there shall be no Costs: But in an Action of Forcible Entry, there the Costs shall be trebled; and Paston there gives the reason to be, because the Statute of Forcible Entry gives them; And for treble Costs in a Forcible Entry, See 22 H. 6. 57. yet see 14 H. 6. 13. that Costs in a Forcible Entry were not trebled, but onely the damages for the whole.

7. Note, Costs may be taxed and assessed by a Forrein Jury; but it is otherwise of damages: and note, that Costs are alwayes entirely assessed, as the book in 33 H. 6. is. 55.

8. In Trespasse of Assault and Battery ad damnum of the Plaintiff, the Defendants pleaded Not-guilty, and a Verdict was found for the Plaintiff against both the Defendants, and the Jury assessed severall damages to the Plaintiff, scil. so much against one, and so much against the other severable, and Costs to the Plaintiff entirely against them both; It was moved, That they being joyntly sued, the damages should have bin entirely set, and not severed: But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Battery is severall, and so the Damages ought to be, but Costs entire are to be given to the Plaintiff against both. See 1 R. 3. 1, 2, 3. Trin. 9. Jac. in B. R. Sampson and Cranfield's Case. Bolstr. 1. Part, 157.

9. A man exhibited an Information upon the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. againſt two men, againſt one of them for non-reſidence, the other for taking a Farm; the one of them pleaded ſickneſſe, and by adviſe of his Phyſitians, he removed for better Ayre; this was juſtifiable, and a good plea by the Court, according to Cook 6. Part, Butler and Goodales Caſe: The other pleaded that he took it for the maintenance of his houſe and Family, this was holden a good plea alſo, per Curiam. The Court was informed that the Plaintiff was a Common Informer, and did inform againſt them onely for their vexation, and to draw a compoſition to himſelf, for which they proſecuted an Indictment againſt him upon the Statute of 8 Eliz. cap. 5. to puniſh common Informers for abuſes; And now moved the Court, That in regard the Informer was a man of no means, That they would order him to put in ſufficient ſureties to anſwer coſts. But the Opinion of the Court was, That that could not be done: but they gave a Rule, that the Defendants ſhould not anſwer the Information, before the Informer appeared in perſon. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Martin's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 18.

10. Note, That where an Action of Debt is grounded upon a penall Law, there the Plaintiff ſhall not have Coſts nor damages, 35 H. 8, 58. And by the Statute of 24 H. 8. 8. He who Informs for the King, although he be Nonſuit, ſhall not pay Coſts; and ſo it is if a Verdict paſſe againſt him: And yet by the Statute of 23 H. 8. every other perſon who is Plaintiff, unleſſe he ſueth in forma pauperis, if he be Nonſuit, ſhall pay Coſts, and ſo it is if a Verdict paſſe againſt him: And by the Statute of 8 Eliz. if he doth not put in his Declaration within three dayes after Bail put in, or doth not proſecute it with effect, he ſhall pay coſts according to the diſcretion of the Juſtices. See Raſtall, Proceſſe 337. acc.

Covenants.

2. IN Debt upon an Obligation for not performance of Covenants; the Plaintiff aſſigned the breach, That the Plaintiff had Leaſed to the Defendant certain Meſſuages for years. And the Leſſee did Covenant to repair all the ſaid Meſſuages alia quam quæ appunctuata forent divelli per ſcriptum ipſius the Plaintiff; and ſhewed that the Defendant had not repaired the ſaid Meſſuages; and averred, that the ſaid houſe in which the breach of Covenant was aſſigned non fuit, durante Termi. no prædict. appunctuat. divelli. And upon Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Averment in the Replication, was inſufficient, for the Leaſe was made to begin at Michaelmas after; And it might be that the Meſſuage was appointed to be pulled down before, and then the Defendant is not bound to repair it; and the Clauſe alia quam in the Covenant, ought to be ſatisfied, by him who pleads an aſſignable breach. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the averment aforeſaid was ſuperfluous et ex abundanti, for it had bin ſufficient for the Plaintiff to have aſſigned the breach of the Covenant, in not repairing the Meſſuage, without any averment de non appunctuando: and if the houſe, in the repairing of which, the breach is Aſſigned, was appointed to be pulled down, it ſhall come on the other ſide. Paſc. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Sir John Smith and Peazes Caſe. Leon. 17.

2. A. Leaſed a houſe to B. for years; B. Covenanted to repair the houſe, and that it ſhould be Lawfull for A. his Heirs, and Aſſignes, to enter into the houſe, to ſee in what plight for matter of reperations it ſtood, and if upon ſuch view, any default ſhould be found, in not repairing; and thereof warning being given to B. his Executors; then within four Moneths after ſuch warning, it ſhould be amended: The houſe became ruinous for want of reparations. A. granted the Reverſion over in Fee to C. who upon view gave Warning to B. of the default, which was not repaired, upon which C. as Aſſignee to A. brought Covenant: It was ſaid, that the Action did not lye, becauſe the houſe became ruinous before his Intereſt in the Reverſion: But it was holden per Curiam, that the Action did lye, for the Action, as not conceived upon the ruinous eſtate of the houſe, or for the committing of Waſte; but for the not repairing it within the time appointed, ſo it is not materiall within what time the houſe became ruinous. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Maſcoll's Caſe. Leon. 62.

3. In Debt upon an Obligation, for not performance of Covenants; the Caſe was, A ſeiſed, made a Leaſe to B. for years, who ſo poſſeſſed, deviſed that E. his Wife ſhould have the uſe and occupation of all the Lands, for all the years of the ſaid Term, as ſhe ſhould live, and remain Sole, and if ſhe dyed, or married, that then his ſon ſhould have the reſidue of the Term not expired: B. dyed, E. entred; To whom the Reverſion was conveyed, by Feoffment of A. who Covenanted, That the Land ſhould be clearly exonerated de omnibus prioribus barganiis, titulis, juribus, et omnibus aliis oneribus quibuſcunque: E. took Husband, the ſon entred: If the Covenant was broken, was the Queſtion: It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Land at the time of the Feoffment, was not diſcharged of all former Rights, Titles, and Charges; And in this Caſe, It was holden, That the Term aforeſaid was not extinct by the acceptance of the Feoffment; and although at the time of the Feoffment, it was but a poſſibility, and no certain Intereſt, yet now upon the marriage of E. it is an Actuall bar, and charge upon the Lands: And if a man, ſeiſed of Lands, Grants a Rentcharge to begin at a day to come, before which day he bargains and ſells the Lands, and Covenants that the Lands are diſcharged of all Charges; in that Caſe, when the day, when the Rent ought to begin, is encurred, the Covenant is clearly broken, for the Lands were not clearly diſcharged. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Handington and Ryders Caſe. Leon. 92, 93.

4. In Covenant, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant by Indenture did Covenant, that he, would do every Act and Acts, at his beſt indeavour to prove the Will of J. S; or otherwiſe, that he would procure Letters of Adminiſtration, by which he might lawfully convey ſuch a Term to the Plaintiff: The Defendant pleaded, That he came to Dr. R. B. to the Court of Arches, and there offered to prove the Will of the ſaid J. S. but becauſe the Wife of the ſaid J. S. would not ſwear that it was the Will of her Husband, they could not be received to prove it. It was moved, That the Action did not lye: for that there is no time limited by the Covenant, when the thing ſhould be done by the Defendant, in which he hath time during his life: and the Plaintiff ought to have layed a requeſt in his Declaration, which he hath not done: It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Covenantor hath not time during his life to perform this Covenant, but he ought to do it upon requeſt, within convenient time; and it was holden in this Caſe, That the bringing of the Action was a ſufficient requeſt. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cator and Booth's Caſe. Leon. 105.

5. Debt upon an Obligation for performance of Covenants of an Indenture; In which it was Covenanted by the Plaintiff, That E. the brother of the Defendant, ſhould enjoy certain Lands untill the Feaſt of M. then next following, rendring ſuch a Rent at the end of the Term: And the Defendant Covenanted, That E. at the Feaſt aforeſaid, ſhould ſurrender quietly and peaceably the Lands to the Plaintiff; And that the Plaintiff to ſuch of the ſaid Lands, as by the Cuſtome of the Country tunc jacebant friſca, ſhould have in the mean time, free egreſſe and regreſſe, &c. at his will and pleaſure, with his ſervants, ploughs, &c. And as to that Covenant, the Defendant pleaded, Quod permiſit Querentem habere introitionem et exitum, &c. in tales terras, quæ tunc jacebant ſecundum Conſuetudinem patriæ, friſca, &c. Exception was taken to the plea, becauſe he hath not ſhewed certain, which Lands they were, which did then lye Freſh, according to the Cuſtome of the Country. To which it was anſwered, and confeſſed, That where an Act is to be done, according to a Covenant, he who pleads the performance of it, ought to plead it ſpecially; But it was ſaid, That in this Caſe, there was no Act to be done, but a permittance as aforeſaid; and it is as in the negative, a not diſturbance; in which Caſe, permiſit is a good plea, and then it ſhall come on the other ſide the Plaintiffs part, to ſhew in what Lands the Defendant Non permiſit. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Littleton and Pernes Caſe. Leon. 136.

6. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was 9 A. Covenanted with B. That in Conſideration of a marriage to be had betwixt the Son of A. and the daughter of B. that he before ſuch a day would levy a Fine, which Fine would be to the uſes of the ſaid ſon and daughter in tail, for the Joynture of the daughter: the Fine is levyed to the uſes aforeſaid, The Father dyed; but in the Fine no mention is made of any marriage had: It was the clear Opinion of the Court, that notwithſtanding that the marriage was not accompliſhed, yet the eſtate tail was well enough executed in the Son and daughter; for the Fine without any conſideration, doth carry the uſes; but without a Fine, ſuch a conſideration would not raiſe ſuch an uſe without accompliſhment of the marriage; for the conſideration executed, ought to produce the uſe. But in this Caſe, the uſes are perfected by the Fine. And B. upon the matter, might have had Covenant againſt A. to have the Fine before the marriage. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Stephens Caſe. Leon. 138.

7. The Caſe was, Tenant for life of certain Lands, Leaſed the ſame for years by Indenture by theſe words, I Give, Grant, Bargain and ſell my Intereſt in ſuch Lands for 20. years; To have and to hold, in ſuch manner and form as I my ſelf do hold the ſame, and no otherwiſe. Tenant for life dyed within the Term, and he in the Reverſion entred, and the Leſſee brought an Action of Covenant. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the Action doth not lye, for here is not any warranty, for the Plaintiff is not Leſſee, but Aſſignee, to whom this warranty in Law cannot extend: But admit that the warranty did extend to the Plaintiff, yet it is now determined with the Eſtate of the Tenant for life, and ſo the Covenant ended with the Eſtate; and ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court. Judgement was given againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cheney and Langleyes Caſe. Leon. 179.

8. In

8. In Covenant, the Case was, That the Queen Eliz. being seised of a Mannor, by Letters Pattents demised the same to the Defendant for 21 years; And the Defendant, his Executors and Assigns, were thereby tyed to leave the houses sufficiently repaired at the end of the Term. The Queen afterwards, by her Letters Pattents, granted the Reversion to B. and C. and their Heirs, who by Indenture inrolled, between them of the one part, and Ralph Lord Ewer, by the name of Ralph Ewre Knight of the other part, sold the said Reversion to the said Lord Ewre, and for not repairing the houses, he brought the Action. The Defendant pleaded, That at the time of the Bargain and Sale, the said Lord Ewre was not Knight Lord Ewre. Upon which it was demurred. In this Case, it was Resolved, That as to the plea in bar, That a Bargain and Sale made to one by the name of Knight, who is not Knight, is good enough: for a Conveyance, shall not be avoided for such a Cause, especially, when as he is before sufficiently described by the name of Ralph Lord Ewre, which is a greater dignity. 2. It was Resolved in this Case, That the Clause for repairing, should be taken and Interpreted as a Covenant on the Lessees part to bind him and his Assigns: for when he takes by Pattents, he consents to all things therein, and the words in these Clauses [for keeping the houses in reparation] are spoken by him; And it was also Resolved, That although the Bargainee was not named Assignee in the Declaration, yet it was good enough. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Pasc. 7 Jac. in B.R. The Lord Ewre and Stricklands Case. Cro. 2. Part, 240.

9. Debt upon Obligation for performance of Covenants: The Defendant shewed, That the Deed was a Deed of Feoffment, wherein was conteyned that he for 110*l.* had enfeoffed the Plaintiff in such Land, with a Proviso, That if the Defendant paid such a sum at such a day, the Feoffment should be void, and he might re-enter with Covenants, to save harmlesse from Incumbrances, and to make further assurance. And that he had performed all the Covenants, Articles, and Agreements on his part to be performed. The Plaintiff Assigned the breach, that he did not pay such sums at such dayes, according to the Proviso: It was Resolved in this Case, That forasmuch as there is not any Covenant to pay that sum, It is a Proviso in advantage of the Feoffor, That if he paid the mony, he should have the Land again, and it is in his election to pay the mony, or to lose the Land, which is a sufficient losse unto him. And therefore the Condition of the Bond doth not extend thereunto, but extends to perform other Covenants, as the Covenant to save harmlesse from Incumbrances, which are the points intended; wherefore it was Resolved against the Plaintiff. Trin. 9 Jac. in B.R. Biscoe and King's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 281.

10. The Defendant Covenanted by Indenture That whereas the King had granted the Office of Aulnageor of all Drapery, to the Duke of J. who had made the Plaintiffs Deputies for seven years in all places in Essex, besides Colchester, That the Defendant Covenanted with them, That whereas the said Duke had made a Deputation of the said Office in Colchester for two years, to one A. That in the end of two years, he would procure them a Deputation for seven years in the same manner as A. had it: Proviso, that they upon making thereof should give security for the payment of 2 100*l.* per annum Rent for it; and that the Defendant had not procured the Deputation, whereupon the Defendant demurred. It was adjudged that the Declaration was good; whereupon Error was brought. The first Error was, because they do not alledge performance of the promise, but only a readinesse to give security; But it was Resolved, they need not give security till a Deputation was made. 2. Error, they have not alledged in fact a Deputation to A. but Non allocatur, because the Covenant mentions, there was a Deputation to A. and he should be estopped to say to the contrary; and he at his perill ought to procure such a Deputation to the Plaintiffs: The Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 9 Jac. in B.R. Barwick and Gibson's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 297.

11. A. enfeoffed J. S. of Lands, and by Indenture Covenanted for him and his heirs, with the Feoffee his heirs and assigns, to make further assurance upon request, J. S. conveyed the Lands to the Plaintiff, who brought Covenant, because the Defendant did not levy a Fine upon his request. The Defendant pleaded a Release from J. S. with whom the first Covenant was made, which was made after the Suit. It was Resolved in this case, That although the breach was in the time of the Assignee, yet if the Release had been by the Covenantee, who is a party to the Deed, and from whom the Plaintiff derives, before any breach, or before the Suit commences, It had been a good barr to the Assignee, from bringing the Action; but the breach being in the time of the Assignee, and the Action brought by him, It so attaches in the person, that the Covenantee cannot release his Action wherein the Assignee is Interessed. Trin. 14. Car. in B.R. Middlemore and Goodales Case. Cro. 1. Part, 361.

12. Covenant was brought against an Apprentice for departing his service without Licence within the time of his Apprentiship. The Defendant pleaded, That at the time of the making of the Indenture he was within age. It was Resolved, That though though an Infant may voluntarily bind himſelf Apprentice; yet neither at the Common-Law, nor by the Statute of 5 Eliz. a Covenant for his Apprentiſhip ſhall bind him. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Gilbert and Fletcher's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 129.

13. A Copyholder in Fee, with the Licence of the Lord, made a Leaſe for 21 years, rendring rent; The Defendant Covenants for him, his Executors and Aſſignees, to repair houſes: Afterwards the Leſſor ſurrendred to the Plaintiff and his heirs; who admitted, brought Covenant, for not repairing. It was adjudged, That a Copyholder is ſuch an Aſſignee as may have Debt, or Covenant, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Mich. 20 Jac. in B.R. Platt and Plomers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 17. See before.

14. Covenant upon a Charter-party. The Plaintiff having hired a Ship of the Defendant, for a Voyage to Dantzick for Corn; It was agreed betwixt them, That the Ship ſhould be laden with Corn, and to ſail to Legorn. By the ſaid Indenture, In conſideration that the Plaintiff had agreed, that the Defendant ſhould have the moyety of the Corn quod tunc fuit, or afterwards ſhould be laden in the ſhip for the ſaid Voyage, The Defendant promiſed to pay the moyety of the money for the corn quod tunc fuit, or afterwards ſhould be laden, &c. And the Plaintiff alledged, That 9. Octob. 38 Eliz. the Ship was laden with 60 Laſts of Corn: and for not performance, &c. brought the Action. The Defendant pleaded, That the Deed was ſealed the 28. Octob. 38 Eliz. et quod ad tunc vel poſtea, there was not any corn laden there. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That in regard that the Plaintiff declares upon a Deed dated 9. October, 38 Eliz. It ſhall be intended to have his eſſence and delivery at that time, and at no other: and if he ſhould confeſſe it to be delivered at any other time, it would be a departure from his Declaration; and the word tunc, is referred to the delivery, and not to the date: and if it were delivered 10 moneths after the date, he ſhould not have benefit of the Corn laden; and therefore the Defendant ſhall not be charged with it for the time before the delivery. Adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, That the plea in barr was good. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Oſley and Sir Baptiſt Hix's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 263.

15. A. let the Mannor of B. to the Plaintiff for 21 years; And Covenanted, That the Plaintiff ſhould enjoy it during the Term, without the lett or diſturbance of him, his heirs or aſſignes, or of any other perſon by or through his means, title, or procurement. The Plaintiff ſhewed, That before the Leaſe, J. D. granted that Land to A. and the Defendant his wife, and to the heirs of A. and that the ſame was ſo granted by J. D. by Fine, by the means and procurement of A: and the Plaintiff ſhewed, That A. dyed, and the Defendant the wife of A. ouſted him. It was Objected, That the title which the wife of A. claims, was from J. D: and that ſhe ſurviving A, was in of an immediate Eſtate to her ſelf: and the Covenant doth not extend to titles paramount. But it was Reſolved, in regard there was an Averment, That though ſhe claims by J. D. the Conuſor, yet ſhe is in, and claims by the means of her husband; for if A. her husband had not procured the Fine, ſhe had had no Eſtate; therefore ſhe was a perſon within the Covenant, though ſhe claim by title derived from another. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Butler and the Lady Swinerton's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 657.

16. Sir Anthony Mayne made a Leaſe for years by Indenture to Scot, and Covenanted with the Leſſee, upon ſurrender of his ſaid Leaſe at any time during the Term, to make him a new Leaſe: Afterwards the Leſſor accepted a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, of the Land; and by the ſame Fine granted and rendred the Land to the Conuſee for 80 years. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That by the Fine levied, the Conuſor had diſabled himſelf either to take the ſurrender, or to make the new Leaſe: and although the Leſſee by the words of the Indenture was to do the firſt act; ſcil. to make the ſurrender; yet when the Leſſor had diſabled himſelf to take it, the Law will not enforce him to do that which ſhall be vain and fruitleſs. 2. Reſolved, That if a man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, Covenants to enfeoffe J. S. of them upon requeſt; and afterwards he makes a Feoffment in Fee of the ſame Lands, That J. S. ſhall have an Action of Covenant without requeſt. 3. Reſolved, Although the ſaid Leaſe for 80 years was but an Intereſt of a future time, ſo as the Leſſee might make the ſurrender to the Leſſor: yet becauſe the Leſſor hath diſabled himſelf to make the new Leaſe, the Leſſee ſhall not be compelled to make the ſurrender; for by ſo doing, he ſhould loſe his old Term, without any poſſibility to have a new Term. Paſch. 38 Eliz. Sir Anthony Maynes Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 20.

17. In an Action of Covenant; The Covenant was, That a Ship ſhould go with the next Wind, and that the Merchant ſhould pay ſo much for fraight. The Defendant ſaid, by way of Traverſe, That he did not go with the next Wind. It was ſaid, That the traverſe was not good: but he ought to have traverſed, That the Ship did not go at all; for that which is materiall, is to be traverſed; and that is, That the Ship did not go: and not, That it did not go with the next Wind: and a Circumſtance cannot be traverſed, and Wind is alterable. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 2 Car.

18. Two Leſſors made a Leaſe to two Leſſees: and the Leſſors Covenanted to diſcharge them of all Incumbrances done by them or any other perſon. And in Covenant brought, the Plaintiff aſſigned the breach, That one of the Leſſors had made a Leaſe, whereupon the Plaintiff brought the Action. It was Objected, The breach was not well layed, becauſe it is layed to be done by one of them, and the Covenant ſhall extend only to joynt Incumbrances. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Covenant goes as well to ſeverall Incumbrances, as to joynt; for it is of all Incumbrances by them, or any other perſon. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Sanders and Meritons Caſe. Popham, 200.

19. A. made a Bill of Debt to B. for the payment of 20 l. at 4. dayes, ſcil. 5 l. at every of the ſaid dayes; and in the end of the Deed Covenanted and granted with B, his Executors, &c. That if he made default in any of the ſaid payments, that then he would pay the reſidue which then ſhould be unpaid. A. failed the firſt payment; and before the ſecond, B. brought debt for the whole 20 l. It was moved, That debt did not lye, but it ought to be by way of Covenant. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action did lye; for if one Covenant to pay me 100 l. at ſuch a day, debt lyes, à fortiori, where the words of the Deed are, Covenant and Grant. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 208.

20. A. brought Covenant againſt B. an Enfant of 15 years of age, his Apprentice; and declared, That the Defendant Covenanted to ſerve him honeſtly and truly as an Apprentice in the Myſtery of Drapery for 7 years; and that he had defrauded him of his goods, &c. The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 5 Eliz. That none ſhall be an Apprentice to any of the moſt worthy Trades, (amongſt which, Drapery is one) except his Father have Freehold to the value of 40 s. per annum, to be certified to the place in which he is to be Apprentice, by 3. Juſtices of Peace of the ſame County, and this Certificate be Inrolled in the Town-Book: and he pleaded, That no ſuch Certificate was made; and pleaded the breach of the Statute, That every Retainer contrary to the form of the Statute, be void. The Plaintiff Replyed, That he had 40 s. per annum. The Defendant Rejoyned, That he had not 40 s. per annum, upon which the Plaintiff demurred. In this caſe, It was holden by the Juſtices, 1. That the Retainer is good, though there be not any ſuch Certificate and Inrollment, if, revera, the Father had 40 s. per annum; for the Intent of the Statute is, That ſufficient mens ſons ſhall be Apprentices; which is obſerved, if the father have 40 s. per annum. 2. It was holden, That there ought to be Certificate preceding the Indenture, otherwiſe it ſhall be void. 3. It was Reſolved, That the Action brought by the Plaintiff, would not lye: for it appears by the Plaintiff's Declaration, That the Enfant Defendant was but of the age of 15 years at the time of the Retainer; and the Enfant was not bounden by this Covenant at the Common-Law, and no Collaterall Covenant ſhall be maintainable upon the Statute; for this being in caſe of an Enfant, it ſhall be taken ſtrictly. And whereas it was Objected, That it is incident to every Retainer to ſerve truly and faithfully. It was Anſwered, That is true, and an Action upon the Caſe lyes upon a Covenant in Law, but not upon the Covenant in fact. And the Court ſaid, That the Retainer is for the benefit of the Enfant, that he learn his Trade; but the Covenant here is for his diſadvantage, and for the advantage of his Maſter, and for that reaſon it is void. As if an Enfant had Covenanted to pay 10 l. for the learning of his Trade when his time was up. Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Paſch. 21 Jac. in C. B. Fleming and Pitman's Caſe. Winch. 63, 64. See Gilbert and Fletcher's Caſe before. See Hutton 63. the ſame Caſe.

21. Note: It was adjudged, That if a man Covenants, That his ſon then within age, and infra annos nubiles, before ſuch a day, ſhall marry the Daughter of J. S. and he doth marry her accordingly; and afterwards at the age of Conſent, he doth diſagree to the marriage; yet is the Covenant performed; for it is a marriage, and ſuch a one as the Covenantee would have, untill the diſagreement. 29 Eliz. Fenners Caſe, Owen 25. See Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Leigh and Hannets Caſe, Leon. 52. acc.

22. The Defendant made a Leaſe of the Parſonage of B. to the Plaintiff, and Covenanted to ſave the Plaintiff harmleſs and indemnified; and alſo all the profits of the premiſſes againſt J. S. Parſon of B. And upon a Covenant brought, the breach was aſſigned, That J. S. had entred, and deceived the Plaintiff. It was a Queſtion, If it ſhall be the Deed of the Defendant; becauſe the Defendant delivered his part of the Indenture to the Plaintiff, but the Plaintiff did not deliver the Counterpart to him. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was the Defendant's Deed, and good. The ſecond doubt was, becauſe it is not ſhewed, That J. S. entred by title: But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Covenant was broken: For if J. S. diſturb him, ſo as he cannot take the profits, it is a breach of the Covenant; for thereby the Plaintiff is dampnified: And the difference was taken, where the Leſſor Covenants to to warrant the Land to the Leſſee, for there he ſhall not have Covenant if he be wrongfully ouſted; but in this caſe, the Covenant is to ſave harmleſs, which is of greater force then to warrant; for to warrant Land, is onely upon the title: But in this caſe, be the Leſſee ouſted by wrong, or by title, the Covenant is broken. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Foſter and Wilſons Caſe. Owen 100.

23. In Covenant, the caſe was; the Dean and Chapter of N. 38 Eliz. made a Leaſe for 99. years to J. S. and then in 42 Eliz. made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff for 3. lives, rendring rent, with a Letter of Attorney to make Livery, and a Covenant to ſave the Plaintiff harmleſs againſt J. S. Afterwards the Attorney made Livery, ſcil. after Mich. which was a Rent-day. The Queſtions were, Whether the Leaſe to the Plaintiff was void; Whether that Covenant was void alſo. 2. If Livery made after the Rent-day, were void. It was Objected, That the Covenant was void, becauſe the Leaſe was void; but if it had been a Covenant to enjoy for 3. Lives, it had been otherwiſe. But it was Reſolved, That the Covenant was good, and in force: For when an Eſtate is created, in which is implyed a Covenant in Law, there if the Eſtate be void, the Covenant is void alſo. But when there is an expreſſe Covenant in the Deed, there it is otherwiſe, although the Leaſe be void, or voidable: As if he Covenant, that the Leſſee ſhall enjoy during the Term, and the Leſſee reſigneth, yet is the Covenant good, although the Term be gone. As to the ſecond point, It was Reſolved, That the Livery was good: For untill the Livery be made, the Leſſor ſhall retain the Land and no Rent is due; for by Intendment, the poſſeſſion is better then the rent. Paſch. 10 Jac. in C. B. Waller and the Dean and Chapter of Norwich's Caſe. Owen, 136.

24. Errour, to reverſe a Judgment, in an Action of Covenant upon a Leaſe for years, for not paying the Rent reſerved, and not repaying. It was againſt the Executrix of the Aſſignee of the Leſſee, and it was brought upon the words, Yielding and paying; and not upon an expreſs Covenant; and for that the words, Yielding and paying, are but a Covenant in Law, and onely an implyed Covenant, and ariſeth from a perſonal Covenant, and not upon a reall Contract; It was ſaid for the Plaintiff the Writ of Errour that would not lye here againſt the Executrix. And, 2. It was ſaid, That the Plaintiff in the Action doth not ſay, that ſhe was made Executrix: and if ſhe be but Executrix in her own wrong, ſhe is not liable to an Action. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the words, Yielding and paying, are an expreſs Covenant; for the words are the words of both parties to the Indentures, and then the Executrix is chargeable; and there is no difference in this caſe betwixt a Covenant in Law, and a Covenant expreſſe, becauſe it is touching a thing which ariſeth from the Land, and ſo the Aſſignee is bound by it. And the Opinion of the Court was, That ſhe ſhall be accounted a true Executrix; for by pleading, the Defendant hath admitted it. And if one enters as Executor upon a Term, he may have the Term, if the other will admit him to be Executor; and he ſhall not be accounted a Diſſeiſor to the Leſſor; and to ſtrangers he ſhall be accounted an Executor in Law, if they bring Actions againſt him, and, the Term ſhall be Aſſetts in his hands. Hill. 1654. in B. R. Porter and Swetmans Caſe. Styles 416. and 432.

25. A man let an Advowſon for 40. years; The Leſſee Covenanted, That he would not alien without the aſſent of the Leſſor; and becauſe he had aliened to J. S. without his aſſent, the Action was brought. The Defendant pleaded, That he had not aliened without his aſſent. By an Iſſue joyned, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved to ſtay Judgment, becauſe he had not layed the alienation to be by Deed; for that an Advowſon cannot paſſe without Deed. If a man will declare in an Ejectione Firmæ, of a Leaſe made by Husband and Wife without Deed; yet if the Defendant will plead, Not guilty, or Non demiſit, and it is found for the Plaintiff, the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment; for that it ſhall be Intended to be by Deed. Afterwards in the principall caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 20 Jac. in C. B. Winch. 34.

2. Where an Action of Covenant lyeth; where not. Where for, or againſt the Heir; where not. Where for, or againſt Executors or Adminiſtrators: for Covenant broken; and for what Covenants: Where againſt the Aſſignee, et è contra.

1. A Termor for himſelf, and his Executors, covenanted to ſuſtain and repair a houſe at his own charges principalis maremio in laſſo vel in deceſſu pro defectu reparationis, or otherwiſe, in default of the Leſſee, or his Executors onely excepted, and dyed; the houſe is burnt in default of the Executors, adjudged, that Covenant lyes againſt them, and Damages recovered of the goods of the Teſtator, and not conditional, if they had not of their own goods, 14 Eliz. Dyer 327.

2. Leſſee for years covenanted by Indenture, that he within 3 years would build a new houſe, and did not covenant for him and his Executors; the term expired, and he dyed; It was the Opinion of Shelley and Fitzh. that his Executors ſhould be charged in an Action of Covenant, although they were not named: But contrary, If the heir upon an Obligation of his Anceſtors, if he were not named, 28 H. 8. Dyer. 14. And ſo upon an Obligation of the Teſtator, the Executors ſhall be charged, although they be not named. See 32 H. 6. 32. 48 E. 3. 3. by Fi bden.

3. A man covenanted with his Leſſee without heirs or Executors, to pay Quit-Rents, and dyed: The queſtion was, Whether his Executors ſhould be bound, or not: It was a Query, becauſe it was a perſonal Covenant; et moritur cum perſona, Finch. L. 1. 17. 3 *Ma. 4 Tenant for life, the remainder in Fee; Tenant for life, leaſed for 15 years, rendring Rent, and dyed; and he in the remainder entred, and the Termor brought an Action of Covenant againſt the Executors of the Leſſor; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, that the Action did not lie againſt the Executors, becauſe it was but a Covenant in Law, which determined with the Eſtate and Intereſt of the Leſſee, unleſs it had been broken in the life of the Teſtator: But if it had been an expreſs Covenant, it had been otherwiſe. But it was there agreed, That if a man ſeized in Fee-ſimple, makes ſuch a Leaſe for years by Indenture, without an expreſs Covenant, and dyeth; that an Action of Covenant lyeth againſt the heir, by reaſon of the privity, Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 257.

5 A man made a Leaſe for years, of a houſe, by the words, Demiſe and Grant; and the Leſſor covenanted, that the Leſſee ſhould enjoy the houſe during the term, without Eviction by the Leſſor, or any clayming under him; and bound himſelf in a Bond to perform all Covenants, Articles, and Agreements. The Leſſee aſſigned over the Term, a ſtranger entred upon the Aſſignee, and recove s in an Ejectione Firmæ: After caſt, the firſt Leſſee brought Debt. It was Reſolved in this caſe; Firſt, that upon thoſe words, Deviſe and Grant, the Aſſignee ſhould have an Action of Covenant. Secondly, that by breaking of this Covenant in Law, the Obligation was forfeit; for the Bond extended to all Covenants, aſwell to Covenants in Law, as to Covenants in Faits. Thirdly, It was Reſolved, That the expreſs Covenant, did qualifie the Covenant in Law, and ſo received it by mutual aſſent of the parties, that the ſame did not extend further then the expreſs Covenant, Trin. 41 Eliz. in Paſch. Hill Cook 4. part 8. Nokes Caſe.

Secondly, Reſolved, That if the Leſſee covenants for him and his Aſſignes, to do any new thing upon any part of the Land demiſed, becauſe that the Aſſignee is to take the benefit of it, the ſame ſhall bind the Aſſignee: but if the thing to be done be collateral, and doth not any ways touch the thing demiſed, there the Aſſignee ſhall not be charged with it, Paſch. 25 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 16, 17. Spencer's Caſe. M. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Barker and Fleetwels Caſe, Godbolt. 69, 70. acc.

7. C. W. and D. purchaſed Lands jointly in Fee, and every of them covenanted with the other his heires and aſſignes, et utriq; eorum, to make ſuch aſſurance to the other Heirs, who ſhall firſt dye, as they ſhall adviſe. D. and W. dyed. The heir of W. deviſed an Indenture of Bargain and Sale, and tendred it to C. to ſeal and deliver. C. required time to adviſe with his Counſel: Upon which the heir of W. brought an Action of Covenant againſt C. as heir. In this Caſe, it was, amongſt other points, Reſolved, That the Action of Covenant was well brought: And note, in that Caſe it was ſaid, That a Covenant lyeth for the heir, where it is not annexed to the Land: and in that Caſe, it was further Reſolved, That the Covenantor was further bound, upon Requeſt to ſeal the Indenture of Bargain and Sale. Trin. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 337. Wootton and Cookes Caſe.

8. The Caſe was: A. Covenanted by Indenture with J. N. and J. D. and A. J. to enter Bond, to pay 10 l. to J. N: J. N. dyed; and his Adminiſtrators brought an Action of Covenant. The Queſtion was, Whether the Action was well brought by him; or whether the ſame ſhould ſurvive to the other two. It was objected, it was well brought by the Adminiſtrators; for it ſhall be taken a ſeveral Covenant, and divers more in the nature of a Debt, and ſhall accrue only to him that ſhall have it, and the payment of the money; which is, the effect of the Covenant ſhall go to him onely, and ſo ſhall the dammage for the non-non payment of it. But it was Resolved, That forasmuch as it was a joynt Covenant, that it should survive to the others, and that the Action was not well brought by the Administrator; and because the words are, That he shall enter into Bond: and it doth not say to whom, he shall enter the Bond to the Covenantees: and although the Solvendum be but to one of them, both must joyn in Debt upon the Bond. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Brownlow, 2. Part, 207. Yates and Rolls Case.

9. In a Writ of Errour upon a Judgment in the Court of Briſtoll, the Case was; A. was Plaintiff in the said Court against W. in an Action of Covenant, and declared of a Covenant made by Word by the Testator of W. with A; and declared also, that within the said City there is a Custom, That Conventio ore tenus facta, shall bind the Covenantor as strongly, as if it were made by Writing. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Custome doth not warrant this Action; for the Covenant binds by the Custome the Covenantor, but doth not extend to his Executors, and a Custome shall be taken strictly; and therefore the Judgment was reversed. Hill. 25 Eliz. in B. R. Wade and Bembors Case. Leon. 3.

10. Note: It was the Opinion of all the Justices of the Kings-Bench, upon Conference had with other Justices, That if a man makes a Lease for years; and Covenants with him and his Assignees, his Assignee by word shall have an Action of Covenant. Pasch. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Auder and Nokes Case, vouch. in Cook. 3. Part, Lincoln Colledg Case. 63.

11. Lessee for 99. years, made an Assignment for part of the Term, viz. for 10. years, and the Assignee covenanted to repair. The first Lessee devised the Reversion of the Term, and dyed: The Devisor of the Reversion brought an Action of Covenant against the Assignee for 10 years. It was a Question, If the Devisee of the Reversion being but a Termor, were within the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Conditions? 2. Whether the Action would lye, no Notice being given of the grant of the Reversion. It was Objected, That this grant of the Reversion was not within the Statute; for the Statute is, That the Grantee shall have such remedy as the said Lessors or Grantors themselves, or their heirs or Successors should have had; so as it shall be intended of a Reversion in Fee. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That the Assignee of the Reversion for years should have an Action of Covenant by the Statute. And so it was said, it was adjudged in Leonards Case, in the time of the Lord Dyer. And it was said in that case, That it needs not, that he who is to take advantage by the Statute, should have the whole Reversion: For that it had been adjudged, That if the Reversion be granted in tail, that the Grantee shall take advantage of the Statute; and yet he hath not the whole Reversion: and for the second point, the Opinion of the Court was, That in the principall case, there needed no Notice, because there is not any penalty in the Case. Pasch. 8 Jac. in C. B Briſtow and Briſtow's Case. Godbolt, 161.

12. A man was possessed for the Term of six years, of a Tavern in London, and Leased the same to another for 3. years; and it was covenanted betwixt them, That during the 3. years, quolibet menſe, the Lessee should give an Accompt to the Lessor of the Wines which were sold, and should pay unto him for every Tunn so much money: Afterwards, the Lessee granted the 3. years which were remaining of the 6. years, to another: and then the Lessor did request the Lessee to accompt, and he would not; whereupon he brought an Action of Covenant. The Defendant pleaded, That he had accompted to the Assignee of the 3. years: and upon that it was demurred in Law. And the better Opinion of the Court was, That it was no plea, because it was not a Covenant which did go with the Land, or the Reversion, but was a Collaterall thing, and did not passe by the Assignment of the 3. years. Hill. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt, 120.

13. A man made a Lease for life, and covenanted for him and his heirs, That he would save the Lessee harmless from any claiming by, from, or under him. The Lessor dyed, and his Wife brought a Writ of Dower against the Lessee, and recovered: and the Lessee brought an Action of Covenant against the heir of the Lessor. And it was adjudged against the heir, because the wife claimed under her husband, who was the Lessor. But if the woman had been Mother of the Lessor who demanded Dower, the Action would not have layen against the heir, because she did not claim by, from, or under the Lessor. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt 333.

14. A. sold 3. Licences to sell Wine unto B; who covenanted to give him 10 l. for them: and B. covenanted with him, that he should enjoy the Licences. It was moved, Whether the one might have an Action of Covenant against the other? It was the Opinion of the Justices, That they could not: For it was said, That if a man covenanteth to pay money at a day, Debt lyeth for the money, and not an Action of Covenant. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Chawner and Bowes Case. Godbolt. 217.

15. Covenant, against the Defendant, as Assignee of an Assignee, for not repairing a house inter alia: After a Verdict for the Plaintiff, In arrest of Judgment, It was said in Exception to the Declaration, That the Plaintiff shews the Lease to be to J. S; and by him devised to J. D, and made J. N.

his Executor, and that he virtute Legationis entred, and aſſigned to W. S. and he entred and aſſigned an houſe parcel of the premiſſes to the Defendant, who entred, and made ſpoyl in a Hall and a Chamber parcell of the demiſed premiſſes. The Exception, becauſe he ſhews, that the Defendant entred, and was poſſeſſed virtute Legationis; but doth not ſay, that the Executor aſſented, ſed non allocatur, for it ſhall be intended he entred with the aſſent of the Executor. Another Exception, That the Defendant is but an Aſſignee of parcel of the demiſed, and then he is not chargeable with the Covenant, no more then an Aſſignee of parcel ſhall be charged in Debt for the Rent; but the Action lyes againſt the firſt Leſſee, as Wakers Caſe, Cook 3. Part. But the Exception was diſallowed: For this is a Covenant which is divideable, and followes the Land, with which the Defendant as Aſſignee is chargeable at the Common-Law, or by the Statute of 32 H. 8. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 6 Car. in B. R. Gonyham and Kings Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 161.

16. Covenant; The Leſſee covenanted for him and his Aſſignees, to repair a houſe from time to time, and to leave it at the end of the Term ſufficiently repaired. The Leſſee pleaded, He aſſigned by Indenture his Eſtate and Intereſt in the Term to J. S; who entred, and paid his Rent at ſuch a day after to the Plaintiff the Leſſor, who accepted thereof, and there was no default of Repairations before the Aſſignment. It was adjudged in this caſe, notwithſtanding the acceptance of the Rent of the Aſſignee, and him to be his Tenant, That the Action did well lye againſt the Leſſee, or againſt the Aſſignee at the Election of the Leſſor. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Norton and Acklands Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 418. See Brett and Comberland's Caſe before.

17. Error was brought of a Judgment in B. R. in Covenant brought againſt him as Aſſignee of T. M. for that the Leſſee Covenanted to pay yearly, during the Term of 21 years, 20 s. to the Churchwardens of S. and to repair the houſes; And becauſe the Aſſignee did not pay the Rent, nor repair the Tenements the Action was brought, and upon Nihil dicit, damages entire found, and Judgment for the Plaintiff, whereupon Error was brought, becauſe the Aſſignee is not chargeable with this Covenant of the payment of the yearly ſum, but it is a meer Collaterall Covenant: Alſo it is not ſhewed for what time the ſum was arrere: And for theſe cauſes, the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Mayho and Buckhurſt's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 438, 439.

18. Upon a Leaſe, the Leſſee Covenanted, That he would from time to time, during the Term, after three Moneths warning, ſufficiently repair, and at the end of the Term, leave it ſufficiently repaired to the Leſſor, and for not ſo doing, the Leſſor brought Covenant, and ſhews in what part. The Defendant demurred, becauſe he doth not alledge, That he, three Moneths before, gave notice unto him of the defects, &c. But it was Reſolved, That the Declaration was good notwithſtanding that Exception: For the Clauſe, To leave it well repaired at the end of the Term, is diſtinct by it ſelf, and doth not depend upon the former Clauſes: and the notice, Within three moneths, refers onely to the Reparation within the Term, whereto he is not tyed without notice three Moneths before. Adjudged for the Plaintiff, Mich. 20 Jac. in B. R. Harſlet and Butcher's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 644.

19. A man Leaſed a houſe by Indenture for years, the Leſſee for him, and his Executors, Covenanted and Granted with the Leſſor, to repair the houſe at all times neceſſary, and the Leſſee aſſigned over his Term. The Aſſignee ſuffered the houſe to fall to decay. It was adjudged, That an Action of Covenant did lye againſt the Aſſigne becauſe that the Covenant did extend to the ſupport of the thing demiſed. Mich. 44 Eliz. in B. R. The Dean and Chapter of Windſor's Caſe. Cook 5. Part.

20. Sir Oliver Cromwell being ſeiſed in Fee of a Capitall Meſſuage, and alſo poſſeſſed of another houſe for years, did leaſe them both by one Deed to the Lady Saint-John for ten years; by which Leaſe ſhe did Covenant to repair the houſes, with all needfull reparations during the Term; And afterwards Sir Oliver Cromwell by two ſeverall Deeds, aſſigned over the Reverſions he had in both houſes to J. S. who for breach of Covenants, brought two ſeverall Actions of Covenant: And it was adjudged in the Common-Pleas, That the Plaintiff there ſhould have but one Writ of Covenant, and Judgment was there given accordingly: Hereupon a Writ of Error was brought; not for the matter in Law, but for ſome other Collaterall matters alledged in the Declaration: one matter was, That he being but an Aſſignee in the Reverſion, one part of the Covenant was, To leave the things demiſed, in as good repair as he found them; and he hath alledged the Covenant to be broken in ſuch things, for which no Action of Covenant doth lye: And yet damages entire are given for all theſe breaches, for which cauſe the Judgment was erronious. See Mich. 15 Eliz. in B. R. Pely and Osbornes Caſe, vouched in Cook 10. Part, 130. where, in Treſpaſſe brought, for breaking of his Cloſe, and beating his Servant, and in his Declaration, he did not lay, per quod Servitium amiſit, and damages entire given, and for that omiſſion the the Judgment was ſtayed. But it was Reſolved in this caſe, That the Reverſion is granted of both houſes; The Covenant was to repair Capitale Meſſuagium, and to repair Structures of the other houſe; ſo the Covenant extended to both houſes: and the words are manutenere prædict. premiſſa; and this goes to all. And if Damages ſhould be ſeverally aſſeſſed, it muſt then be intended to be done at ſeveral times, and not at one time, as they were found to be. And therefore the Court was clear of Opinion, That the former Judgment given in the Common-Pleas, was well given: And the Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. The Lady St. John, and Piotts Caſe. Bolſtr. 2 Part, 102, 103.

21. If a man demiſe or grant Lands to a woman for years, and the Leſſor covenants with the Leſſee to repair the houſes during the Term, and the woman takes a husband, and dyes; The husband ſhall have an Action of Covenant as well upon the Covenant in Law, as by force of the words [Demiſe and Grant], as alſo upon the expreſſe Covenant, becauſe the Covenant runs with the Land, and is incident to it. And ſo it is alſo of Tenant by Statute-Merchant, or Statute-Staple, or by Elegit; and ſo of a Term ſold by force of an Execution, the Vendee of the Term ſhall have an Action of Covenant, although all theſe come to the Term by Act in Law: So alſo, if a man grant to his Leſſee for years, That he ſhall have ſo many Eſtovers as ſhall ſerve to repair his houſe, or to burn within his houſe, during the Term, this is as an Incident to the Land, and runs with it in whoſe hands ſoever it falls. Cook 5. Part, 17. in Spencers Caſe.

22. Two Coparceners were of Land, and they made Partition of the Land, and the one made a Covenant with the other, to acquit her and her heirs of a Suit which iſſued out of the Land. The Covenantee aliened. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Aſſignee ſhould have an Action of Covenant, although that he was a ſtranger to the Covenant, becauſe the Acquittall did run with the Land, into whoſe hands ſoever it came. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 384.

23. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor whereof a Chappel was parcel; A Prior with the aſſent of his Covent, covenanted by Deed Indented with A. and his heirs, to celebrate Divine Service in the Chappel weekly for the Lord of the Mannor and his Servants. In this caſe, the Aſſignees ſhall have an Action of Covenant, although they are not named, becauſe the Covenant doth run with the Land. But if the Covenant had been with a ſtranger, to Celebrate Divine Service in the Chappel of A. and his heirs, there the Aſſignee ſhall not have an Action of Covenant; for the Covenant cannot be annexed to the Mannor, becauſe the Covenantee was not ſeiſed of the Mannor. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 385. acc.

24. An Action of Covenant was brought upon an Expreſs Covenant in a voidable Leaſe: The Queſtion was, Whether the Covenant was good, the Leaſe being void? It was adjudged, That the Action would lye, although the Leaſe were void. And Mapes Caſe was cited, which was: Mapes made a Leaſe of the Parſonage of D. for 7. years, and did covenant to ſave the Leſſee harmleſs againſt B. the Parſon. In that caſe, It was holden, If the Parſon ſue the Covenantee by right or by wrong, an Action lyes upon the Covenant. And in the principal caſe it was ſaid, If the Leaſe were originally void, yet the Action of Covenant would lye; for elſe great inconvenience might happen: For a Dean might as to day make a Leaſe unto one, and keep it ſecret, and to morrow make another, and covenant to enjoy it, and ſo avoid the ſecond Leſſee. Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. Walter and the Dean and Chapter of Norwich's Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 21.

25. Covenant was brought againſt Leſſee for life, upon a covenant of the Indenture, for not keeping the houſe let to him in repair. The Defendant pleaded, That the houſe was burnt by caſualty: upon which the Plaintiff demurred; and for cauſe ſhewed, That this plea was contrary to the Defendants expreſſe Covenant by his Deed: It was the Opinion of the Court, That a Leſſee that Covenanteth to repair, ought to do it if the houſe be burnt, be it by negligence, or other means. Trin. 1649. rott. 348. in B. R. Compton and Allens Caſe. Styles 362.

26. Debt brought upon Indenture of Covenants; The Covenants were, That A. ſhould raiſe 500. Souldiers, and bring them to ſuch a Port, and that B. ſhould find Shipping and Victuals for them, to tranſport them to Calice: and for not providing of the Ship and Victualls at the time appointed, the Action was brought. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff had not raiſed the Souldiers at that time. Upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was adjudged, That the Defendant ought to have provided the Shipping and the Victualls againſt the time, though the Souldiers were not raiſed, for the not raiſing of them can onely be moved for mittigation of damages, and not pleaded in diſcharge of the breach aſſigned; and they are diſtinct and mutuall Covenants, and there may be ſeveral Actions brought for them; And the Defendant is firſt to raiſe the Shipping and Victualls, and then if the Plaintiff doth not raiſe the men, the Defendant hath remedy by Covenant againſt him, for not raiſing the Souldiers, as the Plaintiff hath againſt the Defendant for not providing viding the Shipping and the Victualls. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1649. Ware and Chappell's Case. in B. R. Styles 186, 187.

27. Lessee for years Covenanted by Indenture with his Lessor, That he would not Assign over the Land let. The Lessor during the Term, entred into part of the Land; Afterwards the Lessee assigned over the Remainder of his Term in the rest of the Land, without the Consent of the Lessor: whereupon the Lessor brought Covenant against the Lessee. The point was, If the Action did lye, in regard the Lessor had entred into part of the Land. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Covenant was Collaterall; And therefore it was broken by the Assignment, notwithstanding the Lessors entry into part of the Land. Hill. 1650. in B. R. rott. 302. Collins and Sylleys Case. Styles. 265.

28. Covenant brought against an Executor to Lessee for years, for non-payment of a Rent reserved upon the Lease, upon the generall words in the Lease, Yielding and paying, there being no express Covenant for the payment of the Rent. It was said, It was a meer Covenant in Law, and so binds only the Testator. But it was Resolved, That an Action of Covenant did lye against an Executor, upon a Covenant in Law, though not named; and the Reservation of the Rent doth here seem to be an express Covenant, for that it is the Agreement of both parties. Mich. 1653. in B. R. Newton and Osburns Case. Styles 387.

29. The Mayor and Comminalty of London brought Covenant upon a Lease, for not payment of Rent, upon a Lease for years made to the Defendant of the Garblers Office. The Defendant pleaded, It was an Office in trust reposed in the City, and could not be let for years, and so no ground for an Action: and the Office it self is not vested in the Mayor, and therefore he could not grant it. But it was said on the other side, That they had a Fee-simple in the Office by their Charter; and that this Lease shall be accounted but as a Deputation; and the Lessee by taking the Lease, and entring into the Covenant, shall barr him of this plea. Quære, the Case was not Resolved. Mich. 1652. The Mayor and Comminalty of London, and Hatton's Case. Styles 357.

30. In an Action of Covenant, The same being brought for ploughing of Land; which was not Nuper laid down for pasture. The Question was, What number of years shall be said Nuper laid down? It was the Opinion of the Court, That 20 years shall be said Nuper. But it was Agreed by the whole Court, That the Plaintiff here ought to have layd a certain breach of Covenant, scil. That he had ploughed up Lands; and shewed what Lands, which were not Nuper arrable Lands, contrary to his Covenant; and because he hath not done this, he can have no Action. It was adjudged against the Plaintiff. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. rott. 499. Gesner and Lackings Case. Bolst. 2. Part, 258.

31. Covenant brought upon a Covenant made by a Merchant with a Master of a Ship, scil. That if he would bring his Fraight to such a Port, then he would pay him such a sum: and shews, that part of the goods were taken away by Pyrats, and that the residue of the goods were brought to the place appoint d, and there unladed; and that the Merchant hath not paid, and so the Covenant broken. The Question was, Whether the Merchant should pay the money agreed for, since all the Merchandizes were not brought to the place appointed. And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That he ought not to pay the money, because the agreement was not by him performed. Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. Bright and Compo's Case, Bownlow, 1. Part, 21.

32. A Copyholder Covenanted upon reasonable request, to surrender her Copyhold Land according to the Custome of the Mannor: And it was found, that the Custome is, That a surrender may be made either in person, or by Attorney, and that the Plaintiff did request the Defendant being a Woman Copyholder, to surrender by Letter of Attorney; which she refused to do. In this case it was Objected, That she ought to make the surrender presently, according to Manfers Case. Cook 2. Part; & 16 Eliz. Dyer, Sir Anthony Cook's Case. But it was holden, That she should have convenient time to do it. And Hill. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Perpoynt and Thimblebyes Case was put, that the party shall have convenient time to do it. And the Opinion of Popham, Mich. 27 Eliz. was put, That if a man be bounden to make such an Assurance as Councel shall advise; there, If Councell shall advise the Assurance, the party is bound to perform it: but if it were such reasonable assurance as Councel should advise; there, If the Councel do advise, That he shall enter into, seal, and deliver a Bond of 1000 l. for the payment of 100 l. at a day, he is not bound to do it, because it is not reasonable. And it was said, That in the principal case, the request was not according to the Covenant; for the Election was on the womans part, and not on the Covenantee's part, for she was to do the first act, viz. to surrender: and if it should be otherwise in the principal case, the Covenantee should take away the Election of the Covenantor. Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. Symmes and Smith's Case. Godbolt. 445. See Cro. 1. Part, 218. the same case, adjudged.

33. A. Covenants, in Consideration of a Marriage of his son with the daughter of H. and such a portion a portion to be paid, to ſtand ſeiſed of ſuch Lands to the uſe of the wife for life, and to the uſe of the ſon in tail; and Covenants in the Indenture, ſcil. That he was ſeiſed in Fee of thoſe Lands of a lawfull Eſtate in Fee, notwithſtanding any act done by him: and that the ſaid Lands were of the annuall value of 200 l. per annum: upon which the Plaintiff demurred; the Defendant having pleaded, that they were of the annuall value of 200 l. notwithſtanding any act done by him. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That theſe words, For any act, &c. do not refer to the ſecond Covenant, but onely to the firſt, that it makes not a general Warranty; but the value is properly in the Conuſance of the Covenantor; and it was his intent ſhe ſhould have a Joynture of the value of 200 l. abſolutely: and it is not proper to ſay, For any act by him, &c. it ſhould be of ſuch a value. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 13 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 356.

34. A man Leaſed to the Plaintiff a Mannor, for years; and Covenanted, That he had lawful right and Eſtate to let it for that Term. In Covenant brought, the breach was aſſigned, That he had not right nor lawfull Eſtate to let it. The Defendant pleaded a Concord, for that he gave him 10 l. in ſatisfaction; and iſſue thereupon. It was found for the Plaintiff, and 120 l. damages. Errour was brought, and the Errour aſſigned was, That it was not ſhewed, that he had an eſtate, nor how the Leſſor had not any right, or that a ſtranger had evicted him by title: Sed non allocatur, for the Covenant being general, the breach may be aſſigned as general as the Covenant: and it lyes not in the Plaintiff's Notice, who hath the rightful Eſtate: But the Defendant ought to have maintained, He was ſeiſed in Fee, and had a good Eſtate to demiſe; and then the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed a ſpeciall title in ſome other. The Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, Salman and Bradſhaw's Caſe, 304. See Hil. 12 Jac. Muſcott and Ballett's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 370. acc.

35. A Covenant was, That the Leſſee ſhould enjoy ſuch Lands according to his Leaſe without the Let, Interruption, or Incumbrance of any perſon; and then the Plaintiff ſhews, That the Land was extended for a debt due to the King by proceſs out of the Exchequer, and ſo Incumbred. It was moved, That this was not a good breach aſſigned, becauſe he doth not ſhew for whoſe debt, nor when, nor by whom it was due; and it might be for his own debt. It was adjudged for the Defendant; for the Plaintiff ought to ſhew a lawfull Incumbrance, otherwiſe he might have his remedy elſewhere. See Dyer 328. Paſch. 15 Jac. in B. R. Brocki and Cham's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 425.

36. A. and B. entred into Articles Indented betwixt them, wherein A. covenanted to pay 100 l. at a day to come, to B: and B. covenanted upon the receipt of the 100 l. that he would give to A. an Acquittance for the 100 l. and would enter into a Bond of 400 l. to A. to ſave him harmleſſe from all claims, which ſhould be made to certain Lands in the poſſeſſion of A. A. tendered the 100 l. But B. refuſed to receive the 100 l. at the day, and to give an acquittance, and alſo to enter Bond of 400 l. Whereupon A. brought Action of Covenant. It was agreed in this Caſe, That there was no breach of the Covenant to ground an Action upon, for the Articles expreſſe, that upon the Receipt of the 100 l. he would give an Acquittance, and enter into Bond; And the breach is alledged, That the Plaintiff tendred the 100 l. at the day, and the Defendant refuſed to receive it, and hath not ſealed the Acquittance, nor given the Bond: And it may be it ſhould be the intent of the parties, that it ſhould be in the Election of the Defendant, either to receive the 100 l. or not receive it And the Plaintiff is not prejudiced by the Defendant's not receiving it: for if he ſhould ſue for the 100 l. the Plaintiff might plead this tender and refuſall againſt him, and that will be adjudged payment; and when he ſues for the 100 l. then may the other ſue for the Acquittance and the Bond. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 1655. in B. R. London and Craven's Caſe. Styles. 481.

37. A. the Grandfather of the Husband of the Plaintiff, did by Indenture Covenant with B. that before ſuch a day, his ſon ſhould marry the daughter of B. and Covenanted to convey 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. of rent Iſſuing out of the Land, to hold to them during the life of the Covenantee, and his Wife; And after this, he Covenanted for him, his heirs and Aſſignes, that, after the death of the Covenantor and his Wife, the Land ſhould remain, come, and be to the ſaid Son and his Wife. The Queſtion was, Whether this Covenant did raiſe a preſent uſe to the Son and his Wife, or whether it reſts onely in Covenant. It was ſaid, That the words are in the Future Tenſe, That the Lands ſhall remain, come, &c. And therefore till the death of the Covenantor, the Fee-ſimple was in him: And a difference was taken when the words are in the preſent Tenſe, and when in the Future Tenſe. It was ſaid on the other ſide, That the intent of the parties was, That this ſhould raiſe a preſent uſe, for the Intent was to advance them firſt, during their lives with the Rent; and after the death of the Covenantor and his Wife, with the Land it ſelf: And therefore of neceſſity, this will raiſe a preſent uſe, and eſpecially in this Caſe, becauſe they who are to take benefit of it, are ſtrangers to the Covenant, and and a Stranger ſhall not take benefit of a Covenant, and therefore the intention of the parties was to raiſe an uſe, for otherwiſe there ſhall be no advancement at all: Alſo the words are, Covenant and Grant; and if no uſe is raiſed, then the word Grant, is idle; and the word Covenant, is ſufficient of it ſelf to paſſe an Eſtate in Land; and words ſhall be expounded in Deeds, that they may take effect. But if there was another act to be done or made by the Covenantor or Covenantee, then no Uſe ſhould riſe, but it ſhould reſt onely in Covenant. But it was ſaid, that in this caſe no act of the Covenantor might hinder that this uſe ſhall ariſe, and therefore it is good: and the Covenant is here by writing, and not by words; and therefore the uſe ſhall well riſe. 37 Eliz. Callard and Callard's Caſe. Stand forth, Euſtace, Reſerving to my Wife and my ſelf, I give to thee and thy heirs. It being by word, it was a doubt, Whether an uſe did riſe to the ſon? but if it had been by Deed, it had been ſufficient to raiſe an uſe to the ſon. Quære. The principall caſe was not Reſolved. Mich. 18 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2120. Buck'ey and Simonds Caſe. Winch. 31, 32.

38. In Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Land in Fee, by Deed in Conſideration of Marriage, did give and grant the Land to the Defendant his ſecond ſon, and to his heirs after his death, but made no Livery: A. dyed, the Eldeſt ſon entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff, who entred; the ſecond ſon entred, and ejected him: whereupon, Ejectione Firme was brought. The Queſtion was, Whether an eſtate paſſed to the ſecond ſon by the Deed? It was agreed, If Livery had been made, it had been void, becauſe a Freehold cannot begin at a day to come. But it was Objected, That by the Covenant an uſe was preſently raiſed to the ſecond ſon; for it was ſaid, An uſe was but a Truſt betwixt the parties, and there needs not expreſſe words of Covenant to ſtand ſeiſed to an uſe. It was agreed, and Reſolved in this caſe, That if the meaning of the party might appear, that he intended to paſſe his eſtate by way of raiſing an uſe, then it might well riſe and enure by way of Covenant. But in the principall caſe there was no ſuch appearance; but by the word Grant, he intended to paſſe it by way of tranſmutation of poſſeſſion. And it was ſaid, That a guift of a Remainder after the death of the Grantor, was void: and it ſhall be intended, That when a man makes a doubtfull Conveyance, it ſhall be intended a Conveyance at Common-Law: and in the principal caſe, It ſhall not be intended, that the Father would make him Tenant for life, onely puniſhable for Waſte. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, That no uſe did ariſe to the ſecond ſon by way of Covenant. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Pitfield and Perce's Caſe. Mar. 46, 91. See Cook 8. Part, Fox's Caſe. Cook 9. Part, Bedell's Caſe. acc.

39. In Covenant, the caſe was; Queen Eliz. was ſeiſed of certain Mills, and by Letters Patents ſhe made a Leaſe of them to J. S. for 31 years, in which Letters Patents, there was a Clauſe for him, his Executors and Aſſigns, to repair the Mills, and to leave them ſufficiently repaired in the end of the Term: The Reverſion of them came to the King; who did grant them to J. D. and his Wife: and for breach of Covenant, in not repairing the Mills upon the Clauſe in the Letters Patents, the husband alone brought Covenant: The Points in the caſe were, 1. Whether theſe words, having no expreſs Covenant, ſhall be taken a Covenant? 2. If an Action of Covenant lyeth without ſealing the Counterpart of the Deed? 3. Whether the Action were well brought by the husband alone, without the wife? For the firſt, It was Reſolved, That the words in the Letters Patents ſhall be taken for a Covenant; for that every party to Letters Patents ſhall be bound, as if the ſame had been by Indenture. See 4 Ma. Dyer 150. To the ſecond point, Reſolved, It lyeth without ſealing the Indenture. 28 H. 8. Dyer 13. A Feoffment made by Deed with divers Covenants, one of the Feoffees ſeals this Deed; the other not; yet occupies and ſurvives. Adjudged, he ſhall be bound by the Covenants. To the third point, Reſolved, That the husband alone may have Covenant, although the Intereſt in the Reverſion was in him and his wife; for it was taken for a Rule, That where the husband was to have the ſole profit of that which is to be recovered, and may alone diſcharge it, there the husband alone may have the Action, as here in the principal caſe he hath done. And ſo it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action of Covenant was well brought by the husband alone without the wife. Trin. 13 Jac. in B R. Sir John Brett, and Cumberland's Caſe. Bulſtr. 3. Part, 163. See Popham, 136, 137. See Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Batchelour and Gages Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 136. acc.

40. J. N. did Covenant with J. S. by Indenture, to pay him 40 l. per annum for 21. years. And afterwards J. S. did releaſe to J. N. all Actions. The Queſtion was, Whether the whole Covenant was diſcharged? It was holden by all the Juſtices, That onely the Arrearages were diſcharged, becauſe the Covenant was executory, yearly to be executed for the Term of 21. years: for he may have ſeverall Actions of Covenant for every time that it is behind; and nothing ſhall be diſcharged by Releaſe of all Actions, but that which was a duty at the time of the Releaſe made. A man did releaſe to his Tenant for Term of life, all his right for for the term of the life of the Tenant for life, and that he nor his heirs may any right demand, challenge, or claim for the life of Tenant for life in the Land; and afterwards he dyed, and the Tenant committed Waſte: And the Heir brought an Action of Waſte, and the Tenant pleaded the ſame Releaſe: And it was holden to be no plea; for nothing was extinct by the ſame Releaſe, but that which was in Action at the time of the releaſe made. 3. Covenants between the Leſſor and Leſſee, and where the one ſhall have Action againſt the other: And upon what breach, upon what not.

A. Brought Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, to perform Covenants, Grants, and Agreements in an Indenture of of Leaſe. The Defendant pleaded the Indenture, and that after (viz. at ſuch a day, 5. years after) the Plaintiff by Deed, &c. Releaſed, unto the firſt day of May, which ſhould be in Anno, &c. all Covenants in the Indenture: upon which the Plaintiff demurred. And it was adjudged No plea, becauſe he had not alledged, That untill the Releaſe, he had not broken any Covenant; for if the Obligation be once forfeit, the Releaſe of Covenants will not diſpence with it: And a Releaſe is not available but for a Right, or an Action which one had at the time of the Releaſe, for it is contrary to the nature of a Releaſe, to take effect in a time to come. Trin. 35 H. 8. Dyer 57. See 24 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged, That a Releaſe doth not extinct a Covenant, or diſcharge that which is not broken. Godbolt. 11.

2. If Leſſee for years Covenant, to repair Banks, and the banks are broken by ſudden floods, the Leſſee is bound to repair them; and if he doth not, an Action of Covenant lyes againſt him. But the Opinion of the Court was, That he ſhall have convenient time to repair them, becauſe the decay came by the Act of God. Paſch. 29 H. 8. Dyer 33. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. Twentimans Caſe adjudged acc.

3. A Leaſe was made of a houſe, and of certain Lands, and Woods; and the Leſſee covenanted to repair the houſe in omnibus at his proper coſts and charges: The houſe is afterwards in decay in the Groundſells; and the Leſſee cut down Trees growing upon the Lands, to repair them: and in Waſte brought, the Defendant juſtified by his Leaſe. The Plaintiff would have charged him in an Action of Waſte. But the Opinion of the Court was, That he could not ſo do, but his remedy was by way of Action of Covenant. So if the Leſſor covenanteth to repair, and doth not do it, the Leſſee may cut down Trees and repair, and juſtifie the ſame in the Waſte brought againſt him. Paſch. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 198. See Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer 314.

4. A man in Conſideration of a ſum of money, made a Leaſe for years; and covenanted, That the Leſſee ſhould quietly and peaceably hold and enjoy it during the Term without Interruption of any: the Father of the Leſſor entred, and Interrupted him; upon which he brought his Action upon the Caſe of Aſſumpſit. It was adjudged, That the Action did lye. And it was ſaid, It is not like unto the Caſe of a Warranty; for that is againſt Titles, and not againſt wrongfull Interruptions and Entries. 4. Where a Covenant to Convey, ſhall amount to a Leaſe; Where not: And where words of Covenant ſhall amount to a Condition; where not. And what words do imply a Covenant.

1. THe Caſe was; A. Covenanted with B, to convey by Fine, or other aſſurance, Lands to B. and his heirs, which ſhould be to the uſe of him and his heirs, with a Proviſo, That if he paid to B. 100 l. at the end of 13. years, that then he might re-enter: And Covenanted and granted for him and his heirs with B. his heirs, That he and his heirs ſhould enjoy the ſaid Lands untill the end of the ſaid 13. years, and after for ever, if the ſaid 100 l. was unpaid. And B. Covenanted, That he would yearly, during the 13. years, give 2. Capons; and that he would not do Waſte: And, If this Covenant did amount to a Leaſe, or not, was the Queſtion? It was Objected, That it ſhould amount to a Leaſe; otherwiſe, the Covenant not to do Waſte, was a vain Covenant But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was not a Leaſe; for the intent of the parties was, to make an Aſſurance of the Inheritance by way of Mortgage, which is but a Covenant, that he ſhould enjoy during the time of the Mortgage, and not to make a Leaſe: and the Covenant, That he and his heirs ſhould enjoy it untill the end of 13 years, and in perpetuum, if the 100 l. was not paid, ſhewes the Intent, that it ſhould not be a Leaſe, but meerly a Covenant for the quiet enjoying. Tr. 15 Jac. in B. R. Evans and Thomas Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 172.

2. In Covenant, the Caſe was; A. did Covenant with B. the Plaintiff, quod haberet poſſideret et occuparet ſuch Lands from ſuch a time, for the ſpace of 7. years, without any diſturbance; and the Plaintiff did alſo Covenant to pay him 200 l. a year Rent for the ſame: and being diſturbed, he brought his Action of Covenant. It was Objected, It was no Leaſe, becauſe there was no word of demiſe. And, 2. It was ſaid, There was no breach layed, and ſo the Action would not lye. But it was Reſolved, That it was a good Leaſe. And a difference was taken between a Covenant made by one who is owner of the Land, and where the ſame is made by a ſtranger. If by the owner, it will amount to a Leaſe; otherwiſe if by a ſtranger, for then it will amount but to a meer Covenant. And Trin. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Sir James Harrington's Caſe was, That Articles of Agreement to have Lands for ſuch a time, was Reſolved to be a good Leaſe. And a Licence to occupy, ſhall amount to a Leaſe. And if a Licence will enure to a Leaſe, ſo alſo will a Covenant. And for the breach, the Court ſaid, It was well layed, that he did enter, & covenanted to take the poſſeſſion, and they did diſturb him, and put him out. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Tyſdale and Sir William Eſſex's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 204.

3. Debt by an Executor, the Caſe was; By Articles betwixt the Teſtator and the Defendant, It was Covenanted; and the Teſtator did covenant, &c. with the Defendant, That he ſhould have and enjoy ſuch a houſe and Lands for 6. years; and that the Teſtator will ſufficiently repair the houſe: Et in conſideratione præmiſſorum, the Defendant covenanted, &c. for him and his heirs, Executors and Aſſigns, to pay to the Teſtator his heirs, Executors and Aſſigns, an yearly rent of 90 l. during the ſaid 6. years: the Defendant entred; the Teſtator dyed, the 90 l. was behind for a year after his death, and the Executor brought the Action of Debt. It was ſaid, That this is meerly in Covenant, and ſhall not enure as a Rent by way of Reſervation; and if it be a Covenant, it is due to the Executor; and if it be a Reſervation, it followes the Reverſion: and it appears by the intent of the parties, that it ſhould be onely a Covenant, and as a ſum in groſſe; otherwiſe the words of Covenant were idle. But the whole Court conceived it to be a Rent, and then it ſhall enſue the Reverſion, and ſhall go to the heir: For as the words of Covenant and Grant, That he ſhall enjoy the Lands for 6. years, amount to a Leaſe, and ſhall bind the heir; ſo the words of Covenant and Grant of the Leſſee, ſhall amount to a Reſervation, and the rather, becauſe he covenants and grants to pay to him and his heirs. Hill. 6 Car. in B. R. Dixie and Mundayes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 150.

4. In Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A woman made a Leaſe for years rendring rent, with a Covenant, that the Leſſee ſhould repair the houſe, with other Covenants; and then deviſed the ſame to the ſame Leſſee for divers years more, reſerving the like rent, and under ſuch Covenants as were in the firſt Leaſe, the remainder over in Fee, and dyed: the firſt Leaſe for years expired, the Leſſee continued in by force of the ſecond Leaſe by the Deviſe, and repaired not the houſe. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That the Will expreſſing, that the firſt Leſſee ſhould have the Land, obſerving the firſt Covenants, It ſhall not now be taken to be a Condition by any intent that may be collected out of the Will: For a Covenant and a Condition are of ſeverall natures, the one giving Action; the other, Entry: and here the Intent of the Will was, That although the Covenants were not performed, yet the Leſſee ſhould not forfeit his Term; but be bound to ſuch pain as he was at the beginning, and that was onely to render damages in an Action of Covenant. Adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Mitchell and Dunton's Caſe. Owen 54, 55.

5. What ſhall be a good Bar in Covenant What not, And where it ſhall be pleaded in Bar to another Action.

1. A Writ of Covenant was brought againſt an Aſſignee for not repairing a houſe. The Defendant pleaded in bar an Accord between him and the Plaintiff, and Execution of it in ſatisfaction of the Reparations. It was Objected, That when an Action is founded upon a Deed, as in this Caſe, that neither Arbitrament, nor Accord with ſatisfaction, is a plea, becauſe matter in fait cannot be avoided by matter in pais: And when an Action is in the realty, or mixt with the realty, Accord with ſatisfaction is no plea, and is not a bar for the perſonalty. But it was adjudged, That the plea was good; And a difference was taken where a duty accrues by a Deed in certainty, as by Covenant, Bill, or Obligation to pay a ſum of money, there, becauſe it takes its eſſence by writing, it ought to be avoided by matter of as high a nature, but when no certain duty accrueth by the Deed: but a default ſubſequent, gives onely damages; there there Accord with ſatisfaction, is a good plea. 3 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 44. Blakes Caſe.

2. If Leſſee for years Covenanteth to leave a Wood in as good plight as it was at the time of the Leaſe; And afterwards the Trees are overturned by a Tempeſt, he may plead this matter in bar, and it ſhall diſcharge him of his Covenant quia impotentia excuſat legem, as it is holden in 40 E. 3. 6. Cook 1. Part, in Shelleys Caſe.

3. If a Man ſeiſed of the Manor of S. Covenanteth with another, that when J. S. ſhall enfeoff him of the Manor of D. then he will ſtand ſeiſed of the Manor of S. to the uſe of the Covenantee, and his heirs; the Covenantee dyeth, his Heir within age, J. S. enfeoffeth the Covenantor, In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That the Heir of the Covenantor ſhall be adjudged in Courſe and nature of a diſcent: and yet there was not right, Title, Uſe, or Action, which deſcended but onely a poſſibility of an uſe, which could not be releaſed or diſcharged, and this matter may be ſo pleaded, Cook 1. Part, 99. in Shelleys Caſe. acc.

4. A man made a Leaſe for ſix years, if J. S. ſo long lived: And the Leſſor Covenanted with the Leſſee, that he had full and lawfull power to demiſe the premiſſes according to the Deed: The Leſſee brought Covenant, and alledged the breach, That the Leſſor had not full power and Authority to demiſe the premiſes according to the Deed: The Leſſor alledged a Concord betwixt them, and that he had paid 20 l. in ſatisfaction and diſcharge of the ſaid Covenant, and all other Covenants upon which they were at Iſſue. It was found for the Plaintiff, and Error brought, and two Errors were aſſigned. 1. That the Plaintiff had not averred that J. S. was alive, at the time of the beginning of the Leaſe, nor at the time of the Action brought. But it was Reſolved, That he needed not to alledge that, becauſe the Covenant refers to the time of the Leaſe made; and then, be J. S. alive or dead, the Action lyeth. The ſecond Error was, That the Plaintiff in his Declaration, hath not alledged, what perſon had right, title, or Intereſt in the Land, at the time of the making of the Leaſe to the Plaintiff; by which it might appear to the Court, that the Defendant had not power to demiſe the Premiſſes. But it was Reſolved, That the Aſſignment of the breach of the Covenant was good; for he had purſued the words of the Covenant negativè; and it lyeth more aptly in the nature of the Leſſor to ſay what part he himſelf hath in the Leaſe, than the Leſſee who is a ſtranger to it: and therefore the Defendant ought to ſhew what ſtate he had in the thing demiſed: by which it may appear that he had lawful power and authority to demiſe it. Trin. 10 Jac. Cook 2. Part, 60, 61. Bradſhaws Caſe.

5. If Tenant in Tayl doth enfeoffe his Unckle, who enfeoffeth another in Fee with Warranty: If afterwards the Feoffee by his Deed releaſeth to his Unckle all manner of Warranties, or all manner of reall Covenants, or all manner of Demands, by ſuch Releaſe, the Warranty (which is a Covenant Reall and Executorie) is extinct. And the reaſon of the ſame is, becauſe by releaſe of all Demands, the future Right and Intereſt to the thing in Demand, be it by way of Covenant or otherwiſe, is releaſed. Cook. 8. Part, 154. in Altham's Caſe.

6. Covenant upon a Deed of Covenants of Charter-party; whereby it was Covenanted, in conſideration of a certain ſumme of Money, agreed to be paid to the Defendant, for fraught of ſuch a ſhip, that he ſhould make ſuch a Voyage, and bear all loſſes and dammages which ſhould befall the ſhip, or Merchandizes in her, excepting only perils of the Sea. And the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant had not performed his Agreement. The Defendant pleaded, That upon making of his Voyage upon the Sea, the ſhip was taken, per quoſdam ignotos homines bellicoſos; Whereby he was hindered in making of the Voyage, according to his Agreement. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Petition. It was holden in this Caſe, That Pyrats are perils of the Sea: and to that purpoſe, a Certificate was read that they were ſo eſteemed amongſt Merchants: Wherefore it was holden, That the Plea in Bar was good; Perils of Sea being excepted in the Covenant. Paſch. 24 Car. in B. R. Rot. 154. Pickering and Barkley's Caſe. Styles 132.

7. In Covenant brought againſt Leſſee for years, for not keeping the houſe in repair. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, that the houſe was burnt by caſualty. It was holden to be no good Plea in Bar, for that a Leſſee that covenanteth to repair, ought to do it, be his houſe burnt by negligence, or by any other means. M. 1649. Compton and Allen's Caſe, Styles 162. See before.

8. See the Mayor and Commonalty of London, and Hattons Caſe. M. 1652. before Diviſion.

9. A. Brought an Action of Covenant upon a Covenant contained in an Indenture of Leaſe, for non-payment of Rent, according to the Covenant. The Defendant pretended in Bar, that the Plaintiff entred into part of the Land demiſed, before the Rent was due; for which the Action was brought, and ſo had ſuſpended his Rent. The Plaintiff replyed, the Defendant did re-enter, and ſo was poſſeſſed, as in his former Eſtate. And it was holden by the Court, becauſe the Plaintiff did not ſhew, that the Defendant continued the poſſeſſion till the Rent grew due, but onely that he was poſſeſſed in his former Right. But the Plea in Barr was a good Plea; and Judgment was given, that the Plaintiff nil capiat per billam. Trin. 1614. Rot.

1687. in B. R. Page and Pa's Caſe, Styles, 243.

10. A Leſſor covenanted and granted to a Termor for years, that he ſhould hold the Land to him and his preſent wife, and other wife which after he ſhould marry, for the Term of the life of the Leſſor; but no Term was made: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That was not a ſurrender of the Term, nor a confirmation; but onely a meer Covenant. But Juſtice Wroton held, that in an Action brought againſt him, he might pretend this as a Grant. Paſch. 15 Eliz. Dyer 272.

11. A Leaſe was made for 21 years to A. and B. his wife, if he or ſhe, or any child, or children, between them lawfully begotten ſhould ſo long live: and after they were married, the wife died without Iſſue: If the Leaſe were determined, or no, was the Queſtion; becauſe it is in the Conjunctive (he and ſhe) and no one of them is dead without Iſſue. It was ſaid, this was not like Chapman's Caſe, in Plo. Com. Where one covenants to enfeoffe B. and his heirs: for ſure it is impoſſible to enfeoffe his heirs, as long as B. ſhall live, and therefore it ſhall be in the disjunctive. The Court ſaid, that it appeareth by the Disjunctive Sentence which cometh afterwards, that the intent was, that the Leaſe ſhould not be determined by the death of one of them: and the Reaſon that moved them thereunto, was, becauſe the Eſtate was made before the Marriage, and ſo it is a Joynture to the Wife, and ſo not determined by the death of one; adjudged accordingly. Count and Declaration.

1. Where the Count, or Declaration ſhall be good, where not.

1. IN Error brought upon a Judgment in Ejectione firme; It was Aſſigned for Error, That the Writ did ſuppoſe a Demiſe to be made by the Abbot of C. And the Declaration was, That the Abbot and Covent Beate Petri de C. demiſed unto, &c. It was ſaid, That the Count was not good for the variance. Bromley ſaid, That it was good enough by that name, becauſe the departed but with a Term; contrary, if it had bin in Caſe of Free-hold. But the Opinion of all the Juſtices was; That for that, and ſome other omiſſions in the Count, the ſame was not remedied by the Statute of Jeofailes; and therefore the Judgment was reverſed. Mr. Dyer. 97.

2. In an Ejectione firme of a Rectory, It was moved, That the Declaration was inſufficient, becauſe that the Life of the Leſſor, viz. the Perſon, was not averred, but by implication; but becauſe it was quod predict. A. B. Rector. Eccleſie predict. fuit et adhuc eſt ſeiſitus, de et in Rectoria predict. in Dominico ſuo ut de feodo in jure Eccleſie. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Count or Declaration was good enough. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 304.

3. In a Writ of Annuity the Plaintiff declared, That A. Granted him by Deed to be Captain of the Caſtle of D. to have and exerciſe the ſaid Office during his life, and gave him Authority to nominate a Gunner, Porter, and ſix Souldiers: And for the maintenance of them, by the ſaid Deed, Granted to them, an Annuity for him and his Heirs, for his life, and dyed, and that the ſon did not pay it. And being upon Iſſue joyned, adjudged for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Plaintiff had not averred, That he had exerciſed the ſaid Office. But it was Reſolved, That the Declaration was good without ſuch averment: For it was ſaid, That in all Caſes, where an Intereſt or Eſtate begins upon a Condition precedent, be it to be performed by the Plaintiff, or by the Defendant, or a ſtranger, and be it in the affirmative, or in the Negative; The Plaintiff in his Count ought to ſhew the performance of it: For there the Intereſt is not in him, untill the Condition be performed: But when the Intereſt or Eſtate paſſeth preſently, and is to be defeated by matter ex poſt facto; The Plaintiff may Declare generally, without ſhewing the performance of it: But if it appeareth to the Court by matter in Law, That the Action ſhall not be maintainable, without ſhewing the performance of the Condition, or Conſideration; there the Plaintiff in his Count ought to aver the ſame for the maintenance of his Action. Cook 7. Part, 19. 11. Aſtred's Caſe.

4. An Action upon the Statute was brought, That none ſhould diſtrein the Beaſts of the Plough, ſo long as other reaſonable diſtreſſe may be had; and the Plaintiff declared of taking a diſtreſſe contra formam Statuti, but did not ſhew ſpecially how he had other diſtreſſe; Yet it was adjudged, That the Declaration was good, for it ſhall be implyed in the words Contra formam Statuti; And it ſhall come on the part of the Defendant, after he hath ſhewed the cauſe of the Diſtreſſe. Paſc. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 312.

5. No

5. Note, There are three manner of certainties. 1. Certain in a common intent, and that ſufficeth in Barr for thoſe that defend themſelves. 2. To a certain intent in generall, and that is ſufficient in Indictments, Plaints, Counts, and Replications. 3. To a certain intent, to every particular intent, and that is rejected in Law, for talis certitudo, certitudinem confundit; et nimia ſubtilitas in lege reprobatur. Cook 8. Part. 57. in the Earl of Rutland's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 121. in Long's Caſe.

6. Debt upon an Obligation of 100 l. againſt an Adminiſtrator: The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. recovered in the Court of Cheſter 100 l. againſt him, and pleaded other Judgments by others in the ſame Court, in all amounting to 500 l. And that he had not goods of the Inteſtates praeter bona, et cattalla, quae non attingunt ad valentiam praedict. 500 l. againſt him in form aforeſaid recovered. The Plaintiff replyed, That J. S. accepted of 60 l. in ſatisfaction, and would have acknowledged ſatisfaction therein of Record in the ſame Court: but the Defendant ſuffered the Judgment by fraud to continue, to deceive the Plaintiff of his juſt debt: And ſo pleaded the ſame Plea to the other Record. In this Caſe, (amongſt other Points) It was Reſolved, That the Recoveries pleaded in the Court of Cheſter, were void. 1. Becauſe it doth not appear by the Bar, That the Mayor had Juriſdiction to hold a Court: And it appeareth by the Count in the ſaid Contract, that the Action was for 100 l. without making mention of the Obligation; and therefore it ſhall not be intended, that there was any Obligation; and although the Defendant in his bar acknowledgeth, That the debt was by Obligation; Yet the ſame doth not make the Declaration good, for a Declaration which wants ſubſtance, cannot be made good by the bar, otherwiſe it is when it wants Circumſtance of time or place. Cook 8. Part, 133. Turner's Caſe.

7. In Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was; That the Defendant being poſſeſſed of an Intereſt of a Term, as Executor to J. S. who was indebted to the Plaintiff, in conſideration that the Plaintiff would not moleſt him, but would defer the payment till Mich. promiſed to pay him the mony, or to aſſign to him Land for it at Mich. next, upon Aſſumpſit, and found for the Plaintiff; Error was brought, and aſſigned for Error, That the Plaintiff had not averred that the Defendant had Aſſets in his Count. But it was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff in his Count need not aver that the Defendant hath Aſſets, for the Law ſhall preſume the ſame prima facie; and that the Teſtators would not leave a greater charge upon his Executors, or his Heir, then he would leave to diſcharge it withall, and therefore Aſſets ſhall be intended. Cook 9. Part' 94. Bates Caſe.

8. Tenant for life, the Remainder over in Fee, by Indenture demiſed the Lands for 15 years, rendring Rent to the Leſſor, his Heirs and Aſſigns, without any Warranty in the Deed, or expreſſe Covenant, That the Leſſee ſhould enjoy the Term: The Leſſor dyed within the Term, he in the Remainder entred upon the Leſſee: who brought Covenant upon the Indenture againſt the Executors of his Leſſor: And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Plaintiff ſhould be barred for theſe defects, in his Declaration. 1. Becauſe he had not alledged in fact, that he was poſſeſſed, and afterwards expelled, &c. but by Implication. 2. Becauſe the particular eſtate, with the Remainder, was not certainly alledged; and not by an eſque, &c. Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 257.

9. Treſpaſſe, Quære, Clauſ: fregit was brought againſt two; one appeared, and the other was Outlawed: and the Plaintiff declared againſt the one onely, who was found Guilty by Verdict. It was moved, That he ſhould have Declared againſt them both, or againſt the one ſimul cum, &c. but the Court held the Declaration good, and if not good; yet it is helped by the Statute of Jeofailes, Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 109.

10. Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt a Sheriff, That where an Execution was directed unto him, he by vertue thereof had taken goods to the value of the Execution, and had ſold them for leſs, and had not Returned the Writ. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration, becauſe it was alledged to be double. But the Court held the contrary, for that an Action upon the Caſe is like to an Action of Covenant, where a man may ſhew all the Covenants broken. And if one matter be depending upon another, it ſhall not be double; and here all is for not returning the Writ. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 97. Matthewes Caſe.

11. A. brought an Action of Debt upon an Obligation of J. B. and his wife, Executrix of the Will of H. H. nuper dict H. G. of London Taylor. They pleaded in barr a Recovery againſt them in the Kings-Bench as Executor. Teſtament. H. G. nuper dict. H. G. of London, Barber-Chirurgion; and the Defendant did not aver, That the ſaid H. G. Taylor, and H. G. Barber-Chirurgion, was one and the ſame perſons; and the word (predict.) was alſo omitted in the plea. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was not good; although it was alledged, It ſhall be intended all one perſon; and then if a plea in barr be good to a Common intent, it is good enough: For it was ſaid by the Court, That he by Common intent, he ſhall not be intended the ſame perſon, but rather the contrary:

trary: For common intent, is that which shall be intended more strong then any other, and not that which resteth indifferent: but here common intent is, that he was another person, because Barber-Chirurgion, and Tayler, are distinct Functions by common Intendment. Mich. 39 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 111.

12. In an Ejectione Firme, the Original bare Teste 13. Aprilis, Anno 39 Eliz. and the Plaintiff declared upon a Lease made to him 22. Aprilis, Anno 39 Eliz. so it appeared to the Court, That the Plaintiff brought his Action before he had any Interest in the Land. And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That Judgment should be arrested. And afterward the Plaintiff came, and shewed, How that after Imparlance, he filed a new Original. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Goldesbr. 115. Bacon and Selings Case.

13. In an Ejectione Firme, the Ejectment was supposed to be 100 acres of Lands in D. and S: the Jury found the Defendant guilty of 10. Acres, and did not shew in what Town they lay: Whereupon it was moved in Arrest of Judgment, for that it doth not appear where the Sheriff may put the Plaintiff in possession. But the Exception was disallowed, for the party at his perill ought to shew unto the Sheriff the right Land. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Thomas and Kings Case. Goldesbr. 188.

14. An Executor brought Debt, and in his Declaration said, That the Testator in his lifetime was possessed of Land for Term of years, and so possessed, granted part of his Term to a stranger reserving rent; and that he granted his estate to the Defendant; and that the Testator dyed possessed of the Reversion of the Term; and because the Rent was behind, he brought the Action of debt for the Rent. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was not good, for that it did not appaer, that he that made the first Demise was seised in Fee, or of any other estate by which he could make a Lease. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Scott and Herbert's Case. Browalow, 1. Part, 48.

15. An Action was brought upon the Statute of 1 & 2 Philip and Mary; which Statute is, That no distress shall be driven out of the Rape, Wapentake, Hundred, or Laith, where such distresse is, or shall be taken, except it be to the Pound overt within the same County, not exceeding 3. miles distant from the place where the distress was taken. And the Plaintiff declared of a Distresse taken in a Hundred in such a County, and that he drove it 6. miles out of the County: And because a Hundred may be in divers Counties, and the Statute is, That the driving ought to be no more then three miles out of the Hundred; and it might be, that the driving was 6. miles from the place where the Distresse was taken in another County, and yet not 3. miles distant from the Hundred where the Distresse was taken, for that cause it was not adjudged against the Defendant. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 11.

16. A man brought an Action upon the Case, because he caused him to be Indicted and arraigned, &c. to his damage, &c. and the Plaintiff did not shew in his Declaration, That he was Legitimo modo acquietatus. It was said by Clench, Justice, That a man shall not have an Action without cause; and he hath not shewed, whether he was convicted or acquitted: and he said, There is no difference betwixt an Action upon the Case, and a Conspiracy in such case, but onely that a Conspiracy ought to be by two at the least, and an Action upon the Case may lye against one: and he said, in both, he ought to shew, That he was Legitimo modo acquietatus. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Shotbold's Case. Godbolt. 76.

17. An Action upon the Case was brought, because the Defendant had spoken these words, viz. That the Plaintiff had said many a Masse to J. S. In this case it was said, That the Declaration was incertain, viz. The places where the Masses were said, were not alledged, nor the day when they were said; for it might be, that the Masses were celebrated in France, or in some other places out of the Kingdome; and the Statute also doth not appoint any penalty, if they be not Indicted within a year, and a day. And for this cause, it was adjudged, That the Declaration was not good, nor the Action lyes. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 106.

18. A. brought an Action of Assault and Battery, and declared, Quod cum the Defendant verberavit, and did not shew certain, nor alledge precisely in his Declaration, That the Defendant did beat him: and Mich. 39 Eliz. Sheriff and Bridges Case was vouched, where such a Declaration was not good. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good enough, notwithstanding the said Judgment of 39 Eliz. Pasch. 12 Jac. in B.R. Sherlees Case. Godbolt. 251.

19. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverse a Judgment given in the Court at Lincoln, in an Action of Trespasse there brought, for taking away a Box with Writings. And the Errour assigned was, because in his Declaration there he saith, That the Defendant took away a Box with writings, and doth not make title to the Box, nor shews, that the same was lock'd, nayled, nor sealed; nor doth set forth the Quality of the Evidences, whether they were Releases, Deeds of Feoffment, or other Evidences particularly. And for these causes, (amongst other) the Judgment was reversed.

20. A. brought an Action againſt B. for erecting a houſe in a certain place called Riſborough-Common; and alledged in certain, That every one who had Common in Riſborough prædict. &c. and did not alledge, That the Common is in the Manor of Riſborough. But he declared, That there is ſuch a Cuſtome within the Manner of Riſborough. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good, becauſe there is but one Riſborough alledged, and therefore of neceſſity it muſt be meant, de Maneria, &c. Paſch. 10 Jac. in B. R. Clayton and Sir Jerom Horſey's Caſe. Godbolt 252.

21. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, That the Obligee 28 Aug. 4 Jac. ſhould go from Aldgate in London, to the Parith Church of Stow-Market in Suffolk within 24. hours: and the Plaintiff ſhewed, That he went from Aldgate to the ſaid place: and becauſe he did not ſhew in his Declaration, in what Ward Algate was, It was holden by the Court, That the Declaration was not good. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Croſſe and Caſons Caſe. Godbolt 160.

22. In an Action of Treſpaſſe, the Declaration was, That the Defendant had felled 20 perches of Hedging; whereas it ought to have been, That the Defendant had felled a Hedge containing 20 perches; for a man cannot cut a Mathematical Hedge. But the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Declaration was good, notwithſtanding the ſaid Exception; for that it is the common ſpeech to ſay, 20 perches of Hedging, a Pint of Wine, an Acre of Corn, &c. See 17 E. 4. 1. acc. Paſch. 21 Jac. in B. R. White and Edwards Caſe. Godbolt 286, 287.

23. An Action upon the Caſe was brought in the Common-Pleas; and the Plaintiff declared, Quod diu fuit, et adhuc ſeiſitus exiſtens of a houſe, &c. and he did preſcribe, That he and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he had in the ſaid houſe, had uſed to have Common in the Waſte of L; and that the Defendant 15 Jac. made Cony-berries in the Waſte, Quorum quidem præmiſſorum he loſt his Common. Judgment was given in the Common-Pleas for the Plaintiff there. Whereupon Errour was brought, and aſſigned for Errour: 1. That diu ſeiſitus was not good, becauſe it hath not any Limitation of time: for it may contain as well 40 years, as one year. 2. Errour, Becauſe he doth not conclude, Quorum quidem præmiſſorum prætextu, he loſt his Common; but he ſayes, Quorum quidem præmiſſorum, he loſt his Common; and leaves out the word (prætextu) which ought to have been in the Declaration. But here, the Declaration is incertain, both in the ſeiſitus, and in the alledging of the damages. And of that Opinion was the whole Court. And for theſe cauſes, the Judgment given in the Court of Common-Pleas, was reverſed. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Sir Thomas Lee and Griſley's Caſe. Godbolt 347, 348.

24. In Treſpaſſe, the Original bare Teſte 3. January, 6 Jac. And in the Declaration the Treſpaſſe is ſuppoſed 20. Jan. 6 Jac. which is after the Teſte of the Original. In this caſe it was agreed by the whole Court, That the Declaration was not good, and that it was not amendable by the Statute of Jeofails. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow, 2. Part, 273.

25. Note, in a Count or Declaration, If the Plaintiff reciteth a Statute (which he needs not to do, being a generall Statute, of which the Juſtices are bounden to take Notice) in ſuch caſe if he miſrecite it, as in the date, or otherwiſe, his Count ſhall abate; for although it was not requiſite to recite it, yet he making uſe thereof by way of Recitall, he ought to recite it as in truth it is. Becauſe when he hath grounded his Action upon a Statute by him recited, or where it appears to the Court judicially, that there was no ſuch Statute at that time; he hath made his Declaration naught upon his own ſhewing. See Plow. Com. 84. in Partridge and Strange's Caſe. See there, That a Declaration ought to have, 1. Certainty, ſo as the Defendant may know to what to make anſwer. And therefore when of neceſſity a thing muſt be ſhewed incertain in the Declaration, it muſt by no means be left out. 2. Verity ought to be joyned with the Certainty; for if it appear to the Court, that falſhood is produced inſtead of truth, the party that ſheweth it, hurteth himſelf. Ibid. 84. a. b.

26. Errour was brought of a Judgment given in the Court of the Pallace of Weſtminſter, in an Action upon the Caſe of Aſſumpſit. And it was aſſigned for Errour, That in the ſaid Action, the Plaintiff declared, That 23. December, 13 Car. in Conſideration of a ſum of money, the Defendant aſſumed and promiſed, That he, 23. January, 13 Car. would pay ſuch a ſum of money to the Plaintiff: and becauſe it appeared by the Plaintiff's own ſhewing, That the Action was brought, before there was any cauſe of Action. The Court held, That the Declaration was ill, and the Judgment was errronious; and therefore it was reverſed. Hill. 19 Car. in B. R. Smith and James Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 415.

27. Errour of a Judgment in the Court of Marſhalſea; Upon an Action upon the Caſe upon a promiſe, The Plaintiff declared, That in Conſideration of ſuch a ſum of money received, that the Defendant promiſed, that he would pay him ſuch ſuch a ſum when he returned into England from Hamborough being beyond the Seas: and alledged, that ſuch a day he went over the Sea to Hamborough, and returned ſuch a day to the Pariſh of St. Clements Danes, London; and that he delivered the money, and the Defendant had not paid it. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, it being found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given; Errour was brought, and aſſigned, becauſe the Plaintiff did not alledge, That he gave notice to the Defendant of his Return: and although it was alledged, That the Defendant habens noticiam inde, and upon ſuch a day requeſted, had not paid it: yet it was holden, That the Declaration was inſufficient for this cauſe, for he ought to have alledged expreſſe notice, and ſhewed the day and place of ſuch notice given. The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 412.

28. Audita Querela by 3. to avoid a Judgment againſt the ſaid 3. in Treſpaſſe, where one of them was onely taken in Execution upon the Judgment. Exception was taken to the Writ and Declaration, becauſe he who was in Execution onely ought to have had the Audita Querela; and the others not being grieved, ought not to joyn in it. But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, for they being parties to the Judgment, and lyable to the Execution, although it was never had againſt them; yet they might well have Audita Querela, and joyn with him who is in Execution. Another Exception was to the Audita Querela, That it was not good; which was, That whereas one J. S. was ſued in the Common-Pleas for a Battery ſuppoſed to be done in London, and by Verdict, the Plaintiff had Judgment for 3 l. damages and Coſts; and the ſaid J. S. taken in Execution for the ſame; That afterwards he and the other Defendants were ſued in this Court for this battery ſuppoſed to be done in the County of H. and they 3. were by Judgment condemned in this Court: and it appeared, that this Action, and the Action in the Common-Pleas, were for one and the ſame Battery: and the Plaintiff had acknowledged ſatisfaction of the Judgment to J. S. in the Common-Pleas, and yet notwithſtanding againſt Law, had ſued Execution of the ſaid Judgment, where he was ſatisfied for the ſame Treſpaſſe. And hereupon the Defendant demurred in Law. For the Defendant in the Audita Querela it was moved, That this cannot be ſurmiſed, becauſe the one Recovery being in London, and the other in the County of H. it cannot be Intended, to be one and the ſame Battery, ſed non allocatur: For the Action being tranſitory, may be layed in what County the party pleaſeth; and it being averred by the Record to be one and the ſame Treſpaſſe, and not divers, and this being confeſſed by the Demurrer, the Plaintiffs are not ſuch ſtrangers to the Record, but that they may have benefit of the ſatisfaction by the ſaid Record, and becauſe they are all parties to the act, the Law gives liberty to every one of them to take advantage of any act of theirs, for the others diſcharge. Hill. 11 Car. in B. R. Corbitt and Bates Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 320.

29. In Debt upon a Leaſe for years, the Plaintiff declared of a Leaſe of a Meſſuage vocat. M. Farme, in C. in Com. Midd. ac omnia domus, ædificia, &c. in M. H. F. & C. in dict. Com. vel eorum aliquibus; and of an Acre of Meadow vel paſtur. It was moved, That the Declaration was not good, for the Incertainty. But it was Reſolved, The Declaration was ſufficient; It being grounded upon the Contract; for in ſuch caſe the Declaration may be as general as the words of Demiſe are. But in an Ejectione Firmæ, where the poſſeſſion is recoverable, there the certainty of the Land, and in what place it lyeth, muſt be ſhewed. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Matthewſon and Rowes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 124. Sir William Read's Caſe, in Scaccario Chamber adjudged acc. ibid.

30. Action upon the Statute of Winton of Hue and Cry; The Plaintiff in his Declaration ſhews the ſaid Statute, and that ſuch a day he was robbed of ſo much in the Hundred of L; and that he made Hue and Cry: and that according to the Statute of 27 Eliz. within 40 dayes before the Action brought, he was ſworn before ſuch a Juſtice of Peace, that he was robbed of ſo much, and did not know any of the parties; and concludes, Contra formam Statuti prædict. It was ſaid, The Action was not good, becauſe founded upon two Statutes both mentioned in the Declaration; yet he concludes, contra formam Statui prædict. and not, Statutorum prædictorum. But the Court held it the beſt form, to be contra formam Statui prædict. for that the Action was founded upon the Statute of Winton, which gives the penalty; and the other ſhews onely how the Execution ſhall be, but gives not any Action: and Statuti prædict. refers onely to the Statute of Winton. Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Andrew and the Hundred of Lewknors Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 187.

31. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That in Conſideration he would marry ſuch a one his Coſin, that he would give him 100 l; and alledgeth, That he married her ſuch a day and place. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, The Declaration was not good, becauſe it is not alledged, that he gave notice of his marriage. But it was Reſolved, That the Declaration was good enough; for it is a neceſſary intendment, That when after the marriage he requeſted queſted the payment of the money, that notice was given of the marriage. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Bradley and Toders Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 228. See Morley and Hodges Caſe, in the Exchequer-Chamber, adjudged acc. Ibidem.

32. Treſpaſſe. Quare Clauſum fregit, et ſpinas ſuas ad valentiam ſuccidit. Upon Not-guilty, found for the Plaintiff; It was ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe it doth not ſhew the quantity of the Lands or Land, ſo it is incertain; as in Cook 5. Part, Playters Caſe. Quare piſces ſuos cepit. But upon the view of many Preſidents produced and ſhewed, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, That the Declaration was good. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Jones and Wilſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 435.

33. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, whereas he bought of the Defendant a parcell of Gum, containing 28. Hundred weight, at 3 l. 8 s. the hundred weight, good and Merchandiſeable; and had ſatisfied the Defendant for it in Linnen, called Holland, at 16 d. the Ell: And whereas there was the ſame day a Communication betwixt them, concerning another parcel of the Defendant's Gum, which he affirmed to be upon the Sea, and was to come to London in May following, and which he affirmed to be as good as the other. The Plaintiff thereupon promiſed to the Defendant, That if the ſaid parcel did not exceed 2000 weight, he would within 4. moneths after the delivery of the ſaid parcell to J. S. the Plaintiff's brother, deliver to the Defendant ſo much Holland, according to the rate of 16 d. the Ell, as the ſaid Gum ſhould amount unto after the rate of 3 l. 8 s. the 100 weight. And the Defendant in conſideration made, promiſed to deliver to the ſaid J. S. the ſaid parcel of Gum, when it ſhould come to the Port of London; and ſhould be as good as the firſt was. And then ſhews, That the Defendant delivered to the ſaid J. S. 8. baggs of Gum not ſo good as the former, containing 1800 weight of ill, and not Merchandiſeable Gum, although the Plaintiff had delivered to him ſuch a Quantity of Cloath according to the Rate aforeſaid, in ſatisfaction thereof. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff. Errour was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber. And it was there adjudged, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe it was not averred, That the parcell of Gum which he delivered, was the ſame Gum which was upon the Sea; nor that this Quantity came to the Port of London, nor that it did not exceed 2200 weight; for if it were another parcell of Gum, it was not within the promiſe: and although it was ill, and not Merchandiſeable, it was not materiall, not being within the promiſe, and it was his folly to accept of it; and it ſhall not be helped by an Intendment. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1141. Weſton and Dikes Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 235.

34. In Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was; The Plaintiff declared, That whereas A. was poſſeſſed of Lands in M. for the Term of divers years of the Demiſe of J. S. and whereas there was a Communication betwixt A. and the Defendant, for his Eſtate and Intereſt; the Defendant at M. aforeſaid, in Conſideration the Plaintiff would procure the ſaid J. S. to Licence the ſaid A. to aſſign his Leaſe and Intereſt to the Defendant, promiſed he would pay all his charges, and as much as he deſerved for obtaining thereof, not exceeding 44 s. And alledged, That he at M. procured J. S. to grant a Licence; and that he deſerved for his pains 20 s. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, Errour was brought; and amongſt other things, it was aſſigned for Errour, That he alledges the promiſe to be, to pay tantum, quantum meruit; and avers, That he deſerved 20 s. which is an Incertain and void promiſe: for it cannot appear what he deſerved. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was good enough, and certain enough; and he ſhall make the demand what he deſerved; and if he demand too much, the Jury ſhall abridge it according to their diſcretion. Paſch. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 423. Hall and Wallands Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 618. See Hill. 7 Jac. Ive and Cheſter's Caſe. A Tayler brought ſuch an Action, and alledged to pay tantum quantum meruit, for the making of ſuch garments, and Recovered. Hill. 11 Jac. Shephard and Edwards Caſe. A Phyſitian brought ſuch an Action, and declared upon a promiſe, to pay tantum quantum meruit, for ſuch a Cure; and that he deſerved 100 l. Adjudged, the Declaration was good.

35. Aſſumpſit; The Plaintiff Declared, whereas the Defendant was endebted to him in 5 l. pro redditu antelayce debito: That the Defendant promiſed to pay him 5 l. quandocunque requiſitus And alledged, that after requeſt at ſuch a day, year, and place made, he had not paid, &c. It was ſaid, The Declaration was not good, becauſe he hath not ſhewed when the Rent was due, nor for what Term, nor upon what contract: Yet becauſe the Defendant had taken notice thereof, affirming he had paid it; and Iſſue joyned thereupon; It was holden by the Court, That the Declaration was good, which otherwiſe it had not bin. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Slack and Lowſalls Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 668.

36. An Information was upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for ingroſſing of divers ſtocks of Corn; and it was by the word Cumulus. It was adjudged not good for the incertainty; for it might be a heaped, threſhed, or in ſhocks; And Detinue lyeth not de Cumulo: And an Indictment de uno Cu- multo tritici pretii, is not good. So a Pracipe quod reddat virgini libratas terræ, is not good for the incertainty, for the ſame ought to contain certainty, becauſe of the habere facias poſſeſſionem: And alſo this Information being upon a penall Law, the certain quantity of the Corn Ingreſſed, ought to appear to the Court. Adjudged, the Information not good, for the great incertainty in it. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Gold. sborow and Whicher's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 317.

37. In Treſpaſs for Aſſault and Battery, The Plaintiff declared, Quod cum ſuch a one did Aſſault and beat him. It was agreed by the Court, That this Declaration in this manner with a Quod cum, was not good, for that it is but a rehearſall, and it is not an Affirmative, That he was beaten. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Sherlnd and Heaton's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 215. See Trin. 37 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 349. Sherive and Bridgman's Caſe. acc. ibid. But if the Declaration had bin, Quod cum he was in pace Domini Regis, the Defendant did Aſſault him contra pacem, this had bin good: for that there is a Relative to the Quod cum, which alwayes preſuppoſeth ſome matter ſubſequent, to be depending upon it.

38. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes: The Caſe was, The Huſband claimed the Tythes in the Right of his Wife, and in the Declaration averred the life of the Wife. Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe he doth not ſhew how he hath the ſame; And another Exception was taken to it, becauſe it was not ſhewed that the Grant was by Deed, becauſe the thing it ſelf cannot paſſe without Deed. For the firſt, the Court held, That to ſay generally, Poſſeſſor, Occupator, Firmarius, or Proprietarius, was good; and for the ſecond point, the Declaration is good, becauſe it is but an Inducement to the Action. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Babbington and Matthewes Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 228.

39. The Caſe was, A. being Lord of the Manor of D. did Covenant for himſelf, his Heirs, Executors, Adminiſtrators, and Aſſigns, within ſeven years, upon requeſt, to ſettle, and convey upon the Plaintiff, a Copyhold Eſtate for the Term of his life, according to the Cuſtome of the Manor, this to be done upon requeſt, made by the Plaintiff, to him, his Heirs, Executors, or Aſſigns. The Plaintiff ſhewed, That A. dyed, and that he requeſted the Defendants, the Executors of A. to perform it within the time, which they refuſed to do: And by the Covenant, it was to be done infra unum menſem poſt rationabilem requiſitionem: And it was not ſhewed in the Declaration, what Eſtate A. had in the Manor. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the Requeſt was not well made, being made to the Executors, and ſo no breach of Covenant, For the requeſt ought to have bin made to the Heir, for that A. ſhall be intended to have a Fee-ſimple. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the requeſt made to the Executors was good: and it ſhall be taken, that the ſaid A. had but a Term in the Land: and the Executors do repreſent the perſon of the Teſtator, as to the performance of Covenants to be by him performed: and it being here generally taken, and no eſtate ſhewed, It ſhall be intended, that he had onely an Eſtate for years in the Manor; and if he had no eſtate at all in the Manor, yet his Executors are bound to procure this to be done at their perill; and therefore the requeſt made to the Executors, and their non performance, is a breach of the Covenant: and the Action of Covenant well brought, and the Declaration upon it well and good enough. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Thurſeden and the Executors of Warthams Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 158, 159.

40. In an Action upon the Caſe for a promiſe, the Caſe was; There being a difference between the Plaintiff and the Defendant, concerning the Quantity of a Rent to be paid by the Defendant: The Defendant ſaid, That if J. S. would ſay, That the Rent reſerved upon the Leaſe was 6 l: he did then promiſe to double it to the Plaintiff. J. S. did affirm the Rent to be 6 l. Upon Non aſſumpſit, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe that no notice is layed therein to be given, of this to the Defendant; It being layed onely in the Declaration, That J. S. affirmed the Rent to be 6 l. and notice was requiſite, becauſe no certain time is ſet down, but is here indefinite: and it being to be done by a ſtranger, and under a penalty of doubling the Rent; Notice ought to have been given of it to the Defendant. But it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Declaration was good, although no Notice was layd in it to be given the Defendant: and the difference was taken, where one is ignorant of a thing to be done by him, there Notice is to be given to him of the ſame; but if a man undertakes to do a thing, there he alſo undertakes to perform all Circumſtances incident to the doing of the ſame, and that without Notice. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Declaration was good, without expreſſing any Notice. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Child and Hardres Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 143, 144.

41. Debt upon an Obligation, The Plaintiff declared upon a Bond to pay ſo much cum inde requiſitus fuit. The payment was to be made two dayes after the date of the Bond; but no ſum was moved in the Condition paid. Upon Nihil debet pleaded, found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the Declaration was not good; for this variance; no ſum being in the Condition. It was Reſolved.

Reſolved, the Declaration was good; for no ſum being in the Condition, the Bond is ſimple without a Condition; and ſo the ſame ought to be paid upon requeſt. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Dorrington and Walters Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 156.

42. In an Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was this; Certain Wares being ſold and delivered by the Plaintiff to J. S. ad requiſitionem of the Defendant: The Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff would give truſt and credit to J. S. for the ſaid Wares, ſo as the ſame did not exceed 100 l. he promiſed to pay for the ſame cum inde requiſitus eſſet; and the Plaintiff layed in facto, quod ſuper inde fiduciam dedit to the ſaid J. S. and had delivered him the ſaid Wares, which did not exceed 100 l. It was ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, the ſame being uncertain, being fidem dedit ſuper inde, and doth not ſhew in all the Declaration, whether this was before, or after the promiſe; and by Intendment, it may be taken as well the one, as the other: alſo, he doth not ſhew, whether J. S. hath paid it, or not. But it was, after long Argument, Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Declaration was good; for it is expreſſed in it, that fidem adhibens ſuper fiduciam illam deliberavit. And it was agreed, That ſuper inde, is as much as fidem dedit, when no time is mentioned before. And as to the Objection, That it may be that J. S. principalis debitor, hath paid the money; If this revera were ſo, it ought to come on the other ſide, to ſhew it. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 11 Jac. in B. R. Crank and Johnſons Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 74, 75.

43. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. cap. 13. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. It was moved, The Declaration was not good, for that the Statute therein is miſcited. In the Declaration, the Statute is recited to be, Quilibet ſubjectus dicti Domini Regis. The Statute being, Every of the Kings Subjects. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was a plain miſ-recital of the Statute: and for that cauſe it was adjudged, Quod Querens nihil Capiat per billam. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Tipping and Swans Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 119.

44. In an Action upon the Caſe for ſtopping a way; It was moved, That the Declaration was not good, it being therein ſet forth, That he ought to have a way over the Land of the Defendant for his carriages at any time when he ſhould have occaſion to uſe the ſame; and ſhews, That the Defendant ſtopped the ſame, ſo as he could not uſe it. The Exception was taken, becauſe in his Declaration he doth not ſhew, That he had occaſion to make uſe of the way, and how. But the Court held, It had been idle for him to have ſet forth, He had occaſion to uſe it, for that the Law ſayes ſo much for him; and he may have his Action for ſtopping of it, without ſhewing of the Cauſe he hath to make uſe of the Way. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Collicum and Tuckers Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 121.

45. Errour was brought, upon a Judgment upon Non ſum informatus pleaded in Debt: The Errour was, That the Original was againſt Sir Fr. Harris de Browton, and the Declaration was de Brewaton; and this was after Imparlance. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this was a plain Variance, and that therefore the Judgment thereupon given was erronious, and was out of the help of any Statute. Paſch. 10 Jac. in B. R. Harris and Shirley's Caſe. Bulſtr. 1. Part, 184.

46. In an Action of Debt, the Declaration was in placito debiti; and he declares as for an Annuity, as in a Writ of Annuity de annuali reddita & retro fore; it was 10 l. de annuali reddita: A Verdict being for the Plaintiff; It was moved, The Declaration was not good, being in placito debiti, being for 10 l. de annuali reddita. It was for the Plaintiff ſaid, That if Leſſee for years grants an Annuity to another for years, Debt will lye for it. In this caſe it was ſaid by the Juſtices, That in this Declaration there are all the words for an Annuity, and more alſo for a Debt; and that ſuch a vitious Declaration as this was never ſeen: Subſtrank is the word for an Annuity; which was alſo in his Declaration. And it was ſaid, That the Plaintiff in this caſe could not have Judgment. As it is an Action of Debt, he cannot have Judgment, becauſe it appears by the Declaration, that this was in caſe of an Annuity; neither can he have Judgment as for an Annuity, becauſe by his Declaration he demands the ſame as a debt. It was adjudged, That the Plaintiff Nihil Capiat per Billam. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Lucas and Fulwoods Caſe. Bulſtr. 1. Part, 15, 16.

47. Treſpaſſe, brought by the Maſter for an Aſſault and Battery of his ſervant; the aſſault was, for giving him a box on the Ear, ad damnum. In Arreſt of Judgment, it was moved, That the Declaration was not good, for that it is not layd in it, per quod ſervitium amiſit. And ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court. And ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged in the like caſe in one Glanvill's Caſe. Judgment was, Quod Querens nil Capiat per Billam. Trinit. 9 Jac. in B. R. Bulſtr. 1. Part, 163.

48. In Treſpaſſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant ſimul cum quodam J. S. clauſum ſuum fregit; being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved to ſtay Judgment, That the Declaration was not good; for it appeareth upon the Plaintiff's own ſhewing, That the Action ought to be brought againſt another not named in the Writ; notwithſtanding which, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff: And thereupon Errour was brought; and the ſame matter aſſigned for Errour. But all the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, and Barons of the Exchequer were of Opinion, that by the Common-Law the Declaration was not good for that reaſon. But it was agreed by them, If in Treſpaſs againſt one, who pleads, That the Treſpaſſe was done by himſelf and one B, to whom the Plaintiff hath releaſed; and the Plaintiff traverſeth the Releaſe; in that caſe for as much as the matter doth not appear upon the Plaintiff's own ſhewing, but comes in on the part of the Defendant, and not denyed by him, the Declaration is good. 2. It was agreed by them all, That now this defect in the principal caſe after Verdict, is helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. for that it doth not concern ſubſtance, but form onely. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 29 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Henley and Broad's Caſe. Leon. 41.

49. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That whereas he and one A. were joyntly and ſeverally bound to a ſtranger for the debt of the ſaid A: which A. dyed, and the Defendant married his wife, and ſo the goods of A. came to his hands: yet the Plaintiff 1. May after, which was the day of payment of the money, paid 25 l. for avoiding the forfeiture: and that the Defendant as well in Conſideration of the premiſſes, as that he might peaceably enjoy the goods, promiſed to pay the ſaid ſum cum inde requiſitus fuerit. The Jury, upon Iſſue joyned, found the payment of the ſaid ſum, and all the ſpeciall matter. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That although the Jury have found ſufficient cauſe of Action; yet if the Declaration be not according, the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment. And it was ſaid, That here the Plaintiff hath declared upon two Conſiderations; and the Jury hath found but one, ſcil. if he peaceably enjoy the goods of the Teſtator. Alſo the Plaintiff declared of a ſimple promiſe, and the Jury have found a Conditionall, Si gaudere poteſt, &c. and ſo the promiſe ſet forth in the Declaration, is not found in the Verdict: The Juſtices were of Opinion, That the firſt Conſideration was good, and then the promiſe is good. But the ſecond Conſideration is void, ſcil. that the Defendant ſhall enjoy the Teſtator's goods: and therefore the Court was clear of Opinion, That the promiſe found by the Jury, was not the promiſe alledged in the Declaration; and ſo the Iſſue was not found for the Plaintiff. The Judgment was ſtayed. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Muſted and Hoppers Caſe. Leon. 173.

50. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant would not ſuffer him to take unam Acram Ligni. It was moved, that the Declaration was not good; for it ought to have been unam acram boſci, and not Ligni, for that was incertain; but afterwards Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, becauſe damages onely were to be recovered; and the words were uſed onely but inducements to deſcribe the thing for which damages were onely demanded. 23 Car. in B. R. Long and Brunet's Caſe. Styles 19.

51. In Treſpaſſe, the Plaintiff declared againſt the Defendant, for breaking his houſe, and taking his houſe, and taking away Quinq; Inſtrumenta ferrea, Anglicè Fetters. In Arreſt of Judgment it was ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, for the word Inſtrumenta, is not a word which ſignifies Fetters, and it is too general a word, and may expreſſe any thing as well as Fetters: And ſuch was the Opinion of the Court; and there is a particular Latine word for Fetters, ſcil. Compedes; and the Anglice, cannot help it; and the word Anglicè in a Declaration, is to be uſed to help words of art, which cannot be expreſſed but onely by an Anglicè. Adjudged, the Declaration was not good. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Barker and Martin's Caſe. Styles 19. & 37. See Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Lodge and Weedens Caſe. See Paſch. 24 Car. in B. 52. Action upon the Caſe for theſe words; Thou Mutton-Monger Thief, bring home my ſalles bay. The Defendant Juſtified, That the Plaintiff had ſtollen a ſheep. Upon Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, the Declaration was not good; for that onely it chargeth the Defendant with ſpeaking of the words, and doth not ſay, dixit de Querente. It was the Opinion of the Court, that for that cauſe the Declaration was not good: alſo, the word dixit, was not in the Declaration; and then they cannot be ſcandalous. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Styles 70.

53. A. made a Leaſe for years of Lands reſerving rent; the Leſſee made the Defendant his Executor, and dyes; the Executor poſſeſſeth himſelf of the remainder of the Term; after, the Rent is behind, and A. the Leſſor brings debt, and declares againſt him in the Debet et Detinet. It was ſaid, It ought to be in the Detinet onely: and therefore the Declaration was not good in the Debet et Detinet. But it was Anſwered, and ſo Reſolved by the Court, That the Declaration was good, for that it is not for the diſadvantage of the Executor, and the Plaintiff hath his election to bring it either way: and ſo adjudged, 17 Jac. in

Pale

Pake and Mordyes Caſe, in C. B. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Hill. 23 Car. in B.R. Roys and Mers Caſe. Styles 79, 80.

54. In Debt, upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes; it was moved, that the Declaration was not good; for that it was for ſuch a Quantity of Grain, and doth not ſet forth what ſort of Grain; which is incertain, and ſo it may be for Grain which is not tytheable: for the word Grain, extends to Rape-ſeed, Cole-ſeed, Muſtard-ſeed, &c. Alſo, it was not ſaid, that it was in Cocks or Sheaves. But it was Ruled, That the Declaration was certain, and good enough; for that it is ſaid, Grain growing in ſuch a Field, which makes it certain: and the word (Grain) in common underſtanding is meant for Corn. 10 Car. in B. R. Goldſmiths Caſe adjudged accord. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Southcott and Southcott's Caſe. Styles, 108.

55. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had paid him ſuch a ſum of money, did promiſe to joyn in a ſurrender of certain Copyhold-Lands; and for not performing, he brought the Action. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration, for that the Plaintiff doth not alledge that he made any requeſt; for it was not a ſingle act to be done by the Defendant alone. And of that Opinion was the whole Court, that the Declaration was not good, and the Demurrer good. In this Caſe, it was alſo holden by the Court, That the breach was not well aſſigned: For the Plaintiff hath aſſigned a particular way how he ſhould ſurrender, ſcil. into the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor: whereas he did aſſume onely to joyn in a ſurrender, which may be in Court, or into the hands of the Lord, as well as into the hands of two Tenants. Trin. 24 Car. in the Kings-Bench, Freeborn and Purchaſe Caſe. Styles 107.

56. In Trover and Converſion of Goods, the Plaintiff declared, That the goods for which the Action was brought, came to the hands of the huſband and wife, and a ſtranger ad uſum ipſorum. It was adjudged, the Declaration was not good; for that the goods cannot come to the uſe of the wife, but of the husband onely. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Gallop and Simſons Caſe, Styles, 115, 126.

57. Debt brought upon an Obligation made to a woman dum ſola fuit: the Action was brought by the husband and wife, and the Declaration is ad damnum ipſorum; and adjudged good: for the money due upon the Bond not being paid to the woman whileſt ſhe was ſole, it was a damage to her; and now being Covert, it is a damage to the huſband alſo. Mich. 24 Car. in B.R. Styles 134.

58. In Treſpaſſe, Quare clauſum fregit, and eating his graſſe with Cattell. Upon Not-guilty, It was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment; and Errour brought, and the Errour aſſigned was, That the Declaration was uncertain: For the Plaintiff declares of breaking his Cloſe, and eating of his graſſe, cum quibuſdam averiis; and doth not ſay with what Cattel. It was Objected, That averia is a large word, and ſignifies cattel of divers kinds; and it is too general a word to declare upon. To which it was Anſwered and Reſolved, That where the thing it ſelf is in demand, and an Action is brought for it, as in Trover and Converſion, the thing ought to be particularly named: but here the Action is brought for damages for breaking his Cloſe, and eating his graſſe. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 1648. Brook and Brook's Caſe. Styles 170.

59. Treſpaſſe was brought, Quare filium et hæredem rapuit et maritavit. Exceptions was taken to the Declaration, becauſe the Plaintiff doth not ſay, cujus Maritagium ad ipſum pertinet; and for that he doth not ſay, that the heir was within age. But the Court held the Declaration to be good enough; for the ground of the Declaration is, Quare filium et hæredem rapuit; and the other words are onely for encreaſe of damages; and by the Law, the marriage of the Son belongs to the Father. Mich. 1651. Wood and Topham's Caſe. Styles 303.

60. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared amongſt other things, for plundering him of Viginti fardellas; Anglicè, Packs. It was ſaid, That the Declaration was good, becauſe he being a Carrier, cannot know what was in the Packs. And Trin. 10 Jac. Bedingfield's Caſe was vouched, where an Action was brought for a Library of Books. But it was Reſolved, That the Declaration was not good, but void for the uncertainty; for he ought to have expreſſed what was in the Packs. Mich. 1652. in B. R. Heath and Udall's Caſe. Styles 348. See Paſch. 1653. Herbert and Lanes Caſe. Styles 370.

61. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. upon an Aſſumpſit, to pay him ſuch Fees as ſhould be due unto him as his Attorney, in the proſecuting of a Suit for him in C. B; and ſuch moneys as he ſhould lay out in ſolliciting a Suit for him in the Chancery. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, and Judgment thereupon for the Plaintiff; Errour was brought, and aſſigned for Errour, That the Plaintiff in his Declaration did not ſhew particularly what ſums of money he had layd out for him, nor to whom he had paid them. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was not neceſſary ſo to do, for that might make the Declaration tedious; and if the Plaintiff Plaintiff ſhould bring any other Action again for any ſuch Fees which he hath recovered, the Defendant may plead the Recovery in barr to the Action. The Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 1653. Banks and Pratts Caſe. Styles, 428.

62. In an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was; A. being a Coachman, did by careleſs driving of his Coach, break a Pipe of Wine of B. which lay in the ſtreet; whereby much of the Wine run out, and was loſt: B. apprehended A, who thereupon promiſed, That if he would forbear to ſue him for the Wine, he would pay him as much as he had damnified. A Verdict was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, for that the Plaintiff had not averred how much the Wine was worth which was ſpilt, and ſo he could not tell what ſatisfaction to make the Plaintiff for it, for he knowes not the value. And, 2. There doth not appear to be any requeſt made of ſatisfaction. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good, for here doth appear an apparant damage, and the Defendant hath not ſatisfied the damage layd in the Declaration, nor pleaded any tender: and the Defendant is bounden to take Notice of the damage; and the Plaintiff is not bound to give him notice: and the Jury hath made the ſame certain. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1655. in B. R. Fowke and Preſcotts Caſe. Styles, 458.

63. Error brought to reverſe a Judgment in Dower: The Error Aſſigned was, That the firſt Declaration was of demand de Tertia parte unius Meſſuagii acr. terræ acras prati. acras paſturæ in H. all with blanks. But the ſecond Declaration after the imparlance was perfect, ſcil. de uno Meſſuagio 100. Acr. terr. 40. acr. paſt. 40. acr. prati cum pertinentiis in H. And thoſe were aſſigned for Errors in the Declaration; And the Opinion of the Court was, That they were Errors materiall; For the firſt is the materiall Declaration, and the ſecond is but a recitall of this Record; which is not helped by the Verdict. Paſc. 15 Jac. in C. B. Lowry and Gatacres Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 489.

64. In Aſſumpſit the Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant was endebted to him 200 l. for a Legacy given to his Wife, he promiſed, That if he would forbear the payment, that he would pay him for it, according to the rate of 10 l. per cent. And alledges, That he forbore him from 26. Auguſt. 17 Jac. which was the day of the promiſe, untill the time of the Bill exhibited, which was 26 Jan. 17 Jac. and that he had not paid the 200 l. nor 9 l. 4 s. for the forbearance for the ſaid time, Licet ſæpius requiſitus. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, The Declaration was not good, becauſe it is in confideration, that he ſhould forbear, and he doth not ſhew any time. 2. Becauſe it is alledged that 9 l. 4 s. is due for the ſaid time, but doth not ſay ſecundum ratum of 10 l. per 100 l. and in truth upon the computation, this is more then is due. It was the Opinion of the Court, That for theſe cauſes, the Declaration was not good. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Bayley and Parleyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Par, 603.

65. In a Writ of Error to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. in Treſpaſſe and Ejectment, The Plaintiff declared upon the Imparlance Roll upon a Leaſe made, 21. Jan. 10 Jac. Habendum 10. Decemb. in the ſame year, for four years. And upon the Iſſue Roll, he declared upon a Leaſe made, 30. Jan. 10 Jac. Habendum à viceſimo, Decembris in the ſame year, for four years; Upon Not-Guilty, the Jury gave a Verdict for the Plaintiff, upon the latter Leaſe made 30. Jan. and Judgment given for the Plaintiff; Error was brought. The queſtion was, Whether theſe by intendment might be taken for one and the ſame Leaſe. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the ſecond Leaſe doth vary from the firſt, and therefore cannot be intended to be the ſame Leaſe. And if upon the Imparlance, the Plaintiff doth declare in Debt, and upon the Plea Roll, he declares in Treſpaſſe, and hath Judgment; It is a materiall variance in a Writ of Error to reverſe it. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Milward and Watts's Caſe. Bulſtr. 3. Part, 229.

66. Debt for 800 l. And declares, for that the Defendant per ſcriptum ſuum Obligatorium 20. Eliz. Cognovit ſe teneri to the Plaintiff in 800 l. ſolvendum, cum requiſitus eſſet: And upon Oyer, it appeared to be, That a Statute Merchant was acknowledged, Solvendum at the Feaſt of Saint George the Martyr, which was a day certain. It was holden by the whole Court, That the Declaration was not good, but it was a fault incurable, and not to be amended. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. Fox and Jakes's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 316.

67. In Treſpaſſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant took and carried away at D. three load of Wheat, being ſevered for Tythes, contra pacem, &c. omitting the words vi et armis. After Verdict, upon Not-Guilty found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, that the Bill ſhould abate, for that it was an eſſentiall part of the Declaration, which induceth to have a Fine for the King: And of that Opinion was the whole Court, wherefore Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Paſc. 17 Jac. in B. R. Willis and Neilder's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 526. See Hill. 13 Jac. Webbed and Taylor's Caſe. A Judgment was reverſed for taking a hog of money, becauſe vi et armis was limited, being aſſigned for Error, ibid.

68. In

68. In Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant recovered againſt him 7 l. 10 s. for Coſts and damages, and upon that Judgment, the Plaintiff paid him 7 l. and the Defendant made him a releaſe of this Judgment, and by Deed Covenanted, that he would withdraw all proceſſe of Execution for that debt: The Defendant againſt his Releaſe, and againſt his promiſe, 20 Jan. 15 Jac. ſued a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt the Plaintiff for this debt returnable, 3 Trinit. following, which he delivered to the Sheriff, who arreſted him, and deteyned him in Priſon, untill he paid the 7 l. 10 s. The Defendant pleaded thereunto, that the Sheriff did not Arreſt him by his appointment, which being a vitious plea, the Defendant took exceptions to the Plaintiffs Declaration: and amongſt many, one was That it appears by the Plaintiffs own ſhewing, that he was not grieved by the proceſs of Execution. For it ſhewed, that the Sheriff arreſted him upon the 20th of July, which was a long time after the Retorn of the Writ, ſo it was done without Warrant, and is falſe Impriſonment in the Sheriff, who took him by colour of that proceſs; And for that cauſe, the Court held the Declaration to be ill. It was alſo ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe he declares upon a Deed, and recites but parcell of it; whereas he ought to ſhew the whole Deed: but that exception was diſallowed by the Court; but for the other exception, It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 16 Jac. in B. R. Bennis and Guyldleyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 505.

69. A. brought an Appeal of Burglary againſt B. and declared that the Defendant domum manſionalem of the ſaid A. felonicè fregit Burgaliter, &c. The Defendant pleaded Not-guilty: And he was Convicted of the Felony and Burglary: It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that the Count was inſufficient, becauſe this word (Burgaliter) was not of any ſignification, but the Count ought to be Burglariter, or Burgulariter. It was adjudged, that for that cauſe, the Count was inſufficient. And it was further Reſolved, That the Count being inſufficient, the party ſhould be diſcharged; And if the Count had bin ſufficient, yet being convict at the ſuit of the party, he ſhould not again be inſpeached at the Kings Suit. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Brookes's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 39.

2. Where a Count or Declaration which is not good, ſhall be made good by the Defendants Plea, Replication, or otherwiſe, et è contra.

1. THe Leſſee for life, and the Leſſor joyn in a Leaſe for Term of years by Indenture: the Leſſee dyeth, The Termor doth Waſte, And the Leſſor brings an Action of Waſte againſt him, ſuppoſing to be done ex dimiſſione ſua propria, without ſhewing the ſpeciall matter in his Declaration; but the ſame is diſcloſed by the Defendant in his plea in bar to the Action. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Writ and Declaration are now made good; and that the Plea is not good, for although that it was but a Confirmation of the firſt Leſſor, during the life of the firſt Leſſee; yet now by the death of the firſt Leſſee, it is become in Law, a Leaſe and demiſe made by him. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 234. Cook 1. Part, 77. in Bredon's Caſe. Cook 6. Part, 15. Treports Caſe. acc.

2. In Debt upon an Obligation, It behoves, to alledge a place where the Obligation was made, from whence the Viſne ſhall come; and if it wants a place, the Obligation is not good. But yet, If the Defendant pleads, That the Obligation was made by dureſſe at B. now the Declaration ſhall ſtand good, becauſe that the Deed is confeſſed. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 15. Mich. 29 H. 8. Dyer. 39. acc.

3. A man ſeiſed of black Acre in Fee, and of White Acre for years, by Deed granted a Rent out of both to J. S. for life, with clauſe of diſtreſſe in both. The Rent was behind, J. S. diſtreyned and avowed onely in White Acre. In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That the Avowry was inſufficient. 1. Becauſe in the Avowry, no mention was of any Land, but of the Land in which he had but a Leaſe for Term of years, whereas in his Avowry, he ought to have derived the Rent out of the Land in Feeſimple onely, for out of the ſame onely in Judgment of Law, the Rent for life was iſſuing. And although the Plaintiff in Bar to the Avowry, hath diſcloſed all the truth of the ſpeciall matter, which in the Judgment of Law, maketh for the Avowant, and he hath made his Caſe better for him, then the Avowant hath made it for himſelf; yet the ſame doth not make the Avowry which wanteth ſubſtance, good; for the Avowry, which is in the nature of a Count, ought to contain ſufficient matter, upon which he may have Judgment to have a Retorn of the Cattell, but if the Avowry, or other Count, or Replication, &c. wanteth form, or omitteth circumſtance of time, place, &c. there the plea of the other party may help ſuch imperfections, but cannot ſupply the defect of matter of ſubſtance. 2. Becauſe the Avowant pleaded the Grant out of the Term for years onely, and concluded virtute cujus, he was ſeiſed in Dominico ſuo ut de libero laico pro termino vitæ ſuæ, which was repugnant to have a Freehold out of a Term for years. Trin. 42 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 7. Part, Butt's Caſe. 25.

4. Note, It was agreed by Cook Chief Juſtice, That when the Plaintiff replyes, and, by his Replication, it appeareth, That he hath not cauſe of Action, there the Plaintiff ſhall never have judgment: But when the Plea in Bar is inſufficient in matter, or amounts to a confeſſion of the point of the Action: And the Plaintiff replyes, and ſhews the truth of the matter, to enforce his cauſe, which in Judgment in Law is not materiall; yet the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment. For ſometimes Counts are made good by the Bar; Bars by the Replication; Replication by the Rejoynder: For when the Count or Declaration wants time, place, or other Circumſtance, it may be made good by the Bar; And ſo of the Bar and Replication. But when a Count or Declaration wants ſubſtance, no Bar can make it good. And ſo of Bar, Replication, &c. But when the Plaintiff makes Replication, Sur-rejoynder, &c. and by that it appeareth, that upon the whole Record, the Plaintiff hath not cauſe of Action, there he ſhall never have Judgment, although that the bar, and Rejoynder be inſufficient, becauſe the Court ought to judge upon the whole Record. Cook 8. Part, 120. in Dr. Bonhams Caſe.

5. Covenant, for that Defendant, by Indenture demiſed to the Plaintiff a Meſſuage and certain Lands in C. for 60. years, and Covenanted, That he was then lawfully ſeiſed in Fee of an Indefeaſible. And the Plaintiff layed in facto, That at the time of the making of the Indenture, he was not lawfully ſeiſed in Fee. The Defendant pleaded Non eſt factum, and found againſt him. In ſtay of Judgment, it was moved, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe the breach is too generall, not ſhewing that any other was ſeiſed, nor any cauſe why the Defendant was not ſeiſed. But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, becauſe, as the Covenant is generall, ſo the breach may be aſſigned generally, eſpecially as this Caſe is, where the Defendant hath made the Declaration good by pleading Non eſt factum. So he allows of the breach, if it had been his Deed. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Maſcot and Ballatts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 369. 370.

6. A man made a Leaſe for ſix years. If J. S. ſhall ſo long live, and the Leſſor Covenanted with his Leſſee, That he had a full and lawfull power to demiſe the premiſes, according to the Indenture. The Leſſee brought Covenant, and alledged for a breach, That the Leſſor had not full power and Authority to demiſe the premiſes according to the Indenture: The Leſſor alledged a Concord betwixt them, and that he had payed 20 l. in ſatisfaction of the ſaid Covenant, and all other Covenants, upon which they are at Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff. Error was brought, and two Errors Aſſigned. 1. That the Plaintiff hath not averred that J. S. was alive at the time of the Commencement of the ſaid Leaſe, nor at the time of the Action brought. But it was Reſolved, That he need not to alledge that, becauſe the Covenant refers to the time of the Leaſe made, and then, be J. S. alive, or dead, the Action lyeth. The ſecond Error was, That the Plaintiff in his Declaration, hath not alledged what perſon had Right, Title, or Intereſt, at the time of the making of the ſaid Leaſe to the Plaintiff, by which it may appear to the Court, That the Defendant had not power to demiſe the premiſes: But it was Reſolved, That the Aſſignment of the breach of the Covenant was good, for he hath purſued the words of the Covenant Negative, and it lyeth more properly in the Notice of the Leſſor, to ſay what Eſtate he himſelf hath, than in the Leſſee, who is a ſtranger to it; And therefore the Defendant ought to ſhew what Eſtate he had in the Land demiſed, by which it may appear that he had lawfull power and Authority to demiſe it. Cook 9. Part, 60. Bradſhaw's Caſe.

3. Counts and Declarations, in ſeverall Actions: And where in ſuch Actions, the Count or Declaration ſhall be good, where not.

1. IN Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared of a Leaſe made to him, 8. die Maii, To have and to hold, for 21 years, exeunte proximè ſequent. virtute cujus poſtea, ſi eodem die, he entred, The Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good, and that he did not enter as a Diſſeiſor, before the Leaſe began, for the word exeunte, is to be underſtood immediately after the delivery, and ſhall not be intended the day after the date; and the word Poſtea doth declare, That he did not enter before the Leaſe made. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer. 286.

2. Inden-

2. Indentures of demiſe were engroſſed, bearing date 26. die Maii, 25 Eliz. To have and to hold, for three years, from thenceforth, and the Indentures were delivered at four of the Clock in the Afternoon. 20. June, Anno 25 Eliz. ſupradict. It was Reſolved, That (from henceforth) is as much as to ſay from the delivery, or à Confectione: for the making of the Leaſe doth begin from the delivery. 2. Reſolved, That in this Caſe, the day of the delivery of the Leaſe ſhall be taken inclusivè, and the day it ſelf is parcell of the demiſe. But if the Leaſe be to begin à die Confectionis, or à die datus, there the day it ſelf of the date is excluded. Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 1. Clayton's Caſe.

3. A man by Indenture, dated 4. Octobet, 4. and 5. Ma. bargained and ſold his Land in Fee, And after in Octab. Mich. which was the ninth day of the ſame Moneth, he bargained and ſold the ſame by Fine to another in Fee; And afterwards, 21. March. tunc proximè ſequent. which was the laſt day of the ſix Moneths, the Indenture was inrolled in the Chancery. It was a Queſtion, which of the Bargainees ſhould have the Land; And it was the Opinion of the Court, That the firſt bargainee ſhould have it: So ſee, from the date, which are the words of the Statute, or of the ſame ſenſe, or from the day of the date. Mich. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 228. Popham's Caſe. See Paſc. 34 Eliz. Franklie and Holland's Caſe. adjudged. acc.

4. The Plaintiff declared in placito Tranſgreſſionis againſt the Defendant pro eo quòd vi et armis cepit et chatellavit, his Cattel, by force of which, they went into the Land of J. S. for which he took them damage feaſant: and the Plaintiff was inforced to pay him 40 s. for the damage. Upon Not-Guilty, it was moved in ſtay of Judgment, becauſe he did not conclude contra pacem: The Bill being placitum tranſgreſſionis, and Declaration vi et armis. But it was holden by the Court, and ſo Reſolved, That the Action is not brought meerly for chaſing the Cattell, but for an eſpeciall wrong, ſcil. for chaſing them into another mans land, ſo as they were there Treſpaſſers: And although the Declaration be vi et armis, yet that doth not prove to be an Action of Treſpaſſe; for theſe words may be in Action upon the Caſe: And ſo although the Recitall of the Bill be in placito Tranſgreſſionis; yet it is not of neceſſity to be Treſpaſſe onely, but may ſerve for Treſpaſſe upon the Caſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 9 Car. in B. R. Tiſſin and Wingfeild's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 236.

5. Error brought here upon a Judgment in Ireland, in an Ejectione firmæ; of a Leaſe made by the Earl of H. there, of 40 Meſſuages, 500. Acres of Lands, 20 Acres of Paſture, 500 Acres of Bog, 100 Acres of Heath, in villis et territoriis of B. C. and D. and the Plaintiff there declared accordingly: And Judgment being given for the Plaintiff: Exception here was taken to the Declaration, That 100 Acres of bog was not good, for there is not any ſuch word known. But it was holden by the Court, That it was an uſuall word there, and well known; And if it were not, yet, the Plaintiff might releaſe his demand, as to that Land, and have his Judgment for the reſidue. Another Exception to the Declaration was, becauſe it was in villis et territoriis; but that was holden alſo good enough, for that they have one ſenſe, and if not, it is but ſurpluſage for Territories. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R. Metcarry and Eyres Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 368.

6. Error brought of a Judgment in Ireland, in an Ejectione firmæ, where the Plaintiff there declared de piſcaria in ſuch a River; And becauſe it was not ſaid terra aqua cooperta, nor of any Land but onely of a profit Apprender: the Court was Clear of Opinion, that an Ejectione firmæ did not lye thereof, no more then of a common Apprender, or Rent; And therefore that the Declaration was not good. But it was ſaid, That perhaps an Aſſiſe would lye of ſuch a Piſcary; becauſe it is proficuum in certo loco capiend. Paſc. 12 Car. in B. R. Herbert and Langhlayn's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 354.

7. Errour brought of a Judgment in C. B. in an Action upon the Caſe, upon Trover: The Error Aſſigned was, That the Writ was, Quod fuit poſſeſſionatus de diverſis bonis et catallis ad valentiam 20 l. and that he loſt them, and that they came to the Defendants hand's. But the Declaration was, quod fuit poſſeſſionatus de duobus Cadis de Claret-Wine, and one Hogſhead of White Wine, and doth not mention any value, ſo the Writ and Declaration do not meet, nor doth it appear that the Declaration is founded upon this Writ; and when the Declaration varies from the Writ in ſubſtance, it is not helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. And although the Statute helps where there is not any Originall, or that the Originall varies in form; yet it doth not where the Originall varies from the Declaration, in matter of ſubſtance: But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, for the Court held, That ad valentiam is not matter of ſubſtance in the Declaration; and, being after Verdict, it is helped by the Statute. Trin. 17 Jac. in B. R. Bradford and Ramſey's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 653.

8. Debt upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 9. of pretenſed Titles. The Plaintiff Declared, That whereas it was enacted, That no perſon or perſons of what Eſtate, &c. prout in Statuto. That the Defendants had Granted, bargained, demiſed, and to Farm let, for years, to A. and B. a Meſſuage, and 11. Acres of Lands to the ſame appertaining, in the County of G. of the value of 80 l. per annum; of which Lands and Tenements, the Defendants nor any of them, nor any of their Auncеſtors, nor thoſe from whom the Defendants claimed, were in poſſeſſion of them, nor of the Reverſion, nor Remainder, nor received the Rents and profits of them by the ſpace of a year before the ſaid bargain, grant, and demiſe thereof made. Upon this Declaration, the Defendants demurred in Law; divers Exceptions were to the Declaration. 1. That the Plaintiff had miſ-recited the Statute in the Date of it. 2. Had not declared the certainty of the years. 3. That the Declaration was not good, becauſe that Land cannot belong to a Meſſuage. 4. That the Declaration was double. 5. There wanted an Averment, That the Leſſors had a pretended Title: But it was Reſolved, For the 1. That the Plaintiff need not recite the Statute certain, becauſe it was a generall Law that the Juſtices are to take notice, and therefore the miſ-recitall not materiall. For the 2. Their Opinion was, That the Declaration was ſufficient, becauſe the Plaintiff is a ſtranger to the Leaſe, and by preſumption of Law, cannot have knowledge of it. 3. They all agreed, That Lands could not belong to a Meſſuage; but yet they agreed, That the Declaration as to that, was good, for that the quantity of the Land is expreſſed, ſcil. 11. Acres, and then the words appertaining to the Meſſuage, are void, and then it is a Meſſuage and 11. Acres of Land, in which Caſe the Declaration is good enough. And the better Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Declaration was not double. Hill. 7 E. 6. Plow. Com. Partridge and Strange's Caſe. 78. to 89.

9. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. cap. 13. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. The Plaintiff declared, whereas 30. Sept. 6 Jac. he was Proprietor of the Rectory of C. and of all the Tythes within the ſaid Pariſh, and whereas the Defendant the firſt of Sept. 5 Jac. was poſſeſſed for divers years to come, of 300 Acres of Land within the ſaid Pariſh, whereof 130 Acres were ſowed with Wheat 40 with Peaſe, 100 with Oats; And all Tythes in ſpecie for fourty years before the ſaid Statute were uſually paid: And whereas the Defendant the ſaid 30 Sept. 6 Jac. ſic inde poſſeſſionatus exiſtens, and all the Grain ad tunc creſcens, upon the ſaid Lands, did cut down, and carry away, without ſetting forth of Tythes, and without agreement with the Plaintiff ad tunc proprietar. of the ſaid Rectory; And ſet forth, that the Tythe of the ſaid Corn, ſo carried away, was worth 55 l. and demanded the treble value 165 l. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff himſelf ſowed that Corn, being poſſeſſed of the ſaid Land; and 5 Jac. ſold the Corn to the Defendant, and traverſed, that he was poſſeſſed from the time, &c. Upon which it was demurred, and adjudged for the Plaintiff, and 465 l. that he ſhould recover. Upon which, Error was brought; The Errors Aſſigned in the Declaration, were many; and the Declaration was not good. 1. Becauſe all the matter of the Declaration is by way of recitall, and the offence is not alledged by matter in fact, that he carried away the Corn, and that the Tythes were not ſet forth. But Reſolved, It is ſufficiently alledged, and as well as if it had bin by expreſſe charge, becauſe the Action is brought for not payment of treble value, and the other is but to ſhew, how it came due. Another Error Aſſigned; becauſe he ſheweth, he was Proprietarius, but doth not ſhew how, nor any Title: That, by the Court, was ſaid, to be but conveyance to the Action, and therefore non allocatur. 3. It is not ſhewed, by whom the Corn was ſowed: ſed non allocatur; for it is not materiall by whom it was ſowen, the Defendant being owner at the time of the reaping of it. 4. There is not any time alledged of the cutting and carrying it away. The Court was of Opinion, that the Declaration being, That he 30 Sept. 6 Jac. ſic poſſeſſionatus exiſtens of the ſaid Land, Meſſuit granum predict. Although he doth not ſay, ad tunc et ibidem, yet it is coupled with the former, by the word [Or] and hath reference to the former time: And the Court held the Law to be, That if one will buy Corn ſtanding of the Proprietor of the Rectory, if he hath not ſpeciall words to diſcharge it, he ought to pay Tythes of it. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Moyle and Ewer's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 361, 362. See Mich. 14 Jac. in B. R. Sands and Sandford's Caſe. agreeing with Moyle and Ewer's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 437.

10. Error of a Judgment in Northampton, upon a Writ of Covenant. The Error Aſſigned was, That the Declaration there was ill, becauſe he declares of a Covenant, whereby the Defendant covenanted to find the Plaintiff with meat, drink, apparell, and other neceſſaries, and doth not ſhew in particular what other things were neceſſary; alſo, the breach was aſſigned as general; and doth not ſhew what other things were neceſſary. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good; and therefore Judgment being there upon Nihil dicit, and entire damages given, the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Mills and Aſtell's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 486.

11. Errour of a Judgment in C. B. in a Writ of Covenant: The Errour aſſigned was, That the Declaration Declaration was not good; For it was upon an Indenture, which recites, Quod cum per Indenturam Teſtatum exiſtit, That B. enfeoffed the Plaintiff of ſuch Land, and therein Covenanted to diſcharge him, and ſave him harmleſſe from all former Dowers and Joyntures or Incumbrances: and ſhews, That F. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Land, before B. had any thing therein, and enfeoffed B; who enfeoffed H. the Plaintiff; and that the Wife of F. brought a Writ of Dower againſt him, and recovered. The Defendant demurred in C. B; and there adjudged for the Plaintiff. Errour brought, and Errour aſſigned, was, That it is not alledged by matter in fact that he enfeoffed him, and that he was ſeiſed in Fee; but onely Quod Teſtatum exiſtit, which is onely by way of recital; and therefore not good: But the whole Court Reſolved to the contrary. And the difference is, where it is by way of Declaration; and where it is by way of Barr, or Replication: For they held, That in the Declaration, Teſtatum exiſtit is ſufficient to induce the Action, and to aſſign the breach. The Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 17 Jac. in B. R. Bulivant and Holmes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 537.

12. Aſſumpſit; the Plaintiff declared, In conſideration the Plaintiff would pay to the Defendant ſuch a ſum of mony, the Defendant promiſed to take his Son to be his Apprentice for ſeven years, in ſuch a Trade, and to find him meat, drink, and apparell durante termino prædict. And Aſſigns for breach, That he did not find him meat, drink, and Apparell; And never avers, That he put him Apprentice, nor that the other accepted him: Upon Non-Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, this matter was moved, that the Declaration was not good: And ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court, for he ought to ſhew that he was Apprentice, otherwiſe he is not to find him meat and drink. And if it be alledged, that it ſhall be intended, foraſmuch as the breach is Aſſigned in not finding him meat and drink durante termino Apprenticii; which ſhews he was an Apprentice, and the Defendant admitting it by pleading Non-Aſſumpſit: Yet the Court held, That in regard he had not ſufficiently entituled himſelf to the Action, although the Defendant hath pleaded Non-Aſſumpſit, and it is found againſt him; yet the Plaintiff ought not to have Judgment. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1304. Talkorn and Wriggs Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 406.

13. Treſpaſſe was brought Quare clauſum fregit & piſces ſuos cepit: And in his Declaration he did not ſet forth the number, nor the nature of the Fiſhes. It was adjudged that the Declaration was inſufficient; And although that the Verdict found for the Plaintiff upon Not-guilty pleaded, yet when the Declaration is inſufficient, the ſame doth not make the Verdict good, and Declarations ought to reduce the generality of the Writ to particularity. 2. It was Reſolved, That the omiſſion of the Number and Nature of the Fiſhes was matter of ſubſtance, which was not remedied by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Mich. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 85. Player's Caſe.

Courts.

1. Of the Courts of Record at Weſtminſter: Their ſeveral Powers and Juriſdictions: Of Acts and Pleadings there; And where the Courſe and Preſidents of the ſaid Court ſhall be taken into the Nature of a Law: And what are ſaid to be Courts of Record: What not: And the different proceedings between the Kings Bench, and Common-Pleas.

FIrſt, Note in the Caſe of the Lord Sanchet, upon a Condition of Oyer and Terminer; It was ſaid, That the Kings Bench is the higher Court of ordinary Juſtice within the Realm, and above the Authority of Juſtices of Goal-Delivery, and Commiſſions of Oyer and Terminer; and is more then the Eyre; for they may examine the Errors of the Juſtices on Eyre, Goal-Delivery, and Oyer and Terminer: And the Juſtices of the Kings Bench are paramount all others, and cannot be included within inferiour Courts, as Juſtices of Goal-Delivery, or Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer: But it was Reſolved, That although the power of the Juſtices of the Kings Benches is ſo large and ſo great: Yet the Juſtices of the Kings Bench are the Soveraign Juſtices of Goal Delivery, and of Oyer and Terminer, and they are included within the ſaid words: And there the Juſtices of the King's Bench, according to the Statute of 2 Eliz. 6. Cap. 24. Writ to the Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer, and Goal-Delivery in London, to certifie a Record of Indictment upon the Arraignment of the Principal in London, who certified the Record accordingly. And in that Caſe, it was alſo holden by the Court, That if an Indictment of Forcible Entry be removed into the Kings Bench, the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, ſhall there award Reſtitution: and yet the Statute of 8 H. 6. is, and ſpeaks onely of Juſtices of Peace; but the Reaſon is, becauſe they have the Soveraign and Supream Authority in ſuch Caſe. And ſuch is the Juriſdiction of the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, That Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer cannot ſit in that County, where the Kings Bench is, ſitting the ſaid Court of Kings Bench. And therefore it was Reſolved, That the Lord Sanchet, in the Term time could not be Indicted, Arraigned, and Convicted at Newgate before Commiſſioners of Oyer and Terminer in the County of Middleſex. Trin. 10 Jac. Cook 9. Part, 118, 119. The Lord Sanchers Caſe.

2. An Information was Exhibited into the Kings-Bench, by the Kings Attorney-General, againſt Sir John Eliot, Denzel Hollis, and Ben. Valentine, Knights and Burgeſſes of Parliament, That the ſaid Sir John Eliot, machinans et intendens omnibus viis, et modis ſeminare et excitare, diſcord and ſeditions, as well verſus Regem, Magnates, Prælatos, Proceres, et ſubditos Regis, et totaliter deprivare et everterè regimen et gubernationem Regni Angliæ tam in Domino Rege, quàm in Conciliariis et Miniſtris ſuis cujuſcunq; generis; and to induce Tumults and Confuſion in all Eſtates; that all the Kings Subjects ſhould withdraw their affections from the King, 3. Febr. 5 Car. in the Parliament, falſly and malitiouſly uſed theſe words, viz. The King's Privy-Councel, his Judges, and his Counſel Learned in the Law, have conſpired together, to trample under their feet the Liberty of the Subjects of this Realm, and the Liberties of this houſe And afterwards, 2. Martii, Anno 5 Car. the King having appointed and ſignified his pleaſure to the Houſe of Commons for the Adjornment of the Parliament; the Defendants, 5. Car. 2. Martii, maliciouſly conſpired amongſt themſelves to diſtract the Commons, That they ſhould not Adjourn according to the Kings pleaſure ſo ſignified: and to the intent and purpoſe aforeſaid, in the ſaid Houſe of Commons, had ſpoken thoſe falſe and ſeditious words: and the Speaker endeavouring to get out of the Chair, according to the King's Command, They, vi et armis, manu forti et illicitâ, forcibly detained him in the Chair; and afterwards, he being put out of the Chair, they violenter, manu forti et illicitâ drew to the Chair, and thruſt him in, whereupon was great Tumult and Commotion in the Houſe, to the Terrour of the Commons there aſſembled, againſt their allegiance, in contempt and diſinheriſin of the King, his Crown and Dignity. The Defendants pleaded to the Juriſdiction of the Court, becauſe it is for Offences done in Parliament, and ought to be there examined, and puniſhed, and not otherwiſe. Upon which it was demurred. In this caſe it was adjudged, That they ought to Anſwer: For the Charge is for Conſpiracy, Seditious acts and practiſes, to ſtop the Adjournment of the Parliament, which may be examined out of Parliament; and the Kings-Bench might take Conuſance of it, and puniſh them: whereupon afterwards, they refuſing to Anſwer, Judgment was given againſt them; That Sir John Eliot ſhould be committed to the Tower, and pay 2000 l. Fine: and againſt the others, That they ſhould be Fined and Impriſoned, and find Sureties. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. The King and Sir John Elliot and Hollis Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 130, 131.

3. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Requeſts. The Caſe was; One, by his Will, deviſed a certain Legacy in money, and afterwards ſaid to his Executors, I have by my Will given ſuch particular Legacies; I would have you to encreaſe the ſame to ſuch a ſum: This by the Civil Law was held a good Legacy: and if for this Legacy there be any remedy to be had in the ſpiritual Court, and the Court of Requeſts will encroach upon the Juriſdiction of other Courts, and ſo draw the matter ad aliud examen: Whether the Kings-Bench might not correct it, was the Queſtion? It was Reſolved, That if the Court of Requeſts might not hold plea thereof, this Court (notwithſtanding it ſelf cannot hold plea thereof) may prohibit that, and other Courts from holding plea of ſuch things: For that this Court is to correct all Errour and proceedings in them. Paſch. 12 Jac. in B. R. Benſon and Cartwright's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 345.

4. Severall Informations were Exhibited againſt A. and B. for ſeveral Eſcapes out of the Priſon of the Gate-houſe: The Caſe was; The ſaid A. and B. were by the Kings Command committed to Priſon for miſdemeanour alledged againſt them in the Houſe of Commons in the laſt Parliament: Both of them being by Order of this Court to be removed to the Gate-houſe: The Warden of the Marſhalſee, where they were before impriſoned, ſent A. to the Keeper of the Gate-houſe, who received him to his houſe adjoyning to the Priſon, but being no part thereof: and afterwards Licenſed him with his Keeper to go to his Chamber in Grayes-Inne: B. alſo was delivered to the Keeper of the Gate-houſe; but, being ſick, he could not be delivered and removed to the priſon; but there remained in his Lodging in Fleetſtreet: Afterwards, the Plague encreaſing in London, they with the Licence of the Keeper retired to their ſeverall houſes in the Country for the ſpace of 6. Weeks; but they were never in the old priſon, unleſs when ſince they withdrew themſelves to a Cloſe-Stool, which was placed near the Parlour, and was part of

of the old Prison of the Gate-house: And all this appearing upon Evidence, It was a Question, whether this receipt and continuance in the new house onely, It may be said, that they never had been imprisoned. It was Resolved by the Court, That their voluntary retirement to the Close-stool made them prisoners: Also, that in this and all other cases, although a Prisoner departs from prison with his Keeper's Licence, yet it is an Offence as well punishable in the Prisoner, as in the Keeper. And it was Resolved, That the Prison of the Kings-Bench is not any Local Prison confined onely to one place, and that every place where any person is restrained of his Liberty, is a Prison. 5. A Certiorari was directed to the County Palatine of Chester, to remove a Cause into this Court; They made Return, That they have Jurisdiction of the Cause. It was said, That Return was not good: For that this Court hath Jurisdiction over all the Courts of England in Writs Mandatory; and an Act of Parliament doth not take away the power of this Court, if it run not in the Negative, and the Cause may be well tryed here, notwithstanding it be concerning a matter which ariseth in the County Palatine. And it appears in this case, That the Mayor and Citizens of Chester are parties, and so they would try their own case; which they ought not to do. It was the Opinion of the Court, For that it did not appear by the Return, that the matter of the Suit did arise within the Jurisdiction of the City of Chester, so as they have not shewed any Cause why they should have Jurisdiction, that they should make a better Return. Hill. 1650. in B. R. Alleyn's Case. Styles 255.

6. An Action of Debt was brought for 5 l. for selling Wine without Licence; A Verdict was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in stay of Judgment, That the Action was not well brought as it ought to be by the Statute of 18 Eliz. and that this being a popular Action, cannot be sued by Bill, but by Original. But it was Resolved, That the Action was well brought, for a Writ and a Bill is all one in this Court; and it is the common practice in this manner to sue in this Court: and it doth not appear, Whether the said Statute of 18 Eliz. meant to oust this Court of its Jurisdiction, but it is left at large in the Statute; and we conceive it to be an Original Action: and Platts Case is, That an Original Action may be by Bill: and the constant course here is, That the party being in Custodia Marischalli, he may proceed against by Bill: and this Court is not to be excluded from its Jurisdiction by obscure words in the Statute: wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1653. in B. R. Hill and Dechairs Case. Styles 381.

7. A Writ of Mandamus out of this Court was directed to the Master & Fellows of Gonvil & Caius Colledge in Cambridge, to restore one to an Ushers place of a Free-School in Cambridge, of which they were Visitors. It was said, That a School-master's place was a Temporal Office, and an Action upon the Case lyes for the party to recover it; and therefore a Mandamus which is an extraordinary course, ought not to be granted. And it was said, That the Master and Fellowes were no Corporation, to whom the Mandamus could be directed: and Boreman's Case of the Middle-Temple was cited, who prayed a Mandamus to be restored to that Society; where it was holden, That the Innes of Court are not Corporations, but voluntary Societies; and therefore could not be granted to them to restore him. On the other side it was said, That it was proper to have a Mandamus in this case: for a School-Master is a publique Office. And this Court hath Jurisdiction to reform all Grievances, and to keep other Jurisdictions in good Order, that they do not intrench one upon the other, and here is no Visitor to whom the party may appeal; and Mandamus hath been granted to prefer one to the place of a Town-Clerk: and so 5 Car. to the place of a Parish-Clerk: and Eslancks Case, to the place of a Common-Councel-man of London: and here the party hath an Imployment for life, though he hath not a Freehold: The Court doubted the Case; for that this being but a private School, and the party a School-Master but durante bene placito removeable at pleasure; and that he had not a Freehold in it: and conceived, That the Visitors might remove the Master of the School, if he observe not the rules of Government of the School; and it is as reasonable to turn him out, as receive him in: and therefore no Judgment was given in the Case. But the matter was Referred to the Lord Chief Justice St. John, Chancellor of the University of Cambridge where the School is. Trinit. 1655. in B. R. The Protector and Craford's Case. Styles 457.

8. Note: If the Court of Common-Pleas hold plea in an Appeal of Death, Robbery, or any other Appeal; and the Defendant is attainted, It was agreed by the Justices, that 'tis, Coram non Judice. But if the Court of Common-Pleas in a plea of Debt, doth award a Capias against a Duke, Earl, &c. which by the Law doth not lye against them; and the same appeareth in the Writ it self; Yet if the Sheriff arrest them by force of the Capias, although the Writ be against Law, notwithstanding, in as much as the Court hath hath Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, the Sheriff is excuſed: So if the Court of Common-Pleas hold plea in Debt, Treſpaſſe, &c. without an Original, it is not void; for they are Judges of theſe pleas: and it cannot be ſaid, That the proceeding is Coram non Judice. Cook 10. Part, 76. in the caſe of the Marſhalſee. See 38 H 8. Dyer 60. 19 E. 4. 8. acc.

9. A Writ of Priviledg was ſigned by all the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, for J. S. a Clerk under the Cuſtos Brevium, to free him from being a Souldier, reciting, That it is the Cuſtome and Priviledge of the Court, time whereof, &c. That neither the Attorneys nor Clerks of the Courts ſhould be preſſed for Souldiers, nor elected to any other Office ſine voluntate ſuâ; but ought to attend the ſervice of the Court. 10. A Servant to Serjeant Headley uſually attending on him was arreſted by a proceſs out of the Court of the Marſhalſee; whereupon he obtained a Writ of Priviledge out of the Common-Pleas, reciting, That Serjeants at the Law who are attending that Court, and their Servants ordinarily waiting upon them, ought to enjoy the priviledge to be ſued in that Court; and that the Writ of Priviledg being delivered to the Steward of the Court of Marſhalſee, he would not allow thereof. This matter being moved to the Court, ſuppoſing Serjeants at Law ought not to have ſuch priviledg for them and their Servants. But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That they ought to have the Priviledg, for they are properly attendant at this Barr, and none others are admitted to practiſe there. Whereupon the Writ was allowed, and the party diſcharged of the Suit in the Court of the Marſhalſee. Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Cro. 1. Part, 59.

11. Ejectione Firme of a Leaſe of a Meſſuage in Oxon. The Defendant pretended, That he being a Schollar in Oxford, and a priviledged perſon ought to be ſued there, before the Vice-Chancellor of Oxon, ſecundum morem univerſitatis, according to the Charters granted to the Univerſity in 3 R. 2. & 14 H. 8. confirmed 33 Eliz. And ſhewed, That they had Conuſans of all Suits, Contracts, Covenants, Quarrells, except concerning Freehold: And ſhewed an old Record of 22 E. 1. where a plea of Covenant was brought in the Court of the Vice-Chancellor of the Univerſity of Oxford, by reaſon of a Covenant made before that time: And the Writ of Covenant was, That he ſhould enjoy ſuch a houſe for a year. And becauſe the Court of Common-Pleas granted a Prohibition to ſtay the ſaid proceedings in that Court in the Suit, This Charter being ſhewed, and it appearing that the Action was brought upon the Contract, and not pro Domibus, a Conſultation was granted: But in the principal caſe, the Juſtices denyed to grant a Conſultation; and affirmed, That the Vice-Chancellor had not any Juriſdiction, nor might hold plea thereof; becauſe in this Action he ſhall recover the poſſeſſion, and ſhall have an Habere facias poſſeſſionem, and thereby he that hath a Freehold, may be put out of poſſeſſion. And it is not like the Record ſhewed, For there it is onely an Action of Covenant, where damages onely are to be recovered. Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Cro. 1. Part, 62. Halley's Caſe.

12. The King, ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee in the right of his Crown, granted Copyhold Lands parcell of the Mannor to one in Fee; and afterwards by his Letters Patents under the Seal of the Exchequer, made a Leaſe of thoſe Lands for 21. years; The Leſſee granted his Eſtate to the Copyholder, The King reciting the Leaſe for years, granted the Reverſion in Fee: The Leaſe for years expired, the Grantor of the Reverſion entred upon the Copyholder, It was adjudged, That his Entry was lawful. And, amongſt other things, it was reſolved, That the Leaſe under the Exchequer-Seal was good by the common uſage: For the Cuſtomes of the Kings Courts are as a Law; and the Common-Law takes Notice of them: and a Leaſe by order of the Exchequer by the word Committimus. Habend. et Tenend. et Reddend. ſuch a Rent is good by the ancient uſe of that Court. 13. Errour in the Exchequer-Chamber, of a Judgment given in the Kings-Bench in Ejectione Firme; The Queſtion was, Whether it might be examined in this Court? The Court was of Opinion, That they might not examine it, being after the Judgment entred. It was then moved, Whether an Errour in fact be aſſignable in the Exchequer-Chamber upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. becauſe the Statute onely gives authority to Examine Errours in Law. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was well aſſignable; for the Statute giving the Writ of Errour, gives authority to examine as well Errours in Deed, as Errours in Law. It was then moved, How it ſhould be tryed? It was ſaid, That it had been tryed by Niſi Prius out of the Exchequer-Chamber, and divers Preſidents ſhewed to that purpoſe: Some of the Juſtices doubted of it, that it was not the Intent of the Statute to give them ſuch Authority: But the better Opinion of the Court doubted of it, but inclined it might be done, becauſe the Statute giving authority to reverſe or affirm, implyes allowance of the means to do it. It was adjourned. See Mich. 43 Eliz. rot. 335. Rewe and Longs Caſe. Errour in

14. The Lord Viſcount Say having had Judgment to recover, a Writ of Errour was brought to remove the Record into the Exchequer-Chamber upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. cap. 5. which gives Writ of Errour upon a Judgment given in Actions upon the Caſe, Debt, Detinue, Accompt, Ejectione Firme, or Treſpaſſe. It was moved, That the Writ of Errour is not allowable, becauſe it is given in 7. ſeverall Actions there enumerated, and is not allowable in any other Action, as in a Replevin, Scire facias, &c. And although it be here in the principal caſe termed an Action upon the Caſe, yet it is more then an Action upon the Caſe; for the Action is of a higher nature, being founded upon the Statute of 2 R. 2. and is for the King and party; and this Action is out of the Statute; for the Statute is intended of Actions upon the Caſe; and this Action is Scandalum Magnatum, and grounded ſpecially upon the Statute. And it was ſaid, That after that Statute, no Writ of Errour hath been brought upon ſuch Actions. And it was ſaid, That if the Lords in Parliament had intended, that this ſhould have been examined by a Writ of Error any where but onely in Parliament, they would never have agreed unto: And of the ſame Opinion were the Juſtices. Mich 4 Car. in B.R. The Lord Viſcount Say and Stephens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 101. See Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Nevill and Sooths Caſe, That Errour did not lye upon a Judgment in a Scire facias in the Exchequer-Chamber; the ſame not being one of the Actions mentioned within the Statute of 27 Eliz.

15. In a Writ of Errour brought by Somerſet againſt Rawlyns; Errour was aſſigned, becauſe that Rawlyns the Plaintiff was an Enfant, and was admitted by Guardian, and no Record thereof made, but onely recited in the Record, Jo. R. per A.B. Gardianum ſuum in hac parte ſpecialiter admiſſum queritur, &c. All the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, and Barons of the Exchequer, in the Exchequer-Chamber, commanded, That the Preſidents of the Kings-Bench ſhould be ſearched, for without Preſidents prima facie, it ſeemed to them, That there ought to be a Record made of the ſaid Admittance by Guardian. And upon ſearch of the Records in the Kings-Bench, many were ſhewed to the Juſtices, where Enfants had ſued by Guardians in the ſame Court, and no Record made of their Admittance by Guardian, but ſuch a Recital as aforeſaid. Wherefore they all una voce, in regard of the ſaid Preſidents which in this caſe make a Law in Court diſallowed the Errour, although that Preſidents in a ſmall number were ſhewed, Where Record was made of the like Admittance by Guardian of an Enfant in the Kings-Bench, as is done in the Common-Pleas. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 4. Part, 53, 54. Rawlyns Caſe.

16. In Debt againſt the Executors of Charles Earl of Nottingham for 200 l. The Defendant appeared, and Judgment againſt them, and 4 l. Coſts de bonis Teſtatoris, &c. Et ſi, &c. tunc de bonis propriis for the 4 l. for Coſts. This being in London, a Fieri facias was awarded to the Sheriffs of London, who returned Nulla bona Teſtatoris; and for the 4 l. Nulla bona. The Plaintiff afterwards upon a Teſtatum that goods were ſold and eſſoyned, procured a new Fieri facias reciting the Judgment and the former Writ, and the Return thereof, Et quod Teſtatum exiſtit, that they had goods ſufficient, and had eſſoyned and ſold them. Wherefore the Sheriffs were commanded, That they by Inquiſition vel alio modo quæviſlibet quo conſtare poterit, ſhould enquire if they had ſold or eſſoyned the ſaid goods; and if it were ſo found, That Scire faciant the Executors to anſwer thereunto. The Sheriff returned the Inquiſition finding the ſale and eſſoyner of the goods, The Court adjudged the Writ good. Whereupon they imparle, and afterwards Judgment was given by Nihil dicit, that the Plaintiff ſhould have Execution de bonis propriis. Whereupon Errour was brought: Error aſſigned was, in redditione Executionis, becauſe the Scire facias in the ſaid Writ was, Si conſtare poterit per Inquiſitionem vel alio modo, That they had waſted the goods Quod Scire faciant eis ad reſpondendum to the Deviſtavit, and ſhew cauſe wherefore Execution ſhould not be de bonis propriis. This was ſaid and holden to be No Error, being a Judicial Writ, which may be well framed as the Court ſhall appoint; And ſuch writs are often framed according to the diſcretion and direction of the Court, & theſe Writs have been uſually granted in the Common-Pleas; and therefore we ought to adjudge it to be the Law of the ſaid Court: And the Cuſtomes and Preſidents of all Courts are the Law of the ſame Court: And Conſonant Judiciall proceedings are to be accounted Law: and therefore in the Common-Pleas it is the uſual Courſe and Law to have but one Scire facias to have Execution; which being returned Nihil, the party is to have Execution. But in the Kings-Bench, the courſe is to have two Scire facias; and that if Execution be taken upon a new Scire facias awarded, and Nihil returned, it is Errour, and therefore may be reverſed, becauſe it is contrary to the courſe of the Court, Hill. 14 Car. in B.R.

17. Debt upon an Eſcape againſt the Sheriff: he declared, That J. S. and others was endebted to him by a Recognizance acknowledged in Chancery of 200 l. whereupon he ſued a ſpeciall Scire facias in Chancery, and had Judgment by default after two Nihils retorned, and Elegit ſued; which being retorned Nihil, he ſued a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum; and thereupon J. S. was taken in Execution; and afterwards at London ſet at large. The Defendant did Demur upon the Declaration. It was ſaid, That this Execution by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum was good, although it be in Chancery upon a Recognizance, where no Capias lyes at firſt, and ſo hath alwayes been the courſe there uſed, which is to be allowed; for the courſe of every Court is to be obſerved: and although the granting of the Capias be Errour, yet the Sheriff is not to take advantage of it, but is good againſt him, and he is chargeable for the Eſcape: and it was adjudged accordingly, 36 Eliz. in the Exchequer-Chamber in Paſton and Ognell's Caſe. And of ſuch Opinion were the whole Court in the principall caſe. Paſch. 44 Eliz. in B. R. Weaver and Clifford's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 3.

18. Errour of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas by the bayl: The Errour was aſſigned in the Execution againſt the Bayl, That no Capias was awarded againſt the Principal. It was ſaid, It was a Queſtion ſtirred in the Common-Pleas, Whether an Execution might be in the Common-Pleas againſt the bayl, though no Capias was againſt the Principal: And that Hobart Chief Juſtice there was of Opinion, that it might, becauſe the Recognizance by the bayl in the Common-Pleas, differs from the courſe of the bayl in the Kings-Bench; for there the Recognizance is in a ſum certain. But all the other Juſtices there held, That it is all one in the Common-Pleas, and in the Kings Bench, That a Capias againſt the Principal ought to be taken forth, and retorned, Non eſt Inventus; otherwiſe, no Scire facias ought to be againſt the bail: For if the Principal be taken by the Capias, or that he render himſelf to priſon upon the Judgment, then no Execution ought to be againſt the Bayl. And of that Opinion was all the Court here in the principal caſe. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. South and Griffiths Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 345, 346.

19. Note: If a Recovery be in Debt upon an Obligation in the County by Juſtices, there notwithſtanding ſuch Judgment, the Plaintiff may have an Action of Debt upon the Bond in a Court of Record; for the County-Court is not of Record: and therefore the Obligation is not charged with a thing of a higher nature; but ſo long as ſuch Judgment remaineth in force, the Plaintiff ſhall not have an Action in the County Court by Juſtices, for the Infinite vexation of the party. See Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, in Higgins Caſe. 45. acc.

20. If a Writ of Right be directed to the Lord of the Mannor in Ancient Demeſne, or unto the Bayliffs, or a Juſticies to the Sheriff, in all ſuch caſes, the Lord of the Mannor, Bayliffs or Sheriffs, although that the plea be holden before them by Writ, they are not the Judges, but the Suitors are Judges; and the reaſon that the Writs are directed to them, is, becauſe that the Courts do belong unto them: and although ſuch Courts hold plea by Writ of Record, yet they retain the nature of their former Courts; for upon a Judgment given in ſuch Courts, Falſe Judgment lyeth, and not a Writ of Errour. And it was Reſolved, That the King's Writ cannot alter the Juriſdiction of the Court-Baron, County, or Hundred Court, and the like, which are Courts by the Common-Law; And therefore all things determinable in ſuch Courts, ought to be determined by the Judges of the ſame Courts. And therefore neither the Lord in Ancient Demeſne, nor of Court-Baron, nor the Sheriff in the County where a Plea is holden before them by Writ of Right, Admeaſurement, or ſuch like Writs, are the Judges in the ſaid Courts in the ſaid Suits, or Pleas, but the Suitors are the Judges thereof there. Cook 6. Part, 11. Fenkman's Caſe.

21. A Writ of Error was brought upon a Recovery had in an Action popular by Bill in the Court of Ludlow, which is a Court of Record, upon the Statute of 4 and 5 Ma. cap. 5. Two Errors were Aſſigned. 1. That the Plaintiff ought, by the Statute of 18 Eliz. cap. 5. have ſued by Originall, or by Information, and not by Bill: For it was ſaid, that where Suit was by Bill, upon the Statute of 23 H. 6. of Sheriffs, that the Action did not lye. The 2. Error was, That the Recovery was not in ſuch a Court of Record as was intended by the Statute. For the Courts of Record intended by the Statute propter excellentiam, are the four Courts at Weſtm. And the Information ought to be in ſuch a Court, where the Kings Attorney may Reply, or where he can attend, and that ſhall be onely at Weſtminſt. Hill. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 6. Part, 20. Gregories Caſe.

22. By the Statute of 1 E. 6. cap. 7. of Diſcontinuance of proceſs; It was Reſolved, That if any Judiciall Writ, or any proceſs in a Court of Record be Awarded in the time of the Predeceſſor of the King: the ſame may be executed in the time of the Succeſſor; But in the County Court, and the like Courts, which are not Courts of Record, it remaineth as it was at the Common-Law; For

For the words of the Act are, in any of the Kings Courts, or any of the other Courts of Record. Cook 7. Part, 30. acc.

23. Note, In a Falſe Impriſonment, if the Defendant juſtifieth by a Capias to the Sheriff, and a Warrant to him, there De injuria ſuâ propria is no good Replication; for then the matter of Record ſhall be parcel of the cauſe, for all maketh but one cauſe, and the matter of Record ought not to be put in Iſſue to the tryall of the people. But in ſuch Caſe he may reply de injuria ſua propria, and traverſe the Warrant, which is matter of Fact. But upon ſuch Juſtification, by force of any proceeding in the Admiral-Court, Hundred, or County-Court, or any other which is not a Court of Record, there de injuria ſua propria, generally is good, for all is matter in fact, and maketh but one Cauſe. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, 67. in Cregg's Caſe.

24. For Contempts done to any Court of Record againſt the Kings Command by his Writ under the Great Seal; the Defendant ſhall be Fined, and Impriſoned, as in Quare Impedit, Quare non admiſit, Quare Incumbravit: Attachment upon Prohibition, &c. But when the Demandant or Plaintiff, or the Tenant or Defendant ſe retraxit or receſſit in contemptu Curiæ; there is no Contempt againſt the Kings command by Writ: And therefore the party ſhall not be fined or amerced. If a Writ of Reception be brought in the Common-Pleas, and Judgment be there given, the Defendant ſhall be fined and Impriſoned; But if the Writ be brought in the County-Court, and the Defendant be convinc'd before the Sheriff in the County, the Judgment ſhall not be Quod capiatur, quia nulla Curia, quæ recordum non habet, poteſt imponere finem, neque aliquem mandare Carceri, quia illa ſpectant tantummodo ad Curiam de Recordo; and therefore in ſuch Caſes, the party ſhall be only amerced. Cook 8. Part, 60. in Beecher's Caſe.

25. The Court of Chancery is a Court of a very high nature, conſiſting of two parts, The Legall or Lative part; and the Equitable: It is Officina Juſtitiæ, and the Repoſitory (in the abſence of Parliaments) of all Caſes where the helps of Parliaments are not neceſſary; The Originall and Authority of all mens aſſurances, and conveyances by Fines, Recoveries, &c. and the preſerver of their Rights in them. The Fountain and Channell by which Juſtice upon the peoples neceſſities, or complaints, is conveyed unto them; The Magazine, ſtorehouſe, and diſpenſatory of all Writs, and remediall, in which the Rights, Liberties, and properties of the people are ſo cemented, that they muſt either dye or live with it; It is the eſtheme of the Nation; Salus Populi, Lex terræ. The Head from which all other the Courts of Juſtice in Weſtminſter, and other Courts, may be ſaid to have their beings, or Originalls. See Cook 4. Part, Inſtitutes. The Book called Diverſity of Courts. Sir Henry Spilman in his Gloſſary. Doctor and Student. cap. 7. Lib. 1. The Equitable part of this Court conſiſteth of Bills, Anſwers, Decrees, for the examining of Frauds, Combinations, Truſts, ſecret Uſes; and for moderating, and taking away of the Rigor of the Common-Law, and the reſcuing of the Lands, Eſtates, and Intereſts, of men who would oppreſſe, and put extremities upon them. The Lative or Legall part of it, doth conſiſt in granting of Writs of Habeas Corpus, which no other Court can Grant in Vacation time, Sealing and enrolling of Letters Patents, Pardons; Inrolling of Treaties, and Leagues with Forrein Princes and States; making and Granting of Writs of Summons of Parliament, Proclamations, Charters, Protections, Safe Conducts, Writs for Election of Knights and Burgeſſes of Parliament; Writs of Moderata Miſericordia, Writs of Rationabili parte Bonorum, of goods for Widows, Orphans, Writs of Audita Querela, Scire facias, Writs remediall and Magiſteriall, Inrollments of Deeds concerning Lands: taking Recognizances for payment of monies, and other matters of Concernment, Commiſſion of Appeal, Oyer and Terminer, and for the Peace, and all other proceſſe and proceedings tending to the well-being, or Conſervation of the peace. 26. If Ceſtuy que uſe before the Statute, were diſſeiſed, or his Feoffees, The Diſſeiſor could not be compelled in the Chancery to execute an Eſtate to Ceſtuy que uſe. But in ſuch Caſe, Ceſtuy que uſe ſhall compell the Feoffees in the Court of Chancery, to enter upon the diſſeiſor, or to recover the Land againſt him at the Common-Law, and then the Chancery ſhall compell the Feoffees to Execute the Eſtate according to the uſe. Cook 1. Part, 139. in Chadleigh's Caſe.

27. If a man be bounden by Obligation to two men, unto the uſe of one of them, and he to whoſe uſe it is not, releaſeth to the Obligator, all Actions, ſo as the Obligation is diſcharged in Law, he to whoſe uſe the Obligation was made, hath good remedy by a Subpena in Chancery, againſt his companion, who releaſed, although againſt the Obligator he hath no remedy; becauſe it is Lawfull for every man to get a diſcharge of that which he is charged withall. So if a man hath recovered againſt another, Debt, or damages and he hath paid the ſame without any acquittance, or without having a Releaſe, and notwithſtanding, the party taketh Execution againſt him upon the ſame Judgment, he hath no remedy by the Common-Law; But then he ſhall have remedy in the Chancery, in this Caſe, in Equity. Diverſity of Courts. acc.

28. A queſtion was, Whether a Decree made by the Commiſſioners, upon the Statute of 43 Eliz. of Charitable uſes; and Exceptions put in againſt it in Chancery, and there examined, heard, and Confirmed in part, and altered in part, may be examined upon a Bill of Review, as other Bills of Review, upon Decrees in Chancery. This was referred to the two Lord Chief Juſtices, the Lord chief Baron, and to other Juſtices; and by them it was Reſolved, That the Bill of Review was not allowable, but the Decree in Chancery is concluſive, and not to be further examined, becauſe it takes its Authority by Acts of Parliament, and the Act doth mention but one Examination. Cro. 2. 2. Of Inferiour Courts, their power and Juriſdiction, and what Acts done by them, and in them, ſhall be good, What not. And of the ſeveral proceedings in the ſaid Courts.

1. AN Action of Trover and Converſion was brought in the Marſhalſey, where none of the parties were of the Kings Houſehold. And upon a Judgment given, there a Writ of Error was brought in the Kings bench: It was Reſolved, That the Judgment ſhould be reverſed, and it was ſaid, That for the nature of the Actions, they ſhall hold plea in Treſpaſſe, contract, and Covenant, and in no Action which concerns the Freehold, or Inheritance; And in Treſpaſſe within the Verge, It is ſufficient, if one of the parties be of the Kings Houſhold, but in contract or Covenant, both ought to be of the Houſhold; And in Treſpaſs brought in the Marſhalſey, no other Error was Aſſigned, but onely, that none of the parties were of the Kings houſhold, and the Judgment for that Error reverſed. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 6. Part, 21. Mitchelborn's Caſe.

2. In an Appeal of Murder, the Defendant pleaded, That at another time by Inquiſition found before the Coroner of the Queens Houſehold, and B. one of the Coroners of Middleſex, he was Indicted of Man-ſlaughter, which Inquiſition was certified to Newgate at the Goal delivery, and upon this the Defendant was arraigned, confeſſed the Felony, and had his Clergy; And it appeared, that the Indictment was after the bringing of the Appeal, and before the Return of it. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. That the Coroner of the Houſhold at the Common-Law had an exempt Juriſdiction, within the Verge, and the Coroner of the County, could not meddle, as appears by the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas; and therefore the Inquiſition taken by the Coroner of Middleſex, was not good. But it was Reſolved, That the Juſtices of the ſaid Kings-Bench of Oyer and Terminer, might determine all Murders within the Verge; for that their authority is general through all the County. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Indictment was not good, becauſe it doth not appear that the place where the ſtroke and death was, was within the Verge; and though in truth it were within the Verge; yet it ought to be found by the Oath of the Indictors, and cannot be ſupplyed by an averment, and it ſhall not be found void as to the Coroner of the Houſhold, and good before the Coroner of the County, becauſe the Record is entire, and taken entirely before them. 33 Eliz. Cook 4. Part, 45. Wrote and Wiggs Caſe.

3. An Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit was brought in the Marſhalſee, where no party was of the Kings houſhold: The Plaintiff recovered, and the Defendants by virtue of a Precept in the Nature of a Capias ad ſatisfaciend. arreſted the party; whereupon he brought a Writ of Falſe Impriſonment againſt them: And in this caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That at the Common-Law, the Steward, and Marſhal of the Marſhalſee had two Authorities to hold Courts, one as Juſtices in Eyre, by which authority they held plea of Treſpaſſe of the Crown and other reall Actions; the other, as Judges of the Marſhalſee of the Kings-Houſe, by which authority they held plea onely in Debt, Treſpaſſe vi et armis, and Covenant, and not in any other perſonal Action, or Mixt. 2. Reſolved, That the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas, are but Explanations of the Statute of Magna Charta; and Charta de Foreſta, in the third Chapter of Articuli ſuper Chartas, is but an Explanation of the 23 Chapter of Magna Charta. And it was Reſolved, That when a Statute prohibits any thing, If any implead another, although it be in courſe of a legall proceeding, yet the party grieved ſhall have an Action upon the Statute againſt the party which ſues againſt the Statute, although the words of the Statute do not give an Action to the party. 3. Reſolved, That the Statute of 28 E. 1. of the Marſhalſee did extend to Treſpaſſe ſimpliciter, and not to Treſpaſſe ſecundum quid, as Action upon the Caſe, Treſpaſſe upon Trover and Converſion. 4. It was Reſolved, That the Action did well lye againſt the Defendants dants, becauſe all the proceedings was Coram non Judice; and the party is not of neceſſity to obey them, who are not Judges of the Cauſe, no more then a ſtranger. And there this difference was taken and agreed, That when the Court hath Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, but proceeds inverſo ordine, there for an Arreſt made, an Action doth not lye againſt the Officer; and when the Court hath not Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, as in the principall caſe. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Cook 10. Part, 68, 69. The caſe of the Marſhalſee.

4. Errour was brought of a Judgment in the Court of Marſhalſee, upon an Action upon the Caſe, upon Aſſumpſit at the Pariſh of St. Clements Danes, within the Juriſdiction of the Court; And declared, In conſideration of ſuch a ſum received, he would pay him ſuch a ſum when he returned into England from H, being a place beyond the Sea. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, and Verdict, and Judgment for the Plaintiff; Errour was brought, becauſe he did not give Notice to the Defendant of his return; although it was alledged, That the Defendant habens Notitiam inde; and for that cauſe the Declaration was holden inſufficient. And 2. Becauſe the Action is brought, if an Act be done at H, out of the Juriſdiction of the Marſhals Court, being a private Juriſdiction: The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 14. Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 412.

5. In Falſe Impriſonment, the Defendant Juſtified, That the Court of Marſhalſee was an Ancient Court holden before the Steward and Marſhal of the Kings-Houſe, and had Juriſdiction to hold plea of all Treſpaſſes within the Verge, That Precepts had been uſed time out of mind to be awarded to Officers Portatores virgarum; to be executed by command of the Marſhal ore tenus; and ſet forth, That he affirmed a Plaint of Treſpaſſe in the Marſhals Court againſt the Plaintiff; and a Precept was made to the Marſhall, to take the Plaintiff ad habendum his body at the next Court, and that the Marſhall commanded R. Portator virge there to arreſt the Plaintiff, Ita quod, &c. and the Defendant came to aid him, and ſhewed the Plaintiff, &c. It was thereupon demurred. And becauſe the Preſcription is layed in the Plea, to hold pleas of All Cauſes within the Verge; and it is not ſhowed, Between what perſons: for by the Statute they ſhould not hold any Pleas, unleſſe betwixt perſons of the Houſhold: and alſo, becauſe the Precept is returnable at the next Court, and it is not upon any day certain; ſo as the party might be detained a long time, not knowing when the Court ſhall be holden. It was adjudged, That the awarding of the Proceſs was ill; and that the Action of Falſe Impriſonment did not lye. Paſch. 9 Jac. in B. R. Johns and Smiths Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 214.

6. A Prohibition was awarded to the Councel of the Marches of Wales, for that upon a ſuppoſed Ryot and Battery of the Plaintiff upon a Bill exhibited there, they gave 100 Marks damages to the Plaintiff; where, by their Inſtructions, they ought not to hold plea of damages or debt above 50 l: It was Objected, That they might hold plea of Ryots as the Star-Chamber did, and that their Court was eſtabliſhed by Act of Parliament, 34 H. 8. But it was Reſolved, That although the Star-Chamber have uſed to Decree Damages to the party, being a Supream Court; yet other Courts may not aſſume upon them ſuch Juriſdiction. Prohibition was awarded. Hill. 14 Car. in B. R. Powell and Sheens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 384.

7. Upon a Habeas Corpus, to the Keepers of the Priſon for the Councell of the Marches of Wales: It was returned, that the party was Committed by vertue of a Decree of the Councell, That one of them had inveigled the ſon and heir of J. S. of 17 years of age, in the night, when he was drunken, to marry the Siſter of one of the Defendants: whereupon they were fined, ſome 100 l. ſome 100 Marks, and, until they paid the ſame, were Impriſoned; and alſo 100 Marks damages to the Father, the proſecutor. It was holden, That the Return was not good, becauſe it was Returned, that they were committed by order from the Lords of the Councill; and it was not mentioned what the Order of the Councill was, and alſo, becauſe it was there to remain, untill further Order, which is altogether uncertain: And it was there a queſtion, whether that Court might meddle with a Clandeſtine Marriage to puniſh, being a meer Spirituall Act; It was not Reſolved, but the parties were bailed. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Steel's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 402.

8. A Prohibition was prayed to the Councill of the Marches of Wales, becauſe one Sued there for a Legacy above the value of 50 l. The Court doubted of their proceedings there, in ſuch Caſe; and whether their Inſtructions were good, becauſe cauſes Teſtamentary, and Legacies are ſueable in the Spirituall Court, and not elſewhere, notwithſtanding their Inſtructions; for they cannot Warrant that which is not according to Law. Mich. 16 Car. in B. R. Sir Henry Williams's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 432.

9. In a Prohibition to the Councill of the Marches of Wales, the Caſe was, A. made a Leaſe for life, and afterwards levyed a Fine of all his Lands, which was to the uſe of B. for 15. years, and afterwards to the uſe of himſelf for life, with a power by a Proviſo, for him to make Leaſes for 21 years, or three lives in poſſeſſion: This Leaſe was queſtioned there, to ſtay execution of the power, during the 15 years. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That this Term of 15. years was presently subject to the power by the Proviso of him in the Remainder, to Wikes Leases; and that this power doth issue out of the whole Estate, and that the first Lessee shall have the Rent reserved during the 15 years limitted to him, and these being matters determinable at the Common-Law, a Prohibition was Awarded. Pasc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Fox and Prickwood's Case. Cyoke, 2. Part, 349.

3. Court Leet. Court Baron, County Court. Court of Pipowders. and other inferiour Courts; Their Originalls, Jurisdictions; And how they ought to proceed in them; And what Acts, or things may be sued there, and the Judges thereof.

1. IF the Lord of a Mannor, who hath many Antient Copyholders in one Town, granteth the Inheritance of all the Copyholds to another; The Grantee may hold Court for the Copyhold Tenements, and take surrenders to the use of others, and make Admittances. For although it is not a Mannor in Law, because it wanteth free Tenants, yet as to the Copyhold Tenements, the Feoffee or Grantee of such a Mannor, may hold a Court. For every Mannor which consisteth of Freehold, and Copyhold Tenements, containeth in it self two Courts, one which is called the Court Baron, scil. The Court of Freeholders, in which the Free-Tenants, the Suitors are Judges; And another is for the Copyholders; and as to that, the Lord, or the Steward is the Judge. And if all the Freeholds Escheat to the Lord, or if the Lord releaseth the Tenures and Services of all his Free Tenants, yet he may hold a Customary Court for his Copyhold Tenements, to make admittances and Grants to them. Trin. 10 Eliz. in B. R. Melworth and Luter's Case. Cook 4. Part, 36.

2. If the Lord of a Mannor doth demise all his Lands granted by Copy to another for 2000. years, such a Lessee may hold a Court for the Copyhold. Pasc. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Neal and Jackson's Case. Cook 4. Part, 26. acc. Note, a difference betwixt these Cases, which consists upon Numbers of Copyholds, which may support a Custome, and one single Case of a Copyholder, as in Murrel's Case, Cro. 4. Part, 24. in which case the Lord doth not grant Tacitè any Customary Court, nor the Grantee having but one single Copyhold, cannot hold Court,

3. If a Court be holden by a Steward of a Mannor out of it, and divers Grants, and admittances there made, the Court, and all the Grants, and admittances are void: for the Court of a Mannor ought to be holden within the Mannor, and not out of the Jurisdiction of it. But by Custome, the Court may be holden out of the Mannor, and Grants and Admittances there, good enough. Mich. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Clifton and Molineaux's Case. Cook 4. Part, 77.

4. A Court of Pipowders is incident to a Fair, and a Court Baron to a Mannor, and a Court Baron cannot be separated from a Mannor, for it is annexed to the Mannor, the like of a Court Pipowder to a Fair; by the Grant of the Mannor cum pertinentiis, the Court passeth, for it is an Incident inseparable to the Mannor; And a man cannot grant his Court, but a man may grant the profits of his Court. Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. rot. 607. Brown and Goldsmith's Case. Brownlow. 1. Part, 175. See Mich. 8 Jac. The King and Stafford's Case. of Quo Warranto, Bulst. 1. Part, 55, 56.

5. In Ejectione firmæ, upon a speciall Verdict; The Case was, A Copyholder in Fee, of the Mannor of Taddington (where the Custome is, That any Copyholder out of the Court, might surrender into the hands of two Tenants, Copyholders of the Mannor, to the use of another) surrendred into the hands of two such Tenants, certain Lands, to the use of B. and C. and C. son of B. and the longest liver of them, and for want of Issue of the body of C. the Remainder to the younger Son of E. Wife of the Plaintiff, the surrender not to be in force till after the death of A: A. dyed, the next Court the surrender was presented, and B. and C. were admitted accordingly; B. dyed, and afterwards C. dyed without Issue; H. who was the younger son of E. was admitted, and entred, and made a Lease to the Plaintiff. The Question was, Whether this was a good surrender to the use of E. the Plaintiffs Wife, because the Verdict finds, It is Customary Land, of the Mannor of Taddington, but the Copy of the surrender found, is in hæc verba, Taddington in the Margent? At the Court Baron of the Mannor of Hampton, J. S. and J. D. Tenants of the Mannor of Hampton do present, That A. did surrender into the hands of the Tert-Tenants, of the Mannor, &c. ut supra: It was the Opinion of the Justices, That it was good enough; For Taddington being in the Margent, It shall be said a distinct Court by it self: For an Honor consists of many Mannors, yet all the Courts of the Mannors are distinguished, and have severall Copyholders, and although there is for all the Mannors but one Court, yet they are quasi severall and distinct Courts; wherefore it was adjudged judged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. rott. 195. Seagood, and Hone and his Wives Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 267, 268.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff Declared, That whereas in ſuch a Court of Pipowders, holden at Glouceſter, ſecundum Conſuetudinem civitatis illius he brought Debt againſt J. S. as Adminiſtrator, and thereupon J. S. was Arreſted, and in Cuſtody of the Defendant, the Sheriff of Glouceſter, according to the Cuſtome there; That they permitted him to go at large, ſo as he hath not anſwered him his Debt: upon Not-guilty, found for the Plaintiff, It was the Opinion of all the Judges in this Caſe, That the Court being ſtyled a Court of Pipowders (which is a Court incident to Fairs and Markets, and for cauſes onely ariſing within them) ſhall not be intended a Court, unleſſe it be ſhewen to be held by Charter, or Preſcription: And that the Defendant being an Officer of the Court, and arreſting the party, ought to ſhew, as Sheriffs when they make any Certificates out of inferiour Courts, ought to ſhew how the ſaid Courts are holden, and the omiſſion thereof is a juſt cauſe to reverſe all their proceedings; But otherwiſe it is in the Caſe of a ſtranger, as here, where the ſtyle of the Court is but an Inducement to the Action. 2. It was holden by them, That theſe words, ſecundum Conſuetudinem Civitatis, being in the Imparlance-Roll, That the Omiſſion of them in the Iſſue-Roll, was but vitium Clerici, and might be amended: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 2 Car. in C. B. Hodges and Meyſe's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 33.

7. Note, It was holden by the Court, That there may be a Cuſtomary Mannor, and holden by Copy, and ſuch a Cuſtomary Lord may hold Courts, and grant Copies; And that ſuch a Cuſtomary Mannor may paſſe by ſurrender, as well upon alienation, as upon diſcent: And there may be alſo a Cuſtomary Lord, Miſne, and a Cuſtomary Tenant, as well in Caſe where the Menalty is a Tenancy at will, at the Common-Law of a Mannor; And alſo if ſuch a Cuſtomary Mannor be forfeited, the Lord ſhall have the Cuſtome and Services, as appertaining to the ſame. Mich. 11 Jac. Cook 11. Part, 17. Sir Henry Nevill's Caſe.

8. It was moved for a Prohibition to the Admiralty, upon a ſurmiſe that one was arreſted there for Arreſting one out of the hands of a Meſſenger of the Admiralty, who was taken by him by Warrant of the Court, for a contempt to the Court in a ſale depending there betwixt him and another: It was the Opinion of the Court, That if the cauſe were Maritime, which was depending, there the Court may examine a Contempt there to the Court in that cauſe; but they cannot proceed criminally againſt the party that Reſcued him, that did the contempt. Mich. 1649. Styles in B. R. 171.

9. A Prohibition was prayed to the Prerogative Court, becauſe they proceeded to examine Witneſſes, there to diſpence a Will that was proved there 20 years before, by which Will Lands were deviſed, and the Lands ſold, and that this they did to prevent a Tryall at Law touching the Title of the Land: The Opinion of the Court was, That they might examine the probate there, becauſe you have Libelled there to take benefit of the probate, and therefore the other may diſprove the probate if he can, as far as concerns any goods deviſed by the Will. Mich. 1652. in B. R. Styles 346.

10. In Caſe for a Prohibition to the Prerogative Court: the Caſe was, A. and B. being in ſale, in the Prerogative Court, for Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods and Chattells, of one who dyed Inteſtate, they agreed by conſent, That A. putting in Bond to perform the Decree of that Court touching the diſtribution of the Eſtate ſhould have the Adminiſtration Granted to him: Whereupon he entred Bond, and had Adminiſtration. Afterwards the Court made a Decree, that he ſhould diſtribute the Eſtate in ſuch a Mannor, and, not performing the Decree, B. proceeded againſt him in the Prerogative Court by way of Attachment; It was ſaid, That the Attachment was Granted beyond the Condition of the Bond given to the Court, and they have no power to award it, notwithſtanding the diſtribution of the Eſtate be not made according to the Bond; and they cannot Order ſuch a diſtribution of the Eſtate notwithſtanding our conſent; for our conſent was, that the clear Eſtate onely ſhould be diſtributed, and not the whole Eſtate. The Opinion of the Court was, That they could not Grant an Attachment for not performing the Decree, although it was made by conſent; But the Court ſaid, that they, taking off the Obligation, tyed them up to that remedy: And that they could not proceed by way of Attachment. Hill. 1654. in B. R. Cookes and Chambers Caſe. Styles 139.

11. Information was againſt the Defendant upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. chap. 4. in B. R. for ſelling of Beer at another price then is appointed by the Statute: Upon Not-Guilty pleaded, and found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Information was not maintainable in this Court by the Statute of 21 Jac. cap. 4. which appoints, That Informations ſhall be before Juſtices of the Peace, for ſuch matters whereof they have power to enquire, and not in the Courts at Weſtminſter; and ſo the Statute being in the Negative, the Information is not here allowable able. But it was Reſolved, That the Information was well brought; It was holden, That the Statute of 20 H. 8. which gives the forfeiture to be recovered in Courts where no Protection, Eſſoine, &c. is allowable, extends onely to the Courts at Weſtminſt. and not to any other inferiour Court, although Weſtminſt. be not named; For an Inferiour Court cannot allow protections, nor wager of Law, and therefore it cannot be Sued before the Juſtices of Peace, and Oyer and Terminer. 2. Reſolved, That the Statute of 21 Jac. makes not any new Law to enable Juſtices of Peace to meddle with informations, which were not appointed before by the Statutes, to be by them enquired of before them, but onely appoints, That where Informations may be brought before them, or at the Courts at Weſtminſt. at their Election, there they ſhall be brought into the Seſſions of the Peace, before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, or Oyer and Terminer in the Counties where the Offences were committed, and that for the uſe of the Subject. 3. Reſolved, That the Statute of 33 H. 8. cap. 10. extends not to give them Authority to receive Informations upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. and that Brewers ſhall not be ſaid Victuallers within the ſaid Statute; for that the words Victualls and Victuallers are properly applyed, and extended againſt Ale-houſe-keepers, who ſell by Retail, and keep not the Aſſize. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 4 Car. in C. B. Farrington and Keymer's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 79.

4. Eccleſiaſticall and Spirituall Courts, Juriſdictions, Power and Authorities; of their Acts and proceedings; where ſubſervient to the Common-Law; and where the Common Law ſhall take notice of their acts; where not.

1. A Prohibition will not lye after a Sentence in the Spiritual Court. And if the Libell be for ſuch matter as may be determined there, no Prohibition will lye, unleſſe ſome Plea be pleaded by the Defendant in that Court; which the Judge will not allow: For if a Suit be in the Admiralty upon a Contract made upon the Sea, and the Defendant plead a Releaſe, or a guift after the coming to Land; that Court may enquire and try this Iſſue; The like of Tythes. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 113.

2. A. the Wife of W. ſued in the Chancery as Adminiſtratrix of her ſaid husband againſt J.S. who had married one of the Daughters of the ſaid W: The Defendant pleaded, That before Adminiſtration committed to the Plaintiff, he put in a Caveat in the Spirituall Court, hanging which Caveat ſhe obtained theſe Letters of Adminiſtration, whereby the Defendant hath appealed; the which Appeal is not yet determined; for which he demanded Judgment, if, hanging the ſaid Appeal, the Plaintiff ſhould be received to ſue in this Court as Adminiſtratrix. It was the Opinion of Egerton Lord Chancellor, That the Defendant's plea is good to ſtay the Suit untill the Plea of Appeal be determined; and ſaid, There is a difference betwixt an Appeal in the Spirituall Law, and a Writ of Errour in our Law; for by the bringing of a Writ of Errour, the Judgment is not impeached untill the Record be reverſed. But the very bringing of an Appeal, is a ſuſpenſion of the firſt Judgment in the Spiritual Court. Hill. 43 Eliz. in Chancery. Willoughby and Willoughbys Caſe. Goldeſbr. 119.

3. There were divers Canons and Eccleſiaſticall Conſtitutions, and alſo directions from the late King James and King Charles, That none ſhould be admitted to have the Office of a Chancellor to a Biſhop, unleſſe he were inſtructed and learned in the Canon and Civill Lawes. Articles were exhibited before the Commiſſioners Eccleſiaſtical, againſt Sutton a Deacon, having a Rectory with Cure of Souls, and never brought up in the Science of the Civil or Canon-Law, or having any intelligence in them, for taking upon him the Office of Chancellor to the Biſhop of Glouceſter; who being examined upon the Articles, confeſſed that he was a Divine, and had a ſpiritual Living; and that the Chancellorſhip of the Biſhop is grantable for life: And that J. Biſhop of Glouceſter had granted to him the ſaid Office for his life; which Grant was Confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, whereby he had a Freehold therein; and that, notwithſtanding this anſwer made in the Spirituall Court, they intended to proceed againſt him there, and therefore he prayed a Prophibition: But a Prohibition was denyed by the Court: For if he be a perſon unskilfull in thoſe Lawes, and by Law ought not to enjoy it; they may there examine that: For although a Lay-perſon by his Admiſſion and Inſtitution to a Benefice, hath a Freehold; yet he may be ſued in the Spiritual Court, and deprived there for that cauſe. Hill. 2 Car. in C.B. Cro. 1. Part, 47. Sutton's Caſe.

4. J. P. was examined by the Commiſſioners Eccleſiaſticall upon Articles, That ſhe was ayding and aſſiſting to Sir J. H. in the years 1622, and 1623. untill September, 1624. to have acquaintance with the Viscounteſſe P. with whom he committed Adultery, and that ſhe ſhe was chief Agent for their Meetings through her private Lodgings, by means whereof they took their opportunities to commit Adultery; for which cauſe, Febr. 1627. ſhe was ſentenced to be guilty of Bawdry, and fined 200 l. and to make a penetentiall acknowledgment in the Church of S. and to be impriſoned. J. P. prayed a Prohibition, for that by the General Pardon, Anno 21 Jac. ſhe was pardoned for theſe Offences committed in the years 1622, and 1623; and avers, ſhe is not guilty of any ſuch Offence ſince the pardon, nor is a perſon excepted. It was the Opinion of Juſtice Hutton, That a Prohibition ought to be granted, becauſe ſhe is ſentenced to be impriſoned, untill ſhe find Sureties to perform the whole Order, which is not warrantable: For although by the Statute of 1 Eliz. the High Commiſſioners may Aſſeſſe Fines, or award Impriſonment for an Offence: yet they can neither commit any to priſon for the Fine, nor untill the parties find Sureties for the performance of their Orders; but they ought to certifie the Fine into the Exchequer. It was further ſaid, That Suits for Adultery (unleſſe ſuch onely as were enormious and notorious) ought to be brought before the Ordinary in his Court: In the principal caſe, a Prohibition was granted. Trin. 4 Car. in C. B. Iſabel Peeters Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 80.

5. A Libell was before the High-Commiſſioners, which ſuppoſed divers particular Cruelties uſed upon the wife, for which ſhe was inforced to depart, and that her husband would not allow her maintenance; and therefore ſhe ſued before them for maintenance: and becauſe it is a Suit properly triable before the Ordinary, wherein, if there be any wrong, the party may have an Appeal: and although it be one of the Articles within their Commiſſion to hear and determine of; yet becauſe it is not any of the Cauſes within the Statute of 1 Eliz. for which cauſes the Commiſſion is Ordained: The Court awarded a Prohibition. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. Drakes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 161.

6. Toole and others, Pariſhioners of St. Bartholomews, London, were brought by Habeas Corpus to the Barr: It was returned, That they were committed to a Meſſenger, for contempt to the Eccleſiaſticall Commiſſioners, for not performing their Order in paying the Pariſh Clerk his wages, rated at the rate of 4 d. a Quarter for every houſe, which they refuſed to pay; but according to their Cuſtome, which they were rated by their Church-Wardens and Veſtry. It was moved, That they might be remanded, for that this Order was grounded upon Letters Patents, that the Clerks ſhould gather and receive their own wages, by vertue of an Order from the High-Commiſſioners: But upon this return, the parties impriſoned were bayled by Order of the Court. Paſch. 16 Car. in B. R. Toules Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 420, 421.

7. In a Prohibition to ſtay a Suit in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for Tythe Wood, upon a ſurmiſe, that the Wood was ſpent in his houſe for firing: and that the Cuſtome of the Pariſh was, That the Owners of any houſe or Lands within the Pariſh who pay Tythes to the Parſon, ought not to pay Tythes for Wood ſpent for fewell in their houſes. Upon Iſſue upon the Cuſtome, it was found for the Defendant. It was moved, That although it be found, there is no ſuch Cuſtome, yet he ought not to pay Tythes for wood ſpent in his houſe, nor, for fencing for hedges, per Legem terræ, ought to be diſcharged. It was Reſolved, That it is not per Legem terræ, that any be diſcharged of them, for it is as well in Prohibitions to alledge Cuſtomes, as for Hattlepeny: or by reaſon of other Lands whereof he payes Tythes, that he is diſcharged of that Tythe, but not to alledge, That per Legem terræ, he was diſcharged. A Conſultation in the principal caſe was granted. Trin. 4 Car. in C. B. Norton and Farmers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 80.

8. J. S. was brought to the Court by Habeas Corpus: It was returned, That he was committed by Order of the Exchequer, 9 Car. for not paying of a Fine of 50 l. impoſed by the Eccleſiaſticall Commiſſioners upon him: and although it was not ſhewed, wherefore the Fine was impoſed, yet becauſe the Commitment was by a Judiciall Court; the Court would either bayl, nor diſcharge him. Paſch. 16 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 418.

9. Upon a Habeas Corpus returned; the return was, That the Commitment was by the High-Commiſſion Court, for refuſing to Anſwer upon Oath unto certain Interrogatories, miniſtred to them in matters touching penall Lawes: whereas they ought not to be compelled to anſwer upon Oath, and ſo thereby to accuſe themſelves. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the High-Commiſſion Court cannot examine one upon Oath upon the breach of a penal Law; nor Impriſon or commit any one for refuſing to take ſuch Oath, and ſo to drive themſelves within the danger of a penall Law. But it was holden by the Court, That if one be convicted or impleaded in the ſaid Court before the Commiſſioners for Hereſie, which is, hærere, et pertinaciter hærere, they have as good power to commit for ſuch cauſes as any Court hath: and ſo it is for a great Schiſm; for that this doth not properly belong to them. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. Boroughs and the High-Commiſſion Court's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 49, 50, 51, 52.

10. A man committed by the High Commiſſion-Court, was brought to the Barr by Habeas Corpus Corpus. It was returned, That he was committed for words, scil. That he had uſed divers contemptuous and reproachfull words touching their proceedings, the which they had drawn into Articles againſt him, unto which he did refuſe to anſwer; and therefore they did commit him to priſon. The Queſtion was, Whether they themſelves might puniſh this there, or not. It was the Opinion of the Court, they could not; but that he was puniſhable for this at the Common-Law, for ſlandering their proceedings: Alſo it did not appear what the words were which he ſpake, and they might be ſuch as ought to be determined by the Common-Law: The Return adjudged not good; and the party was diſcharged. Mich. 13 Jac. in B.R. Hoods Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 146.

11. For a Prohibition to the Court of Prerogative upon a ſurmiſe that the party did endeavour to baſtardize one that was Legitimate: The Caſe was this; A. had a Wife called Bridget, who dyed: Afterwards he took another wife, called alſo Bridget, and dyes Inteſtate. Bridget the ſecond wife takes Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of her husband: The ſon of A. ſues in the Prerogative Court to Repeal theſe Letters of Adminiſtration, upon a pretence, That Bridget the firſt wife of A. was living. In this caſe, the Court delivered theſe poſitive Rules following: 1. That one ought not to ſue in the Eccleſiaſtical Court to baſtardize an Iſſue, but at the Common-Law. 2. That where the Ordinary hath granted Letters of Adminiſtration to one who ought to have them, they ought not to be repealed by them. 3. Where a Suit is in the Eccleſiaſticall Court for Lands and Goods, a Prohibition may be granted as to the Lands, and they may proceed there notwithſtanding as to the Goods. 4. That in the principal caſe, neither Baſtardy of Iſſue, nor Marriage, is in Queſtion, but onely the validity of the Letters of Adminiſtration, and that the other things are but as incidents to the matter. 5. That Wife or not wife, is tryable at the Common-Law; but whether lawfully married or not, is tryable in the Eccleſiaſticall Court. 6. Where a thing is tryable in the Spiritual Court, and there is alſo a matter incident to it, which is tryable at the Common-Law, that a Prohibition ſhall not be granted. 7. That a thing concluded in the Eccleſiaſtical Court touching Lands, cannot be given in Evidence in a Tryal at Law for Land. 8. That if the Common-Law differ from the Civill Law touching the Legality or not Legality of a thing; if they will proceed according to their Law, a Prohibition lyeth, becauſe the Common-Law is to be preferred. Paſch. 3. Car. in B.R. Beteſworth and Beteſworth's Caſe. Styles 30.

5. Of other Temporal Courts, not before mentioned. And of Acts and other proceedings in and by them: And where ſuch Acts ſhall bind and be good; where not.

1. A Prohibition was prayed againſt the Warden of the Stannaries in Cornwall and his Deputy and others, for that they procured an Order and Decree for the payment of a ſum of money to them without any Bill, and ſummoning the Defendant to appear, and without any Anſwer and ſentence of the Court. It was ſaid, All their proceedings there ſummarily, and de plano, without any formall courſe, were illegal; and the Kings Courts may take Notice, where they proceed irregularly, and ſhall controll them, and preſerve the Juriſdiction of the Court. It was further ſaid, That the Juriſdiction of the Stannaries is onely for Tynne matters, and where the perſons which ſue, or one of them be a Tynner: whereupon a Prohibition was granted. Mich. 9 Car. in B.R. Cro. 1. Part, 242. Adams and the Warden of Stanneries Caſe.

2. Errour brought of a Judgment in the Comman-Pleas, upon the Outlawry in the ſaid Judgment. The firſt Errour was aſſigned in the Outlawry; for that the Exigent (wherein is recited a former Exigent, quod allocat. quatuor Comitat. exigi faceret the Defendant, which bare date, Craſtino Aſcenſionis; and it was returned, Quod ad Huſtinges de placitis terræ, holden the ſame day it bare Teſte, he was quinto exactus, & non Comparuit; and for this cauſe, Errour was aſſigned. 2. For that the former Huſtinges were de communibus placitis, and this is de placitis terræ, and ſo varies, and therefore ill. 3. Becauſe it is upon the ſame day it bare Teſte; which ought not to be: For this laſt cauſe, It was holden by the Court to be ill, and Reverſed: For the two firſt cauſes, the Court much doubted; For that there be Preſidents, That the Huſtings are held alternatim every fortnight, &c. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Archer and Dalbyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 660, 661.

3. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was; A. a Freeholder within the Mannor of J, of which the Earl of Northumberland was Lord, and had a Leet, erected a new Dove-Coat thereon, and ſtored it with Pigeons, and ſuffered them to fly out; which was preſented in the Leet as a common Nuſans, and an Amercement of 40 s. aſſeſſed and afferred for this Offence, Offence, and a pain of 10 l. impoſed, That he ſhould ſtop it up before ſuch a day; and he did not ſtop it: whereupon it was preſented the next Court, and the pain impoſed aſſert to 12 l; and for non payment, a diſtreſſe taken: He entred Bond for the payment of the 12 l, and brought Treſpaſs for taking his Cattel, and detaining them untill he had entred Bond. This appearing all by way of plea, the Plaintiff demurred upon it. It was holden by all the Juſtices in this caſe, That the erecting of a Dove-Cote by a Freeholder who is not Lord of the Mannor, nor owner of the Rectory, and the replenithing it with Doves, is not any Nuſans enquireable nor puniſhable in a Leet: And if it were a common Nuſans, neither the Lord of the Mannor, nor the Parſon could erect a Dove-houſe more then any other Freeholder: For that none can preſcribe to make a Common-Nuſans: And the Common Law doth not look upon the erecting of a Dove-Coat as a common Nuſans; but makes proviſion againſt them that deſtroy Doves, near a Dove-houſe. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Drwell and Sanders Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 491. In that caſe, It was further adjudged, That the Avowry made, was not good. For as they have pleaded, They have not made it inquirable within the Leet: For they ought to enquire of publique Nuſances made within the Leet; and not of Nuſances made in the County out of their Juriſdiction. But in this caſe they ſay, That he erected a Dove-Cote within the Leet, Et quod Columbæ volabant, et revolabant, and conſumed the Corn ad Nocumentum Totius Patriæ; but they do not ſhew, that they conſumed any Corn within the Leet: and therefore it was alſo holden, That the Avowry was not good. See Ibidem.

4. Errour was brought of a Judgment in Leiceſter in Aſſumpſit; becauſe in the ſtyle of the Court, it doth not appear by what authority the Court was holden, whether by Cuſtome, or by Letters Patents. And although it was alledged, that it needed not, becauſe that being an Action brought, and proſecuted there, they may take Conuſans of their own Juriſdiction, without being inſerted in the ſtyle of the Court. Yet the Court was of Opinion, That their Juriſdiction ought to be ſhewed; and therefore would adviſe of it. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Johnſon and Underwood's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 493.

5. There was a Pariſh in the County of W. called A; there was alſo in the ſame Pariſh a Chappell called B. Chappell; and a Precinct called Caſtle B, the Inhabitants whereof did reſort to the Chappell, and there married, chriſtned, and received Sacraments, and had Church-wardens and perambulation by it ſelf; but they buried not there, but at A: A. Church being in decay, the Pariſhioners of B. Chappell were taxed towards the reparation with the reſt of the Pariſhioners of A; and obtained a Prohibition upon a ſurmiſe, that there was a Chappell Parochiall, and that they alone had uſed to repair that at their own charge, and by reaſon thereof, had been diſcharged from the reparation of A. Church; yet confeſſed they were within the Pariſh of A: It was holden by the Court, That although the ſurmiſe were matter of fact, and tryable by Jury: yet it was in the diſcretion of the Court to deny a Prohibition, when it appears to them, that the ſurmiſe is not true, eſpecially in a caſe of this nature, when the delay of Reparation may turn to the utter decay of the Church, and the intolerable charge of the Pariſhioners: and it is apparant to the Court, that they were to all purpoſes part of the Pariſh of A: and therefore de com. jure, lyable to reparation with the reſt. Therefore a Conſultation was awarded. Trin. 12 Jac. in B.R. The Caſe of the Pariſh of Aſton and Caſtle Birmidg-Chappell. Hob. 66, 67.

6. For a Prohibition, the ſurmiſe was, That A. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B; and that he, and thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had in the ſame, had uſed time out of mind to have a peculiar Pew in the body of the Church, and that the Defendant by Suit in the Eccleſiaſticall Court ſought to diſpoſſeſſe him of the ſame. This was holden by the whole Court, to be no ſufficient ground of a Prohibition: For although the Church and Church-yard be in Law the ſoyl and Freehold of the Parſon, yet the uſe of the body of the Church, and the repair and maintenance of it is common to all the Pariſhioners; and for avoiding Confuſion, the diſpoſing of Seats, and charges of repair, belong to the Ordinary; and therefore no man can challenge a peculiar Seat without a ſpecial reaſon. But if it had been preſcribed, That A. had uſed time out of mind at his own coſts to maintain that Pew, and therefore had the ſole uſe of it, the Preſcription had been good, and might have been warrant for a Prohibition, though the Pew were in the body of the Church. Trin. 12 Jac. in B.R. Boothy and Baylies Caſe. Hob. 69.

7. Note: It was the Opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That every Libel in the Admiralty doth and muſt lay the cauſe of Suit ſuper altum mare; for the Juriſdiction there growes not from the cauſe, as of Tythes and Teſtaments in the Spiritual Court, but from the place; and therefore if a Contract were made in truth at Sea, and a Suit upon that in the Admiral's Court, and there the contract is layed generally, without ſaying ſuper altum mare, Prohibition will lye: For the Libell muſt warrant the Suit in it ſelf; though there may be in the contrary part a ſurmiſe, that the contract was made at Land, againſt the Libel that lyes it on the Sea. Alſo by him it is not ſufficient, for the Libel is infra juriſdictionem maris generally; but it muſt be ſo layd, as it may appear to the Kings Courts to be ſo indeed. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. in Palmer and Pope's Caſe, Hob. 212.

8. The Caſe was; A Copyholder brought Treſpaſſe againſt his Lord for a houſe and an acre of Land; The Defendant pleaded, That he had admitted the Copyholder, and had Aſſeſſed a Fine of 20 Nobles upon it, and had appointed him to pay it to his Bayliff at his houſe being within the Manor, and alledged, That he had not paid it: The Opinion of the Court was, That the Lord was not bound to aver and ſhew, that the Fine aſſeſſed was reaſonable; but it muſt come on the Copyholders part to ſhew the Circumſtances to the Court, and put it to the Judgment of the Court; and it is onely in excuſe of the Tenant, if it be unreaſonable, which the Court cannot judge but upon the fact agreed. But the Opinion of the Court was againſt the Lord in the principal caſe, becauſe he had not layed a demand of his Fine at the time it grew due of the perſon of the Tenant, as the Lord muſt do. See Denny and Lucas Caſe. Hob. 135. See this Caſe before.

9. A Quare Impedit by the King againſt the Biſhop of Rocheſter and Jackſon; and declared, That Queen Eliz. was ſeiſed of the Advowſon of the Church of M. in groſſe, and preſented S, who was admitted, &c. and that the Church is now void by the death of S: The Defendant pleaded, That before the Queen, &c. J. Biſhop of Rocheſt. was ſeiſed of the ſaid Advowſon, and Collated J.S. and then was removed to Norwich; and then in the Vacation J. S. dyed, and the Queen preſented S; and S. being dead, it belongs to the now Biſhop, who collated the ſaid Jackſon, who is Perſona impersonata, abſq; hoc that the Queen was ſeiſed of the Advowſon: And the Jury found, that the Advowſon in Fee was preſentable by the Queen by two Turns contiguous, and by the Biſhop the third Turn: and that the Queens firſt Turn was ſatisfied by the preſentment of S: and that this is the ſecond for the King. It was holden in this caſe, That although this Verdict did not find the Iſſue for the King; for the Iſſue was to be underſtood of the whole Advowſon: Yet becauſe it did clearly appear to the Court by the Verdict, That this preſentation did of right belong to the King; therefore the Court did award a Writ to the Biſhop for the King. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. The King and the Biſhop of Rocheſters Caſe. Hob. 218, 219.

10. Note; It was agreed by the Court, That if the Court of the Councel of York, which is a Court of Equity, do make a Decree againſt a Maxim in Law; as againſt a Joynt-Tenant that hath Land by Survivorſhip, that the heir of his Companion ſhall have the moyety of the Land, this is a void Decree, and a Prohibition ſhall be granted in ſuch caſe, except that, during the Lives of the parties, it be agreed betwixt them, That there ſhall not be a Survivorſhip; for then they may hold plea of it, and then ſuch a Decree ſhall be good. Paſch. 22 Jac. in C. B. Portington and Beaumonts Caſe. Winch. 79.

11. One entred a Plaint in a Baſe Court to purſue in the nature of a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, and had Summons againſt the party until ſuch a day; at which time, after Sun-ſet, the Steward came and held the Court, and the Summons was returned ſerved, and the party made default, and Judgment was given. The Queſtion was, If the Judgment was good? It was the Opinion of the whole Court, although the Judgment was given, and the Court was holden at Night, yet it was good: and if it were erronious, he could have no remedy by Writ of Falſe Judgment, nor otherwiſe, but onely by way of Petition to the Lord; and he ought in ſuch caſe to do right according to conſcience, for he hath power as a Chancellor within his own Court. Mich. 6 Eliz. Owen 63.

12. The Steward of a Leet being in Court, did ſay to the Defendant who was a Reſient within the precinct of the Leet, That he muſt be ſworn for the Queen to make preſentments at the Court: To which the Defendant replyed, I ſaying, I ought to be ſworn, you lye. It was agreed by the Court, That this was ſuch a Miſdemeanour for which the Defendant is fineable: For every Leet is the Queens Court, and a Court of Juſtice, to which, reſpect and recovery ought to be given; and theſe words are in great contempt of the Court. Popham, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That if any miſdemeaned himſelf in the Leet in any outragious manner, the Steward might commit him. The Plaintiff had Judgment to recover. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in B.R. The Earl of Lincoln and Fiſhers Caſe. Owen. 113.

13. In an Ejectione Firmæ, by the Leſſee of R. of the Church of D, It was found by Verdict, That the King was the true Patron, and that W. entred a Caveat in vita Incumbentis, he then lying in extremis; ſcil. Caveat Epiſcopus ne quis admittatur, &c. niſi Convocatus. The ſaid W. the Incumbent dyed; J. S. a ſtranger preſented one M. who is admitted and Inſtituted and Inducted; afterwards the ſaid W. pretents one G. who is Inſtituted and Inducted: Afterwards R. procures a Preſentation from the King, and was Inſtituted and and inducted. It came in Queſtion in the Spiritual Court, who had the beſt right? And there ſentence was given, That the firſt Inſtitution was irrita, vana, et iniqua by reaſon of the Caveat; and then the Church being full of the ſecond Incumbent, the King was put out of poſſeſſion. But it was adjudged and Reſolved by all the Juſtices, 1. That this Caveat was void, becauſe it was in the life of the Incumbent. 2. That the Church upon the Inſtitution of M. was full, againſt all but the King, and then the Preſentation of G. was void, by reaſon of the ſuper-Inſtitution, and therefore no obſtacle to hinder the preſentation of R, and therefore he had good right: And if the ſecond Inſtitution be void, the ſentence cannot make it good: For the Spiritual Court ought to take Notice of the Common-Law, which ſaith, That Eccleſia eſt plena et Conſulta upon the Inſtitution, and the Parſon hath thereby Curam animarum. Hill. 14 Jac. in B. R. Rouſe's Caſe. Poſham, 133.

14. Langham a Citizen and Freeman of London, was committed to Newgate by the Court of Aldermen: He was brought to the Barr by Habeas Corpus; upon which Return was made, That London is an Ancient City Incorporate by the name of Mayor, Comminalty and Citizens: and that a Court of Record had been time out of mind before the Mayor and Aldermen: And that there is a cuſtome, That if any Freeman be elected Alderman, that he ought to take an Oath in hac verba, viz. You ſhall ſwear to ſerve the King in ſuch a Ward in the Office of Alderman, of which you are elected; you ſhall duly come to the Court of Orphans and Huſtings, if you be not hindred by command of the King, or any other lawful cauſe; you ſhall give good Counſel to the Mayor; you ſhall not ſell Bread, Ale, Wine, or Fiſh, by retail: And ſet forth a cuſtome, That if any perſon be choſen Alderman, he ſhall be called to the Court, and the Oath tendred to him; and if he refuſe to take it, then he ſhall be committed till he take the Oath: And then ſet forth, That Langham being a Freeman, and having taken the Oath of a Freeman, was debito modo electus Alderman, and being habilis et idoneus, 1. Feb. was called to the Court of Aldermen, and the Oath tendred to him, and that he refuſed to be ſworn in contemptum Curiæ et contra Conſuetudines; wherefore according to the cuſtome he was committed. It was ſaid, That this was an inſufficient Return for the matter of it; for he is impriſoned generally, and untill he takes the Oath: which utterly takes away the Liberty of the Subject; for by this means he may be impriſoned for ever. 2. There is no Notice given him, that he was choſen Alderman: And, 3. The Oath is naught, being unreaſonable; For he ought to forſeit his Trade; for if he ſell Bread, Ale, Wine, or Fiſh before, he muſt ſwear, he ſhall never ſell them by retail afterwards; which is very unreaſonable: For perhaps he may be impoveriſhed afterwards, and ſo neceſſitated to uſe his Trade, or otherwiſe to periſh. But the Opinion of all the Juſtices upon Argument in Court, was, That the Return was good, that the Oath was reaſonable; and that the Court, being a Court of Record, might lawfully commit him for refuſing to take the ſaid Oath; and ſuch Commitment, upon ſuch Refuſal, had been admitted and practiſed. Wherefore the Party was Remanded to priſon. H.11. 17 Car. in B.R. Langham's Caſe. Mo. 179, 180, to 191.

Cuſtomes.

1. Cuſtome, what it is; And what ſhall be ſaid to be a good and reaſonable Cuſtome, and allowable, and what not, but ſhall be ſaid to be void.

1. CUſtome is defined to be Conſtitutio ex diverſis actionibus ſæpius iterata, Goldesbr. 103. in Plympton and Dalyett's Caſe; but that which is alledged to be throughout England, is the Common-Law, and ought not to be layed as a Cuſtome. And that which is by Cuſtome, is not to be layed as the Common-Law. See 34 H. 8. Dyer. It was layed, Quod habetur Conſuetudo inter Mercatores per totam Angliam, &c. It was holden, It was no good manner of alledging a Cuſtome, for that it is the Common-Law. See Cook 9. Part, 74. in Combes Caſe. acc.

2. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That whereas the Defendant 20 Jan. 9 Jac. was, and long before had bin, a Common Hoyman, to carry goods by water for hire from London to Milton, and from thence to London: And where by the Cuſtome of Englands ſuch Carriers, ought to keep the goods delivered to them to be carried ſafely, ſo as they ſhould not be loſt by default of them, or their Servants. That he 20 Jan. had delivered a Portmanteau, with 50 l. in it to be carried, for which he gave him 2 d. and that the Defendant had ſuffered the goods to be loſt. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved. That although it was layed as a Cuſtome of the Realm; yet in Deed it is the Common-Law. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Rich and Kneeſands Caſe. Hob. 17, 18.

See 22 H. 6. 21. Horſelowes Caſe. An Action upon the Caſe brought againſt an Inkeeper, And Exception was taken to the Writ, becauſe it was ſecundum legem, et conſuetudinem regni, It appearing, that the matter did lye in Cuſtome.

3. The Writ de rationabili parte Bonorum lyeth, where the Wife, after the death of her Husband, cannot have the third part of her Husbands goods, after his debts paid, and funerall expenſes performed, for then ſhe may have this Writ againſt the Executors of her Husband. And it ſeemeth by the Statute of Magna Charta, cap. 18. that this was the Common-Law of the Realm; and ſo it appeareth by Glanvil, That after the Debts paid, the Goods ſhall be divided into three parts, one part for the Wife, another for the ſons and daughters, and a third part to the Executors; and yet the Writs in the Regiſter recite the ſame, to be the Cuſtome of the Countries. See 39 E. 3. 9. Detinue brought, and declares, That the Heir by cuſtome, ought to have reaſonable part of the goods of his Father, who dyed Inteſtate and good. 31 E. 3. A Woman did demand the moyety of her Husbands goods, becauſe he had no Children, and counted upon the cuſtome of the Realm. See 30 H. 6. Reſpondet 75. acc. Mich. 18 and 19 Eliz. in B. R. A Writ was brought, allowed there, notwithſtanding that Exception was taken to it, that it was maintainable by ſpeciall cuſtome in London. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 122.

4. Cuſtome that the Lord may take the beaſt of a ſtranger Levant and Couchant upon the Land for a Heriot due by his Tenant, is not good. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 199.

5. Cuſtome that the Tenant ſhall be amerced if he do not put his Cattell into the Lords pound, is a void Cuſtome. 21 H. 7. 20.

6. Cuſtome is ſuch an uſage as hath obtained vim legis, and is a binding Law to particular places, perſons, and things, which it concerns, and cannot be eſtabliſhed by the Grant of the King, or by Act of Parliament. But it is jus non ſcriptum made by the people onely of ſuch a place, where the Cuſtome runs.

7. Cuſtome and Preſcription are in the Right, Uſage is in Poſſeſſion: Cuſtome is applyed properly to a place certain, as a Country, Town, Hundred, and runs with the Land, as Gavel-kind: Preſcription hath reſpect to a place certain, which by intendment, hath continuance for ever: Uſage differs from them both, for it may be more particular, as to a Hundred, and perſons, which cannot have continuance for ever; As to Inhabitants of a Town, to have a Way; &c.

8. Every Cuſtome is not unreaſonable, which is contrary to a particular Rule or Maxim of the Common-Law. For cuſtomes may have reaſonable Intendment, and beginning, where they are not prejudiciall to the Common-Weal, nor to the preſent intereſt of every particular perſon: As the Cuſtome of Gavell-kind, and Borough-Engliſh; one is againſt the Maxim of Diſcent, the other of Eſcheats, and yet they are good Cuſtomes. Sir John Davis, in the Caſe of Tanſtry.

9. A Cuſtome may be prejudiciall to a particular Intereſt, of a particular perſon, and yet reaſonable, where it is for the benefit of the Commonwealth: As the Cuſtome to make Bulwerks upon the Land of another for defence of the Realm. 36 H. 8. Dyer 60. or to pull down a houſe in publico incendio: or to dry Nets upon the Land of another, in favour of uſage. 8 E. 3. 18. or turning of the Plough upon the Land of another, in favour of Tillage: But a Cuſtome which is contrary to the Common-Wealth, and injurious to a multitude, cannot have a reaſonable beginning, and therefore is void, Davis's Reports ibid. As the Cuſtome, That none ſhall put his Cattell into the Common, untill the Lord hath put in his Cattell. 2 H. 4. 24. becauſe the ſame is injurious to a Multitude of Commoners.

10. A cuſtome, That ſuch of the Tenants of ſuch a Mannor, as ſhall firſt come to the place, ſhall have all Windfalls, is a void Cuſtome for the Incertainty, and yet it may be reduced to a certainty by matter ex poſt facto. Davis, ibid.

11. A Cuſtome which exalts it ſelf, and encroacheth upon the King's Prerogative, is void, as againſt the King: As a cuſtome to make a Corporation, is void, becauſe none can do it but the King. 49 Eliz. 3. 3. So a Preſcription to have Sanctuary for Treaſon: Or to have Catalla felonum, is void. 1 H. 7. 23.

12. A Cuſtome was alledged, That Tenant in Fee-ſimple might make a Leaſe but for ſix years, It was adjudged a void Cuſtome, becauſe repugnant to the Fee, and unreaſonable. 19 Eliz. Dyer. 358. Salford's Caſe.

13. A Cuſtome in Denbigh in Wales, is, That a Feme-Covert, with her Husband, by ſurrender in Court there, might allien her Lands. It was holden that the ſame was a good Cuſtome, and was not taken away by the Statute which Unites Wales to England, for that ſuch a Cuſtome was good in England. Hill. 21 Eliz. Dyer, 363. 6.

14. In Ancient Demeſne, Tenant in Tail levyed a Fine with Proclamations; And in a Formedon there brought, the Tenant pleaded the Fine to bar the Tail by cuſtome, and Judgment there given accordingly: upon which a Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought, and if the cuſtome of barring Eſtate tail, be averrable againſt the Statute of Donis, which is within memory, was Aſſigned for Error: It was ſaid, That if in that Caſe, the Judgment be reverſed, the Judgment ſhall onely be, that he ſhall be reſtored to his Action: and then they will adjudge according to their cuſtome. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer 373.

for

15. Cuſtome, that every Inhabitant of a Town had payed Modum decimarum to the Parſon, in diſcharge of the Tythes, is a good Cuſtome, for they do not claim a charge or profit in the ſoil of another, but a diſcharge in their own Land. So a Cuſtome, That every Inhabitant of ſuch a Town, ſhall have a way over ſuch Land to the Church, or Market, is a good Cuſtome, becauſe it is but an eaſement, and no profit; and a way or paſſage may well follow the perſon. Cook 6. Part, 69. Gatewood's Caſe.

16. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff intituled himſelf to have Common of Paſture, in ſuch a place where, &c. to his Copyhold, It was found that he ought to have Common: But that every Copyholder had uſed to pay time out of mind, &c. unum gallinam et quinque ova annuatim. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the payment did not limit or qualify the cuſtome, but the ſame is a Recompence for the Common, for which Recompence the Terr-Tenant hath remedy by diſtreſſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Cook 5. Part, 78. Gray's Caſe.

17. A Cuſtome that a Freeholder may not paſſe his Land unleſſe by ſurrender, into the hands of the Lord, is a good Cuſtome. Cook 5. Part, 84. acc.

18. Cuſtome of the Mannor is, That every Feoffment, Deviſe, or Grant, made of the Lands of that Manner, ſhall be preſented by the Tenants in open Court, was adjudged a good Cuſtome; and if it be not preſented, the Livery is void; And it was holden, it is not a perfect Feoffment untill it be preſented, but opus inchoatum et non perfectum. 6. 5. Part, 84. Peryman's Caſe.

19. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if a Copyholder ſuffered his Copyhold-Meſſuage to be ruined, that he might be amerced; and that the Lord might diſtrain the beaſts, as well of the Tenant, as of the under-Tenant Levant, and Couchant, for the ſaid Amercement. A Copyholder ſuffered his houſe to go to ruine for want of reparations, and afterwards made a Leaſe of his Copyhold for a year, the Lord diſtreyned the under-Tenant: It was holden by the Court a good Cuſtome, and a good diſtreſſe, and then Amercement is not perſonall but a Charge upon the Land, And the diſtreſſe is but as a pledge, and therefore a ſtranger may be diſtrained by ſuch a Cuſtome. Hill. 17 Car. in B. R. Tyler and Thornes Caſe. Mo. 231.

20. A man preſcribed to have Pot-water out of a River; and the Jury found, That he ought to have it, paying 6 d. yearly. It was holden, he hath failed in his preſcription; and if he do not pay the money, the Terr-Tenant may diſturb him in taking of the water; which is all the remedy which he hath. Cook 5. Part, 78.

21. The Lord preſcribed to hold his Turn in a place, and to have of the Terr-Tenant a horſe as a Reward at every Turn. It was holden a void preſcription for the incertainty, becauſe the ſame lyes in the Will of the Lord, which is incertain.

22. A Cuſtome which maintains Tyranny, Oppreſſion, Extortion in the Lord, or in any other, is void, as the Cuſtome of Taniſtry in Ireland; Davis Reports in the Caſe of Taniſtry.

23. A Cuſtome, that the Land ſhall go [digniſſimo of the Sex] is void for the incertainty, and cannot be reduced to any certainty by proof; for Dignity doth conſiſt in the opinion of the Multitude, which is the moſt incertain thing in the world. See Davis, Ibid.

24. A Cuſtome long time continued, cannot be interrupted by the bare alteration of the Tenure: And therefore if Land be ancient Socage and Gavelkind, and the ſame comes to the Crown; and it is delivered out of the Crown again Tenendum in Capite, or by Knights ſervice; yet the Land ſhall diſcend to All the males as Gavelkind. 5 Ma. Daliſons Reports. Lambert's Perambulation of Kent, 535.

25. A Cuſtome, That the Pariſhioners onely, ſhall elect their Church-Wardens without the Parſon, was adjudged a good Cuſtome. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. in the caſe of the Pariſh of Ethelborow in London.

26. In a Special Verdict, It was found, That the Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That Qualibet Fœmina viro cooperta poterit legare to her husband, and ſurrender her Copyhold Land in the preſence of the Reeve and 6. other perſons. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was no good cuſtome, becauſe of the incertainty; for it ought to be alledged, That Qualibet Fœmina poteſt legare, et non [poterit.] Surrender, Cuſtome, or Preſcription, ought to be alledged in a thing done. Paſch. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Skipwiths Caſe. Godbolt 14.

27. Debt was brought upon a Conteſſit Solvere according to the Law Merchant, and the Cuſtome of the City of Briſtol: Exception was taken, becauſe the Plaintiff did not make mention in his Declaration of the Cuſtome. But becauſe in the end of his Plea, he ſaid, Protestando, ſe ſequi Querelam ſecundum Conſuetudinem Civitatis Briſtoni, It was awarded good. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt 49.

28. Errour of a Judgment in Cornwall, upon Debt

Debt upon Obligation. The Errour was, because the Tryall of the Iſſue there was by 6. onely. It was ſaid to be no Errour, becauſe the Court was by Preſcription, and the Tryall there ſecundum conſuetudinem ibidem à tempore, &c. before uſed. But it was holden by the Court, That ſuch a Cuſtome to try by 6, was a void cuſtome, and againſt the Common-Law; and there cannot be an Exemption of perſons from being Jurours, unleſſe there be ſufficient Jurours beſides the perſons exempted, to make tryals. Mich. 1 Car. in B. R. Tredymock and Peryman's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 188.

29. Enfant Tenant in tail of Land in Gavelkind, (where the Cuſtome was, That an Enfant above the age of 15. years, might make a Feoffment of his Lands, and bind himſelf) made a Feoffment of the Lands entailed. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this Feoffment was not any diſcontinuance to bind him, nor was good by the Cuſtome; for that the cuſtome ſhall never enable him to do a wrong; and therefore it ſhall be intended of Land onely, whereof he is ſeiſed in Fee. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Vaughan and Floids Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 80.

30. Errour of a Judgment in Salop: It was aſſigned, That in an Action upon the Caſe there, the Defendant was Eſſoyned, and had by Eſſoine, et Querens habuit eundem diem; at the day the Defendant being demanded, appeared not, but made default et habuit diem per defaltam ſecundum Conſuetudinem, &c. at which day the parties appeared, and Judgment was given againſt the Defendant by Nihil dicit; ſo the Plea was utterly diſcontinued, becauſe when the Defendant made default, no day can be given unto him when he is out of Court: and although it was done ſecundum Conſuetudinem, yet that cannot help it: For no Cuſtome can help that which is againſt Common-Law. The Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Popham and Rowley's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 357.

31. The Parſon ſued in the Spiritual Court, to have the Clerk eſtabliſhed there, being placed there by the Parſon according to the late Canon, That the Parſon of the Church ſhould have the placing of the Clark: where the Pariſhioners diſturbed him, upon a pretence of a Cuſtome to place a Clark there by Election of their Veſtry; upon which ſurmiſe of a Cuſtome, the Churchwardens and Pariſhioners prayed a Prohibition, and a Prohibition was Granted, for that the Court held, That it was a good Cuſtome, and that the Canon cannot take it away. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Jermyn and Hammond's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 670.

32. In Caſe for a Prohibition to the Spiritual Court for Tythes: It was ſurmiſed, That there was a Cuſtome, That all Lambs eryanded, fallen and bred upon any one Tenement, or Living, in ſuch a Pariſh, although they belonged to ſeveral Owners, they have been caſt, and reckoned together, as if they were but one mans, and the Tenth, or Tythe Lamb of them ſo counted together, have been paid for Tythe. In this Caſe, two points were Reſolved. 1. That a Prohibition ſhould be granted, becauſe all Cuſtomes againſt Common Right, are tryable at the Common-Law. 2. That this Cuſtome was void, unreaſonable, and againſt Law: for by this means, it might fall out, that ſome one might have but one Lamb, and that might be taken for Tythe, and he that had more ſhould pay nothing at all. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Barker and Cocker's Caſe. Hob. 329.

33. In an Action upon the Caſe for erecting a Mill; the Queſtion was, upon the validity of a Cuſtome, which was ſet forth, That the Lord of the Mannor of D. ſet forth the Cuſtome to be, That all Reſidents, and Inhabitants within the ſaid Mannor, ought to come and grind at his Mill. It was a Queſtion, If this was a good Cuſtome. The Opinion of all the Juſtices upon open Argument in Court was, That it was a good Cuſtome. And as to the lying of the Writ of Stella ad nocendum, It lyes not alwayes between the Lord and the Tenant, but where there is a Tenure; but where there is no Tenure, it lyes by Cuſtome, and then it may be againſt a ſtranger: and in this Caſe, the party, though a ſtranger, hath benefit by the Cuſtome, becauſe here he hath his Tenement; and it was ſaid, that although no reaſon can be alledged for the beginning of ſuch a Cuſtome, yet it ſhall not be judged unreaſonable, for qui rationem in omnibus quærit, rationem deſtruit. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Hix and Gardiner's Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 195.

34. In Trover and Converſion of Goods, The Defendant pleaded, and juſtified, the taking at ſuch a place at L. as Bellman there by Cuſtome, to take out of every bag of Corn holding a Buſhell, and no more, a pint, and if it hold more, then a Quart; and ſhews that he was choſen Bell-man, ex tempore quo, he did take the ſame as by Cuſtome it belonged to him to do, and layes the taking at one place by the Cuſtome, and the Converſion at another: and upon this plea, the Plaintiff demurred in Law: And amongſt other points, one was, Whether this was a good Cuſtome. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Cuſtome was good and reaſonable, and ſhall be conſtrued to have a reaſonable commencement, for the Office of the Bell-man, is to cleanſe and pave the ſtreets; and pro labore, he had this allowed him; and it is pro bono publico; And the Cuſ-

Converſion here is the point, and the Trover is but the inducement to the Action; and he ſheweth here, that he hath not converted the goods of the Plaintiff, but his own goods, when he conveyes to himſelf a property, and after Converts. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, that it was a good Cuſtome. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Hill and Banks Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 201, 202, 203.

35. Note, It was Ruled by the whole Court, That if a Cuſtome be alledged, That the eldeſt daughter ſhall ſolely inherit; the ſame may be a good Cuſtome, but then the eldeſt Siſter ſhall not Inherite by force of ſuch Cuſtome: So if the Cuſtome be that the eldeſt daughter and the eldeſt Siſter ſhall Inherite, the eldeſt Aunt ſhall not Inherite by that Cuſtome. And ſo if the Cuſtome be, That the youngeſt ſon ſhall Inherite; the youngeſt brother ſhall not Inherite by the ſaid Cuſtome, as it was adjudged in one Denton's Caſe. Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Rapley and Chaplyn's Caſe. Godbolt. 166.

36. In Treſpaſſe for taking away of Timber, and the boughs of Trees felled, the Defendant juſtified, and ſet forth, That the cuſtome of the Manner of A. was, That the Lord ſhould have Quicquid valeret ad maremium, and that the Freeholders ſhould have Ramilles (which the Court ſaid muſt be meant of the Arms and boughs for whatſoever is not maremium, is ramillum: But the Defendant in his juſtification, further ſet forth, That the Tenants in Boſcagio parte manerii time out of mind, had uſed to have the branches of Trees to be burnt in neceſſario focali in terris et Tenementis: The Opinion of the Court was, That the Cuſtome in the generality of it, to have Ramilles; was a good Cuſtome, and ſo was the Caſe in 13 E. 3. viz. title bar, where ſuch a cuſtome was ſet forth; which was ſued to be in the very Manner, which was in the principall Caſe: But becauſe the cuſtome was not well expreſſed in the principall Caſe where it was ſet forth to have Eſtovers to be burnt in terris et Tenementis, and for that Eſtovers cannot be appertaining to Lands, but to houſes onely, by reaſon of that ſpeciall Juſtification onely, It was adjudged againſt the Defendant. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. The Biſhop of Chichester and Strodwick's Caſe. Godbolt. 234, 235.

37. Debt againſt an Executor in Briſtow upon a cuſtome of Conceſſit ſolvere, by him to pay a Debt due by the Teſtator, upon a ſimple contract, a Verdict was, and Judgment for the Plaintiff. Errour was brought; and the Error Aſſigned was, That the cuſtome of bringing an Action of Debt upon a Conceſſit ſolvere, as in this Caſe, is not good, becauſe it hinders the party to wage his Law, as by the Law he may do: The Court inclined to Opinion, That it was no good cuſtome; for a Conceſſit ſolvere is without any conſiderat on, eſpecially being brought againſt an Executor. Mich. 19 Car. in B. R. Twigg and Roberts Caſe. Styles 195.

38. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, A Copyholder of Inheritance, made a Letter of Attorney to two jointly and ſeverally, to ſurrender his Copyhold-Lands in Fee to certain uſes, after his death, according to the cuſtome of the Manner. The Queſtion was, Whether the cuſtome was good or not. It was ſaid, it was not good, Becauſe the cuſtome here is to convey againſt a generall Law. And 2. None can give an Authority to another to do a thing, which he could not do himſelf. And 3. By the death of the Copyholder, the Lands are ſeiſed in the heir, and an Authority given to deveſt them is not good. Alſo it is not found, that the Tenant had a Feeſimple in the Land, and if he had but an Eſtate for Term of life, he cannot make ſuch a Letter of Attorney. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the cuſtome was not good; and ſo much the rather, becauſe it is not found, That the parties to whom the Letter of Attorney was made, were Cuſtomary Tenants, for one of them is not mentioned at all, and the other is onely found to be ſo by way of recitall. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 1651. in B. R. Walls and Bucknall's Caſe. Styles 311.

39. In an Action brought upon a Bill of Exchange, for mony paid by a wrong perſon, to whom the Bill belonged not, and a Verdict for the ſame: If it were a good payment, if the wrong perſon do ſhew the Bill. It was holden by the Court, That by the cuſtome of Merchants, it was a good payment, and that the party that paid it, ſhall not be charged again. Hill. 1652. in B. R. Styles 366.

2. Particular Cuſtomes of London, and of other Counties, Cities, Towns, and Boroughs; where they be good, and ſhall bind, where not.

1. BY the cuſtome of London: Lands and Tenements in London, may be bargained and ſold, by word onely, without Indenture, or Inrollment, notwithſtanding the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Inrollments. Paſc. 6. Eliz. Dyer. 229. Chibborn's Caſe.

2. Husband and Wife were ſeiſed of a Tenement in London, to them, and the Heirs of the Husband, Husband, and the Husband Covenanted by Indenture, in Conſideration of 20 l. that he would ſuffer a Common Recovery by Writ of Right, according to the cuſtome of London, which bindeth as a Fine at Common Law, and that the Recovery ſhould be to the uſe of the Recoverors, untill they had made a good and ſufficient Eſtate, and Leaſe by Indenture for 40 years, and after the making of the ſaid Leaſe, then to the uſe of the Husband and Wife, and the heirs of the Husband. It was Reſolved, That the Leaſe was good, and not defeaſible by the Wife, who ſurvived the Husband, and yet the Husband onely was party to the Deed; which declared the uſe, and yet the ſame bound the Wife, by reaſon of the Cuſtome. Mich. 12 Eliz. Dyer 290. Cook 2. Part, 57. in Berkwith's Caſe.

3. By the cuſtome of London, A deviſe of Land by Will is good, it being enrolled, for it hath greater ſolemnity added to the Will, then in other Towns and Boroughs, where Lands are deviſeable. Cook 5. Part, 84. in Perimans Caſe.

4. A. ſeiſed of a houſe in London, took a Wife, and afterwards acknowledged a Recognizance to the Chamberlain of the City of London, according to the Cuſtome for Orphanage-mony; and afterwards acknowledged another Recognizance before the Recordor and Mayor of the Staple to B; B. ſued Execution upon his Recognizance, and had a Liberate, but the ſame was not Returned, and the Sheriff upon the ſame delivered the ſaid houſe to B. The ſucceſſor of the Chamberlain, ſued Execution upon his Recognizance by Elegit, to a Serjeant at Mace, immediate Officer to the Court, and had the moyety of the houſes delivered to him in extent. A. the Recogniſor dyed, his Wife had the houſes delivered to her for her Dower: and afterwards the Wife dyed. The Chamberlain Aſſigned his Intereſt over to F. and afterwards B. the other Conuſee aſſigned alſo his Intereſt to F. the Heir of the Conuſor, demiſe the houſes to the Plaintiff. In this caſe, amongſt other points, It was Reſolved, That the Succeſſor of the Chamberlain of London, ſhould have the ſaid Recognizance: for although the Corporation of the Chamberlain be a ſole Corporation; yet the Corporation was by cuſtome, and the cuſtome hath created and made him Chamberlain, and a Corporation in ſucceſſion, as to that ſpeciall purpoſe concerning Orphanage, The ſame Cuſtome hath enabled the Succeſſor to take the Recognizances made to his predeceſſor: And it was holden, That the cuſtome was a reaſonable cuſtome, for the Executors, or Adminiſtrators, ought not to intermeddle with ſuch Recognizances, which by the cuſtome are taken in his Corporate capacity, and not in his private capacity. Hill. 13 Eliz. Cook, 4. Part, 64. Fulwood's Caſe.

5 Note, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That if any Orphan of London, who is by the cuſtome of London, under the Government of the Mayor and Aldermen of the ſaid City, ſue in the Eccleſiaſticall Court, or in the Court of Requeſts, for any goods, monies, and Chattells due to them, either by cuſtome of London, or by any deviſe, or Legacy in the Will of their Anceſtor, or to have an Accompt; that a Prohibition will lye, becauſe the Government of the Orphans, by cuſtome, doth appertain to the Mayor and Aldermen; and they onely have the Juriſdiction of them. Paſc. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 73. Caſe of the Orphans of London.

6. A. brought debt upon an Obligation againſt an Adminiſtrator, who pleaded that there is a cuſtome in London, That if a contract be made by a Citizen of London, to pay ſo much mony to another Citizen; and he that ought to pay it, dyeth inteſtate, that his Adminiſtrator ſhall be bounden to pay it, aſwell as upon an Obligation, And it was adjudged a good Cuſtome; For although that none was chargeable at the Common-Law, by the name of Adminiſtrator, and cuſtome cannot begin within time of memory; yet becauſe they were chargeable at the Common-Law, as Executors, It was Reſolved, That ſuch a generall cuſtome was good; and it was Reſolved, That although the Plaintiff was a ſtranger and no Citizen, yet the Cuſtome was good to bind him. Trin. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 32. Snelling's Caſe.

7. A. ſued an Appeal of Robbery in the County of W. where the Robbery was done, againſt B. and C. as acceſſores, and declared that the Principalls named in the Writ, and who were attainted, did the Robbery in the County of W. and that the Defendants felonioully at London, before the Robbery done, did abet them to do it: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That although the Plaintiff cannot have but one Appeal againſt the Principalls and acceſſaries, and againſt the principall of neceſſity it ought to be brought in the County of W. yet becauſe thoſe of the County of W. cannot enquire of a thing done in London, and London by the cuſtome cannot joyn with them, for in caſe of Felony which concerneth a mans life, every Act ſhall be tryed in the County, where the Act was done. It was adjudged, That the Appeal againſt the Acceſſores ſhould abate. 26 Eliz. Dyer. 38. Cook 7. Part, 2. in Bullwer's Caſe.

8. The cuſtome of London is, to enter a Plaint firſt, and then Arreſt the party, or elſe by the cuſtome they may Arreſt the party, and then enter the Plaint, upon a good cauſe of Action: In an Information againſt S. and other Serjeants at Mace of the City of London, for Arresting the body of Isabell Countesse of Rutland: The Case was, A judgment was had against the said Countesse in the Common-Pleas: Whereupon a Capias was Awarded against her out of the Common-Pleas to the Sheriffs of London to Arrest her body: The Serjeant who had a Warrant to Arrest her, being fearfull that she would be rescued by her Servants and friends, and so escape; for which the Sheriffs (if she was Arrested) should be charged; The Serjeants caused S. to enter a feined Action of 1000 l. against her, before the Sheriffs, according to the custome, upon which they would Arrest the Countesse and bring her to the Counter, and then take her body to Execution, upon the Capias ad satisfaciendum; And after the said Serjeants came to her Coach, and shewed her their Mace, and touched her body with it, Saying, We Arrest you Madame, and afterwards compelled the Coachman to carry her to the Counter, where she remained till she paid the debt: In this Case, these points were Resolved, That the Person of a Baron or Countesse shall not be Arrested in debt, or Trespasse, because it is intended, that they have sufficient in Law, by which they may be distreyned. 2. Resolved, That because in the principall Case, a Capias was Awarded against the Countesse by the Court of Common-Pleas, that the Sheriff, or his Officer, by his Warrant, might without Offence execute the same, for they ought not to dispute the Authority of the Court, but to execute the Writs sent to them, and although it appeared in the Capias, that she was a Countesse, against whom no Capias lay by Law, yet because in some cases (as in cases of contempt, Capias lyes against them). It was Resolved, That the Sheriff, nor his Officers ought not to examine the Judiciall Act of the Court: But it was Resolved in the principall case, because the Serjeants Arrested the Countesse upon a feyned Action of their own heads; without any Warrant, that the same was a false Imprisonment, and therefore they were fined. And Arrests upon such feined Actions, were condemned in Law. Cook 6. Part, 53. The Countesse of Rutland's case. See Cook 9. Part, 62, 63. Markally's case. acc.

9. The Plaintiff in an Action brought, declared, That whereas he was possessed of a Messuage for years, which had antient Lights, and the Defendant had a house adjoyning, and a yard: the Defendant upon the yard had erected a house, and Stopped his Lights. The Defendant pleaded, That the custome of London was, That every one might build upon an old Foundation, and if there be not any agreement by Covenant, might Stop the Windowes of his Neighbor: Upon which the Plaintiff did demur: And it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, because he did not answer the charge of the Plaintiff, that he built upon the new, and not the old foundation: And it was holden by the Court in this case, That a man might build upon an old foundation, and darken all the lights of his Neighbour which are adjoyning to it; And if he maketh new windowes higher, his Neighbour might also erect his house higher, and destroy these new windows. But a man cannot build a house upon a place where there was none before, as in a yard, and thereby darken the Lights of his Neighbour: And so it was adjudged in Altham's Case, upon such a custome in the City of York. And it was said by Coke Justice, That one Prescription might be pleaded against another, where the one might stand with the other, as it was adjudged in Wright and Wright's case, That the Copyholder of a Bishop prescribed. That all Copyholders within the Manor, had bin discharged of Tythes, but not where one Prescription is against another, as where one prescribes to have Lights, and the other prescribes to Stop them. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Hughes and Keime's Case.

10. The Custome in London is, That no person whatsoever not being Free of the City, shall by any colour, way or means whatsoever, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other, keep any Shop, or any other place whatsoever inward or outward, to put to sale any Wares or Merchandizes by way of Retail, or use any Trade or Mystery or Handicraft for hire, gain or sale within the City, upon pain of forfeiture for every time 5 l. It was Resolved by the Court, That the same was good by way of Custome; but the same was not good by way of Grant or Charter made to the City. Cook 8. Part, 122, 123. The Case of the City of London. See 7 Jac. in C. B. Wagners Case. Brown. 2. Part, 284. acc.

11. There are divers Customes in London which are against Common right, and the Rule of the Common-Law; and yet they are allowed to be good: and so much the rather, because they have not onely the force of a Custome, but they are also supported and fortified by authority of Parliament. scil. They have a Custome in London, That the Creditor may arrest the body of the Debtor before the day of payment, to drive him to find Sureties. 5 E. 4. 30. 2 H. 7. 12.

12. They have a Custome in London, to enter the house of another which is his Castle: and therefore the custome of London is, That when a Chaplain or Priest hath a Woman in his house or chamber, and one hath an ill suspition thereof, he who hath such suspition, may come to the Constable of the Ward, or Beadle, and with him may enter into the house and chamber of the Chaplain or Prieſt, and commit the Offender to priſon, 2 H. 4. 12.

13. They have a Cuſtome in London, which doth alter the courſe of Juſtice, ſcil. where an Action is brought before one Judge, to remove the plea before another. In an Action of Debt upon an Eſcape of a man taken by a Capias upon a Statute-Merchant at the Plaintiff's Suit, The Defendant ſaid, that the Cuſtome of London is, That where a Plaint is entred before the Sheriffs of London, That the Mayor at the ſuggeſtion of the Plaintiff or Defendant, may ſend for the parties; and if it be found by Examination before the Mayor, that the Plaintiff is ſatisfied, he may award, That the Plaintiff ſhall be barred; and that the Plaintiff did enter a Plaint of the matter, and was examined before the Mayor; and upon Examination it was found, that the party was paid; and that the Plaintiff took a Bond for the Reſidue; and therefore the Mayor awarded, That he ſhould be barred. And it was adjudged, That the Cuſtome was a good cuſtome, for that the Examination was pendant the Action. But if the cuſtome had been alledged, to have examined the matter after a Judgment, ſuch Cuſtome had not been good. 10 H. 6. 15. Cook 8. Part, 126. acc.

14. The married Wife of a Merchant in London may ſue, and be ſued, by Cuſtome; and the reaſon given is, becauſe London is the chief City and place of Merchandize within the Realm of England; and it is conceived that the Merchants cannot be alwayes reſident there, but ſometimes beyond Sea, and other where about their buſineſſes and affairs: and for that cauſe it ſhall be reaſonable, that his wife ſhall ſue and ſhall be ſued in his abſence. 39 H. 6. See Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. in Gittins and Compers Caſe. Brownl. 2. Part, 118. acc.

15. Note: It was holden by the whole Court, That the Statutes of 32 & 34 H. 8. of Wills, did not extend to Lands in London, but the Deviſe of the whole is good: and that if the Deviſee of Lands in London be diſturbed, he ſhall have Ex gravi Querela; but otherwiſe it is, of Lands at the Common-Law; And if an Aſſiſe of Mortdanceſter be brought of Lands in London, it is a good plea to ſay, that the Lands are deviſeable; but if it be brought of Lands at the Common-Law, it is not any plea. 20 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 267.

16. Treſpaſſe of Battery and Impriſonment; the Defendant to the battery pleaded Not-guilty; and to the Impriſonment juſtified, That, being a Sergeant of the Mace in London, by Cuſtome there upon a plaint of Debt entred in any of the Counters againſt any, he may arreſt him againſt whom ſuch plaint is entred, and carry him to priſon, untill he find bail; and ſhewed, that a plaint is entred, &c. The Plaintiff replyed, That after the arreſt, he tendred him ſufficient bail, J. S. and J. D; and notwithſtanding he detained him. It was holden by the whole Court, That when he juſtifies the Arreſt and Impriſonment by the Cuſtome, although he might have accepted bayl, (which was agreed by the Court, he could not do, but that ought to be done by the Judge of the Court) and refuſed; that that did not make the Arreſt and Impriſonment tortious, as to have an Action of Treſpaſſe. But the Court agreed upon the matter, That he might have had an Action upon the Caſe for the detaining of him in priſon after bayl tendred. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 141. Salmon and Percivall's Caſe.

17. In an Information againſt the Defendant, for uſing the Trade of a Goldſmith, upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. not being an Apprentice: The Defendant pleaded the Cuſtome of London, That one having been an Apprentice for 7. years, and made Freeman of London of any Trade, may uſe any other Trade in the ſame City: and ſhewed, he was bound Apprentice in the Art of Cordwayner, and ſerved 7. years, and was made a Freeman, and ſo juſtified. It was Excepted to the Plea, becauſe he pleaded quod uti poſſit any other Trade; and not Quod uſus fuit. But it was anſwered, That this being alledged by way of Cuſtome in the City, and not as a particular preſcription, it was well enough: and ſo ſeemed to be the Opinion of the Court. 2. It was Objected, That the matter of the plea was not good, becauſe a Cuſtome cannot be alledged againſt a Statute. But it was anſwered, That being the Cuſtome of London, which Cuſtomes are confirmed by Parliament, it was good enough: But that point the Court doubted; and therefore it was not Reſolved. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. The King & Bagſhaws Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 153, 163.

18. In Treſpaſſe, for taking away a bagg of Nutmegs. The Defendant pleaded, That the Mayor, Citizens, and Comminalty had been time out of mind ſeiſed of a Wharf in London, called Queen-Hithe; & that all that time, they had uſed to have and take for goods layd upon the ſame Wharf, to be ſo conveyed from thence by water, of perſons not lawfully thereof diſcharged, Wharfage, ſcil. a half-penny of every Porters burthen there layd to be ſo conveyed; and for default of payment, to diſtrain ſuch goods upon the ſaid Wharf by a perſon appointed by the Mayor for collection thereof: and ſhewed, that two perſons unknown, brought two Porters burthens of goods of the Plaintiff's, being no perſon diſcharged, whereof the baggs of Nutmeggs was part, and laid them upon the ſaid Wharf to be conveyed by Water; and that the Defendant being Collector, delivered two ob. which not paid, he diſtrained: The Plaintiff confeſſed the barr; and layd, That time out of mind in the ſaid City, there had been a Cuſtome, That

That all the Freemen of the ſaid City had been and ought to be diſcharged of the ſaid payment of Wharfage for their ſaid goods; and averred, he was a Freeman of the City, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, There was no ſuch Cuſtome within the City: and then ſurmiſes, that time out of mind there had been a Cuſtome, That when any Iſſue upon any cuſtome of the City is joyned, though the Mayor and Comminalty be parties to the Action, The Mayor and Aldermen of the City have uſed to certifie to the Juſtices the truth of ſuch cuſtome; and prayed a Writ to the Mayor, to certifie: and in this caſe, the onely materiall Queſtion was, Whether the Cuſtome in this ſpeciall caſe were good, That the Mayor and Aldermen ſhould ratifie a Cuſtome which concerned the Intereſt of the Corporation whereof they were a part? And it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Cuſtome was not good: For, 1. It was not properly a Cuſtome, but a kind of preſcription, or in the nature of a preſcription, and then clearly it was not their Cuſtome. 2. That it was not ſuch Cuſtome as was within the reaſon or meaning of that ſpecial form of Tryall by Certificate that was granted and uſed in London. 3. Becauſe it was againſt right and Juſtice, and againſt natural Equity, to allow them their Certificate, wherein they are to try and judge their own cauſe. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Day and Savages Caſe. Hobart, 85, 86.

19. An Action upon the Caſe was brought for certain parcels of plate; The Iſſue was, Whether the Cuſtome of London was, That there was a Common Market in London for all goods, in all Shops, except Sundayes and Holidayes, from the Sun-riſing, to Sun-ſetting: The Defendants made their ſirmiſe for tryall of their Cuſtome by the Mouth of their Recorder, and prayed a Writ accordingly, which was granted, returnable in Trinity Term, and continued untill Octab. Mich. and then it is entred, That the Concluſion of the Defendant's plea ought to have been, Et de hoc ponit ſe ſuper patriam; whereupon the Plea was ſo made, and Iſſue taken: and upon a Venire facias to the Sheriff of London, found for the Plaintiff; which is a very ſtrong caſe to prove, They ſhall not try a Cuſtome by their own Certificate. Mich. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Bilford and Lowes Caſe. Hob. 87.

20. A Citizen of London was endebted to a Forrainer upon an Obligation, and the Forrainer to him upon a ſimple Contract: the Forrainer dyed; the Citizen (as he may by the Cuſtome) upon Oath that it is a due debt, had an Action againſt the Executor of the Forainer, and upon 4. defaults recorded, he attached the Debt in his own hands, according to the cuſtome of Forein Attachments; and the Executor found Maiſprife, that if he could not diſprove the debt within a yeare and a day, that ſo much ſhould be recovered upon the Obligation: and in Debt brought by the Executors of the Obligation, and this Attachment pleaded, It was Demurred, Whether it be a good Cuſtome, and as well between Forainers as Citizens; alſo becauſe the Judgment was, That the Plaintiff ſhall have Execution upon the debt attached; and not Judgment that he ſhall recover. Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer 196. Lees Caſe. See 8 Eliz. Dyer 247. Toſts Caſe, acc.

21. If a man ſue another before the Mayor of London, &c. and a third perſon is indebted to the Defendant in ſo much as the Suit of the Plaintiff is, and by the cuſtome of the Law of Attachment, the third perſon is condemned, and Judgment given againſt him: Notwithſtanding, if no Execution be ſued againſt the third perſon, the Plaintiff may reſort, and have Judgment and Execution againſt the Defendant, being his principal debtor; and alſo may ſue the third perſon for his debt, notwithſtanding the Judgment unexecuted. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer 182.

22. In Detinue of two Gowns, the Defendant ſaid, That a plaint was affirmed againſt the Plaintiff by the now Defendant, upon a demand of 30 s. For which the Plaintiff was attached by the two Gowns in the Cuſtody of the Defendant within the City being; and becauſe the Plaintiff made 4. defaults which were recorded, The Gowns were apprized at 22 s. by Oath of two men, and then delivered to the Defendant here at the ſaid prize of 22 s. by ſureties, to render the two Gowns, or the price, if the Plaintiff diſprove the debt within a year after the Appraizement: The Plaintiff pleaded, Nul tiel Record, before the Sheriff, and becauſe that all the Records before the Mayor and Sheriff, had ore tenus, do remain before themſelves; for that Cauſe a Writ was directed to the Sheriffs to certifie, If there was ſuch a Record, or not. See Book Entries, 207.

23. Upon a Habeas Corpus of a Priſoner: It was returned by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Sheriffs of London; Their Cuſtome concerning the Orphans of Freemen of London, and for ſecurity of their Portions to be paid to them at the age of 21 years, or at the time of their marriage, or at ſuch time as is appointed by the Will of their Father, or Mother, or other Freeman, giving to them any Legacy, they uſe to take ſufficient ſecurity of them, which ought to pay them; and if they refuſe, then to commit them to the Compter, untill they give ſecurity, and return, Their Cuſtomes were confirmed by Act of Parliament, 2 R. 2. And that A. a Freeman having one Son, and one Daughter by E. his wife, dyed; that the Priſoner being a Suiter to the wife before marriage, agreed, That if the wife would marry him, ſhe ſhould diſpoſe of 200 l. &c. and he was bound in a Statute to permit her to make her will, and diſpoſe thereof; and after ſhe dyed, and by her Will gave 100 l. to her ſon, and 100 l. to her Daughter, and the Priſoner agreed to her Will, and yet refuſed to give ſecurity to the Chamberlain of London, to pay it at the time appointed by the Will, pretending that he was bound by Statute to the Friends of the Orphans to perform it: upon the reading of the Return, the Priſoner was remanded by the Court: For the cuſtome was holden to be a good and laudable cuſtome; and the voluntary obligation upon marriage, is not any diſcharge as to the ſecurity by the cuſtome. Paſch. 16 Jac. in C. B. Andrews Caſe. Hutton, 30.

24. If a man do leave his Horſe in an Inne in London, and there he eats up in Hay and Provender more then he is worth; The cuſtome of London was ſaid to be, That the Horſe ſhould be prized by the Inne-keeper's next Neighbour, and afterwards to be ſold for the payment of the money owing for him: And the Court was clear of Opinion, That this was a good cuſtome, as the ſame was alledged; but not if the debt was for other Horſes; As if one do bring many Horſes into an Inne, and afterwards takes all of them away but one, the Inne-keeper cannot ſell this one Horſe for the payment of that which was due to him for the other Horſes by the cuſtome, notwithſtanding that the debt doth amount to more then the price of his Horſe; for every Horſe is to be ſold by the cuſtome to ſatisfie the debt due for his own meat only. Trin. 10 Jac. B. R. Moſſe and Townſends Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 207.

25. Upon a Habeas Corpus returned, the Caſe was; A man would erect a Tavern in Birchin-Lane, London; and the Mayor and Comminalty of the City for his diſobedience becauſe he would not obey them, but would erect a Tavern there againſt their wills, they knowing the ſame to be an unfit place, did impriſon him. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould be remanded, becauſe the Mayor and Comminalty had authority over him, and they might appoint him a place in which he might erect his Tavern. Note in that caſe the Recorder certified ore tenus the cuſtome to be, That the Mayor might appoint a place. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Marſh, 15.

26. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared, That London is antiqua Civitas; And they have uſed time out of mind, That the Mayor take Recognizances of any perſon being of full age, and not a Feme-Covert every day of the year, except Sundayes, Holy-dayes, Councel-dayes, and dayes of Quarter-Seſſions and Goal-delivery. And that the Defendant ſuch a day had acknowledged a Recognizance to the Plaintiff. It was Objected, That the Cuſtome was unreaſonable, and too general, not being reſtrained to any perſons or matters; for it may extend to Recognizances, taken of Idiots, men of Non-ſane memory; and though the whole Realm as well as within the City. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Cuſtome was good; and the Recognizance makes the Debt local: And the Mayor is ſuch a perſon as may take Recognizances, for he is a Judge of Record. And if the party be within age, Non-ſane Memory, Ideot, &c. ſhall come on the other ſide, and the Plaintiff need not ſhew the ſame in his Declaration. And the Court ſaid, They have uſed a long time to take Recognizances, and their Cuſtomes are Confirmed by Parliament. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Chamberlain and Thorpe's Caſe. Leon. 131.

27. Treſpaſſe of Aſſault, Battery, and Wounding the Plaintiff's Wife: The Defendant pleaded, That Salisbury was an Ancient City; and within the ſame, is a Cuſtome, That if any make an Affray, and aſſault any Officer of the City, or any other perſon, that if he upon whom ſuch Aſſault is made, complain to the Mayor of the City, that the Mayor for the time being, may ſend for him who made the Affray as a Juſtice of Peace, and make him to anſwer to it: And that the Plaintiff made an aſſault within the City; of which complaint being made to the Mayor, the Mayor ſent the Defendant being Conſtable, to bring the Plaintiff to him, who went to the Plaintiff's houſe, and ſignified to him the Commandment of the Mayor, and the wife of the Plaintiff did aſſault them; and they Molliter put their hands upon the ſaid Wife; which is the ſame Aſſault, Battery and Wounding. It was holden, The Defendant's plea was not good, for many cauſes; 1. This cuſtome, to impriſon upon a bare ſuggeſtion, is not good, nor reaſonable. 2. To be a Juſtice of Peace, doth not lye in preſcription; for no Juſtice of Peace was before 1 E. 3. and then the Commencement being known, Preſcription cannot be of it. 3. Becauſe the Preſcription is layed, that the Mayor might ſend for him, and doth not ſay, within the City; and it ſhall be unreaſonable to ſay, That in ſuch caſe the Mayor may ſend for him in any place within England. 4. Becauſe the wounding is not Anſwered; for molliter injicere manus, cannot be taken for a wounding: It was adjudged againſt the Defendant. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Jerome and Neal's Caſe. Leon. 103, 104.

28. In Action upon the Caſe; The Plaintiff declared, That L. parcell of the Manner of E. is Ancient Demeſne of the Crown, &c. and that all the Manner and Tenements of Ancient Demeſne ought to be acquitted of Toll in all places within the the Realm, for them their goods and Chattels; and ſet forth the Letters Patents of the Queen, 10 Sept. Anno 19. of her Raign, whereby ſhe commanded all Mayors, &c. to permit Tenants in Ancient Demeſne to be quit of Toll, Murage, &c. throughout the whole Realm; and declared, That he being Inhabitant of L. ſuch a day, carried his Goods to Yarmouth; and that the Defendants there had taken and carried away a Cable of the Plaintiff's Goods, to the value of 8 l. for Toll: The Defendant, by Proteſtation, that L. is not Ancient Demeſne; nor that the Tenements of Ancient Demeſne ought to be quit of Toll, ſaid, That Yarmouth was an ancient Town Incorporated by the name of Bayliff and Burgeſſes. And that they had time out of mind there an Officer called a Water-Baily; and that they and their Predeceſſors have had and taken Toll of the Tenants and Inhabitants of L. for any goods thither brought to Merchandize; and if it be not paid, they have uſed to diſtrain for it by their Water-Baily: And that the Plaintiff brought to Yarmouth 2000 weight of Cable Ropes to ſell; for which there was due 6 d. for Murage, 4 d. for Thronage, which he demanded, and the Plaintiff refuſed to pay: for which he took the ſaid Cable Nomine diſtrictionis for the ſaid Thronage, &c. It was ſaid, That Tenants in Ancient Demeſne are quit of Toll by the Common-Law, and have an Inheritance in ſuch Liberties which the King by his Grant cannot take away, and then the preſcription layed by the Defendants is not good, being againſt the Common-Law. But it was holden by the Court, That the preſcription as it was laid, was good: For it is to take Toll onely of thoſe things which are brought by Sea by Merchants, and not otherwiſe: and Tenants in Ancient Demeſne are not diſcharged of Toll for all things, but onely for ſuch as ariſe out of their Tenements, or is bought for their Tenements, or Families, and their ſuſtentations, according to the Quantity of their Tenements: They ſhall be Quit of all things for their manurance of their Lands and for beaſts, bought and ſold for their Tillage. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 22. But the Juſtices were clear of Opinion, That the Tenants in Ancient Demeſne ſhould pay Toll for their Merchandizes. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Wards and Knights Caſe. Leon. 231, 232.

3. Particular Cuſtomes within Mannors, and other Lands; what ſhall be ſaid to be good and reaſonable Cuſtomes, and ſhall bind the Tenants of the ſaid Mannors or Lands; What not.

1. IN a Replevin, The Defendant avowed, That the place where was parcel of the Mannor of B, being a Waſte ground, and that there were one hundred Copyholders there who had Common in that place; and ſhews a Cuſtome, that they chooſe every year a Surveyor of their Fields, who have uſed to diſtrain their Cattel Damage-Feaſant, and ſhews, he was elected Surveyor according to the Cuſtome, and found Cattle there Damage-Feaſant, and ſo avowes. It was adjudged, That the Avowry was not good. For although they have ſuch a cuſtome to make Surveyors of their Fields, and who might diſtrain Damage-Feaſant; yet he ought to diſtrain in the name of him that hath the Freehold, but not in his own name; and therefore is holden, It was not a good Juſtification to have a Retorn. Mich. 15 Jac. in B.R. Koblethaupt and Stephens Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 436.

2. Upon Evidence in an Ejectione Firmæ, The Cuſtome of the Manner of F. in the County of B, was found to be, That the Land was demiſeable for 21 years, paying the treble value of the Rent; and if he dyed within the Term, that the Term ſhould be to his heir, paying a Fine certain of one years Rent; and if he aſſigned the Term, the Aſſignee ſhould have it, paying for a Fine one years value of the Rent, and that he who had it, might by the cuſtome renew it for 21 years, paying 3 years value: and this was holden to be a good Cuſtome, by the Court. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Pages Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 671.

3. The Lord of a Mannor did preſcribe, That if the Tenant do a Reſcous, or drive the Cattel off from the Land when the Lord comes to diſtrain, that the Tenant ſhall be amerced by the Homage; and that the Lord might diſtrain for the ſame. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was a good cuſtome. Hill. 39 Eliz. in C.B. Godbolt. 135.

4. Note, by Anderſon, Chief Juſtice; He who will give in Evidence ſeveral Cuſtomes within Mannors, ought to ſhew the ſeverall Limit, in which the ſeveral cuſtomes are ſeverally running; as that the Mannor extends into two Towns, and that that the Lands in one of the ſaid Towns are grantable for lives onely, and the Lands in the other in Fee, and he ought not to ſhew the ſeveral cuſtoms promiſcuè valere through the whole Manner: and to that purpoſe he remembred this caſe, ſcil. The Mannor of Wadhurſt in the County of Suſſex, conſiſted of two ſorts of Copyhold, viz. Stockland and Bondland, by ſeveral cuſtomes diſcernable in ſeveral manners: As if a man be firſt admitted to Stockland, and afterwards to Bondland, and dyeth ſeiſed of both, his heir ſhall inherit both; but if he be firſt admitted to Bondland, and afterwards to Stockland, and of them dyeth ſeiſed, his youngeſt ſon ſhall inherit; and if of both ſimul et ſemel, his eldeſt ſon ſhall inherit. But if he dyeth ſeiſed of Bondland onely, it ſhall diſcend to the youngeſt ſon. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. in Kempe and Carter's Caſe. Leon. 55.

5. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed, becauſe in the Mannor there is a Cuſtome, That the greater part of the Tenants at any Court within the ſaid Mannor holden appearing, may make By-lawes for the moſt profit and beſt Government of the Tenants of the ſaid Mannor; and that the ſaid By-Laws ſhould bind all the ſaid Tenants; and that at ſuch a Court within the Manner, the Homage there being the greater part of the Tenants of the ſaid Mannor made this By-law, ſcil. That no Tenant of the ſaid Mannor ſhould put into ſuch a Common any Steer being a year old or more, upon payn of 6 d. for every ſuch Offence; and that it ſhould be lawfull to diſtrain for the ſame. The Court was of Opinion, That the By-law was void, for it is againſt Comnion-right, where a man hath Common for all his Cattel Commonable, to reſtrain him to one kind of Cattel: But if it had been, that None ſhould put in his Cattel before ſuch a day, it had been good; for ſuch By-law doth not take away, but order the Inheritance. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C.B. Erbery and Latton's Caſe. Leon. 189.

6. It was moved for a Prohibition to the Eccleſiaſtical Court: and ſhewed, that the Suit there was for money, which by the aſſent of the greater part of the Pariſhioners was aſſeſſed upon the Plaintiff, for reparation of the Church, and for the re-caſting of their Bells: the truth was, for the making of new Bells, where there were 4. before; whereby it appears, it is meerly matter of Curioſity, and not of neceſſity, for which Pariſhioners are not lyable to ſuch taxations: and alſo he alledged a Cuſtome, that he and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had in ſuch a Tenement, have uſed to pay but 11 s. for any reparation of the Church. The Court ſeemed to be of Opinion, That the Cuſtome was not reaſonable, becauſe it layed a burthen upon the reſt of the Pariſh. The Prohibition was denyed by the Court. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Popham 197.

7. Tenant of a Copyhold for life, in which the Cuſtome was, That the Wife ſhall have her Widowes eſtate; and the husband was attainted of Feleny, and executed: and whether the Wife in this caſe ſhall have the Widowes Eſtate, was the Queſtion upon a Demurrer. And Winch, Juſtice, being onely in Court, he ſeemed to be of Opinion, That ſhe ſhould not, without a ſpecial Cuſtome. Hill. 19 Jac. in C. B. Allen and Brathes Caſe. Winch. 27.

8. In an Action; the Plaintiff declared upon the Cuſtome of Merchants, That if any Merchant over the Sea deliver money to a Factor, and make a Bill of Exchange under his Seal, and this is ſubſcribed by the Maſter or any of the Company of ſuch Merchants, That the Merchant or all the Company, or any one in particular, may be charged to pay it: and ſhewed, that one M. was Factor of the Company of which the Defendant was one, and that the ſaid M. did ſubſtitute one G; to whom the Plaintiff delivered 100 l. upon a Bill of Exchange: to which Bill, one C. being one of the Company, ſet his hand in England. The Defendant pleaded Nihil debet per legem: upon which the Plaintiff demurred: the Queſtion was, Whether the Defendant might wage his Law. Hobart, Juſtice, ſaid, If 2. or 3. Merchants trade over Sea, who make a Factor there, who takes money there, and gives a Bill, and this is ſubſcribed by one of the Company; that this ſhould bind all or any of the Company, is not a good cuſtome; and the cuſtome of Merchants is part of the Common-Law of this Kingdom, of which the Judges ought to take notice: and if any doubt ariſe to them about their cuſtome, they may ſend for the Merchants to know their cuſtome: and he ſaid, That the Defendant ought to be admitted to wage his Law; for the delivery of the money made a Contract in Law; and ſo he may have an Action upon the Caſe for it, and declare upon the promiſe: and then the Defendant may not wage his Law. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Vanbeath and Turner's Caſe. Winch. 24, 25.

9. Copyholder brought Treſpaſſe againſt the Lord for cutting down of Trees: and alledged a Cuſtome, that he might cut down to repair his houſe, and that there was not ſufficient tree left to repair it. In this caſe, It was Reſolved; 1. That without a Cuſtome a Copyholder might cut down trees to repair, and for Firebote and other neceſſaries. 2. That Treſpaſſe did lye againſt the Lord, for that the Copyholder hath an Intereſt in the Trees as well as in the Land. And it was ſaid, That the Lord might as well pull down his houſe, as cut down the trees; and the Copyholder hath a

ſpecial Intereſt in the ſhadow and lopps; and the Lord the general Intereſt. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Heydon and Smith's Caſe. Godbolt. See 26 Eliz. Doyles Caſe. 40 Eliz. Stebbings Caſe. acc.

10. If the Lord alledge a Cuſtome within his Mannor, to have a Fine of every Copyholder at the alteration or change of the Lord, be it by alienation, demiſe, or death; ſuch a Cuſtome is againſt Law, becauſe it is the Act of the party: and by ſuch means, Copyholders ſhould be oppreſſed with multitude of Fines. But a cuſtome to pay a Fine upon the death of every Lord may be good, becauſe it is the Act of God. See 39 Eliz. Cook. 1. Part, Inſtitutes 49. b.

4. Concerning the Cuſtome of Kent; The Cuſtome of Gavelkind; The Cuſtome of Borough-Engliſh; and Concerning other the like Cuſtomes of places: Where they ſhall be good, where not. How, and by what Acts altered, changed, or Extinct, what not.

1. IN the County of Kent, where Lands or Tenements are holden in Gavelkind, where, by Cuſtome time out of mind uſed, The Sons which are Males, ought equally to Inherite the Lands: And that cuſtome is good and allowable; And the reaſon is rendred by Mr. Littleton, becauſe that every Son is as great a Gentleman as the eldeſt ſon is. Litt. 46.

2. In Kent, there is a Free Socage, and baſe Socage. Free Socage ſhall diſcend according to the courſe of the Common-Law: Baſe Socage-Land is partable amongſt the Males, by the cuſtome of Gavelkind. Lambert's Perambulation of Kent. 542, 543.

3. By the cuſtome of Gavelkind in Kent: all the Heirs in Gavelkind ſhall be vouched upon the Warranty of their Anceſtor, but the eldeſt Son onely, ſhall be barred by the Warranty of his Anceſtor. 11 E. 3. to voucher. 22 E. 4. acc.

4. By the cuſtome, The eldeſt Son onely in Gavelkind ſhall enter for a Condition broken: But all the ſons ought to joyn in an Attaint, or Writ of Error, to reverſe a Judgment: All the ſons ſhall be charged for the debt of their Anceſtor if they have Aſſetts: But if they allien their parts of the Aſſetts, and the eldeſt ſon hath Aſſets onely in his hands, he ſhall be onely charged. 11 E. 3. Fitz. Debt 7.

5. By cuſtome of Gavelkind in Kent, no tryall ſhall be by Battail, or by Grand Aſſize by Knights: but the tryall ſhall be by Jurors, Tenants in Gavelkind. Lamb. 550. acc.

6. By cuſtome of Gavelkind in Kent, Tenant in Fee ſhall not forfeit his Land by Attainder of Felony, or of Murder: But for Treaſon, Piracy, or for Felonies done and made by late Statutes, he ſhall forfeit his Land; But if he be outlawed for the Felony, or Murder, or abjureth, or taketh Sanctuary, he ſhall forfeit his Land, becauſe the cuſtome ſhall be taken ſtrictly. But he ſhall forfeit his goods for Felony; and all his Lands for Treaſon. 8 E. 3. Preſcription, 150. 22 E. 3. acc.

7. The Lord of the Land in Gavelkind, ſhall by the cuſtome have the Cuſtody of the Lands and Goods of the Heir, But if the Lord committeth the Cuſtody of them to another, the Heir at the age of 15 years, may diſtrein the Lord to accompt for the profits; And the Lord alſo may have an accompt againſt the Committee, but if the Committee be not of ability to anſwer the profits, the Lord and his Heirs ſhall remain chargeable to the Heir. Lamb. 552. 18 E. 2. Avowry 220.

8. By the cuſtome of Gavelkind in Kent, The Lord for the Rents, Cuſtomes, and Services, after four Courts (if no diſtreſſe may be found upon the Land) may ſeize the Land into his hands, and keep it for a year without manurance: And if the Tenant doth not come within that time, and agree with the Lord; the Lord at the next Court may enter, and manure the Land as his own proper Tenement; And the forfeiture for the Ceſſor, by the cuſtome is 5 l. 21 H. 7. 13. by Frowick.

9. By the cuſtome of Gavelkind, The Huſband ſhall have the moyety of the Wives Land for life, as Tenant by the Curteſy; if he live ſole, and unmarried, although he hath not Iſſue by the Wife; but if he marrieth, he ſhall loſe the Land by the cuſtome: And by the ſame cuſtome, the Wife ſhall have the moyety of the Land of the Husband dum ſola vixerit, and be not found with child by fornication committed: And the Wife ſhall not forfeit her Dower for Felony committed by the Husband: But by the cuſtome, The Wife ſhall have Dower onely of the Lands and Tenements, of which the Husband was ſeiſed, and veſted in poſſeſſion, and not of a poſſeſſion in Law. 8 H. 3. Preſcription 60.

10. By the cuſtome of Gavelkind, The Wife ſhall have the moyety of her Husbands goods after his Debts paid: And the Wife may relinquiſh her Dower by the cuſtome, and be endowed of the Land according to the Common Law, if it be for her beſt advantage; but if ſhe marrieth before Dower aſſigned, ſhe ſhall not be endowed. 2 E. 4. 19. per Curiam.

11. By

11. By the cuſtome of Kent, the Lawfull Children, after the debts of the Father paid, ſhall have the third part of his goods. The Father one part to diſpoſe of at his Will and pleaſure, and the Wife ſhall have the third part. 17 E. 3, Fitzh. Nat. Br. acc. The ſame cuſtome is in London. See Glanvil cap. 18.

12. Note, a cuſtome long time continued without interruption, cannot be loſt by the bare alteration of the Tenure; And therefore, if Land antient Socage, and Gavelkind in Kent, comes to the Crown, and be delivered out of the Crown again, Tenend. in Capite, or by Knights Service, yet the Land ſhall deſcend to all the Males, as Gavelkind. 4 and 5 M. Daliſon's Reports. Lamb. Perambulation of Kent. 535. acc.

13. Lands in Gavelkind, although that the ſame diſcendeth to the eldeſt Son, and ſo continueth by a long time, without interruption of the younger ſons; yet the Land in its nature remaineth Gavelkind, and is partable, becauſe the pleading of the Cuſtome is, Quod terra illa à toto tempore partabilis fuit. 16 E. 2. Preſcription 52.

14. Unity of poſſeſſion of the Land in the Lord, and the Manner doth not alter the nature of the Land of Gavelkind, but that the ſame is partable; And if Land which is Gavelkind cometh to the King by purchaſe, If the King afterwards granteth it to another and his Heirs, the Lands ſhall be afterwards partable amongſt the Heirs Males. See 14 H. 4. in the Long Recovery. See 7 Eliz. Dyer. by Brown.

15. The cuſtome of Gavelkind is as Common-Law in Kent: And therefore in a demand of Gavelkind there, It is not requiſite that the party ſhew, That the Town or Borough where the Land lyeth, is an Antient Town; And that all the Lands in the ſaid Town are partable betwixt Males: but it is ſufficient to ſuch, that the Land lyeth in Kent, and that all Lands there are of the nature of Gavelkind. See 5 E. 4. 8. 2 E. 4. 19.

16. If a Rent be granted in Fee out of Gavelkind-Land, the ſame ſhall deſcend to all the Heirs males, as the Land ſhall diſcend: yet although the Tenancy be of the Nature of Gavelkind, yet the Rent-Service by which the Tenancy is holden, may be diſcendable according to the Common-Law, his Lands in Gavelkind entailed ſhall diſcend to the Heirs males; But the Lands in Gavelkind ſo ſet for life, the remainder to the Right Heirs of J. S. who hath four ſons, and afterwards dyeth, The eldeſt Son of J. S. ſhall have the Land becauſe he comes in by purchaſe. But if the Land be deviſed to J. S. the Remainder to his right Heirs males, the ſame is an Eſtate tail in J. S. and then the ſame ſhall deſcend to all his Sons. 37 H. 8, Br. Devt 42, See 3 and 4 Ma. in Daly-ſon's Reports acc. See Cook 1. Part, 103. in Shelleyes Caſe.

17. By the cuſtome of Kent, upon Partition of Lands in Gavelkind, the eldeſt Son or daughter ſhall have the preheminence in the Election, but the younger ſon or daughter ſhall have the preferment in the partition: And therefore the youngeſt ſhall have the Aſtre, viz. the ſtock, Hearth, or Chimney for Fire: but the eldeſt ſhall have the Capitall Meſſuage. 23 Aſſ. 39 E. 3. 10. See Br. Bon. acc.

18. By the cuſtome of Gavelkind, an Enfant at the age of 15 years, may give, or ſell his Land for good conſideration, by Livery of his own hand. But a Releaſe by him of his right to Land, without Conſideration at ſuch age, is not good: And a Warranty, or a Grant of a Reverſion, by ſuch an Enfant of 15 years, is not good: But a Leaſe, with a Releaſe upon it, may be good, becauſe the ſame amounteth to a Feoffment, but then it ought to be for value given, as upon a Feoffment. See 5 H. 7. by Vavaſor. 11 H. 4. by Hankford.

19. There are no Tenures by Villinage in Kent, for their perſons are of Free Condition; And it is a good plea in an Nativo habendo, That the party was born in Kent. 30 E. 1. Fitz Villinage, 46.

20. By the cuſtome of Kent, the Tenant may lawfully enchaſe, or drive in the High way, the beaſts of any perſon for damage feaſant in his Land, without impounding them in the Common Pound. See Lambert's Perambulation of Kent. 567. acc.

21. Note, It was ſaid, That of Lands in Gavelkind, or in Borough-Engliſh, The Son cannot endow his Wife ex aſſenſu patris becauſe by poſſibility, he ſhall not continue Heir. Cook 6. Part, 22. in the Marqueſſe of Winton's Caſe.

22. Note, there is a difference between Preſcription and Cuſtome: For every Preſcription ought to have, by common intendment, a Lawfull beginning, but it is otherwiſe of a cuſtome, for that ought to be reaſonable ex certa et rationabili uſitate; but needeth not to have intendment of a Lawfull beginning: As a cuſtome to have Land deviſeable, or of the nature of Gavelkind, or Borough-Engliſh, for theſe and the like cuſtomes are reaſonable, but by common intendment they cannot have a Lawfull beginning, by no Grant, or Act, or agreement, but onely by Parliament. See Cook 4. Part, 31. in Foiſton's Caſe. Cook 6. Part, 61. in Gateward's Caſe. acc. See alſo another difference between Preſcription and cuſtome; Preſcription is made in the perſon, As he and all his Anceſtors, &c. and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he hath, &c. cuſtome lyeth upon the Land, as Infra manerium talis habetur Conſuetudo: And therefore fore ſuch cuſtome ſhall bind the Land, as Gavelkind, Borough-Engliſh, and the like. Cook 8. Part, 62. in Beecher's Caſe.

23. Grandfather, Father, and Son; The Grandfather ſeiſed of a houſe holden of the King in Capite, and of other Lands holden in Gavelkind, of other Lands in Socage, deviſed part of his Lands to his ſon in tail, and the other part of them for the advancement of other his Grandchildren, and dyed, the ſon within age, all the Grand children being alive: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That when by will he deviſed that to his ſon; in ſuch Caſe the ſaving in the Statutes of 32 and 34 H. 8. gave to the King, the Wardſhip and Primor-ſeiſin, and therefore the King ſhould have the third part of the whole Land. And 2. It was Reſolved, That the King ſhould have the third part out of every ſeverall part; and ſo the charge ſhould be equall, and ſhould not light upon one onely. Cook 5. Part, 133. Matthew Menes Caſe.

24. A Copyholder of Lands in Borough-Engliſh, having three ſons, and one daughter, deviſed his land to his eldeſt ſon, paying to his daughter, and to every other of his ſons, 40 s. within two years; and ſurrendred to the uſe of his Will: the eldeſt ſon is admitted, and doth not pay the mony within the two years, and the younger ſon entred; and his Entry was adjudged lawfull: And in this caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That although the annuall profits of the Lands for two years, did exceed the monies to be paid, yet the eldeſt ſon had a Fee-ſimple. 2. That although this word (paying) in ſale of a Will makes a Condition, yet in this caſe, the Law ſhall conſtrue that unapt word (paying) a Limitation; For if it were a Condition, it ſhould deſcend to the eldeſt Son, and then it ſhould be at his pleaſure, If the daughter, or brothers ſhould be paid or not; and therefore the Law ſhall judge it a limitation, of which the youngeſt ſon ſhall take advantage: And it is as much, as if he had deviſed the Land to his eldeſt ſon, untill he ſhould make default of payment. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Wellock and Hammond's Caſe. Cook 3. Part, 21. in Boraſton's Caſe.

25. If Lands in Borough-Engliſh, are holden of the King in Knights-ſervice, The father ſhall not have the Wardſhip of his younger ſon, no more then the younger ſon can endow his Wife of Land in Borough-Engliſh, ex aſſenſu patris: for, he ought in ſuch Caſe to be Heir apparent, who in Judgment of Law, ſhall continue Heir apparent; and not he Heir apparant, who by accident is Heir, by accident is not Heir. Cook 3. Part, 38. in Ratcliff's Caſe.

26. If an Erronious Recovery be had of Lands in Borough-Engliſh, the youngeſt ſon ſhall have a Writ of Error, becauſe the Land it ſelf goeth to him, And ſo ſhall all the ſons of Lands in Gavelkind. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 21. See before.

27. If the King purchaſeth Lands of the Cuſtome of Gavelkind, and dyeth, having Iſſue divers ſons, the eldeſt ſon ſhall onely inherite thoſe Lands, and the reaſon is, for that the quality of the perſon doth in this Caſe alter the diſcent, ſo as all the Lands and poſſeſſions whereof the King is ſeiſed in jure Coronæ, ſhall, ſecundum jus Coronæ, attend upon, and follow the Crown; and therefore, to whom ſoever the Crown diſcendeth, the Lands ſhall deſcend. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 15, 16.

28. If Tenant in tail of an Acre of Land of the Cuſtome of Borough-Engliſh, maketh a Feoffment in Fee within age, and dyeth, the youngeſt ſon ſhall avoid it, for he is privy in bloud, and claimeth by diſcent from the Enfant. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 337.

29. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was, Copyholder in Fee of Land, of the nature of Borough-Engliſh, diſcendable to the youngeſt ſon, had Iſſue three ſons, A. B. and C. and ſurrendred the Copyhold to the uſe of himſelf, and his Wife, and his Heirs, who were admitted; the Copyholder dyed ſeiſed of the Reverſion, which diſcended to C. the youngeſt ſon, the Wife entred, and held it; Afterwards C. dyed without Iſſue, the Wife dyed, A. the eldeſt ſon was admitted: The Queſtion was in this Caſe, whether A. ſon and Heir of the Copyholder; Or B. the middle ſon ſhould have this Reverſion. In this Caſe it was agreed. 1. That B. cannot have it as Brother and Heir of C. who had this Reverſion as youngeſt ſon, by the Cuſtome, becauſe the Cuſtome is onely to extend to the youngeſt ſon, and not amongſt brothers where no ſuch Cuſtome is found. And without a ſpeciall Cuſtome found that it ſhall deſcend to the youngeſt brother, the Law will not admit, becauſe Cuſtomes ought to be taken ſtrictly, and ſo it was Reſolved in Ballard's Caſe. 2. It was agreed, That betwixt a Copyhold in Borough-Engliſh, and a Freehold in Borough-Engliſh, there is not any difference: and that if the Wife had dyed in the life of C. and C. had entred, and dyed without Iſſue, then A. ſhould have had the Land, as Heir of C. The ſole doubt was, This being a Reverſion expectant upon an Eſtate for life; and C. being never ſeiſed of the Lands in poſſeſſion, but dyed in the life of Tenant for life without Iſſue, whether B. as youngeſt ſon may claim, or A. as Heir at the Common-Law ſhould have it. The Court was divided in Opinion, For two of the Juſtices held, That B. ſhould have it as Heir in Borough Engliſh, becauſe he is the youngeſt ſon when the Wife dyed, and the Reverſion fell in poſſeſſion: But that was denyed by the other two Juſtices: For he was not youngeſt ſon when his Father dyed, and none may have it by that Cuſtome, but he who is youngeſt at the time of the death of the Father: The Caſe was not adjudged. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Reve and Mallet's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 297.

30. A man is ſeiſed of Tythes of Corn ariſing out of the Mannor of D. which is Borough-Engliſh: The Queſtion was, Who ſhould have them, the elder or younger ſon; The Opinion of the Court was, That the Eldeſt ſon ſhould have them; becauſe Tythes do not come naturally of the Land, but by manuall occupation of man: Alſo of common Right, Tythes are not an Inheritance deſcendable, but are Inheritances which come in Succeſſion: And by the Statute of Monaſteries, It is onely, that they are diſcendable to Heirs. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. per Curiam.

31. Note, per Curiam, If a Feoffment be made of Borough-Engliſh Land, upon Condition, That the Heir at Common-Law ſhall take advantage of the Condition: But all Actions in right of the Land, the youngeſt ſon ſhall have; As a Writ of Error to reverſe a Judgment, Attaint, &c. Mich. 20 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged.

5. Where Cuſtome ſhall be ſaid to be extinct; and by what and whoſe Act; what, and where not.

1. LAnds within Antient Demeſne, which are partable amongſt Heirs males, are alliened by Fine levyed of them at the Common-Law: It was a queſtion, If by that courſe, the courſe of the Inheritance were altered, and made diſcendable to the Heir at Common-Law: It was the better Opinion of the Court, That it was not. Mich. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 60.

2. A man ſeiſed in Fee-ſimple, of Lands in Borough-Engliſh, after the Statute of 27 H. 8. made a Feoffment to divers perſons in Fee, to the uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs Males of his body begotten ſecundum curſum communis Legis, and afterwards dyed ſeiſed accordingly, having Iſſue two ſons: the elder ſon entred, and held out the younger ſon. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices at Serjeants-Inn; that the youngeſt Son ſhould have the Land by diſcent, notwithſtanding the words before. Paſc. 2. Eliz. Dyer, 179.

3. Lands deviſeable in London, came to the hands of King Henry the 8th by the diſſolution of Abbeys; and afterwards the King granted them by his Letters Patents, in Fee, to hold by Knights Service in Chief: The Queſtion was, Whether the Patentee might deviſe the whole Land by his laſt Will in Writing, or but two parts. It was holden in this Caſe, That it was a good deviſe againſt the Heir for the whole Land, for that no words in the Statute of 32 H. 8. do reſtrein the authority to deviſe Lands which were deviſeable before the Stature. But it was ſaid, that peradventure it was not good againſt the King, either for Wardſhip, or Primer Seiſin. See Mich. 5. Ma. Dyer, 155. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 111. See Cook 9. Part, 133. in Matthew Manes Caſe.

4. The Queen was ſeiſed of Whaddon Chaſe, and the Lord Gray was Lievtenant there in Fee, And he and his Auncеſtors, and their Keepers, had by Preſcription uſed to hunt vagrant Deer in the Demeſnes of the Mannor of S. adjoyning, as in prtence: The Mannor of Stane to the Queens hands, who granted the ſame to J. S. in Fee, with a Free Warren within his Demeſnes, Ita quod nullus intret in Warrennam illam ad ſagandum ſine Licentia of J. S. It was holden in this Caſe, that the unity did not extinguiſh the purlew, and that the Clauſe, Ita quod, &c. is not to be extended againſt the Keeper of the Queen, but other Subjects. Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 326. The Lord Grey's Caſe.

5. King Henry the 8th, ſeiſed in Fee in the right of his Crown, of the Mannor of C. of which Mannor a certain Tenement called H. whereof a Cloſe called P. was parcell, and then was, and had bin, time out of mind, demiſed, and demiſeable, by Copy of Court-Roll of the ſaid Mannor, did build a new Meſſuage upon the ſaid Tenement, And afterwards by his Letters Patents, did grant the Office of keeping the ſaid Meſſuage to J. S. for Term of life, with all Lands thereunto belonging, And by the ſaid Letters Patents, did grant to the ſaid J. S. the Lands belonging to the ſaid new built Meſſuage, whereof the ſaid Cloſe called P. was parcell for Term of his life, for the exerciſing of the ſaid Office, and after dyed ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor, and of the Reverſion of the ſaid Meſſuage and Cloſe, which afterwards came to Queen Mary. J. S. dyed. The Queen entred upon the ſaid Mannor, and Meſſuage, whereof the ſaid Cloſe was parcell, and by her Letters Patents, did Grant to S. and her Heirs for ever, The ſaid Mannor Meſſuage and premiſes, by mean conveyances came to J. D. and his Heirs, who being ſeiſed thereof, did by Indenture demiſe the ſaid Mannor, Meſſuage, and premiſes to L. for 60 years. Afterwards J. D. granted away the Reverſion of the ſaid Mannor, Meſſuage, and and premiſes to J. N. which after by mean conveyance came to Boothby: L. who had a Leaſe for 60 years, by his Will deviſed the reſidue of his Leaſe, then unexpired, to C. his ſon; by vertue of which, he at a Court holden for the ſaid Manor, did grant the ſaid Meſſuage with the Appurtenances, and the lands thereunto belonging, to D. his brother, to hold of the ſaid Manner in Fee, at the Will of the Lord by Copy of Court-Roll, of the ſaid Manner, who was admitted thereunto accordingly: Afterwards the ſaid Leaſe for 60. years expired, And then Boothby who had the Reverſion of the ſaid Mannor, and Premiſes, entred in his Reverſion, and dyed ſeiſed thereof, leaving Iſſue F. his ſon. F. the ſon enters into the ſaid Mannor, and claims the ſaid Meſſuage, with the Appurtenances, with the Lands thereunto belonging, whereof the ſaid cloſe called P. was parcell, as parcell of the Demeaſnes of the ſaid Mannor of C. and doth deny it to be Copyhold; and, to try his Title, did by his Bayliff diſtrein the Cattell in the ſaid Cloſe damage feſant, as in his Freehold. There were many Queſtions made in this Caſe. 1. Whether by the Grant of the new houſe to J. S. per nomen Officii of Keeper thereof, were a good Grant. 2. Whether the King, not being informed, that at the time of the Grant, That the ſaid houſe was Copyhold Tenure, he was not deceived in his Grant. 3. Whether by this Grant, the Cuſtome was not deſtroyed. 4. Whether the Kings Pattentee hath not the ſame priviledge to grant this houſe &c. again by Copy of Court-Roll, after the death of J. S. This Caſe was argued at the Bar ſeverall dayes, and afterwards it was argued in Court by the Judges, and Rolls Lord C ief Juſtice, delivered the Opinion of all the Juſtices to be to this effect. ſcil. 1. That they were all agreed, That the Grant of the Office of the Cuſtody of the houſe, was a good Leaſe for life, notwithſtanding that it was a Copyhold; and it was not neceſſary to recite in the Grant, that it is Copyhold. 2. That after the Eſtate for life determined, The King might grant the houſe and Land again by Copy of Court-Roll, becauſe the Kings Grants ſhall be taken favourably, and not extended to two intents, where there is no neceſſity for it, as there is not here, and we are not here to intend a Collaterall intent, and ſo the Copyhold is not deſtroyed; for the Law takes care to preſerve the Inheritance of the King for his Succeſſors, and it may be a benefit to the King to have it continue Copyhold, viz. to have Common, &c. and his Election is alſo deſtroyed if he may not have it Copyhold: And ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff againſt the Avowant: a Replevin being brought. Paſc. rott. 414. in B. R. Cremer and Barnet's Caſe. Styles 266. to 273.

6. Cuſtomes, Impoſitions, and Taxes of the King, what they are; and where payable, where not.

1. THE Caſe was, A Merchant brought 80. weight of Bay-Salt by Sea, to a Haven in England, and out of the Ship ſold 20 Weighs, and diſcharged them into another Ship, in which they were tranſported: But the ſaid 20 Weighs were never actually put on the ſhore; and for the reſidue, being 60, he agreed for the Cuſtome, and put them on Land; And now the queſtion was, If in this Caſe, The ſaid 20 weighs which alwayes were Water-born, and never touched the Land, ought to pay Cuſtome as well inward as outward: And it was Reſolved, That in both the Caſes, the Cuſtomes ought to be paid; for the diſcharging out of the ſhip aforeſaid, amounts in Law to a putting them upon the Land; For in the Law, this is infra corpus Comitatus: And if the Law ſhall not be ſo taken, The King may be defrauded of all his Cuſtome: and in this Caſe, foraſmuch as no Cuſtome was paid, It was Reſolved, That the goods were forfeited. Hill. 24 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cook 12. Part, 17, 18.

2. Cuſtomes are duties certain and perpetuall, payable to the King, as the Inheritance of his Crown, for Merchandizes, Tranſports, from, and beyond Sea, from one Realm unto another: See the Caſe of Cuſtomes, Davis Reports, Magna Cuſtuma et antiqua, is payable out of Native Commodities ſcil. Wool, Woolfells, and Hides, and that is certain impoſed, and this Cuſtome which is called Magna Cuſtuma, is due to the King of Common-Right, for four cauſes. 1. For leave to depart the Kingdome, and to carry Commodities of the Realm out of it. 2. For the Intereſt which the King hath in the Sea, and the Arms thereof. 3. Becauſe the King is the Guardian of all the Ports within the Realm, & Cuſtos totius Regni. 4. For Whaſtage and Protection of Merchants upon the Seas againſt the Enemies of the Realm, and Pyrats: Cuſtome which is called Parva Cuſtuma, is a Cuſtome payable by Merchants, ſtrangers; and begun in the time of King E. 1. when they granted to him, that they would pay to the King and his Heirs, 3 d. in the pound, for all Merchandizes Exported, Imported by them, See 1 Eliz. Dyer, 165. Priſage of Wines, is a Cuſtome due by Preſcription, and an Antient Inheritance of the Crown, and that appears by the Charters thereof granted to the City of London, which were allowed in the Exchequer, 44 Eliz. where it was Reſolved, That he that was free of London, and an Inhabitant within it, and payed Scot and Lo, ſhould be free from Priſage, by the ſaid Charter. And Note, That the Earl of Ormond in Ireland, hath an Inheritance in the Priſage of Wines by the Kings Charter. Subſidy is a duty payable for Merchandiſes exported and imported, Granted by Act of Parliament for the life of the King. And are 1. Aids and Subſidies, payable out of Native and Staple Commodities exported and imported. 2. Tonnage which is a Subſidy out of Wines of all ſorts. Poundage, which is a Subſidy granted out of all Commodities exported, and Imported, except Wines, and Antient Staple Commodities, and is the 20th part of the value of the Merchandize, Impoſts, or duties payable for Merchandiſes, rated and Aſſeſſed by Parliament, and then they are in the nature of Subſidies, or Impoſed by the King's Prerogative. See the Caſe of Cuſtomes in Davis's Reports.

3. In a Quo Warranto againſt the Mayor, Sheriff and Citizens of Waterford, becauſe they had received, and converted to their Uſes, the great Cuſtomes and Pettit Cuſtomes, and the Subſidies, and the Poundage of all Merchandizes imported, and exported, in and from the Port of Waterford; And becauſe they had ordeyned a Collector, Controler, Searcher, and Gager, without Warrant. The Defendants juſtified by force of four ſeverall Charters. The firſt, the 8th of November, in the ninth year of King John, by the which, the ſaid King granted to them Cuſtumum, called the Marage de omnibus rebus venalibus et merchimoniis infra dictam Civitatem emptis ſeu venditis ita plenè, et integrè, ſicut Burgenſes villæ de Briſtoll habebant. And averred, That the ſaid Burgeſſes of Briſtoll had the ſaid Cuſtome of Murage, of all things bought and ſold within the ſaid Town of Briſtoll. The ſecond, That King Henry the fifth, the 6th of May, in the firſt year of his Reign, Granted to them, Cuſtumam Civitatis ejuſdem, called the Cocquet, capiend. per manus Majoris et Balivorum imperpetuum. The third, That King Henry the ſeventh, in the third year of his Reign, Granted to them, Quod omnes, et ſinguli Cives, et Inhabitantes dictæ Civitatis, et omnes et ſinguli Mercatores tam indigena quam alienigenæ de Nova Cuſtuma, called the Poundage, viz. de præſtatione 12 d. de libra imperpetuum, ſint Quieti et exonerati. The fourth, That Queen Elizabeth in the 11th year of her Reign, granted to them, That they annuatim de ſeipſis eligere poſſint Scrutatorem, Gageatorem, et alios Officiarios quoſcunque infra eandem Civitatem uſuales et neceſſarios: And upon theſe Warrants, they claimed the ſaid Cuſtomes. In this great Caſe, it was Reſolved, That by the firſt Charter, No Cuſtome nor Subſidy was granted to the Corporation of Mayor, Sheriffs, and Citizens of Waterford. 1. Becauſe, that Murage is but a Toll payable for reparation of Walls, out of things ſold in open Market by Retail, whereas Cuſtome is payable for Merchandiſes exported, and Imported, and ſold in groſſe. 2. Becauſe Murage doth not lye in grant, but in Preſcription, and ſo of Poundage, Piccage, and to have Warren in the Lands of another. 3. Becauſe the reference to the Town of Briſtoll is uncertain and void, becauſe there is no ſuch Town or Borough in Ireland, and the Averment, That the Burgeſſes of Briſtoll in England had Marage at that time, cannot be tryed here. 2. It was Reſolved, That by the ſecond Charter of King Henry the 5th, The Antient Cuſtome of Wool, Woolfells, and Hides, were Granted to the ſaid Corporation, by that word Cocquet Cuſtum; for it is an Antient Cuſtome, and known by the Name of Cocquet Cuſtum, in all the Ports of England and Ireland. And Cuſtuma dictæ Civitatis ſhall be intended Cuſtome payable for Merchandiſes, in dicta Civitate: And a favourable Interpretation ſhall be made of ſuch grants, according to uſage and allowance, and they may collect the ſame by their proper Officer, and the Kings Officer is not acceptable for the ſame. 3. It was Reſolved, That the third Charter was not a ſufficient Warrant to them, to receive to their proper uſes, Tonnage of all Merchants, Denizens, and Alliens, within the Port of Waterford, becauſe that this Grant doth extend onely to the diſcharge of every particular Merchant, and doth not give the Poundage to the Corporation. And 2. Becauſe the Poundage in queſtion, was a new Poundage Granted by Parliament. 15 H. 7. For the Antient Poundage was granted to the Brotherhood of St. George, for defence of the Engliſh Pale, and therefore the ſame could not be diſcharged by the Charter made in the third year of Henry the 7th. As the King cannot grant any parcel of the Tenths of the Clergy, before that a Tenth be granted by the Convocation; And the King cannot diſcharge the penalty of an Act of Parliament, which is after to be made: And alſo the King cannot diſpence with a future thing, in which he hath an Inheritance; And the Poundage was not in eſſe at the time of the Charter made; but if it had bin in eſſe, it might have bin Granted, or diſcharged, As the King may grant that the Heir of his Tenant ſhall not be in Ward, for although it be a future thing, yet the King hath the Inheritance at the time. 4. It was Reſolved upon the fourth Charter of 11 Eliz. When the Cuſtomes and Subſidies ſidies remained in the Crown, The King himſelf ſhould appoint the Officers: But as to the Cuſtomes and Subſidies granted to the Corporation there they might appoint the Officers. 5. It was Reſolved, That whereas King Henry the ſecond granted to the ſaid Corporation, that they ſhould be quieti de conſuetudine, that the ſame did not diſcharge them of their great Cuſtome, becauſe that Conſuetudo eſt nomen Collectivum and ſignifies many kinds of Cuſtomes, and a generall word ſhall not paſſe a Royall duty. The King granted to a Venetian Merchant, that he ſhould be quit de omnibus Cuſtumis ſubſidiis et impoſitionibus et omnibus aliis denariorum ſummis debitis et ſolubilibus pro quibuſcunque Merchandizis importandis; and that he ſhould be as Free as the Citizens of London: In that Caſe, it was adjudged in the Exchequer in England, That by that grant the King did not diſcharge him of Priſage, becauſe that the Priſage was not ſpecially expreſſed in the Grant, although that the City of London by a ſpeciall Charter, were freed of Priſage. 6. It was Reſolved, That a Subject cannot preſcribe to be free and diſcharged of the old Cuſtomes payable for Merchandiſes, or to receive the ſame to his own uſe, becauſe the ſame is a certain Renenue of the Crown. The Caſe of Cuſtome payable for Merchandiſes, in Sir John Davis's Reports.

4. A Merchant ſhipped certain Cloathes to be conveyed beyond Sea to Merchandize, and payed the Cuſtome and Subſidy due for them to the King. The Ship in ſayling was ſo toſſed by Tempeſt, that the Marriners for ſafeguard of the Ship and of their lives, caſt the Cloathes into the Sea, and brought the Ship back to the firſt Port, and there acquainted the Cuſtomer with his misfortune, and asked him, If he might ſhip as many Cloathes as were loſt, without paying of Cuſtome for them? who conceived that he might, and gave him Licence ſo to do: and by virtue of that Licence he carried as many Cloathes without paying Cuſtome. And upon an Information brought for the forfeiture of theſe laſt Cloathes, all the matter was pleaded in barr. Upon which the Kings Attorney did Demur in Law. But afterwards the King waved the Demurrer; and took Iſſue, That Cuſtome and Subſidie Domino Regi debit. concelare et ſubſtrah. &c. fuerant, contra formam Statuti And it was found, that he did not conceal and withdraw, &c. in manner and form as is ſuppoſed by the Information. It was doubted, If this Verdict found for the King or not, becauſe it wanted the Concluſion prout Defendens allegavit. But Read ſaid, It ſeemed to be their Intents to acquit the Defendant of the Concealment, but not of the Subſtraction. And in this caſe, It was Reſolved, That Cuſtome for Merchandizes to be tranſported out of the Realm was an Inheritance in the King by the Common-Law, and not given by any Statute: For the firſt Statute, viz. the Statute of 14 E. 3. which ſpeaks of Cuſtome, gives not Cuſtome, but abridgeth it onely for Woolł and Leather. And in that caſe, It was holden, That the Cuſtome is paid timely enough, if it be paid before the departure of the Ship out of the view of the Port. Mich. 30 Eliz. Dyer 43, 44.

5. Information was Exhibited by Sir Tho. Walter, Chief Butler of the King, againſt the Defendant, for detaining of Priſage of 8. Tunn of Wine. And ſhewed, the King was ſeiſed in Fee of this Ancient Duty called Priſage ut in jure Coronæ, and he and his Executors had uſed to have Priſage, which is of every ſhip of Merchants, Aliens or Denizens, containing 10. Tuns of Wine, to have for Priſage one Tun; and if it contain 20 Tunn or more, 2. Tuns, ſcil. unum ante dolium, and the other, deorſum: and this he is to have as a flower of his Crown. That 28 Novem. 5 Jac. two Ships laden with Wines of the goods of G. H. arrived in the Port of London; the Hope, with 86 Tuns; and the Deſire, with 22 Tuns of Wine: And that alſo afterwards two other Ships did arrive in the ſaid Port; and that in theſe four Ships were 124. Tuns of Wine, of which 8. Tuns was due to the King for Priſage; and that the Defendant ſeeking the diſenheritance of the King, refuſed to deliver them. The Defendant by Proteſtation, That Sir Tho. Walter was not chief Butler of the King, ſaid, That it is true, that 4. Ships with Wines did arrive in the Port of London; 2. of which ſhips did arrive in the life of the ſaid G. H. her Husband, and 2. after his death, and that the ſaid G. her husband was poſſeſſed of theſe goods, ut de bonis propriis; and ſo poſſeſſed, made her his Executrix, and dyed. Afterward ſhe being Libera fœmina, accepto ſuper ſe onere Teſtamenti, did unlade theſe 2. ſhips, and did take and occupy the Wines as Executrix, and plead the Charter of Diſcharge of Priſage, made 1 E. 3. unto the Mayor, Comminalty, and Citizens of London in hæc verba, ſcil. Quod de Vinis Civium, nulla priſa fiat, ſed perpetuò inde eſſent quieti; and traverſed abſq; hoc, that they were her proper goods, and that ſhe had nothing in them but as Executrix of her late Husband: with an averment, That G. fuit Civis et liber homo de Civitate London; and that London is Antiqua Civitas Incorporated by the name of Mayor and Comminalty, &c. Upon which Plea, the King's Attorney did demur in Law. The onely Queſtion was, Whether Priſage ſhould be paid for theſe Wines, or no? This caſe was very often argued at the Barr: and afterwards by all the Juſtices at the Bench very Learnedly; and much on both ſides ſaid therein: But at length,

It

It was Reſolved, That G. H. was a Compleat Citizen in every reſpect, and ſo continued till his death; and theſe Wines in the hands of the Defendant his wife, are bona Civium, and ſo within the compaſſe of the Grant to be freed from the payment of Priſage: and ſo Judgment was given againſt the King, and for the Defendant to be diſcharged from payment of Priſage for theſe Wines. See this caſe, and the reaſons of the Judgment; the Caſe, Intratur, Paſch. 9 Jac. in B. R. rott. 163. Sir Thomas Walter and Hangen's Caſe. Bridgm. 1. to 26. See Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Kennycott and Bogens Caſe, Bollſtr. 2. Part, 250, to 254. Where it is ſaid and agreed, That no ſtranger is to pay Priſage: For Engliſhmen pay Priſage, and Strangers pay Butlarage, and a Citizen of London ſhall pay neither of them: and Merchants ſtrangers for Butlerage ſhall pay two ſhillings for every Tun of Wine; and to pay this two ſhillings was granted to Merchants ſtrangers by Charters made 4 E. 1. in lieu of which they were diſcharged of Priſage, which is a duty, by the Common-Law, to be paid by all men generally; if not diſcharged by Charter, or otherwiſe.

6. Note: It was ſaid in Plow. Com. 9. in Fogaſſaes Caſe, That the Storm at Sea being a thing which could by no means poſſible be prevented, and that cauſing the uncertainty of the quantity of the Woad; and there being no means of knowing the certainty thereof before it ſhould be landed and weighed, and that uncertainty being cauſed by no folly in the Defendant, but comming by the Act of God, that there was great reaſon that he ſhould be excuſed, and not made lyable to forfeit the Woad; albeit he did not obſerve the ſtrict words of the Statute of 1 E. 6. cap. 13. which are, That if any Merchandizes are put upon the Land, and the Subſidie not paid, or the Collector not agreed with, that they ſhall be forfeited, &c. Plow. Com. 9. in Ranegar and Fogaſſaes Caſe.

7. Upon a Reference upon a Judgment in the Exchequer, in the Caſe of an Impoſition of Currants, Popham and Cook, Juſtices; It was ſaid and Reſolved, That the King cannot at his pleaſure put an Impoſition upon any Merchandizes to be Imported to this Kingdome, or exported, unleſs it be for advancement of Trade and Traffique, which is the life of every Iſland, pro bono publico: As if in Forraign parts any Impoſition is put upon the Merchandizes of our Merchants, ans pro bono publico; for to make an Equality for the purpoſe to advance Trade and Traffique, the King may put an Impoſition upon their Merchandizes, for it is not againſt any Statutes made for advancement of Merchandize; or of the Statute of Magna Charta, cap. 30. 2. It was Reſolved, That ſuch Impoſition ſo put, cannot be demiſed or granted to any Subject; for that it is to augment and decreaſe, or be quite taken away upon juſt occaſion for advancement of Merchandize. 3. It was Reſolved, That at the Common-Law, no Cuſtome was paid but onely for Wooll, Woollfells and Leather, which is called, in Magna Charta, Reſta Conſuetudo: and all others are there called Mala Tolneta. 4. Reſolved, That it hath been of long time uſed at the beginning of the Raigns of Kings by authority and conſent of Parliament to grant to the King certain Subſidies of Tunnage and Poundage for the Term of his life; which began in ſuch form, ſcil. for the Defence of the Realm, and maintenance of certain Wars by Act of Parliament: which proves, that the King by his own power cannot impoſe it, but by conſent of Parliament: But ſuch Subſidie of Tunnage and Poundage might be granted by the King ſo long as he lived; for that this is limited and given to the King in Certain. But an Impoſition put for equality, hath not any certain continuance, and therefore it cannot be demiſed or granted over unto another. 5. It was Reſolved, That the King for the benefit of the Subject, may make an Impoſition, or Toll within the Realm, to repair High-wayes, Bridges, or to make Walls of defence. But then the ſum impoſed ought to be proportionable to the benefit. Trin. 5 Jac. Cook 12. Part, 33.

Damages. See before Coſts and Damages.

1. THe word [Damna] Damages, is taken in Law in two ſeveral ſignifications, the one properly and generally; the other relativè et ſtrictè: properly, where Coſts are included within the Ward: For Damnum in his proper and general ſignification dicitur à demendo, cùm diminutione rei deterior fit: and in this ſenſe Coſts of Suits are damages to the Plaintiff, for by them res ſua diminuitur. But when the Plaintiff ſheweth the wrong done to him, to the damages of ſuch a ſum, the ſame is to be taken relativè, for the wrong which is paſt before the Writ brought; and are aſſeſſed occaſione tranſgreſſionis præditt. and cannot extend to Coſts of Suit, which are future, and of another nature, ſcil. to legal expences, and whereof no certainty then can be known: So theſe are diſtinct things, ſcil. Damna pro injuria illata, and expenſæ Litis. Cook. 10. Part, 116.

2. A Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of S, and the Incumbent: A Verdict paſſed before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe for the Plaintiff, and according to the Statute of Weſt. 2. Judgment was given before them, and a Writ awarded to the Metropolitan; and for Damages, a Fieri facias to the Sheriff. The Defendant brought Errour to remove the Record in B. R: and afterward the Plaintiff ſued a Scire facias to have Execution, becauſe the Defendants did not aſſign the Errours. Afterwards Errour was aſſigned; 1. Becauſe it was found by Enqueſt of Office, That the Incumbent was in, ex preſentatione A, who was not named in the Writ. 2. Becauſe Damages were adjudged for half a year; whereas it appeareth, that the preſentment was not deraigned within 6. moneths: and the words of the Statute of weſt. 2. are, Quod ſi diſrationetur præſentatu infra tempus ſemeſtre, tunc adjudicentur damna ad valorem Eccleſiæ per unum annum: but, notwithſtanding theſe Objections, the Judgment was affirmed. 6 E. 6. Dyer 77.

3. A man was in the Common-Pleas in an Action of Battery. Upon Not-guilty pleaded, It appeared upon the Evidence, That the Defendant had thrown Daggers at the Plaintiff, and grievouſly hurt and mayhmed him in outragious manner: The Court ſaid to the Jury, That they ought to conſider, that the Plaintiff was put in fear of his life, and had one of his hands mayhmed, and what damages he had ſuſtained by his Mayhem, and that they ought to give damages as well for the Fear and Aſſault, as for the Mayhem. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Leas Caſe. Goldeſbr. 33, 34.

4. In Treſpaſſe for breaking his Cloſe with a Continuando: It was moved, That the Plaintiff needed not to ſhew a regreſſe to have damages for the Continuance of the firſt Entry, ſcil. for the meaner profits. But the Court was of Opinion, That without an Entry he ſhall not have damages for the Continuance; if not in caſe where the Term or Eſtate of the Plaintiff in the Land be determined. 20 H. 6. 15. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Rawlyns Caſe. Leon. 302.

5. Errour upon a Judgment in B. R. in Battery; The Errour aſſigned was, That the Declaration was of Aſſault, Battery, and Impriſonment: The Defendant, to the Battery pleads a Juſtification: whereupon the Plaintiff demurred. And as to the Impriſonment, he pleaded another Juſtification; upon which the Plaintiff takes Iſſue De injuria ſua propria, and Iſſue joyned: And at the Tryall, the Jury found, That as to the Plea of the Battery, that the Defendant did it De injuria propria; and aſſeſſed damages 5 l: whereas they ought not to have medled therewith, becauſe a Demurrer was thereupon; but onely to have found Conditional, Damages if it ſhould be adjudged for the Plaintiff: And for the Impriſonment, they did not find the Iſſue, but aſſeſſed conditional Damages 20 s: ſo they found meerly croſs to what they ought to have found: and therefore the Judgment in this Verdict for the 5 l. found by the Jury, and of the 20 s. nullo habitu reſpectu, was Erronious. And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and that it was ſuch a Miſpriſion as could not be amended: and for that cauſe, the Judgment was reverſed. Paſch. 2 Car. in C. B. Stonyns and Rogers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 22.

6. Errour of a Judgment in Bridgwater aſſigned was, That in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the parties being at Iſſue, a Demurrer was joyned upon the Evidence, and thereupon the Jury diſcharged; and afterwards Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and damages found, and Judgment thereupon: where the Jurours which came to find the Iſſue, although by the Demurrer they were diſcharged, yet ought to have aſſeſſed Damages Conditionally, if Judgment ſhould be given given for the Plaintiff. To which purpoſe divers Books were cited, Plo. Com. 408. Book Entries, 146. in Demurrer. It was ſaid by the Court, If theſe Preſidents be good Law, then it may be Enquired of by the ſame Jury Conditionally: But it may be enquired of as well by a Writ of Enquiry of Damages, where the Demurrer is determined; and the moſt uſual courſe is, where there is a Demurrer upon Evidence to diſcharge the Jury without more enquiry. Book Entries, 551. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Darroſe and Newbatts Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 102.

7. Note, by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That a man may recover damages for a thing that is not in eſſe; As Fines, and in repair of his houſe, If I ſtubb up this Wood ſo as that neither is nor will be any Wood again, yet he ſhall have an Aſſiſe from year to year of his common of Eſtovers: whereof theſe Conſequences do follow; 1. That the Inheritance of the Common of Eſtovers doth remain, notwithſtanding that there are no Eſtovers, elſe he could not have an Aſſiſe wherein he muſt declare of his Inheritance or Freehold at leaſt by Grant or Preſcription. 2. He ſhall recover a Seiſin of thoſe Eſtovers which are not in being, whereof he is ſuppoſed to be diſſeiſed; and alſo damages not according to that that it now yields, but according to that value that it yielded, Communibus annis; though it was incertain. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. in Cooper and Andrews Caſe, by Hobart, 43.

8. In an Action upon the Caſe for words, A man had Judgment by Nihil dicit, and a Writ of Enquiry of Damages to the Sheriff of N, Quod per Sacrament. 12 proborum hominum de ballivæ ſuo inquirat, quæ damna, &c. who returned, Quod Mandavit, J. G. Libertatis H. R. Milit. Hundredi de B. cui executio prædict. Brevis totaliter reſtat ſicenda, et quod alibi, infra Com. prædict. per ſe fieri non potuit. Qui quidem Ballinus, ſic ſibi reſpondit, and ſets down an Inquiſition before the Bayliff, and 40 s. Damages. Upon Errour brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the Return was inſufficient; for it was untrue, and againſt Law, becauſe the Warrant was directed to the Sheriff himſelf, to be executed in any part of his Shire, and no Venire contained in this Enqueſt of Office, as there is in other Writs which intitles the Bayliffs of Liberties. But yet the Court did not reverſe the Judgment, by reaſon that many the like Preſidents were ſhewed. Hill. 13 Jac. in Exchequer-Chamber. Virely and Gunſtones Caſe. Hob. 83.

9. Raviſhment of Ward was brought upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 35. againſt Husband and Wife, and others; and the Jury found, That the Wife was guilty of the Raviſhment, but not the Husband, and aſſeſſed Coſts and Damages; and found alſo, That the heir maritatus exiſtit; and that he was of the age of 16 years at the time of the marriage. It was Reſolved in this caſe; 1. That by the Common-Law for the Raviſhment of a Ward, an Action of Treſpaſſe did lye againſt the parties in which the Plaintiff ſhould recover Coſts and Damages. 2. It was holden, That a Feme Covert was not within the Statute of weſt. 2. becauſe ſhe is diſabled to ſatisfie, and the Goods and Lands of the Husband who is innocent, are not lyable by that Statute to anſwer for the Raviſhment done by his Wife; but the Plaintiff in this caſe might have had his Action of Treſpaſſe at the Common-Law, againſt thoſe which raviſhed him, or a Writ of valore maritagii againſt the heir. 3. It was Reſolved, That a man in Raviſhment of Gard, upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 35. ſhould recover Damages: and with that agrees the Common Experience againſt the Book of 16 E. 3. Dabrayes Caſe, 80. Cook 9. Part, 71. Dr. Haſeys Caſe.

10. A. brought an Action of Treſpaſs againſt B. C. and D: B. pleaded, Not-guilty; whereupon Iſſue was joyned: C. and D. made a Juſtification, after a Replication, Iſſue was joyned: Dependant which Demurrer, the Iſſue was tryed againſt B. and damages given, and Judgment againſt him. After which Judgment, the Plaintiff entred a Nolle Proſequi againſt the Defendants C. and D: whereupon Errour was brought by all the Defendants againſt the Plaintiff: The Errour aſſigned was, That the Nolle Proſequi had diſcharged all the Defendants. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Nolle Proſequi againſt C. and D. had not diſcharged B, and ſo there was no Errour: And the Opinion alſo was, That C. and D. ſhould not have joyned in the Writ of Errour, becauſe there was no Judgment againſt them, nor they grieved. And the Writ of Errour is ad grave damnum of them all. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Parker and Sir John Lawrence Caſe. Hob. 70.

11. In an Action of Accompt upon the Judgment, Quod Computet, before the final Judgment given for the arrearages and damages, a Writ of Errour lyeth not; for in that Writ, theſe words, Si Judicium inde redditum ſit, are meant not only de principali judicio, but alſo de integro judicio, when all the matter within the Original is determined. Cook 11. Part, 39. Metcalfs Caſe.

12. Note: If a man have a Quare Impedit againſt one; And the Defendant hath alſo an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment againſt the Plaintiff, and recovereth in the Darrein Preſentment; and the Plaintiff is Nonſuit in the Quare Impedit: In this caſe, the Defendant ſhall have two Judgments againſt the Plaintiff, viz. to have a Writ to the Biſhop in both Actions, and two Writs ſhall be awarded awarded to Enquire of damages: But yet he ſhall not pay damages twice for one and the ſame diſturbance. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 39. acc.

13. A man recovered Land, and dyed ſeiſed of other Land holden of the King, his heir within age; and the Wife was endowed of the Land recovered in the Chancery; the heir dyed, and he againſt whom the Recovery was, brought an Attaint againſt the Wife, who prayed in aid of one in the Reverſion, who did not appear; by reaſon of which the Plaintiff in the Attaint did recover: whereupon the Wife did remove the Record of Attaint into the Chancery; and upon that Record, and the firſt Record of Aſſignment of Dower, a Scire facias iſſued, reciting the whole matter, to the heir, if he could ſay any thing, wherefore the Land ſhould not be taken into the Kings hands, and the wife endowed of the other two parts. The Defendant ſued forth a Protection, and would have put the Wife to her Writ of Right of Dower. But it was ſaid, That the firſt Endowment was conditional, That if the Land were evicted by title, &c. And then, as in Dower, if the heir be vouched in one County, and appeareth, the Judgment ſhall be, That the Wife ſhall recover of the Land of the heir; and if after the wife loſe by Action of another nature, ſhe ſhall have a Scire facias againſt the Tenant, to be endowed of that Land out of the firſt Judgment: And becauſe in the principal caſe the Tenant could not deny the matter, the Land was ſeiſed into the Kings hands, and Dower thereof was delivered to the Wife, but nothing was ſpoken of Damages, becauſe that Damages are not given in Chancery. Mich. 43 Aſſ. p. 32. Comment on Original Writs, 171.

14. Treſpaſſe brought upon the Statute of 2 R. 2. The Defendants pleaded, That the Lands was holden of the Bayliffs of D, as of their Manor of C; and alledged, That they are a Corporation by Preſcription, which Manor is Ancient Demeſne of the King, and pleaded to the Juriſdiction. It was adjudged no plea for divers cauſes; 1. Becauſe none ſhall plead that plea but the Tenant of the Land, and none of the Defendants have taken the Tenancy of the Land upon them: And 2. Becauſe in this Action no Land is to be loſt, but damages onely ſhall be recovered. And, 3. Becauſe he who pleadeth for the Juriſdiction of a Court, ought to give Juriſdiction to another Court; which they have not done in this caſe. Trin. 2 H. 7. 17. Ibid. 210.

2. Where, and in what Actions, a man ſhall recover Damages, without declaring of Damages, et è contrà: And where a man ſhall recover Damages, as he hath counted where not.

1. NOte, all the Counts of the King in a Quare Impedit, they are to his Damages, and yet Damages ſhall not be recovered: In a Writ of Ultima Preſentationis, or Quare Impedit, Damages ſhall be recovered, viz. Si tempus ſemeſtre tranſierit per Impedimentum alicujus: ita quod Epiſc. Eccleſiam conferat, et verus Patronus eâ vice preſentationem ſuam amittat, adjudicentur damna ad valorem Eccleſiæ de duobus annis. Et ſi tempus ſemeſtre non tranſierit ſed diſrationatur Præſentatio infra tempus prædict. tunc adjudicentur damna ad valorem Mediatatis Eccleſiæ per unum annum. And though it is ſaid, The King ſhall Count to his damages in a Quare Impedit; yet the King ſhall not recover damages, becauſe the King is not within the ſaid Clauſe of the Statute of Weſt. 2. which giveth the damages: He is not within the firſt branch, which is, If the time of ſix moneths paſſe by the Impediment of any, ſo as the Biſhop doth not preſent, and the very Patron loſeth his Preſentation: For that the King cannot loſe his Preſentation by any Collation or Preſentation, and therefore by Conſequence he cannot have double Damages. The ſecond Branch is, And if the 6. moneths be paſt, &c. and this branch doth depend upon the other: ſo, foraſmuch as the King is not within the firſt Branch of the ſaid Statute of Weſt. 2. he cannot be within the ſecond: And ſo, though in a Quare Impedit the King doth Count to his damage, yet he ſhall not recover damages. Cook 6. Part, 51. in Boſwell's Caſe.

2. In Treſpaſſe for breaking of his Cloſe, the Plaintiff Counted to his damages of 40 l; the Jury gave him 49 l. for Damages, and 20 s. for Coſts. The Plaintiff waived the 9 l, and prayed but the 40 l. for damages as he had Counted; and demanded Judgment thereof, with increaſe of Coſts: and the Court encreaſed the Coſts to 10 l; for which he had Judgment. Errour was brought; and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Damages and Coſts did amount to more then he had Counted of: and a man ſhall never Recover more Damages then he hath Counted of. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That when an Act of Parliament creates or gives recompence for a thing, where no recompence was given before; or gives damages where no damages were before; there the Defendant shall not have Damages, and also Costs. But where a Statute adds but a greater recompence, and Damages were before at the Common-Law, there the Defendant shall have his Damages and Costs: for there the increasing of the Damages doth not take away the Costs. 2. In this Case, It was said, and Resolved, That in personal Actions, the Plaintiff shall Count to his Damages certain, because he shall recover damages only for the wrong before the Writ brought; and shall not recover damages for any thing done pendant the Writ. But in real Actions, the Plaintiff shall not Count to Damages at all, because he shall recover damages pendant the Writ. And in this case, It was agreed, That a man shall never recover more damages, then he hath Counted of: but that is to be understood, damages for the wrong done: But yet in some cases, a man shall recover more Damages then he hath Counted of, as in Detinue, a man shall recover more Damages then he hath Counted of. Cook 10. Part, 166. Robert Pilford's Case.

3. In an Ejectione Firmæ, de Decimis garborum, quodam horreo: Et Gardino Rectoriæ; Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff should recover his Term to come in Rectoria, horreo, gardino: and a Writ of Seisin, and also a Writ of Enquiry of Damages awarded, which was returned more then the Plaintiff counted of. It was holden, That for this cause, because the damages were more then the Plaintiff had Counted, That the Judgment was erronious. Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer 258.

4. Errour brought to reverse a Judgment in the Common-Pleas in Detinue; where the Plaintiff Counted to his damages of 100 l; and the Jury found the damages to be 150 l; and so the Jury found more in damages then the Plaintiff himself had counted upon in his Declaration. The Plaintiff in the Common-Pleas had Judgment to recover the 150 l, according as the Jury found. Upon which, Errour was brought, and this only insisted upon: That for this cause only the Judgment there was Erronious. It was Resolved by the whole Court in this case, That where the Plaintiff doth declare no certain damages, there he shall recover such damages as the Jury find; but where the Plaintiff declares of certain damages, there the Plaintiff ought to have no greater damages then according to his Count, and not as the Jury finds, they finding greater damages then the Plaintiff declared upon: and in this Action, the Plaintiff declaring to his damage of 100 l; and the Jury finding for the Plaintiff, and damages 150 l; and he having his Judgment for 150 l, according to the find ng of the Jury; The Court was clear of Opinion, That the Judgment given in the Court of Common-Pleas was erronious: and the Judgment was reversed. Pasch. 3 Jac. in B. R. rot. 513. Hoblins and Kimbles Case. Bulstr. 1. Part, 49.

5. Note: It was Resolved by the whole Court, That Writ of Estrepement lyeth in an Action of Waste, as well at any time before Judgment, as after Judgment and before Execution: and the reason is, because he cannot recover damages for more then is contained in his Count: and he cannot assign any Waste after the Writ of Estrepement brought. Trin. 43 Eliz. C. B. Cook 1. Part, Fuliams Case.

6. In a Writ of Warrantia Chartæ, the Plaintiff declared, That Robert Osborn and M. his wife, and J. G. did levy a Fine, 2 Jac. to Sir Henry Roll, of the Mannor of Kilmarsh, and of divers other Lands: And by that Fine did grant for them and the heirs of Robert, That they should warrant the said Mannor and Lands to the said Henry and his heirs against all men; which Fine, as to the Lands in Question, was to the use of the said Henry and his heirs; and shewed, that he being so seised, One J. S. did implead him by Writ of Entry Sur disseisin en le Post in C. B. for the Lands in Question: depending which plea, the said Henry required the said Robert and M. to warrant to him the said Messuage and Lands, or to minister to him a Plea in barr of the said Action, which they refused to do to his damage. Amongst many other things in this case, the Count was excepted unto; That he hath declared to his damage, where no losse appears; and therefore the Count was not good. To which it was answered by Hobart, Chief Justice; It is true, he shall recover No Damages but where he hath taken losse by recovery had against him, and therefore he shall not have damages, where the Warranty of Charters is brought before the Action, quia timet: and therefore if it be pleaded by the Defendant, That the Plaintiff is not impleaded, the Plaintiff shall presently have his Judgment, but no Damages. But yet he said, He shall declare to damage according to the form, which is not strange in many cases; as in a Quare Impedit for the King. And he said, That the losse whereupon the Plaintiff may have damages, is not only where in the principal Action damages were recovered against him, as in an Assise, or the like, but also where the Land hath been recovered only, as in a Formedon, and the like: And he put the Case of 43 E. 3. 20. where one Charnel made a Warranty against him and his heirs, and all others suing by his Collusion. Upon a Warrantia Charta it was found, That the principal Action (a Formedon) was brought by his Collusion; yet he could have no damages, because he had not lost the Land. Whereupon he brought a Writ of Deceit upon the trouble and charge that he suffered by by the Colluſion and Suit, and declared upon the Verdict in the Warrantia Chartæ, finding the Colluſion as binding in that point: and becauſe the Defendant could not deny that, the Court gave Judgment, and 20 l. damages. Note, That this Forrein Action is no ground for the like in other Suits of Warranties of Charters: For this particular Warranty grew upon a Colluſion; which is nothing to other Warranties; and ſuch a practiſe by Colluſion will bear an Action without Warranty. Trin. 9 Jac. in C. B. Sir Henry Rolt and Sir Robert Oſborn's Caſe. Hob. 201.

3. Where the Enqueſts ſhall aſſeſſe all the Damages againſt the Defendants: where the Juſtices may encreaſe the damages, or abridge them: and where the Court ſhall not aſſeſſe the damages, but a Writ of Enquiry of Damages ſhall be awarded.

1. IN Treſpaſſe, Quare Clauſum fregit et piſces ſuos Cepit: without ſhewing the number or Nature of the Fiſh: the Defendant was found guilty of the Damage. In Arreſt of Judgment, It was ſaid, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe by the Declaration it did not appear of what nature, or number the Fiſhes were. To which it was ſaid, That the ſame was good at the Common-Law, for that the Verdict hath found the Defendant guilty to damages, and therefore it is not material of what nature or number the Fiſh were, but taking of Fiſh to damages: and admit that the Declaration was not good for the form, at the Common-Law, yet that was made good by the Verdict. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, and ſo Reſolved, That the Declaration was not good, for the incertainties: and Declarations ought to reduce the generality of the Writ to particulars; and the Verdict which gave the Damages did not make it good; and the omiſſion of the nature and number of the Fiſhes was matter of ſubſtance, and was not helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. of Jeofailes. Cook 5. Part, 35. Playters Caſe.

2. Husband and Wife brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of E, and declared, That A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, and demiſed it to the wife for life, and that they preſented J. S, who dyed, and ſo it belonged to them to preſent: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff preſented one who was Schiſmaticus Inveteratus: whereof he gave Notice to the Plaintiff. Which plea was adjudged Inſufficient. Whereupon the Court gave Judgment, viz. Ideo Conſideratum eſt, that the ſaid Husband and Wife recuperent verſus pradict. Epiſcopum, præſentationem ſuam ad Eccleſiam pradict. et habeant bre. Archiepiſcopo Cant. totius Angliæ Primat. loci illius Ordinario ꝯ quod pradictus Epiſcopus eſt part. Et Idem Epiſcopus in mannerium. And afterwards a Writ of Enquiry of the value of the Church was awarded. And upon that, Judgment entred again, ſcil. That the Plaintiff ſhould have a Writ to the Archbiſhop ut ſupra, et quod recuperent verſus pradict. Epiſcopum damna, &c. Et pradict. Epiſcopus in mannerium. Upon this Judgment, Errour was brought: and Errour aſſigned, That the Biſhop was twice amerced, and in no caſe he ought not by Law to be twice amerced. To which it was Anſwered and Reſolved, That he was but once amerced: For the Judgment in the Kings-Bench was but a recital of the firſt, and ſo to give a Judgment of all with the damages; and not a new Judgment: for he cannot have 2. Writs to the Archbiſhop or Metropolitan, no more then he can be twice amerced: But if it were admitted, That the later Judgment were erronious, yet the firſt Judgment is good and perfect in it ſelf, and ſhall not be impeached by any Errour in the ſecond Judgment: For the firſt Judgment was the Judgment which was in the Quare Impedit at the Common-Law: for before the Statute of Weſt. 2. the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit did not recover Damages: and the Plaintiff after the Statute may take the Judgment at the Common-Law, and leave the benefit of the Statute if he will: for which cauſe, the Court gave Judgment, that the Judgment ſhould be affirmed. Hill. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5. Part, 59. Speccots Caſe.

3. In a Writ de valore Maritagii, Iſſue is joyned upon the Tenure, and found for the Plaintiff, and the Jury aſſeſſed Damages to 40 s, and Coſts to 20 s, but do not find the value of the marriage. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Verdict was inſufficient, and a new Venire ſhould be awarded. 2. That although the Iſſue was joyned upon the Tenure, yet as a Conſequent depending upon the Tenure and as parcell of their charge, the Jury ought to enquire of the value of the Marriage, of the Damages, and of the Coſts: and if the Jury aſſeſſe an exceſſive value, or exceſſive damages, an Attaint lyeth. As in an Aſſiſe, if the Iſſue be joyned upon a Releaſe, and an immediate Ouſter confeſſed; there if the Iſſue be found for the Plaintiff, the Recogniſers of the Aſſiſe, as parcel of their charge, ſhall enquire of the Seiſin and Diſſeiſin; for that is the point of the Writ. 3. Reſolved, That the omiſſion of the value of the Marriage in the Verdict, ſhould not be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry of Damages, for that ſhould prevent the Plaintiff of his remedy by Attaint: But it was holden, That when the Court ex Officio ought to enquire of any thing upon which no Attaint lyeth, there the omiſſion of the ſame may be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry, as in a Quare Impedit of the 4. points. Cook 10. Part, 118. Cheneys Caſe. See. Mich. 11 Jac. in C.B. Cooks Caſe. Godbolt. 207. acc.

4. In Treſpaſſe of Aſſault and Battery, The Plaintiff declared to his damage of 40 l; and the Jury found for the Plaintiff, and gave damages 50 l: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Plaintiff ſhall recover no more then he hath declared for: and this ought to be done of courſe by the Clerk. Paſch. 13 Eliz. Owen 45.

5. Husband and Wife brought a Writ of Dower, and Judgment was given upon Nihil dicit. And becauſe the firſt Husband of the Wife dyed ſeiſed, a Writ of Enquiry of damages was Awarded: And the Jury found, that the Land which ſhe ought to have Dower of, the third Part was of the value of 8 l. per annum, and that eight years elapſerunt à die mortis viri ſui proximè ante Inquiſitionem et aſſeſſant damna to 8 l. and it appeared upon the Record, that after Judgment in the Writ of Dower aforeſaid, the Demandants had Execution upon Habere facias ſeiſinam, ſo as it appeareth upon the whole Record put together, That the damages are aſſeſſed for 8 years, whereas the Defendants have bin ſatisfied upon part of the ſaid years: Upon which the Tenant brought Error, and Aſſigned Error, becauſe the damages are Aſſeſſed to the time of the Inquiſition, where it ought to be but to the time of the Judgment; but the Exception was not allowed. 2. Becauſe where it is found, that the Land is but of 8 l. per annum, they have aſſeſſed damages for 8 years, to 80 l. for ſecundum ratam, it did amount but to 64 l. But that alſo was diſallowed, becauſe it might be, that by the long detainer of the Dower, the Defendants ſuſtained more damages then the bare Revenue. 3. Becauſe the damages are Aſſeſſed for the whole 8 years after the death of the Husband: whereas for part of the years the Defendants were ſeiſed of part of the Lands by force of the Judgment, and the Court held that that was a good cauſe, and for that the Writ of Error was allowed. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Walter and Nevil's Caſe. Leon. 56.

6. In Treſpaſſe, the parties were at Iſſue upon Not-Guilty, and it appeared that the Thumb of the Right hand of the Plaintiff was clean cut off: and ſo he maimed. It was found for the Plaintiff and damages taxed to 40 l. The party came in Court, and prayed, in reſpect of the haynouſneſſe of the Maihm, that the Court would encreaſe the damages: which damages, upon great conſideration, were made 100 l. and Judgment given accordingly. See 28 E. 3. 54. by Stone. And for further damages aſſeſſed by the Court. Book Entries. 46. 8 H. 4. 135. 39 E. 3. 20. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Mallet and Ferrer's Caſe. Leon. 139.

7. In Trover and Converſion of 40 Loads of Corn; As to 20. the Defendant pleaded Not-guilty, to the reſidue, a ſpeciall plea, upon which the Plaintiff did demur; and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, upon which Iſſued a Writ of Enquiry of Damages, which was Retorned: It was moved, that the Writ ought not to have Iſſued forth, for that the Iſſue doth yet depend untryed; and 34 H. 6. 1. was vouched. In Treſpaſſe againſt many, one of them made default after a Plea pleaded; where it was Awarded, That a Writ of Enquiry ſhould be Awarded, but none ſhould Iſſue untill the plea of the others was tryed: The Court in the Principall Caſe ſaid, It was in their diſcretion to Award ſuch a Writ or not, and it is reaſonable here to Grant a Writ preſently: Whereupon the Writ of Enquiry was allowed as good. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Ward and Blunt's Caſe. Leon. 141.

8. In Treſpaſſe for breaking his houſe at D. and beating of him, The Defendant pleaded, That he together with J. S. did beat him, and afterwards the Plaintiff did Releaſe to the ſaid J. S. all Actions Realls and Perſonalls, and ſues the Treſpaſſe whereof the Plaintiff complained, and that which he and J. S. did, was una et eadem: upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was adjudged for the Defendant: For againſt joint-Treſpaſſers, there can be but one ſatisfaction; And therefore, if they be ſued in one Action, though they may ſever in Pleas and Iſſues; yet one Jury ſhall Aſſeſſe damages for all: And as to the Damages, he who is no party to the Iſſue, ſhall have an Attaint as well as his fellowes. And if they be ſued by ſeverall Actions, though the Plaintiff make choice of the beſt advantage, yet when he hath taken one ſatisfaction, he can take no more. And if he require another, an Audita Querela will lye. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Cook and Jones Caſe. Hob. 66.

4. Where

4. Where Damages given ſhall be entire, and where ſeverall, and in what Caſes: and where they are Intire, when they ought to be ſeverall, ſhall be Error, Where not.

1. IN Waſte the Plaintiff did Declare, That the Defendant had committed Waſte in uncovering a Barn, by which the Timber was decayed, and in the deſtroying of ſtocks of Elmes, Aſhes, White-Thorn, and Black-Thorn: and made Title to the Land, as Son and Heir of his Father: The Defendant pleaded the generall Iſſue, Nul waſt fait: The Plaintiff in his Declaration ſet forth the ſame to be done in ſeverall Caſes, to his damage of 300 l. And, upon the Defendants Plea of the generall Iſſue, It was found for the Plaintiff, and damages were aſſeſſed by the Jury to 50 l. In this Caſe, when the generall Iſſue is pleaded Nul Waſt fait, and the Plaintiff counted to his damage of 300 l. whether they could mitigate the damages or not: But all the Juſtices agreed, That in the principall Caſe, although the Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff, That he could not have Judgment, becauſe he declared of Waſte done in 8 ſeverall Cloſes to his damage of 300 l. generally, and did not ſend the damages: And the Jury found that in ſome of the Cloſes there was no Waſte committed, wherefore the Court ſaid, He could not have Judgment through his own default: But after at another day, Hobart being then Chief Juſtice, and Warberton Juſtice, ſaid; That the Verdict was ſufficient, and ſo was alſo the Declaration, and that the Plaintiff might have Judgment thereupon: but yet the Caſe was adjourned. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sir John Gage, and Smith's Caſe. Godbolt. 209, 210.

2. In Trover and Converſion of 2000 Loads of Coals, upon Not-guilty pleaded: The Defendants were found guilty, ſeverally for ſeverall Loads of Coals: and were ſeverally found Not-guilty for the reſidue, and Judgment accordingly, and entire damages, and one Ideo injuria; and thereupon a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, and the Error Aſſigned was, becauſe the Judgment was given againſt the ſeverall Defendants, for the ſeverall damages ſeverally: for it was alledged, that ſeverall damages ought not to have bin aſſeſſed; but, there being a joynt Trover and Converſion layed to their charge, they ought to have bin both found Guilty, and they ought not to have bin divided in the Verdict, and in the aſſeſſing of damages. But all the Juſtices and Barons agreed, That the Plaintiff ſhould have ſeveral damages: for, being found ſeverally Guilty of ſeverall parcells Converted, he ſhall have Judgment accordingly. Mich. 2 Car. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Player, and Wain, and Dowes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 39.

3. Treſpaſſe of Battery was brought againſt A. B. and C: A. appeared, and the Plaintiff declared againſt him ſimul cum, &c. And he pleaded, Not-guilty; And afterwards B. appeared, againſt whom alſo the Plaintiff declared ſimul cum, &c. And upon Not-guilty pleaded, Venire facias was Awarded, and both Iſſues tryed at the Aſſizes. And the Iſſue againſt A. being firſt tryed, the Jury aſſeſſed upon that Iſſue, for the Plaintiff, 200 l. damages; and afterwards the Iſſue was tryed againſt B. and 50 l. damages aſſeſſed by the ſecond tryall. C. appeared, and confeſſed the Action, and a Writ of enquiry of damages Awarded upon the Roll; but none Iſſued. In this Caſe, divers points were Reſolved. 1. When in Treſpaſſe againſt divers Defendants, they plead Not-guilty, or ſeverall Pleas, and the Jury finds for the Plaintiff in all, The Jurors cannot aſſeſſe ſeveral damages againſt the Defendants, becauſe all is one Treſpaſſe, and made joynt by the Writ and Count. But if the Jury find one Guilty at one time, and another at another time, there ſeverall damages may be taxed. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Defendant who pleads laſt, ſhould be charged with the damages taxed by the firſt Enqueſt, and the ſecond Enqueſt ſhall not aſſeſſe damages, but the party ſhall be contributary to the damages aſſeſſed by the firſt Enqueſt: for, the Treſpaſſe which the Plaintiff hath made Joynt by his Writ and Count, and done at one time, cannot be ſevered by the Jury, if the Jury find the Treſpaſſe to be done at one time. And if the Damages taxed by the firſt Enqueſt be exceſſive, the party to the ſecond tryall ſhall have an Attaint. But to ſave a Diſcontinuance, If one Defendant maketh default, a Writ of Enquiry ſhall be Awarded, but none ſhall Iſſue forth. 3. It was Reſolved, That becauſe in Judgment of Law, the ſeverall Jurors gave a Verdict at the ſame time, the Plaintiff might have his Election, to have Judgment, de melioribus damnis, and that ſhould bind them all: but there ſhould be but unica executio. 4. Reſolved, That where in Treſpaſſe, the Defendants plead ſeverall pleas, tryable all at one time by the ſame Jury, and found for the Plaintiff, the Jurors cannot ſever the damages, and, if they do, the whole Verdict is naught. Cook 11. Part, 5, 6, & 7. Sir John Hyden's Caſe.

4. Error was brought upon a Judgment by default in Waſte, That the Writ of Enquiry. It was found, that in the houſes and Gardens, and intire damages found, whereas the Waſte was aſſigned in two houſes, three Gardens, &c. and that the damages ought to be found ſeverall for every of them: But the Error was not allowed, for when the Sheriff and Jury had had the View, and found damages for the Waſte, it ſhall not be intended Pettit-damages in any; and in all ſuch Caſes, the uſuall Courſe is to find intire damages: But becauſe the enquiry was by ten Jurors, where there ought to have bin twelve Jurors, It being a Verdict upon which an Attaint lyeth, the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 11 Car. in B. R. King and Fitch's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 299.

5. In Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff did declare, That the Defendant did aſſume to perform the Award of J. S. and aſſumed alſo that he would not ſue execution upon a Judgment which he had obtained againſt the Plaintiff in an Action, And ſhewed that the Award was made (which Award was void in Law) and that the Defendant had not performed the ſaid Award, and alſo that he had ſued Execution againſt the Plaintiff, Upon Non-Aſſumpſit pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given. Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber; and was Aſſigned, That the Plaintiff had declared upon two breaches, whereas for one of them, there was no cauſe of Action, for that the Award was void in Law, and ſo no breach could be aſſigned in that, and when the Jurors have aſſeſſed damages intirement for both breaches, whereas for one there was no cauſe of Action, the Verdict was void. Tanfield Chief Baron ſaid, That the Verdict was well enough for there is but one Iſſue upon the whole Aſſumpſit, but if ſeverall Iſſues had bin joyned upon theſe ſeverall poynts of the Aſſumpſit, and both had bin found for the Plaintiff, and damages aſſeſſed intirely for both breaches, then was the Judgment reverſeable, for being ſeverall Iſſues, the Jury might have aſſeſſed the damages ſeverally, but here is but one Iſſue, and it was the folly of the Defendant, that he would not demur upon the Declaration for one part, ſcil. the not performance of the Award, and traverſe the other, ſcil. the ſuing of Execution, or the Aſſumpſit Note, the Verdict for the aſſeſſing of the damages, was in theſe words, ſcil. Et affidant damna occaſione, non performationis Aſſumptionis prædict. &c. But notwithſtanding all this ſaid, It was Reſolved, and adjudged, that the Judgment ſhould be reverſed, becauſe the damages were aſſeſſed entirely for a thing which was out of the Submiſſion. Mich. 31 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber, Bedell and Moor's Caſe. Leon. 170, 171.

6. In Accompt, Damages was given by the Jury: It was moved, That damages ought not to be by way of Damages, but the Damages of the Plaintiff ſhall be conſidered by way of Arrerages: But ſee H. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Collet and Andrew's Caſe. In Accompt, the Plaintiff ſhall Count to his Damages, but ſhall not recover damages; but the Court ſhall Award quoddam incrementum, to the Arrerages: Cook of Councell in the Caſe ſaid, It had bin adjudged, That the Plaintiff ſhall recover damages ratione Implacitationis, non retentionis. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Harris and Baker's Caſe. Leon. 302.

7. In an Action of Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, that he bought of the Defendant domſa bonaet catalla, viz. unum fulcrum Lecti, anglicè, a Field-Bedſtead, with Curtains and Vallens of Say, unum operimentum, Anglicè, a Rug which the Defendant did aſſume to deliver to the Plaintiff, and had not done it, the Defendant pleaded Non-Aſſumpſit, and found for the Plaintiff, and damages and Coſts aſſeſſed. Error brought, and Errour aſſigned, That the Damages were intirely given, and for ſome of them no Damages ought to be given: and in this caſe, where it is ſaid, Fulcrum Lecti Anglicè, a Field-Bedſtead: For that Damages may be given; but for the addition ſubſequent, no Damages ought to be given: for Fulcrum Lecti includes no more then the Bedſtead it ſelf. But in the principal caſe, It was adjudged, That the Judgment ſhould be affirmed: For Fulcrum Lecti is onely the thing for which Damages ſhall be given, and here is but one thing onely put in Iſſue: and for the Teſtern and Vallens no Damages ſhall be given, for they are not alledged poſitively, but expoſitivè, and the Expoſition extends to more, then Fulcrum Lecti doth ſignifie, and therefore the ſame is but as a Negation, and void, as a thing not at all alledged. Cook 11. Part, 403. 11 Jac. in B. R. James Osborns Caſe.

8. In Battery againſt Husband and Wife, The husband juſtified, for that the Plaintiff aſſaulted his wife, in ayd of whom, &c. The wife by her ſelf pleaded, de ſon aſſault demeſn. The Plaintiff replyed de injuria ſua propria abſq; tali cauſa: Both Iſſues being found for the Plaintiff, Damages entire were given; which being moved in Arreſt of Judgment, was holden to be ill by the whole Court, and the Tryall ill, becauſe the wife could not plead by her ſelf. Paſch. 8 Jac. in B. R. Watſon and Thorps Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 239.

9. Covenant was brought againſt the Aſſignee of A; For that the Leſſee Covenanted to pay annually during the Term of 21 years, 20 s. to the Church-Wardens of the Pariſh of S, and to repair the houſes; and becauſe the Aſſignee did not pay the rent, nor repair the Tenements, the Action was brought; And upon Nihil dicit, Judgment was for the Plaintiff, and damages aſſeſſed intire. Upon

Error

Errour brought, It was adjudged, becauſe the Aſſignee is not chargeable with this Covenant of payment of the annuall ſum, it being a Collateral Covenant. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good: and therefore the Damages being intire, the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Maybo and Bacchurſts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 439.

10. Treſpaſſe againſt 3. Defendants: One of the Defendants pleaded generally, Not-guilty: The ſecond pleaded, That at the time of the Treſpaſs, he was Conſtable of H, and pleaded, Not guilty: And the third Defendant pleaded, de ſon aſſault demeſne. And 3. Iſſues being joyned, One Jury found all theſe Iſſues for the Plaintiff, and aſſeſſed Damages intirely to 40 l, and Judgment given accordingly. Whereupon Errour was brought; for that they ought to have found ſeveral damages upon the ſeveral Iſſues. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was good enough. And the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Mathews and Coles Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 385.

11. Action upon the Caſe brought for words ſpoken at ſeveral times; where the words ſpoken at one time were actionable, but not for the words ſpoken at the other time; and the Jury found for the Plaintiff, and gave intire damages; which was ſaid, in Arreſt of Judgment was not good, but the Court was of Opinion, That the damages were well given by the Jury, and the ſame ſhall be taken to be for the words that are Actionable, and not for the other words. Hill. 14 Jac. in B. R. Meſſline and Farrendons Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 283.

5. Where, and in what Actions and Caſes, double damages ſhall be recovered; and where treble damages. And where one ſhall anſwer all the Damages, where not.

1. IN Error brought to reverſe a Judgment in London; the Caſe was, Sir Wolſtan Dixſey, brought Debt in London againſt Alderman Spencer; for Rent upon a Leaſe for years, made to Spencer by one B. who afterwards Granted the Reverſion to Dixſey, and the Tenant Attorned, and the Rent was unpaid, &c. Spencer pleaded in Bar, That before the Grant of the Reverſion, B. was ſeiſed, and ſhewed the Cuſtome of London to make Inrollments of Deeds Indented: And that before the bargain and Sale to Dixſey, he bargained the Reverſion to him by parol, and added Judgment if Action. This plea was entred upon Record, and, pendant the Suit, Dixſey entred into the Lands, for a forfeiture of the Term, becauſe he had claymed a Fee-ſimple; And Spencer re-entred with force; and his Servant with him, but not with force. And thereupon Dixſey brought an Aſſiſe of Freſh-force againſt them in London; and all this matter was there pleaded, and adjudged it was a forfeiture of the Term, and the Jury gave damages, and the Court increaſed them, and the Judgment trebled, as well the damages encreaſed as the others: And alſo the Judgment was, Quod pradicti Defendentes Capiantur. Whereupon Error was brought, and Aſſigned in the point of Judgment, that it was no forfeiture; and alſo becauſe the damages, increaſed by the Court, were trebled: And becauſe the Judgment was Capiantur, where but one was a Diſſeiſor with force: for the firſt point, the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was a forfeiture. For the ſecond point, the Court was of Opinion, that he who was preſent when the force was made, was a Diſſeiſor with force, and then the Capiantur well: And for the third point of trebling of the damages increaſed, The Court made no doubt, but that they ſhould be trebled: And ſo they ſay it was adjudged in a Staffordſhire Caſe. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Wolſtan Dixſey, and Alderman Spencer's Caſe. Goldesbr. 40, 41, 42. See Cook 10. Part, 116. in an Action of Forcible Entry, upon the Statute of 8 H. 6. or in an Aſſiſe for a Diſſeiſin done with force, the Plaintiff ſhall recover treble damages and Coſts alſo, becauſe at the Common-Law, the Plaintiff ſhould have recovered treble damages and Coſts alſo.

2. A Parſon did Libell in the Spirituall Court for Tythes, and the Subſtraction of them: They were at Iſſue upon a Priviledge of diſcharge, which being found for the Parſon, he had a Conſultation, and he proceeded in the Spirituall Court, and there obtained a Sentence, and the Sentence was, that he ſhould recover the ſingle damages. Et ulterius, quòd recuperet duplicem valorem, which was alſo by the ſentence ſet certain: It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That for that cauſe, a Prohibition ſpeciall ſhould be Awarded, for although the ſentence there given, is not expreſſly to recover the treble damages; yet becauſe it doth amount to ſo much, and in their Court by the Statute of 2 E. 6. they may give onely double damages, the Prohibition was Awarded. And in that Caſe it was agreed by the whole Court, That the Statute of 2 E. 6. for Subſtraction of Tythes, doth not give any damages, but if the Tythes be firſt ſet out; and then becauſe they are ſubſtracted, the perſon who hath an Intereſt, ſhall recover treble damages; And it was reſembled reſembled to the Caſe of Waſte, where, if the Jury give 20 l. damages, the Court ſhall treble the damages, and make it 60 l. and ſo it was done in the Principall Caſe. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. Baldwin and Girrey's Caſe. Godbolt. 245.

3. B. Bayliff of the Sheriff of W. was Endicted before the Juſtices of Peace in their Seſſions in the County of W. upon two Indictments of Extortion. In the one, That he as Bayliff had received 20 s. from one extorſivè colore Officii ſui, and of the other, that he took extorſivè 6 s. 8 d. and was forced to plead preſently to the ſame Indictments, and the ſame day they were tryed, and he convicted, and Judgment againſt him at one and the ſame Seſſions, That he ſhould be Impriſoned, and Fined to the King for one of his Offences, 40 l. and for the other 20 l. and treble damage given, viz. for the one 3 l. and for the other 26 s. 8 d. which was more by 6 s. 8 d. then he had received: Upon theſe Indictments, he brought ſeverall Writs of Error; and ſeverall Errors Aſſigned. 1. Becauſe the Indictment and Tryall were at one and the ſame Seſſions, whereas they ought not to be tryed, and traverſed the ſame Seſſions. 2. Becauſe they gave damages to the party where they ought not to have given any damages. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That Juſtices of Peace ought not to try, and determine civill offences in one and the ſame day, for the party ought to have a convenient time to provide for tryall: and 2. for the aſſeſſing of the treble dammages to the party, the ſame was erronious. For although by colour of the Statute 23 H. 6. where treble dammages are given to the party, they might aſſeſſe them; yet in this caſe it is undue and Erronious, for they ought firſt to have enquired of the damages, for peradventure it may be more or leſſe according to the Circumſtances, but they may not aſſeſſe them themſelves without enquiry by the Jury; for the Jury ought firſt to have found the damages, and then they might have trebled them: and for the Quadruple damages, the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was out of the Statute. And for theſe Errours, the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 11 Car. in B. R. Bumſteds Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 317, 309.

6. Where, and in what Caſes, Damages given may be mitigated; and what ſhall be a good Cauſe for the mitigation of them; what not. Where Releaſed; Where not.

1. IN Treſpaſſe for breaking of his Cloſe, and for Cropping 200 Pear-Trees, 100 Apple-Trees; Damages was found 40 l. It was moved to the Court, That the damages might be mitigated, becauſe it appeared by Affidavit, That the party himſelf before the Action brought, would have took 5 l: But the Court ſaid, That they could not mitigate the Damages in Treſpaſſe which was locall, and therefore could not appear to them, and the damages might well amount to 40 l. for Cropping of an Orchard; and ſo Judgment was entred. Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. Delvis and Ayres Caſe. Brown. 1. Part, 204.

2. In Aſſumpſit brought for 100 l, the Caſe was, The Defendant, in Conſideration of a French Crown given him, did promiſe, That if he did not ſuch an Act before ſuch a day, that then, &c. It was moved, That the Plaintiff can only recover ſo much as he is damnified by the French Crown: And the like caſe was before the Chancellor, where a Gentlewowan took the death of her husband ſo heavily, that ſhe ſaid, She would never marry again: and the ſon comforted her and ſaid, God will provide a new Husband; and ſaid, That he would give her 10 l, to pay 100 l. when ſhe ſhould marry: which ſhe accepted of, and then the ſon brought an Aſſumpſit for the 100 l. within a year after, ſhe married: and the matter was brought into the Chancery; And the Maſter of the Rolls awarded 10 l. only, and ſaid, He would never give a penny more, becauſe it was unreaſonable to bar a Gentlewoman from marriage. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Owen 34.

3. Note: It was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, in a Tryall at the Barr in a Caſe upon the Statute of Winchester againſt a Hundred; That if a Carriers man, or ſon, conſpire to rob him, and accordingly do it, the Carrier not being privy to it; The Carrier may bring an Action againſt the Hundred, upon the Statute of Winchester for this Robbery; but this Conſpiracy may be urged in mitigation of Damages. Mich. 1654. Styles 427. Matthew, and the Hundred of Godalmings Caſe.

4. Debt for Arrerages of Rent for ſeven years and for ſeven Capons; the Defendant pleaded Nihil debet, debt, and upon Iſſue joyned, a Verdict found for the Plaintiff. In Arreſt of Judgment, Exception was taken, That the Plaintiff of his own ſhewing had demanded more then was due, and ſo ought not to have Judgment, The Queſtion was, Whether the Plaintiff might not relinquiſh that part, which is not due, and have Judgment for ſo much as is due. It was holden by the Court, That the relinquiſhing of part is not the falſifying of his Writ, although the thing demanded be entire, for he may as well releaſe after the Writ brought as before: And there was no queſtion but he might have releaſed part before; and he may Releaſe where there is an ill demand, as well as where a demand is good. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1649. Styles 175. Barker and Pomeroyes Caſe.

5. Treſpaſſe was brought againſt four Defendants; and, before a Verdict, one of them dyed: and the Verdict was found againſt the Defendant. It was prayed that the Plaintiff might have Judgment againſt the other three; Rolls Chief Juſtice, If you will relinquiſh your damages as to the perſon that is dead, you may have judgment againſt the reſt. Mich. 1651. Preſton and Mortled's Caſe. in B. R. Styles 299.

6. An Action of Ejectment was brought, and alſo a battery in one Writ. After Verdict, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe the battery was joyned with the Ejectment: the Damages were found ſeverally, and the Plaintiff had releaſed his damages for the Battery, and prayed Judgment for the Ejectment: One Juſtice held the Writ to be naught; but yet notwithſtanding, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 16 Jac. in C. B. Bide and Snelling's Caſe. Brown. 1. Part, 235.

7. In a Writ of Annuity, the parties were at Iſſue, which was tryed for the Plaintiff, and the Jury found the Arrerages, but did not aſſeſſe any Damages and Coſts: which verdict was inſufficient, and cannot be ſupplyed by Writ of Enquiry of Damages; but the Plaintiff releaſed his Damages and Coſts, and thereupon had Judgment; for that was for the Defendants benefit. Mich. 12 Jac. Cook 11. Part, Bentham's Caſe.

8. In a Writ of Ejectione Cuſtodiæ terræ et hæredis, The Jury aſſeſſed damages entirely, which was not good, for, for the Heir, it doth not lye, yet he releaſed his damages, and had Judgment for the Land. 22 Eliz. Dyer. 370.

7. Where Damages are well given, where not, and Where the Particular Damages are to be alledged; Where not?

1. HUſband and Wife, Executrix of A. brought Trover and Converſion againſt B. of goods of the Teſtator, and Converted by the Defendant, and obtained a Verdict: In ſtay of Judgment, the Defendant took Exception to the Declaration, That the Declaration was of a joynt poſſeſſion of Goods of the Husband and Wife, and damages were given to the Husband and Wife, whereas the goods do properly belong to the Wife onely as Executrix. It was ſaid by the Court, That the poſſeſſion of the Wife as Executrix, was alſo the poſſeſſion of the Husband; and that the damages recovered, ſhall be to the Eſtate of the Teſtator, and ſo may concern them both: and this being a poſſeſſory Action, it is not neceſſary to ſhew how the poſſeſſion of the goods was gained. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Fremling and Clutherbooks Caſe. Styles 48.

2. In Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was, A. did promiſe to B. that in conſideration that B. would marry the daughter of A. that he would be bound to give over his ſhop to him, and not uſe his Trade in Dale, and would lend unto him 50 l. and for not performing this, he had Judgment: Error was brought, and Aſſigned, That there is a breach layed of all the promiſes, one part of which is againſt Law, ſcil. not to uſe his Trade, and yet damages are given intirely for all, which is not good: It was the Opinion of the Court, That if the words be generall, it is ill; but it is otherwiſe if there be a Conſideration, for a man may ſell his title and priviledge for a Conſideration; It was then moved, That the damages were given for a thing which was impoſſible. But to that, It was Anſwered, If damages entire be given for ſome things, with others, whereof ſome are impoſſible, the damages ſhall be deemed to be given for thoſe things which were poſſible, and void to the reſt. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 24 Car. in B. R. Styles 111. Pongnell and Goff's Caſe.

3. Debt upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleaded per minus, upon Iſſue and Verdict, a Judgment for the Plaintiff in the Court of Barnſtable: Upon Oyer of the Record, this Error was found, That the Jury in Aſſeſſing of damages, ſay pro miſis et Cuſtagiis, but do not ſay Circa Stellum expenditis, penditis, ſo it cannot appear for what the Coſts and damages are aſſeſſed: and though the Judgment be right entred, yet there is no Verdict to Warrant the Judgment. The Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 1649. in B.R. Cribie and Orchard's Caſe. Styles 164.

4. The Plaintiff brought an Action upon the Caſe, for ſpeaking theſe words of her, viz. This is the whore that my man C. begot a Baſtard on, and ſpent all my mony upon, and the Queen hath been too long in Town to my eaſe. A Verdict being for the Plaintiff, it was moved, that there is no ſpeciall loſſe or damage alledged, by reaſon of the words, And it was ſaid, That for ſaying generally the Plaintiff had a Baſtard, an Action would not lye, As was adjudged in Winter and Barnard's Caſe. Trin. 1650. and for that reaſon, the Court was of Opinion that the Judgment ſhould be Arreſted. Paſc. 1651. in B. R. Owen and Jevon's Caſe. Styles 274.

Darrein Preſentment: Or, Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment.

1. AN Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, Or, Aſſiſa ultimæ Preſentationis, are Writs grounded upon the poſſeſſion, which the Patron had upon an Uſurpation within his own poſſeſſion, or his Anceſtors; or upon a ſpecial diſturbance, may have and maintain; and thereby he ſhall recover the Preſentment, and remove the Incumbent who is in by wrong; and therein he ſhall recover his damages. See Bract. lib.4.246,247. Fl.tch. lib. 5. cap. 12. Ganvil. lib.6.cap.17. acc.

2. A man ſhall have an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, although he and his Anceſtors do not preſent to the laſt avoidance; as if Tenant for life, for years, in Dower, or by the courteſie, ſuffer an Uſurpation to the Church, and dye, he in the Reverſion, who is heir unto the Anceſtors, who laſt preſented, ſhall have an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, if he be diſturbed: But if a man preſenteth, and then granteth the Advowſon to one for life, and he ſuffer one two or three Uſurpations at the next avoidance, he in the Reverſion ſhall not have Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, if he be diſturbed to preſent: For by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 5. the Remedies given for the Heir of him who made the Demiſe, who is in the Reverſion; and not for the Leſſor himſelf. Fiſh to Dyer upon preſentment, acc.

3. Note, there is a difference betwixt the Writ of Darrein Preſentment, and Quare Impedit: For, 1. where a man may have a Writ of Darrein Preſentment, there he may have a Quare Impedit; but not è contrà. 2. A man may have a Quare Impedit, without alleadging any preſentment in a perſon certain. But a man cannot have an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment; but therein he muſt alleadge the Preſentment in a perſon certain, 30 Eliz. 3. Darr. Preſentment 13. 3. A Leſſee for years, Guardian, or Tenant at Will, may have a Quare Impedit; but they cannot have and maintain Darrein Preſentment, becauſe no perſon can maintain an Aſſiſe, but he that hath a Free-hold, 5 H. 7. 14; 50. E. 3. 14. by Holt 16 H. 7, 8. 40. If the Husband be ſeiſed of an Advowſon in the Wives Right, and a ſtranger uſurps, the Husband may have a Quare Impedit in his own name, without naming the Wife in the Writ; for that the diſturbance is perſonal, which falls in damage to the husband: but he cannot have an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, wherein the Advowſon is to be recorded; but the wife muſt be joyned and named in the Writ, 14 Hen. 4. 12. 5 Eliz. 3, 14.

4. In an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, the Writ doth ſuppoſe, that the Defendant doth deforce him of the Advowſon; and yet in the Court or Prolecution, he counts, that he or his Anceſtors did laſt preſent; and the Count, although it ſeem repugnant to the Writ, yet it is not ſo, but is good; and the Count ſhall not, for the ſeeming variance therein, abate the Writ, becauſe there is no other form of Writ, 20 E. 3. Darr. Preſentment 13.

5. In a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff counts, That A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee, to which an Advowſon of a Church was appendant, and preſented J. S. who was admitted, inſtituted, and inducted. A. dyed, his heir levyed a Fine of the Mannor, to which, &c. to be in Fee, who granted the next avoidance to the Plaintiff; and that J. S. had reſigned; ſo it belonged to him to preſent. The Defendant pleaded, That before the Writ brought, he was in by ſix moneths of the preſentment of A. without that, that the Church was void modo & forma, as the Plaintiff had counted; and upon that they were at Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff. And the Jury ex officio found, That the Church was full of one J. D. by Indictment of the King, prait the Quare Impedit, betwixt the Plaintiff and the ſaid J. S; and that the Church was of the value of of 80 l. per annum, and that the Action was brought within 6. months after the Avoydance: Upon which, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That he ſhould recover his Preſentment to the Church againſt J. S, although it was full of the preſentment of the King, pendent the Quare Impedit betwixt the Plaintiff and J. S: and alſo that he ſhould recover againſt him Damages ad valorem Eccleſiæ per dimid. And he had a Writ to the Biſhop, notwithſtanding he had admitted idoneam perſonam to the ſaid Church at the preſentation of the Plaintiff. And upon this Judgment, a Writ of Errour was brought. And in this caſe, theſe points were Reſolved: 1. At the Common-Law, before the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 5. If a Common perſon do preſent to the Church his Clark, who is Admitted and Inſtituted, that thereby the lawful Patron was put out of poſſeſſion, and the uſurper gained the Inheritance of the Advowſon by wrong, and the preſentment of the Patron pro hac vice loſt for ever: For he had not any means but a Writ of Right of Advowſon, in which the Inheritance was onely to be recovered; but by that Writ the Incumbent was not removed, and the Church was full as to the ſpiritualty by the Inſtitution before the Induction. 2. That at the Common-Law, If an uſurpation were upon an Enfant, or a Feme Covert, they were put to their Writs of Right of Advowſon; 1. Becauſe he who comes in by Admiſſion, Inſtitution, and Induction of the Biſhop, came in by a Judiciall act; and it was preſumed in Law, that the Biſhop would not do wrong, nor aſſent to a wrong to be done to the Patronage of the Church. But if the Church were Litigious, that he would enform himſelf in a jure Patronatûs, and ſo do right. 2. Becauſe that in every Pariſh there ought to be idonea perſona, who ought to be religious, and diligent in his function; and that was the reaſon, that after Inſtitution to the Church, that the Incumbent was not removeable at the Suit of a common perſon, but was put to his Writ of Right of Advowſon: But at the Common-Law, If any had uſurped upon the King, and his Preſentee was Admitted and Inducted, yet the King might have a Quare Impedit, and remove the Incumbent, Quia nullum tempus occurrit Regi. But if the Preſentee of another were Admitted and Inducted, the King could not preſent, untill the other were removed by a Quare Impedit brought by the King. 3. It was Reſolved, by the Statute of weſt. 2. Cap. 5. If an uſurpation be upon an Enfant or a Feme Covert, who hath an Advowſon by diſcent, that the Enfant, or the Feme Covert after the death of her husband, might have a Quare Impedit or Darrein Preſentment: ſo as the Statute did not onely reveſt the right, but gave a poſſeſſory Action to recover the Advowſon againſt every one who had gained the Inheritance by uſurpation or wrong; whereas by the Common-Law they had onely a Writ of Right of Advowſon before. 2. That Plenarty is no plea in an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment or Quare Impedit. 3. That in a Writ of Darrein Preſentment, or Quare Impedit, Damages ſhould be recovered. 4. Reſolved, That at the Common-Law in ſome caſes, He who was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted at the preſentment of another, ſhould be removed by a Quare Impedit; As if the diſturber being Defendant, preſent pendent the Writ, and his Clerk Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and afterwards Judgment is given againſt him, the Incumbent ſhould be removed; and in all caſes, when the Clerk came in by the preſentment of a ſtranger, againſt whom the Plaintiff had good title, his Clerk ſhould be removed. 5. Reſolved, That by the Statute of Weſt. 2. no Incumbent ſhould be removed by a Quare Impedit, or Darrein Preſentment brought within 6. moneths, unleſſe the Incumbent were named in the Writ, although the Incumbent were in by a defeicible title. 6. In the principal caſe, It was Reſolved, That though it were found ex Officio, that the Church was full of J. D, who was a ſtranger to the Writ, and it doth not appear that he comes in by better title then the Plaintiff hath, yet he ought to have a Writ to the Biſhop generally, and the Biſhop ought to execute it, and he cannot Return, That the Church is full of another: for no Iſſue can be taken between the Plaintiff and him, for he hath no day in Court; and although thas the third perſon hath right, yet the Biſhop is excuſed, becauſe they have their warrant by proceſs of Law. 3 Jac. in B. R. Boſwells Caſe. Cook 6. Part, 48, to 53.

6. No Writ of Deceit lyes in an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment: and if ſuch Writ be brought in Middleſex, upon the Retorn of ſuch Writ, the Aſſiſe ſhall be there arraigned by the Sergeants at the Barr in French, and the Tenant ſhall be demanded; and if the Tenant do not appear when he is demanded, a Reſummons ſhall be awarded: and if upon the Reſummons the Tenant ſhall not appear, the Aſſiſe ſhall be taken againſt him by default: and if the Tenant appear, he may demand Oyer of the Writ and the Retorn, and the Writ ſhall be read to him in hac verba, and the Retorn thereof, and the Jury ſhall have the View; and the Tenant may take Exceptions either to the Writ, or to the Retorn thereof, if there be cauſe: and if there be no cauſe, Then he may pray a day to plead: And if the Court give a day, then the Jurours that appeared ſhall be diſcharged of their attendance, and ought to appear upon a new proceſs to be awarded againſt them. The Judgment in this Aſſiſe is to recover the Preſentation, Damages, and the value for half a year; and if 6. moneths be paid the value of the Church for two years, by the Statute of Weſt. 2. And 6. of the Jury ought to have the View of the Church, to the intent they may put the Plaintiff into poſſeſſion if he recover; and in the Writ the Plaintiff ſhall not recover the Advowſon, but the Preſentation: The Proceſs in this Writ, is Summons, Reſummons againſt the Tenant; and Summons, Habeas Corpus, and Diſtringas againſt the Jury: and the Proceſs ſhall be returned from 15. dayes to 15. dayes, and no Eſſoyne, or Voucher lyeth after a Reſummons. See Brownlow, 1. Part, 159, 160.

7. Errour of a Judgment at the Grand Seſſions in the County of Pembroke: In an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, many Errours were aſſigned; which were diſallowed by the Court. See Libr. But the principal Errour inſiſted upon, was, That the Verdict was not good, and the Jury had not well Enquired, becauſe they did not find when the Church became void, but ſaid in their Preſentment, Quod tempus ſemeſtre modò tranſivit, which might be long before the Writ brought. But all the Court delivered their Opinions, That the Verdict is good; and it is not neceſſary to find when the Church became void. But modò tranſivit ſhall be intended, That the 6. moneths paſſed, hanging the Writ, which is onely enquireable in reſpect of the damages: and when here the value of the Church is enquired and found of the annual value of 80 l; and that the Defendant is found to come in, ex præſentatione of one other of the Defendants; ſo the Patron and the Incumbent are not named in the Writ, although the Defendant may be in by 6. moneths by the ſame Patron, which was named before the Writ brought; he ought to be removed: And the Judgment is for 40 l; which is the moyety of the value. Therefore the Enquiry and the Judgment are good enough. And although Preſidents be, That in the Declaration he declares, Et unde dicit, Quod ipſe (idem the Plaintiff) ad eandem Eccleſiam præſentavit; and in this caſe the words, ſcil. ad eandem Eccleſiam, are omitted: yet becauſe it cannot have any other intendment, but that he preſented to the ſame Church mentioned in the plaint; and the words after, ſcil. That he was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted in eadem, refers to the Church mentioned in the Plaint: therefore it was holden good enough. Whereupon the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. Cart and the Biſhop of St. Davids, Owen and Prichards Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 249, 253.

Note: In the Writs of Darrein Preſentment, and Quare Impedit, a Protection doth not lye for the Defendant, becauſe of the danger of the Lapps: Neither ſhall Conuſans of Plea be granted in a Quare Impedit, becauſe the Inferiour Court cannot write to the Biſhop to admit the Clerk; neither ſhall a man have Aide in a Quare Impedit for the danger of the Lapps. See 39 H. 6. 38. 13 E. 3. Protection, 52. 9 H. 7. 16. Br. Aide, 120.

Debt.

1. THe Tenour of a Recognizance taken in the Chancery, was brought into the Court of Common-Pleas by Mittimus; to the Intent, that the party might have a Scire facias there upon it. But it was holden by the Court, That he could not have a Scire facias ſuper tenorem Recordi: But he might have an Originall of Debt, and then he might declare ſuper tenorem Recordi. Paſch. 22 Eliz. Dyer 369. See 5 Eliz. Dyer 217. acc.

2. Debt was brought upon a Recognizance acknowledged in London; and the Plaintiff declared, That London was antiqua Civitas, and that they had uſed time out of minde, That the Mayor take Recognizances of any perſon being of full age, and not a Feme Covert every day of the yeare, except Sundayes; and ſhewed, that ſuch a day the Defendant acknowledged a Recognizance to him, &c. It was ſaid, The Cuſtom was unreaſonable, for ſo he might take Recognizances of Idiots, and of men of non ſanæ memoriæ, and alſo it is ſo generall; for ſo it muſt extend to all places through the whole Realm, alſo none can take Recognizances by preſcription, nor can a Recognizance be taken but by a Judge of Record: But the Court held, The Recognizance was well taken, for it hath alwayes allowed them, and their Cuſtoms are confirmed by Act of Parliament; and the Mayor is ſuch a perſon who may take a Recognizance, for he is Judge of Record; and the Recognizee cannot have an Action of Debt elſewhere upon it but in London; and it is not out of the Juriſdiction of the Court, for the Recognizance hath made it locall; and if the Recogniſor be Idiot, Infant, Non Compos mentis ſhall come to be ſtayed and pleaded by the other ſide, and the Plaintiff need not ſhew the ſame in his Declaration. It was adjudged, That the Action of Debt upon that Recognizance did well lye. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Chamberlain and Thorpe Caſe. Leon. 130.

3. Debt was brought upon a Recognizance in the the nature of a Statute-Staple, for not performance of Covenants in an Indenture. The Caſe was this, A. ſeiſed of certain Lands, had Iſſue Elizabeth his daughter and heir, and by Indenture 20 Martii, 19 Eliz. granted Cuſtodiam regalem, gubernationem, educationem, et Maritagium dict. Eliz. to T. L: after which, T. L. by Indenture, 14 Maii, 19 Eliz. aſſigned the ſaid Cuſtody, &c. and all his Intereſt and the ſaid Indenture to Sir John Spencer. Afterwards, the ſaid Sir John Spencer and T. L. 29 Aug. 20 Eliz. aſſigned to J. H. the ſaid Cuſtody, &c. and all their Intereſt by Indent. of 29 Auguſt, Covenanted with the ſaid L. That T. H. ſon and heir of the ſaid J. H, and heir apparant of the ſaid J. H, maritaret, et in uxorem duceret predict. Eliz. ad vel antequam dict. Eliz. et dict. T. H. perimplerat ſuas ſeparatas etates 14 annorum & dict. Eliz. ad id Condiſcenderet et agreare vellet: and afterwards before the ſaid T. H. and Eliz. ſuas ſeparatas etates 14 annorum perimpleviſſent, ſcil. 8. Sept. 20 Eliz. the ſaid Tho. H. took to wife the ſaid Eliz. the ſaid T. H. then being of the age of 13 years and more; and the ſaid Eliz. then being of the age of 9. years, and no more, and Tho. H. over-lived, &c. and pleaded further, That the ſaid T. H. after attained his full age of 14 years; and before any agreement by the ſaid Tho. H. to the Marriage aforeſaid, betwixt the ſaid Tho. H. and the ſaid Eliz. had, at, or after the ſaid T. H. came to his age of 14 years, ſcil. 10. Sept. 22 Eliz. ad dict. Maritagium diſagreavit, et maritagium illud renunciavit: And all this matter being pleaded in barr as performance of the ſaid Covenants in the ſaid Indenture of Defeaſance upon the ſaid Recognizance, and thereupon demanded Judgment of the ſaid Action. And the only Queſtion here was, If this Marriage, had in manner aforeſaid, be ſuch a marriage as is intended by the Covenant, ſo as the ſaid Covenant be ſatisfied or not? And the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a ſufficient marriage in performance of the Covenant: for H. is bound for the performance of the Covenant, and that his ſon and heir apparent maritaret et in uxorem duceret dict. Eliz. ad vel ante, &c. which is executed accordingly, and he is not bounden for the continuance of the ſaid Marriage, but the continuance of the ſame ought to be left to the Law, which giveth the parties liberty to continue the marriage by agreement, or diſſolve it by diſagreement: and if I be bounden to you, that J. S. who in truth is an Enſant, ſhall levy a Fine before ſuch a day; which is done accordingly, and afterwards the ſame is reverſed by Errour, yet the Condition is performed. Afterwards, Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Paſch. 29 Jac. in C. B. Leigh and Hammers Caſe. Leon. 52, 53, 54.

4. In Debt, by the Executors of Sir William Cordell: The Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, bargained and ſold the ſame to one P, and by the Indenture Covenanted, That the ſaid P. and his heirs ſhould quietly enjoy the ſaid Lands without interruption of any perſon. Afterwards, Controverſies ariſing betwixt them concerning the ſaid Lands; they ſubmitted themſelves to the Arbitrament of Sir William Cordell; to whom they were bound to perform the award ſeverally. Sir William awarded, That P. and his heirs ſhould enjoy quietly the ſaid Lands in tam amplo modo et forma, as the ſaid Land is conveyed and aſſured by the Conveyance and Aſſurance aforeſaid. And the truth was, That A. at the time of the ſaid Aſſurance was bounden in a Recognizance of 600 l. to one J. S; and the ſaid J. S. ſued forth Execution by Elegit thereupon, and the moyety of the Land of P. was delivered in Execution. And, If the Arbitrament was broken, was the Queſtion? The Court was clear of Opinion, That the Lands paſſed with the Charge; and the Covenant, That P. and his heirs ſhould enjoy it without interruption of any perſon, is a Collateral Surety: and the words are, that he ſhall enjoy it in tam amplo modo et forma; and theſe are not words of Aſſurance, but the aſſurance doth conſiſt in the Legall words of paſſing the Eſtate, and not in the words of Covenant. Alſo here doth not appear any Interruption againſt the Covenant in the Indenture; for here is not any lawful Execution, for it appeareth, that J. S. hath ſued Execution by Elegit 4. years after the Judgment in the Scire facias; in which caſe, he ſhall be put to a new Scire facias; for the Sheriff ought to have returned, That the Conuſor after the Execution had enfeoffed divers perſons, and ſhewed who, and upon that returned, the Conuſee ſhould have a new Scire facias againſt the Feoffees. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Paſch. 27 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 584. Allington and Bates Caſe. Leon. 20.

5. Debt upon an Obligation: The Condition was, That whereas the Plaintiff had bought of the Defendant a Ship, If the Plaintiff ſhall enjoy the ſaid Ship, with all the furniture belonging to the ſame, without being diſturbed for the Ship, or any furniture appertaining to it, That then, &c. and the caſe was, That after the ſale of the Ship, a ſtranger ſued the Plaintiff for certain moneys due for Ballaſt bought by the Defendant for the ſame Ship: in which Suit he obtained Judgment and Execution, upon which the Ship was ſeiſed. The matter was, If Ballaſt be furniture for a Ship, or not? It was moved, It was; for that it is as neceſſary as Sayl. But the Court was of Opinion againſt that, for that ſometime a Ship may ſayl without ballaſt, and the Merchandizes laden may be a convenient ballaſt of themſelves; and alſo becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed, that at the time of the ſale, the ballaſt was in the Ship. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Lynters Caſe. Leon. 46, 47.

6. Debt upon Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Obligor deliver to the Obligee at ſuch a day and place 20 l, or 10 Kine at the then choice of the Obligee; that then, &c. The Court was clear of Opinion, That the Defendant in pleading the performance thereof, ought to plead as well a tender of the 20 l, as of the 10 Kine: and becauſe he did not ſo, it was adjudged againſt the Defendant. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Fordleys Caſe. Leon. 68.

7. In Debt, upon ſeveral Precipe's, one Judgment was given, The Plaintiff took forth a Capias againſt one of the Defendants, and arreſted him in Execution; and afterwards, he took a Fieri facias againſt the other: The Court was clear of Opinion, He could not have ſeverall Executions againſt them, for a man ſhall have but one ſatisfaction: and becauſe in the principal caſe, the debt was but 30 l; and upon the Fieri facias, 5 l. was levied, if the other who was in priſon paid the other 5 l, the Court awarded, That he ſhould be diſcharged out of Execution. And the Court was clear of Opinion, That the party cannot have a Fieri facias againſt one, and a Capias againſt the other. And it was holden, That if a man have a Judgment againſt ſeven perſons, he may take all their bodies in Execution, becauſe the body is no ſatisfaction, but onely a gage to the debt. 8. Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in an Action of Debt. The Action of Debt was upon a Conceſſit ſolvere, &c. pro diverſis ſummis pecuniæ; And the Opinion of the Court was, That Debt doth not lye upon Conceſſit ſolvere pro diverſis ſummis, &c. becauſe of the Incertainty: But the ſame Term, in Storie's Caſe, That by the Cuſtome of London, It was holden, That Debt doth lye upon Conceſſit ſolvere pro diverſis ſummis. And it was ſaid, That in an Action upon the Caſe, it is good; That in Conſideration de diverſis ſummis Conceſſit ſolvere; and that ſo it had been adjudged, Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Owfield and Shierſts Caſe, Godbolt 336.

9. In Debt, for marriage-money, the caſe was, A. was bound to B. to pay him 1000 l. after that he had married his daughter; and afterwards he married her; and B. brought debt upon the Bond; and it was not averred, That he had not given Notice to him of the marriage. It was ſaid, That he ought to have given him Notice; for where the thing lyes properly in the Conuſans of the Plaintiff, he ought to give Notice to the Defendant: and Stephen Gawneys Caſe was cited to that purpoſe, which was, Leſſee for years, the Reverſion is granted over for years by way of future Intereſt, to begin upon the death, forfeiture, or determination of the firſt Leaſe. Provided, That if the Rent upon the ſecond Leaſe be arrear, that the Leſſor may enter. The firſt Leſſee ſurrenders, a Rent day incurres, the ſecond Leſſee doth not pay the Rent, the Leſſor ſhall not enter for the forfeiture, becauſe the firſt Leaſe determined by an Act which lyes properly in the Conuſans of the Leſſor; and becauſe he was to take advantage of it, he ought to have given Notice thereof to the Leſſee: But the Opinion of the Court was in the principal caſe, That there needed no Notice, becauſe he takes upon him to pay it: and a Marriage is an Eccleſiaſtical Judgment, of which he ought to take Notice. And upon divers Preſidents ſhewed, That there needs no Notice to be given in this caſe, Judgment was afterwards given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 22 Jac. in B. R. Hodges and Moors Caſe. Popham 164, 165.

10. In Debt for Rent, the caſe was; A. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage in S, and let it to the Defendant for divers years to come, rendring rent payable at four uſuall Feaſts of the year; the Leſſee entred: A. by bargain and ſale conveyed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff; and before the Feaſt of Annunciation in the ſame year, the Defendant aſſigned his whole Term to J. S. who before the ſame Feaſt entred; and for Rent due at the Feaſt of the Anunciation, the Plaintiff brought the Action. It was agreed by the whole Court, That the Action would not lye: for although A. if he had not aliened the reverſion over, might have had the Action againſt the Defendant, notwithſtanding that he had aſſigned over his term before, for the privity of Contract which was between them, in as much as they were parties to it of either part: yet the Grantee of the Reverſion ſhall not have advantage of the privity, he being a ſtranger to the Contract, and now was but privy in Law by the bargain, and now he hath no remedy but againſt him who had the Eſtate at the time when the Rent appeared to be due, and that was J. S. and not the Defendant. Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Humble and Olivers Caſe. Popham, 55.

11. In Debt the Plaintiff declared, That whereas A. Inteſtate was endebted to J. S. in divers ſums of money, for Wares ſold, that J. S. became Bankrupt, and ſo adjudged by Commiſſioners; and by them this debt was aſſigned to the Plaintiff, being a Creditor, and that the Inteſtate dyed; whereupon he brought debt againſt his Adminiſtrator. It was ſaid, That this debt being aſſigned by Commiſſioners, miſſioners, is quaſi a debt upon Record, and the Plaintiff is enabled to the Suit by Act of Parliament. And it was ſaid, That for a debt forfeited to the King, by the Common-Law no wager of Law lay. But notwithſtanding, the Opinion of the Court was clear, That debt upon a ſingle Contract againſt an Executor, or an Adminiſtrator: and the Aſſignment by the Commiſſioners doth not alter the Law; but that againſt the Aſſignee the party might wage his Law. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 6 Car. in B.R. Morgan and Greens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 135.

12. Debt was brought in the Common-Pleas, upon a Judgment given in the Kings-Bench: The Defendant pleaded Nul tiel Record: And upon that, the Plaintiff in the Common-Pleas obtained a Certiorari out of the Chancery to ſend the Record thither, which by the Mittimus might be ſent into the Common-Pleas. It was much doubted by the Court, Whether ſuch Certiorari were allowable, becauſe the Records of the Kings-Bench ſhall not be removed out of that Court. But upon many Preſidents ſhewed, That ſuch Records were by Mittimus out of the Chancery, Upon Nul tiel Record pleaded, it was ſent in Banco; the ſame was allowed, viz. Hill. 20 Eliz. rott. 2013. in C.B. Leex and Scargill's Caſe. 13. A. Executrix of B, brought debt upon an Obligation of 200 l. by W. W: The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. late husband of the ſaid A: and the ſaid W. W. were bound in the ſaid Obligation to B, and that J. S. dyed, and made the Plaintiff and the ſaid B. the Obligee his Executors; and B. renounced, and A. adminiſtred, and that Aſſetts came to the Plaintiff's hands. The Plaintiff confeſſed the Will of J. S, and that the ſaid B. renounced, and that the ſaid A. fully adminiſtred all the goods of J. S; and that after the ſaid B. made the Plaintiff her Executrix, and that neither at the death of the ſaid B, nec unquam poſtea any goods of the ſaid J. S. came to the Plaintiff's hands: and upon this the Defendant demurred in Law. It was much inſiſted upon, That when the Obligee makes the Obligor his Executor, It is a releaſe in Law of the debt; and by the ſame reaſon when the Obligee makes the Executor of one of the Obligors who is chargeable to that debt, his Executor, for he may not ſue him nor his Companion. But the Court all agreed, That the Defendant had no cauſe of Demurrer, but that Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff: For they agreed, That when the Debtee makes the Debtor his Executor, it is not abſolutely a diſcharge of the debt, for the debt remains Aſſetts in the hands of the debtor Executor, and it is quaſi a Releaſe in Law, becauſe he cannot be ſued: Or if a man Debtee takes the Debtor to wife, it is a Releaſe in Law, becauſe he may not be ſued; and perſonal Actions once ſuſpended, are perpetually ſuſpended: But where the Executor of the Debtor, is made Executor to the Debtee, he hath nothing thereby in his own right, but is onely to uſe an Action in the right of another: and in the principal caſe, though ſhe be Executor to J. S; yet when ſhe hath fully adminiſtred all the Eſtate of J. S. before ſhe be made Executrix to B, ſhe hath in a manner diſcharged her ſelf of being Executrix to J. S, and hath not any thing of his eſtate: where in the principal caſe ſhe having adminiſtred all the goods of J. S, and not being chargeable to that debt as Executrix to J. S, ſhe as Executrix to B, may maintain this Action againſt the ſaid W. W. the other Obligor. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 9 Car. in B.R. rott. 373. Dorcheſter and Webbs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 271, 272.

14. Debt againſt A. D. Executor of J. D. upon a Bond of the Teſtator. The Condition thereof was, Whereas A. D. ſon of the ſaid J. D. was bound apprentice to the Plaintiff for 8. years, If he, during that term, waſted or conſumed any of the Plaintiff's Wares or Goods; Then if J. D. or his Executors within 3. moneths after due proof thereof made, either by confeſſion of the ſaid A. D. or otherwiſe, and Notice thereof given the ſaid J. D. or them, ſhould render him ſatisfaction of all ſuch moneys as ſhould be duly proved to be conſumed, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff before the Writ brought had not proved, that the ſaid A. D. had conſumed, &c. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the ſaid A. D. had within that term, ſcil. ſuch a day conſumed 400 l. of the Plaintiff's Wares; and that the ſaid A. D. had by a Writing under his hand confeſſed the ſame, and that ſuch a day and place he gave Notice to the Defendant, that the ſaid A. D. had conſumed, &c. that 400 l, and ſhewed him his Confeſſion under his hand. Upon which the Defendant did Demur in Law. And it was ſaid, That the Plaintiff's Replication was not good, for that the proof ought to be by Action brought, and tryal at the Common-Law againſt the Apprentice, or upon Confeſſion of the Apprentice, upon an Action brought againſt him, and that the Law eſteems not of any proof but of that which is upon Record: But it was Reſolved by the Court, That although generally, proof is to be intended tryall by a Jury; yet it may be in another manner, according to the intention of the parties, ſhewed by Circumſtances in Writing; and the proof in this Caſe being referred to the confeſſion of the party, it is ſufficient if he confeſſe it under his hand if it be true, but if it be not true, it cannot bind the Defendant: but prima facie, it is a good proof, and the Defendant having demurred thereupon, it is confeſſed that he made ſuch proof; Wherefore the Replication was holden good, and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Gold and Deack's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 381. Note, a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber; and the Error aſſigned in the point in Law: And all the Juſtices and Barons conceived, That the proof was good enough. But then an Exception was taken, That Notice was not given to the Defendant after the death of the Teſtator, for if it were in his life, it was to no purpoſe: And all the Juſtices held this to be a materiall Exception; And for that cauſe, the Judgment was reverſed. See Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Lee and Fidges Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 488. to the ſame purpoſe.

15. Error to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. The Plaintiff declares upon ſeverall Accompts of divers ſorts of Wares ſold for divers ſums, and upon ſeverall retainers at ſeveral dayes, to do ſeverall ſorts of works, in toto, amounting to 42 l. The Defendant pleaded Non debet, and found debet 30 l. et quoad reſiduum, Non debet, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff: Errour was brought, and the Error Aſſigned, The Action of Debt being for ſeverall parcells, The Jury finding that he owed 30 l. Et quoad reſiduum, Non debet, ſo as the Defendant cannot know for which he is condemned, and for which acquitted, and thereby might plead in bar to other Actions, or have an Attaint (if it be falſe) for this cauſe, the Court held the Verdict was not good, but erronious, and reverſed the Judgment. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Teſwill and Middleton's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 653.

16. Woodſhaw Executor of H. brought Debt upon an Obligation againſt F. The Writ was in Octobor, 30 Eliz. The Condition was, That if F. dyed before his age of 21 years, and before he had made a Joyntuce to A. his Wife, daughter of H, Then if the Defendant cauſed 100 l. to be paid to the ſaid F. within three Moneths, after the death of the ſaid William F. that then the Bond ſhould be void, And the ſaid William dyed, 30th Sept. 30 Eliz. The Plaintiff doth traverſe abſq; hoc, that the ſaid H. dyed Inteſtate. It was ſaid, That it appeareth of Record, that the Plaintiff hath no cauſe of Action; for the 100 l. was to be paid within three moneths after the death of William F. which is confeſſed by the Plaintiff, and this Action is in Mich. Octobor, 30 Eliz. within a Moneth after the death of William, and ſo before the Plaintiff hath cauſe of Action. Gawdy Juſtice ſaid, Where it appeareth, That the Plaintiff hath not cauſe of Action, he ſhall never have Judgment, but here it doth appear, that the Plaintiff hath cauſe of Action; For where a man is bounden in an Obligation, the ſame is a duty preſently, and the Condition is but in defeaſance of it, which the Defendant may plead in his diſcharge. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Woodſhaw and Palmerſton's Caſe. Leon. 186.

17. In Debt for Rent, The Plaintiff declared, That Land was given to him, and to T. his Wife, and to the Heirs of their bodies, and that the Wife Leaſed the Lands to the Defendant, and that the Donees are dead, and that the Plaintiff as Heir, &c. for Rent arrear, &c. And upon Non demiſerunt; the Jury found, that the Husband and Wife demiſerunt by Indenture; And afterwards the Husband dyed, and the Wife entred, and within the Term dyed; Upon the matter, It ſeemed clear to Anderſon Chief Juſtice, that the Jury have found for the Defendant, ſcil. Non demiſerunt, for it is now no Leaſe ab initio, becauſe the Plaintiff hath not declared upon a Deed: And alſo the Wife by her diſagreement to it, and the occupation of the Land after the death of her Husband, hath made it the Leaſe of the Husband onely. Mich. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Thetford, and Thetford's Caſe. Leon. 192.

18. Debt upon Obligation, The Condition was to make a ſufficient aſſurance of certain Lands to the Obligee before the tenth day of March, 17 Eliz. And if it fortune the ſaid Obligee to be unwilling to receive, or miſlike ſuch aſſurance, but ſhall requeſt to have 100 l. for ſatisfaction thereof; then if, upon ſuch requeſt, the Obligor pay 100 l. within five Moneths, the Obligation, &c. And at the day the Obligee doth refuſe the aſſurance, and afterwards 27 Eliz. requeſt is made to have the 100 l. It was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That the requeſt was well enough for time, and he might make it at any time during his life, and he is not reſtrained to make it before the day in which the aſſurance is to be made. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Repton and Andrew's Caſe. Leon. 185.

19. In Debt for a Nomine pœnæ, the Leſſee pleaded, That the Leſſor had entred into parcell of the Land demiſed; upon which they were at Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff; And now the Leſſor brought an Action of Debt for the Rent reſerved upon the ſame Leaſe; To which the Defendant pleaded ut ſupra, an Entry into parcell of the Land demiſed: upon which Iſſue was joyned; And the Iſſue was, Whether the Plaintiff expulit, et amovit, et adhuc extinet, the Leſſee: It was given in Evidence upon the Defendants part, That upon the Lands demiſed, there was a Brick-

Kill,

Kill, and thereupon a little Cottage, and that the Leſſor entred, and went to the Cottage, and took ſome of the Bricks and untiled the Cottage on the other ſide, It was ſaid, That the Leſſor had reſerved to him the Bricks and Tyles aforeſaid, which were there ready made at the time of the Leaſe, and that he did not untile the Brick houſe, but that it fell by Tempeſt, and ſo he came upon the Land to carry away his goods: And as to the Extra tenet, which is parcell of the Iſſue, The Leſſor did not continue upon the Land, but went off it, and relinquiſhed the poſſeſſion. But as to this laſt point, It ſeemed to the Court, That it is not materiall, If the Plaintiff continued his poſſeſſion there or not, for if once he doth any thing which amounts to an Entry, although he depart preſently, yet the poſſeſſion is in him ſufficient to ſuſtend the Rent, and he ſhall be ſued extra tenet the Defendant, untill he hath done an Act which doth amount to a Re-entry: And Afterwards to prove a Re-entry; It was given in Evidence on the Plaintiffs part, That the Defendant put his Cattell into the Field where the Brick-Kill was, and that the Cattell did eſtray into the place where the Defendant had ſuppoſed that the Plaintiff had entred: It was the Opinion of Anderſon Chief Juſtice, That the ſame was not any Re entry to revive the Rent, becauſe they were not put into the ſame place by the Leſſee himſelf, but went there of their own accord, which Periam Juſtice Granted; ſo it was found and adjudged for the Defendant, and that the Rent was goue. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Cibill and Hill's Caſe. Leon. 110.

20. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes, The Plaintiff ſhewed, That the Rector of M. had two parts of the Tythes in three parts to be divided; And the Vicear of the ſame place had the third part, and that by Preſcription: And ſhewed, that the Parſon and Vicar by ſeverall Leaſes, had demiſed the Tythes to him; and ſo he being Proprietor of the Tythes, the Defendant ſowed 10 Acres within the Pariſh with Wheat, Rye, &c. and carried it away without ſetting out the Tythe. Upon Nihil debet, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Plaintiff in the Action had compriſed ſeverall Actions, for the Plaintiff claimed not the Tythes under one Title, but under the ſeverall Tides of the Parſon and the Vicar. It was holden by the whole Court in this Caſe, That although the Parſon and Vicar could not joyn in an Action in this Caſe, becauſe they claim their titles ſeverally by divided rights; yet when both their Titles are conjoyned in one perſon, as it is in this Caſe; then the Intereſt of their Title is conjoyned alſo in one; And it is ſufficient generally to ſhew, That the Plaintiff is a Farmer and Proprietor of the Tythes, without ſaying of what Title, for it is but a perſonall Action grounded meerly upon a contempt againſt the Statute for not ſetting forth Tythes: And alſo Tythes are not demanded by this Action; And yet it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover his Tythes, and damages, and ſhall not demand them again in any Suit after this Action. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C. B. Sir Rich. Campion and Hill's Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 86, 87.

21. Debt was brought upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes, which being found for the Plaintiff. It was ſaid, That Judgment ought not to be given for the Plaintiff, becauſe the Plaintiff did not ſhew in his Plaint, that he was Parſon, for he ought to bring his Action according to that name he claimed the Tythes by: And that ought to be named in the Queritur: and if a man will bring his Action to recover any thing as Heir, Executor, or Sheriff, he ought to name himſelf ſo in the Queritur: And it was ſaid, If it had bin by Writ, Originall, he muſt have ſhewed it; and Plaint in the Kings Bench, is in the nature of an Originall: But at laſt upon ſhewing the Preſident of Merrick and Wrights Caſe, That the Plaint was without naming of the Plaintiff Rector in the Queritur, It was holden to be good, and by the whole Court Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Willet and Spencer's Caſe. Brownlow. 98.

22. Debt brought upon a Bill which was made in this manner, viz. Memorandum, That I have received of E. T. which was the Plaintiffs Teſtator, to the uſe of my Maſter, Mr. Serjeant Gawdy, the ſum of 4 li. to be paid at Michaelmas following; and the Plaintiff declared verbatim as the Bill was. Upon which the Defendant did demur, becauſe he ſuppoſed he had received the money but to anothers uſe, and ſo he ought not to be charged as Principal: for the Bill is but a Teſtimony of the Receipt. But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: for although the firſt part of the Bill witneſs the Receipt to be to anothers uſe; yet the laſt clauſe doth not ſay to be repaid by his Maſter, but is general to be repaid, which of neceſſity is to bind him that ſealed it, otherwiſe the party ſhall loſe his debt. M. 6. Jam. Talbot and Godbolts Caſe. Brownl. 11. Part 103.

23. A. Brought Debt as Executor of B. for arrearages of divers Rents, aſwell Copyhold Rents, as Free-hold Rents pertaining, to a Manner, whereof the Teſtator was ſeized, and died ſeized, and the Rents were not paid in his life-time. It was the Opinion of the Court, that the Action did not lye for the arrearages, if Copyhold Lands; for that that the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Rents, doth not extend to them; and that it did not lye for the Freehold Rents, becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed in his Declaration, That the Tenant had attorned to the Teſtator in his life-time: and when the Rent of any Freehold comes in debate, it behoves both the Owner of the Mannor, and his Executor who demands it, to convey privity betwixt the Tenant and the Lord, which ought to be by Attornment; for Rents and Services veſt not without Attornment. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Appleton and Baylies Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 102.

24. Debt was brought by Original againſt an Adminiſtrator in another County than where the Adminiſtrator was commorant; and before Notice of the Suit, he paid divers debts of the Inteſtate due by Specialty, ſo he had not Aſſetts to pay the debt demanded, having Aſſetts at the time of the Teſte of the Original; and now the Defendant appearing, pleaded this ſpeciall matter, and concluded, ſo he had nothing in his hands: And by the whole Court it was holden a good Plea. Trin. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Corbetts Caſe. Leon. 312.

25. Debt upon an Obligation againſt Oliver St. John and Alice his Wife as heir to her Father. The Defendants pleaded Non eſt factum of the Father. It was found by ſpeciall Verdict, That the Bond was made by the Father of the Wife to the Plaintiff: whereas in truth the Plaintiff hath declared upon an Obligation made to himſelf onely without ſpeaking any thing of the other Joynt Obligee, and that the Plaintiff as Survivour hath brought the Action; and, If upon the matter, it ſhall be ſaid the Deed of the Defendant, in manner as the Plaintiff declared, the Jury refer unto the Court: and the caſe of 10 Eliz. Dyer 279. was vouched: W. S. was bound in an Obligation to one H. by the name of J. S; and upon that Obligation an Action was brought againſt him by the name of W. S, and he pleaded Non eſt factum, and the ſpecial matter was found; And it was Ruled, That upon that Verdict the Plaintiff ſhould not recover; but the beſt way for the Plaintiff was, to ſue the Defendant by the name by which he is bound, and then if he appear and plead ut ſupra, he ſhall be concluded by the Obligation. In the principal caſe the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Plaintiff ought to have declared upon the ſpeciall matter. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Denais and St. Johns Caſe. Leon. 322.

26. J. S. made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: J. D. being then endebted to the Teſtator, the Wife Executrix took to husband the ſaid J. D: J. D. made his Executor and dyed: A Creditor of J. S. brought an Action of debt againſt the Wife Executrix of J. S: and upon the pleading, the matter in Queſtion was, If by the entermarriage of the wife with the debtor, the ſame was a Deviſtavit or not: and if the debt due by J. D. ſhould be Aſſetts in her hands. And the Opinion of the Court was, It is no Deviſtavit, nor Aſſetts, for the Wife may have an Action againſt the Executor of J. D. It was alſo agreed by the Court, That if a man make his Debtor, and a ſtranger, his Executors, and the Debtor dyeth, the ſurviving Executor may have an Action of Debt againſt the Executor of the Debtor. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Croſman and Readers Caſe. Leon. 320.

27. Error of a Judgment in S. in Debt upon a Leaſe for years by Aſſignee of the Reverſion. The firſt, The Court is holden by Letters Patents, and the proceſſe is Awarded ſecundum conſuetudinem curiæ, which cannot be where the Court is erected within time of memory. 2. The Action is brought, ſuppoſing a demiſe of Lands in S. of Lands in D. whereas it ought to have bin brought in D. being brought upon privity of eſtate. 3. Becauſe he claims by grant of a Reverſion, and doth not ſhew a Deed, and without a Deed, or Fine, a Reverſion cannot paſſe. For the firſt, and third Errors, the Judgment was reverſed, Trin. 4 Car. in B. R. Long and Nathercotes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 101. See Paſc. 6 Car. Lord and Cadmores Caſe. acc. Cro. 1. Part, 132.

28. In Error to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. the Caſe was: A. being an Attorney, brought an Action of Debt againſt S. and declared, that he being an Attorney, S. reteined him to proſecute a Suit againſt in C. B. betwixt J. S. and J. D. and deſired him to be Attorney for J. D. and promiſed to pay him all his Fees, and all he ſhould lay out to Councell, &c. and ſhewed he layed out ſo much, for which, &c. The Defendant pleaded Nil debet, and found againſt him. Judgment was for the Plaintiff, and Error brought, and Aſſigned for Error, That Debt doth not lye againſt him, who ſo entreated him to be Attorney. It was the Opinion of the whole Court upon Argument in this Caſe, That no Action of Debt lyes here, but an Action upon the Caſe onely. For the Reteiner being for another man: And he being Attorney for another man, who agreed to that reteiner, there is no cauſe of Debt betwixt him who reteined, and the Attorney, and no Contract or conſideration to ground this Action. And he who is ſo reteined, may well have Debt for his Fees againſt him, for whom he was reteined, he having thereunto agreed; but againſt the Defendant who is a ſtranger to the Suit, and at whoſe requeſt he took him to be Attorney, debt lyes not: And ſo it was Reſolved. H. 38 Eliz. in Rolls and Germin's Caſe. And ſo it was ſaid, was the Opinion of all the Juſtices of the Court of Common-Pleas. That Debt lyes not, but in Action upon the Caſe. Mich.

29. Debt by Husband and Wife upon an Obligation of 100 l. made to the Wife while ſhe was ſole: It was for the payment of 52 l. 10 s. The Defendant pleaded, That at the day of payment of the 52 l. 10 s. That he and his ſon did make a new Bond of another 100 l. to the Wife, being then ſole, for the payment of the ſame 52 l. 10 s. at another day then to come, in full ſatisfaction of the ſaid 52 l. 10 s. and that ſhe accepted of it. It was holden upon a Demurrer, and ſo adjudged, That the ſame was no Actuall and preſent ſatisfaction as it ought to be; and therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiffs. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Lovelace and Cocket's Caſe. Hob. 68, 69.

30. Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, If the Obligor ſhall pay the Rent of 37 l. yearly, at two Feaſts, according to the true intent of certain Articles of Agreement, made between the Obligor and Obligee during the Term, &c. that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, The Articles contain, That the Obligee Demiſit et ad firmam tradidit to the Defendant, omnia talia Domus tenementa et terras in parochia de P. de et in quibus the ſaid Obligee had an Eſtate for life by Copy according to the Cuſtome of the Manner Habendum for 21 years, if the Obligee ſhould ſo long live, rendring to the ſaid Obligee during the ſaid Term, 37 l. to be paid at the Caſtle of C. and pleaded further, That at the time of the making of the ſaid Articles, The ſaid S. the Obligee had not any Eſtate in any Lands, houſes, &c. in P. for the Term of his life by Copy: Upon which Plea the Plaintiff demurred, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. In the Caſe, were two points, 1. If nothing paſſe by the Articles, and ſo the reſervation of the Rent is void. 2. If the Obligation for payment of the ſaid Rent be void; It was ſaid, and ſo reſolved upon the firſt poynt, That no Rent is reſerved; for the Leaſe in the Caſe at bar did never begin, and therefore the Rent ſhould not. And for the ſecond point, Whether the Rent ſhould be paid by reaſon of the Bond, as a ſum in groſſe, or not, the Court differed in Opinion; For Fenner Juſtice held, The Condition of the Bond is to pay the Rent according to the Articles, which is, That if the Leſſee have not the Land, the Leſſor ſhall not have the Rent. Popham contr. That the Obligor is bound to pay it, although nothing were demiſed to him, for that by the Bond he hath made it a ſum in groſſe. And it is altered from the nature of a Rent, upon the firſt Obligation, and he is bound to pay the Rent or ſum, and of this be either of them, he muſt pay it. Quære, for there was no Judgment in the Caſe. Paſc. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Strowd and Willis's Caſe. Owen. 110, 111.

31. A Scire facias iſſued in the name of the Queen, to ſhew cauſe, why Execution of a Debt which came to the Queen by the Attainder of J. S. ſhould not be had. The Defendant pleaded, That the Queen had granted over this Debt by the name of a Debt, which came to her by the Attainder of J. S. and all Actions and demands, &c. upon which the Plaintiff demurred. The Queſtion was, Whether the Patentee might ſue for this in the name of the Queen without ſpeciall words: and two Preſidents were ſhewed that ſhe might; the 1. Paſc. 30 Eliz. rott. 191. in Scaccario. The 2. 32 Eliz. rott. 219. ibid. where Mabb of London, was endebted by Bond, and the Debt came to the Queen by Attainder, and ſhe granted it to B. and all Actions and demands and a Scire facias iſſued out in the name of the Queen. Note in the principall Caſe, the Patentee had expreſſe words to ſue in the name of the Queen, although it was not ſo pleaded. The Caſe was adjourned. Paſc. 30 Eliz. Allen's Caſe. Owen. 112. But note, In this Caſe it was holden, by Manwood Chief Baron, and all the Court, That parcell, or a moyety of this Debt could not be aſſigned over to the Queen, yet parcell of a Debt might be Attached, as 22 H. 6. 47. is, Paſc. 26 Eliz. Owen. 2.

32. A man delivered mony to J. S. to be re-delivered to him, when he ſhould be required: which J. S. refuſed, and therefore an Action of Debt was brought, the Defendant demurred for that Debt would not lye, but accompt: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Action of Debt would well lye: and the difference was taken between goods and mony: For if a Horſe be delivered to be re-delivered, there the property is not altered, and therefore Detinue lyes, for they are goods known; but if mony be delivered, it cannot be known, and therefore the property is altered, and therefore Debt will lye. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 42 Eliz. Bretton and Barret's Caſe. Owen. 86.

33. Debt, ſuppoſing that A. delivered 100 l. to the Defendant, ſolvendum to the Plaintiff: It was moved, That Debt did not lye, becauſe there never was any Contract betwixt the Plaintiff and the Defendant; But it was agreed, The Action did lye. It was agreed, That if mony be delivered to another, to deliver to J. S. or to the uſe of J. S. there J. S. ſhall not have an Action of Debt, but an Action of Accompt onely, but when it is delivered (as it is here) ſolvendum to J. S. which is intended in ſatisfaction of a Debt, there it is not countermandable; and he who is to recover it as a Debt, may upon this Receipt have an Action of Debt, or Accompt: and ſo was adjudged.

34. In Debt upon a Judgment, the Case was; The Plaintiff had Judgment against the Husband, and sued him to outlawry; He brought a Writ of Error, and removed the Record into the Kings-Bench, and reversed the Judgment for the Outlawry, but the first Judgment was affirmed, and then he acknowledged a Statute, and dyed, his Wife took Letters of Administration; The Statute is extended upon the Wife, and all the goods which she had of the Intestate, taken in Execution. After which, the Plaintiff in B. R. sued a Scire facias upon the Judgment against the Wife as Administratrix, and she pleaded the Statute in bar, and the extent, and more then that she had nothing to satisfy: Upon this plea in bar, the Plaintiff demurred in Law. The Court seemed to incline, That this was no bar; for although the Wife hath not any means to aid her self, or prevent the extent of the Statute, yet it seemed to them that this would not avoid the Execution: And that the Wife might have an Audita Querela against the Consisee of the Statute, and so make the extent void. Hill. 8 Jac. in C. B. Brandlock and Reades Case Brownlow, 2. Part, 39, 40.

35. Debt upon an Obligation to perform an Award: The Arbitrators Award, That the Defendant should make submission, and should acknowledge himself sorry for all Transgressions, and words at or before the next Court to be holden for the Mannor of D. and for not performance of it the Action was brought. The Defendant pleaded, That at the next Court, he went to the Court to make his submission, and to acknowledge himself, &c. and was there ready to perform it, and the Plaintiff was not there to accept it, upon which the Plaintiff demurred. The Court was divided in Opinion, For Cook and Foster held, That the Defendant had done as much as was by him to be done, and, for that the Plaintiff was not there ready to accept it, he was discharged. Walmesley and Warburton's, contr. for it might be made in the absence of the Plaintiff, as well as a man may submit himself to the Arbitrament of a man which is absent. It was adjourned, and the Case was afterwards agreed betwixt the parties. Hill. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cartwright and Gilbert's Case. Brownlow. 2. Part, 48.

36. Debt was brought by the Lessor against Lessee for years, for a Rent behind during the Term; The Defendant pleaded a Release made by the Lessor to the Lessee 6. years before the Rent was arrear, of all Demands. It was adjudged a good barr. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Whitton and Byes Case, Brownlow 1. Part, 80.

37. In Debt for Rent upon a Lease for years, the case was; Land was devised to a woman, That she should have the profits of the Lands, untill the Daughter of the Devisor should be 18 years old; The woman made the Lease, reserving Rent; and afterwards married, and then dyed: And if the husband after her death should have the Land till the daughter of the Devisor came to the age of 18 years, was the Question. It was adjudged he should hold the Land: and it is not like a Lease made by Guardian in Socage which ends with the Guardian. In that case, the Declaration was, Of a Messuage demised the 4th of May, 15 Jac. for one year, and so from year to year as long as both parties should agree, paying 24 l. by the year; and Nihil debet per Patriam was pleaded, and the Jury found it specially, That one J. W. was seised of the Tenement, and held it in Socage, and made his last Will in Writing, and by that did devise to A. his daughter, the said Tenement, and her heirs for ever at the full age of 18 years. Item, I will that my Wife my Executrix shall have the Education of my daughter, with the portion of money and profits of my Lands to her own use, without accompt, untill my daughters age aforesaid. Provided, she shall pay the Out Rents, and keep her daughter at School, and by that Will made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the Wife took upon her the Executorship, and married one P; the woman performed the Condition, and afterwards dyed. In this case, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That it was a Term, and that the husband should have it. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Balder and Blackbo us Case. Brownlow 79.

38. In Debt brought upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. for perjury, the Case was; L. was Plaintiff against B. in Chancery, and upon a Bill and Answer, such matter appeared to the Lord Keeper, That he Ordered, that one J. S. should become party to the Bill against B: and afterwards a Commission Issued out of the Chancery between J. S. and B, to examine Witnesses: by which Commission O. the Defendant was examined on the behalf of J. S; and did depose directly for J. S. against B; by reason whereof a Decree was made in Chancery against B.; and for that cause B. brought the Action against O. upon the Statute; upon which O. demurred in Law. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action would not lye; for the words of the Statute are, scil. Where a man is grieved and damnified by a Deposition in one Suit between party and party; and in this case it appeareth, That J. S. was no party to the Suit but came in by Order, and no Bill depending either against him, or brought by him, and so out of the Statute, and and the Statute is a penal Law, and ſhall be taken ſtrictly. M ch. 45 Eliz. in Cantell. Broad and Owens Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 82, 83.

39. In Debt upon Obligation for performance of Covenants in a Leaſe: Payment of the Rent being one Covenant, the Caſe was, The Leſſee dot not pay his Rent at the day; and the Leſſor without any requeſt, brings Debt upon the Obligation, and the Defendant pleaded the ſame matter in barr; Whether the Rent ought to be paid without a demand, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid for the Defendant, That when any penalty is annexed to the payment of a Rent, be it annexed to the Eſtate, or otherwiſe, yet it ought to be demanded; and without a requeſt to pay, no penalty ſhall be incurred. On the other ſide, It was ſaid, That the Leſſee ought to make tender of it upon the Land, and the Leſſor need not to make requeſt. And this Obligation for performance of Covenants, doth not alter the nature of the Rent. Coke, Chief Juſtice, cited Miles and Dingles Caſe, Where a man was bound for performance of a Will, he need not to pay Legacies deviſed by the Will, for which no day is aſſigned without requeſt: The principal caſe was adjourned. Paſch. 10 Jac. in C. B. Manley and Jennings Caſe. Brownlow, 2. Part, 176.

40. A. and B. brought Debt againſt the Defendant as Adminiſtrator during the minority of one J. S: and the Plaintiffs declared, That the ſaid J. S. at the time of the Action brought, was, and yet is, within age of 21 years. It upon Iſſue being found for the Plaintiffs, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Declaration was inſufficient: For they have declared, That the Executor was within the age of 21 years, and the Adminiſtration during the Nonage ſhall ceaſe when the Enfant comes to 17 years; ſo that he may be of 17, 18, or 20 years, and yet the Adminiſtration ceaſeth: and ſo the Action will not lye. And ſuch was the Opinion of the Court; and Judgment was ſtayed. Paſch. 9 Jac. in B. R. Brombead and Rogers Caſe, Brownlow 2. Part, 247, 248.

41. Debt brought againſt three, upon an Inſimul computaverant, and an Arrear of 800 l. found. One of the Defendants was Outlawed, the reſt appeared by one Sawyer their Attorney: One of them who appeared onely Tendred his Law, that he did not owe, &c. The other not Outlawed did plead to his Country. It was Objected, That the one was not to be admitted to his Law alone, becauſe they were all charged as one Defendant being for a joynt debt: After diverſ Motions, and Preſidents produced, Trin. 12 Jac. rott. 2220. Hill. 41 Eliz. rott. 441. in C. B. where one of the Defendants alone waged his Law, That he did not owe; and the reſt Nihil dicunt, after the Law made, Judgment was againſt the Plaintiff. M ch. 16 Jac. in C. B. Eſſington and Bourchers Caſe, Hob. 244, 245.

42. Debt brought for Arrearages of Rent upon a Leaſe for years: The Defendant pleaded, That at the time of the Leaſe made he was within age: Upon which the Plaintiff did demur. The Queſtion was, Whether a Leaſe made to an Enfant were void, or voidable? It was ſaid to be void, otherwiſe he might be much prejudiced; and the Law intends not Enfants to be of ſufficient diſcretion for the managing of Lands; alſo the Rent may be greater then the value of the Land, and ſo it may tend to the impoveriſhing of the Enfant. But the Court held it onely voidable at election; for if it be to the Enfants benefit, be the benefit apparant, or implyed, it ſhall be void in the caſe prima facie; but the Enfant at his Election may make it void; for before the Rent-day come he may waive the Land, and then Debt will not lye againſt him. 2. Where an Action of Debt lyeth, where not: And for whom, and againſt whom it lyeth, where not; and how it lyes, when in the debet, when in the Detinet.

1. THE Caſe was, That a Prebendary made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent, and the Leſſee dyed, and the Executors of the Leſſee Aſſigned over the Term; And the Succeſſors of the Prebendary brought an Action of Debt againſt the Executors for Rent due after they had Aſſigned the State over; And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Action would not lye. Hill. 43 Eliz. Overton and Sydall's Caſe. Goldsbr. 120.

2. Debt brought for Arrerages of 300 l. Nomine pœnæ, and the Plaintiff declared of a Leaſe for years made by him to one A. rendring Rent, and if default of payment be made of the Rent, that then, and ſo often, A. his Executors and Aſſigns ſhall pay 3 s. 4 d. for every day untill the ſaid Rent behind be ſatisfied; and ſhewed, That the Rent was behind for two years: but did not ſay that he demanded the Rent. It was Objected, That he ſhould have but one 3 s. 4 d. nomine pœnæ, and that he ought to have demanded the Rent, which he hath not ſayed he had done: Gawdy Juſtice, was of Opinion, That it was good,

good enough: Fenner contr. But they all agreed, That the Action did well lye againſt the Aſſignee in this Caſe. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Thynn and Chomleyes Caſe. Goldesbr. 129.

3. A. and B. his Wife, as Adminiſtratrix of one J. G. brought Debt of 20 l. againſt J. S. and alledged that the Teſtator was Adminiſtratrix of one M. G. which M. G. lent the mony to the Defendant. Judgment was given in C. B. againſt J. S. and Error brought, becauſe the Action was brought by an Adminiſtrator of an Adminiſtratrix; whereas Adminiſtration of the firſt Teſtators goods ought to have bin committed by the Ordinary to the next of Kin, and for that cauſe, the Judgment was reverſed, Hill. 43 Eliz. Thorns Caſe. Goldesbr. 182.

4. Note, theſe Rules in the manner of bringing Debt. In Debt, if it be demanded by Originall, The proceſſe is Summons, Attachment, and Diſtreſſe, and upon a default of ſufficiency, upon a Nihil returned, Proceſſe to the Outlawry: If the Summons, and Attachment be returned, an Eſſoin lyes; And Wager of Law lyes if the Count be upon a ſimple contract, if the parties be living which made the contract, or debt againſt an Heir, the Writ ſhall be brought in the debet, but when it is brought againſt an Executor, or againſt an Adminiſtrator, or of Chattells, it ſhall be in the Detinet tantum. The Judgment in Debt, where the demand is in the Debet and Detinet, is to recover the Debt-damages, and Coſts of Suit, and the Defendant in miſericordiam; but if the Defendant denyes his Deed, Then a Capias for his Fine iſſues out. And if the Originall be in Detinet for Chattels, then the Judgment is to recover the thing in demand, or the value thereof, and Coſts and damages. And the proceſſe of Execution is a Diſtreſſe, to deliver the Chattells, or the value, and the damages. And if the Cauſe of Action be againſt Executors or Adminiſtrators, The Judgment is to recover the Debt and damages of the Teſtators goods, if the Executor hath ſo much in his hands, and if not, then the damages of the Executors or Adminiſtrators proper goods. And if the Sheriff upon a Fieri facias, return a Devaſtavit, then the Fieri facias, or Elegit, may be ſued out to levy the Debt and damages of the Executors, or Adminiſtrators proper goods. And if the Executor plead, That he never was Executor, and it be found againſt him, that he had Adminiſtred, be it never ſo little, the Judgment ſhall be to recover the debt and damages of the Executors own goods. Debt brought upon a Record, the Execution ſhall be where the Record remains. Trin. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Brownlow. 1. Part, 50.

5. Debt: The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant, in conſideration, that he the Plaintiff at the requeſt of the Defendant had ſold certain Wares to J. S, did promiſe to the Plaintiff, That he would pay ſuch a ſum of money for them: and for non-payment the Action was brought, and a Verdict and Judgment for the Plaintiff; and Errour brought, and Errour aſſigned, That in this caſe, Debt lyes not, becauſe the debt which the Defendant promiſed to pay, and for which the Action is brought, became a duty before the promiſe made for it, and ſo an Action of Debt cannot be grounded for it on the promiſe: And the words in the Declaration do ſound meerly upon promiſe, which is a good Conſideration for an Action upon the Caſe which might be brought, Paſch. 22 Car. in B. R. Styles 6. Ward and Giggins Caſe.

6. Debt brought for arrearages of a Rent due to the Plaintiff as Leſſee of a Vicarage: Upon Nihil debet pleaded, Iſſue joyned, a Verdict was for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Action of debt did not lye, but that he ought to have brought a Writ of Annuity, becauſe it was for the Arrearages of an Annuity which yet continues. The Judgment was ſtayed till the Plaintiff ſhould move. Mich. 1649. Tyndal and Harringtons Caſe. Styles 162.

7. It was a Queſtion in Court, Whether an Action of Debt did lye againſt an Executor, upon a Conceſſit ſolvere of the Teſtator upon a ſpeciall Cuſtome? Rolls, Chief Juſtice, held it did not, for this would be to charge an Executor in an Action of debt, where by Law, he may wage his Law. And an Action of Debt lyes not againſt an Executor upon a ſimple Contract made by the Teſtator: And he ſaid, That the reaſon of Wager of Law is, becauſe it is intended, That as well as the Contract may be private, ſo alſo may the payment be made in private. Hill. 1649. Hodges and Jones Caſe. Styles 199.

8. One was bound in a Bond to pay a ſum of money to a Feme-Sole, the Feme took husband and dyed: J. S. took Letters of Adminiſtration of the Goods and Chattels of the Woman, and brought debt upon the Obligation againſt the Obligor: The Obligor pleaded, That by the coverture marriage, the debt became due to the husband. The Opinion of the Court was, That this debt came not due to the husband, for that it was a thing in Action, and therefore the plea was not good. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. rott. 932. Cowle and Lockes Caſe. Styles 105.

9. Debt was brought upon a Sheriff's Bond; which bond was given upon the arreſting of one upon an Attachment out of the Chancery; the Condition was, That the Defendant ſhould appear ſuch a day in Cancellaria apud Weſtm. ubicunq; ubicunq; fuerit: The Defendant pleaded in barr the Statute of 36 H. 6; upon which, the Plaintiff demurred, becauſe the party is bound to appear in a Court, which is not a fixt Court: whereas the Chancery is a moveable Court, and ſo not fixt at Weſtminſter. 2. The Condition is impoſſible; for it is, That the Defendant ſhall appear in the Chancery at Weſtminſter whereſoever it ſhall be; and it is impoſſible to appear at Weſtminſter, and at another place at the ſame time. The Court held, That there was a materiall variance in it, which made the Bond void; and that neither the Upper-Bench or Chancery are fixt Courts, and then the Defendant ought not to be bound preciſely to appear at Weſtminſter; and then to adde, ubicunq; fuerit, is a material Variance, and makes the Bond void. Mich. 1650, in B.R. Burton and Love's Caſe. Styles 234.

10. In Debt brought by Executors upon an Obligation: The caſe was, Sir Humphry Stiles and B. were joyntly and ſeverally bounden to William Tallie the Teſtator in a Bond of 120 l, for the payment of 60 l. The mony not paid, B. made his Will, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; William Tally made his Will, and made the Plaintiffs his Executors, and dyed; and by his Will releaſed to M. B. the Wife of B. all Debts which T. B. her Husband did ow to him at the time of his death: The Executors prove the Will, and after bring Debt againſt Sir Humphry in C. B. Sir Humfry demurs to the Declaration, and for cauſe ſhews, That William Talley by his Will had releaſed the Debt to Mary B. Upon the demurrer, Judgment was given againſt Sir Humfrey Styles, and thereupon he brought Error: The Queſtion was, Whether the debt was releaſed by the Will or not: The Opinion of the Court was, That it was a ſtrong Caſe for the Executors, and that it is unreaſonable, that the Teſtator ſhould make ſuch a deviſe, and here is no aſſent of Mary the Executor to this Releaſe; and beſides, A Will cannot releaſe a thing created by Deed, and ſo diſcharge Creditors. It was adjudged againſt Sir Humphrey Styles. Trin. 1651. in B. R. rott. 587. Sir Humphrey Styles and Tally's Caſe. Styles. 286.

11. In Debt upon an Obligation for performance of Covenants upon a Leaſe, the Caſe was. A Leaſe was made for one year, the Leſſee Covenants for him and his Aſſigns, to pay the Rent ſo long as he and they ſhall have the poſſeſſion of the thing let, the Leſſee Aſſigns over the Term, the Term expires, the Aſſignee continues the poſſeſſion after the Term expired; and for Rent Arrear by the Aſſignee after the Term expired, the Leſſor brought the Action; the Queſtion was, Whether here be ſuch an Aſſignee, that the Action will lye againſt, or not; Rolls Chief Juſtice held, That although here be not an Aſſignee ſtrictly againſt to the Rules of Law, yet that he ſhall be accounted ſuch an Aſſignee, as to perform the Covenants made between the parties. Hill. 1654. Bromfield and Sir John Williamſon's Caſe. Styles 407.

12. Debt: Two were bound in a Bond, the Condition was, that if they, or either of them upon requeſt made, ſhould pay for ſo many Barrells of Beer as ſhould be delivered to them, ſo much for every Barrell as ſhall be agreed upon betwixt them, and the payment of this mony by the Condition of the Bond to be made within five dayes after requeſt: The Plaintiff ſet forth that he delivered ſo many barrells of Beer, and had agreed with them to pay 10 s. for every Barrell, which ſum he requeſted of one of the Obligors; And for non-payment, the Action brought. The other pleaded, there was no ſuch agreement; It was holden in this Caſe by the Court, that the party had his Election to demand payment of the one, or the other, and that here was a good breach aſſigned of the Condition broken; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Jac. in B.R. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 210.

13. In debt, the Caſe was; Feme-Executrix takes a Husband, they bring debt as Executrix, they recover, and have Judgment, in bar of this, the Outlawry of the Husband is pleaded; The Court was of Opinion, that by this Outlawry, the Husband forfeits not the goods, which the Wife had as Executrix, for that he had them in the right of his Wife as Executrix. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Jac. Hix and Hanſon's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 211.

14. Debt brought for 523 l. 17 s. againſt the Sheriff of S. and the Plaintiff declared, That P. and others were bound in a Recognizance of 2000 l. to the Plaintiff; And that after Judgment, he ſued a Levari facias to the Defendant, which he delivered him: whereupon the Defendant levyed the ſum, and at the day retorned, quod paratos habeo, and yet did not deliver it in Court, per quod, &c. The Defendant Quoad 308 l. pleaded Nihil debet, and to the reſt, that before the Return, he did pay to the Plaintiff, the ſame ſum, whereupon the Plaintiff by his acquittance, reciting, that he had received it, did acquit him, upon which the Defendant demurred in Law. There were divers queſtions in the Caſe. The 1. Whether Debt would lye, becauſe there is no Contract betwixt the Plaintiff and the Sheriff. Reſolved by the Court, That it would lye, for though there be no Actuall contract, yet there is a kind of Contract in Law, for when the mony is levyed by the Sheriff, the Action ceaſeth againſt the the Defendant, and the Action is, ipso facto, transferred to the Sheriff, having both the Judgment to make it a debt, and the levy to make him answerable. And it was holden, That upon such levyes appearing upon Record, the Court may award a Distringas, or the party may have a Fieri facias, or an Elegit against the Sheriff, to levy as much of his own. 2. It was holden, That the Defendants plea to the 308 l. Nihill debet, was not good, because it was contrary to his return of Record. 3. Resolved, That since the Defendant by his Return had charged himself with the whole money, paratos, then to be delivered to the Plaintiff, he cannot now say, that it was paid, and acquitted before. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Speake and Richard's Case. Hob. 206.

15. Debt was brought of 10 l. and the Plaintiff declared upon three severall Bonds, of five Marks a year; Upon Oyer of the Conditions, It appeared, That one of the sums in the Condition was payable after the Bill exhibited, and issue was joyned upon Conditions performed, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff, and entire damages, and Costs assessed: It was the Opinion of the Court, That he could not have Judgment, it was found. Nevertheless, upon a Release of damages and Costs; Judgment was given upon the two first Bonds onely; For although the Bill was one intire sum, yet by the Count, it appeareth that they were as severall demands. Quære, If it had been so by Originall. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Andrews and De la Ray's Case. Hob. 178.

16. A Servant made a Bill under his Hand, but it was not under Seal, testifying the buying of fat Ware for the use of his Master, by which Bill he bound himself to pay the Debt; the money was not paid: Whereupon Action of Debt was brought against the Servant. It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Action of Debt did not lye against the Servant, but an Action upon the Case; for it was the Debt of the Master, and the Assumpsit onely of the Servant. Trin. 6 Eliz. Dyer 23. Alford's Case.

17. A man made a Lease for years of certain Lands rendring Rent; the Lessee granted parcel of the Lands to J. S. who enfeoffed a stranger of that parcel; and, for the Rent arrear, brought an Action of Debt against the first Lessee. It was said that the Action of Debt did lye against him, because he hath not granted his Interest in the whole Land, and he is Tenant to him in the Reversion, and privity remains betwixt them; and an Action of Debt is always grounded upon privity, and if the private faits, (which it doth not in this Case) the Action Failes, otherwise not. But it was holden in that Case, That Debt did not lye for the Rent, until the Reversion was recontinued; for that the Rent being the accessary, sequitur principale, 24 Hen. 8. Dyer 5. Rosheder's Case. See Cook 3. Part 3. 27. in Walker's Case. That Action of Debt lyeth against the first Lessee. See 8 Eliz. Dyer, 248.

18. A brought Debt against the Administrators of G. W. and declared upon a Bill in hæc verbis, viz. Be it known to all men, &c. that I G. W. have received 20 li. of A. to bear the Adventure to Roan, and there to bestow it in French Pruens, and to see them shipped, and A. to bear the Adventure home; and added, That G. W. had not bestowed it in French Pruens. In that Case it was adjudged, That an Action of Debt did well lye upon the said Bill. For an Accompt lyeth not against Executors or Administrators, because they are not privie to the Accompts: and although there be no Bill, it is in the Election of him who delivered the money, to have an Action of Debt, or Accompt; for Detinue lyeth not for money numbred, because that one peny may not be known from another. Trin. 28 Hen. 8. Dyer, 20, 21.

19. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That a Steward or a Bayliff may be retained without Deed, and shall have an Action of Debt, or their Sallary, if they do exercise their Offices: But they shall not have a Writ of Annuity without a Deed. See Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer 248.

20. Debt was brought by an Administrator of A. B. who supposed by his Writ that A. B. dyed Intestate; and in his Declaration, he shewed first the Letters of Administration: by which it did appear, that the said A. B. made his Will, and made three Executors, and shewed that they all refused before the Ordinary: For which Cause, the Ordinary granted Administration to him. The Defendant pretended, in Bar, that the said A. B. made a Will, and his Executors, and traversed, that he dyed Intestate, as the Plaintiff by his Writ supposed: unde nota, that the Action brought by the Plaintiff was good. Hill. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 237.

21. An Abbot and his Covent, granted for them and their Successors, to a man and his Heirs, to find one of his Monks to say Matens and Vespers, every Holiday in such a Chappel; and further granted, that toties quoties defectus fuerit, that they would forfeit to him and his heirs 5 l. The Question was, Whether Debt did lye for the 5 l. or a Writ of Annuity onely. It was the Opinion of the Court, that the Heir might have Debt for every default for the 5 l. penalty, for that the penalty shall follow the nature of the Land. But Annuity in that Case would not lye, because it was a casuall thing, and perhaps there would never be a default. In that Case it was agreed, That Executors should not have Debt for a Rea Relief: But ſee more, Cook's Inſtitutes, 47 Cook. Part, 49. Cook 5. Part, 16. 32 H. 8. Br. Reliefe 11. That Executors ſhall have Debt for Arrearages of Reliefe, becauſe they have not any other Remedy, 28 H. 8. Dyer, 24.

22. Note, That acceptance of the Rent, or of the ſervices, by the hands of the Feoffee, ſhall not barre the Lord of the Reliefe due before: For Reliefe is not ſervice, but a fruit and approvement of ſervices: For if it accept of the ſervices, then an Action of Debt ſhould not lye for the ſame, ſo long as the Rent continueth; but it is as a bloſſome and fruit fallen from the Tree, and it behoveth not them to avow upon any perſon certain, Ex quo. Note, That Debt lyeth for Reliefe, Cook 3. Part 66. in Pena's Caſe.

23. Walker Leaſed certain Lands to Harris for years: The Leſſee aſſigned all his Intereſt to another; Walker brought an Action of Debt againſt the firſt Leſſee for Rent behind, after the aſſignment. It was adjudged by all the Juſtices in the Kings Bench, that the Action did lye againſt the firſt Leſſee, upon the privity of Contract, Cook 3. Part 22. Walkers Caſe. But if the firſt Leſſee had aſſigned over all his Eſtate, then the Action of Debt would not have lain. So that this Caſe put, Debt was brought againſt Executors, upon a Leaſe made to the Teſtator. The Defendant pretended, that before the Rent arrear, one of them had aſſigned all his Intereſt to J. S. of which the Plaintiff had notice, and accepted the Rent by the hands of the Aſſignees, due after the Aſſignment, and before the Rent now demanded was due; upon which the Plaintiff demurred, and it was adjudged againſt him, becauſe the privity of Contract was determined by the death of the Leſſees: and therefore after Aſſignment, Debt doth not lye againſt the Executors, for a Rent due after the Aſſignment. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Marrew and Turpin's Caſe, vouched in Cook 3. Part, 23. in Walker's Caſe. See the Quære in 8 Eliz. Dyer, 247. Reſolved.

24. A. made a Leaſe to C. of three Acres of Land rendring Rent: C. aſſigned all his Intereſt in arrear to another: A. ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of P. in fee; who brought an Action of Debt againſt the firſt Leſſee. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Action did lye; becauſe that the Leſſee had aſſigned his Eſtate but in part, and becauſe he remained poſſeſſed of the Reſidue, the Action of Debt was main ainable for the whole Rent againſt the Leſſee; becauſe in that Caſe there was not privity of Contract onely, but privity of Eſtate and Contract. 41 Eliz. Brome and Hore's Caſe, Ibid.

25. Leſſee for years of a Cloſe of Land, ſowed the ſame with Corn; and at the Requeſt of J. S. bargained and ſold to the ſaid J. S. the Corn growing in the ſaid Cloſe, who promiſed to pay him for the ſaid Corn at Eaſter following, 16 l. and for non-payment, he brought an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit: and in this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That although an Action of Debt did lye upon the Contract, yet the Bargainor might have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Action of Debt for the money at his Election. 2. Reſolved, That eo or Contract executory, did import in it an Aſſumpſit: and therefore, If a man ſelleth Goods to another, and agrees to deliver them at a day to come; and the other in conſideration thereof agrees to pay him ſo much money, each party may have an Action of Debt or Aſſumpſit, becauſe the mutuall agreement executory of both, carrieth in it ſelf as well an Action upon the Caſe, as an Action of debt. Cook 5. Part, 94. Slade's Caſe.

26. A man comes into a Tavern, and calls for a pint of Wine, and drinks it, and afterwards upon requeſt refuſeth to pay for it, It was holden in that caſe, The Taverner might have an Action of Debt for it. Cook. 8. Part, the 6. Carpenter's Caſe. And in that caſe it is ſaid, That a Taylor ſhall not have a general Action of debt for the making of a garment, if the price be not certain agreed upon; but he ſhall have a ſpecial Action of debt, quantum meruit, for that the Law impiyes ſo much by the putting of the garment to him to be made: But if a Taylor makes a Bill, and he himſelf valueth the neceſſaries, and the making, he ſhall not have debt for it; but in ſuch caſe he may detain the garment untill he be ſatisfied for them.

27. Debt was brought againſt an Adminiſtrator of N. upon an Obligation: The Defendant pleaded, That the Cuſtome of London is, That if a Contract be made by a Citizen of London, to pay money to another Citizen, and he who ought to pay it, dyeth Inteſtate; That the Adminiſtrator ſhall be bound to pay it as well as if it were by Obligation: and ſhewed, that the Inteſtate was a Citizen of London, and was endebted upon a Contract to one ſuch Citizen, who after the death of the Inteſtate, hath recovered againſt him; upon plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. In this caſe it was adjudged, 1. That the ſaid Cuſtome was good, for although that none was chargeable at the Common-Law by the name of Adminiſtrator, before the Statute of 31 E. 3. and the Cuſtome cannot begin after 31 E. 3. which is within time of memory; yet becauſe at the Common-Law they were chargeable as Executors by their Adminiſtration, for ſuch cauſe the Cuſtome alledged in ſuch general manner was good. And, 2. It was Reſolved, That although the Plaintiff was a ſtranger, and No Citizen, yet the Cuſtome was good to bind him. Trin. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, Snellings Caſe.

28. Note: If a man ſell a thing to be paid by 20 l. a year, in 5. years; In that caſe he ſhall not have an Action of Debt, till all the years be incurred. But if a man maketh a Leaſe for 5. years, rendring rent 20 l. per annum, there the years are ſeveral, and he ſhall have an Action of debt for the Rent every year. Cook 4. Part, 82. in Fords Caſe.

29. If a man dyeth poſſeſſed of goods Inteſtate, and his goods are ſequeſtred into the hands of the Ordinary, debt lyeth by a Creditor againſt the Ordinary: and after notice to him given, the Ordinary may not adminiſter to others, if he hath not ſufficient to ſatisfie that debt. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer 232.

30. Debt was brought againſt 3. heirs in Gavelkind, upon an Obligation made by their Anceſtor; The one being within age, they were Outlawed; The two of full age procured their pardon: And upon a Scire facias the Plaintiff declared againſt them ſimul cum, &c. In that caſe it was holden, That the Paroll ſhould not demur for the Nonage of the third; becauſe the Original as againſt him was determined: and it was not void, becauſe he was an Enfant, but voidable onely by Errour. Trin. 7 Eliz. Dyer 239. Augers Caſe.

31. Debt brought againſt an Executor, The Defendant pleaded, Fully Adminiſtred. The Plaintiff ſaid, He had Aſſets at E: The Jury found, that the Teſtator dyed infra regnum Hibernia, and that the Defendant after the Teſtators death, within Ireland, took divers goods, and adminiſtred to the value of the Debt: And that Nulla alia ſeu pluria bona quæ fuêre teſtatoris poſt mortem teſtatoris infra regnum Angliæ unquam adminiſtravit. The Queſtion was, Whether the Jurors might finde tranſitory things in a Forreign Country. It was ſaid they could not; and the Caſe of 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271. was vouched, for Debt brought in London againſt one as Son and Heir, upon an Obligation of his Father, who pleaded, Nothing by diſcent at the time of the Writ brought, nor ever after; and the Plaintiff did aver Aſſets by Diſcent in London: and the Plaintiff gave in Evidence, Aſſets in Cornwall; and there it was conceived, that it was no good Evidence, nor could the Jury find this Local Matter in a Forreign County. But it was Reſolved, That the Jury have found the ſubſtance of the Iſſue Aſſets; and the finding that they are beyond Sea, is but ſurpluſage: and if Executors have goods of the Teſtators in any part of the World, they ſhall be charged in reſpect of them. M. 3. Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 4. Dowdall's Caſe.

32. A. by Deed (in which his Son was joyned, but did not ſeal it) did grant an Annuity to C. for term of his life out of certain Lands; Et, ſi contingat predict. annuitatem à retrò fore, That then it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid C. in the Tenements aforeſaid, tam pro predict. annuitate, quam pro 6 s. 8 d. Nomine pœnæ toties quoties, &c. diſtringere. Debt was brought for the Arrerages, and penalty againſt the Executors of A. who pleaded, No ſuch Land out of which, &c. The Plaintiff demurred, The doubt was, whether debt did lye for the penalty, becauſe the perſon of the Grantor was never charged with it, and the word (ſi contingat) are not words of Grant à Quære. For if a Rent-charge be granted for Life, Proviſo non onerabit perſonam, if the Grantee dyes, Debt lyes againſt the Executors for the Arrearages: and although the Son was named in the Deed, yet becauſe he never ſealed it, It was holden, that the Grant did not bind him. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 227. Sir George Capel's Caſe.

33. Annuity was granted for the Exerciſe of the Office of a Stewardſhip; and after Recovery in a Writ of Annuity, the Rent was behind; The Grantee brought a Scire Facias to have Execution. The Defendant ſaid, that, dependant the Writ, he had refuſed, being requeſted to the Court; and it was adjudged a good Plea: For, upon the Scire Facias, he had Judgment of the Arrearages before, and dependant the Writ; and after, if he refuſeth, the Annuity ceaſeth. Paſch. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 377.

3. Where the Action of Debt ſhall be brought in the Debet et Detinet, and where in the Debet or Detinet tantum; Where not: And againſt whom ſo to be brought.

1. LEſſee for years dyed Inteſtate; J. S. took Letters of Adminiſtration; and for Rent behind in his time, after the death of the Inteſtate, the Leſſor brought an Action of Debt againſt him in the Debet et Detinet, and adjuged, That it did well lye. Mich. 42 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 31. Hargraves Caſe. And note, that in that caſe it is ſaid, That in all Actions brought by Executors as Executors, the Writ ſhall be always in the Debet tantum, although that the date doth accrue in his own time; and alſo, becauſe the thing recovered ſhall be Aſſets. Trin. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Sparks Caſe, acc. Paſch. Jac. in B. R. the Lord Rich and Franks Caſe, adjudged according to Hargraves Caſe. But note: It was ſaid by Jones, Juſtice, 15 Jac. in B. R. That Hargraves Caſe was reverſed. Hill 43 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber, and there adjudged, That the Writ ought to be brought in the Detinet tantum. See Brownlow 1. Part, 56. acc. Brownlow 2. Part, 202. acc.

1. Debt for 300 l. was brought in the Debet et Detinet; For that the Plaintiff by Indenture by the name of P. H. Executor of J. H. demiſed to the Defendant certain Lands which he had by Extent, for ſuch a debt, recovered by J. H. Habendum for ſo many years, rendring Rent; and for 3. years Rent arrear, he brought the Action. The Defendant demurred, becauſe the Action is brought by him in the Debet et detinet, upon a Leaſe of Lands, which he had as Executor. But the Demurrer was over-ruled: For it is not brought by him as Executor, though he be named Executor in the Indenture: For this Action is of his own Contract; and although he made the Leaſe as Executor, yet making it by Indenture, it paſſeth well enough, and is upon his own Contract, and he ſhall have Debt for it, as if he were ſeiſed in his own Right. Paſc. 12 Jac. in C. B. Rot. 400. Holman and Chutes Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 85.

3. Debt was brought againſt Sir George Reynell, for an eſcape of a priſoner, who was in Execution in the time of the Teſtator; It was brought by the Executor, and it was brought in the Debet et detinet: It was objected, That the Writ was well brought, being upon an Action grounded upon a Tort done to himſelf: and to that purpoſe, Bedel and Sherymen's Caſe was vouched; Where an Executor being Leſſee for years of a Rector in the Right of the Teſtator, brought Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 1. for not ſetting out of his Tythes, and adjudged good; becauſe it was upon a perſonal wrong in his own time; and it was for this ſaid, that it was not good: yet it was helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. for that it is not matter of ſubſtance, but of form onely, he being Plaintiff. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That it ought to have been in the Detinet onely, for that; it is grounded upon the former Judgment; and although the Eſcape was in the Executors time, yet being for a Debt due to the Teſtator, it ought to have been in the Detinet: And it is not like Bedel's Caſe; for that was meerly a perſonal wrong, and grounded upon the Statute, which gives it to the party grieved onely, and which was never given for any cauſe in duty to the Teſtator, but a Tort to the Executor: Wherefore, It was holden, that the Action ought to have been in the Detinet; and the Judgment therefore was reverſed. Mic. 17 Jan. 16. Exchequer Chamber, Sir George Reynel and Lancaſter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 545, 546. See Hob. 264. acc. and 272.

4. The Plaintiff brought Debt againſt the Defendant, the Executor of J. D. for Rent due to him by the Teſtator in his life-time, and had a Verdict: The Defendant moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that the Plaintiff had declared in the Debet et Detinet, which ought not to be, but in the Detinet onely; but it is the proper Debt of the Teſtator, and the Executor may be ſaid debere, becauſe he ought to pay it, but doth not. Rolls, Chief Juſtice, ſaid; It had been adjudged good both wayes; and ſaid, That Executors cannot wave a Term come to them; and yet they cannot be charged in the debet et detinet; but primâ facie, in the Caſe at Bar: The Court inclined to examine, that the Action might be brought in the Debet et Detinet. It was adjudged. Mic. 23 Car. in B. R. Vandicoote's Caſe. Styles 52.

5. In an Action of Debt, the Plaintiff declared for Rent, grown due from the death of the Teſtator, by vertue of a Sale made of certain Lands by the Plaintiff to the Teſtator, which yet continues; and declared againſt the Executor in the Debet et Detinet. The Defendant pretended, That he had fully adminiſtred: upon which the Plaintiff demurred; for that he declared in the Debet & Detinet. It was holden, that the Declaration was good in the Debet et Detinet; for it ſhall be intended, that the Land let to the Teſtator, is worth as much by the year, as the Rent that is to be paid for it, till the contrary be ſhewed; and then it is reaſon that the Executor be paid; and the Declaration muſt be in the Detinet and Debet; otherwiſe it will be miſchievous to the Plaintiff. And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That Specialty ſhall be ſatisfied, before a Rent reſerved, upon a Leaſe by Deed: and that a Leaſe for Years, ſhall be Aſſets in the hands of an Executor. Mic. 23 Car. B. R. Kele and Jocelyn's Caſe. Styles 61.

6. A. brought Debt againſt B. a Sheriff, for an Eſcape, and had a Verdict. The Defendant, in Arreſt of Judgment, took two Executions; Firſt, That the Action was brought by the Plaintiff as Adminiſtrator for the Eſcape, which was made in the life of the Inteſtate onely. Secondly, That no Capias iſſued to the Sheriff. It was Reſolved by the Court, That the Sheriff cannot take advantage of an Erroneous Proceſs: But for the other, the Court held the Exception to be good, becauſe the Action ought to be brought in the Detinet onely, the Plaintiff being but an Adminiſtrator, who recovers not to his own uſe. Mic. 1650. Martin and Hendlye's Caſe. Styles 232. See before, Sir George Reynels Caſe, acc.

4. Where an Action of Debt lyes upon an Escape against the Sheriff or Bayliff; and what shall be said to be an Escape upon an Execution. What not; and where not.

1. DEbt was brought against the Sheriff; and the Plaintiff declared, That he recover against one C. 300 l. and the body of C. was taken in Execution, 33 Eliz. by the Defendant, Sheriff of the County of D; and that afterwards, The Defendant suffered him to escape, in Warda de Cheape, London. The Defendant pleaded, That C. was taken in Execution, 20 Aprilis, 33 Eliz. and so continued till the 8th of December following: at which day, at D. he broke the Prison, et à custodia ipsius R. contra voluntatem ipsius R. evasit; and that he re-took him again in recenti in secutione. The Plaintiff by way of Replication, by Protestation, that the Defendant did not make Fresh-suit, said, That before the said C. was re-taken, he was a whole day and night at London, in the Parish and Ward aforesaid out of the View of the said R: upon which the Defendant did demur in Law. In this case it was Resolved, That if a Prisoner who doth escape be out of View; yet if Fresh-suit be made, and he be taken in recenti insecutione, he shall be in Execution again, although he be taken in another County, and he shall not take advantage of his own wrong: and no Action for such Escape will lye against the Sheriff, but the Sheriff may have an Action upon the Case against the party for this tortious Escape: but otherwise it is, when one escapes with the assent of the Gaoler. Pasch. 36 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 3. Part, 52. Rigeways Case.

2. A man was taken in Execution by Bayliffs of a Franchise by force of a Warrant upon a Capias ad satisfaciendum. The Bayliffs before the return of the Writ into the Kings-Bench, at the request of the Prisoner, brought him in the Interim before the return of the Writ, in another County; and after the Return of the Writ, delivered him again to the Prison of the Kings-Bench. In this case, 1. It was Resolved, That the same was not any escape: and this difference was taken, If the Sheriff or Bayliff of a Franchise, suffer one who is in Execution and in their Custody, to go out of the Goal for a time, and then to return; although that he return at the time, yet the same is an Escape, if he suffer him to go by bayl, or with a baston, for the Sheriff ought to keep him in salva et arcta Custodia: But where the Sheriff hath one in Execution for Debt, and a Habeas Corpus issueth out of the Kings-Bench, to have the body of him who is in Execution, in the same Court at a day certain; The Sheriff before the Return, brought his body to an Inne in Smithfield, and the prisoner of his own head without any Keeper went into Southwark in another County; and it was adjudged, That the same was no escape; and an Action would not lye against the Sheriff. 2. It was Resolved, That if one be in Execution, and of his own wrong escape, and be retaken again, he shall not have an Audita Querela to discharge himself of the Imprisonment, because he shall not take advantage of his own wrong, and in such case it is lawful for the Goaler to retake him again. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 3. Part, 43. Byers Case.

3. In Debt brought against the Sheriffs of London for an Escape, the Case was; A. is in Execution several under the Sheriffs of L, at the Suits of B. and C: The old Sheriffs delivered the body of A. by Indenture, in which the Execution of B. is onely mentioned, and the other omitted: A. in the time of the new Sheriffs, escapes: In that case it was adjudged, That the old Sheriffs should be charged with that escape: Wherein it was Resolved, 1. That the not delivery of A. to the new Sheriffs in Execution at the Suits of both, was an Escape as to one of them, though the prisoner were within the Walls of the prison. 2. That the old Sheriffs ought to give Notice to the new Sheriffs of all Executions which they have against any party, although that the Executions are upon Record; for the new Sheriffs are not compellable to take Notice of them at their perils. But it was Resolved, That, untill the Prisoners are delivered to the new Sheriffs, they remain in the Custody of the old Sheriffs, notwithstanding the Letters Patents to the new Sheriffs, the Writ of Discharge, and the Writ of Delivery. 3. It was Resolved, If the Sheriff hath Execution against divers persons, and dyeth, the new Sheriff at his perill ought to take Notice of all Executions against any person which he shall find in the Goal, and that of necessity. 4. If the Sheriff dyeth, and before another is made, one who is in Execution breaks the Goal, and escapes; the same is no escape, because that then the prisoners are in the Custody of the Law. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 3. Part, 71, 72. Wisby and the Sheriff of London's Case.

4. Debt against the Sheriff for an Escape of a prisoner in Execution. Upon Issue Nihil debet, upon Evidence, the Case: One A, Goaler of the Sheriff, having the prisoner in Execution in the Castle of G, suffered him to walk abroad in the said Town, Town, yet for the moſt part with a Keeper. It was adjudged in that caſe, That it was an Eſcape: Although the Sheriff may remove his Goal from one place to another within his Bayliwick, yet he muſt not ſuffer them to go at large out of the priſon, though himſelf be attending upon the Priſoners, without a Habeas Corpus from ſome Court of Juſtice: And therefore the Lord Chief Juſtice Hobart, before whom the Cauſe was, directed the Jury to find againſt the Defendant, that it was an Eſcape. And he adviſed All Keepers of Priſons to beware, That when they receive Habeas Corpus out of the Court of Chancery, or other Courts of Juſtice, that they do not by colour of ſuch Writs ſuffer the party to go at large all the mean time; for the Writ warrants no more but that he be brought out of priſon onely for that purpoſe, and onely for ſo much time as in Judgment of Law ſhall be convenient and neceſſary for the Execution of the Writ and no more, which in privilegiis otioſis muſt be taken ſtrict. Mich. 15 Jac. Balden and Templers Caſe. Hob. 202.

5. In Debt againſt the Sheriff of Eſſex upon an Eſcape: It appeared upon the Evidence, That the Priſoner having been in Execution, was willingly let go by the Goaler out of Priſon, till the time of another Sheriff, and then Eſcaped: whereupon the Action was brought. The Judge before whom the cauſe was tryed, directed, That this Sheriff was not anſwerable to the Action; for when the Priſoner was let to go abroad voluntarily by the Goaler, the Execution was utterly diſcharged, ſo as he could not lawfully be taken again, nor judged in Execution by Law, though the party would yield himſelf unto it, or the Creditor ſo allow it; and therefore the next Sheriff cannot be chargeable with him, nor anſwerable for him. Nor can two Sheriffs be anſwerable ſimul et ſemel, for two eſcapes out of one and the ſame Execution, at the ſame time. Mich. 15 Jac. The Sheriff of Eſſex Caſe. Hob. 202. Note: at the ſame time another tryal was before the ſaid Lord Chief Juſtice Hobart; and the Caſe fell out to be thus, That upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, one was taken in Execution by the Under-Sheriff, who took money for the Execution, and let him go; and this he concealed from the Plaintiff, and then the Sheriff dyed, and a new Sheriff being made, the ſame man that was Under-Sheriff before, became Under-Sheriff to him alſo, and procured the Plaintiff to take out a new Execution by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt the party, upon which he was arreſted again, and eſcaped: And the ſaid Lord Chief Juſtice directed the Jury, That the new Sheriff was not anſwerable to this Action, becauſe the ſecond taking in Execution was never lawful. Mich. 15 Jac. Hob. 202.

6. Debt brought againſt P. late Sheriff of Denbigh; and declared, That he recovered againſt one R. O. in the Common-Pleas 40 l. debt; and that R. O. was Outlawed, and the Plaintiff delivered a Capias utlagatum againſt him to the Defendant then Sheriff, and that he having been in his preſence, would not arreſt him, being required, but returned Non eſt inventus. Upon Iſſue Not-Guilty, It was found againſt the Defendant. It was moved, That the Action ſhould have been layed in Middleſex, becauſe the fault, which was not Arreſting him, was in Denbigh ſhire. But Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, for the falſe Return which was in the Court in Middleſex, was alſo a wrong: ſo the Plaintiff hath his choice. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Packhurſt and Powell's Caſe. Hob. 209.

7. The Plaintiff brought an Action of Debt upon an Eſcape againſt the Sheriff upon a Capias utlagatum after Judgment: The Defendant pleaded, That there was no ſuch Record of the Recovery of the Debt and Damages. To which the Plaintiff demurred, pretending he had not directly anſwered to the Declaration. But Judgment was given for the Defendant. And it was ſaid, That where a Capias is not the Proceſs, a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum is not the Execution; and at the Common-Law no Capias ad ſatisfaciendum would lye, but onely where the Action may vi et armis; but onely a Levari facias. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2118. Maddock and Young's Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 51.

5. What ſhall be ſaid ſufficient matter to abate the Action of Debt brought upon a Bond, or a Recognisance, and againſt whom: What not.

1. DEbt was brought againſt the Executors of R; they were at Iſſue upon Fully Adminiſtred: The Plaintiff gave in Evidence, That they had Goods in their hands. The Defendants ſaid, That they redeemed part of them with their own moneys, which were pledged by the Teſtator to the full value; and for the reſidue, that they had paid as much for them as they were worth. And upon a Demurrer, It was adjudged good Evidence to maintain the Iſſue, and abate the Action, becauſe a man ſhall be recompenced that which he hath truly and lawfully paid; and that they might retain them for that which they had paid. Mich. 6 H. 8. Dyer 2. & 3.

2. A man recovered 200 l. debt againſt T; and before Execution the Defendant dyed inteſtate ſtate, poſſeſſed of goods to the value of 140 l: Adminiſtration was committed to J.S, againſt whom the Plaintiff brought a Scire facias, and he pleaded Fully adminiſtred, and that he had nothing in his hands the day of the Scire facias, nor after: the Plaintiff averred Aſſetts: and in Evidence, the Defendant ſaid, (who firſt gave Evidence) which is not uſual) that the Inteſtate was endebted by Obligation to ſuch a one 100 l. upon condition to pay 40 l. by an Obligation bearing date after the ſaid Judgment; and that he had paid the 40 l. before the Writ brought, and that he was likewiſe endebted to another in an Obligation of two marks which he had alſo paid before the Writ of Scire facias brought, with an Averment, That he had ſo adminiſtred. Upon Oyer of the Obligations, it appeared, that the Condition of the firſt was not to pay 40 l. in money, but to deliver Tynne to the value of 40 l; but the Condition of the other was, to deliver Tynne, or 100 l, in the disjunctive: And upon this Evidence the Plaintiff did demur. It was holden in this caſe, That the Adminiſtrator was tyed to pay the debt upon Record, before Specialties. And if they were ſued upon the Obligations, they might plead a Recovery againſt them; which ſhall not be intended, unleſſe it be pleaded: but if they do plead it, it ſhall be good matter to abate the Writ or Action brought againſt them. And becauſe they did not plead the ſame before the Execution ſued out againſt them, It was holden, That they ſhould pay the firſt Judgment, and that of their proper goods. 7 E. 6. Dyer 80, 81.

3. Debt was brought upon a Bill againſt one, The Defendant pleaded Non eſt factum: The Jury found, That it was a Joynt Bill, made by him and another. In that caſe, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff: For when two are joyntly bound in an Obligation, None of them may ſay, that it is not his Deed; but he may avoid the ſame by ſpeciall pleading, Judgment if Action: and ſo it is, if a Deed be void by Act of Parliament; he may not plead, Non eſt factum, but he may ſhew the ſpeciall matter for his advantage, and demand Judgment if Action. Trin. 2 Jac. in C.B. Cook 5. Part, Whelpdales Caſe.

4. Debt was brought upon an Obligation of 40 l; the Defendant pleaded a Releaſe; the Plaintiff demanded Oyer of the Releaſe, which was, That the Plaintiff acknowledged himſelf to be diſcharged of all Bonds, Debts and Demands by the Defendant, untill the day of the date of the Releaſe; and that the Plaintiff is to deliver all Bonds as he hath yet undelivered to the Defendant, Except one Obligation of 40 l. not yet forfeited, in which he and two others ſtand bound to the Plaintiff; and the Plaintiff did aver, The ſaid Obligation was excepted; and that the ſaid Bond brought into Court, and the ſaid Bond ſo excepted are one and the ſame Obligation; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That when the Plaintiff confeſſeth himſelf to be ſatisfied and diſcharged of all Bonds, the ſame was a good Releaſe by the word, Diſcharge and Satisfied. 2. Reſolved, That the Exception ſhould extend to all premiſſes, and not only to the clauſe of delivery, becauſe all the words before make but one intire Sentence, and one depending upon the other. But foraſmuch as it appeareth by the confeſſion of the Plaintiff in his Replication, That he cannot have an Action againſt the Defendant onely, but he ought to have the ſame againſt both the Obligors, for the Bond excepted was a joynt Bond; for that cauſe, the Court Reſolved, That the Plaintiff had abated his own Writ. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. Cook 1. Part, 53. Hickmotts Caſe.

5. Debt was brought upon an Obligation, which was upon a Condition to perform Covenants in an Indenture hic in Curia prolat. and in truth the Deed was not Indented, but written, Hoc Indentura, &c. It was adjudged, That the ſame was not an Indenture, although it were of two parts, for the words of the Deed do not make the Indenture, but there ought to be a manuall Act of Indenting of the Parchment. H. 38 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 5. Part, 20. Styles Caſe.

6. Debt brought upon an Obligation againſt A. and B, which was to perform the Arbitrament of two between the Plaintiff of the one part, and the Defendant of the other part, Ita quod Arbitrium prædict. fiat et deliberetur utriq; partium. before ſuch a day, The Defendants pleaded, That before the day the Arbitrament was made, but was delivered to the Plaintiff and A, one of the Defendants, and not to B; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law. It was adjudged, That the Action did not lyer: For it was holden, that this word [uterq;] in this caſe ſhould be taken collectivè, for reaſon wills, that every one who is ſubject to the penalty and danger, ſhould have the Arbitrament ſeverally delivered to him; and therefore it ought to be delivered to them both. 2. Reſolved, That if two be of one part, and two of the other party, and the words are, Quod deliberetur utriq; partium, the delivery to one of one part, and to one of the other party is not ſufficient. Trinit. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Cook. 6. Part, 40. Stangers Caſe.

6. Who

6. What ſhall be ſaid to be a good Barr in an Action of Debt brought; What not.

1. A Brought an Action of Debt againſt B, and declared, That whereas the Plaintiff was poſſeſſed of a Cloſe ſowed with Corn. The Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff at the inſtance of the Defendant, had bargained and ſold to him the ſaid Corn growing upon the ſaid Cloſe, did aſſume and promiſe to the Plaintiff, to pay him 16 l. at the Feaſt of, &c. next. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, the Jury found a ſpeciall Verdict, that the Defendant bought the Corn of the Plaintiff in Ears or blades growing upon the Land; and that between the Plaintiff and the Defendant there was no other promiſe but onely the ſaid bargain. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, That although that debt doth lye upon the Contract, yet the ſaid Bargainee might have debt, or Action upon the Caſe at his Election: and that every Contract imports in it an Aſſumpſit. 2. It was Reſolved, That in this Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit the Plaintiff ſhall not recover onely damages for the ſpecial loſſe which he hath, but alſo for this whole debt; ſo that Recovery or barr in that Action, ſhall be a good barr in an Action of debt brought upon the ſame Contract; et è converſa in an Action of debt, ſhall be a good barr in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit. Trin. 44 Eliz. Cook. 4. Part, 93. Sladers Caſe.

2. A Writ of Covenant was brought againſt an Aſſignee, for not repairing of a houſe: The Defendant pleaded in barr an Accord betwixt them, and Execution of it in ſatisfaction of all Repairations. In that caſe, It was Reſolved, in caſe when a duty accrues by a Deed on certainty, as by Covenant, Bill, Obligation to pay money, there this certain duty takes its operation, and ſolely by the writing, and therefore it ought to be avoided by a matter of as high a nature, although the duty be meerly in the perſonalty; but when no certain duty doth accrue by the Deed, but a wrong or default ſubſequent together with the Deed, giveth an Action to recover damages, there accord with ſatisfaction is a good plea in barr. And becauſe in the principal caſe, the Covenant doth not give to the Plaintiff at the time of the making any cauſe of Action, but the wrong or default after, together with the Deed, gave the Cauſe of Action; In this caſe it was holden, That the plea in barr was good. Mich. 3 Jac. Cook 6. Part, 44. Blakes Caſe.

3. In an Action of Debt brought upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleaded, That he delivered the Obligation to the Teſtator, as a Schedule upon Condition, That if the Plaintiff made Indentures between the Defendant on the one part, and the Teſtator on the other part, de certis conditionibus, Convent. et agreament. inter eaſdem partes tunc contord. &c. pro Annullatione prædict. Script. Obligat. &c. ante Feſtum Sancti Michaelis deliberand. quod tunc prædict. Scriptum obligat. in omni ſuo robore ſtaret; ſin autem, vacua fuerit. And the Defendant ſaid, That the aforeſaid Teſtator non fecit aliquam Indenturam, &c. And ſo the Defendant ſaith, Quod Scriptum prædict. in forma prædict. deliberat. dictis Indenturis inter eaſdem partes minimè Confectis non eſt factum ſuum; And demanded Judgment if Action. Upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid Delivery was good in Law, although the Condition were not performed, and the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover. 12 H. 8. rott. 751. in C. B. Quilts Caſe. See 13 H. 8. rott. 405. in C. B. Bodenham and Mormons Caſe. vouch. in Cook. 9. Part, in Throggoods Caſe, 137.

4. Debt upon an Obligation of 10 l; The Defendant pleaded, That at the inſtance of the Plaintiff, he paid to the Plaintiff 5 l, which he accepted in full ſatisfaction. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That payment of a leſſe ſum at the day in ſatisfaction of a greater ſum, could not be any ſatisfaction; but the giving of a Horſe, or a Robe, or other ſuch thing, might be in ſatisfaction of it. 2. It was Reſolved, That payment and acceptance of a leſſer ſum before the day, or at another place, is a good ſatisfaction for a greater ſum; for peradventure it ſhall be more beneficiall for him. Trin. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 117. Pinnells Caſe.

5. Matthew Herbert acknowledged a Recognizance of 3000 l. to the King, and dyed; after his death a Scire facias iſſued againſt the Executors Teſtamenti, et ultimæ Voluntatis prædict. Matthæi, et hæredem Terrarum et Tenementorum quæ ſua fuerint; at the day the Sheriff returned, That he had not Executors, but Scire feci Willielmo Herbert militi filio et hæred. dict. Matthæi quod ſit: William made default, and Judgment upon that default was given for the King, quod recuperet verſus, dict. Will. Herbert. &c. Whereupon Errour was brought: And, amongſt other Errours, It was aſſigned, That the Judgment was Erronious: For the Judgment is given generally againſt William Herbert, &c. Whereas the Judgment ought to have been ſpeciall; for by this general Judgment, his own Land ſhall be lyable; where, by Law, the Land which came to him by his Father, ſhall be lyable; and he is charged as Terr-Tenant: For the the Conuſee cannot have an Action of Debt upon the Recognizance againſt the heir: For the Recognizance is, Quod tunc vult. et concedit quod dicta pecunia ſumma de bonis, et catallis, terris, et Tenementis, &c. levetur: ſo as the Charge is impoſed upon his Goods and Lands, ſo that Debt doth not lye upon it againſt the heir, no more, then in a Recovery in Debt; for there Scire facias lyeth againſt the heir, but no Action of Debt: Then, though the heir make default, yet the Judgment ought to have been ſpecial. Note, This Point was not Reſolved in the Caſe. Cook 3. Part, 15. Sir William Herberts Caſe.

6. Note: In the Star-Chamber it was overruled by the Lords, That if in an Action at the Common-Law, a man wage his Law, although that he maketh a falſe Oath; yet he ſhall not therefore be impeached by Bill in the Star-Chamber: and the reaſon was, becauſe it is as ſtrong as a Tryal: and the Lord Chancellor demanded of the Judges, If he were diſcharged of the debt, by waging of his Law? And they Anſwered, That he was. But Manwood, Chief Baron, ſaid, It was the Plaintiff's folly, becauſe he might have changed his Action into an Action upon the Caſe, where the Defendant cannot wage his Law. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in the Star-Chamber. Goldeſbr. 51.

7. In Debt, againſt an Adminiſtrator, It was found by Verdict, That certain Obligations made by the Teſtator, to the value of 100 l, were forfeited; the Adminiſtrator took in the Bonds, and for part of the debt gave his own Bond; and for other part of it his promiſe. It was ſaid, That this was no payment, but a Compoſition. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That for ſo much as he had given his promiſe, it was not good, becauſe by this promiſe the firſt debt being due by Bond, is not diſcharged; but for ſo much as he had given his Bond, it was good enough, becauſe the firſt Debt is thereby diſcharged, although the Obligation be made to a ſtranger, by appointment of the Debtee, and alſo, although before the Debt be due; for by this, the firſt debt is gone. But it was holden, that the mony not diſcharged, ſhould be Aſſets in the Adminiſtrators hands. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 79, 80.

8. Debt was brought, the Defendant pleaded Nihil debet, per legem: the truth of the Caſe was, The mony was due to the Plaintiff, but the Plaintiff was alſo endebted to the Defendant in the like ſum, And before the Action brought, it was agreed betwixt them, that each of them ſhould be acquitted againſt the other; and thereupon the Defendant would have waged his Law. Anderſon, and Periam Juſtices doubted, whether he might ſo do or not; for that Accord without ſatisfaction, is no plea: But Rodes Juſtice ſaid, It was good by conſent of the parties; and ſuch alſo was the Opinion of ſome Serjeants at the bar, Paſc. 30 Eliz. Goldesbr. 31, acc.

9. If a man lets bona et catalla, or the profits of his Courts rendring rent, in an Action of Debt brought for the Rent, it is no plea, that he had no profits that year; but if the Leſſor releaſe, or diſcharge all, that is a good bar in an Action brought for the Rent. See Hob. 44. in the Caſe of Cooper and Andrews, acc.

10. In Debt brought, for Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years; As to part, the Defendant confeſſed the Action; And as to the reſt, he pleaded a ſpeciall plea, viz. That Prince Rupert, an Alien born, and an enemy of the King, invaded the Land with an Army; and with divers armed men did enter upon him, and did drive away his Cattell, and expelled him from the Lands let, and kept him out, that he could not enjoy the Lands for ſuch a time, and demanded Judgment of the Action for the Rent during that time; upon which plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law: The Queſtion was, Whether a Leſſee for years, outed by an Army of Alliens, can plead it in bar, in Debt for Rent due upon a Leaſe: It was ſaid, That this Action is grounded upon the contract, and this matter pleaded, is collaterall, and nothing to the purpoſe: but if Waſte had been done by Prince Rupert, and his Souldiers, perhaps it might have been pleaded in bar in an Action of Waſte brought by the Plaintiff. It was alſo ſaid, It ought to have bin averred, that the Army with Prince Rupert were Alliens, which is not done. The Defendants Councill in defence of the plea, ſaid, It was not neceſſary to aver that the Army of Prince Rupert were Alliens, and put the difference between a Rebellion and an Invaſion, and ſaid, that the Defendant in this Caſe ought not to be charged with the Rent, becauſe he could not enjoy that which was let him, and it was no default of his own, and both the Civill Law, Common-law, and Morall Authors do confirm this, and 11. Aſſ. 13. was put to that purpoſe. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the plea was not good, for he hath not pleaded, That the Army were Alliens, and unknown, as he ought to have done; And the pleading, that it was Hoſtilis exercitus, makes not the Plea more certain then it was before; And if Tenant for years Covenant to pay rent, though the Land let be ſurrounded with water, yet he is chargeable with the Rent, much more in this Caſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Pavadise and Jones Caſe. Styles 47, 48.

11. Debt upon an Obligation of 400 l. the Plaintiff declared, That the Condition was, That the Defendant ſhould make ſuch a Voyage with with a Ship, and pay certain monies at his return, and for not performing the Conditions, the Action was brought, The Defendant pleaded in bar, That the Ship was taken in the Voyage per homines bellicosos, and demanded Judgment of the Action. The Plaintiff demurred to the plea, for that he did not give anſwer to all the Declaration: The Defendants ſaid, The plea anſwered all the Condition of the Bond, which was to make the Voyage with the Ship, and then at his Return, to perform the other Conditions; and being hindred in the one, he was not bound to perform the other. There was no Judgment in the Caſe, but it was adjourned. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Boon and Sheers Caſe. Styles 79.

12. Debt upon an Obligation of 200 l. The Condition was, That whereas the Plaintiff had carried ſo many thouſand of Billets, and had delivered them at D. in the County of Kent, for the uſe of the Defendant, amounting at ſo much the thouſand, to 100 l. If the Defendant ſhould pay the ſaid 100 l. at ſuch a time and place, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff did not carry ſo many 1000 of billets to D. as the Plaintiff had declared. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the recitall in the Obligation was an Eſtoppel to the Defendant to plead the contrary. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 24 Car. in B. R. Hart and Buckminſter's Caſe. Styles, 103.

13. Debt by an Executor, upon divers Obligations made by the Teſtator, The Defendant ſaid, That he did pay a Leſſer ſum then is expreſſed in the Obligation to the Teſtator in his life time, and that he did accept thereof in full ſatisfaction of the ſaid Obligation; upon a Demurrer, the queſtion was, Whether the payment of the mony, or the acceptance thereof in ſatisfaction, were to be traverſed. It was holden, it was indifferent to traverſe any of them; but Curia aviſare vult: But in this Caſe, It was agreed, That if one pay mony in ſatisfaction of an Obligation, and the party to whom it is paid ſaith, He will receive it for another cauſe; yet if he receiveth it, It ſhall be adjudged to be paid in ſatisfaction of the Obligation, for he muſt receive it, upon ſuch Terms as the other will pay it. Mich. 1650. Rois and Cranfield's Caſe. Styles 239. See Paſc. 1651. in B. R. Dewſe and Maſter's Caſe. Styles, 263. acc.

14. Debt againſt an Executor upon a Bond entred into by the Teſtator: The Defendant confeſſed the Bond, but ſaid, That he gave another Bond to the Teſtator in ſatisfaction of that Bond, which the Teſtator did accept of: It was holden by the Court, That the plea was not good, for it is no good plea to ſay that he did accept of one thing in Action, in ſatisfaction of another thing in Action, and here the Defendant hath confeſſed the Debt, therefore the plea is not good. Trin. 1652. Brock and Vernon's Caſe. in B. R. Styles, 339, 340.

15. Debt upon a Bill; The Defendant pleaded, That after the mony did become due, he and the Plaintiff by paroll, did ſubmit to an Award, and there was an Award made, that the Defendant ſhould pay 8 l. at ſuch a houſe to the Plaintiff, and thereupon the Plaintiff ſhould give him a generall Releaſe: The Plaintiff demurred, and for cauſe ſhewed, That here was a ſubmiſſion by paroll pleaded after the day of payment expreſſed in the Bill, which is not good to diſcharge a debt due by ſpecialty; The Court held the plea not good, and gave Judgment for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1652. in B. R. Luddington and White's Caſe. Styles 350.

16. Debt upon a Sheriffs Bond, to ſave him harmleſſe; The Defendant pleaded a ſpeciall plea, which amounts to no more, but that he had ſaved him harmleſſe; Exception was taken, becauſe he had not ſhewed, how he ſaved him harmleſſe, and becauſe he did not ſhew how, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1652. in B. R. Bird and Martin's Caſe. Styles 353.

17. Debt upon an Obligation againſt an Executor: The Defendant pleaded generally, Fully Adminiſtred, and after Iſſue joyned, gave in Evidence a Judgment againſt the Teſtator. The Queſtion was, Whether this Judgment might be given in Evidence, upon the late Meal-Act, to maintain the Iſſue. It was ſaid, That a Plene Adminiſtravit is a plea in bar, although it be not a perpetuall bar, and it is a generall Iſſue, becauſe it comprehendeth many things which may be given in Evidence, and it would be miſchievous if it ſhould be otherwiſe. Rolls chief Juſtice. If upon the generall Iſſue, one give in Evidence, Non eſt factum, would it be good? Certainly the Act for the generall Iſſue, is in it ſelf miſchievous, and we will not enlarge it; And this is not the generall Iſſue intended in the Statute, for the generall Iſſue intended, ought to be an Iſſue proper to the Action that is brought, and which might have been pleaded at the beginning, and, Who can tell upon this Plea, what you will give in Evidence, therefore you muſt relye upon your ſpeciall plea of Plene Adminiſtravit, and not vary from it in ſhewing new matter. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1653. Newman and Maſſy's Caſe. in B. R. Styles 378.

18. Debt; The Caſe was, Two were bound to a third perſon joyntly and ſeverally, The Obligee made the Wife of one of the Obligors his Executrix, who Adminiſtred; Then the Husband the Obligor made her his Executrix, and dyed, leaving Assetts to pay the debt, then she dyed; and the Plaintiff took Letters of Administration of the goods of the Obligee not Administred, and brought Debt against the Defendant, being the surviving Executor. It was adjudged in this Case, That the Action would not lye, for that at least the Action was suspended, and a personall Action once suspended is extinct. But 2. when the Obligee made the Executrix of the Obligor, his Executrix, and left Assetts, the Debt was presently satisfied by way of Reteiner; and so no new Action could be had for that Debt. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. Fryer and Gildridges Case. Hob. 10.

19. If an Obligation be made to pay a certain sum to the Obligee, at such a day, and no place is limitted for the payment thereof, the Obligor is to seek out the Obligee, to make payment if he be to be found in England, yet it hath lately been often Resolved, seeing the mony to be paid is a sum in grosse: it is otherwise if he tender it: But if the Condition of a Bond, or of a Feoffment be to deliver 20 Quarters of Wheat, &c. the Obligor, or Feoffor, is not bound to carry the same about, and seek the Feoffee or Obligee, but the Obligor before the day, must go to the Feoffee or Obligee, to know where he will receive it, and there it must be delivered; so note the difference betwixt mony, and things ponderous. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 210.

Debt to the King; Or the Kings Debtors.

1. The Prerogative and Priviledges which the King hath for the payment of his Debts.

2. THe King hath this Prerogative ab Origine Legis, That, by the Common-Law, the King might have the Lands, goods, and body of the person, his Debtor, in Execution; but by the Common-Law, a Common person could not have taken the body of his Debtor in Execution for his debt, but that was given by the Statute of 25 E. 3. Cook 3. Part, 12. in Sir William Herberts Case.

2. The King had this Prerogative; That he is to have his debt paid before the debt of any other Subject. See 3 E. 6. Dyer, 67. in Stringlethowes Case, where the Sheriff was amerced, because the King, &c.

3. Lassell was taken in Execution upon a Capias ad satisfaciendum out of the Kings Bench, and there issued out a Writ of Processe out of the Exchequer to have his body, bearing date before the Retorn of the Arrest; and the Retorn before the Capias; upon which the Sheriffs of L. where he was taken, brought his body into the Exchequer, and there sued the cause of the Detainer, to have the body at the day of the Retorn, &c. And from thence the Prisoner was committed to the Fleet in Execution, for the first debt, and also for the debt of the Queen, which he had confessed in Court; And upon a Habeas Corpus, out of the Kings Bench, directed to the Warden of the Fleet, to have his body there such a day, The words shewed all this matter upon the Retorn, wherefore the Prisoner was remanded to the Prison of the Fleet for the Queens debt. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 197.

4. A man was condemned in the Exchequer for a Debt due to the Queen, and was Committed to the Fleet, and being in Execution; he was also condemned in the Kings Bench, at the suit of a subject, upon a Bill of debt in Custodia Marischalli, Marischalsiæ. Afterwards upon prayer of the party, a Habeas Corpus was Awarded out of the Kings Bench to the Warden of the Fleet, who retorned the cause ut supra, and he was remanded in Execution to the Fleet, for the Debt: Afterwards, a Command was given by the Lord Treasurer on the Queens behalf, to suffer the Prisoner to go into the Country to collect and levy mony the sooner, to pay the Queen her Debt: In that Case, the Subject brought an Action upon the Case against the Warden of the Fleet upon the Escape, who justified the Escape by the said Commandment. It was holden by the Court, That the Action did not lye, For the Kings Bench had no authority to commit him to the Fleet, for the Marshalsey is their proper Prison, and so the Prisoner was never in Execution for the party. But if he had bin, yet the Execution for the Subject begins not till the Queen be satisfied, for she may not have a Subject her Companion in the Interest of the body of any: But if he had bin in Execution, No Commandment, although it had bin of the Queen her self, without a Writ, is a sufficient Warrant to discharge the Keeper, as in this Case, it was Resolved by all the Justices. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 297.

5. By the Common-Law, The King might Grant a Protection to his Debtor, that no other might sue him before the King was satisfied his Debt. See Registr. 281. the Writ of Protection; the words of which are, viz. Et, Quia nolumus solutionem solutionem debitorum nostrorum, Ceteris omnibus pro-ut ratione Prærogativa nostræ, totis temporibus retroactis usitatæ, &c. But that grew such a grievance to the Subject, That the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 19. was made; and now, by that Statute, a common person may Lawfully sue to Judgment, but he cannot proceed to Execution (and so the Kings Prerogative is saved) unlesse the Plaintiff who sueth, will give security to pay first the Kings debt. For otherwise, if the party doth take Execution upon his Judgment, and doth levy the mony, the same mony may be seised upon to satisfy the Kings Debt, as appeareth by the book, 45 E. 3. to Decies tantum, 12. Godbolt. 290. acc.

6. The King by his Prerogative shall have the Debt due to his Debtor paid unto him to satisfy the Kings debt.

7. A Prior Alien was endebted to the King for his Farm Rent, and being sued for the same, He shewed unto the Court, that there was a Parson who held a certain portion of Tythes from him, which were part of the possessions of the same Priory which he kept in his hands; so as he could not pay the King his Farm-Rent, unlesse he might have those Tythes which are in the Parsons hands. Wherefore a Writ of Quo minus was awarded against the Parson, to appear in the Exchequer; and to shew cause why he should not pay the same to the King for the satisfying of the Kings Rent: In that Case it was said by Skipwith, Justice, That for any thing which toucheth the King, and may turn to his advantage to hasten the Kings businesse, that the Court of Exchequer had Jurisdiction of it, whether it were of a thing which was spiritual, as Tythes, or temporal: and the Quo minus allowed and issued accordingly, and the Tythes were seized into the Kings hands, 39 E. 3. 28. See likewise 21 H. 7. 12. The Prior of Ramseys Case. The Prior was endebted to the King, and another Prior was endebted to the Prior of Ramsey, and in an Action brought against him by the Prior of Ramsey: The Defendant pleaded in barr, That he had paid the debt to the King; and the plea was adjudged a good plea: and if a Rent be due and payable to me by my Lessor for years, It was said, That in that case the same might be taken for the payment of the Kings debt: and the speciall matter shewed shall be a good barr in an Avowry for the Rent. See Godbolt 291. acc.

8. A Prerogative which the King hath, is, That the King shall have an Accompt against Executors, because the Law there maketh a privity. It being found by matter of Record, That the Testator was endebted to the King, and the Accompt which the King brings, is ad Computandum ad Dominum Regem, without setting forth, how the party came lyable to accompt. And if a man doth entermeddle with the Kings Treasure, (the King pretending a title unto it) he shall be chargeable to the King for the same. Cook 11. Part, 89.

9. Upon a Suggestion by the Earl of Devonshire to the King, That all Munitions, decayed and unserviceable, had been used to be taken as Fees by the Master of the Ordinance, The King, by a Privy Seale, Licenced the Earl, being Master of the Ordinance, to take all unserviceable Ordnance, Shot, and Ammuuition contained in such a book, and so sell the same, and to convert the mony to his own use. The Earl took the Ordinance and Ammunition, and sold the same, and converted the mony to his own use; and made his Will, and dyed. The Question was, If the Executor of the Earl should be charged to the King for the Conversion of the said Ordnance and Ammunition. In that Case, divers points were Resolved. 1. That the Earl could not claim the Iron Ordinance as Fees, because the Office was erected but of late time, and then he could not claim them as Ancient Fees by Prescription to a new Office. 2. Although the Earl claimed them to his own use, yet he should be accomptable to the King for the same, because in the Kings Case the Law makes a privity, and in that Case, it was said, That if any one taketh the Kings goods, or entred wrongfully upon the Kings Lands, and receives the profits thereof, the King may charge him in an Accompt. 3. That no Officer of the King can Ex Officio, Issue, or dispose of the Kings Treasure, although it be for the honour of the King, without the Kings Warrant; and a Warrant by word, or under his privy Signet, is not sufficient to Issue out such Treasure, but it ought to be under the Great Seal, or his privy Seal. 4. That if a man be a means or an Instrument whereby the King is put to losse or damage, he shall be charged, because he put the King in damage, and shall be compelled to yield an accoupt of the same; and if he dyeth, his Executors shall be charged with the same. Cook 11. Part, the Earl of Devonshire's Case.

10. Sir Walter Mildmay was Chancellor of the Exchequer, and suggested to the Lord Treasurer of England, that his Office was of great Attendance, and desired the Lord Treasurer that he would be pleased to allow unto him 100 l. for his Dyet, and 40 l. per annum for his Attendance, which the Lord Treasurer did grant unto him, and he enjoyed the same accordingly: and afterwards he dyed, and his Executors were forced to accompt for it, and to pay back the money for all the time that their Testator had received it. Mich 38 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Sir Walter Mildmy's Case.

11. The Kings Debtor brought a Quo minus

in the Exchequer againſt his Debtor, the Defendant appeared, and afterwards the Plaintiff would have been Nonſuit, but the Court would not ſuffer him ſo to be: For it was ſaid, That a Releaſe by the Kings Debtor to his debtor, would not diſcharge the Kings debtor as to that debt. Hill. 20 E. 3. And it was alſo ſaid, That in a Quo minus in the Exchequer upon a ſingle Contract, the Defendant cannot wage his Law, becauſe the King is to have benefit by the Suit, although the King be no party to the Suit. See Cook 4. Part, 94. in Sladers Caſe.

12. William Porter, Maſter of the Mint, &c. Covenanted with the King by Indenture, That all Bullion which ſhould be delivered ad Cambium Regis pro moneta faciendâ, that the money ſhould be delivered for the ſame within 8. dayes; which Covenant he broke, for he did not deliver to divers ſubjects their money due to them for the Bullion which they brought ad Cambium: which being ſhewed in the Exchequer, the King paid to them all the money due for the Bullion: and becauſe that John Walwayn and Henry Picard, duxerunt et preſentaverunt praedict. William Porter in Officium illud, tanquam ſufficientem, and that they offered to be Sureties for him, but were not accepted of; which matters they confeſſed: It was adjudged in that caſe, that the ſaid John Walwayn and Henry Picard, ſhould be charged to pay and ſatisfie the King all the moneys which the King had paid for the ſaid William Porter. Mich. 30 E. 3. Rott. 6. in the Exchequer.

13. Walter de Chirton, one of the Kings Cuſtomers, had purchaſed certain Lands with the Kings money, and by Covin had cauſed the ſeller of them to enfeoffe his friends in Fee to defraud the King: and nevertheleſſe, he took the iſſues and profits of the Lands to his own uſe: And thoſe Lands by an Inquiſition with the values of them, were returned into the Exchequer, And there by Judgment of the Court were ſeiſed into the Kings hands, and yet the Eſtate of the Land was never in him; but becauſe it appeared clear, that upon the purchaſe he intended to deceive the King, therefore were thoſe purchaſed Lands ſeized. Trin. 24 E. 3. Rott. 4. in the Exchequer. Cook. 11. Part, 41. 92. acc.

14. Queen Elizabeth by her Letters Patents did grant to Sir Chriſtopher Hatton the Office of Remembrancer or Collector of the Firſt-Fruits for his life, To have to him after the death of one Godfrey, who held the ſaid Office in poſſeſſion: Sir Chriſtopher, being thus ſtated in the ſaid Reverſion, and being ſeiſed in Fee ſimple of divers Mannors, Lands, Tenements, &c. did Covenant to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Lands, &c. to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of J. H. his ſon in tail; and ſo with remainders to his other ſons, the remainder to the right heirs of J. H. in Fee, with a Proviſo of Revocation at his pleaſure during life: Godfrey dyed poſſeſſed, and Sir Chriſtopher became Officer, and was poſſeſſed of the Office, and afterwards became endebted to the Queen by reaſon of the ſaid Office. The Queſtion in this caſe was, Whether the Mannors and Lands which were ſo conveyed and ſettled by Sir Chriſtopher, might be extended for the ſaid Debt due to the Queen, by reaſon of the Proviſo and Revocation in the ſaid Conveyance and aſſurance of the ſaid Lands: The debt due to the Queen was aſſigned over, and the Lands extended, and the Extent came to Sir Ed. Coke: The heir of Jo. H. ſued in the Court of Wards to avoid the ſaid extent. It was agreed in this Caſe by Doddridge Juſtice of the Kings Bench, Tanfield Chief Baron, Hobart Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, and Lea, Lord Chief Juſtice of the Kings Bench, and by the Maſter of the Wards then being, That the ſaid Mannors and Lands were lyable to the ſaid Extent, For that the power and diſpoſe of the ſaid Lands were in the ſaid Sir Chriſtopher the Debtor, and the Lands which ſuch a Debtor hath in his power, although he hath not an Eſtate in the Lands, ſhall be lyable to pay the Debt to the King. And he had a Fee in them untill his death, by reaſon of the Proviſo, and Revocation, and ſo they were extendable; and he had the Lands when he was aſſured of the Office, although he had not the poſſeſſion of it; for he was ſure that none other could have it from him, and no other could have it but himſelf; and he had a time in which he might let the Land to paſſe, and yet he had a power to put it back again at his pleaſure; And if he had been living (being endebted to the King) the King might have extended the Lands, becauſe that then he had the poſſeſſion of them. And any Lands, be the Lands in uſe, upon Truſt, by Revocation; the Kings Debt ſhall be taken largely to extend unto them: And it was ſaid, that in this Caſe, there was not any alienation animo alienandi for Sir Chriſtopher gave the Lands, but he kept the poſſeſſion, and received the profits of them. Paſc. 21 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir Edward Coke's Caſe. Godbolt. 299, to 300.

15. A. being in Execution for Debt to the King adjudged againſt him in the Exchequer, was condemned in B. R. by a Judgment, and was brought to the bar by Habeas Corpus, to be charged in Execution for this Debt alſo. It was moved, That he ought not be charged in Execution here, becauſe he is in Execution at the Kings Suit: For it was ſaid, That by the Statute of 25 E. 3. chap. 19. a common perſon ſhall not have an Execution againſt the Kings Debtor, untill he makes agreement for the Kings Debt: And of that Opinion was the whole Court. But for asmuch as he had not a Writ of Protection, The Court Resolved, That he is out of the Statute, and thereupon Awarded, that he should be in Execution, as well for the party as for the King. 2. Debt Aſſigned to the King, where good, where not.

1. A. was endebted to B. by Statute, in 2000 l. B. made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, ſhe afterwards married with J. S. who was endebted to the King by Bond acknowledged in the Court of Wards. He and his Wife by Deed enrolled 14 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Aſſign unto the King that Statute for the payment of the ſaid Debt: And whether it were good, or void by the Statute of 7 Jac. with Enacts, that no Debt ſhall be Aſſigned to the King by his Debtor accomptant, other then ſuch Debts as did before Originally grow due to the Kings Accomptant bona fide, and that all other Aſſignments ſhould be void. It was Reſolved by the two Chief Juſtices, and Chief Baron, That it was a good Aſſignment, for although this debt is not due to him generally, but in the right of his Wife, who had it from her Teſtator; yet becauſe they have the ſole intereſt therein, and the Husband who is the Kings Debtor diſcharged by his Releaſe, it is all one as if it had bin made to him in his own name. For the intent of the Statute is onely to receive Aſſignments of Debts which are not due to the Debtors themſelves, but Aſſigned to, or by him to other perſons. Hill. 6 Jac. in Cur. Ward. and Fawnes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 524.

2. A man recovered damages in an Action upon the Caſe, and he Aſſigned parcell of his Debt to the Queen before Execution: And the Queen thereupon brought a Scire facias. Manwood, Chief Baron, and all the Court of Exchequer were of Opinion, That parcell, or a moyety of this Debt could not be aſſigned over to the Queen. Paſc. 26 Eliz. in the Exchequer. The Queen and Allen's Caſe. Owen. 2.

3. A. acknowledged a Statute to J. S. Alderman of London; Afterwards he acknowledged another Statute to H. who aſſigned the ſame to J. D. who Aſſigned the ſame to the Queen: J. S. ſued forth Execution upon his Statute, and thereupon the Lands of A. are extended, and he hath a Liberate of it. It was the Opinion of all the Barons in the Exchequer, That if J. S. had Execution upon his Statute before the Queen, his Execution ſhould ſtand againſt the Queen, and the Queen ſhould not put him out. And it was further agreed, That if A. recovers in Debt in the Common-Pleas, ſo as he hath title to ſue forth Execution by Elegit, and the Defendant ſells his Lands; And afterwards A. Aſſigns his Execution to the Queen, That the Queen ſhould not have Prerogative againſt the Feoffee to have Execution of the whole Lands. Mich. 33 Eliz. in the Exchequer.

4. Note, It was holden by the Court, That whereas A. was endebted to B. without any Bond had of it, but onely by a Note in Writing, ſigned with the hand-writing of A. ſcil. by me A. &c. but not ſealed, That ſuch a Debt may be Aſſigned to the Queen, although before his Aſſignment againſt his Creditor, he might have waged his Law; For, inaſmuch as by theſe Notes, or Bills the certainty of the Debt appeareth, and that they are due debts, and ſo well Aſſigned. See 21 H. 7. 19. An Obligation may be Aſſigned to the King without Inrollment of it, and where the Obligee is not endebted to the Queen: but it cannot be Aſſigned to a Subject, unleſſe for a Debt due by the Aſſignor to the Aſſignee: It was alſo holden in this Caſe, where the Queen ſueth for a Debt Aſſigned to her, that the Obligor in ſuch Caſe, cannot plead Nihil debet, for that now by the Aſſignment, it is become matter of Record. Deeds.

1. Of the Eſſentiall Parts of a Deed, viz. The Making, Writing, Sealing, Delivery, Date, Witneſſing, and other the parts of a Deed; Where they ſhall be good, where not: And What ſhall be ſaid to be a good Deed; What not.

1. EVery Deed ought to prove it ſelf, and be proved by others; Approve it ſelf upon ſhewing forth to the Court. 1. As to the compoſure, The words to be ſufficient in Law; and the Court ſhall judg that. 2. That it be not raſed and enterlined in materiall points and places; that to be tryed by the Jury, if it be before, or after the delivery, That it may appear to the Court; If it were upon Condition, Limitation, or with power of Revocation; If the Deed be ſingle, or if there wanteth a Counter-part of the Indenture, that the other party might take advantage of the Condition, Limitation, or power of Revocation; And theſe are the cauſes, That Deeds are ſhewed in Court; and it were a dangerous thing in Law for any party, who, by the Law in pleading, ought to ſhew forth the Deed, to prove in Evidence to a Jury by witneſſes, That there was ſuch a Deed, which they have ſeen Read, or heard read. But yet in great and Notorious extremities, As by caſualty of Fire, That all his Evidences were burnt in his houſe, If the ſame ſhall appear to the Judges, they may in favour of him who hath ſo great a loſſe by Fire, ſuffer him, upon the generall Iſſue, to prove the Deed in Evidence by Witneſſes, that Affliction be not added to Affliction. Cook 10. Part, 92. in Doctor Leyfield's Caſe.

and

2. A Charter party, Indented between the Maſter and Owners of a Ship, of the one part, and divers Merchants of the other part, was made; by which the Maſter and Owners Covenanted to Ship certain Merchandiſes at ſuch a Port beyond Sea, and to tranſport them to the City of L. for which, every of the Merchants Covenanted ſeparatim with the Maſter and Owners, that one Merchant ſhould pay 3 l. another 3 l. et ſic de cæteris. And in the end of the Deed was this Clauſe, Et ad performationem omnium et ſingularum conventionum ex parte prædict. Mercator quilibet Mercatorum prædict. bound himſelf to the Maſter and owners in double the freight. In Debt brought againſt one of the Merchants, upon the ſaid Deed, The Defendant pleaded, That a Seal of one of the other Merchants fixed to the Deed, was broken off from the Deed; upon which the Plaintiff demurred. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That in the Deed, the word Separatim made the Covenants ſeverall, and not to be one joynt-Covenant, and for that cauſe, though one of the Seals of the Merchants were broken from the Deed, yet it did not avoid the Deed but onely againſt him: But if any of the Seals of the Maſters or Owners had bin broken from the Deed, all the Covenants had bin defeated; and if the Deed had bin raſed in the date after the delivery, the ſame had gone to the whole, and all; But when Covenants are ſeverall, they are as ſeverall Deeds Written in one peice of Parchment. Hill. 39 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 23. Matthewſon's Caſe.

3. In Debt upon a Bond againſt an Executor, the Defendant pleaded, Non eſt factum of the Teſtator: Upon a Speciall Verdict, The Caſe was, The Teſtator with two others, were joyntly and ſeverally bound in the Bond; and afterwards the Seals of the two others were eaten with Mice and Ratts; and whether that was the Bond of the Teſtator or not, was the Queſtion: It was objected in this Caſe, That the Bond was good, becauſe that where they are bound joyntly and ſeverally, it is all one as if they had bin ſeverall Obligations, according to Matthewſon's Caſe, And to this purpoſe. Trin. 2 Car. in B. R. was vouched, Banning and Symmond's Caſe, where 28 Merchants were bound joyntly and ſeverally, and three of their Seals were broken from the Deed, and Reſolved, that the Deed did remain good againſt the others; On the other ſide, it was ſaid, That the whole Deed was avoided, and that the Defendant might plead Non eſt factum to it, for where it was joynt at the firſt, now if the Deed ſhould ſtand good againſt the Defendant onely, it ſhould be his Bond onely, whereas it was his Bond, and the Bond of the other at the firſt, and ſo not the ſame Bond; And whereas it was objected, this is a caſuall Act, and ſhall not prejudice the Plaintiff, It was anſwered, the ſame ſhall not help him, becauſe it was his own Lacheſſe and default, And where the Bond is altered in a materiall point or place by a ſtranger, without the privity of the other, yet the ſame ſhall avoid the Deed in all; And this Caſe differs from Matthewſon's Caſe; becauſe there the Covenants were ſeverall, and not joynt as this Obligation is, The whole Court was ſtrongly inclined, That Judgment in the principal Caſe ſhould be given for the Defendant, and their reaſon was, That if the Obligee by his Act or his own Lacheſſe, diſcharge one of the Obligors where they are joyntly and ſeverally bounden, that the ſame diſcharges them all; but a day was given for further Argument of the Caſe. Mich. 17 Car. in C. B. Bayly and Gerford's Caſe. Mod. 125, 126, 127.

4. Note, when two are joyntly bound in an Obligation, none of them can plead, It is not his Deed, becauſe they have Sealed and delivered it; but if afterwards, before the Action brought, it becomes void by raſure, addition, or otherwiſe breaking of the Seals; there, in ſuch caſe, the party may, in Action brought upon ſuch Deed, plead, that it is not his Deed; for by ſuch Act, it hath loſt the proper and eſſentiall parts of a Deed. Cook 5. Part, 119. Whelpdales Caſe.

5. J. S. was Sheriff of Oxford, and an Obligation was made to him Novemvir univerſis, &c. me teneri J. S. armig. in 60 l. and after the delivery of the Deed, theſe words, viz. Vic. Oxon. ante verba in 60 l. et poſt verba. J. S. were enterli-

ned

ned without Notice of J. S. and it was adjudged, That becauſe, that that Addition was without the privity of J. S. in a place not materiall, that the Obligation remained good. But it was there Reſolved, That when a Deed is altered by the party himſelf, or by a ſtranger in a point materiall, by Addition, Interlineation, Raſing, or other means, the Deed is void: And it was there Reſolved, That when a lawfull Deed is raſed, by which it becomes void, there the Obligor may plead, that it is not his Deed, and may give the ſpeciall matter in Evidence. Cook 11. Part, 25, 26. Henry Pigot's Caſe.

6. If a Feoffment in Fee be made by Deed with divers Covenants, and one of the Feoffees Seal it, but the other not, but occupieth the Land, and ſurviveth, In that Caſe, it was adjudged, that he ſhould be bound to perform the Covenants, though he never ſealed the Deed, but ſhall be bound by the Seal of his Companion. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 13. acc.

7. The date of a Deed is not of the ſubſtance of the Deed, for if it want a date, or have a falſe or impoſſible date, yet the Deed is good; For there are but three things of the eſſence of a Deed, viz. The writing in paper or parchment, Sealing, and Delivery, and if it have theſe three, though it wanteth, In cujus reitestimonium ſigillum ſuum appoſuit, yet the Deed is ſufficient, for the delivery is as neceſſary to the eſſence of a Deed, as the putting of the Seal to it; and yet it needs not to be contained in the Deed: And therefore, the Caſe was, Debt was brought upon an Obligation by an Adminiſtrator, The Defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate dyed before the date of the Obligation, and ſo it was not his Deed; And it was found, That the Deed was delivered in the life of the Inteſtate, and that the Inteſtate dyed before the date of the Deed: In that Caſe it was adjudged, that it was his Deed; For although that the Obligee cannot in pleading alledge the delivery before the date, yet the Jurors who are ſworn to ſay the truth, ſhall not be eſtopped, for an Eſtoppel is to conclude to ſay the truth, and therefore the Jury cannot be eſtopped, becauſe they are ſworn to ſay the truth; but the Jurors cannot find any thing againſt that which the parties have affirmed, or admitted, for they are not charged with any thing, but thoſe onely wherein the parties vary. Hill. 26 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 2. Part, 4. Goddard's Caſe.

8. In Debt upon an Obligation of 10 l. The Defendant pleaded, that one F. was bound by the ſaid Deed with him, and each in the whole, and that the Plaintiff had made an acquittance to F. bearing date before the Obligation, and delivered after, by which Acquittance he did acknowledg himſelf to be paid 20 s. in full ſatisfaction of the 10 l. It was adjudged to be a good Bar; for if a man do acknowledge himſelf to be ſatisfied by Deed, it is a good Bar without any thing received. Cook 5. Part, 117. in Pennell's Caſe.

9. Note, Two things are requiſite to the perfection of a Will, by which Land ſhall paſſe, viz. The Writing, for that is initium, and the death of the Deviſor, and that is finis et conſummatio; And the initium ought to be plenum et perfectum, otherwiſe it is not good; And therefore, if one command another to make his Will, and by the ſame to deviſe Wh. Acre to J. S. and his Heirs, and Bl. Acre to J. N. and his Heirs, and he writeth the Deviſe to J. S. and his Heirs, in the life of J. S; and before the other is Written, the Deviſor dyeth; yet it is a good Will to J. S. But if he command one to make his Will, and to deviſe W. Acre to J. S. and his Heirs upon Condition, and the Deviſor dyeth, this deviſe is void, for in one caſe the Deviſes are ſeverall, and diſtinct, and in ſuch Caſe, the Deviſe to J. S. is perfect, but in the latter Caſe, the Deviſe is not full, but maimed and imperfect; for the whole Deviſe to J. S. was not fully put in writing, and ſo initium in ſuch Caſe, non fuit plenum. Cook 3. Part, 31. in Butler and Baker's Caſe.

10. If an Obligation be made, and in the concluſion of it, It wants the words In cujus rei teſtimonium ſigillum appoſui; yet it is good if it be ſealed. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 19. acc.

11. In Debt brought upon an Obligation, The Jury found a Special Verdict, That after Iſſue joyned, and before the Niſi Prius, the Seal of the Defendant was fallen off. Et ſi, &c. Windham Juſtice ſaid, That it had been adjudged, That where a Bond was delivered to the Cuſtos Brevium to be kept, and the Mice broke the Seal; that the Court adjudged, That the Plaintiff ſhould be at no prejudice thereby: and in this Caſe, forasmuch as no default was in the Plaintiff, the Court commanded Judgment to be entred for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Mitchell and Stockwith's Caſe. Goldesbr. 93.

12. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed for 9 s. Rent; The Plaintiff pleaded a Deed of Feoffment of the ſame Land, made before the Statute of (Quia Emptores terrarum) by which 6 s. 8 d. is onely reſerved; and demanded Judgment, if he ſhall be receaved to demand more then is reſerved by the Deed. This Deed was without date; and it was averred, That it was made before the Statute of (Quia emptores terrarum) which was made in the 18. of Ed. the 1ſt. It ought to be averred, to be made after the beginning of the Reign of Rich. 1. For a Writing, after the beginning of the Reign, checks preſcription, But if a man hath a thing by Grant before that, he may claim by preſcription; for he cannot plead the Grant, in as much as it is before time of memory. Mic. 9 Jac. in C.B. Brownlo. 2 Part, 107.

hath

13. Debt was brought upon an Obligation to perform an Award: upon Nullum arbitrium pleaded, a Special Verdict was found, and upon the Special Verdict, ſeveral Queſtions were made; One was, Whether a miſ-recital of the date of one of the Obligations of Submiſſion, by the Arbitrators in their Award, ſhall avoid the Award or not. To that it was ſaid, That the Submiſſion was the Submiſſion of the Parties, and the miſtaking of the Arbitrator of the time, when it was made, is not material, nor ſhall hurt it. For the Bond of Submiſſion is not in the Cuſtody of the Arbitrators, and ſo they might eaſily miſtake the date, becauſe they had it not to view. No. Com. 79 Croker's Caſe. And ſecondly, the date of the Obligation is not an eſſential part of the Obligation: For an Obligation may be good, though it have no date; and therefore the miſtaking of the date is not material. Thirdly, there is a ſufficient certainty of the Bond in the Award, though the date be miſtaken; and a void additional deſcription of it, ſhall not avoid a good deſcription of it ſet forth in the Award. Quære; for the point was not Reſolved. Paſc. 24 Car. in B. R. Keniſton and Jone's Caſe. Styles 97.

14. Note, by Glyn, Chief Juſtice, That if divers perſons do ſeal a Deed, and if but one of them do acknowledge the Deed, and the Deed is thereupon enrolled; That this is a good Inrollment within the Statute, and may be given in Evidence, as a Deed inrolled at a Tryal. It was then alſo ſaid, That if a Deed expreſs a Conſideration of Money upon a purchaſe made; yet this is no proof upon a Tryal, that the monies expreſſed were paid; but it muſt be proved by Witneſſes. Mich. 1655. Thurle and Madiſon's Caſe. Styles 462.

15. In Debt upon a Bill of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. After this Clauſe, In cujus rei teſtimonium, &c. This Clauſe was added in the nature of a Deviſe. Provided, nevertheleſs, That the ſaid 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. is not to be paid untill ſuch a one hath had a Recovery in ſuch an Action or Suit, which he hath had againſt the Plaintiff, upon a Bond of 200 l. conditioned for ſaving harmleſs, or hath made an end of the ſame Suit: and then the Concluſion was, Dat. eiſdem die et anno. All this was dated upon Record. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, That no end was made of the ſaid Suit, upon the Bond of 200 l. nor any Recovery had; but that the ſame ſtill depends: and therefore according to the Proviſo, the ſaid 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. demanded by the ſaid Bill, is not to be paid, the Plaintiff having commenced, &c. Suit for it, before the time, by the Proviſo. The Plaintiff replyed, That an end was made of the ſaid Suit by a Compoſition of 20 l. given and accepted in full ſatisfaction and diſcharge of the ſaid Suit, in plenam ſatisfactionem actionis prædict. The Defendant rejoyns, No ſuch end was made of the ſaid Suit: upon Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment: for that of this matter of Fact ariſeth, the matter of Law, which makes againſt the Plaintiff; which is, that the giving of 20 l. cannot be a ſatisfaction of the 200 l. To that it was ſaid, That the giving of the 20 l. is not in ſatisfaction of the 200 l. which cannot ſo be by Law; but the 20 l. by Compoſition was given in ſatisfaction and diſcharge of the ſaid Suit, upon the ſaid Bond of 200 l. and that is good; and the onely Iſſue was, Whether ſuch an End was made by Compoſition? and the ſubſtance of the Plea is the Compoſition, and not the payment of the money. It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That it was here to be conſidered, Whether this Proviſo be parcel of the Bill, or as a Condition to the ſame annexed. If it be part of the Bill, then it tends to the matter. It was objected, It was not parcell, becauſe it comes after the Clauſe, In cujus rei, &c. To that it was anſwered, That a Deed is good, dated without that Clauſe, In cujus rei, &c. if the Deed be ſealed: and it is not of ſuch force to make a Deed void, if it be wanting. For if the words in the Deed contained, are ſufficient to bind the party, and it be ſealed and delivered, it is ſufficient. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices That this Clauſe and Proviſo was parcel of the Bill of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. to be paid either upon the Recovery in the Action, or upon an End made of the Suit. And this being put in Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff, It muſt be intended to be paid for the end of the Suit, and not in ſatisfaction of the 200 l. And this Caſe was compared to Cook's Part, Nichol's Caſe. And the whole Court were cleer of Opinion for the Plaintiff; and Judgment, was given for the Plaintiff accordingly. Mic. 1 Car. in B. R. Thompſon and Batcher's Caſe. Rolls. 3 Part, 300, 301, 302, 303.

4. Where

2. Where a Deed ſhall be void in part, and ſtand good in other part; and where it ſhall ſtand good as to one perſon, and void as to another perſon:

A Recognizance was made to Sir Nicholas Bacon, Lord Keeper of the Great Seal, and to two others; and it was Capt. et Recognit. coram eadem Nicholao B. milite, Cuſtod. Magni Sigilli. The Opinion of the Juſtices was demanded, if it were good, or not; and it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, that it was good, as to Sir Nicholas Bacon; and to the other it was good enough. Paſc. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 220.

2. A. By his Deed (in which B. his Son and Heir apparent was joyned) granted an Annuity to C. for the Term of his life, out of all his Lands in D. Et ſi contingat, the ſaid Annuity to be behind; That then it ſhould be lawful for the ſaid C. in the Tenements aforeſaid, toties quoties, to diſtrain. To this Deed, A. ſet his Hand and Seal; and a Label put for the ſaid B. his Son: but he did not ſeal it, the Annuity was behind for divers years: For the Arrearages and the penalty, the Executors of C. the Grantee brought Debt againſt the Executors of A; and declared upon that Grant, without making mention of B. the Son of A; virtute cujus, the ſaid C. the Grantee was ſeiſed, in dominico ſuo ut de tot. feodo. It was moved in that Caſe, If the Plaintiff in his Declaration ought to have made mention of B. the Son, or not; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, that the ſaid Deed was void, as to B. the Son: And that if the Plaintiff ſhould make mention of him in his Declaration, that then the Plaintiff ought to have averred in fact, that he was a Party to the Deed: But he never ſealing the Deed, the Deed was holden void as againſt B; but did ſtand good as againſt A. the Father. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer, 227.

3. When a Deed ſhall be good in part, and void in part, ſtands upon this difference: When a Deed is void ab initio, and when it becomes void by miſeaſance, by matter ex poſt facto. Alſo, there is a difference, when the Deed, which is void in part ab initio, doth conſiſt upon the Intirety, and when upon divers ſeveral Clauſes; and in this alſo there is a difference, when the ſeveral Clauſes are abſolute and diſtinct, and when they are ſeveral, and yet the one hath dependance upon another. If any of the Covenants in an Indenture, or the Conditions endorſed upon an Obligation, are againſt Law, and ſome good and lawful; In that Caſe, the Covenants and Conditions which are againſt Law, are void ab initio, and the others ſtand good. So if three diſtinct Obligations be written upon one piece of Parchment, and one of them onely is read to the Obligee, and he being a Lay-man, not letter'd, ſealeth this Deed, it is good for that which is onely read, and ab initio void for the others. Cook 11. Part, 27. Henry Pigott's Caſe.

4. One brought Debt for 20 l. againſt another, and declared upon an Obligation of the ſame ſum: The Defendant pleaded, That he was a Lay-man, and could not read, and that he did acknowledge to be bound to the Plaintiff by the ſame Deed in 20 s. which he hath paid, and ſhewed an Acquittance thereof; and as to the remnant of the ſaid ſum, in the ſaid Obligation, It was not his Deed; and the ſame was holden a good Plea: Which Caſe being of an entire ſum, proveth without Queſtion; That if there be two abſolute and diſtinct Clauſes in a Deed, and the one to be read to the party not lettered, and not the other, that the Deed is good for that Clauſe which was read, and ab initio void for the Reſidue. See 14 Hen. 8. 26. 9 Hen 5. 15. Cook 11. Part, 27. acc.

3. Where an Habendum ſhall ſtand, and be good in a Deed; Where not.

1. LAnd is given to husband and wife, Habendum to them to the uſe of them for the term of the life of the wife; and after her deceaſe, then to the uſe of the husband and his heirs: the Husband and Wife are Joynt-Tenants of the uſe; as if Land be let to two for the term of the life of one of them; It is clear a Joynt Eſtate, although the ſurvivorſhip doth not hold: But if Land be given to two, Habendum to one for the Term of his life; they are Tenants in Common, becauſe in omni majori includitur. minor. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer 10. in Bokenhams Caſe.

2. A Leaſe is made to one for term of years, upon Condition, that the Leſſee ſhall not alien his Term to J. S; and he aliens to J. S: It was moved, If the Condition were broken, or not? It was holden, That it was not; for every Condition is taken ſtrictly: For if a man make a Feoffment upon Condition that he ſhall not enfeoffe J. S, and he dyeth, and his heir enfeoffeth J. S; the ſame is no breach of the Condition: and it is like to a Reſervation; For if a man makes a Leaſe for term of years, rendring rent to the Leſſor, in this caſe his heir ſhall not have this Rent, becauſe he is not named in the Reſervation. But it was agreed, That if a man makes a Leaſe for years rendring certain Rent, without ſaying, To the Leſſor or his heirs; yet the Leſſor and his heirs ſhall have the Rent, becauſe it is reſerved as long as the eſtate continues: And it is like the caſe where a man makes a Feoffment, and binds him and his heirs to Warranty, without ſaying to whom he ſhall warrant: yet the Feoffee and his heirs ſhall have advantage of the Warranty: but if the Warranty were certain, as to the Feoffee onely, then his heir of that ſhould not have any advantage. Mich. 31 H. 8. Dyer 45.

3. A. let Land to two, Habendum eis, ad terminum vitæ eorum (conjunctim) & alterius diutiùs, vivent. et aſſignatis ſuis, ſi primus eorum decedere contingat, durante vita ejus qui ſuperſtes; et non aliter. The Queſtion was, Whether by the word (conjunctim) they were reſtrained to make partition? See that Queſtion more reſolved; For by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Joynt-Tenants are now compellable to make partition by Writ, and cannot be reſtrained by any words. The other Queſtion was, If he who let and aſſigned all, If it were good for the whole, or but for a moyety? It ſeems, that he can aſſign but a moyety, becauſe he hath but a moyety in right. 31 H. 8. Dyer 41.

4. The Stewardſhip of his Courts of the Manor of S. was granted by the Biſhop of Lincoln to one for term of his life, Habendum, et exercend. poſt mortem of the firſt Grantee, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. It was holden, That this ſecond Grant was good, being in caſe of a common perſon: But if it were in the caſe of the King, it was otherwiſe. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer 80. See 11 Jac. in C. B. Staunton and Greens Caſe, adjudged acc. See alſo 41 Eliz. Scaribtors Caſe, acc.

5. In a Second Deliverance the Caſe was; The Abbot of T. was ſeiſed in Fee of certain Lands in D. in the County of Glouceſter, and by the aſſent of his Covent demiſed the ſame to J. G. for term of life, and afterwards by Indenture with aſſent of his Covent, Tradidit, conceſſit, et ad firmam demiſit to J. S. and M. his Wife, the Tenements aforeſaid, with the appurtenances inter alia per nomen Reverſionum omnium et ſingulorum Meſſuag. terrarum, et Tenementorum ipſorum Abbatis et Conventus in D. in Com. Glouceſter, quæ omnia et ſingula J. G. ad tunc tenebat, ad Terminum vitæ ſuæ: Habendum et Tenend. prædict. Meſſuag. terras Tenementa, &c. eiſdem J. S. et M. et aſſignatis ſuis from the Feaſt of St. Michael next after the death, ſurrender, and forfeiture of the ſaid J. G, aut cum aliquo alio modo quocunq; reverſio prædict. accideret, unto the end of 21 years next following, without any attornment? And afterwards the Eſtate of J. S. came to the Plaintiff, and the Reverſion in Fee to the King, H. 8. And then ſhewed, that the Abby came to the King by ſurrender: and that the King conveyed the Fee-ſimple of the Lands, &c. to the Defendant: and the Defendant demanded Oyer of the Deed of the Grant of the Reverſion; and the words were theſe, viz. Conceſſit reverſionem, Habend. ut ram, &c. And if by this grant of the Land, the Reverſion ſhould paſſe, or not, was one Queſtion made in the Caſe; and whether it ſhould be a good Leaſe in Reverſion, by the words aforeſaid, or that it ſhould be void, becauſe the premiſſes of the Deed ſpeaks onely of a Reverſion, and the Habendum mentions the Land; and no Attornment was had by the Leſſee for life; and long Argument by all the Juſtices: They all agreed, That the Leaſe was a good Leaſe; and that the premiſſes and the Habendum did well ſtand together. And ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 2 & 3 Ma. Plow. Comment. 155. to 164. Throgmorton and Tracyes Caſe. See Dyer 125. acc.

6. A. for 100 l. paid by B. by Deed Indented and inrolled, bargained and ſold, granted and conveyed Lands, To have and to hold the ſaid Lands to B. and his heirs for ever, to the uſe of the ſaid A. for the Term of her life, without Impeachment of Waſte; and after her deceaſe, to the uſe of the ſaid B, and the heirs of his body lawfully begotten; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the heirs of the ſaid A. for ever. It was holden in this caſe by the Juſtices, That this Limitation by the Habendum was void, and impeachment, for that an uſe cannot riſe out of an uſe. Mich. 5 Ma. Dyer 155. See Cook. 1. Part, 137. in Chudly's Caſe, by all the Juſtices, acc.

7. In an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; The Abbot of W. ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and 60 Acres of Lands in B: He and his Covent 22 E. 4. made a Leaſe of the ſame to J. S. and Joyce his Wife for 80 years: J. S. dyed, Joyce took husband R. W, Joyce dyed; R. W. ſurvived: The Succeſſour of the Abbot and the Covent, 26 H. 8. by Indenture granted and demiſed to J. D, the Reverſion of all their Farm in B; and alſo another Tenement with all Lands, &c. to them appertaining, then in the tenure of R. W. To have and to hold all the ſaid Farm and Tenements, with the appurtenances to the ſaid J. D. from the end and expiration of the Term of years granted to the ſaid R. W, untill the end of 60 years: Afterwards the Abbot and Prior, 31 H. 8. granted to the King the Reverſion of, &c. after which, the King granted the Reverſion to J. N. and C. his Wife in Fee: R. W. made his Will, and demiſed all his Term and Intereſt in the ſaid Tenements to E. his Wife, and made

made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: E. took to husband the Defendant: and they being poſſeſſed, J. N. and his Wife made a new Leaſe to them for their lives; upon whom the Plaintiff entred by ſale of his Leaſe for 60 years, and the Defendants did eject him; and the Plaintiff brought Ejectione Firme. In this caſe there were many points Argued and Reſolved: Amongſt other, It was Reſolved, 1. That Reverſion in this caſe ſhall be ſaid Terra reverſens; ſo as the Leaſe of the Reverſion of the Farm, ſhall be taken to be the Leaſe of the Farm reverting, or when it ſhall revert: and that it is all one when he demiſeth the Reverſion of the Farm, Habendum the Farm from the time of the firſt Leaſe ended and expired; and when he demiſeth the Reverſion of the Farm, Habendum the Reverſion of the Farm from the time of, &c. and that the premiſſes of the firſt Leaſe, and the Habendum did well ſtand together. 2. The Juſtices held, That the ſecond Leaſe ſhould begin preſently upon the determination of the firſt Leaſe and term of years determined: ſo that being the firſt Leaſe determined by Act in Law, or by the act of the party, or by conſumption of time, it is all one, and that the Plaintiff ſhould take benefit of the determination of it: And ſo all the Juſtices were clear of Opinion for the matter in Law for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1 Eliz. Plow. Comment. Wroteſley and Adams Caſe, 190, to 197.

8. Tenant for Term of life of Lands, ſurrendred one moyety of them to his Leſſor: The Leſſor afterwards by Indenture demiſed the whole Lands to a ſtranger by theſe words, ſcil. Habendum the one moyety which he had by the ſaid ſurrender to the ſtranger for the Term of his life; the other moyety which the Leſſee held to the ſaid ſtranger from the day of the death of the firſt Leſſee for 40 years, if he ſhould live ſo long, rendring pro omnibus et ſingulis premiſſis 4 l. per annum: The Leſſee was behind of his Rent for a year, the Leſſor diſtrained, and avowed for the whole Rent, living the firſt Leſſee. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Leſſor might diſtrain for the whole rent preſently, although that one moyety be but Land reverting, becauſe the reſervation is entire. But in the caſe, becauſe he avowed as in Land charged to his diſtreſs, which is alwayes intended for a Rent-charge; and for this Rent which is a Rent-ſervice, he ought to have avowed upon him per le manner as Tenant; and alſo, becauſe he did not ſever the moyety, but ſaid generally, That he was ſeiſed in Dominico ſuo ut de feodo, whereas the moyety was not in demeſne: The Avowry was holden by the Court to be inſufficient. Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer 257.

9. A Termor reciting by Indenture his Term and Leaſe, granted all his Term, Eſtate, and Intereſt to another Habendum ſibi et aſſignatis ſuis immediately after the death of the Grantor: and if the Grantee ſhould have it preſently, or expect till after the death of the Grantor, was the doubt: Upon a Demurrer, in this Caſe, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the Habendum was void, and that the premiſſes of the Grant was good to paſſe the Term to the Grantee preſently. Paſch. 10 Eliz. Dyer 272.

10. The next avoidance of a Church was granted to three, Habendum iis et uni eorum conjunctim et diviſim, the firſt preſented the third, who is admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted. It was adjudged, That it was well. But it was ſaid, That if the Biſhop had refuſed his ſole preſentment, perhaps he might have failed in his Quare Impedit, for that the ſeverance of the Habendum was void in Law, as was conceived. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer 304.

11. A Leaſe was made by Indenture to the Mother and Son, Habendum eis pro termino vitæ eorum, et alteri eorum diutius vivent. ſucceſſivè uni eorum poſt alterum ſicut nominantur in Indentura, et non conjunctim: and Livery and Seiſin was made by attorney accordingly. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the whole Freehold was in the Mother onely; and that the ſon took in remainder, and not joyntly with his Mother. Hill. 20 Eliz. Dyer 361.

12. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, demiſed the ſame to one, and B. his Son, and to the heirs of B. Habendum for 99. years, and ſo from 99. years, to 99 years, untill 300 years were paſſed without Impeachment of Waſte, rendring rent, if it were demanded: And the Leſſor Covenanted, That he and his heirs after the end of thoſe 300 years, would make to the heirs of the Leſſee ſuch Leaſe for other 300 years. No Livery was made: The Queſtion was, forſmuch as the Fee-ſimple was expreſſed in the premiſſes of the Deed, If the Limitation in the Habendum for years be repugnant and contrary to the premiſſes? And it was Reſolved, That the Habendum was not repugnant to the premiſſes. And in this caſe, theſe differences were agreed for Law: When things take their eſſence and effect by delivery of the Deed, and which lye in grant without other ceremony, there ſuch a Limitation to one and his heirs, Habendum for life or years is void. The ſame Law, If a Seignory be granted to one and his heirs, Habendum to the Grantee for years, the Habendum is void; but when to an Eſtate limited in the premiſſes of the Deed, a Ceremony is requiſite to the eſſence and perfection of it: and to the Eſtate limited by the Habendum, nothing is requiſite but onely the delivery of the Deed, (as in the principal caſe) there although that the Habendum be of leſſer Eſtate then is mentioned in the premiſſes, the Habendum ſhall ſtand. And therefore it was holden to be a good Leaſe in the principal Caſe. Note, in that Caſe a difference, between an Eſtate in the premiſſes of a Deed implyed, and an Eſtate expreſſed: As if A. grant a Rent to B. generally, the ſame by Implication is an eſtate for life: but if the Habendum be for years, the ſame Qualifies the generality, and implication of the premiſſes of the Deed. 2. It was Reſolved in the principall caſe, that theſe words, To the heirs of B. upon the conſideration of the whole Indenture, was void: and both Leſſees had a good eſtate for years; and if Livery had been made, the ſame ſhould not change their Eſtate. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in C.B. Cook 6. Part, 23. Baldwins Caſe.

13. Tenant for life, the remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred: Tenant for life granted Tenemento prædict. to C. Habendum Tenement. prædict. from the Feaſt of St. Michael following for life, the Leſſee for years attorned: C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will; to whom the Tenant for life levied a Fine come ceo, &c. he in the remainder Entred: In this caſe (amongſt other Points), It was Reſolved, That the Grant to C. was void; for that an Eſtate of Freehold cannot begin in futuro: And that the Habendum in this caſe is not repugnant to the premiſſes; for no certain eſtate is contained in the premiſſes of the Deed, but generally the Land given and granted, which might be qualified by the Habendum to an Eſtate for years, or at Will: For the Office of the premiſſes of a Deed of Feoffment, is to expreſs the Grantor, Grantee, and the thing granted; and the Office of the Habendum is to limit the Eſtate, ſo as the general implication of the Eſtate which ſhall paſſe by Conſtruction of Law of the premiſſes, is alwayes controlled and qualified by the Habendum: As a Leaſe to two, Habendum to the one for life, the remainder to the other for life, ſhall alter the general Implication of Joynt-Tenancy: And although the Habendum be void, yet no Eſtate ſhall paſſe by implication of Law, againſt the expreſſe Limitation of the party. Mich. 49 Eliz. Cook 2. Part, 55. Bucklers Caſe. Mich. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Hodge and Croſſes Caſe, adjudged acc.

14. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was, A man made a Leaſe of Sextens Meadow to A. for 10 years, and of Cheeſe Meadow to B. for 20 years: Afterwards by Indenture reciting both the Leaſes, he made a Leaſe to another of both for 40 years, to begin after the end or determination of the ſaid ſeverall Leaſes made to A. and B: The former Leaſe of Sextens Meadow ended, and the Leaſe of Cheeſe-Meadow continueth; and when the laſt Leaſe as to Sextens-Meadow in Queſtion ſhall begin, is the Queſtion? And if it ſhall not begin till the Leaſe of Cheeſe-Meadow be ended, then the Plaintiff hath entred before his time; for the former Leaſe of Cheeſe-Meadow hath yet Continuance. But if the Habendum in the later Leaſe, ſhall be taken reſpectivè, or diſtributivè, reddendo ſingula ſingulis; ſo that when the Leaſe of Sextens Meadow determineth, the new Term for 40 years ſhall therein begin; then Judgment ought to be for the Plaintiff. In this caſe it was Reſolved and adjudged, That the Habendum in the later Leaſe ſhall be taken reſpectivè; that is to ſay, the Leaſe of Sextens Meadow, to the Leſſee for 40 years ſhall begin preſently after the end of the firſt Leaſe thereof made; for that every Deed ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt the Grantor, and moſt beneficiall for the Grantee; and it is more beneficiall for the Leſſee to have the Leaſe of Sextens Meadow to begin preſently after the firſt Leaſe made, then to tarry till the Leaſe of Cheeſe-Meadow be ended. Mich. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 7. Juſtice Windhams Caſe.

15. The Queen ſeized of the Mannor of Sutton Galeres in the County of York, leaſed the ſame to H. B. for 21 years, who demiſed divers ſmall parcels thereof for years: And afterwards, the Queen reciting the ſaid Letters Patents made, and in Conſideration of a ſurrender of all his Eſtate, Term and Intereſt, granted the ſaid Mannor to the ſaid H. B, Habendum à Die Confectionis Litterarum Patentium, for 3. Lives. And in this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Grant was void, becauſe that the Queen was deceived in the Conſideration: For all the Eſtate and Term demiſed to the ſaid H. B. by the Queen, was not ſurrendred according to the Conſideration, and it was a ſurrender but in ſhew, and not in ſubſtance. 2. It was Reſolved, That when the Grant made to H. B, Habendum à die Confectionis, That the day of the Letters Patents themſelves was excluded; for, that (a) or (ab) is taken excluſivè. 3. Reſolved, That an Eſtate of Freehold could not commence at a day to come, becauſe he cannot make a preſent Livery to a future Eſtate; and an Eſtate for life cannot paſſe without Livery: and therefore the Leaſe granted by the Letters Patents, which amount to a Livery in Law, cannot begin at a day to come: For if the Freehold paſſe preſently by the Letters Patents from a day to come, then the Queen ſhould have a particular Intereſt or Term without a Donour or Leſſor, againſt the Rules of the Common-Law. Trin. 39 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cook 5. Part, Barwicks Caſe, 94.

16. A Biſhop made a Leaſe of a Mannor to A. and B. for 60 years, without Impeachment of Waſte, rendring Rent, Provided, That if the ſaid ſaid A. and B. dyed within the ſaid Term, that preſently after deceſſum eorundem A. et B. et diviſus eorum vivent. that it ſhould be lawful for the Biſhop and his Succeſſors to re-enter: A dyed; B. ſurvived; The Biſhop dyed, The Succeſſor Leaſed the Mannor to C, Habendum cum, poſt, ſive per mortem ſuſum redd. or forfeiture prædict. B, it ſhould be void for 60 years, which is confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, and afterwards granted the Reverſion to D. in Fee; the Tenant attorned, and after B. dyed: the ſecond Leſſee dyed, and his Intereſt came to the Plaintiff. It was Reſolved, That the ſecond Leaſe did veſt preſently in Intereſt, and did not depend upon contingency to take effect in poſſeſſion, or at the end of the firſt Term, if by none of the three former means, the firſt Leaſe became void in the mean time. And therefore it was Reſolved, That if a man maketh a Leaſe for years to begin after the ſurrender, forfeiture, determination, or end of a former Leaſe, The Leſſee hath not Election to have the ſecond Leaſe, either upon ſurrender or forfeiture, or end of the firſt Leaſe, which he ſhall pleaſe; but, which of them ſhall firſt happen, the ſecond Leaſe, which before did conſiſt in Intereſt, ſhall begin in poſſeſſion. 2. Reſolved, That when the Leaſe of the King is doubtfull if it ſhall be good, or not, and another is to take a Leaſe of the ſame Lands, The Courſe is, to make the Habendum to begin after the end or determination of the firſt Leaſe for ſo many years; and theſe Leaſes are good and effectual, a fortiori in the caſe of a common perſon. And therefore if A. reciting that B. hath a Leaſe for years, demiſeth the Land to C. for years, to begin after the end or determination of the firſt Leaſe (and in truth, there is not any former Leaſe in eſſe) the Leaſe to B. ſhall begin preſently. Trin. 3 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 34. The Biſhop of Bath's Caſe.

17. The King by his Letters Patents, granted the Office of his Park, called Clipſon Park, to A. for his life; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted the Herbage and Pawnage of the ſaid Park to A. for life: And afterwards the King by other Letters Patents, renting the Eſtate of the ſaid A, granted to B. Officium prædict. Cuſtodis Parci prædict. vocat. C. Park, for his life, quam cito per mortem, ſurſum reddit. forisfact. aliquo modo vacaverit, with all Fees; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted to B, the Herbage and Pawnage for his life (without ſhewing when the Eſtate of the Herbage or Pawnage ſhall begin) adeo plene et integrè, prout prædict. A. habuit, tenuit, ſive gauviſus fuit. The Queſtion was, If the ſaid Grant of the ſaid Herbage and Pawnage to B. was good, or not? And it was adjudged, That the grant of the Herbage and Pawnage was good. And amongſt other things in this caſe, It was Reſolved, That there was not any incertainty in the ſaid Grant of the ſaid Herbage and Pawnage when it ſhould take effect in poſſeſſion, for the ſame ſhall begin when the firſt Grant ſhall be ended, or determined: and although the ſame may be determined by death, ſurrender, or forfeiture, yet it can determine but once; and when which of them ſhall firſt happen, the Grant ſhall begin. And in that caſe, this Caſe was put; The King granted a Mannor to B. and his heirs, in the premiſſes of the Deed, Habendum the ſaid Mannor to B. and his Aſſigns, the Fee of the Mannor ſhall paſſe, and the omitting of the words, Heirs, in the Habendum, ſhall not overthrow that which was certain, in the premiſſes; and the Grant of the King ſhall be conſtrued ſecundum intentionem et non in deceptionem Regis. Auditor Kings Caſe. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Roger Earl of Rutlands Caſe. Cook 8. Part, 55.

18. An Abbot and Covent made two ſeverall Leaſes of two ſeverall parcels of Lands, to two ſeveral perſons for 31 years by Indenture, both Leaſes to begin at one time; The Succeſſor reciting both the Leaſes, made a new Leaſe of both the ſaid parcels to another, in hæc verba, Noveritis nos prædict. Abbatem et Conventum, dictis 31. annis finitis Conceſſiſe omnia præmiſſa to the ſaid other perſon, Habendum, à Confectione præſentium (dicto termino finito) uſq; ad finem 31. annorum tunc immediate ſequent. And the words, à die Confectionis, were drawn through with a line by the Leſſee, but yet remained legible; and if this Leaſe ſhould take effect, to begin the term of 31 years after the end of the firſt 31 years, or immediately after the making of the Indenture, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That it ſhould take effect in poſſeſſion at the end of the former Term, and not before: and the words, à die Confectionis præſentium, was but a Declaration of the firſt ſentence: and if it ſhould not be ſo, the Leſſee ſhould have but a ſhort term in the premiſſes, which was not the intent of the parties: And for the Indenture it ſelf, It was their Opinion, That it had loſt its force, by the drawing of the line through the words, although it was not in any place materiall, it being done by the Leſſee himſelf. Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer 261.

4. Where

4. Where in pleading, a man ſhall ſay generally, Not his Deed; or plead the ſpeciall matter, and conclude ſo, Not his Deed; where not: And where Deeds pleaded, muſt be ſhewed; Where not.

1. IN Debt upon an Obligation, The Defendant ſaid, that he ſealed the ſaid Obligation, and delivered the ſame to the Plaintiff as an Eſcrowle ſafely to be kept, to be his Deed upon Conditions performed; And ſo it is not his Deed untill, &c. and averred, that the Conditions were not performed; And the Opinion of the Juſtices then was, That the Plaintiff ſhould not maintain an Action upon the Bond, untill, &c. See 43 E. 3. Br. Conditions 35. 27 H. 8. Dyer 35. But ſee now Cook 4. Part, 137. in Thorowgood's Caſe, That an Obligation cannot be delivered to the party himſelf, as an Eſcrowle, but it ſhall be his Deed preſently.

2. In Debt brought upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleaded Non eſt factum generally; and gave in Evidence, that upon an Agreement made between him and the Plaintiff, he paid the Plaintiff the mony, and that thereupon the Plaintiff pulled off the Seal from the ſaid Obligation; and ſo he ought not to be charged for that Debt, upon which the Plaintiff did demur: It is there a Quære, if the plea were good or not; But ſee now, Cook 5. Part, 119. in Whelpdales Caſe, the ſaid Quære Reſolved, That he cannot plead Non eſt factum; but he ought to plead the ſpeciall matter, and ſo conclude; and ſo it is not his Deed.

3. A. brought an Action of Debt as Executor upon an Obligation made, and dated 12. Jan. The Defendant ſaid, That the firſt of May he cauſed the Deed to be written, and delivered it as his Deed to A, to be delivered to the Teſtator, and A. profered it, and the Teſtator refuſed it, ſo not his Deed, upon which the Plaintiff did demur; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for it cannot be intended the ſame Obligation upon which the Action is brought; And it was holden in that Caſe, That the refuſall of it, did not make it to be no Deed, but that at another time, he might have accepted of it, and therefore in this Caſe, the Defendant ought to have pleaded the ſpeciall matter, and demanded Judgment of the Action. Trin. 1 Eliz. Dyer, 1 7. Towes Caſe. But if he had delivered it to A. as an Eſcrowle, to be delivered as his Deed; there, upon refuſal of it, the Defendant might plead Non eſt factum. See Cook 5. Part, 119. acc.

4. W. S. was bound in an Obligation to one J. D. and in the Obligation, he was named J. S. which was miſtaken: W. S. perceiving himſelf to be miſ-named in the Bond, ſealed and delivered it as his Deed; In Debt afterwards brought by J. D. againſt him upon this Obligation by the name of W. S. alias dict. J. S, The Defendant pleaded, That it was not his Deed, And if he ſhould be charged upon this Obligation, was the doubt; a Verdict being found for the Plaintiff. And the Opinion of the Juſtices of the Kings Bench was, That the Plaintiff ſhould not recover upon that Verdict. But it was ſaid by them, That it had been better that he had brought his Action by the name of J. S. as he was named in the Obligation; and then if he had appeared, and pleaded ut ſupra, that it was not his deed, he ſhould be concluded by the Obligation. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer 280. Stebbolts Caſe.

5. A. and B. were joyntly bounden in a ſingle Bill to J. S: B. dyed; J. S. brought Debt upon the Bill againſt A: The Defendant pleaded, That he ought not to be charged upon the ſame Bill; becauſe as to part of the money, B. paid it to the Plaintiff at ſuch a place in L: and for the reſidue of the money, that he himſelf paid the ſame to the Plaintiff at another time, which the Plaintiff did accept of in full ſatisfaction, and delivered the Bill to him in the name of an Acquittance of the ſame debt; by virtue of which, the Bill loſt his force and effect; and that afterwards the Plaintiff with force and arms took the Bill from him: and ſo he ſaid, That the ſaid Bill is not his Deed. It was holden by the Court, That this was no good plea; but he who pleads payment in the ſame County, muſt rely upon the debet: And a Bill Obligatory, though it be ſimple, cannot be diſcharged but by a Deed of as high a nature. And it was holden, That the Redelivery of the Bill to the Defendant, could not be an Acquittance, becauſe it wanted words of an Acquittance, or to that purpoſe. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer 51. Cotterells Caſe.

6. A Charter of Feoffment was made to 4, and Seiſin was delivered to 3. of them, in the name of all: & after the Seiſin was given, the 4th came, & ſaw the Deed, and ſaid by word, That he would have nothing in the Land, nor agree to the Deed, but diſagree. It was adjudged, That this diſagreement to the Deed by word in pais, ſhould not deveſt the Freehold out of him, which was veſted in him by the Deed, and the Livery made upon it. 13 R. 2. Cook 3. Part, 26. in Butler and Bakers Caſe, acc.

7. In Treſpaſſe for taking and carrying away four Aſhes, in a place called Cave cloſe, The Defendant fendant ſaid, That one J. P. was ſeiſed of the Cloſe in which, And by Indenture, 21 Eliz. demiſed the ſame to J. D. and others, inter alia excepting the Wood, and Underwood, there growing, To have for the life of one A. P. and Covenanted, That it ſhould be lawfull for the Leſſees and their Aſſigns, to take neceſſary Firebote, Houſebote, &c. to be expended upon the premiſes. J. P. dyed, A. P. ſurvived him, and took to Husband J. N. and that the Leſſees Aſſigned over their Eſtate to the ſaid A. and that the Defendant as her ſervant, took the four Aſhes for neceſſary Houſebote, to be expended upon the premiſes: and averred the life of A. It was thereupon demurred, becauſe he juſtifies by force of a Covenant in an Indenture, and doth not ſhew the Indenture; it being a thing which cannot be Granted without Deed: It was ſaid for the Defendant, that, in regard that he juſtifies onely as a ſervant, and doth not claim any Title, that he need not ſhew the Deed of Covenant. But all the Court held the Plea to be ill; For a Servant juſtifying under the Intereſt of his Maſter, and medling with the Title, ought to ſhew the Deed, for it is the ſubſtance of the Title, and without ſhewing it, he cannot juſtify, and it is his folly to juſtify under one who neither could nor would ſhew the Deed. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Purfrey and Grymes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 291, 292.

8. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant juſtified and pleaded, That the King was ſeiſed of a Rectory in Fee, and demiſed the ſame to the Plaintiff for life (without ſhewing the Letters Patents to the Court): And that the Plaintiff demiſed the ſame to J. S. for eight years, if he lived ſo long; and that he as Servant to J. S. took the Tythes, upon which the Plaintiff did demur. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, one was, If the Letters Patents ought to be ſhewed by him who juſtifies as Servant to him who hath but parcell of the Eſtate of him to whom the Letters Patents were made: In which Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That he who is party, or privy in Eſtate, or Intereſt, or he who juſtifies in the right of him who is party or privy, ſhall plead a Deed, although he who is party, or privy, doth not claim but parcell of the Originall Eſtate; That it may appear to the Court if it be legall or not; And alſo becauſe it may appear to the Jury, that it is ſealed, It ought to be ſhewed in Court; But upon great extremity, as in Caſe where the Evidences are burnt by a Fire, there, upon the generall Iſſue pleaded, a Deed may be proved upon an Evidence to the Jury by Witneſſes, without ſhewing the ſame in Court. 2. Reſolved, That where a man is a ſtranger to a Deed, and doth not claim any thing compriſed in the Grant, nor any thing out of it, nor doth any thing in the right of the Grantee, there he may plead the Patent, or Deed without ſhewing the ſame, As if the Tenant plead a Grant of the Seignory, with an Avowment. 3. Reſolved, That the not ſhewing of the Letters Patents in the principall Caſe to the Court, was matter of ſubſtance, and not of form. 4. Reſolved, That where an Eſtate is created by Act in Law, and not by the Act of the party, there he ſhall not ſhew the Deed, his Guardian, Tenant in Dower, Tenant by Statute Merchant, Staple Elegit; Yet Tenant by the Curteſy, ought to ſhew a Releaſe made to his Wife, becauſe the ſame doth belong unto him, and he had it in his power. Cook 10. Part, 88. Dr. Leyfield's Caſe.

9. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared upon a Promiſe to the Inteſtate, and that the Inteſtate dyed, and that Adminiſtration of his goods was committed to him; but did not ſay that he produced his Letters of Adminiſtration in Court. And upon Iſſue of Non-Aſſumpſit, it being found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, that the Plaintiff could not have judgment, becauſe he produced not in Court his Letters of Adminiſtration. And of that Opinion was the whole Court, for it is the ſubſtance of the Action, that he be a ſufficient Adminiſtrator, and though he hath pleaded ſo, yet he muſt ſhew it to the Court, that it may appear to them to be ſo as he hath pleaded, as upon a Plea of a Deed, the Deed muſt be ſhewed in Court. Trin. 12 Jac. Cape and Lewyn's Caſe. Hob. 38.

10. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt the Sheriff of Oxon, and the Plaintiff declared, When upon an Action of Debt brought by him as Executor of J. S. againſt J. D. the Defendant had him in Cuſtody upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, that he ſuffered him to eſcape, not ſhewing the Teſtament, and notwithſtanding Judgment was given for the Plaintiff: But this Caſe differs from the Caſe in the Section next before, for that the Eſcape was a wrong to the Executor himſelf, though it be true, that the damages to be recovered, ſhall be Aſſets in his hands, for ſo they ſhall be in all poſſeſſory Actions, and the producing of his Letters in his firſt Action is ſomewhat. Trin. 12 Jac. Barret and Winchcombes Caſe. Hob. 38.

11. Husband and Wife brought an Action againſt J. S. the Defendant pleaded, That J. D. was ſeiſed, and dyed ſeiſed, &c. and that the Lands came to him as Heir. The Plaintiff replyed, that before &c. one B. was ſeiſed, and leaſed the ſame to one M. who dyed Inteſtate, and the Adminiſtration was committed to the Wife, and traverſed the dying ſeiſed; being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Plaintiff ſhould have ſhewed the Letters of Adminiſtration;

tion; But the Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff, because his possession which is affirmed by the Verdict, was his Title, and the Administration was but an Inducement to the traverse. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Chester and St. John's Case. Hob. 218.

12. In a Quare Impedit brought by A. against Sir John Shelley, the Bishop of N. and J. S. Clark, The Plaintiff declared that King E. the fourth, the eighth of his Reign, did Grant to J. M. by his Letters Patents, Quod ipse, Hæredes, et assignati sui habebunt omnia et omnimoda bona et Catalla quorumcunque felonum, &c. ac omnia bona et Catalla quæcunque nuper Regi, hered. et succ. suis, quocunque modo, &c. forisfact. ei forisfaciend. and then conveyes the Liberties to him for years, and the Advowson to Sir John Shelley, who Granted to one T. S. the next Avoydance, who was outlawed for Debt, and the Church became void, and so it belonged to him to present; upon which Declaration, the Defendant Sir John Shelley, confessed the Action, and the Bishop demurred in Law, his Counsell conceiving that the Grant of the Liberties did extend onely to the goods and Chattells of persons, Outlawed onely for Felony. In this Case many points were stood upon, and Resolved: Amongst which, one was, If the Plaintiff were to produce and shew forth, the Grant of the Advowson and next Avoydance; And as to that point, It was Resolved, That the Deed of the Grant of the Avoydance to Shelley, was not to be shewed by the Plaintiff, he being in the Post, and not privy to the Grant in any wise. 2. Resolved, That the Advowson had such a Locality in the place where the Church was, that it accrued to the Plaintiff, whersoever the Deed of Grant was, or the Grantee himself at the time of the Outlawry. Mich. 17 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2710. Holland and Shelleys Case. Hob. 303.

13. The Lord by Escheat, although that his Estate be created by Law, shall not plead a Condition to defeat a Freehold, without shewing of it; because the Deed doth belong unto him, and therefore it is presumed that he hath it in his Custody. So likewise a Tenant by the Curtesy, shall not plead a Condition made to his Wife, and a Re-entry for a Condition broken, without shewing the Deed: for albeit his Estate be created by the Law, yet the Law doth presume that he hath the possession of the Deeds belonging to his Wife. Cook 1. Part, 1. Institutes, 226.

5. Where Deeds, after they are pleaded, shall remain in Court; and where they shall be delivered out of Court: Where not; Where damned, where not.

1. IN Debt brought upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleaded, That it was not his Deed, and the Deed was brought into the Court, and left with one of the Clerks of the Court; and they being at Issue upon it, before the day of appearance of the Enquest, by negligence of the Clerk who had the Custody of it, the Ratts had eaten off the Labell from the Obligation. It was by the Justices given in charge to the Jury, That they should find that the same was the Deed of the Defendant, at the time of the Plea pleaded, although the Seal of it was eaten off by negligence, whilest the Deed did remain in Court; and the Jury found it to be the Deed of the Defendant accordingly. 31 H. 8. Dyer, 59. Harwood's Case.

2. In Debt upon an Obligation, the Case was, A man was bound to pay 20 l. viz. 10 l. at Michaelmas, and 10 l. at Christmas, he tendered the 10 l. at Michaelmas, and it was in Pollards, which after was abused, which was refused; and he failed of payment of the other 10 l. upon which the Action was brought: And upon the tender pleaded, &c. Judgment was given in that Case, that because it was the default of the Plaintiff himself, that he received not the 10 l. upon the first payment, that it should be paid to him in Pollards, but for the second payment of the 10 l. it should be paid to him in Sterling mony, with the Damages; and the Deed being in Court, It was adjudged, That it should be Cancelled. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 82.

3. In an Ejectione firmæ, The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. was seised, and by Deed Indented, and enrolled, quod quidem scriptum hic in Curia profert. bargained and sold the Land to J. D. and his Heirs, who made to him a Lease for years, The Plaintiff in his Replication confessed the Bargain and Sale, but said, In eodem scripto Indentato. There was a Proviso, That if the said J. D. did not pay 300 l. to J. S. such a day, that then the said bargain and Sale should be void, and that he did not pay it; And if the Plaintiff should have advantage of the said Indenture without shewing the same in the Court, was the Question. In that Case, It was Resolved, That when any Deed is shewed in Court, The Deed by Judgment of of Law, remains in Court all the Term, in which it is ſhewed; And when the ſame remains in Court, any party the ſame Term may take benefit of it, though he have it not in poigne. But at the end of the Term, there is no Officer appointed by Law to keep the Deed, and then the party who ſhewed it, ſhall have the keeping of it; And when the Deed in another Term, is in the keeping of the party, and not in Court, there the Defendant ſhall not have Oyer of it: And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, there is a difference between Letters Patents, and other matters of Record, which of their own nature are of Record, and matters in fait. For although, That a Deed be enrolled of Record, one cannot plead it in the the ſame Court, without ſhewing of it; But if a Deed be pleaded, and ſhewed forth, and denyed; then the ſame for ever remains in Court, For if it ſhall be found not his Deed, it ſhall be damned: And if the Deed be denyed in Court, by which it remains there, the ſame Deed may be pleaded in another Court without ſhewing of it. Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Wymarkes Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 74.

4. Note, In Antient times, when a man recovered upon an Obligation, It was holden, That the Deed ſhould be damned, otherwiſe by the folly of the party, he might be charged again upon the ſame Bond. 17 E. 3. 24. In which Caſe was obſerved, the Contentation and quietneſſe of men in old times, that when Judgment was given againſt them by courſe of Law, they were ſatisfied with it, without prying into the proceedings, or tryall, or inſufficiency of pleading to find Error, to enforce the party to a new Suit; but after Writs of Error and Attaints became frequent, the Judges thought it dangerous to cancell the Deed, either where the Plaintiff recovered, or was barred by the Judgment, for that in both Caſes the Judgment might be reverſed by Error, or Attaint. Cook 6. Part, 46. in Higgins Caſe.

6. Where a Deed may be uſed in Pleading, or otherwiſe as a Grant, Releaſe, or Confirmation, where not; And where a man ſhall plead a Deed, as a Feoffment, Grant, Releaſe, or Confirmation, by the Name compriſed in the Deed, though he hath another name, Where not.

1. IN an Action of Treſpaſſe brought, the Defendant pleaded in bar, That the Plaintiff within age, by Indenture made a Feoffment to the Father of the Defendant, rendring Rent, and that after by Indenture, he confirmed Tenementa prædict. &c. Habend. Tenementa prædict. ſibi et hæredibus, and that his Father died ſeiſed, and that the Land diſcended to him, upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was holden by the Court, that the Feoffment which he pleaded, was void by his own ſhewing, for being by Letter of Attorney of an Enfant, it is a Diſſeiſin. Alſo he pleaded, That the Plaintiff confirmed Tenementa prædict. Habend. Tenementa prædict. and that is not true, that the Land ſhould paſſe here; but where a confirmation enures by way of enlargement. See Mich. 2. Ma. Dyer, 109. Rugwayes Caſe.

2. The Queen had a Rent of 20 l. out of certain Lands, whereof the Husband and Wife were Joynt-Tenants, and Gave, Granted, Demiſed, Releaſed, and Renounced the Rent to the Husband and his Heirs; the Husband deviſed the Rent; It was holden by the Lord Dyer, That that ſhall be a Declaration of the Husband of his Election, to have the Deed ennure as a Grant, and not by way of Extinguiſhment. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 319.

3. Leſſee for years rendring Rent, the Reverſion was granted for life, the Remainder over, the Grantee releaſed all his Right to him in the Remainder; He in the Remainder, Granted the Reverſion in Fee, the Tenant for life alſo Releaſed to his Grantee, ut ſupra. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Releaſes were void, becauſe there are not words in them of ſurrender: Yet it is there a Quære, If the ſecond Releaſe ſhall not ennure as an Attornment to make the Remainder to paſſe. Paſc. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 251.

4. Husband and Wife, and A. purchaſed Lands to them, and to the Heirs of the Husband, and A.; A. releaſed to the Husband without words of enlargement of his eſtate, The Husband and Wife made a Leaſe of the whole Land, rendring Rent, the Husband dyed; it was adjudged, That the Heir of the Husband ſhould have but a moyety of the Rent, for the Releaſe did enure to the Husband onely, and not to the Wife, and that there needed not any words of enlargement, becauſe he had a Fee, but contrary if the Releaſe had been to the Wife, who had an eſtate but for life. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer 263.

5. A Corporation is incorporated by the name Majoris et Burgenſium Burgi Domini Regis de Lynn Regis; And a Grant is made to them, that they ſhall be called by the ſame name onely, and not by any other name: An Obligation is made to them by the name Majoris et Burgenſium de Lynn Regis, leaving out the words Burgi Regis out of the Obligation; Yet it was Reſolved, That the Obligation was good; And it is not needfull That the name of the Corporation be in Grants and Conveyances idem ſyllabis ſive verbis, but it is ſufficient if it be idem re et ſenſu; And in this Caſe the variance is onely in Syllables and words, and not ſenſu, et reipſâ: And it was holden, that in pleading, or in a ſpeciall Verdict, If by expreſſe Averment, or by the finding of the Jury it ſhall appear to the Court, that the true name of the Corporation, in the name, in the Leaſe, Grant, or Obligation, be all one in effect, they ſhall much enforce the matter, although in the words there ſeems to be ſome difference. Mich. 10 Jac. in C.B. The Mayor and Burgeſſes of Lynn's Caſe. Cook 10. Part, 122, 123.

7. More Concerning the Validity, Legality, Conſtruction, and pleadings of them; and Where they ſhall be void, becauſe fraudulently made; or for incertainty, or other defect in them; and, Where not; and what things muſt paſſe by Deed; What not.

1. ERror of a Judgment in the County of Flint. The Caſe was, A. gave Lands to B. and his Wife; Habendum, to the Husband and Wife, to the uſe of them, and the Heirs of their two bodies; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of C. and his Heirs; And, whether the Husband and Wife have an Eſtate Tail, or but for their lives, was the Queſtion. It was objected, that the Eſtate out of which the uſe ſhould riſe, was but for their lives, and the uſe cannot make the Eſtate longer then the Limitation. For where Lands are given to two for their Lives, to the uſe of another for his life, if the Leſſees dye, the uſe to him to whom it is limitted, is determined: But the Court held, there is a difference, where an Eſtate is limitted to one, and the uſe to a ſtranger, there the uſe ſhall not be more then the Eſtate, out of which it is derived; But when it is limitted to two, Habendum, to the uſe of the Heirs of their bodies, This is no limitation of the uſe, but a Limitation of the Eſtate, and the Heirs of their bodies, and they are in by the Common Law, and ſhall take, as a Limitation to them, and the heirs of their bodies, with a Remainder over, that the Deed might be conſtrued, according to the intent of him that made it. Paſc. 6 Car. in B. R. Jenkins and Young's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 167.

2. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, That an Abbot, 31 H. 8. made a Leaſe for Octoginta et treſdecem annos; And whether in this Caſe treſdecem annos, ſhall be thirty, or thirteen years, was the Queſtion: It was holden by the Court, that it ſhall be taken according to the Common ſpeech, for thirteen years, for tredecem, and treſdecim are all one, and it is ſo Writ Euphoniæ gratia; and it being one intire word, cannot be otherwiſe taken, but if it were written as ſeverall words, it ſhould be otherwiſe. And it being after Octoginta annos, it ſhall be rather ſo intended, for if he meant it for thirty years, it ſhould have bin 110, years, wherefore they agreed it to be for 93 years, and no more, Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Hopewell and Starkin Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 281.

3. Debt upon an Obligation, dated 24 Junii, 9 Car. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff 22 Feb. 10 Caroli, releaſed unto him all Actions, and demands which he had, &c. The Plaintiff demands Oyer of the Releaſe, which was a Releaſe of all Actions untill the day of the Releaſe; And for this miſpriſion, the Plea was adjudged ill, and the Plaintiff had Judgment. Mich. 11 Car. in B. R. Digby and White's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 308.

4. In Error to reverſe a Judgment in Cheſter, the Caſe was, J. Earl of Oxon, and E. his Wife, were ſeiſed of the mannor of B. in Fee, and had Iſſue John. Afterwards J. Earl of O. by Indenture, let the ſaid Mannor to A. S. for 30 years: E. dyed, and after J. Earl of O. dyed; John the ſon by Indenture, reciting the Leaſe to A. S. to be dated 20. Feb. 2 H. 8. let the ſaid Mannor to J.S. Habendum, after the end, ſurrender, or forfeiture of the ſaid A. S. for 31 years: Then it was found, That after the making of the ſaid Indenture, the word 28 H. 8. were raſed and made, 27 H. 8. and afterwards 35 H. 8. the ſaid John Earl

Earl of Oxon, by Indenture betwixt him and J. D. reciting the Leaſe of A. S. to be 27 H. 8. granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Mannor and Premiſes to the ſaid J. D. Habendum the ſaid Mannor and Premiſes, from ſuch time as the ſame ſhall revert, or come to the Poſſeſſion of the ſaid Earl, or his Heirs, by ſurrender, forfeiture, or otherwiſe, for 60 years: 4 Eliz. John dyed ſeiſed, and the Mannor is diſcended to his ſon Ed. Earl of Oxon. That he by Indenture, 14 July, 15 Eliz. reciting whereas John his Father by Indenture, 30 July, 35 H. 8. demiſed to J. S. the ſaid Mannor of R. for 30 years from the end, and determination of the Leaſe made to A. S. which was dated 10. Feb. 28 H. 8. and re-granted the Leaſe to J. D. for 60 years, to begin after the expiration, ſurrender, or forfeiture (omitting the words, or otherwiſe) of the Leaſe of A. S. The ſaid Ed. Earl, demiſed the ſaid Mannor to J. S. Habendum from the end of the ſaid Leaſes, for 50 years; The Queſtion was, whether any of theſe Leaſes to J. D. or J. S. be good, or were in Eſſe at the time, by Sir Randall Crew: which Leaſe was made 12. Aug. 4 Car. Sir Randall Crew claimed the Inheritance, from the Earl of Oxon; and J. G. claymed the Leaſes from J. S. and J. D. And Judgment being given for the Plaintiff in Cheſter; Error was brought. This Caſe was argued by all the Juſtices; And it was agreed by them all, That the Judgment in Cheſter was well given, and ſhould be affirmed. The firſt Queſtion was, Whether the Leaſe to A. S. was determined after the death of John Earl of Oxon, who was ſeiſed thereof in the right of his Wife; and he Tenant by the Curteſy; or onely determinable by the entry of the Heir. And all the Juſtices agreed, That it was determined by the death of John Earl of Oxon, Tenant by the Curteſy, and then A. S. was but Tenant at ſufferance, and the Freehold was in the Earl of Oxon, and no Reverſion. The ſecond point was, When the Leaſe to J. S. began; It was Reſolved, That it began preſently at the time of the ſealing, becauſe no ſuch Leaſe was in Eſſe to A. S. The third point was, the Leaſe to J. S. being raſed in a materiall point, after the Sealing and delivery thereof, whether it be a cauſe to make the Leaſe void; Jones and Berkley Juſtices ſaid, That the Deed was void by the raſure, but the Leaſe was good, and remains in Eſſe, notwithſtanding the raſure, and took a difference when an Eſtate loſeth his Eſſence by a Deed, viz. where it may not have an Eſſence without a Deed, there if the Deed be raſed, after the delivery, it determines the Eſtate, and makes it void, but when an Eſtate may have an Eſſence without a Deed, there although it be created by Deed, and the Deed be afterwards raſed by the Party or a Stranger, it ſhall not deſtroy the Eſtate, although it deſtroy the Deed. A 3d point was, Whether the Leaſe to J. D. were good or void. It was Reſolved, That it was void; For the Grant in the premiſes, is onely of a Reverſion, and it was the Judgment of the parties, to paſſe the Reverſion onely expectant upon the former Leaſes; And when there is not any ſuch Leaſe, it cannot paſſe the Lands in poſſeſſion: And although the Habendum is to have and to hold the Land, that ſhall not paſſe the Land in poſſeſſion, for it is intended he ſhould have the Lands ſo returning; And Deeds are to be conſtrued, that they ſhall paſſe things according to the intent of the parties, and here the demiſe and Grant is onely of a Reverſion; and the Habendum ſhall not enlarge it contrary to the Grant. Hill. 10 Car. in the Exchequer Chamber. Miller and John's and Manwearing's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 289, 290.

5. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, One gave Lands to Husband and Wife, and their Heirs, Habendum to them and the Heirs of their bodies, the Remainder to them, and the ſurvivor of them for life, To hold of the chief Lord, with a Warranty to them and their Heirs; Whether it were a tail, and a Fee expectant, or onely an Eſtate tail, was the Queſtion, It was adjudged, That it was an Eſtate tail, with a Fee expectant; For, firſt, It is given in Fee, and the Habendum, though it limits the Eſtate in tail, doth not limit the Remainder to another, and this is enforced by the Tenure limitted of the Lord Paramount, which cannot be, if it were an Eſtate tail; And the Office of Judges is ſo to expound a Deed, that all the words of the Deed be effectuall if it may be. Paſc. 16 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 476.

6. Ejectione firmæ was brought upon a Leaſe made 1. Jan. 3 Jac. Habendum à Dato Indenturæ prædict. and the Ejectment was the ſame day. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that this Leaſe being à dato Indenturæ prædict. that it is as much as to ſay, from the date, according to Cook 5. Part, 1. Clayton's Caſe. But it was Reſolved, That the date is the time of the delivery, and it differs from the time, or day of the date; wherefore the Ejectment alledged poſtea, the ſame day, is good enough, and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Osborn and Rider's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 135.

7. Covenant upon an Indenture dated 9. Oct. 38 Eliz. The Plaintiff declared, Whereas by Indenture a Charter partie, dated 7. Sept. 38 Eliz. between the Plaintiff and Fr. C. The Plaintiff having hired a Ship of him for a Voyage to D. for Corn; It was agreed betwixt them, that the ſhip ſhould be laden with Corn to D. and to ſail to Legorn; by the ſaid Indenture, in conſideration that the Plaintiff had agreed, That the Defendant ſhould have the moyety of the Corn, quod tunc fuit, or hereafter ſhould be, laden in the ſhip in the ſaid Voyage: The Defendant promiſed to pay the moyety of the mony for the ſaid Corn quod tunc fuit, or afterwards ſhould be laden, &c. and layed, That the 9th of October, 38 Eliz. the ſhip was laden with 60 Laſts of Corn, and for not performance, the Action was brought: The Defendant pleaded, That the Deed was Sealed and delivered, 28. October, 38 Eliz. et quod tunc vel poſtea, there was not any Corn laden there, and traverſed the delivery, 9 Octobris, or at any time after, before the 28th of October, 38 Eliz. upon which it was demurred. It was Reſolved by the Court, in regard the Plaintiff declares upon a Deed dated 9. October, 38 Eliz. It ſhall alwayes be intended to be delivered, and to have its eſſence at that time, and at no other; And if he would afterwards confeſſe it to be delivered at another time, it is a departure from his Declaration; And the word tunc is referred to the time of the Eſſence of the Deed, by the delivery, and not to the date. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Oſley and Sir Baptiſt Hixes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 263, 264.

8. Note, It was Reſolved by the Chief Juſtice, and Chief Baron in the Court of Wards, That upon a Deed of Bargain and ſale for years, of Lands whereof he is in poſſeſſion, and the Bargainee never entred; If afterwards the Bargainor makes a Grant of the Reverſion (reciting his Leaſe) expectant upon it to divers uſes, that it is a good conveyance of the Reverſion, and that the Eſtate was abſolutely veſted in the Leſſee for years by the Statute; and as the uſe was, but not to have Treſpaſſe without Entry, and actuall poſſeſſion. Mich. 18 Jac. in Cur. Ward. Lutwich and Mitton's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 604.

9. A man poſſeſſed of divers Lands within the Mannor of D. ſome for Years, others at Will, others by Copy, and of ſome in Fee, demiſed the whole to another for life, and then levyed a Fine to the Tenant for life, and his Heirs of ſo many Acres, as amounted to the whole Land, and continued the poſſeſſion, and paid the Rent to the Lord five years paſſed. In that Caſe, it was holden, That the Lord was not barred by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines, for the Makers of that Statute did never intend, That ſuch a Fine levyed by fraud and practice of the Tenant for years at Will, or by Copy, which pretend no title to the Inheritance, ſhould be a bar to them of their Inheritance. For by the preamble of the Statute, Fines ought to be of greateſt ſtrength to avoid ſtrifes, and debates; but when ſuch Tenants make a Feoffment by aſſent and Covin, that a Fine ſhould be levyed, this is not to avoid ſtrife, and debate, but to ſtir them up; and therefore that Statute ſhall not intend to eſtabliſh ſuch an Eſtate made and created by ſuch fraud and practice. Cook 3. Part, 77. in Farmer's Caſe.

10. A. is endebted to B. in 100 l, and to C. in 200 l: C. brings Debt againſt him; A. in ſecret makes a general guift to B. by Deed, of all his goods, in ſatisfaction of his debt, and notwithſtanding continueth the poſſeſſion of the ſaid goods: C. recovers againſt A, and hath Judgment; and hath a Scire facias to the Sheriff: The Sheriff coming to levy Execution of the ſaid goods, B. makes Reſcous, and affirms the guift of the goods to be good to him. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the guift was fraudulent, and is within the Statute of 13 Eliz. for here were all the badges of fraud, 1. The guift was general, without exception of things neceſſary. 2. The Donor continued the poſſeſſion of the goods after the guift. 3. It was ſecret, and not delivered amongſt his Neighbours. And, 4. It was dependent the Suit. (2.) It was Reſolved, That although the debt was a true debt, and the Conſideration good, yet it was not good, becauſe it was not made bona fide. And it was holden, That as a guift made upon good Conſideration, unleſſe it be made bona fide, is not within the Proviſo of the Statute; ſo a guift bona fide, if it be not upon good Conſideration, is not within the Act, but it ought to be upon good conſideration and bona fide: And Conſideration of blood or nature onely, is not a good Conſideration within the Statute, for that implyes a Truſt, which implyes a fraud; but the Conſideration within the Statute ought to be a valuable Conſideration. Cook 3. Part, 18. Twines Caſe.

11. A man being Endicted for Recuſancy, intending to flye over Sea, made a guift of all his Leaſes and goods upon feigned Conſiderations, and then fled beyond Sea, and afterwards was Outlawed upon the Endictment: It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the ſame was a fraudulent Conveyance within the Statute of 13 Eliz. And it was Reſolved, That this word (forfeiture) in the Statute, ſhall not extend onely to forfeiture of an Obligation, or the like; but to every thing which by the Law ſhall be forfeited, either to the King, or a Subject. Mich. 36 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Pouncefoot and Blonts Caſe.

12. A man conveyed his Land to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of divers of his Kindred, with power of Revocation after ſuch a Feaſt; and afterwards and before the power of revocation began, he for valuable Conſideration bargained and ſold the Land from his heirs. It was adjudged, That this bargain and ſale was within the remedy of the Statute of 27 Eliz.

Eliz. Cap. 4. of Fraudulent Conveyances: For the Act wills not, that ſuch a voluntary conveyance originally ſubject unto the power of Revocation, ſhall ſtand againſt a purchaſor bona fide for valuable Conſideration. Mich. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Standen and Rollocks Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, in Twynes Caſe.

13. A man makes a Leaſe for years by Covin and Fraud, and afterwards makes another Leaſe bona fide, with a Rent reſerved. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the ſecond Leſſee ſhould not avoid the firſt Leaſe; 1. Becauſe that an Eſtate by fraud ſhall be avoided onely by him who hath a former right. 2. Becauſe that no Purchaſor ſhall avoid a precedent Conveyance made by fraud, but he who is a purchaſor for money, or other valuable Conſideration paid, or given; which words exclude conſideration of nature, or blood. 37 Eliz. in C. B. upton and Baſſetts Caſe.

14. A. by Indenture Covenants with B, for the advancement of ſuch heirs males as well which he hath begotten, as which hereafter he ſhall beget on the body of his wife, before ſuch a Feaſt, to levy a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of the eldeſt Iſſue male of the body of him & his wife begotten, with divers remainders over; and afterwards A. makes a Leaſe of all the Lands for 1000 years, and afterwards levied a Fine accordingly; It was Reſolved in this caſe, although the Iſſue was a purchaſor; yet he was not a purchaſor in the vulgar and common Intendment. 2. That the Conſideration of blood, and naturall affection, was not a good Conſideration, which ſhall be intended a valuable Conſideration within the Statute of 27 Eliz. Cap. 4. Paſc. 32 Eliz. Needham and Beaumonts Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, Twynes Caſe.

15. Debt was brought againſt the ſon and heir, upon an Obligation made by his Father: The Defendant pleaded, That he had nothing by Diſcent. It was found by Verdict, That before the Suit began, the Defendant had made a Feoffment in Fee of all his Lands, to defraud the Plaintiff of his Action; but this fraud was not pleaded: It was adjudged by the Court, That this fraud need not be pleaded ſpecially, but might be given in Evidence, 1. Becauſe the Statute of 13 Eliz. provides generally, That the Eſtate as to Creditors ſhall be void; and Acts of Parliament made for the prevention and ſuppreſſion of Fraud, ought to have a favourable Interpretation. 2. If that matter ought to be pleaded, It would prove miſchievous to Creditors, and would much tend to the maintenance and encreaſe of Fraud and Covin: For Fraud and Covin is ſo privily hatched, and ſo artificially contrived and concealed, that the party grieved hath no means to find out, or know them, and then to force the Plaintiff who is a ſtranger to it, to plead the firſt, and that it was done by fraud, would be miſchievous, and againſt Law and reaſon. Cook 5. Part, 60. Gooches Caſe.

16. In Debt againſt the Adminiſtrator of J. S, the Caſe was; J. S. for 20 l. paid by the Plaintiff, 9 Febr. 2 Car. granted all his goods mentioned in the Schedule annexed to the Deed, and gave poſſeſſion of them by a Pewter diſh, with a Covenant, that He, his Adminiſtrators, &c. ſhould ſolely keep them, and deliver them to the Plaintiff upon his demand, and bound himſelf in 40 l. to the Plaintiff for the performance of that Covenant: A. dyed; The Plaintiff demanded the goods of the Adminiſtrator, who would not deliver them. Whereupon the Plaintiff brought his Action, and in his Declaration ſhewed in ſpecie, what goods were contained in the Schedule: The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 13 Eliz. of Fraudulent Guifts: and ſaid, That J. S. the Inteſtate, 2. Febr. 2 Jac. was endebted to divers perſons in ſeveral ſummes, and ſet forth the perſons and ſums, amounting to 100 l: and 19 Febr. made the Deed of the goods above mentioned, being then of thoſe and other goods poſſeſſed to the value of 80 l, and no more; and that it was made of Fraud and Covin betwixt J. S. and the Plaintiff, to defraud his Creditors; and that J. S. notwithſtanding the guift, uſed and occupied all the goods during his life; and that after his death, adminiſtration was committed to the Defendant. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Defendant had Aſſetts in his hands, and that the guift was made upon good Conſideration. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Defendant's plea: And the demurrer was adjudged to be good for theſe cauſes; 1. Becauſe the Defendant had not averred, That the Debts due to the Creditors were unpaid. 2. Becauſe he did not ſhew, that the debts due to the Creditors, were due by ſpecialties. 3. Becauſe the Defendant ſuppoſed it would be a Deva-ſtavit in him; which it would not be, for that thoſe goods in the Plaintiff's hands would be lyable to the Creditors, as Executor of his own wrong, if the guift were a fraudulent guift. 4. The Defendant is not ſuch a perſon as is enabled by the Statute of 13 Eliz. to plead that plea; for the Statute makes the Deed void as againſt the Creditors, but not againſt the party himſelf, his Executors or Adminiſtrators. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hawes and Reads Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 270.

17. Note: In Evidence to a Jury, It was admitted without Contradiction, That if Judgment in an Action of Debt be given againſt Leſſee for years, and afterwards the Leſſee alieneth his Term, and after the year, the Plaintiff ſueth forth a Scire facias, and hath Execution; The Term is not lyable able to Execution, if the Aſſignment be made bona fide. And in this caſe, It was ſaid by Coke, Chief Juſtice, That if Leſſee for years aſſign over his Term by fraud, to defeat the Execution, and the Aſſignee aſſign it over to a ſtranger bona fide, that, in the hands of the ſecond Aſſignee, it is not lyable to the Execution: And it was then delivered for lawful, That if a man who hath goods but of the value of 30 l, be endebted to two men, ſcil. to the one in 20 l, and to the other in 10 l, and the Debtor aſſigns to him to whom he is endebted 10 l, all his goods to the value of 30 l, to the intent that for the reſidue above the 10 l, that the Debtee ſhould be favourable unto him; that the Aſſignment was void for the whole, becauſe it was fraudulent in part. But Foſter, Juſtice, ſaid, It ſhould not be void for the whole, but for the overplus onely of the 10 l. Quære. Paſch. 8 Jac. in C. B. Wilſon and Wormalls Caſe, Godbolt. 161.

18. A man ſeiſed of Lands in G. and W, deviſed the Lands in G. to his younger ſon for life, and dyed, his heir entred into the Lands in W, and was ſeiſed in Fee; The younger ſon being within age, The Mother as Guardian by Nature entred into the Lands in G: and afterwards it was agreed betwixt the Mother and the eldeſt ſon, That the Mother ſhould releaſe to the eldeſt ſon all her Dower to the Lands in W; and afterwards the Mother did releaſe to the eldeſt ſon all Actions realls and perſonals, Suits, Quarrels and Demands, nec non totam dotem ſuam et titulum dotis ſuæ de aliquibus terris in W. quæ vel quas ſhe had, or ever after might have, by reaſon of any thing, from the beginning of the world, unto the date of the Releaſe. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, (amongſt other points) That as well the firſt words as the ſecond words, ſhould extend onely to releaſe all Actions, Quarrels, Demands, Title and Dower, to the Lands in W, and not to the Lands in G: for the later words did qualifie and reſtrain the firſt words to the Lands in W: 1. Becauſe that all the words are but one ſentence. 2. Becauſe if the general words ſhould ſtand without Qualification, then the ſpecial words ſhould be vain, and of none effect, et maledicta eſt Expoſitio quæ corrumpit Textum. 3. Becauſe it is a Rule in Law in the Conſtruction and Expoſition of Deeds, quod Quando Charta continet generalem clauſulam, poſteaq; deſcendit ad verba ſpecialia quæ clauſulæ generali ſunt conſentanea, Interpretanda eſt ſecund. verba ſpecialia: As if a man grant a Rent in Manerio de D, percipiend. out of 100 Acres of Land parcel of the ſame Mannor, with clauſe of Diſtreſs in the 100 Acres, the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the 100 Acres onely, and the general words ſhall be conſtrued according to the ſpecial words: So if a man gives Lands to one and his heirs, Habendum to him and the heirs of his body, he ſhall have but an Eſtate tail, and a Fee expectant; for the Habendum doth Qualifie the general words precedent: But if a man gives Lands in the premiſſes of a Deed to one and the heirs of his body, Habendum to him and his heirs, he hath an eſtate tail and a Fee expectant, for that ſtandeth upon another Rule and Principle in Law, ſcil. Generalis Clauſula non porrigitur ad ea, quæ antea ſpecialiter ſunt Comprehenſa; and therefore when a Deed at the firſt doth contain ſpecial words, and afterwards concludes in general words, both words as well general as ſpecial ſhall ſtand. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. Cook 8. Part, Altham's Caſe, 155.

19. In Ejectione Firmæ, It was found by a Speciall Verdict, That A. having two ſons; B. his eldeſt, and C. his younger, by Indenture Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the Land in queſtion, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of B. his ſon and heir, and the heirs of his body, the remainder to his own right heirs. Provided Nevertheleſs, That if A. the Father ſhould at any time during his life, be minded upon any occaſion to make void or change the uſes, that then it ſhould be lawful for him, being in perfect health and memory, by writing under his hand and ſeal, and by him delivered in the preſence of 3. Credible Witneſſes, to declare, That his Will and pleaſure is, that the ſaid uſes, or any of them ſhould be altered or made void, and that then and from thenceforth, the ſaid Uſes ſhall be void; And the ſaid A. and all other ſhall ſtand ſeiſed to ſuch uſes, as by ſuch writing ſhall be limited: That A. made his Will in writing under his hand and ſeal, and thereby did deviſe the ſaid Lands to C, and the heirs of his body; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to his ſon B. in tail, the remainder to his daughter in Fee; and that the Will was ſealed and delivered in the preſence of 4. credible Witneſſes: A. dyed, C. the younger brother entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff: upon whom B. entred, and Ejected him. In this Caſe, It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That although the Verdict doth not find, That A. the Father was in perfect health and memory; yet it was good enough, for it ſhall be ſo preſumed, unleſs the contrary be ſhewed. 2. That all the forms and Circumſtances preſcribed muſt be obſerved. But it was Reſolved, Though Revocations muſt obſerve the Circumſtances, that the Owner impoſeth upon himſelf, yet no more ſhall be impoſed upon him, but his power ſhall be taken favourably, agreeable to a Rule, that every man have free power over his own, which is the reaſon that the later act which cannot ſtand with the former uſes, is conſtrued a Revocation, though according to the expreſſe words and vulgar ſenſe it it is none: and for the Clauſes, ſcil. Then and thenceforth, they are ſurpluſages and of no force: for the power of Revocation is perfect and compleat, before they come to thoſe words; and then words needleſs ſhall not impeach a clauſe which is certain, and perfect without them: and therefore he ſhall have power to declare the Uſes void, according to the nature of his declaration in Law, which in caſe of a Will is from his death, or according as he ſhall expreſly appoint the time: And therefore in this caſe, If A. had made a ſimple Declaration in writing, and not in the manner of a Deed to any certain perſon, that the uſes ſhould be void; and had ſigned, ſealed, and delivered it in the preſence of 3. Witneſſes, and had either in the body of the Deed, or verbally declared, that it ſhould take effect upon 100 l. paid, or at his death and not before, this Revocation ſhall be good. Trin. 17 Jac. in C. B. Kibbett and Letts Caſe. Hob. 312, 313.

Default.

1. IN a Writ of Right brought; The Plaintiff and 4. Knights, and 11. of the Jury or Aſſize appeared; And the Tenant made default: It was the Opinion of all the Preignothories in the Court of Common-Pleas, That the default of the Tenant ſhould onely be recorded, and the Jurors ſhould not be demanded, for that the Inqueſt ſhall not be taken by default in this caſe, as it ſhall be in perſonal Actions: But the default of the demandant, or after the Miſe joyned of the Defendant, is peremptory. See 44 E. 3. 22. Huſband and wife were Tenants, they made default after the Miſe joyned, and the Wife was received to joyn the Miſe again: but, If the party ſhall have Seiſin of the Land without a Petit Cape, Quære. 1 Ma. Dyer 98. The Lord Wiuſors Caſe.

2. A Quod ei deforceat in the nature of a Writ of Right was brought in Wales, The Tenant joyned the Miſe upon the meer right; and upon that a Jury by Venire facias was returned, and 12 appeared; and before Verdict was found, the Demandant was Nonſuit: upon which, final Judgment was given. It was Reſolved in that Caſe; 1. That although the Statute of Rutland made 12 E. 1. provides, That a Tryal in Wales by a Writ of Right ſhall be by Common Jurours, and by 12; yet Judgment final ſhall be given there: For although that the manner and dignity of the tryall be altered, yet the ſame Judgment doth remain which was before. 2. Reſolved, That if Judgment finall be given in a Writ of Right, the ſame ſhall bind untill it be reverſed. 3. Reſolved, That if the Tenant after the Miſe joyned doth make default, Judgment final upon that default ſhall not be given, but a Petit Cape ſhall iſſue forth; for perhaps he may ſave his Default. Trin. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, Penryns Caſe.

3. A Venire facias was returnable Quinque Paſch. The parties appeared, but the Sheriff returned not the Writ, therefore a Venire facias was awarded de Novo, as at the firſt, and Continuance made upon the Plea Roll; and yet at the Quinque Paſche, the Defendant was eſſoined: whereupon a Venire facias iſſued; and the Plaintiff being demanded appeared not, but made Default; and a Nonſuit was entred upon the Roll; and notwithſtanding that, the Plaintiff proceeded with the Iſſue, and had Judgment: For the Recording of the appearance did confound the Eſſoine. Quære, Where the Enqueſt appeareth at the Niſi Prius ſued out by the Defendant by Proviſo; and neither the Plaintiff nor his Attorney do appear, but make default, what ſhall be done in ſuch Caſe. Trin. 5 Eliz. Dyer 223, 224.

4. A Jury of Middleſex was demanded in the Common-Pleas, the firſt day of the Term, and ſome of them appeared, and ſome not, ſo as the Jury was not full, and neither the Defendant nor his Attorney did appear; and therefore the Plaintiff prayed, That the Enqueſt might be awarded by default. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That it ſhould be awarded by default: And the Cuſtos Brevium, and all the Preignothories ſaid, The Courſe was ſuch, and ſo are all the Preſidents; For the parties are demandable before the Jury: and if the Plaintiff maketh default, he ſhall be Nonſuited; and if the Defendant maketh default, the Enqueſt ſhall be awarded by default, whether they appear or not. See Brook Entries, and all the Preſidents according. M. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 265.

5. An Information was Exhibited by the Kings Attorney-General, againſt 6. ſeveral perſons, viz. A. B. C. D. E. F. for an Aſſault upon the Sheriff of Middleſex, in the ſerving an Execution upon A; by means of which he eſcaped and reſcued himſelf. All the Defendants pleaded Not guilty: and upon the Tryal, all beſides C. made default, and he appeared. It was moved, That the default of the others ſhould bind him, for that the Suit is entire, and they all have joyned in a plea; and therefore may not now be ſevered. But all the Court held, becauſe the Suit was for a Criminal Offence, although they all pleaded Not-guilty; yet it is to every one of them as it were ſeverall, and the default of the one ſhall not be the default of the others; nor the Confeſſion of any of them ſhall not prejudice the others: whereupon the Enqueſt was taken onely by default againſt the 5, which appeared not: and they all were found guilty, but C. whom the Jury acquitted. And the Attorney-General demanding Judgment, The Court ſeverally gave their Opinions, That A. being the principal Offender, ſhould pay a Fine of 500 l: and, upon all the other Defendants but C, ſeveral Fines were aſſeſſed. And it was Reſolved by the Court, That ſuch Fines being aſſeſſed in Court by Judgment upon an Information, cannot afterwards be Qualified. Paſch. 8 Car. in B. R. The King and Sir James Wingfields Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 182.

6. Errour upon a Judgment in Salop; The Errour aſſigned was, For that in an Action upon the Caſe there layed, the Defendant was Eſſoined, and had day by Eſſoine, et Querens habuit, eandem diem: on which day the Defendant being demanded, appeared not, but made default: Et habuit diem per defaultam ſecundum Conſuetudinem villæ prædict. given by the Court, ſcil. ſuch a day: At which day the parties appeared, and Judgment was given againſt the Defendant by Nihil dicit, ſo the plea was utterly diſcontinued, becauſe untill the Defendant made default, no day can be given unto him, when he was out of Court; and the Allegation, that it was done ſecundum Conſuetudinem, cannot help it: For no Cuſtome can help that which is againſt the Common-Law. Wherefore the Judgment was reverſed.

7. Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin, The Defendant pleads a Recovery in a former Aſſiſe againſt him: The Demandant Replyes, That he was an Enfant; and avers, That he was not Terr-Tenant; but that P. the Defendant was Terr-Tenant, and that the Recovery was by default; whereupon the Tenant did Demur in Law. And the Caſe was argued by all the Juſtices in open Court: Haughton and Cook held the Barr to be good, and that a Recovery in an Aſſiſe, is a good barr in another Aſſiſe. And it was ſaid by them, That an Enfant ſhall have many priviledges, which a perſon of full age ſhall not have: As if Judgment be given againſt Enfant by default, after default he ſhall have a Writ of Errour and reverſe the Judgment for his Nonage: But yet they ſaid, That if an Enfant after appearance make default, Judgment ſhall be given againſt him, and he ſhall not reverſe it. Dodderidge and Mountague, Chief Juſtice, held the contrary; and that a Recovery is not ſo ſacred, but that it might be falſified as well in point of Recovery for the thing, as alſo betwixt the ſame parties; and the Caſe in Queſtion being concerning an Enfant, the Judges ought to be his Counſellours: And in this caſe, the Enfant cannot have Errour, or Attaint, and therefore he might falſifie the Recovery: and many caſes were there put by them of the priviledges of an Enfant; and where a Judgment by default ſhall bind him, where not; for which, ſee the Book at large, and the Demurrer adjudged for the Plaintiff. But afterwards 16 Jac. the Plaintiff being demanded, made default: Whereupon the Jury were directed by the Court to enquire onely of damages from the time of the Diſſeiſin: and Judgment was given accordingly. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Holford and Platts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 264, 265, 266, 267.

Defence.

ANnuity was brought againſt the Succeſſor of the Biſhop of E, who granted to the Plaintiff for life the Stewardſhip of, &c. and Fee of 40 s. pro. &c. percipiend. de Manerio de D; and the Plaintiff ſhewed, That he kept the Court, but averred not the Ingroſſing of the Rolls: and that after the Biſhop diſcharged him, &c. It was holden in this caſe, That he ought to tender his ſervice to every Succeſſor: and it is iſſuable, that ſuch Succeſſor, non exoneravit. The Biſhop in this caſe appeared by Attorney, but made no Defence; but his Bayliff demanded Conuſance, and it was allowed: and yet the words, licet ipſemet ſit pars, are not in the Patent, becauſe it had been allowed before: Note out of this Caſe, That where Conuſance of plea is demanded; There no Defence need be made. Hill. 5 Ma. Dyer 157.

2. An Attorney of the Common-Pleas was ſued by Bill in the Nature of an Ejectione Firmæ, and the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe for Term of 10 years, to begin à die Obitûs of the Leſſor, and ſhewed the day of the making of the Leaſe, and the day of the death of the Leſſor: The Defendant imparled untill another Term; at which day without making Defence, he ſaid to the vi et armis Not-guilty: and to the reſt, that the Plaintiff ought not to have the Bill; and for Barr ſhewed, That the Land was demiſeable: And that the Cuſtome was, That Tenant in Fee-ſimple might not make a Leaſe for above 6. years; and the Barr was holden not good, becauſe the Cuſtome was unreaſonable, and alſo repugnant to the Common-Law, and the Liberty of a Tenant in Fee. Paſch. 19 Eliz. Dyer 357. Salfords Caſe.

3. Errour brought of a Judgment in the Grand Seſſions in the County of Pembroke, by D. G. in a

Suit

Quod ei Deforceat protestando prosequi illud Breve, in the nature of a Writ of Right at the Common-Law, according to the form of the Statute of Ireland of 3. Meſſuages, 300 Acres of Lands, 100 Acres of Meadow, 60 Acres of Paſture, 100. Acres of Wood, and the moyety of the Mill of L, ut jus, et hereditatem ſuam: Whereof he ſaid, That he himſelf was ſeiſed of the Tenements aforeſaid ut Dominico ſuo ut de feodo: Et quod talefit jus ſuum, offert &c. And the Defendants T. & B. came and denyed jus pradict. D.G. et ſeiſinam, &c. and imparled, &c. and at the next Seſſions, the Plaintiff Counted ut ſupra: And the Defendant B. pleaded, That ſhe had more right to hold the ſaid Meſſuages, 300 Acres, &c. then the ſaid D.G. had to hold Tenementa pradict. Et de hoc ponit ſe ſuper patriam, et pradict. D. ſimiliter: And the ſaid T. ſaid, That he had more right to hold the Tenements aforeſaid, ut illa tenet; then the ſaid D. &c. Et de hoc ponit ſe ſuper patriam. Et pradict. D. ſimiliter: And the Jury found both Iſſues for the Demandant, and Judgment was entred Quod recuperet verſus prafatos B. et T. pradict. Tenementa, &c. quietè de prafatis B. et T. et hæredibus ſuis in perpetuum: Divers Errours were aſſigned, 1. That the Writ being a Quod ei Deforceat, and the Proteſtation being to ſue in natura Brevis de Recto, he ought to ſhew what Writ of Right, becauſe there are divers Writs of Right. 2. The Defendants joyning in Defence, ought not to have ſevered in pleas. 3. That the Plaintiff having admitted them to plead ſeveral pleas, hath admitted, that they are ſeveral Tenants, and ſo hath abated his own Writ. 4. Becauſe B. pleads as Tenant for life for part of the Tenements, alledging the Reverſion to be in T, and for the reſidue, pleads nothing, nor claims any Eſtate, yet Judgment is given againſt T. and B. and their heirs for all the Tenements; and ſo finall againſt B. a woman for all, where ſhe pleads but to part; and againſt her heirs, where ſhe claims but for life: This was holden by the Court a manifeſt Errour: and for this cauſe chiefly the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Gwyn and Gwyn's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 226, 227.

3. In what Actions Defence ſhall be made; in what not.

1. NOte: It was ſaid, 34 H. 6. 33. by Fortiſcue in an Attaint, That in an Aſſiſe, In Dower, In a Per quæ Servitia, In Attaint, In Aſſiſe of Mortdauncеſter, there needeth not any Defence, becauſe that nothing is expreſly demanded, but the Writ is general. 33 H. 6. 33. by Fortiſcue.

2. In an Aſſiſe of Nuſans Vicz-Comiel, and before the Juſtices de Banco, the Tenant ſhall make Defence; for that Writ is in the nature of a Precipe, and therefore in that Aſſiſe, the party ſhall have the View, and plead in barr upon it: But contrary in an Aſſiſe of Nuſans before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe; for there ſhall be no Defence, no View. See 50 E. 3. 11.

3. In a Scire facias, there ſhall be no Defence; No more then in an Aſſiſe. See Br. Defence 10.

4. In an Attachment upon Prohibition, No Defence. See Book Entries, to Scire facias.

5. In an Aſſiſe of Darrein Preſentment, There ſhall be no Defence. See Br. to Defence 48.

6. In a Precipe brought againſt two, they may make ſeveral Defences.

7. In every Precipe where Land is demanded, there the Defence ſhall be, Defendit jus ſuum: As in a Writ of Intruſion, Writ of Entry ad Terminum qui præteriit, Writ of Aiel, Writ of Eſcheat, In a Formedon, In Nativo habendo, in rationabilibus diviſis, The Defence is, Venit et defendit Jus ſuum.

8. In a Writ de rationabilibus Eſtoverriis, The Defence is, Defendit vim et Injuriam, Quando &c. And ſo in a Replevin, Action upon the Statute, Writ of Reception, Rationabili parte bonorum, Quare Impedit, and in all Actions of Contempt, Detinue of Charters, Quo Jure, Ne injuſte vexes, Eſſeſſione Cuſtodiæ, Action upon the Caſe, and ſo in all Actions where Proceſs of Outlawry lyeth.

9. In a Writ of Right the form is, After the Count rehearſed, To make Defence anew; and then to vouch or plead in barr: and in the ſame form it is, If the Demandant Reply to the barr, The Defendant ought to make Defence, and then to anſwer to the Title of the Demandant. See 21 H. 6. 26. by Newton; and Book Entries, acc.

Demand.

1. A Precipe quod reddat, Where it lyeth, and of what it lyeth, and how: And the Order of Demand in it; the Forme of the Writ: and where the Writ ſhall not abate for want of ſuch Form: and againſt whom it lyeth; againſt whom not.

1. IT appeareth in the Regiſter of Writs, that every thing in a Writ is to be demanded according to its dignity; and therefore in every Writ a Meſſuage is placed before Land, and Land before Meadow, and Meadow before Paſture, &c. and the reaſon of this precedencie and dignity, is ſaid to be of Neceſſity: For to have a houſe for a man to inhabit in, and to preſerve his body from Tempeſts, and the violence of the Air, is more needful then to have Land to plough, and get him bread: and to have Land for bread, is more neceſſary then to have Meadow for Hay for Cattel: and to have Meadow for Hay for Cattel, which will ſerve all the year, is more neceſſary, than to have Paſture: and ſo of the like. Plo.Com. 169 in Hill and Granges Caſe.

2. A Precipe lyeth of a Meſſuage, or of a Houſe, and by the Sale de Domo, the Vendee may take it down; for by buying of it, it is become his Chattel: and yet in a Precipe brought of a Meſſuage, with the Appurtenances, no Land ſhall be recovered thereby; although that the Land hath been occupyed and uſed with it, or lain with, or to the Meſſuage time out of mind. But the Leaſe of a Houſe, and ſo many Acres of Lands appertaining to it is good, when the Land hath been occupyed with it time out of mind, and doth paſs the Land; but yet it is not appendant to it: nor will the Land paſs by the Feoffor of the Meſſuage alone. But a Dove-houſe, a Mill, and Shops, may be parcel of a houſe, and by the name of a Meſſuage they ſhall paſs. Plo.Com. 171. acc.

3. In an Aſſiſe, the Plaint was of a Meſſuage and Gardens, and holden good. Book Entries, 62. And if an Aſſiſe be brought of two Meſſuages, the Defendant pleaded, they were two Toſts, and not Meſſuages; and the Plea was holden to be a good Plea: for they ought to have been demanded by the name of two Toſts, 26 H. 8. br. to Aſſiſe, 347.

4. In an Ejectione Firmæ, the Originall and Declaration was of two Meſſuages; whereof the one is called a Coal-houſe, and the other a Ware-houſe: and the Caſe coming to Tryal before the Lord Dyer at a Niſi Prius at Guild-Hall, London: the Lord Dyer diſmiſſed the Cauſe, and abated the Writ before the Tryal had, because it appeared by the Declaration, that thoſe were not Meſſuages. Mich. 20 Eliz. in C.B. Lewey and Hoskin's Caſe. See 17 Car. in the King's Bench, in Sprigg and Rawlinſon's Caſe; That Regiſtrum, which is properly a Ware-houſe, cannot be called or demanded by by the name of a Meſſuage. Weſtm. 96.

5. In an Ejectione Firmæ, the Plaintiff declared, That J. S. did let unto him a Meſſuage, with the Appurtenances in L. and a Cloſe called Dovecote-Cloſe, containing by Eſtimation three Acres, for the term of three years: and declared of an Ejectment by the Defendant. The Defendant pleaded, Not Guilty; and the Jury found as to the Meſſuage the Defendant was Not Guilty; and as to the Cloſe called Dovecote-Cloſe, the Defendant was found guilty. In Arreſt of Judgment, It was moved, that an Ejectione Firmæ did not lye of a Cloſe; but the Writ ought to be of certain Acres; and the quality of the Land, as Land, Meadow, Paſture, Wood, ought to be ſhewed: and for the aforeſaid Exception, the Judgment was arreſted. Mic. 12 Jac. Cook 11. Part, 55. Sauel's Caſe. But note, in that Caſe, It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That although by good Order, the moſt worthy ſhall have the precedency, and ſhall be preferred before the leſs-worthy, and an entire thing preferred before a part: yet if the ſaid Order be not preciſely followed, the Judges ſhall not abate the Writ, or Count for that.

6. A Precipe lyeth of a Knights-Fee, which anciently was equal in value with 40 l. per annum Socage Land; and that appeareth by a Record of Paſc. 3 E. 1. rott. 10. Radulphus de Normanvill Petens in Brevi de Medio, Quæritur contra Lucium de Kiue, Quòd cum ipſe levet de ipſa dua carucatas terræ in Coningſton per Homagium et ſervicium militare, unde 12. carucatæ terræ faciunt unum feodum militare pro omni, ſervitio ipſe & ſui vinxit ipſum ad faciend. ſectam ad curiam ſuam de Thoreton i. Cranc, &c. Cook 9. Part, 134. in Lowe's Caſe.

7. A Precipe was of a Toft, and 5 Acres of Land, two Acres of Meadow; and the Plaintiff counted of a Meſſuage and Toft in G. Book Entries, 159.

8. An Aſſiſe was brought de uno Molendino, without ſaying, it was aquatico, or ventitico; and yet it was holden to be good in 21 Aſſiſe, p. 23.

23. Cook 4. Part, 87. in Luttrel's Caſe.

9. A Precipe lyeth of the profits of a Mill; of a Bayliwick; of the Cuſtody of the Park of B; of a Stream. 7 E. 4. 63. Precipe 30, 31.

10. A man made a Leaſe for 30 years of a Manor, excepting all Woods and Under-Woods, growing or being upon the Manor, and afterwards made another Leaſe to the ſame Leſſee of all the Woods and Under-Woods, growing or being upon the ſaid Mannor, for 60 years, without impeachment of Waſte, and afterwards made a 3d Leaſe to the ſaid Leſſee for 30. years without any exception, to begin at a day to come from the expiration of the firſt Leaſe for 30 years. The term of 30 years being expired, the Leſſee cut down Trees, and he in the Reverſion brought an Action of Waſte; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That by the Exception of the Woods and Under-Woods, growing and being upon the Mannor, the ſtock it ſelf is excepted; and by the name of Wood may be demanded and recovered: and that theſe words (growing or being) are words of abundance, for that without them the Law will imply ſo much. Mic. 4 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part. Ives's Caſe, 11.

11. A Precipe lyeth of an Acre of Land, aqua co-operta in general; or generally of an Acre of Land: and ſo treſpaſs Quare vi et armis clauſum aqua co-opertum fregit. 11 H. 7. 4. And a Precipe lyeth of a portion of Land in B. per Hankford and Hill. 11 H. 4. 40.

12. A Demand made of a place of Land without certainty is not good: But a Demand made of a piece of Land, containing ſo much in length, and ſo much in breadth, is good. 16 E. 3. br. Demand 34.

13. A Garden is a good Demand in a Precipe quod reddat; and Dower brought of the third part of a Garden was good: But Pomarium is no good Demand in a Precipe quod reddat, although it be ſuffered in Common Recoveries, and in Fines for aſſurances; for a Garden includes it, as it appeareth by the Regiſter, and as it was holden by the Lord Dyer. Trin. 17 Eliz. And ſee, That in an Aſſiſe, the Plaint was of a Meſſuage, and fifteen Gardens. Book Entries, to Aſſiſe, 62.

14. A Writ of Error was brought upon a Judgment given in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, upon which a Recovery was had in the Common-Pleas: And the Error Aſſigned was, becauſe that the Writ of Entry was, de uno annuali reddit. five penſione 4. marcarum exeunt. de Eccleſia ſive Rectoria. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Writ was good, for there is not any incertainty in it, for one of two things is not ſeverally demanded, but one thing onely, for the demand is of Rent, or a Penſion of four Marks, ſo as there is not but one four Marks. And Reddit. & Penſio are all one: And the words exeunt. de Rectoria proves it to be a Rent, for if it ſhould be an Annuity, the Rectory ſhould not be charged, but the perſon of the Parſon, in reſpect of the Rectory. Paſc. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, in Downe's Caſe. 40.

15. If the Demandant in Dower make her demand, to be endowed of the third part of Common without number; or if a man bringeth an Aſſiſe of Land and Annuity; or if he do Aſſign Waſte in timber, and blackthorn; In ſuch Caſes, foraſmuch as the Writs are generall, it ſhall ſtand for ſo much as may be maintained by the Law, for the Writ is true; but the Count, Plaint, or Aſſignment, ſhall abate for the reſt; but it is otherwiſe when a Writ doth comprehend certainty, and it appeareth that the Writ doth not lye for part; there the whole Writ ſhall abate. If a man bring a Formedon of Land, and of an Advowſon, although the Writ be certain; yet foraſmuch as it goeth to the Action of the Writ, as to that the Writ ſhall ſtand good for the Land. A man brought a Writ of Ejectione Cuſtodie terræ et hæredis; the parties pleaded to Iſſue, and it was found for the Plaintiff, the Plaintiff had judgment of the Land onely, for it lyeth not of the Heir: But if a man brings a Writ of Entry in the Nature of an Aſſiſe of two Acres, whereof of his own ſhewing, for one he ought to have a Writ of Entry in the Per. there the whole Writ ſhall abate, for that he may have a better Writ as to one Acre, and the ſame doth not extend to the Action, but to the Writ onely. Cook 11. Part, 45. in Richard Godfrey's Caſe.

16. A Precipe quod reddat, doth not lye of an Advowſon, nor doth a Formedon lye of an Advowſon in groſſe, alliened by the Auncеſtor, but a Quare Impedit at the next Avoydance in his time; And an Advowſon ſhall not be Aſſets in a Formedon, for that it is not valuable; yet ſee 20 E. 4. 15. It is ſaid, That a Precipe quod reddat doth lye of an Advowſon, and that the Advowſon veſts by Grant, and Livery; and it lyeth in Tenure; and a Writ of Ceſſavit lyeth of it. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 2. 5 H. 7. 20 E. 4. 14. 21 E. 3. Ceſſavit 46.

17. A Precipe lyeth of the Office of Serjeancy in Aba. de Burgo. Sancti Petri et de reddit. 34. panum, 40 Lagenarum ſervicia. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 192. and a Woman ſhall have her Dower of it. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 3. And that an Aſſiſe lyeth of Offices, and a Precipe lyeth of them; and that a Quod permittat doth not lye of an Office. See Cook 8. Part, in John Wells's Caſe, 47. where many Caſes are put of Precipes, and Aſſizes brought of Offices. And ſee 28 H. 8. Dyer, 7. 3. Ma. Dyer. 114. 5. Ma. Dyer, 193. an Aſſiſe of the Office of Admiralty: See before, more in the Title Aſſiſe.

18. In the demand of a Caſtle or Meſſuage in an Aſſiſe, it is not needfull to give a name to the Caſtle, or Meſſuage, nor in what Town they are. 8 H. 4. 7.

19. Note, When a man hath any thing Appendant, or Appurtenant, to a Houſe, or Mill, or the like, the moſt perdureable thing thereof, is the Land in which the foundation is, and upon which all the building thereof doth conſiſt; and in reſpect thereof, by Grant of all Lands, all Houſes, Mills, and Woods, will paſſe: For in a Precipe, where a Houſe, Mill, or Wood, is demanded, the Warrant of Attorney is in placito terræ; and in the Caſe of Voucher, when Judgment is given for the Tenant, to have in value againſt the Vouchee, The Judgment is Quod habeat de terris, of the Vouchee ad valentiam; and yet thereby he ſhall have Houſes, Mills, Woods, &c. Cook 4. Part, 87. in Lutterell's Caſe.

20. Ejectione firmæ is brought, De omnibus, & omnimodis Decimis in W. &c. without ſaying garbarum, ſanfoinæ, agnellorum, or any certainty of the nature, or quality of the Tythes: whereof a certain Judgment may be given, or Execution had, by Habere facias poſſeſſionem; And therefore the ſame was not good; and that appeareth in 7 E. 6. Dyer, 84. in the Aſſiſe brought de Quadam portione Decimarum; and although the certain number of them ſhall not be expreſſed (for the fruitfullneſſe, or barrenneſſe may increaſe, or diminiſh) yet the ſeverall kinds ought to be expreſſed; And it may be, That all the Tything doth conſiſt in modo Decimandi; by payment of a yearly Rent in ſatisfaction of the Tythes, whereof no Ejectione firmæ lyeth; And the Statute of 32 H. 8. which giveth the Action for Tythes, gives it as they ſhould or might do for Lands, but in an Action for Lands, the Plaintiff ought to ſhew the Quality, or nature of them, as Land, Meadow, Paſture, Wood, &c. Paſc. 5 Jac. The Counteſſe of Oxford brought a Writ of Dower to be endowed of Predial Tythes within ſuch a Town: And in that caſe it was holden, That the beſt Aſſignment is of the third part; for if the Garbs of the third part of the Arable Land be Aſſigned, it is in the Election of the Ter-Tenant, whether he will ſow the ſame, or not; And in that Caſe, a Report of Beadloes 3. and 4. Ma. was ſhewed. In a Writ of Dower of Wades-Mill, in the County of H. The Aſſignment was of the third part Molendini. viz. de integro molendino per Quemlibet tertium menſem. Trin. 12 Jac. Cook 11. Part, 27. Henry Harpar's Caſe.

21. See Cook 4. Part, 55. in the Caſe of the Conſervanlty of Sadlers That a Precipe will not lye againſt the King, For it is a Rule, and Maxime in Law; That when a Common perſon againſt another Common perſon, is put to his reall Action, in ſuch Caſe he ſhall be put to his Petition which is in the nature of a reall Action againſt the King.

22. In a Mortdauncеſter, demand of two parts of the moyety of a Mill, is good, without demanding of the third part of the whole, for the Mill is not ſevered; otherwiſe, if the Mill were divided by Partition made, or by Alienation; And a Precipe doth lye de Medietate, Medietatis cujuscunque terræ. 11. Aſſ. 20.

23. In Dower, a demand was of the third part of the Manner of D. ac exituum et proficuorum de quodam Mercato, et unius feria quolibet anno, in feſto, &c. for three weeks then next following, in villa de N. Tenend. cum pertinentiis is N. et L. 1 H. 6. rott. 220. Book Entries, 226.

24. In a Writ of Dower, the Demandant made her demand, de tertia parte Liberi feodi, and the Opinion of the Court was, That it was not good, for the Incertainty, for what Cattell; And ſo it is of a demand of Common incertain. Some of the Juſtices ſaid, That if the Common be incertain, that the Woman ſhould have allowance for it: But the Court ſaid, they did not know how the allowance ſhould be made. Paſc. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 21.

25. A Demand was made of the third part of a Caſtle and Manner: Book Entries 230. but ſee, That if it be of a Caſtle which is pro defenſione Regni, a Woman ſhall not be endowed of it by the Statute of Magna Charta. Cap. 7. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 31.

2. Where, and againſt whom, Demand by Precipe quod reddat, doth not lye, But a Quod permittat doth lye.

1. A. built upon his own Freehold, a houſe ſo near to the Curtilage of the houſe of J. S. quod domus illa ſuperpendet magnam partem, viz. 3. pedes Curtilagii prædict. J. S. And after, A. conveyed his houſe to B. J. S. conveyed his houſe to C. who brought a Quod permittat againſt B. and counted, That the Water did Diſtill and Deſcend from the ſaid houſe, to the Nuſans of his ſaid Curtilage and houſe; And, If the Quod permittat did lye by the Feoffee, was the Queſtion: It was Objected, That it did not lye, becauſe he to whom the wrong was done, had conveyed over his houſe, and ſo the wrong was remedileſſe, for he ſhall take the houſe in the ſame plight as it was conveyed to him: As if a man be ſeiſed of Land, to which Common is Appendant; And is diſſeiſed of the Com-

Common, upon which he brings an Aſſiſe, and afterwards he infeoffeth another of the Land, the Common is extinct for ever: But it was Reſolved by the whole Court in this Caſe. That the diſtilling of the Water in the time of the Feoffee, was a new wrong, ſo as the permiſſion of the wrong by the Feoffor, or his Feoffee to continue to the prejudice of another, ſhould be puniſhed by the Feoffee of the houſe, to which the Nuſans was done, and if the ſame be not reformed after Requeſt, and demand made, That a Quod permittat did lye by the Feoffee, againſt the Feoffor, and he ſhould recover his damages; but againſt him who did the firſt wrong, the Action did lye without any demand, or requeſt. Trin. 40 Eliz. in C. B.

2. At the Common-Law, there was but two forms of Writs of Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, ſcil. ad ſſe de libero tenemento, and an Aſſiſe of Common of Paſture for his Cattell, &c. which was ſo neceſſary, that without the ſame his Freehold could not be manured: And an Aſſiſe de Libero tenemento lay, of Land, Rent, and all other things whereof a Precipe quod reddat lay at the Common-Law: But of profits Apprender in a place certain, The Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 15. gave an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, in the place of a Quod permittat, which was the remedy for them at the Common-Law, before the ſaid Statute: And in ſome Caſes, the Statute giveth an Aſſiſe, where there was not any clear or certain remedy at the Common-Law: For if one had not ſuch profits Apprender, but for the Term of his life, It was holden he ſhould not have had a Quod permittat of them, becauſe that ſuch Writ was in the nature of a Writ of Right, in which Battel was waged. Cook 8. Part, 46. in Jehu Wells's Caſe.

3. In a quod permittat, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant had erected upon his Freehold, a houſe ſo near the Plaintiffs houſe quod pars eiuſdem Domus ſuperpendet the houſe of the Plaintiff in breadth 17 Inches, and in length 17 Foot, ad nocumentum Liberi Tenementi ſui, to his damages of 100 l. It was objected in this Caſe, That the Plaintiff ought to have alledged the Nuſance certain, ſcil. that the Rain fell from the houſe new built, upon the Plaintiffs houſe, by which he loſt his light, or that his houſe was corrupted by the Rain: But it was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff in his Count needed not to ſet forth any ſpeciall Nuſance in this Caſe; becauſe in this Caſe, the Defendant had built a new houſe, which hung over part of the Plaintiffs houſe, ſo as of neceſſity the Rain which fell, ought to fall upon the Plaintiffs houſe; And the Law doth not compell a man to ſet forth, or aver that which appears clearly to the Court. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Batten's Caſe. Cook 9. Part, 54.

3. Who ought to make a Demand, who not; And where a demand is to be made, where not; And what ſhall be ſaid to be a good Demand; What not.

1. THe Duke of Norfolk Mortgaged Lands to Alderman Howard, upon Condition that if the ſaid Duke did re-pay to the ſaid Alderman, a certain ſum of mony, That then the Duke might re-enter. Afterwards the Duke was Attainted before the day of payment, and all his Lands were given to the Queen: The Queſtion was, Whether Howard ought to make a demand upon the Land, or to demand the mony at the Receipt of the Exchequer; or that the Queen ought to make the Tender upon the Land: It was agreed by all the Judges at Serjeants-Inn, that the Queen ought to make no Tender, but that the Alderman ought to make his demand at the Exchequer; and not upon the Land. Mich. 31 Eliz. Howard's Caſe. Goldesbr. 137.

2. A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent, at a place payable off from the Land, It was moved, whether a demand of the Rent might not be upon the Land. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it could not, for they ſaid, The demand muſt be made at the place of payment, although it be off the Land. Trin. 5 Jac. in C. B. Vintres and Farmer's Caſe. Brownlow. 1. Part, 96.

3. The Dean and Chapter of Chicheſter, made a Leaſe to one R. of Lands in W. rendring rent at the Cathedrall Church of Chicheſter, upon Condition, &c. It was agreed by the whole Court, That the demand ought to be made in the Cathedrall-Church of Chicheſter, although it was off the Land Leaſes; And the demand ought to be at the ſetting of the Sun, the laſt Inſtant of that day; And when he made his demand, he ought to ſtand ſtill, and not to walk up and down, for the Law did not allow of walking demands, as Popham ſaid, and becauſe that thoſe whom the Dean and Chapter ſent to demand the Rent, ſaid, Bear witneſſe, we are come hither to demand ſuch Rent: It was holden by the Court, that ſuch a demand was not good. And they held, That the demand ought to be made at that part of the Church, where the greateſt, and moſt going in is. Paſc. 5 Jac. in C. B. The Dean and Chapter of Chicheſter's Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 138.

4. If

4. If a man Leases Lands rendring rent, for a year, whensoever the Lessor should demand it; In this Case, If the Lessor come and demand it before the end of the year, his demand upon the Land, is not good, except the Lessee be there also. For the time being incertain when the Lessor will demand it, he ought to give notice to the Lessee of it; And if the Lessor come to the Lessee in person, and demands the Rent, yet it is not sufficient: For although notice is to be given to the Lessee in person, yet the Land is the Debtor, and therefore the Law ties the Lessor to the Land, as to the place in which he shall be paid: But if the Lessor stay untill the end of the year, then the Lessee at his perill ought to attend at the Land to pay it, for the end of the year is the time of payment prescribed by the Law; all which was adjudged. Pasc. 1 Jac. in B. R. in Stretton and Cashes Case. Brownlow. 1. Part, 135.

5. In an Action upon the Case, the Plaintiff declared, That in consideration, that he the Plaintiff would marry with A; B. promised to pay the Plaintiff 20 l. when he should, after the marriage, be required; And the Plaintiff in his Declaration, did not alledge any speciall demand of it; which was moved in stay of Judgment. But the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was good, and it was not necessary for the Plaintiff to alledge a demand of it. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Shipwash and Shipwashes Case. Brownlow. 10.

6. If a Feoffment in Fee be made to the use of one for life, and after to the use of another in tail, with a Remainder over, with power to the Lessee to make Leases, so as he reserve the accustomed Rent reserved payable to all those who have the Reversion; If Tenant for life maketh Leases according to his power, the Lessees derive their Interest out of the first Feoffment, How then can the Reservation of the Rent be good, or how can his Heir, or he in the Remainder come by the same? And if such Proviso be added in the Original Assurance, there the Lessees, as much as the same is no Rent, it ought to be paid without demand, and if he do not pay the same, his Interest, shall presently cease by the Limitation of the use. Cook 1. Part, 139. in Chudleigh's Case.

7. A man made a Lease for years of a house, and a Close severed from the house, and of other Lands; The Lessor made a Feoffment of the house, and the Land demised, and made Livery in the Close, the Lessee being in the house. It was adjudged in that Case, That the Livery was void, as well for the Close, as for the house, and the other Lands; For when a Messuage and Lands are let entirely together, the Messuage is the principall, for there the Rent shall be demanded, and the Land is but the Accessary, so as the possession of the House, is the possession of the whole Land demised with it; and so the Livery void in the Principall Case. Cook 2. Part, Belknap's Case.

8. The Queen made a Lease for years rendring Rent, payable at the Receipt of her Exchequer at Westminster, or to the hands of her Bayliffs, or Receivers, with Condition to be void, for non-payment of the Rent; And afterwards the Queen Granted over the Reversion; And where the Patentee should demand the Rent to take advantage of the Condition, was the Question: And in this Case, it was Resolved. 1. That if a Common person reserveth a Rent upon a demise, payable at a place off from the Land, he who shall take advantage of the Condition, for non-payment of the Rent, ought to demand the Rent at the place where the same is limitted to be paid; for the payment of the Rent out of the Land, doth not alter the nature and quality of the Rent: And therefore the Opinion in Plow. Com. 70. that he in the Reversion may enter for not payment of the Rent, was denyed for Law. 2. Resolved, That if the King makes a Lease for years rendring Rent, with such a Condition, That the King shall take advantage of the Condition without a demand, because it is not for the Honour and Dignity of the King, to make a demand of his Rent from his Subject, but the Law doth appoint the Subject to wait upon the King; and therefore the Subject is to do the first Act, either to pay or to tender the Rent; but that Prerogative is personall onely; And therefore if the King Granteth over the Reversion, his Grantee ought to demand the Rent, if he will take advantage of the Condition. 3. Resolved in the principall case, That the Patentee ought to demand the Rent upon the Land. 4. Resolved, That if the King makes a Lease for years rendring Rent, without limitting any place, or to whose hands it shall be paid, that the Lessee ought to pay the same at the Exchequer, to the hands of the Kings Bayliff, or Receiver. Pasc. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 72. Broughes Case.

9. A Prior, seised of divers houses, with the consent of his Covent made a Lease of them for years, rendring the old Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. at four Feasts of the year, usuall in the City of L. scil. for one house 3 l. 11 d. for another 20 s. and for the other houses, severall Rents, amounting in the whole to 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. with Condition, That if the Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. were behind in part, or in all, at any of the said Feasts, that it should be lawfull for the Prior and his Successors to re-enter, the Prior came to the King by surrender, who by his Letters Patents under the Great seal, Granted one of the houses to the Lessee and to another in Fee; and after it was found by Com-

Commiſſion, that part of the Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. was behind at one of the Feaſts, and before the Commiſſion Returned, the King Granted the Reſidue of the houſes to J. S. in Fee. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other points, That in many Caſes, The King who claymeth by a Subject, ſhall be in better Caſe, in reſpect of the Dignity and Prerogative incident by Law to the Perſon of the King, then the Subject himſelf by whom he claymeth; and therefore in the Caſe at Bar, The King ſhall take advantage of the Condition without a demand; And yet the Prior himſelf, under whom the King claymed, cannot re-enter for not payment of the Rent, without a demand. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, Knight's Caſe. 65.

10. Abbot and Covent made a Leaſe for years rendring yearly, during the Term, to the Abbot and Covent, and his Succeſſors, 5 l. Rent, upon Condition, that if the Rent be behind, to re-enter, the Abbot ſurrendred the Lands to the King, which by mean conveyances came to J. S. who levyed a Fine of the Reverſion to B. B, before Attornment, Granted by Deed the Reverſion to his Son and Heir, to whom the Termor Attorned; The Rent was behind, the ſon in the Reverſion entred into the Land for the Condition broken: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other things, That B. the Grantee, or Aſſignee by the Fine, ſhould not take advantage of the Condition for not payment of the Rent, without Attornment: but the ſon of B. who was his Grantee, ſhould take advantage of it, becauſe he had an expreſſe Attornment, and is an Aſſignee within the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cook 5. Part, 113. Mallories Caſe.

11. A Rent by Deed was Granted to one and his Aſſigns for life, pro Conſilio impendendo, payable yearly at four Feaſts; and for default of payment, if it be demanded, that it ſhould be lawfull for the Grantee and his Aſſignees to diſtrain. The Grantee aſſigned the Rent, the Tenant attorned; The Aſſignor upon the Land, demanded the Rent at the day; and for Default of payment diſtreined: and in this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved. 1. That a Grant of a Rent to one and his Aſſignes pro Conſilio impendendo, may be Aſſigned over by the expreſſe words of the Grantor, Et modus et Conventio ſignt legem. 2. That the Aſſignee needed not to demand the Rent at the day, as he ought to do in Caſe of Re-entry; but in Caſe of diſtreſſe, he may demand it at what time he pleaſeth. 3. If a man hath a Rent-Seck, payable yearly at the Feaſt of Eaſter, and hath once Seiſin of the Rent, and the Feaſt paſſeth, and no Tender or demand is made, he may after the day, demand the Rent upon the Land, and if none be ready to pay it, the ſame is a denyall of the Rent, for which he may have an Aſſiſe; But if the Tenant be at the laſt inſtant of the day, ready upon the Land to pay the Rent, and none cometh to demand it, or to receive it, there he cannot afterwards, in the abſence of the Tenant, come upon the Land and demand it, and make the other a diſſeiſor, and recover damages without default in him; But in ſuch Caſe, the Rent ought to be demanded upon the Land, with all the Arrearages, and although the ſame be in the abſence of the Tenant, yet the ſame amounts to a Denyer in Law, upon which he may have an Aſſiſe, and recover the Arrerages, Damages, and Coſts. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 7. Part, 28. Maund's Caſe.

12. A man made a Leaſe to J. S. for 50 years, if the Leſſor ſo long lived, rendring rent at the 4. Feaſts, or within 13 dayes after every of the ſaid Feaſts, by even portions: after one of the Feaſts, ſcil. the Annunciation, the Leſſor dyed, his Executors brought Debt for the Rent due at the ſaid Feaſt. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Action did not lye, 1. Becauſe the payment being limited in the disjunctive, the moſt beneficiall time ſhall be taken for the Leſſee; and before that time the Leſſee is diſcharged by the Act of God; and the moſt extream time, is the moſt legal time. 2. Becauſe that when the Leſſee doth not make payment at the firſt day, the election is paſt, and then the Rent is abſolutely due at the ſecond day; and the ſecond day is as well parcell of the Reſervation, as the firſt day. 3. The rent is not due untill the day of payment encurred, becauſe it is to be raiſed out of the Iſſues and profits of the Lands; and therefore if the Land be evicted before the legal time of payment, no Rent ſhall be paid. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Cook 10. Part, 127. Clunns Caſe.

13. A. Leaſed certain Lands for years, rendring a Rent of 35 l. at the Feaſt of St. Michael and the Annunciation, or within 12 dayes after every of the ſaid Feaſts, payable at the Font-ſtone in the Temple Church, upon Condition, That if the ſaid rent or any part of it be behind and not paid, by the ſpace of 12 dayes after any of the ſaid Feaſts or dayes of payment thereof, that then the Leaſe ſhall be void. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the Leſſee, in ſafeguard of his Leaſe, ſhould have 12. dayes after the 12 dayes, to pay the ſaid Rent; for when the Rent is not paid at the firſt day, It is as much as if it had been reſerved at the 12th day after, and Dies ſolutionis is the 12th day of the Feaſt; and the Leſſee ſhall have 12 dayes after the 12th day, which is Dies ſolutionis poſt feſtum: and ſo it was adjudged, Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. rott 656. Smith and Ballards Caſe.

14. A. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. by Deed Indented, Leaſed the ſame to J. S. for 99 years, it if the ſaid A. ſhould ſo long live, rendring the Rent of 100 l. at Michaelmas and the Annunciation, or within 40 dayes after every of the ſaid Feaſts: J. S. made his Wife Executrix and dyed, the Executrix married M: A. dyed, having made J. D. her Executor the 13th day after the Feaſt of St. Michael; her Executor brought Debt for the half years rent before the death of A: And the Opinion of all the Juſtices was, That the Action would not lye. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. The Lady Pawletts Caſe. Cook 10. Part, 118.

15. The Vicar of Paperas leaſed his Vicarage, the Glebe Land, the Church, and all things to the ſame belonging, to J. S. (excepting the Howſing) reſerving 20 l. rent, yearly at Lammas, and the Feaſt Sancti Petri ad vincula, by equall portions; and if the Rent be behind by the ſpace of a moneth, it ſhould be lawful for the Vicar to diſtrein: and the Leſſee was bound to perform all Covenants, Articles, and Agreements, recited within the Indenture of the Leaſe; and for Rent behind 29. Auguſt, 25 Eliz. the Vicar brought Debt. To which the Defendant pleaded, That the Rent was not demanded the 29th day of Auguſt; upon which they were at Iſſue, and the Jury being at the Bar, Exception was taken, That he hath made a Leaſe of the Vicarage (except the houſing), and hath alledged the Demand to be general, ſuper terras glebales, and hath not ſhewed where. It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That it had been better to have ſaid, At ſuch a Gate, or Hedge, or High-way: but notwithſtanding they did not allow the Exception; For that if it were not well demanded, it ought to be ſhewed on the other ſide. But nothing was ſpoken, whether there needed any demand in the caſe, or not: which Quære. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in C. B. Bolſins Caſe. Godbolt 23.

16. A. made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent at Mich upon Condition, That if the Rent be behind at Mich. and a moneth after, that he might enter. The Leſſee after Mich. and before the moneth ended, ſent his ſervant to the houſe of A, to pay the Rent, he found him not there, but the Servant delivered the Rent to one M. his daughter, to deliver to A, (which M. at 2, or 3. dayes before the payment of the Rent, had received the Rent in like manner, and had paid it to A, and he accepted of it) but now he refuſed to receive it of her, but at the laſt day of the moneth went to the Land, and there demanded the Rent; and becauſe it was not paid, he entred. It was Reſolved by the Court in this caſe, That becauſe the Rent was due at Mich. and the moneth was given becauſe of the penalty of Re-entry, and the tender and refuſal was after the Rent was due, and within the moneth, That the penalty was ſaved. And it was ſaid, That Laws ought to be expounded ſecundum æquum et bonum, and good Conſcience; and the Leſſor in this caſe was at no prejudice, if he had accepted of the Rent, when his daughter tendred it unto him; and becauſe the Court conceived, That the Leſſor intended to defraud the Leſſee of his Leaſe, and the Law doth not favour fraud. It was therefore adjudged againſt A. the Leſſor. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Croppe Caſe. Godbolt 39.

17. Sir John Spencer made a Leaſe for years to Sir John Poynes rendring Rent by Indenture; The Leſſee Covenanted, That if the Rent be behind at any time of payment according to the Indenture, that the Leſſor ſhould have 20 l. Nomine pene for ſuch default: The Rent is behind, Sir John Spencer brought Debt for the Nomine pene. The Queſtion was, Whether without demand of the Rent, Debt did not lye for the Nomine pene? The Opinion of the Court was, That the Action of Debt did not lye. Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. Sir John Spencer and Sir John Poyns Caſe. Godbolt. 154.

18. A man made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent at the Feaſt of St. Mich. and if it were behind by 10 dayes after, being in the mean time lawfully demanded, and no ſufficient diſtreſs found upon the Land, that then it might be lawfull for the Leſſor to re-enter: The laſt of the 10 dayes, at the hour of 2. afternoon, the Rent was demanded, and there was a ſufficient diſtreſſe upon the Land before the demand, but not after; whether the Leſſor might enter, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid, That ſufficient diſtreſs ought to be referred to the time of the demand, to the laſt inſtant; at which time the demand is only material. But it was the better Opinion of the Court, That it was ſufficient, if there was a diſtreſſe for a reaſonable time, ſo as it might be preſumed that the Leſſor might have knowledg of it: But if a diſtreſſe be upon the Land onely for an hour, or by Night, It was not holden a ſufficient diſtreſſe. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt 67.

19. In Treſpaſſe, for entring of his houſe; It was found, That the Plaintiff Leaſed to the Defendant the houſe for 7. years, with Condition, That if the Rent be behind by the ſpace of 10. dayes, that then it ſhall be lawfull for the Leſſor to re-enter. Afterwards at the Feaſt of, &c. the Rent was behind, and the 10th day after, the Leſſor came to the houſe a quarter of an hour before the Sun-ſetting, and demanded the Rent in theſe words, I demand 3 l. 10 s. for a half years Rent of this houſe now due: and there continued till the Sun was ſet, but no Rent was paid. Note, The Iſſue was, If he came to the houſe half an hour before Sun-ſet, and there continued, demanding the half years rent of the premiſſes due at the Feaſt of the Annunciation then laſt paſt. It was moved, That upon upon this Verdict, the Iſſue is not found for the Plaintiff; the Iſſue was upon the half hour, and the quarter part of the hour was found. 2. The Iſſue was, If the demand were of the Rent due at the Feaſt of the Annunciation paſſed; and the Verdict is for Rent due at the time of the demand. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Verdict was good for the Plaintiff. But it was agreed by all the Court, That if in demand of Rent (ut ſupra) The Leſſor, or any on his part doth demand one penny more, or leſſe then is due, or in his demand doth not ſhew the certainty of his Rent, and the day of payment of it, and when it was due, the demand is not good, and no re-entry in ſuch caſe ſhall be given, unleſſe the demand be preciſely and ſtrictly followed. 20. Errour brought to reverſe a Judgment in B. R. upon an Obligation, Conditioned, That if the Obligor ſhould at all times well and truly pay all and ſingular the Rents, Covenants, Grants, Articles, Payments, and Agreements, which on his part are and ought to be performed, compriſed in an Indenture of Leaſe, &c. that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded generally, performance of all Covenants, &c. The Plaintiff Replyed, and ſhewed a breach for not payment of the Rent at ſuch a day, but doth not ſhew any demand of that Rent: upon which the Defendant did demur; and adjudged for the Plaintiff: and now aſſigned for Errour, That in as much as the Condition of the Bond is general for the performance of Covenants, and not particularized for the payment of the rent, the rent is not payable without demand; and therefore the breach not well aſſigned. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons in the Exchequer Chamber, That the Judgment was well given: For he pleading the performance of the payments, Covenants, &c. it ſhall be intended he had really performed them; and when the Plaintiff replyes, he hath not paid ſuch a Rent, he needs no a lledge a demand; for the Defendant may not ſay, It was not demanded; for then it ſhould be a Departure from his Plea. Wherefore it was holden, That the Replication was good, and the Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 2 Car. in Exchequer-Chamber, Chapman and Chapmans Caſe. Cro. 1 Par, 54.

21. In an Avowry for a Rent-Charge, The Grant was of a Rent of 12 l. per annum at two Feaſts; and if it be behind for the ſpace of a month after any of the ſaid Feaſts, it being lawfully demanded, that he might diſtrain; and for Rent arrear at the Annunciation, and by the ſpace a month, he diſtrained. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Avowry, for that it is not ſhewed, that the Avowant made any demand before the diſtreſs, and for that cauſe, it was ſaid, it had been ſo adjudged in Baſden and Downes Caſe. But it was agreed by the whole Court, That no actuall Demand was neceſſary to precede the Diſtreſſe; but that the Diſtreſſe is a demand: But if the Grant had been penned, That if it be arrear at ſuch a Feaſt, and for a moneth after demand, that then he may diſtrain, it is otherwiſe; for there the diſtreſs is limited to the moneth after the demand: And ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged in this Court, Trin. 3 Car. 22. Aſſiſe of a Rent-Seck: The Caſe was; A Rent-Seck of 4 l. per annum was granted by J. S. to N. his ſon in Fee, iſſuing out of a houſe called the Unicorn in L, payable at the Annunciation and Michaelmas at the ſaid houſe, to begin after his deceaſe; and 6 d. given in the name of Seiſin: For rent due at the Feaſt of the Annunciation, 1637. and for 6. years before not paid, &c. The Jury find the grant of the Rent, and the Seiſin and the Demand at the houſe called the Unicorn, at the Annunciation 1637. and that none was there to pay it: And whether this was a Diſſeiſin for the Rent, was the Queſtion? The doubt was, Whether it was a good demand for the Rent, at the houſe out of which it was iſſuing; and not at the houſe where it was payable. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That it was a good demand, and a Diſſeiſin for non-payment, and that the guift of 6 d. was a good Seiſin: and the Jury found all in damages, ſcil. 24 l, not mentioning it to be for arrearages of Rent; and yet good. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 365. Note there, Aſſiſe for a Rent-Seck.

23. Errour brought againſt T. M. and others, of a Judgment given in an Aſſiſe in the County of Montgomery: The Aſſiſe was brought againſt the ſaid 6. Defendants, and againſt C. Vaughan and his wife, and divers others, (in all, 15 perſons) de libo Tenemento ſuo in B, and 5 other Villages in the ſaid County: All the Defendants being attached, the Plaintiff made his Plaint, to be diſſeiſed of a Rent of 20 l. iſſuing out of 40 Meſſuages, 1000 Acres of Lands, &c. and for title, ſhewed, that one E. P. was ſeiſed of the Tenements aforeſaid, and by his Will, 1 Jac. deviſed to the Plaintiff a Rent of 20 l. per annum iſſuing out of the ſame Tenements for his life, and that the ſaid E. P. dyed ſeiſed, and that the ſaid Tenements deſcended to Elizabeth, who afterwards was married to the ſaid T. M. and to Margaret, who afterwards was married to the ſaid C. V: and that the Plaintiff was ſeiſed of the ſaid Rent by the hands of the ſaid T. M. being ſeiſed in the right of his wife, untill by the Defendants he was diſſeiſed; and thereupon brought the Aſſiſe: C. V. and Margaret his wife, and 9. other of the Defendants made default; wherefore the Aſſiſe was awarded againſt them by default; and others pleaded other pleas: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff againſt 6; and for 9, that they ſhould go without day. Upon this, Errour was brought, and aſſigned, Becauſe he demanded Rent by a Deviſe, whereof Arrerages are found for 30 years, and it doth not appear when the Deviſor dyed, or any time, or Feaſts appointed for the payment of it, and therefore the Verdict was ill, becauſe the certainty of the Arrerages cannot be known. 2. If the Jury, finding a Seiſin by the hands of one of the Husbands of the Heirs, whereas the Land diſcended to two daughters; whether this was a ſufficient finding of Seiſin. To that it was Reſolved, That it was a ſufficient Seiſin. A third Queſtion was, Whether the Jury finding the Demand of the Rent from ſix of the Defendants, and their deniall of payment, and not finding that it was demanded upon the Land, (but that they ſo Diſſeiſed the Plaintintiff) Whether that was ſufficient: It was holden by all the Juſtices, That the demanding it of the perſons off from the Land, and their deniall, is not ſufficient, for it ought to be upon the Land. The Judgment was reverſed, becauſe it was not found when the deviſor dyed. Mich. 14 Car. in B.R. Morrice and Princes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 375.

24. Note, that in caſe of Entry of the Feoffor for not payment of Rent, theſe Rules ought to be obſerved. 1. That the Feoffor cannot enter for not payment of Rent without a demand. 2. The Demand ought to be upon the Land, at the moſt notorious place. 3. If the Rent be to be paid off the Land, it ought to be paid at the place appointed, and at the moſt known place of it. 4. Tender of the Rent to the Feoffor himſelf at the day, upon any part of the Land, is good, and ſhall ſave the Condition, although it be not at the moſt notorious place. 5. The Tender of the Rent upon the Land, at a convenient time before Sun-ſetting, is ſufficient to ſave the Condition, unleſſe that the parties do meet upon the Land the ſame day; for then Tender of the Rent ſaves the Condition, although that the Feoffor refuſeth to receive it. 6. If Reſervation be of Rent at a certain Feaſt, with Condition, That if the Rent be behind by 20 dayes, there the Feoffee is not bound to make a demand untill the laſt day of the 20 dayes. 7. If the Rent be granted payable at a day certain; and if it be behind, that the Grantee diſtrain for it, there it is not neceſſary that the Grantee demand it at the day; but if he demand it at any time after, it is ſufficient, becauſe the Grantee hath Election to demand it when he will, to enable him to diſtrain. And all theſe Rules are proved by the Caſes precedent, and by the ſubſequent Caſes. See for theſe Rules, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 202, 203.

25. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Land in Fee, granted a Rent of 6 l. per annum out of the ſame to B. and C. his Wife for the life of C. payable at Michaelmas and our Lady-day, or within 30 dayes after; and if the Rent ſhould be behind, that he ſhould forfeit 10 l. by way of a pain after any of the ſaid Feaſt-dayes, being lawfully demanded; and that then and ſo often it ſhould be lawful for B. and his Wife to diſtrain and determine, untill the ſaid Rent and pain were ſatisfied: and ſhewed, that 54 l. for 9. years that was behind in the life of B, were unpaid; and that therefore he diſtrained. The Plaintiff demyed the Seiſin; which was found for the Defendant. It was moved, That the Rent behind in the life of B. did not belong to the Wife as Adminiſtratrix, but in her own right. But that was anſwered, That ſhe might diſtrain in her own right, and ſo the Conuſans good as Baily to her. And the Exception was, That it was not averred, that the Rent was demanded before the diſtreſs; as they ſay it ought to be by the expreſs clauſe. To that it was ſaid, That the clauſe of diſtreſs is no otherwiſe to be extended, then as the Grantor gives it; and therefore if the clauſe were, That if the Rent be behind, being demanded at another place beſides the Land, or of his perſon, then he may clearly diſtrain without ſuch a demand firſt made; for there the demand is other then the Law requires: But where the Clauſe is no more, but, If the Rent be behind, being lawfully demanded, then he may diſtrain, it is no more then the Law ſpeaks, and therefore the diſtreſſe implying a demand, and a diſtreſs, one before another, by operation of Law, ſatisfies it: But if he would have diſtrained for the pains, he muſt have made an Actual demand at the end of the 10 dayes, for then it grew due: alſo he muſt have made another demand of the pain it ſelf. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Brown and Dauneries Caſe, Hob. 208.

26. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made by him to the Defendant, reſerving Rents, and for the rent arrear, the Action is brought; The Defendant pleads, That the Leaſe in the Declaration mentioned was made by Indenture, reſerving the rent prout, with this Condition, That if the Rent be behind, then the Leaſe to be void; and doth not alledge a deſault of payment of the Rent; and ſo the Leaſe determined. The Plaintiff demurred. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That this Leaſe is not void without a demand, which therefore the Defendant ſhould have layed actually; and for want of it, his plea was not good, and it is in the Election of the Leſſor to avoid or continue the Leaſe in ſuch caſe. Hill. 18 Jac. in C. B. rott. 286. Hanſon and Norcliffs Caſe. Hob. 332. See there, Paſch. 19 Jac. in C. B. Acopburſt and Palmers Caſe, The Rent is due without demand, but forfeiture of the Eſtate, neither by entry, nor by avoiding upon Condition, is given either for Leſſor or Leſſee, without due demand made, which muſt be expreſly layed in the pleading.

27. In a Replevin, the Queſtion was, Whether if the Lord for a Rent-Service did not demand it at the day, whether he can diſtrain without a demand of the perſon? It was holden by the Court, That he might: For the Tenant is yet bound to tender it, and the Land is the debtor, and the Lord may reſort thither, when he pleaſeth to demand his Rent upon the Land; but if he tender his Homage, and the Lord refuſeth it, he cannot diſtrain without a demand of the perſon. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 15 Jac. in C. B. Grantley and Kingswell's Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 181.

4. That in all Writs and Actions where one is to Demand any thing, the form of the Demand is to be obſerved: What ſhall be a good Demand: And where a Demand is neceſſary; Where not.

1. WHen a man is to demand any debt, duty, or other thing by Writ or other; the form of the Writ and the demand muſt be obſerved, for that the form many times gives Eſſence to the thing: When he that makes a Bargain or Contract, or borrowes money, or he to whom the Obligation is made, brings an Action againſt him that is bound, and is party to the Contract, bargain or borrowing, and alſo when the Action is brought for money, the Demand by the Writ muſt be in the Debet et Detinet: But if a man ſelleth 20 Quarters of Wheat for a Horſe; there if he bring an Action for the horſe, it ſhall be in the Detinet only: For the Rule is, In Brevi de Debito de Catallis nunquam dicitur Quod ſi debet; In an Action of Debt for money, The demand ſhall be in the Debet: but if it be for any thing elſe, it ſhall be in the Detinet: But in Debt, If a man demand money, and 20 Quarters of Wheat, then the demand in the Writ is Precipe A. quod juſte, &c. reddat B. decem libras, &c. quas ei debet; et decem Quarteria frumenti quæ ei injuſtè detinet. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 119. & 111. acc.

2. When a woman is endowed of parcell of the Land, and afterwards would demand the Dower of the reſt againſt the ſame Tenant in the ſame Town or place: In that caſe for the recovery thereof, ſhe ſhall have a Writ of Dower generally, and not a Writ of Dower, unde nihil debet, for the words of that Writ will not ſerve, becauſe ſhe hath already received part of her Dower; and therefore ſhe muſt bring her Writ of Right of Dower to recover the reſidue, and therein make her demand according to her right. Fitzh. Na. Br. 8. acc.

3. An Action of Debt was brought upon a Bond to pay rent, and perform all Covenants, Grants, Payments and Agreements contained in a pair of Indentures, and the Defendant pleads the Indenture, and the performance thereof. The Plaintiff aſſigns a breach, That the Defendant had not paid the money. The Defendant ſaid, That the Plaintiff outed one part of the premiſſes before the day of payment: and upon that, they were at Iſſue; and Execution was taken, becauſe the Plaintiff had alledged no Demand to be made. But the Court held it good enough, and that it was implyed in the Iſſue, and that it was not neceſſary. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. Baker and Payns Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 76.

4. A. granted a Rent out of Lands to B, with Clauſe of Diſtreſs, and a Nomine pœna in the Deed for non-payment thereof according to the time limited, the Rent is behind after the time limited by the Nomine pœnæ, B. brings a Writ of Annuity in the Common-Pleas for the Arrearages of the Annuity, and for the moneys due upon the Nomine pœnæ, and hath Judgment: A. brings Errour, and aſſigns for Errour, That the Writ of Annuity did not lye for the Nomine pœnæ, although it did for the Rent: For although it was in the power and Election of B, to charge the Land out of which the Rent was to iſſue; or to bring his Writ of Annuity againſt B, and to charge his perſon, yet he had no ſuch power for the Nomine pœnæ, becauſe it was in the Nature of a Rent, and was neceſſarily to iſſue out of the Land, and not to charge the perſon. 2. It appears not in the Record, that B. did make a good Demand of this Nomine pœnæ upon the Land, out of which the Rent was iſſuing, as he ought to have done, before he could bring an Action for it: for although there were a Demand, yet if it were not a legal Demand, it was void, and the party ſhall take no benefit of it. The Caſe was adjourned. Mich. 18 Car. in B.R. Remmington and Kingerbyes Caſe. Style 4.

5. In an Action upon the Caſe brought, The Plaintiff declared upon a promiſe made by the Defendant to pay 84 l. out of the freight of a Ship; and for not paying it, brought the Action. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, and found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Plaintiff's averment in his Declaration of the Non-payment of the 84 l. was not good; for that it doth not appear, that there was any freight due for the Ship out of which the moneys were to be paid. The Court was of Opinion, That the Plaintiff ought to have averred, That there were moneys due for the Freight of the Ship; otherwiſe how can it be known that there were any moneys due to be paid out of them. It was alſo ſaid, It is parcell of the promiſe, that the moneys ſhall be paid out of the Freight; and as the averment is, the matters cannot ſtand together, and here is no Demand layed to be made for the moneys to be paid out of the Freight: And therefore the Court gave Judgment, That the Plaintiff Nil Capiat per Billam. Trin. 1650. Chace and Lovings Caſe. Styles 220.

6. An Action was brought, for not paying moneys upon the Receipt of a Bill of Exchange according to the Cuſtome of Merchants. Upon a Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was moved for ſtay of Judgment, That it appears not whether the Demand of the money was according to the old ſtile, or according to the new; and ſo it was incertain, whether the money was due; if according to the old ſtile, then it was not due, for the new ſtile is 10 dayes before the old. It was ſaid by the Court, That if the Bill be accepted, it is not neceſſary to alledge a Demand; and the demand in this caſe is not layed as part of the Cuſtome upon which the Action is founded. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 1653. in B.R. Styles 370.

7. A man granted a Rent-charge out of certain Lands pro Conſilio impenſo et impendendo, To have and to hold to him and his aſſigns for the term of his life, payable at 4. Feaſts of the year; and for default of payment upon demand, that it ſhould be lawful for him to diſtrain: The Grantee granted the Rent over; The Aſſignee after one of the dayes demanded the Rent, and diſtrained: In that caſe it was adjudged, That the Diſtreſſe was lawfull: For in that caſe he needed not to make any demand at any of the dayes, as in the caſe of re-entry, but he muſt demand it when he pleaſed, becauſe it was onely to entitle him to his remedy for the duty: For it is not neceſſary, that the Grantee of a Rent-charge, or of a Rent-Seck, ſhould demand it at the very day that it becometh due; but if he demand it at any time after, it is ſufficient; and it is not like a demand of a Rent upon a Condition, becauſe that is penal, and overthroweth the whole Eſtate: and therefore in that caſe the Demand muſt be certain. But the demand of a Rent-charge, or a Rent-Seck, is onely a formal mean to recover that which is due, and therefore it may be demanded at any time, whether the Tenant be preſent or no. Coke 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 144. & 193. See Hob. 107. & 108. acc.

8. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; a man granted a Rent out of certain Lands, and limited the ſame to be paid at a houſe which was another place off the Land, and in the Grant was this clauſe, That if the Rent were behind, and lawfully demanded, that then it ſhould be lawful for the Grantee to diſtrain. The Rent was behind; the Grantee diſtrained: and, If this Diſtreſs upon the Land be a good Demand, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid, That a Diſtreſs is a demand of it ſelf; and there is no difference where the Rent is payable upon the Land, and where not; and ſome Preſidents vouched to prove it. See Paſch. 4 Jac. Fox and Vaughans Caſe, Trin. 3 Car. Berriman and Bowdens Caſe. Trin. 18 Car. Sir John Lambs Caſe. The Court did incline, That there ſhould be a demand at the place which the Grantor had appointed for the payment thereof: For they ſaid, It is a part of the Contract, and is like unto a Condition precedent; for as in a Condition precedent, a man ought to perform the Condition before he can take any thing by the Grant; ſo in this Caſe, the Grantee ought to make a demand to enable him to diſtrain; for before the demand, he is not by the manner of the Grant (which ought to be obſerved) intitled to a Diſtreſſe: Et modus legem dat Donationi: And as to the Preſidents vouched, It was anſwered, That in Berriman and Bowdens Caſe, there the Judgment was given upon Confeſſion, and therefore doth not rule this caſe: and in Sir John Lambs Caſe, there was no Judgment given. But it was ſaid, That Melſam and Darbies Caſe, Mich. 6 Car. rott. 389. in B.R. was a Caſe in the point, where Judgment was reverſed upon a Writ of Error there brought for want of Demand. And the Court further ſaid, That where the Rent was demandable upon the Land, that theſe Caſes were not to the purpoſe: and therefore wiſhed they would not trouble the Court with them: There was no Judgment given in the Caſe, becauſe the Court deſired to ſee and view the Records of the Caſes; which had been vouched, and day given, for to ſhew further Preſidents. Trin. 17 Car. in C. B. Selden and Kings Caſe. Noſs, 147.

9. If a man makes a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, and if the Rent be behind by the ſpace of a moneth after the day of payment, that then the Term

Term ſhall ceaſe. In this caſe, If the Rent be reſerved to be paid at ſome place out of the Land, upon failer of payment, or due tender of the Rent at that place, the Leſſor may enter without making any demand upon the Land; but if the Rent were payable upon the Land, or no place named where it ſhould be paid, upon ſuch failer the Leſſor cannot enter without demanding of the Rent upon the Land, becauſe the rent is payable there of right. 33 H. 8. Dyer 51.

10. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in a Writ of Dower: and divers Exceptions were taken; 1. That the Demand was uncertain: For the Demand was de tertia parte Decimarum garbarum in C; and by this Demand, the kind of the Tythes demanded is not made certain; for the word, Garba, admits of divers Conſtructions. 2. The Demand is, ac etiam de Rectoria de A; which is incertain, for it ought to be de Rectis in Eccleſia. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the demand of the tertiam partem garbarum, was certain enough by common intendment; but it is here more certain then ſo, for it is tertiam partem garbarum granorum, which ſignifies Corn: and it is not neceſſary to expreſs the ſetting forth of the Dower per metas et bundas: and for the other Exception, It was holden, That it is not neceſſary to ſay, Rectoria Eccleſiæ, for that it muſt be ſo neceſſarily intended. And it was agreed, That a Demand in a Precipe ought to be more certain then it is neceſſary for a demand to be in a Writ of Dower. It was ſaid, That the word Garb, is a French word, and ſignifies any thing bound up in a Bundell. But by Cowell the Civilian, It ſignifies Corn bound up, and ſo is the word commonly taken at the Common-Law. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 1650. in B. R. Fairfax and Fairfax's Caſe. Styles 237, 238.

11. In Debt brought upon a Bond, The Condition was, to ſtand to the Arbitrament of J. S; who did award, That the Defendant ſhould pay 10 l. to the Plaintiff, and no time was limited to pay it. The Defendant confeſt the Arbitrament, and pleaded in barr, That the Plaintiff had not required him to pay the money. It was adjudged by the Court, to be no good Plea; for the Defendant at his perill ought to pay it, and the Plaintiff need not make any demand of it. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Brett and Averdens Caſe. Owen 7.

Demurrer.

1. What ſhall be a good cauſe of Demurrer, to a Bill, Declaration, Plea, Replication; what not. And where, upon Demurrer, the party might ſhew cauſe; where not.

1. TReſpaſs for breaking of his Fence and Entry of his Cloſe, the Defendant pleaded, That J. S. was ſeiſed of the Land, and demiſed the ſame to the Plaintiff by Deed, rendring Rent with a Clauſe of re-entry for non-payment, and made his Will in Writing, by which he gave the Land to the Defendant, and that the Rent was behind; and that for that Cauſe, he entred into the Lands: for which Entry the Action is brought, and demanded Judgment of the Action. The Plaintiff demanded, and for cauſe ſhewed; becauſe the Plea doth not ſhew that the Leaſe made to the Plaintiff, is a Leaſe of the Land in which the Treſpaſs is ſuppoſed: and alſo becauſe the Defendant doth not ſhew that he did enter into the Land by the leave of the Executor, which he ought to have done. Adjudged the Leaſe of Demurrer good. Trin. 23 Car. P. R. Mathew and Herle's Caſe. Styles, 65.

2. Treſpaſs brought for breaking his Cloſe, and taking a Gelding. The Defendant pleaded, That he for fear of his life, and wounding of 12. armed men, who threatned to kill him, if he would not do it, went into the Plaintiffs houſe, and took the Gelding: Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff did demurre, It was holden to be no Plea, to juſtifie the Defendant; for that a man may not do a Treſpaſs to one, for fear of threatning of another: for by this means the Party injured ſhall have no ſatisfaction, for he cannot have it of the Party that threatneth. Mic. 23 Car. B. R. Gilbert and Store's Caſe. Styles 72.

3. Debt brought upon an Obligation; The Defendant appeared, and imparled; and, for Imparlance, pleads in abatement of the Writ, that he was Earl of Nova Albion, and ought to be impleaded by that name, and not by the name of Ed. Powden, as in the Caſe he was. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea; It was the Opinion of the Court, that the Plea was not good, becauſe it was after Imparlance; whereas a Plea in Abatement of the Writ, ought to be pleaded before Imparlance. And 2ly, becauſe the Plea is frivolous, for the Defendant pretends, that he was Earl of Albion, before he entred into the Bond, and that he is eſtopped to do by his own Deed: Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1649. in B. R. Weſton and Plowden's Caſe. Styles 180.

4. In Treſpaſs for taking his Cattels, vi et armis, The Defendant pleaded Not-Guilty, as to the Force, &c. And as to the taking of the Cattel, he pleaded, That he bought them in a Market. The Plaintiff demurred to the Plea: The Exception to the Plea was, That the Defendant doth not ſhew what day the Market was kept, nor whether it were out of Lent, according to the Patent for keeping of the Market; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame ought to have been added; and therefore the Plea without it was not good Hill. 23 Car. in B. R. Marſhal and Pork's Caſe. Styles 113.

5. Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand to an Award: The Defendant pleaded Nullum Arbitrium. The Plaintiff replyed, That the Arbitrators did make an Award, and ſet forth the Award in hæc verba. The Defendant demurred, for that he doth not ſhew, that the Award was delivered up according to the Submiſſion: Alſo, it is not found touching what Suits the Award was made: It was holden by the Court, that the Award was good; for the Award is good, though not delivered up by the Arbitrators; and for the ſecond Exception, it is good enough: for that the Award is ſaid to be de premiſſis. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Langley and Wyboord's Caſe. Styles 110.

6. Debt for Rent. The Defendant pleaded, That he is Tenant and Servant to the Lord Moon, a Lord of Parliament; and prayes the Priviledge of Parliament: whereupon the Plaintiff demurred. The Queſtion was, Whether a Writ of Priviledge belongs to a Parliament man, ſo far as to protect his Lands and Eſtate. Rolls Chief Juſtice conceived it did; and therefore, the Demurrer good. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Smith and Hack's Caſe. Styles 139.

7. Debt upon an Obligation to ſave the Defendant harmleſs; The Defendant pleaded, Non Damnificatus. The Plaintiff Replyed, and ſhewed a breach whereby he was damnified. The Defendant demurred upon the Replication; and for cauſe ſhewed, that the breach was aſſigned to be at Weſtmin. and doth not ſhew in what County Weſtminſter is. The Court held, that although Weſtminſter be a City, yet it ought to be ſhewed in what County it is; and Ruled the Cauſe of Demurrer good. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Nelſon and Thompſon's Caſe. Styles 142.

8. Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe, and eating his Graſs with Cattel. Upon Not-Guilty, a Verdict and Judgment for the Plaintiff, Error brought, and Aſſigned for Error, That the Declaration was uncertain; for the Plaintiff declares of breaking his Cloſe, and eating of his Graſs, cum quibuſdam averiis, and doth not ſhew what Cattel: So he may recover Damages in this Action, and have another Action for the ſame Treſpaſs, becauſe it cannot be known what Cattel did the former Treſpaſs; and it was ſaid, that Averia is a word at large, and ſignifies Cattel of divers kinds. The Opinion of the Court was, Where the thing it ſelf is in Demand, and an Action brought for it, as in Trover and Converſion, the thing ought to be particularly named: but here the Action is brought for Damages, and eating his Graſs; and if you had demurred to the Declaration, it had not bin good; à fortiori now, if after a Verdict. The Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Broke and Brooke's Caſe. Styles 170.

9. Action upon the Caſe, upon Aſſumpſit, to pay for certain Barrels of Beer, ſold and delivered to the Defendant ſuch a day: The Defendant pleaded ſpecially, that he did not aſſume as the Plaintiff had declared. The Plaintiff demurred, becauſe that by this pleading the Plaintiff is tyed up to a particular day, whereas he may give in Evidence for any other Barrels of Beer ſold at any other time before the Action brought. The Court held the Demurrer good. Trin. 1649. in B. R. Cook and More's Caſe. Styles 195.

10. Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand to an Award; The Plaintiff declares of an Arbitrament made 28 May, in a year, ready to be delivered up the 29th day of May the ſame year. The Defendant pleads Nullum Arbitrium. The Plaintiff replyes, the Award was made by the Umpire the 28th day of May, ready to be delivered up the ſame 28th day of May. The Defendant demurs to the Replication; for that the Plaintiff hath ſet forth double matter; one in his Declaration; the other in his Replication. The Court ſaid, The Iſſue to be tryed is not to be taken upon the day of the Award made, and therefore requires no Anſwer, and ſo cannot be double; and one ought not to demur for doubleneſs of matter upon a thing upon which no Iſſue can be taken: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Tyler's Caſe. Styles 41.

11. A Quare Impedit was brought for the Vicarage of Leeds in the County of York, againſt the Biſhop, and Cook, &c. The Biſhop claims nothing but as Ordinary, and further pleads, That the Church became void, 1 Jan. 12 Jac. and that 6 moneths had elapſed; by reaſon whereof he collated lated the 23. of December. The Defendant Cook pleaded the ſame Plea. The Plaintiff replyed, and converted the Avoydance, the 1. of Jan. but ſaid, That within the ſix moneths, and 20. of May, he preſented his Clerk, and the Arch-Biſhop refuſed to admit him, and afterwards the 30. of May the Biſhop collated; and the Defendant demurred for the doubleneſs of the Plea. It was ſaid by the Court, If the Incumbent plead good matter for his Preſentation, although the Biſhop plead inſufficiently, that ſhall not prejudice the Clark. The Defendant took Exception to the Plaintiffs Writ, becauſe it bore date the 9th of May, and the Preſentment was the 29th of May, and the refuſal of the Biſhop was the 29th of May, and he collated the 30th of May: ſo the Writ was brought before the Refuſal made by the Biſhop. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Birkhead, and the Biſhop of York and Cook's Caſe. Brownloe 1. Part, 164.

12. Debt upon an Obligation: The Condition was, That if A. would render himſelf to an Arreſt in ſuch a place, &c. The Defendant pleads, That by Priviledge of Parliament, thoſe of the Parliament and their neceſſary Servants ought not to be arreſted by the ſpace of 40 days, before the Parliament, nor ſitting the Parliament, nor 40 days after A. And ſets forth that A. was a Servant to ſuch a man of the Parliament at ſuch a time, ſo that he could not render himſelf to be Arreſted. To which the Plaintiff demurred. It was the Opinion of the Court for the Plaintiff: for A. might render himſelf, and let it be at their peril if they will arreſt him. Trin. 4 Jac. in C. B. Jackſon and Kinſon's Caſe. Brownloe 1. Part. 92.

13. In a Replevin for diſtraining of Cattel, The Defendant imparled, and afterwards pleaded, That the Lands were Ancient Demeſne, where the Diſtreſs was taken: The Plaintiff demurred to the Plea. It was ſaid, that the Plea was not to be admitted, becauſe that the Party had made his Defence, and cannot therefore plead afterwards to the Juriſdiction of the Court: Alſo, it doth not appear that the Lands are holden of the Mannor, but only one parcel of the Mannor, and ſuch Lands are pleadable in other Courts. The Opinion of the Court was, That after the Imparlance, the Plea was not good, becauſe by it he hath admitted the Juriſdiction of the Court. Hill. 24 Car. in B. R. Vincent and Wallis Caſe. Styles 197.

14. Action upon the Caſe, upon an Indebitatus Aſſumpſit Br. was ſold. The Defendant pleaded the Statute of Limitation of Actions in Bar. The Plaintiff Replyed, He is a Merchant, and was in Ireland, and did not return till ſuch a time; and ſhewed when, and that within 6 years after his Return he brought this Action. The Defendant demurred upon the Replication. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. The Defendant brought Errour, and aſſigned it, That the Replication upon which the Demurrer is to proceed, was double: For firſt, He alleadgeth he is a Merchant, and ſo is a perſon out of the Statute of Limitations: And ſecondly, He ſhews that he brought his Action within ſix years, which is needleſs. 2. He ſaith, he did not return into England, whereas the Statute is general, If he returned; and he may return into Wales. And thirdly, the Action was an Action upon the Caſe; and that Action is not mentioned in the Statute. The Court was of Opinion, That an Action upon the Caſe is within the Statute; and that the word Treſpaſs in the Statute doth comprehend in it an Action upon the Caſe. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 1650. Robinſon and Walker's Caſe. Styles 230.

15. Action upon the Caſe, for words: The words are; The Knave the Apothecary that marryed my Siſter, hath poyſoned my Uncle, and I will have him taken up again to hang him. The Defendant pleaded an Accord betwixt him and the Plaintiff, That whereas the Plaintiff had done a Treſpaſs againſt him, that one Treſpaſs ſhould be ſet againſt the other. The Plaintiff demurred to the Plea. The Court was of Opinion, that the words were Actionable, and that the Plea in Barr was not good; and therefore the Demurrer to it good. An. 1650. Dowes and Oakham's Caſe. Styles 245.

16. Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand to an Award. The Defendant pleaded, there was no Award. The Plaintiff replyed, that there was an Award made, and ſets forth the Award, and aſſigns a breach. The Plaintiff demurrs, and for cauſe ſheweth, That part of the Award was, that one of the parties ſhould make ſuch a general Releaſe to the other, as Councel ſhould adviſe; ſo as the Councel are made Arbitrators, in regard that a Judicial Act is referred to them, which ought not to be, for Arbitrators cannot delegate their Authority to others. The Court was of Opinion, that there was no Judicial thing left to the Councel to do, therefore it is well enough: but it had bin otherwiſe, if it had bin a Judicial Act; for that had bin for Arbitrators to delegate their Authority to others, which is not warrantable, becauſe it is contrary to the Submiſſion: but to delegate a Miniſteriall Act is not contrary to it. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. H. 1649. Cater and Starkute's Caſe. Styles, 217, 218.

17. Treſpaſs Quare Clauſum fregit was brought againſt an Attorney of the Common-Pleas; He pleaded his priviledge by an Attorney. Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff did demur. The Queſtion was, Whether he might plead this Plea by Attorney, or whether he ought to plead it in proper perſon: It was ſaid he ought not to plead it by Attorney; and every one by the Common Law ought to appear in perſon: and there is no Statute Law, or Uſage, that authorizeth an Attorney, to make an Attorney to demand his priviledge: Alſo, it is againſt the Dignity of the Court; and alſo thereby he deſtroys the very Reaſon why he hath his priviledge, which is his Attendance in Court. But the Opinion of the Court was, That an Attorney may plead his priviledge by Attorney, and there is no Inconveniency follows by it, and it is not contrary to any thing that he hath done, but it may be he is ſick, or hath buſineſs in another Court. The Plea was allowed, and the Demurrer over-ruled. M. 1653. Higgs and Harriſon's Caſe. Styles 413.

18. In Accompt: The Defendant pleaded, He was never Receiver; and found for the Plaintiff. The Defendant was adjudged to accompt before Auditors. The Defendant pleaded before the Auditors, That he had delivered over part of the Money. The Plaintiff demurs, and for cauſe ſhews, That the Plea is contrary to the Verdict; for that is, that he ſhould accompt for all, and here he would accompt but for part only. The Court was of Opinion, that it cannot be a good Plea before Auditors in diſcharge of the Accompt: But here the Plea of Delivery over, hath made it a Plea in Bar, and it would be miſchievous now to plead it in diſcharge; for this would cauſe one and the ſame Iſſue to be twice tryed, and then there may be contrary Verdicts, which would be very inconvenient. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1653. Pendarvis and St. Aubins Caſe. Styles, 410, 411.

19. Debt upon a Bill: The Defendant pleaded, That after that the money became due, he and the Plaintiff ſubmitted themſelves by word to an Award; and that there was Award made that the Defendant ſhould pay the Plaintiff 8 li. at ſuch a place, and thereupon the Plaintiff ſhould give him a general Releaſe, and that he accordingly tendred the money. The Plaintiff demurred, and ſhewed for cauſe, That here is a ſubmiſſion by word pleaded, after the day of payment expreſſed in the Bill, which is not good to diſcharge the Debt. It was adjudged, That the Demurrer was good, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. M. 1651. in B. R. Luddington and White's Caſe, Styles, 350.

20. Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand in Award. The Defendant pleaded Nil Debet; and upon a Demurrer, Exception was taken, That the Action here is meerly grounded upon the Award; and therefore the Award ought to be brought into Court, which is not done. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if an Action of Debt be brought upon an Obligation, the Obligation ought to be produced, and in all other Caſes where things cannot be demanded but by Deed: Otherwiſe it is, if they may be demanded either by Deed or without Deed; but in this Caſe here is no Deed: For an Arbitrament under Seal is no Deed, and the Arbitrament may be made without Deed, and therefore it is not neceſſary to be produced in Court. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1655. Dod and Horton's Caſe. Style, 459.

21. Debt upon an Obligation for performance of certain Covenants in an Indenture. The Defendant pleaded performance generally. The Plaintiff demurred to the Plea, and ſhewed for cauſe, That divers Covenants are contained in the Indenture; ſome of them in the affirmative, and ſome in the Negative: and therefore a general pleading of performance of all is not good. For as to the Covenants in the affirmative, he ought to plead a ſpecial performance, and ſhew how; and of that Opinion was the Court: Wherefore adjudged for the Plaintiff. M. 1649. in B. R. Fiſher and Dell's Caſe. Styles, 165.

22. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop of Ely by Husband and Wife: the Biſhop pleaded generally, that he was Schiſmaticus inveteratus, but did not ſhew in what he was a Schiſmatick: and for that cauſe, It was adjudged againſt the Biſhop. But if he had ſhewed certainly in writing he was Schiſmaticus, et ea occaſione inidoneus ſit et inhabilis, it had been good. The doubt was, if the ſame were helped by the Statute of 27 Eliz. of Demurs. It was ſaid, That the Statute helpeth onely in matters of Form; but this is matter of Subſtance. But Anderſon Chief Juſtice ſaid, Although it be the Subſtance of his Plea, yet it is but Form to plead it certainly. And he ſaid, If one generally demur to a double Plea, it is not good at this day: And ſo He, Periam, and the other Juſtices, by their ſilence, ſeemed to agree thereunto: But the Caſe in that point was not Ruled. In this Caſe, It was agreed, That the Action brought in the name of the Husband and Wife was well brought: And in this Caſe, it was ſaid by the Lord Anderſon, That if a thing be ſufficiently alleadged, it is confeſſed by the Demurrer; otherwiſe not. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Specot and the Biſhop of Ely's Caſe. Goldesbr. 52. 6. See Cooke Part. Spencer's Caſe, 57.

23. Aſſumpſit againſt an Adminiſtrator upon a Promiſe by the Inteſtate, ſuppoſing that the Inteſtate borrowed of the Plaintiff, 1. May, 12 Jac. 20 l. and promiſed to pay it upon Requeſt. That the Plaintiff, 1. Aug. 12 Jac. requeſted the payment, and that he had not paid it, and died, and Adminiſtration was committed of his Goods to the Defendant, who upon Requeſt had not paid it. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, It being found for the Plaintiff. It was was moved in stay of Judgment, that this Assumpsit being made, Anno 12 Jac. and the breach the same, there this Action is brought too long after; for by the Statute of 21 Jac. of Limitations of Actions, it should have been brought within six years: Some of the Justices were of Opinion, That he could not have advantage of the Statute, unlesse he had pleaded it, or had demurred thereupon: Other of the Justices conceived, That forasmuch as it appeareth upon the Plaintiff's own shewing in his Declaration, That it is out of the Statute of Limitations, and that the Statute is in the Negative, that it shall not be brought at all, unlesse it be brought within the time limitted by the Statute; therefore the Defendant shall have advantage thereof by Exception, without pleading, or demurring: The Court took further time to advise. Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Faukersley and Robinson's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 116.

24. Debt brought against the Administrator of J. who pleaded, That the Intestate was endebted to him by divers Obligations (and recites them) to the sum of 80 l. and that goods to that value, and not above, came to his hands, which he deteynes for his Debt: and that he hath nothing ultra. The Plaintiff demurred, because it amounted to the general Issue. The better Opinion of the Court was, That this was no cause of Demurrer, for the Plea is sufficient, and the reason of pressing a generall Issue, is not for insufficiency of the Plea, but not to make a long Record, when there is no cause which is matter of discretion; And therefore it is to be moved to the Court, and not to be demurred upon. Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. Sir Henry Warner and Wainford's Case. Hob. 117.

25. Debt upon an Obligation by an Administrator, the Defendant pleaded, That the Obligation was with Condition, for the performance of Covenants in a Deed Poll, and pleaded, That he had performed them all, not shewing what they were; Whereupon the Plaintiff demurred in Law, And the Plea upon the Demurrer was adjourned from Oct. Mich. to Oct. Hillary, at which day the Defendant pleaded, That since the Darrein continuance, the Plaintiff's Administration was revoked, and committed to the Defendant: In this Case, it was agreed, That upon those adjournments, and Continuances of Demurrers, the Plaintiff might be Nonsuit at the day in another Term, whereunto it is adjourned, and by the same reason, he may plead a Plea, Puis le Darrein Continuance. 2. It was agreed, That if he or the Plaintiff should here take Issue, or demur upon this Plea, yet the Court must consider upon the first demurrer, for if upon that standing confessed by the demurrer, the Plaintiff could not have his Action, the Court cannot give Judgment for him, however the latter Issue or demurrer passe; Otherwise it were if the first had bin an Assise, for then nothing were confessed to his prejudice, and then that had bin utterly relinquished by the second Issue, or Demurrer. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Stoner and Gibson's Case. Hob. 81.

26. The Queen brought a Quare Impedit against the Arch-bishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of Chichester, and the Incumbent: And Counted, that A. was seised of the Advowson, and that he was Outlawed in an Action personall, at the suit of one, and shewed the whole Outlawry certain; Exception was taken to the Declaration, because in the setting down of the Outlawry, the processe is alledged to be retorned by the Sheriff, but the name of the Sheriff is not there expressed; It was agreed as to that point, That the Sheriffs are to put their names to the Retorn of the Writs, but it is not requisite so to plead it, for the omitting of it doth not make the Retorn void. Another Exception was, That the Patron had pleaded one plea, and the Incumbent the same Plea in bar; And the Queen had demurred in this manner, scil. Quod seperalia placita per dictos, &c. seperaliter placitat. &c. dicta Domina Regina necesse non habet, nec per legem terræ tenetur respondere. The Opinion of the Court was clear, That the Demurrer ought to have bin severall, upon the Plea of the Patron by himself, and of the Incumbent by himself. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. The Queens, and the Bishop of Canterburyes Case. Leon. 139.

27. The Case was, the Defendant being endebted to C. who dyed Intestate; Administration of his goods were committed to J. S. who brought Debt, and had Judgment, and dyed before Execution, and Administration of the goods Intestate was committed to the Plaintiff, who took out a Scire facias upon the Judgment; and whether it lay or not, was a demurrer in Law, It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Scire facias did not lye, for want of privity, and therefore the Plaintiff was put to bring his Action de novo, Pasc. 1 Jac. in B. R. Yate and Gough's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 4.

28. A, B, and C. were joyntly bound in a Recognizance to the Plaintiff, viz. A. in 120 l. and B. and C. in 60 l. et uterque eorum: If the Plaintiff should bring Debt of 60 l. A. before Octab. Hill. following in C. B. that he within 8. dayes after warning, should appear by himself or his Attorney, and if he were condemned, should satisfy the Debt, or render himself to the Prison of the Fleet, there to remain untill he be satisfied: And layes de facto, That he brought debt of 60 l. in the Common-Pleas against A. and it was so far proceeded in the Action, that it was adjudged, That

The Plaintiff ſhould recover his Debt of 60 l. and 5 l. Coſts. And that he ſued forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt A. and that he had not paid the Condemnation, nor rendred his body: The Defendant demurred, becauſe the Action is brought againſt C. onely, whereas it ought to have been brought againſt him and B. for the words are utrique cognovit. But as to that, it was ruled by the Court, That foraſmuch as both appeared at the day of the Retorn, and that Taliter proceſſum fuit, that the Plaintiff recovered, it was ſufficient, being but a conveyance to the Action, and Collaterall: Another Exception was, becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed, That he gave warning of the Action brought. It was holden by three of the Juſtices, That that was a materiall Exception becauſe it is a Condition precedent, which ought to be firſt alledged to be performed; wherefore for that cauſe, Judgment was entred for the Defendant. Mich. 1 Jac. in B. R. Hargrave and Rogers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 45.

29. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, The Plaintiff, in bar to the Avowry, ſhews, That the Land was Copyhold-Land, Grantable in Poſſeſſion, or Reverſion, for life, or in Fee; And that the Lord Granted the Reverſion unto him after the death of W. who was Tenant for life, and ſhews the death of W. whereby he entred: Upon which, it was demurred, becauſe he did not ſhew the beginning of W. his Eſtate, or by whom W. had the Eſtate Granted. But the Opinion of the Court was, That that was no cauſe of Demurrer, becauſe it is not the Plaintiff's Title, but matter of Conveyance thereunto: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 2 Jac. in B. R. Lodge and Fryes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 52.

30. Debt brought upon the Statute of 8 Eliz. for Coſts recovered in an Ejectione firme, the Plaintiff being Non-ſuit, and ſuppoſing the Statute to be made Ad Parliamentum tenium Anno 8 Eliz. whereas the Parliament began Anno 5 Eliz. and by Prorogation, was held in Anno Octavo; ſo it ought to have bin ad ſeſſionem Parliamenti tent. Anno, 8 Eliz. and for this Cauſe after Demurrer, it was ruled to be ill. Hill. 3 Jac. in B. R. Ford and Hunter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 111.

31. Debt brought for 300 l. in the Debet et Detinet; for that the Plaintiff by Indenture, by the name of O. H. Executor of J. H. demiſed to the Defendant ſuch Land as he had in Extent, for a Debt recovered by J. H. Habendum, for ſo many years rendring Rent; and for three years Rent the Action was brought. The Plaintiff demurred, becauſe the Action is brought by him in the Debet et Detinet: But the Demurrer was over-ruled by the Court, for it is not brought by him as Executor, though he be named Executor in the Indenture; And although he made the Leaſe as Executor, yet making it for years by Indenture, if he hath not any other Title, it will paſſe well enough and it is upon his own contract, and he ſhall have Debt for it, as if he were ſeiſed in his own right. Paſc. 22 Jac. in B. R. Holman and Chutes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 685.

32. Debt upon a Demiſe of a houſe, and divers Lands apud C. and of ſeverall Cloſes, The Defendant pleaded an Entry into parcell of the Lands at C: Iſſue being thereupon, It was found for the Plaintiff, It was moved the Declaration was not good, becauſe no place is mentioned where the Lands were; But it was holden by the Court, That the Declaration was not good; and it had bin a good cauſe of Demurrer, &c. But in regard the Defendant hath pleaded a Collaterall plea, ſcil. Entry of the Plaintiff, he hath made the Declaration good. Mich. 21 Jac. in B. R. Backland and Otleys Caſe. Croke, 2. Part, 692.

33. Treſpaſſe for Aſſault, Battery, Wounding, and taking away 12 Plate Locks. To the Aſſault and Battery, &c. the Defendant pleaded Not-guilty; And for taking away the Locks, he pleaded a ſpeciall Juſtification; by vertue of Letters Patents of Incorporation, Granted to the Lockſmiths of Durham, by the Biſhop of Durham, who had Jura regalia within the County of Durham; And that he as Warden of the Company, took them. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea, and for cauſe ſhewed, That it appears not by the Plea, that they are a Corporation created by the Biſhop, but onely that the Cuſtomes uſed amongſt them in order to the regulating of their Trade, were Confirmed by the Biſhop, which doth not make them a Corporation. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Demurrer was good, For that there doth not appear any Order made by the Corporation to take away the Locks; and therefore what was done, was without Warrant, though the Corporation had ſuch a power; And the Court ſaid, It would be hard to maintain, the Lockſmiths to be a Corporation, becauſe the Biſhop Confirmed their Orders. Mich. 1650. in B. R. rott. 33. Goodyer and Shawes Caſe. Styles 293.

34. Action upon the Caſe for ſelling him falſe Bills of publick Faith, &c. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration for that the Ordinances of Parliament, was miſrecited, as alſo the names of the Commiſſioners in the Ordinance, and alſo becauſe, It is not ſhewed in what manner the ſame were Aſſigned, but generally, that they were Aſſigned in due form of Law; The Court held, That the naming of the Ordinance, and of the Commiſſioners, was but inducement to the Action, and the shewing how the Bills were Assigned, not necessary; but the ground of the Action is the Deceit, in Assigning over false Bills, and Affirming them to be true; And the Defendant by his demurrer, hath the Deceit: and therefore the Demurrer was over-ruled, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff, Trin. 1652. rott. 460. in B. R. Fowk and Boyles Case. Styles 343.

and

35. Covenant brought by the Mayor and Commonalty of London, against H. for Rent reserved upon a Lease made to him of the Garble-Office, The Defendant pleaded, That the Office was an Office of trust, and consequently could not be let for years, and so no ground of Action: For the Plaintiffs, it was said, That the Mayor and Commonalty had a Fee-simple in the Office, and not a meer Trust in them to execute it. And 2. This Lease shall be accounted but a Deputation, and not a Grant of the Office, and the Lessees Covenant will bind him to pay the Rent. For the Defendant, it was said, That the Office is an Office reposed in the Corporation for the publique good, and is not vested in the Mayor, and therefore he cannot Grant it, though he may make a Deputy to execute it, but not Grant it to make a Revenue of it. The Court said, It would be hard to maintain the Defendants plea; for that they may make a Deputy to Execute the Office: But in regard it is an Office of Trust, they said it is considerable, Whether it may be leased out, though the Mayor might make a Deputy. Mich. 1652. The Mayor and Commonalty of London, and Hutton's Case. Styles 357.

2. Where, and what matters in fact, shall be Confessed by the Demurrer, What not.

1. DEbt is brought upon an Obligation, and doth not declare at what place the Obligation was made, for which cause the Declaration is not good. If the Defendant doth not demur upon the Declaration, but pleads an Acquittance; in which he acknowledgeth the Deed; the same makes the Declaration good. Mich. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 62.

2. An Ejectione firme was brought against two: one appeared, and pleaded the generall Issue; processe continued against the other, who now appeared, and pleaded an Entry after the last continuance, in abatement of the Writ; And upon that Plea, the Plaintiff demurred in Law. In the Interim, the Issue was found for the Plaintiff, by Nisi Prius, against him who appeared first: And thereupon the Plaintiff demanded Judgment; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Plaintiff should not have judgment, because by his Demurrer in Law, he had confessed his Writ to be abated. Otherwise it had bin, if he had onely Imparled to the Plea. Hill 6 Eliz. Dyer, 226.

3. The Vicarage of Y. being of the Patronage and gift of the Prebend and Parson of Y. became void, and remained void two years, by which Title of Lapps, devolved to the Queen by her Prerogative. The Bishop of B. made Collation for Lapps to L. The Queen presented J. S. and the Bishop would not admit him; who thereupon brought a Quare Impedit against the Bishop and Incumbent depending, which L. purchased another Presentation in the name, without mentioning of the first, by fraud and Deceit; Afterwards the Queen certified the Court, That she had forgot her first Presentation, and said, That her pleasure was, That her first Presentation should stand, And, If that the second Patent of Presentation, obtained by fraud, and without expresse mention of the pleasure of the Queen, be sufficient to avoid the first or not, was the Question. Afterwards Judgment was given for the Queen; because that the fraud and deceit done to the Queen, dependent, the Writ, was confessed by the Demurrer of L. Mich. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 339.

4. A man brought an Appeal of Maim, and Declared, That the Defendant did Feloniously Maim him in his left hand; The Defendant pleaded at another time, and before the Appeal brought, the Plaintiff brought an Action of Trespasse in the Common-Pleas, of battery against him, for the same battery, and had judgment thereupon, and Damages and Costs Assessed, which the Defendant had satisfied and paid; and averred that the Action of Trespasse, and the said Maim, whereof the Appeal was brought, was one and the same, and not divers: Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff demurred. And because it appeared to the Court by the Bar of the Defendant, which the Plaintiff by his Demurrer hath confessed, And that he himself in the Action of Trespasse for the battery, hath recovered damages, for the Maim (for wounding, includeth the Maim and more) and the Defendant hath averred, That the wounding in the Action of Trespasse, and the Maim in the Appeal, are all one: It was Resolved, That the Plea in bar was good. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 43, Hudson and Lees Case.

5. A man made a Lease for years, and afterwards bargained and sold the Reversion, to one and his Heirs, and before that Inrolment of the Deed, he levyed a Fine of the Tenements to him and his Heirs, and afterwards the Deed was enrolled within six Moneths, which was averred so to be by the Defendant in the Action: And the Defendant further pleaded, That she never Attorned; The Action was an Action of Waste. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Defendants Plea. The point was, Whether the Defendant shall be admitted to aver, When the Deed was enrolled: It was said, That it shall be intended in Law, That the Deed was Enrolled the first day of the Term; and so much the rather, because it doth not appear by the Record, when it was enrolled. But in this Case, It was Resolved by the whole Court, That it is true, That it shall be intended by Presumption of Law, That the Deed was enrolled the first day of the Term: But stabit Præsumptio donec probetur in Contrarium; And because in this Case, the Plaintiff by his demurrer hath confessed the Enrollment to be after the Term, for this cause, the Presumption shall vanish, and become of no force, and the confession of parties shall stand. Trin. 33 Eliz. in C.B. Cook 4. Part, 71. Hind's Case.

6. In a Replevin, the Defendant Avowed for a Rent of 20 l. The Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry alledged the Statute of Usury; And that A. lent to B. 100 l. and that B. granted to A. an yearly Rent of 20 l. upon Condition, That if the said B. pay to the said A. such a day, 100 l. that then the Rent should cease; B. received the mony, and granted the Rent upon such Condition, and for rent arrear, distreyned; And note, the Distreyn was, 27 December, 33 Eliz. for 20 l. at Michaelmas, then past; upon which the Avowant demurred in Law. It was Objected, That the Plaintiff in Bar of his Avowry hath alledged that the grant was made upon a corrupt Contract against the Statute; And the Avowant hath demurred thereupon, by which he hath confessed all matters in Fact; Yet because, upon the matter disclosed in the Bar, it appeareth to the Court, That it was not a corrupt Contract against the Statute, and so his Allegation of the same, repugnant to the matter, shewed by himself, in his bar to the Avowry, And a Demurrer is not a confession of all matters in fact, but of all such matters in fact as are well and sufficiently pleaded for this cause; Judgment was given for the Avowant. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 5. Part, 69. Burton's Case.

7. In a Replevin, the Defendant did Avow the taking of the Cattell at B. in a place called N. which was his Freehold for damage Feasant: The Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry said: That A. was seised of the place, and had Issue three sons, B, C, and D. and by his Will in Writing (of which he made his sons his Executors) Devised the same to B. his eldest son for 60 years, if the said A. should so long live; And afterwards to the use of C. his son for life, and afterwards to the Heirmales of the body of B. with divers Remainders over. Proviso, That if B. do not suffer his Executors quietly to carry away all his goods in his house, or shall do any Act to hinder the intent of A. his Father, that then the Uses limitted to B. and his Heirs, should cease. A. dyed, the Executors came to the house, and there would have carried away the goods: B. would not suffer them, but hindred them to carry them away; he in the Remainder entred, viz. C. The Plaintiff claymed under the Title of B. It was Resolved in that Case, amongst other points, That although, That the Title which the Plaintiff claymed in his Bar be utterly destroyed (for that was Countermanded by the Feoffment which the Avowant pleaded, and which the Plaintiff did confesse by his Demurrer) yet the Plaintiff should have Judgment, because his Count is good; and the Avowant in his Replication to the Bar of his Avowry, hath done two things: One, he hath destroyed the Title which he made by the Will; the other, he hath given to the Plaintiff another Title, scil. to have the Land for 60 years, by force of the uses declared upon the Feoffment. So the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Plaintiff had a Lawfull Term in the Land, and therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff against the Avowant. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Cook 7. Part, Francis's Case. 93.

8. In Ejectione firmæ, the Defendant shewed, That King James was seised of the Manor of D. in the right of his Crown, in which there were divers Copyholds, Demiseable in Fee, in Tail, for Life, or Years; And that the Copyholders by Custome, might make Leases for three years, without Licence; And that the King did Grant the Copyhold in Question to A. who was admitted; under whose Title the Defendant claymed, The Plaintiff replyed, and set forth, That Queen Elizabeth was seised of the said Mannor, And Anno 22. of her Raign, did Grant the said Copyhold in Fee to B. who was admitted, and dyed seised, and that his son was admitted to it; and did enter, and made the Lease to the Plaintiff; Upon this Replication, the Defendant demurred in Law, and for cause shewed, that the Plaintiff (as he ought to have done) had not traversed the second Grant alledged: It was the Opinion of the whole Court in this Case, That the Replication was good without any Traverse; For how can the Defendant have the Land when the Plaintiff had it before, as by his Replication it appears, for that his Lease being first in time, avoids the Defendants Lease being the latter; And therefore the Defendant in this Case, ought to have rejoyned, and so to have traversed the first Lease: but by his his Demurrer to the Replication, he hath confeſſed the Leaſe under which the Plaintiff claims. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. rott. 767. Rice and Harris's Caſe. Rolls. 2. Part, 1.

3. Where Demurrer may be upon the Evidence; And where ſuch Demurrer ſhall be good, where not: And where after Demurrer, there ſhall be no Repleader; And when, where, and who may wave his Demurrer, who not; And where it ſhall be peremptory, where not, but paſſes Ouſter.

1. NOte, It was Reſolved, That if the Plaintiff in Evidence ſheweth any matter in writing, or of Record, or any Sentence in the Eccleſiaſticall Court, upon which Queſtion in Law doth ariſe; And the Defendant offereth to demur in Law; The Plaintiff cannot refuſe to joyn in Demurrer; but he ought to joyn in Demurrer, or wave his Evidence: The ſame Law is, If he produceth Witneſſes to prove matter in fact, upon which a Queſtion in Law doth ariſe; there if the Defendant admit their Teſtimony true, he may Demur upon it, and the reaſon is, becauſe matter in Law is not to be put to the people: But if Evidence be given for the King, and the Defendant offereth to demur upon it, the King is not bound to joyn in Demurrer; But the Court may direct the Jury to find the ſpeciall matter; and upon that to adjudge according to the Law. Alſo the King may wave a Demurrer, and take Iſſue at his pleaſure. Trin. 42 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, Bafer's Caſe.

2. In an Ejectione firme, upon Not-guilty pleaded, The Jury found by ſpeciall Verdict, That the Defendant had not any thing in the Land at the time of the making of the Leaſe, upon which the Action is brought: And if the ſame Leaſe ſhould be a good Leaſe by Eſtoppell, was the Queſtion; the Jury have now found the truth of the matter, ſcil. That the Leſſor had not any thing at the time of the Demiſe. Periam and Anderſon Juſtices were clear for the Plaintiff; That it was a Leaſe by Eſtoppell, and ſaid, It had bin adjudged in the Kings Bench, That the Jury in ſuch Caſe, upon pain of Attaint, are compellable to find the Eſtoppell. Windham Juſtice ſaid, That the Plaintiff ought to have demurred upon the Evidence, Windham. What if the Defendant will not joyn with the Plaintiff in the Demurrer, Windham ſaid, Then the Court ought to over-rule them, and if the parties had demurred upon the Evidence; we ſhould have adjudged upon that Evidence, That a man cannot Leaſe Lands in which he hath not any thing; And the Court ſaid, That here the Eſtoppell could not be pleaded, for the Defendant hath pleaded the generall Iſſue; but if he had pleaded Non demiſit, then the Eſtoppell ſhould have holden place. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Sutton and Dickens Caſe. Leon. 106.

3. In Treſpaſſe for Aſſault and Battery: The Plaintiff by his Declaration, ſuppoſeth the Treſpaſſe to be done, 1. May, 8 Jac. at ſuch a place. The Defendant pleads, That at the ſame day that the Defendant would have aſſaulted him, that he laid his hands upon him to defend himſelf, which is the ſame Treſpaſſe of which the Plaintiff complaineth. The Plaintiff replyes, De ſon aſt demeſne: At the tryall, the Defendant produced Witneſſes, which proved not Aſſault to be made by the Plaintiff upon the Defendant long time, ſcil. by the ſpace of a year before the day contained in the Declaration, and that at this time, the Defendant to defend himſelf, hath aſſaulted the Plaintiff: upon this Evidence the Plaintiff demurred, in as much as this proves an Aſſault at another day then is contained in the Declaration; And the Defendant by pleading hath confeſſed an Aſſault and battery made upon the Plaintiff, the day contained in the Declaration, and now upon Evidence, proves his juſtification at another day: And, if this Evidence to prove his juſtification was ſufficient, was the Queſtion. It was agreed by the Court in this Caſe, That if the Defendant had pleaded Not-Guilty, the day had not been materiall; but the Plaintiff might have given in Evidence any Battery before the day contained in the Declaration, or after, before the Action brought, and this is ſufficient to prove his Declaration: But the parties, ſcil. the Plaintiff by his Declaration, and Replication, and the Defendant by his Juſtification, have both agreed of the day; and therefore it was holden, That they could not now vary from it. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Downes and Shrimpſhawe's Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, 183.

4. An Action of Trover and Converſion of goods, The Defendant ſaid, That the Queen was ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. and that perſons unknown ſtole the ſaid goods, and brought them into the Mannor, and there left, and waved them, and that the Defendant, as the Queens Bayliff, ſeiſed the goods, and prayed in aid of the Queen: It was adjudged in this Caſe, he ſhould not have aid: For it was Reſolved, That if a Felon ſtealeth goods, and and leaves them in a Mannor, and afterwards flyeth, these goods are not forfeited, nor waved, But bona waviata, or derelicta, are, when they are stollen, and waved by the Thief in the flying; and the cause why the owner shall lose the goods waved, is, because he doth not make fresh suit; and the Fellon is not Attainted by the party in his Appeal. 2. It was Resolved, That in the principall Case, the Demurrer was not peremptory; but a Respondes Ouster. Pasc. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, Foxleyes Case.

5. A man was in Execution for Debt, and broke the Prison, and escaped. The Sheriff made Fresh suit, and took him again: It was Resolved in this Case, 1. That if a Prisoner who escapeth, be out of sight of them which make pursuit, yet if he be taken in recenti Executione, although he be taken in another County, the Sheriff shall have an Action upon the Case for such an escape against him, but otherwise it is where he escapes with the assent of the Goaler. 2. It was Resolved in this Case, That after a demurrer, there shall be no Repleader, for that the parties, by mutuall assent, have put themselves upon the Judgment of the Court. See Cook 3. Part, Rigeways Case. Pasc. 36 Eliz. in B.R. Popham 42. the same Case.

Deodands.

Omnia quæ movent ad mortem sunt Deodanda. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77.

1. THe King Leaseth Richmond Fee, with all Deodands which should fall within the same to J. S. for years; And afterwards the King Granted generally, all Deodands to his Almoner. The Term of J. S. expired; Afterwards the King made a new Lease, as above, to J. S. It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Almoner should not have the Deodands, because his Grant was void, because the first Lease to J. S. was not recited in his Grant. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77.

2. The Archbishop of Canterbury, amongst other Liberties and Franchises, had the Goods of all Felons of themselves, within his Mannors, &c. Afterwards he made a Lease to Sir James Hales, late Justice of the Common-Pleas; which Lease was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. The Bishop committed Treason: After, the King made a general Grant to the Bishop of Chichester his Almoner, of all goods of Felons of themselves: He became after Felo de se: The Question was, Whether the Almner should have the Lease? It was the Opinion of the Justices, That the Grant was good to the Almner, because in many cases, the King may grant nothing which is not in him at the time of the grant; As, the King may grant the Marriage and Custody of the heir of his Tenant when it shall happen: Or the King may grant the Temporalties of the Bishop quando acciderint. But the Court was clear of Opinion, That if the Bishop of Canterbury had been Attainted at the time of the Grant, that the Grant had been good. Mich. 2 Ma. Dyer 128. See Cook 1. Part, 50. in the Case of Altonwoods, &c.

3. If a man who is Non Compos mentis, giveth himself a mortal wound, and, before he dyeth, he becometh of sane memory, and afterwards dyeth of the same wound; in this case, although that he dyeth sana memoria; yet because the Original cause of his death, viz. the stroke was when he was Non Compos mentis, he shall not be Felo de se, and so forfeit his goods, because the death hath Retorn to the Original Act, which was the stroake. Cook 1. Part, 100. in Shelleys Case.

4. When the King granteth any Priviledges, Liberties, Franchises, &c. which were Priviledges and Franchises in his own hands, as parcell of the Flowers of his Crown, as Goods and Chattels of Felons, Fugitives, Outlawes, Goods and Chattels Waived, Deodands, Wreck of the Sea, &c. within such possessions; there if they come again to the King, they are drowned in the Crown, and he hath them in the Right of his Crown: But when a Liberty, Priviledg, Franchise, &c. was first created by the King, and was not any such flower before in the Garland of the Crown, there by the coming of them again to the Crown, they are not extinct. Cook 9. Part, 25. in the Case of the Abbot of Strata Mercella.

5. Deodands, are goods which occasion the death of a man by misadventure, and are not forfeited untill the matter be found of Record, and therefore they cannot be claimed by Prescription; and the Jury who find or present the death by such misadventure, ought to find and apprise the Deodand also. Cook. 5. Part, 110. in Foxleys Case.

6. It was moved to the Court, That a man Riding upon a horse through the water was drowned, and by the Coroner's Inquest it was found, that his death was caused per Cursum aquæ; and the Horse was not found to be a Deodand. And the Opinion of the Court was, That it was well done; for that the Water, and not the Horse, was the cause of his death. Pasch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Pash. 136. And so it was adjudged in the Lord Chandois Case. Which see, Cro. 2. Part, 483.

Departure.

Departure.

1. What ſhall be ſaid to be a Departure in pleading; and what not.

TReſpaſſe brought for Aſſault, Battery, and Impriſonment, ultimo Octob. 6 Car. at W. The Defendant Juſtifies, becauſe 13. Aug. 6 Car. a Supplicavit iſſued out of the Chancery, and by a Warrant from the Sheriff to the Defendant, he arreſted him the 21. of Septemb. and detained him two dayes, and carried him and delivered him to the Sheriff. The Plaintiff Replyes, and confeſſeth the Writ, Warrant, and Arreſt 21 Sept. and Impriſonment for two dayes, but ſhews, that afterwards he found Sureties before the Sheriff, and was diſcharged; and that the Defendant poſtea, viz. prædict. 1. Octobris, 6 Car. aſſaulted and Impriſoned him of his own wrong. Upon this, the Defendant did demur in Law. It was ſaid, the Plea in barr was not good, becauſe he doth not anſwer the time in the Declaration, viz. ult. Octob. neither by Anſwer, nor Traverſe; but that was holden to be good enough. But the Court conceived, That the Replication was not good, varying from the day in his Declaration, and that it was a Departure. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Tyler and Walls Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 165.

2. In Trover and Converſion of a Ship and Goods, The Plaintiff declared, the 2. Martii, 21 Jac. he was poſſeſſed, &c. and left them, and that they came to the Defendant's hands, and he converted them. The Defendant pleads the Statute of 21 Jac. of Limitation of Actions, and the 20 Martii, 19 Jac. cauſa Actionis accrevit; ſo that not onely 3. years and more are Incurred ſince the Parliament, but 6. years after the Converſion. The Plaintiff Replyes, That he was poſſeſſed of the Ship as of the proper goods, and ſo poſſeſſed before the 20th of March, 21 Jac. ſcil. 1. Martii, 19 Jac. they agreed at L. that the Defendant or his ſervant ſhould tranſport the ſaid Ship and Goods to Spain, and ſhould afterwards reſtore them to the Plaintiff upon requeſt: whereupon the Defendant taking the Ship, 1. Martii, 19 Jac. tranſported her; and 20. Martii, 19 Jac. there ſold the Ship and goods to perſons unknown, and converted them to their own uſe: and that the Defendant after the Converſion remained in partibus tranſmarinis, uſq; 1. Martii, 1 Car. Upon this Replication, the Defendant demurred in Law. In this Caſe, other Points being Reſolved, It was urged, That the Replication was a Departure from the Declaration: For by the Declaration he ſuppoſeth a Caſual loſſe, and a trover by the Defendant, and that to be 21 Jac. But in the Replication he ſuppoſeth a delivery to reſtore, and then a ſale of them the 20th of March, 9 Jac. So it varies in the time and manner how the Defendant had them: and although ſome of the Juſtices doubted, that the ſame was a Departure; yet upon the whole matter, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hil. 6 Car. in B. R. Swayn and Stephens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 179.

3. Errour was brought of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas, In an Action brought by the Preſident of the Colledg of Phyſitians in London againſt Butler: and the Errour aſſigned was in the Replication of the Plaintiff. The Plaintiff in the Declaration in that Action ſet forth, That King Henry the 8th, Anno 19 of his Reign, Incorporated the Colledge of Phyſitians by the name of Preſident, &c. And that no man ſhould practiſe Phyſick in London, or within 7. miles, without Licence under the Seal of the Colledge, under penalty of 5 l. for every moneth: And that the Defendant had practiſed Phyſick in London, not being allowed, for 12 moneths. The Plaintiff pleaded the Statute of 34 H. 8. That every one who hath Science and Experience of the nature of Herbs, Roots, and Waters, or of the operation of the ſame by ſpeculation or practice, may miniſter and apply in and to any outward Sore, Venome, Wound, Apoſthumations, Swellings, or Diſeaſe, any Herbs, Oynments, or Implaiſters, &c. according to their cunning, experience, or knowledg for the Stone, Strangury, &c. in any part of the Realm, without Suit, or vexation, &c. And that he, having skill in the nature of Herbs, Roots, &c. by ſpeculation and practice; applyed to perſons requiring his Skill, Herbs, Roots, Waters, Oyntments, Baths, &c. to their Sores, Wounds; and for the Stone, Strangury, or other Diſeaſes in the Act mentioned, prout ei benè viſum eſt, &c. The Plaintiff Replyed, and ſhewed the Statute of 1 Ma. Cap. 9. the Statute of 34 H. 8. and appoints, that it ſhall be in force, notwithſtanding any Statute or Ordinance to the contrary. It was Demurred upon this Replication, becauſe it was a Departure: for it entitles him by another Act, viz. 1 Ma. which is not mentioned in the Declaration. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was no Departure, becauſe it fortifies the Declaration: And for the confirming of their Opinions in that, the caſe of the Preſident of the Colledge of All-Souls, was remembred. Mich. 43 Eliz. where the Preſident of the ſaid Colledge brings in an Action for taking of Toll in, &c. and ſhewes the Charter of 26 H. 8. to be discharged of Toll. The Defendant pleaded the Act of Resumption of Liberties granted by King Henry the 6th, made, &c. and so the Liberty gone. The Plaintiff pleaded a Reviver of them by the Statute of 4 H. 7. and it was held to be No Departure, but as it were a Confession and avoiding. Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. Butler and the President of the Colledge of Physitians of London's Case. Cro. 1. Part, 186, 187.

4. In Debt brought for non-performance of an Award, the Case was, Two submitted themselves to the Award of others, of all Controversies Spiritual and Temporal; the Arbitrators make Award, and for not performance, the Action is brought: The Defendant in barr pleads, That the Award was, That he should Release all Suits unto the Plaintiff, which he had done; and demanded Judgment if Action. The Plaintiff Replyes, It is true, that they made such Award; but did further Arbitrate, that the Defendant should pay unto him 15 l. at the house of J. S. a stranger at such a time, Absq; hoc, that fecerunt Arbitrium tantummodo, as the Defendant hath alledged. The Defendant Rejoyns, True it is, that they did arbitrate, That he should pay unto the Plaintiff such a sum, but they did further Award, that the Plaintiff should release all Actions unto the Defendant; the which he hath not done. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Rejoynder. It was holden in this Case, That the Rejoynder of the Defendant was a clear departure from his former plea: Also the Defendant here pleads but parcell of the Award; and so it is not good: also the Court held the barr to be naught, the Replication good, the Rejoynder bad, and that the Defendant's Plea was altogether vitious, and therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Linsey and Astyn's Case. Bo'str. 2. Part, 39, 40. See Godbolt 155. the same Case.

5. In a Replevin, The Avowant said, That long time before the taking, J. S. was seised in Fee, and Leased the Land to him for 30 years, and avowed for Damage-Feasant. The Plaintiff said, That J. S. had not any thing but in tail, and shewed of whose guift, and conveyed the discent to him as heir in tail, and that he entred upon the Lessee. And the other said again, That the said J. S. did reserve a Rent upon the Lease, which the Plaintiff as son and heir had accepted after the death of his Father, and demanded Judgment if, &c. The same was holden by the Court to be a Departure. Mich. 1 Ma. Dyer 95.

6. The Case was, A Termor without impeachment of Waste, Covenanted, after felling to inclose; In debt brought upon an Obligation for performance of Covenants: The Defendant pleaded, That he had not felled. The Plaintiff said, That he had felled two acres, and that he had not made defence. The Defendant said, That he had made defence, Et de hoc ponit se super Patriam. It was holden, That it was a Departure and Jeofail, and the Jury was discharged. Trin. 8 Eliz. Dyer 253.

7. An Action of Covenant was brought against J. S. who had been his Apprentice: The Defendant pleaded, That he was within age. The Plaintiff did maintain his Action by the Custome of London, where one by Covenant shall bind himself within age. Exception was taken to it, That it was a Departure. It was the Opinion of Wray, Chief Justice, That it was no Departure; for he said, It should be frivolous to shew the whole in the Declaration, viz. that he was an Enfant, &c. and that by Custome he might make a Covenant which should bind him. Quære, for that many doubted of it. Hill. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt 122.

8. A Quare Impedit against the Bishop of St. Asaph, who justified by Lapps: The Plaintiff by Replication said, That before the 6. moneths expired, he presented to the Bishop one R. a Master of Arts and Preacher allowed, &c. The Defendant by way of Rejoynder said, That the Church upon the presentment to which the Action is brought, is a Church with Cure of Souls, and that Parishioners there are homines walliti, Wallicam loquentis Linguam, et non aliam: for which Cause he refused him, and gave notice to the Plaintiff of such Refusal, and of the cause of it: upon which the Plaintiff did Demur in Law. It was said in this case, That the Rejoynder was not good, for that the Defendant had departed from his barr: For in the barr the Defendant intitles himself to the Presentment by reason of Lapps: and in the Rejoynder he confesseth the presentment of the Plaintiff, and pleads his refusal of his Clerk, and shewes the cause of it, scil. the want of the Welsh Language, which is a Departure: Like to this Case, 27 H. 8. In forfeiture of Marriage, the Defendant pleaded the Feoffment of the Auncestor of the heir to divers persons, absque hoc, that he dyed in the homage of the Plaintiff. The Plaintiff by Replication said, That the said Feoffment was made to the use of the said Auncestor and his heirs. The Defendant by Rejoynder saith, That the Auncestor did declare his Will of the said Lands; The same was holden to be a Departure, for he might have pleaded the same in barr. The Opinion of the Justices was, in the principal case, That it was a Departure; but the Judgment was given for the Plaintiff upon another point. See Librum, Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Albany and the Bishop of St. Asaphs Case. Leon. 31.

2. Of

2. Of Departure in deſpight of Court; the form of it, and the proceedings upon it.

1. A Retraxit is alwayes on the Plaintiff's or Demandant's part: And a Departure in deſpight of Court, is alwayes on the Defendants or Tenant's part: and the Entry is, Quod venit recuſſit in Contemptum Curiæ: and in the one caſe, the Plaintiff or Demandant is barred; and in the other, the Demandant or Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment preſently. Cook 8. Part, 58. in Bitchers Caſe.

2. If an Enfant make default, and ſo will not diſcover his title in an Action brought, his default is either mera negligentia, and that ſhall not prejudice him; or it is negligentia cum Contemptu, and is in the ſame degree, as a Departure in deſpight of Court, as if he appear, and afterwards make default: and there Judgment ſhall be given againſt him. See Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. The Opinion of Dodderidge, Juſtice, in the Argument, of Holford and Pratts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 466.

3. If in a Writ of Right, the Tenant make default after he hath taken day of Imparlance, from one day to another, the ſame Term, Judgment final ſhall be given; for when he hath taken day to Anſwer in the ſame Term, and maketh default, the ſame is a Departure in deſpight of Court. Mich. 11 H. 7. 10. Comment. on Original Writs, 29.

Deprivation and Depoſition.

What Deprivation is; And what are ſufficient Cauſes of Deprivation of a Biſhop, Prebend, Parſon, Vicar, or other Spirituall perſons of their Livings and Spirituall promotions; What not. And where Notice muſt be given of ſuch Deprivation, by the Ordinary: Where not.

1. DEprivation is an Act of Law in the Spiritual Court, grounded upon ſome Act or defect of the perſon deprived; and is the Diſcharge of the Incumbent, or other Spiritual perſon of his Benefice or Spiritual promotion by Sentence Declaratory in the Eccleſiaſtical and Spiritual Court: upon a ſufficient cauſe proved in the ſame Court againſt him or them. Now the Cauſes of Deprivation or Depoſition of the party in the Spiritual Court (which are approved and allowed of by the Common-Law) are Conſcientia Criminis, Debilitas Corporis, Defectus Scientiæ, Malitia plebis, Grave Scandalum, Irregularitas perſonæ; Hereſie, Sciſm, Baſtardy, and many more. See Dodderidge in his Book of Advowſons. Cook 5. Part, Cawdries Caſe.

2. A. Cardinal was Collated by the Biſhop of Durham to a Benefice with Cure; The Biſhop dyed, and the Temporalties being in the Kings hands, The King brought a Quare Impedit, and ſhewed, that the Cardinal was Miſcreant, and was deprived for his Miſcreancy in the Court of Rome. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, that the ſame was a good and ſufficient cauſe of Deprivation: and Bilknap, Juſtice there, ſaid, the Law to be, That if a man for adhering to the Kings Enemies, ſhall forfeit his Lands by his adherency, and if the King ſhall have the Eſcheat of them, becauſe he is out of the Faith of his Liege-Lord the King; à fortiori, he ſhall forfeit his Spiritual Living, who is out of the Faith of God. And in that caſe, It was agreed, That although the Cardinal was deprived in the Court of Rome, yet, whether he were Miſcreant, or not, ſhould be tryed where the Church was in England, by the Biſhop of the Dioceſs there. See 5 R. 2. Fitz. to Tryall 54.

3. If a Clerk who is preſented and admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted, be perjured, and be thereof attainted in the Spiritual Court by proceſs of their Law, or by his own Confeſſion; the ſame is a good and ſufficient Cauſe to deprive him of his Benefice: But the Patron of this Deprivation muſt have Notice from the Ordinary: And ſo it is if the Clerk preſented be Irreligious, Illiterate, Baſtard, Villain, or a meer Lay-man not within Orders. See 38 E. 3. 2. 5 E. 4. 3. 5 H. 7. 19.

4. If a Parſon preſent a meer Lay-man within the age of 23 years, to a Benefice, and he is Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted, and then is ſued in the Spiritual Court, to be deprived for Incapacity by a ſtranger; and afterwards a Quare Impedit be brought againſt the Ordinary and Incumbent, and Judgment be given againſt the Defendant for his default at the Grand Diſtreſſe; If afterwards the Incumbent by Sentence pronounced in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, be deprived for his incapacity at the ſtrangers Suit, ſuch Deprivation is good, although he were removed from his Benefice before by the Judgment given in the Quare Impedit. But it was ſaid in that caſe, That if the Incumbent who was ſo deprived, do afterward bring a Writ of Diſceit upon the Judgment given againſt him in the Quare Impedit by Default, for that he was not ſummoned as he ought to be, he ſhall have Judgment thereupon; and the Deprivation in the Spiritual Court ſhall be no Impediment unto him, nor ſhall be pleaded againſt him, for that in the Quare Impedit the Incumbency was not in queſtion, but the Diſturbance onely; and he ſhall be reſtored to what he loſt. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer 353.

5. If the Patron preſent a meer Lay-man to a Benefice, the ſame is a good cauſe of Deprivation of him. But if ſuch a Lay-man be Inſtituted and Inducted into the Benefice, he is Incumbent de facto; and ought to be deprived by a Sentence in the Eccleſiaſtical Court; and of ſuch Deprivation, the Ordinary muſt give Notice to the Patron: But if the Patron doth preſent a meer Lay-man, and the Ordinary doth refuſe him, there the Ordinary needeth not to give Notice thereof to the Patron, becauſe it is notorious that he is incapble. 13 Eliz. Dyer 292.

6. In Ancient time, If a man had been a Dilapidator of his Church, he might have been deprived for the ſame Cauſe; As if a Biſhop, Prebendary, or Parſon had committed Waſte, in deſtroying and cutting down all the Timber-Trees and Woods which were ſtanding or growing upon the Lands; or had pulled down the houſes belonging unto, or parcel of, his Biſhoprick, Prebend, or Parſonage, he might have been depoſed or Deprived: And ſo it was, If a Parſon, Vicar, or other Eccleſiaſticall perſon, ſeiſed in the Right of his Church, had alienated the Lands which did belong and appertain to the Church, he might have been deprived for the ſame cauſe. See the Old Books, 29 E. 3. 16. 20 H. 6. 46. 2 H. 4. 3. by Thirwit, 9 E. 4. 34. Cook 11. Part, 72. And ſee the Biſhop of Corks Caſe, vouched in Cook 11. Part, 49. in Richard Liſords Caſe.

7. Note: It was holden by the Court, That if a Biſhop, Parſon, or other Eccleſiaſticall perſon, do cut down Trees upon the Lands, unleſſe it be for repairations of their Eccleſiaſtical houſes; and do, or ſuffer to be done, any Dilapidations, That they may be puniſhed for the ſame in the Eccleſiaſtical Court; and a Prohibition will not lye in that caſe. And it was there alſo holden, That the ſame is a good cauſe of Deprivation of them of their Eccleſiaſtical Livings, Dignities, and Promotions: But yet, for ſuch Waſtes done and committed, they may be puniſhed at the Common-Law if they will ſue there. Mich. 12 Jac. in B.R. The Biſhop of Salisburies Caſe. Godbolt 259.

8. A Parſon being Convicted at the Common-Law for Homicide, and allowed his Clergy, was ſued in the Spiritual Court to be deprived of his Benefice, and a Prohibition was prayed. But the whole Court was of Opinion, That no Prohibition ſhould be granted in that caſe; for that being Convictus de homicidio at the Common-Law, it was holden, That the ſame was a good cauſe of Deprivation of him. Trin. 15 Jac. in B.R. Stanly Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 430, 431.

9. A man being Patron of a Benefice in the right of his wife, granted the next Avoidance of the Church to another: after which, the Incumbent made a Leaſe rendring Rent; which Leaſe was confirmed by the Patron and Ordinary: Afterwards the Parſon was deprived, becauſe he was a married man; ſo as the Grantee of the next Avoidance did preſent: It was holden, That the marriage of a Prieſt was a ſufficient cauſe to deprive him of his Benefice; and therefore that the Leaſe made by him, was now void, and the Entry of the laſt preſented upon the Leſſee, was lawful. Quære: For the ſame is now taken to be, That the ſame is no cauſe of Deprivation. Mich. 4 Ma. Dyer, 133.

10. In Treſpaſſe, for breaking of his Cloſe at North-Luffenham: The Caſe was this, The Plaintiff was Rector of North Luffenham, and was deprived of his Rectory by the Biſhop of London and his Colleagues by virtue of the High-Commiſſion, becauſe he had pronounced ſlanderous and Contumelious words againſt, and in depravation of, the Book of Common-Prayer. But the Form of the Sentence was, That the ſaid Biſhop, by and with the aſſent and conſent of five others of the ſaid Commiſſioners, naming which, had deprived him; and it was found, That the Commiſſioners named, were natural born Subjects of the Queen, as the Statute enacts they ſhould be. And if the Deprivation was good, or not, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid, That the Deprivation was void, becauſe it ought to have been by the Sentence of them all; and not that it was done by one, with the aſſent of the others. 2. That for the firſt Offence, the party was to loſe the profits of his ſpiritual promotions by the ſpace of ſix moneths, and not to be deprived but for the ſecond Offence after he had been once convicted: and therefore to deprive him for the firſt Offence, was void. But it was Reſolved by the Court, Firſt, to the Form of the Deprivation, that it was that which hath alwayes bin uſed in the Eccleſiaſtical Courts, to which this Court ought to give allowance: And for the Deprivation it ſelf, all the Juſtices agreed that it was good, being done by the Authority of the Commiſſion; and that they might proceed to puniſh the Offence, proved or confeſſed before them: And that all the Biſhops and Popiſh Prieſts were deprived by virtue of a Commiſſion, warranted by this Clauſe in the Act of Parliament: Wherefore, it was holden, The Deprivation was good; and Judgment given, that the Plaintiff ſhould take nothing by his Writ, Mic. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cawdrie and Allen's Caſe. Popham 59. See Cook 5 Cawdries Caſe, the ſame Caſe.

11. An Incumbent was admitted, inſtituted, and inducted into a Benefice with Cure of Soules, in the time of King Edw. the 6. And afterwards in the time of Queen Mary he was deprived, becauſe he was a married man, and a Favourer of the Religion on foot, in the time of King E. 6. and the Church being void by his deprivation, another man was inſtituted in, and inducted in the Church; and afterwards in the time of Queen Eliz. the laſt Clark was deprived, and the firſt Sentence of Deprivation, in the time of Queen Mary, adjudged and declared to be void, and the firſt Incumbent reſtored to his Benefice. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Deprivation of the firſt Incumbent was good, and ſtood good, until the ſame was afterwards declared to be void; and untill then the ſecond Clerk was lawful Incumbent. But when the Sentence of Repeal came, and made void the firſt Deprivation, Then was the firſt Incumbent in again by force of his firſt Preſentation, Inſtitution, and Induction, and needed not any new Inſtitution or Induction to the Church. Cook 4. Part, 102. Windſor's Caſe.

12. The Biſhop of Norwich refuſed to admit a Clark unto a Benefice, becauſe he was a Common-Hunter of Taverns, and a player at unlawful Games. It was adjudged, that they were not ſufficient Cauſes of Refuſal of ſuch a Clark; for although they were Offences prohibited by the Law of the Realm to ſome perſons at certain times, and were mala prohibita: yet they were not mala in ſe, for which a Clerk was to be refuſed; or for which he was to be deprived, if he were admitted. 9 Eliz. Dyer 254. And note, there it is ſaid, That whatſoever are ſufficient Cauſes of Deprivation of an Incumbent, the ſame are ſufficient Cauſes not to admit the Clerk unto a Benefice. But in all ſuch and the like Caſes, the Ordinary muſt give notice to the Patron, of the cauſe of his Refuſal or Deprivation, that the Patron may preſent another fit Clerk unto the Church. See 12 Eliz. Dyer, 293, acc.

13. The Statute of 13 Eliz. Cap. 12. Enacteth, That he who doth not ſubſcribe unto the Articles, nor read the Articles of Religion, ſhall be deprived ipſo facto, and all his Eccleſiaſtical promotion ſhall be void, as if he were naturally dead. It was holden, That upon ſuch an Avoidance, there needed not any Sentence Declaratory of deprivation of the Incumbent; For that there the Church was preſently void; and where Avoidance is by Act of Parliament, there needeth not any Sentence of Deprivation: For if ſuch a Parſon or Vicar ſhall Libell againſt a Pariſhioner for Tythes, they may plead againſt him the not reading the Articles, without making any mention at all, that he was deprived for the ſame cauſe: But if a man be deprived for not reading the Articles, the Ordinary muſt give Notice thereof unto the Patron, and the Notice muſt be certain and particular, that the party hath not read the Articles; and general Notice, that he is incapable of the Benefice, is not ſufficient. But if the Patron do dwell in a far and Remote County; ſo as he cannot eaſily be found out by the Ordinary, in ſuch caſe, If the Ordinary make the Inability of the Clerk known by an Intimation fixed upon the Church-Door, in that caſe the ſame is ſufficient. See 18 Eliz. Dyer 346. 22 Eliz. Dyer 369. and 16 Eliz. Dyer 327. Cook 6. Part, 29. Green's Caſe.

14. If one under the age of 23 years be preſented to a Benefice, It was adjudged, That no Lapſe ſhall incur upon any Deprivation ipſo facto without Notice, ſeeing the Act of 13 Eliz. Cap. 12, ſpeaks nothing of Preſentation; ſo as the Preſentation remaining in force, the Patron ought to have Notice. Trin. 18 Car. in B. R. The Biſhop of Hereford and Okeley's Caſe. Marſh 119.

15. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was this; B. was made Biſhop of L, in the time King Henry the 8th, and continued ſo untill 2 E. 6; at which time a Commiſſion iſſued forth to the Lord Chancellor and others, to Convent B. before them; and if they found him to be contumacious and would not anſwer, they were impowred to Impriſon, or Deprive him. The Commiſſioners hereupon did firſt Impriſon him, and afterwards deprived him: B. Appealed, The Appeal undiſcuſſed, J. S. was made Biſhop of L, who made a Leaſe under which the Defendant claimed: Afterwards, 1 Ma. J. S. is declared to be an uſurper, and B. by a definitive Sentence is reſtored to his Biſhoprick, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff: There were 2. Points in this Caſe, 1. If the Deprivation of B. were good, or not, the authority to the Commiſſioners being in the Diſjunctive, to Impriſon or Deprive; and they firſt impriſoning him, the Deprivation was void. 2. Admitting the Deprivation void, That he ſhall remand B; and ſo J. S. was never Biſhop, and ſo the Leaſe made by him to the Defendant was void. 3. Admitting that the Deprivation was good; the Point was, If the Appeal did not ſuſpend the Sentence of Deprivation? and if it did, then J. S. was never Biſhop; and ſo the Leaſe made to him was void: The Judges inclined to be for the Plaintiff in all theſe points, and againſt the Defendant: Where the Defendant Exhibited his Bill in Equity upon this matter aforesaid in the Court of Chancery, and there obtained a Decree against the Plaintiff. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Lechmere and Carr's Case. Bulst. 3. Part, 73.

16. In an Action of Debt brought, for not setting forth of Tythes; The Defendant pleaded, Nil debet per Patriam: and to prove that the Plaintiff was not Parson, he shewed a Deprivation of the Plaintiff for Drunkennesse by the High-Commissioners. The Court was of Opinion, That for such a common default, after Admonition, that the High-Commissioners might deprive a Minister: but because the Crime of Drunkennesse was before the General Pardon; and the Sentence was given after the Parliament. It was holden, That the Sentence of Deprivation was void. Hill. 9 Jac. in C. B. Mortimer and Freemans Case. Brownlow 1. Part, 70. But see Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. A Parson of a Church being deprived by the High-Commissioners for Drunkennesse; It was moved for a Prohibition; but the Court would not grant it. Parkers Case. Brownlow 2. Part, 37.

He had Issue two Daughters, and died; the Daughters took husbands, and the youngest daughter was married to the King: Afterwards they made Partition. 4. The Duke of Norfolk being Marshall of England, and having authority to make a Deputy, he made Gawdy his Deputy, who was sworn in Court: Afterwards, Gawdy let a Prisoner who was in Execution, Escape. Debt was brought against Gawdy for the Escape, and adjudged maintenable, although that he was but Under-Marshall. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer 278. Gawdyes Case.

5. The King by his Letters Patents did grant to the Earl of R. the Office Senescalli Dominorum suorum, Manerior. suorum de A. Pr. et C. à termino plena aetatis 21. annorum ejusdem Comitis, pro et durante termino vitae naturalis dict. Comitis una cum vadiis et feodis eidem Officio ab antiquo debitis et consuet. capiend. But there was no power to make a Deputy of the said Office of Steward of the said Mannors: And by the same Letters Patents he granted to the same Earl Custodiam Parci de N, habend. gaudend. et exercend. Offic. praedict. (written by such Contraction) per se vel sufficient. Deputatum, seu Deputatos suos, plena aetatis, &c. And in the Conclusion of the Letters Patents were these words, Volentes et firmiter injungendo percipientes per praesentes, omnibus Officiariis & Ministris tam infra Libertates quam extra, quod eidem R. Comiti R. et Deputat. sive deputatis suis in praemissis omnibus faciend. exequend. sint auxiliantes, &c. It was Resolved in this Case, That although a Steward cannot make a Deputy because it is an Office of Trust, Science, and Discretion; and these Qualities are so indevidably annexed to his person, that he cannot make a Deputy or an Assignee without special words; Yet it was Resolved, That when the King grants to an Earl of the Realm the Office of Stewardship of his Manors, that he may make a Deputy, in respect of the hastinesse of his Office, and the great respect which the Law hath to the person of an Earl, who is Praefectus seu Praepositus Comitatûs; and therefore for Conveniency veniency he may make a Deputy, although there be not any ſuch expreſſe words in his Patent; and alſo for neceſſity, for he ſhall be intended to be Converſant upon the buſineſſe of the Realm, and cannot attend ſuch an Inferiour Office. Cook. 9. Part, The Earl of Shrewsburies Caſe.

6. In an Action of Falſe Impriſonment brought by the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant being a Deputy-Conſtable, for Arreſting and Impriſoning him: The Queſtion was, Whether a Conſtable may make a Deputy to arreſt one upon a Writ to him directed by a Juſtice of Peace, the Conſtable himſelf being ſick: and whether ſuch a Deputy-Conſtable upon an Action brought againſt him, and found for him, be ſuch a perſon as may plead, and by pleading may have the benefit of the Statute of 7 Jac. Cap. 5. to have double Coſts, or not. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, by the whole Court, That a Conſtable may well make a Deputy, and a Deputy-Conſtable is within the meaning of the Statute of 7 Jac. for he is a Conſtable pro tempore. And it was ſaid in this Caſe, Mayors may make Deputies; and ſo Deans: And High-Sheriffs may and do make Under-Sheriffs: and yet there is no words in their Patents of making Deputies. And it was agreed in this caſe, That there are two kinds of Officers, Judicial, and Miniſterial; a Judicial Officer cannot make a Deputy, becauſe he is called to do Juſtice; but it is otherwiſe of a Miniſterial Officer: and yet all Returns made by a Miniſterial Officer, ought to be in the Name of the principal Officer. Hill. 9 Jac. B. R. Phelps and Winchcombs Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 77.

7. Note: There is a difference betwixt a Deputy and an Aſſignee of an Office: For an Aſſignee is a perſon who hath an Eſtate and Intereſt in the Office it ſelf, and doth all things in his own name, for whom his Grantor ſhall not anſwer: But a Deputy hath not any Intereſt or Eſtate in the Office; but is the Officers ſhadow, and doth all things in the name of the Officer himſelf, and nothing in his own name, and for whom his Grantor ſhall anſwer: and when an Officer hath power to make Aſſignees, he may implicitè make Deputies; for cui Licet quod majus eſt, non debet quod minus eſt non Licere; and by Conſequence, when an Office is granted to one and his heirs, he may make an Aſſignee, and by Conſequence a Deputy. Cook 9. Part, 48. acc.

8. The Statute which appoints Parents to relieve their poor Children, appoints that Juſtices in their Seſſions ſhall ſet the rate that is to be paid for their maintenance. The Juſtices at a Seſſions at Derby transferred their authority over to other Juſtices to ſet the ſaid Rate; which they could not do; who made the Rule acuordingly. The Court ſaid, That the Order made, was not good: For it was all one, as if an Arbitrator ſhould arbitrate another to make the Arbitrament; which is not good. Wherefore the Order made at the ſaid Seſſions, was quaſhed by the Court. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. The King, and Humphreys Caſe. Styles 154.

9. See in the Title of Demurrer, Mich. 1652. The Mayor and Cominalty of London, and Hattons Caſe, Where the Mayor made a Deputation of the Office of Garbler, and the Deputation adjudged good. Styles 357.

10. A Citizen or a Burgeſſe cannot do Grand Serjeanty to the King in perſon, but he ſhall do the ſame by a Deputy, who ſhall be a Nobleman: But a Knight is of ſuch Dignity, that he may do that ſervice to the King in perſon. But a woman, or an Enfant ſhall do the ſervice by a Deputy, by the Kings appointment, 1. R. 2. rott. Clauſe 45. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 109. acc.

Detin[illegible]

1. Where, and for what things it lyeth, for what not: And where Detinue, or an Action upon the Caſe lyeth, at the Election of the Party.

1. IF I deliver 20 l. to one to keep to my uſe, If the 20 l. be not contained in a Bag, Coffer, or Box, an Action of Detinue doth not lye for it; becauſe the 20 l. cannot be diſcerned, or known to be Coin; but in that Caſe, I may have Debt, or Accompt, at my pleaſure: If I bail certain Plate to one to keep to my uſe, If he doth alter the Plate; I may have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Action of Detinue, at my Election. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 22.

2. A man bought 20 Quarters of Corn to be delivered at ſuch a day, at ſuch a place, The Vendor did not perform the Contract, for which the Vendee was driven to buy other Corn for his Trade, being a Brewer, at a dearer rate: The Vendee in that Caſe, brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Vendor; and it was adjudged maintainable; Alſo it was ſaid, That he might have an Action of Debt for it; but he could not have an Action of Detinue, becauſe the property of the Corn could not be known, for one Quarter cannot be known from another. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 22.

3. Detinue

3. Detinue was brought of 40 Quarters of Wheat, and the Plaintiff declared of one abſolute Contract. The Defendant ſaid, It was upon Condition to pay for it, when it was delivered; and that the Plaintiff had received 20. Quarters, and payed him for that preſently; and at another day he came and received 10. Quarters, and for that he had not paid; and demanded Judgment of the Action. It was holden good, without traverſe, That the Contract was ſimple: But in that Caſe, it was agreed, That the Defendant might wage his Law, or plead Non Detinet, per patriam: In that Caſe alſo it was agreed, That a Contract is not good, without preſent payment, except a day be limitted; and then one ſhall have debt for the mony, and the other Detinue for the Ware. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 27, 30.

4. The Lord Monteagle brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Counteſſe of Worceſter, ſuppoſing by his Writ a Declaration, That he was poſſeſſed of a Chain of Gold of the price of 100. Marks, and that being ſo poſſeſſed, he left it at London in ſuch a Pariſh, and that afterwards it came to the hands of the Counteſſe at London by Trover, and [illegible] ſaid Counteſſe knowing the ſaid Chain to [illegible] Plaintiff's Chain, to deceive the Plaintiff, ſold it to divers perſons unknown to the Plaintiff, and received the mony, and Converted it to her own uſe; It was holden by the Lord Dyer, (amongſt other points) in this Caſe, That an Action upon the Caſe did not lye, becauſe he had his remedy by Action of Detinue; for the Plaintiff had not ſhewed, That the ſale was in Market-overt, to alter the property; And although London be by Preſcription, an open market every day: yet that ſpeciall Cuſtome ought to have bin pleaded; otherwiſe the Court was not bounden to take notice of the ſame. Mich. 3 Ma. Dyer, 121. The Lord of Monteagles Caſe.

5. Detinue lyeth for Heir-loomes by Cuſtome, before any poſſeſſion had of them before, and the Heir ſhall have Detinue for his reaſonable part of the goods by the Cuſtome of Suſſex, without any Poſſeſſion of them, 39 E. 3. br. Detinue 30, 31. So if a man bail goods to one to deliver over to J. S. he ſhall have a Detinue for them by Priſoit, 39 H. 6. 44. and yet he hath not any property in them before agreement: And ſo after a Divorce had betwixt the Husband and Wife, the Wife ſhall have a Detinue for the goods given with her in marriage. Fitzh. to Detinue 61.

6. In Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was, J. S. pawned a Hat-band ſet with Diamonds, to J. D. a Goldſmith in London for 20 l. and no day was ſet down for the Redeeming the ſame by payment of the mony. J. D. lying on his death-bed in the preſence of J. N. his Neighbor, commanded his Wife to fetch the Hat-band, and then delivered the ſame to the Defendant, wiſhing him to keep the ſame till the 20 l. were paid, and then to redeliver the ſame to the Owner, and afterwards made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: J. S. tenders the 20 l. to the Wife, who refuſed to accept of the money: After which Tender and Refuſall, J. S. came to the Defendant, and demanded his Hat-band, who refuſed to deliver the ſame; and upon this refuſall, he brought his Action of Trover and Converſion againſt the Defendant. It was holden in this Caſe, That he might have an Action of Detinue againſt the Defendant for this Hat-band, or an Action of Trover at his Election. And in the principall Caſe, it was adjudged, That the Action of Trover did well lye in this Caſe: See for this Caſe, and the reaſons of the Judgment in it before, in the ſame Caſe which you ſhall find in Title Trover and Converſion, It was Sir John Ratcliff and Davis's Caſe. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1217. Bulſtrod. 1. Part, 29.

7. Error was brought of a Judgment in Detinue in the Common-Pleas. One Error was, becauſe in a Writ of Detinue brought, it was returnable. Mich. 45 Eliz. and therein the Plaintiff was Non-ſuit, yet in Hilary Term, 45 Eliz. he Declared, and proceeded to Judgment without a new Originall; This being Aſſigned for Error, and in Nullo eſt erratum pleaded: It was ſaid, That it was but a miſ-priſion, for the Non-ſuit was entred in one Preigotorie's Office; and the Imparlance in anothers Office; but the Court did not take any Conuſance of ſuch diſtinction of Offices. The ſecond Error was, That the Writ ſuppoſed the Deteyner, de una Domo vocat. a Bet-houſe, which cannot be that a Detinue ſhould be of a houſe; Wherefore for theſe Errors, It was adjudged, That the Judgment ſhould be reverſed. Mich. 2 Jac. in B. R. Coupledick and Coupledick's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 29.

8. See the Caſe of Iſaac and Clark. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1100. in Title Trover and Converſion; In what Caſe Detinue doth properly lye, in what Caſe Trover and Converſion.

2. Detinue of Charters; by whom it lyeth; and where it ſhall be a good Plea in Bar in Dower, where not; and by whom to be Pleaded, by whom not.

1. IF I be enfeoffed to me and my Heirs, and I enfeoff another and his heirs, with Warranty; my Heir ſhall have Detinue for the Deed by which I am enfeoffed; and ſhall make a ſpeciall Court upon the ſpeciall matter, in reſpect of the ſpeciall eſſe, and prejudice which he may have; but, without a ſpeciall prejudice, that is to ſay, that his Anceſtor were not bound to Warranty, the Heir of the Feoffor ſhall not have the Charters, Cook 1. Part, 2. in Lord Buckhurſt's Caſe. See the reaſon of this Caſe in Fitzh. Nat. Br. 138. L. my Heir ſhall have a Writ of Detinue of the Deed, by which I was enfeoffed, to the end he may have advantage of the Warranty.

2. If a man maketh a Feoffment of his Land by Deed, yet the Feoffee ſhall not have the Charters which concern the Land, but the Feoffor ſhall retain them, if he doth not give them to the Feoffee, but againſt a ſtranger the Feoffee ſhall have an Action of Detinue for them which concern the Land, if he cannot make a Title to them by the Feoffor, or by thoſe who claim Title by the Feoffor; and the Heir in tail, ſhall have and maintain an Action of Detinue againſt the Diſcontinuer of the Land for the Deed in ſale, by which the Land was given. 29 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged acc.

3. If a man makes a Leaſe for years, and afterwards confirms his Eſtate in Fee, the Heir of the Feoffee ſhall have the Deed of the Leſſor for Term of years, as well as the confirmation, becauſe that that Deed makes the Confirmation good; and ſo every Deed which makes his Title, or Releaſes, and the like, without which his Title cannot be ſure, and he ſhall have Detinue for them. 9 E. 4. 52.

4. In Dower, the Tenant ſaid, That he was ready to have rendred Dower to the Demandant, if ſhe would have delivered unto him certain Charters, which did concern his Inheritance, which ſhe detayned from him: It was agreed by the Court, That he ought to ſhew the certainty of the Charters for the certainty of the Iſſue, if the Plaintiff ſhould ſay, That ſhe did not detein any; For when the certainty is ſhewed, then the Jury may give their Verdict, and by their Declaration and Verdict, it will appear, if the Deeds do belong to the Tenant, or to the Demandant; and if it be doubtfull to the Jury, then the Court ſhall adjudge to whom they do belong: And thereby alſo, it will evidently appear, if they do belong, or concern the Inheritance of the Tenant, or not; For if they do belong to the Tenant by reaſon of purchaſe made by him, he may put to his Writ of Detinue for them; And in Detinue he muſt ſhew the certainty of the Deed, unleſſe they be contained in ſome Cheſt or Box, ſealed; And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That it was no plea in Dower, brought againſt the Guardian, that ſhe hath eſſoyned the Heir: unleſſe he name the name of the Heir in certain, and alſo declare whether he be Male or Female, that a certain Iſſue may be taken upon it. Mich. 2 H. 7. 6.

5. In a Writ of Dower, the Tenant ſaid, That the Demandant did deteyn from him a certain Charter concerning the Land; The Demandant produced and ſhewed forth the Deed, and prayed her Dower, The Court ſaid, the Deed muſt be read in Court, that it may be known if it was the ſame Deed, and the Deed was read, and the Plaintiff had Judgment preſently. Mich. 9 E. 4. 47. acc. See Cook 9. Part, in Anne Bedingfield's Caſe.

6. Note, concerning Deteyner of Charters, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That he who pleads Deteyner of Charters, ought to ſhew the certainty of the Charters, that thereupon a certain Iſſue may be joyned, or that they are contained in ſome Box or Cheſt locked. 2. That no ſtranger although he be Tenant of the Land, and hath the Deed and Charters conveyed unto him, can plead deteyner of Charters, for that the ſame lyeth onely in privity for the Heir of the Husband; But yet in ſome caſes, the Heir ſhall be as a ſtranger. As firſt, If the Heir hath the Land by purchaſe. 2. If the heir himſelf hath delivered the Charters to the Woman who is Demandant, becauſe the ſame is his own Act. 3. If the Heir be not immediately vouched, but vouched by the Vouchee. 4. If the heir comes in as Vouchee, having no Lands in the County where the Dower is demanded. 5. If the heir come in as Tenant by Receit. Cook 9. Part.

7. In Dower if the Tenant Pleads, That the Demandant deteins Evidences; The Demandant in delivering the Evidences, may have Judgment preſently; But if ſhe will deny the deteiner of the Evidences, and that be found againſt her, ſhe ſhall loſe her Dower, by Hobart Juſtice; In Birkhead and the Arch-biſhop of York's Caſe. Hob. 199.

Deva Taciti,

Devastavit.

1. What shall be said to be a Devastavit, by the Executor, Administrator, Ordinary, or other persons; And where, upon such Wasting, they shall be charged with their own goods, Where not.

1. DEbt was brought against an Executor, who pleaded, Fully Administred; and gave in Evidence, That he had paid divers Debts upon Contracts made by the Testator, whereas the Plaintiff's suit was upon an Obligation. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea, and had Judgment, because debts upon Specialties must be paid before debts upon Contract; But the Judgment was onely de bonis Testatoris, and not of his own goods. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 32.

2. A man who was condemned in debt, dyed before Execution: It was holden, That this debt upon Record, was to be paid before debts upon Specialties: And if they be sued upon the Obligation, they may plead a Recovery against them, which is not executed; which if they do not do, but Judgment is given, and Execution passe against them before the first Judgment be Executed; It is a Devastation, and they shall answer de bonis propriis. 6 Eliz. Dyer, 8. See Cook 5. Part, Harrison's Case, acc. And see there, That Judgment in a Court of Record, shall be paid before Statutes, which are private Records; and so, likewise, they shall be paid before Recognizances acknowledged by assent of the parties.

3. If a man be bounden in a Recognizance, or a Statute-Merchant, or Staple, and afterwards a Recovery is had against him, in an Action of debt; and he makes his Executors, and dyeth, his Executors are bound by Law to pay the Debt upon the Recovery, though it be a later debt, before the Debt due by Recognizance or Statute, because although they are both Records, yet the Judgment in the Kings Court, upon Judiciall proceeding, is the most notorious, and the more eminent in Degree, than a Statute or Recognizance taken in private by consent of the parties, and therefore shall be preferred before it. See Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Pemberton and Barham's Case. And 43 Eliz. in B. R. Beareblock and Reade's Case, vouched in Cook 4. Part, in the Case of the Warden and Commonalty of Sadlers.

4. The Queen was endebted to A. in 100 l. for Musquets, and Callivers delivered into the Tower: for which mony, A. took a Debenture from the Queen in the name of J. S. And afterwards made B. his Executor, and dyed: B. procured J. S. to release and surrender the former Debenture to the Queen, and took a new Debenture from the Queen for the said hundred pound to himself. It was holden, That this was no Devastavit in the hands of B. the Executor, but it had bin otherwise, if the first Debenture had bin taken in A. his own name; for then it had bin a Devastavit by the Executor. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Eveling and Levison's Case. Goldsbr. 115.

5. A. brought an Action of debt against B. Executor of J. S. The Defendant pleaded, That the Testator in his life time, made a Statute-Staple to J. N. in 1000 l. above which he hath nothing. Gawdy Justice held, That it was no Plea, For if the Testator were bound in a Statute to perform Covenants, which are not yet broken, and perhaps will never be broken, and yet shall never be compelled to pay debts, it would be a great inconvenience; And yet on the other part, I think there will be a greater mischief; for if the Executor do pay this debt, and then the Statute is broken, he shall be chargeable by Devastavit of his own proper goods, the which will be a greater Inconvenience. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Woodcock and Hernes Case. Goldsbr. 142.

6. Note, It was Resolved, and adjudged by the whole Court, That when Judgment is given against Executors; And upon a Fieri facias the Sheriff Returns Nulla bona, that in such Case the Plaintiff may have a speciall Writ of Fieri facias, scil. That the Sheriff levy the debt of the Goods of the dead: Et si sibi constare poterit, that the Executors have Wasted the goods, then de bonis propriis, because in such Case, if the Sheriff maketh a false Return, the party may have his remedy against him by Action upon the Case. Hill. 45 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 32. Pettister's Case.

7. Debt was brought by A. against J. S. Executor of B. Executor of J. D. upon an Obligation of the first Testator; The Defendant pleaded, That the said J. D. the first Testator, was endebted to B. 100 l. And that afterwards, goods of the value of 100 l. came to the hands of B. as Executor of J. D. which goods he Administred, and paid himself by reteyner, and besides the said goods of the value of 100 l, that the said B. had Administred all the goods of the said J. D. and so there was nothing in the hands of B: The Plaintiff averred Assets in the hands of B. of the goods of J. D. above the 100 l. at the time of his death to be Administred in London; and upon the said Issue joyned, and and tryed. It was found for the Plaintiff, ſcil. That B. had divers goods which were the ſaid J. D's. at the time of his death, in his hands. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover againſt J. S. of the goods of J. D. in the Defendant's hands, and damages of the proper goods of the Defendant: And it was holden, That if the Sheriff of London retorn, That there are no goods of J. D. in the hands of J. S. the Defendant, they ought to Retorn a Devaſtavit in J. S. and not in B. becauſe it is found, that B. had Aſſets of the goods of J. D. at the time of his death; and the Sheriff made Retorn accordingly, and thereupon Execution was Awarded againſt the Defendant J. S. of his own goods. Trin. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 185. Sir John Chicheſter's Caſe.

8. In Debt againſt an Executor, the Caſe was; A. made the Defendants Executors: they being within age, Adminiſtration was committed during their minority to J. S. And it was found that, during the minority of the Executors, there were goods of the Teſtator's in the Adminiſtrators hands, to the value of 4000 l. and that the Defendants, the Executors, when they came of full age, did Releaſe to the Adminiſtrator, durante minori ætate, all manner of Demands; It was made a Queſtion, Whether the ſaid 4000 l. were Aſſetts in the Executors hands: It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was Aſſets in their hands; and it was ſaid, It is not requiſite, That every Aſſet be a thing in poſſeſſion, or in the hands of the Teſtator; for a thing may be Aſſetts in the Executors hands, if it come in lieu of a thing which was in the hands of the Teſtator. It was alſo holden, That this Releaſe of the Executors to the Adminiſtrator, was a Devaſtavit of the goods of the Teſtator; and that a Devaſtavit may be of goods, though they be not goods in poſſeſſion. Mich. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Rutleyes Caſe. Godbolt. 29.

9. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. an Attorney of the Kings-Bench: And declared, That he had recovered againſt the Defendant who was Executor of his Father, and that he ſued forth a Scire facias to the Sheriff, to have Execution. And before the Sheriff could come to ſerve the Execution, and levy the debt, the Defendant, ſecretly, and fraudulently, ſold, and diſpoſed of the Teſtators goods, ſo as the Sheriff was conſtrayned to Retorn Nulla bona. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Action would well lye, becauſe the Sheriff could not Retorn a Devaſtavit, becauſe the goods were ſecretly conveyed away; And the ſale being ſo ſecretly made; if the Sheriff had Retorned a Devaſtavit, perhaps an Action upon the Caſe would have bin brought againſt him for making ſuch a Retorn. Paſc. 21 Jac. in B. R. Tate and Alexander's Caſe. Godbolt. 285.

10. Debt upon an Obligation of 100 l. againſt an Adminiſtrator, The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. recovered in the Court of Cheſter, a Debt of 100 l. againſt him, and that there were other Judgments in other Courts, all which did amount to 500 l. and that he had not goods of the Inteſtates, præterquam bona et Catalla quæ non attingunt ad valentiam præditt. 500 l. againſt him in form aforeſaid recovered, The Plaintiff replyed, That the ſaid J. S. did accept of 60 l. in ſatisfaction of the ſaid Judgment, and would have acknowledged ſatisfaction upon Record in the ſaid Court, but the Defendant ſuffered the ſaid Judgment by fraud, to ſtand in force, to the intent, to deceive the Plaintiff of his juſt Debt. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That an Executor, or Adminiſtrator, ought to execute his Office, and Adminiſter the goods of the Inteſtate truly, and diligently, and not waſtingly, or falſly: And then when an Adminiſtrator compounds with one who hath a Debt of 100 l. for 60 l. and he offereth to acknowledge ſatisfaction for it, and the other defers it, and ſuffers it to continue in force againſt him, with a fraudulous intent, be it before the agreement or after made, or the recovery, it is all one as to another Creditor who is a third perſon; and ſuch agreement ſhall not hurt or prejudice the third perſon. Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, 132. Turner's Caſe. See Cook 5. Part, Goodale's Caſe. acc.

31. The Caſe was, J. S. made his Wife his Executrix and dyed; J. D. being then endebted to the Teſtator, in 100 l. upon a ſimple Contract; the Wife Executrix took to Husband the ſaid J. D: J. D. made his Executor, and dyed. A Creditor of J. S. brought an Action of Debt againſt the Wife, Executrix of J. S. and upon the pleading, the Queſtion was, If by the entermarriage of the Wife with the Debtor of the Teſtator, the ſame was a Devaſtavit or not; And if the ſaid 100 l. due by J. D. ſhould be Aſſets in her hands? It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was no Devaſtavit, nor Aſſets. For the Woman may have an Action againſt the Executor of J. D. And it was agreed by the Court in this Caſe, That if a man make his Debtor, and a Stranger, his Executors, and the Debtor dyeth, the ſurviving Executor may have an Action of Debt againſt the Executor of the Debtor; and ſo in the principal Caſe. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Croſman and Read's Caſe. Leon. 320.

12. Debt againſt an Executor upon an Obligation of the Teſtator's: The Defendant pleaded, That the Teſtator made him Executor till J. S. ſhould come of the age of 21 years; and in the mean time to keep all his goods for him, and then to deliver them unto him, and the ſaid J. S. to be then Executor, and ſhews, that before the Action brought, J. S. was of the age of 21. years, and that he delivered to him the goods which he accepted without that, that at the time of the Action brought he was Executor. It was debated by the Court, If the firſt Executor ſold or waſted the goods, how the Creditor ſhould relieve himſelf for thoſe goods, the new Executor taking upon him the Executorſhip; for the goods never came to the hands of the new Executor. The Court inclined to be of Opinion, That he might have an Action againſt the firſt Executor, for ſo much as he did not Lawfully Adminiſter, for againſt the Vendees he can have no remedy; and that the Executor ſhall remain Executor ſtill for that purpoſe, the other being now in effect for thoſe goods. Trin. 17 Jac. in C. B. Chandler and Thompſon's Caſe. Hob. 265.

13. If a man be bounden in an Obligation which is uſurious, the Bond is void betwixt the parties: and therefore if ſuch an Obligor makes his Executors, and dyeth; and the Executors pay an Uſurious Bond, the other Creditors may ſhew this matter, and make a Devaſtavit of it. By Hobart Juſtice, in Winchcomb and the Biſhop of Winchcſters and Palleſton's Caſe. Hob. 167.

14. Debt by Executors againſt an Executor, upon a Bond made by the Teſtator of 100 l. for the payment of 52 l. The Defendant pleaded, That he had paid the 52 l. to A. one of the Executors in ſatisfaction of the ſaid debt, and all Intereſt, and damages for it, and thereupon, A. releaſed him the ſaid Obligation. The Plaintiff Replyed, That A. was within age at the time of the Releaſe, viz. of the age of 18 years. It was Objected, That this Releaſe of an Enfant of 18 years, was good, he being of age ſufficient to take upon him the Executorſhip, and none can deny but that there was payment of the principall mony, and that it ſhould not be a Devaſtavit, becauſe he did that which he was compellable to do in a Court of Conſcience: But the Opinion of the Court was, That this Releaſe of an Enfant was not any Bar, becauſe the Enfant being Executor by courſe of Law, is to have the benefit of the forfeiture of the Bond; and when the Enfant, being but one of the Executors, takes part of the mony onely, yet this Releaſe ſhall not bar him; but if he will take all the mony, and make a Releaſe, it is good. And this Caſe afterwards being moved at Serjeants-Inn, Dompart and Denham Barons, agreed, That this Releaſe, without payment of the intire ſum contained in the Bond (it being forfeited) was not any bar to the Enfant: It was then agreed, That ſuch a Releaſe by an Executor of full age, upon the Receipt of the principall mony, and Intereſt, ſhall be onely Aſſets, and ſhall not be a Devaſtavit for the Reſidue. Trin. 13 Car. in B. R. Kniverton and Latham's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 352, 353.

15. Debt againſt Husband and Wife, Adminiſtratrix of her former Husband: Judgment was againſt them; And upon a Fieri facias, the Sheriff Returned Nulla bona; whereupon another Fieri facias was Awarded againſt them, with a clauſe in the Writ, that if it be found, That the Husband and Wife devaſtarunt bona, tunc fieri faciat; &c. The Sheriff Returned, That they had not in their hands any goods of the Inteſtates, but that the Wife, being Adminiſtratrix to her firſt Husband, had goods of the Inteſtates, and had Waſted them: And whether they had waſted them according to the Writ, the Jury referred it to the Court. The Court held, That it was a Devaſtavit; and that the Return of the Sheriff was good enough. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 16 Car. in B. R. King and Hilton's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 438.

Deviſe.

1. What ſhall be a good Deviſe of Lands and Tenements; What not: And what Eſtate ſhall paſſe by the words of the Will to the Deviſee, whether Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, for life or other Eſtate.

1. A Seiſed of the Mannor of D. in S. with Lands thereunto belonging, and of other Lands and Tenements lying in E. and in S. in the Tenure of J. S; the Lands in E. being of the yearly Rent of 50 s. per annum, By his Will deviſed all that his Tenement with the appurtenances wherein J. S. dwelleth in E. to his brother. After the death of J. S. The Queſtion was, Whether the Lands in S. appertaining thereunto, did paſſe? It was ſaid, That they ſhould paſſe: for the word, Tenement, refereth to his dwelling which was in E: alſo it paſſeth by the words, cum pertinentiis: alſo in the principal caſe there was a Rent reſerved of 4 l. per annum, and the Lands which lay in E. were Lands which were holden in Capite, but two parts paſſed by the Deviſe by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and the Rent of thoſe Lands were but 40 s. per annum: and it cannot be intended, That the Deviſee ſhould pay 4 l. for the Lands in E. and the value of Lands are Conſiderable in a Will: And for theſe Cauſes, the Court was of Opinion, That the Deviſe was good, and the Lands in S. ſhould paſſe by it to the Deviſee. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Butcher and Samfords Caſe. Goldesbr. 99.

2. A Feme Sole ſeiſed of Lands in Socage, deviſed them to J. S. in Fee; and afterwards ſhe did take the Deviſee to Husband, and during the Coverture, ſhe countermanded her Will, ſaying, That her Husband ſhould not have the Land, nor any other advantage by her Will, and after dyed: and if this were a good Countermand, ſo as her Husband could not have the Land, was the Queſtion? It was adjudged in this caſe, That becauſe that the Woman was a Feme Covert, at the time of her deceaſe; and that the Will doth not take effect till the death of the party, and ſo ſhe was diſabled, at the time of her death, that the Deviſe was not good, and the Husband ſhould not have the Land. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 107.

3. A. deviſed his Lands to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his ſon in tail; and, if he dyed without Iſſue, the Land to remain to J. S. and his Wife for their Lives; and after their deceaſes, to their Children: The Queſtion was, Whether the Children of J. S. ſhould take by diſcent, or as purchaſor? It was the Opinion of Popham and Gawdie, That they had an Eſtate in tail: but Fenner and Clench held, they had but an Eſtate for life. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Goldesbr. 138.

4. A. ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage with which the Lands in Queſtion had been occupied time out of mind, lying ſick, gave Inſtructions to a Scrivener to make his Will, and declared that his meaning was, That his ſaid Meſſuage and all his Lands in W. ſhould be ſold by his Executors. The Scrivener penned the Will in this manner, I will that my houſe with all the appurtenances, ſhall be ſold by my Executors. The Deviſor dyed; The Executors ſold part of the Lands to the Defendant. It was ſaid, That the ſale of part of the Lands was not good. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That by this Deviſe, the Lands did paſſe; for the words, With all the appurtenances, are effectuall words to enforce the Deviſe, and that doth extend to all the Lands, and eſpecially becauſe the Deviſor gave the Scrivener Inſtructions accordingly. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Higham and Haywoods Caſe. Leon. 34. See 3 Eliz. Plow. Com. 210. Sanders and Freemans Caſe, There the Deviſe is pleaded in this manner, viz. Meſſuagium cum pertinentiis ad illud ſpectantibus in perpetuum in Villa de Arthingworth.

5. A man ſeiſed of Lands, made his Will in this manner: Firſt, I bequeath to my Wife bl. Acre for the Term of her life, the remainder to my Son T. in tail. Item, I Will to my ſon T. all my Lands in D, alſo my Lands in S, and alſo my Lands in V; Alſo I give to the ſaid T. my Son, all my Iſland, or Land encloſed with water, which I purchaſed of J. S. To have and to hold all the ſaid laſt before deviſed premiſſes to the ſaid T. my ſon, and the heir of his body. The Queſtion was, If the Habendum ſhall extend to the Iſland onely, in which caſe, T. ſhall have but for life in the Lands in D. S. and V; or unto the Iſland, and alſo to the Lands in D. S. and V? It was Objected, That the Habendum ſhould extend onely to the Iſland: For it was adjudged 4 Eliz. That if I Deviſe my Mannor of D. to my eldeſt ſon, and alſo all my Lands in S. in tail, in that caſe the entail limited for the Land in S. ſhould not extend to the Mannor: but if the words had been, [I Deviſe my Mannor of D, and my Lands in S, to my Son in tail,] there the Son had had an Eſtate tail in both: But in the principal caſe, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the thing laſt deviſed by the Will, was an Iſland in the ſingular number, which cannot ſatisfie the Habendum which is in the plural number; and therefore to verifie the plural Number, the Habendum by fit Conſtruction ſhall extend to all the Lands in D. S. and V; and that the Habendum ſhould not ſtreighten the Deviſe onely to the Iſland. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1458. Wiſeman and Wiſeman's Caſe. Leon. 57, 58.

6. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Socage, deviſed the ſame by word to his three Siſters; A ſtranger being preſent, recited to the Deviſor the ſaid words of his Will, and he did affirm them: Afterwards the ſaid ſtranger put the ſaid words in writing for his own remembrance, but did not read them to the Deviſor, who afterwards dyed. It was the Queſtion, If this Deviſe being reduced in writing modo et forma, were good or not? It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Deviſe is void. It was ſaid by Wray, Chief Juſtice, That if he appoint A. to write his Will, and it is written by B, it is void; but if after he had written the Will, if he had read it to the Deviſor, and he had confirmed it, it had been a good Will. It was adjudged, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover the Lands who was the Deviſor's heir at Law, againſt the three Siſters. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Noſs and Edwards Caſe. Leon. 113.

7. A. ſeiſed of Lands, deviſed them in this manner; I give my ſaid Lands to Margaret my Wife, untill ſuch time as E. my Daughter ſhall accompliſh the age of 19. years, the Reverſion to the ſaid E, and the heirs of her body, upon Condition, that ſhe ſhall pay to my ſaid Wife during her life, in recompence of her Dower of all my Land, 12 l: and if default of payment be made, then I Will, my Wife ſhall enter, and have all my Lands during her life, the remainder ut ſupra, the remainder to J. S. in tail, &c. A. dyed: M. the Wife entred, E. being within the age of 14. years; M. took to husband J. D: the Husband and Wife came and demanded the 12 l, and none was ready to pay it. Afterwards, the Husband and M. brought a Writ of Dower, and recovered. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, were the 12 l. a Rent or a ſum in groſſe, That by the bringing of the Writ of Dower, the Wife of the Deviſor had loſt all the benefit which was to come to her by the Deviſe, for the ſaid Rent was deviſed to her in recompence of her Dower, ſo that it was not the meaning of the Deviſor that the Wife ſhould have both. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Geſlin and Warburton's Caſe. Leon. 137, 138.

8. A. ſeiſed of Lands, deviſed the ſame to W. his Godſon, after the deceaſe of his Wife: and, if he fail, then he Willed all his part to the diſcretion of his Father, and dyed: W. ſurvived, the Father being dead before without any diſpoſition of the Land. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That upon theſe words the Father had a Fee-ſimple; and there is no difference where the Deviſe is, That J. S. ſhall do with the Land at his pleaſure; and the Deviſe thereof to J. S. to do with it at his diſcretion. Trin. 36 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1760. Whiskir and Clayton's Caſe. Leon. 156.

9. A man, ſeiſed of Lands in A, had Iſſue 4. daughters, A. B. C. and D, and deviſed all his Lands in A, to A. and B. his two daughters, and made them his Executrixes: Afterwards he purchaſed other Lands in A; a ſtranger was deſirous to purchaſe this Land of him newly purchaſed: And he ſaid, That that Land ſhould go with the reſidue of his Lands to his Executors, as his other Lands ſhould go; after, the Teſtator made Codicill, and cauſed it to be annexed to his Will; but in the Codicill no mention was made of this Land: and whether this new purchaſed Land ſhould paſſe by the Will without a new publication of the Will for this Land, was the Queſtion? It was holden by the Court, That this Land newly purchaſed ſhould not paſſe: For notwithſtanding that the reading of the Will, and the making of a Codicill, may amount to a new publication; yet it doth not manifeſt the Intent of the Deviſor to be, that more ſhall paſſe by that, then he intended at the firſt: alſo the new reading of the Will, and the annexing of a Codicill, may not properly be termed a new publication: and without an expreſſe publication for this Land newly purchaſed, this Land ſhall not paſſe. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Beckford and Parnecole's Caſe. Goldesbr. 150. See Brett and Rigdens Caſe. Plo. Com. 340.

10. A Copyholder deviſed his Land unto his Wife for her life, and that, after his death, the wife, or her Executors, ſhould ſell the Land, and diſtribute the uſe of his Will, which was entred, that, viz. To the uſe of his Wife for life, ſecundum formam ultimæ voluntatis: and whether ſhe had an Eſtate in the Lands for her life, or an Eſtate in Fee to ſell, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court, That ſhe had an Eſtate in it for her own uſe for her life, and alſo an eſtate in it to ſell it: For if ſhe had not a Fee to ſell, the Clauſe ſecundum formam ultimæ voluntatis ſhould be void. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt 46.

11. A man ſeiſed of a Meſſuage holden in Socage in Fee, deviſed the ſame by theſe words, I deviſe my Meſſuage where I dwell, to my Coſen H. and her aſſigns for 8. years, And my Coſen H. ſhall have all my Inheritances, if the Law will. It was adjudged by the whole Court, That it was a good Deviſe in Fee of the Meſſuage; and that by the general words of the Will, all his Inheritances did alſo paſſe. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Wellock and Hardings Caſe. Godbolt 208.

12. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed them to his Wife for life, and after to his two Sons, if they had not Iſſue males, for their lives; and if they had Iſſue males, then to their Iſſue males: and if they had not Iſſue males, then if any of them had Iſſue male, to the ſaid Iſſue male: The Wife dyed, the ſons entred into the Lands, and then the eldeſt ſon had Iſſue male, who afterwards entred; the younger ſon put out the Iſſue. It was adjudged by the whole Court in this caſe, That by the birth of the Iſſue males, the Lands were deveſted out of the two ſons, and veſted in the Iſſue male of the eldeſt, and that he had taile therein. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Blanfords Caſe. Godbolt, 266.

13. The Caſe was; Lands were deviſed to E. for life, upon Condition, that ſhe ſhould not marry; and if ſhe dyed, or married, that then the Land ſhould remain to A. in tail; and if A. dyed without Iſſue of his body in the life of E, that then the Lands ſhould remain to the ſaid E, to diſpoſe, thereof at her pleaſure; and if the ſaid A. did ſurvive the ſaid E. then the Lands ſhould be divided betwixt the Siſters of the Deviſor. It was objected, that E. had but an eſtate for life, and that theſe words, viz. If A. dyeth without Iſſue in the life of E. that then the Lands ſhould remain to E. to diſpoſe, ſhall not be conſtrued to give her a Fee-ſimple, but to diſcharge the particular Eſtate of the danger which might come by her marriage: and by the Limitation of the latter Remainder, the meaning of the Deviſor was not, that ſhe ſhould have a Fee-ſimple, for the Remainder is not limited to her heirs. But the Opinion of the Court was, That upon the words of Limitation of the Remainder to E, Quod integra remaneat vitæ E, ſhe might diſpoſe thereof at her pleaſure: for the Diviſion is limited to be upon a Contingent, ſcil. If A. ſurvive

E; but if E. ſurvive A, then his Intent is, not that the Lands ſhould be divided, but they ſhould wholly remain to E; and ſo E. had a Fee-ſimple in them. It was ſaid in this Caſe, If Lands be granted to A. and B, and to the heirs of A; B. cannot ſurrender to A: for a ſurrender is as it were a Grant; and as a Releaſe it cannot enure: for a Releaſe of a right, cannot be without Deed. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C.B. Jennor and Hardies Caſe. Leon. 283.

14. A. ſeiſed of Lands having Iſſue 4. Daughters, viz. B. C. D. and E: B. had Iſſue F, A. deviſed the Lands to his Wife for life; and after her deceaſe, the ſame to be equally divided among his Daughters, or their heirs: A. dyed, the Wife dyed; The Defendant in the right of C. D. and E, entred: F. the daughter of B. entred into the Lands, and Leaſed them to the Plaintiff. And whether F, who was the daughter of B, one of the Siſters, ſhould have a 4th part of the Lands, was the Queſtion. It was the Opinion of the Court, That ſhe ſhould have a 4th part of the Land: for in this Caſe, the word Heirs, was not added of neceſſity, for the heir of any of the Siſters to take by purchaſe; but only to make the heir of B. to take part of the Land. And it was the Opinion of the Court, That it being in the disjunctive, it was the ſtronger for the Plaintiff: for they ſaid, If it were, (And) then it would give the three Siſters the Fee, but being in the Disjunctive (Or) there is more colour that ſhe ſhould take a 4th part by the Deviſe. Mich. 1 Car. in B. R. rott. 189. Taylor and Baldyes Caſe. Godbolt 363.

15. Errour brought to reverſe a Judgment in the Kings-Bench, The Caſe was, Ejectione Firmæ was brought of 30 Acres Land, & 5. Acres of Meadow in Cleyton. It was found, That A. was ſeiſed of the Lands in the Declaration, and of 5. Acres of Lands in Cuckfield called Well-Croft, which were called by the Name of Heſelands, and had been occupied as one Farm: and made his Will in this manner; As concerning the Diſpoſition of all my Lands, &c. He deviſed all thoſe his Lands and Tenements in Cuckfield, called Heſelands, to his Wife for life; and after her deceaſe, that it ſhall remain to J. his ſon, and his heirs. And afterwards he Wills, That if I dye without Iſſue, Heſelands ſhould remain to his three daughters in Fee. The Queſtion was, Whether this Clauſe, All his Lands called Heſelands, being an entire Farm extending into Cleyton, now in Queſtion, and into Cuckfield alſo, ſhall paſſe. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Daughter ſhould take none of the Lands in Cleyton; and that onely ſo much of Heſelands as extended into Cuckfield, ſhould paſſe: For the Deviſe to the wife is of the Lands in the Pariſh of Cuckfield called Heſelands, which paſſeth nothing but that which is in the Pariſh of Cuckfield, that being firſt named: And where the words are, It ſhall remain to J. and his heirs, That is that which was before deviſed to the Wife. And where the words are, If I dye without Iſſue, That Heſelands ſhall remain to his daughters, that is to ſay, part of Heſelands, as were deviſed to John: and hereby the Eſtate alſo is countermanded by Implication into an Eſtate in taile. It was therefore the Opinion of the Court, That the Lands in Cleyton did not paſſe to the Daughters. And whereas Judgment had been given for the Daughters, The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 1 Jac. in B. R. Tuttſham and Roberts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 21.

16. A man let ſeveral Houſes and Lands by ſeveral Leaſes for years, rendring ſeveral Rents, amounting to 10 l. per annum, and made his Will in this manner, ſcil. I bequeath the Rents of D. to my Wife for life, the remainder over in tail: The Queſtion was, If the Reverſions did paſſe with the Rents of thoſe Lands. It was Reſolved by the Court, That by this Deviſe, the Land it ſelf ſhould paſſe; for it appears, his intent was to make a Deviſe of all his Lands and Tenements, and that he intended to paſſe ſuch an Eſtate, as ſhould have continuance for a longer time then the Leaſes ſhould endure; and the words are apt enough to convey the Lands, it being an uſual manner of ſpeaking of ſome men, who name their Land by their Rents. Mich. 45 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 125. Kerry and Dirricks Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 104.

17. A man deviſed his Lands to his Wife for life; and after her, to J. his eldeſt ſon, and his heirs, upon Condition, that he ſhould grant to C. his ſecond ſon and his heirs, a Rent of 4 l. per annum out of the ſaid Tenements: and that if J. dyed without heirs of his body, that the ſaid Lands ſhould remain to the ſaid C. and the heirs of his body, and dyed: The Wife entred, and dyed: J. granted a Rent of 4 l. to C. and his heirs, out of the Lands, with clauſe of diſtreſſe. The Queſtion was, If J. had an Eſtate in Fee by his deviſe at the time of the grant of the Rent. It was Reſolved, That it was an Eſtate taile; but yet by Limitation of the Will, he is to make his Grant of this Rent, which being by the appointment of the Donour, is not contra formam Doni, but ſtands with the guift, and ſhall bind the Iſſue in taile. 2. It was Reſolved, That this is a good Grant of the Rent in Fee iſſuing out of all the Eſtate, and not out of the Eſtate tail onely; and being guided by the directions of the Will, it ſhall take according to the Limitation thereof, and charge all the Inheritance. Paſch. 15 Jac. in B. R. rott. 204. Dutton and Engrams Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 427.

18. A man deviſeth by his Will his Lands to his wife; and if ſhe have Iſſue by the Deviſor, that his Iſſue ſhall have it at his age of 21 years: and if the Iſſue dye before that age, or before his wife, or if ſhe hath no Iſſue, That then ſhe ſhall chooſe two Attorneys; And ſhe to make a Bill of Sale of any Lands to her beſt advantage. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That ſhe hath thoſe Lands for life, and ſhe having no Iſſue, hath not any Intereſt to diſpoſe, but hath an Authority to nominate two who ſhall diſpoſe of the Lands, and they may make ſale of them. Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Beal and Shepherds Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 199.

19. Note: It is a Rule in Law, That ſuch an Eſtate which cannot by the Rules of the Common-Law be conveyed by Grant executed in his life-time by advice of Councel learned in the Law, ſuch an Eſtate cannot be deviſed by the Will of a man who is intended to be void of Councel: As if a man deviſe Lands to one for ever, there he hath a Fee; for ſuch Eſtate might be conveyed by act executed: But if he further deviſe, That if the Deviſee do ſuch an act, that another ſhall have the Land to him and his heirs, the ſame is void; for when as he hath diſpoſed of the Eſtate in Fee to one, he hath not power after in the ſame Will to diſpoſe the ſame to another. Cook 1. Part, 85. in Corbets Caſe.

20. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, had iſſue 6. ſons and one daughter: and deviſed the ſaid Mannor to J. S. for 90. years, if the ſaid J. S. and G. his wife, or any of them ſhould ſo long live, the remainder to P. his eldeſt ſon, and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to his other ſons, the remainder to his daughter. Provided, That if the ſaid P. his ſon, or any of the ſons of the ſaid Deviſor, or any of the heirs males of their body, ſhould endeavour by any act to alien, bargain, or diſcontinue; then after any ſuch attempt or endeavour, and before any ſuch bargain, ſale, &c. were executed, that the Eſtate of ſuch perſon attempting, &c. ſhould ceaſe, as if he were naturally dead; and that then the premiſſes ſhould diſcend, remain, and come to ſuch perſon to whom the ſame ought to come, remain, or be, by the intent and meaning of his Will, and dyed: P. levied a Fine of the Mannor; he in the next remainder entred and claimed the Reverſion by force of the Deviſe. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Conuſee had the Reverſion in him, and might maintain an Action of Waſte, becauſe the Proviſo of Reſtraint in the Will of A. was void and repugnant in Law; and a Proviſo, Condition, or Limitation, ought to defeat the whole Eſtate; and it cannot continue it for part, and defeat it for the reſidue. Hill. 37 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1758. Fernys and Arſcotts Caſe.

21. A man deviſed Lands to another man and his heirs: The Deviſee dyed in the life of the Deviſor, and then the Deviſor dyed. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the heirs ſhould not take by Deviſe, for that the heirs are not named as words of purchaſe, but only to expreſs and limit the Eſtate which the Deviſee ſhould have; for without theſe words (heirs) the Deviſee could not have the Fee-ſimple, and the heirs are named onely to convey the Lands in Fee-ſimple, and not to make any other to be purchaſor but the Deviſee. See Plow. Com. 342. in Brets and Rigdens Caſe.

22. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, had iſſue two Sons, A. and B: A. had iſſue two daughters, and B. had iſſue C. a ſon, and he deviſed his Lands to his Executors for the payment of his debts, untill C. (being of the age of 9. years) come to the age of 21 years; and when C. cometh to the age of 21. years, that then he enjoy the Land to him and his heirs, and dyed: C. before he came to the age of 21 years dyed, his heir entred, and made a Leaſe for years, the two daughters entred, the heir re-entred. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Intereſt of the Executors did not ceaſe, although that C. dyed before the age of 21. years: For in Wills, the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſidered: and when he deviſed the Lands to his Executors for the payment of his debts, it is to be intended that he had made a Computation, that the profits of the Lands for 12 years would be ſufficient to pay his debts, and therefore he did not intend, that the Intereſt of the Executors ſhould determine by the death of the Son; and when the Deviſor by apt words might have made by good advice his Will good and ſufficient in Law, according to his intent; there, although the Deviſor being hindred by ſickneſſe, makes his Will in a diſordered manner, and by unapt words, yet the Law ſhall reduce thoſe words into good Order according to his intent: and therefore theſe words, [untill ſuch time as C. ſhall come to the age of 21. years,] ſhall be conſtrued, [untill ſuch time as C. ſhould have come to his age of one and twenty years] 2. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Remainder was good: and a difference was taken betwixt a Leaſe and a Will: For it was agreed, That if a man doth make a Leaſe for years untill his ſon ſhall attain unto his full age, the ſon being then of the age of 9. years, the Leſſee hath not an abſolute Leaſe for 12. years: for if the ſon dyeth before his full age, the Leaſe ſhall determine. 3. It was agreed, That if a man having a ſon of the age of 9. years, makes a Leaſe untill his ſon ſhall attain his age; and after that, he ſhall accompliſh his full age, that the ſame ſhall remain over to another in Fee, that nothing veſts in him in the Remainder: For the Rule is, That when a Remainder is limited to take effect upon the doing of an act; which act ſhall be the determination of the particular Eſtate, if the act doth depend upon a Caſualty, the remainder ſhall be in Contingency,

and

and ſhall not preſently veſt. Cook 3. Part, Breſtons Caſe.

23. A Copyholder of Lands in Borough-English having 3. ſons, and one daughter, deviſed his Lands to his eldeſt ſon, paying to his daughter, and to every one of his Sons 40 s. within two years, and ſurrendred to the uſe of his Will; the eldeſt ſon was admitted, and did not pay the 40 s. within the two years. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That although the yearly profits of the Lands for two years, did exceed the money to be paid, yet the eldeſt ſon had a Fee-ſimple. 2. Although that this word (paying) in the caſe of a Will makes a Condition; yet in this caſe the Law ſhall conſtrue this unapt word (Paying) a Limitation; for if it ſhould be a Condition, the ſame ſhould diſcend to the eldeſt ſon, and then it was at his pleaſure, if the daughter or brothers ſhould be paid or not: and therefore the Law ſhould judge the ſame a Limitation; of which the youngeſt ſon ſhould take advantage. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Wollock and Hammonds Caſe. See Cook 6. Part, Collyers Caſe, acc.

24. A man deviſed divers Mannors to his ſon in tail, the remainder to J. S, and the heirs males of his body, upon Condition, That he or they, or any of them ſhall not alien, diſcontinue, &c. The Queſtion was, If the meaning of the Deviſor was to include his ſon within the words of the Condition, [he or they] and not onely him in the Remainder. It was Reſolved, That no ſuch averment ſhould be out of the Will; for a Will of Lands ought to be in writing, and the Conſtruction of Wills ought to be gathered out of the words of the Will, and not by any averment: And there this Caſe is put, If a man hath Iſſue two ſons, both named John, and conceiving his eldeſt ſon to be dead, He deviſeth his Land by his Will to his Son John generally, and in truth the eldeſt ſon is living. In that caſe, the younger ſon may alledge and give in Evidence the Deviſe to him, and may produce Witneſſes to prove the intent of his Father: and if no proof can be made, the Deviſe ſhall be void for the incertainty of it. Mich. 34 Eliz. in the Court of Wards. Cook 5. Part, 67. the Lord Cheneys Caſe.

25. Land was deviſed to Husband and Wife, and after their deceaſe, to their Children, they then having iſſue a ſon and a daughter. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the husband and wife had but an Eſtate for the term of their Lives, the remainder to their Children for life, and no Eſtate tail; for the Intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſtrued according to the Rules of the Common-Law: and by the Common-Law, the husband and wife have but an Eſtate for their Lives, with a Remainder to their Children for their Lives. Hill. 42 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 6. Part, 16, 17. Wields Caſe.

26. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 40 years, by his Will deviſed the ſame to J. S. after the death of his wife, and that the wife ſhould enjoy it during her life; and that J. S. ſhould neither deviſe it, nor ſell it, but leave it to deſcend to his ſon: and in the mean time my Will is, That my Wife ſhall have the uſe thereof during her life, yielding to J. S, during her life, 10 l. at two Feaſts, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the Wife entred, and paid the ten pound yearly according to the Will: In this Caſe many points were Reſolved, 1. That J. S. did not take by way of Remainder, but by way of Executory Deviſe: and a man may deviſe ſuch an Eſtate by his Will, which he cannot make by act executed; and that the Caſe was no more but this, That the Teſtator deviſed, That after the death of J. S, that his wife ſhould have the Reſidue of the Term. 2. The Deviſe was good, being but of a Chattel which may veſt and deveſt at the pleaſure of the Deviſor. 3. That there is no difference when one deviſeth his Term, the Remainder over; and when a man deviſeth his Land, or his Leaſe, or the uſe or occupation, or the profits of his Land, That a man by his Will may create an Intereſt, which by Grant or Conveyance he cannot create in his life-time. Cook 8. Part, 96. Matthew Mannings Caſe.

27. Leſſee for 99. years by his Will deviſed his Leaſe in theſe words: I deviſe my Leaſe to my Wife during her life; and after her death, I Will that it go to her Children unpreferred; and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed. The wife entred, and married with J. S; and afterwards for 140 l. debt, recovered againſt J. S; and upon a Fieri facias the Term was ſold by the Sheriff. Afterwards the Judgment was reverſed by Errour, et quod omnia quæ amiſit ratione Judicii reſtituantur. The wife Executrix dyed. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Executory Deviſe of the Leaſe after the death of the wife, to the daughter not preferred, was good. 2. That the Sale made by the Sheriff upon the Fieri facias, did not deſtroy the executory deviſe; although the perſon to whom it was made, was incertain during the life of the wife. 3. That the Sale made by the Sheriff ſtood good, although the Judgment was reverſed, and that the Plaintiff ſhould be reſtored to the value of the Term, and not to the Term it ſelf: and the Vendee had an abſolute property in the Term during the life of the Wife: and the value of the Term ſhould go to the daughter not preferred after the death of the wife. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. R. Amery and Loddingtons Caſe.

28. A man ſeiſed of Lands holden in Capite, deviſed deviſed them to his Wife for life; and after her deceaſe, his ſon John to have it; and if his ſon John marry, and have by his Wife any Iſſue male of his body lawfully begotten, then his ſon to have it; if one Iſſue male, then his ſon Thomas to have the houſe: and if Thomas marry, having iſſue male of his body, his ſon to have the houſe after his deceaſe: and if any of his ſons, or Iſſue males go about to alien, or Mortgage the houſe; then the next heir to enter, &c. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Sons had an Eſtate tail in them ſeverally, and to the heirs males of their bodies, for that theſe words [if he have no Iſſue male, his Son Thomas to have it] are ſufficient to create Taile to John; and ſo of the reſt. 2. Reſolved, That no Condition, or Limitation, be it by act executed, or by limitation of uſe, or by deviſe by laſt Will, can barr Tenant in tail to alien by ſuffering a Common-Recovery. Hill. 8 Jac. in Court of Wards. Sondays Caſe. Cook 9. Part, 128.

29. A. deviſed Lands to his wife for life, the remainder to J. S, and the heirs males of his body; and if it happen he to dye without heirs of his body lawfully begotten, without ſaying [males, or ſuch heirs] the remainder to J. D. his Coſen, and his heirs males in Fee-ſimple, the remainder to the next heirs males of the Kin. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Proviſo did not alter the firſt Eſtate tail, becauſe the intent of the Deviſor did clearly appear. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer. Trembams Caſe.

30. A. ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage in London, deviſed the ſame by his laſt Will to Allice his Coſen; and after her deceaſe, to W. L. her Son, who was her heir apparent, and dyed: Allice took another Husband, and by him had Iſſue, and dyed: and if the Husband ſhould be Tenant by the Curteſie, was the Queſtion? It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſaid Alice was but Tenant for life, the remainder to W. L. her ſon for his life, the remainder in Fee-ſimple to the wife, ſo as the husband ſhould not be Tenant by the Curteſie. Paſch. 19 Eliz. Dyer 357. Chicks Caſe.

31. A, ſeiſed of 3. houſes in B, having three Brothers, made his Will in this manner, ſcil. I deviſe that houſe that J. V. dwelleth in, to my 3. brothers among them, and J. V. to dwell in it ſtill, and they to raiſe no term. And I Will my houſe that T. C. my brother dwelleth in, to him, and he to pay to C. C. 3 l. 6 s. 8 d. to find him to School with, or elſe to remain to the houſe. Provided that the houſes be not ſold, but go to the next of the name and blood that are males. It was Reſolved, That this is an Eſtate in tail, and ſhall go to the houſe, and ſhall be conſtrued to go to the moſt worthy of the Family; and the words [that are males] ſhall be taken for the future times. Paſch. 16 Eliz. Dyer 333. Chapmans Caſe.

32. Clack deviſed a houſe to A. his eldeſt daughter and her heirs, and if ſhe dye having no Iſſue, then to T. his youngeſt daughter, and to her heirs; and other Lands he deviſed to T. his daughter and her heirs of greater value; and if ſhe dye within 16 years, that A. ſhall have her part to her and her heirs: and if A. marry ſuch a one, that T. ſhall have her part to her and her heirs: and if T. dye having no Iſſue, that all her part ſhall go to two other Neeces. And if A. dye without Iſſue, That T. ſhall have her part, to her and her heirs. T. after 16 years dyed without Iſſue: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That A. ſhould not have her part, but the Neeces; for notwithſtanding the croſſe Limitation, it appears, the intent was not, that A. ſhould have by T. if ſhe over-lives 16 years; and when his intent is expreſſed, it ſhall not be taken by Implication. Note: Dyer ſaid, It was not an Eſtate tail, but a Fee-ſimple. Dyer 16 Eliz. 330. Cletches Caſe.

33. A man had 3. ſons, A. B. and C; and having Lands in 3. ſeveral Towns, viz. D. E. and F, deviſed his Lands in D. to A. his eldeſt Son; the Lands in E, to B. his ſecond Son; and the Lands in F, to C. his third Son: and that if any of them dyed, the other ſurviving ſhall be his heir: A. the eldeſt Son hath Iſſue G, and dyes. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, In regard that nothing but a Freehold paſſed by the Deviſe, the Reverſion in Fee diſcending upon the eldeſt Son, had drowned that Eſtate, and that his death afterwards could revoke and veſt the remainders in B, and C: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, who claimed under G, the heir of A. Paſch. 7 Jac. in B.R. Wood and Ingerſoles Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 260, 261.

34. A, ſeiſed of Land, deviſed it to W. his ſon for his life, and afterwards to T. ſon of the ſaid W. except the ſaid W. his ſon purchaſed other Lands of as good value for the ſaid T. and then the ſaid W. to have the Lands ſo deviſed, to ſell at his pleaſure, and T. to pay to his Siſters 10 l. a piece: W. did not purchaſe the Land, and dyed. T. entred, and paid the 10 l. a piece to his Siſters. The Queſtion was, What Eſtate T. had, Whether a Fee, or for life onely. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, that T. had a Fee, for the Intent of the Deviſor, appears to be ſo through the whole Will: for when it is limited to W. for life, which is an expreſs eſtate; and there is no Eſtate limited to T. but it is appointed he ſhall pay 10 l. a piece to his Siſters: It was an apparent Fee by his Intent, and by the Law. Co. 3 P. Boraſton's Caſe. & C. 6. P. Collier's Caſe; and the Exception makes it ſtronger: If W. purchaſe other Land of as good value for T. ſuch is meant of an Eſtate in Fee; and the Exception not being performed, it appears, That T. ſhall have Fee. 35. A. having iſſue one Son, J; and E. his daughter; E. took to Husband J. D. and had Iſſue by him two daughters, F. and G. and E. dyed: A. made his Will, and thereby gave to F. and G. his Grandchildren 10 l. a piece, during their lives, iſſuing out of Lands in S. And in his Will was this Clauſe, Touching all my Lands in S. N. L. and G. of which I am now ſeiſed; and which of right will come to J. my ſon; this is my Deviſe: And then appoints certain friends to receive the profits of them all, until his ſon ſhall come to the age of 24 years. Provided always, That if my Son J. ſhall happen to deceaſe without Iſſue of his body lawfully begotten, That then I will that all and ſingular my ſaid Lands, and every parcell thereof, ſhall go unto the right Heirs Males, and Poſterity of me and my name for ever, equally to be divided unto and amongſt them; and then, and in ſuch caſe, I do Will unto F. and G. and to either of them, an Annuity of 5 l. a piece out of the Tenements in S. for the term of their lives. A dyeth: J. his Son dyeth without Iſſue. F. and G. enter as Heirs, and make a Leaſe to the Defendant. H. the Brother, and F. the Deviſor, of his name and bloud, enters and makes a Leaſe to the Plaintiff. The Queſtions in this Caſe were, 1. Whether the Limitation to the Heirs Males, &c. upon the dying of J. without Iſſue, ſhall take effect by way of Reverſion or Remainder, or by way of Original and expectant Deviſe. 2. Whether it can carry the Land to the Brother in caſe of a Deviſe. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Son was Tenant in tail; and then it will follow, that the Limitation after following to the right Heirs-Males, will be but a Reverſion and veſt alſo in the Son, in way of diſcent: and then if the Reverſion veſted in him in Fee, it muſt of neceſſity diſcend from him to the daughters of his ſiſter E. and not to the Uncle. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Camden and Clarks Caſe. Hob. 30. 31, 32, 33.

36. A. Seiſed of Lands in Fee holden in Socage, having Iſſue three daughters, B, C, and D, deviſed the ſame after his deceaſe to his wife for life; and after her deceaſe, That his Executors ſhould receive the profits, until the ſum of 900 li. was received, for the preferment of his daughters in Marriage; and after the 900 l. received, the ſaid Meſſuage ſhould remain to his right Heirs Males for ever. And if his Heirs Males ſhould diſturb his Executors in the receiving of the profits; that then their Eſtates ſhould ceaſe, and the Lands ſhould be divided amongſt the Daughters then living; and dyed. One F. was found his Heir Male: the Wife entred, and dyed: B. his Daughter after his deceaſe married J. D. the Defendant, and had Iſſue; and the Plaintiff by a Leaſe made from F. the Heir-Male, brought an Ejectione firme, upon which all the ſpecial matter was found. In that Caſe, it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mic. 7 Jac. in B. R. Aſhenhurſt and Carter's Caſe. Hob. 34.

37. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was; One deviſeth his Lands to his two Sons, and the Heirs of their bodies, and that his Executors ſhall have them, until they come to their ſeveral Ages of 21 years, the one attains to the age of 21 years. The Queſtion was, Whether he might enter. It was ſaid, they were Joynt-Tenants, and that their Executors ſhould hold them till they both came of the age of 21. years. But it was holden otherwiſe by the Court, for the words, untill they accompliſh their ſeverall ages, viz. reddenda ſingula ſingulis, quoad either of them came to the age of 21. years, he ſhould then have his part and poſſeſſion; and yet the Joynt-Tenancy ſhould hold place. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Aylor and Chep's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 259.

38. A man deviſed his Lands in this manner, viz. I give to my Wife all my houſes and Free Lands, and after her deceaſe, to my three daughters, equally to be divided, and if any of them dye before the other, then the others to be her Heirs, equally to be divided; and if they all dye without Iſſue, then to three other named in the Will: The Queſtion was, what eſtate the daughters have. It was adjudged by the whole Court to be an Eſtate Tail: And Webb and Herring's Caſe was put. Hill. 14 Jac. A man deviſeth to his ſon after the death of his Wife; And if his daughters outlive the Mother and brother, and his Heirs, then they ſhould have it: It was Reſolved to be an eſtate tail in the ſon, for it is impoſſible the ſon ſhould dye without Heirs as long as his Siſters were alive, and therefore the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſtrued to extend to the Heirs of his body, and ſo be an Eſtate tail. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. King and Rumball's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 248.

39. A man having Iſſue three ſons A. B. and C. deviſed his Land to B. his ſecond ſon, and his Heirs in perpetuum, paying to his brother C. 20 l. at his age of 21 years; And if B. dyed without Iſſue, living A, then A. his brother ſhould have thoſe Lands, to him, his Heirs and Aſſigns for ever, paying the ſaid ſum as B. ſhould have paid; The Queſtion was, Whether B. had an Eſtate in Fee, or in Fee tail: It was Reſolved, That it was not an eſtate tail in B. but a Fee, for it is deviſed to him and his Heirs in perpetuum, and alſo paying 20 l. And the clauſe [If he dyed without Iſſue] is not abſolute, and indefinite, Whenſoever he dyed without Iſſue, but it is with a contingency: If he dyed w'thout Iſſue, living A. for he might ſurvive A. or have Iſſue at the time of his death, living A. 2. It was Reſolved, That it was a good Limitation of the Fee to A. by way of contingency, not by way of immediate Remainder. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Pell and Browns Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 590.

40. A. ſeiſed of Lands in D. and S. and having two ſons, T. and F. deviſeth all his Lands to his Wife for life; and after her death, all his Lands in D. to T. and his Heirs for ever; and his Lands in S. to F. and his Heirs for ever. Item, I will, That the ſurvivor of them ſhall be Heir to the other, if either of them dye without Iſſue, and dyed. The Wife dyes; T. enters into the Lands in D. and deviſeth them to R. his ſecond ſon in Fee, The Queſtion was, Whether this be an eſtate tail, immediate by the Deviſe, or onely a contingent eſtate; if he dyed without Iſſue in the life of his brother: It was holden by all the Court, That it was an Eſtate tail, with the Remainder over, ſo as the Deviſe of T. was void; And that although the firſt part of the Will gives a Fee, yet the ſecond part corrects it, and makes it but an Eſtate in tail. Mich. 22 Jac. in B. R. Chadock and Cowleyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 695. See 16 Eliz. Dyer, 330.

41. A man being bound in a bond to pay 40 l. per annum to his Wife; and ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed the Land in Queſtion to A. and B. his ſons, upon this Condition, That if they ſell it to any but to D. his ſon, then he to enter as of his Guift. Item, All the houſes which I have given to my ſons, is to this purpoſe, That they ſhall bear part, and part-like, going out of all my houſes and Lands towards the payment of my Wives 40 l. per annum; And which of my ſons ſhall refuſe to bear their part, ſhall enjoy no part of my bequeſt. The Queſtion was, Whether A. and B. have a Fee-ſimple by this Will, or for life onely: It was objected, It was a Fee to A. becauſe the Deviſe is to the eldeſt ſon, who ſhould have taken by diſcent, and he intended every ſon ſhould have a Fee as well as his eldeſt. 2. Becauſe it is deviſed, paying ſuch a ſum. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That it was but an eſtate for life onely which paſſed by the Deviſe, for that the eldeſt ſon had not any Fee by the Deviſe, but by diſcent, and operation of Law, and they may be reſtreyned from ſelling an Eſtate for life; and it doth not appear, he intended to give a Fee, and the Land is not deviſed paying ſuch a ſum, which is a ſum in groſſe, but that every one ſhall pay out of his part towards the payment of the 40 l. per annum, which is quaſi an Annuall Rent, out of the profits of the Lands, and therefore no Fee given. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. rott. 842. Anſley and Chapman's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 112, 113.

42. A. ſeiſed of a Meſſuage, and two Acres of Lands in P. and of two Acres of Meadow in S. uſed with the ſaid Meſſuage and Lands in D. Deviſed the ſaid Meſſuage cum omnibus pertinentiis to E. his ſon and his Heirs in perpetuum; and for want of ſuch Iſſue of E. to A. daughter of R. K. and her Heirs for ever; And, for default of Heirs of the ſaid A, then prædict' Meſſuag. cum pertinentiis to E. K. his Cozen, et heredibus ſuis in perpetuum; And by his ſaid Will deviſed omnes terras ſuas, et omnia bona ſua mobiliaet immobilia, to his Wife during her Widdow-hood, and dyed; the Wife entred; T. entred into the two Acres of Meadow, and diſſeiſed the Wife, and afterwards made a Feoffment thereof to J. S. with Warranty againſt him and his Heirs: T. dyed without Iſſue, A. the daughter of R. K. was his Siſter and Heir; the Feoffee deviſed that Land to his Wife for her life, and dyed. The Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether by this Deviſe of the Meſſuage, cum pertinentiis, the two Acres of Meadow paſſed. 2. If it was an eſtate tail in T. and the Remainder in A. or a Feeſimple in T. and the Remainder void. For the firſt, the Court held, The two Acres did not paſſe by the words cum pertinentiis; but otherwiſe it had bin, if it had bin cum terris pertinentibus. For the ſecond point, three of the Juſtices held it To be a Fee: two of them, That it was but an eſtate in tail; but they all agreed, There was a Collateral Warranty deſcended, which barred the Remainder, and not a Warranty which commenced by diſſeiſin. Trin. 22 Jac. rott. 1876. in C. B. Heavn and Allen's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 41, 42. See Hutton 85. the ſame Caſe.

43. A. having two ſons by ſeverall Weomen; Deviſed his Lands to J. his eldeſt ſon, and his Heirs, after the death of his Wife, to whom he deviſed them for her life: the Queſtion was, Whether the ſon ſhould take them by Deviſe as a purchaſor, or as Heir at Common-Law by diſcent. It was Objected, That he ſhould take them by purchaſe, becauſe the Deviſe is not to the Son in preſent, but after the death of the Teſtator's Wife: And although he might have waved the thing by purchaſe; yet here it ſhall be intended prima facie, to be in by purchaſe, becauſe any Actuall waver doth not appear: But the Court held, That the Deviſe was void, and that it is not in the power of the ſon to make Election to take by diſcent, or by purchaſe, but he muſt of neceſſity take the Land as the Law directs, which is by diſcent, and it is againſt a Maxime of Law to give a thing to ſuch a perſon to whom the Law gives it, if it had not bin given. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. rott. 2052. Preſton and Holmes Caſe. Styles 148, 149.

44. A man ſeiſed of a Copyhold in Borough-English, Deviſed it to H. his Grandchild, and his Heirs; and if he dye during the life of his Mother, the Remainder to B. his younger brother and his Heirs: The Queſtion was, Whether there be an Eſtate Tail in H. or a Fee-ſimple Executory: If it was an eſtate tail, then the Deviſe was ſaid not to be good, becauſe it is a Copyhold; But if it be a Fee-ſimple, then the Deviſe is good. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That it had bin adjudged in the Court of Common-Pleas. Mich. 38 Eliz. rott. 1149. That if Lands be deviſed to one and his Heirs, and if he dye without Iſſue, that the Land ſhall be to another and his heirs, that this is no tail, for it cannot ſtand with the Rules of Law, to deviſe ſuch an eſtate; for it is but a poſſibility, and if it ſhould be more, it muſt be a Fee upon a Fee, and ſo a Perpetuity, and it cannot be known within what bounds it ſhall end, either in the Caſe of years, or life, or other Contingencies; and though there could be ſuch a Deviſe of other Lands, yet Copyhold-Lands cannot be ſo deviſed, for there cannot be ſo much as a poſſibility of Reverter, for that there is no Cuſtome to warrant it, and although there might be a Reverter, yet he cannot deviſe it by Will; and if he could, yet the Conveyance is made up by ſurrender, Admittance and Deviſe, and the party is here in by the ſurrender, and not by the Deviſe: The Court debated of the Caſe, but ſeemed to encline It was not good. Trin. 1650. Rott. 1350. in B R. Jay and Joyes Caſe. Styles 258, 274.

45. A man made his Will in theſe words, ſcil. I give and bequeath one half of my Lands to my Wife, and after her death, I give all my Lands to the heirs Males of any of my Sons, or next of Kin: It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the Deviſe was void, becauſe it is uncertain, for the intent of the Deviſor doth not appear, for it appears not what heir Male ſhall have the Land, Whether the heir Male of the ſon, or the Heir Male of the next of Kin, for the words are in the disjunctive: And 42 Eliz. in C. B. It was adjudged in Tayler and Sawyer's Caſe, that Lands deviſed to a mans Iſſue was incertain, and therefore the Deviſe void: And ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in this very point, Hill. 2 Car. in C. B. rott. 1288. in Hunt and Fiſher's Caſe. Rolls Chief Juſtice, in the principall Caſe ſaid, That the intent of the Deviſor here was caca et ficca, ſenſeleſſe, and cannot be known, and we ought not to frame a ſenſe upon the words of a Will, where we cannot find out the Teſtator's meaning The Court inclined to Opinion, That the Deviſe was void. Trin. 1649. rott. 849. in B. R. Beal and Wyman's Caſe. Styles 240.

46. In an Ejectment, the Caſe was, A man Deviſed all his Fee-ſimple Lands whereſoever to his brother, upon Condition, That he ſuffer his Wife to enjoy all his Free-Lands in H. during her life; And the Jury found, That the Teſtator had onely a portion of Tythes in H. And if the Portion of Tythes did paſſe to the Wife by the Deviſe, was the Queſtion. It was objected, That the Tythes paſſed not; and Mich. 43 Eliz. a Deviſe of Lands extends not to Tythes, for Tythes are not Lands, but a Collaterall thing to the Land. And Trin. 42 Eliz. in that Tythes cannot be Appendant to a Mannor. But it was holden by the Court, That the Tythes did paſſe, for that being in Caſe of a Will, the meaning of the party ſhall be obſerved if it may be found out; and if it ſhould not be ſo in this Caſe, part of the Will ſhould be void, which may not be, if it may be otherwiſe by a reaſonable Conſtruction; And it is clear, the Teſtator intended to Deviſe the Land in H. and by a Will, things of one nature may paſſe by words which are proper to paſſe things of another nature. The Court inclined to Opinion, That the portion of Tythes in H. did paſſe to the Wife. Hill. 1649. rott. 748. in B. R. Sanders and Riches Caſe. Styles 278, 279.

47. A. had 3. ſons, B. C. and D, and deviſed certain Lands to C. and D, thus, viz. joyntly and ſeverally for their Lives, ſo that neither of them ſhall alienate the Lands: and if they do, that the ſame ſhall remain to his heirs, and dyes: B. dyes without Iſſue, the Reverſion of the Lands diſcends to C, who dyes, leaving Iſſue. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, Upon the death of A, that C. and D. were Joynt-Tenants of the Lands, and not Tenants in Common, notwithſtanding the words ſeverally, becauſe it is coupled with the word (joyntly); but yet they agreed, That by the Diſcent from B. to C, the Fee-ſimple was executed in C. for the moyety, as if he had purchaſed the Reverſion of the whole, or of his moyety: and it is not like the Caſe, where Land is given to two, and to the heirs of one of them; in which Caſe, for the benefit of Surviverſhip, it is not executed to divide the Joynture. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in C. B. Morgans Caſe. Popham 52.

48. A man made a Deviſe in theſe words, viz. I Will and Deviſe, That A. and B. my Feoffees, ſhall ſtand ſeiſed, and be ſeiſed to the uſe of J. S. for life, the remainder over: and the truth was, he had no Feoffees. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That it was a good Deviſe to J. S. by reaſon of the Intention. See 15 Eliz. Lingen made a Feoffment to his own uſe, and afterwards Deviſed, That his Feoffees ſhould be ſeiſed to the uſe of his Daughter A, who in truth was a Baſtard, and yet adjudged a good Deviſe of the Lands by Intention; for by no poſſibility they can be ſeiſed to his uſe. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Baſſeild and Ryborn's Caſe. Popham 188.

45. A. ſeiſed of Lands, Deviſed them to his Wife for life, the remainder to B. his Son and his heirs, upon Condition, That after the death of his Wife, he ſhall grant to C. and his heirs a Rent-charge; and if B. dye without heirs of his body, that the Land remain to C. in tail. The wife dyeth, B. grants the Rent to C; C. grants over the Rent: B. dyes without heirs of his body; the ſecond Grantee diſtrains for the Rent: C. brings a Replevin. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That by C. granting this Rent over, it was a Confirmation: Alſo, it was agreed by the Court, That this grant of the Rent enures from the Deviſor, and he hath a power to charge the Land in what manner he pleaſeth: and the Intent of the Deviſor in this caſe was, That foraſmuch as the Land is limited in tail, and the Rent in Fee, that by this the Grantee ſhall have power to grant or diſpoſe of the Rent in what manner he pleaſeth: but if the Land had been in Fee, then the Intent of the Deviſor would have been, that the Grantee ſhould have the Rent onely untill the Remainder fall. Mich. 15 Jac. in B.R. Gouldwell's Caſe. Popham 131.

50. B. had 100 Acres of Land, called Jacks, uſually occupied with a houſe; he Leaſed the houſe and 40 Acres of Land, parcel of the 100. Acres to J. S. for life, and then made his Will, and thereby Deviſed his houſe and all his Lands called Jacks, now in the occupation of J. S. to his wife for life; and after her deceaſe, the Remainder of that and all other his Lands appertaining to Jacks, to A. his ſecond ſon. The Queſtion was, 1, Whether the wife ſhould have that which her Husband was ſeiſed of for life? or the eldeſt Son ſhould have it? and what Eſtate he ſhould have in it? It was ſaid in that Caſe by Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, That if Lands be Deviſed to one after the death of his wife, he ſhall have it for life; but if a man be ſeiſed of two Acres, and Deviſeth one to his Wife, and that J. S. ſhall have the other after the death of his Wife, ſhe takes nothing in that caſe. 2. It was holden, That the Reverſion after the death of the Wife, ſhould paſſe to the ſecond ſon, for although it doth not paſſe by theſe words, [uſually occupied] yet becauſe the Deviſe cannot take other effect, and it appears, his intent was to paſſe the Land, the younger ſon ſhall have it. Paſc. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Higham's Caſe. Godbolt. 17.

51. A man Deviſed all his Farm called Locks to his eldeſt ſon, and all his Farm called Brocks, to his yeunger ſon; and the Lands in Queſtion as purchaſed by the Deviſor, long after he purchaſed Brocks, and it was not named in the Will, and therefore it was holden, That the ſame ſhould deſcend to the Heir, the eldeſt ſon; and the Jury did not find the ſame to be uſually occupied with Brocks: And it was holden, That if a man do occupy ſeverall Farms together, and then doth Deviſe one of the Farms called D. and all the Lands to the ſame belonging, the other Farm ſhall not paſſe with it, although they be occupied all together. It was adjudged That the Land did not paſſe by the Deviſe. Trin. 20 Jac. in B. R. rott. 811. Knight's Caſe. Godbolt. 358.

52. A Feme-ſole deviſeth Lands to a man, and then takes him to husband, and dyes: This Intermarriage is a Reverſion of the Deviſe, and the heir of the Woman ſhall have the Lands, and not the Husband, becauſe after Marriage, the Will of the Wife, in Judgment of Law, is ſubject to the Will of her Husband; and a Feme-Covert hath not any Will; for the making of the Will, is but the inception thereof, and takes not effect till the death of the Deviſor. Cook 4. Part, 61, Forſe and Hembling's Caſe.

53. A. ſeiſed of Lands in R. E. and H. having Iſſue J. his ſon, and two daughters, and his brother having three ſons K. L. M. deviſeth all his Land to J. his ſon, and his heirs, and if he dyed without Iſſue, he Deviſed his Lands in K. to L. his Nephew in Fee. Item, I Deviſe my Lands in H. to K. my Nephew in Fee; And whether this were a good Deviſe to K. by way of Remainder after the death of J. without Iſſue, and an immediate Deviſe to K. and a Countermand of the Deviſe to J. quoad thoſe Lands, was the doubt. It was Reſolved, That it was a Limitation by way of Remainder to K. and no Countermand, for the words ſhall be conſtrued, That if J. dyed without Iſſue, then the Land ſhould remain as the Deviſe was made to M; and the firſt by Limitation, is to him, and the heirs of his body, and no Fee; and ſo it was adjudged. Trin. 8 Jac. 1. rott. 1880. Brown and Jervis's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 290.

54. A. Deviſed his Lands to his daughter and her heirs, when ſhe came to the age of 18. years, and that his Wife ſhould take the profits of the Lands to her uſe, without any accompt to be made, untill the Daughter come to 18 years; and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: Provided, the Wife ſhould pay the old Rents, and find the Daughter at School; the Wife enters, proves the Will, takes husband, and dyes: It was found, that all the Conditions were performed, and that the daughter was within the age of 18. years. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That it was a Term for years in the Wife, and a good Leaſe. The other Queſtion was, If his Truſt of Education were a Limitation perſonall, that the Leaſe ſhould be no longer to the Wife, then ſhe did educate the daughter. It was Reſolved, That it was not.

55. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Lands in Queſtion, Demiſed the ſame to D. his Wife for life, and Deviſed this Land to T. his younger ſon, to him and his heirs in Fee, under the Condition, and after to be declared; and other Lands he Deviſed to his Wife for life, and to N. and his heirs in Fee, under the Condition after limitted: If D. dyed before the Legacies paid, then he willed they ſhould be paid by his ſons Portion-like, out of the Lands given to them; And if either of my ſons dye before they enter, or before the Legacies paid, or before either of them enter, the longer liver ſhall enjoy both parts to him and his Heirs; and if both dye before they enter, then his Executors, or one of them to pay the Legacies, and made his Wife and J. S. his Executors: The Wife entred, N. in the life of the Wife releaſed to F. all his Right with Warranty; F. Deviſed the Land. The firſt Queſtion was, If this Deviſe of a Fee after a Limitation be good, or not: Much was ſaid for it, That it ſhould be good, and operate as a Future Deviſe Executory, aſwell as one may by his Will Deviſe, That if his ſon dye before he marry, that then J. S. ſhall have the Lands; But of that point, the Court delivered no Opinion, But the whole Court Reſolved, That by the Releaſe of N. to T. be it a Condition or not, he had diſcharged it, and as to him, it is an Intereſt reverſed by the Deviſe, but not Executed till it happen, and here he had no Title executed, but veſted, and this Releaſe with Warranty, doth bind him: Alſo as to N. it is a Condition, and thereof as to him, he hath barred himſelf. Hill. 20 Jac. in C. B. Howell and Augur's Caſe, Hutt. 60, 61.

56. A man having Lands in Fee-ſimple and goods to the value of 5 l. onely, Deviſed to his Wife all his Eſtate, paying his Debts and Legacies: his Debts and Legacies amounting to 40 l. It was adjudged in this Caſe, that all his Lands did paſſe by the Deviſe, and that the Deviſee had a Fee-ſimple in the Lands, the word [paying] enforcing it, for they are to be paid preſently, which cannot be, if the Lands paſſe not in Fee. Trin. 1651. in B. R. Kirman and Johnſon's Caſe, Styles 293. Mich. 45 Eliz. in C. B. Riches Caſe. A. Deviſeth all his Rents: It was holden, That all his Lands do paſſe, ibid.

57. In Treſpaſſe, It was holden, That Gavelkind-Lands, though they were holden by Knights-ſervice, yet they might be Deviſed by Will by the Cuſtome of Kent. Mich. 1655. in B. R. Hammond and Thornhill's Caſe. Styles 476.

58. The Cuſtome of the Town of New-Caſtle is, That the Owners of houſes in the Town of New-Caſtle in Fee-ſimple, may deviſe them by parcell, but not Tenants in Tail. It was found, the Teſtator was ſeiſed of houſes in tail in poſſeſſion, and of the Remainder of them in Fee-ſimple, and ſo ſeiſed, did Deviſe them by paroll: It was ſaid, That the Cuſtome did not Warrant the Deviſe, becauſe they are not to be enlarged, but taken ſtrictly: And here is but a power of an Eſtate, and not a Fee in poſſeſſion; Alſo the word [Owners] doth not extend to all Owners, for it doth not extend to Enfants, and therefore it ſhall be conſtrued to extend to an abſolute owner in Fee, and not to a Reverſioner in Fee: On the other ſide, it was ſaid, That here is an Eſtate within the Letter of the Cuſtome, for he is the true Owner of the houſe in Fee-ſimple, and although it be not in preſent poſſeſſion, yet he hath the Fee-ſimple in him, and though Cuſtomes ſhall be taken ſtrictly, yet they ſhall be taken reaſonably, having reſpect to the benefit of the party. A Remainder in Fee, ſhall go, according to the Cuſtome, whither by the Cuſtome Lands in Fee ſhall go, the Cuſtome ſhall go to all things iſſuing out of the Lands, and ſo to all Eſtates in the Land. Quære, the Caſe was Adjourned. Hill. 1654. in B. R. Swan and Fenham's Caſe. Styles 409, 410.

2. Where, and what manner of Limitation in a Deviſe ſhall make an Eſtate for Life, or other Eſtate to paſſe to the Deviſee; by Implication, and what not.

1. THe Son, ſeiſed of a Remainder in Fee, after the death of his Father who was Tenant for life, Deviſed the ſame by theſe words, viz. I Deviſe to D. my Wife, the Lands which I have, or may have in Reverſion, after the deceaſe of my Father, paying therefore yearly, during her life, to the right Heirs of my Father, 40 s. and dyed, living his Father: It was the Opinion of the Court, that no Eſtate paſſed by this Deviſe, but for Term of the life of the Wife, and that ſhe ſhould not pay the 40 s. untill the Reverſion did fall after the death of the Father. Mich. 25 Eliz. Dyer, 371.

2. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 40. years, By his Will Deviſed, That A. his eldeſt daughter ſhould have the Term to her, and her Heirs of her body, the Remainder (if ſhe dyed without Iſſue within the Term) to B. his ſecond daughter in Tail. The eldeſt daughter took a Husband within the Term; who aliened the whole Term: It was was the Opinion of the Court, that the ſecond Daughter B. had no remedy for it, and that it was a void Remainder; and ſuch was the Opinion of Baldwin and Shelley Juſtices. But Englefield conceived that the Remainder was good, becauſe it is by Will: wherein the Intent of the Deviſor ſhall be taken, and that was thus; That if it did fortune, that the eldeſt Daughter did die without Iſſue within the Term, that the ſecond Daughter ſhould have it. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 8. See more Cook 8. Part, in Mathew Manings Eſtate, that ſuch an Eſtate is good by way of Executory Deviſe.

3. A man was Leſſee for 40. years of a houſe, and by his Will gave the Houſe to J. S. without limiting any Eſtate, that he ſhould have it. It was the Opinion of the Court, that the Deviſee ſhould have the whole; For no other Eſtate in the Houſe, either for Life, or at Will, ſhall paſſe by Implication, or for one year, or years; and therefore the whole Term ſhall paſſe to the Deviſee. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 307.

4. Leſſee for 60. years of a Meſſuage and certain Lands, made his Will in this manner; I will, that J. my Wife ſhall have and occupy all the Lands contained in the Leaſe for ſo many years, as ſhe ſhall fortune to live: and after her deceaſe, I give the reſidue of the years in the ſaid Leaſe to B. my Son, and his Aſſigns, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, leaving goods beſides ſufficient to pay all his Debts; the Feme proved the Will, and entred into the Land, claiming her Eſtate and Legacy in the Term for her Life, the Remainder to B. according to the Will: Afterwards, ſhe took another Husband; and then ſhe and her Husband naming her ſelf Executrix, aliened and granted all her Intereſt, Title, and Term of years to come, and all their Eſtate therein, Habend. the Lands and Term, untill the full end of the 60. years; and if the ſame ſhould barr the Remainder, was the Queſtion. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Deviſe was good unto the Wife, and alſo to the Son in Remainder; and that the Entry of the Wife with her Claim of the Land, as a Legacy, was a good Execution of both their Eſtates; and the Intereſt of the Wife was not any Collateral Occupation, but out of the ſame thing which was limited to the Son in Remainder; and the Limitation to the Son was not a poſſibility (as it was objected) but a Deviſe of the Land it ſelf. Paſc. 20 Eliz. Plo. Com. 516. Welcoten and Elkingdon's Caſe, See Trin. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 356. 357. acc.

A. Deviſed a houſe to a Woman, and to the Brother of the Woman, and to the Heirs of every of their bodies; and for want of ſuch Iſſue of the Brother and Siſter, the remainder to the right Heirs of the Deviſor: The Brother dyed without Iſſue; the Siſter had Iſſue, and dyed. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Iſſue ſhould have but a moiety, and no more: And it was holden, that the Word [every] made and implyed ſeverall Eſtates. Mic. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 326. Hartley's Caſe.

6. Ceſtuy que uſe deviſed his Lands in E. to his Sons and his Heirs: Provided, that if he dye without Iſſue; or that the Iſſues fail, living his Executors; that they ſhall ſell the Land: It was the Opinion of the Court, that this ſhall not be taken to be an Eſtate-Tayl by Implication; nor to be any Guift of the Land it ſelf. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 354. See 5 Ma. Dyer 143. that the Deviſe is not good; for a Deviſe is not within the Statute of 1 R. 3. to convey the poſſeſſion.

7. In an Ejectione Firme the Caſe was. A. ſeiſed of divers Lands in A. B. and C. the Lands in C. being in him by Mortgage forfeited; Deviſed the Lands in A. and B. to ſeveral perſons: and then adds this Clauſe in his Will; All the reſt of the Goods, Chattels, Leaſes, Eſtates, Mortgages, whereof he was poſſeſſed, be deviſed to his Wife, after his Debts and Legacies paid, made his Wife his Executrix and dyed: The Wife entred into the Mortgaged Lands, and deviſed it to the Defendant and his Heirs, and dyed. The Queſtion was, Whether the Fee paſſed to the Wife by this Deviſe, by the name of all his Eſtate, Mortgages, &c. And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, that an Eſtate for life onely paſſed unto her; and not a Fee by Implication, of the general words in the Will. Trin. 10 Car. in B. R. Wilkinſon and Merrylands Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 323.

8. Note by Intendment of Law, a Deviſee ſhall be for the benefit of the Deviſee, and not to his prejudice: As if Land of the value of 3 l. per annum, be deviſed to A; and that A. ſhall pay out of it 50 s. per annum. In this Caſe, A. hath but an Eſtate for Life, for he may pay it out of the profits of the Land, and is ſure to be at no loſſe. But if it be deviſed to B. for life, the Remainder to A. paying 50 s. per annum, out of it; In this Caſe, A. hath a Fee-ſimple by Implication; becauſe after the payment thereof A. may dye, before he can receive ſatisfaction for the ſame out of the profits of the Land: and therefore ſuch Deviſe ſhall be a Fee-ſimple, becauſe the Law intends that the Deviſe was for the benefit of the Deviſee. Cook 6. Part 16. Collins Caſe.

3. Deviſes upon Condition; And what Condition in a Deviſe ſhall be good; What not: And what words ſhall make a Condition; What not.

1. THe Cuſtome of London is, That a man might Deviſe the Lands which he purchaſed in Mortmain; And one deviſed his purchaſed Lands to the Prior and Covent of S. Ita quod, they render to the Dean and Chapter of P. 20 l. per annum; and if they fail thereof, then their Eſtate to ceaſe, and to remain to the ſaid Dean. It was holden, The Deviſe was good; but the limitation of the Remainder was void, becauſe a Remainder cannot be limited after a Fee. Paſch. 29 H. 8. Dyer 33.

2. A man Deviſed Lands to his Wife, upon Condition, That ſhe ſhould bring up his Son at School, and in Virtue, Learning, and Good Manners; and that after the death of his Wife, the Land ſhould remain to his ſecond Son in Fee, and dyed; the Wife entred; the Condition was broken, the eldeſt ſon after his full age entred for the Condition broken: In this Caſe it was holden, That a Condition might be annexed to a Will by the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Wills, which gives Liberty to a man to Deviſe for the advancement of his Wife, &c. 2. That a particular Eſtate may be upon Condition, though the remainder be without Condition. 3. That he in the Remainder ſhould not take advantage of the Condition, but the heir, becauſe he is prejudiced in the Inheritance by the Deviſe. Hill. 3 Ma. Dyer 127. Warrens Caſe.

3. If a man make two men his Executors, Proviſo, That one of them ſhall not adminiſter his Goods, the ſame is a Proviſo which is void, becauſe it reſtrains the authority which was given by the firſt part of the Will, and agrees not with the Law; for by Law every Executor may adminiſter the goods: And ſuch was the Opinion of Baldwin and Egglesfield, Trin. 19 H. 4. Dyer 4. But Fitzh. conceived the Proviſo to be good; for that he might bring an Action, although he did not adminiſter.

4. A man ſeiſed of Tenements in London, Deviſed the ſame to two, upon Condition, That they ſhould pay to his Wife 10 l. per annum iſſuing out of the ſaid Tenements, at two Feaſts; and if the Rent be behind by the ſpace of 6. Weeks being demanded, that it ſhould be lawful for the Wife to diſtrain. It was holden by the Juſtices, A good Condition; and that if the Rent be behind, yet the Wife cannot diſtrain before a demand of the Rent; but the Heir of the Husband might enter for the Condition broken, though the Wife did not demand the Rent. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer 348.

5. Ceſtuy que uſe in Fee before the Statute of 27 H. 8. by his laſt Will did Deviſe his Lands to his Wife for her life, Ita quod non faceret Waſtum; the remainder after her deceaſe to his ſon in tail. Afterwards the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes was made; The Wife committed Waſte in the Lands. It was holden by the Court, That it was a good Deviſe, a good Condition; but who ſhould enter for the Condition broken, the Heir, the Feoffees, or he in the Remainder, is left a Quæry, and not Reſolved. Paſch. 3 Ma. Dyer 117. Stubbs Caſe.

6. A man having no Children, by his Will Deviſed, That his Lands ſhould continue in the hands, uſe, and occupation of his Wife (who he made his Executor) for 30 years: For theſe Intents and purpoſes: 1. He willed, That out of the Rents and profits ſhe ſhould yearly during the Term pay to A.B. and C, who he made his Overſeers of his Will 30 l. for the ſatisfaction and payment of diverſs Legacies to be paid over by the ſaid Overſeers to divers perſons, at ſeveral times, in as ſhort a time as it might be levied. 2. They willed and deſired his wife to be bound in her Widowhood to his Overſeers, for the performance of his Will according to the Truſt committed to her; the Remainder of his Lands to his brother, (his heir) and the heirs males of his body, with divers other Remainders over in tail, the remainder to his right heirs; The Wife entred, and took the profits of the Lands for divers years, being of the value of 30 l. and did not pay the money to the Overſeers; but by their conſent ſhe paid all the Legacies; but not at the very time that they were to be paid: The heir for non-payment of the 30 l. to the Overſeers, entred upon the Wife. The Queſtions were, If theſe words in the Will, (ſcil. For theſe intents and purpoſes) were a Condition, or not? And, if it was, If it was broken by the not payment of the 30 l. to the Overſeers, nor to the Legatees in the due time? The Points were not Reſolved. But the Opinion of the Juſtices inclined to be againſt the Plaintiff, ſcil. That the entry of the heir upon the wife, was not lawful. Paſch. 4 Ma. Dyer 163.

7. See 16 Eliz. Dyer 333. Chapmans Caſe. Sect. before to this Diviſion.

8. A man ſeiſed of a Wharf and Houſe in London holden in Burgage, Deviſed the ſame to his Wife, and her heirs, upon Condition, That the Wife by the advice of Counſel learned in the Law, within convenient time ſhould give and aſſure aſſure all the ſaid Tenements to maintain a Free-School, Almes-men, and Almes women for ever; and that his Wife ſhould have the profits of them during her life, bearing all the charges of the ſaid School, &c. and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the wife entred, and afterwards made a Leaſe of the Tenements for years: and the Heir entred for the Condition broken. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That this was a good Deviſe, and the real good Uſes not taken away by any Statutes of 23 H. 8. or other Statutes. 2. That the Condition is not void, but a good Condition; for the Teſtator hath Deviſed, That Councel Learned ſhould Deviſe, how every the ſaid Tenements might be aſſured to the Uſes expreſſed in the Will, which might well be, by making them, 1. A Corporation by the Kings Letters Patents, and then aſſuring the Lands unto them. 3. That the Condition was broken, becauſe the wife had not done it within convenient time; and alſo becauſe ſhe had diſabled her ſelf by making the Leaſe for years, to perform the Condition. 11. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, by his Will deviſed them to his brother for life, upon Condition, that he find a Chaplain to ſay Maſſe, and to find Obits, Anniverſaries, and divers other ſuperſtitious uſes mentioned in his Will, the remainder in tail to others upon the ſame Conditions; and if all they in the Remainder forfeit their Eſtates in not performing of the ſaid Condition, then the Lands to remain to the right heirs of the Deviſor. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That all the ſaid Uſes were ſuperſtitious Uſes, and ſo the Lands came, and were given to, and veſted in the Crown by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Cap. 13. 2. It was Reſolved, That although the Land was Deviſed but conditionally, to find a Prieſt, &c. yet it was found, to find a Prieſt, and therefore within the ſaid Statute, 3. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That if the Deviſor had limited by expreſſe words, or by any words which might imply his meaning to be, That the Deviſee for the advancement of his blood ſhould have the reſidue of the profits deviſed by the Will, the ſame ſhould be a good Uſe; and the King ſhould have onely the Rent of it, and not the Lands. 13. A man deviſed his Land to his younger ſons when he ſhould accompliſh the age of 24 years, upon Condition, That he ſhould pay 20 l. to the daughter of the Deviſor, and if he ſhall dye before the age of 24. years, then his eldeſt ſon ſhall have the Land, upon Condition, that he pay the ſaid 20 l. And if both his ſons failed, that the Land ſhould remain to his daughter, and dyed: the younger ſon entred after 24 years of age, and did not pay the 20 l. to the daughter; the elder brother entred upon him: It was Reſolved by the Court in this Caſe, That the ſame was a Limitation, and not a Condition, and therefore the entry of the elder brother was not Lawfull. 14. A man made a Leaſe for years, upon Condition, That if the Leſſee ſhall demiſe the premiſes, or any part of it, other then for one year, to any perſon or perſons, then the Leſſor and his Heirs to re-enter; The Leſſee afterwards deviſed it by his Will to his ſon: It was holden by the Court, It was a breach of the Condition. 4. Where a Deviſe to his Executors; or that his Executors, or Feoffees, ſhall ſell his Lands, is good, where not; Where it ſhall be an Intereſt in them; where an Authority onely; And where ſale by them made, ſhall be good, Where not.

1. BEfore the Statute of 27 H. 8. Ceſtuy que Uſe, by his Will deviſed, That A. B. and C. his Feoffees, ſhould ſuffer his Wife to take the profits of his Lands during her life, and that after her deceaſe, that the premiſes ſhould be ſold by the ſaid Feoffees; and that, the monies thereof received, they ſhould pay to certain perſons. The Teſtator dyed, A. one of the Feoffees dyed, The Opinion of the Court was, That the ſurvivors could not ſell the Lands; but they doubted of it, if they had not been ſpecially named. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 177.

2. A man deviſed his Lands to his Wife for the Term of her life, the Remainder to K. his daughter in tail, and if ſhe dyed without Iſſue, that then after the death of his Wife, the Lands ſhould be ſold for the beſt value by his Executors, with the aſſen of A. and B. and made his Wife and a ſtranger, his Executors, and dyed: the Wife [illegible] and dyed; A. and B. died; And the Executors [illegible] ſold the Land alone: The Opinion

Opinion of the Court was, That the ſale was not good, becauſe he wanted ſufficient Authority to ſell. Mich. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 219.

3. A man ſeiſed of divers Mannors and Lands, deviſed all the ſaid Mannors and Lands to his Siſter, and her Heirs for ever, except, out of this generall Grant, my Mannor of R. which I do appoint to pay my debts; and made two Executors by name, and dyed. One of the Executors dyed; and the other took upon him the charge and Execution of the Will, and afterwards ſold the ſaid Mannor of R. for 300 l. for the purpoſe aforeſaid, in Fee; It was the Opinion of the Court, That he might well ſell it, for by the circumſtances, it appeareth, that ſuch was the Teſtators intent, and not to leave the Reverſion to diſcend to his Heir, but to truſt his Executors with the ſale of it, for the payment of his Debts. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 371.

4. A. made B. and C. his Executors, and by his Will appointed, that they ſhould have and hold the Iſſues and profits of his Lands, untill his Heir ſhould come to his age of 21 years, to the intent, that the Executors, with the profits thereof, ſhould pay his Debts and Legacies, and bring up his Children. One of the Executors dyed, the ſurviving Executor made his Executor, and dyed alſo, the Heir being within age; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Executor of the ſurvivor might receive the profits of the Lands, and diſpoſe of them during the Non-age of the Heir, becauſe it was an Intereſt in the Executors, and not an Authority or a Truſt onely. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 210.

5. If a man hath Feoffees upon confidence, and makes his Will, That his Executors ſhall alien his Land; if the Executors refuſe the Adminiſtration of his goods, yet they may ſell the Lands, becauſe the Will is not of a thing Teſtamentary; But the Executors have not a power to meddle with the Land, unleſſe ſuch a ſpeciall power be given to them: If a man makes his Will of his Lands, and that his Executors ſhall ſell them without naming them by their proper names, if they refuſe to be Executors, yet they may ſell the Land: But if a man makes his Will, that his Lands which his Feoffees have, ſhall be ſold, and doth not ſay by whom; the Executors ſhall ſell the ſame, and not his Feoffees, becauſe the monies which come by the ſale, ſhall be Aſſets in the hands of the Executors, which is a proof that they may ſell them: And if his Will be, That the Executors ſhall ſell the Lands before the Alienation, the Heir may take and receive the profits of them, and if no ſale be made, the Heir ſhall hold the Land for ever. Mich. 15 H. 7. 12.

6. A man deviſeth, That his Executors ſhall ſell his Lands: Now by the Statute of 21 H. 8. C. 4. if the one refuſeth, the other may ſell the Lands; but the ſale cannot be made to him who refuſeth. 27 Eliz. in Bendlows Caſe adjudged. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 113.

7. A man made his Will, and made A. E. J. O. his Executors, and deviſed his Lands to the ſaid A. E. J. and O. by their ſpeciall names, and to their Heirs, and further deviſed, that the Deviſees ſhould ſell the Lands to J. D. if he would give for it before ſuch a day 100 l; and if he would not, that they ſhould ſell it to any other, to the performance of his Will, ſcil. the payment of his debts: J. D. would not give the 100 l. one of the Executors refuſed to intermeddle, the other three ſold the Land; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame being a ſpeciall and a joynt Truſt, that it could not ſurvive, and that the ſale by the three was void. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Boniſant and Sir Rich. Greenfield's Caſe. Godbolt. 77. See 26 Eliz. in B. R. Vincent and Lees Caſe, in Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 113. acc.

8. One deviſed houſes, deviſeable in London by Cuſtome, the Land was holden of the King in tail; And if the Donee dyed without Iſſue, Deviſed, That the Land ſhould be ſold by his Executors, and dyed: The Deviſee dyed without Iſſue, It was holden in that Caſe, although the Land eſcheated to the King, yet the ſale made by the Executors, ſhould deveſt the Eſtate out of the King, without Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit, becauſe that upon the ſale, the Vendee was in by the Deviſor paramount the Eſchear. 49 E. 3. Iſabell Goodcheap's Caſe, vouched in Sir Hugh Chomley's Caſe. Cook 2. Part, 53.

9. The Caſe was, A. by Will deviſed, That his Executors ſhould ſell his Lands, and dyed; The Executors levyed a Fine thereof to F. taking mony of F. for the ſame: If Title be made by the Conuſee to the Land: If it be pleaded againſt the Fine Quod partes ad finem nihil habuerunt: If it were a good plea, was the Queſtion. Anderſon chief Juſtice ſaid, He conceived that it was, But Windham and Periam Juſtices ſaid, That upon Not-guilty pleaded, the Conuſee might help himſelf by giving the ſpeciall matter in Evidence, in which Caſe the Conuſee ſhall be adjudged in, not by the Fine, but by the Deviſe: In that Caſe, It was agreed: A. Deviſeth, That his Executors ſhall ſell a Reverſion of certain Lands, of which he dyed ſeiſed; they ſell the ſame without Deed; yet the ſale is good, becauſe that the Vendee is in by the Deviſe, and not by the Conveyance of the Executors.

10. A man ſeiſed of two houſes, Leaſed one of them to his brother for life; And afterwards by his Will, deviſed, viz. I give to my Executors, all my Lands and Tenements, Free and Copy, To hold them, and they to take the profits of them for 10. years; and afterwards to ſell the ſaid Lands and Tenements, and dyed, his brother dyed within a Quarter of a year after: The Executors entred into the houſe undeviſed, and took the profits, but not into the other, and at the end of the 10. years, they ſold the whole: It was holden by the Court; That by the Deviſe, both the houſes did paſſe to the Executors; and the words (take the profit) do not reſtreyn the generall words before (All my Lands and Tenements) but rather expounds them, ſcil. ſuch profit as they might take of a Reverſion cum acciderit: Like the Caſe 39 E. 3. 21. The King Grants to the Abbot of Reading, That in time of vacation, the Prior and Monks ſhall have the diſpoſition of all the poſſeſſions of the ſaid Abby ad ſuſtentationem Prioris et Monachorum, and, If in the time of Vacation, they ſhould have Advowſons, was the Queſtion; for it was ſaid, That Advowſons could not be to their ſuſtentation. But the Opinion in the book is, That the Grant of the King did extend to Advowſons, for it ſhall be intended, ſuch ſuſtentation as Advowſons might give; In the principall Caſe, the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Intent of the Deviſe was to perform the Will of his Father, and his own Will, and in Caſe the houſe in poſſeſſion was not ſufficient to perform both the Wills, all ſhall paſſe, and therefore the Deviſe by a favourable conſtruction, ſhall be taken largely, and his Deviſe is generall: All his Lands which are not reſtreyned by the ſubſequent words, (to take the profits) For to have and to hold; and, to have and to take the Profits, is all one. Trin. 31 Eliz. in C. B. How and Conneyes Caſe. Leon. 180, 181.

5. Where to the Execution of a Deviſe, the aſſent of the Executor is requiſite, Where not.

1. IN an Action of Debt for Rent, the Plaintiff declared; that he Leaſed the Lands to J. S. rendring Rent, and that the ſaid J. S. deviſed them to the Defendant, and that the Defendant entred, and was poſſeſſed; the Defendant demurred upon the Plea; becauſe it was not alledged, that the Deviſee J. S. made Executors, and that the Defendant entred with their conſent and Agreement. Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 254. Bowles Caſe.

2. Leſſee for years, deviſed his Term to one whom he made his Executor, and dyed: The Deviſee entred before any probate of the Will, and held and enjoyed the Land for a year, and more, without proving of the Will, and then dyed; It was a queſtion, If his Executor, or if he dyed Inteſtate, his Adminiſtrator ſhould have the Term; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Term was lawfully ſettled in the Executor by his Entry; and it was a good execution of the Deviſe, without any probate made of the Will. Mich. 22 Eliz. Dyer 367.

3. Leſſee for years deviſed his Term to one for life, the Remainder to another, and made the Deviſee his Executor, and dyed; who entred, and made his Executor and dyed; the Executor entred, and took the profits for a year, againſt whom he in the Remainder brought an Accompt as Bayliff: It was the Opinion of the Court in this caſe, That the Action did not lye, becauſe there wanted privity, and he was never in poſſeſſion of the Term. And, 2. Becauſe he had not declared to have the Term as Executor, or as Deviſee; and it ſhall be intended that he took it as Executor, untill the contrary be ſhewed. Trin. 10 Eliz. Dyer 277. See the Caſe before, Sect. 2.

4. If a man Deviſe a Term to J. S, and the Executors agree, That J. S. and J. D. ſhall have the Term; in this caſe J. S. ſhall have the Term alone, and abſolutely; for that, after the aſſent of the Executors, he is in by the Deviſe. Cook 4. Part, 29. in Weſtwicks Caſe.

5. A man was poſſeſſed of a Term for divers years, and deviſed the profits thereof to one for life, and after his deceaſe, to another for the reſidue of the years, and dyed: the firſt Deviſee entred by the aſſent of the Executors, and afterwards he in the Remainder during the life of the firſt Deviſee, aſſigned it to another; and afterwards the firſt Deviſee dyed: It was adjudged, That the Aſſignment was void; for he in the Remainder had but a poſſibility during the life of the firſt Deviſee: For it is as much in Law, as if the Land had been deviſed to him for ſo many years as he ſhould live, or for all the Term if he ſhould live ſo long, ſo as the Intereſt of the Term is ſub modo in him, and the other in remainder hath but a poſſibility, which he cannot grant over. See Cook 4. Part, 66. in Fulwoods Caſe.

6. Leſſee for years aſſigned his Term to another, and maketh his Executors, and dyeth; and the Executors do Waſte, and afterwards aſſent to the Deviſe. It was holden in this caſe, That although between the Executors and the Deviſee it hath relation, and the Deviſee is in by the Deviſor, yet an Action of Waſte ſhall be maintainable againſt the Executors, in the Tenant. Cook 4. Part, 12. in Saunders Caſe.

7. See Cook 8. Part, 95. Mannings Caſe, Sect. 26.

16. before, where he in the Remainder took it as an Executory Deviſe, and not as a Remainder: and that the payment of the 7 l. rent, was an Aſſent to the Legacy: and ſo there Reſolved, That after an Executor hath aſſented to the firſt Deviſee, It doth not lye in the power of the firſt deviſe to bart him in the Remainder, becauſe he cannot transfer more to another, than he himſelf hath.

8. A man poſſeſſed of a houſe and half an acre of Land for 5000 years, deviſed the ſame to A. his Father for the Term of his life; and after his deceaſe, the Remainder to B. ſiſter of the ſaid Deviſor, and to the heirs of her body, and made A. his Executor, and dyed: A. took upon him the execution of the Will; B. took husband: The huſband and wife at the Requeſt of A, did aſſign and yield up all their intereſt to A. in the houſe and Land, Habend. pro et durante reſiduo dicti Termini 5000 annorum. A. demiſed the Land to C. for 10 years; the husband dyed: B. took another husband; A. dyed, the wife of the ſecond husband entred into the houſe and Land. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved, 1. That if a man, poſſeſſed of a Term for years, deviſeth the profits of the Land, or the Land it ſelf for life to one, and afterwards to another the reſidue of the Term, ſuch executory deviſe is good. 2. That the firſt Deviſee after aſſent made by the Executor, cannot bar the executory Deviſe. 3. That the aſſent of the Executor to the firſt Deviſee, doth entire to the other who hath the executory Deviſe. 4. When a Deviſe is made to an Executor for life, and the Executor enters generally, he ſhall have it as Executor, and not as a Legatory, unleſſe he make a ſpeciall Election. 5. That ſuch an executory Deviſe cannot be granted to a ſtranger during the life of the firſt Deviſe. 6. That ſuch a poſſibility (as in the principal caſe) may be extinguiſhed by Grant or Releaſe made to him who is in poſſeſſion. Cok. 10. Part, 47. & 49. Lampits Caſe.

9. A. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 1000 years, deviſed the ſame to Eliz. his daughter for life: the remainder to J. Holloway, and made J. S, the huſband of his Daughter, his Executor, and dyed: J. Holloway deviſed his Intereſt to Hen. and George Holloway, and made J. D. and others his Executors, and dyed. Afterwards J. S. ſpake theſe words, If Eliz. my wife were dead, my Eſtate in the premiſſes were ended, and then it remains to the Holloways: Eliz. dyed; the Executors of J. Holloway made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff, upon whom the Leſſee of J. S. entred. The Queſtions in this Caſe were, 1. If the words ſpoken by J. S. the Executor, be a ſufficient aſſent to the Deviſe? 2. Whether this aſſent came in due time as to the Intereſt of J. Holloway in the Remainder, becauſe he dyed before the words ſpoken which ſhould make the Aſſent. And in this Caſe, it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, 1. That the ſaid J. S. had made a ſufficient Declaration to take the Term as Deviſee in the right of his wife, and that was a ſufficient aſſent; and the words (viz. then it remains to the Holloways) is a proof, that he took Notice of it as a Legacy. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Aſſent came time enough after the death of J. Holloway, for otherwiſe it would be a great inconvenience, for by that means it ſhould be deſtructive to all Legacies: for of neceſſity there muſt be an Aſſent of the Executors to a Legacy; and if he will not aſſent, and the Legatee dyeth before, to compell him to aſſent; or if the Legatee dyeth immediately after the Deviſor before any aſſent to the Legacy. In the firſt Caſe, it would be in the power of the Executor to prejudice the party: or in the other caſe, the Act of God ſhould prejudice him, which is againſt Law. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Southwaid and Millards Caſe. Marſh 135, 136, 137.

10. Note: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices That if a man hath Lands in Fee, and Lands for years, and he deviſeth all his Lands and Tenements, the Fee-ſimple Lands paſſe onely, and not the Leaſe for years. 2. If a man hath a Leaſe for years, and no Free-hold, and deviſeth all his Lands and Tenements, the Leaſe for years paſſeth. 3. That if one deviſeth his Land which he hath by Leaſe, to his Executor for life, the remainder over, that there ought to be a ſpecial aſſent thereunto by the Executors as to a Legacy; otherwiſe it is not executed. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. Roſe and Bartletts Caſe. See the Caſe at large, Cro. 1. Part, 213.

6. Deviſes, how they ſhall be taken, conſtrued, and expounded, to paſſe Eſtates, or otherwiſe: And certain Rules for the Expoſition of them.

1. A. Made his Will in theſe words, I bequeath all my Lands to my ſon R, except my Chauntry Lands: And I deviſe all my Chauntry Lands to be divided amongſt all my Children, Men and Women alike, except my Son R: And if R. dye without Iſſue, the remainder to B. my ſecond ſon, with remainders to his 3d. and 4th ſon, the remainder to the next of my blood, and ſo from heir to heir: And ſo likewiſe I would to be done upon my Chauntry Lands and Tenements, in caſe all my aforeſaid Children dye without iſſue; Then I would the one half of my Chauntry Lands to remain to the next of Kin, the other half to the Hoſpital of M: The Queſtion was, What Eſtate the Heir of the eldeſt Son ſhould have in the Chauntry Lands? It was ſaid, That he ſhould have an Eſtate tail in them. But Cook, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That Richard the eldeſt Son was excepted, and he ſhould have no part of them: and that every one of the Sons ſhould have the Chauntry Lands one after the other. And for the younger Children, they ſhall be Tenants in Common for life, and that the Chauntry or Hoſpital ſhall have nothing till they be all dead. And he put Petwiches Caſe, 29 Eliz. where it was adjudged, That if a man deviſeth a Houſe to his eldeſt Son in tail, and another to his ſecond ſon in tail, and the third Houſe to his third ſon in tail; and if any of them dye without Iſſue, the remainder to the other two equally, this ſhall be but for life, for it enures to the Quantity of the Land, and not to the quantity of the Eſtate. Paſch. 9 Jac. in C. B. Pitts and Dowſes Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, 74.

2. If a man deviſeth by theſe words, ſell. I give, grant, Will, and bequeath to T. all my Manors, Lands, &c. To have and to hold to T, and the heirs of his body, for and during the Term of 500 years, that the ſame is but an Eſtate for years, determinable upon the Limitation for default of Iſſue, by Cook and Winch, Juſtices. Cook 10. Part, in Leonard Lovies Caſe. But it was agreed, That if a man hath a Term, and deviſeth the ſame to one, and his heirs of his body, his heir ſhall not have it, but it ſhall go to his Executor, becauſe a Term which is but a Chattel, cannot be entailed. See 28 Eliz. Peacocks Caſe; and 21 Eliz. Higgins and Mills Caſe adjudged acc.

3. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A. was ſeiſed of the Manor of D. in Fee, and gave the ſaid Manner to L. R. the Father of the Plaintiff, and Avowant, and Jane his wife, and of the heirs of the Father, who deviſed unto the Avowant a Rent of 4 l. per annum out of the ſaid Manor, with Clauſe of Diſtreſſe for his Childs part to be yearly paid; the Father dyed, the wife dyed; and for the arrearages of the Rent encurred mean between the death of the Father and the Wife, the Defendant avowed: upon which Avowry, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. It was holden, That the Avowant might well avow the taking of the Diſtreſſe for theſe arrearages: For if he in the Reverſion grant a Rent-charge after the death of the grantor, the Grantee ſhall diſtrain for all the arrearages encurred after the grant, and this is a ſtronger Caſe; for this Rent as it appeareth by the words of the Deviſe, was deviſed to the Avowant for his Livelihood, and for his Childs part; which words imply a preſent advancement; and the words, Yearly to be paid, is a ſtrong proof of that intent. Mich. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Reaveſbies Caſe. Leon. 13.

4. See Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Higham and Haverwoods Caſe. Diviſ. 1. Sect. 4. before.

5. Tho. F. had Iſſue by two ſeverall women, two ſons; F. his eldeſt, and W. his youngeſt, and Deviſed his Lands to F, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of the heirs males of his body; and for default of ſuch iſſue, to the uſe of the heirs males of T. R, and the heirs males of their bodies for ever: and afterwards makes a Leaſe to W. his ſon for 30 years, to begin after his death, and dyeth without alteration of his Will; W. enters, and ſurrenders his Leaſe to F, who Leaſeth the Lands to the Defendant for years yet enduring. 1. If this Leaſe to William for 30. years, to begin after the death of the Deviſor, be a Revocation of the Deviſe totally, or onely Quoad the term, and ſhall ſtand as to the Inheritance. It was Reſolved, That it was no Revocation of the Inheritance, but onely of the Term, for they may both ſtand together; and it cannot be a Revocation, unleſſe it be expreſſed, That the intent of the Teſtator is changed, or that they cannot ſtand together. 3. If the Deviſe to F, and the heirs males of his body; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the heirs males of the Deviſor, and the heirs males of their bodies; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the heirs males of the body of the Deviſor, be a Limitation in tail to the heirs males of the Deviſor, ſo as W. may claim thereby an Eſtate tail, or it be a purchaſe in F. onely: but this Point was not Reſolved; but yet afterwards it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, who claimed under W. Trin. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 596. Hodgkinſon and Wbood's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 16.

6. A. ſeiſed of a houſe called the White-Swan, in Oldſtreet, London, and of a Garden thereto appertaining, made his Will thus; I deviſe all my Fee-ſimple Lands, Goods and Tenements to H. my ſon, and the heirs males of his body; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the Remainder to his right Heirs; and made him his Executor: And I Deviſe the Houſe or Tenement wherein W. N. dwelleth, called the White-Swan in Old-ſtreet, to J. D. for ever: And it was found, that W. N. at the time of the Deviſors death, Inhabited the Entry of the ſaid houſe, and three upper Rooms therein; and that J. G. held the Garden, and other places in the ſaid houſe; and ſome others, other Rooms: J. D. claymed that houſe, and entred, and made a Leaſe thereof to the Plaintiff; the Defendant by the Command of the Heir of the Deviſor, entred upon him, and put him out: Whereupon Ejectment was brought, 1. Whether J. D. had any more then an Eſtate for life, becauſe all the Fee-ſimple Lands being before before Deviſed to his ſon, and the Heirs Males of his body, he afterwards Deviſed that Houſe to J. D. for ever, or if he had but an Eſtate for life, extracted out of the firſt Eſtate. It was Reſolved, That it was a Fee-ſimple becauſe of the words (for ever). 2. Whether all the houſe paſſed, or onely the Entry, and the three Rooms, which were in the poſſeſſion of W. N. It was the Opinion of the Court, That all the houſe paſſed to the Deviſee; For the Deviſe being, That houſe or Tenement, and the Concluſion, called the White-Swan, both import the whole houſe, and cannot be intended to refer to the three Rooms; and the words, wherein W. N. dwelleth, do not abridge, or alter that Deviſe, and the houſe being named by a particular name, though W. N. never inhabited it, paſſeth by the Deviſe, and is good, becauſe he Inhabited therein, though he accepted but three Rooms of it. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Chamberlain and Turner's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 91, 92.

7. Error to reverſe a Judgment in Ely, the Caſe was, A. had three ſons, J. T. and W. he Deviſed the Lands in Queſtion to J. and the Heirs of his body in Fee, after the death of M. his Wife; and if J. dyed, living M. that W. ſhall be his Heir; He Deviſed other Lands to P. and the Heirs of his body; and if he dyed without Iſſue, J. ſhould be his Heir; other Lands he Deviſed to W. and the Heirs of his body; And if all his ſons dye without Heirs of their bodies, then their Lands ſhould be to the Children of the brother of the Deviſor; J. dyed, having a Son in the life of M. M. dyed, W. entred upon the Son of J. It was the Opinion of the whole Court upon the Context of the whole Will, That it is to be conſtrued according to the intent of the party, and that the Conſtruction ſhall be, That if John dyed without Iſſue, living M. that then W. his Son ſhould have it; and it ſhall not be conſtrued (where he limits it firſt to J. and the Heirs of his body; that by this limitation, he intended, if he dyed, living M. that W. ſhould be his Heir) John having Iſſue; and thereby to diſinherite the Heirs of J. his body; and what was his intent, appears by other parts of the Will, that if they all dye without Iſſue, then to be to his brothers Children, not meaning to diſinherite any of his Children. Wherefore it was holden by the Court, That during the time J. ſhould have Heirs of his body, W. ſhould not have the Lands. Paſc. 6 Car. in B. R. Spalding and Spalding's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 134.

8. A. ſeiſed of two houſes in D. one called the Corner-houſe in the Tenure of B. and of one N. and another houſe adjoyning in the Tenure of H. He Deviſeth his houſe called the Corner-houſe in D. in the Tenure of B. and H. to J. S. in Fee; It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the houſe in the Tenure of H. did not paſſe, but the Corner-houſe onely in the Tenure of B. and H. if they occupy joyntly, ſhall paſſe, but if they occupy ſeverally, onely that in the Tenure of B. ſhall paſſe, and not that in the Tenure of N. Hill. 11 Car. in B. R. Blague and Gold's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 323. 340.

9. A man Deviſed to his daughter 500 l. towards her marriage. In this Caſe, it was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That if ſhe dye before Marriage, that her Executors ſhall have it: but if the words were to be paid at the day of her Marriage, or at the age of 21. years; and ſhe dyeth before both, it is otherwiſe. Paſc. 37 H. 8. Dyer, 55. in the Lord Latimer's Caſe.

10. If a man Deviſeth Land generally to his Wife for the Term of her life; It cannot be averred to be for the Joynture of the Wife, and in ſatisfaction of her Dower; But if a man Deviſeth Lands to his Wife for life, or in tail, for her Joynture, and in ſatisfaction of her Dower, the ſame is a good Joynture within the Statute of 27 H. 8. For, as an Eſtate for life made to a Woman before Marriage, when ſhe is not his Wife, is within the Equity of the ſaid Act; ſo an Eſtate deviſed to a Woman for her life, which taketh effect preſently after her death, when the marriage is diſſolved, is alſo within the Equity of the ſaid Act, for ſuch Eſtate agreeth with the intent of the makers of the ſaid Act, and with the deſcription of a Joynture. Cook 4. Part, 4. in Vernon's Caſe.

11. A. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 60 years; Deviſed that B. his Brother ſhould have the uſe and occupation thereof, and take the profits thereof during his life, and after his death, the uſe and occupation thereof, ſhould remain to the Wife of B. during her Widdow-hood, and after her Widdow-hood, the occupation and profits of the Premiſſes, to remain to the eldeſt ſon of B. which he ſhall happen to have during his life, and after ſuch ſon dying without Heir Male, to any other ſons which B. ſhould have, one after another; and if B. dye without Heir Male of his body. And for that I have a purpoſe to have the Leaſe kept in my name, My will is, That the uſe, profits, and occupation, ſhall remain, and be to J. D. and ſo to divers others in the ſame words: It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Deviſe of a Term in this manner to make a perpetuity cannot be good: For to limit a poſſibility after a poſſibility, and to limit the Remainder of a Term after a dying without Iſſue, ſtands not with the Law. Trin. 5 Car. in B. R. Sanders and Cornifhes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 166, 167.

12. Leſſee

12. Leſſee for years, Deviſeth his Term to his Executor for life, the Remainder to A. and dyes, the Executor enters, and makes his Executor, and dyes; the Executor of the Executor enters, and takes the profits for a year; he in the Remainder brings an Accompt for the profits. It was holden in that Caſe, that the Action did not lye, for want of privity, and alſo becauſe the Remainder of the Term was void, and ſo becauſe the Executor had not declared, to have the Term as Deviſee or Executor, it ſhall be intended as Executor untill the contrary be ſhewed. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 277.

---

7. Deviſe of Goods and Chattels, Reals or Perſonals; where good, where not; and to whom.

1. A Man poſſeſſed of a Term for 40 years, deviſed that his eldeſt Daughter ſhould have the ſame to her and the Heirs of her body, the Remainder, if ſhe dyed without Iſſue within the Term, to C. his ſecond Daughter in tail. The eldeſt Daughter took husband, and dyed within the Term without Iſſue: Her Husband ſold the Term. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, that his Sale of it was good, and that the younger Daughter had no remedy for it; becauſe it was of a void Remainder, being of a Term, which was a Chattel real, and ſo is to go to the Husband. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer 7.

2. A man deviſed the moiety of his goods to his Wife and dyed. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, that ſhe ſhould have the moiety of them, as they were at the time of her death; if the Executors had Aſſets ſufficient to pay his Debts. 5 Ma. Dyer, 164. See 38 H. 8. Dyer, 59. the Lord Latimer's Caſe, adjudged, acc.

3. A Leaſe was made to A. for 41 years, if he ſhould ſo long live; and if he dyed within the ſaid Term, that his Wife ſhould have it for the reſidue of the ſaid years. It was holden, that the Limitation to the Wife in remainder was void; for that the Term ended by the death of A. and then there was no reſidue to remain to his Wife. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 254. See Plo. Com. 190. See Sect. 8.

4. A man was poſſeſſed of a Meſſuage for 40 years, and by his Will gave the ſaid Meſſuage to J. S. without limiting any Eſtate. It was holden, it was a good Deviſe, and that the whole Term did paſſe to him, becauſe he could not give any other Eſtate, for Life, at Will, or for one and more years. Paſc. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 307.

5. A man, poſſeſſed of a Manor for 77. years, by his Will deviſed all his Leaſe to T. his eldeſt Son, during all the Term, if the ſaid T. ſhould ſo long live; and if he dyed, before he had Iſſue of his body, then he deviſed the ſame to his younger Son in like manner, &c. diverſe Remainders over; and further deviſed, that G. his Wife ſhould have the profits thereof, untill T. his eldeſt Son ſhould come to the age of 21. years; and if he dyed before, then till his younger Son came of ſuch age, to the intent, that with the profits of the ſaid Lands ſhe might bring up his Children, and ſee his Will performed; and gave other Legacies to his Daughter and others, and made the ſaid G. his Wife his Executrix, and dyed. G. proved the Will, and took upon her the Executorſhip, and afterwards by Deed granted all the ſaid Term, and all her Intereſt therein to J. S. having then ſufficient Goods to pay all the Teſtators Debts above the ſaid Leaſe; and notwithſtanding the ſaid Grant, ſhe brought up the Children, and afterward ſhe took Husband J. D; T. entred, and granted all his Intereſt to the Plaintiff. All this matter being found by Special Verdict; It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That notwithſtanding the Deviſe of all the Term firſt to his Son, that the Deviſe afterwards to the Wife was good, and in the ſenſe and intention of the Teſtator did precede the Deviſe to the Son. 2. That the Deviſe in Legacy to the Wife by her Occupation, and bringing up of the Children after the death of the Teſtator, until the time of the Grant made to J. S. was a good Execution of the Eſtate, aſwel given to the Wife, as of the remainder given to the Son; and ſo the Entry and Grant of T. the Son to the Plaintiff was a good Grant. Hill. 21 Eliz. Plo. Com. 540. Paramour and Yardley's Caſe.

6. Note, This Caſe was lately adjudged in the Common-Pleas, viz. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for divers years, deviſed the profits thereof to one for life, and after his deceaſe to another for the reſidue of the years, and dyed; the firſt Deviſe entred with the aſſent of the Executors, and afterwards he in the remainder, during the life of the firſt Deviſee, aſſigned it to another, and after the firſt Deviſee dyed; It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Aſſignment was void; for he in the Remainder had but a poſſibility, during the life of the firſt Deviſee: for that is as much in Law as if the Land had been deviſed to him for ſo many years, if he ſhould live, or for all the Term if he ſhould ſo long live, ſo as the Intereſt of the Term ſub modo was in him; and the other in Remainder had but a poſſibility, which he could not grant over. Cook 4. Part 66. in Fulwoods Caſe.

7. Note, There is a difference, when one deviſeth his Term for life the remainder over, and when when a man deviſeth the Land, or his Leaſe or Farm, or the Occupation, or uſe, or profits of his Lands: for in a Will the Intent and Meaning of the Deviſor is to be obſerved; and the Law makes conſtruction of the words to ſatisfie his Intent, and puts them in ſuch order that his Will ſhall take effect. And when a man deviſeth his Leaſe to one for life, it is as much as to ſay, He ſhall have ſo many years in it as he ſhall live; and that if he dyeth within the Term, that another ſhall have it for the reſidue of the years: and although at the beginning it is uncertain how many years he ſhall live, yet when he dyeth, it is certain how many years he hath lived, and how many years the other ſhall have, and ſo by a ſubſequent Act, all is made certain. Cook 8. Part, 65. in Manning's Caſe. See Deviſe, Sect. 5.

8. Grandfather, Father, and Son; the Grandfather poſſeſſed of a Term for 21 years, Deviſed the ſame to the Son for 21 years, and that the Father ſhould have it during the Minority of the Son, and made the Son his Executor, and dyed; the Son within age, the Father entred upon the Land, and made a Leaſe for ſeven years of it, until the Son came of 21 years; the Father made the Son his Executor, and dyed: It was a Queſtion, If the Son ſhould avoid the Leaſe made by his Father; And it was agreed, That he ſhould, for that the Deviſe was Executory, and doth not reſt till the full age of the Son, and then he being Executor, ſhall avoid all Acts done by his Father. 9. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee by Indenture, Mortgaged them to J. S. and his Heirs, upon Condition, if he or his Heirs paid to J. S. and his Heirs 100 l. that he might re-enter. Afterwards the ſaid J. S. gave to J. D. all his goods, Monies, Bills, Bonds, Mortgages, and Specialties for monies, and made him his Executor, and dyed: the 100 l. not being paid, J. D. entred, It was the Opinion of the Court, That theſe words (All my Mortgages) made a good Deviſe of the Lands Mortgaged. Trin. 1 Car. in C. B. Crips and Gryſits Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 26.

11. The Incumbent of a Church, purchaſed the Advowſon thereof in Fee, and the Advowſon being holden in Socage, By Will he Deviſed, That his Executor ſhould Preſent after his Deceaſe, and Deviſed the Inheritance to another in Fee. It was Objected to be no good Deviſe of the next Avoydance, becauſe inſtantly by his death, when his Will ſhould take effect, the Church was void: But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Deviſe was good, for the Law is ſo, that all ſhall be good according to the intent of the party, expreſſed in his Will. 12. The Caſe was, A man was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 76 years: And Deviſed, (he having before made a Leaſe for years, if A. his Wife ſo long live, whereof three years were in being to come) that W. his ſon and his Aſſigns, ſhould have the Tenements, and the Reverſion, and all his Title and Intereſt in them, for all others of the ſaid 76 years unexpired at the time of his death. Provided, That if W. dyed without Iſſue living at the time of his death, that then T. his ſon ſhould have all the reſidue of the ſaid 76. years unexpired, from the death of his ſaid Wife; and if he dyed, then to his daughters; and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: The Wife aſſented to the Legacies. W. Aſſigned all this Leaſe, and his Intereſt to the Wife; then ſhe dyed; then W. dyed without Iſſue, and T. the Deviſee entred: The Queſtion was, Whether this Deviſe, being to W. and his Aſſigns (with a Proviſo, that if he dyed without Iſſue living, that T. ſhould have it: And he Aliens it, and after dyeth without Iſſue) whether it ſhould bind T. It was Objected, That it ſhould not bind him: And to ſtrengthen the ſame. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. the Caſe betwixt Rethorick and Chappell was vouched, where the Caſe was. A. poſſeſſed of a Term, Deviſed it to his Wife for life, and afterwards that John ſhould have the occupation of it as long as he had Iſſue, and if he dyed without Iſſue, unmarried, that B. his younger brother ſhould have the occupation of it ſo long as he had Iſſue of his body; and if he dyed without Iſſue, he deviſed the one Moyety to his daughter, and the other Moyety to his ſons, C. and D. and dyes; his Executrix aſſented to the Legacies, and dyed; J. and B. dyed without Iſſue unmarried, and afterwards C. and D. entred, clayming the moyety: And it was adjudged, they ſhould recover the moyety: But notwithſtanding, it was adjudged in the principall Caſe; That it was a void Deviſe in Remainder, and that there was a difference betwixt this Caſe, and Rethorick and Chappell's Caſe: For in that there is a Deviſe, but of the occupation onely; but here of the Term it ſelf. 2. It is a Deviſe here of his Eſtate and Term, to him and his Aſſigns, wherein is Authority given, that he may Aſſign. 3. The Limitation is, if he dye without Iſſue unmarried in that Caſe, for if he be not married, he cannot have Iſſue. But in the Caſe here, he might have Iſſue, and yet if that Iſſue ſhould dye without Iſſue, that it ſhould remain, which the Law will neither expect nor ſuffer, wherefore it was adjudged againſt him who clay-

13. A man poſſeſſed of certain goods, Deviſed them by his Will to his Wife for life, and after her deceaſe to J. S. and dyed: J. S. in the life of the Wife, did commence ſuit in a Court of Equity, there to ſecure his Intereſt in Remainder, a Prohibition was Granted in this Caſe; and the reaſon was, becauſe a Deviſe in Remainder of goods was void, and therefore no remedy in Equity, for Æquitas ſequitur Legem. It was agreed, Heir-looms ſhould diſcend, but that is by Cuſtome; Alſo a Deviſe of the uſe and occupation of Lands, is a Deviſe of the Land it ſelf; but not ſo of goods, for one may have the occupation of them, and another the Intereſt in them: and ſo it is where one pawns his goods. Trin. 17 Car. in C. B. Marſh. 106.

14. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That if a man deviſeth to his daughter 100 l. when ſhe ſhall be married; Or to his Son when he ſhall be of full age, and they dye before the time appointed, their Executors ſhall not have it. But it is otherwiſe, If the Deviſe were to them, to be paid at their full ages, and they dye before that time, and make Executors; there the Executors ſhall have it. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. adjudged, acc. And that difference was likewiſe ſo agreed and adjudged. Trin. 1653. in the Kings Bench, in Doomlow and Shawes Caſe. See 15 Car. in B. R. If a man Deviſe a ſum of money to be paid to J. S. when he cometh to full age; and afterwards he ſueth for it in the Spirituall Court; It was holden by the Court, That they ought to take notice of the time of his full age, as is uſed by the Common-Law, viz. 21 years, and not of the time of full age, as it is uſed amongſt them in the Spirituall Court, which is 25 years. Rones Caſe. Popham, 133.

15. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, ſowed it, and afterwards Deviſed the Land to J. D. It was adjudged, That the Deviſee ſhould have the Corn, and not the Executors of the Deviſor. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. Spencer's Caſe. Winch. 51. And it was there ſaid, That it was adjudged 18 Eliz. in Allen's Caſe, That where a man Deviſed Land (which was ſowed) for life, the Remainder in Fee, and the Deviſee for life, dyed before ſeverance, he in the Remainder ſhould have it: And it was ſaid by Winch Juſtice, That if a man Deviſeth Land; and afterwards ſowes it, and after dyes, that in that Caſe: It was adjudged, That the Deviſee ſhould have the crop, and not the Executor of the Deviſor. ibid.

16. Leſſee for years, of a Term for 60 years, Deviſed in this manner: I give my Wife, and my Cozen, my Term for their lives, and after to ſuch perſon as ſhall remain in my houſe at N. at the time of their deceaſe. The Wife ſurvives, and Aſſigns the Term to another; the Heir of the Leſſor entred, and lets for years, the Term expires, the Leſſee continues in poſſeſſion untill the death of the Wife. 1. If this Remainder of the Term be good. Two of the Juſtices held it was not, becauſe it was but a poſſibility; and it cannot be good by Will, for that were to make that good, which by Counſell could not have bin adviſed. Two other Juſtices contrary; upon the books of Paramor and Yardleyes Caſe, and Wedden's Caſe, in Plow. Com. ſo that point not then adjudged. 2. Whether this Tenant at ſufferance ſhall be ſaid to be in poſſeſſion to have benefit of this Remainder: That point was adjorned. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Mallet and Sackford's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 199.

17. Leſſee for 21 years, Deviſed the benefit of his Leaſe to A. his Wife for ſix years; and after that ſix years ended, then J. my ſon, if he come home, ſhall have the benefit of my Leaſe during the reſidue of the Term; and if J. my ſon doth not then come home, W. my ſon ſhall have and poſſeſſe that Leaſe to his benefit, untill my Son J. come home: He Deviſed to his Wife all his goods, and made her Executrix, and dyed; the Wife entred, clayming virtute Legationis, W. during the ſix years (J. being beyond Sea, not Returned) made his Will, and Deviſed the ſame to H. his Wife, and made her his Executrix, and dyed; The ſix years expired, J. doth not return; H. takes Husband, the Plaintiff, who enters; A. takes Husband the Defendant. It was objected, That it was meerly a Poſſibility in W. the ſecond ſon, and that he could not have it, unleſſe he ſurvived the ſix years, and his brother did not return, ſo as there were two contingencies therein; and it was never veſted in the Teſtator, and therefore he could not Deviſe, That his Executor ſhould have it, for ſhe can take nothing, unleſſe her Teſtator had an Intereſt therein: But it was holden by the Court when it was firſt Deviſed for ſix years, and afterwards, for the Reſidue of the Term, It was not a poſſibility, but an Intereſt of the Term after the ſix years expired; and although it ſhould be accounted to be a poſſibility in the Teſtator, yet forasmuch as it is ſuch a poſſibility, that the Term might have veſted in him if he had lived till after the ſix years, the Wife A. by her Entry having agreed to that Legacy; It was holden, That that poſſibility might well go to his Executor. It was adjudged, That the Term veſted in W. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part, 509.

8. A De-

8. A Deviſe made to an Enfant in his Mothers belly, if good, or not; and what other things ſuch Enfant ſhall have.

1. A Man had Iſſue five ſons, his Wife being with child of the ſixth at the time of his Death; And by his laſt Will, he declared, That the third part of his Land ſhould diſcend, and come to his ſon and Heir, and the other two parts he gave and bequeathed to his four younger ſons by name, and to the Heirs Males of their bodies; And if the Enfant in the belly of the Mother be a ſon, then he to have a fifth part, as co-heir with his four elder brothers; And if they all five ſhall dye without Iſſue Male of their bodies, then that the ſaid two parts ſhould revert, remain, and come to the next Heirs of the Deviſor. The ſixth ſon was born after the death of the Father, and, after, three of the younger brothers dyed without Iſſue. If the ſurviving brother ſhould have an Eſtate Tail, or in the fifth part, and if the other four parts, after the death of the ſurvivor, ſhall revert to the Heirs of the Deviſor, was the doubt. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the ſon born after the death of the Father, ſhould not have any thing, becauſe he was uncapable as a purchaſor, when the Deviſe was firſt to take effect, becauſe he was not then in Eſſe, or rerum natura. 2. That the ſurvivor ſhould have an Eſtate tail in all the two parts, and, as long as there was any Iſſue Male of his body, none of the two parts ſhould revert, or remain to the Heirs of the Deviſor, for that ſuch was the intent of the Deviſer. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 303.

2. A man had Iſſue two daughters by ſeverall Women; and Deviſed one moyety of his Land for years to his Wife, and that his eldeſt daughter ſhould enter into the other moyety at the day of her marriage; And if his Wife were then with Child of Iſſue Male, that then he ſhould have all the profits of the Lands, and ſhould pay to each Daughter 20l. and if ſhe had Iſſue a Female, then the ſame Daughter ſhould have an Equall Portion with his other Daughters, and dyed. The Wife entred; the eldeſt Daughter took Huſband, and they entred into the other moyety, the youngeſt Daughter dyed without Iſſue, the Unkle of the youngeſt Daughter, as Heir of the whole bloud on the part of the Father, claymed the moyety of the Land. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the eldeſt daughter ſhould have but the Moyety of the whole Land, and not three parts of the Land. Note in that Caſe, It is admitted, That a Deviſe to an Enfant in his Mothers belly, was good. Trin. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 342.

3. Note, although that filius in utero matris, eſt pars viſcerum matris; yet the Law in many Caſes, hath conſideration of him in reſpect of the apparant expectation of his birth. See the Opinion of Saunders and Brown, in Stowells Caſe, in Plow. Com. for ſuch an Enfants avoiding of a Fine, See E. 1. title Gard. 3. 31 E. 1. brevium. 873. for the wardſhip of him. See 38 E. 3. 7. and 11 E. 3. vouched, that he ſhall be vouched in his Mothers belly. See 41 E. 3. 11. In Dower brought, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff did detain from him certain Charters concerning the ſame Lands, the Plaintiff ſaid, That ſhe was and is with Child by her Husband, and, in reſpect of Iſſue, ſhe did detain the Charters, and it was holden a good plea. See 3. Ma. Dyer, 136. Adulterer doth counſell the Woman to kill the Child when he is born, who doth accordingly; the Adulterer is acceſſary, yet at the time of the Counſell, the Child was in his Mothers Belly. See 9 H. 6. 23. and 11 H. 6. 13. in the Caſe of Farringdon, That a Deviſe to an Enfant in his Mothers belly, is good. See Cook 7. Part, 9. in the Earl of Bedford his Caſe. acc.

Diminution.

1. ERrour brought to reverſe a Judgment againſt the Plaintiff's Father, by J. S: The Errour aſſigned was, for want of a Warrant of Attorney: The Plaintiff prayed one Certiorari to the Juſtice of the Common-Pleas; and another to the Cuſtos Brevium, both which returned, Non inveni aliquod Warrant. and now J. S. being dead, the Plaintiff brought another Writ of Errour by Journeys Accounts, againſt the heir of J. S, who alledged Diminution, in hoc, that the Warrant of Attorney is not Certified, and prayed another Certiorari to the Chief Juſtice, and another to the Cuſtos Brevium. It was ſaid, It ought not to be granted; for a Certificate is in the nature of a Tryall, but both parties ſhall be bound by it; and a Certiorari at the Suit of the Plaintiff ſhall be as peremptory, as if it had been ſued at the prayer of the Defendant; for the Plaintiff may alledge Diminution as well as the Defendant: and Diminution cannot be alledged in that which is Certified contrary to the Record. On the other ſide:

it was ſaid, That, notwithſtanding the Defendant pleadeth in Nullo eſt erratum, and ſo affirmeth the Record to be ſuch as is certified; yet the Court Ex Officio ſhall award a Certiorari, to aſcertain themſelves if there be any ſuch Warrant of Attorney, or not. And in this Caſe, the return of the Certiorari is Non Invenî aliquod Warrantum, not preciſely Quod non habetur aliquod Warrantum, which is not contrary, but both may ſtand together; but, upon further ſearch, ſuch Warrant of Attorney may be found. Wray, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, It would be hard to grant a new Certiorari in this Caſe: but if any variance could be alledged, it ſhould be otherwiſe. Trin. 26 Eliz. in B.R. Dortell and Thynns Caſe. Leon. 23. See before, in Title Certiorari, this Caſe.

2. Errour brought of a Judgment in the Kings-Bench, in an Aſſumpſit, where a Verdict and Judgment was for the Plaintiff; The Errour aſſigned was, That the Iſſue was joyned, Trin. 2 Car. And the Venire facias bears date 4. die Maii, which was before the Iſſue joyned, ſo the Tryall thereupon was ill: And by a Writ of Certiorari, upon Diminution alledged, to Certifie the Venire facias and Diſtringas, they being Certified the Writ of Venire facias was of the date 4. Maii, which was Eaſter Term. But the Errour was not allowed by the Court; for the Court ſhall intend, that there was no other Venire facias; and the Roll of awarding the Venire facias being good, the miſ-dating of it is no cauſe to ſtop the Judgment. Wherefore the Court was of Opinion, That the Tryall was good: and the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 3 Car. in Exchequer Chamber. Moore and Hodges Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 64.

3. Errour to reverſe a Judgment in the Kings-Bench in Ejectione Firmæ: The Errour aſſigned was, becauſe in the Bill the Plaintiff declares upon a Leaſe for 3. years; and in the Plea-Roll upon which the Iſſue is joyned, and in the Record of Niſi Prius, it is upon a Leaſe for 5. years; ſo as the Bill and Declaration varies, and Diminution was alledged by the Defendant; and by Certiorari the Bill was Certified, That it was onely for 3. years. The Defendant in the Writ of Errour, when the Plaintiff alledged Diminution, had thereupon another Certificate whereby the Bill was Certified, wherein he Declared upon a Leaſe for 5. years. In this Caſe, It was holden by all the Juſtices and the Barons, That the ſecond Certificate upon the Diminution alledged by the Defendant, ſhould be received; for the Bill certified upon it, is intended the true Bill, for it warrants well the Declaration upon the Roll, and the Record of Niſi Prius; and the allegation of Diminution by the Plaintiff in the Writ of Errour, ſhall not ſtop the Defendant, without aſſigning of Errours to alledge Diminution, and from procuring the true Bill to be Certified. The Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 1 Car. in the Exchequer Chamber, Rott. 158. Howell John and Thomas Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 64.

4. In a Replevin brought, upon Iſſue joyned, It was found for the Plaintiff in the Court of Windſor, being a 3. Weeks Court: The Defendant brought Errour, and aſſigned for Errour, That the Entry of the Plaint in the ſaid Court was the 7th of May, and the Plaintiff afterwards did Declare there, of a taking of the Cattle the 25. day of May: and whether the ſame was Errour, being in a 3. Weeks Court, was the Queſtion? The Court held the ſame to be Errour, becauſe no Plaint can be entred but at a Court: and this entry was mean betwixt the Court-dayes, and ſo the Declaration not warranted, no Cuſtome being alledged to maintain ſuch Entry. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That after In nullo eſt Erratum is pleaded, the Defendant cannot alledge Diminution, becauſe that is a perfect Iſſue before. Alſo it was holden, That a man cannot alledge Diminution of any thing which appeareth of Record to be true: And becauſe the Defendant did alledge Diminution in this Caſe of the Record; and by the Record it was certified, That the Plaint was entred the 25. of May; the ſame was not good after Iſſue joyned, and after Judgment is given upon the firſt Declaration and pleading in the ſaid Court at Windſor. Wherefore the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 13 Car. in B. R. Brook and Gregories Caſe. Godbolt 266, 267.

5. A. brought a Writ of Errour againſt B, to reverſe a Record upon a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas: The Original which was Certified, bears Date, Trin. 18 Jacobi, and the Ejectment is brought Trin. 18 Jac. for an Ejectment which was made in Septemb. following. Upon this Errour aſſigned, the party had a Certiorari to remove the Record: There was another Originall in Septemb. 18 Jac. and the Treſpaſſe was done after the firſt Original ſued forth, and before the latter; and both Originals were returnable St. Mich. and both the Writs were in Court. Note; The Ejectment was layed after the firſt Original purchaſed, which agrees with the Record, and after the Action brought. The Court gave no Judgment in the Caſe. But Trin. 18 Jac. Rott. 1613. Brown and Jones Caſe was vouched, An Action upon the Caſe was brought upon Aſſumpſit; Errour was aſſigned, becauſe that no place was limited where the payment ſhould be made. The Original was, That the Promiſe was, In Conſideration that the Plaintiff did lend to the Defendant ſo much, he at London did promiſe to pay the ſame again. There were two Originals which bore date the ſame day, and Judgment was in that Caſe for the Plaintiff:

tiff: And the Defendant brought a Writ of Error, and alledged Diminution of the Original: Then the other Original was certified; The Defendant in the Writ of Errour ſaid, That the Original upon which the Recovery was grounded, was an Original which had a certain place: The Judges did affirm the ſame to be the true Original, which did maintain the Judgment, and agree with the proceedings, otherwiſe great miſchief would enſue. But the principal Caſe was adjourned, Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 322. Croach and Haynes Caſe. Cubbit 407.

Diſceit. See Action upon the Caſe in toto.

1. DIſceit properly is, when a man doth any thing in the name of another, by which the other perſon is damnified or deceived. Fitzh. Na. Br. 95.

2. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe, and Declared, That the Defendant for 20 l. whereof the moyety was paid in hand, and the reſt agreed to be paid at a day certain, the Defendant promiſed to deliver to him 400. pound of Wax to the Plaintiff ſuch a day; and at the day, he delivered to him 373 pounds of ill Wax not warranted to be good and Merchantable, by which he was damnified. The Defendant pleaded an Agreement betwixt them, as well for the 26 l. of Wax not delivered, as for the inſufficiency of the reſt delivered. The Plaintiff demurred, becauſe the Diſceit was not Anſwered. It was holden, That the Plea of the Agreement was good; and that the Diſceit was not material to be anſwered, becauſe the Warranty of the ſufficiency of it, was after the Contract made. Trin. 6 E. 6. Dyer 75. Andrews Caſe.

3. If a man ſueth a Scire facias upon a Recognizance of debt; and the Sheriff returns the Defendant ſummoned, where he is not ſummoned, for which the Plaintiff hath Execution awarded againſt the Defendant: In that caſe the Defendant ſhall have an Action of Diſceit againſt him who had the execution, and alſo againſt the Sheriff, and the Sheriff ſhall be puniſhed for his falſity; and the party that recovered, ſhall make reſtitution of that he recovered. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 96. acc.

4. An Action of Diſceit was brought againſt an Attorney, who by Fraud and Covin appeared without any Warrant, in an Action of Debt brought againſt the now Plaintiff, and pleaded Non ſum informatus. The Defendant pleaded, That he was retained for the Plaintiff and another, and that the other party retained him for them both. Et pro defectu Informationis he pleaded ut ſupra. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That he ought to traverſe the Fraud, otherwiſe his Plea is not good. Mich. 20 Eliz. Dyer 361. See 22 E. 39. If a man be Attorney for another man in a Reall Action, and, by Covin and Fraud between the Attorney and the Demandant, the Attorney maketh default, by which the other loſeth his Land, the Tenant who loſeth the Land, ſhall have and maintain a Writ of Diſceit againſt the Attorney.

5. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B, and declared, That the Defendant brought an Action againſt him at the Suit of one J. S, and without his privity, and thereupon did Arreſt and Impriſon the Plaintiff, by reaſon whereof all his Creditors came upon him, and thereby that he loſt his Credit. A Verdict was found for the Plaintiff, and thereupon Errour brought; and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Action would not lye, becauſe in truth there was a juſt Debt due to J. S, in whoſe name he ſued: But the Judgment was affirmed by the whole Court; and the difference was taken, Where J. S. Sueth or Commenceth Suit againſt the Plaintiff, there although by that Suit all the Creditors come upon him, ſo as perhaps they undo him, yet becauſe it was a lawfull act, no Action lyeth againſt him: but where one Commenceth Suit againſt another, in the name of another, and without his privity, there it is Maintenance, which is a tortious act, and therefore the Action will lye. The Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Thurſton and Simmons Caſe. Mayſh 47.

6. A. brought an Action for a Diſceit; and the Caſe was: A. being a common Carrier, uſing to carry Wares out of Eſſex into Northamptonſhire, the Defendant having a Cade of Woad to be carried, came to A, and bargained with him for the carriage of this, and by agreement he was to give him 2 s. for every 100 weight; and the Plaintiff demanding How many hundred weight it did contain? he ſaid, It was about 800 weight. Upon this, he giving Credit to him, did put it into his Cart; and by the hardneſſe of the Weight and draught, two of the Plaintiff's Horſes were killed; and then the Plaintiff did weigh the Woad, and found it to be 2000 weight; and for this Diſceit uſed, by which he was much damnified, he brought his Action. The Defendant pleaded Not-guilty; upon which all the matter aforeſaid was found. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Action did not lye: for it belonged to the Carrier to have weighed it firſt, and it was his own default if his horſes were killed with the weight, becauſe it was his default that he did not weigh it: and a difference was taken, upon the abſence and preſence of the party. If one lends his Cart to another to carry a Load of Wood, and that he will have for it 10 s. a Load, If he overload the Cart, an Action lyeth not for this fraud, without damage, or damage without fraud; but when theſe two do concur and meet together, there an Action lyeth. It was ſaid, the Book of 11 E. 4. is the Warranty of a Servant who ſells Wares: If he ſelleth Purple to one, and ſaith to him, This is Scarlet, the ſame is not to the purpoſe; for that the other may perceive this, and then that gives no cauſe of Action. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Bayly and Merrells Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 95.

7. In a Formedon in the Diſcender brought by Husband and Wife againſt the Tenant who vouched J. S: The Demandants Counterpleaded the Voucher, and ſhewed, that they had at another time proſecuted a Formedon in the Diſcender againſt the ſame Tenant for the ſame Land, and had Judgment againſt him by default upon Grand Cape; which Judgment was Reverſed by a Writ of Diſceit brought by the Tenant, becauſe he was not duly ſummoned; and that this Writ was brought by Journeys Accompts: and the Demandants ſaid, That the ſaid J. S. quæ, &c. had not any thing in the Land in Demeſne, Reverſion, or in Service, unto the day of the bringing of the Writ. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That when a Writ abates by the act or default of the Demandant; as in miſ-information of the name of the Tenant, or of the Town, &c. there the Demandant ſhall never have a Writ by Journeys Accompts; but where the Writ abates by default of the Clerk, as by Falſe Latine, variance, &c. Or if it abate for default of Summons, the ſame is the default of the Sheriff, and not of the Demandant; and therefore, there, he ſhall have a new Writ by Journeys Accompts. Hill. 45 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 9. Spencers Caſe.

8. If a man levies a Fine of Land at Common-Law, and alſo of Land within Auncient Demeſne, the party ſhall have a Writ of Diſceit for the Lands which are Ancient Demeſne, and ſhall reverſe the Fine for them, but the Fine ſhall ſtand good for the Lands at the Common-Law. 21 E 3. 20. 17 E. 3. 31. Diſceit. 37.

9. In an Aſſiſe, the Tenant pleaded Ancient Demeſne; the Plaintiff pleaded a Fine for Releaſe betwixt the Plaintiff and the Tenant in the Kings Court. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the ſame ſhould bind the Tenant, although there was no Tranſmutation of poſſeſſion, becauſe it is a Judgment which makes the Land Frank-Fee; but the Lord and ſtrangers ſhall not be bound by it: and although the Lord in the Caſe was one of the Defendants, yet becauſe he pleaded by Baily, and did not take the Tenancy upon him, he was eſtopped to Reverſe the Fine by a Writ of Diſceit. 21 E. 3. 25. 50 E. 3. 24. Comment. upon Original Writs. 230. acc.

10. If a man do recover in a Quare Impedit by default, &c. If the Defendant be not ſummoned, he ſhall have a Writ of Diſceit, and the Summoners and pledges, ſhall be examined upon an Attachment directed: and if the Diſceit be found, he ſhall have a Writ to the Biſhop. See 26 H. 6. Diſceit. 15. See 27 H. 6. 5.

11. B. being a Lay-man, was Inſtituted and Inducted into a Benefice, a ſtranger cited him out of the Court of Delegates to deprive him; Dependent which, one W. brought a Quare Impedit againſt B. and the Ordinary, and had Judgment by Default at the Grand diſtreſſe: B. and the Biſhop brought a Writ of Diſceit: Upon Non-Summons, W. pleaded, in barr to both, the Deprivation of B: In that caſe it was holden to be no plea; for that the Incumbency was not in Queſtion, but the Diſturbance onely: Wherefore it was adjudged, That the firſt Judgment ſhould be void, and the Plaintiffs reſtored to what they loſt. 19 Eliz. Dyer 353. Blowers Caſe.

Diſclaymer and Diſagreement.

1. IF Lands be given to Husband and Wife in tail, or in Fee, and the Husband dyeth, the Wife cannot deveſt the Freehold out of her by any Waiver or Diſagreement in pais, or other Diſclaimer in pais: As if before any entry made by her, ſhe ſaith, She utterly waiveth or diſagreeth to the ſaid Eſtate, & will never take or accept thereof, yet the Freehold doth remain in her, and ſhe may enter when ſhe pleaſeth: And ſo if before her entry, ſhe reciting her Eſtate, had ſaid by words in pais, That ſhe doth not aſſent and agree to the ſaid Eſtate; yet ſhe may wayve the ſame in a Court of Record: For the Law doth more reſpect an Act without words, then words without act; and therefore if ſhe entreth into the Land, and taketh the profits, although ſhe ſaith nothing, it is a good Agreement in Law. Cook 3. Part, 26. in Butlet and Bakers Caſe.

2. If the Tenant do diſclaim in an Action real or

or perſonal, and Judgment be given, he ſhall not have Writ of Errour, becauſe by his Diſclaimer he hath barred himſelf of the right of the Land: For the words of Diſclaimer of the Tenant are, Nihil habet, nec habere clamat in terra illa, nec die impetrationis Originalis Brevis habuit ſive clamavit ſed aliquid in terra illa habere diſclamat, and againſt the ſame he cannot have a Writ of Errour to have reſtitution of the Land againſt that Diſclaimer. Cook 8. Part, 62. in Beechers Caſe.

3. Humphrey de Bohun. held divers Mannors of the King by the Service, to be High-Conſtable of England, which Tenure was Grand Serjeancy; he had Iſſue two Daughters: One of the Daughters was married to the King. It was holden in that Caſe, That by the Unity of the Seignorie, and parcel of the Tenancy in the King, the Services were ſuſpended, and the whole Service ſhould iſſue out of the Reſidue. Note, It was ſaid in that Caſe, That King Henry the 8th afterwards refuſed the Service, and diſclaimed therein, becauſe they were very high and dangerous. 12 Eliz. Dyer. 285. Humphrey de Bohuns Caſe.

4. A Quo Warranto was brought againſt the Biſhop of York, concerning the Franchiſe of Priſage of Wines, he diſclaimed in the Franchiſes. It was adjudged, That his Diſclaimer ſhould bind his Succeſſors. 6 E. 3. Br. Diſclaimer, 47. 6 E. 3. 5. See Waller and Hangers Caſe. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 25. acc.

5. If one Avoweth upon his Tenant according to the Statute of 21 H. 8. the Tenant ſhall not diſclaim; contrary, if he avow upon him as his Tenant by the Common-Law. 28 H. 8. Dyer by Fitzherbert, Juſtice.

---

2. In what Actions, or Writs, Diſclaimer doth lye; and in what not.

1. IN a Per quæ Servitia, no Diſclaimer lyeth, becauſe there no Land is demanded: But in a Per Quæ Servitia, the Tenant may ſay, That he did not hold of the Conuſor, at the time of the Fine levied. See 33 E. 3. Fitz. Diſclaimer. 31. In a Per Quæ Servitia againſt a Prior, he ſaid, He did not hold of the Conuſor.

2. In a Writ of Meſne brought by Tenant in tail againſt him in the Reverſion, no Diſclaimer lyeth, 40 E. 3. 27. Quære: For 44 E. 3. 2. by Finchden, and 14 E. 3. Meſne 7. there in a Writ of Meſne brought, the Tenant did Diſclaim in the Seignory, and the Diſclaimer was admitted.

3. A Writ of Entry in the Quibus was brought, of a Diſſeiſin made by two to the Plaintiff; one of the Defendants would have diſclaimed, but could not be admitted, becauſe the Plaint did ſuppoſe him to be the wrong-doer. 4 H. 5. Fitzh. Diſclaimer. 27.

4. In a Ceſſavit, the Defendant ſhall not be admitted to Diſclaim, but he may plead, That he doth not hold of him Temp. E. 1. Diſclaimer. 29.

5. In a Writ of Cuſtomes and Services, the Tenant may Diſclaim: And ſo in Aſſiſe of a Rent; but in a Ceſſavit he cannot diſclaim. In a Formedon in the Diſcender the Tenant may diſclaim, and the Demandant may preſently enter. And ſee 16 H. 7. 1. by all the Juſtices, That in a Formedon Cui in vita, and all other Actions where a man ſhall not recover damages, the Defendant or Tenant may diſclaim: but where damages are to be recovered, there the Plaintiff may aver him Tenant, but yet prima facie the Diſclaimer is good: And although that he doth aver, that he is Tenant, yet notwithſtanding he may wayve it, and enter, and he ſhall not be eſtopped, by 33 Aſs. Fitz. to Eſtoppell, 141.

3. The Nature and Effect of a Diſclaymer; and what things enſue upon it; and of ſpeciall Diſclaimer.

1. WHen a Precipe is brought againſt two, and one of them doth Diſclaim, the Intereſt is veſted in the other preſently: and the reaſon is, becauſe the Law intends that they are both in by one joynt Feoffment, and then all ſhall be in the other by the Feoffment made. It was ſaid, That if they be Joynt-Tenants by Diſcent, or by Fine, that they cannot diſclaim: But Quære if they may not wayve the Diſcent: For it was ſaid, That the Demandant may counterplead the Diſclaymer. 35 E. 3. Fitz. to Diſclaymer 22. Note: It is ſaid by Fitzherbert, in abridging the Caſe, That although that one of them who are in by diſcent, may diſclaym, yet the ſame ſhall not veſt the Land in the other, but the Demandant ſhall have Judgment, Quia nihil dicit. See, If two Joynt-Tenants be, and the one Diſclaymeth, yet the other may chooſe, if he will take the entire Tenancy upon him, or not, 27 H. 6. to Diſc. 28.

2. Note: There is a difference betwixt Diſclaymer in the Tenure, and Diſclaymer in the Tenancy: For if one diſclaymeth in the Tenure, that diſclaymer goes in barr of the Rent and Services; and and that gives him Action to demand the Land by a Writ of Right ſur Diſclaymer, and that alſo goes in barr of damages, which are but acceſſaries to the principal: But upon a Diſclaymer in the Tenancy, if it be in an Action in which damages are to be recovered, there he may aver him Tenant for the benefit of them: and if it be in ſuch Action in which no damages are to be recovered, then the party may enter. 16 H. 7. 2.

3. A Precipe was brought againſt two; the one made default after default recorded: The other ſaid, That the Demandant held the Land in demand of him; and ſaving his Seignory, he doth diſclaim in the Land; by this ſpeciall diſclaimer the Demandant ſhall recover the whole Land againſt him that made default. 33 H. 6. 53.

4. A man Leaſed Land to another for 8. years, upon Condition, That if he did not pay 10 l. within the firſt year, that then the Leſſee ſhould have Fee. In a Precipe brought againſt the Leſſor, he durſt not diſclaim, for fear of loſing his Condition. Quære in that Caſe, If he might not diſclaim ſpecially, ſaving his Condition. 12 E. 2. to Voucher 265.

5. In a Precipe, the Tenant vouched a Biſhop, by reaſon that the Predeceſſor and the Dean and Chapter gave the Land to him in tail; The Biſhop would have diſclaimed, ſaving the Ancient Services, but could not by reaſon of the Reverſion; for no other Services ſhall be intended but thoſe onely, although the Predeceſſor diſſeiſeth the Tenant who holdeth of him by certain Services. 40 E. 3. 27.

4. Where the Husband ſhall diſclaim for him and his Wife; and where for the Wife alone.

1. IN an Avowry made upon the husband and wife, they diſclaym, and by the Court the Diſclaimer holden to be good. 35 H. 6. 10. Brook, in Abridging the Caſe, makes a Mirum of it forth of the Books of 10 E. 4. 2. and the whole Court is contrary to it; for by ſo doing, he ſhould loſe the Land of the wife. See 21 H. 7. 20. and 22 E. 3. to Diſclaymer 24. agree with the Book of 10 E. 4. 2. But ſee 43 E. 3. In a Writ of Entry brought againſt husband and wife, and a third perſon, the husband did diſclaim for him and his wife, and the diſclaymer admitted. See 9 H. 6. 52. The husband may prejudice his wife; as in diſclayming in Avowry, or in a Quid juris clamat, and the wife is without remedy: and ſo it is holden 33 E. 3. to Diſclaymer. 32.

2. In a Precipe quod reddat, the husband appeared, and the wife made default at the Grand Cape, the husband diſclaymed in the abſence of his Wife. But ſee 32 E. 3. to Diſclaymer 25. The husband ſhall not diſclaym in that caſe, and to maintain de bre. 54. that that diſclaymer ſhall onely bind the husband; and that the wife ſhall have an Aſſiſe.

3. A Writ of Right was brought againſt the husband and wife, and the Plaintiff ſhewed, how that in a Writ of Cuſtomes and Services, the husband and wife diſclaimed: and ſo he had more right againſt the wife: In that caſe, the wife was receaved upon the default of her husband, and joyned the Miſe upon the Diſclaymer, If the Plaintiff had more right by the Diſclaimer then the wife. 32 E. 2. Fitzh. to Droit. 72.

---

5. Diſclaymer by the Vouchee, or him in the Reverſion.

1. NOte: It is ſaid 27 H. 6. to Diſclaymer 18, That he in the Reverſion ſhall not diſclaym where he comes in by Voucher by reaſon of the Reverſion; and ſo it is holden 40 E. 27. where a Biſhop was vouched by force of a Reverſion in him.

2. In 8 E. 3. 26. Fitz. Meſne 19. Tenant in tail brought a Writ of Meſne againſt him in the Reverſion, and did not ſhew a Deed of Acquittall; but onely bound him in reſpect of the Reverſion and the Services: And it was holden, That he might well diſclaim; but if he had ſhewed a Deed, then for the benefit of the Acquittall, It was holden, he ſhould not diſclaym.

3. Note; In 17 E. 3. Fitz. to Quid juris clamat. 26. It is holden, That he in the Reverſion may diſclaym when he is vouched; unleſſe it be in the caſe of Tenant in Dower: and ſo ſeems the book to be in 47 E. 3. Fitz. to Voucher 271. To have in Dower, the Tenant vouched one as heir, by reaſon that he held of his Father, and alledged Seiſin in the Father of Homage, and that he was alwayes ready to render Homage; and becauſe he did not ſhew a Deed, he went without day.

4. In 14 E. 3. Fitz. Warranty 32. It is holden, That the heir of him in the Reverſion being vouched may diſclaim; and ſo it is of the Grantee of him in the Reverſion: But Note, That now the Grantee of the Reverſion ſhall not be vouched, by by reaſon of the Exception in the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Conditions.

5. In a Precipe Quod reddat brought againſt one, he vouched two to Warranty, by reaſon of the Reverſion, and one of them would have diſclaymed, and the Court ſeemed to admit it. But yet the Court doubted how the Reverſion ſhould veſt in the other Vouchee, 33 E. 3. Fitz. to Diſclaimer 21.

6. If Tenant in tail doth diſcontinue the tail, and dyeth, and his Iſſue brings a Formedon againſt the Diſcontinuee, the Diſcontinuee may plead, That he is no Tenant, but utterly diſclaym in the Tenancy; and in that caſe, the Judgment ſhall be, That the Tenant be without day: and after ſuch Judgment, the Iſſue in tail who is demandant, may enter into the Land, notwithſtanding the Diſcontinuancy, and by ſuch entry he ſhall be remitted; And the cauſe is, becauſe, If a man bring a Precipe Quod reddat againſt any Tenant of Freehold, in which Action the Demandant ſhall not recover Damages, and the Tenant diſclaims, or pleads Non-Tenure, the Demandant cannot have his Writ, and ſay, That he is Tenant as the Writ ſuppoſeth; and therefore the demandant, after Judgment given, That the Tenant be without day, may enter into the Tenements demanded, and by ſuch entry, he ſhall be remitted to the tail. See Litt. Sect. 691. And ſo it is, If a Formedon be brought againſt two, and one pleads Non-tenure, or Diſclaimeth. L. 5 E. 4. 125. Thelwell. Bre. 241.

7. Where the Tenant diſclayms in Avowry, and alienes, A Writ of Right ſur Diſclaymer lyeth againſt the Tenant, although he hath nothing: And ſo a Quid Juris clamat lyeth againſt him who was Tenant at the time of the Fine levied, 18 H. 6. 25.

8. In a Formedon in the Diſcender, If the Tenant diſclaym, there no Judgment ſhall be, but the Demandant ſhall enter, although it be upon a Diſcent, or a Diſcontinuance, for the ſame ſhall be no Eſtoppell, and the demandant adjudged in as to him who diſclaims according to his Title by the taile, but this Eſtoppell ſhall conclude no other, for if he be but Tenant for life, he cannot retain the Land but during his life, and therefore he in the Reverſion may enter, for the Judgment upon the Diſclaymer is not, that the Defendant ſhall recover, but that the Writ ſhall abate. 36 H. 6. 29. Comment. upon Original Writs. 35.

9. A Poſſibility may paſſe by Diſclaymer: As if Tenant for years, and he in the Reverſion diſclaym, it is a good Diſclaymer, 44 E. 3. 4. Godbolt 25.

L.

Diſcent.

1. When, where, and to what Heir Lands in Fee ſimple ſhall diſcend: And what ſhall be a ſufficient Poſſeſſion to make the Siſter inherite the Land: What not: And where, the Heir ſhall take by Diſcent; where by Purchaſe.

1. IT is a Rule in Law, That a man cannot raiſe a Fee-ſimple to his own right Heirs, by the name of Heirs, as a Purchaſe; neither by Conveyance of Land, nor by Uſe, nor by Deviſe: If a man Deviſe Lands to a perſon who is his next Heir, and to his Heirs, the Deviſe is void, and it works by Diſcent. See 35 H. 8. Dyer, 54.

2. See Hill. 10 Jac. rott. 3315. Launds and Clark's Caſe. Hob. 30, 31. before in the Deviſe. Sect. 35.

3. Debt brought againſt an Heir, The Defendant pleaded, that he had but the third part of 20 Acres by Diſcent: The Iſſue was, Whether he had the whole. It was found, that the Obligor his Father, deviſed the whole to his Wife, untill the Defendant his Son and Heir ſhould come to the full age of 24. years; and from thenceforth to him and his Heirs. In that Caſe, It was ruled, that the Son took by Diſcent, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 3 Ma. Dyer 126. But yet Lands may be ſo limited to the Heirs in tail, or to any one by the name of Heir-ſimple in tail; as the Caſe of Greſwold was. 5 Ma. Dyer 156. He made a Feoffment in Fee to A. for life; the Remainder to the Heirs-Males of the body of the Feoffor; the Remainder to his own Heirs in Fee. The Father the Feoffor had two Sons, and the Elder had a Daughter and dyed; and it was adjudged for the Daughter againſt the Unckle, either becauſe the Entail to the Heirs-Males was void, or becauſe it ceaſed in the Elder Sons.

4. Note, If I convey Lands, which I have on the part of the Mother, or in Borough-Engliſh, to J. S. and his Heirs without conſideration, the uſe ſhall be paid, and ſo the Land ſhall return again to me and my Heirs of his Mother, or in Borough-Engliſh as before; for the Law doth conſtrue the Uſe in the ſame ſtate and quality as the Land was. But if I do declare the uſe to me and my Heirs, or upon ſuch a Feoffment reſerve a Rent to me and my

my Heirs, it ſhall go to my Heirs at the Common-Law; for it is not within the Cuſtom, but it is a new thing divided from the Land. Trin. 4 Ma. Dyer 163. Hob. 32. So it is in Caſe of Entails, which were Fee-ſimple at the Common-Law, they take their effect by the Statute of Weſt. 2. in Caſes of Diſcent: but where they are not in Caſes of Diſcent, but the Limitation is immediately, and by way of purchaſe to the Heir-Male or Female of the Body, he muſt be aſwel right Heir-Male as Female of the Body that ſhall take; for that this is clearly aſwel out of the Letter, as out of the Intent of the Statute of Weſtmin. 2. See Hob. 32. acc.

5. A man having two Sons and a Daughter, deviſed his Lands to a ſtranger for life, the remainder propinquioribus de ſanguine puerorum of the Deviſor, and dyed, his Sons having no Children, but his Daughter having two Daughters. It was holden in that Caſe, that neither the Sons nor the Daughter can take; for they are pueri, and not de ſanguine puerorum: But the two Daughters of the Daughter ſhall take for their Heirs; and if there were alſo Sons of Sons, or Daughters, they ſhould all take together: and that Children born after the Remainder veſted (which was after the death of the Teſtator) ſhould take nothing, and that the neareſt in degree of bloud ſhould take; and not the worthieſt in order of Diſcent: for the words do import no reſpect of Dignity, but of Propinquity of bloud. 30 Aſſiz. 47. and 30 E. 3. 27.

6. A. Seiſed of Lands in Fee, made his Will, and deviſed his Land to his Wife for life, the remainder to his Son in Tail; and if he dyed without Iſſue, the Land to remain to J.S. and his Wife for their Heirs; and after their Deceaſes to their Children. The Queſtion was, Whether the Children of J. S. did take by Diſcent, or by Purchaſe. Popham and Gawdie were of Opinion, that they had an Eſtate Tail. Fenner and Clinch, that they had an Eſtate for Life. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B.R. Goldesbr. 138.

7. The Caſe was: There was Grandmother, on the part of the Father, Mother, and Son; the Grandmother had a Brother, and the Mother had a Brother alſo; The Son purchaſed Lands in Fee, and dyed without Iſſue. The Queſtion was, If the brother of the Grandmother, or the brother of the Mother ſhould be Heir to him: It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the brother of the Grandmother ſhould Inherite as Heir to the Son, as next of bloud on the other part of the Father, although he was not of the Surname of the Son or Father, for he is of the moſt Auncient bloud; and alſo of the moſt worthy bloud by the Male Sex of the Father, and he is to be preferred before the Heir of the Mother of the Purchaſor, although he be the next of bloud. Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 314. Paſc. 5 Eliz. Plow. Com. Clear and Brooke's Caſe, 442.

8. There were three brothers, the middlemoſt purchaſed Lands, and deviſed the ſame to his ſon in tail; and if he dyed without Iſſue, that then it ſhall remain to the next of kindred, of the lineage of his Father, the eldeſt brother then being dead, having Iſſue a Son. The Queſtion was, Who ſhould have the Land; And, upon great advice, It was adjudged, That the Son of the eldeſt brother ſhould have it, for he is next of Lineage; for Lineage ſhall be taken in a Lineall diſcent, and in the moſt worthy. Mich. 25 Eliz. in Scaccario, adjudged. See 15 Eliz. Dyer, 333.

9. A man, ſeized of a Mannor by diſcent on the part of the Mother, enfeoffed a ſtranger, of a houſe, parcell of it, to hold to him and his Heirs, by certain Services, before the Statute of Donis, &c. and afterwards dyed without on the part of the Mother: Some were of Opinion, That the Lands ſhould diſcend to the Heirs of the part of the Father, becauſe it was new created by the Feoffor: But the Rule of the Court there was, That it ſhould diſcend to the Heirs on the part of the Mother onely; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, ſhould Eſcheat, for the Seignory which he had reſerved by the Feoffment, is due by reaſon of the Right which he had in the Tenancy; and the Right which he had in the Tenancy, diſcended on the part of the Mother. 5 E. 3. Avowry 207. Cook, 8. Part, in Syms's Caſe, 54.

10. Copyholder in Fee, having Iſſue a Son and a Daughter, by one Woman, and a Son by another, dyed; the Eldeſt ſon dyed before Admittance: It was Reſolved and adjudged in this Caſe, That the Land ſhould diſcend to the daughter of the whole bloud. 2. Reſolved, That where the Cuſtomary part of the Inheritance diſcendeth to the Heir before admittance, he may enter, and take the profits, and there ſhall be a poſſeſſio fratris before admittance upon an Actuall poſſeſſion. Cook 4. Part, 21. Brown's Caſe.

11. Husband and Wife had Iſſue, a ſon and two daughters, the Husband appointed the Government and Education of his Son and daughters, to his Grandfather and Grandmother for their lives, and dyed; the Wife took another Husband, the Grandfather dyed; The Grandmother, ſeiſed of Lands holden in Socage, Deviſed them to the Son in tail, the Remainder to the two daughters, and to the Heirs of their bodies begotten, by equall portions, equally to be divided betwixt them; the Remainder to their Mother and her Heirs. The Grandmother dyed, the Son dyed without Iſſue, the eldeſt daughter took Husband, they entred; the the younger daughter, above the age of 14 years, and within the age of 16 years, departed with the conſent of the Husband, and took C. to Husband, who entred. In this Caſe, amongſt other, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the two daughters were Tenants in Common, the Reverſion to the Mother, for that theſe words in a Will (equally to be divided) makes a Tenancy in Common, according to the intent of the Deviſor. 2. Reſolved, That the Mother might enter for the forfeiture, for ſhe was next of bloud to the daughter; and Adminiſtration of the goods of the Son or daughter, may be granted to the Mother as next of bloud: And in this Caſe, it was put to be a Rule of Law; That of all Hereditaments in poſſeſſion, he who claims ſuch Inheritance as Heir, ought to make himſelf Heir unto him who was laſt actually ſeiſed: But of a Reverſion or a Remainder expectant upon an Eſtate for life, or in tail, there he who claims the Reverſion, or Remainder ought to make himſelf Heir to him who made the gift, or Leaſe, if the Reverſion, or the Remainder diſcend to him; Or if a man purchaſeth ſuch a Reverſion, he who claims as Heir, ought to make himſelf Heir to the firſt purchaſor. Cook 3. Part, 40, 41. Ratcliff's Caſe.

12. It was found by Office, that the Mannor of D. was by Indenture bargayned and ſold to J. S. and his Heirs; and that he dyed, 4. Off. 13 Jac. and that 30. Off. 13. Jac. the Deed was enrolled, and that his Coſen and heir was of the age of 21. years at the time of his death; and that the Mannor was holden by Knights ſervice in Capite; And whether his heir ſhould ſue Livery, and ſhall be in Ward by diſcent, and not meerly by diſcent, was the Queſtion, and in the nature of a purchaſor, in whom the Land firſt veſted. This Caſe being referred to the two Chief Juſtices, and chief Baron; It was Reſolved by them, That he ſhould be in by Diſcent, and ſhould ſue Livery; For when the Inrollment comes, and there is no Act done in the Interim to ſtop it, the Eſtate veſted in the Auncеſtor ab initio by the uſes limitted: For the Statute being, That nothing ſhall paſſe, &c. excepting by Deed enrolled; when the Exception is performed, It is in the Auncеſtor by the Statute of uſes; and therefore the Heir being within age, ſhall be in ward; and being of full age, ſhall ſue Livery. Mich. 14 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Dimock's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 408, 409. Hob. 136. the ſame Caſe.

13. A man, ſeiſed of the Mannor of S. Covenanted with another, that when J. S. ſhall enfeoff him of the Mannor of D. that then he would ſtand ſeiſed of the Mannor of S. to the uſe of the Covenantee and his heirs; the Covenantee dyed, his Heir within age, J. S. enfeoffeth the Covenantor. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Heir ſhall be in, in the nature and courſe of a diſcent, and yet there is not any right Title nor Action which diſcended, but onely a poſſibility of an Uſe, which could not be releaſed or diſcharged; yet becauſe the ſame might have veſted in the Auncеſtor, therefore the Heir in that Caſe, was not in by purchaſe, but in courſe of Diſcent. 3 Eliz. in Cur. Wardorum, Wood's Caſe. vouched in Cook 1. Part, 99. Shellies Caſe.

14. See Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. rott. 2052. Preſton and Holmes Caſe. Styles 148. 149. in title of Deviſe. Sect. 43.

15. A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee, and took to Husband J. and had Iſſue S. Afterwards J. and A. his Wife dyed; and S. was ſeiſed of the Mannor, as heir on the part of her Mother, and before the Statute of Quia emptores, &c. did enfeoff P. of parcell of the Mannor, by 4 s. Rent, afterwards S. dyed without Iſſue. The Queſtion was, Who ſhould have this Seignory and Rent newly created, either the Heir on the part of the Mother, or the Heir on the part of J. the Father. It was ſaid by the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Bench, That when S. enfeoffed P. of parcell of the Mannor, which diſcended to her from A. theſe ſervices are then Appurtenant to the Remainder of the Mannor, by which the death of S. without heir of her body, cannot defeat the appendance: So if a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor of the part of his Mother, and maketh a gift in tail, rendring Rent, this new Rent which is incident to the Reverſion, ſhall go with the Reverſion to the Heir of the part of the Mother. 5 E. 2. Avowry. 207. 7 H. 6. 4. Cook 8. Part, Syms's Caſe. 54. acc.

16. If a Leaſe be made to one for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. he dying, having a daughter, his Wife with child of a Son; the daughter claims the ſame by purchaſe, and therefore the ſon born after, ſhall never deveſt the ſame; and ſo if a Condition diſtendeth to the daughter, and ſhe entreth for the Condition broken, the Son born after ſhall never enter upon her, and yet there ſhe is in by diſcent, and the Title of her entry, ſcil. the Condition ſhe hath as heir, yet becauſe ſhe was the firſt in whom it veſted, the Son after born, ſhall not deveſt the ſame. 9 H. 7. 25. Cook 3. Part, 39.

17. If Lands be given to one, and the Heirs Females of his body, & the Donee having Iſſue a Son, & a daughter, maketh a Feoffment within age, and dyeth, the daughter being heir ſpeciall, to whom the Right of Entry diſcendeth, ſhall enter, and not the Son, who hath nothing by diſcent: So of the Heir in Borough-Engliſh; For in all Caſes, when one claymeth by diſcent as ſpeciall Heir, he ſhall take advantage of a Right of Entry, which diſcendeth to him for the Infancy, or other Incapacity of his Auncestor. Cook 8. Part, 43. in Wittingham's Caſe.

2. Where a Diſcent ſhall take away an Entry, and where not.

1. IF a Diſſeiſor maketh a gift in tail, and the Donee diſcontinueth the Fee, and afterwards doth Diſſeiſe the Diſcontinuee, and dyeth ſeiſed, this Diſſeiſin ſhall not take away the Entry of the Diſſeiſee; For the Diſcent of the Fee-ſimple is gone and vaniſhed by the Remitter; and although the Iſſue be in by force of the Eſtate tail, yet the Donee dyed not ſeiſed of that Eſtate, and of neceſſity there muſt be a dying ſeiſed to take away entry. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 238.

2. A Diſcent ſhall not take away Entry of a man in Priſon, at the time of the Diſcent caſt, becauſe he could not make continuall claim when he was in Priſon, being there kept in arcta Cuſtodia. So a Diſcent caſt during the Vacation of an Abby, ſhall not take away the Entry of the next ſucceſſor; becauſe, ſeeing that by the death of the Abbot (which is the Act of God) no perſon is able to make continuall claim: therefore the diſcent during that time, ſhall not prejudice the Succeſſor. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 268.

3. Note, there is a difference in Caſe of Diſcents, betwixt Corporall Inheritances, as Houſes, Lands, &c. which do lye in Livery; and Inheritances incorporeal, his Advowſons, Rents, Commons, &c. which lye in Grant. For a Diſcent of theſe ſhall not put the Diſſeiſee to his Action, but he may claim them notwithſtanding ſuch Diſcent: but a Diſcent of Lands doth put the Diſſeiſee to his Action; becauſe houſes ſerve for the habitation of men, and the Land to be Manured for their ſuſtenance, and therefore an Heir, after a Diſcent of them, ſhall not be moleſted or diſturbed in them by Entry. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 237.

4. A man being beyond Sea, out of the Realm, is Diſſeiſed; Afterwards he Retornes into the Realm, and then goes beyond Sea again; during which time, there is a Diſcent caſt. In this Caſe, If it cannot be proved, that he had notice of the Diſſeiſin when he was within the Realm; it ſeems his Entry is not taken away, for by intendment of Law, he could not have notice of the Diſſeiſin at the time when it was done. Mich. 4. Ma. Dyer, 143.

5. In Error brought to reverſe a Fine, the Caſe was; W. levyed a Fine, the Defendant the Earl of Oxford pleaded, That he was beyond Sea at the time of the Fine levyed: W. Replyed, That he came into England in Auguſt within the five years; and upon that they were at Iſſue. The Jury found that he came over in July; and notwithſtanding, the Opinion of the Court was clear, That the Writ of Error did not lye: For although the Jury find that he came over in July; yet the ſubſtance of the matter is, that he was in England, ſo as he might have made his claim. The Caſe was compared to the Caſe 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271, which is a Quære, but Reſolved in Cook 6. Part, 42. A man brought Debt againſt the Heir, who pleaded, That he had nothing by Diſcent, the Plaintiff pleaded, That he had Aſſets in London, and the Jury found Aſſets in Cornwall, and good; For the ſubſtance is, If he had Aſſets or not. Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. Waterhouſe, and the Earl of Oxford's Caſe. Marſh. 9.

6. If a Recovery be had by A. againſt B. and before Execution: B. dyeth ſeiſed, this Diſcent ſhall not take away the Entry of the Recoveror; and ſo it is in Caſe of a Fine; For if that were admitted, there would be no end of Suit, but a new one would be occaſioned: So if a Recovery be had againſt Tenant for life, where the Remainder is over in Fee; Tenant for life dyeth, he in the Remainder entreth before Execution, and dyeth ſeiſed, here alſo the Entry of the Recoveror is Lawfull, not onely becauſe he in the Remainder is privy to the Eſtate, but that otherwiſe it would be occaſion of a new Suit. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 237.

7. The King was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. in the right of his Crown; A ſtranger erected a ſhop in a vacant place of the Mannor, and took the profits thereof without paying of any Rent to the Queen for the ſhop; And afterwards the Queen Granted the Mannor to the Earl of Leiceſter, who never entred into the ſhop, nor took any Rent for it; And afterwards the occupier of the ſhop dyed in poſſeſſion; And if his Heir ſhould be in by Diſcent, was a Queſtion; And the better Opinion of the Court was, That it was no Diſcent againſt the Patentee, becauſe at the firſt it was a Diſſeiſin againſt the Queen. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 266.

8. If Lands be given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their bodies, the Remainder to the Heirs of the Husband, and they have Iſſue a Son, and the Wife dyeth, and the Husband taketh another Wife, and they have Iſſue, and dye, the eldeſt ſon dyeth without Iſſue, the youngeſt ſon ſhall have the Land as Heir to his Father, and not the Unkle of the eldeſt Son; becauſe the ſame did never diſcend unto him in Poſſeſſion. See 39 E. 3. Fitzh. to Diſcent, 15.

9. A. having Iſſue two Sons, H. and E. and ſeiſed of divers Mannors and Lands holden in Knights-Service, in the County of H. and other places; Deviſed the Lands in Hertford, to E. his younger ſon, and dyed ſeiſed of all the Premiſſes; H. his eldeſt Son being then within age: After Office found, not mentioning the Deviſe, the Queen ſeiſed the body of the Heir, and the Poſſeſſion of the Lands, of which A. dyed ſeiſed, and Leaſed the ſame to a ſtranger during the Minority of the Heir; the Leſſee entred; the Heir at full age, ſued Livery of the whole, and before any Entry into the Land by E. to him Deviſed, or any Entry made by H: H. Leaſed the Lands to J. S. rendring Rent: J. S. entred, and paid the Rent divers years to the ſaid H. Afterwards E. by caſualty walked over the Land, in the Company of J. S. without any ſpeciall claim made thereunto: And twenty four years after the death of A, E. entred into the Land Deviſed to him; and if this dying ſeiſed of H. of the Lands in H. and Diſcent to his Heir, ſhould take away the Entry of E. was the Queſtion. In this Caſe, the Juſtices were of Opinion, That this was not ſuch a Diſcent as ſhould prevent the Deviſe: For a Deviſee by a Deviſe, hath but a Title of Entry, which ſhall not be bound by any Diſcent; and in this Caſe, there was not any Diſcent at all; For by the Deviſe, and the death of the Deviſor, the Frank Tenement in Law, and the Fee was veſted in the Deviſee, and then where the Queen Leaſed the ſame during the Nonage of H. and the Leſſee entred, he did wrong to E. and by his Entry, had gained a tortious Eſtate in Fee; and when H. at his full age by Indenture, without any ſpeciall Entry, Leaſed the ſame to J. S, he did a wrong to E. and the paying of the Rent to H. and by his walking over the Land, he did not gain any Seiſin to himſelf; and then when he dyed, the ſame was no Diſcent to take away the Entry of E; and ſo the Leaſe made by E. to the Plaintiff, was good. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Matthewſon and Trotto's Caſe. Leon. 209.

10. In Ejectione firmæ the Caſe was: A. was Tenant in tail of certain Lands, and made a Leaſe for years to one B. who Aſſigned it over to the Father of the Plaintiff. A. dyed, W. his Son and Heir, entred upon P: W. demiſed the Land to P. for life, the Remainder to J. his Wife for life, the Remainder to the Son of P. for life, with Warranty, and made a Letter of Attorney to enter and deliver Seiſin; P. dyed before the Livery was executed, and afterwards the Attorney made Livery to J: W. dyed; E. his Son and Heir entred upon the Wife. It was Objected, That when P. entred upon W. the Iſſue in tail, he was a Diſſeiſor, and by his death, the Land diſcending to his Heir, the Entry of W. the Iſſue in tail was taken away: But it was holden by the Court, That P. by his Entry was not a Diſſeiſor, but at the Election of W. For when P. accepted ſuch a Deed from W. it appeareth, that his intent was not to enter as a Diſſeiſor; and it is not found that P. had any Son and Heir at the time of his death, and if not then, no diſcent; and there is not any Diſſeiſin found, That P. Expulit W. out of the Land. And the Caſe of Shipwith was cited, which was adjudged in the Common-Pleas. The Caſe was this: Grandfather, Tenant in Tail, Father and Son; the Grandfather dyed, the Father entred and paid the Rent, and dyed in poſſeſſion; It was adjudged no diſcent, for the paying of the Rent doth explain by what Title he entred, and ſo he ſhall not be a Diſſeiſor, but at the Election of another. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Pits and Leverſudits Caſe. Leon. 121.

11. If a Diſſeiſor be Diſſeiſed, and dyeth having Iſſue, and the Iſſue entreth upon the Diſſeiſor of his Father, his Entry is lawfull, and when he hath entred, he ſhall be in by Diſcent; ſo as the Entry of the firſt Diſſeiſee is not lawfull. by Halls in 9 H. 4. 5.

12. If a Diſſeiſor makes a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, and dyeth, and the Condition is broken, and the Heir entreth, the ſame is no Diſcent to take away an Entry, for the ſame is not a Diſcent in Fact, but in Reputation onely.

Diſmes, or Tythes.

1. Tythes, what they are, the Antiquity of them; To whom they were payable; Where the Right of Tythes was, and is determinable; in what Court. and betwixt what perſons; And where Writs and Suits were for them by a ſecondary means brought at the Common-Law.

1. TYthes are an Eccleſiaſticall Inheritance, Collaterall to the Eſtate of the Lands, to take the tenth part of the profits of the Lands, due Originally, and onely unto Eccleſiaſticall perſons, and recoverable onely in an Eccleſiaſticall Court; payable jure Divino, or at leaſt jure poſitivo. Cook 11. Part, 13. in Priddle and Napper's Caſe. Naturally, it is the Tenth part of the Revenue of my Ground, or Land; not of my labour or induſtry, Hob. 250. They are things of Common-Right, and do of right belong unto the Church. Hob. 296. Mich. 15 Jac. Slade and Drake's Caſe.

2. Before the Councell of Lateran, Every man might have given his Tythes to what Church he pleaſed, and might have beſtowed them upon what perſon he thought beſt, for before that Councell, there were no Pariſhes, nor Pariſh Prieſt, that could claim them. But by a Canon made in that Councell, every man is ſince compellable to pay and give his Tythes to the Parſon or Vicar of that Pariſh, where the Tythes are ariſing: And although before the ſaid Canon, The Biſhop of every Dioceſſe might have made Diſtribution of them within his Dioceſſe, where he thought convenient, to Spirituall perſons, for their neceſſary maintenance, as Bede, Lib. 1. cap. 28. yet it is now otherwiſe. Now although, before the ſaid Councell of Lateran, the parties might have granted them at their own Liberties, or they might have been diſtributed as aforeſaid: Yet did not the ſaid Canon make them more Eccleſiaſticall then they were before; But the Juriſdiction of Tythes, as well before the ſaid Canon, as ever ſince, concerning the Right of them, did appertain and belong unto the Eccleſiaſticall Court. Cook, 2. Part, 44. 44 E. 3. 5. by Ludlow 7 E. 3. 5. by Payne. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Slade and Drakes Caſe. Hob. 296. acc.

3. In ſome books and Records, it appeareth, That Writs and Suits have bin brought at the Common-Law for Tythes: As 4 E. 3. 27. By Shard, A Writ of Right lay at the Common-Law, De Advocatione Decimarum Eccleſiæ. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 30. acc. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes, 661. A Scire facias at the Common-Law lay of Tythes: So Regiſter, 165. A Writ of Covenant lay to levy a Fine de Decimis garbarum, with which agree 38 H. 6. 20. 4 E. 3. 27. and 29. 7 E. 3. 5. by Parning. And 44 E. 3. 5. an Aſſiſe was brought of Tythes: Yet it is to be obſerved, That the ſaid Writs and Suits were not for them, meerly or properly as Tythes, but as Lay-profits Apprender, Iſſuing or going out of the Lands, and not for them as Eccleſiaſticall Duties; For neither Aſſiſe, nor Præcipe did lye of Tythes at the Common-Law, or of any other Eccleſiaſtical Duty. See Doddridge in his Treatiſe of Advowſons.

4. An Aſſiſe was brought of Tythes, 44 E. 3. 5. But Note, and Obſerve there, That the Aſſiſe there brought, was of the Tenth of all manner of Corn and Grain growing in 100 Acres of Lands, after the Tythes of the Parſon were taken away, which was but a Lay-profit Apprender, and no Eccleſiaſtical duty.

5. If Tythes do lye in any Forreſt, as in the Forreſt of Windſor, Rockingham, or Sherwood, or other Forreſt which is not within any Pariſh. The King ſhall have them by his Prerogative, and not the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or Metropolitan of the Pariſh, as ſome have thought. 14 H. 4. 17. But yet it ſeemeth by 22. Aſs. 75. If there be cauſe of Suit for ſuch Tythes againſt the parties who ought to pay the ſame, ſuch Suit might be brought in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. But if a ſtranger taketh away ſuch Tythes from the Parſon or Vicar there for ſuch Treſpaſſe, the Suit may be in the Temporal Court, as the ſame may be for taking away of other goods in the like caſe: and ſo, if the Parſon, Vicar, or other Proprietor be ejected of his Tythes. It was adjudged 15 Car. in B. R. That an Ejectione Firmæ will lye of ſuch Tythes, See Styles 137.

6. The Leſſee for years of the Earl of H, prayed a Prohibition againſt the Vicar of L, to ſtay a Suit in the Spiritual Court for Tythes, becauſe the Lands out of which the Tythes were demanded, were parcell of the Forreſt of B; whereof the King was ſeiſed in the Right of his Crown, and he and all his Predeceſſors held the ſaid Lands diſcharged of Tythes; and ſhewed, that the King had granted the ſaid Forreſt to the Earl of Hertford in Fee and ſo he ought to have had them diſcharged from Tythes. In that caſe it was holden by the Court, That it was onely a Priviledge annexed to the Crown, during the time that the Land was in the Crown. But the Court doubted, Whether the Patentee might have ſuch Priviledg? But yet de bene eſſe, the Prohibition was granted. Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Morant and Candings Caſe. Cro, 1. Part, 67.

7. The King brought a Precipe Quod reddat of the 4th part of the Tythes and Offerings of the Church of St. Barſlow in the Weſt: And it was Ruled, That the Writ did lye. But note, in that Caſe, 16 E. 3. Quare Impedit, 147. That the Writ was not brought againſt the Prior as a Pariſhioner who ought to pay the Tythe, but againſt him as a Prior, for taking the Tythes againſt right; So as the Suit was not originally for them as Tythes, but for the tortious and wrongful taking of them. For Tythes ſet forth, are become Lay-Chattels, for which the King had his remedy at the Common-Law, if they were withheld from him. See 38 E. 3. 13. by Finchden. Cook 11, Part, in Doctor Grants Caſe.

8. A Prior Alien, Fermor of the King, was endebted to the King for his Ferm: and being ſued for the ſame in the Exchequer, He ſhewed unto the

the Court, that there was a Parſon who held a portion of Tythes, which was parcell of the poſſeſſions belonging to his Ferm, and that the Parſon withheld the Tythes from him, ſo as by reaſon thereof he could not pay the King his Ferm-Rent, without having thoſe Tythes out of the Parſon's hands: And thereupon a Quo minus iſſued forth out of the Court of Exchequer, at the Suit of the King and of the Prior, for the paying of thoſe Tythes to the King. It was there ſaid by Skipwith, Juſtice, That of that which concerneth the King, and may turn to his advantage, and haſten his buſineſs, whether the ſame be Spiritual or Temporal, the Court of Exchequer ſhall have Juriſdiction. But it was there agreed by the whole Court, That ſuch Suit for Tythes did not fall into the Juriſdiction of the Courts of Kings-Bench, or Common-Pleas: for that the right of Tythes is determinable onely in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. See 38 E. 3. 20. and 44 E. 3. 43, 44. The Prior of Ekeborns Caſe.

9. After the Statutes of 27 H. 8. & 31 H. 8. of Diſſolution of Monaſteries; By which Acts, many Advowſons, Parſonages, Vicarages, Penſions, Portions, and Tythes, by Conveyance and otherwiſe, were transferred and granted over unto layperſons, who were not capable of Tythes by the Common-Law: The Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 7. was made, By which Statute it was Enacted, That if any perſon which ſhould have any eſtate of Freehold or Inheritance, Term, Right or Intereſt, in any Parſonage, Vicarage, Portion, Tythes, Oblations, or other Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual profits then made Temporal, or which ſhould be ſuffered to go into Lay-mens hands, ſhould be diſſeiſed, wronged, or kept out of the Lawful Intereſt, Rights, or Inheritance to the ſame, That ſuch perſons ſo diſſeiſed, or wrongfully kept out of their Rights or poſſeſſions, their heirs, &c. ſhould have remedy in the Kings Temporal Courts for the recovery of their rights and poſſeſſions by Writs of Precipe Quod reddat, Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin, Writs of Dower, or other Writs, as the Caſe ſhould require: This Statute for the ſaid Tythes, Oblations, and Spiritual profits made Lay-Fees in Temporal mens hands, gave remedy in the King's Temporal Courts: Yet did not this Act take away the force of the Eccleſiaſtical Law concerning Tythes; but, for not ſetting forth, or for refuſing to pay the ſame, All Eccleſiaſticall perſons who had right before the ſaid Statute, might ſue for the ſame in the Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual Court: ſo as this Act of 32 H. 8. was but an Addition unto the Law in reſpect of the Lay-Fees, and no alteration or diminution of that power which Eccleſiaſticall perſons had for Tythes, to ſue for the ſame in the Spiritual Court before the making of that Statute: And upon this Law of 32 H. 8. was the Caſe of 7 E. 6. Dyer 83. grounded, where an Aſſiſe was brought de Libero Tenemento de quadam portione Decimarum: As alſo the Caſe of 5 Jac. the Counteſſe of Oxfords Caſe, where a Writ of Dower was brought of Prediall Tythes. Cook 11. Part, 13, 14. in Pridle and Nappers Caſe.

10. A man cannot preſcribe generally in him and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath in the Mannor of D, to have any Tythes appertaining to the ſame, becauſe Tythes are ſpiritual things, and due Jure Divino, for the ſubſtraction of which, remedy lyeth onely in the Spiritual Court, and no remedy at the Common-Law. Hill. 35 Eliz. winſcombs Caſe. But by a ſpeciall matter alledged, a Layperſon may alledge, that all thoſe who have eſtate in ſuch a Mannor, have uſed time out of mind to pay to the Parſon a certain yearly Penſion for maintenance of Divine Service, and in Contentation of all Tythes remaining within the ſaid Mannor; and ſuch a preſcription hath been adjudged good. Mich. 40 Eliz. in the Kings Bench. Piggott and Hernes Caſe, vouched in Cook. 2. Part, in the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe, 45.

11. In 19 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, It was debated, If Tythes were were Jure Divino, or by the Conſtitution of men onely? The Judges were all of Opinion, That they were due as well by the Conſtitution of Kings, as by the Law of God, 19 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench: and therewith agreeth, Doctor and Student, 166. If the Queſtion be de quota parte: For there it is holden, That the 60th part is due onely by mans Law. And the Opinion of Gerſon the Divine, is cited in his Treatiſe, entituled, Regulæ Moralis; where it is ſaid in this manner, Solutio Decimarum Sacerdotibus, eſt de jure Divino, quatenus inde ſuſtenter; ſed quoad hanc quam illam partem aſſignare, aut in alios redditus commutare, poſitivi juris eſt. And in another place, Non vocatur portio Curatis Decima pars, imò eſt interdum viceſima, aut triceſima. Doctor and Student, 166. 19 Eliz. Dyer, in B. R. adjudged.

12. The Rights of Tythes were ſometimes decided in Temporal Courts, before the Statute of 18 E. 3. Fitzh. Na. Br. Yet that did not make them to be Spiritual things before that Statute: For it is ſaid of them, as it was ſaid of Probate of Wills, in Cook 9. Part, in Henſloes Caſe, Probate of Wills and Teſtaments did belong unto the Courts of Lords of Mannors, and did appertain to the Spiritual Courts but of later times, ex Conſuetudine Angliæ, et non de jure Communi: Yet it is not to be doubted, but that Wills, and Teſtaments, and Legacies contained in them, were belonging Originally to Eccleſiaſticall Courts: But it is then ſaid, That Tythes, Quatenus Tythes, were Spiritual.

Eccleſiaſticall Court; payable jure Divino, or at leaſt jure poſitivo. Cook 11. Part, 13. in Pridle and Napper's Caſe. Naturally, it is the Tenth part of the Revenue of my Ground, or Land; not of my labour or induſtry, Hob. 250. They are things of Common-Right, and do of right belong unto the Church. Hob. 296. 2. Before the Councell of Lateran, Every man might have given his Tythes to what Church he pleaſed, and might have beſtowed them upon what perſon he thought beſt, for before that Councell, there were no Pariſhes, nor Pariſh Prieſt, that could claim them. But by a Canon made in that Councell, every man is ſince compellable to pay and give his Tythes to the Parſon or Vicar of that Pariſh, where the Tythes are ariſing: And although before the ſaid Canon, The Biſhop of every Dioceſſe might have made Diſtribution of them within his Dioceſſe, where he thought convenient, to Spirituall perſons, for their neceſſary maintenance, as Bede, Lib. 1. cap. 28. yet it is now otherwiſe. 3. In ſome books and Records, it appeareth, That Writs and Suits have bin brought at the Common-Law for Tythes: As 4 E. 3. 27. By Shard, A Writ of Right lyes at the Common-Law, De Advocatione Decimarum Eccleſiæ. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 30. acc. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes, 661. A Scire facias at the Common-Law lay of Tythes: So Regiſter, 165. A Writ of Covenant lay to levy a Fine de Decimis garbarum, with which agree 38 H. 6. 20. 4 E. 3. 27. and 29. 7 E. 3. 5. by Parning. And 44 E. 3. 5. an Aſſiſe was brought of Tythes: Yet it is to be obſerved, That the ſaid Writs and Suits were not for them, meerly or properly as Tythes, but as Lay-profits Apprender, Iſſuing or going out of the Lands, and not for them as Eccleſiaſticall Duties; For neither Aſſiſe, nor Præcipe did lye of Tythes at the Common-Law, or of any other Eccleſiaſtical Duty. See Doddridge in his Treatiſe of Advowſons.

4. An Aſſiſe was brought of Tythes, 44 E. 3. 5. But Note, and Obſerve there, That the Aſſiſe there brought, was of the Tenth of all manner of Corn and Grain growing in 100 Acres of Lands, after the Tythes of the Parſon were taken away, which was but a Lay-profit Apprender, and no Eccleſiaſtical duty.

5. If Tythes do lye in any Forreſt, as in the Forreſt of Windſor, Rockingham, or Sherwood, or other Forreſt which is not within any Pariſh. The King ſhall have them by his Prerogative, and not the Biſhop of the Dioceſſe, or Metropolitan of the Pariſh, as ſome have thought. 14 H. 4. 17. But yet it ſeemeth by 22. Aſs. 75. If there be cauſe of Suit for ſuch Tythes againſt the parties who ought to pay the ſame, ſuch Suit might be brought in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. But if a ſtranger taketh away ſuch Tythes from the Parſon or Vicar there for ſuch Treſpaſſe, the Suit may be in the Temporal Court, as the ſame may be for taking away of other goods in the like caſe: and ſo, if the Parſon, Vicar, or other Proprietor be ejected of his Tythes. It was adjudged 15 Car. in B. R. That an Ejectione Firmæ will lye of ſuch Tythes. See Styles 137.

6. The Leſſee for years of the Earl of H, prayed a Prohibition againſt the Vicar of L, to ſtay a Suit in the Spiritual Court for Tythes, becauſe the Lands out of which the Tythes were demanded, were parcell of the Forreſt of B; whereof the King was ſeiſed in the Right of his Crown, and he and all his Predeceſſors held the ſaid Lands diſcharged of Tythes; and ſhewed, that the King had granted the ſaid Forreſt to the Earl of Hertford in Fee and ſo he ought to have had them diſcharged from Tythes. In that caſe it was holden by the Court, That it was onely a Priviledge annexed to the Crown, during the time that the Land was in the Crown. But the Court doubted, Whether the Patentee might have ſuch Priviledg? But yet de bene eſſe, the Prohibition was granted. Mich. 3 Car. in C. B. Morant and Candings Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 67.

7. The King brought a Precipe Quod reddat of the 4th part of the Tythes and Offerings of the Church of St. Barſtow in the Weſt: And it was Ruled, That the Writ did lye. But note, in that Caſe, 16 E. 3. Quare Impedit, 147. That the Writ was not brought againſt the Prior as a Pariſhioner who ought to pay the Tythe, but againſt him as a Prior, for taking the Tythes againſt right; So as the Suit was not originally for them as Tythes, but for the tortious and wrongful taking of them. For Tythes ſet forth, are become Lay-Chattels, for which the King had his remedy at the Common-Law, if they were withheld from him. See 38 E. 3. 13. by Finchden. Cook 11. Part, in Doctor Grants Caſe.

8. A Prior Alien, Fermor of the King, was endebted to the King for his Ferm: and being ſued for the ſame in the Exchequer, He ſhewed unto the

the Court, that there was a Parſon who held a portion of Tythes, which was parcell of the poſſeſſions belonging to his Ferm, and that the Parſon withheld the Tythes from him, ſo as by reaſon thereof he could not pay the King his Ferm-Rent, without having thoſe Tythes out of the Parſon's hands: And thereupon a Quo minus iſſued forth out of the Court of Exchequer, at the Suit of the King and of the Prior, for the paying of thoſe Tythes to the King. It was there ſaid by Skipwith, Juſtice, That of that which concerneth the King, and may turn to his advantage, and haſten his buſineſs, whether the ſame be Spiritual or Temporal, the Court of Exchequer ſhall have Juriſdiction. But it was there agreed by the whole Court, That ſuch Suit for Tythes did not fall into the Juriſdiction of the Courts of Kings-Bench, or Common-Pleas: for that the right of Tythes is determinable only in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. See 38 E. 3. 20. and 44 E. 3. 43, 44. The Prior of Ekeborns Caſe.

9. After the Statutes of 27 H. 8. & 31 H. 8. of Diſſolution of Monaſteries; By which Acts, many Advowſons, Parſonages, Vicarages, Penſions, Portions, and Tythes, by Conveyance and otherwiſe, were transferred and granted over unto lay-perſons, who were not capable of Tythes by the Common-Law: The Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 7. was made, By which Statute it was Enacted, That if any perſon which ſhould have any eſtate of Freehold or Inheritance, Term, Right or Intereſt, in any Parſonage, Vicarage, Portion, Tythes, Oblations, or other Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual profits then made Temporal, or which ſhould be ſuffered to go into Lay-mens hands, ſhould be diſſeiſed, wronged, or kept out of the Lawful Intereſt, Rights, or Inheritance to the ſame, That ſuch perſons ſo diſſeiſed, or wrongfully kept out of their Rights or poſſeſſions, their heirs, &c. ſhould have remedy in the Kings Temporal Courts for the recovery of their rights and poſſeſſions by Writs of Precipe Quod reddat, Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin, Writs of Dower, or other Writs, as the Caſe ſhould require: This Statute for the ſaid Tythes, Oblations, and Spiritual profits made Lay-Fees in Temporal mens hands, gave remedy in the King's Temporal Courts: Yet did not this Act take away the force of the Eccleſiaſtical Law concerning Tythes; but, for not ſetting forth, or for refuſing to pay the ſame, All Eccleſiaſticall perſons who had right before the ſaid Statute, might ſue for the ſame in the Eccleſiaſtical or Spiritual Court: ſo as this Act of 32 H. 8. was but an Addition unto the Law in reſpect of the Lay-Fees, and no alteration or diminution of that power which Eccleſiaſticall perſons had for Tythes, to ſue for the ſame in the Spiritual Court before the making of that Statute: And upon this Law of 32 H. 8. was the Caſe of 7 E. 6. Dyer 83. grounded, where an Aſſiſe was brought de Libero Tenemento de quadam portione Decimarum: As alſo the Caſe of 5 Jac. the Couhteſſe of Oxfords Caſe, where a Writ of Dower was brought of Predial Tythes. Cook 11. Part, 13, 14. in Pridle and Nappers Caſe.

10. A man cannot preſcribe generally in him and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath in the Manor of D, to have any Tythes appertaining to the ſame, becauſe Tythes are ſpiritual things, and due Jure Divino, for the ſubſtraction of which, remedy lyeth onely in the Spiritual Court, and no remedy at the Common-Law. Hill. 35 Eliz. Winſcombs Caſe. But by a ſpeciall matter alledged, a Lay-perſon may alledge, that all thoſe who have eſtate in ſuch a Mannor, have uſed time out of mind to pay to the Parſon a certain yearly Penſion for maintenance of Divine Service, and in Contentation of all Tythes remaining within the ſaid Mannor; and ſuch a preſcription hath been adjudged good. Mich. 40 Eliz. in the Kings Bench. Piggott and Hernes Caſe. vouched in Cook. 2. Part, in the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe, 45.

11. In 19 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, It was debated, If Tythes were were Jure Divino, or by the Conſtitution of men onely? The Judges were all of Opinion, That they were due as well by the Conſtitution of Kings, as by the Law of God, 19 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench: and therewith agreeth, Doctor and Student, 166. If the Queſtion be de quota parte: For there it is holden, That the 60th part is due onely by mans Law. And the Opinion of Gerſon the Divine, is cited in his Treatiſe, entituled, Regula Moralis; where it is ſaid in this manner, Solutio Decimarum Sacerdotibus, eſt de jure Divino, quatenus inde ſuſtenter; ſed quoad hanc quam illam partem aſſignare, aut in alios redditus commutare, poſitivi juris eſt. And in another place, Non vocatur portio Curatis Decima pars, imò eſt interdum viceſima, aut triceſima. Doctor and Student, 166. 19 Eliz. Dyer, in B. R. adjudged.

12. The Rights of Tythes were ſometimes decided in Temporal Courts, before the Statute of 18 E. 3. Fitzh. Na. Br. Yet that did not make them to be Spiritual things before that Statute: For it is ſaid of them, as it was ſaid of Probate of Wills, in Cook 9. Part, in Henſloes Caſe, Probate of Wills and Teſtaments did belong unto the Courts of Lords of Mannors, and did appertain to the Spiritual Courts but of later times, ex conſuetudine Angliæ, et non de jure Communi: Yet it is not to be doubted, but that Wills, and Teſtaments, and Legacies contained in them, were belonging Originally to Eccleſiaſticall Courts: But it is ther[e] ſaid, That Tythes, Quatenus Tythes, were Spir[i]tual.

tuall things, and due ex jure Divino, and where not accompted as temporall Inheritances; for they could not be Appendant to Mannors or Lands, Cook 2. Part, in the Biſhop of Winchester's Caſe. Nor were they extinguiſhed by a Feoffment made of the Lands. 7 E. 6. 84. and Cook 11. Part, 13. in Napperer's Caſe. And by the Deviſe of all Lands, with all profits and Commodities belonging to the ſame, they did not paſſe; as it was adjudged in Perkins and Hind's Caſe, which ſee in Cook 2. Part, 13, 14. And yet that they were ſuch things as might be given in Exchange for Temporall Inheritances; for that in Exchanges, it is not requiſite, That the things exchanged be of one nature and quality; And therefore the Exchange for Annuity or Rent, was good, in 9 E. 4. 21. in the Prior of Sempringham's Caſe. But Note there, That the Exchange was betwixt Spirituall and Eccleſiaſticall perſons, and not betwixt Lay-men.

2. What perſons, where capable of Tythes; where ſuch perſons were to Sue for them; And where a Preſcription in Non Decimando, was good; where not: Cannot paſſe without Deed,

1. THe Biſhop of Winchester ſeiſed of a Mannor in the right of his Biſhoprick, did preſcribe, that he and all his Predeceſſors time out of mind, had holden the ſaid Mannor, and the Demeſne thereof; his Farmers, Tenants for years, and at Will diſcharged and acquitted from the payment of Tythes. The Biſhop made a Leaſe of parcell of the Demeſnes; the Farmer of the Rectory Libelled in the Spirituall Court, for the Tythes of the ſame Lands. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That at the Common-Law, None had Capacity to take Tythes, but onely a Spirituall perſon, or a mixt perſon, as the King; who was ſacro oleo unctus; and therefore by his Prerogative, capable of them, and of a Diſcharge of them, by the Common-Law. 2. Reſolved, That a Lay-man who was not capable of Tythes in Permancy, yet he was capable of a diſcharge of Tythes, by the Common-Law, by Grant of the Parſon, Patron, and Ordinary, or by Compoſition. 3. It was Reſolved, That Lay-men might preſcribe in modo Decimandi, but not in non Decimandi; but a Spirituall perſon might be diſcharged of Tythes, and alſo in Non Decimando. Cook 2. Part, The Biſhop of Winchester's Caſe. 4. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That if the Biſhop were abſolutely diſcharged of Tythes whileſt the Lands were in his hands by Preſcription, That the demiſing of the ſame to a Lay-man, could not make the ſame chargeable with the ſame.

2. A. Libelled in the Spirituall Court for Tythes of Rough Hay growing in the Marſhes, and Fenny Lands in M. The Plaintiff brought a Prohibition, ſurmiſing that there was 2000 Acres of Fenny Lands within the Pariſh, and 600 Acres of Meadow, and that the Pariſhioners payed Tythe of Hay and Grain growing upon the Meadow, and Arable Land, and had paid a certain rate for every Cow, and becauſe they had not ſufficient Graſſe to keep their Cattell in Winter, they uſed to gather this Hay called Fenny Fodder for the ſuſtenance of their beaſts, for the better encreaſe of their Husbandry, and for this cauſe, had bin alwayes freed from the payment of Tythes. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That this ſurmiſe was not ſufficient, for that one may not preſcribe in Non Decimando; and the alledging that they beſtowed it upon their Cattell there, is not any Cauſe of Diſcharge, for ſo they might preſcribe for Corn ſpent on their Family, or for Corn given in Provender to their Cattell. A Conſultation was Awarded. Mich. 2 Jac. in B. R. Webb and Sir Henry Warner's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 47, 48.

3. Monks are not of Evangelicall Prieſthood, ſcil capable of Tythes in pernancy, but meer Lay-men, and cannot preſcribe in Non Decimando. And Bede ſaith of them, That they are meer Laici, and the Monks of the Order of Præmonſtratenſes were ſuch; and therefore they could not preſcribe to be diſcharged of Tythes. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. in Dickenſon and Greenhowes Caſe, Popham, 157.

4. The Biſhop of Lincolne prayed a Prohibition againſt C. who Libelled againſt him in the Spirituall Court for Tythes out of the Mannor of D. The Biſhop did ſuggeſt, that he and his Predeceſſors had been ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor: and that as long as it had been in their poſſeſſion, it had been diſcharged of Tythes; and ſhewed, that in the time of King E. the 6th, the ſaid Mannor was conveyed to the Duke of S. in Fee; and afterwards re-granted to the Biſhop and his Succeſſors; It was adjudged in this Caſe, That although the Preſcription was good in the Caſe of Non Decimando, in the Caſe of a Spirituall perſon, yet in this Caſe, the ſame being interrupted by the Seiſin of the Duke of S. the Preſcription was gone. For the Tythes are not iſſuing out of the Lands, nor can Unity of Poſſeſſion extinguiſh them, nor are they extinguiſhed by Releaſe, and therefore in the principall Caſe, the Tythes were now payable in kind. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. the Biſhop of Lincoln and Cowper's Caſe. Leon. 248.

5. A Parſon Leaſed all his Glebe-Lands, with all Profits and Commodities, rendring 13 s. 4 d. pro omnibus exactionibus et demandis; and afterwards Libelled in the Spirituall Court againſt his Leſſees for the Tythes thereof. It was the Opinion of the Court, That Tythes are not things iſſuing out of Lands, nor any Rent or duty, but Spirituall; and if the Parſon doth Releaſe to his Pariſhioners, all demands in his Lands; his Tythes thereby are not extinct; and therefore a Conſultation was Granted. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Style and Miller's Caſe. Leon. 300. And ſo was it adjudged, 32 Eliz. in Babbington's Caſe, That the Leſſee ſhould pay Tythes to the Parſon, for that they are due jure Divino, and cannot be included in Rent.

6. If Tythes be ſevered, and ſet forth, and afterwards the Parſon Leaſe out the Parſonage, not mentioning the Tythes, the Tythes ſet forth ſhall paſſe; for although they be divided and ſevered, yet they are as yet Spirituall Duties of the Parſonage: But if the Tythes be carried into the Barn; and afterwards the Parſon Leaſeth out his Parſonage, with all profits, &c. thoſe Tythes ſhall not paſſe to the Leſſee, for that now they are become Lay-Chattels. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Smith's Caſe adjudged.

7. If a Parſon doth Demiſe his Rectory for years, the Tythes will paſſe inclusivè, although the Leaſe be by word onely; But if the Parſon Leaſe his Tythes alone, they will not paſſe, unleſſe the ſame be by Deed or Writing. Trin. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Withy and Paunder's Caſe, adjudged acc. But ſee, That ſtands upon a difference, For the Parſon may Demiſe his Tythes to the Owner of the ſoil, for a year by word onely, as it was agreed by all the Juſtices, Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. in Bellamy and Babthorp's Caſe. rott. 175. Godbolt. 373. but he cannot demiſe them to a ſtranger, but the ſame muſt be by Deed: and although Tythes will paſſe to the owner of the ſoil by Contract, as is ſaid: Yet may the Parſon ſue the owner for Tythes in kind in the Spirituall Court, and the owner by reaſon of the Contract, ſhall not have a Prohibition, as was holden. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. in Croſts's Caſe. But then the owner of the Owner may ſue the Parſon upon the contract in the Temporall Court, and recover as much in Damages; But then in his pleading, he muſt not declare of a Verball Contract, but muſt ſet forth the ſame to have been made in writing, and ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. in Pawling's Caſe.

8. In a Prohibition, the Plaintiff ſuggeſted, That the Lord Sbandois was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and Lands in the Pariſh of D, and that it was agreed between the Parſon and him, in Conſideration of 10 l. to be yearly paid to the Parſon during their joynt Lives, and his continuing Parſon, that the ſaid Lands, and the Tenants and Fermors thereof, ſhould be diſcharged from payment of Tythes for thoſe Lands, and ſhewed the Lord Sbandois paid the 10 l. yearly accordingly; and that notwithſtanding, the Defendant ſued the Plaintiff, being his Fermor, for Tythes. It was holden by the Court, That this was not a ſufficient Surmiſe to maintain the Prohibition: For an agreement to be diſcharged from Tythes, may be a year by word; but to have ſuch an Agreement for life, or years, cannot be without Deed. And although it was ſaid, An Agreement by Contract, by way of Retainer, is not any Leaſe; yet the Court held, That it could not be, that ſuch a ſurmiſe could be good. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Hawkes and Brayfields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 137. See Nelſon and Prettimans Caſe: and Rolls and Rolls Caſe, in B. R. adjudged accord. ibid.

9. Ejectione Firme was brought of a Leaſe of Tythes; and the Plaintiff doth not ſhew, that the Leaſe was by Deed: and becauſe Tythes cannot paſſe without Deed, after a Verdict found for the Plaintiff, It was ruled to be ill, and adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 19 Jac. in B. R. Bothe and Cromptons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 613.

3. Of Diſcharge of Tythes; how many wayes ſuch Diſcharge may be, viz. By Grant, Compoſition, Priviledge, Preſcription, Unity: and what ſhall be ſuch a Diſcharge by the Common-Law, or by the Statutes of 27 H. 8. 31. & 32 H. 8; what not: And other matters concerning diſcharge of Tythes.

1. THe Court were of Opinion, That where a Biſhop holds Lands diſcharged of Tythes, and he makes a Feoffment of the Land, the Feoffee ſhall be diſcharged of Tythes. And the like, If the King hath ancient Forreſt Land diſcharged of Tythes, and the King grants this Land, the Grantee is to be diſcharged of Tythes. And it is a general Rule, That he which may have Tythes, may be diſcharged of them. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 1. Part, 31.

2. A Parſon did Covenant and grant with one of

of his Pariſhioners; That in Conſideration of 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. per annum to be paid to him, That the Pariſhioners ſhould be diſcharged of all Tythes, upon Condition to be void upon default of payment: Afterwards the Parſon againſt his own grant, did ſue the Pariſhioners in the Spirituall Court for Tythes in Kind. It was moved for a Prohibition; but the Court would not grant it, becauſe that the Original, viz. the Tythes do belong to the Spiritual Court. But it was ſaid, That the Pariſhioners might have an Action of Covenant againſt the Parſon, upon the Deed in the Temporal Court. Mich. 16 Jac. in B. R. Barnwell and Pleiſers Caſe. Godbolt. 273.

2. Two Parſons were of two ſeveral Pariſhes, One of them claimed Tythes within the Pariſh of the other; and ſaid, That all his Predeceſſors, Parſons of ſuch a Church, ſcil. of D, had uſed to have the Tythe of ſuch Lands within the Pariſh of S, and pleaded the ſame in the Spiritual Court. The Court was of Opinion, That in this Caſe, a Prohibition did lye, for he claims only a portion of Tythes, and that by Preſcription, and not meerly as Parſon, or by reaſon of the Parſonage, but by a Collateral cauſe, ſcil. Preſcription, which is a Temporal cauſe and thing. See 35 H. 6. Br. to Preſcription 3. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 45.

4. A Parſon did contract with A. his Executers and Aſſigns, for 10 s. paid to him every year by A. his Executors and Aſſigns, That he, his Executors and Aſſigns, ſhould be quit from the payment of Tythes for ſuch Lands during the life of the Parſon: A. paid the Parſon 10 s, which he accepted of, and made B. an Enfant his Executor, and dyed: The Mother of the Enfant took Letters of Adminiſtration durante minori ætate of the Enfant, and made a Leaſe at Will of the Lands: The Parſon Libelled in the Spiritual Court for the Tythe of the ſame Land againſt the Tenant at Will. In this Caſe it was ſaid, That during the life of the Parſon, the Agreement did bind the Parſon: and although the Aſſignee could not ſue the Parſon upon the Contract, yet he ſhould have a Prohibition to ſtay his Suit in the Eccleſiaſticall Court, and put the Parſon to his remedy for the 10 s, upon the Contract, for that he could not have Tythe in kind, by reaſon of the Compoſition made. Paſch. 21 Jac. in B. R. Snell and Bennets Caſe. Godbolt 333.

5. Note, Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Where the Parſon of Dale Covenanted with one of his Pariſhioners, That he ſhould pay no Tythes: For which, the other Covenanted to pay the Parſon 5 l. yearly. It was agreed by the Court in that Caſe, That if no Intereſt of Tythes paſſe, but a bare Covenant, that then he who is ſued for the Tythes, hath no remedy but a Writ of Covenant: And in this caſe, it was the Opinion of the Court, That it was a bare Covenant, and that no Intereſt did paſſe. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Fulcher and Griffins Caſe.

6. A Prohibition was prayed, upon a ſuggeſtion of this Cuſtome, That for Tares cut or mowen before they be ripe, and given to Plough-Cattel, Tythes ought not to be paid: And another Cuſtome for Headlands ſowen with Corn, uſed to be fed with Plough-Cattel, or mowed or cut for that purpoſe, That the Owners ſhould be diſcharged of Tythes. It was holden by the Court, That this Suggeſtion grounded upon a ſpecial Cuſtome, was good: and the parties being ſued for the Tythes of the premiſſes in the Spiritual Court, the Court granted a Prohibition. Hill. 10 Car. in B. R. Mead and Thurmans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 285.

7. Note before, Cook 2. Part, the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe, It is agreed, That a Lay-man cannot preſcribe in non Decimando: Yet ſee Doctor and Student, 167, That a Country may preſcribe to be quit of the Tythe of Corn and Grain, ſo as the Vicars or Curates have ſufficient portions beſides to live upon. But it is there ſaid, That if one man of a Town would preſcribe to be diſcharged of tythe of Corn and Grain, ſuch Preſcription would be altogether void, unleſſe he did ſhew that he did recompence the Parſon or Vicar ſome other way. But one man in a Town, may preſcribe to pay a certain Penſion to the Parſon or Vicar in lieu and Contentation of all his Tythes, and ſuch a Preſcription, was adjudged good, in the Caſe of 40 Eliz. of Piggott and Horne; which ſee in Cook 2. Part, in the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. See 15 Car. in the Kings-Bench. A Hundred may preſcribe in not payment of Tythes; but a Pariſh, or a particular Town, cannot preſcribe in Non Decimando, but upon the reaſon in the Caſe, in Doctor and Student, as is ſaid: And ſo it was adjudged.

8. A Prohibition was prayed, to ſtay a Suit in the Spiritual Court for Tythes. It was ſurmiſed to be a Cuſtome within the Pariſh, That the Pariſhioner ſhould cut his graſſe, and make it into Cocks, and ſet out the 10th Cock for the Parſon, which was a diſcharge of the firſt and ſecond Veſture: And the Suit being for tythe of the After-Mowings by the Vicar; This Preſcription being alledged againſt him, he demurred thereupon. It was adjudged by the Court, that it was a good Preſcription, and that the ſame ſhould barr the Vicar. Paſch. 4 Jac. in B. R. Green and Auſtins Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 116.

9. In Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for ſubſtracting of Tythes, the Plaintiff entituled himſelf to the Tythes, as Proprietor of the Rectory tempore Quo, &c. the Plaintiff was poſſeſſed of the Land ſowed with Corn, (but had not then the Parſonage) and that tali die, before ſeverance of the Corn, he did ſell and paſſe this away unto the Defendant, and before ſeverance, he became to be Parſon of the ſame place, and ſo demanded Judgment, Whether contrary to his own grant, by this puiſne title happening to him in the interim, he ſhall have tythe? The Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea. It was ſaid, That the Defendant's Plea was not good; for he ſaith, That tempore Quo, the Plaintiff was poſſeſſed of the Land ſowed with Corn; but he doth not ſay, that he was then poſſeſſed of the Parſonage: but at the time of the taking, he was Proprietor of the Rectory; which is confeſſed. The Caſe upon the matter is but this, A man is poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for years, of Land ſowen with Corn; he doth grant this, and before ſeverance, becomes to be Parſon of the ſame place, whether he ſhall have now tythe of this Corn, contrary to his Grant. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he hath good right and title to the Corn; and eſpecially in this caſe, becauſe the Defendant hath not averred, that he was Parſon at the time of the Grant: For it was holden by Cook, Chief Juſtice, That if a Parſon ſoweth the ground, and is afterwards deprived, or doth reſign, if the tythe was not ſevered at the time of the Succeſſour's coming, he ſhall have the Tythes. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, that the Plea in barr was not good; and that the Plaintiff had good cauſe of Action: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B.R. Moyle and Ewers Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 283, 284.

10. In a Prohibition, upon a Suit in the Spiritual Court for Tythe-Hay: It was alledged in diſcharge, That the Abbot of E. was ſeiſed of the Manner of M, of which the Lands were parcell, and held them for himſelf, his Tenants, Commoners, Fermors, and Occupiers diſcharged of Tythes, until, at the time of the Diſſolution; and afterwards the ſame came to the Defendant, who ſued for Tythes: The Defendant pleaded in bar, That the Plaintiffs and all thoſe who had the houſe, and Land, had uſed to have Libertatem falcandi, to make Hay onely, without that they were Tenants, Fermors, or Occupiers of the Land, out of which he demanded Tythes: The Plaintiffs replyed, They did put in their Cattel, and alſo mowed the ſame, per quod, they were Occupiers of the Land, and ſo ought to be diſcharged for the ſame. It was the Opinion of the Court in this caſe, That he which takes any thing as a profit apprender, is not Tenant nor Occupier; if he takes the profits, he is to pay Tythes; here the Plaintiffs have Libertatem, or Poteſtatem falcandi; that doth not make them Fermors, Tenants, nor Occupiers: and the Concluſion of the Plaintiff per quod ſuit occupator, is but a Concluſion of his own; and it doth not appear to the Court, that he was Tenant, Fermor, or Occupier; for they have onely Jus falcandi: and the Preſcription goes to Tenants and Commoners onely. Wherefore it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiffs, and a Conſultation was awarded. Mich. 11 Jac. in B.R. Sucgherman and Coates, and Sir Henry Warners Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 249.

11. The Ciſtertians, Templers, and Hoſpitalers, by their Orders, were to defend Chriſtians againſt Infidels, and had a Priviledge granted unto them by the Pope in the Council of Lateran, ut Decimas Prædiorum ſuorum, quas in omnibus ſuis propriis excolunt, non tententur ſolvere. This was but a ſpeciall Priviledge for the Lands in their own manurance for the maintenance of Hoſpitality, and had many reſtrictions: 1. It extended onely to ſuch Lands as they had at the time of the Councel, and for ſo long time onely as the ſame remained in their own poſſeſſions. 2. It was ſpeciall, for the Lands in their own manurance. 18 Eliz. Dyer 349. Cook 2. Part, 44. For if they had Leaſed out their Lands to Fermors for Rent, the Fermors or Occupiers of thoſe Lands ſhould have had Tythes: and ſo it was adjudged, 10 Jac. in C. B. in Foggard and Huttons Caſe. 3. It was ſpeciall, and did not extend to new Erections upon the Lands priviledged: For that, Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. it was adjudged, That whereas a Parſon did Libell in the Spiritual Court for Tythes of a Mill, which was erected upon Lands which were diſcharged from payment of tythes by reaſon of ſuch Priviledge within the Statute of 31 H. 8, That a Prohibition would not lye in that Caſe: For that de Molendino novo erecto, tythes ſhould be paid. Mich. 15 Eliz. in Harpers Reports, acc.

12. The Abbot of Fountains, was of the Order of the Ciſtertians: And, 11 Johannis, before the Councel of Lateran, gave Lands to one Kirby, to hold of them by Fealty, &c. And afterwards in 36 E. 3. thoſe Lands did Eſcheat to the Abby. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That of thoſe Lands Eſcheated, tythes ſhould be paid. Like unto the Caſe of 29 E. 3. Quinzim 1. where Lands are holden of an Abby, and diſcharged of Quinzim; and afterwards the Lands came to the Abby by Eſcheat, the Abby paid Quinzim for thoſe Lands. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. Potter and Bathurſts Caſe. Mich. 15 Jac. Ibid. Sir Robert Dickenſons Caſe, acc.

13. Note: It was holden by the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, That Lands which come to the Templers, or others, priviledged from Tyths by the Councel of Lateran, after the Councel by purchaſe or Eſcheat, ſhall not partake of ſuch priviledge: But Lands then in Leaſe, or Copyhold, when the Leaſe is ended, or Copyhold comes to the Lord, it ſhall be priviledged, as thoſe then in their hands ſhould be. See 8 Car. in Cleytons Reports, Hodgſons Caſe. pl. 181. adjudged.

14. An Abbot held a Parſonage Impropriate which was diſcharged of Tythes; and was parcell of the Lands, the Tythes were ſuſpended in the hands of the Abbot: Afterwards, the poſſeſſions of the Abbot came to the King by the Statute of 31 H. 8. The Queſtion was, Whether the Lands ſo purchaſed by the Abbot before his ſurrender to the King, were diſcharged of tythes. It was the Opinion of Mr. Plowden in that Caſe, That they were not diſcharged, for that no Lands were diſcharged but ſuch, as were lawfully diſcharged by right Compoſition or other lawfull thing; and in the ſaid Caſe, the Lands were not diſcharged in right, but ſuſpended onely during the time that the Lands were in the Abbots hands. Mich. 17 Eliz. in B. R.

15. In a Prohibition, for that the Defendant ſued in the Spiritual Court for Tythe-Wood; The party did ſurmiſe, that the Lands were parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Priory of C; and that the Prior and his Succeſſors time out of mind held the Lands diſcharged of tythes, and ſo held them at the time of the Diſſolution; the other party traverſed it: whereupon they were at Iſſue, If the Prior held the Lands diſcharged tempore Quo; Exception was taken to the ſuggeſtion, that here is nothing elſe then a Preſcription de modo Decimandi, for here is not ſet forth any diſcharge, as Compoſition, Unity of poſſeſſion, Priviledge of Order. It was the Opinion of Wray, Chief Juſtice, although it be not ſet down, the ſpeciall manner of the diſcharge, yet it is well enough; for we are to take it, that it was by a lawfull means, as Compoſition, or otherwiſe: For the Statute is, That the King ſhall hold diſcharged as the Abbot, and we ought to take it, it was a lawful diſcharge of tythes tempore diſſolutionis. It was found for the Plaintiffs in the prohibition. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Naſh and Mollins Caſe. Leon. 240.

16. An Abbot had a Mannor within the Pariſh of D, and a Compoſition was made betwixt the Parſon of D. and the ſaid Abbot, That the Parſon ſhould have yearly certain Lands of Woad out of 30 Acres of the ſaid Mannor, for and in recompence of all tythes of Woad there; Afterwards the Parſonage was appropriated to the ſaid Abbot; and afterwards the ſaid Houſe was diſſolved, and the Mannor was granted to one, and the Rectory to another. It was holden in that caſe, That the ſaid portion of tythes was revived: For he had then, ſcil. the Mannor and the tythes in ſeverall Rights. Mich. 5 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 335. See there, the principall Caſe. Trin. 33 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, Knightly and Spencers Caſe. Leon. 331. acc.

17. Unity of the Parſonage and Lands which ſhould pay tythes by appropriation or otherwiſe, in the hands of Religious and Eccleſiaſticall perſons, had diſcharged them from the payment of tythes: and now ſince the Statute of 31 H. 8. ſuch an Unity of poſſeſſion in the ſaid Religious Houſes and Lands, and perſons, ſhall be a diſcharge for the Kings Patentee for the Lands that came to the Crown by the ſaid Statute. But then it was Reſolved, That ſuch an Unity muſt have been Juſta, Libera, æqualis & perpetua: It muſt have been Juſta, claymed by Right: For if either the Parſonages, Vicarages Lands, or Tythes, had come or been united to their houſes by Diſſeiſin, or other tortious and unlawful acts, ſuch an Unity had not been a good diſcharge within the Statute. 2. It muſt have been Equalis, there muſt have been a Fee-ſimple both in the Lands, and in the tythes or Parſonage in them: For if the Abbots, Priors, or other Religious perſons, had held but by Leaſe, that had not been ſuch an unity as the Statute intended. 3. It muſt have been Libera, free from the payment of any tythes: For if their Fermors, Tenants at Will, or years, had paid tythes, that had not been a ſufficient unity. And, 4. It muſt have been perpetua, time out of mind; and then for the infinite impoſſibility, and impoſſible infiniteneſſe, That ſuch Immunities and diſcharges, that ſuch Religious perſons and houſes had before time of memory could not be known, ſuch an unity had been a good diſcharge in their own hands: and at this day, ſuch an unity is a good diſcharge in the hands of the Kings Patentee, within the Statute of 31 H. 8. Cook 11. Part, 13. Pridle and Noppers Caſe.

18. Note: That at this day, Lands that come to the Crown by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Diſſolutions, ſhall pay tythes, although the Lands in the hands of the ſaid Religious perſons or houſes, were diſcharged from the payment of tythes; For that the Priviledges being perſonal priviledges, were extinguiſhed by the ſaid Statute of Diſſolution: And there are not any words in the ſaid Statute of 27 H. 8. to ſave the Priviledges: And the Statute of 31 H. 8, being a ſubſequent Law, had no retroſpect to thoſe priviledges: and ſo was it adjudged by all the Juſtices of England. 19. It was a Queſtion, If Beeches be Timber-Trees, and whether tythe ſhall be paid of them? But the better Opinion alwayes hath been, That they are not Timber, and that tythes ſhall be paid of them: Except, Where by Cuſtome of the Country, where there is great ſcarcity of Wood, they be accounted Timber-trees, for there no tythes ſhall be paid of them. Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. Pinder and Spencers Caſe, adjudged acc.

20. A. brought Debt for 600 l, upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth tythes of Wood; and ſhewed, that the Defendant had cut down 100 Loads of Wood, to the value of 200 l; and that the 10th part did amount to 20 l: The Plaintiff was Nonſuit, being miſtaken in his Declaration, for ſetting down 200 l; whereas he ſhould have ſet down the value of the Wood to have been 2000 l: In this caſe, it was ſaid by Tanfield, Juſtice, That Beech by the Common-Law, is not Timber: and ſo he ſaid it was adjudged in Cary and Pagets Caſe; and in that caſe it was holden, That Tythes ſhall not be paid for Beech above the growth of 20 years in a Common Country for Wood, as in Buckinghamſhire, for there it is reputed Timber; but in a plentifull Country of Wood it is otherwiſe, for there it is not Timber, and tythes ſhall be paid of it, as Silva Cedua, for which tythes ſhall be paid under the growth of 20, years. Paſch. 5 Jac. in C. B. Man and Somertons Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 84.

21. A Parſon Libelled in the Spiritual Court for the Tythes of young Trees planted in a Nurſery upon purpoſe to be rooted up, and ſold to be planted in other Pariſhes: The Queſtion was, Whether Tythes ſhould be paid for them? It was ſaid, They were of the nature of the Land, and tythes ſhould not be paid of them, no more then of the Mines of Coal, or Stones digged; or for Trees ſpent in fuel in the houſe. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That for as much as he made a profit of ſuch young trees, tythes ſhould be paid of them, when he diggs them up and ſells them in another Pariſh, as well as of Corn and Carrets, or ſuch things. Hill. 14 Car. in B. R. Gibs and Wyburs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 378.

22. A Record of a Prohibition was ſhewed to the Court, where a Prohibition was awarded to the Spiritual Court, for tythes of Willowes, upon a ſurmiſe, that they are of uſe as Timber in the County of Southampton. In that caſe it was ſaid, If Willowes grow within the Scite of a houſe, it is Waſte to fell them; yet if they be felled, that tythes ſhall be paid of them. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1918. Goffly and Pinders Caſe. Rob. 219.

23. Tythes generally and originally are not payable for houſes of habitation, nor of any Rent reſerved upon any demiſe of them: For tythes are to be paid of things which grow and renew every year by the act of God. And for the Houſes in London, tythes anciently were not paid; For the profits of the Churches in London did conſiſt onely in Oblations, Obventions, and Offerings: And afterwards by a Decree made in the year 1532, and afterwards confirmed by Act of Parliament made 37 H. 8. Cap. 12. The Parſons in London were to have 2 s. 9 d. in every pound of Rent, in lieu of a Tythe. But if a Modus be alledged, to pay 12 d. in every pound of Rent for every houſe within ſuch a Pariſh in London for the tythe of the houſe, this is a good Modus, for it may be, that for the Land upon which the houſes have been built, ſuch a Modus of 12 d. time out of mind hath been paid. Cook 11. Part, 16. Dr. Grauns Caſe.

24. The Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 6. is, That no Maſter and Fellowes of a Colledg in Cambridge or Oxford, ſhall make any Leaſe for life or years of any Farm of any of their Lands, Tenements, &c. unleſſe a third part at the leaſt of the ancient Rent, be reſerved and paid in Corn for the ſaid Colledges, otherwiſe the caſe to be void: In an Ejectione Firme brought of a Leaſe made of the Rectory of St. Lawrence Church in London; the Queſtion was, Whether the Leaſe were void or not; becauſe Tythes in London do not conſiſt of ſuch things, but onely in money according to the Decree made concerning the ſame. It was holden in that caſe, That this Leaſe was good, notwithſtanding the defect by the ſpeciall Reſervation, which is limited and appointed by the ſaid Statute. And it was ſaid, That a Leaſe of a Houſe, Mill, Ferry, were out of the ſaid Statute. And it was ſaid and agreed, That the ſaid Statute ought to be intended of Tythes of Common-right, and not of ſuch Cuſtomary Tythes as thoſe of London: and therefore if all the Pariſhioners preſcribe in Modo Decimandi, ſcil. to pay a certain ſum of money for all manner of Tythes, upon demiſe of ſuch a Rectory, ſuch ſpeciall reſervation is not neceſſary; for theſe are Tythes againſt common right, and no Tythes are within the ſaid Statute, but thoſe which are annual. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Kemp and Hollingbrooks Caſe. Leon. 19. 20.

25. Modus Decimandi is, When Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, have been given to the Parſon, and his Succeſſors, or an annuall certain ſum or other profit alwayes time out of mind to the Parſon and his Succeſſors, in full ſatisfaction of all Tythes in kind in ſuch a place; and all Preſidents in Prohibitions in diſcharge of Tythe in caſe de Modo Decimandi, run thus, That ſuch a ſum had been alwayes paid in plenam contentationem ſatisfactionem et exonerationem omnium et ſingularum Decimarum, &c. And although that the ſum be not paid, yet cannot the Parſon ſue for Tythes in kind, but for the money: and although Parſons did ſue in the Spiritual Court, and yet pay pro modo Decimandi, yet the annual payment of money, was as Temporal as the annuall profits of Lands are: and therefore the Tryal of a Modus Decimandi ſhall be at the Common-Law, and not in the Spiritual Court. Trin. 7 Jac. in the Caſe de Modo Decimandi, Prohibitions debated before the King. Cook Select Caſes, 40. & 46.

26. A. ſued a Prohibition againſt B, Parſon of O, becauſe he Libelled in the Spiritual Court for tythes of Agiſtments; and the Plaintiff pleaded, That he had alwayes paid 12 d. for every Milch-Cow going in ſuch a Paſture; and for this payment he had been diſcharged of tythes for all Agiſtments in that Land. In this caſe it was ſaid, That this payment of money for Milch-Beaſts, ſhould not diſcharge him from the payment of Tythes for other beaſts. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Sharrington and Fleetwoods Caſe. Goldeſbr. 157.

27. The Parſon of St. Clements without Temple barr, Libelled againſt a Pariſhioner for tythes of certain Stables, and ſet forth in his Libell, That of common right and preſcription time out of mind, the Parſons there had uſed to have a Modus Decimandi, after the rate of the 10th part of the yearly rent or value of the ſame. It was the Opinion of the Court, That in this caſe a Prohibition ſhould be granted; for de Communi jure, no tythes are to be paid of the yearly Rent or value of houſes, for tythes are paid for the Revenue and encreaſe of things; and therefore no Tythes are paid for houſes in any Cities or Towns in England, ſaving in London; and this Pariſh is out of London, and the Liberties thereof; now where there is no tythe at all, there can never be a Modus Decimandi; and yet it ſeems that this kind of payment hath been long uſed in London; which certainty was by uſe. But for houſes, Oblations were paid in all places; which are now by the Statute brought to a certainty, ſcil. a groat for a houſe. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Doctor Lyſfield and Tyſdales Caſe. Hob. 10, 11.

28. To pay a Buck or a Doe, or the ſhoulder of a Deer, when a Deer is killed, may be a good Modus Decimandi for the tythe of a Park; and although that afterwards the Park be diſparked, and converted into Tillage or Hop grounds, yet the Parſon ſhall not have tythes in kind; but the Modus doth remain: ſo it is if all the Park pale fall down, which is a diſparking in Law; yet the ſame doth not deſtroy the Modus, for the ſame may be a Park again. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. adjudged acc.

29. It was ſuggeſted to have a Prohibition That A. was ſeiſed of 140 Acres of Land, which were parcell of a Park, and a Modus Decimandi by preſcription was ſaid to be, That the Tenements of the ſaid 140 Acres of Lands for the time being, had uſed to pay for the tythes of the ſaid Lands 2 s. in monies, and the ſhoulder of every third Deer which was killed in the ſame Park, in Conſideration of all Tythes of the ſaid Park: and it was ſhewed, that the ſaid A. had enfeoffed one C. of the ſaid 140 Acres of Land, who bargained and ſold the ſaid Land to the Plaintiff, who prayed the Prohibition: The Defendant ſaid, That the ſaid Park is now diſparked, and that the ſame is now converted into arrable Lands, and paſture grounds, and ſo demanded Tythes in kind. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That by the diſparking of the Park, the Preſcription was not gone, nor extinct, becauſe the preſcription is layed to be to the 140. Acres of Lands, and not to the Park: and although that the ſhoulder of the Deer, being but a caſual thing, and at the pleaſure of the party, be gone, yet the ſame did not make void the preſcription; and the act of the party ſhall not prejudice the preſcription: and although it be not a Park now in form and Reputation, yet in Law it doth and ſhall remain a Park. It was adjudged, the Modus Decimandi did continue. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Cowper and Andrews Caſe. Gobbolt. 237. Hob. 40, 41. 42. acc. the ſame Caſe.

30. Suit was for Tythe of Corn growing in a Park, which was lately diſparked: The Defendant did plead a Cuſtome to pay Veniſon, and a Horſe paſture time out of mind, in ſatisfaction of all Tythes, &c. It was given in Evidence, That Corn had been ſowed there, and reaped, but no Tythes paid: but the Witneſſes proved a Buck paid yearly, but could not tell whether it was out of this Park, or not: The Jury found, That if it was paid out of any Park, If it was accepted and allowed, this was better to uphold the Cuſtome, then if particularly tyed to pay a Deer out of this Park; for now if the Park be diſparked, yet this payment of the Deer may be performed: Otherwiſe it is, If the Cuſtome had been a Deer out of this Park onely; for then by the deſtroying of that, the Cuſtome is gone alſo. It was holden in this caſe by the Judges, That although the Deer had been often, and for the moſt part paid, out of this this Park, yet this doth not alter the Cuſtome if it may be paid out of any Park; and if the Cuſtome were to pay a ſhoulder of Veniſon generally, It may come out of any Park. Wherefore the Judges directed the Jury, That if they found the Deer was to come out of the Park which is now diſparked, then, to find a Special Verdict. 13 Car. at the Aſſizes at York. Thwſbyes Caſe. Claytons Reports, 91.

31. Note: Tythes by Cuſtome may be altered in any other thing: which Cuſtome ſhall be a Modus Decimandi, and bind the Parſon and his Succeſſors; If the Lord of a Mannor grants parcel of his Mannor to a Parſon in Fee to be quit of Tythes, and makes an Indenture, and the Parſon with the aſſent of the Ordinary (without the Patron) grants to him, That he ſhall be quit of Tythes of his Mannor for that parcell of Land, If after he or his Aſſigns be ſued in the Spiritual Court for Tythes of his Mannor, he or his Aſſigns ſhall have a Prohibition upon that Deed; and therefore if the Lord of the Mannor hath alwayes holden his Mannor diſcharged of Tythes: and the Parſon had before time of memory, or in ancient times divers Lands in the ſame Pariſh of the gift of the Lord, of which the Parſon is ſeiſed at this day in Fee, in reſpect of which, the Parſon, nor any of his Predeceſſors ever had received any Tythes of that Mannor; If the Parſon now ſueth for Tythes of the Mannor, the Owner of the Mannor ſhall ſhew that ſpeciall matter, that the Parſon and his Succeſſours time out of mind have holden thoſe Lands of the guift of one who was Lord of the Mannor: and the ſame is good Evidence to prove the Surmiſe in the Prohibition. 6 Jac. in C. B. in the Caſe of Modus Decimandi. Cook Stiff Caſes, 14. & 46.

32. If a Cuſtome be alleadged, That the Parſon ſhall have but the Tenth Sheafe of Wheat for all manner of Tythe of Corn and Grain; this is no good Cuſtome. 38 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged. So a Cuſtome was alleadged, That the Owners of ſuch a Farm had uſed, time out of mind, to take back 30 ſheaves of the Corn, after the Tythe ſet forth, to their own uſes. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That it ought to be averred, That the Farm was a great Farm, otherwiſe the Cuſtome would not be good; for that it tended to the impoveriſhing of the Parſon or Vicar, in taking away a good part of the profits. Mich. 11 Jac. in Count Jux, and Sir Charles Chandiſhes Caſe. But in the Argument of that Caſe, It was ſaid and agreed, That if a man ſoweth his Lands with Corn, and dyeth; and afterwards his Heir makes a Compoſition with the Parſon and Vicar to have but the third ſheafe for his Tythe; That this is a good Compoſition, and ſhall bind the Parſon; and that if afterwards the Heir doth endowe his Mother of the third part of the ſame Land, the Mother ſhall have benefit of his Compoſition, although ſhe cometh in paramount the ſame.

33. A Vicar did contract with his Pariſhioner to pay ſo much for encreaſe of Tythes, and dyed, and his Succeſſour ſued in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for them. A Prohibition in this Caſe was granted by the Court. The words of the Contract were (Inter ſe Convenerunt) It was holden that this was not a Real Compoſition, although that the Biſhop did call it Realis Compoſitio, for his calling of it ſo, doth not alter the nature of it; but it remains a perſonal Contract, and ſo ſhall not bind his Succeſſor, although it were confirmed by the Biſhop. It was ſaid by Mallet Juſtice in this Caſe, A Real Contract, although it be made betwixt Spiritual perſons, and of Spiritual things, is onely queſtionable at the Common-Law. Paſch. 17 Car. in B. R. Hitchcock and Hitchcocks Caſe. Marſh. 87.

34. Every Modus Decimandi is by Preſcription, and is intended to have had a lawful beginning upon ſome Agreement at the firſt made, for valuable conſideration, with the Parſon and Vicar: And therefore, although that Tythes in kind have been paid for 20 or 30 years together, yet the ſame ſhall not deſtroy the Compoſition, or Modus Decimandi. And vid. Doctor and Student: If it was ordained by Law, That all paying of Tythes in kind ſhould ceaſe; and that every Curate ſhould have aſſigned him ſuch a portion of Land, Rent or Annuity, as ſhould be ſufficient for him, ſuch a Law would be a good Law: And then if Tythes might be ſo changed by a poſitive Law into Rent, or Annuity, then there is no Queſtion to be made, but that a Compoſition made with the Parſon or Vicar, to pay a Modus to them, (which hath continued out of mind.) Cuſtome being equivalent to a Law,) will bind the Parſon and Vicar, or their Succeſſors. But a Modus Decimandi cannot begin at the day, but muſt be by Preſcription. But yet at this day a Compoſition may be made which ſhall bind during the life of him that made it, though not his Succeſſors. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Mildmay and Huttons Caſe.

35. In an Action for Tythes, a Preſcription was laid, That 21. 9 d. had been paid for 11. Doles of Meadow, the Caſe was, That theſe 11. Doles were parcel taken out of a great Meadow; and the Witneſſes did prove, That a third had been paid for every Dole of the whole Meadow, of which the 11. Doles were parcel. It was adjudged in this caſe againſt the Plaintiff, becauſe he layed his preſcription entire, and ſeverall thirds for every Dole, though it did amount to ſo much:

and

and thereupon the Plaintiff was Nonſuit. 13 Car. Setons Caſe.

36. Note; That if a preſcription be layd to pay a Modus Decimandi to 100 Acres, or to ſeveral things, if there be a failer of one Acre, or of one thing, it is a failer of the whole Preſcription: and ſo it was adjudged, 15 Car. in Sir Arthur Robinſons Caſe. See Claytons Reports, Sect. 135.

That a Vicar cannot have Tythes, but by Guift, Compoſition, or Preſcription; for that all Tythes de jure do belong to the Parſon. Marſh. 11.

4. An Action of Treſpaſs was brought by a Parſon againſt a Vicar for underwoods, and each of them did claim the underwoods by Preſcription, as his Tythes, that (although their Claim was by Preſcription, yet becauſe the Right of the Tythes was in Debate onely, the Temporal Court was ouſted of the Juriſdiction of them. 22 E. 4. 24. But if a Parſon or Vicar claim a portion of Tythes by Preſcription onely, which is a Temporal thing, and ſueth in the Spiritual Court; It was holden by Suit and Clerk Juſtices, 29 Eliz. in the Kings Bench, That a Prohibition lyeth.

5. Spratt, Sub-Deacon of Exeter, did libell againſt Nicholſon, Parſon of A. in the Spiritual Court, pro annuali penſione de 30 l. out of his Parſonage, and ſhewed in his Libel, How that tam per realem Compoſitionem quam per antiquam et laudabilem conſuetudinem, ipſe et Predeceſſores ſui habuerant et habere conſueverant prædictam annualem penſionem, out of the Parſonage of A. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That although he obtained the ſame Penſion by Temporal Grounds, viz. by Preſcription, and real Compoſition; yet becauſe the Parſons were both Spiritual Perſons, he had his Election to ſue for the ſame in the Spiritual Court, or in the Temporal Court: and that the Statute of 34 H. 8. doth licenſe Spiritual Perſons, to ſue for Penſions in the Spiritual Court: But if a Spiritual Perſon, that hath ſuch a Penſion by Preſcription, bring a Writ of Annuity for the ſame (as he may do) and do declare upon the Preſcription, he cannot afterwards ſue for the Annuity in the Spiritual Court by the name of a Penſion; for that he hath determined his Election; and that if he doth, then in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition will lye. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. Spratt and Nicholſon's Caſe. Godbolt 196.

6. In Errour, brought for Reverſing of a Recovery in a Writ of Entry into the Poſt. The Recovery was of the Manor of F. and ſix Meſſuages, and of the Yearly Rent or Penſion of 4 Marks, iſſuing out of the Rectory of F. and of the Advowſon of the Church of F: And amongſt others, Errour was aſſigned, becauſe he demands the Advowſon of the Rectory; and alſo becauſe the Demand was in the Diſjunctive a Rent or Penſion:

For

For if a Penſion iſſuing out of a Rectory, ſhall be ſaid to be a thing meerly Spiritual, and not to be demanded by our Law, or meerly of another nature, then the Rent it ſelf, wherewith it is contained by the word (Or) then it is Erroneous. But it was holden by the Court, That a Rent and a Penſion iſſuing out of, &c. ſhall be taken to be all one: For if a man grants a Penſion of 20 s. a year, iſſuing out of the Manner of D; or of the Rectory of S, theſe are Rents iſſuing out of them: and if the Demand had been of an Annual Rent, or an Annuity iſſuing out of the Rectory, this had been good: And therefore it was holden by the whole Court, that the Demand was good; and eſpecially being in a Common Recovery, which is a Common Aſſurance of the Realm; and the Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 35 in Eliz. B. R. Crocker and Dormer's Caſe. Poph. 23.

7. A Parſon Libelled for Tythes in the Spiritual Court, and ſet forth, That the Tythes were ſet forth, and that the Defendant did hinder and ſtop him to carry them away: But becauſe he did not ſue there upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for he doth not mention the double value as he ought, and as it was agreed by all the Juſtices he ought to have done; nor mention the Statute as he ought to do; a Prohibition in that Caſe was awarded. Paſc. 17 Car. in C. B. adjudge, acc.

8. It was moved, to arreſt Judgment in an Action brought upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. becauſe the Plaintiff ſaid, the Defendant was Occupier, but did not ſhew what Intereſt he had: But it was holden by the Court, That he needs not ſo to do: For whoſoever taketh the Tythe away is a Treſpaſſer, and an Action lyeth againſt a Diſſeiſor for Tythes; and if one collecteth them, and another carryeth them away, an Action will lye againſt any of them.

9. Note, It was adjudged, That if a Pariſhioner ſetteth forth his Tythes, and they ſtand upon the Land two or three days, and afterwards he taketh and carryeth them away; That this is no ſetting forth of the Tythes within the Rent of 2 E. 6. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Anderſon's Caſe adjudged.

5. Where, and what perſon ſhall pay Tythes, and what not: Of what things Tythes ſhall be payed, and of what not: And what ſhall be ſaid a good Modus Decimandi for payment of Tythes, what not; and of divers other things concerning the payment of them, And the difference between Prædiall, and other perſonall Tythes.

1. ALL Tythes are Prædiall, Perſonall, or Mixt: Prædiall Tythes are ſuch as encreaſe, or renew yearly on ground, as Corn, Grain, Graſſe, Hops, Saffron, Woad, Hemp, Flax, and other profits ariſing meerly off the Ground. Perſonall Tythes, are thoſe which are paid of the profits of ſuch things as are gained by the Induſtry of man; Mixt Tythes, are thoſe which are called Prediall immediats, as Calves, Lamb, &c. which come not immediately off the ground, but proceed of things maintained out of the ground: of all theſe ſorts, Tythes ſhall be paid, but with this Proviſo, or Limitation, That the party who is to pay the Tythe of them, have a property in them; For of things which are feræ naturæ, and of which a man hath not an abſolute property: Or of things which are meerly for pleaſure, Tythes ſhall not be paid: And therefore of Apes, Monkeyes, and the like, Tythe ſhall not be paid, 12 H. 8. 4. by all the Juſtices.

2. Note, There are Decimæ Majores, et Decimæ minutæ: In Treſpaſſe for taking of two Loads of Woad; the Jury found, That if they were Minutæ Decimæ, then the Jury found the Defendant guilty, if they were not Minutæ Decimæ, then for the Plaintiff: It was ſaid for the Plaintiff, that without more circumſtances, it ſhall not be intended Minutæ Decimæ, for it may be a great quantity of Woad may be ſowen, and the greateſt part of the Commodity in the Pariſh may conſiſt in it, for Minutæ Decimæ are but of ſmall conſideration in a Pariſh, as Hearbs in a Garden, and ſuch like; and therefore Woad ſowen in a Field, is not Minutæ Decimæ: It was Reſolved by the Court, That Woad growing in the nature of an Hearb, the Tythe thereof ought to be accounted Minutæ Decimæ, and belong to the Viccar. And the Dean and Chapter of Norwich's Caſe, Paſc. 42 Eliz. was vouched to prove it, That the tythe of 40. Acres of Land ſowed with Saffron, did belong unto the the Vicar, and not to the Parſon, becauſe they were minuta Decima. Hill. 1 Car. in C. B. Sir Richard Udall and the Vicar of Alton's Caſe. Croke, 1. Part, 20. See Hutton. 77. the ſame Caſe.

3. A Prohibition was prayed becauſe the Parſon Libelled in the Spirituall Court for the tenth part of a Bargain of ſheep, which had depaſtured in the Pariſh from Michaelmas to our Lady-day: the party ſurmiſed, that he would pay the tenth part of the Wool of them, according to the cuſtome of the Pariſh: The Court would not Grant a Prohibition, for that, by this way, the Parſon might be defrauded of all, and the Sheep being now gone to another Pariſh, he cannot have any Wooll at this time, becauſe it was not the time of Shearing. Note in that Caſe, It was ſaid, That de animalibus inutibilibus, the Parſon ſhall have the third part of the bargain for depaſture, as Horſes, Oxen, &c. but de animalibus utibilibus, he ſhall have tythe in ſpecie. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Hob. 197.

4. If a Parſon of a Church purchaſeth a Mannor within his Pariſh, by this purchaſe, and Unity of Poſſeſſion, the Mannor which before was Tytheable, is now made Non Decimabilis, becauſe he cannot pay Tythes to himſelf, but if he maketh a Leaſe of his Parſonage and Rectory to a ſtranger, the Parſon himſelf ſhall pay tythes of his Mannor to his Leſſee, and ſo if the Parſon maketh a Feoffment of his Mannor, the Feoffee ſhall pay Tythe to the Parſon, becauſe Tythes are due by the Law of God ex debito, and cannot be extinct, into whoſe hands the Lands come, unleſſe they come to the hands of the Parſon himſelf. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 43.

5. Tythes ſhall be paid of Pheaſants, Partridges, but they are not Prediall, but Perſonall; ſo it is of Coneyes taken in a Warren, and of Doves in a Dove-houſe; they are not Prediall, and they cannot be ſet forth; But Quære 15 Car. in B. R. by Barkley Juſtice, If Tythes ſhall be paid of Coneyes, becauſe they are not Tytheable, but by Cuſtome. A Faukner who Hauks for his pleaſure, ſhall not pay Tythe of the Foul which he takes, but, If a Fowler kill Foul, and make profit of them; It hath bin holden, he ſhall pay a perſonall Tythe for them: If a Man ſteals Conyes out of a Warren, or Doves out of a Dove-houſe, he ſhall not pay Tythe of them, becauſe he is not lawfull owner of them; and the Law gives him not a property in them: And the right Owner of them ſhall not pay Tythe of them, becauſe he hath not the profit of them. Paſc. 15 Car. adjudged acc.

6. If Cattell be pawned, or pledged, the Gagee ſhall pay Tythe of them, becauſe he is Owner of them for the time; But if a man bail goods to Re-bail, Tythes of them ſhall not be payed by the Baylee, becauſe he hath no property in them, but onely a Re-bailer, ibid.

7. A Parſon Libelled in the Spirituall Court for the Tythes of a Fulling-Mill, and ſuggeſted, that the Miller fulled every Week 40 Cloaths, and did gain of every Cloath 2 s. Wherefore he demanded Tythes for them: A Prohibition was Granted in that Caſe; for it was ſaid by the Juſtices, That by the Law of the Land, he ought not to pay Tythes of ſuch Mills; For ſuch things as come onely by the Labour of men, Tythes are not payable, but of things which are renuable every year. Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Dawbridge and Johnſon's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 523.

8. If Land lyeth Fallow every two or three years, the ſame is a charge unto the Owner, and Tenant for that time, and an advantage to the Parſon in the bettering of his Crop the year following, when the ſame is ſowed with Corn or Grain; And therefore, although the Graſſe and feeding of the Fallow-ground for that year, be ſome ſmall profit to the Owner of the ſoil, yet he ſhall not pay Tythe for the ſame, As it was adjudged, Paſc. 7 Jac. in C. B. But ſee 15 Car. by Barkley Juſtice, in C. B. it was adjudged, That if Lands be Tytheable, And the Tenant or Occupier of the Land, will not Plough it, or Manure it, eſpecially thereby to prejudice the Parſon; That in ſuch Caſe the Parſon may ſue the Tenant in the Eccleſiaſticall Court to have Tythe of that Land.

9. Tythe ſhall not be paid of Quarreys of Stone, nor of Tyle, Brick, Lime, Gravel, Sand, and Clay, for theſe are parcell of the Inheritance, and the Parſon or Vicear have the Tythe of the Graſſe growing upon the ſame Lands, and the Land ſhall not pay a double Tythe, Regiſter. 55. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 53. ſee Br. to Diſmes 18. See Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. in Skinner's caſe. It was adjudged, That Tythes ſhall not be paid of the Roots of Coppice-Woods which is grubbed up, unleſſe it be by Cuſtome. Marſh. 58.

10. Note, That 20 Eliz. It was the Opinion of Popham Chief Juſtice, and of all other the Judges, That Coals are not Tytheable, and therefore a Preſcription, de Non Decimando, in them is good.

11. If Wood be felled for fencing of the Corn, or Paſtures, The Parſon or Vicear ſhall not have Tythe of it; And if there be Parſon and Vicear in one Church, and the Vicear hath the Tythe of Woods, and the Parſon the Tythe of the Paſtures; And Wood be felled for fencing and incloſing of the Paſtures, the Vicear ſhall not have Tythe of the Wood. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Hide and Ellis's Caſe. adjudged,

12. If

12. If Wood be cut and imployed for Hop-poles, where the Parſon or Vicar have Tythe Hops, they ſhall not have Tythe of the Hop-poles. So if a man have a great Family, and much Wood be felled, and ſpent in houſe-keeping, Tythe ſhall not be paid of ſuch Wood, by Hobart Chief Juſtice. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. White and Bickerſtaff's Caſe. Quære that Caſe.

13. A Prohibition was granted to ſtay a Suit for Tythe Wood, upon a ſurmiſe, That the Wood was ſpent in his Houſe for firing, and ſhews, That the Cuſtome in the ſame Pariſh is, That the owners of any houſe and Land in the ſaid Pariſh, who pay Tythes to the Parſon, ought not to pay Tythe of Wood ſpent for Fewell in their houſes; And Iſſue being upon this Cuſtome, It was found for the Defendant. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That although it be found there is no ſuch Cuſtome, That he ought not to pay Tythe for Wood ſpent in his houſe, nor for fencing-ſtuff for Hedges, but per legem terræ ought to be diſcharged of them: But it was Reſolved by the Court, That it is not de jure per legem terræ, that any be diſcharged of them; For it is uſuall in Prohibitions, to alledge Cuſtomes, or by reaſon of other Lands whereof he payes Tythes, that he is diſcharged of that Tythe, but not to alledge that per legem terræ, he is diſcharged; And in this Caſe, the Plaintiff in the Prohibition having alledged a Cuſtome; and it being found againſt him, It was adjudged for the Defendant, That a Conſultation ſhould be Awarded. Trin. 4 Car. in C. B. Cro. 1. Part, 80. Newton and Fermor's Caſe.

14. A Prohibition was Granted againſt the Parſon of W. in the County of L. for ſuing in the Spirituall Court for the Tythe of Trowts taken in a River, becauſe being feræ naturæ they are not Tytheable, and a Preſident was ſhewed, 5 Car. where a Prohibition was Granted againſt the ſame Parſon for ſuing for Tythe Eeles taken in the River, becauſe they were feræ naturæ: And it was ſaid, That in Yarmouth, was a ſuit for Tythe Herrings taken in the Sea, but they could not prevail in it. Jones Juſtice ſaid, That in Wales they uſe to pay Tythe for Herrings; And in Ireland it is a Common courſe to pay Tythe for Salmons taken in Rivers. It was ſaid, That that may be peradventure by Cuſtome, for otherwiſe Tythes be not for Fiſh taken in Rivers. Hill. 9 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 247. See and Note, That by the Cuſtome of the Realm, Tythe ſhall be paid for Fiſh taken in the Sea; but the tenth Fiſh ſhall not be paid, but a ſmall ſum of mony in lieu and conſideration of the Tythe: But if Fiſh be taken in a Pond, or in a ſeverall Piſcary, and not in the Sea, or in any open River, there the Owner ſhall pay Tythe thereof as a prediall Tythe which ought to be ſet out within the Statute of 2 E. 6. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Deſmond's Caſe. Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. adjudged acc. See Trin. 9 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 192. acc.

15. A Prohibition was prayed, for ſuing for divers kinds of Tythes, and inter alia, for Honey, upon a ſurmiſe that it was not payable, that Bees are volatilia: It was thereupon demurred, But the Opinion of the Court was, That Tythes are to be paid for Honey, for ſo is the book Fitzh. Nat. Br. 51. acc. And therewith agreeth Linwood; Wherefore the Court Awarded there ſhould be a Conſultation. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. rott. 1227. Barſcot and Norton's Caſe. Cro. 1, Part, 403.

16. Tythe ſhall not be paid of After-paſture, where tythe hath bin paid before of the Graſſe of the ſame ground, unleſſe by Covin there be left more Graſſe ſtanding upon the Ground, with an intent to deceive the Parſon, then there hath bin want to be teſte. And ſo it is of Rakings of Corn or Grain: for by the Law of Moſes, None ought to rake their Grattens, but to leave the ſame to the Poor and Orphans; And the Law will not give to the Parſon or Vicar, tythe of that which is appointed for Almes. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Smith's Caſe. and Paſc. 7 Jac. in C. B. adjudged accordingly.

17. A Parſon of B. Libelled in the Spiritu-all Court againſt C. an Inholder becauſe that the ſaid C. took all the benefit of his Paſture by putting in Gueſt-Horſes into his Paſture; Whereupon C. prayed a Prohibition, but it was denyed by the Court; for that it is Tytheable in this Caſe. But it was ſaid, That if C. had taken a Crop of Hay, and afterwards he had put his Gueſt-horſes into the paſture; in that Caſe, It had not bin tytheable, becauſe he had tythe of the Land before. Trin. 16 Car. in B. R. Richardſon and Cobbell's Caſe. Poph. 142.

18. Tythe ſhall not be paid of beaſts of the Plough, or Husbandry, but if a man keepeth Cattell upon his grounds, that they be ready for the pail, and afterwards ſell them and make profit of them, tythes ſhall be payed for them. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Baxter and Hope's Caſe. Brownlow. 2. Part, acc. Trin. 20 Jac. VVinch. 33. acc.

19. If a man let out his paſture, reſerving the Paſture for a Horſe, for himſelf to ride upon about his Husbandry affairs; Tythe ſhall not be paid for the paſture of this Horſe, but if a man keep and breed Horſe in his paſture to ſell them, there a Tythe ſhall be paid for the Horſes paſture. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Larking and Wild's Caſe. Popham, 126. See Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Pothill and Mayes Caſe. Baſſiv. 1. part, 171.

20. Note, in Fitzh. Nat. Br. 53. No tythe ſhall be paid for Agiſtment of Cattell; But the Law is now taken to be otherwiſe, That tythe ſhall be paid for Agiſtment, and that by the Owner of the Lands, and not by the Owner of the Cattell: and the reaſon is, for that the Parſon or Viccar may not certainly know whoſe Cattell they are, and therefore the beſt ſhall be taken for the Church, and that which is moſt certain, and therefore tythe ſhall be paid for them by the Owner of the Soil where the Agiſtment is, and who took the Cattell to Agiſt: And ſo it was agreed by Cook and Foſter, Juſtices in the Argument of Baxter and Hopes Caſe. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B.

21. If Sheep after they be ſhorn, dye before the Feaſt of Eaſter next following, tythe ſhall not be paid of the Wool of thoſe Sheep. 1. Becauſe they are but of ſmall and no value. And 2. Becauſe the Owner of the ſheep hath paid tythes for them the ſame year, and there ſhall not be a double tythe paid for one and the ſame thing in one year. 3. Tythe ſhall be paid of the clear profit onely, but if the Sheep do dye before the Feaſt of Eaſter, all the profit of them is loſt, and therefore to demand tythes of them, were Afflictionem addere afflicto. 15 Car. in B. R. adjudged. See Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Poph. 197.

22. A Cuſtome was alledged to pay tythes in kind for ſheep, if they continue in the Pariſh all the year, but if they be ſold before ſhearing time, then to pay but ob. for every one ſo ſold: It was holden by the Court to be an unreaſonable Cuſtome, for in ſuch Caſe the Parſon ſhall be defeated of his tythes. Paſc. 17 Car. in C. B. Weeden and Hardens Caſe, Marſh. 79.

23. To have a Prohibition, a man ſurmiſed, That he was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage, and of ſeverall parcells and quantities of Arable Lands, Meadow and Paſture, and kept upon them Cattell for Husbandry and the plough; and that he uſed to rear many Colts, and young bullocks to ſupply the ſtock of Horſes and Oxen for the plough; and uſed to keep Milch-kine, Heifers, and ſheep for increaſe of ſtock, and maintenance of his Family; and alſo alledged a Cuſtome, that they uſed to clip the Wool from the necks of their ſheep for the preſervation of them, and at Shearing, they uſed to pay the tenth Fleece, in conſideration whereof they uſed to be diſcharged of Neck-wool: Alſo that every Pariſhioner and Inhabitant who kept any Oxen, Steers, or Bullocks of his own by way of Agiſtment, uſed to be diſcharged from the payment of tythes for them; and alſo, that if any kept any dry Heifers pro ſupplemento ſtauri vaccarum, to be diſcharged of the payment of tythes for ſuch Heifers; Iſſue being joyned upon theſe ſeverall Preſcriptions, and found againſt the Plaintiff; It was moved, no Conſultation might be Awarded, but it was adjudged for the Defendant: For the Prohibition is grounded upon the Preſcription, and being found againſt it, that they have uſed to pay for agiſted Cattell, it is good, and he doth not claim to be free from Cattell agiſted of his own proper Cattell, but generally for all Cattell agiſted, which is not reaſonable, nor ſtands with Law. Wherefore being found for the Plaintiff, a Conſultation was Granted. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Jouce and Parkers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 575. See Bolſtr. 3. Part, 242, 243. the ſame Caſe.

24. Tythe ſhall not be paid of the Pelts, and Fells of ſheep which dye of the Rot, without a ſpeciall Cuſtome: For where the Viccar of Kilmonſden, in the County of Somerſet libelled in the Spirituall Court, for Tythe of the Wooll of Sheep which dyed of the Rot, a Prohibition was Granted. Trin. 3 Car. in B. R. Aſhton and Willes's Caſe.

25. A man Libelled to have Tythe of Mills, upon a ſuggeſtion of a modus Decimandi for the ſame; a Prohibition was Granted: In that Caſe, it was ſaid by Coke Chief Juſtice, That in ſome Caſe Tythe is payable of Mills, and in ſome Caſes not. No perſonall Tythe by the Statute is to be paid of Mills, but where by ſpeciall uſage the ſame hath bin paid; and whereas a modus Decimandi was alledged to pay a Tythe for Mills, It was Reſolved, That the Modus did not extend to Mills newly erected; upon the Statute of Articuli Cleri, Fer de molendino de novo erecto non ſolvuntur Decimæ. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Jakes's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 212.

26. If Ground be barren ſuapte Natura, tythe ſhall not be paid of it. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B, Sharrington's Caſe, adjudged acc. But of Underwoods digged up by the Roots, tythe ſhall be paid, and ſo of Hedg-rowes.

27. If a Marſh or Meadow by accident, as by Inundation, or by ill Husbandry be over-run with buſhes, thorns, and the like, yet it is not barren Land, but the Parſon ſhall have tythe of it. Hill. 38 Eliz. Sharrington and Fleetwood's Caſe. in B. R. adjudged acc. If ground be barren, and tythe Lamb and Wool have bin paid of the ſame for 30 years together, and afterwards by the Manurance and labour of man, the ſame is made fertile, and it doth bear Corn or Grain; The Owner of the Lands for ſeven years, ſhall pay ſuch tythe of it as he paid before. See 2 Eliz. Dyer, 170. See 15 Car. in B. R. In Sugden and Cottell's Caſe. Where a man ſtocked up Woody ground, and ſowed the ſame with Corn, and before the ſtocking up of it, had bin paid for the Paſture of it, a valuable ſum of mony, That ſuch Land was not barren ren Lands within the Statute of 2 E. 6.

28. If one do gain Land from the Sea, and that by his great coſt; and he afterwards turns this to Arable Land; It was the Opinion of the Court, That for this he ſhall clearly pay tythe, notwithſtanding his Coſts, and notwithſtanding that time out of mind, no Graſſe hath bin there growing; yet becauſe the ſame is not barren land of it ſelf, but onely by accident, ſcil. by reaſon of the Sand, and Salt water flowing over it, therefore ſo ſoon as this ſhall be re-gayned, and ſowen with Corn, tythes ſhall then preſently be paid for this Land. For that this Land bears good Corn, and that without marling, or any great coſt in Manuring of the ſame, which is a proof that the ſame is not barren ground within the ſcope and intention of the Statute of 2 E. 6. for by the meaning of that Statute, the Land ought to be barren ſuapte naturâ, or elſe it is not within the Statute. Paſc. 14 Jac. in B. R. Wut and Backs Caſe. Bolſtr, 8. part; 165, 166.

29. Tythe ſhall be paid of Heath, Fur, and Broom, unleſſe the party ſet forth a Preſcription, or ſpeciall cuſtome, That time out of mind there hath bin paid, Milk, Calves, &c. for the Cattell that have bin kept upon the ſame Lands, for then they ſhall not pay tythe of the Heath, Furrs, or Broom. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. adjudged.

30. Of trees of the age of 20 years growth, and upwards, which are timber trees, tythes ſhall not be paid but of Sylva Cædua, and Under-woods, tythes ſhall be paid, but not of great trees by the Statute of 45 E. 3. Cap. 3. 11 H. 4. 89. 50 E. 3. 10.

31. It is ſaid 50 E. 3. 10. by Belknap, That of great trees, or of timber-trees, tythe was never demanded, and that by the Statute of 45 E. 3. But ſee Cook 11. part, in Liford's Caſe, the words in the Statute of 45 E. 3. and in the book of 50 E. 3. ſcil. Great trees, muſt be intended, viz. Oaks, Aſh, and Elms, of all which, as well before the Statute of 45 E. 3. by the Common, and ſince, if they were of the age of 20 years growth, tythes was not to be paid, becauſe they of their nature were onely accounted timber-trees, and fit for building. But of Sallowes, Willowes, Maples, and the like, although they be above 20 years growth, yet tythes ſhall be paid of them.

32. In a Prohibition, the Queſtion was, If trees, which were above the age of 20 years growth become rotten, and be cut down for Fewell, ſhall pay tythe or not, It was the Opinion of the Court Tythe ſhall not be paid of them, for tythes are payable for an increaſe, and not for a decreaſe; and being priviledged in regard of their high nature, this priviledge ſhall not be loſt, in regard of its decreaſe. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C.B. Rants and Patteſons Caſe. Goldesbr. 145.

33. If Timber-trees have bin uſually topt and Lope, Tythes ſhall not be paid of the Tops and Loppings; for the Law, which priviledgeth the body of the Tree, doth priviledge the branches of the ſame Tree. Cook 11. Part, 48. Liford's Caſe. So it Timber trees be arida, ſicca, nec portans fructus, nec folia in eſtate, nec exiſtens, Maremium, yet, becauſe ſometimes it was an inheritance which was diſcharged of Tythe, although it be now become Dotard, Tythe, ſhall not be paid of the ſame, for the quality remaineth, although the Eſtate of the Tree be changed. Cook 11. Part, 81. Bun's Caſe. See Paſc. 8 Jac. in C. B. Doctor Newman's Caſe. Godbolt. 175. acc. Hill. 2 Jac. in B. R. Brook and Rogers's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 100.

34. If a great Wood do conſiſt for the moſt part of Underwoods which are Tytheable, and ſome great Trees or Beeches grow therein, Sparſim, Tythe ſhall be paid of the whole Wood, unleſſe they be ſpecially excepted: And ſo if a Wood doth conſiſt for the moſt part of Timber-trees, and there is ſome ſmall parcell of Underwoods, or Buſhes growing in the ſame Wood; The priviledge of the great Wood and Timber-trees, ſhall priviledge the reſt of the Under-woods from Tythes to be paid for the ſame. Trin. 19 Jac. in B. R. adjudged. And Hill. 16 Jac. in C. B. Leonard's Caſe, adjudged accordingly. Croke, 2. Part, 199. acc.

35. If a man top a Tree under the growth of 21 years, and ſuffereth the body to grow; and afterwards when the boughs are grown out again, he Top, and Lop it again, he ſhall not pay Tythe, although that the Tree was not priviledged at the firſt cutting, and ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court of Common-Pleas. See Brownlow. 1. Part. 33.

36. If a Pariſhioner doth not ſet forth his Tythes, or ſubſtracteth them after they be once ſet forth, The Parſon may Libel againſt him for the ſame within the Spiritual Court; or elſe by the Statute of 2 E. 6. cap. 13. The Parſon or other Proprietor of the Tythes may have their Action in the Kings Temporal Courts, for the not ſetting forth, or ſubſtracting of them at their Elections, and ſhall recover the treble value of the Tythes in an Action of Debt: For although the treble value be not given to the Parſon, or other Proprietor of the Tythes, by any expreſſe words in the Statute: Yet foraſmuch as he is the party grieved, and hath the Right of the Tythes in him, the treble value is given to him. For whereſoever a Statute giveth a forfeiture or penalty againſt any one, who wrongful detaineth or diſpoſſeſſeth another of his Right or Intereſt, in that caſe, he that hath the wrong ſhall have the forfeiture or penalty, and ſhall have his Action at the Common-Law for the ſame, or he may ſue in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for the ſame. Mich. 29 Eliz. Wood's Caſe adjudged. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 650. But he ſhall in his Action brought at the Common-Law recover no Coſts, as it was adjudged 43 Eliz. in C. B. in Sir Moyle Finches Caſe: and ſo ſee Hill. 40 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 699. Bidel's Caſe, acc. But if the Parſon or other Proprietor will ſue in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for the ſubſtraction of the Tythes, he ſhall recover there but the double value of them; and the reaſon thereof is, becauſe in the Eccleſiaſticall Court he ſhall recover the Tythes themſelves, which is equivalent to the treble value at the Common-Law. Cook. 2. Part, Inſtitutes 651. a.

37. A Parſon did Libel in the Spiritual Court for the ſubſtraction of Tythes; and the Defendant in the Common-Pleas ſuggeſted to be diſcharged by priviledge within the Statute of 31 H. 8. and thereupon had a Prohibition: and Iſſue being joyned in the Court of Common-Pleas upon the Priviledge, the Plaintiff in the Prohibition was Non-ſuit, and a Conſultation awarded. And Sentence after was given in the Spiritual Court, that the party ſhould recover the ſingle value, and ſet forth the ſame in certain. Et ulterius quod recuperet duplicem valorem, and ſet the ſame in certain alſo: And after this Sentence, a new Prohibition was awarded, becauſe they exceeded the value in their Sentence, which was to be recovered in that Court; and it was adjudged in that Caſe, although the Sentence was not that he ſhould recover the treble value, yet becauſe the Sentence did amount to ſo much being laid together, a ſpecial Prohibition ſetting forth all the ſpecial matter ſhould be awarded. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. Baldwyn and Girrey's Caſe. Godbolt 245.

6. Divers Caſes concerning Tythes; the Payment and Recovery of them omitted and left out, of the former Diviſions of Tythes, and upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. cap. 13.

THE Farmor of a Parſonage ſued in the Spiritual Court for Tythes of Saffron againſt the Vicar. The Vicar pleaded, Time out of mind, the Vicar and his Predeceſſors had had the Tythe of all Saffron growing within the Pariſh. The Plaintiff pleaded, that the Land where the Saffron was growing this year, ſod 40. years before had been ſown with Corn; and becauſe they in the Spiritual Court would not allow the Plea, there a Prohibition was prayed: Becauſe the Right of the Tythe did come in Debate, It was adjudged, that a Conſultation ſhould be awarded. So note, That by the Spiritual Law, the Vicar ſhall have Tythe of Saffron, of Land newly ſowed with Saffron; albeit, before the Parſon had Tythe of the Land being ſowed with Corn. Mic. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Benfield and Feak's Caſe. Goldesbr. 149, 150.

2. In a Caſe concerning Tythes, the Libel in the Spiritual Court was for Corn, Hay, and other things; and the Tenant of the Land did preſcribe to pay in one part of the Land, the third part of the Tenth; and in another part the moiety of the Tenth for all manner of Tythes. The Court did encline that the ſame was a good Preſcription; and a Prohibition was granted to the Eccleſiaſticall Court. Hill. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Rooke's Caſe. Godbolt, 120.

3. It was holden by the Court, That if a Modus Decimandi be for Hay in Black-Acre, and the party ſoweth the ſame with Corn 7 years together, the ſame doth not deſtroy the Modus Decimandi; but the ſame ſhall continue when the ſame is made again into Hay: And when it is ſowed with Corn, the Parſon ſhall have Tythe in kind; and when the ſame is Hay, the Vicar ſhall have the Tythe Hay, if he be endowed of Hay. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Brown's Caſe. Godbolt, 194.

4. An Endictment was of Forcible Entry into Tythes, where the party ouſted prayed reſtitution. And whether the Endictment were maintainable was the Queſtion. For it was agreed, That an Aſſiſe did lye of Tythes by the Statute of 31 H. 8. and they be recoverable as a Lay-Inheritance. And it was moved, That Endictments ſhould be as well for Tythes as for Rents: And for Rent it appears, that Forcible Entry lyes 20 H. 6. 11. Fitzh. Na. Br. 49. Afterwards a Writ of Reſtitution was awarded by the Court. Mic. 6 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 146.

5. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes; the Plaintiff ſhewed that two parts of the Tythes did appertain to the Rectory, and a third part to the Vicarage, and that he had a Leaſe for years of the Rectorie, and another Leaſe of the Vicarage: And for not ſetting forth of the Tythes, he demanded the treble value: Upon Non Debet, it being found for the Plaintiff, It was urged, in ſtay of Judgment, that he ought to have brought ſeveral Actions, being grounded upon ſeveral Leaſes, as his Title is ſeveral. But it was Re-

Reſolved, that the Action was well brought, in regard he had both Titles in him; and the Action is brought upon the wrong, becauſe he did not ſet out the Tythes. Hill. 2 Jac. in B. R. Sir Rich. Champernon and Biſſ's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 68.

6. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendants were Occupyers of 128. Acres of Meadow in Radley and Thorp; and that the Abbot of Abbington was ſeiſed de Decimis prædict. creſcent. upon the ſaid Lands, and ſurrendred them to King H. 8. and afterwards they came to Queen Eliz. who Anno 36. Regni ſui, by her Letters Patents, deviſed Decimas prædict. to the Plaintiff for life, and that the Defendant cut down the Hay thereupon of the value of 20 Marks, and carryed it away, without paying Tythes. The Defendant demanded Oyer of the Letters Patents, which were, That the Queen demiſit omnes illas Decimas ſuper quandam parcellam terræ vocat. Bremere in parochia de Radley nuper in tenura J. H. et omnes illas Decimas creſcent. ſuper quandam parcellam terræ vocat. Barton Bremere nuper in tenura A. H. in parochia de Radley prædict. Quæ nuper fuerunt parcella poſſeſſion. Monaſterii de Abbington, exceptis omnibus illis Decimis in Radley in tenura, J. T. verus redditus 67 l. It was demurred to the Declaration, becauſe the Plaintiff had not entituled himſelf to the 28 Acres of Meadow: For by the Patents it is not expreſſed; but the Queen granted thoſe Tythes by the names in the Letters Patents: Nor is it averred, that any of thoſe Lands were any of the Lands in the Letters Patents, or that they were in the Tenures of ſuch perſons, nor ſhewed that theſe be any of the Tythes excepted. But the Opinion of the Court was, that the Declaration was good: For the Plaintiff declaring, that the Queen granted Decimas prædict. it is a ſufficient allegation, that thoſe Tythes paſſed by the Letters Patents; and that the Queen conceſſit Decimas prædict. without more, is a ſufficient averrement in it ſelf. And it was ſaid, That if the Queen had granted thoſe Tythes by thoſe means in the Patent, the Plaintiff needed not to have averred, that they were of ſuch a name named in the Patent, and were not excepted: But Decimas prædict. implies as much: wherefore the Court held the Declaration to be good; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Sir William Stonehouſe, and Sir Thomas Read's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 679, 680.

7. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth Tythes. The Plaintiff declared, That he was Proprietor of the Rectory of B. for ſeven years, by a Demiſe. 10 Martii, 10 Jac. and that the Defendant, 27 Aug. anno prædict. did cut his Corn there growing; and 10 Septem. next following, carryed away the ſame, not ſetting out the tenth part, Being found for the Plaintiff, upon Nihil Debet, It was moved, that the Plaintiff by his own ſhewing had no cauſe of Action; for that the Defendants Intereſt was determined before the Tythes were carryed away, It was Reſolved, that though his Intereſt in the Land was determined, yet he remained Owner of the Corn; for if Corn be cut down, though a ſtranger take it away before ſeverance, yet the Action will lye againſt him. Mic. 11 Jac. in B. R. Kipping and Swayn's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 324, 325.

8. In Debt for not ſetting forth of Tythes upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. the Caſe was: Corn was growing upon the Gleab-Lands of the Vicar, which was diſcharged of Tythes being in his own uſe. It fell out, that the Vicar dyed before the Tythe was ſevered, and his Executors did cut and carry away the Corn; and he that had the Parſonage appropriate brought the Action: The Counſel of the Defendant prayed the Opinion of the Court, whether he might plead Nihil Debet: But the Court refuſed to deliver their Opinion in it, becauſe it hanged in Suit before them. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Horn and Cotton's Caſe. Hob. 387.

9. A Suit was in the Spiritual Court by the Defendant Vicar of A. for Tythes: A Prohibition was prayed upon the Plaintiffs Plea there, of a Modus Decimandi, to pay ſo much Yearly to the Parſon of A. in diſcharge of his Tythes. It was the Opinion of the Court, that this Modus between him and the Parſon will not diſcharge him from payment of Tythes to the Vicar, and therefore the Court granted a Conſultation. Mic. 14 Jac. in C. B. Winter and Child's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 220, 221.

10. Note, by Doddridge Juſtice, If one be a Patentee of the King of a Rectory, he may ſue for Tythes in the Spiritual Court: Sir Tho. Vavaſour was ſuch a Patentee. But if they in the Spiritual Court will go about to try and determine the validity of the Grant, and of the Kings Letters Patents; as whether Dominus Rex conceſſit, or not, they having no power ſo to do, this Court will grant a Prohibition. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. vouched in Robinſon and Walkers Caſe. Mic. 14 Jac. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 271.

11. In an Action of Treſpaſs for taking of three Load of Oats, the Caſe was, That Corn is ſet forth for Tythes, and the Owner of the Land takes it for damage feaſant, without making it to appear in pleading, as he ought to have ſhewed; That the Parſon had ſuffered the Corn to remain overlong upon his Land to his Damage. It was ſaid, that in this Caſe, It doth not appear, whether the Plaintiff hath brought his Action as the Parſon: and and therefore the Defendant may well plead in Bar. The Parson where Tythes are set out hath a Liberty for a convenient time to come, and carry them away; and this Convenience of time is tryable by a Jury. If he exceed this, he shall be subject to an Action, and then by Judgment of Law he shall be taken to be a Trespassor ab initio: otherwise it shall be of a Licence in Fact given by the Parson himself. It was holden by the Court, if the Corn had continued over long, his Remedy had been by Action upon the Case: But it appearing in the Case, that the Defendant had no Title, and a Title appearing for the Plaintiff, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff against the Defendant. Hill. 22 Jac. in B. R. rott. 312. Mountford and Sidley's Case. Bolstr. 3. Part, 336, 337. See Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Wiseman and Denham's Case. Godbolt, 319.

12. Debt was brought upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not setting out of Tythes. The Case was, A Lease was made to two, they entred and occupied, and did not set out their Tythes, and Debt was brought against one of them; It was holden, the Action will not lye: But if one of them onely occupyeth the Land, there the Action will lye: And Sir John Gerrards Case was vouched. Mic. 8 Jac. in an Action of Debt brought upon this Statute against two Tenants in Common; and it appeared that one of them set out his Tythes, and that the other afterwards took and carryed it away; and it was adjudged, that the Action did lye onely against him that carryed it away. Mic. 8 Car. in C. B. Cole and Wilkes Case. Hutton, 121, 122.

13. The Inhabitants within the Parish of H. having a Chappel of Ease, had a Custome, that those within such a Precinct, ought to find a Rope for the third Bell, and to repair part of the Mother-Church: In consideration of which, they have been free from the payment of Tythes to the Mother-Church: Whether it were a good Custome, or not, was the Question: The Case was not Resolved, but Adjorned. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Marsh. 91.

Disseisin and Disseisor.

1. Who shall be said to be a Disseisor, and who not; And what shall be counted a Disseisin: Of Land, Rent, or other thing; what not.

1. TBeing a Disseisor made a Lease for years, rendring Rent; the Disseisee entred, the Lessee re-entred, claiming his former Estate, and payed Rent to the Disseisor: It was the Opinion of the Court, that notwithstanding his continuance of Possession, That he was a Disseisor; and that he could not limit his own wrong. Mich. 4. Ma. Dyer, 134. Kirton and Brilling's Case.

2. A Disseisor made a Lease for years, the Termor entred, the Lessor departed the Realm, and gave Commandment to his Lessee, That if the Disseisee made any entry upon him, that he should not suffer him to continue there, but keep the Possession alwayes against him as his Lessee; Afterwards the Lessor being beyond Sea, the Disseisee entred upon the Lessee, he put him out, and afterwards paid his Rent to the use of his Lessor, being absent; and whether his Lessor were a Disseisor, or Tenant of the Free-hold, without his expresse Agreement to the Disseisin, was the Question. It was the Opinion of Saunders chief Justice, That without an expresse agreement, after the second Disseisin, the Free-hold was not in him, to whose use the second Disseisin was; but others were of another Opinion. Pasc. 4. Ma. Dyer, 141. Sir John Cuts's Case.

3. A Lease was made for years, of the Scite and Demesnes of a Mannor; Afterwards the Lessor conveyed the same for the Joynture of his Wife for life, and afterwards he alliened the Fee-simple; and afterwards the Allienee received the rent by the hands of the Lessee; the Lessor dyed, the Wife entred, and claimed her Joynture, and held Court, and the Termor payed to her the Rent; And if the same was a Disseisin to the Allienee, was the Question, It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was at the pleasure of the Allience, to take the same to be a Disseisin, or not; notwithstanding the Termor continued the possession of the Land. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 178.

4. Note,

4. Note, In the Caſe of Aſſiſe betwixt Penington and Morſe in Kent; It was holden, That if a Tenant for Term of years ſurrendreth his Eſtate to his Leſſor, and yet continueth in Poſſeſſion alwayes, paying the Rent to the Leſſor, that the ſame is no Diſſeiſin, but at the Election of the Leſſor; The Caſe was, That the Termor levyed a Fine to the Leſſor, and yet continued the Poſſeſſion of the Land. Paſc. 38 H. 8. Dyer, 62.

5. Error was brought of a Judgment in Ejectione firmæ, where the Plaintiff Declared, That a Leaſe was made for 50 years, to begin at the feaſt of St. Mich. next to come after the death of J. S. and Averred the death of J. S. and that he entred, The Defendant pleaded, That Non Ejecit, the Plaintiff Modo et forma, upon which they were at Iſſue; It was found by Verdict: Quod Ejecit modo et forma, upon which Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover his Term, whereas it was not ſhewed the time when he entred, ſo as it might be the Term was ended before, nor did he ſhew when he entred, and it might be before Mich. and then he was a Diſſeiſor, and no Termor. The point, if he were Diſſeiſor, is not there Reſolved. Trin. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 89. Cliffe's Caſe. Note, one Alexander's Caſe was, The Plaintiff in an Action for Rent Declared, That he Leaſed to the Defendant for years rendring Rent; and it appeared, That the Leſſee entred before the day; And it was adjudged, That he was a Diſſeiſor, See Paſc. 3 Car. in B. R. A man made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, the Leaſe to begin at Michaelmas after; And in Debt brought for the Rent, the Leſſor declared, virtute cujus dimiſſionis he entred, and no day of Entry was ſhewed. It was holden by the Court, that it ſhall be intended, That he entred at Michaelmas, and he ſhall not be accounted a Diſſeiſor; And by the Recovery of the Rent, the Leſſor and his Heirs are for ever after concluded to ſay, that the Leſſee was otherwiſe in, but by virtue of the Leaſe for years. See 14 H. 8. 12. by Carell acc.

6. If a man maketh a Leaſe of the Land of J. S. who hath nothing in the Land, rendring Rent, and the Leſſee entreth, and payeth the Rent, the Leſſor is the Diſſeiſor, quod nota; for that this acceptance of the Rent, doth amount to a Commandment. See 23 H. 8. 7. and 25.

7. If Tenant for years, or at ſufferance, make a Leaſe for years of Lands in their own names, the ſame is a Diſſeiſin, ſo as the Free-hold is in them; And ſo it is, If a man maketh a Feoffment upon Confidence, and occupieth at Will, and maketh a Leaſe in his own name, the ſame is a Diſſeiſin. But Quære there, If a man giveth power to his Tenant at Will to make a Leaſe, If the ſame be a Diſſeiſin. 12 E. 4. 12. 3 E. 4. 17.

8. The Guardian of an Enfant made a Feoffment; and the Heir brought no Aſſiſe without any Entry; And it was holden, That the Aſſiſe was well brought, for that, by the Entry, The Feoffee was a Diſſeiſor. 8. Aſſ. 28.

9. The Guardian Aſſigns Dower to the Wife where the Wife is not Dowable, they are both Diſſeiſors as to the Enfant, and yet ſhe is Tenant in Dower as to the Guardian, and ſhall be Attendant upon him. 21 E. 3. 4.

10. A Leaſe is made to two, and to the Heirs of one of them; Waſte is brought againſt him who had but an Eſtate for life, and a Recovery is had againſt him, the ſame is a Diſſeiſin of the whole of him who had the Fee. 14 E. 3. Fitzh. Waſt. 27.

11. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if a man levyeth a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo que il ad de ſon done; and afterwards continueth the poſſeſſion, that he is a Diſſeiſor. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 82.

12. A. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. leaſed a Meſſuage, parcell of it to B. for years, rendring Rent, who held other Land of him, parcell of the ſaid Mannor at Will, and by Coppy, by ſeverall Rents: B. being ſeiſed of other Lands within the ſaid Mannor, in his Demeſne as of Fee, made a Leaſe for life to C. of the ſaid Meſſuage Land at Will, and by Coppy, and afterwards levyed a Fine, with Proclamations of all the ſaid Meſſuages, Lands, comprehending the Land which he held for years, at Will, and by Coppy, as his own Inheritance, by Covin to bar him who had the Inheritance, and five years paſſed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That A. was not barred by the Proclamations and Fine: for it was Reſolved, That a Fine levyed by Tenant at Will, or by Coppy, who pretended no Title to the Inheritance, was not good by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines, eſpecially the ſame being done by fraud: And it was Reſolved, That when Leſſee for years makes a Feoffment by Covin, which amounts to a wrong, and a Diſſeiſin, a Fine levyed by him who is particeps Criminis, and who pretends no right to the Land, ſhall not bind the Leſſor. Cook 3. Part, 77, & 78. Farmers Caſe.

13. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee: Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred, Tenant for life Granted the Tenements aforeſaid to C. To have the ſaid Tenements from Michaelmas next for life, The Leſſee for years Attorned, C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will, to whom the Tenant for life levyed a Fine, he in the Remainder entred: In this caſe, theſe points (amongſt other) were Reſolved. 1. That when C. entred by colour of the Grant, (which was made made to begin at a day to come, which was void in Law) that he was a Diſſeiſor; and a difference was taken, when a Grant is utterly void at the beginning, and by no ſubſequent act can be made good, and a Grant good at the beginning, but requires ſome Ceremony ſubſequent to perfect it: in the one Caſe, if the party entreth, he is a Diſſeiſor, in the other, not. 2. Reſolved, That if the Fine had bin levyed to the Diſſeiſor himſelf, he who had the right in the Remainder might enter for the forfeiture, for a Right of a particular Eſtate may be forfeited, and an entry thereby given to him who had but a right to the Remainder. 3. Reſolved, That if the Diſſeiſee levy a Fine to a ſtranger, the Diſſeiſor ſhall retain the Land for ever, for the Diſſeiſee againſt his Fine, cannot claim, and the Conuſee cannot enter, for the Right which the Conuſor had, cannot be transferred to him; but by the Fine, the Right is extinct, of which the Diſſeiſor ſhall take advantage. Cook 2. Part, 55. Buckler's Caſe.

14. A man made a Feoffment in Fee, upon Condition to re-infeoff the Feoffer for life, the Remainder to his eldeſt ſon, and his Heirs; Afterwards the Feoffee entred, and took the profits without any agreement of the Feoffor, and made a Leaſe for years: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That when the Feoffer entred after the Feoffment, and took the profits, and made a Leaſe for years, the Law doth adjudge it a Diſſeiſin, although the intent of the parties was, that the Feoffor ſhould make a re-demiſe to him for life; for this Entry by wrong, and taking of the profits without the Agreement of the Feoffee, is a Diſſeiſin. Cook 2. Part, 59. Julius Winnington's Caſe.

15. The Duke of Northumberland, ſeiſed of divers Meſſuages in the Pariſh of Saint Sepu'chres in London, by Deed Indented for valuable conſideration, bargained, and ſold all his Tenements to the Lady Lea, in the Pariſh of Saint Andrews in Holborn, in the occupation of J. G. to have to her for life, the Remainder to K. her daughter, and her Heirs, the Lady Lea did enter into the Meſſuages: and took Husband T. C. and after the ſaid T. C. and the Lady his Wife, demiſed the ſaid Meſſuages to J. D. for 21 years, who entred, and took the profits: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved. That nothing paſſed by the bargain and ſale, but the bargain and ſale was void; for though the laſt certainty was true, that the ſaid Meſſuages were in the tenure of J. G. yet becauſe the firſt Allegation, that they were in the Pariſh of Saint Andrews in Holborn, was void, the bargain and ſale was void, and then the Lady Lea by her Entry, was a Diſſeiſor. Cook 3. Part, 10. Dowties Caſe.

16. Note, by Bacon Sollicitor-General, That it was adjudged 40 Eliz. in the Exchequer, That where the King made a Leaſe for life, who was ouſted by a ſtranger, that the ſame ſhall be ſaid a Diſſeiſin of the particular Eſtate, contrary to the Common ground which is, That a man cannot be Diſſeiſed of a leſſe Eſtate then a Fee-ſimple, 40 Eliz. in the Exchequer, Godbolt. 134.

17. In Ejectione firmæ; It was found, That C. Lord Admirall, ſeiſed of Lands in tail, in Conſideration of a Marriage betwixt W. his eldeſt ſon, and E. daughter to the Lord St. John, Covenanted to ſuffer a Recovery of the ſaid Land, to the uſe of the ſaid W. and E. the Heirs Males of the body of the ſaid W. with divers Remainders over. The Marriage took effect; W. with the aſſent of the Lord Admirall, occupied the Lands at Will; and 4 Jac. demiſed the Lands to J. S. and J. D. for 21 years, rendring Rent; the Leſſees enter; the Lord Admirall, and W. by Indenture, levy a Fine of thoſe Lands, to the uſe of W. and E. for the Joynture of the ſaid E. and the Heirs Males of the body of W. with Remainder over, and this was in purſuance of the firſt Covenants: 9 Jac. W. dyed without Iſſue Male of his body; J. D. dyed; J. S. by Indenture, in conſideration of mony, bargained, and ſold to Charls Lord Howard, ſon and Heir apparant of the Admirall, and to his Heirs: C. Lord Admirall dyed, Charls his ſon and Heir entred; the Defendant by the command of E. entred, and claymed the Land as her Joynture; Charls entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff; and in this Caſe, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff in the Common-Pleas. Whereupon Error was brought, and the Queſtion was, Whether by any of theſe Acts, there be a Diſſeiſin committed to Charls Earl of Nottingham, Nolens Volens. 2. If there be a Diſſeiſin, who ſhould be Diſſeiſor and Tenant to the Free-hold. It was Reſolved, That the Law will not impute, or conſtrue it to be a Diſſeiſin, unleſſe at the Election of Charls Earl of Nottingham, when as none of the parties intended it to be a Diſſeiſin, nor to ouſt him of the poſſeſſion, and it is at the Election of him to whom the wrong is done, if he will allow him to be a Diſſeiſor, or himſelf out of poſſeſſion, and the Court held, It ſhall not be intended, that the Son intended to Diſſeiſe his Father, but that the Leaſe was made by the aſſent of the Father, and the party to whom the Leaſe is made, doth not claim any Free-hold, but to have the Leaſe onely, and to pay his Rent, and there was no intent in any of the perſons to make a Diſſeiſin. 2. It was Reſolved, Admitting there was a Diſſeiſin committed by theſe Acts, That W. who made the Leaſe, is the Diſſeiſor, quoad all perſons, but the firſt Leſſor, but quoad the firſt Leſſee, they both are Diſſeiſors: For when Tenant at Will takes upon him to make a Leaſe for years, which is a greater Eſtate then he may make, that Act is a Diſſeiſin, And by this Leaſe made, and the Leſſee paying the Rent to him, and he accepting thereof, he is in as Leſſee, and the Leſſor is the Diſſeiſor, and hath the Reverſion expectant upon the Leaſe. It was therefore adjudged, That the Joynture made to E. ſtood good; And the Judgment given in the Common-Pleas, was reverſed. Hill. 7 Car. in B. R. Blenden and Baugh's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 221, 222.

18. A. Bargained, and ſold Lands to B. upon Condition, That upon the payment of 300 l. at the end of three years, it ſhould be void, and that in the Interim, the Bargainee ſhould not meddle with the profits of the Land; the bargainor occupied the Land, and made a Leaſe for ſeven years, and at the day doth not pay the mony; the Bargainee doth not enter, but (the Bargainor occupying it) he Deviſed the Land; It was adjudged in that Caſe, It was a good Deviſe: which could not be if he had been Diſſeiſed. Hill. 18 Jac. in C.B. Prowſey and Bertram's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 221. ibid.

19. A. and his Wife, ſeiſed of Land in the Right of his Wife by Indenture, with a Letter of Attorney, let the ſaid Land, Habendum à die datu, for the life of the Leſſee rendring rent, The Attorney made Livery the ſame day ſecundum formam Charta; the Leſſee entred, and paid the rent which was alwayes Received, the Wife dyed, her Heir without entry ſuffered a common Recovery, The Queſtion was, Whether it was good, The Opinion of the Court was, That the Leaſe was void, and that Livery, the ſame day it beareth date is void, to make it a good Leaſe. It was then moved, That one entring without Livery, was but Tenant at Will of the Feoffor, and cannot be a Diſſeiſor without an intent in him to make a Diſſeiſin, and without the intent of the Leſſor, to have it a Diſſeiſin: But admitting it to be a Diſſeiſin, yet ſuffering a Recovery, he and all under him were Eſtopped to ſay he was not Tenant of the Freehold, and therefore the Recovery was good; and to that Opinion the Court inclined. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Bull and Wyat's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 282.

20. Tenant for life, the Remainder to his ſon and Heir apparent in tail, the Father by Covin, made a Leaſe for years to A. who made a Feoffment to B. in Fee, to whom the Father did Releaſe with Warranty, and dyed, the Warranty diſcended upon the Son. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. That the Son ſhould not be barred, for that the Feoffment by the Leſſee for years was a Diſſeiſin, and the Father himſelf is particeps Criminis, and agreeing unto it, and the Law ſhall adjudge upon the entire Act; and although the Father releaſed with Warranty, yet the Warranty is after the Diſſeiſin, and therefore it was a Warranty which began by Diſſeiſin. 2. Although that the Diſſeiſin was done to the Father himſelf who made the Releaſe, yet becauſe the Father did agree and conſent to the Diſſeiſin, the ſame ſhall not hinder, but that the Warranty beginneth by Diſſeiſin. 3. That although the Diſſeiſin was done immediately to the Son, who is to be bounden by the Warranty; yet becauſe this Diſſeiſin was a wrong to him, and deveſted his Remainder out of Court, It was a Warranty which began by Diſſeiſin. Cook, 5. Part. 79. Fitchurbert's Caſe.

21. The Queſtion was, If Tenant for the Term of the life of another man, doth continue, and hold in his Eſtate, after the death of Ceſtuy que vie, If he be a Diſſeiſor; It was the Opinion of the Court, That he was no Diſſeiſor; for there is no Freehold taken from the Leſſor, which the continuance of the poſſeſſion doth not take from him: But all the Juſtices held, That if Tenant at Will, or for years, or at ſufferance, made a Leaſe for years, this is a Diſſeiſin; And the Tenant at Will doth thereby gain a Freehold, and thereby doth claim a greater Eſtate then he ought: But if Tenant at ſufferance do grant Coppies, the Court was of Opinion, That they were good, for that he is Dominus pro tempore. and no Treſpaſſe will lye againſt him. Mich. 30 Eliz. Rouſes Caſe. Owen. 27.

22. If divers perſons do Diſſeiſe one to the uſe of another, or one of them; or with the aſſent of another; Albeit he to whoſe uſe the Diſſeiſin is done, is the ſole Tenant of the Land; yet the Law is, That the Coadjutors, Counſellors, or Commanders, all are Diſſeiſors, 50 E. 3. 2. And if a man Diſſeiſeth Tenant for life to the uſe of him in the Reverſion, and afterwards the Reverſioner agreeth to the Diſſeiſin; In this Caſe, the Reverſioner is the Diſſeiſor in Fee, becauſe by the Diſſeiſin made by the ſtranger, the Reverſion was deveſted, which cannot be re-deveſted by the Agreement of the Reverſioner, for that makes him a wrong doer, and no Reverſion in that Caſe can help him. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 280.

23. Denyer is a Diſſeiſin of a Rent-charge, if it be demanded upon the Land, and there payable; but if the payment of the Rent is to be off the Land; there the Denyer to pay it, is no Diſſeiſin of the Rent. See Plowden. Comment. 71. acc.

24. If three Joynt-Tenants be of Land, out of which I have a Rent-charge, and I diſtrein upon the Land for the Rent charge, and one of the Joynt-Tenants doth Reſcous, that is a Diſſeiſin done by them all, becauſe thereby all of them do detein the Rent. 34. Aſſ. 4. br. Diſſeiſin. 60. acc.

25. A. Granted a Rent Seck of 4 l. by the year to B. his ſon in Fee, going out of a houſe called the Unicorn in L. payable at Mich. at the houſe of the Son, the ſame to begin at Mich. after his deceaſe, and gave him Seiſin of it. The Rent was demanded at the houſe at Mich. and not paid; And whether it was a Diſſeiſin of the Rent was the Queſtion: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the demand of Rent off from the houſe out of which it was Iſſuing, was a good demand, and was a Diſſeiſin for not payment of it. Paſc. 14 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 365.

26. A man cannot be Diſſeiſed of a Rent-Service in groſſe, a Rent-charge, or a Rent-Seck, by Attornment, or payment of ſuch a Rent to a ſtranger, but at the Election of him to whom the Rent is due; But if the Diſſeiſee bring an Action againſt ſuch a Perſon, or taker of the Rent, he doth thereby admit himſelf to be out of poſſeſſion of it: And yet a Diſcent of a Rent in groſſe, bindeth not the right Owner, but that he may diſtrayn for it, albeit he admit himſelf to be out of Poſſeſſion, by bringing an Aſſiſe of it. Cook. 1. Part, Inſtiutes 323. acc.

27. If a man hath a Rent-Seck payable yearly at the Feaſt of Eaſter, and hath once Seiſin of the Rent, and Eaſter paſſeth, and no demand or tender made of the Rent; the Grantee after the day of payment may come to the Land, and there demand it; and although the Tenant of the Land be not there, yet upon ſuch demand, if none be ready there to pay the Rent, it is a denying of the Rent, upon which he who hath the Rent, ſhall have an Aſſiſe: But in the ſame Caſe, if the Tenant at the laſt inſtant of the Feaſt of Eaſter, be ready upon the Land to pay the Rent, and he who hath the Rent, nor any for him, cometh to demand, or receive the Rent; there he who hath the Rent, cannot come in the abſence of him who is Tenant of the Land, and demand it, and make him a Diſſeiſor, and render Damages and Coſts without any default in him. Cook 7. Part, 29. Maund's Caſe.

28. If the Lord granteth his Seignory upon Condition, and the Tenant payeth the Rent to the Grantee, and afterwards the Condition is broken, and the Lord diſtraineth for the ſervices, and the Tenant maketh Reſcous; the ſame is ſuch a Diſſeiſin for which he may have an Aſſiſe, and the firſt Seiſin ſhall be ſufficient to maintain it: If the Diſſeiſee Releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor upon Condition, and after the Condition is broken, the Diſſeiſee ſhall have an Aſſiſe of the firſt Diſſeiſin. Cook 4. Part, 9. in Bevill's Caſe.

29. In an Action of Treſpaſs the Defendant pleaded in Bar, that the Plaintiff within age by Indenture, and a Letter of Attorney made a Feoffment to the Father of the Defendant rendring Rent, and that after by Indenture, he confirmed Tenementum prædict. Habendum tenement. prædict. to him and his Heirs, and that his Father dyed ſeiſed. It was holden by the Court, (without Argument) that it was a void Feoffment, upon his own ſhewing, for being made by Letter of Attorney by an Enfant it was a preſent diſſeiſin; and that the Confirmation afterwards did not enlarge his eſtate. 2 Ma. Dyer, 109.

30. If a Warrant of Attorney be made to J. S. to deliver ſeiſin to J. D. upon a Feoffment upon Condition, and he delivereth Seiſin without the Condition, the ſame is a Diſſeiſin to the Feoffor: And ſo it is, If the Warrant of Attorney be to make Livery and Seiſin after the death of a ſtranger, and he makes Livery in his life-time, the ſame is a Diſſeiſin: and ſo it is if it be to make Livery to two, and the Attorney makes Livery to one, it is a Diſſeiſin. But if a Warrant of Attorney be to make Livery and Seiſin to one man, and the Attorney maketh Livery to two men, the ſame is no diſſeiſin; but the Livery and Seiſin is good to him to whom the Warrant of Attorney was to make Livery: and ſo if a Warrant of Attorney be to make Livery and Seiſin of white Acre, and the Attorney make Livery of white Acre, and black Acre; it is good for white Acre, and void for black Acre, and the ſame is no Diſſeiſin of the Feoffor. Perkins 39. acc.

31. In Errour brought upon a Judgment given in London, the Caſe was: Sir Wolſtan Dixſey brought Debt againſt Alderman Spencer for Rent upon a Leaſe made to Spencer by William Bacchus, who afterwards granted the Reverſion to Dickſey: the Defendant pleaded, That before the Grant of the Reverſion, Bacchus was ſeiſed, and ſhewed the Cuſtom of London, to make Inrollments of Deeds indented in London; and that before the Grant to Dickſey, he bargained the Reverſion to him by Paroll, depending which Dixſey entred into the Land, for a Forfeiture of the Term, becauſe he had claimed a Fee-ſimple, and Spencer re-entred with force, and his ſervant with him, but not with force: Dickſey brought an Aſſiſe of Freſh-force againſt him in London; and all this matter was there pleaded, and adjudged it was a forfeiture of the Term, and the Jury gave Damages, and the Court encreaſed them: and the Judgment was entred Quod prædicti defendentes Capiantur. Whereupon Errour was brought, and one Errour aſſigned was, becauſe the Judgment was Capiantur, where but one was a Diſſeiſor with Force. It was agreed by the Lord Anderſon, and other Juſtices in this this Caſe, That two may be Diſſeiſors; the one with force, and the other not: As if I command one to make a Diſſeiſin, and he makes a Diſſeiſin with force: Alſo, if one entreth with force to my uſe, and I after agree; he is a Diſſeiſor with force, and I am not: But if a man be preſent when a Diſſeiſin is made with Force, he is a Diſſeiſor with Force. Another Errour was alleadged, becauſe the Coſts were trebled. But the Court made no doubt of that, but that they ſhould be trebled, and ſo they ſaid it was adjudged in the ſame Court in a Staffordſhire Caſe: The Judgment was affirmed. Mic. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Wolſtan Dickſey, and Sir John Spencer's Caſe. Goldesbr. 42.

32. In Errour brought upon a Judgment, the Caſe was; An Aſſiſe was brought againſt five of 100. Acres of Land: Three of the Defendants were found not Tenants, and acquitted of the Diſſeiſin. Two were found guilty, quoad three Acres; and for the Reſidue, the Verdict was found for the two Defendants; and yet the Verdict was entred for the 100. Acres. Hereupon falſe Judgment was brought, That the Verdict was entred in other manner then it was given by the Jury. The Defendant in the falſe Judgment demurred upon it, and adjudged againſt him. Errour was brought of that Judgment, becauſe the five Defendants ſued the Writ of Errour; whereas three of them were acquitted, and had no loſs: but it ought to have been brought by the two onely. The Opinion of the Court was, That the ſame was a manifeſt Errour: Wherefore the Judgment was reverſed. Mic. 5 Car. in B. R. Vaughan and Loriman's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 138.

3. Where, and what things done by a Diſſeiſor ſhall ſtand in force againſt the Diſſeiſee, what not: Where the Diſſeiſee ſhall accord Charges by the Diſſeiſor; and what, and where not: And where, and by what not, the Diſſeiſor is purged and avoided; and when.

1. A. Hath Iſſue B. and C. Enfants within Age, a Leaſe is made to A. for life, the Remainder to B, in Tail; the Remainder to C. in Tail. A. Tenant for life is diſſeiſed, and afterwards releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor with Warranty, and dyeth; and the Warranty deſcendeth upon B. being within age. Afterwards B. dyeth within age, C. his Brother and Heir being within age, upon whom the Warranty diſcendeth: and afterwards C. cometh full of age, and afterwards he entreth. It was Reſolved, That if the Entry of an Enfant be lawful, and he cannot enter in the life-time of his Anceſtor, and doth not enter, the Warranty ſhall not bind in ſuch Caſe, à fortiori, when the Warranty diſcendeth upon him, his Entry being lawful, and no Lacheſs to be attributed unto him: But if his Entry were not lawful, ſo as he was put to his Action there the Warranty ſhall bind him. 2. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That if a Diſſeiſor, or other who hath a diſſeiſible Eſtate in a Mannor, grant a voluntary Eſtate by Copy: As if a Copyhold be forfeit unto him, or a Copyholder dyeth without Heir, and he grants thoſe Lands again by Copy, thoſe Grants ſhall not bind him who hath Right, after he hath reentinued the Mannor: but ſuch Admittances, which a Diſſeiſor maketh unto Copyholds of the Mannor, thoſe are good; for that they are Judicial Acts, and ſhall bind the Diſſeiſee. Cook 11. Part, 140. in Chadleigh Caſe. See 17 Eliz. Dyer, 343.

2. Dower aſſigned by an Abator or a Diſſeiſor, ſhall not be avoided by the Diſſeiſee, becauſe it is a lawful Act. 12 Aſſ. 20. Cook 2. Part, 67. Tookers Caſe. So if a Diſſeiſor doth attorn or giveth Seiſin unto the Grantee of Seignory, it ſhall bind the Diſſeiſee; yet the Grantee of the Seignory cannot compell the Diſſeiſor to attorn unto him, or give him Seiſin, ibid.

3. If A. purchaſeth Lands of B. by Feoffment, or by Bargain and Sale, and doth enroll the Deed; and afterwards perceiving that B. hath but a Diſſeiſible Title, and that C. hath right to it; B. levyeth a Fine, with Proclamations to a ſtranger; or taketh a Fine from another with Proclamations, to the intent, to barr the Right of C; this Fine levyed by Conſent ſhall bind: for that nothing is done in this Caſe which is not lawful. And the Intent of the Makers of the Statute of 4 H. 7. was, to avoid ſtrife and debates; and by expreſs words ſhall bind ſtrangers, who do not purſue their Rights within five years: So if one pretending Title to Land entreth and diſpoſſeſſeth another, and after with an intent to bind, the Diſſeiſee levyeth a Fine with Proclamations; this Fine ſhall bind the Diſſeiſee, by the expreſs words of the Act of 4 H. 7. if he do not enter and bring his Action within five years; and the ſame cannot be ſaid to be a Fine by Covin, becauſe the levying of the Fine is lawful, and the Diſſeiſee may re-enter, and bring his Action within the five years. Cook 3. Part, 79. in Farmers Caſe.

4. Note, It was adjudged, That where the Lord of a Mannor, wherein were many Copy-holders for lives, took a Wife, and afterwards a Copyholder dyed, and the Lord after Marriage, did Grant the Land again according to the Cuſtome of the Manner, for lives, that the Wife ſhould not avoid ſuch Grant in a Writ of Dower brought: for although the Grant was after the Title of Dower; yet the Cuſtome, which is the life of the Grant, was long before; And if a Feoffee of a Manner, upon Condition, maketh voluntary Grants, and after the Feoffor entreth for the Condition broken, yet ſuch Grants are good. Paſc. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 22. But ſee, and Note, That it was adjudged in B. R. That if Tenant for another mans life be of a Manner, and Ceſtuy que vie dyeth, and the Tenant continueth the Manner, and holdeth Courts, and maketh voluntary Grants by Copy, they ſhall not bind the Leſſor: for that he was but Tenant at ſufferance who hath not any Lawfull Intereſt, and ſo he is a Diſſeiſor of the Manner. Paſc. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 23. Rouſe and Arteis Caſe. See Sect. 1.

5. Note, In many Caſes, he who is in by wrong, ſhall retain, and recoup: He who hath a Rent of 10 l. iſſuing out of certain Land, Diſſeiſeth the Tenant of the Land: In an Aſſiſe brought by the Diſſeiſee, the Diſſeiſor ſhall recoupe the Rent, in the value in damages; ſo as where the mean profits of the Land in ſuch Caſe, were 13 l. per annum, the Diſſeiſee ſhall recover but the 3 l. 3 H. 6. Damages 18. ſo the Diſſeiſor in an Aſſiſe ſhall receupe all damages which he hath expended in the Reparations; So if a Rent-ſervice, incurred during the Diſſeiſin, the ſame ſhall be recouped, But the reaſon of theſe Caſes is, becauſe otherwiſe, when the Diſſeiſee re-entreth, the Arrerages of the Rent-Seck-charge, or Service, ſhall be revived; and therefore to avoid Circuit of Action, ne lis ex lite oriatur, the Arrerages ſhall be recouped in damages; But if the Diſſeiſor ought to have Common in the Land, the value of the Common ſhall not be recouped, for that by the regreſs of the Diſſeiſee, he ſhall not have any recompence for it. Mich. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, in Coulter's Caſe.

6. The Caſe was, A man deviſed a Rent of 10 l. out of his Manner of A. for life, and by the ſaid Will, Deviſed the ſame Manner to B. for years; the Deviſor dyed, the Leſſee for years, paid the Rent to the Deviſee of the Rent during the Term, the years expired; the Deviſee of the Rent demanded it at the day of payment; and it was not paid; upon which he brought an Aſſiſe; And if this payment of Rent by the Deviſee for years, of the Manner, was a ſufficient Seiſin to maintain the Aſſiſe, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, (amongſt other things) That the payment of the Rent by the Deviſee for years, was not a ſufficient Seiſin to maintain an Aſſiſe againſt the Tenants after the years ended, for divers cauſes. 1. In regard of the weak Eſtate of the Leſſee for years, which cannot prejudice or draw in Queſtion the Free-hold. 2. Becauſe he who hath not Seiſin of the Land, cannot give Seiſin of a Rent, becauſe no Præcipe lyeth againſt him; for in no Caſe in Law, a Præcipe lyeth againſt him who hath but a Chattell, but onely one, where a Writ of Dower lyeth againſt Guardian in Chivalry, becauſe in ſuch Caſe, it doth not lye againſt the Heir, and if it ſhould not lye againſt the Guardian, the Wife ſhould be without remedy to recover her Dowry. And in this Caſe, a difference was taken, betwixt giving of Seiſin, and receiving of Seiſin; for he who hath but an Eſtate for years, may take a Seiſin for the benefit of him in the Reverſion, but he that giveth a Seiſin, ought to be Tenant of the Free-hold. And the Tenant for years, by his payment cannot give Seiſin to bind him who hath the Free-hold. But Seiſin by the hands of a Diſſeiſor, or him who hath a defeaſible Title, is ſufficient to bind him who hath Right, becauſe he is Tenant of the Land, and the Act is Lawfull: But an Encroachment by his hands, ſhall not bind him who hath Right, becauſe the ſame is not Lawfull; The ſame Law is, if there be any Covin in the Diſſeiſor in giving of the Seiſin, the ſame ſhall not bind him who hath Right. Hill. 4 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 57. Erediman's Caſe.

7. By the Common-Law, and before the Statute of Gloucester, If A. were Diſſeiſed by B. and B. had enfeoffed C. or were Diſſeiſed by him; A. had no remedy for damages againſt the Feoffee, or Diſſeiſee of his Diſſeiſor, but was to bring his Action againſt B. who was his Immediate Diſſeiſor; and therein he was to recover the mean profits by way of Damages, not onely for his own time, but alſo for the profits received by the Feoffee, or ſecond Diſſeiſor; So if A. the firſt Diſſeiſee had re-entred, whereby he loſt his Aſſiſe, he might by an Action of Treſpaſſe brought vi et armis againſt his Diſſeiſor, recover the mean profits for all the mean poſſeſſions; but neither at the Common-Law, nor now, can he recover damages againſt the Feoffee, Leſſee, or ſecond Diſſeiſor, by Action of Treſpaſſe vi et armis, for that lies not his Caſe as to them who did not immediately Treſpaſſe; and the Common-Law did no wrong therein to charge the firſt Diſſeiſor for the profits not received by him, becauſe the firſt Diſſeiſee had no remedy for them againſt the ſecond Diſſeiſor, or the Feoffee; but the firſt Diſſeiſor, had remedy againſt the ſecond Diſſeiſor, or was ſuppoſed to have received ſatisfaction at the hands of the Feoffee, eſſee, or Leſſee; and ſo he paid but where he received. See, by Hobart Chief Juſtice, in the Argument of More and Haſſet Caſe. Tr. 7 Jac. in C. B. Hob. 98. acc.

8. Note, If a Diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for life, rendring Rent, and afterwards Grants the Reverſion to the Diſſeiſee, and he accepts of the Rent of the Leſſee; he ſhall never after put him out during the Term. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 30.

9. Note, It was agreed by the Juſtices according to the book of 9 H. 6. That if the Leſſor maketh a Feoffment in Fee, by the Agreement of the Termor, that the Feoffee ſhall have the Rent; And they all agreed, That if the Leſſor put out the Termor againſt his Will, and made a Feoffment, although the Termor re-enter, the Term is extinct, for the Land was diſcharged of the Rent in the hands of the Feoffor, and in the hands of the Feoffee it ſhall not be revived, no more, then if the Lord Diſſeiſe his Tenant, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, although that the Diſſeiſee entreth, the Feoffee ſhall not have the Seignory. Paſc. 27 H. 8. Dyer, 93.

10. In an Action of Treſpaſs brought, The Defendant ſaid, That the place where the Treſpaſs was done, was the Free-hold of one A. at the time of the Treſpaſs done; and that he as Servant, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That long time before the Treſpaſs, one B. was ſeized in Fee, and Enfeoffed him, and that thereby he was ſeiſed, untill he was Diſſeiſed by A. upon whom he entred; and was ſeized, untill the Defendant the day and year before-ſaid, did the Treſpaſs: The Defendant maintained his bar, and traverſed the Diſſeiſin. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was a Jeofaile, becauſe in the Replication, he did not traverſe, nor deny the Free-hold tempore tranſgreſſionis, &c. but he ought to have alledged the Treſpaſs Meſne between the Diſſeiſin, and the Regreſſe. Mich. 4. Ma. Dyer, 134.

11. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, by Indenture, Inrolled, Bargained, and ſold the ſame to J. S. in Fee, for 300 l. Proviſo, If he paid to J. S. 300 l. at ſeverall dayes, then the Bargain and ſale to be void. Provided further, and it was agreed between the ſaid parties, that the ſaid J. S. his Heirs, or Aſſigns, ſhould not entermeddle with the actuall Poſſeſſion of the Premiſes, or Perception of the Rents, till default were made of the payment of the ſaid Sums; J. S. did not enter. Afterwards, A. before any day of payment, let the Lands to J. D. for years, rendring Rent, and dyed: J. D. entred, clayming nothing but his Term, and paid his Rent to A. and at the end of the Term, ſurrendred the Lands to A. J. S. made his Will, and Deviſed the Lands to B. and afterwards dyed, C. being his Heir. B. entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff. In this Caſe, The Queſtion was, admitting that J. D. was not Leſſee for years, but onely Tenant at the Will of the Bargaynee, or Tenant at ſufferance; Whether his making a Leaſe for years, and the Leſſee entring, and paying the Rent, and clayming nothing but the Term, and yeilding up the Poſſeſſion to the Bargaynor, ſhould be a Diſſeiſin; And if it were a Diſſeiſin, If it were not charged by the Re-entry of the Bargainor, and occupying it in ſtatu quo prius; ſo as he was not out of Poſſeſſion; and ſo his Will thereof be good; It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices in this Caſe, That when the Bargaynor entred (as it ſhall be conceived by the Words, Yielding up the Tenements at the ending of the ſaid Tenure); If he were a Diſſeiſor before, (as they did not agree that he was) becauſe neither the Leſſor, nor Leſſee intended to make a Diſſeiſin: It was onely a Diſſeiſin in the Leſſee for years; And when the Term being expired, the Bargaynor entred, that charged the Diſſeiſin, and the Bargainor is in as he was before, and the Inheritance is reveſted in the Bargainee, and ſo his Will is good. And in this Caſe, The Court was of Opinion, That if Tenant at Will be ouſted by a ſtranger, and he re-enters, he is Tenant at Will to his Leſſor; otherwiſe it would be very miſchievous; In many Aſſurances where the Mortgages bring in Poſſeſſion upon a Condition, to pay at the end of the year, and in the mean time, that the Mortgages ſhould not meddle, who makes a Leaſe for half a year, and after re-enters; that the ſame ſhould be a Diſſeiſin againſt his own intent, and the Intent of the Bargainee. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Powſeley and Blackman's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 699, 670.

12. The Iſſue in tail brought a Formedon in the Diſcender, The Defendant pleaded in bar, and confeſſed the Eſtate tail, but ſaid, That before the death of Tenant in tail, J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Lands, and levyed a Fine to him, and five years paſſed; and then Tenant in tail dyed; and whether this Plea was a bar to the Plaintiff, or not, was the Queſtion; and it reſted upon this, Whether J. S. upon this generall Plea, ſhall be in by Diſſeiſin, or by Feoffment: It was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That he ſhall be intended in by Diſſeiſin; And ſo the Plaintiff is barred, Cook 3. Part, 78. acc. And Crawley Juſtice ſaid, That it ſhall not be intended, that Tenant in tail made a Feoffment to bar his Iſſues, unleſs it be ſhewed; And it lyes on the other part to ſhew it; and a Feoffment is as well an unlawfull Act, as a Diſſeiſin; for it is a Diſcontinuance. Paſc. 18 Car. in C. B. Taylers Caſe. Marſh. 195.

Diſcontinuance,

Diſcontinuance of Lands.

1. Diſcontinuance, what it is; And what Acts done by Tenant in tail in Poſſeſſion, ſhall be a Diſcontinuance of the Eſtate Tail; What not.

1. Mr. Littleton ſaith, That Diſcontinuance, is when a man hath alliened certain Lands, and Tenements, and dyeth; and another man hath Right to have the ſaid Lands and Tenements; but he cannot enter into them by reaſon of ſuch Alienation. Litt. 134. Sect. 592. Note, there is a Diſcontinuance in fact, and a Diſcontinuance in Law. In Fact, as if there be a tranſmutation of the Poſſeſſion. In Law, As by Conuſans de Droit, by Fine; by which, notwithſtanding that the Conuſor continueth the Poſſeſſion, yet the other is Tenant in Law; and the Right of the Eſtate, or of the Tail, is Diſcontinued, or Diſſolved.

2. King Henry the 8th, Tenant in Tail to him, and the Heirs Males of his body, of the Mannor of A. by force of a Fine in 3 H. 7. and of the Reverſion of the ſaid Mannor, to him, his Heirs, and Succeſſors, by force of an Attainder, and Office found, By his Letters Pattents, gave the ſaid Mannor of A. to W. W. in Tail: And afterwards it was Enacted by Parliament, That the ſaid Mannor of A. ſhould be re-veſted in the King, his Heirs, and Succeſſors, ſaving to all their Rights, &c. W. W. bargained and ſold the ſaid Mannor of A. to J. S. and his Heirs, againſt whom, Intruſion was brought. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt many other points), That when in this Caſe, The King was Tenant in Tail of the ſaid Mannor, the Reverſion expectant to him in Fee; and he reciting his Eſtate, Granted the Mannor and Land in Tail, That the Grant was not good, for although the King recites his Eſtate, and takes notice of it, yet the Eſtate Tail which he intended to Grant, did not ſtand with his Eſtate, for neither his Eſtate in Poſſeſſion, nor his Eſtate in Reverſion, would enable him to make a Grant of an Eſtate Tail in Poſſeſſion; and therefore becauſe the ſaid Eſtate could not take Effect according to the Kings intent and meaning, the ſaid Grant was adjudged void: Cook 1. Part, The Caſe of Alien Woods.

3. Note, It was adjudged, That if there be Tenant for life, the Remainder in Tail, the Reverſion in Fee, and the Tenant for life doth enfeoff him in the Reverſion in Fee, the ſame is a forfeiture of his Eſtate, and doth deveſt the Eſtate Tail in Remainder: So if there be Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Tail, and the Tenant in Tail doth enfeoff him in the Reverſion in Fee, it is a Diſcontinuance. Cook 1. Part, 140. in Chadleigh's Caſe.

4. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Tail, Tenant for life levyed a Fine come ceo, to the uſe of himſelf in Fee; Afterwards Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder joyned in a Feoffment, and made a Letter of Attorney to make Livery; It was holden in that Caſe, That the ſame was a Diſcontinuance of the Eſtate Tail; for firſt, It was an Entry for the forfeiture, and then it was the Feoffment of him in the Remainder, and the Confirmation of the Leſſee for life. Paſc. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 324. See Co. 1. Part, Bredon's Caſe, acc.

5. Husband and Wife, Joynt-Tenant of a Mannor, and to the Heirs of the body of the Huſband, the Remainder to B. in Tail, a Recovery is had in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, againſt the Husband alone, in the life of the Wife, with voucher. In this Caſe, (amongſt other things) It was Reſolved. 1. That as long as the Recovery ſtood in force, (for it was but avoidable) he in the Remainder, had not any Right to the Remainder, in reſpect of the intended recompence, but the ſame Remainder was barred for the moyety, As if Tenant in Tail ſuffer an Erronious Recovery, and afterwards Diſſeiſeth the Recoveror, and dyeth; the Iſſue in tail ſhall not be remitted ſo long as the Recovery ſtands in force, and a man ſhall never be remitted, but where if the right and Poſſeſſion were in ſeverall perſons, he who hath Right may have an Action to recover the Poſſeſſion. 2. It was Reſolved, That for one moyety, the Recovery was a bar to the Eſtate Tail, and to the Remainder alſo, becauſe that by the Recovery, the Joynture was ſevered; but for the other moyety, whereof the Wife was Tenant for life, the Recovery was not any bar to the Eſtate tail, or unto the Remainder, becauſe of that moyety, there was not any Tenant to the Præcipe: In that Caſe, this Caſe was put and agreed. Tenant in Tail diſcontinueth the Tail, and takes a new Eſtate tail to himſelf: A Writ of Entry is brought againſt him, and he voucheth the Common Vouchee, and Judgment is given, That the Iſſue in tail, ſhall not be barred for the firſt Entail, becauſe that the Father, at the time of the Recovery, was not ſeiſed by byforce of the Tail in the place of which the Recompence might Enure. Cook 3. Part, 3, and 5. The Marqueſſe of Wincheſters Caſe.

6. A man ſeiſed of Lands, made a Feoffment to divers upon Condition, that they ſhould give back the Land to him and his Wife in tail, the Remainder to his Right Heirs; they have Iſſue a Son; the Husband dyed, the Son in the life of the Wife, levyed a Fine with Proclamations to A. in Fee, the Wife entred, and made a Leaſe for three Lives, not Warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the Leaſe made by the Wife, although it was without Warranty, was within the Statute of 11 H. 7. cap. 20. for that a Diſcontinuance ſtands equall with a Warranty, or a Recovery. 2. That if he in the Remainder had Granted over his Remainder in Fee onely, that he might have entred for the forfeiture. 3. That the Conuſee might enter for the forfeiture, becauſe that by the Fine, the Eſtate Tail was barred; and then he is the next party to whom the Intereſt, Title, and Inheritance, after the death of the Wife doth appertain. Cook 3. Part, 51. Sir George Brown's Caſe.

7. Husband and Wife, Tenants in Speciall tail, the Husband alone levyed a Fine to his own uſe, and afterwards he Deviſed the Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder over rendring Rent; the Wife enters, and payes the Rent, and dyeth: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Fine had barred the Iſſue in tail, but not the Wife. Trin. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 351. See Cook 1. Part, 87. in Corbets's Caſe, acc. and becauſe the Iſſue cannot claim as Heir to both. 2. That in this Caſe, the Entry of the Wife was a diſagreement to the Eſtate of Inheritance, and an Agreement to the Eſtate for life; as it is ſaid in Cook 3. Part, 26. in Butler and Baker's Caſe. But in this Caſe, if the Wife had not waved, the Eſtate tail, as to the Wife, had remained, and for that, See Cook 9. Part, 139. in Beaumont's Caſe.

8. Land was given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies begotten, the Husband made a Feoffment in Fee, and dyed, having Iſſue; And afterwards, the Wife before any Entry made by her, dyed. In this Caſe, divers points at the Common-Law, and upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 28. was Reſolved. 1. That at the Common-Law, the Feoffment was a Diſcontinuance to the Iſſue, for the Iſſue ought to claim as Heir of their two bodies immediately, and as Heir to one onely he cannot Inherite, and by conſequence, he could not enter. 2. That although the Husband and Wife have Iſſue, and a joynt, and undivided Eſtate, that that Joynt-Eſtate was within the Statute of 32 H. 8. for ſhe had a Freehold, and Inheritance in the Land, although ſhe had not the ſole Inheritance or Free-hold. 3. That by that Statute, the Entry of the Iſſue in tail was Lawfull. 4. That the ſame Statute of 32 H. 8. did extend onely to Diſcontinuances, and it did not extend to take away future bars. 5. That if the Husband be Tenant in tail, the Remainder to the Wife in tail; If the Husband maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and dyeth without Iſſue, that the Wife may enter, but if the Husband ſuffereth a Recovery, and dyeth without Iſſue, there the Wife is barred, and ſhe cannot enter by the ſaid Statute of 32 H. 8. 50. If Husband and Wife have Iſſue and alien, and the Wife dyeth, the Iſſue cannot enter during the life of the Husband. But if the Husband alieneth, and afterwards the Wife is divorced Cauſa precontractûs, or any other Divorce, which diſſolves the marriage à vinculo Matrimonii, there the Wife during the life of the Husband may enter, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Paſch. 7 Jac. Cook 8. Part, 71. Grenelyes Caſe.

9. Land was given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two Bodies, the remainder to the Husband in Fee; the Husband levyed a Fine of the Land with Proclamations to the King, who by his Letters Patent gave the Land to J. S. and his Heirs: the Husband dyed, the Wife within the 5 years entred, claiming the Eſtate: J. S. dyed, this Heir reciting the Eſtate in Special Tail granted to the Husband and Wife, and that the Wife was ſeiſed of the Eſtate Tail, by Deed did confirm to the Wife her Eſtate; To have to her, and the Heirs of the body of her Husband deceaſed; the Wife having Iſſue a Son, A. betwixt her and her Husband, dyed: A. the Son entred, and afterwards accepted a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit tanium, from two ſtrangers, with a Render for 99. years, after the death of A, if B. his Wife ſhould ſo long live: the Proclamations paſs; A. dyeth, having Iſſue two Sons; the eldeſt in Ward to the King at his full Age, and before Livery, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs-Males of his Body, with divers Remainders over: The eldeſt Son dyed without Iſſue-male, having a Daughter within Age: The Queſtion was, if the Land did appertain to the Daughter, or to the younger Son. It was objected; Firſt, That by the Fine levyed by the Husband, the Eſtate Tail was barred, according to 18 Eliz. Dyer, 351. becauſe the Iſſue ought to claim as Heir to both their Bodies; that the Eſtate Tail was barred and extinct, and the Eſtate of the Wife was changed into an Eſtate for Life diſpuniſhable of waſte; like the Caſe of 7 H. 4. 16. If Husband and Wife, Tenants in Special Tail, are divorced by a Divorce, which diſſolves the marriage, marriage à vinculo matrimonii, the Donees have but an Eſtate for their lives, and the Eſtate Tail is extinct: and if the Eſtate of the Wife be converted to an Eſtate for Life, it is in the nature of a Tenancie, after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, and then the Confirmation made to her did inlarge her Eſtate, and ſo the Daughter was inheritable to the Land. Secondly, Admit the Wife had an Eſtate Tail, her Iſſues ſhould be inheritable by the Confirmation; for by the Confirmation J. S. hath excluded himſelf and his Heirs by expreſs words, as long as the Wife had Iſſue of her Body to claim the Land; and it was againſt Reaſon, that J. S. who made the Confirmation after the death of the Wife, ſhould enter into the Land againſt his own Confirmation; and the Confirmation doth alter the quality of the Eſtate of the Wife, and incorporate a new quality in the Eſtate: But it was Reſolved; 1. That after the death of the Husband, that the Wife after the death of the Husband, had an Eſtate in Special Tail, and by the Common-Law, the Eſtate of the Wife in ſuch Caſe, ſhould not be changed into an Eſtate for Life. For by the Common-Law, If it had been given to Huſband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two Bodies; and after Iſſue, the husband had alienated, and dyed, the Alienation ſhould not have barred the Wife, nor the Iſſue in Tail, becauſe the huſband alone had not poteſtatem alienandi, becauſe he had an undivided Eſtate joyntly with the Wife: And as to the Caſe of 10 Eliz. Dyer, there the Wife entred and claimed an Eſtate by the Deviſe; which proves, that if ſhe had not waved the Eſtate Tail, that ſhe ſhould have had it, and not an Eſtate for life: And the Caſe of 7 H. 4. is not like this Caſe; for there the Eſtate Tail was diſſolved ab initio: But in this Caſe the Eſtate Tail is barred, but not diſſolved, but hath continuance as long as the Wife lived, or Heirs in Tail did remain. 2dly, Reſolved, That the Confirmation did work nothing; for when the Wife entred, ſhe was ſeiſed in Tail, and no Eſtate was left in the Conuſee, but onely a poſſibility, and then ſuch a poſſibility by the ſaid Confirmation: and then when the huſband had the Remainder in Fee, the Confirmation made by the heir of J. S. can paſs nothing in reſpect of the poſſibility which was gained by the Fine, before the continuance of the Eſtate Tail; but it ought to be extracted out of the Remainder in Fee; and that it cannot be, becauſe no Eſtate Tail is created by the Confirmation, but the ſaid Eſtate confirmed. And again, a Confirmation cannot add a diſcendable quality to him who is diſabled to take by diſcent; and if a Confirmation ſhould add to the Eſtate of the Wife, a diſcendable quality, the ſame ſhould Repeal the Statutes of 4 H. 7. & 32 H. 8. by which the Eſtate Tail, as to the Iſſue, is barred. Cook 9. Part, 138. Beaumonts Caſe.

10. The Caſe was this; Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Tail the Reverſion to the right heirs of Tenant in Tail: Tenant in Tail bargained and ſold the Land, by Deed Indented and Enrolled to J. S. and his heirs; and afterwards levyed a Fine, with Proclamations to the Bargainee with Warranty: The Conuſee made a Feoffment in Fee; he in the Remainder had Iſſue, and dyed; Tenant in Tail dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe, theſe Points (among other) were Reſolved. Firſt, That by the Bargain and Sale, the Bargainee had an Eſtate diſcendable to him and his heirs, upon the death of Tenant in Tail, and had the Reverſion expectant upon the Remainder in Tail, and that the Wife of ſuch a Bargainee ſhould be endowed. Secondly, That the Fine levyed to the Bargainee, did not make any diſcontinuance of the Remainder, becauſe the ſame did not touch nor diſplace the Remainder, and no Eſtate of Frechold paſſed by the Fine: But the Fine with Proclamations did coroborate the Eſtate of the Bargainee: For whereas his Eſtate was determinable upon the death of Tenant in Tail now it is not determinable without death without Iſſue: But if the Fine had been levyed before the Bargain and Sale, it had been a diſcontinuance. Thirdly, That the Warranty did not barr the Remainder, becauſe the Warranty was annexed to an Eſtate Tayl; and the Eſtate Tayl was not diveſted by the Fine: and therefore when the Eſtate to which the Warranty is annexed is determined, the Warranty alſo was determined: And the Conuſee by his act cannot extend it further, then it was at the time of the creation of it. Fourthly, Reſolved, That a Warranty cannot inlarge an Eſtate. Fifthly, Reſolved, That the Feoffment of the Conuſee was not any diſcontinuance of the Remainder; for none can diſcontinue the Remainder or Reverſion, but he onely to whom the Land was entailed: and therefore if Tenant in Tail grants totum ſtatum ſuum, and he makes a Feoffment in Fee, the ſame doth not take away the Entry of him in the Remainder or Reverſion. Cook 10. Part, 46, 47. Edward Seymors Caſe.

11. The Caſe was; Tenant in Tail the Reverſion over to J. S. in Fee, they by Deed joyned in a Leaſe for life by Deed afterwards, he in the Reverſion deviſed the Reverſion and dyed, afterwards Tenant in Tail dyed without Iſſue: the Point was this, If Tenant in Tail joyns with him in the Reverſion, in a Leaſe which is not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Whether it be a Diſcontinuance of the Eſtate Tail onely, or a Diſcontinuance of the Reverſion onely: It was ſaid, That it was not any Diſcontinuance, nor the Reverſion diſplaced; becauſe it ſhall not be taken to be a tortious Leaſe, Leaſe or a Diſcontinuance, when by any means it may be conſtrued to be good, as it may be in this Caſe when they joyn; and when it was not the Intention of any of the Parties to diſ-inherit him in the Reverſion, or to take away or diſplace the Reverſion. See Cook 6. Part, 14. Treports Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 76. Bredon's Caſe. But it was Reſolved, That the Deviſe was void: For that the Leaſe for Life is onely the Leaſes of Tenant in Tail, during his and the life of the Leſſee, and then it is a Diſcontinuance, and the Reverſion taken from him in the Reverſion is diſplaced; and then being a Leaſe for the life of the Leſſee, the Livery is onely made by the Tenant in Tail, for he onely hath the power of the Freehold, and the immediate Poſſeſſion and Inheritance. Then when they make a Leaſe for Life, it is an immediate wrong to the Entail, and diſcontinues the Eſtate Tail during the life of the Leſſee, and the Tenant in Tail hath gained a new Fee, and ſo ſeiſed of a Reverſion in Fee expectant upon the Eſtate for life, and it is a Diſcontinuance preſently; for the Charge of the Reverſion is preſently by the Livery, or not at all; and it cannot be a Leaſe for the Life of Tenant in Tail, and after his death without Iſſue, a Leaſe for Life againſt him in the Reverſion. Wherefore the Juſtices were clear of Opinion, That it was a Diſcontinuance. Hill. 8 Car. in B R. Rot. 347. Baker and Hacking's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 281, 294.

12. A, and his Wife, ſeiſed of Lands to them, and the heirs of the body of A; the Remainder to B, and the heirs of his body; the Remainder to C, and the heirs of his body; the Remainder to B, in Tail; the remainder to the right heirs of A: A, his Wife, and C, (the Third in Remainder) joyned in a Feoffment with Warranty to J. S. and afterwards A. and his Wife, levyed a Fine to J. S; A. dyed without Iſſue; B. and C. dyed without Iſſue: J. S. dyed, the Land diſcended to his Son, who after the death of the Wife of A. entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff: The Defendant, by the Command of D, ouſted him. The Queſtion was, Whether the Entry of D, was lawful, or not: Wherein the Queſtion was, Whether this Feoffment were a Diſcontinuance of the Eſtate Tail? It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Eſtate Tail was veſted and ſetled in him; and his and his Wives Feoffment did make a Diſcontinuance, and the joyning of C. with them was not material, for there is an immediate Remainder in D. which is diſcontinued. 2. It was agreed, That this Feoffment and Fine to the ſame Perſon, made but one Aſſurance; And when the Wife is barred, and her Eſtate deſtroyed by the Fine, that ſhe cannot enter; thoſe in the Remainder may not enter, but are in Caſe as they were at the Common-Law: And in this Caſe, they all Reſolved, That an expreſs Diſcent being found, it takes away the Entry. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. King and Edward's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 233, 234.

13. In Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was, A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, deviſed them to his Wife for life; the Remainder to B. in Tail, the Remainder to his next Heir-male, being of his ſirname in Fee, and dyed: his Wife entermarried with B. who had the next Remainder in Tail. They levyed a Fine come ceo, &c. to J. S. who by the ſame Fine rendred to the Wife for life, the Remainder to the Husband in Fee, and a Recovery was had to the uſes contained in the Fine; the Wife dyed, and the Husband dyed without Iſſue; the right Heir of the ſirname of the Deviſor entred, who made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff; who being ouſted by the Leſſee of B, brought the Action. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That he in the Remainder might enter, for that all paſſed from the Tenant for life, and it is her Feoffment, and the Confirmation of the other: And ſo the Eſtate Tail being ſpent, he in the Remainder ſhall enter for the Forfeiture, and the Recovery ſhall be no barr, becauſe it was of another Eſtate; and this Title of Entry ſhall not be barred by the Common-Recovery, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff: ſo as his Remainder was neither diſcontinued by the Fine, nor his Entry taken away by the Recovery. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C.B. Peak and Charnells Caſe. Owen, 129, 130.

14. Grandfather Tenant for life, the Remainder to the Father in Tail: The Grandfather made a Feoffment in Fee, to the uſe of himſelf for life; the remainder to the Father in fee: afterwards they both came upon the Land, and made a Feoffment to J. S. in Fee. It was ſaid, That this was not any Diſcontinuance upon the matter, for the Father might wave the advantage of the Forfeiture; and when he joyns with the Grandfather in a Feoffment, it declares that he came upon the Land without an intent to enter for the Forfeiture, and ſo it can be no Diſcontinuance. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a Diſcontinuance; for when the Father entreth, he ſhall be adjudged in by the Forfeiture, and then he hath granted a Poſſeſſion, and ſo a Diſcontinuance; for both cannot have the Poſſeſſion. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B.R. rott. 528. Toſt and Tompkin's Caſe. Leon. 127.

15. Husband and Wife, the Wife being within Age, levyed a Fine; afterwards upon Inſpection, the Wife was adjudged to be within Age. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the whole Fine ſhould be reverſed; and not quoad the Wife onely: For if it ſhould be reverſed as to the Wife onely, then the Fine levyed by the huſhand alone ſhould be a Diſcontinuance: by which, by the Common-Law, the Wife ſhall be put to her Cui in vita, and that were not reaſonable, and therefore the Fine was reverſed in toto. Trin. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Charnock and Worſley's Caſe. Leon. 225.

2. Where, and what ſhall be a Diſcontinuance of an Eſtate Tail in Reverſion, or Remainder: What not; And where, and what ſhall be a Diſcontinuance of the Lands of the Wife by the Husband; and what not.

1. TEnant for Life of Land the remainder in Tail; the remainder in Tail Tenant for life, and he in the firſt remainder in Tail, joyn in a Fine ſur Conuſans dedicit come ceo, with a render, of a Rent of 40 l. to Tenant for life: He, in the firſt Remainder, dyeth without Iſſue. It was Reſolved, That the Fine levyed by Tenant for Life, and him in the firſt Remainder was no Diſcontinuance, becauſe each of them gave onely that which they might lawfully give. So it is, If the Tenant for Life, and he in the firſt Remainder, make a Feoffment by Deed, the ſame is no Diſcontinuance: And although he in the firſt remainder dyeth without Iſſue, yet the Feoffee ſhall hold and enjoy the Land during the life of the Tenant for life. But if there be Tenant for life, the remainder in Tail, and the Tenant for life, enfeoffeth him in the firſt remainder, who dyeth without Iſſue, the ſame is a Diſcontinuance and a Forfeiture; for that the ſame is a deveſting of the remainder, by the acceptance of the Feoffment; contrary, when they come in a Conveyance. Cook 11. Part, 76. Bredon's Caſe.

2. A Tenant for Life of divers Mannors, made a Feoffment of them to divers Perſons; to the intent, that they ſhould give them to A. and B. whom he intended to marry, and to the heirs of the body of A. A. and B. enter-marry, and have Iſſue C. A. dyed: C. in the Life of B, Tenant of the Freehold, ſuffered a Common Recovery with Voucher, to the intent, the Recoverors ſhould make a Feoffment to uſes; and that the Wifes Tenant for Life ſhould releaſe with Warranty, the Feoffment and Releaſe with Warranty was made accordingly: And if this Collateral Warranty were a barr to the Demandant who was heir in Tail, or was void by the Statute of 11. H. 7. cap. 20. was the Queſtion: In this Caſe, amongſt other things, it was Reſolved. 1. That although the Statute of 11 H. 7. cap. 20. made the Diſcontinuance, Alienation, Warranty, and Recovery void; yet they ſtood good betwixt the Parties themſelves, and againſt all others, but thoſe to whom the Intereſt, Title, or Inheritance, after the death of ſuch Wife or Woman did appertain, and they onely can avoid them by Entry. 2. When the Heir in Tail conveyes the Land to another, and the Releaſe or Confirmation of the Wife with Warranty, is but to perfect and ſtrengthen the Eſtate which the Heir in Tail hath made, ſuch Warranty is not reſtrained by the ſaid Statute of 11 H. 7. for that ſhall be intended for his benefit, and not for his prejudice: And the Wife, with the Heir, might have barred the Eſtate Tail by Fine; and then the Statute doth not reſtrain the Warranty made by him to ſuch Conveyance of the Heir in Tail. 3. When he in the Remainder in Tail by the Common-Recovery had againſt him by his Agreement, diſables himſelf to take benefit of the Forfeiture, which is given by the ſaid Statute, his Iſſue after his Death, ſhall not take benefit of it. 4. Reſolved, That if Tenant in Tail, being in of another Eſtate, ſuffereth a Common Recovery, and a Collateral Anceſtor of the Tenant in Tail, doth releaſe to the Recoveror with Warranty, ſuch Warranty ſhall bind, and the Terr-Tenants may take advantage by way of Rebutter. Cook 3. Part, 84, 85, 86. in Lincoln-Colledge Caſe.

3. See Cook 10. Part, 97. Edward Seymor's Caſe. The 5th Reſolution, in the Title Precedent. Sect. 10.

4. If a man be ſeiſed of Copyhold Lands in the Right of his Wife, and he ſurrendreth the ſame to the uſe of another, and the husband dyeth, It is no Diſcontinuance to the Wife; but that ſhe may enter, and ſhall not be put to her Cui in vita, nor her heirs to ſue a Cui in vita. Paſch. 35 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 734. Baſtock and Dibley's Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 23.

5. If the husband be ſeiſed of Lands in the right of his wife, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee upon Converſion, and dyeth, if the heir entreth upon the Feoffee for the Converſion broken, the Entry of the wife is lawful upon the heir, becauſe by the Entry of the heir the Diſcontinuance was defeated, See 4 H. 6. 2. and 3. acc. Litt. 141. acc. If a Woman who hath Lands of Inheritance takes a husband who is within Age, and the husband maketh a Feoffment in Fee of the Wifes Lands, and dyeth, in that Caſe, the Wife may enter. See Cook 8. Part, 43. in Wittingham's Caſe.

6. A man ſeiſed of Lands in the right of his wife,

Wife made a Feoffment thereof, by Deed Indented to certain perſons; upon Condition, that he ſhould Leaſe the Lands again to the Husband and Wife, for their lives, with divers Remainders over in Tail, the Remainder to the Right Heirs of the Husband. And afterwards the Husband dyed, the Feoffees Leaſed the Lands to the Wife for life, with the Remainder over in tail; the Remainders to the Right Heirs of the Wife, where it ſhould be to the Right Heirs of the Husband. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That for the Condition broken, the Husband's Heir might enter: for although no Right diſcendeth to him from the Husband, whoſe Eſtate is determined by death, yet the Title of Condition which he himſelf created upon the Feoffment, and reſerved to him and his Heirs, ſhould diſcend after his death, to his Heir. 2. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That when the Husbands Heir entreth for the Condition broken, the Feoffment which made the Diſcontinuance, is defeated, and, by conſequence, the Diſcontinuance it ſelf is defeated. 3. That after the Heir hath entred for the Condition broken, the Eſtate of the Heir doth vaniſh, and preſently the Eſtate is re-veſted in the wife, without any Entry or claim made by her. 4. In that Caſe, although the Wife hath accepted an Eſtate for life, and ſo concluded her ſelf, by Acceptance, to have any Cui in vita; yet when the Eſtate which ſhe hath taken, is defeated by the Condition; the Concluſion by Acceptance, is alſo avoyded. 4 H. 6. 2. Cook 8. Part, 44. in Whittingham's Caſe.

7. Husband and Wife, and a third perſon, purchaſed Lands joyntly, the Husband Alliened the whole Land, and dyed, the Wife dyed; It was holden, That the third perſon might have an Aſſiſe of the whole Land: It was alſo holden, That the Wife during her life, might have had her Cui in vita of the moyety, becauſe that by the Alliena-tion, the joynture was ſevered. 35. Aſſ. 15. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 193. acc.

8. Husband and Wife were ſeiſed of a Tenement in London, to them, and the Heirs of the Husband; the Husband Covenanted by Indenture in Conſideration of 20 l. that he and his Wife would ſuffer a Recovery by Writ of Right, according to the Cuſtome of London (which binds as a Fine at Common-Law) and that the Recovery ſhould be to the uſe of the Recoverors, untill they ſhould make a Leaſe for 40 years, and after the making of the Leaſe, then to the uſe of the Huſband and Wife, and the Heirs of the Husband; the Recovery was had accordingly: It was holden in that Caſe, by the Juſtices, That the Leaſe was good, and not defeaſible by the Wife, who ſurvived her Husband; and yet the Husband onely, was party to the Deed, which declared the uſe; yet it was holden, it ſhould bind the Wife. Cook 2. Part, 24. in Bethwith's Caſe. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 290.

3. Where the Reverſion or Remainder in the King, ſhall be diſcontinued by the Act of a Common perſon, Where not.

1. A Recovery had by Aſſent of the parties, without Title, ſhall not deveſt a Reverſion or a Remainder, which is ſetled in the King, becauſe that the ſame being ſuffered by aſſent of the parties, without Title, is but a Conveyance. 25 E. 3. 48. Cook 1. Part, 16. in Sir William Pelham's Caſe. acc.

3. The King, Tenant in Tail of the Mannor of Abbotſly, by force of a Fine in 3 H. 7. with a Reverſion to him, his Heirs, and Succeſſors; Granted the ſaid Mannor to Walter Walſh, and the Heirs Males of his body: It was adjudged, That the Grant was void, for that it appeareth, That the King did intend to Grant an Eſtate in Tail, and that he could not do, becauſe he had but an Eſtate tail himſelf; and the higheſt Eſtate that Tenant in tail might Grant, was but an Eſtate for his own life: for he who hath Land Entail to him and the Heirs of his body, hath ſuch Eſtate ſo appropriate and Incorporate to him, and to the Heirs which ſhall Iſſue out of his Loyns, that he cannot Lawfully Grant the ſame to a ſtranger, and the Heirs of his body, for that ſhould be Contra formam doni, and againſt the Statute De Donis Conditionalibus, by which Statute, the King is bounden. Cook 1. Part, 10 the Caſe of Alton-woods 44, 45.

3. If the King be Tenant in tail, and Grants the Land by his Letters Patents for years, or for life, the Patent is void; for a Grant without Livery, doth not make a Diſcontinuance, nor ſhall it bind, but during the life of the Grantor: and ſo it is of a Grant in Fee, it doth not make a Diſcontinuance without Warranty: And if the Kings Grant ſhould make a Diſcontinuance, it ſhould do wrong, which the King by his Grant cannot do, but rather his Grant ſhall be void. 38 H. 8. Br. Diſcontinuance, 35. Pat. 101. and Tail. 29.

4. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Fee, he in the Remainder, by Deed Indented, and Inrolled, in Conſideration of blood, and other Conſiderations, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the Remainder to the Queen, her Heirs, and Succeſſors, Kings, and Queens of England; And afterwards Tenant in Tail ſuffered a Common Recovery; It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Iſſue in tail was barred: And (amongſt other points) in that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That no Eſtate tail is preſerved by the Statute of 34 H. 8. but that which is created by the Kings Letters Pattents, or elſe be of the Proviſion of the King; and an Eſtate Tail created by a common perſon, is not preſerved by that Statute: But when the King, in Conſideration of mony, or for other good conſideration, procures a ſubject to make a Gift in Tail, to one of his Servants, the Remainder to the King, the ſame is ſaved by the Statute. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 2. Part, 15. Wiſeman's Caſe.

5. King Henry the ſeventh, by his Letters Pattents, Granted the Mannor of D. to A. and B. in Tail, and afterwards reciting the former Letter-Pattent, and that they were ſurrendred and delivered up to be Cancelled: by other Letters Pattents, ex certa ſcientia, &c. he Granted to the ſaid A. B. and E. his Wife Manerium prædict. to them, and their Heirs: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Grant was good, and the Reverſion of the Mannor, which the King had paſſed by the Grant, for inaſmuch as the party had truly informed the King of the Eſtate tail, and of the delivery of the ſaid Letters Pattents to be Cancelled; although the King had miſtaken the Law in matter of fact, yet the ſame ſhould not avoid his Grant, eſpecially the ſame being ex certa ſcientia, &c. which ſhall be taken in the moſt liberall ſenſe, according to the Intention of the King, expreſſed in his Grant, And 2. In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That by the Grant of the ſaid Mannor, without the word Reverſion, the Reverſion did paſſe, for that the Word Mannor, includes all degrees of Eſtates of the Mannor. Trin. 4 Jac. Cook 6. Part, 55. The Lord Chandois's Caſe.

6. The Caſe was; The King Granted the Honor of Saint Walry with the Advowſon of the Church of M, to the ſame Appendant, to Rich. Earl of Cornwall, &c. and to the Heirs of his body, ſaving the Reverſion to the King: which Earl had Iſſue Edmond his ſon, and dyed, Edmond, 8 E. 1. levyed a Fine of one Acre of Land, parcell of the ſaid Honor with the Advowſon of the ſaid Church of M. to the Biſhop of R. which Allienation was before the Statute de Donis Conditionabilibus: Afterwards the ſaid Edmond Earl of Cornwall dyed without Iſſue: In that Caſe, It was holden, That although the ſaid Allienation was made before the Statute, and poſt prolem ſuſcitatum, the Donees and their Iſſues had poteſtatem alienandi, to bar the Reverſion of a Common perſon; Yet it was holden the ſame ſhould not bar the Kings Reverſion, although it be with Collaterall Warranty, if there be not Aſſets diſcended, ſo as the King may have a full ſatisfaction and recompence, for without Warranty and Recompence, it is not ſuch a Compleat Allienation, becauſe it moveth from him who hath not a compleat Eſtate, which ſhall bar the King of his Reverſion; and yet in the Caſe of a Common perſon, ſuch a bare Allienation before the ſaid Statute, ſhould bar the Donor in ſuch Caſe. See 6 E. 3. 56. 45. Aſſ. 6. acc.

7. The Caſe was, Grandfather, Father, and Son; the Grandfather ſeiſed of Lands in Capite, conveyed part of his Lands to the uſe of the Father, and his Wife for their lives, the Remainder to the ſon in tail, the Remainder to others in tail, the Remainder to the Grandfather for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Grandfather; And conveyed other of his Lands in Capite, to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to other of his younger ſons for their lives ſeverally, the Remainder to the Father for life, the Remainder to the ſons in tail, with divers Remainders over, the Reverſion to the right Heirs of the Grandfather; the Grandfather dyed, the Father of full age, who tendred his Livery, and dyed before Livery ſued, or office found, the ſon of full age, the Wife and the younger ſons being alive. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That by the death of the Father before Livery ſued, the King had loſt his Primer-Seiſin after the death of the Grandfather, but the King ſhould have the mean Rates, if any were, becauſe they were veſted in the King. 2. That the ſon ſhould not ſue Livery, nor pay Primer-Seiſin, becauſe he is out of the Statutes of 32 and 34 H. 8. and the Primer-Seiſin was due by the Father, and the King ſhall not have but one Seiſin by the Statute. 3. That the King ſhould have Primer-Seiſin for the Lands which were conveyed to the younger ſons, becauſe they are within the Statute. 4. Reſolved, That the King ſhould not have Primer-Seiſin of this dry and fruitleſs Reverſion, and that by the Statute of Prerogativa Regis; for when no Rent is reſerved, the King cannot take the profits. But yet it was Reſolved, That for ſuch a Reverſion, the Heir ſhould be in Ward. 9 Jac. Cook 9. Part, 131, 132.

4. Of Alienations made by Biſhops, Parſons, Prebends, &c. What ſhall amount to Diſcontinuances; What not: And of other Acts done by them.

1. BY the Common-Law, If a Biſhop, Abbot, &c. or the Husband, ſeiſed in the Right of his Wife, had made a Feoffment in Fee, it had bin a Diſcontinuance, and had put the Succeſſors to their Action, for the favour which the Law gave to Eſtates which paſſed by Livery, and Seiſin, being the antient and common aſſurance of the Realm: But if a Biſhop, Abbot, &c. or Husband, &c. ſeiſed of a Rent, or of any thing which lay in Grant, had by Deed Granted the ſame in Fee, it had bin no Diſcontinuance, and yet it was not abſolutely determined by the death of the Biſhop, &c. for that the Succeſſor or the Wife had Election to determine it, and make it void by bringing their Writ, or by claim made upon the Land. Cook 3. Part, 86. in the Caſe of Fines.

2. If a Biſhop, &c. or the Husband ſeiſed in the right of his Wife be Diſſeiſed, and the Biſhop or Husband releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor, it is no Diſcontinuance: But if the Biſhop or Husband maketh a Leaſe for years, and releaſeth to the Leſſee and his Heirs, It is not abſolutely determined by the death of the Biſhop or Husband; but it is void, or voidable at the Election of the Succeſſor, or the Wife: But if a Biſhop, or the Husband make a Leaſe for life, and afterwards Grant the Reverſion in Fee, and the Leſſee for life dyeth, in the life of the Biſhop, or of the Husband, it is a Diſcontinuance. Cook 3. Part, 86. ibid.

3. The Provoſt of Wells, Parſon imperſonee of the Parſonage of W. let the Tythe thereof for 50 years, rendring Rent, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, but not by the Patron and Ordinary; the Provoſt-ſhip by Act of Parliament was united to the Deanery cùm primò vacare contigerit; the Provoſt dyed; the Dean accepted the Rent: It was adjudged, That the Leaſe was not affirmed, for the Leaſe of the Provoſt was void by his death, as it is in the Caſe of a Parſon and Prebend: but contrary of a Biſhop, Dean, and Abbot, who are Elective, and may make Diſcontinuances. But if the Leaſe aforeſaid had bin for life, it ſhould have bin void without Entry; and the Acceptance of the Rent was to no purpoſe, for that the Reverſion was determined. Trin. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 239.

4. Note, there is a difference betwixt perſons who have not the meer Right in them, but a qualified Right. Although they be barred in reall Actions (without making them parties who have Intereſt) yet the ſame ſhall not bind the Succeſſor, as Prebendary Parſons, &c. For in ſuch Caſe, in a new Action of the ſame nature, he ſhall falſify the Recovery, for that the Recovery was not any Diſcontinuance, but the Succeſſor might enter. But otherwiſe in Caſe of an Abbot, Biſhop, or the like, who have the whole Fee-ſimple in them: in ſuch Caſes the Succeſſor at the Common-Law, could not falſify in a Scire facias, or in another Action of the ſame nature. Cook 6. Part, 8. Ferrer's Caſe.

5. By the Statutes of 1. & 13 Eliz. and 1 Jac. Biſhops, and other Eccleſiaſticall perſons are reſtreyned to Allien, or Diſcontinue, any of their Eccleſiaſticall Lands, or Livings; for although they do convey, or Allien them to the King himſelf, yet the Alliegnation is void in Law: for, although the King be not expreſly named in the Act of 1. Jac. yet the ſame being made to ſuppreſs Allienations, Wrongs, and Diſcontinuances done by Clergy-men to their Succeſſors, the King is included in the generall words of the Act, Parſons, and perſons. Cook 5. Part, 14. Cook 11. Part, Magdalen-Colledges Caſe.

6. If a Biſhop had bin Patron of a Church; he could not make (by the Common-Law) any Grant of the Parſon of any Lands of his Parſonage good, either by Licence precedent, or by his Confirmation ſubſequent which ſhould have bounden the ſucceſſor of the Parſon, without the Confirmation of the Dean and Chapter: But if there had bin Parſon, Patron, and Ordinary; and the Patron and Ordinary had given Licence by their Deed to the Parſon, to have Granted a Rent-charge out of the Gleab, and the Parſon had made ſuch a Grant, this ſhould have bounden the Succeſſor of the Parſon at the Common-Law, before the reſtreyning Statutes, although it had not bin confirmed afterwards, by reaſon of the Licence precedent. But in that Caſe, the Ordinary alone might have agreed to ſuch a Grant of a Rent by his Licence precedent, or Confirmation ſubſequent, without the confirmation of the Dean and Chapter, becauſe in ſuch Caſe the Dean and Chapter had not to do with any thing that the Biſhop did as Ordinary, for that did not concern their Poſſeſſions: But in ſuch Caſe, the Confirmation, or Licence of the Patron had not bin good to make the charge perpetuall, unleſſe the Patron had had a Fee-ſimple in the Patronage, which if he had; then

covery; It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Iſſue in tail was barred: And (amongſt other points) in that Caſe, it was Reſolved, That no Eſtate tail is preſerved by the Statute of 34 H. 8. but that which is created by the Kings Letters Patents, or elſe be of the Proviſion of the King; and an Eſtate Tail created by a common perſon, is not preſerved by that Statute: But when the King, in Conſideration of mony, or for other good conſideration, procures a ſubject to make a Gift in Tail, to one of his Servants, the Remainder to the King, the ſame is ſaved by the Statute. 5. King Henry the ſeventh, by his Letters Patents, Granted the Mannor of D. to A. and B. in Tail, and afterwards reciting the former Letter-Patent, and that they were ſurrendred and delivered up to be Cancelled: by other Letters Patents, ex certa ſcientia, &c. he Granted to the ſaid A. 7. There is a Rule in Law, That Prelatus, Eccleſia ſuæ cautionem meliorare poteſt, deteriorare nequit. 43 E. 3. 23. And therefore, If a Biſhop, Parſon, &c. Purchaſe Lands to him and his Succeſſors, he cannot wave the purchaſe after himſelf, but his Succeſſor, upon a juſt cauſe ſhewed, viz. 8. A Prebendary, Parſon, Vicear, &c. for the benefit of their Churches, ſhall be eſteemed to have the Fee-ſimple of the Gleab Lands in them: For they ſhall have and maintain an Action of Waſte, for Waſte committed in the Gleab, and in the Writ it ſhall be ſaid, ad exhæredationem Eccleſiæ: But a Parſon, Prebendary, &c. cannot Diſcontinue the Fee of the Gleab: And if they make Leaſes for years, reſerving Rent, and dye, the Leaſes are now void by their deaths; and no Acceptance of Rent by their Succeſſors, ſhall make ſuch void Leaſes good: Otherwiſe it is, if they make Leaſes for lives; there the Acceptance of the Rent by the Succeſſors, will make the Leaſes good, becauſe the Leaſes were not void, but voydable onely. But if a Biſhop, Abbot, Prior, &c. make Leaſes for years, and dye, and the Succeſſors do accept of the Rent, they ſhall never avoid the Leaſes, for that the Leaſes were not void, but voidable onely. Cook 3. Diſcontinuances of Suits, Proceſs, Writs, and Proceedings in Courts.

1. THe Queen brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop, and the Incumbent, they pleaded ſeverall Pleas; the Suit long depended. It was prayed, in regard the Queen did not proſecute her Suit, that ſhe might be Non-ſuited: But it was agreed and Ruled by the Court, That the Queen could not be Non-ſuit: but it was ſaid, That after a year paſſed, the party may have the Suit diſcontinued, but the Queen ſhall not be Nonſuit: But in the Caſe of a Common-perſon, the Court ſaid, The Plaintiff may Diſcontinue his Suit within a year; but the Defendant cannot pray it to be diſcontinued untill after the year. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and Leigh's Caſe. Goldesbr. 53.

2. Upon the Statute of 1 E. 6. Of Diſcontinuance of Proceſſe, by the Demiſe of the King, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. If any Judiciall Writ, or any proceſſe in a Court of Record be Awarded in the time of the Predeceſſor of the King, the ſame may be executed in the time of the Succeſſor. 2. If an Appeal of death be delivered to the Sheriff, within the year, and, before the Retorn of it, the King dyeth, there, by the Common-Law, the Plaintiff upon a Certiorari directed to the Sheriff, Retornable in B. R. ſhould have another Appealment, although the ſame doth not come in by the Retorn of the Sheriff, but by Certiorari, for neceſſity; otherwiſe the Plaintiff, who lawfully bringeth his Suit within the year, without any default in him, ſhould loſe his Appeal, and therefore, becauſe by Act of Law, it is Diſcontinued, the Law will give a means to revive it. 3. That by the death of the King, The Office of Sheriffs are determined; and without new Pattents of their Offices, nothing can be done by them. But if a man hath the Office of Sheriff by Inheritance by Charter, he may Execute any Judiciall Writ Awarded to him, in the time of the Predeceſſor-King. 4. That the Statute of 1 E 6. extends onely to Actions betwixt party and party, and doth not extend to Caſes where the King is party

ty. 5. If an Information be preferred by the King, or tam pro domo Domino Rege quam proſe ipſo, and Iſſue or Demurrer is joyned, and the King dyeth, all is abated but onely the Information, and that ſhall ſtand, and upon that, Attachment ſhall be Awarded, upon the Retorn of which, if the Defendant appear, he ſhall plead de novo, for although in generall, the King doth not dye and there is no Inter-Regnum, yet in Individuo he dyeth; and that ſtands upon great reaſon, for upon many Penall Statutes, the Suit is to be commenced within a certain time, and if the Information ſhould not be of force after the death of the King, the Offence ſhould be unpuniſhed: But if the King bring an Original, as a Quare Impedit, the ſame ſhall abate by his death: But if a man be Endicted in the time of the King, and pleads to Iſſue, and the King dyeth; the party ſhall plead de Novo. Cook 7. Part, the Caſe of Diſcontinuance of Proceſſe, by Demiſe of the King.

3. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt A. and B. upon a Grant of the next Avoydance. A. pleaded Non Conceſſit, upon which Iſſue was joyned: B. pleaded a Plea upon which it was demurred, Verdict was found againſt A. at the Aſſizes, and the Poſtea being Retorned. 8. Mich. the Entry was Curia adviſare vult, of the Judgment upon the Verdict and demurrer; and day was given untill 1. Hillarii, to the Plaintiff, and B. but no day was given to A. againſt whom the Verdict was found; And upon Error brought, That was Aſſigned for Error, that it was a Diſcontinuance. But it was Reſolved, That it was no Diſcontinuance, for the Verdict being againſt A. he is out of Court, and no day ſhall be given to him, againſt whom a Verdict is found, becauſe he hath no day in Court to plead any thing; but in this Caſe, day onely was to be given to the party, who was to plead to the Demurrer. 4. Debt was brought upon an Obligation, the Defendant pleaded payment, which was found againſt him, there being Error in the Venire facias; the Plaintiff entred a Retraxit, whereupon Judgment was given, Quod Defendens eat ſine die. In a new Action brought, the Defendant pleaded the ſame in bar; Whereupon Error was brought, and amongſt other Errors, It was Aſſigned, That there was a Diſcontinuance, for there is not any continuance from Mich. 2 Jac. (at which time the Verdict was given) to Mich. 4 Jac. at which time the Judgment was given; and this was Error, and not aided by the Statute of Jeofailes, becauſe the Judgment is not given upon the Verdict, for then it had bin good; but upon the Retraxit, which is out of the Statute; It was ſaid, That a Diſcontinuance can never be Objected pendente placito before Judgment, for it may be continued at the pleaſure of the Court, but after in another Term, it may be well rejected, and a Continuance cannot then be entred. Mich. 16 Jac. in B. R. Beecher and Sir Tho. Shirleys Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 211.

5. Error of a Judgment in Havering-Court, in Eſſex, becauſe the Judgment being in Debt by Nihil dicit, there was a Diſcontinuance, viz. That after Imparlance-day was given to the parties, untill the next Court, and no day certain: for that cauſe, It was holden by the Court to be a Diſcontinuance, and the Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 18 Jac. in B. R. Adams and Flyth's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 571.

6. Error brought of a Judgment, In Debt upon an Obligation of his Father, The Defendant Pleaded, Nothing by diſcent, but 15 Acres in D. in Comitatu C. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Plaintiff had more Lands by Diſcent, ſcil. 15. Acres in S. It was found that the Plaintiff had nothing in S. ſo the Plaintiff had Judgment and Execution of the 15 Acres in D. upon which he brought Error, and Aſſigned for Error, a Diſcontinuance of the Record, from Eaſter Term, to Michaelmas Term following. It was adjudged to be Error, and that it was out of the Statute of 18 Eliz. and not helped by that Statute, and the Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. 7. In Treſpaſſe for entring his houſe and Cloſe at G. the Defendant juſtifieth, for that a Capias ut legatum, was by a Warrant from the Sheriff, directed to him to Execute upon one S. and becauſe it was the Common voice, That S. was at the Plaintiffs houſe, he went in a Foot-path through the Cloſe to the ſaid houſe, and asked leave of the Plaintiff to enter his houſe, to ſearch for the ſaid S. and that the Plaintiff Licenſed him; whereupon he entred, and not finding S. he Returned the ſame way: Iſſue joyned upon the Licence, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That there was not any Replication for the Cloſe, nor any Iſſue joyned thereupon, ſo all was Diſcontinued; But the Opinion of the Court was, That Judgment ſhould be given for that which was found, and that the Diſcontinuance for the other, was aided by the Statute. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Wats and King's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 353.

8. Debt

8. Debt was brought upon an old Statute of 800 l. The Plaintiff declared upon a Statute, Solvendum upon requeſt, and it appeared upon Oyer of the Statute, that the mony was payable at a day certain, which being an Incurable fault, the Plaintiff moved, That he might Diſcontinue his Suit; otherwiſe, by this ſhift, he ſhould be barred of his Bond: It was Anſwered by the Court, That the Plaintiff, after a Demurrer, cannot Diſcontinue it without the leave of the Court. And although the continuance be not entred, it may be entred at any time; And the Defendant, by leave of the Court, for his own advantage, may enter the Continuance; And becauſe the Suit was upon an old Statute 34 years old, wherein the Defendant was but a Surety, he gave day till the next Term, to Treat and compound; and that the Defendant might enter the Continuance. 9. Error of a Judgment in an Inferiour Court, The Plaint was entred before ſuch a one Mayor, and the Suit was continued before another Mayor, and it is not ſhewed, that the firſt Mayor is removed, and that the other Mayor was lawfully Elected, and ſworn. Rolls Juſtice ſaid, That the Continuances in an Inferiour Court, ought to ſhew the Manner of the Continuances, and it ought not to be expreſſed generally; Alſo it is not ſaid tunc majores, which would have made it certain: The Court doubted, If the Venire facias was not diſcontinued, and ſome Inclined, It was. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Styles 111.

10. Error of a Judgment in an Inferiour Court, the Error was Aſſigned in a Continuance, which was ad proximam Curiam 16. die, whereas the Court was not held that day. It was holden Error, and the Judgment reverſed. Paſc. 24 Car. in B R. Pay and Paxteſts Caſe. Styles 97. See Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Pimpe and Jhuſons Caſe. It was Aſſigned for Error, That one of the Continuances was to a day certain, where it ought to be ad proximam Curiam, the Judgment was reverſed. Styles 70. See 24 Car. in B. R. Pimley and Robinſons Caſe. Styles 122.

11. Treſpaſſe of Battery againſt A. B. and C: A. appeared, and the Plaintiff Declared againſt him, ſimul cum, and he pleaded Not-Guilty. And afterwards B. appeared, againſt whom the Plaintiff alſo declared, ſimul cum, &c. And upon Not-guilty pleaded, a Scire facias was Awarded, and both Iſſues tryed at the Aſſizes; and the Iſſue againſt A. being firſt found, the Jury upon that Iſſue aſſeſſed damages for the Plaintiff 200 l. Afterwards the Iſſue was tryed againſt B. and 50 l. damages aſſeſſed by the ſecond Tryall: C. appeared, and confeſſed the Action, and a Writ of Enquiry of Damages was Awarded upon the Roll, but none Iſſued: In that Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. When in Treſpaſſe againſt divers, the Defendants plead Not-Guilty, or ſeverall Pleas; and the Jury find in all for the Plaintiff, the Jurors cannot Aſſeſſe ſeverall damages againſt the Defendants, becauſe it is all but one Treſpaſſe; and made joynt, both by the Writ and Declaration: But if the Jury find one Guilty at one time, and another at another time, there ſeverall damages may be taxed. 2. Reſolved, That the Defendant who pleads laſt, ſhall be charged with the damages taxed by the firſt Jury, and the ſecond Jury ſhall not aſſeſſe damages, but the party ſhall be contributary to the damages aſſeſſed by the firſt Jury. 3. Whereas it was objected, That there was a Diſcontinuance againſt C. for the Judgment given upon the Confeſſion, and not upon the Verdict, and C. is not party to the Iſſue, or the Enqueſt which aſſeſſeth the damages, that the ſame was not helped by the Statute of 32 H. 8. But it was Reſolved, That by the Act of Parliament, of 32 H. 8. the Diſcontinuance againſt C. was ſaved, becauſe that C. was party to the Originall, and one of the Defendants in the Action; And ſo within the words of the Act, and he might have Attaint. Cook 11. Part, 5. Sir John Heydons Caſe.

12. Accompt was brought againſt J. G. of divers Receipts and parcells, to all which, except one, the Defendant pleaded to Iſſue, (and for one parcell pleaded nothing) and the Iſſues were found for the Plaintiff: It was moved, That the Plea was Diſcontinued, becauſe he did not anſwer to parcell; And it was ſaid, That the Diſcontinuance was not remedied by the Statute of 32 H. 8. becauſe no anſwer was given to one parcell, and of parcell the Plaintiff could not have Judgment according to his Declaration; for of the parcell to which no Anſwer was made, no Judgment could be given. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court in that Caſe, That the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 30. did extend to it, for it is thereby Enacted, That after Verdict found, Judgment ſhall be given any Diſcontinuance, &c. notwithſtanding. Diſpenſations for Reteyner of Benefices.

1. BY the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. The King, Queen, Prince, and other the Kings Children, are not limitted within the Statute, how many Chaplins they ſhall retein, and therefore they may retain as many Chaplins as they pleaſe; And every of their Chaplins may purchaſe a Diſpenſation to have Plurality of Benefices, with Cure of Souls. But Arch-Biſhops, Biſhops, Dukes, Earls, Barons, Counteſſes, and other Offices of Honor and Place named in the Statute, are ſtinted how many Chaplins every one of them may retein, who are Capable of Diſpenſations for Pluralities. See Statute 21 H. 8. cap. 13.

2. A Counteſſe may retain two Chaplins within the Statute, and each of them may purchaſe a Diſpenſation to have Plurality of Benefices, with Cure; But if a Counteſſe who is a Widdow, doth retein two Chaplins, and afterwards doth retein a third Chaplin, and the third Chaplin, before any of the other two, doth purchaſe a Diſpenſation to have two Benefices with Cure, he having a Benefice before, of the value of 8 l. the firſt Benefice is void by the Statute, For when the Counteſſe hath reteyned two Chaplins, thoſe two are onely capable of Diſpenſations within the Statute, and the Reteyner of the third Chaplin cannot Deveſt the Capacity of Diſpenſation which was veſted by their Reteyner in the firſt two Chaplins; And therefore the Diſpenſation purchaſed by the third Chaplain, is void, and his firſt Benefice is void by the Statute. Cook 4. Part, 90. Drwyes Caſe.

3. If a Baron who is allowed but three Chaplins, retein ſix by his Letters Teſtimoniall at one time, the three firſt Chaplins are onely Warranted by the Statute, and a Diſpenſation for Plurality purchaſed by them, is onely good; and the three laſt ſhall not be reputed his Chaplins within the Statute, ſo long as the three firſt are in his Service, or are living, and therefore the purchaſe of Diſpenſations by the three laſt for Pluralities, are void. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 312.

4. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, The Queen preſented to a Parſonage, which was void by taking of another Benefice by S. the Defendant; The Defendant S. to enable him to have two Benefices, pleaded, That he was the Chaplin of Sir James Croſts, Compteroller of the Queens Houſhold: who by the Statute of 21 H. 8. might have two Chaplins, and might qualify them to take two Benefices, to which it was Replyed, That Sir James Croſts had two other Chaplins which are Qualified to have two Benefices, and alſo to have two Benefices by reaſon of that Qualification; and alſo are alive, ſo as he is a third Chaplin, who could not be qualified by that Statute; To which it was anſwered, That one of thoſe two Chaplins was removed and diſcharged by the ſaid Sir James Croſts, to be his Domeſticall Chaplin, ſcil. Cappellanum familiarem, and ſo he hath now but two Chaplins, of which the Defendant was one; upon which there was a Demurrer in Law: In this Caſe, there were three Points. 1. If a Qualification ſub ſigillo be ſufficient within the Statute, without the ſignature, or name of Sir James Croſts. 2. When two Chaplins are qualified, and one is removed out of Service, if he might qualifie another by the Statute, the party being alive who was Qualified. 3. Whether he remain his Chaplin during his life, notwithſtanding ſuch removall. It was adjudged in this Caſe for the Queen; and that for theſe reaſons: For the firſt point, becauſe the Defendant S. was not qualified ſub ſigno et ſigillo Jacobi Croſt. but onely ſub ſigillo; And the words of the Statute are, viz. Under the ſign and Seal of the King, or other their Lord or Maſter &c. which words (or other their Lord or Maſter) ſhall be referred to Sign and Seal, which is Limitted to the King. To the ſecond point, they agreed it to be clear Law; That after he hath reteyned as many as by the Law he may retein, and they are ſub ſigno et ſigillo, teſtified to be his Chaplins, and by reaſon thereof, have Qualification to have two Benefices, and by Vertue thereof, have two Benefices, although that afterwards they are removed for diſpleaſure, or otherwiſe; yet during their lives, their Maſter cannot take other Chaplins which may be Qualified by the Statute, for ſo every Baron, &c. might have Chaplins, ſans number which was not the meaning of the Statute. 3. They Reſolved, That although he was removed from Domeſticall Service of the Family, yet he did remain Chaplin at large, and ſo a Chaplin within the Statute; And it was alſo holden in this Caſe, That if the party Qualified do dye, The Queen, or other Maſter mentioned in the Statute, might Qualify another again. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and Savacres Caſe. Rott. 1130. Godbolt. 41, 42.

5. If a Counteſſe that is a Widdow, doth retein

tein a Chaplin, and he purchaſeth a Diſpenſation for Plurality; And afterwards the Counteſſe entermarrieth with a Peer of the Realm, and afterwards the Chaplin is Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted into a Benefice with Cure; this is well, and good in Law, for that the Reteyner was not Countermanded by the entermarriage. Cook 4. Part, 118. Alton's Caſe.

6. If an Earl or Baron reteyneth a Chaplin, and before the Chaplin be advanced to any Benefice, the Earl, or Baron be Attainted: Now thereby the reteyner is determined, and the Chaplain cannot purchaſe a Diſpenſation to have a ſecond Benefice, becauſe that he that is Attainted, is dead in Law, and thereby the Reteyner is determined before the Diſpenſation obtained, and therefore, If ſuch a Parſon, having a Benefice with Cure of Souls, do afterwards, without other Diſpenſation obtayned, take another Benefice, the firſt Benefice is void by the Statute. Cook 4. Part, 119. The Earl of Weſtmerland's Caſe.

7. If a man before the Statute of 21 H. 8. hath a Diſpenſation from the Pope for a Plurality, and at the time of the making of the Statute of 21 H. 8. hath one Benefice with Cure of Souls, of the value of 8 l. and within a year after the making of the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 16. he obtaineth a Confirmation of his former Diſpenſation; It was holden in ſuch Caſe by Manwood and Mounſon Juſtices, That the firſt Benefice was void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. and the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 16. doth not reſtore him to the ſame without a new Preſentation, notwithſtanding that the Statute of 28 H. 8. doth make the Bulls of Diſpenſation made by the Pope good for one year; And that if they be ſurrendred within the year, that the Chancellor of the Augmentation might make a new Diſpenſation unto him. But the Lord Dyer held, As the Statute of 21 H. 8. made the firſt Benefice void: ſo the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 16. did reſtore him to the Benefice; For when two Statutes are croſſe in appearance one to the other, and no Clauſe of Non Obſtante be conteyned in the ſecond Statute, ſo as the one may ſtand with the other, ſuch Conſtruction ſhall be made of the Statutes, as both of them ſhall take effect. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 347.

8. In an Ejectione Firmæ; It was found by ſpeciall Verdict, That A. being Parſon of M. and the Land in Queſtion, parcell of the Rectory, That he was Chaplain to the Earl of S. and obtained a Licence from the Biſhop of Canterbury, to accept another Benefice, Modo ſit infra ten Miles of the former, which was confirmed under the Great Seal: A. accepts another Benefice, with Cure, which was found to be ſeventeen Miles from the firſt, and was Inſtituted and Inducted, both being within the Dioceſſe of Lincoln. The Arch-biſhop in his Viſitation, Inhibited the Biſhop of Lincoln to Execute any Induction during his Viſitation. It was found, That the Patron omitted to preſent to the firſt Benefice, within the ſix Moneths; and the Biſhop of Lincoln, within the ſix Moneths Collated the Leſſor of the Plaintiff to the firſt Benefice, who was admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and made the Leaſe; Whether the Plaintiff had good Title againſt the Defendant, was the Queſtion: The Doubt aroſe upon that, Whether Modò ſit was a Condition. The Civilians in this Caſe delivered their Opinions, That Modo ſit, are Proviſoes, and not Conditions, unleſſe there be added other words, That if it be otherwiſe, That then it ſhall be void. The Court was of Opinion, That although Dummodo, Ita quod, be generally a Condition in our Law, as Dummodo is, yet it is to be expounded, as it uſually hath bin; otherwiſe great Inconveniences would enſue, and multitude of Benefices would be void, and in Lapſe to the King. And therefore they Reſolved, It ſhould not in this Caſe be taken to be a Condition: to make the Benefice void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. but ſhould be as it was at the Common-Law before the Statute: It was adjudged for the Defendant in the Ejectione Firmæ. 1. A Diſtreſſe may be taken of a thing, whereof a valuable property is in ſome perſon; and not of things which are feræ naturæ. 2. Things valuable for the maintenance of Trade, which are for the Common-Wealth, are not Diſtreinable. 3. 3. In a ſecond deliverance of a Barge taken at Graveſ-End, in the Stream of the River of Thames. The Defendant Pleaded, That he was ſeiſed of an Inn called the George in Milton, and preſcribed, That he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had, &c. had uſed for to repair part of the Bridge at Graveſ-End. In Conſideration of which, the Plaintiff being a Ferry-man, he and his Auncеſtors, and thoſe whoſe Eſtate, &c. had, time out of mind, &c. paid to him and his Auncеſtors, &c. 4 s. yearly, at Mich. and for one year, he Avowed to Diſtrein the Ferry-mans Barge, and Averred, That the Bridge was in repair, and the Barge to be the Ferry-mans Barge; upon which there was a Demurrer in Law. And Whether the Barge, being upon the ſtream of the River was diſtreinable, was the Queſtion, the Caſe is not Reſolved. 3. Ma. Dyer. 117.

4. Treſpaſſe was brought upon the Statute, that none ſhall diſtrein the beaſts of the Plough ſo long as another reaſonable diſtreſſe may be had; and the Plaintiff declared of taking his Cattell of the Plough, contra formam Statuti, but did not ſhew, how that he had other Diſtreſſe; and yet it was adjudged to be good; for that ſhall be intended within the words contra formam Statuti, and it ſhall come on the other part, after the Defendant hath ſhewed the cauſe of Diſtreſſe. 5. A man did preſcribe to have pot-water out of a River; And the Jury found, that he ought to have it, paying ſix pence yearly. In that Caſe, It was Ruled, That he had failed of his Preſcription; and if he doth not pay the mony, the Tenant of the Land may only diſturb him from taking the Pot-water, which is all the remedy which he hath; but it ſeems, he cannot diſtreyn for it. Cook 5. 7. A man ſeiſed of bl. Acre in Fee, and of Wh. Acre for years, by Deed granted a Rent out of both Acres to J. S. for life, with Clauſe of Diſtreſſe in both Acres; the Rent was behind, and J. S. diſtreyned and Avowed in Wh. Acre. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, It was Reſolved. 1. That when a man Grants a Rent out of Land in Fee, and out of Lands for years, to have for life; the Freehold of the Rent ſhall Iſſue out of the Land in Fee, and not out of the Term, becauſe it is but a Chattell, and the Agreement of the parties cannot charge ſuch a thing with a Rent, which was not chargeable by the Law, as an Advowſon, Hundred, Fair; becauſe in an Aſſiſe, they cannot be put in view, nor any Diſtreſſe taken out of them. 2. It was Reſolved, That White Acre, during the Term, ſhould be ſubject to the Diſtreſſe, although the Rent did not Iſſue out of it; And when Land is charged with a Rent in Fee, Goods and Chattells may be charged to the Diſtreſſe; And if the Grantee taketh a Leaſe of parcell of the Land, the ſame ſhall not ſuſpend the Diſtreſſe; And a man may Diſtrain in his own Poſſeſſion. Cook 7. 8. If a man Granteth a Rent out of the Manner of D. and further granteth, That if the Rent be behind, That he ſhould Diſtrain for it in the Mannor of S. It is but a penalty in the Mannor of S. and it is a Rent out of the Mannor of D. onely, and if it ſhould be a Grant out of the Mannor of S. then the Grantor ſhould be twice charged; And if a man Granteth a Rent of 40s. to have and to hold, to him and his Heirs, out of the Mannor of D. the ſame is a Rent going out of D. onely. But if a man Granteth to one and his Heirs, that he ſhall Diſtrain for a Rent of 40 s. within his Mannor of S. the ſame ſhall amount to a Grant of a Rent out of his Mannor of S. For if it ſhould not amount to a Grant of a Rent; for the Grant ſhould be of no effect if the Grantee ſhould have onely a bare Diſtreſſe, and no Rent in him; and therefore it ſhall amount to a Grant of a Rent in conſtruction of Law ut res magis valeat. 3 E. 3. 12. 3 Aſſ. 7. 22 H. 6. 11. 9. A Woman Granted an Annuity of 20 l. per annum to her younger Son, Iſſuing out of the Mannors of E. O. and P. lying and being in the Pariſhes of E. W. and C. in the County of K. aut alibi in eodem Com. diſtit Manoriis ſive eorum alicui, quoquo modo ſpectant. ſeu pertinent. The Woman was alſo ſeiſed of an Acre of Land in C. not parcell of, nor appertaining to, any of the ſaid Mannors, and dyed ſeiſed; the Grantee entred, and abated into the ſaid parcell and Acre, and continued ſeiſed by Abatement; And if the ſaid Acre which was not parcell, nor appertaining to the Diſtreſſe, ſhould be charged with the ſaid Rent or not, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged, That the Rent did not Iſſue out of that Acre, becauſe in this Caſe there is but one Grant, and one ſentence, for there is no period nor end of the ſentence, before the Concluſion of theſe words aut alibi, and the aut alibi doth not enlarge the Grant of the rent, to Iſſue out of other Lands or Tenements, but enlargeth the Towns and places in which the Lands charged before, did extend, as if it had bin ſaid *in parochia de E. 12. If a man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, maketh thereof a Leaſe for Life; And afterwards he Granteth a Rent-charge, though the Grantee cannot Diſtrein the Cattell of a ſtranger, who is in Poſſeſſion of the Land for the Rent; Yet if the Cattell of the Grantor do come upon the Land, the Grantee may Diſtrain them for the Rent. Brown. 1. 13. The Lord of a Waſte, of 200 Acres of Land, enfeoffed a ſtranger of 50 Acres of the ſame Land, lying towards the North; the Feoffee put his Cattell in the Fifty Acres, and they Eſtrayed into the reſidue of the Land, and were Diſtreyned Damage-feaſant, and the Diſtreſſe holden good. For the Purchaſer ought to encloſe, or keep his Cattel within the 50 Acres; and ſo ought the Lord for the reſidue. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 372. See 14 Eliz. Dyer, 317. Cook 6. 14. An Avowry was made for Damage-feaſant in &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That he was ſeiſed in Fee of the Cloſe adjoyning, and the Defendant, and thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had, &c. time out of mind, &c. were bounden to encloſe. The Defendant ſaid, that the Cloſe was the Free-hold of A; without, that the Plaintiff was ſeiſed of that in Fee; the Plaintiff did demur upon the Plea. It was holden, That this ſpeciall Traverſe of the Eſtate in Fee, was good, becauſe the Plaintiff had given advantage of that; yet if he had but an Eſtate for years, or at ſufferance, or Common, or Licence, it ſufficeth: Out of which Caſe, Note, If two Cloſes be, and the one ought to encloſe againſt the other; if the Cattell of a ſtranger eſcape into the Cloſe, which ought to make the Encloſure, he may Diſtrain them. 22 Eliz. Dyer, 365.

And it was the Opinion of three Juſtices, That by ſuch Grant, the Patentee might Encloſe the Forreſt; but he could not take the Trees there. Trin. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 285.

16. A man had Common Appurtenant by Preſcription, to a houſe, and 40 Acres of Land; and he made a Feoffment in Fee of parcell of the Land: It was Reſolved, That the Common ſhould be Apportioned, and that the Feoffee ſhould have Common for that parcell which was Alliened unto him: For the Preſcription was to have Common in ſuch Land, in which, to be taken by the mouthes of his Cattell, Levant and Couchant upon the Land, to which; and that extends to all and every parcell of it; And in that Caſe, It was agreed, agreed, That a Commoner may diſtrain Damage-Feaſant, of Common-Right. Cook 8. Part, 78. Wright and Wild's Caſe.

17. Note, theſe points were Reſolved by the Court, When an Entry, Authority, or Licence is given by the Law, and the party doth miſ-do in it; he is a Treſpaſſer ab initio: As if the Lord, who Diſtraineth for Rent, or Damage-Feaſant, doth labour, or work the Diſtreſſe, he is a Treſpaſſor. 2. That the not doing of a thing ſhall not make him, who hath Authority, or Licence in Law to do it, to be a Treſpaſſer ab initio. As if a man Diſtreins for his Rent, or Damage-Feaſant, and the Leſſee tendreth the Rent, or Amends, and requires his Cattell which are Diſtrained, and the party will not deliver them, that doth not make him to be a Treſpaſſor ab initio, but Damages there ſhall be recovered onely for the detaining of the Cattell, but not for the Diſtreſſe. 3. It was holden in that Caſe, That if a mans Cattell are Diſtrained, That tender of Rent upon the Lands before the Diſtreſſe, doth make the diſtreſſe wrongfull; Tender after the Diſtreſſe, and before the Impounding of the Cattell, makes the Detainer, and not the Diſtreſſe, wrongfull. Tender of amends, or of a Rent, after the Cattell are Impounded, makes neither the one, nor the other wrongfull: But if after the Avowant hath Return, If the Plaintiff maketh unto him a ſufficient Tender, he may have Detinue againſt the party, or he may upon ſatisfaction made in Court, have a Writ for the Delivery of his goods unto him. Cook 8. Part, 146. The ſix Carpenters Caſe,

18. In Treſpaſſe, The Defendant pleaded, That the Dean and Chapter of P. were ſeiſed of the Mannor of C. in Fee, in the right of their Church, and ſo ſeiſed King E. 4. by his Letters Patents, Granted them all Fines pro Licentia Concordandi, of all Homagers and Tenants, Reſiants, and Non-Reſiants within their Fee; and that ſince they have uſed to have ſuch Fines; and that, 29 Eliz. a Fine was Levyed in C. B. betwixt the Plaintiff, and one A. of 11. Acres of Land, and the Poſt-Fine Aſſeſſed to 15 s. And that S. the Common oppoſer, did allow to them the ſaid 15 s. becauſe the Land was within their Fee, and that afterwards they demanded the 15 s. of the Plaintiff, which he refuſed to pay, and therefore the Defendant, in the right of the Dean and Chapter, Diſtrayned: And it was not Averred, That the Land wherein they Diſtreyned, was within their Fee; onely S. allowed it to be within their Fee. It was the Opinion of the Court, that the Dean and Chapter could not Diſtrain for this matter, for they ought to ſue for it in the Exchequer. And Gawdy Juſtice ſaid, That this Grant did not extend to the Poſt-Fine, for Fine pro Licentia Concordandi, is the Queens Silver, and not the Poſt-Fine. Paſc. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Rott. 318. Stoud and Bragg's Caſe. Leon. 249.

19.* In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant did juſtify as Bayliff unto another; the Plaintiff Replyed, That he took his Cattell of his own wrong without that, That he was his Bayliff. Anderſon Chief Juſtice ſaid, If one hath cauſe to Diſtrein my goods, and a ſtranger of his own wrong, without any Warrant by the other, taketh my goods, not as Bayliff, or Servant to the other; and I bring an Action of Treſpaſſe againſt him, Can he excuſe himſelf, that he did it as my Bayliff? Can he father his miſdemeanor upon another? He cannot, for once he was a Treſpaſſor, and his intent is manifeſt; But If one Diſtrain as Bayliff, although in truth he is not Bayliff, if after, he in whoſe Right he doth it, doth aſſent to it, he ſhall not be troubled as a Treſpaſſor, all which was agreed by the other Juſtices: And in this Caſe, It was ſaid, That if a man hath Cauſe to Diſtrein, and cometh upon the Land, and Diſtreyneth, and another asketh the Cauſe, Why he doth ſo? If he Aſſigns a Cauſe not true or ſufficient, yet when an Action is brought againſt him, he may Avow, or juſtify and Aſſign another Cauſe. It was Reſolved in the principal Caſe, That the taking was not good. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 110.

20. In a Replevin, the Defendants made Conuſans as Bayliffs for Rent behind; The Plaintiff ſaid, That two ſtrangers had Right of Entry in the place where &c. and that the Defendants by their Command entred and took the Cattel abſq; hoc, that they took them as Bailiffs to A. upon the Traverſe the Defendants demurred in Law; It was adjudged that the Traverſe was well taken: For it was agreed by the Court, That When a Bailiff diſtreins he ought, if he be required, ſhew the Copy of his Diſtreſs, but if he be not required then he is not tyed to do it, and no Requeſt was in this Caſe. Paſch. 29. Eliz. in C. B. Butler's Caſe, Leon. 50.

21. If the Lord cometh to diſtrein the Cattel of his Tenant for Rent or Services behind, and he ſeeth that the Cattel be within his Fee, if the Tenant or any other, to prevent the Lord to diſtrein, drives the Cattle out of the Lord's Fee, yet the Lord may freſhly follow and diſtrein the Cattel; and in ſuch Caſe, the Tenant cannot make reſcous: But if the Lord, coming to diſtrein, had no view of the Cattel to be within his Fee; In ſuch Caſe, though the Tenant remove them unto ſome other place; or the Cattel, after the view, of themſelves go out of the Fee, then the Lord cannot diſtrein them out of his Fee; and if he doth the Tenant may make Reſcous of them, Cook 9. Part, 22. in the Caſe of Avowry.

22. Lord,

22. Lord, Meſne, and Tenant, The Lord Grants, by Fine, the Services of his Tenement to another in Fee; the Grantee dyeth without Heir, the Services of the Meanalty ſhall Eſcheat to the Lord Paramount; and in ſuch Caſe, if the Services of the Meanalty be afterwards behind; the Lord Paramount may Diſtrain the Tenant for the Services, though the Tenant did never Attorn to the Grant. Cook Inſtitutes 1. Part, 321.

23. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A man acknowledged a Statute, and afterwards Granted a Rent charge: The Statute afterwards was ſatisfied by Effluxion of time, and the Grantee did Diſtrain for the Rent; And, whether the Diſtreſſe was well taken without firſt bringing a Scire facias, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That none who claims any Eſtate in the Land under the Conuſor, after the Statute acknowledged, can avoid the extent without a Scire facias, or a Venire facies ad Computandum; wherein, if it appears, that he hath taken the profits of the Lands, after the time of the extent ſatisfied, he ſhall be allowed for them, and ſhall anſwer for the profits ſo fortiouſly taken: But Grantee of a Rent, after the Statute ſatisfyed, may well Diſtrain, and ſo may the Grantee of a Common, for they claim no Intereſt in the Land, but profits out thereof; wherefore they cannot have a Scire facias, or a Venire facias ad Computandum, for they ought not to account with them, and therefore they may Diſtrain or otherwiſe put in their Cattell to take the profits, otherwiſe they ſhould be without remedy: It was adjudged for the Avowant. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Rott. 177. Burwell and Harwell's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 438. See Godbolt. 207. the ſame Caſe. acc.

24. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, Two Hundreds were adjoyning to two ſeverall Mannors, of two ſeverall perſons, the Avowant was ſeiſed of one of them, and preſcribed, That he, and all the Tenants of the other Hundred, have uſed to make Suit at the Leet within his Manor, and alſo, that the Lord of the other Mannor uſed to appear, or to pay him 4 s.. And if it was not paid, the Avowant preſcribed, that he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he hath, have uſed to Diſtrain any Inhabitant within the Hundred for the ſame; and for 4 s. not paid, he did Avow the Diſtreſſe within the Mannor of the Plaintiff, who was one of the Inhabitants: It was agreed and Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Cattell of the Lord might be Diſtreyned upon any Land within the Hundred, for ſuit and Services; But for perſonall matters, as for Amercement in default of Suit, no ſtranger might be Deſtreyned; Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Gooſey and Potts's Caſe. Owen. 146.

25. In a Replevin, the Defendant did Avow the taking of the Cattell Damage-Feaſant in a Common, and did not ſhew, That he had Common there for his Cattell, Levant, and Couchant, nor ſhew that he was damnified by the Cattell Diſtreyned damage-Feaſant: It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That if one who hath no right to Common, do put his Cattell upon the Common, he who is a Commoner, may take the Cattell Damage-feaſant upon the Common, and it is not neceſſary for him to Aver, That he hath damage by them, for he hath an Intereſt which doth Authorize him to remove the Nuſance, but he muſt make a Title to the Common; and if it be but by Implication, it is ſufficient, and well enough. Mich. 1654. in B.R. Bronge and Mores Caſe. Styles 418.

26. In Trover and Converſion, for taking the Plaintiffs Cattell by way of Diſtreſſe, and ſelling them by Virtue of a Warrant of Commiſſion of Sewers, for not paying of a Tax ſet by them towards the Reparation of Sea-walls: the Defendant pleaded all the ſpeciall matter by way of Juſtification; the Plaintiff demurred to the Plea, and took divers Exceptions to it; amongſt which. 1. That it doth not appear, that the Lands taxed, were within the Levell to be taxed by the Commiſſioners. 2. There is not layed to be any notice given of the Tax. 3. The Tax is of the Land of ſuch a one and his Aſſignees, and it doth not appear, That the Plaintiff, was the Aſſignee of the Land. And the Court was of Opinion, That although one may Diſtrein, and ſell the Cattell of the Owner of the Land, for ſuch a Tax not paid, or the Cattell of his Aſſignee; yet the Cattell of ſtrangers cannot be Diſtreyned, or ſold for the ſame. Wherefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 23 Car. in B. R. Whitley and Fawſett Caſe. Styles 13.

27. In Treſpaſſe Quare Clauſum fregit, the Defendant did juſtify, That he did enter and Diſtrein for an Amercement in the Sheriffs Torn, which was impoſed upon the Plaintiff, for encroaching upon the Kings High-way, without ſhewing, That the ſame was preſented before the Juſtices of the Peace at their Seſſions, as the Statute of 1 E. 4. cap. 2. requireth. In that Caſe, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Statute of 1 E. 4. cap. 2. did not extend to Treſpaſſes, which were not contra pacem (as the encroachment in this Caſe is) for otherwiſe, the Lord of a Leet could not Diſtrein for an Amercement without ſuch Preſentment before Juſtices of Peace: And although the Statute ſpeaks of Felony, Treſpaſſe, &c. the ſame is to be meant of other things of the ſame nature; which is proved by the Clauſe in the Statute, viz. That they ſhall be impriſoned: which cannot cannot be in the principall Caſe at bar. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Hardinghams Caſe. Godbolt. 190.

28. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant cepit averia of the Plaintiff quæ Oculd. and did not ſay, In Quodam loco, &c. upon which the Defendant did demur in Law: The Queſtion was, Whether the expreſſing of the place where the taking and Diſtreyning of the Cattell, were materiall in the Plaintiffs Declaration or not: It was objected for the Defendant, That the Ancient form of the Regiſter ought to be obſerved; And in the Regiſter, the place in which the taking is, is ſet forth, and 35 H. 6. 40. Exception was taken to the Count, becauſe the Plaintiff in the Replevin did not alledge the place where the taking was. It was ſaid by Cook, Chief Juſtice, to which the other Juſtices inclined, That the effect of the Suit in this Caſe, is not the ſhewing of the place, but the taking of the Cattell; and it is on the part of the Defendant to ſhew where he took the Cattell, for perhaps the Plaintiff doth not know where he took them; and if he did know the place where they were taken, yet perhaps he hath not Witneſſes to prove the ſame, and ſo by this means the Plaintiff ſhould be at a miſchief, and delayed in his Suit, whereas a Replevin is Feſtinum Remedium, to have his Cattell again, which perhaps are the Cattell of his Plough: And in this Caſe, upon the matter, the Avowant is the Actor, and he beſt knows the place where he took the Cattell; and it is no reaſon, that the Plaintiff miſſing of the place, not being matter of ſubſtance, ſhould be trieed: And divers books were vouched, where the taking is alledged to be in a Town, without ſaying In quodam loco, &c. was good. 4 E. 3. 13. 44 E. 3. 14. 21 H. 7. 22. 9 E. 4. In a Homine Replegiando. 3 & 9 H. 6. It was adjourned. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Read and Hawes Caſe. Godbolt. 186, 187, 188.

29. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit, and the Defendant had a Return of the Cattell; the Plaintiff afterwards ſued a ſecond Deliverance, and was Nonſuit in that Caſe alſo; whereupon a Return irrepleglible was Awarded; And, Whether the Defendant ought to make Avowry, ſhewing the certainty of the place of taking the Cattell, Day, and colour of the Cattell, was the doubt, to have a Writ of Enquiry of Damages ſome held it ought ſo to be. And 34 H. 8. vouched, That ſuch Avowry was made: Others held, he might not make ſuch Avowry, but might juſtifie the detaining of the Diſtreſſe, untill the Plaintiff tender him amends for his Damages. Some were of Opinion, That the Avowant might work the Cattell: Others, not; becauſe he had no property in them, but as a Gage: But it was holden by the Juſtices, That he might put them again into the Pound; and that the Owner of them was bound to keep them there with meat, &c. and if they dyed in Pound, That it was at the perill of the Owner; and that then he might Diſtreyn de novo for the ſame Cauſe. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 280. See 3 Eliz. Dyer, 189. 28 H. 6. 6. by Forteſcue. 9 E. 4. 4. p. 10. 19 E. 2. Replevin. 26.

30. A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent at the Feaſt of St. Mich. and if it were behind by ten dayes after, and no ſufficient diſtreſſe found upon the Land, then the Leſſor to enter. The laſt of the 10 dayes, at two of the Clock Afternoon, the Rent was demanded, and there was a ſufficient Diſtreſſe upon the Land before the demand, but not after; Whether the Leſſor might enter or not, was the Queſtion. Clenche Juſtice held, That there ought to be a ſufficient diſtreſſe upon the Land for all the ten dayes: But Suit Juſtice held, It was ſufficient, if there were a ſufficient Diſtreſſe for a convenient time, ſo as it might be, That the Leſſor might be preſumed to have knowledge of it: But it was agreed by the whole Court, That if a Diſtreſſe be put upon the Land onely for an hour, or by night, it was not a ſufficient Diſtreſſe. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 67.

31. Treſpaſſe brought, for that he took and abduxit a Gelding; The Defendant Juſtified as the Kings Bayliff of the Mannor of E. for that he had Waifes and Eſtrayes there; and took that Gelding coming in there as an Eſtray; and kept and deteyned him, untill afterwards the Plaintiff re-ſeiſed him: the Plaintiff replyed, That the Defendant ſeized him. 14 Oct. 2. Jac. and that poſtea, ſcil. 16. October, 2 Jac. before his re-ſeiſure, laboured the ſaid Gelding, riding upon him, and drawing with him: It was holden in this Caſe by the Court, That a Diſtreſſe may not be laboured, or uſed, becauſe he hath it onely by Law as a Gage; And that there is no difference betwixt this Caſe, and the Caſe of a Diſtreſſe, for he hath it by Authority of Law, wherefore he is puniſhable for the abuſe as a Treſpaſſor ab initio: And the Court held, That this uſer of the Eſtray, was an abuſer thereof; for it is not lawfull for any man to uſe it in any manner, unleſſe in Caſe of neceſſity, or for the benefit of the Owner; And to uſe a Stray horſe by riding or drawing, is tortious, though it was alledged, That the Common courſe is, to tye ſtray-Horſes with Withes about their necks. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 3 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 1070. Bagſhaw and Goward's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 147.

32. Note, It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if a man hath a Horſe, or Oxe, or Cowes, at pawne, That he hath a ſpeciall property in them; and he may may work ſuch Pawn; and he may Milk the Cowes, and make ſuch uſe of them as the Owner might; but if he abuſeth the Pawn, an Action lyeth: And he hath ſuch an Intereſt in the Pawn, he may Aſſign over, and the Aſſignee ſhall be ſubject to Detinue, if he deteins it upon payment of the mony by the Owner. 2. It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if a man taketh a Diſtreſſe, he cannot work the Diſtreſſe, for it is onely the Act of Law, that gives him power to Diſtrein, for he hath no property in the Diſtreſſe, nor poſſeſſion in jure. If a man have a Retorn irrepledgible, he cannot work them, for the Judgment is to remit them to the Pound ibi remanſurum, &c. And it was agreed by the Court, That when a man hath a ſpeciall Intereſt in a thing by Act of Law, That he cannot work it, or otherwiſe uſe it; but contrary upon a ſpeciall Intereſt upon the Act of the party, As in Caſe of a Pawn. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. More and Conhams Caſe. Owen. 123.

33. A. had a ſecond Deliverance Retorned: which was Retorned Averia Elongata, &c. whereupon he prayed a Withernam of the Cattell of the Plaintiff, and it was Granted; And then the Defendant came, and ſatisfied the Defendant his Coſts and Damages; and prayed a Writ of Reſtitution to have his Cattell again taken in Withernam. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Cattell were not repleviſible, but for ſatisfaction of Damages, he ſhall have reſtitution of his Cattell: and ſo is 16 H. 6. and the Courſe of the Court, as it was affirmed by the Preignothories and Clerks of the Courts. And a Writ of Reſtitution was Awarded. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Almeſkey and Johnſon's Caſe. Owen. 46.

2. Of Diſtreſſes taken and driven out of the County: Of Exceſſive Diſtreſſes, and of the Writ of Diſtringas: and other matters concerning the ſame: and Diſtreſſes.

1. ACtion upon the Statute of 1 & 2 Philip and Mary: The Statute is, That no Diſtreſſe ſhall be driven out of the Rape, Hundred, Wapentake, or Laith where ſuch Diſtreſſe is, or ſhall be taken, except it be to the Pound Overt, in the ſame County, not exceeding three miles diſtant from the place where the Diſtreſſe was taken: The Plaintiff declared of a Diſtreſſe taken within a Hundred in ſuch a County, and that he drove it ſix miles out of the County: Being found for the Plaintiff, after Verdict, in Arreſt of Judgment. It was holden by the Court, becauſe a Hundred may be in divers Countyes, and the Statute is, That the driving ought not to be more then three miles out of the Hundred; And that it might be, That the Diſtreſſe was taken in another County, and the driving was ſix miles from the place where the Diſtreſſe was taken, yet not three miles from the Hundred where the taking was, for that cauſe, It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 11.

2. A man Diſtrayned Cattell in the County of Wilts, in a place which was within the Honor of Wallingford, the Caſtle and Court being within the County of Berks; and drove them to the ſaid Caſtle, and there Deliverance was made, The Plaint was removed by Accedas ad Curiam, directed to the Sheriff of Bedford, to remove the ſame into the Common-Pleas: And there the Plaintiff declared of a taking in prædict. loco in Com. Wilts; And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good. Trin. 1 Eliz. Dyer, 169.

3. The Statute of Marlebridge prohibits, That none ſhall bring a Diſtreſs out of one County into another: Yet ſee the Book of 1 H. 6. 3. Fitzh. title diſtreſs. 1. Where it is holden by the whole Court, Where a Mannor extends into two Counties, That the Lord may diſtreyn in one County, and bring the Diſtreſs into another County where the Mannor is, and this is to avoid the miſchief and inconvenience that would enſue, if the Lord ſhould be reſtreined from bringing his Diſtreſs to his Mannor. See 20. E. 3. 5. Adjudged to the contrary.

4. Homage and Fealty are ſervices of ſo great accompt and eſteem in the Law, that the Seiſin of them is the Seiſin of all other ſervices, and no diſtreſs of them, or any goods or cattels, is exceſſive in the. Judgment of Law; And although the Lord ſo often diſtreineth for them, ſo as the Tenant cannot till his Land, yet the Tenant ſhall not have an Aſſiſe of ſovent diſtreſs, as he ſhall have for Rent or other profits. Cook 4. Part, 8. in Bevil's Caſe.

5. By the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas, Cap. 12. The Sheriff ought not to make an exceſſive Diſtreſs for the King's debt nor diſtrein the plough-Cattel, if he can find others; And if the party will find Sureties to pay the King's debt before the day of the Return of the Writ, the Sheriff ought to deliver back the Cattel; and if he do otherwiſe than is appointed by the Statute, he may ſue forth a Writ forbidding the Sheriff, that he do not diſtrein, contrary to the Form of the Statute, Fitzh. N. B. acc.

6. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant ceaſeth for two years, and doth not do his ſervices, and the Land be not open and ſufficient to diſtreſſe, the the Lord ſhall have a Ceſſavit, though he wanteth Seiſin of the Services, for in a Ceſſavit Seiſin is not traverſable, 11 Eliz. Dyer 274. and although the Lord was never ſeiſed, yet becauſe the Seigniory doth remain, if he doth diſtrein, the Tenant may not do reſcous: But if nothing be behind, and the Lord diſtreineth the Tenant, he may do reſcous; Or if he diſtrein ſo often that he cannot manure the Land, he may have an Aſſiſe of Sovent diſtreſs. See 8 H. 41. 4 E. 6. by Diſtreſs, 75, by the Juſtices. Cook 4. Part. 11. acc.

7. In an Action of Trover, the Defendant pleaded, That he took them, as Bayliff of the King, for a Diſtreſs upon a plaint in Curiâ Manerii, and that he ſold them; upon which, It was demurred, and it was adjudged no Plea: For upon a Diſtringas the Cattel ſhall not be ſold, eſpecially in a Court Baron, although it were the King's Court. M. 8. Jac. in B. R. Gomerſall and Wayt's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part. 255.

8. In an Aſſumpſit after Verdict, It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, That the Diſtringas was blank, and no Return thereupon, nor the Name of the Sheriff added or put thereunto: But becauſe the Venire facias was well returned, with the Name of the Sheriff added thereunto, and the Diſtringas is of the ſame Jurors as were returned before, the Court held it amendable: And this Caſe is not like to Rowland's Caſe, Cook 5. Part. 41. for there the Sheriff's Name was wanting upon the Venire facias, which guides all the proceſs; wherefore it was ordered that it ſhould be amended, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. M. 15. Jac. in B. R. Churcher and Wright's Caſe. Croke 2 Part. 413. See Paſch. 17, Jac. in B. R. Fitzhugh's Caſe. acc.

9. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant pay the Lord a greater Rent than is due to him, and that voluntarily without coercion of Diſtreſs, In ſuch Caſe the Lord having gained a ſeiſin may diſtrein the Tenant for ſuch ſurpluſſage of Rent, and the Tenant cannot avoid it in Avowry, becauſe of the ſeiſin of the Rent. But in ſuch Caſe he may have his remedy by a Writ of Ne injuſtè vexes, upon the Statute of Magna Charta. Cap. 10. See Fitzh. 11. acc.

10. The Lord of a Leet cannot juſtify to diſtrein for the certainty of the Leet, becauſe it is collateral and againſt common right, and for the private profit of the Lord of the Leet, which the Lord cannot have without Preſcription, and therefore as he ought to preſcribe in the principal, ſo he ought to preſcribe in the Diſtreſs: Notwithſtanding, although, that for an Amercement in a Court Baron, the Lord cannot diſtreine without a Preſcription. Yet, for a Fine, and all Amercements in a Court Leet, a diſtreſs is incident of common right. Cook 11. Part. 44. 45. Godfrey's Caſe.

11. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, Tenant in Fee of one Acre, and Leſſee for 21. years of another; lets both of them for 10 years rendring Rent, with a Proviſo, that if the Rent be behind 28. daies, that he and his heirs might reſtrain, and if that there be not a feoffment Diſtreſs upon the Land, that they may enter; the Leſſor dyes, the Reverſion deſcends to his heir of the Inheritance, and of the Leaſe to his Executors; afterwards the Rent being behind 28. dayes, the Heir demands the portion of Rent according to the value of the Inheritance, and not being paid, nor ſufficient Diſtreſs upon the Land, he entred: It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That the word Reſtrein, was as much as to ſay Diſtrein, and ſhall be accepted to be of the ſame ſenſe: But whether this Reverſion being ſo divided, the Rent alſo ſhall be divided and apportioned, and whether the Heir may demand part of the Rent, and, for non-Payment of it, enter; The Court did not deliver any Opinion: It was adjourned. Trin. 13. Jac. in B. R. Wood and German's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 390.

12. In a Replevin, The Queſtion was, Whether one Tenant in Common might diſtrein upon the other; and the Opinion of the Court was, That he might, where he comes in under the Leſſee, and a Diſtreſs to be upon any part of the Land is good: It was there ſurmiſed on the Defendant's part, That 40. Beaſts were taken and Impounded, and all the 40. Beaſts were not delivered back again, and therefore the Defendant prayed that the forty Beaſts might be delivered to him by the Sheriff, for that four Beaſts were not a ſufficient Diſtreſs; and the Sheriff had taken ſecurity of him, to proſecute for 40. Beaſts taken: But the Court denied it, for that the Plaintiff had declared but of four Beaſts taken, and the Defendant agreed, that four Beaſts were onely taken, and avowes for them: But the Defendant in his Avowry might have ſhewed, that 40. were taken, and have Avowes for all, and prayed Return for all, although the Plaintiff declared not of ſo many; but becauſe he had not ſo done, he could have Return of no more than he avowed the taking of, Hill. 18. Jac. in B. R. Sutton and Henſton's Caſe. Cook 2. Part, 611.

13. In a ſecond Deliverance the Caſe was, A man had a Rent-charge, Iſſuing in Fee out of Land, and for the Arrearages thereof he did diſtrein, and then granted over the Rent to another; The Queſtion was, Whether he ought to avowe or juſtify, The doubt reſted upon this, Whether the Arrearages were gone by the Grant of the Rent, notwithſtanding the Diſtreſs before taken? It was ſaid, that the Arrearages are loſt, for he cannot have debt for them, and he cannot avow, for that depends upon the Inheritance which is gone by the Grant; and a difference was taken, where it is by the Act of good, and where by the Act of the Party, as where a man hath a Rent in the Right of his Wife and ſhe dyeth, in that Caſe the Arrearages ſhall not be loſt; but where a man grants over the Rent, there, becauſe it is his own Act, the Arrearages are loſt: Reeve Juſtice ſaid, That it was good by way of Avowry, for the Diſtreſs being lawfully taken at the time, it ſhall not take away his Avowry, and this differs from Ognell's Caſe; for there was no Diſtreſs taken before the Grant over, and there the Privity was gone, and the Diſtreſs followes the Rent, but here the Avowant hath Pledge for the Rent, which is the Diſtreſs and Return of the Cattel, if it be found; All the Court agreed, That at the leaſt, the Avowry is turned into a Juſtification: It was adjourned. Trin. 17. Jac. in C. B. Lawſon and Cook's Caſe. Mayſh 103, 104.

14. A Rent-Charge was granted for years with a Nomine pene, and Clauſe of Diſtreſs, if that was not payed at the day, and the Rent was behind, and the years encurred: It was moved, That he might diſtrein for the Nomine pene, though the years were encurred. But it was the clear Opinion of the Court, that he could not diſtrein for the Nomine pene, for that did depend on the Rent, and the Diſtreſs was gone as to both. Paſc. 19. Jac. in C. B. Tatter and Fryer's Caſe. Winch. 7.

Divorce.

1. THere are five Cauſes of Divorce, of which the Common Law onely takes Notice; viz. Cauſa Profeſſionis, Cauſa Præcontractus, Cauſa Conſanguinitatis, Cauſa Affinitatis, Cauſa Frigiditatis; 47. Edw. 3. 38. and ſome of them are à vinculo Matrimonii, ſome à Thoro & Menſa onely, and do not diſſolve the Marriage: See C. 7. Part, 44. in Kynn's Caſe, though in ancient time, other things were cauſes of Divorce. And Note, That the Book, 18. E. 3. 28. is, That after Divorce, Cauſa Profeſſionis, the Wife ſhall be endowed, and the Heire ſhall inherit, but not ſo in the other Cauſes, for that they baſtardize the Iſſue. See accordingly for a Divorce Cauſa Conſanguinitatis.

2. See in 39. Edw. 3. 31. A Cauſe of Divorce was holden to be good, becauſe the Husband had baptized one before the Marriage, who was Couſin to the Wife: and See 19. Aſſ. 2. where a Woman was divorced, becauſe ſhe was married, infra annos nubiles, and never aſſented to it.

3. There was alſo a Divorce Cauſa Adulterii: But that was conceived to be contained in the Cauſa Præcontractus: Alſo anciently it was holden, That if a Woman had entred into Religion, it was a good Cauſe of Deraigment of her, that ſhe had a Husband, as is holden in 5 E. 4. 3. Now for theſe and the like Cauſes, how far they ſtand in force at this day; See the Caſes ſubſequent.

4. A man was divorced Cauſa frigiditatis, Afterwards he took another Wife, and had Iſſue by her; It was adjudged, That the Iſſue had by the ſecond Wife was not a Baſtard: For by the Divorce, the Marriage was diſſolved à vinculo Matrimonii, and either of them might marry again. 2. It was Reſolved, That admitting that the ſecond Marriage was voidable, yet it was adjudged, That the ſame did remain in Force untill it was diſſolved, and that the Iſſue born during the Coverture was a lawful Iſſue to inherit the Land. Cook 5. Part, 98. Bury's Caſe.

5. A. and B. did contract Marriage betwixt them per verba de præſenti tempore. Afterwards B. took to Husband C. Afterwards A. libelled againſt B. upon the ſaid Contract; and thereupon it was Decreed, That B. ſhould marry the ſaid A. and It was further Decreed, That the ſaid Marriage had with the ſaid C. ſhould be void. A. and B. had Iſſue, living C; and afterwards A. died, being ſeiſed of a Copy-hold of Inheritance; It was adjudged in this Caſe (amongſt other Points), That although C, being the Husband de facto of B, was not Party to the Suit, nor to the Sentence in the Spiritual Court, which diſſolved the Marriage betwixt him and B. but the ſaid B. onely; yet the Sentence againſt B. the Woman being onely but declaratory was good, and ſhould bind C. de facto; and, forasmuch as the Right of Conuſans of Marriage doth belong to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, and the ſame Court hath given Sentence in this Caſe, It was holden, That the Judges at Law ought to give credit to their proceedings and Sentence; and ſo in that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Sons of the ſaid A. and B. were Legitimate and Inheritable to the Copyhold. M. 28. Eliz. in B. R. Bunting and Lepingwel's Caſe. Cook 2. Part, 29.

6. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor holden by Knight's Service in Capite, took B. to Wife, who had Iſſue betwixt them C. The Marriage betwixt A. and B. was in the Spiritual Court declared to be void becauſe they were infra annos nubiles, and they are divorced. A. took to Wife D. and afterwards the Marriage betwixt A. and B. by Eccleſiaſticall Courts is declared by Sentence to be lawful, and that A. was never lawfully married to D: D. died, A. took E. to Wife, by whom he had Iſſue F. and dyed: It was found that F. was his Daughter and Heir Heir within Age: The King granted the Wardſhip, C. exhibited a Bill in Chancery, pretending that ſhe was Daughter and Heir of A. and alledged, That A. and B. cohabited together, and were both of the Age of Conſent, and lived together ten years before the pretended Divorce, during which time they had Iſſue the ſaid C. In this Caſe two Points were Reſolved, 1. That againſt the firſt Sentence of Divorce, the Parties ſhould not be received, ſo long as the ſame remained in force, to averr, That they agreed and conſented to the Marriage, becauſe the Eccleſiaſtical Judge hath declared the ſame to be void; and although they were of Age and did conſent, yet if the original Contract was void, then there was juſt cauſe of Divorce, and ſo the Eccleſiaſtical Judge is Judge as well of the Conſent as of the Contract. Cook 7 Part, Kenn's Caſe. 42.

7. A. had Iſſue by his Wife, two Sons, B. his eldeſt, and C. his youngeſt, and died; B. being within the Age of Conſent took E. to Wife, and at full Age lived together, & habuerunt carnalem Copulam, & cogniti & reputati fuerunt pro Viro & uxore palam: Afterwards B. put away E. and married F. living E. and had Iſſue by her G: F. publiſhed that ſhe was lawfull Daughter to B. and that G. her Son was Mulier, D. ſued in the Spiritual Court to reverſe the Marriage between B. and F. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. If B. and E. had had Iſſue, and had bin unjuſtly divorced, ſo long as the Divorce ſtood in force, their Iſſue could not have remedy by the Common Law. 2. Reſolved, That when the Spiritual Court ſhould have Juriſdiction, that the whole Cauſe ought to be ſpiritual. 3. That if all the matter be originally ſpiritual; yet, if after they goe on to try there a thing temporal; in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition will lye. 22 E. 4. to Conſultation, Corbet's Caſe. See 29 E. 3. 23. 5 H. Trin. 10. acc.

8. Si Divortium factum fuerit inter aliquos propter Conſanguinitatem, Comparnitatem, Affinitatem, vel aliam cauſam quamcunq; quæ multiplex eſt, ſi vir aliam poſtmodum duxerit uxorem, filius primæ mulieris hæres remanebit, ſed mater dotem ſuam non habebit. Bracton. 398. 301, 304. acc. See Cook 5 Part, Burſe's Caſe. in fine. acc.

9. If the Baſtard Eigne enter, and dy ſeiſed, his Wife being with Child of a Son; and after the ſon is born; he ſhall inherit the Land, for in as much as his Father dyed in poſſeſſion without Interruption, the Mulier ſhall not alledge againſt the Iſſue of the Baſtard, Baſtardy of his Father after his death. For it is a Rule in Law, Injuſtum eſt, aliquem poſt mortem facere Baſtardum, qui pro toto tempore vitæ ſuæ legitimè habebatur, Cook 4 Part, Inſtitut. 244. Cook 8 Part, Sir Richard Letchford's Caſe. and See, That a Sentence of Divorce may be repealed after the death of the Parties; but after their death there can be no Sentence of Divorce given to declare the Marriage void, for that were to traduce the dead, and to baſtardize the Iſſue, to the ſhame of the deceaſed. Cook 7 Part, in Kenn's Caſe.

10. A. was Indicted upon the Statute of 1 Jac. of Felony, for having two Husbands; And it was found, That A. was lawfully married to P. and before the Judge of the Audience ſhe ſued a Divorce againſt P. propter ſævitiam; Whereupon, It was Decreed, That, propter ſævitiam of her Husband towards her, ſhe ſhould be ſeparated à Menſâ & Thoro, and it was expreſly intimated in the Sentence that ſhe ſhould not marry any other during the life of the ſaid P: ſhe afterwards, P. living and ſhe knowing thereof, took to Husband J. S. Whether this were Felony within the Statute, was the Queſtion; There was not in the Sentence the word Divortiamus, but onely the words Separamus à Menſâ & Thoro. It was ſaid, That this being a Divorce ex cauſâ ſubſequente, viz. Cauſa Adulterii, was but a ſeparation à Menſâ & Thoro, and is no diſſolution à vinculo Matrimonii; and therefore notwithſtanding ſuch Divorce, That the Marriage continued betwixt them: and the Caſe of 40 Eliz. Rot. 292. in B. R. Steven's Caſe was vouched, where a Retorn made by the Husband, after ſuch a Divorce Cauſa Adulterii, of an Obligation made to the Wife, was adjudged good. Alſo Trin. 2 Jac. Stowell's Caſe. That after ſuch a Divorce, the Wife ſhould have Dower of the Husbands Lands: The Proviſo in the Statute being, That the parties Divorced by Sentence, viz. If he take another Wife, or ſhe take another Husband. The Court doubted if this extends to every manner of Sentence of Divorce; But the Court inclined to be of Opinion, That ſhe was not within the Proviſo; for that if this ſhould be ſuffered, many would be divorced upon ſuch pretences, and marry again, whereby many Inconveniences would ariſe. Wherefore the Court adviſed the Woman, to procure a pardon to avoid the danger of the Statute: For all the Civilians agreed, That the ſecond Marriage was unlawful. Paſc. 12 Car. in B. R. Porter's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 333. See Godbolt. 145. for the Lady Stowell's Caſe, to have Dower after a Divorce, Cauſa Adulterii. See 17 Car. in B. R. William's Caſe. Marſh. 101.

2. Where and how Divorce ſhall alter and change the Eſtate, and where not: And what things the Wife ſhall have again after the Divorce, What not.

1. IF Lands be given to Husband and Wife in Tail, and after they are divorced, now they ſhall have an Eſtate but for their lives. 7 H. 4. 16. and See 13 E. 3. Deraigment and Divorce 15, they have now a joynt-Eſtate, and the Survivor ſhall hold place.

2. If Husband and Wife be Joynt-Purchaſers, and afterwards they are divorced, they ſhall hold by moyeties, although at the firſt upon the purchaſe they held by entierties, 32. H. 8. acc. But if Lands be given to them in Frank-Marriage, and afterwards they are divorced, the Wife ſhall have the whole Land; and See 39. Aſſi. That if Lands be given to Husband and Wife in Frank-Marriage, infra annos nubiles, and afterwards they are divorced; That the Wife ſhall have Tail in the Land. And note the difference betwixt the Caſes, where Lands are given, to Husband and Wife in Tail, and they are divorced, and where Lands are given to Husband and Wife, with the Wife in Frank-Marriage; for that in the one Caſe, the Land is given for the advancement of the Wife, in the other not. See Paſc. 26. Eliz. in C. B. Webb and Potter's Caſe. Godb. 18. acc.

3. The Wife ſhall be endowed of the Lands of her Husband, if the Marriage doth continue betwixt them until the time of his death; but if the Husband and Wife be divorced à vinculo Matrimonii, as in Caſe of Precontract, Conſanguinity, or Affinity, or the like, (but not à Menſâ & Thoro onely, as for Adultery) the Dower ceaſeth; for ubi nullum Matrimonium, ibi nulla Dos. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitut. 42.

4. If a Man marrieth a Woman which hath goods, and afterwards they are divorced, the Wife ſhall have her goods again; but if her Husband doth give them away during the Coverture without Colluſion, becauſe the ſame is an Act executed during the Coverture, the ſame ſhall bind the Wife, but if they be undiſpoſed of, the Wife ſhall have them, and, if ſhe knowes them, have Detinue for them: 28 H. 8. Dyer. 13. 62. acc. But of ſuch goods as ſhe knowes not of, as monyes and the like, ſhe muſt ſue for the ſame in the Spirituall Court.

5. Note, By Fitzherbert in his Title, Prohibition, If goods are given in Frank-Marriage, and afterwards the Husband and Wife are divorced; the Wife may ſue for the goods in the Spiritual Court, and a Prohibition will not lye; Quære Brok. Deraigment and Divorce, 17. if the Property of the goods be altered by ſale, or otherwiſe, before the ſuit began.

6. Note, in 32 H. 8. It is put for Law, That if Husband and Wife be divorced, where ſhe is an Inheritrix; yet mean acts executed ſhall not be deveſted by the Divorce, as Waſt, Receipt of Rents, Preſentments to Churches, Gifts of the goods of the Wife, becauſe theſe are as Chattels. But it is otherwiſe of matter of Inheritance, as if the Husband had diſcontinued the Wives Land, or charged it, a Cui ante Divortium did lye, the like of a Releaſe made by the Husband, or the Manumiſſion of her Villains: And it is there ſaid, That if Husband and Wife do purchaſe jointly, and they are diſſeiſed, and the Husband doth Releaſe to the Diſſeiſee, and afterwards they are Divorced, there the Wife ſhall have the moyety of the Land, although there were not moyeties betwixt them.

7. If a Leaſe be made to Husband and Wife during the Coverture, and the Husband ſoweth the Land, and afterwards they are Divorced Cauſa Precontractus, the Husband ſhall have the Corn which is ſowed, and not the Leſſor; for although the ſuit is the Act of the Party, yet the Sentence which diſſolveth the Marriage is the Judgment of the Law, Et Judicium redditur in invitum, and therefore in ſuch Caſe the Husband ſhall have the Corn which was ſowed. Hill. 44. Eliz. in B. R. Oland's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 116.

Done, or Gift and Sale.

1. IN Waſt, for cutting down and ſelling of Trees, The Defendant ſaid, That the Plaintiff ſold to him Omnes arbores ſuas creſcentes ſuper &c. quæ poſſint rationabiliter parari: It was held, That the Grant was not good by Arbores ſuas; for, not being excepted in the Leaſe, The Leſſor during the Term, had but a Right in them, and not a Property; alſo the Grant was void for the Incertainty, when they may be ſpared. M. 1. Ma. Dyer. 93.

2. If

2. If two have goods in Common, and have other goods in ſeveralty, and they give Omnia bona ſua, the goods which they have in Common, and the goods which they have in ſeveralty ſhall paſſe. 19 H. 6. 4. But if a man give Omnia bona ſua, the goods of the Teſtator, which he hath as Executor, ſhall not paſs; and yet the Executor ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſs, Quare bona & Catalla ſua cepit & aſportavit, 9 E. 4. 1.

3. If a man gives Omnia terras & tenementa ſua, a Leaſe for years ſhall not paſſe; for that Lands and Tenements extends to Freehold at the leaſt, 37 H. 8. 65. acc. See 12 H. 8. 4. by Elliot, by the Gift de omnibus Bonis & Catallis, Doggs, Hawks, &c. ſhall not paſſe.

4. If a man diſtreins goods, and afterwards the Owner gives the Diſtreſſe to the King: It is ſaid in 37 H. 6. 10. that the Gift is good, be it by Deed or without Deed; But I conceive that the Gift is not good, becauſe that the goods are in Cuſtodia Legis, and the Owner cannot take them, and by the ſame reaſon he cannot make a Gift of them; And ſo ſeems the Opinion of Brook Juſtice, in his Abridgement, in the Title Done, 16.

5. If I give to one my Horſe or my Cow, it is a good Gift, and he hath Election to take which of them he will at his pleaſure: But if I promiſe one, That If I dye, I will give him an Oxe or a Cow, the ſame is no good Gift, becauſe they are words de futuro; 20 H. 7, 29. by Rede: If I give to you a Deer in my Park, it is void: But if one gives a black Deer, whereas there is not any other of the ſame Colour, or a Hart whereas there is but one Hart, the ſame is good by Brian, 18 E. 4. 14.

6. Note, In 6 H. 7. 9. Brian held for Law, That if a Stranger taketh my goods, I cannot give them to him, but I may releaſe them to him well enough, 1 E. 6. 16. The Contrary was holden by all the Juſtices; But 10 H. 7. 22. Brian held his old Opinion. Keble held that the Gift ſhould enure as a Releaſe by Word, which is good enough for Chattel; But Brian ſaid, If a man be diſſeiſed of a Rent, and grants the ſame, that the Grant is void; See & Quare: for a Releaſe by word is not good, no more for Chattels, than for any reall things.

7. If a man maketh a Gift to me of all his goods by Deed, in my abſence, the ſame is a good Gift without the delivery of the Deed to me, untill my Diſagreement to the Gift, 7 E. 4. 20. And by Piggot and Catesby, If a man give to me all his goods by Deed, and the Deed is not delivered, yet the Gift is good, and the Donee may juſtify the taking of them, without any Notice given to him; and if in ſuch Caſe the Donor commits Felony not having Notice of the Gift, yet he ſhall forfeit the ſame: But the Opinion of the Court was, That ſuch Gift was not good without Notice, for that a man cannot give to me any thing againſt my Will. 7 E. 4. 29.

8. Though the words Bona & Catalla do not extend in their proper nature to Charters or Evidences, which do concern Free-hold or Inheritance, or Obligations, or other Deeds or Specialties, being things in Action; yet in ſome particular Caſe, they ſhall extend to them, and therefore if one bringeth a Bagg or Cheſt, &c. of Evidences into an Inn, or Obligations, Deeds, or other Evidences or Specialties, and by default of the Inkeeper they are taken away; He ſhall have an Action, and the Writ ſhall be Bona & Catalla, generally; and the Declaration ſhall be Special. Cook 8. Part, 31. Caly's Caſe.

9. If a man give goods and Chattels, If the Deed be delivered to the uſe of the Donee, the goods and Chattels are in the Donee preſently, before Notice or Agreement, but the Donee may make refuſal in pais, and by that the Property and Intereſt ſhall be deveſted, and ſuch Diſagreement need not to be in a Court of Record. Cook 3. Part, 27. in Butler and Baker's Caſe.

10. A. ſeiſed of diverſe Mannors, and of diverſe Lands, part in Leaſe for years with a Rent reſerved, part in Copy-holds; For diverſe Conſiderations demiſed, granted, bargained, and ſold to J. S. the ſaid Mannors, &c. with all Rents reſerved upon any Demiſe, To have after the death of the Bargainer, for 17 years, rendring a Roſe to his Heir, the Deed was acknowledged and enrolled, and afterwards he covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannors, &c. to the uſe of himſelf and the Heirs of his body; no Attornment was to this Bargain & ſale, and afterwards the Bargainor dyed, his Heir within Age; It was Reſolved, That the Leſſees ſhould have the Rents reſerved upon the Bargaine and Sale without Attornment: And in this Caſe (amongſt other things), It was Reſolved. 1. That the Leſſees had Election to take by Demiſe, or by Bargain and Sale; for when a man for mony demiſeth, bargaineth, and ſells his Lands for Term of years, the Owner gives Election to the Leſſee to take it the one way or the other; for if the Law ſhould enforce him to take it by Demiſe, then they ſhould forfeit their Rents reſerved upon the Leaſes for years; but if the Intereſt paſſeth by Bargain and Sale, then there needs no Attornment, becauſe the Statute executs the uſe to the poſſeſſion. 2. Reſolved, That this Election doth remain to them notwithſtanding the Alteration by the ſecond Indenture, and notwithſtanding the death of the Leſſor, and notwithſtanding the King be entituled to the Ward-ſhip, becauſe they had an Intereſt in them preſently, which they preſently might aſſign over, and which the Executors of the Survivor of them them ſhould have; and here was not an Election to claim ſeverall things by one and the ſame Title, but to claim one thing by ſeveral Titles; for when things are ſeveral, the Election ought to be precedent, but when one thing paſſeth, the Election of it may be ſubſequent; as if one grant 40. s. out of his Mannor, the Grantee hath Election to take it as a Rent-Charge, or as an Annuity; but if I have three Horſes, and grant to you one of my Horſes; Election ought to be in the life of the parties. Cook 2. Part, 36, 37. Sir Rowland Heyward's Caſe.

11. In Evidence to a Jury in an Action of Debt brought, It was ſaid by Dyer and Manwood Juſtices, That if Executors grant omnia bona ſua, that the goods which they have as Executors, do not paſs. See 10 E. 4. 1. by Danby: But the Contrary to that was holden by Wray Chief Juſtice of the King's Bench, and by Plowden in Broadbridges Caſe. Paſch. 18 Eliz. and they denied the Opinion of 10 E. 4. to be Law; for by ſuch Grant made by Executors, the goods of the Teſtator do paſſe. Mich. 19 Eliz. in C. B. The Lord St. John and the Counteſs of Kent's Caſe. Leon 263.

Double Plea.

1. SIcut Actor una actione debet expedire (ſaltem illa durante); ſic oportet Tenentem una Exceptione, dum tamen peremptoria (quod in dilatoriis non eſt Tenendum): quia ſi liceret pluribus uti Exceptionibus peremptoriis ſimul et ſemel, ſicut fieri poterit in dilatoriis, ſic ſequetur, quod ſi in probatione unius defecerit, ad aliam probandam poſſit habere recurſum, quod non eſt permiſſibile, non magis quàm aliquem ſe defendere duobus baculis in duello cum unus ſufficiat. Bracton. Fol. 460.

2. In Dilatory Pleas, there may be a Duplicity, and Multiplicity of diſtinct matter, for in their time and place a man may uſe divers of them; but in Pleas perpetuall and Peremptory, there ought not to be Duplicity, or Multiplicity of matter to one and the ſame thing, whereunto ſeverall anſwers (admitting each of them to be good) are required, for that is not allowable in Law for the incertainty. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 304.

3. Debt brought by the Executors of G. upon an Obligation: the Condition of which was, Whereas W. hath ſold to the ſaid G. a Meadow in D. the ſaid W. ſhall Warrant the ſaid G. and ſave harmleſſe againſt Lord, King, and all others; if the ſaid G. ſhall have, and peaceably enjoy the ſaid Meadow, to him and his Heirs, to hold of the Lord by the Services due after the Cuſtome, That then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That the Meadow is Copyhold, and that there is ſuch a Cuſtome within the Mannor, That if the Cuſtomary Tenants fail in payment of their Rents, or do Waſte, that then the Lord may enter for the forfeiture; And that G. took the ſaid Meadow by Copy, to him and his Heirs at ſuch a Court, holden in October next after the Obligation, and further ſaid, That the ſaid G. all his life habuit et pacifice gavi-ſus fuit the ſaid Meadow, and dyed ſeiſed, by which the ſaid Meadow Diſcended to B. his Son and Heir, which ſon de injuria ſua propria, entred without admiſſion of the Lord, contrary to the Cuſtome, and becauſe the Rent was behind ſuch a day, the Lord entred into the Mannor; upon which Plea the Plaintiff demurred in Law: It was ſaid, That this Plea was double. 1. Becauſe it is alledged, That the Son, as Heir to G. entred into the Land without admiſſion, contrary to the Cuſtome. 2. That for 3 s. of Rent, the Lord entred ut in terris ſibi forisfactis per conſuetudinem predictam. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Plea was ſingle enough, for that the firſt is not effectualll but ſurpluſſage. Mich. 30 H. 8. Dyer, 42.

4. An Aſſiſe was brought by the Dean and Chapter of B. of a Portion of Tythes: Divers exceptions were taken to the Writ, Plaint, which did comprehend the Plaintiffs Title; amongſt which, one was, That the Title was double, becauſe it was alledged, That one J. late Prior of S. was ſeiſed in Fee in the right of his Church, and that he and all his Predeceſſors were ſeiſed, &c. time out of mind, &c. and ſo the Preſcription makes it double. But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Preſcription did not make the Title double, for that the Preſcription was but an Inducement to the right and the Seiſin onely was the effect, and Seiſin onely ſhall not be a ſufficient Title of a profit Apprender to charge anothers ſoil: and therefore the Preſcription was Induced, but to make the Title onely, and was not a Title in it ſelf. Paſc. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 85. the Serjeants Caſe.

5. If a man gives to me all his Trees, and afterwards he himſelf cuts them down, and I take and carry them away, and be brings Treſpaſſe; Quare ſuccidit et aſportavit; If he plead as to the cutting down, Not-Guilty, and juſtify as to the reſt; the ſame doth not make the Plea double: It is made a Quære, becauſe the firſt Plea of Not-Guilty, did go to all. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 305. 12 H. 8. 1. acc.

6. In

6. In Treſpaſſe, the Defendant conveyed himſelf a Title by one to whom the Land was entailed by Fine, in the time of A. and conveyed from the Donee by five or ſix Diſcents, by dying ſeiſed of an Eſtate Tail of every of them, That the Plaintiff confeſſed the tail, and conveyed a Title to himſelf by a Feoffment by the Heir of the Donee, which was a Diſcontinuance, and traverſed the dying ſeiſed of the ſame Feoffer; It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not good, but he ought to have traverſed the laſt Diſcent, for otherwiſe it may be underſtood, that one by the Meſne Diſcents, came to the Land, and dyed thereof ſeiſed, which was a remitter to the next Heir; Wherefore the Plaintiff confeſſing the entail, took all the dyings ſeiſed by Proteſtation; And for Plea ſaid, That the laſt Anceſtor enfeoffed the Anceſtor of the Plaintiff abſque hoc, that the ſaid laſt Anceſtor of the Defendant dyed ſeiſed modo et forma, Quære in this Caſe, If the Plea be not double; for that one Plea, ſcil. Ne dona pas, would make an end of all. Mich. 2. Ma. Dyer, 107.

7. In Debt brought upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. of pretenſed Titles, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant had Bargained, Granted, and let to Farm, a Meſſuage and 11 Acres of Lands to the ſame appertaining, To which Lands and Tenements, the ſaid Defendants, nor any of their Anceſtors, nor they by whom they claimed, were in Poſſeſſion of them, nor of the Reverſion, or Remainder of them, nor received the Rents or Profits of them by the ſpace of a whole year, before the Bargain, Grant, and Leaſe thereof made. In that Caſe, Exception was taken to the Declaration, that it was Double, becauſe he ſaid, That the Defendants had Bargained, Granted, and to Farm Let. In that Caſe, Cook and Mountague held, That the Declaration was Double; But Hales and Brown Juſtices, held the contrary, and ſaid, That by thoſe three words, the Offence was the greater, but they did not make the Declaration to be double, or to comprehend a double Title. See Hill. 7 E. 6. Plow. Com. 78. Partridge and Strangs Caſe.

8. It was Covenanted by Leſſee for years by Indenture, That he ſhould not cut any Trees by which they ſhould be waſted: In Debt brought upon an Obligation for performance of Covenants, The Plaintiff declared, and Aſſigned a breach in cutting down, 20. Oaks by which they were waſted: The Defendant pleaded, That he did not cut down the ſaid 20 Oaks nec earum aliquam, modo et forma prout. The Plaintiff rejoyned Quod ſuccidit 20 Oaks, prout ipſe allegavit, And by Niſi Prius: It was found Quod ſuccidit decem Quercus, &c. And if upon this Verdict the Plaintiff ſhould have Judgment, was much debated: But at laſt, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; For although the whole Allegation of the breach of Covenant was not found for the Plaintiff; yet the Court held, That ſufficient was found to make the Defendant to forfeit his Obligation; and the Court held, That the other which the Plaintiff alledged, was not double matter, but ſurpluſſage onely. Paſc. 3. Ma. Dyer, Tirret and Dans Caſe. 115.

9. One brought a Scire facias upon a Fine as Heir to two Parceners, The Tenant pleaded a Fine levyed by the two Parceners, with Warranty, and relyed upon the Warranty: And the Plea was holden double, and he forced to relye upon the Warranty onely of one. 9 H. 7. 12. So if one have divers Warranties, and they fall by Diſcent upon a Perſon, Heir unto them both; yet he muſt be vouched as Heir onely unto one, and the reaſon is apparant (whether you conſider the Demandant, or the Vouchee): for as to the Demandant, it is a kind of Plea in Bar, and therefore ought to be ſingle, for the Demandant may Counter-plead the Poſſeſſion of the Vouchee, and his Anceſtors which he cannot do, if they be divers: And again the Voucher of the Tenant againſt the Vouchee, is a kind of Demand, or Suit, and therefore ought to be ſingle, and the Vouchee may Counterplead the lien, which he cannot do if they be divers. 31 E. 3. Tit. Voucher 25. Hob. 9. in Sir Hen. Rolls and Sir Robert Osborn's Caſe. 29. acc.

10. Note, by Popham Chief Juſtice, If a double Plea be pleaded, if the other party demur upon it, he ſhall take advantage of the doubleneſſe: but if he paſſe it over, and they proceed in pleading upon another point, in ſuch Caſe, the doubleneſſe is gone, and he ſhall not take advantage of it. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B. R. in Holme and Gees Caſe. Pop. 113, 114.

11. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt B. and C. and the Biſhop of London of the Church of D. and ſhewed, That J. S. was ſeiſed, and preſented C. and let the Mannor to which the Advowſon is Appendant to the Plaintiff, and that the Church became void by the Reſignation of C. by reaſon whereof it belonged to him to preſent. The Biſhop pleaded, That he claimed nothing but as Ordinary; C. entitled himſelf to it by a Preſentation, as to an Advowſon in groſſe, and traverſed the Appendancy, whereupon the Plaintiff took Iſſue: B. pleaded as Parſon impersonee of the Preſentation of the King, and confeſſing the Title of J. S. and the Leaſe for years to the Plaintiff, pleaded over, That J. S. per quandam pecuniæ ſummam, betwixt him, and one J. D. preſented the ſaid C. and pleaded the Statute of 31 Eliz. which makes the Preſentation upon Simony void, ſo that the Preſentation did belong to the King, and that the King Preſented him, and that he was admitted, Inſtituted, ſtituted, and Inducted, and traverſed, That the Church became void by the reſignation of C. pront. Whereupon it was demurred, and ſhewen for cauſe, that the traverſe was inſufficient to traverſe a matter not traverſable, and that the Plea was double; For the Preſentment being the principall which being confeſſed, and Avoided, cannot be traverſed, for the Avoiding and traverſing makes it double, and that being ſhewed for cauſe of Demurrer, and the other joyning in the Demurrer; Judgment ought to be for the Plaintiff: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Plea was good, For the Plea maketh the Traverſe but Argumentative, that he might not reſign; And being alledged, that the Church is void per mortem, reſignationem, or otherwiſe, it ought to be confeſſed, or traverſed; Whereupon by conſent, Judgment was Reſolved to be given for the Plaintiff againſt C. he relinquiſhing his Plea, and confeſſing the Action; And upon the Demurrer, Judgment ſhould be given for B. the Defendant, and ſo it was, and a Releaſe of Errors on both ſides. Hill. 22 Jac. in B. R. Sir Gregory Fenner, and Nicholſon and Paſfields Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 44.

12. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of Y. and B. for the Vicarage of L. and ſhewed, That divers perſons were ſeiſed of the Advowſon of the ſaid Vicarage, and preſented J. S. and brings down the Advowſon to the Plaintiff; and that by the death of J. S. the Vicarage became void, and that ſo it appertained to him to preſent, and the Defendants did diſturb him: The Biſhop pleaded, That he claimed nothing but as Ordinary, and confeſſeth the Plaintiffs Title, and that the Church voided by the death of J. S. But further ſaid, that J. S. dyed, 1. Jan. 12 Jac. and becauſe the ſaid Church being void after the death of J. S. no perſon being preſented by the Plaintiff by the ſpace of ſix Moneths: he as Ordinary, after the ſix Moneths, collated B. to the ſaid Vicarage, and Inſtituted and Inducted him into the ſame. The Plaintiff replyed to the Biſhop, and confeſſeth that the Church voided 1. Jan. 12 Jac. by the death of J. S. and that the Church being void, he did after the 1. of Jan. within the ſix Moneths, viz. 29. May. 1615. by his writing ſealed with his Seal, preſent to the Biſhop one J. N. praying him to admit him to the ſaid Vicarage, which he refuſed to do, and afterwards, viz. the 30th of the ſame May, he did collate the ſaid B. to the ſaid Church; And pleaded the ſame pleas by Replication to B. upon which both the Defendants ſeverally did demur in Law; and ſhewed for cauſe, That the pleas were incertain, and did Contain double matter: But as to the Demurrer, the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Plea was not double; The doubleneſſe was ſuppoſed, in that the Plaintiff Aſſigned his Preſentation, and a refuſall of his Clark, and a Collation of the Biſhop of his own Clark; But it was holden by the whole Court; That the onely materiall part of the Plaintiffs Replication was, That he had preſented a Clark, For the ſubſtance of the Defendants Plea was, That the Plaintiff had not preſented any Clark unto him within the ſix Moneths, and that he had afterwards Collated: Now to this, the Replication ſayes, That he did preſent within the ſix Moneths; ſo here is a perfect Negative and Affirmative, which makes the Iſſue; but yet the Plaintiff muſt add a refuſall to make good the Diſturbance layed; and then the Plea is Compleat; Like the Caſe of Debt upon a Bond to perform an Award: The Defendant pleads no Award made, the Plaintiff ſhews the Award, which makes the Iſſue, yet he muſt add a breach, which, though it be not Iſſuable; yet it is ſo materiall a form, That the Plaintiff hath no cauſe of Action without it: It was adjudged, That the Replication was not double, but good. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Birkhead and the Biſhop of York's Caſe. Hob. 197.

13. In a Juris utrum, the Tenant pleaded, That his Father was ſeiſed, and dyed ſeiſed, and that the Predeceſſor of the Plaintiff did abate, againſt whom the Tenant brought a Mortdaunceſtor, and recovered, and ſo it is his Lay-Fee, and not the Frankalmoigne of the Church of the Plaintiff: It was holden to be a good Plea, and not double by alledging the Recovery, and the Lay-Fee, for it is a Writ of Right, where the party ought to conclude to the Right, as he hath done. Paſc. 19 H. 6. 8.

14. In Dower, the Tenant ſaid, That the Demandant, the Wife of his brother did keep from him certain Charters and Evidences concerning the ſame Lands, and ſhewed what Evidences, and that he was alwayes ready, if &c. The Plaintiff as to the Charters ſaid, That the Defendant did enfeoff two, who re-enfeoffed the Husband and Wife, ſo as the Deed did belong to her; And as to the reſt, that ſhe was with Child by the Husband of one who ſhould be Heir, if it pleaſe God he be born, and that by reaſon of Nurture, ſhe is bound to keep the Evidences, and demanded Judgment, and prayed her Dower. It was holden in that Caſe, although one Plea went to the whole; yet it was not reaſon, that if one be found againſt the Plaintiff, that ſhe ſhould be forcloſed of the Rent: and therefore both Pleas were allowed unto her. Paſc. 41 E. 11. See Comment. on Originall Writs. 184. acc.

Dower.

1. Of what Inheritances of the Husband the Wife ſhall be Endowed; and of what not: And what ſhall be a ſufficient Seiſin of the Husband, upon which the Wife ſhall have and demand Dower; what not.

1. IF Tenant in Tail, in conſideration of Paternall Love, Covenanteth by Deed to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his death, to the uſe of his eldeſt Son in tail; And after this Covenant, the Covenantor taketh a Wife, and dyeth, the Wife ſhall be endowed; for when Tenant in Tail hath limitted the uſe to himſelf for the Term of his own life, he cannot limit any Remainder over for an Eſtate, for his own life is as long as he can limit, by Law; and therefore the limitation of the Remainder is void, and his Wife ſhall be Endowed. Hill. 25 Eliz. in Blythman's Caſe. vouch. Cook 2. Part, in Sir Hugh Cholmley's Caſe. 52.

2. If a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, and afterwards the Feoffor Diſſeiſeth the Feoffee upon Condition, and during the Diſſeiſin, the Feoffee acknowledgeth a Statute; the ſame is no cauſe for the Feoffor to enter for the Condition broken, for that the Feoffee having but a Right, the Poſſeſſion in the hands of the Feoffor is not charged: But if the Feoffee in Poſſeſſion taketh a Wife, there the Land is preſently ſubject to the Title of Dower of the Wife, and tyed therewith: But in ſuch Caſe, if the Feoffee taketh a Wife, and afterwards acknowledgeth a Statute; and when the Wife dyeth, or the Conuſee doth Releaſe the Statute, then in the firſt Caſe, the Feoffee may enter and perform the Condition which was limitted upon the firſt Feoffment. Cook 2. Part, 59. in Winnigton's Caſe.

3. If Lands be given to Husband and Wife in tail, the Remainder in tail to the Husband, and the firſt Wife dyeth without Iſſue, and the Husband taketh another Wife and dyeth, the ſecond Wife ſhall have Dower, becauſe that the Eſtate Tail was Executed in the Husband by the death of his former Wife, who was but Tenant for Life in effect, and that Eſtate was drowned in the Remainder in Tail, which was in him quod non. 40 E. 3. 4. But ſee Plow. Com. 263. b. That if a Woman taketh a Husband, and hath Iſſue; and afterwards Lands do Diſcend to the Wife, and the Husband entreth, ſo as he is Entituled to be Tenant by the Courteſy, and after the Wife is found Ideot, and her Eſtate in the Land is alſo found, the King ſhall have the Land, and if the Wife dyeth, the Husband in ſuch Caſe ſhall not be Tenant by the Curteſy, for by the firſt poſſeſſion of the Wife, the Husband was entituled to be Tenant by the Curteſy, and when the Office was found, the Title of the King ſhall have Relation to the firſt poſſeſſion of the Wife alſo: and ſo both Titles beginning at one time, the King ſhall have the preheminency.

4. If Tenant in Tail Granteth all his Eſtate over unto another; It is ſaid by Litt. 145. That the Grantee hath not an Eſtate, but for the life of Tenant in Tail, and the Reverſion of the Tail, is not in the Tenant in Tail, becauſe he hath Granted all his Eſtate, and his Right. But note, the Intent of Littleton in that Caſe was not, That the Grantee had but an Eſtate for life, and that his Eſtate ſhould be determined by the death of Tenant in tail, but that the Iſſue after his death, might at his pleaſure determine the ſame; And if the Grantee ſhould not have in ſuch Caſe an Eſtate, but during the life of Tenant in tail: then the Wife of ſuch a Grantee ſhould not be endowed, againſt which, It hath bin adjudged, That the Wife ſhould be endowed of ſuch Eſtate in 24 E. 3. 28. Cook 3. Part, in the Caſe of Fines. 84.

5. If a man in conſideration of Marriage to be had with A. makes an Eſtate to her for life; and in full ſatisfaction of her Dower, which may accrue unto her in any of his Lands; and afterwards they entermarry; the ſame was no bar to her of her Dower at the Common-Law; becauſe ſhe was Dowable of the Inheritance, and of the beſt Poſſeſſion of her Husband; and before her marriage, ſhe had not any Title of Dower, but her Title of Dower did accrue to her by her entermarriage, and the death of her Husband: and then ſhe is Dowable. And 2. No Collaterall acceptance ſhould bar her of her Title to her Dower. Cook 4. Part, 1. in Vernon's Caſe.

6. A Woman ſhall not be endowed of Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe made by her Husband for Term of life; and yet the Heir ſhall have it; for the Rent is not an Inheritance, but is determinable by the death of the Leſſor; And where a man is ſeiſed in Fee, and makes a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, and afterwards taketh a Wife and dyeth, the Wife ſhall have Dower of the Land, but ſhe ſhall not have Execution during the Term of years, becauſe the Title is Eſgne, and ſhe cannot be endowed of the Rent, for the cauſe aforeſaid. Mich. 1 E. 6. Dower, 80.

7. In Dower brought, the Tenant ſaid, That the Husband was never ſeiſed, ſo that ſhe could have Dower; The Wife ſaid, That her Husband made a Leaſe of the Land by Deed Indented, ſaving the Reverſion to himſelf; and demanded Judgment, whether againſt the Deed. In that Caſe, It was holden a good Plea, although ſhe was a ſtranger to the Deed; As where a man makes a Leaſe for life; and afterwards he Grants the Reverſion by Fine, and the Grantee brings a Quid juris clamat againſt the Tenant for life: who ſaith, That the Grantor had not any thing in the Land, the Grantee may ſay that the Leaſe was made by Indenture ſhewed forth, and that he Granted the Reverſion, Judgment if Action; And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That if Leſſee for life maketh a Leaſe for another nams life; although the Reverſion be diſcontinued, yet he ſhall not have ſuch an Eſtate in Fee, as that his Wife ſhall be endowed. Mich. 3 H. 4. 6.

8. See Cook 6. Part, 4. in Sir Anthony Mildmayes Caſe, That if a man maketh a Gift in tail, upon Condition, which is againſt Law, or repugnant to Law, the Condition is void; As if it be made upon Condition, That his Wife ſhall not be endowed of the Land, it is a void Condition; for the Dower is an inſeparable Incident to an Eſtate in tail, or Fee by the Common-Law, which cannot be taken away by any Condition. Cook 6. Part, Sir Anthony Mildmayes Caſe. 41.

9. Husband and Wife, ſeiſed of a Rent, or Common in Fee, if they do releaſe to the Tenant of the Land, the Rent is extinct; yet having regard to the Wife, the Rent continueth, becauſe the Wife ſhall be endowed of it. Cook 6. Part, 79. in the Lord Aburgavenies Caſe. See Cook 7. Part, 38. in Lillingſton's Caſe. acc.

10. A Woman is entituled to have Dower of a Marſh; and the Heir by his Induſtry makes it good Meadow; the Wife ſhall recover, and have Dower, as now it is, becauſe her Title is to the quantity of the Land, and not to the value of it; but if the Husband hath improved it by building, or by any other Collateral improvement, it ſeems it is otherwiſe. 13 H. 3. Dyer, 292. Quære, If the Heir decay the Lands, if the Wife ſhall not be endowed in the Land according to the value, when it was in the poſſeſſion of her Husband, or ſhall have a third part as it is. Comment upon Originall Writ. 196.

11. The Counteſſe of Oxford brought a Writ of Dower to be endowed of Prædiall Tythes, &c. within ſuch a Town. In that Caſe, it was holden, That the moſt Aſſignment is of the third Sheaf; for if the third part of the garbs of the Arable Land be Aſſigned, It is in the Election of the Terr-Tenant if he will ſow the ſame or not. See 3 & 4 Eliz. in Bendloes Reports. In Dower of a Mill; the Aſſignment was of the third part Molendini, viz. de integro molendino per quemlibet tertium menſem. Paſc. 5 Jac. the Counteſſe of Oxford's Caſe. vouched in Cook 11. Part, in Harpar's Caſe. 25.

12. A Woman demanded Dower of the third part of two Mills; the Defendant ſaid, That at the time of the Writ brought, and after, they were but two Toſts, and not Mills. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Demand was not good, but ſhe ought to have demanded them by the name of two Toſts; but if they were two Mills in the life time of her Husband, then the demand was good, and ſhe ſhould be endowed of them. 14 H. 4. 33. acc.

13. In Dower, The Demandant recovered the tenth of Wool and Lamb: It was a Queſtion, how Execution ſhould be ſued, It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Sheriff might deliver the Tenthes of every third Yard land, and aſſign the Yard Lands in certain: But yet afterwards, this was conceived would be uncertain and unequall. And therefore the Sheriff was awarded to deliver the third part of all in generall; and yet the firſt was agreed to be good, but onely in reſpect of Inequalities; As in Dower of a Mill, the third diſh; and of a villain, the third dayes work: And it was agreed, That the Sheriff might aſſign this Dower without a Jury. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Browne. 1. Part, 143.

14. Of a Caſtle which is maintained for the private uſe and habitation of the Owner, a Woman ſhall be endowed; but of a Caſtle which is maintained for the neceſſary defence of the Realm, a Woman ſhall not be endowed: And ſo it was Reſolved in the Court of Common-Pleas, Where in a Writ of Dower, the demand was de tertia parte Caſtri de H. in Com. H. And ſee the Statute of Magna Charta, cap. 7. Where it is ſaid Niſi domus illa ſit Caſtrum; It is to be underſtood of a Caſtle for the publick defence of the Realm. Trin. 17 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged, acc.

15. If a man make a gift in tail, reſerving Rent to him and his Heirs, and afterwards the Donor taketh a Wife and dyeth, and the Tenant in tail dyeth without Iſſue, The Wife of the Donor ſhall not be endowed of the Rent, becauſe the Rent is extinct, for that it was reſerved upon an Eſtate Tail which is determined; But in that caſe, although the Eſtate in the Rent be determined, yet the Wife ſhall be endowed of the Land, becauſe that doth continue and is not determined as is the Rent. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 149. acc.

16. If a Woman bring a Writ of Dower, of 6 l. Rent-charge, and hath Judgment to recover the third part, although it be certain that ſhe ſhall have 40 s. yet ſhe cannot Diſtrain for the 40 s. before before the Sheriff deliver the ſame to her, becauſe the demands nothing in certain, but a third part of the Rent; but, upon Execution ſued, a third part of it ſhall be delivered to her by the Sheriff: but otherwiſe of Land, or of other things, of which the demand is certain, for there, after Judgment, ſhe may enter to diſtrain before Seiſin delivered by the Sheriff by Writ of Habere facias ſeiſinam. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 14. acc.

17. If a man take an Allien to Wife, and afterwards he allieneth his Lands, ſhe is made a Denizen, ſhe ſhall not be endowed; for ſhe was abſolutely Diſſolved by the Law, and by her birth not capable of Dower, her capacity being onely by her Denization: But if a man, ſeiſed of Lands, takes a Wife, and afterwards ſhe elopes from her Husband, now ſhe is barrable of her Dower, if during the Elopement the Husband allieneth the Land; but if after, the Wife be reconciled to her Husband, the Wife ſhall be endowed: And if a man, ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, taketh a Wife, and after the Wife is Attainted of Feleny, and afterwards the Husband Allieneth the Land, and afterwards the Wife is pardoned, and then the Husband dyeth; in that Caſe the Wife ſhall be endowed: for by her birth, ſhe was not incapable, but was Lawfully by her marriage and Seiſin in Fee, Entituled to have Dower; and therefore, when the Impediment is removed, ſhe ſhall be endowed. Cook Select Caſes, 33.

18. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, took a Wife, and levyed a Fine of the ſaid Lands with Proclamation; and afterwards was Endicted and Outlawed of High Treaſon, and dyed; The Conuſees conveyed the Lands to the Queen; the five years paſſed after the death of the Husband: the daughters and Heirs of A. brought a Writ of Error in the Kings Bench, and reverſed the Attainder. Whereupon the Wife ſued to the Queen by Petition, containing all the ſpeciall matter, ſcil. the Fine with Proclamations, and the five years paſt, after the death of her Husband, and the Attainder, and the reverſall of it; and her own Title, ſcil. her Intermarriage and Seiſin of her Husband before the Fine levyed. The Queen upon the Petition Endorſed, fiat droit aux parties. In this Caſe, It was Reſolved. 1. That the Wife ſhould be endowed, and the Fine with Proclamations was not a Bar unto her; and yet it was Reſolved, That the Act of 4 H. 7. ſhall bar a Woman of her Dower by a Fine levyed by her Husband with Proclamations, if the Wife doth not bring her Writ of Dower within the five years. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 224. For by the Act, the Right and Title of the Wife was not ſaved; But by another clauſe in the Act, the Wife was to be aided, viz. And ſaving all other perſons who were not parties to the Fine, ſuch Action, Right, Title Claim, and Intereſt to the Lands, as ſhall now remain, diſcend, or come after the Fine Engroſſed, and Proclamations by force of any Gift in tail, or any other cauſe or matter had, ſo as they take their Title, and purſue it within five years after ſuch Action, Right, Title, Claim, to them accrued: And in this Caſe, the Action and Title accrued to the Wife after the reverſall of the Attainder, by reaſon of a Title of Record before the Fine, by reaſon of a Seiſin in Fee had, and the marriage made before the Fine levyed. 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That by the reverſall in the Writ of Error, the party ſhould be reſtored to the mean profits; and to his poſſeſſion, nuâ cum exitibus: and that the Plaintiff ſhould have reſtitution againſt him, againſt whom he recovered in the Writ of Error. See 4 H. 7. 12. acc. Hill. 27 Eliz. in the Chancery, Menvill's Caſe. Cook Select Caſes 19. acc.

19. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Tail, the Reverſion to the Right Heirs of Tenant in Tail; Tenant in tail bargained and ſold the Land by Deed, Inrolled, to J. S. and his Heirs; And afterwards levyed a Fine with Proclamations to the Bargainee, the Conuſee made a Feoffment in Fee, he in the Remainder had Iſſue, and dyed; Tenant tail dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe, it was amongſt other things, Reſolved, That by the Bargain and Sale, the Bargainee had an Eſtate diſcendable to his Heirs, upon the death of Tenant in tail, and had the Reverſion expectant upon the Remainder in tail; and that in ſuch Caſe, the Wife of the Bargaynee ſhould be Endowed. Cook 10. Part, 96. Edward Seymour's Caſe.

20. A Woman cannot claim to have Dower of any thing, but of ſuch things which ſhe may uſe and enjoy ſine vaſto, exilio, & deſtructione: She ſhall be endowed of reaſonable Eſtovers on the Lands of her Husband; but then ſhe muſt uſe them to burn in, and to encloſe the Lands of which ſhe is endowed: and if ſhe burn them off the Land, or otherwiſe diſpoſe them in not encloſing and fencing of the Land, of which ſhe is endowed; the Heir may diſturb her in taking of them, and alſo he may have a Prohibition againſt her, that ſhe do not waſte in Domibus, Boſcis, Gardiis; and ſo if ſhe do manumit or enfranchiſe the Villains, or ſell the Land or the Rents of which ſhe is endowed, or if ſhe take unreaſonable Iſſues or Services, a Prohibition will lye againſt her, Quod non capiat de omnibus ejuſdem terræ niſi rationables exitus & ſervic. which they ought to do; But yet for ſuch waſte, a Woman ſhall not loſe her Dower. See Bracton 316. acc.

21. A Woman ſhall be endowed de tertiâ parte trium vodorum terræ, unius rodi prati, & reddit.

tot panum & tot lagenarum ſervicia, vel tot ferculorum per diem, vel per ſeptimanam, vel per annum, cum pertinenciis, in villâ de D. quas clamat pertinere ad liberũ tenementũ ſuum; and ſhe ſhall be endowed with any thing that is appendant or appurtenant to the Land of which ſhe demandeth Dower. See F. H. in his Writ of Right of Dower. acc. And ſee 2 H. 6. 12. That a Woman ſhall be endowed of Villains Regardant or Ingroſs.

21. Error was brought of a Judgment in the Common Pleas in Dower, The Error aſſigned was that the Writ and her Demand was of a Meſſuage, 160. acres of Land, 60. Acr. prati, 100 Paſturæ, & de communi paſturâ in omnibus averiis cum pertinentiis, &c. The Tenant pleaded Neunq; ſeiſi que Dower; It was found for the Demandant and Judgment given; and it was ſaid, That this ſhall be intended of Common in groſs without Number, of which a Woman is not dowable: It was the Opinion of the Court, That of Common in groſs without Number, a Woman ſhould not be endowed: But it ſhall be intended, that this Common was not Common in groſſe, but common appendant or appurtenant to the Land, of which ſhe was dowable; and it needed not to have been demanded, becauſe it was included in the words cum pertinentiis, and the Court conceived it to be rather Common Appendant, or Appurtenant, after which ſhe was dowable, being after a Verdict which finds, That her Husband was ſeiſed Quod Dower &c. And by Intendment, it was ſuch a Common as went with the Land of which ſhe was dowable, and if it had been Common in groſs without Number, the Judge before whom the trial paſſed, would have directed it to be found againſt the Demandant. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 8 Car. in B. R. Pruet and Drake's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 219.

23. Error of a Judgment in Dower, and in the Executors thereof: The Errors aſſigned were, That the Demand was of the third part of the Honor of C. and of 600 Meſſuages, 1000 Acres of Land in C. and of the Advowſon of H. A. Recovery may by Default, and Habere facias ſeiſinam awarded to the Sheriff, who returned, Quod habere fecit ſeiſinam de tertiâ parte of the Honor, Tenementorũ et advocationũ, viz. de uno tenemento ſive firmâ de C. And it was ſaid that the Retorn de uno Meſſuagio ſine Tenemento, was not good for the Incertainty; But the Court held the Return good, and that no Error can be aſſigned in the Sheriff, in giving Seiſin, and returning thereof: The ſecond Error was, Becauſe the Sheriff hath given the third part of an Advowſon, and Bona & Catalla Felonum, which are Franchiſes of which ſhe is dowable. But the Court held, That the Return was good in that, for of an Advowſon, if it be Appendant or in groſs, ſhe is dowable, and Franchiſes parcel of the Honor of G. may be well aſſigned, and they may be parcel and appendant to the Honor, although they be not belonging to a Manner which is of an inferior nature. The Judgment was affirmed. See M. 18 Jac. in B. R. Sir Charles Howard and Sir William Cavendiſh's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 621.

24. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That if Tenant in a Writ of Dower brought ſhew, That before her Husband had any thing to do with the Land, A. was ſeiſed of the ſame Land in Fee, & leaſed the ſame Lands for years rendring Rent, and then granted the Reverſion to the Husband of the Plaintiff, who dyed ſeiſed of the Reverſion, and ſo demands Judgment, if the Demandant ſhall have Dower; That the ſame is no plea in Barr of her Dower, but proves that ſhe hath Title in Dower, only it ſhall have the Leaſe for years; and ſhe ſhall have Judgment only of the ſaid Reverſion and the Rent, and the Demandant ſhall be endowed of the Reverſion. Paſc. 22 Jac. in C. B. Winch. 80.

25. Note, It was holden by Anderſon Chief Juſtice, That if a Feoffment be made to the uſe of J. S. and his Heirs, untill J. D. hath done ſuch a thing; and then unto the uſe of J. D. and his Heirs, the thing is done, and J. S. dyeth, That in ſuch caſe his Wife ſhall be endowed. Mich. 31. Eliz. in C. B. in Sammes and Payne's Caſe, Leon. 167.

26. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor containing ſeveral Freehold and Copyholds, took a Wife and died, The Wife demanded the third part of the Mannor for her Dower, by the name of 100 Meſſuages, 100 Gardens, ſo many Acres of Lands, Meadows, Paſture; The Sheriff aſſigns to her part of the Demeans and parcel of the Services. It was holden by the Court, That in this Caſe a Mannor did not paſs to her, and ſhe could not, by vertue of ſuch Aſſignment, hold a Court, or grant Copyes; but in that Caſe it was agreed, If a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, be delivered by the name of a Mannor cum pertinentiis, that the Advowſon paſſeth; but it is otherwiſe, if it be delivered in the Execution by the names of Lands, Meadow, Wood, &c. M. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Bragg and Brooks Caſe. Owen 4.

27 Husband and Wife, Tenants in ſpeciall Tail, had Iſſue, the Wife died, the Husband made a Deed of Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of B. his Son in Tail, and a Letter of Attorney to make Livery; before Livery made he took C. to Wife, and after Livery was made to thoſe uſes the Husband died. The Tenant endowed C. the Son entred, Whether this Dower was well aſſigned, was the Queſtion; The firſt Queſtion was, Whether C. his Wife were dowable of this Poſſeſſion, and the Aſſignment of Dower to her was good? 2. Admitting ſhe were dowable, yet in as much as the Livery was made upon a Deed of Feoffment, ſealed before the Coverture, yet executed after to the uſe of the Husband for life, Whether ſhe be now dowable? It was Reſolved by the Court, That ſhe was not dowable, for this Livery doth not gain to him any new Eſtate; but being eodem inſtanti drawn out of him, it doth not gain unto him any ſeiſin whereof C. is dowable, for at the firſt before his Feoffment he had not any Eſtate whereof C. was dowable, being ſuch a Tenant in Tail, that his Iſſue by his ſecond Wife could not inherit; Then, when he hath not any Eſtate before the Feoffment whereof his Wife was dowable, he hath not by his Feoffment gained any ſuch Eſtate to make her dowable; and in this Caſe It was ſaid, that it was adjudged, That where a man married took a Fine, and by the ſame Fine rendred the Land to another in Tail, that his Wife ſhould not be endowed, becauſe although he took it in Fee, yet it was inſtantly out of him. Paſc. 19 Jac. in the Exchequer. Amcotts and Cotherichs Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 615.

28 Tenant for life having a Wife made a Feoffment; the Husband and Wife were afterwards Divorced; The Wife appealed, and, depending the Appeal, the Husband died, the Feoffee endowed the Wife and died without Heir, the Lord entred upon the Wife. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That this momentary Fee had not gained Dower to the Wife, no more than to the Wife of a Feoffee to an uſe, or the Wife of the Conuſee of a Fine upon a Grant and Remainder ſhould be endowed. 2. That by the Appeal brought by the Wife, the Divorce was not ſo defeated, that that might give Title to the Wife after the death of the Husband to be endowed, although ſhe had done all that in Law could be, becauſe by the Appeal the Divorce was onely ſuſpended, and not defeated. 41 E. 43.
